Big Dance May 4

It's Mills Brothers For Coronation Ball

The Mills Brothers with Claude Gordon and his thirteen piece band will supply the music and entertainment for this year's Coronation Ball, to be held May 4 at 9 p.m. in the Memorial Union ballroom.

The Mills Brothers have planned a forty-five minute show, starting at 10 p.m. Gordon and his band, who have accompanied such artists as Nat "King" Cole, Johnny Ray and Joni James, will start the ball rolling at 9 p.m.

Also planned is the crowning of the Campus King and Queen.

The royalty election is scheduled May 1, and the results will not be announced until the dance the following Saturday. Candidates may pick up petitions now and turn them in not later than 4 p.m. April 29.

Following the crowning of the royalty will be the inauguration of new ASAS officers by this year's officers.

There will be no admission charge to the dance, but one of the couple must have an activity card.

The dance is semi-formal — cocktail dresses and suits. Punch will be served on the terrace, and chairs and tables will be set up.

Annie Rosenberg, activities vice president, and the Coronation Ball committee, headed by Warren Summers, are in charge of arrangements.

Easter Bunny Brings Relief

Mrs. Wesley Johnson, president of the Phoenix Little Theatre, was featured at the 11 a.m. assembly, giving an interpretation of "The Diary of Anne Frank" by Zoe Johnson. Dr. Collice Portnoff, professor of English and president of the Faculty Women's Club, presided; and Dr. Grady Gammage, AS president, welcomed the guests.

A noon luncheon, sponsored by the Faculty Women's Club, honored Associated Women Students officers and other guests.

Cover Design Must Depict College Life

Entries in a new calendar cover contest depicting college life are being accepted by the Associated Students.

An award of $25 will be given an Arizona State student on the basis of originality and imagination. Phases of college life to be included in the cover are academic, social, traditional, faculty-student relations, cultural and sports.

RULES will be posted in all halls and organizations, as set by the Executive Council.

Size of entry should be 8" x 10". Any colors may be used, but the collector reserves the right to alter the original if the cost of printing exceeds the allotted budget. Each student may submit as many entries as he desires.

Closing date is May 17. Entries should be submitted before that date to room 201, Associated Students offices, in the Memorial Union.

ENTRIES will be judged on originality, neatness and the degree to which they convey the activities or phases of college life.

Further information may be obtained from Dick Finley, activities vice president elect.

AS Rodeo Team Triumphant In Intercollegiate Event

By AL SKINNER

The Arizona State Rodeo Team came out on top in the second annual Sun Devil Rodeo Association intercollegiate rodeo at the Chandler Sheriff's Posse arena last weekend.

The Arizona State cowboys amassed a total of 635½ points in passing up five other competing schools in the various contests of the two-day affair which ended Sunday.

THEIR performance may be the stepping stone to a record for the team. Last year's winning West Coast Region team got into the finals with 1,200 points amassed in five rodeos.

Two Sun Devil team members were responsible for 471 of the total AS team points. John Nickerson of Glendale grabbed 286 and Phil Stockton accounted for 185.

Other high individual scoring honors went to Bud Mansker of Pierce Junior College with 127 points, and Marvin Roberts of California Polytechnical, with 110 points.

TEAM runners-up were California Polytechnical College, 316½; Oregon Technical College, 261; Pierce Junior College, 217; Palo Verde Junior College, 112; and Fresno State College 72.

Individual winners in the two days of events:

Calf roping, Bill Pittman, Pierce; Nickerson, AS, second; David Nix, AS, third; and Stockton, AS, fourth. Bareback riding, Al Goodman and Joe Morrow, both of AS, tied for first; Jerry Miller and Ken Shrieve, both of Oregon Tech, tied for third.

SADDLE bronc riding, Nickerson, AS; Bill Duffy, Oregon Tech, second; Mansker, Pierce, third; Jim Scott, AS, fourth. Brahma Bull riding, Kenny Adams, AS; Dale Felton, Fresno State, second; Bill Straud, Cal Poly, and Nickerson, AS, tied for third.

CHOW LINE . . . Tuesday's AMS All-school picnic attracted a large crowd of students, more than 600 of whom went through the chow line at Tempe Beach. The picnic included swimming, games, the meal, and dancing on the tennis courts. Coeds were granted an 11 o'clock night for the dance.

Cost Plan Debated

Summer Session Students To Get First Use Of Pool

Arizona State's new swimming pool should be ready for use during summer school, Athletic Director Clyde Smith announced this week.

Smith has been meeting with Physical Education Department personnel to determine the program for use of the pool. The new facility has been designed to provide for instructional swimming, recreational swimming, women's WAA and men's intramural activities, water carnivals and ballet, water safety, and intercollegiate swimming and diving.

THE POOL was designed to serve a student body of 10,000, and a peak load of 500.

Smith has arranged meetings with student leaders to discuss the possibility of charging a small fee of every AS student to operate the new plant. According to this plan, any student could use the pool, not just a few who payed higher prices.

The Student Senate met yesterday to consider Senate Resolution number two, which would provide for a $3 per semester fee for all full-time students. Their resolution was defeated by a vote of the senators.

With every student paying a part of the operational cost, Smith stated, a high level of sanitary condition can be maintained, as suits, provided by the university, would be laundered after each swim.

STUDENTS would not have to carry suits to and from classes and to and from home. This would enable commuting students to take advantage of recreational swim periods without carrying around a suit, he added.

Because the cost for the pool service must be determined quickly, the Athletic Department will be consulting student representatives to get plans laid for the summer operation.

Bridge Is Back; Spring's Sprung

By ROCHELLE MACKEY

Rumors have been floating (and I do mean floating) around that the destructive "high tide" which washed away the Delta Sig bridge has taken a turn for the better. Result: the bridge has been replaced and we understand that two fraternities on Adelphi are getting along better.

Sigma Fis are now the proud possessors of the Lambda Chi traveling trophy for the Toad Hop. Two more successful loads and the Sigma Pis will retire the trophy.

THE OLD SAYING, "In spring a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of love," is running true to form as several Greek men have been giving away pins and diamonds.

Norm Christenson, president of Delta Chi pledges, and Sue B. Kuhlman became engaged this week. They were feted by a serenade at the Delta Chi house.

Scott Younker, Sigma Pi, became engaged to Kay Davis, Chi Omega, and Rudy Whitman, Sigma Pi, pinned Louise Pospicil, Tri Sig.

How Standard's explorers help find the 830 gallons of oil you'll need this year

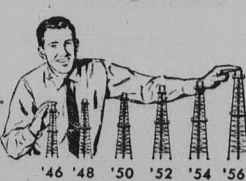

Oil geologists probe the ocean floor for clues to new oil fields

THE OCEAN FLOOR IS THE NEWEST FRONTIER in our search for oil to help meet the growing demand of motorists, home owners, farmers, industry and the Armed Forces.

Last year Standard's scientists explored millions of acres offshore and on land in the Western Hemisphere. Once again we discovered new oil deposits that will help supply the 830 gallons of petroleum everyone in the U. S. will use this year . . . and the 1000 gallons they'll need by 1965.

With oil becoming more difficult and expensive to find, Standard's investment in exploration is increasing . . . $119,000,000 last year. That's one way we can find new oil to help keep ahead of the nation's growing need for products from petroleum.

Progress in the West means: U. S. oil reserves must continue to keep pace with rising demand

Daily U. S. oil consumption has risen from 5 million barrels in 1946 to 9 million barrels in 1956 and is expected to reach 12½ million by 1965.

Grown Up

Greek Week has come of age at Arizona State.

This year's five-day schedule of fraternity-sorority events was well planned and received what was probably the best participation yet. The Interfraternity Council, Panhellenic, and the Greek Week Steering Committee put on a program which illustrated the great growth of the Greek-letter organizations at Arizona State, and of the university itself.

The week was not all fun. Workshops were conducted Thursday afternoon to talk over mutual problems and policies of the organizations. A work day was held Friday afternoon, with well over 200 Greeks turning out to wash cars for charity.

"MORE SPIRIT than a football game," was the remark of many about Thursday night's Greek Games in the stadium. The Grecian Ball, the tenth annual IFC Sing, and Sunday's banquet rounded out an eventful week that all AS Greeks should be proud of.

Arizona State was the first university in Arizona to sponsor a Greek Week. This was its fourth year here, and, from the looks of things, there will be many more to come.

Be Friendly

Arizona State has the friendliest campus which I have ever attended. I think this shows well for a campus which is growing so rapidly.

May 8-11 there will be some 170 delegates from the 120 colleges and universities of the eleven western states on campus. This is the Pacific Student Presidents Association, and Arizona State is the host school this year. The delegates are all student body presidents.

SOME OF THE delegates will be Jim Kidder, University of Cal at Berkeley, Carl Terzain, USC, Ray Freeman, San Jose State, and Chuck Coyle of Nevada. These are just four of those who will be here. PSPA is a select group of prominent student leaders. Arizona State is fortunate to have this group on campus.

By the same means, PSPA is indeed fortunate to be able to attend a convention at Arizona State. We have the best campus in the Southwest. We have the friendliest students. We are going to prove this to the delegates by providing personalized services for them.

The delegates will be driven by car caravan any place they are going. Selected hostesses will act as dates Thursday and Friday. When they are on campus, say "hello" and meet them. They will be wearing name tags.

LET'S SHOW them that Arizona State is not only the friendliest campus, but also that Arizona State is the best possible place to attend, for school or for a convention.

UofA Platforms Stress Spirit; Advocate AMS

By JOSH GALINDO

On the UofA front: Students are going through the same thing we went through recently. That is, elections!

Redhair, Wilbur and Lingafelter are on the ballot for student body president. Their platforms include the following, in the same order; Increase of spirit through traditions, public relations and the alumni; revision of the constitution, establishment of a student traffic court, a study on the apathy of students concerning certain events; and a check on the increases in the cost of an education, the formation of Associated Men Students.

THE "U" has planned an "Election Results" party after the polls close. Returns will be broadcast between dances.

Nine members of the International Students Club are representing the UofA in the Model United Nations at Stanford University. The group will represent the nation of Afghanistan.

Also, on the same scene this week is their Spring Siesta Carnival which in many respects is similar to AS Blue Key Carnival. Novel attractions include a puppet show, a "tunnel of love" and, for those who like to gamble, roulette and a marriage booth.

TEXAS TECH students don't care to park at all. A meeting was held to discuss the parking problem and out of 6,065 students and faculty members 27 showed up. In the past five years they have had parking fees grow from nothing to $3.50 per semester. Ouch!

The Concert Choir from ASC at Flagstaff will perform in the annual Grand Canyon Easter Sunrise services. This service will officially open their 1957 tour.

Hokona Hall girl's dorm received a verbal spanking from the University of New Mexico Lobo recently for holding a jack tournament in which the head resident, counselors and girls were participants.

ACCORDING to knees, "Grown women on their hands and knees on the floor picking up jacks looks rather ridiculous. Seems strange the dormitory administrations thinks coeds at the dorm are not lady-like."

Last Year

Just a few of the events around AS one year ago:

ASC women students are expected to turn out in their spring finery, wearing heels and hose this Wednesday, April 25, for Women's Day held annually on the campus.

Jerry Cannon, AMS cultural affairs committee chairman, announced there would be an all men's assembly next Wednesday in BA 205 in conjunction with the all-school assembly period.

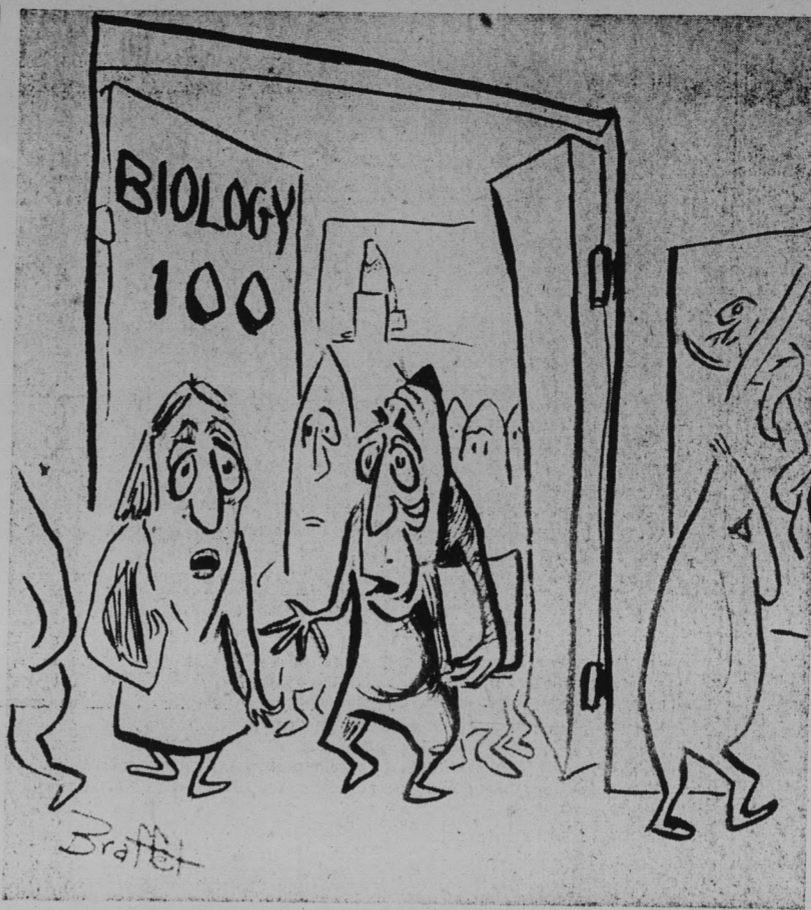

MEMBERS of ASC's fraternities and sororities will hold their third annual all-greek celebration this weekend with a variety of interesting events.

The second fire loss at Arizona State within a month occurred last night when fire gutted the south end of the agricultural mechanics quonset.

An honor banquet has been scheduled for the students in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities at the Stockyard Restaurant, April 29.

ARIZONA State's symphonic band and symphony orchestra are both scheduled to present concerts next week, as parts of the Festival of Fine Arts.

Plans are in the making for awarding miniature diplomas to the wives of graduating men as a bit of recognition for the part they played in helping their husbands get an education.

EDITOR'S Scratchpad

By DON DOTTS

Pardon us if we brag, but we just found out something we think you'd like to know.

Arizona State's campus newspaper is actually the oldest collegiate paper in the state. Besides that, it's the largest weekly in the Valley.

We'll even go one step further. There are only two newspapers in the entire Phoenix area, daily or weekly, which have more readers per issue than the State Press. Those, of course, are the two metropolitan dailies.

It's good to feel so important, but it makes one realize that the paper must be made even better. Any suggestions? (within reason).

Well, now... we certainly were glad to see the trophies from the athletic department appear in the Union trophy cases. Now all we need are the other awards presented to people representing this university, to make use of the trophy case.

Mills Brothers, huh? Sounds like a great Coronation Ball is coming up. This year's ball, the weekend after we get back from Easter vacation, will feature the crowning of Campus King and Queen, to be elected that Wednesday.

The new ASAS officers will also be introduced. Besides all this regal stuff, the music, entertainment, and dancing should really be great.

LETTERS to the Editor

To The Editor:

As a member of one of the smaller greek organizations which participated in the recent IFC Sing and later the Greek games and Grecian Ball, I would like to compliment those organizations embroiled in the sing mix-up for showing tremendous sportsmanship, without which, Greek Week would have been an instantaneous flop.

For a while, I thought the sing participants and especially those groups which placed and commend these same three organizations for keeping the spirit of Greek Week. We would have been tremendously proud to have finished in the top three since, to me at least, every organization which entered did a terrific job.

Have you neglected your climatological education?

If you have, delay no longer, go to the Matthews Library (The big brick building between North Hall and the Arts building) and feel the depressing heat of the tropics.

What occurs when you question the library staff as to the reason for this temperature? They open their tired eyes and mumble something to the effect that this is Maintenance's responsibility.

PLEASE, won't the maintenance staff and the library hold a council of peace, join forces, and fight this common enemy by regulating man's new secret weapon —

Air Conditioning (the refrigerated variety).

Wheeled Trees?

"Hello, I'm Hugo Sturdly and I want to drop a course."

"Well, this is the maintenance department. I think you would drop your course over at the Administration building."

"Well, do you have any red tape?"
 "RED TAPE? . . . no, we have some black tape though . . . what do you want with red tape, anyway?"

"I asked someone how to drop a course and they said I would have to go through a lot of red tape. Then I asked someone where I could find some red tape and they sent me over here."

"Oh, we don't have any red tape but you're welcome to take some of the black if you want it."

"No, thanks, I'll see if I can't find the right color. What's that thing over there, anyway. I've never seen anything like that . . . it looks like a tree on wheels."

"THAT'S WHAT it's supposed to look like. We're building it for the campus police. One of them saw something like this in a war stories magazine about camouflage and thought it would be good to help trap speeders on the campus."

"Does it work?"

"Well, they haven't tried it since we got the wheels on. It was really funny the way it worked before. This campus policeman was standing in the tree out on the corner of College and Orange about one in the morning, you see . . . A car came tearing down the road . . . screeched around the corner without stopping."

"Naturally the policeman wanted to catch them and started to run after them, holding up the tree above his knees like some fancy lady would hold up her gown going up a steep flight of stairs . . . 'course he didn't catch them but a few minutes later when he got back to the office, the three guys . . . all of them a little tipsy . . . came in white as ghosts babbling something about walking trees that talk."

"YEAH, THAT'S pretty funny. I sure wouldn't want to stand around in a tree . . . specially since there are so many women drivers on this campus."

"Women drivers weren't the only hazzard to the guys in the tree . . . Seems like all the dogs on campus were attracted to that one special tree."

"The wheels should make it a lot easier on the guys."

"Yea, now they can chase speeders, keep away from the women drivers and outrun the dogs . . . should be much better."

"Yea, that's a pretty good idea . . . I guess I'd better go . . . been nice talking to you."

"WELL, SEE you around . . ."

"Yea, hope you find your red tape so you can drop your course."

"Well, thanks, anyway."

Sideline SIDELIGHTS

By ABE GUTIERREZ

Barring any further sickness, Alex Henderson, Arizona State's track sensation, will virtually be sure of posting his best collegiate times in the mile and two-mile Saturday when he tangles with Iowa's Charley "Deacon" Jones in these events.
Jones has enjoyed an illustrious career as a performer for the Hawkeyes. He has clipped the mile in 4:10.9 and the two-mile distance in 9:04.9.

THE BOYS Town, Nebraska product was an Olympic finalist in the 3,000 meter steeplechase last year and was the former National Collegiate cross country champ.

He has garnered first places in such important meets as the Chicago Relays, two-mile; Cleveland's Knights of Columbus spectacle, two-mile; and the Milwaukee Journal event, one-mile.

The 5'8", 145 pound endurance ace was ineligible to compete with the Iowans last year but stayed in shape by competing unattached in invitational.

HENDERSON needs little or no introduction to Sun Devil oval fans, the top-condition strider from the Down Under country has never been pressed in running up clockings of 4:10 and 9:22 in his specialties this year. His best times ever in these events were recorded in Australia, where he had 4:05 in the four-lap run and 8:59 in the longer distance.

The slender frosh's only duel with "name" opposition this year was against UCLA's Bobby Seaman. The two met in the 10,000 meter run in the SPAAU conclave at Los Angeles early this season and Henderson emerged the winner, some 150 yards ahead of the highly touted Seaman.

From this standpoint, Alex will likely be pressed the most in the two-mile, where Jones is consistent around 9:10 and below. Jones has proved to be stronger in longer distances although his mile running could drive Henderson to a clocking below 4:10.

WOES of a sub-headliner!
Joe Rose's magnificent 15'1" effort in the pole vault against BYU last week took most of the limelight off former Demon vaulter Dave Kenly's respectable 14'8 1/2" clearance in the same meet. Kenly cleared the 14'8 1/2" barrier before Rose did but failed at the 15 and over height. This was Kenly's all-time best performance. He formerly held the Sun Devil vaulting record at 14'7 1/2".

IF KENLY hadn't used up all of his eligibility, his Saturday soar would have placed him among the top five in collegiate vaulting circles around the nation.

Rose Sensed 15-Foot Leap

"Fifteen feet," said Joe Rose last March, "is my goal this season in the pole-vault."

Since an elite eight men in all history had soared so high, the statement might have sounded like just another goal never to be reached — most of them end this way.

BUT ON a crisp night — April 12 — a Goodwin Stadium crowd and two closely matched track and field squads, Arizona State and Brigham Young University, watched breathlessly as the slender Sun Devil ace moved with a resolute pace up the cinder trail to the lofty bar, resting above the 15-foot mark.

A year before Dave Kenly had vaulted 14-7 1/2 — and no Devil athlete had ever matched that before Rose came along. It may have seemed like an impossible feat, for things like that are only done by people far away. And yet, had not Cornelius Warmerdam said just three weeks ago:

"Rose has the potential to be one of the greatest vaulters in history."

JOE moved on, dipped his pole into the slot below the sawdust pit, and leaped upward. It only lasted a couple seconds or more, and somehow he had projected his six-foot frame over the bar and cleared an unbelievable 15'-1".

Topped only by Occidental's Bob Gutowski and USC's Ron Morris in the vaulting race this season, Rose joined the select band of performers who have reached 15 feet. Gutowski this spring has soared 15'-7", and the world record is Warmerdam's 15'-8".

COACH Senon Castillo had said before the season began, "Rose has a chance of being the greatest vaulter we've ever had." But before the 1957 schedule, Joe's best competitive mark was 13-11 while at Glendale J. C.

Sun Devil Spikers Seek Iowa Revenge

By GENE LUPTAK

University of Iowa's Hawk-eyes, who hail from the Big Ten country, will invade Arizona State's cinder paths Saturday, 7:30 p.m., in a dual spike-fest.

The Demon thincads will try to grab more of the 131 points dished out at the meet to revenge a 74-57 licking the Midwesterners dealt the Satans last year.

STATE'S hopes in the contest will rest on the shoulders of pole vaulter Joe Rose, who last week sailed over the one-time impossible 15 foot barrier; Dale Winder, who has already sped to a Devil record-breaking 880 in one minute 53 seconds flat; and Leon Burton, who will be gunning for top honors in the century and low hurdle races.

The race of all races of the evening and one that might prove the most exciting ever run on the Goodwin oval will pit Alex Henderson against Iowa's olympic star, Charles "Deacon" Jones, in the one-and-two mile distances.

Castillo stated that the Iowans are strong in the mile, two mile, hurdles and the pole vault.

Jones and Arizona's Aussie ace Henderson have been clocked near 4:10 in the four lapper.

JACK Mathews has been performing well for the Hawk-eyes in the hurdles and Gardner Van Dyke has been soaring near 14 feet 6 inches in the altitude event.

Next weekend, April 26-27, Arizona State will enter five events at the Drake Relays, Des Moines, Iowa.

HENDERSON will race 4 1/2 miles in the two day college world series of track. He will be entered in the mile, two mile, two-mile relay, and the distance medley.

Rose will compete in the pole vault and Falmer, Winder and McKisson will run with Henderson in the relay and medley.

Torrid Satans Whip PC Bears

By AL SKINNER

The Arizona State linksters posted their 10th consecutive win of the season over Phoenix College at Encanto Park Tuesday, by a score of 18-0.

Stan Hobert, playing in the number four position welked away with medalist honors with a par-shattering 65.

FOLLOWING closely on Hobert's heels were Duff Lawrence and Dirk Prather with 68's and Jim Bernard at 69.

Hobert's 65 also ended the two-day old record held by Jim Bernard who posted a 66 in their match with New Mexico as the lowest collegiate score for the year in the state. Bernard was also playing in the number four slot during the match with New Mexico.

The New Mexico Skyline Conference Champs became the ninth victims of the Arizona State par-mauling crew by a score of 19-2 at Arizona Country Club, Saturday.

JIM BREEN led his New Mexico teammates with a 72. This last weekend almost turned into an endurance contest for the four Sun Devils. After beating New Mexico Saturday at Arizona Country Club they journeyed to Mesa Country Club to compete in the Mesa Low Ball Invitational tournament.

Devil Horsehidere Shade Coast Nine

By PHIL KEYES

In perhaps their toughest test of the 1957 baseball season, Arizona State downed Pepperdine, 5-3, at Tempe Thursday afternoon. It was the Devil's 12th win in 14 games.

Held hitless for the first five and two-thirds innings by previously unbeaten Phil Jones, the Sun Satans had to come from behind twice before nailing down the victory. Dave Graybill, although removed for a pinch runner in the seventh inning, took credit for the win, his sixth. Graybill has lost once.

WAVE lead-off man Al Calce opened the contest with a single up the middle, but that was the only hit in the ball game until Calce again singled in the top of the sixth. Pepperdine broke the scoring ice in this stanza on three hits and a stolen base.

AS came back in their half of the same frame when, after a walk to Phil Kemp, Bill Mead slammed a single to left for the Devil's first bingle. Kemp scored the tying run and Mead advanced to second when WAVE catcher Bill Newberry let the ball go through him. Royce Youree scratched a hit off hurler Jones' glove and Mead scored when Jones' throw sailed past unguarded third base.

Pepperdine wasted no time in taking a 3-2 lead in the seventh inning. Calce drove in the go-ahead run with a sacrifice fly.

THE DEVILS retaliated with a pair of tallies in the home half of the seventh to assume a 4-3 advantage. Don Banewicz's neatly-placed squeeze bunt brought in one marker and Phil Kemp's first extra base hit of the year, a double, scored run number four.

An insurance run was added in the eighth by AS against relief chucker Warren Johnson. After walks to Youree and pitcher Jim Sims and a one-bagger by catcher Bill Parter, Banewicz drew a free pass to force across the game's final tally.

Graybill, who gave up all three WAVE runs, pitched the first seven innings, striking out seven and giving up five hits. Sims got off to a rocky start in the eighth inning, relinquishing two hits with only one man down. He fanned the final batter in the eighth and all three men to face him in the ninth.

DEVIL Coach Mel Erickson revamped his infield for this tilt and the new setup responded with only their third errorless game of the season. Erickson moved Youree from shortstop to third, Ken Toney from third to second base and Banewicz made the shift from second to short.

Although collecting only six hits in the game, Arizona State still maintained their over .300 club batting mark. After 14 games, the Demons are hitting at a .323 pace with five regulars hitting .300 or better. Graybill paces the pack with a .523 average.

Cougars Clip Sun Devil Thinclads

By JEFF KIEHL

Pole vaulter Joe Rose stole the sports spotlight last Saturday night, as he became the ninth person ever to clear 15 feet. The Sun Devil sophomore from Glendale, California, cleared the once impossible height of 15'1" in a losing cause to the Brigham Young University Cougars. The Cougars handed the Devils their first dual meet loss of the season, 66 to 65.

The Devils entered the meet minus their top distance runner, Alex Henderson, who turned up sick and had to enter the school infirmary.

IF THE Australian flash had run, many believe the meet results would have been reversed. The mile was won by Joe Tyler of BYU in the time of 4:16, and the 2-mile event was taken by Gary Griffith also of BYU. Henderson has turned in a 4-10 clocking and has been timed some 12 seconds better than Griffith's 2-mile time.

BYU took points in other events where the Devils normally would have placed first. Bob Blanch upset ASC's Al

Miller in the javelin throw with a throw of 198' 11" and broad jumper Joe Brooks took the measure of Sun Devils Eddie Griggs and Fritz Gritzner, with a jump of 22' 11 1/4".

Or how to "strike oil" twice in the same place

"Some people believe that the more government has to say about business, the better.

"They argue, for instance, that the petroleum industry ought to be under more government control to keep America from running out of oil.

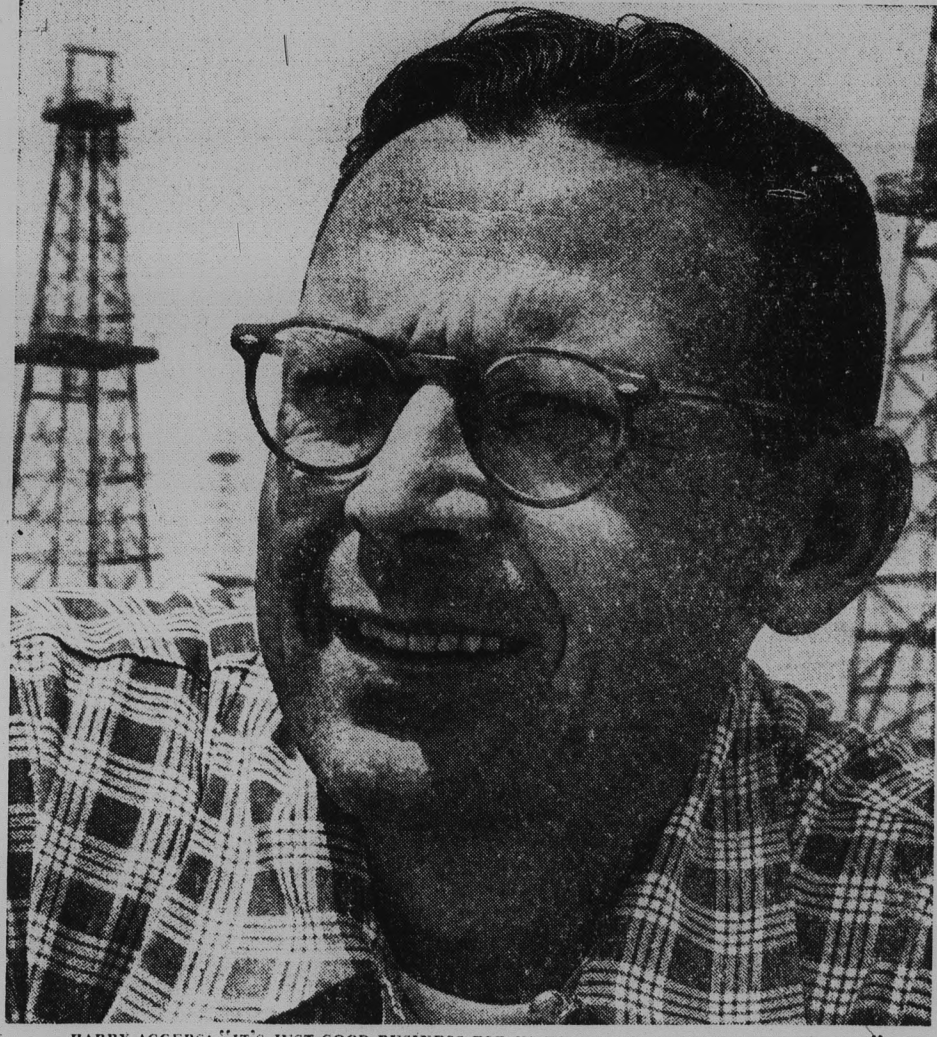

"What they forget is that it's just good business for oilmen to produce a property efficiently. We get more oil from a well when it is operated at its best rate of flow. This is one of the ways of conserving this natural resource!

"Take Dominguez field in California. Union and another company discovered oil there back in 1923.

"By 1936 oil production reached a peak of almost 31,000 barrels a day. But by 1947 our daily rate had declined to about 15,000 barrels.

HARRY AGGERS: "IT'S JUST GOOD BUSINESS FOR US TO PRODUCE A FIELD EFFICIENTLY."

"To get the most out of the field, we started waterflooding some areas. In our most recent project—which was started with the cooperation of the landowners and the other companies operating the field—we injected more than 7,000,000 barrels of water into 17 wells. This has forced oil out of 21 producing wells.

"As a result, we are now pumping 2,800 barrels of crude every day from these wells—an increase of 2,200 barrels a day over what we'd normally expect without waterflooding.

"You show me how government control could have added one barrel of oil to our production. Or conserved the pool any better so we can recover more oil in the future with methods yet to be developed!"

Harry Aggers—who has been with Union Oil for 22 years—manages our secondary recovery operations.

He believes that by 1975, at least 25% of all United States oil production will be by waterflooding. This does not include secondary recovery by gas injection or by methods yet to be developed.

The Dominguez results demonstrate again how efficiently a free oil industry achieves maximum economic production from a field, while conserving the source of the oil.
