Academic Catalog Archive - California

2025-2026

This document provides an archival record of the academic programs offered during the 2025-2026 academic year in California. It is a printable option of the online catalog for accreditation organizations, agencies and university offices for data collection, evaluation purposes and referencing. The information and links presented in this archive may no longer be accurate. For current catalog information, refer to the online version of the academic catalog.

Corrections or additions to the Academic Catalog Archive – California 2025-2026 program information and curriculum checksheets, as of December 2025, may be provided in a future addendum. For inquiries or questions, please contact academic.catalog@asu.edu.

About this Document

To navigate this version of the Academic Catalog – California 2025-2026, refer to the table of contents and the bookmarks provided. The table of contents provides a hyperlinked listing of resources in the order in which they appear in this document. Keyword searches may be employed as an additional means of locating resources within this document.

This document contains program descriptions and requirements for graduate degrees and certificates, undergraduate degrees, minors and undergraduate certificates. Curriculum checksheets, included for undergraduate degrees, outline each degree's requirements.

Our approach: ASU mission and goals

ASU charter

New American University - Toward 2030 and beyond

Download ASU Charter [1]

ASU is a comprehensive public research university, measured not by whom it excludes, but by whom it includes and how they succeed; advancing research and discovery of public value; and assuming fundamental responsibility for the economic, social, cultural and overall health of the communities it serves.

ASU Charter video [2] on Youtube

Mission and goals

Demonstrate leadership in enabling academic excellence and accessibility at scale

Maintain the fundamental principle of accessibility to all students qualified to study at a research university.

Maintain university accessibility to match Arizona's socioeconomic spectrum with undifferentiated outcomes for success.

Ensure that more than 90% of students continue studies beyond their first year.

Enhance university graduation rate to greater than 85% and more than 40,000 graduates annually.

Continuously enhance quality while maintaining affordability.

Overcome geographic and financial barriers to education by enrolling 170,000 degree-seeking students.

Continuously increase measured student development and learning outcomes.

Engage learners of all socioeconomic, geographic and demographic backgrounds.

Expand ASU's role as the leading global center for interdisciplinary research, discovery and development by 2030

Launch the prototype medical center for the planet.

Become the leading American center for discovery and scholarship in the integrated social sciences, and comprehensive arts and sciences.

Enhance research competitiveness to more than $1.5 billion in annual research expenditures.

Drive regional economic competitiveness through research, discovery and socioeconomically integrated programs.

Serve as a leading American center for innovation, entrepreneurship and sustainability.

Create the leading American center for education and learning technology.

Enhance our local impact and social embeddedness

Leverage ASU as a public enterprise to strengthen Arizona's interactive network of teaching, learning and discovery resources.

Co-develop solutions to the critical social, technical, cultural and environmental issues facing 21st-century Arizona, ensuring sustainability and resilience.

Meet the needs of 21st-century Universal Learners through personalized learning pathways that promote adaptability to emergent social and technological changes.

Design and launch ASU Health as a comprehensive cluster of teaching, learning and discovery health systems for the enhancement of social-scale health outcomes

Design and launch the Health Observatory at ASU.

Design and launch the School of Medicine and Advanced Medical Engineering.

Design and launch the School of Technology for Public Health.

Triple current nursing production and increase our nursing research ten-fold.

Advance the world's first Global Futures Laboratory

Expand the role of the Julie Ann Wrigley Global Futures Laboratory as a global leader in delivering solutions to planetary-scale challenges.

Build capacity to address urgent planetary challenges with speed, scale and immediate impact.

Design immersive learning spaces rooted in systems-thinking to empower learners to tackle complex, global challenges.

Partner with private-sector leaders to create workforces that align with the demands and opportunities of a sustainable global economy.

Develop regional Global Futures Laboratory hubs to amplify global reach and local impact, ensuring solutions are globally informed and locally actionable.

A New American University

Arizona State University exemplifies a new prototype for the American public research university.

More than a decade ago, ASU set forth a new and ambitious trajectory to become a comprehensive knowledge enterprise dedicated to the simultaneous pursuit of excellence, broad access to quality education, and meaningful societal impact. From that point forward, and founded on a vision for a new "gold standard", all of its energy, creativity and manpower have been brought to bear on the design of a uniquely adaptive and transdisciplinary university committed to producing master learners.

Nine design aspirations

Nine design aspirations guide ASU's ongoing evolution as a New American University. ASU integrates these institutional objectives in innovative ways to demonstrate excellence, access and impact.

Leverage our place

ASU embraces its culture, socioeconomic and physical setting.

Transform society

ASU catalyzes social change by being connected to social needs.

Value entrepreneurship

ASU uses its knowledge and encourages innovation.

Conduct use-inspired research

ASU research has purpose and impact.

Enable student success

ASU is committed to the success of each unique student.

Fuse intellectual disciplines

ASU creates knowledge by transcending academic disciplines.

Be socially embedded

ASU connects with communities through mutually beneficial partnerships.

Engage globally

ASU engages with people and issues locally, nationally and internationally.

Practice principled innovation

ASU places character and values at the center of decisions and actions.

Office of the president

Michael M. Crow

"Learning is for everyone. If we can help universities to produce more master learners dedicated to the breadth and betterment of our society and our democracy, we will have had a major impact on the outcome of humanity."

Distinguished Regents President

Michael M. Crow is an educator, knowledge enterprise architect, science and technology policy scholar and higher education leader. He became the sixteenth president of Arizona State University in July 2002 and has spearheaded ASU's rapid and groundbreaking transformative evolution into one of the world's best public metropolitan research universities. As a model "New American University," ASU simultaneously demonstrates comprehensive excellence, inclusivity representative of the ethnic and socioeconomic spectrum of the United States, and consequential societal impact.

Leadership

Nancy Gonzales

Executive Vice President and University Provost | ASU Search profile

Nancy Gonzales is the executive vice president and university provost of Arizona State University.

Prior to leading as university provost, Dr. Gonzales was the dean of natural sciences in The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. During her time as dean, the six academic units she managed produced exciting educational innovations, substantial growth in student enrollment, pioneering fundamental science, and research on grand challenges in human health, energy, sustainability, materials science and space exploration, among others.

As a Foundation Professor in the Department of Psychology, she conducted groundbreaking research on culturally informed models of human health and development with the goal of developing public health strategies to reduce health disparities in vulnerable communities. She also served as director of the REACH Institute, an interdisciplinary center of excellence dedicated to the implementation and dissemination of evidence-based interventions in settings such as primary health care, schools, family courts and community mental health agencies to improve mental and physical health outcomes.

Dr. Gonzales is a fellow of the American Psychological Association and the recipient of many professional honors, including distinguished career awards from the American Psychological Association, the Society for Research on Adolescence and the Society for Prevention Research. She was named an Arizona Latina Trailblazer, received the Founder's Day Award for Research from the ASU Alumni Association and was named one of the 2021 Most Influential Women in Arizona.

Academic accreditation

University Program Review and Accreditation Office

Welcome to the University Program Review and Accreditation (UPRA) Office

The University Program Review and Accreditation Office is housed within the Office of the University Provost, and is responsible for ensuring the quality education provided at Arizona State University. We do this through a few branches of work which are outlined below. Please visit our individual web pages to get a more detailed overview of each section.

Verify status here [1].

All Arizona State University academic programs are fully accredited by the Higher Learning Commission.

Liaison to the Higher Learning Commission (HLC)

The UPRA Office monitors institutional compliance with Higher Learning Commission HLC [2] policies and assumed practices and coordinates the institutional reviews for continuing accreditation by the HLC. UPRA also facilitates HLC approval of program and/or institutional changes when required.

Specialized accreditation oversight

The UPRA Office works closely with academic units and programs that seek new accreditation or seek re-accreditation [3] from external governing bodies. These accreditations ensure our programs adhere to industry and national standards. Our oversight includes coordinating meetings between site visitors and university administrators, reviewing self-studies and briefing papers, collecting site visitor reports and responses to the report, as well as acting as the repository for all accreditation documents.

Academic program review oversight

The Arizona Board of Regents (2-208) requires academic program reviews [4] at least once every seven years. Periodic program reviews provide a mechanism for faculty to evaluate the effectiveness, progress and status of their academic programs on a continuous basis. The UPRA Office is responsible for oversight of program reviews. Our office coordinates the academic program review process, which covers all program inventory of an academic unit including undergraduate and graduate programs as well as other curricular and co-curricular offerings. The reviews include a review of faculty contributions to the unit, facilities and resources, attention to missions, and many other aspects of the unit to ensure continuous quality improvement.

Centers and institutes oversight

Arizona State University is home to various centers and institutes [5] that blend the passions of exceptional teachers and scholars across disciplines. Our centers and institutes address large, complex problems and challenges facing society in hopes of finding solutions and making the world a better place. University Program Review and Accreditation Office provides review oversight for these centers and institutes.

Academic program review

Academic Program Review is part of the University Program Review and Accreditation Office. [1]

Purpose and guiding principles

The Arizona Board of Regents (2-208) requires Academic Program Reviews at least once every seven years. Periodic program reviews provide a mechanism for faculty to evaluate the effectiveness, progress and status of their academic programs on a continuous basis. At Arizona State University, the Executive Director for the University Program Review and Accreditation (UPRA) Office also serves as the Accreditation Liaison Officer (ALO) for ASU with the Higher Learning Commission. The UPRA Office in the Office of the University Provost coordinates the Academic Program Review process, which covers all program inventory of an academic unit including undergraduate and graduate programs as well as other curricular offerings housed within the unit under review.

The program review process is intended to provide a comprehensive assessment of the current status of an academic unit based on its programs, activities and achievements since its last program review while also providing the unit the opportunity to think strategically regarding its curricular offerings and its future direction. In doing so, the unit provides comparisons with its peers, identifies strengths and weaknesses in its curricula and pedagogy; assesses student quality and learning outcomes; provides an account of faculty contributions in teaching, research/creative activities, and service; assesses resource availability and needs; and summarizes special features or services provided by the unit. Finally, and perhaps most importantly, the program review should allow the unit, in conjunction with the university, to plan to build on existing strengths, maximize opportunities for growth and innovatively problem solve.

APR for units with specialized accreditation

Arizona Board of Regents Policy allows specialized accreditation reports to substitute for an APR, although expectations are that areas missed in the specialized review are addressed separately. For example, ABET reviews only undergraduate engineering programs, so the UPRA Office also gathers a review of graduate programs using a modified self-study template (see the example from the School of Electrical, Computer and Energy Engineering) [2].

The APR process allows the unit to evaluate thoroughly and candidly:

- The mission and goals of the program and it's relation to those of the university.
- Its future direction and strategic initiatives.
- The reputation of the program among peers in the discipline.
- The educational objectives, curriculum, and student learning outcomes of undergraduate and graduate programs.
- The quality of teaching and retention and graduation rates for undergraduate and graduate students.
- The quality and diversity of faculty and staff (including retention rates for underrepresented faculty) and their contributions to program mission and goals.
- Resources (e.g., laboratories, physical facilities)
- Readiness for accreditation, if appropriate.

The guiding principles for the APR process include:

- The process should be broadly participatory involving faculty, students, staff administrators, and relevant community constituents.
- The APR should provide a framework for excellence; an opportunity to explore, enhance, and integrate student learning and faculty teaching, service and scholarly efforts into the unit's mission and goals.
- The process should facilitate short-term and long-term strategic planning in areas such as curricula development, resource allocation (e.g., financial, physical), faculty/staff hiring/workload and research foci.
- The APR provides the opportunity for the university to account for its use of public resources and facilitate relationships with its various constituencies.

Those directly responsible for the APR process should familiarize themselves with all parts of the manual [3] along with the related checklists and appendices [4].

HLC's Notification Program for Additional Locations

Institutions that meet certain eligibility criteria may apply to participate in HLC's Notification Program for Additional Locations. This program allows institutions to open new locations after notifying HLC and receiving confirmation that the location has been added to our records, rather than applying for approval through the standard substantive change process.

Participation Status

The institution participates in the Notification Program for Additional Locations.

About HLC and Accreditation

HLC is an institutional accreditation agency that accredits degree-granting colleges and universities that are based in the United States.

Institutional accreditation validates the quality of an institution as a whole and evaluates multiple aspects of an institution, including its academic offerings, governance and administration, mission, finances, and resources. HLC's accreditation includes all degree levels as well as on-site and online course delivery. Institutions of higher education in the United States may also seek accreditation through specialized or programmatic accreditation agencies, which accredit programs, departments or schools within a college or university.

Evaluation Process

Institutions that HLC accredits are evaluated against its Criteria for Accreditation and other HLC requirements. HLC accreditation assures quality by verifying that an institution (1) meets threshold requirements and (2) is engaged in continuous improvement. In addition, all institutions are required to report data annually in the Institutional Update, undergo annual monitoring of financial and non-financial indicators, and adhere to HLC policies and practices.

The accreditation process is based on a system of peer review. Faculty and staff from institutions of higher education serve as HLC peer reviewers conducting accreditation evaluations for other institutions. They make recommendations to HLC's decision-making bodies, which take final action on institutional evaluations.

Decision Making

HLC's decision-making bodies evaluate and make decisions, called actions, on recommendations from peer reviewers and staff that review institutions for their compliance with HLC's Criteria for Accreditation and other requirements. The decision-making bodies are comprised of institutional representatives and public members. See Decision-Making Bodies and Processes for more information.

Public Information

HLC is committed to providing information to the public regarding accreditation decisions made regarding individual institutions.

Actions that are taken by HLC regarding an institution's accreditation status are disclosed to the public. In cases of reaffirming continued accreditation, placing an institution on or reviewing a sanction, or withdrawing accreditation, the Action Letter issued to the institution is made available on the institution's Statement of Accreditation Status, found by searching the institution's name through HLC's online directory. Public Disclosure Notices (PDNs) are also issued and posted in the directory in cases of sanction, assigning or removing an institutional designation, resignation of accreditation or candidacy, institutional closing or withdrawal of accreditation by HLC. The PDN provides the public with the most applicable information from the posted Action Letter. HLC decision-making outcomes also are summarized on the HLC Accreditation Actions page.

Complaints Against Institutions

HLC has a formal complaint process, consisting of an online complaint form for faculty, students and other parties to submit information regarding a member institution's potential non-compliance with HLC requirements. As stated in HLC policy, the complaints process is designed to enable HLC to review, in a timely and fair manner, information that suggests potential substantive non-compliance with an institution's ability to meet HLC requirements.

State authorization

How is ASU authorized in my state?

Select your state in the dropdown to see how ASU is authorized to operate in your state and to learn about policies and program exceptions in your state.

The State Authorization Reciprocity Agreements (SARA) is a national initiative that helps expand students' access to educational opportunities while maintaining compliance with state regulations. Institutions participating in SARA may offer distance education opportunities in SARA member states without seeking individual approval in each state. To learn more about SARA, visit <https://nc-sara.org/> [1].

The State of Arizona was approved as a SARA member state on November 11, 2014. Arizona State University is approved as a SARA participating institution by the Arizona SARA Council [2] and the National Council for State Authorization Reciprocity Agreements [1] (NC-SARA).

Relocating to a different state after admission into a degree program may impact whether a student can remain in the degree program, meet the state licensure requirements and/or continue to receive financial aid funding. Prior to considering relocating, it is recommended that students contact their program advisor to discuss authorization and licensure eligibility requirements. It is the students' responsibility to notify the institution of a change in physical location.

California

Arizona State University is a public university established in the State of Arizona. ASU is approved to operate in the State of California by the Bureau for Private Postsecondary Education [3] and is approved to offer select programs in-person at the ASU at Los Angeles location. For additional information, please see: <https://california.asu.edu/> [4] and <https://catalog.asu.edu/bppe-policies> [5].

Professional licensure and certification

ASU programs that may lead to professional licensure or certification are intended to prepare students for potential licensure or certification in Arizona. Completion of an ASU program may not meet educational requirements for licensure or certification in another state. For more information, students should visit the ASU professional licensure [6] webpage.

Complaint procedure

Students in an ASU at Los Angeles academic program, or any member of the public, can share concerns with the Bureau for Private Postsecondary Education at the following website: <https://www.bppe.ca.gov/enforcement/complaint.shtml> [7].

Arizona State University will take appropriate action to seek resolution when a student complaint is brought to our attention. Students wishing to file a complaint are encouraged to first utilize the University's internal complaint policies. Distance education students should see Policies [8] for further information.

Residency

Residency navigator

Use the residency navigator to help determine your eligibility for residency

Residency for tuition purposes

Your residency classification for tuition purposes is determined based on Arizona revised statutes [1] and guidelines provided by the Arizona Board of Regents' (ABOR) [2]. Students who have been classified as non-residents can request reclassification by submitting a Residency Petition. Use the Residency Navigator and the links below to learn more.

Students who graduated from an Arizona high school but do not otherwise qualify to be classified as residents for tuition purposes may be eligible to receive the Non-Resident Tuition Rate for Arizona High School Graduates [3].

Information about Arizona Prop. 308 [4].

Declaring Arizona residency

Are there any hardship exceptions?

No. Any person requesting classification as a resident for tuition purposes must prove they meet ABOR requirements or that they meet one of the approved exceptions.

Does living in Arizona with a relative other than my parents have any effect on residency status?

No. Your status will be determined based on a review of your situation, but living with family members or friends is not an indicator of intent or domicile and will not influence your status.

How long does it take to review my petition and where can I track its progress?

Average processing time is 4-6 weeks. Petitions submitted closer to the deadline may take longer. If you need a decision prior to the first day of classes, you should submit everything (petition and all required documents) no later than the priority deadline [7]. You can monitor the status of your petition from the residency reclassification application portal [17]. When a decision is made, an email will be sent to your @ASU email address.

I am a continuing student; will my residency automatically change after one year?

No. Your status will remain non-resident and any student wanting to be re-classified must initiate the process by contacting the residency office and submitting a petition by the appropriate deadline. Simply being a student at ASU for one year is not sufficient for residency purposes per ABOR policy, which reads, "No individual has established residency for tuition purposes in Arizona while attending any education institution in Arizona as a full-time student in the absence of objective evidence to the contrary."

I am a dual resident of Arizona; can I be considered a resident for tuition purposes?

No. Any person wishing to be classified as a resident would need to provide objective evidence of intent to be a permanent resident of Arizona and demonstrate that all ties to the former state have been severed.

I am a research assistant, teaching assistant or graduate assistant and have been paying resident tuition. Am I a resident?

No. These positions are funded by waivers submitted by your college or department that pays the out-of-state portion of your tuition and fees; but, your status for residency purposes remains non-resident. To request reclassification, you would need to submit residency petition and appropriate supporting documentation.

I am currently attending a community college in Arizona as a resident; does that make me a resident at ASU?

Not necessarily. Residency for tuition purposes for the three state universities is determined according to guidelines established by the Arizona Board of Regents (ABOR). The community colleges are not governed by ABOR and your classification as a resident at the community college may or may not be in compliance with current ABOR policies.

I attended an Arizona institution using the WUE (Western University Exchange) or WICHE (Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education) program; will I be considered a resident?

The WUE/WICHE program allows residents of a participating state to pay a special, reduced tuition rate at participating institutions in other states. However, the student must maintain residency in the originating state. In other words, by participating as a WUE/WICHE student you are affirming that you are not an Arizona resident. ABOR requirements for physical presence and intent to be an Arizona resident cannot be satisfied as a WUE/WICHE student. Refer to the ASU WUE page for more information.

I indicated that I was an Arizona resident on my admissions application, yet I am classified as a non-resident and was charged the non-resident application fee? How can I fix this?

Your residency classification is determined by a review of all of the information provided on your admissions application in accordance with guidelines provided by the Arizona Board of Regents. Your status as a non-resident is a result of one or more factors used to determine this classification. Please review the Residency Classification [18] web page and contact a residency specialist [19] if you have any questions.

I own property in Arizona; doesn't that make me a resident?

Owning property in Arizona does not automatically qualify you as a resident for tuition purposes. Property ownership is one factor to be considered, but would not be sufficient without other objective evidence of domicile and intent.

I was born and raised in Arizona then left for a short period of time before returning, can I still be classified as an Arizona resident for tuition purposes?

Leaving Arizona will not result in a loss of Arizona residency unless your absence is accompanied by actions that indicate intent to establish a new domicile elsewhere. Former residents of Arizona who established domicile elsewhere would be classified as non-residents upon return and would not be eligible for residency until current ABOR policies are met. Residency classification is re-visited after any break in enrollment or absence from the university.

I'm an ASU employee who is classified as a nonresident for tuition purposes, but am otherwise eligible for the Qualified Tuition Reduction Program. How should I proceed?

Please submit your Qualified Tuition Reduction Form (QTR) [20] to the Student Accounts Office. Once submitted, that office will notify the Residency Office who will adjust your residency status for the term in question.

If I marry an Arizona resident, can I be classified as a resident?

Yes. There is a provision in current ABOR guidelines that would allow you to be re-classified if you marry a resident of Arizona. You would request reclassification by submitting a residency petition and providing appropriate documentation to support that both you and your spouse meet current ABOR guidelines for the spouse exception.

My parent is an ASU alumnus; does it have any effect on my residency classification?

No. Your residency classification is evaluated against current ABOR policy and your parent's status as an alumnus is not a consideration.

My parents live out-of-state but I attend an Arizona high school; will I be considered a resident if I graduate from an Arizona high school?

No, you would be classified as a non-resident. Per ABOR guidelines, "The domicile of an unemancipated person is that of either parent." You may, however, qualify for the Non-Resident Tuition Rate for Arizona High School Graduates [21], which is 150% of in-state tuition.

Non-resident tuition rate for Arizona high school graduates

What is it? If you graduated from an Arizona high school, with three years of physical attendance in Arizona (even if not consecutive), but don't qualify for in-state tuition, you may be eligible for a special reduced rate that's 150% of in-state tuition (instead of the full out-of-state rate).

Who qualifies?

You must meet all three requirements:

- Be an ASU undergraduate student
- Graduated from an Arizona high school
- Attended high school in Arizona for at least 3 years while living in Arizona

Note: The 3 years don't have to be consecutive, and completing 9th grade in Arizona counts toward the requirement.

What's covered?

This reduced rate applies to regular undergraduate tuition only. It does not apply to:

- Online programs
- Differential tuition
- Accelerated programs
- Distributed programs

How to apply

Automatic review: If you graduated from an Arizona high school, we'll automatically check if you qualify when you submit your final high school transcript to ASU Admissions [1]. You'll get an email letting you know the result.

Manual application: If you're not automatically approved but think you qualify, you can submit an application [2] with supporting documents.

Important deadlines

- Fall 2025: August 29, 2025
- Spring 2026: January 21, 2026

Applications received after these deadlines will not be considered.

Key things to know

- You'll still be classified as a non-resident student [3]
- This tuition change may affect your financial aid - contact Financial Aid [4] if you have questions

- Use the ASU tuition calculator [5] to estimate your costs
- It doesn't matter when you graduated - if you meet the requirements, you're eligible
- Review ABOR Policy [6] for more details

Residency requirements

Student/petition types

ABOR policy broadly defines nine different paths to residency. Each has a unique set of requirements, which are summarized below. Choosing the right petition is an important first step and we encourage you to read carefully and contact us [1] if you have questions. Please note that with the passage of Arizona Prop. 308 [2], some students who qualify as noncitizens may now be eligible for an in-state tuition rate.

How to petition [3].

Independent student

The Independent Student petition is best suited for students that:

- Have been continuously and physically present in Arizona for more than 12 months (with no absences of more than 30 days)
- Are residents of Arizona and have maintained the legal and customary ties that would be expected of someone who claims Arizona as their “true, fixed and permanent home” for the same 12 months of continuous presence.
- Can provide objective evidence of being financially independent for 12 months.
- Are not in Arizona primarily to be a student and can overcome or rebut these basic presumptions:
 - Non-resident students are in Arizona primarily for the purpose of education and not to establish domicile;
 - Students can't establish domicile while in Arizona primarily for the purposes of education;
 - Students can't establish domicile in Arizona while enrolled at any educational institution in Arizona as a full-time student;
 - Decisions about permanent domicile are generally made after the completion of an education, and not before.

Additional information about the Independent Student petition can be found here:

More information [4]

Dependent student

The Dependent Student petition is best suited for students that:

- Can provide objective evidence that they are domiciled in Arizona
- Have parents (or a parent) who are domiciled in Arizona
- Can document that your parent (who is domiciled in Arizona) is entitled to claim you as an exemption for federal and state tax purposes.

Additional information about the Dependent Student petition can be found here:

[More information \[5\]](#)

Spouse

The Spouse petition is best suited for students that:

- Are married but don't meet all requirements for the Independent Student petition
- Can provide objective evidence that they are domiciled in Arizona
- Can provide objective evidence that their spouse has been domiciled in Arizona for 12 months or more
- Can provide objective evidence that their spouse is financially independent

Additional information about the Spouse petition can be found here:

[More information \[6\]](#)

Transferred employee

The Transferred Employee petition is best suited for students that:

- Can provide objective evidence that they have established domiciled in Arizona
- Are currently employed by an employer who transferred them to Arizona for employment purposes
- Were transferred within the last 12 months
- Are not self-employed or employed in a family-owned business that did not previously operate in Arizona
- Were transferred at the direction of and for the benefit of their employer.

Additional information about the Transferred Employee petition can be found here:

[More information \[7\]](#)

Qualifying federal service/military

The Qualifying Federal Service/Military Petition is best suited a student that:

- Is a member of a Qualifying Federal Service who is on active duty for a period of more than 30 days and whose domicile or permanent duty station is in Arizona or is the spouse or dependent child of a Member of a Qualifying Federal Service, or
- Is a member of the Armed Forces of the United States stationed outside of Arizona pursuant to military orders and claimed Arizona as the service member's legal residence for at least twelve consecutive months, or
- Is the spouse or dependent child of a member of the Armed Forces of the United States stationed outside of Arizona pursuant to military orders and the service member claimed Arizona as the service member's legal residence for at least twelve consecutive months, or
- Is a dependent of a U.S. military member who is using transferred Post-9/11 G.I. Bill (Chapter 33) benefits during a time in which the member of the U.S. uniformed services is serving on active duty of 90 days or more.

Additional information about the Qualifying Federal Service/Military Petition can be found here:

[More information \[8\]](#)

Veterans

The Veteran petition is best suited for students that:

- can provide objective evidence of intent to be an Arizona resident
- meet any of the following conditions:
- student is a veteran discharged with a character of service of "honorable"
- student is a veteran and is using Ch. 30, 31, 33, or 35 benefits

- student is the spouse or dependent of a veteran who was discharged from active duty service of ninety days or more and is using Ch. 30, 31, 33, or 35 benefits
- Student is receiving benefits certified under the Marine Gunnery Sergeant John David Fry Scholarship

Additional information about the Veteran petition can be found here:

More information [9]

American Indian

The American Indian petition is best suited for students that:

- Are enrolled members of an Indian tribe whose reservation land lies wholly or partially in Arizona. Eligible tribes are:
 - Ak Chin Indian Community of Maricopa
 - Cocopah Tribe of Arizona
 - Colorado River Indian Tribes of the Colorado River Indian Reservation—includes Chemehuevi, Hopi, Mohave and Navajo
 - Fort McDowell Yavapai Nation
 - Fort Mojave Indian Tribe
 - Gila River Indian Community
 - Havasupai Tribe
 - Hopi Tribe
 - Hualapai Indian Tribe
 - Kaibab Band of Paiute Indians
 - Navajo Nation
 - Pascua Yaqui Tribe
 - Pueblo of Zuni
 - Quechan Tribe
 - Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community
 - San Carlos Apache Tribe
 - San Juan Southern Paiute Tribe
 - Tohono O'odham Nation
 - Tonto Apache Tribe
 - White Mountain Apache Tribe
 - Yavapai-Apache Nation
 - Yavapai-Prescott Tribe

Additional information about the American Indian petition can be found here:

More information [10]

Teacher waiver and AmeriCorps/Vista

The Teacher Waiver is best suited for students that:

- Are domiciled in Arizona
- Under contract to either teach either teach on a full-time basis or work as a full-time classroom aide in:
 - an Arizona public school district, or
 - an approved Arizona charter school, or
 - an approved Arizona private school.

Teacher waivers are based on enrollment and are effective only for the semester in which they are submitted. A new teacher waiver petition must be submitted for subsequent semesters. The Teacher Waiver does not change your residency classification, but does allow the student to pay in-state tuition for courses required for teacher certification in Arizona.

Additional information about the Teacher Waiver can be found here:

More information [11]

The AmeriCorps/VISTA petition is best suited for students that:

- have completed one year of service in Arizona in either an AmeriCorps or Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA) program.

More information [12]

ROTC/Contracted cadet

The ROTC/Contracted Cadet petition is best suited for students that:

- are contracted cadets participating in a Reserve Officer Training Corp (ROTC) program in Arizona.

More information [13]

Freely associated states

Effective July 1, 2024: A citizen of the three Freely Associated States: the Federated States of Micronesia, the Republic of the Marshall Islands, and the Republic of Palau is eligible to be classified as resident for tuition purposes.

Please contact the Residency Classification Office [14] for additional information about this exception.

Residency guidelines

Your initial residency classification is determined when you apply for admission to the University based on residency guidelines provided by the Arizona Board of Regents (ABOR) [15]. ABOR policy 4-204 defines the process for requesting reclassification and places the burden of proof on the student. Students seeking reclassification are responsible for providing objective evidence for all factors necessary to provide a basis for this change.

Residency petition

This is your formal request for reclassification. Your petition will consist of an online questionnaire and your supporting documentation. The online residency petition [16] is only available to current, active, non-resident students. New or future students do not become current or active until they are admitted to the University and enrollment begins for the student's semester of admission (see the ASU Academic Calendar [17] for enrollment dates).

When you are ready to submit your petition, here are the steps:

Step One: Start [16] and submit your online questionnaire prior to the petition deadline.

Step Two: Submit [16] your documents prior to the document deadline

Step Three: Pay [16] the $50 petition fee prior to the document deadline (if applicable)

Complete the steps in this order and Contact the Residency Office [14] if you need more information.

Deadlines

Deadlines are critical. Missing a deadline [18] means you have forfeited your right to request reclassification for that semester.

Requirements

Specific requirements are summarized, paraphrased and iterated in various places, including above. Before you start your petition, we encourage you to understand the requirements for your petition and ask questions when you need help. Don't make assumptions about what you think is required or what you need to provide. Successful petitions require you to do your homework and spend some time gathering thorough and credible documentation. Unsuccessful petitions are most often characterized by a lack of documentation or an incorrect understanding of the requirements.

Documentation

Your required documentation will be as unique as you are. The documents requested are based on how you answer the online questionnaire and there is not a fixed list of documents that applies to everyone. Petitions that are lacking sufficient documentation will be denied. Written or verbal statements of intent will not meet your burden to provide objective evidence. You will also have the ability to submit something we didn't ask for. It can be hard to know what might be helpful to students in every situation, but feel free to submit anything you think will support your request.

Burden of proof

The burden of proof is yours. Your documentation will need to support your claim that you are meeting all requirements for in-state classification. Per ABOR policy, verbal testimony and statements of intent are weighed in light of the fact that you understand a change in classification will result in a substantial reduction in tuition.

Petition fee

There is a $50, non-refundable fee required if you are requesting reclassification as an independent student, dependent student, spouse or transferred employee. The petition fee can be paid online after you submit your petition. The Residency Classification Office cannot accept or process any fee payments. There are no fees associated with the following petition types: Military, Veteran, Native American, AmeriCorps/VISTA and Teacher Waiver.

Integrity

Misrepresentation or falsification of any information related to your residency classification can result in significant penalties. Students who have omitted, falsified, or misrepresented any information in effort to obtain resident status will be referred to Student Rights and Responsibilities [19] for disciplinary action. This may include dismissal from the university or forfeiting your right to request reclassification for current and future terms.

Processing time

Processing times vary and are largely dependent on when your petition and supporting docs are submitted. Average processing time is 4-6 weeks, but decisions will take longer for petitions that are submitted within one month of the petition deadline. If you need a decision prior to the first day of classes, you should submit everything (petition and all required documents) no later than the priority deadline [18].

Checking your petition status

The status of your petition can be viewed from the residency petition dashboard [20]. This is also where you submit your petition and all supporting documents.

The lifespan of a petition is characterized by different statuses and will vary from student to student: In most cases, the progression will look like this:

- In queue: You've submitted everything and your petition is now ready to be reviewed.
- Documents needed: Your petition has been reviewed, but we need additional documents. We will send you an email with details, including instructions on how to upload your new documents.
- Contact residency: Your petition has been reviewed, but we would like to talk with you about something. Give us call or send us an email so we can finish reviewing your petition.

- Pending: New information has been added to your petition and is ready for a 2nd review.
- In review: A decision will be sent to you in the next 7-10 days. We have all that we need, but need a little time to make our final decision.
- Approved: Congrats! Your request has been approved. You will also get an email with details – please read this carefully as residency changes can affect other things besides tuition – for example, refunds or financial aid.
- Denied: Your request has been denied. We will also notify you via email. If denied, you will also be given a detailed decision summary that explains our decision.
- Withdrawal Warning: You have not submitted all of your required documentation and your petition is at risk of being withdrawn. Submit all required documents prior to the document deadline so that your petition can be put "in queue".
- Withdrawn: Your petition has been withdrawn and a decision will not be rendered.

Your petition may skip steps or bounce between different statuses. This is normal and how we manage workflow for hundreds of petitions every semester. Keep an eye on your email and track your status from the dashboard [20].

Petition outcome

Decisions are based on the quality of your documentation and the extent to which you have met your burden of proof. There are no exceptions granted due to unusual circumstances or financial hardship. ABOR policy defines the circumstances under which a student can be classified as a resident for tuition purposes and the Residency Classification Office and university does not have the authority to make exceptions.

Committee review

If your residency petition is denied and you believe this decision is erroneous, you can request a committee review [21]. This is a formal request to have your petition reviewed by the Residency Review Committee. The deadline to request a review will be indicated on your denial notification. Requests made after your deadline will not be processed.

Tuition and fees

Your tuition and fees are dependent on your residency classification. Until your classification is changed, you are a non-resident for tuition purposes and having a petition pending does not absolve you from your responsibility to pay your tuition and fees in full by the published deadline [17] per university policy. If your petition is approved, overpayments will be refunded to you; however, late fees and payment plan fees (if applied) are non-refundable.

Financial aid

Financial aid is calculated based partly on cost of attendance. Changes to your residency classification may cause your financial aid to be recalculated and adjusted accordingly. In some cases, your aid may be reduced or cancelled and you may be required to return funds that have already been disbursed to you. If you have questions, contact Financial Aid and Scholarship Services [22].

Visa types and residency for international students

Students who hold a visa that requires them to maintain a foreign domicile or that otherwise prohibits establishing domicile in Arizona cannot be classified as residents for tuition purposes. Temporary or non-immigrant visas do not allow an individual to obtain a permanent status in Arizona regardless of the length of the visa or the number of times it is renewed. Students who are classified as residents but are then issued a non-eligible visa type will be changed to non-resident. Please see visa types and residency eligibility list [23] for additional information.

Proposition 308

Information about Prop. 308 can be viewed: here [24]

ASU campuses and locations in other states

Per Arizona Revised Statutes, a person having a domicile other than the state of Arizona is not eligible for classification as an in-state student for tuition purposes. If you are a student at an ASU campus or location outside of Arizona, you will be classified as a nonresident unless you provide objective evidence that you are domiciled in Arizona (i.e., Arizona is your true, fixed and permanent home).

Residency petition documentation

Your documentation is a critical part of your petition. However, the list of documents needed can only be generated after you have completed the online questionnaire portion of your petition. Use the residency navigator [1] to help determine which petition type is most applicable to your situation and start your petition from here [2].

If you have questions or need assistance, contact the residency office [3] for help.

Submitting documentation

You will use the residency petition dashboard [2] to upload and submit all required documentation. This is a secure application that stores your documents directly to your student record. Be sure to submit all documents prior to the document deadline [4].

Here are some tips to help you with uploading your documents:

- Each requested item requires a separate file. For example, you will have one file for your driver's license, one for your voter registration, etc.
- You can and should upload multiple files for specific items. For example, 12 months of bank statements would be uploaded as 12 separate files. This simplifies the review process and makes it easier to keep track of your documents.
- You can add descriptions to your uploaded documents to clarify what that document is or why it is being provided.
- You can delete documents that were added by mistake; however, once you hit the "Submit Documents" button, your documents are saved to your student record and cannot be removed.
- Your required documents list is generated based on how you answer certain questions. All documents are important and not providing something may cause your petition to be denied.
- Per ABOR guidelines, "Objective Evidence" means documentation or information other than an individual's own statement(s) of intent. Statements of intent will not meet your burden to provide objective evidence.
- You can upload some documents and then return at a later date to finish, but nothing is official until you click on the "Submit Documents" button.
- You won't be able to submit your documents until request documents have been uploaded.
- Acceptable file types are: .BMP, .CSV, .DOC, .DOCX, .JPEG, .JPG, .PDF, .PNG, .RTF, .TIF, .TIFF, .TXT, .XLS, .XLSX
- Make it easy for your evaluator to quickly make sense of your documents by giving each file a unique or descriptive name, e.g., "May_2021_Bank_Statement".

If you get stuck or have an issue, try this: How to Upload Documents [5]. Or, let us know - we can help you through the process.

Petition fees

Petition fees can be paid from the Residency Petition Dashboard [2]. If payment is required for your petition type, your petition will not be reviewed until this fee is paid. The Residency Classification Office cannot accept or process any fee payments.

Additional information

- Petitions are processed based on when they are completed (and marked as “in queue”). Submit your petition and supporting documents as early as possible.
- When you submit a petition, a priority task will appear in My ASU [15] to remind you to support your petition with appropriate documentation. Once we have what we need, this task will be removed.
- The university considers all information relevant to your request – this includes anything in your academic record – e.g. admissions application, financial aid awards, etc.
- We may verify the authenticity of all documents provided and may add our own research or findings to your petition.
- You are expected to provide all required documents. If there is something you can't provide, please submit a written explanation instead.
- Your documentation must be clear and legible.
- All students are advised to redact sensitive information prior to the submission of certain documents, e.g., your social security number on your tax return.
- You may be asked for additional documents or written explanation.
- The burden of proof belongs to you. It is your responsibility to support your petition with appropriate documentation.
- Applications and accompanying documentation will be retained by Arizona State University in accordance with university approved requirements. All information will be kept confidential as required by law and university policy.

Residency deadlines

Deadlines are critical and missing a deadline can have significant consequences. Refer to the table below to ensure your petition is submitted in a timely manner.

Deadlines - what they mean & why they are important	Fall 2025	Spring 2026
Petition deadline - This is the most important deadline. Don't miss this deadline. Failure to submit a petition by this deadline constitutes a waiver of your right to petition for this semester. Exceptions are not granted and there is no option to appeal a missed deadline.	8/27/2025	1/18/2026
Document deadline - This is the last day to submit supporting documentation and pay the fee for your petition (if applicable). Petitions that are lacking supporting documentation will be withdrawn.	9/10/2025	2/2/2026
Petition availability - Petitions for each semester are only available to students during this time-frame	2/5/2025 - 8/27/2025	9/15/2025 - 1/18/2026
Priority deadline - Petitions submitted and supported by all required documents prior to this date will be reviewed before the tuition payment deadline [1].	6/1/2025	11/1/2025
All dates are subject to change

Petition availability

The petition is only available to non-resident students who are both admitted and term-activated for the semester in which they wish to petition (which means the semester in question has been enabled for the student – this usually coincides with registration and enrollment). The petition is not available to parents, spouses, or anyone except the student (i.e. petition can only be accessed using the student's asurite ID).

When to submit your petition

Submit your petition before the petition deadline and as early as possible. However, don't submit your petition prior to meeting all stated requirements. For example, independent students who won't meet the continuous physical presence requirement until August 1, should submit their petition after August 1; dependent students who qualify because a parent is moving to Arizona should not submit their petition until after their parent has moved to Arizona. Submitting your petition before you meet requirements may result in your petition being denied or delayed (pending additional documents).

Processing time

Processing times vary and are largely dependent on petition type and when all supporting docs are submitted. Average processing time is 2-6 weeks. Petitions submitted within one month of the petition deadline tend to take longer and often are not completed before classes begin. If you need an early decision, please submit everything (petition and all required documents) no later than the priority deadline (see above).

Residency petition committee review

Students that petitioned for residency reclassification [1] but were denied by the residency office can request a review of their decision per ABOR 4-205. Reviews are only conducted only after the student's petition has been denied by the residency office.

The petition review process gives the student an opportunity to meet with the Residency Classification Review Committee and to provide additional information in support of their request to be classified as a resident for tuition purposes. Decisions made by the review committee are final.

Deadlines

Per policy, all requests for review must be filed no later than 35 days after the last day of registration [2] for the term for which your petition was submitted. Failure to file a request for a review hearing within the time prescribed shall constitute a waiver of the right to request a review hearing and the determination made by the Residency Classification Office shall be final. Students cannot request a review until their residency petition has been denied. The deadline to request a committee review will be noted on the decision summary prepared by the residency office.

Submit your review request

Before submitting your request, please review your decision summary and denial letter [1] (and current Arizona Board of Regents (ABOR) guidelines [3].) If you do not have a denial letter or decision summary, you are not yet eligible to request a committee review.

- Form: Residency Petition Committee Review Request [4]
- Additional instructions are included on the form.

New documentation

New documentation should be submitted with your review request. You will have 7 days after submitting your request to upload and submit additional documentation. This ensures that all review committee members have sufficient time to consider this new information prior to your hearing.

Scheduling

Hearing schedules are created prior to each semester based on committee member availability. Every effort will be made to accommodate your class schedule; however, with limited dates and times there can be no guarantee that your hearing will be compatible with your schedule. Requests for changes must be submitted in writing no later than 5 business days prior to your scheduled hearing.

- Reviews are prioritized and scheduled based on receipt date of your request.
- You will receive notification of your scheduled review at least 7 business days prior to your hearing.
- Hearings are only scheduled on weekdays and may be scheduled during spring, fall or winter breaks.

Review hearing

All review hearings will be conducted via Zoom and hosted by a representative from the University (who otherwise does not participate). Committees will have 3, 4 or 5 voting members, all of whom will have a thorough understanding of your situation and applicable residency requirements. Members will review all aspects of your petition and ask questions relevant to your situation. Your hearing is limited to 30 minutes and a decision will be made at either the conclusion of your hearing or within 10 business days.

Attendance

It is preferable, but not required, that you attend this hearing. If you choose to not attend, your hearing will be held in absentia and the committee will make their final decision based on all information available to them. Hearings held in absentia cannot be rescheduled.

Counsel or representation

You are allowed to invite witnesses or have legal representation at your hearing. If an attorney or other person(s) will be representing you at your hearing, please provide the Residency Office with that information in advance. The format of your hearing will be determined by the committee.

Review committee decision

Decisions of the Residency Classification Review Committee are final. Overturning the decision to deny your petition requires a majority vote from the committee. In the unlikely event of a tie vote, the original decision made by the Residency Office shall stand.

Written notice of the decision made by the committee will be sent to the email address assigned to you by the University, i.e., your @asu email address.

Per ABOR policy, if your decision is upheld by the review committee (i.e. denied), there are no further procedures within the university available to you, but you may have the right to seek judicial review in the state courts. See ABOR 4-205 [5] for additional information.

Other considerations:

- All review hearings are recorded, as required by ABOR policy.
- If the decision to deny your petition is overturned, your tuition will be adjusted and/or refunded for the term in question, as applicable.
- Committee members must comply with ABOR guidelines and have no authority to make exceptions.
- Having a review scheduled does not excuse you from other deadlines, obligations or commitments, including submitting a new petition for subsequent semesters.

Tuition and fees

Definitions of ASU tuition costs and fees

As an ASU student, you will pay tuition (the cost of taking your classes) and fees (a charge for the use of something like technology or the gym). Your tuition and fees will differ from other students based on a variety of factors.

What are the tuition and fees at ASU?

ASU tuition costs vary on a number of things, the biggest being whether you are a resident or nonresident of Arizona. To determine your tuition and fees, visit our Tuition Estimator [1].

ASU fees also vary by student type, but there are some fees, such as the athletics fee, that all students are required to pay. (But by paying it you get to attend all ASU Athletics events. Go Devils!) View a complete list of ASU fees [2].

Types of ASU tuition

Resident tuition

Students who have established that they are Arizona residents for tuition purposes typically attend college at a lower rate than out of state students. Students are asked to prove their residency status by meeting certain criteria [3].

Nonresident tuition

Students who are not residents of Arizona will pay an out of state tuition rate. Some non-resident students may be eligible for reduced tuition through programs such as the Western Undergraduate Exchange [4].

International tuition

As an international student, you'll pay ASU for tuition and fees. Housing and food, books, course materials, supplies, and equipment, transportation, and personal expenses will vary. Learn more about tuition as an international student [5].

Online tuition

Online tuition and fees are closely aligned with campus tuition and fees, and ASU doesn't have out-of-state tuition for online students. Exact tuition costs will depend on your program, transfer credits and course load. Learn more about ASU Online tuition [6].

Common ASU fees

Colleges charge students various fees to support certain programs that in turn support students. These fees vary depending on the college. Read on for some examples of ASU student fees. This is not a complete list of ASU student fees, but is intended to give you an idea of what they are and what they're for.

- Recreation fee ($25) to support programs and services at the Sun Devil Fitness Complex.
- Student Service Facility fee ($75) to build and refurbish common student spaces.
- Student Programs fee ($35) for programs that support the student experience.
- Health and Wellness fee ($55) for health and counseling services.
- Student Athletic fee ($75) to support Sun Devil Athletics (and get free tickets in return).
- College and school fees These fees vary depending on your college. Check with them for more details.
- Surcharge fee This protects the university's ongoing financial health following the $24 million cut to ASU's budget enacted by the state legislature and governor of Arizona.

See a complete list of fees [2]

How can I find out how much my tuition will be?

1. Identify which ASU degree you want to earn.
2. Determine whether you are an in-state resident, or if you are an out-of-state, or international student.
3. Determine your general costs by using the tuition estimator [1] and list of common fees [2].
4. Explore your financial aid options.
5. Receive an estimate of how much financial aid you can apply to tuition costs.
6. Existing students will receive monthly eBills on My ASU.

Qualified tuition reduction

The Qualified tuition reduction program permits eligible employees to take advantage of educational opportunities at the University.

For additional information

Please review SPP 505 [1], Employee-Reduced In-State Tuition, for additional information regarding eligibility and benefits.

Qualified tuition reduction program eligibility

Reduced in-state tuition is available to faculty and staff who are employed at least 50% within the state university system, their spouses and dependent children. You must be employed on the first day of the session to be eligible for employee reduced in-state tuition. At ASU, the Qualified Tuition Reduction Form must be submitted on or before the first day of a session to qualify for reduced tuition.

Institutional merit-based aid provided by the University [2] will not exceed the value of stated resident tuition for each respective academic year when combined with the Qualified Tuition Reduction (QTR, a benefit for faculty and staff) or other tuition reduction programs (or waivers). Students offered multiple awards designated for base tuition, cannot receive more than 100% of base tuition. For questions regarding how your qualified tuition reduction benefit may impact your other financial aid awards, please contact Financial Aid [3].

Qualified tuition reduction form(s)

ASU employees must complete and submit the Qualified Tuition Reduction Form each semester to receive the reduced in-state tuition benefit for classes taken at ASU, University of Arizona and Northern Arizona University. Forms can be signed and submitted electronically utilizing Adobe Sign. Forms can be obtained online [4] and will be routed accordingly to Student Business Services for review and processing upon electronic signature by the employee. Please allow 3-5 business days before your qualified tuition reduction benefit will be reflected on your ASU student account. Forms should be submitted prior to the first day of classes and early to ensure timely processing. The outstanding balance of the ASU tuition will remain on your student account and should be paid by the tuition payment deadline to avoid late fees.

NAU and U of A Classes; ASU retirees

Please note there is a separate qualified tuition reduction form for classes at U of A or NAU and for ASU retirees taking classes at U of A, NAU or ASU. The qualified tuition reduction form for U of A/NAU/Retiree staff must be approved by staff in ASU Human Resources and then will be forwarded accordingly to the tuition payment office at the campus where classes are being taken.

Affiliate organizations

Employees of ASU affiliate organizations are also eligible for the qualified tuition reduction benefit upon verification of their employment with the affiliate organization. A different form is necessary for employees of ASU affiliates. Upon submission of the form, ASU Student Business Services will verify employment with the applicable affiliate contact and, when confirmed, will apply the tuition reduction benefit. Due to the additional verification involved, please allow 7-10 business days for your benefit to be reflected on your ASU student account.

All forms are available on the CFO website [4] along with additional information about the qualified tuition reduction benefit. For questions or for employees preferring to manually sign their qualified tuition reduction form, please contact Student Business Services at tuitionreduction@asu.edu.

What is Prop. 308?

Arizona Proposition 308 is a legislative referral that was on the November 2022 ballot. Voters passed Prop. 308, and it became effective Dec. 5, 2022, after the election results were certified and proclaimed to be law by Governor Ducey. The Arizona Board of Regents approved Prop. 308 for implementation on Dec. 13, 2022.

With the passage of Arizona Prop. 308, some students who qualify as noncitizens may be eligible for an in-state college tuition rate. Students will be notified via email of any impact to the status of their tuition. Arizona State University is currently reviewing how Prop. 308 will impact ASU financial aid eligibility criteria.

Understanding Proposition 308: frequently asked questions

What does Prop. 308 do?

Prop. 308 made two significant changes to Arizona law.

First, with the passage of Prop. 308, a qualifying non-citizen student, with statutorily defined exceptions [1], is eligible for in-state resident tuition at state universities and community colleges if the student both:

1. Attended an Arizona public or private high school, or homeschool for a minimum of two years; and
2. Graduated from an Arizona public or private high school, or homeschool equivalent, or obtained an Arizona high school equivalency diploma, e.g., a general equivalency diploma (GED).

Second, Prop. 308 repealed A.R.S. § 15-1825, and now non-citizen students are eligible to receive financial aid funded in whole, or in part, with state monies, regardless of immigration status.

In-state tuition and Prop 308

Who qualifies for in-state tuition under Prop. 308?

A qualifying noncitizen student, other than the nonimmigrant aliens described under 8 U.S. Code § 1101(a)(15), are eligible for in-state tuition under Prop. 308, regardless of immigration status, if the student meets both of the following criteria:

1. The student attended any public or private high school or homeschool equivalent while physically present in Arizona for at least two years; and
2. The student graduated from any public or private high school or homeschool equivalent in Arizona or obtained a high school equivalency diploma in Arizona a, i.e., a GED.

Do the two years of physical presence in Arizona while attending high school need to be consecutive?

No. Students do not need to have two years of consecutive presence. However, to be eligible, they still must provide documentation that they both:

1. Attended any public or private high school option or homeschool equivalent while physically present in Arizona for at least two years; and
2. Graduated from a public or private high school option or homeschool equivalent or obtained a high school equivalency diploma in Arizona.

Will students with visas be eligible for in-state tuition?

Nonimmigrant aliens described under 8 U.S. C. § 1101(a)(15) are not eligible for in-state tuition under Prop. 308. This includes, but is not limited to, students who hold F1, F2, J1, H4 or H1 visas. For a complete list, please look at 8 U.S. C. § 1101(a)(15).

Nonimmigrant aliens described under 8 U.S. Code § 1101(a)(15) are not eligible for in-state tuition under Prop. 308.

Do the qualifying noncitizen students eligible for in-state tuition under Prop. 308 also need to prove domicile under A.R.S. § 15-1802?

No. A qualifying noncitizen student will pay in-state tuition if they meet the requirements of

A.R.S. § 15-1803(B):

1. The student attended any public or private high school or homeschool equivalent while physically present in Arizona for at least two years; and
2. The student graduated from any public or private high school or homeschool equivalent in Arizona or obtained a high school equivalency diploma in Arizona, i.e., a GED.

When will these qualifying noncitizen students be eligible to receive in-state tuition?

Prop. 308 became effective Dec. 5, 2022, after the election results were certified, and proclaimed to be law by Governor Ducey. ASU will begin to apply it toward the spring 2023 semester.

Are current qualifying noncitizen students eligible for in-state tuition?

Yes. Students who meet the requirements of Prop. 308 are eligible for in-state tuition for any semester that starts after Dec. 13, 2022. Prop. 308 does not have a retroactive effect, so students will not be reclassified for semesters that began prior to Dec. 13, 2022.

What should I do if I have questions about my residency status?

Please contact a team member at residency@asu.edu [2] about your ability to qualify for in-state tuition under Prop. 308.

Financial aid and Prop 308

How does Prop. 308 impact eligibility for financial aid?

Prop. 308 repealed an Arizona law (A.R.S. § 15-1825) that prohibited students who were not citizens of the United States and who were “without lawful immigration status” from receiving financial assistance subsidized or paid in whole, or in part, with state monies, such as tuition waivers, fee waivers, grants, scholarships, and any other type of financial aid or assistance.

With the passage of Prop. 308, all students – regardless of immigration status – may be eligible to receive financial aid paid in whole or in part with state monies to attend an Arizona public university or an Arizona community college. While Prop. 308 eliminated barriers to eligibility for financial aid based on immigration status, a student must still meet all other requirements of the state financial aid they are seeking.

To be eligible for state financial aid, a student does NOT need to meet the Arizona high school attendance or graduation criteria. That applies only to eligibility for in-state tuition.

Prop. 308 does not impact the eligibility requirements to receive federal financial aid.

When the law takes effect, are students who are eligible for in-state tuition under Prop. 308 also eligible for the Arizona Promise Program?

No. To qualify for the Arizona Promise Program, a student must meet all the eligibility requirements under A.R.S. § 15-1701. One requirement of the Promise Program is that a student must qualify for a Pell Grant, which is federal need-based financial aid. Aliens without legal immigration status, who are not citizens or legal permanent residents, do not qualify for federal financial aid. More information about the Arizona Promise Program, including eligibility requirements, is available at: www.azregents.edu/programs/arizona-promise-program [3].

Students impacted by Prop. 308 may be eligible for other state or college financial aid, in addition to private scholarships.

What other scholarships are the students impacted by Prop. 308 now eligible to apply for?

ASU offers a number of financial aid opportunities, including merit scholarships and need-based aid. Students who meet the requirements of ASU scholarships and financial aid programs are now eligible to receive them, regardless of immigration status. For additional information, visit the New American University scholarship page [4] or use the first-year merit scholarship estimator [5].

Should the students who are impacted by Prop. 308 complete the FAFSA application?

Any student who wants to apply for financial aid and who can complete the FAFSA, should complete the FAFSA. However, a student must have a Social Security number to complete a FAFSA application and some of the students who are impacted by Prop. 308 may not be eligible to complete the FAFSA. Students can visit ssa.gov/pubs/EN-05-10009.pdf [6] for more information on how to obtain an SSN.

CSS Profile: CSS Profile [7] is an online application used by colleges to award nonfederal institutional aid. The tool helps us determine eligibility and understand your specific financial situation. CSS Profile is available to qualifying domestic noncitizens who are unable to complete the FAFSA. ASU's CSS Code is 4007.

Please note: If you are eligible to submit the FAFSA, do not submit a CSS Profile application.

Tuition and fee descriptions

What are ASU tuition and fee descriptions?

ASU tuition and fees are approved annually by the Arizona Board of Regents. In addition to resident and nonresident tuition, commonly billed tuition and fees include:

Differential tuition and program tuition

Certain colleges and programs assess additional differential and program tuition as approved by the Arizona Board of Regents. Visit the Tuition and Fees Schedules [1] for college and program specific tuition and fees.

Undergraduate college fee 4

The Undergraduate college fee is assessed based on a student's program of study. *Effective for fall 25, programs will be categorized in one of five categories. ASU conducted a comprehensive review of all instructional costs for every program. Programs of study with similar costs were grouped together, and those fees were averaged to determine an amount of each category. Please note that some programs of study are categorized differently based on a student's online or immersion status. *Visit the Tuition Estimator [2] to determine your Undergraduate College Fee.

	Immersion
Undergraduate college fee 4	Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts

*Prior to fall 25, undergraduate college fees were categorized in one of four categories. To determine undergraduate college fee rates prior to fall 25, visit the Tuition Estimator [3].

Technology fee

The Technology Fee assessed to students funds technology initiatives including implementation of ASU's wireless network, delivering University-licensed software to all students, increasing the number of technology-enabled classrooms, reducing dependence on computing labs and expanding and improving online self-service environment.

Graduate student support fee

The graduate student support fee helps fund resources and services that support graduate students, including technology resources and services, instructional and laboratory expenses in departments and schools, and graduate student services.

Special class, hybrid, oCourse, iCourse fees

Special Class, Hybrid, oCourse and iCourse fees are assessed based on enrollment in specific classes. These fees are published with each class through Class Search [3].

Late Registration fee

All students who register beginning the week before the first day of the semester will be assessed a late registration fee of $50.00, with the exception of students enrolling only in late start sessions. Students enrolling exclusively in late start sessions, will be assessed the late registration fee beginning one week before the session start date. Please see Tuition Deadlines [4] for specific dates. Registration after the published deadline may be permitted under extraordinary circumstances if approved by an authorized College designee. Late fees are not refundable.

The College of Nursing and Health Innovation post-bac BSN will continue to maintain a separate fee. All other nursing programs will be in Undergraduate College Fee 3

Excess hours tuition

The Arizona Legislature enacted legislation in 2005 (A.R.S. § 15-1626) that establishes credit hour thresholds for undergraduate students who attend a public university in Arizona. Undergraduate students who enroll for credit hours beyond the applicable threshold are required to pay an Excess Hours Tuition Surcharge. Students who have more than 145 credit hours will be assessed the Undergraduate Excess Hours Tuition Surcharge.

See exemptions [5]

Surcharge fee

On Sept. 16, 2024, Arizona State University announced [6] that a tuition surcharge will be implemented in the spring 2025 semester. The surcharge, as well as other related actions taken by ASU, protects the university's ongoing financial health following the $24 million cut to ASU's budget enacted by the state legislature and governor of Arizona. This surcharge for the 2024–2025 academic year will be based on spring 2025 enrollment and added to the spring 2025 semester bills of undergraduate and graduate campus immersion students. It will be posted to My ASU beginning in late November.

- If you are taking fewer than seven credit hours in spring 2025, you will see a charge of $50 per credit hour.
- If you enroll in seven or more credit hours in spring 2025, you will see the maximum charge of $350 per semester.

There will be no surcharge added to summer sessions. ASU will continue to pursue restoration of state funding that would allow for the elimination of this tuition surcharge. Until state leaders act to restore funding, students should plan for assessment of the tuition surcharge, including in the 2025–2026 academic year.

Please note:

- Students in the Obama Scholars, Arizona Promise and College Attainment Grant programs will see the tuition surcharge on their bill, but will receive additional funds to cover the surcharge.
- Students QTR waivers and RA/TAs will see the tuition surcharge, but will receive additional funds to cover or reduce the surcharge amount.

Student initiated fee

ASU's student government leaders, on behalf of the students they represent, sought and received ABOR approval for the following Student Initiated Fees. Funding from these fees will be used to enrich the student experience.

Recreation fee

The Recreation Fee of $28.00 for the fall semester and $27.00 for the spring semester supports programs and services at the Sun Devil Fitness Complexes. Additionally, these funds are used to provide support for programs/services like intramural sports and activities, a broad array of fitness classes, aquatics programs, instructional classes, and health education workshops, events and programs. It also supplements student employment opportunities for over 500 on-campus student positions. There is an advisory board that provides routine feedback on services, hours and programs to support guidance for overall student well-being. Students interested in serving on a Sun Devil Fitness Advisory Board are encouraged to apply [7].

Student service facility fee

Students pay $100.00 per semester to a combined fund which is then utilized to build and refurbish student spaces such as Memorial Union, Sun Devil Fitness Complexes, etc. The student service facility fee allows for the enhancements of existing facilities and the planning and development of new student service facilities to meet the needs of a growing student population. For a list of facilities built and supported by the fee click here [8]. Students interested in serving on the Facility Fee University Board to participate in discussions on these building projects are encouraged to apply [7].

Student Programs fee

The Student Programs Fee funds student programming initiatives. Per semester, undergraduate campus immersion students pay $35, undergraduate digital immersion students pay $17, and graduate digital and campus immersion students pay $35. Managed by the student government at each location, this fee is used to create programming that supports the student experience, student needs and interests. Recipients of the programs fee funding include: Programming and Activities Board (PAB) [9], Clubs and Organizations [10], Sports Clubs [11], Council of Coalitions [12], and the Childcare Subsidy [13]. In addition to these, each USG and GPSA also uses this fee to help support professional development, travel funding to support research and attend conferences, and large scale student programs and activities- to apply for these funding opportunities visit your student government website [14]. For detailed information about each student government's budget please visit this website [15]. To provide feedback or ask questions about the fiscal budget please reach out to your respective Student Government President [16].

Health and Wellness fee

Students pay $80.00 per semester to the Health and Wellness Fee supplement the operation of ASU Health and Counseling Services. Funding supports a portion of the operating budget for medical and psychological services and health education and promotion. The Health Services Advisory Board provides routine feedback to the Director of Health Services on services provided, quality and efficiency of care, new innovations, and student needs. Students interested in serving on the Health Services Advisory Board are encouraged to apply [7].

Student Athletic fee

Students pay $100.00 per semester for the Student Athletic Fee which supplements and supports the operations of Sun Devil Athletics, in exchange for a reinvestment of university funds into student identified priorities. Through the establishment of this fee, the tuition dollars traditionally allocated to Sun Devil Athletics will be reinvested into the university system in order to grant additional resources and services as identified by the Associated Students of Arizona State University, thereby establishing students as effective stakeholders in both Sun Devil Athletics and the university system, and furthering transparency between the university and the Associated Students of Arizona State University [17] over tuition dollars. These priorities were established by the Athletic Fee Operations Board and over the years have included salary increases for Research and Teaching Assistants to a minimum standard, expanding transportation services to include weekends and holidays, free attendance to all ASU football games, and free graduate test prep programs [18]. Students interested in serving on the Athletic Fee Operations Board are encouraged to apply [7].

Financial Aid Trust fee

The Financial Aid Trust Fee [19] assessed to all students as authorized by the Arizona Legislature.This is a fee that all ABOR students pay, including online students.

Student Financial Aid Trust grants are assistance provided in partnership between ASU students and the state legislature. All students are assessed this fee to create a Financial Aid Trust Fund, from which Financial Aid Trust Grants are awarded under the usual aid eligibility criteria. Fees collected from students are matched by the State of Arizona. Priority for these limited awards is given to eligible undergraduate students who file their FAFSA by the priority filing date of January 1 and who are Arizona residents or underrepresented students with high financial need.

Tuition payment options

Paying your bill

Students and parents have a variety of options for easily paying their tuition and charges. Our team is here to help you figure out which option is right for you so that you can stay on track and keep your account current. Keep in mind that in order for a parent or guest to make a payment, they need to have guest access in My ASU.

Watch video: How to make a payment [1].

Watch video: How to grant guest access [2].

How can I make payments?

You have a choice of convenient options to make your payments. See which option is best for you.

Pay online

To pay online, you can submit your payment on My ASU.

1. Sign in to My ASU [3].
2. Select the Finances link at the top of the page.
3. Click Pay Bill to be transferred to QuikPAY.

eChecks (electronic check payment)

eChecks are a fast and simple online payment method that can be made from a U.S. checking or savings accounts. You'll need your bank's routing number and your account number, which you'll find on the bottom of your checks or you can get it from your account with your financial institution. eChecks are ASU's preferred payment method and are free. Read the eCheck FAQs [4] for more information.

Credit and debit cards

ASU does not directly accept credit or debit card payments for tuition and student account charges, but has arranged for a third-party processor to accept Visa, MasterCard, Discover and American Express payments online through QuikPAY. The processor charges a non-refundable 2.5% service fee for domestic credit and debit card payments and 4.25% for international credit and debit card payments. Credit and debit card payments are only accepted online and are not accepted by mail, over the phone or in person. Read the credit card FAQs [4] for additional information.

International payments - Flywire

International students can make payments safely and securely through Flywire. With Flywire, you can make payments from banks worldwide with favorable exchange rates, typically in your home currency. You also have 24-hour multilingual customer support via email, live chat or phone to assist you with payment-related questions. See additional information about Flywire [5].

Note: Please be aware that Flywire is the only vendor authorized by ASU to facilitate international payments. For safety and security reasons, you should not attempt to make international payments through other companies or third-party vendors or via direct wire transfers to the university, especially those requesting My ASU login credentials, which should be kept private at all times.

In person

Personal checks, cashier's checks, money orders and cash payments are accepted in person at Cashiering Services locations on all four campuses [6].

By mail-in check or prepaid college savings plan

ASU accepts personal checks, cashier's checks, money orders, and prepaid or college savings plan (529) payments by mail. Please make the check or money order payable to the order of Arizona State University and include your student ID number on the memo line. Checks should be mailed to the following address:

ASU Cashiering Services
1151 S. Forest Ave., Ste. 244
PO Box 870303
Tempe, AZ 85287-0303

Mail checks at least two weeks prior to your tuition due date to avoid automatic enrollment in the ASU payment plan.

Federal Perkins Loan repayment

ASU is your lender, and you'll repay ASU once your Perkins Loan moves to repayment status (typically nine months after graduation, withdrawal from school or dropping below half-time enrollment). Monthly payments depend on your loan amount and length of your repayment period. Payments can be made online. For complete details on repaying your Federal Perkins Loan, visit tuition.asu.edu/perkins-loan-repayment [7].

Please note that effective September 30, 2017, new Perkins loans are no longer available as this program was discontinued.

What happens if I can't pay my charges on time?

If you are unable to pay your charges by the Tuition & Fee Payment Deadline [8], you may enroll in the ASU Payment Plan [9]. The ASU payment plan offers you the option to budget your payment of certain university charges over several months within the semester. Eligible charges include tuition, housing, food plans, parking permits and health insurance. If you have outstanding charges of $500 or more after the payment deadline, you'll be automatically enrolled in the ASU Payment Plan and be billed an ASU Payment Plan fee.

Tuition payment plan

What is the ASU payment plan?

The ASU payment plan is an option to help you attend ASU if you cannot afford to pay your tuition charges by the tuition due date.

How to make a payment

How to make a Payment on MyASU Tutorial video [1]

How does the ASU payment plan work?

The ASU payment plan offers you the option to budget your payment of certain university charges over several months within the semester. Eligible charges include tuition, housing, food plans, parking permits and health insurance. See chart below that outlines specific ASU payment plan enrollment fee amounts and due dates [2].

Get enrolled

There are two ways you can enroll in an ASU payment plan.

Automatic enrollment

If you have outstanding charges of $500 or more after the payment deadline, you'll be automatically enrolled in the ASU Payment Plan and be billed an ASU Payment Plan fee. If you wish to withdraw from your classes and avoid being enrolled in the ASU Payment Plan, you must do so before the semester or session starts. ASU does not withdraw students for nonpayment. If you have enough offered and accepted aid to cover your current semester charges by the tuition deadline date, you will not be automatically enrolled in the ASU Payment Plan.

Voluntary enrollment

If you want to enroll in the ASU Payment Plan, log in to My ASU and select the Finances tab. Then click "ASU Payment Plan" in the Financial Success box. Note that you have to re-enroll in the ASU Payment Plan each semester.

Who is the payment plan for?

- Students who know they're not able to pay a full bill by the billing deadline.
- Students who have a past due balance of $500 or more.
- Students who receive financial aid, if aid does not cover all charges.

Payment plan FAQs

How do I avoid enrollment in the ASU payment plan?

Make sure your balance is paid in full by the tuition due date, or is at least under $500 to avoid automatic enrollment in the ASU Payment Plan. Note that if you owe a balance of under $500, you will still be subject to a late fee. Review the ASU Late Charge Policy for more information.

Do I need to re-enroll in the payment plan every session?

Yes. Because your financial circumstances can change from semester to semester, you have the option to enroll each semester.

If I enroll in the ASU payment plan before the semester begins and ends up not having a $500 balance, am I still enrolled in the plan?

Yes. If you voluntarily enroll and charges are paid before the initial designated payment deadline, you will still be assessed the nonrefundable enrollment plan fee.

Can I pay ASU in payments?

Yes. You can enroll in a payment plan each semester, for an additional fee.

Tuition refund policy

Things to know about the ASU tuition refund policy

When you register for classes, you're obligated to pay all the tuition and registration fees. If you drop a class or officially cancel your enrollment during the 100 percent refund period, you'll get all your money back. For specific semester or session deadlines, please refer to Tuition Dates and Deadlines [1]. If you're looking for information about a financial aid refund (financial aid funds left over after your tuition and charges are paid), visit the aid disbursement page [2].

Nonrefundable charges

After the 100 percent refund period passes, tuition and fee payments become nonrefundable. Beginning Fall 2023, this date is the same as the drop deadline for classes offered in Sessions A, B and C

Amount of refund

If you owe any university charges, they will be deducted from your refund and be subject to payment holding periods.

Withdrawal/cancellation date

Withdrawal or cancellation officially occurs on the calendar date that you request it, whether in person or online.

Refund by semester

Please note that if you cancel your enrollment after the refund period, you will be required to pay the tuition and fees charges.

Fall and spring

For regular semester classes (session C) and sessions that are eight weeks or longer, the 100 percent refund period extends through the first two weeks of the semester.

For sessions that are shorter than eight weeks (sessions A and B) and dynamically dated classes, the 100 percent refund period is one week after the semester begins.

For classes that begin prior to the first day of the regular semester, the applicable 100 percent refund period begins on the class start date, not the semester start date.

For the summer session classes (sessions A, B and C, and dynamically dated classes), the 100 percent refund period is the first five days of the applicable summer session.

For classes that begin prior to the first day of the regular semester (dynamically dated classes), the applicable 100 percent refund period begins on the class start date, not the semester start date.

If you cancel your enrollment after the refund period, you will be required to pay the tuition and fee charges.

Medical or compassionate withdrawal

The tuition refund policy does not apply to medical and compassionate withdrawals. Partial tuition adjustments or nonrefundable credits may be granted in these cases. Each request will be determined by individual circumstances on a case-by-case basis, and is an option only if approved within two years of the end of the semester. For specific semester or session deadlines, please refer to Tuition Dates and Deadlines [3].

Tuition assistance return policy

ASU recognizes that active duty members may not always be able to complete their classes, due to unforeseen military commitments. Department of Defense (DoD) policy requires a return of TA funds, when a class is withdrawn, prior to completing at least 60% of the course. Returns of tuition assistance are prorated based on the percentage of completed class time, as noted in the schedules below. Students will be responsible for reimbursing ASU for the amount of TA that ASU refunds to the DoD.

Undergraduate excess hours tuition

The Arizona Legislature enacted legislation in 2005 (A.R.S. § 15-1626) that establishes credit hour thresholds for undergraduate students who attend a public university in Arizona. Undergraduate students who enroll for credit hours beyond the applicable threshold are required to pay an excess hours tuition surcharge. Students who have more than 145 credit hours will be assessed the Undergraduate Excess Hours Tuition Surcharge.

The Undergraduate Excess Hours Tuition Surcharge is billed in addition to tuition, program tuition, mandatory fees and class fees.

Exemptions

The excess hours tuition surcharge must be assessed in accordance with Arizona State Statutes and is not subject to appeal. The Arizona Legislature, however, provided for certain exemptions to the credit hour threshold and surcharge:

1. Undergraduate degree programs that require credit hours above the credit hour threshold.
2. Credits earned in pursuit of up to two baccalaureate degrees: The excess hours tuition surcharge is not assessed if (a) student has previously earned a baccalaureate degree and is currently admitted to one undergraduate degree program or (b) has not previously earned a baccalaureate degree and is admitted to two or more undergraduate degree programs simultaneously. This exemption does not apply to students who have previously earned two or more baccalaureate degrees or students who have earned one baccalaureate degree and are currently admitted to two or more undergraduate degree programs.
3. Credits earned in the pursuit of up to two state regulated licensures or certificates: Student is not required to be enrolled in both programs simultaneously. Examples include accounting, nursing, social work, and certain engineering degrees.
4. Credits earned in the pursuit of a teaching certification.
5. Credits transferred from a private institution of higher learning.
6. Credits transferred from an institution of higher education in another state.
7. Credits earned at another institution of higher education but that are not accepted as transfer credits at ASU.
8. Credits earned by students who enroll at a university under the jurisdiction of the board more than twenty-four months after the end of that student's previous enrollment at a public institution of higher education in this state.

Tuition waivers and scholarships

Employee waivers and tuition scholarships do not apply to the Undergraduate Excess Hours Tuition Surcharge.

Financial aid

About financial aid

You have lots of ways to pay for college

It's no secret that college is a major investment. But studies show that it's an investment that pays dividends. And the good news is, you have access to many forms of financial aid to help pay for it — you're not alone in this. Learn about the various types of financial aid, how to get them and everything else you need to know to get help paying for college.

Watch video: What type of aid is being offered? [1]

Watch video: Three things to know before classes start. [2]

How do I get financial aid at ASU?

1. Create an Studentaid.gov account (FSA ID)

Whether you're a student or parent, you'll need to create your own account on studentaid.gov [3] to complete federal student aid tasks. You'll use the same FSA ID every year.

2. Fill out the Free Application for Federal Student Aid

You'll need your driver's license, bank statements, parent information and more. The FAFSA is officially open for the 2025–2026 academic year. ASU's Federal School Code is 001081. Complete the FAFSA here [4].

CSS Profile: CSS Profile [5] is an online application used by colleges to award nonfederal institutional aid. The tool helps us determine eligibility and understand your specific financial situation. CSS Profile is available to qualifying domestic noncitizens who are unable to complete the FAFSA. ASU's CSS Code is 4007.

Please note: If you are eligible to submit the FAFSA, do not submit a CSS Profile application.

3. Review your FAFSA summary report

This will be emailed to you from the Department of Education 3-4 days after your FAFSA has been processed.

4. Look out for additional verification documents we need to process your FAFSA in My ASU

Return the documents quickly so that we can continue to process your file without delays.

5. Financial aid and scholarship services will send you your financial aid offer letter

Review your offer through the finances tab in My ASU. About five days before classes start, financial aid disbursement begins. Your scholarship and grant money will automatically be applied. You will need to accept loan offers before those funds are available. If you have any financial aid funds left over after paying your tuition and other charges, you'll receive a refund. The quickest way to get your refund is to enroll in direct deposit.

6. Apply for scholarships

After you submit the FAFSA, you can explore scholarships using ASU's Scholarship Universe [6]. Scholarships are gift aid — money for college that you don't have to repay. And there are tons of scholarships out there for all kinds of students based on region, interests, majors, goals and lots more. Apply for any and all that you qualify for no matter how small they may seem. They add up quickly.

7. Enroll in direct deposit

If you have any financial aid funds left over after paying your tuition and other charges, you'll receive a refund. The quickest (and safest) way to get your refund is to enroll in direct deposit [7].

8. Maintain eligibility

You'll need to maintain a certain GPA and complete relevant coursework in a certain timeframe. If you are a scholarship recipient, you'll need to meet renewal criteria [8].

9. File a FAFSA every year

You'll need to submit a new FAFSA every year you're in college to continue receiving federal financial aid.

Frequently asked questions

Who can get financial aid at ASU?

Most ASU students qualify for some form of financial aid. To be eligible for most federal, state and ASU funding, you must:

- Meet eligibility requirements [9] set by the U.S. Department of Education.
- File a FAFSA for the current academic year.
- Be admitted as a degree-seeking student to a qualified undergraduate, post-baccalaureate, graduate or eligible certificate program. (For information about your particular certificate program, contact Financial Aid and Scholarship Services [10]). Some types of aid are restricted to certain degree levels and/or programs.
- Not be in default on any prior student loan.
- Not owe a repayment on any Title IV financial aid.
- Be making Satisfactory Academic Progress [11].
- Submit all requested documents and those documents must not be found to limit your eligibility.
- Enroll in ASU classes such that it allows for disbursement of your offered financial aid (see ASU's census policy).

How much financial aid can I get?

The amount of financial aid you're eligible to receive depends on lots of variables. Try ASU's Net Price Calculator [12] to get an idea of how much financial aid you might receive and what your total costs could look like.

Confirmation of participation

Class participation

Students who receive financial aid are expected to earn their aid by participating in all of their classes every session.

Attending and participating in all of the courses a student is enrolled in not only ensures that they are getting the most out of the college experience, but it also helps students remain eligible for financial aid. Students must show participation in their courses by the 21st day after the course start date. If a student's participation is not confirmed by the 21st day of class, their aid may be reduced or canceled, and they may be required to pay for charges without aid.

Watch video: About confirmation of participation [1]

Confirming class participation

How does a student confirm participation?

- Completing a survey in My ASU. This is the simplest way to confirm participation. Survey links will be available seven days after classes begin. You can access the surveys you need to complete next to each course listed in the My Courses box in My ASU. You will also see a task listed in your Priority Tasks box.

How do I know if my participation still needs to be confirmed?

- A Priority task in My ASU will link you to the participation survey(s) you need to complete. You will be notified by ASU email only if your participation has not been confirmed. After the 21st day, if you still have not participated in a course, your aid may be reduced or canceled. You will see this change in the Finances tab in My ASU almost immediately.

Student FAQs

How do I confirm my participation?

Students, follow these steps to complete a quick survey that confirms participation:

- Log in to My ASU [2].
- Visit My Classes on the left side of your home page.
- Click the $ icon next to each class.
- Complete the survey.

Why the 21st day?

The Department of Education requires early participation in order to ensure students earn the financial aid eligibility for the class.

Why does ASU confirm participation?

Confirmation of participation helps ASU administer financial aid within the regulations established by the Department of Education. By confirming participation, ASU helps students stay on track to earn financial aid for the semester and keep their financial aid to pay charges.

Do I have to do this every session?

Yes. ASU must confirm participation for each class for each session start.

What happens if I don't participate by the 21st day?

If you are a loan recipient, your loans will be returned if you do not participate in at least one course.

If you are a Pell, Supplemental Education Opportunity Grant (SEOG) or Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education (TEACH) grant recipient, your full grant amount will be canceled if you do not demonstrate participation in every course you are enrolled in,

In either case, the funds may be returned, any funds already disbursed to you will need to be paid back, and you will need to pay your charges without that aid.

What happens if my loans were returned and I don't plan on enrolling for any more courses?

If you do not enroll in more courses, you will be responsible for your bill.

My loans were returned but I am going to register for more courses.

If you enroll in more courses, and participation is confirmed by the 21st day of those courses, you will have aid eligibility reinstated for future sessions you are participating in, as long as you're attending at least half time for the semester (6 credits for undergraduates, 5 credits for graduates).

Will I be dropped from courses?

No. You will remain enrolled in the courses, but your aid will be reduced or canceled and you will be billed for your charges.

When does confirmation of participation start?

This requirement applies to all students receiving financial aid, beginning fall 2022.

I was going to participate, I just haven't yet. Can I get my aid back?

If you haven't participated in a course by the 21st day, and are still enrolled in the course, you can still complete a course survey to have your aid reinstated. Course surveys will remain posted in My ASU through the end of the term, as long as you are still enrolled in the course. Aid will be automatically reinstated once you complete the survey.

How does this affect my other financial aid, ie: private scholarships, etc...?

The confirmation of participation standard applies to all financial aid. Check your course list in My ASU [3] and complete the survey for any course that has the dollar sign icon next to it.

Who can I contact with questions?

You can email participation@asu.edu [4] with questions about this federal financial aid policy.

FAFSA

Complete your FAFSA

The FAFSA is officially open for both the 2024–2025 and 2025-2026 academic year!

You need to complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) [1] each year you attend ASU. The FAFSA will determine how much federal financial aid you're eligible for.

How do I submit my FAFSA?

To file your FAFSA, go to StudentAid.gov [2].

Your FAFSA application will ask you things such as your family's income and how many people are in your family. These questions help determine how much aid you're eligible for. You have to submit a FAFSA every year because circumstances can change. But don't worry, it takes only about 30 minutes to fill out the FAFSA application and there are plenty of resources to help you. Start with this FAFSA guide [3].

You and your contributors will need their Student Aid.gov accounts, or FSA IDs. Watch this video [4] for more information.

The FAFSA will automatically import your tax information. If you did not file taxes or have other income including assets or untaxed income have those documents readily available.

1. Bank statements and records if applicable
2. W-2s and other records of money earned from the prior-prior tax year.
3. Record of untaxed income (if applicable).

Frequently asked questions

What is ASU's FAFSA code?

ASU's Federal School Code is 001081.

Does my family earn too much for me to get financial aid through the FAFSA?

There are no income requirements to be considered for federal student aid. Many factors beyond income are important to determine eligibility, so we recommend that all students complete a FAFSA to be considered for the maximum amount of aid.

Does FAFSA cover aid for graduate school?

Yes, students can file a FAFSA to receive financial aid for graduate school. Graduate students are considered independent and do not have to report parent or guardian earnings to be eligible for federal student aid.

Are international students eligible for funding through the FAFSA?

Most international students are not eligible to receive federal student aid, but there are opportunities to find private aid, such as scholarships. The FAFSA is open to U.S. citizens or eligible noncitizens [5].

Should students who are impacted by Prop 308 complete the FAFSA application?

Arizona Proposition 308 grants in-state tuition status to eligible students that are not U.S. citizens and are not residing in the United States on a visa. Students must also attend an Arizona high school for at least 2 years and graduate from an Arizona high school.

If you are an eligible noncitizen due to Prop 308, you are not eligible to complete the FAFSA (see FAFSA eligibility requirements [5]). However, you can still be evaluated for aid at ASU by completing the CSS Profile [6].

CSS Profile: CSS Profile [6] is an online application used by colleges to award nonfederal institutional aid. The tool helps us determine eligibility and understand your specific financial situation. CSS Profile is available to qualifying domestic noncitizens who are unable to complete the FAFSA. ASU's CSS Code is 4007.

Please note: If you are eligible to submit the FAFSA, do not submit a CSS Profile application.

Who are Contributors on the FAFSA?

A Contributor [7] is someone who is required to provide information on a student's FAFSA form. Watch this video to understand Who is a Contributor [8].

This can include:

1. The student.
2. The student's biological or adopted parents [9].
3. The student's spouse.
4. The parent's spouse.

Having someone listed as a Contributor on the FAFSA form does not imply financial responsibility for the student's education cost.

What if my parents are divorced? Who is the Contributor for my FAFSA?

The parent that is included on the FAFSA as a Contributor should be the parent that provides the most financial support to the student.

How does the student or other Contributor create an FSA ID?

Go to studentaid.gov/fsa-id/create-account/launch [10] and follow the steps to create an account. The student and the Contributor will each need their Social Security number, a valid email address and a phone number in order to complete the identity verification steps. Watch this video [11] for a step by step explanation.

Do contributors without a Social Security number have to create a FSA ID?

Yes — Contributors that do not have a Social Security number will still need to create a FSA ID. Follow these steps to create an FSA ID without a Social Security number.

1. Go to studentaid.gov/fsa-id/create-account/launch [10] and select Get Started.
2. Complete your personal information, including a valid email address.

3. Select I do not have a Social Security number.

4. A warning will pop up — click Continue without a SSN.
5. Input the required personal information, ensuring you provide a valid email address and phone number.
6. Confirm that all information is correct and set up two-step factor verification for future access.

Please note: Contributors without social security numbers are required to manually input FAFSA information when completing the FAFSA form.

What if I or one of my Contributors do not want to provide consent when completing the FAFSA?

Each Contributor must provide consent on the FAFSA or the FAFSA will be incomplete and you will not be eligible for financial aid.

What happens after I submit my FAFSA?

We may need help confirming information on your FAFSA so you get the right financial aid. This is called 'verification,' and it's a common thing. If we need more information, you'll be contacted. We hit pause on processing your financial aid during this time but start up again after you've submitted the documents we need.

Financial aid disbursement and refunds

How financial aid payments work

Any financial aid you receive from ASU is automatically applied to your charges before the semester begins. Any funds left over after your tuition and charges are paid can be paid back to you in the form of a financial aid refund. To make sure your aid disburses and you receive your refund, complete the steps below. If you're looking for information about a tuition refund — money you paid out of pocket that you get back when you drop a course or withdraw — visit the tuition refund page [1].

Watch video: How does my financial aid pay for my charges? [2]

Watch video: Three things to know before the first day of classes. [3]

Watch video: When will I get my refund? [4]

Watch video: How is financial aid split between fall and spring semesters? [5]

Make sure your financial aid file is complete

After you submit the FAFSA, you may need to submit additional documentation to help us confirm your financial eligibility. This is called “verification” and it’s quite common. Check your Priority Tasks in My ASU [6] to see what, if any, verification items we may need.

Watch video: How to check Financing Tasks in My ASU. [7]

Enroll in direct deposit

By enrolling in direct deposit, any financial aid funds that remain after your charges have been paid will go directly into your bank account. Enroll in direct deposit by going to the Finances tab in My ASU [6] and clicking “Direct deposit enrollment.”

Watch video: How to enroll in Direct Deposit [8]

Know how your enrollment impacts your aid

Changes in your enrollment can affect your financial aid awards, as one of the factors in your cost of attendance is the number of credit hours you take. If you drop a class, your aid will be decreased to match your enrollment hours. Other changes may adjust your cost of attendance and consequently your aid, including campus and residency status. Learn more about aid adjustment. [9]

How to know if your financial aid file is complete

Your financial aid tracker is there to help you understand where you are in the financial aid process. Visit the Finances tab in My ASU to view yours.

Watch video: How to know your financial aid file is complete [10]

When will my aid disburse?

Financial aid typically disburses about a week before the semester starts. Your financial aid tracker will show “in disbursement,” which means your aid is in the process of being applied to your account. Once disbursement is complete, you'll see your account balance change to reflect that a payment has been made.

If you are offered loans, remember that you need to accept or decline them in My ASU in order for them to be disbursed.

Watch video: How do I accept my loans? [11]

Watch video: How do I change the amount of loans I accepted? [12]

Where is my refund?

The money left over after your charges have been paid is called a refund or a stipend. This may be scholarship money you have left over after your charges have been paid, or money you borrowed to help cover books and living expenses. You will receive these leftover funds in the form of a check or by direct deposit a few days after your charges have been paid.

Watch video: When will I get my refund? [13]

Frequently asked questions

When will my aid disburse?

Financial aid typically disburses about a week before the semester starts. Your financial aid tracker will say “disbursement is ready to begin,” which means your aid is in the process of being applied to your account. Once disbursement is complete, you’ll see your account balance change to reflect that a payment has been made.

How do I manage my financial aid?

It can be tempting to spend unwisely when you have extra money in your pocket after your charges are paid. Remember, loans need to be repaid with interest, and scholarship funds are intended to pay for housing and food, books, course materials, supplies, and equipment and should be used for those things only.

Why is financial wellness an important part of the financial aid process?

Smart borrowing, establishing good credit and creating a realistic budget are skills that you need to be successful. No matter what you’re studying, this is a great time to start building your best money habits.

ASU partners with iGrad to offer students and alumni lifelong financial wellness skills through customized courses, articles and tools to help you make important financial decisions. From how to manage your first credit card to refinancing your home, investing in the stock market and saving for retirement — you’ll learn it all. Get started with iGrad now [14] and begin a healthy, lifelong relationship with money.

What if I only need financial aid for one semester?

If you are a graduating senior and only attending one semester, Financial Aid and Scholarship Services is required to reduce your financial cost of attendance for the academic year to reflect one semester costs. In most cases, a reduction of your cost of attendance will reduce your financial aid eligibility and result in a reduction of some of your awards (even if you have already accepted them). If you plan on attending one semester, please contact us or visit our office [15] to see how your aid will be affected.

Important Notes

- You may not receive all of your fall/spring financial aid in the fall semester.
- You may not be considered a fall-only student if you are not graduating for the fall (i.e., you must apply for graduation [16] with the university).
- Your Federal Direct Subsidized and Unsubsidized Loans will prorate if you are an undergraduate or post-baccalaureate student (see below for details).
- If you were originally offered aid for the fall and spring semesters and do not end up attending the fall semester, your entire aid package may be cancelled mid-fall. If you plan on attending the following spring semester, please make sure to accept your aid on My ASU [17] and enroll for the spring semester.

Federal Direct Subsidized and Unsubsidized Loans

If you are an undergraduate or post-baccalaureate student, your Federal Direct Subsidized and Unsubsidized Loans must be prorated based on the number of credit hours for which you are enrolled. This means that you may not be eligible to receive your maximum annual loan limit. Your aid will be adjusted at the time of disbursement according to your enrolled credit hours.

How will my Financial Aid refund be disbursed if I am also using Chapter 31 or Chapter 33 VA benefits?

Students electing to use VA educational benefits at ASU under Veteran Readiness and Employment (Chapter 31) or the Post-9/11 GI Bill® (Chapter 33) must first establish their benefits eligibility, then verify their intent each semester. In accordance with 38 U.S.C 3679 (e), students who successfully establish their eligibility and elect to use benefits in any given semester are automatically given a tuition deferment that will prevent any late fees or penalties from being incurred during that semester. The deferred tuition due dates are as follows:

- Fall Semesters – December 25
- Spring Semesters – May 25
- Summer Semesters – September 25

Additionally, students who have accepted financial aid may elect to receive a credit for the anticipated amount of their VA benefits. This credit will allow any excess financial aid to disburse in advance of the VA's actual payment. Students should understand that ASU's "anticipated VA payment" is an estimate, and that settling their student account balances can only take place once all VA payments for the semester are received. It will be the student's responsibility to return any money that had been refunded in excess. For more information on the steps required, please contact the Pat Tillman Veterans Center at 480-965-7723 or PTVC@asu.edu [18]. For questions about your individual student account, please contact Student Business Services at 855-278-5080 or SBS@asu.edu [19].

Financial aid forms

If Financial Aid and Scholarship Services needs a form to complete your financial aid file, we'll alert you through Priority Tasks on My ASU. You can find a list of any form we may need below. Once you submit the form, it can take up to two business days to show as received in My ASU.

University employees reviewing financial aid forms are mandatory reporters. Specific information related to acts of sexual harassment, which includes sexual assault, dating/domestic violence and stalking, committed by an ASU student or employee, or that happened on ASU property, or in an ASU program or activity, must be reported. Information about campus resources including advocacy assistance and confidential counseling and confidential victim-survivor advocacy can be found at <https://sexualviolenceprevention.asu.edu/resources> [1]. For more information about mandatory reporting at ASU, review the FAQs here.

Maintaining your financial aid

How your financial aid can change

The amount of financial aid you receive may increase or decrease depending on many factors, such as your enrolled hours, participation in courses and progress toward your degree. Understanding how these factors affect your aid can help you stay on track.

Scholarship adjustments are updated on My ASU Monday through Friday, except for university-recognized holidays. Any changes you make to your enrollment that cause an adjustment to your aid will be resolved in five to seven business days.

Maintaining enrollment

Your cost of attendance and financial aid depend on factors that include the number of credit hours you are enrolled in and your session enrollment.

Watch video: How many credits do I need to be enrolled in to keep my financial aid? [1]

Note: The amounts shown in the video are examples and may not reflect your actual costs and scholarships.

Course participation

To keep your financial aid, it is important to participate in your classes; if you do not, your aid could be reduced or cancelled, and you will have to pay your tuition without using financial aid. You must show participation in your courses by the 21st day after the start date to avoid a reduction in or cancellation of your financial aid.

Watch video: About confirmation of participation [2]

Withdrawing as a financial aid recipient

If you don't finish your classes as scheduled, your financial aid could be recalculated or canceled.

Learn more [4]

Dropping classes as a financial aid recipient

Changing your schedule after class starts can change your financial aid amounts. If you drop a class and your aid has already been disbursed, you may still be charged for the class and may not receive financial aid to cover it.

Incomplete grades as a financial aid recipient

Receiving an "I" (incomplete) grade in a session A or B course may impact your financial aid amounts.

Learn more [6]

Satisfactory academic progress

To remain eligible for federal financial aid, you must make satisfactory academic progress as a student. This means that you need to complete your classes in a timely manner, and your grades must demonstrate that you are successfully working toward completion of your degree.

Learn more [7]

Overawards

An overaward occurs when your need-based scholarships exceed your financial need, or the total of your scholarships exceeds your cost of attendance. If you have been overawarded, federal regulations require ASU to adjust your scholarships, which may result in a bill to your account.

Scholarship Universe frequently asked questions

What is Scholarship Universe?

Scholarship Universe is a powerful tool that helps you maximize your scholarship opportunities. By creating an academic profile, you can connect with internal and external scholarships that match your criteria.

What's the difference between internal and external scholarships?

Internal scholarships are awarded by ASU, whereas external scholarships come from outside sources. All external scholarships listed in Scholarship Universe are vetted.

Why should I complete "My Profile" in Scholarship Universe?

Completing your profile ensures that you'll be matched with scholarships tailored to your background. ASU departments and external groups will use this platform to post future scholarship opportunities, so your profile will remain useful throughout your academic experience.

Do I need to be an ASU student to access the portal?

Yes, you must be an admitted or current ASU student. Use your ASURITE User ID and password to log in to Scholarship Universe and start exploring scholarships.

How do I use Scholarship Universe?

- Visit Scholarship Universe and log in with your ASURITE User ID and password.
- Complete your student profile to be matched with scholarships.
- Use the "Scholarships" tab to find and apply for opportunities.
- Regularly check for new matches and track your application status.

Can I search for a specific scholarship?

Yes, there are multiple ways to search for scholarships in Scholarship Universe:

- Search function: Use the Search bar at the top-right corner by your name to search by keywords or tags.
- Scholarships tab: Select the Scholarships tab and use the Sort and Filter options in the upper-right corner to search within categories, such as Matches and Pinned, etc.
- Filter option: Narrow your search by organization, academic department or other criteria using the available filters.

Student employment

Student jobs are more than just a paycheck.

You may need to work in order to meet educational and living expenses or you feel the experience could be a valuable part of your education. The skills you obtain from working complement your academic performance and communicate to future employers your ability to succeed in a professional setting.

Studies have shown that students who work do just as well or better academically than non-working students and grades improve as students work more hours per week (up to 20). In addition, working students are more likely to complete a degree program than non-workers.

More information about student jobs

Benefits to working in a student job

- Additional financial resources.
- Acquire valuable work experience for your résumé.
- Reduce necessity for student loans.
- Opportunity for networking with professionals.
- Opportunity to sample different career choices.
- Valuable and practical career-related experiences.
- Exposure to the world of work.
- Opportunity to enhance fundamental work skills.
- Develop a sense of community and involvement with ASU.

Community service work-study jobs

Community service federal work-study (FWS) jobs are designed to engage a student in improving the quality of life for community residents, particularly low-income individuals, or to address issues such as: literacy training, social services, housing, neighborhood improvement, public safety, recreation, at-risk youth and community improvement. Find these rewarding positions by clicking on the advanced option and entering "Community Service FWS" in the Job Description text field when searching for jobs [1].

Tips for completing a job application

Writing your Resume [3] | Strengthen your Interviewing Skills [3]

Remember, the job application is your first opportunity to make a good impression with a potential employer.

- The application provides the employer with specific information in a designated order. Never write "see resume" in any area of the application.
- Through the job application, the employer senses attitude, stability and motivation. It also reveals communicative skills. It should never be done illegibly, hastily or incompletely.
- Print or write neatly, or even better, type the information. Be sure to read the instructions on the application. Statements should be brief and concise.

- All questions must be answered; all sections must be completed. If it doesn't pertain to you, place a dash or N/A in that space.
- Know start/stop dates of your employment history, pay rates and your supervisors' name(s).
- Use action words to describe your responsibilities and accomplishments.
- It is a good idea to have a "dummy" application with history and references.
- Reasons for leaving: refrain from any negative statements. You want to present a positive picture of yourself. Use "further my education" or "interesting new job opportunity," etc.
- Salary: When the definite Pay Rate is unknown, write "open."
- References: Make sure you have correct addresses and phone numbers. Let your references know you list them and keep them informed.
- Additional remarks: Do not leave this area blank. Use this space constructively by inserting statements regarding your abilities, skills and reasons why you would be a desirable candidate for the position.
- If you have extensive experience in community service and volunteering, you may treat it as you would work experience. Keep in mind that this information provides a well-rounded profile of the type of person you are.

Resume, cover letter and interview tips

- The goal of the resume and cover letter is to attract sufficient attention to create an interview opportunity.
- The purpose of your interview is to evaluate your qualifications as they relate to specific job functions.

For helpful tips on these and other topics please review the tips on the Career Services Web site [3].

Student employee responsibilities

You should consider your part-time position as an important job that can impact your future work experience. You are now part of the ASU work force and your department depends on you. The following are your responsibilities as a student employee at any ASU campus:

- To complete a new hire packet within 72 hours, if you have not worked for ASU during the last 12 months, and submit it to the Human Resources department located on your campus.
- To maintain enrollment necessary for student employment eligibility.
- To coordinate your work hours with your supervisor according to the department's needs and your own class and study schedule.
- To perform assigned duties promptly and competently.
- To be dependable and always report to work on time-excessive tardiness or absenteeism is grounds for disciplinary action.
- To arrive at the office prepared to work - refrain from studying or conducting personal business (phone/email) on the job.
- To refrain from having family or friends visit during scheduled work times.
- To attend all student staff meetings or training sessions unless you have a scheduled class or exam.
- To not work at your job during times you are scheduled to be in class.
- To observe policies on confidentiality for all University, department and student records, and information.
- To schedule your lunch and rest breaks in advance and get your supervisor's approval.
- To not eat or study during your scheduled shift, unless approved by your supervisor.
- To maintain appropriate dress and personal grooming.
- To notify your supervisor in advance if you will be absent from work - frequent absences are a justifiable cause for dismissal.
- US citizens or eligible non-citizens may not work more than an average of 25 hours a week (or 62.5 percent FTE) over a rolling twelve month period. This maximum applies to the combined total of all jobs, including hours associated with stipends paid for services. Graduate Assistants may work a total of 20 hours per week.
- To not work more than 20 hours per week during the academic semesters if you are an international student on a visa.
- To keep an accurate record of hours worked and submit correct payroll information to your supervisor by the stated deadlines.
- To inform your supervisor of any plans to end employment. The customary notification time period is two weeks.

- To stop your Hourly employment two weeks after your graduation from ASU, unless you are enrolled for the next semester.
- To stop your employment on your graduation day as an undergraduate international student.
- To stop your employment on your defense date, comprehensive exam date or which ever option you have for the completion of your degree program as a graduate international student.
- To stop your FWS employment on the last day of the spring semester or the day before the fall semester starts according to your FWS Notification specifying the term of your employment period.
- To stop your FWS employment on the day of your graduation from ASU.

Student employee rights

The following rights are available to all student employees.

- The right to be treated fairly and respectfully by the University – ASU follows equal employment opportunity and affirmative action principles.
- The right to a safe, clean and professional working environment.
- The right to know your specific job description including your supervisor's standards and expectations.
- The right to adequate training in skills and procedures necessary to perform assigned tasks.
- The right to be informed about your work performance through verbal communication or performance evaluations.
- The right to use your campus job as a reference for future employers.
- The right to a grievance procedure for stating concerns related to the job and/ or supervisor (see USI 304-12 [4]).
- The right to file a grievance with the AA/EO Office if you believe you have been sexually harassed or discriminated on the job (see USI 304-03 [5] and USI 304-04 [6]).

Standard wage scale

Student Employment offers a wide range of positions, which require different degrees of skill or experience. The student wage scale starts at $14.35/hour and pay rates should not exceed $50.00/hour. Four wage levels with different pay ranges have been provided below. Federal Work-Study and Hourly employment share the same wage levels and pay ranges. Wage placement must be in relation to the type of duties performed and in consideration of other student worker wage rates in similar jobs.

Students working in states/locations outside of Arizona may require pay rates above the Standard Wage Scale minimum. Please click here [7] to see current State Minimum wage rates. If you have any questions on setting rates in situations like this, please reach out to an ASU Compensation Partner at cfo.asu.edu/compensation.

Note: Due to Kenexa implementation, we can no longer use Open Range Wage Levels, we must use Standard Wage Scales. Student pay rate amounts must stay within the student wage levels.

Job Code Level	Job Level Descriptions	FY2025 Student Employment Standard Wage Scale Effective July 8, 2024
		California
		Min Pay Rate	Max Pay Rate
I	Duties are of a routine and simple nature; entry level. Requires direct supervision with relatively specific instructions. Little or no training or experience is required.	$17.28	$18.13
II	Duties are varied and less routine and involve a moderate degree of responsibility and judgment. May lead or coordinate activities of other student employees. Requires previous knowledge or skill and/or equivalent experience or training.	$17.76	$19.55
III	Duties are technical and complex and involve a high degree of responsibility and judgment. May supervise or direct activities of other student employees. A significant amount of specialized training or experience is required.	$18.82	$22.45
IV	Duties are highly technical and/or complex and involve a significant degree of responsibility and judgment. This classification is limited to teaching/research aide type work or those positions requiring highly specialized skills and/or technical knowledge.	$20.98	$61.08

Exceptions

Please note that many states have local/city minimums that exceed the state level. In Arizona, Flagstaff has a higher minimum than the rest of the state. California has over 30 local/city minimums that exceed the current state minimum of $15.50 per hour. Please see current state and major locality wage minimums [7].

The Student Wage Scale includes all student hourly positions. It is not applicable for Research/Teaching Assistant, Internship, Fellowship or Mentorship opportunities as those positions are overseen by the Graduate College in accordance with the appropriate recruitment policies and procedures.

Mandatory student employee training courses

Enterprise Technology security training

ASU is committed to preserving the confidentiality, integrity, and availability of University information resources. Our responsibility is in securing the information of students, faculty, and staff. Whether data is on your workstation, phone or tablet - the ASU community, and each of us in it, plays an important role in securely storing, sharing, and protecting electronic information. The course includes necessary information on how to protect both personal and ASU information, back up files, maintain your operating system, respond to incidents, and encrypt laptops, desktops and mobile devices.

To access the course, please visit ASU Information Security Training [8]

The course will take about 22 minutes to complete. It includes a presentation and a quiz. For those of you familiar with this material, you can go directly to the quiz. You must answer 12 of 15 quiz questions correctly to earn credit for the course and you may re-take the quiz if necessary. For questions or comments, please email utotraining@asu.edu.

Preventing harassment and discrimination training

This program is designed to increase awareness of ASU's policies regarding anti-harassment, non-discrimination, and non-retaliation. The program is also intended to educate the university community about what constitutes appropriate behavior, and how to properly report concerns about inappropriate behavior. This training is mandatory for all student workers in all academic and administrative units.

To access the course, please visit Preventing harassment and discrimination [9]

- The self-paced training includes an online module, quiz and resource guide with information and policies to review.
- You must score 80% or better on the required quiz at the end of the session to receive a certification of completion. You can retake the quiz if you do not receive a score of at least 80%.
- Your dean or director will be able to track your completion of the training via dashboard and routine reports that will be available for University administrators.
- Student workers must complete this training within 60 days of their hire date.
- If you experience any technical difficulty with the training, please call 1-855-278-5080.

Student grants

What is a grant for college students?

A grant is free money — you don't have to pay it back. The most common types of student grants come from federal, state and university resources.

Eligibility

Who can get a grant?

Grants for college students are usually need-based — that is, if your family income is under a certain amount, then you may qualify. The purpose of a grant is to help you pay for college when you and your family might not otherwise be able to afford it.

Process

How do I get a grant?

All grants require the student to file a FAFSA each year and are awarded to students who are eligible for need-based aid. Completion of the FAFSA by the priority filing date is recommended due to the funding limitations of some programs. ASU has extended the FAFSA priority date from Jan. 15 to Feb. 1 for the 2025-2026 academic year. Monitor your My ASU account and submit all documents promptly. Your financial aid file must be complete before grant eligibility is considered.

Available grants for college

Federal Pell grant

Who is it for?

Undergraduate students with high financial need.

Who offers it?

The federal government.

How much is it worth?

Amounts can change yearly. The maximum Federal Pell Grant award is $7,395 for the 2024–25 award year (July 1, 2024, to June 30, 2025).

How do I get it?

Student loans

What is a student loan?

A student loan is money that you borrow to pay for college with the condition that it be paid back over a certain period of time with interest. Students often use student loans when family contributions, scholarships and grants do not cover the total cost of attendance.

How much should I take out?

We recommend borrowing only the amount you need. College is an investment in yourself and the responsible use of loans can be an important part of helping you attain a college education.

How do I act on loans I've been offered?

To accept or decline loans, visit the Financial Aid and Scholarships box in My ASU to view your loan offers. You can select the amount you want to borrow, if any, and click accept or decline.

How to apply for a student loan

Your first step in getting a loan is to fill out the FAFSA [7]. The FAFSA will reveal how much money you are eligible to borrow in federal loans. You may also receive a loan from a private lender such as a bank. More on private loans here [5], but keep in mind that private loans almost always have a higher interest rate than federal loans, meaning you'll likely pay more over the life of the loan.

Student loan FAQs

How do I change the loan amount I accepted?

If you have accepted a loan and would like to increase or decrease the loan amount you accepted, you can visit the student aid adjustment page to submit an aid adjustment form [8].

How do I request more aid?

If you would like to increase the loan amount you accepted, you can visit the student aid adjustment page to submit an aid adjustment form [9]. Select the aid type you would like to request more of, then select Increase. Then you can indicate how much you have already accepted, and how much you would like to increase your loan to. If you're not sure how much you've already accepted, you can find that in your Financial Aid and Scholarships box in My ASU. To see how much you're eligible for, view the chart on the student aid adjustment form, or visit the studentaid.gov loans page [9].

Do I have to repay student loans?

Yes, with interest. It's an investment in your future, and your earning potential will increase with a degree. That said, you only want to borrow what you need. Learn more about loan repayment [10].

For more information on student loan limits, visit the federal student loan limits page [11].

How do student loans work?

First, you should submit the FAFSA to learn how much you're eligible for in federal loans. Then decide how much of that you want to borrow. (Don't borrow any more than you need.) The interest rates are fixed as of the date you borrow and federal loan interest rates are typically significantly lower than private student loan interest rates. Once you decide whether you're going to accept or decline your loans, sign into My ASU and click "accept" or "decline" if it's a Federal Direct Subsidized or Unsubsidized loan.

Do I need a parent or guardian to get loans?

If you're a dependent student, you need your parents' information to submit the FAFSA and receive federal student loans. Private student loan requirements vary so check with the lender.

How do I pay back Federal Perkins Loans?

ASU is your lender, and you'll repay ASU once your Perkins Loan moves to repayment status (typically nine months after graduation, withdrawal from school or dropping below half-time enrollment). Monthly payments depend on your loan amount and length of your repayment period. Payments can be made online. For complete details on repaying your Federal Perkins Loan, visit tuition.asu.edu/perkins-loan-repayment [12].

Can I apply for a Canadian Student Loan?

Canadian citizens or permanent residents of Canada living in any province for over a year are eligible to receive a Canadian Student Loan by the Canadian government through the Canada Student Loan Program. Eligible borrowers may also receive loans through individual provinces either through their own programs or programs integrated with the CSLP. Loan funds are sent directly to the student from the providence it was obtained through. ASU does not receive funds.

Arizona State University processes the Canadian Student Loan applications one term at a time. Students should submit a new loan application each term when charges for that term are posted to their student account. The Canadian Student Loan applications should be submitted to Financial Aid and Scholarship Services via fass@asu.edu.*

*Note: Canadian Student Loan applications through British Columbia are processed directly on their website. An email is sent to ASU each time a new loan application is available for review.

Canadian Confirmation of Enrollment and Confirmation of Distance Education Eligibility forms are also processed one term at a time. Students should submit a new form each term to Financial Aid and Scholarship Services via fass@asu.edu.

Student loan repayment

Manage student loan repayment

If you're a former ASU student and still have student loans, you're not alone — and you don't have to navigate repayment on your own. Arizona State University is here to ensure you have the information and tools you need to manage your loans effectively and avoid unnecessary stress.

Keep in mind that federal student loans enter repayment six months after you graduate, leave school or drop below half-time enrollment. This six-month grace period gives you time to prepare before payments begin.

To help you stay on track, here are the key steps you can take to manage your student loans successfully:

Step 1: Log in to StudentAid.gov

Begin by visiting the U.S. Department of Education's official website at StudentAid.gov. This is your central hub for federal student loan information. After logging in with your FSA ID, you'll be able to:

- View your total loan balance
- See who your loan servicer is
- Review your repayment options and use the loan simulator [1] tool to estimate monthly payments
- Explore deferment or forbearance if you need to temporarily pause payments

Step 2: Contact your loan servicer

Your loan servicer is your primary point of contact for repayment. Once you've identified your servicer on StudentAid.gov, reach out to them directly. They can help you:

- Choose a repayment plan that matches your current financial situation
- Explain how interest and payments are applied to your loan
- Update your contact information to ensure you receive timely updates

If you haven't already connected with your servicer, we encourage you to do so as soon as possible. Staying in touch helps you avoid missed payments and keeps your loan in good standing.

Step 3: Stay proactive about repayment

Managing your student loans doesn't end with setting up a plan — it's an ongoing process. Check in regularly with your servicer, especially if your income or personal situation changes. Make sure your contact information is always current and monitor your account for any updates or notices.

Repaying student loans

Loan repayment resources

Learn more about student loan repayment from our financial wellness partner, iGrad.

Take a 10 minute student loan repayment course [3], learn more about repayment options [4] and use the federal student loan repayment simulator [5] to calculate student loan payments and chose the best repayment option for you.

Information on Parent Plus loans

The student loan repayment pause also applies to parents with Federal Direct Parent Plus loans. Parents should follow the same steps as students to obtain their FSA ID [6], and then contact their loan provider for information on resuming payment. Parent Plus loan repayment follows a different timeline than student loans, and repayment will begin while the student is still in school. Interest will also begin to accumulate as repayment resumes. Please contact your loan provider for more information.

Establishing automatic payments

If you were on an automatic payment plan prior to the student loan repayment pause, you must contact your servicer and opt back in to the automatic payment plan. Not sure who your servicer [7] is? Go to StudentAid.gov [8], find your account dashboard [9] and scroll down to the “My Loan Servicers” section. You can also call the Federal Student Aid Information Center at 1-800-433-3243.

Financial aid and tuition FAQs

Am I eligible for a Federal Pell Grant in the summer?

If you received less than a full academic year of Pell Grant in the fall and spring semester(s), you may be eligible for the remainder of your Pell Grant scheduled award in the summer. You will be automatically considered and awarded any Pell Grant funds for which you are eligible for in the summer.

Am I eligible for Federal Financial Aid?

The only way to know if you're eligible for federal financial aid is to submit the FAFSA.

Am I eligible for the Obama Scholars Program in the summer?

The Obama Scholars Program does not provide aid for the summer semester. You may be awarded with other forms of financial aid.

Do contributors without a Social Security number have to create a FSA ID?

Yes — Contributors that do not have a Social Security number will still need to create a FSA ID. Go to studentaid.gov/fsa-id/create-account/launch [1] and instead of entering a Social Security number, check the box indicating the Contributors that do not have a Social Security number.

The Contributor will be able to create an account, but there may be additional steps to complete identity verification.

Do I need to submit the FAFSA every year?

Yes, you need to submit the FAFSA for every year that you are in college in order to receive federal financial aid.

How can I apply for Federal Work-Study in the summer semester?

Three scenarios may occur: If you are enrolled in summer classes and have worked under the Federal Work-Study program for the preceding fall or spring semesters, you will automatically receive a summer Federal Work-Study estimate award. Once we receive a summer continuation of your job assignment or new hire form from your employer, we will change it to an actual summer Federal Work-Study award. If you are enrolled in summer classes, and you did not work under the Federal Work-Study program during the preceding fall or spring semesters, you can request for Federal Work-Study eligibility. Once we receive information about your summer job assignment from your employer, we will post an actual summer Federal Work-Study award. If you are not enrolled in the summer semester, but you wish to work under for a summer Federal Work-Study job, you must have the following: A completed FAFSA for the current and upcoming academic years on file with ASU. Be eligible for need-based financial aid for both academic years. The Federal Work-Study earnings during this time of non-enrollment will be considered as a resource for the next enrollment period, which will have an effect on your financial aid eligibility for the next academic year.

How do I accept my summer award(s)?

Accept your awards on My ASU under Finances. Remember, summer financial aid is at the end of the current academic year.

How do I apply for summer financial aid?

There is no separate summer aid application. Students who enroll for the summer and have a FAFSA on file for the aid year preceding the summer semester will be automatically considered.

How do I check the status of my FAFSA?

To check the status of your Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA®) form, do the following: Log in to fafsa.gov. Your FAFSA status can be found on the "My FAFSA" page, which displays immediately after you log in if you've already started or completed a FAFSA form. To check on the status of financial aid being disbursed to you or your account, check with the financial aid office at your college or career school. Note: If you submitted a paper FAFSA form, you can check the status of your application after it has been processed (roughly 7 to 10 days from the date mailed). To check on the status of your FAFSA form, contact the Federal Student Aid Information Center.

How do I correct my FAFSA?

To make corrections to your Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA®), click the Log In button on the home page and log into FAFSA on the Web, and then click Make FAFSA Corrections. When correcting your FAFSA, you can: Add or remove colleges from your application Change your e-mail or mailing address Correct any field in your FAFSA other than your Social Security Number (SSN)

How do I know if my student is dependent or independent?

To determine if you (or your student) is dependent or independent, visit the studentaid.gov site for a list of questions that will help you determine your status.

How does census affect my summer awards?

All awards, except for loans, will prorate throughout the summer census date according to our Census Policy.

How does the student or other Contributor create an FSA ID?

Go to studentaid.gov/fsa-id/create-account/launch [1] and follow the steps to create an account. The student and the Contributor will each need their Social Security number, a valid email address and a phone number in order to complete the identity verification steps. Watch this video [2] for a step by step explanation.

How is my summer financial aid determined?

Your summer financial aid is determined based on your enrolled credit hours, your remaining aid eligibility and availability of funds.

I can't get my parent's financial information. Can I still apply for aid?

Visit the information page on the FAFSA website to learn your options if you are unable to provide parent information.

Is my financial aid file complete?

Log in to My ASU and go to the Financial Aid tab to check if there are documents that are being requested on your priority task list. Forms may be downloaded at <https://students.asu.edu/forms/financialaid> [3]. If your financial aid file is complete, and you do not have awards offered, visit any one of the four ASU financial aid office locations or contact our office at 855-278-5080. Please be aware that awarding for each semester does not start until the April before the fall semester begins. If your parent is attempting to accept the Federal Parent PLUS Loan, students must first grant their parents guest access to accept a Parent PLUS Loan. Once you have granted your parent guest access, you will receive a validation code and your parent an email with instructions on how to active their guest access. Your parent will need that validation code in order to complete the activation process. It is very important that all steps are completed in order for the Federal Parent PLUS Loan to process successfully. For a complete list of steps to accepting your Federal Parent PLUS Loan, visit students.asu.edu/loans/plus#steps [4].

My parents are separated or divorced. Which parent is responsible for filling out the FAFSA?

Visit the information page on the FAFSA website to learn which parent to list on the FAFSA.

My parents were denied a summer Parent PLUS Loan; are there any other loans I can borrow as a student?

You may request an additional Federal Direct Unsubsidized Stafford Loan by submitting a letter to Financial Aid and Scholarship Services in writing. If there are any remaining eligibility from the fall and spring semesters, the balance may be awarded to you.

My summer financial aid doesn't cover my costs, what are my options?

If you were not offered enough financial aid to cover your summer costs, the following options may be available. Scholarships Opportunities: For links to national scholarship searches and other valuable ASU scholarship information, you may visit our scholarship information, you may visit our scholarship web site at students.asu.edu/scholarships or contact the ASU Scholarship Office at 855-278-5080. You may also visit your college to see if they have any summer scholarships available. Student Employment: There are student employment opportunities right here on campus. The ASU Student Employment Office is always ready to help a student find a job. Please visit the Student Employment web site at students.asu.edu/employment to view part-time, full-time, seasonal, on-campus, off-campus and work-study (if eligible) job listings. Federal Direct Parent PLUS Loans: Parents of dependent students may borrow Parent PLUS Loans. See students.asu.edu/loans/plus for details. Private Education Loans: Private Education Loans are educational loans offered by private lenders, usually banks. Always remember to borrow only what you need.

Should I file for the FAFSA even if I don't think I'll qualify for financial aid?

Yes. We encourage every student to file a FAFSA, even if you think you might not be eligible. Most students are eligible for some kind of aid.

What are the FAFSA deadlines?

To be considered for federal student aid for the 2023–24 award year, you can complete a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) form between Oct. 1, 2022, and 11:59 p.m. Central time (CT) on June 30, 2024. Any FAFSA corrections or updates must be submitted by 11:59 p.m. CT on Sept. 10, 2024. However, many states and colleges have earlier deadlines for applying for state and institutional financial aid. Find your state's deadline. Check with your college or career school about its deadlines.

What do I do if my (or my parents') income changes?

If your financial situation changes, you can request a review of your aid eligibility through a Student or Parent Review form.

What if I forgot my FSA ID?

If you have an FSA ID but do not remember your username, select Forgot Username. Note: If you verified your email address or mobile phone number during account creation, you can enter your email address or mobile phone number instead of your username. If you have an FSA ID but do not remember your password, select Forgot Password.

What if I or one of my Contributors do not want to provide consent when completing the 2024–2025 FAFSA?

Each Contributor must provide consent on the FAFSA or the FAFSA will be incomplete and you will not be eligible for financial aid.

What if my financial circumstances have changed since I submitted the FAFSA?

If your financial situation changes, you can request a review of your aid eligibility through a Student or Parent Review form.

What if my parents are divorced? Who is the Contributor for my FAFSA?

The parent that is included on the FAFSA as a Contributor should be the parent that provides the most financial support to the student.

What income and tax information do I need for the FAFSA?

The 2021–22 Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA®) form asks for 2019 income and tax information. If your 2019 financial situation no longer reflects your current situation, you can complete a review form to request an additional review of your financial aid situation.

What information do I need to provide to help my student with the FAFSA?

You can learn about helping your student to financially prepare for college at studentaid.gov. Here's a list of documents you need to provide to help them complete the FAFSA.

What is the Financial Aid Notification?

A financial aid notification is the letter that students receive informing them how much financial aid a school is willing to offer.

What is the Student Aid Report?

Your Student Aid Report (SAR) is a document that gives you basic information about your eligibility for federal financial aid. It also gives you a chance to review and correct the information listed on your FAFSA, if you need to.

What types of summer scholarships are available?

For links to national scholarship searches and other valuable ASU scholarship information, you may visit our scholarships website at students.asu.edu/scholarships or contact the ASU Scholarship Office at 855-278-5080. You may also visit your college to see if they have any summer scholarships available.

When does summer financial aid disburse?

The amount of financial aid disbursed will be based on actual enrollment. Summer disbursement begins in May for students enrolled in session A or C. Students only enrolled in session B receive summer disbursements beginning early July. Specific dates will be available as we approach the summer semester on the financial aid calendar.

When is the census date for the summer term?

The census dates for all terms can be found on our Census Policy.

Who are Contributors on the 2024–2025 FAFSA?

Starting with the 2024–2025 FAFSA, a new term called “Contributor” has been introduced. A Contributor is someone who is required to provide information on a student's FAFSA form. This can include:

1. The student.
2. The student's biological or adopted parents.
3. The student's spouse.
4. The parent's spouse.

It's important to note that a Contributor does not include:

1. A grandparent.
2. Foster parents.
3. Legal guardians.
4. Brother or sister.
5. Aunt or uncle.

Even if individuals from the above list helped provide for or raise the student, they are not considered Contributors for the FAFSA form.

It's crucial to understand that having someone listed as a Contributor on the FAFSA form does not imply financial responsibility for the student's education cost.

Will financial aid pay for summer study abroad?

You may use your financial aid towards your costs for study abroad. You can submit a cost sheet to the Financial Aid Office provided to you by the Center of Global Education Services to increase your summer costs of attendance. You will only be considered for any additional Federal Stafford Loans, Parent PLUS Loans and/or Private Education Loans.

Will there be any TEACH Grant funds for the summer semester?

If you have not received your entire TEACH Grant eligibility for the fall/spring semesters ($4,000 per academic year) and based on your enrolled credit hours for the summer semester, you may receive some or all of your remaining TEACH Grant eligibility.

Am I eligible for a tax credit?

Information Services for the Tuition and Fees Deduction and the Education Credits ASU cannot provide personal tax advice to students as each student's tax situation depends upon his/her own individual circumstances. Each student and/or their parents must determine eligibility for the tuition and fees deduction or one of the education credits (American Opportunity or lifetime learning credit). For authoritative information, we recommend that you visit the IRS web site at: www.irs.gov/formspubs/ [5]. You can contact the IRS for telephone assistance, including requesting forms and publications, at 1-800-829-1040. At the IRS web site you can review: IRS Publication 970 "Tax Benefits for Higher Education", which includes chapters on the Hope credit, the lifetime learning credit, and the tuition and fees deduction. Form 8863 "Education Credits (American Opportunity, Hope and Lifetime Learning Credits)". Instructions for Form 1040 or 1040A. IRS Publication 17 "Tax Guide for Individuals". The tax rules regarding eligibility for, calculation of, and limitations on the tuition and fee deduction and education credits can be complex. For this reason, you may want to consult your tax advisor to determine whether you are qualified to claim the education expense tax credits and deduction.

Can I view a current or prior year's 1098-T?

You can view your current or prior 1098-T forms online at any time. You can view all 1098-T tax forms by logging in to My ASU, selecting the "Finances" tab at the top of the page and selecting the "IRS 1098 T" option. On the next screen, select the year you would like to view by clicking the links available.

I am not a US Citizen. What does 1098-T mean to me?

Information for Nonresident Aliens The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) does not require ASU to file a Form 1098-T for foreign students who are not US residents for tax purposes. This is because non-resident alien students are not eligible for education tax benefits. However, ASU cannot definitively determine which foreign students are residents for tax purposes. Also, the IRS does require ASU to provide a 1098-T to a non-resident alien student who requests one. For these reasons we provide 1098-T forms to all students, including foreign students who may or may not be eligible for an education tax benefit.

What do all the boxes on my 1098-T mean?

Please reference the Explanation of IRS Form 1098-T and Form 1098-T Supplemental Information for more information.

What is a 1098-T?

The IRS Form 1098-T is an information form filed with the Internal Revenue Service. The IRS Form 1098-T that you received reports amounts paid to you for qualified tuition and related expenses, as well as other related information. You, or the person who may claim you as a dependent, may be able to take either the tuition and fees deduction or claim an education credit on Form 1040 or 1040A for the qualified tuition and related expenses that were actually paid during the calendar year. The Form 1098-T Supplemental Information that ASU is providing over the Internet can assist you and your tax preparer in completing your tax return. Follow the instructions provided on the Form 1098-T Supplemental Information page to view and print paid tuition information. There is no need to attach Form 1098-T to your tax return. All information and assistance that ASU can provide to you is contained in this notice. There is no IRS requirement that you must claim the tuition and fees deduction or an education credit. Claiming education tax benefits is a voluntary decision for those who may qualify

What is included in my 1098-T?

Box 1 of Form 1098-T reports the qualified tuition and related expenses paid during the calendar year. Qualified tuition and related expenses are sometimes referred to as qualified education expenses, although the terms are not always interchangeable. For purposes of the Form 1098-T provided by Arizona State University, the following categories of charges are included or not included in qualified tuition and related expenses: Qualified Tuition and Related Expenses Included Not Included Resident and Non-resident Tuition Graduate and Undergraduate Program Tuition Graduate and Undergraduate Differential Tuition Resident Surcharge Special Class Fees icourse & ocourse Fees Recreation Fee Financial Aid Trust Fund Fee Associated Students of Arizona Fee Student Programs Fee Technology Fee Health and Wellness Fee Student Service Facility Fee Late Charges Application Fees Processing Fees Health Insurance Premiums ASU Payment Plan Fee Room and Board Charges Course Related Books & Equipment Registration fees paid for non-credit courses Effective Reporting Changes for 2018 Due to tax reporting requirements effective for calendar year 2018, ASU will now report all payments for qualified tuition and related expenses in Box 1. Please note this is different from prior years where only "billed" information for qualified tuition and related expenses was reported in Box 2. ASU will continue to provide students with additional information of their paid information through the Form 1098-T Supplemental Information page of this web site.

Why didn't I receive my 1098-T?

If you did not receive an IRS Form 1098-T for the current calendar year, possible explanations are: Arizona State University did not have a valid social security number on file for you. Call (480) 965-9834 to verify your social security number. Arizona State University did not identify any information to report. This would include having zero amounts for payments received for qualified tuition and related expenses, scholarship awards, adjustments to scholarship awards and adjustments for a prior year. See Explanation of IRS Form 1098-T Tuition Statement for more information regarding how paid tuition and related fees were determined. ASU did not have a current mailing address for you. Please ensure that your address information is up to date through My ASU. You can view your current or prior 1098-T forms online at any time by logging in to My ASU, selecting the "Finances" tab at the top of the page and selecting the "IRS 1098 T" option. Can I defer my merit scholarship?

Click here [6] to view the deferment application and policy. Students may not attend another educational institution while on deferment.

Can I edit an application that I've already submitted?

You can edit an application until the submission deadline listed on the scholarship (most are February 1). Keep in mind that any changes to responses will result in updates to all of your responses to that same question in each of your applications. To edit your application, you must log in to the ASU Scholarship Application Portal ASURITE ID and password at <https://scholarships.asu.edu/applications> [7].

Can I teach any subject or grade?

As a condition for receiving a TEACH Grant, you must teach -in a high-need field; -at an elementary school, secondary school, or educational service agency that serves students from low-income families; and -for at least four complete academic years within eight years after completing (or ceasing enrollment in) the course of study for which you received the grant. High need fields include: -bilingual education and English language acquisition, -foreign language, -mathematics, -reading specialist, -science, and -special education, as well as -any other field that has been identified as high-need by the federal government, a state government, or a local education agency, and that is included in the annual Teacher Shortage Area Nationwide Listing (Nationwide List).

Can I upload a resume and/or other documents?

Yes. Certain applications do require a resume, coversheet, and/or the submission of additional documents. For those applications, you will need to review the scholarship criteria and submit all of the requested documents in the ASU Scholarship Application Portal by the published deadline. You will not receive any reminders to complete these steps and incomplete applications will not be reviewed.

Do I have to teach in one of those 'high-need' fields to keep the money as a grant and not have to pay it back as a student loan, or would it count if I was a regular teacher?

Yes, that could happen because the elementary classroom is not considered a "high-need field". However, a special education elementary classroom is considered an area of high need. It will be your responsibility to choose a position that meets the service agreement requirements.

Does part-time teaching or substitute teaching count?

No, you must be a full-time teacher in a high-need field in a public or private elementary or secondary school that serves students from low-income families.

Does pursuing an Elementary Education degree with middle school math or science qualify me for the grant, or must it be secondary math and/or science?

Generally a middle school math or science teacher is considered an area of high need. The U.S. Department of Education guidelines states: 'The TEACH Grant Program provides up to $4,000 a year in grant assistance to a student who agrees to serve for at least four years as a full-time teacher in a high-need field in a public or private elementary or secondary school that serves students from low-income families.' Please note: The TEACH Grant maximum award amount is impacted by sequestration each academic year. This can result in an increase or decrease in the TEACH Grant amount you will receive due to the scheduled percentage reduction determined by the Budget Control Act of 2011.

How do I accept my scholarship?

For freshmen, paying the enrollment deposit automatically accepts a university merit scholarship. Continuing students need to accept all scholarships and can be done through My ASU.

How do I apply for a university merit scholarship?

When a student applies to the university, their high school academic record is reviewed and based upon G.P.A., test scores, and class ranking he/she may be offered a scholarship.

How do I apply for scholarships on ASU's Scholarship Universe?

An ASUrite user ID and password are required for you to sign into ASU's Scholarship Universe [8]. Once logged in you can begin building your profile to be matched with scholarships.

How do I apply for the TEACH Grant; is it separate from applying for financial aid?

You apply for the TEACH Grant by completing a FAFSA. ASU will select students who are in the appropriate majors and offer them the TEACH Grant. Students will be required to accept the grant and complete entrance counseling as well as an Agreement to Serve.

How do I know if I have successfully submitted my application?

Unless specifically stated otherwise, responses to each question are required for successful submission. Upon submission of your application, you should see one of two messages: If you successfully completed all required responses, you will see a message stating, "Your application was successfully submitted/saved." You will be routed to the ASU Scholarship Application Portal where you can edit your applications or search for additional scholarships. If you did not complete a required response, you will see an error message indicating which responses are missing, and the application will reload to highlight missing fields. Remember that certain scholarships may require the submission of additional materials such as a letter of recommendation or a cover sheet. You must submit the supplemental materials in the portal by no later than the deadline listed on the scholarship (most are February 1 each year) for your application to be considered complete. You will not receive any reminders to complete these steps and incomplete applications will not be reviewed.

How do I upload a letter of recommendation?

If the scholarship that you are applying for requires letters of recommendation, you will be able to enter the names and email addresses of the individuals you would like to submit a letter of recommendation on your behalf. Your reference will receive an email notification directing them to the page to submit their recommendation. You can view the status of your letter of recommendation requests for each academic year's application by visiting your ASU Scholarship Portal and clicking on the "Recommendation requests" tab. You will have an option to send your recommender a reminder after two weeks.

How is cumulative GPA calculated and when are ASU merit scholarships renewed?

Cumulative ASU GPA represents all of the grades you received while attending ASU. Scholarships are considered for renewal after the spring grades have been posted.

How is the grant amount of the Federal TEACH Grant calculated?

ASU must monitor your eligibility every year. If you are receiving any federal financial aid, all sources of your financial aid (scholarships, grants, waivers, third-party payments, loans, etc.) must be calculated. The total of all sources cannot exceed your estimated cost of attendance (COA).

How many years do I have to teach?

You must teach at least four years as a full-time teacher within an eight year period of time.

I currently have the TEACH grant, but received a GPA below 3.25 in one semester, but raised it above 3.25 the following semester; does my award start as a grant, turn into a loan and then turn back into a grant?

Neither, if you were awarded a TEACH Grant because your GPA is 3.25, you must maintain the 3.25 or increase the GPA in future terms to remain eligible for any additional TEACH Grant awards. If your GPA goes below 3.25, any old awards will remain as grants until you finish the program (or withdraw from school or notify the government that you do not intend to teach). Once graduated or withdrawn, the service requirement begins and the U.S. Dept. of Education will monitor your progress. You must provide them with documents showing that you are fulfilling your agreement to serve on an annual basis.

I want to transfer to ASU from either Northern Arizona University or the University of Arizona. Can I receive the merit scholarship I was awarded from high school to attend ASU? (also called portability)

No, only university eligible students receiving the Regents High Honors Endorsement (RHHE) scholarship may transfer their RHHE award to ASU under certain conditions. The scholarship will be awarded for the amount of tuition when the student would have entered the university. The RHHE transfer request form, which lists additional eligibility criteria, can be found online at <http://students.asu.edu/forms/scholarships> [9].

I was offered a better scholarship from another university, will ASU match the offer?

Please contact Undergraduate Admissions at 480-965-3040.

I will not graduate in 8 semesters; can I apply to receive my scholarship for an extra semester or an extra year?

New American University Scholarships are all awarded for up to eight semesters and will not be extended beyond eight semesters. These scholarships are awarded for fall and spring only.

If I do not meet the TEACH grant obligations, when does the interest start accruing?

The interest on your converted grant starts accruing from the original disbursement date of the grant.

If I get below a 3.25 but raise my GPA the following semester, do I still qualify for the grant or is it a one-time opportunity only?

If you raise your GPA to 3.25, submit a Teach Grant Request form to be considered for teach grant eligibility. ASU must consider your cumulative ASU GPA in this case.

Is it required to teach in a high need area for four years and in a specific subject area for two, for a total of six years?

As a condition for receiving a TEACH Grant, you must teach for at least four complete academic years within eight years after completing (or ceasing enrollment in) the course of study for which you received the grant. Additionally, you must also teach at an elementary school, secondary school, or educational service agency that serves students from low-income families; and teach in a high-need field.

Is the TEACH Grant offered year round or only offered at a specific time of the year?

The TEACH Grant can be year round if the student has not used their annual limit in the fall and spring. At ASU, summer sessions are 'trailing semesters', meaning that summer is the end of the academic year.

Is there any way the teaching can be deferred for a year or two?

Yes, you must teach at least four years as a full-time teacher within an eight year period of time.

Is there anything I need to do to document my TEACH Grant?

You must certify your teaching service or your intent to teach annually to FedLoan Servicing servicer for the TEACH Grant for the U.S Department of Education. Verification of the intent to teach is required if you are still enrolled in a TEACH Grant eligible program of study, but have not received additional TEACH Grants. If you do not certify your teaching service, your grant will convert to an unsubsidized loan.

My Special Education degree qualifies me for both Special and Elementary Education certification; if I get hired on as an elementary teacher, and I teach in an elementary classroom, does my grant turn into a student loan?

Yes, that could happen because the elementary classroom is not considered a "high-need field". However, a special education elementary classroom is considered an area of high need. It will be your responsibility to choose a position that meets the service agreement requirements.

Questions pertaining to the scholarship listing.

If you have questions about a specific scholarship, please refer to the listing for contact information for that specific scholarship.

What are the criteria needed to receive a merit scholarship as an incoming freshman?

ASU merit scholarships are awarded based on excellence in academics. To see if you may be eligible for a scholarship, visit ASU's Scholarship Estimator.

What happened to the ASU General Scholarship Application?

Beginning with the 2012-2013 academic year scholarship awards, the General Scholarship Application is no longer in use. The ASU Scholarship Portal has taken its place.

What if I qualified and accepted the grant, then switched majors for a year and come back to education, met the eligibility criteria for the grant, completed the program and taught for four years in an eight year period?

The award would still be a grant because you were within the time to complete the program, unless you stop attending or change your career field out of teaching. The government will be requiring you to send periodic confirmations.

What if my family moves and I have to leave the state; will it count if I teach in a low-income school?

TEACH Grant is a nationwide program; you may perform your service obligation in any state. You must be a full-time teacher in a high-need field in a public or private elementary or secondary school that serves students from low-income families.

What if something happens and I can't teach or I can't find a job in a low-income area?

If you do not meet the requirements of your service obligation, all TEACH Grants you received will be converted to Federal Direct Unsubsidized loans. You must repay these loans in full, with interest charged from the date of each TEACH Grant disbursement. Elementary and secondary schools (public and private) and educational service agencies serving low-income students are listed in the annual Teacher Cancellation Low-Income Directory. In addition, elementary or secondary schools operated by the U.S. Department of the Interior's Bureau of Indian Education (BIE) or operated on Indian reservations by Indian tribal groups under contract or grant with the BIE qualify as low-income schools. If you have questions about your TEACH Grant converting to a Federal Direct Unsubsidized loan or about meeting TEACH Grant requirements contact the TEACH Grant servicer, FedLoan Servicing, at 1-800-699-2908 from 8 a.m.–9 p.m. Eastern time, Monday through Friday.

What is the ASU Scholarship Application Portal?

The ASU Scholarship Application Portal collects your applications for several different scholarships, and saves your responses to common questions so that you don't need to complete the information twice. There is no single application that you can complete; rather, you must choose which scholarships you wish to apply for and complete an application for each one. You can find a list of scholarships that have portal applications on our scholarship search.

What Is the TEACH Grant Agreement to Serve or Repay?

Each year that you receive a TEACH Grant, you must sign an Agreement to Serve or Repay and TEACH Grant Counseling on the U.S Department of Education TEACH Grant website. The TEACH Grant Agreement to Serve or Repay and TEACH Grant Counseling explains the terms and conditions of the service obligation you must agree to fulfill as a condition for receiving a TEACH Grant. By signing the Agreement to Serve or Repay and completing Counseling, you agree to these terms and conditions and acknowledge your understanding that if you do not fulfill the service obligation, the TEACH Grant funds you received will be converted to a loan that you must repay.

What types of scholarships are available?

For links to national scholarship searches and other valuable ASU scholarship information, you may visit our scholarship website at <https://students.asu.edu/scholarships> [10].

What will happen if I do not meet the renewal criteria for my scholarship?

If you do not meet or exceed the renewal criteria by the end of each spring semester, you may review the following options to determine your eligibility:

When do scholarship applications become available?

Portal applications open October 1 each year. Please continue to check back throughout the year as new listings are added.

When I return to school after a deferment, how do I get my scholarship reinstated?

When a student is ready to return to school after a deferment, he/she must submit a scholarship reinstatement request notifying the scholarship office that they will be returning to school. Completed requests must be submitted by no later than 30 days prior to the semester you are approved to return. In the case of an internship or mission deferment, the student must also submit proof of completion. If the student is returning from a medical deferment a note from the treating physician is needed. If the student is a National Merit Scholar they must also contact the National Merit Corporation. The reinstatement request and eligibility criteria can be found online at scholarships.asu.edu and is listed with online forms and publications.

When is the deadline for applying for the grant?

The same deadline to apply with the FAFSA and meet eligibility requirements applies to the TEACH Grant. The FAFSA must be received, along with the Agreement to Serve and entrance counseling, before the last day of class of the fall semester (for students not attending the following spring semester), before the last day of class of the spring semester (for students not attending the following summer semester), or before the last day of summer (for students attending summer).

When is the grant going to be disbursed?

For students that are awarded, ASU will disburse the TEACH Grant within five business days after receiving confirmation that the student has completed the following steps: Accept the TEACH Grant on My ASU under Finances and then Financial Aid. Complete the TEACH Grant Entrance Counseling and Agreement to Serve on the TEACH Grant page on StudentLoans.gov.

When will the award decisions be made and when will I be notified?

Many of the scholarship application deadlines are in February and March each year; however, it is important that you review deadlines carefully as they do vary. Scholarship awards are very competitive and if you are selected, you will be notified by the awarding office noted in the scholarship listing. We ask that you please not contact the awarding office regarding the status of the review or to see if you have been selected as a scholarship recipient. Scholarship recipients are typically notified of selection in April and May.

Where should the private donor of my scholarship send the award check?

All scholarship checks should be mailed to: ASU Scholarship Office, PO Box 870412, Tempe AZ 85287-0412 along with a completed Scholarship Recipient form. The check needs to be made out to Arizona State University and the donor needs to include the student's name and ID number on the check or on attached documentation. Donors should specify which semester(s) the check should be applied to in addition to minimum enrollment hours for disbursement (full-time, half-time, less than half-time).

Who do I contact if I have issues?

ASUrite User Id and/or password difficulties: Visit contact.asu.edu or call 1-855-278-5080.

Who should I contact with question regarding my TEACH Grant Obligations or my grant converting to a loan?

As of July 2013, FedLoan Servicing began servicing TEACH Grants for the U.S Department of Education. Customer service representatives are available at 1-800-699-2908 from Monday through Friday 8:00 AM – 9:00 PM (ET). You may also access information about your TEACH grant through the website MyFedLoan.org/TEACH to assist in tracking your service obligation.

Why isn't my scholarship listed with my other financial aid?

Scholarships are posted when the funds are received. Please contact the scholarship donor to establish the date when your scholarship funds will be sent to ASU.

Will I be receiving a President's, Provost's, University or Deans Scholarship?

To check your eligibility for a merit award, please visit ASU's Scholarship Estimator. Please be aware this is an estimate and may not be an accurate reflection of your actual award.

Would we be eligible for it even though we don't meet the 'high-need' requirement (special education, etc.)?

To keep the money as a grant, you must meet all the criteria of your service obligations described in your agreement to serve.

Am I eligible to be an AZ resident?

For detailed information about being an Arizona resident, visit <https://students.asu.edu/residency> [11]. Be advised that if you have financial aid, it will be reduced if you have a change in residency or housing status. Check with Financial Aid and Scholarship Services in order to determine how these changes will affect your award(s). In the event of a financial aid adjustment, you will be notified by e-mail to check My ASU for new award information.

I am graduating after the fall semester. Can I receive the full amount of my merit scholarship in the fall semester?

No. If you complete your first undergraduate degree prior to your maximum award terms, you are only eligible to receive the one semester award for the term in which you graduate.

What do I need to do if my circumstances change, for example my parent, spouse or I have had a decrease of income?

This is the kind of extenuating circumstance you would want to notify Financial Aid and Scholarship Services about. You may initiate this process by completing a Student and/or Parent Review form. These forms can be downloaded at our find a form page [9].

Am I required to re-enter my bank account information each time I make a payment?

You are required to re-enter eCheck payment information, unless you create a payment profile. Payment profiles may be securely saved on QuikPAY when a payment is made. QuikPAY provides two options for creating payment profiles: When making an eCheck payment on QuikPAY, assign and save a profile name on the page titled "Provide eCheck Information". Or, Select "Payment Profiles" from the menu on the left side of the QuikPAY page to add an eCheck or credit card payment profile. After saving your payment profile, you will be able to choose your profile as a payment type. Select "Pay Bill" from the menu on the left side of the QuikPAY page and your payment profiles will be available for selection in the Payment Method drop down box.

Are other colleges and universities making similar changes?

Colleges and universities across the country have made similar changes to their credit card payment policies. Some are choosing not to accept credit card payments and others to offer credit card payments through an outside vendor, subject to assessment of a service fee.

Can I pay ASU in payments?

Yes. You can enroll in a payment plan each semester, for an additional fee.

Can I pay online without a credit card?

Yes. eChecks are ASU's preferred payment option and are accepted online with no service fee. Similar to a debit card, the eCheck electronically debits a checking or savings account. eChecks are accepted at no cost to the student and are a fast and easy payment option.

Can I pay with Visa?

Yes, Visa recently changed its merchant rules to permit the assessment of a service fee and is now a payment option.

Can I use any type of check as an eCheck?

eCheck payments can only be made from regular U.S. checking and savings accounts in U.S. dollars. Checks issued from money market accounts, credit card companies, mutual funds, brokerage accounts, home equity or other lines of credit cannot be processed as an eCheck. Personal checks are accepted by mail or in person.

Can I use my credit card to make purchases at the ASU Bookstore?

Yes. The ASU Bookstore, Sun Devil Athletics Ticket Office, and other ASU departments that currently accept credit cards will continue to do so. No service fee is assessed for these payments.

Do I need to re-enroll in the payment plan every session?

Yes. Because your financial circumstances can change from semester to semester, you have the option to enroll each semester.

How do I avoid enrollment in the ASU payment plan?

Make sure your balance is paid in full by the tuition due date, or is at least under $500 to avoid automatic enrollment in the ASU Payment Plan. Note that if you owe a balance of under $500, you will still be subject to a late fee. Review the ASU Late Charge Policy [12] for more information.

How do I cancel a Financial Guarantee Letter that has been submitted to ASU Student Accounts?

To cancel your Financial Guarantee Letter, please notify ASU Student Accounts at sponsorbilling@asu.edu. Upon cancellation, the "Third-Party Sponsor Credit" will be removed from your student account, and all unpaid charges will be due immediately.

How do I monitor my Account?

ASU will apply a "Third-Party Sponsor Credit" to your account within 5 business days of receiving the approved Financial Guarantee Letter(s). To verify that your Financial Guarantee Letter has been received and applied, please monitor your student account through My ASU and select the Finances Link at the top of the page. It is the student's responsibility to ensure ASU receives Third Party Sponsor Documents by the due date as indicated on the Tuition and Billing Calendar. If you do not see a "Third-Party Sponsored Credit" applied to the corresponding semester charges on your student account within 5 business days of submitting your Third Party Sponsor Documents, please contact ASU via email at sponsorbilling@asu.edu.

How do I pay with an eCheck?

Make eCheck payments on QuikPAY by logging in to MyASU and selecting the 'Finances' link on the upper left side, then selecting 'Pay Bill.' You can submit payment up to the amount owed on your account. To make an eCheck payment you will need your bank's routing number, sometimes referred to as the Transit Number or the ABA number, and your bank account number. This information is available on the bottom of your check or from your financial institution. An example of where to find this information on a check is also available online when an eCheck payment is made. A paper check is not required.

How do I submit my required sponsorship documentation?

Submit Financial Guarantee Letter(s) [13] to ASU Student Accounts:

Preferred Method:

Email: sponsorbilling@asu.edu

Other Methods to Submit:

Fax: 480.965.9242

In Person: Student Accounts office (Tempe, West, Downtown or Polytechnic Locations)

By Mail: Arizona State University Student Accounts Office

Tempe, AZ 85287-0303

Attn: Third-Party Sponsor Billing

How does the ASU Third-Party Billing process work, and what documents are required?

To arrange for ASU to bill your approved governmental/third-party sponsor, please submit a Financial Guarantee Letter to the Student Accounts Office by the deadline on the Tuition and Billing Calendar. ASU will only bill the Third Party Billing fee to the Sponsor if indicated on the Financial Guarantee Letter. Within 5 business days of receipt of the Financial Guarantee Letter, ASU will place a "Third-Party Sponsor Credit" on your student account for the amount indicated on your Financial Guarantee Letter. The "Third-Party Sponsor Credit" on your student account indicates that we have received your sponsorship documentation and that we will be issuing an invoice to your sponsoring agency during the semester. It does not indicate that payment has been received from your sponsoring agency. If the third-party sponsoring agency remits full payment as indicated on the ASU invoice, no further action is required from the student. If full payment is not received from the sponsor, or if further information is needed, ASU will contact the student via their ASU e-mail.

How was the payment processing fee determined?

The service fee was determined by our vendor. The University is not directly accepting credit or debit card payments for Tuition and Student Account payments; they are being accepted by our vendor who is assessing the 2.5% service fee for processing domestic debit and credit card payments and 4.25% for international debit and credit card payments. The service fee is not paid to ASU and is not refundable, even if the related payment to ASU is refunded.

I am a military student and would like to utilize my benefits for tuition and fees, what information do I need to provide?

All military students wishing to use benefits should first contact ASU Veterans Services to become familiar with the policies and procedures in using military benefits. Veteran Services works closely with Student Business Services to ensure military tuition benefits are applied to students accounts quickly and accurately. All military students wishing to use benefits should first contact ASU Veterans Services to become familiar with the policies and procedures in using military benefits. Veteran Services works closely with Student Business Services to ensure military tuition benefits are applied to students accounts quickly and accurately.

I have been approved for Tuition Assistance (TA,) where do I submit my approved TA form?

Students using TA benefits should submit their TA Authorization Vouchers through the Pat Tillman Veterans Center website by following the below steps:

- Go to the Pat Tillman Veterans Center Forms [14] website.
- Click on the "Tuition Assistance (TA) Voucher Upload" link under "Forms for Active Duty/Guard/Reserves."
- Select the appropriate term from the drop-down menu and upload your form using the provided link.

I have been approved for Tuition Assistance and am also eligible for the Post 9/11 GI Benefits (Chapter 33.) Can I use both benefits?

Yes, students can you both benefits simultaneously. Veteran Services always encourages students with both benefits to consult with the VA Campus Counselor to ensure they are maximizing their military benefits.

If I am using both Tuition Assistance and my Post 9/11 GI Benefits (Chapter 33,) how will my benefits be applied to my student account?

Any Tuition Assistance received will be applied to a student's account first and Post 9/11 GI Benefits will be applied after. For example, if student with 80% eligibility has tuition and fees totaling $5,500 and receives $1,500 in Tuition Assistance, the Chapter 33 benefit will then pay 80% of the remaining $4,000 balance ($3,200) leaving a balance to be paid by the student of $800.

If I enroll in the ASU payment plan before the semester begins and ends up not having a $500 balance, am I still enrolled in the plan?

Yes. If you voluntarily enroll and charges are paid before the initial designated payment deadline, you will still be assessed the nonrefundable enrollment plan fee.

My eCheck rejected. What do I do?

When ASU is notified by our bank of the rejected eCheck payment, usually seven to ten days after payment was made, a charge will be posted to your account for the full amount of the rejected payment. An electronic notification will be sent, and a $25 returned eCheck fee will be charged to your student account. See Returned Check Policy for additional information. Once the charges appear on your student account, a payment can be made in person at any campus Cashiering Office or online through MyASU. Select the "Finances" on the upper left side, then select "Pay Bill" to make payment online. Please follow up with your financial institution to determine what the error might be regarding the routing or account numbers you provided. A rejected eCheck does not necessarily mean that funds were not sufficient to cover the payment.

What happens if my Sponsor does not pay the agreed ASU charges?

If payment is not received from the sponsoring agency, ASU will notify you (via your ASU e-mail) that payment has not been received from your Sponsor and ask that you contact your sponsoring agency to arrange payment immediately. If payment is not received within two weeks from the due date of the invoice, any unpaid charges will be placed back on your student account, and payment will be due immediately. Students with accounts that become delinquent are subject to monthly late fees and will be blocked from University services, including registration, transcripts, and diplomas. Please see Delinquent Accounts and Late Charges for more information. Note: Students may receive periodic e-mails to their primary ASU e-mail address regarding the status of their account and instructions on how to resolve any specific issues related to their third-party sponsorship. It is the responsibility of the student to monitor their ASU e-mail account and to respond to official ASU e-mails as indicated.

What if I don't have adequate funds in my bank account when I make an eCheck payment?

Your bank balance is not accessed at the time an eCheck payment is made. You are responsible for ensuring that adequate funds are available in your checking or savings account. Your eCheck payment will be accepted online and processed to your bank as described in the "When will my bank account be charged" question. If funds are not available for the eCheck payment, or the account is invalid or closed, you will be notified by email one to three days after the original payment was made. When ASU is notified by our bank of the rejected eCheck payment, usually seven to ten days after payment was made, a charge will be posted to your account for the full amount of the rejected payment. An electronic notification will be sent to the address on file with ASU and a $25 returned eCheck fee will be charged on your student account. See Returned Check Policy for additional information.

What if I receive a refund for my tuition?

The 2.5% service fee is nonrefundable. Nelnet assessed the service fee for the processing of the original credit card transaction and therefore it is nonrefundable, even if the related payment to ASU is refunded.

What is an eCheck?

eChecks are ASU's preferred payment method and are accepted with no service fee or additional cost to the student. eCheck is a fast and simple payment method. Similar to a debit or check card, the eCheck electronically debits a checking or savings account.

What is the Third-Party Billing Fee and who pays the fee?

The Third-Party Billing Fee is a non-refundable per semester administrative fee to cover the costs associated with processing the sponsorship paperwork, preparing invoices and billing the third-party agency on behalf of the student. ASU will bill this fee to the sponsor agency only if indicated on the Financial Guarantee Letter. Please remember to include this fee when requesting the Financial Guarantee Letter from your Sponsor. Students will be responsible for paying the Third-Party Billing Fee if not paid by their Sponsor.

What types of charges can be paid with an eCheck?

eChecks are accepted online for payment of tuition, housing, and other student account charges. Login to MyASU and select the Finances tab at the top of the page, then click 'Pay Bill' to be transferred to QuikPAY to pay your ASU charges. In QuikPAY select "Pay Bill" from the menu on the left-hand side to securely process your payment.

When are my required sponsorship documents due?

Visit the Tuition and Billing Calendar for Third Party Sponsor Document submission deadlines to avoid automatic enrollment in the ASU Payment Plan and/or Late Fees.

When will my bank account be charged for the eCheck payment?

Your bank account will be charged overnight for payments made prior to 3:00 PM Arizona time and the next night for payments made after 3:00 PM Arizona time. eCheck payments made on weekends or holidays will be processed on the next business day.

Why do credit card transactions have a service fee?

ASU does not directly accept credit and debit cards for payment of tuition and Student Account charges, but has arranged for a third-party vendor to accept Visa, MasterCard, Discover and American Express when payment is made online. The third-party vendor, Nelnet assesses a 2.5% service fee for processing the transaction. The service fee is not paid to ASU and is not refundable, even if the related payment to ASU is refunded.

Why doesn't ASU directly accept credit and debit card payments?

ASU made the decision several years ago to stop accepting credit card payments for tuition and other student account charges after careful consideration because of the significant and rising cost to the University of credit card processing fees. The cost of accepting credit cards was paid out of tuition and other University revenues, reducing revenue available for campus services to all students, regardless of whether or not they used a credit card to make payments. The savings realized by ASU because of this change helps fund, for example, library acquisitions, more faculty, classroom upgrades, and other student enhancements. The University has made arrangements for a third-party vendor to accept Visa, MasterCard, Discover and American Express when payment is made online. The third-party vendor, Nelnet assesses a 2.5% service fee for processing the transaction. The service fee is not paid to ASU and is not refundable, even if the related payment to ASU is refunded.

Will a reduction in my credit hours affect my TA eligibility?

Students who may be considering reducing their credit hours are advised to consult with Student Business Services to ensure they fully understand the financial implications of the reduction. Per Federal Regulations, the TA program must follow the same guidelines as Department of Education Title IV funding and therefore based on the student's last day of attendance, TA eligibility and funding may be affected by a reduction in credit hours. Unearned TA funding up to 65% for the period enrolled may reduce the student's military benefit. If reduction in hours is due to a military service obligation, submitting a military activation form may be the course of action to take. It can be found at <https://veterans.asu.edu/forms> [14].

Will the service fee appear on my confirmation email?

You will receive two emails after a credit card payment is made. One email confirms the actual amount paid to ASU and applied to your ASU charges. The second email confirms the 2.5% service fee assessed and charged to your credit card by Nelnet.

Are current qualifying noncitizen students eligible for in-state tuition?

Yes. Students who meet the requirements of Prop. 308 are eligible for in-state tuition for any semester that starts after Dec. 13, 2022. Prop. 308 does not have a retroactive effect, so students will not be reclassified for semesters that began prior to Dec. 13, 2022.

Do the qualifying noncitizen students eligible for in-state tuition under Prop. 308 also need to prove domicile under A.R.S. § 15-1802?

No. A qualifying noncitizen student will pay in-state tuition if they meet the requirements of A.R.S. § 15-1803(B):

1. The student attended any public or private high school or homeschool equivalent while physically present in Arizona for at least two years; and
2. The student graduated from any public or private high school or homeschool equivalent in Arizona or obtained a high school equivalency diploma in Arizona, i.e., a GED.

Do the two years of physical presence in Arizona while attending high school need to be consecutive?

No. Students do not need to have two years of consecutive presence. However, to be eligible, they still must provide documentation that they both:

1. Attended any public or private high school option or homeschool equivalent while physically present in Arizona for at least two years; and

2. Graduated from a public or private high school option or homeschool equivalent or obtained a high school equivalency diploma in Arizona.

How does Prop. 308 impact eligibility for financial aid?

Prop. 308 repealed an Arizona law (A.R.S. § 15-1825) that prohibited students who were not citizens of the United States and who were “without lawful immigration status” from receiving financial assistance subsidized or paid in whole, or in part, with state monies, such as tuition waivers, fee waivers, grants, scholarships, and any other type of financial aid or assistance.

With the passage of Prop. 308, all students – regardless of immigration status – may be eligible to receive financial aid paid in whole or in part with state monies to attend an Arizona public university or an Arizona community college. While Prop. 308 eliminated barriers to eligibility for financial aid based on immigration status, a student must still meet all other requirements of the state financial aid they are seeking.

To be eligible for state financial aid, a student does NOT need to meet the Arizona high school attendance or graduation criteria. That applies only to eligibility for in-state tuition.

Prop. 308 does not impact the eligibility requirements to receive federal financial aid.

Should the students who are impacted by Prop. 308 complete the FAFSA application?

Any student who wants to apply for financial aid and who can complete the FAFSA, should complete the FAFSA. However, a student must have a Social Security number to complete a FAFSA application and some of the students who are impacted by Prop. 308 may not be eligible to complete the FAFSA. Students can visit ssa.gov/pubs/EN-05-10009.pdf [15] for more information on how to obtain an SSN.

What does Prop. 308 do?

Prop. 308 made two significant changes to Arizona law.

First, with the passage of Prop. 308, a qualifying non-citizen student, with statutorily defined exceptions [16], is eligible for in-state resident tuition at state universities and community colleges if the student both:

1. Attended an Arizona public or private high school, or homeschool for a minimum of two years; and
2. Graduated from an Arizona public or private high school, or homeschool equivalent, or obtained an Arizona high school equivalency diploma, e.g., a general equivalency diploma (GED).

Second, Prop. 308 repealed A.R.S. § 15-1825, and now non-citizen students are eligible to receive financial aid funded in whole, or in part, with state monies, regardless of immigration status.

What other scholarships are the students impacted by Prop. 308 now eligible to apply for?

ASU offers a number of financial aid opportunities, including merit scholarships and need-based aid. Students who meet the requirements of ASU scholarships and financial aid programs are now eligible to receive them, regardless of immigration status. For additional information, visit the New American University scholarship page [17] or use the first-year merit scholarship estimator [18].

What should I do if I have questions about my residency status?

Please contact a team member at residency@asu.edu about your ability to qualify for in-state tuition under Prop. 308.

When the law takes effect, are students who are eligible for in-state tuition under Prop. 308 also eligible for the Arizona Promise Program?

No. To qualify for the Arizona Promise Program, a student must meet all the eligibility requirements under A.R.S. § 15-1701. One requirement of the Promise Program is that a student must qualify for a Pell Grant, which is federal need-based financial aid. Aliens without legal immigration status, who are not citizens or legal permanent residents, do not qualify for federal financial aid. More information about the Arizona Promise Program, including eligibility requirements, is available at: azregents.edu/arizona-promise-program [19].

Students impacted by Prop. 308 may be eligible for other state or college financial aid, in addition to private scholarships.

When will these qualifying noncitizen students be eligible to receive in-state tuition?

Prop. 308 became effective Dec. 5, 2022, after the election results were certified, and proclaimed to be law by Governor Ducey. ASU will begin to apply it toward the spring 2023 semester.

Who qualifies for in-state tuition under Prop. 308?

A qualifying noncitizen student, other than the nonimmigrant aliens described under 8 U.S. Code § 1101(a)(15), are eligible for in-state tuition under Prop. 308, regardless of immigration status, if the student meets both of the following criteria:

1. The student attended any public or private high school or homeschool equivalent while physically present in Arizona for at least two years; and
2. The student graduated from any public or private high school or homeschool equivalent in Arizona or obtained a high school equivalency diploma in Arizona a, i.e., a GED.

Will students with visas be eligible for in-state tuition?

Nonimmigrant aliens described under 8 U.S. C. § 1101(a)(15) are not eligible for in-state tuition under Prop. 308. This includes, but is not limited to, students who hold F1, F2, J1, H4 or H1 visas. For a complete list, please look at 8 U.S. C. § 1101(a)(15).

Nonimmigrant aliens described under 8 U.S. Code § 1101(a)(15) are not eligible for in-state tuition under Prop. 308.

Are there resources for international students to help pay for college?

Although international students do not qualify for federal and state financial aid (unless you are an eligible noncitizen), there are still options to help fund your ASU education. ASU's New American University merit-based scholarship is awarded to a limited number of qualified international undergraduate students who demonstrate high academic achievement.

What types of aid are available to me as an international student?

Although international students do not qualify for federal and state financial aid (unless you are an eligible noncitizen), there are still options to help fund your ASU education. ASU's New American University merit-based scholarship is awarded to a limited number of qualified international undergraduate students who demonstrate high academic achievement.

Can I enroll in Direct Deposit if I am a student athlete?

In order to comply with NCAA and Sun Devil Athletics (SDA) regulations regarding posting and disbursing of SDA monies, active and potential athletes will not be included in Direct Deposit. Athletes may enroll in student account Direct Deposit, but refund checks will be produced instead of Direct Deposit transactions while you are an active athlete. If your SDA athlete status becomes inactive you will be included in Direct Deposit.

Can I have my student account refund deposited into a bank account other than my own?

You may specify a bank account other than your own for refunds, for example a parent's bank account. You are responsible for specifying the correct account and maintaining accurate banking information with ASU. Once a Direct Deposit refund is processed, ASU cannot cancel or reverse the transaction.

Can I have my student account refund mailed?

You must deactivate your Direct Deposit Enrollment prior to creation of the refund to have a check mailed. Login to My ASU, select Finances in the Tuition profile box, then select 'Direct Deposit Enrollment'. Click 'Deactivate Direct Deposit' to begin receiving refunds by check via postal mail. Remember to update your address through My ASU (My Profile tab).

Can I pick up my student account refund in person?

No. If not enrolled in Direct Deposit, a check will be mailed. Remember to keep your address current through My ASU (My Profile tab).

Can I use financial aid to buy my books?

Pell Grant recipients are eligible to purchase textbooks at Sun Devil Campus Stores and have the book charges billed to the student account, up to $650. To be eligible students must submit all outstanding documents showing on their My ASU Finances tab. Students can begin to use the benefit approximately six weeks prior to the start of the session. The last day to take advantage of the online benefit is 6pm 15 days before the beginning of each session. Student's may use the benefit in person at a Sun Devil Campus Store up until the 12th day before the beginning of the session. There are two ways to take advantage of this benefit --- either by purchasing books at the Sun Devil Campus Store on your campus, or on the ASU Bookstore website.

To purchase your books at one of the Sun Devil Campus Stores on campus, please follow these steps: Take your schedule of classes with you to a Sun Devil Campus Store. Find the books for your classes. Take your books to the cashier. Present your ASU ID and indicate you have a Pell Grant. Ask them to apply your book charges to your ASU account.

To purchase your books via the ASU Bookstore website, please follow these steps: Make sure you are signed into My ASU, then visit the ASU Bookstore and find your course materials. When you're ready to check out, you will be taken to a Payment Methods box. Check the box next to Pell/Scholarship/Third Party Payer. After you click the box next to Pell/Scholarship/Third Party Payer, click Find Accounts. Your account balance will appear. Click Pay with this. Click Place order to complete your transaction.

You may only purchase textbooks, educational supplies and technology equipment with your Pell Grant benefit. Once your financial aid is applied to your ASU charges, any remaining funds will be disbursed to you. View our calendar for disbursement dates of financial aid refunds. Enroll in direct deposit to have your remaining funds deposited into your bank account. Should your financial aid not cover all of your charges, you will be responsible for the remaining balance. View details on receiving your funds and paying ASU charges. This payment option is available during specific times at the start of each semester. See the financial aid calendar for details. If you were not awarded a Pell Grant, the bookstore will accept the following payment methods both online or in the store: American Express, Discover, Gift Card, MasterCard, Sun Dollars, Visa.

How do I accept my awards?

Does Arizona State University participate in the Western Undergraduate Exchange Program (WICHE or WUE)?

The Western Undergraduate Exchange(WUE) is a program coordinated by the Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education (WICHE). Residents of western states (other than Arizona) may enroll in the ASU WUE program at a tuition rate of 150 percent of Arizona resident tuition plus all applicable fees. WUE students may be eligible for an ASU WUE merit-based scholarship, but are not eligible for other ASU non-resident university merit scholarships or grants. Students must apply to and enroll in one of the ASU WUE-eligible majors/programs. These scholarships are awarded by Undergraduate Admissions. Please contact Undergraduate Admissions at 480-965-3040.

My financial aid does not cover my costs, what are my other options?

If your financial aid does not cover your costs, the following options may be available to assist you with college expenses.

Scholarship Opportunities: There are a multitude of scholarships available to students who meet donor criteria.

Visit <https://students.asu.edu/scholarships> [10] to view a comprehensive list of available scholarships and application information. You can also use FastWeb, a scholarship search engine, to assist you in finding possible scholarship opportunities. Student Employment: There are student employment opportunities right here on campus. The Student Employment Office is always ready to help a student find a job. We recommend that you visit

<https://students.asu.edu/employment> [21] to view all types of student job listings. Parent PLUS Loans: Parents of dependent students may borrow Parent PLUS Loans. See <https://students.asu.edu/loans/plus> [22] for details. Private Education Student Loans: These loans are educational loans offered by private lenders – usually banks. Visit <http://students.asu.edu/loans/private> [23] for more info on private education student loans.

How do I accept my Federal Parent PLUS loan?

There are several steps required to accept a Parent PLUS Loan. First you, the student, must give your parent guest access to accept a Parent PLUS Loan. You will receive a validation code and your parent an email with instructions on how to active their guest access. Your parent will need that validation code in order to complete the activation process. It is very important that all the steps provided are complete in order for the Parent PLUS Loan to process successfully. For a complete list of steps please visit <https://students.asu.edu/loans/plus#accept> [20].

How do I complete a Master Promissory Note?

Follow the instructions below for the type of loan you have accepted. Completing a promissory note for the wrong type of loan will result in a delay in the disbursement of your loan funds. Check your "Priority Tasks" list on My ASU for a list of the types of promissory notes currently being requested for you to complete.

How do I complete my Federal Direct Loan Master Promissory Note (MPN), Entrance Counseling, or Exit Counseling?

Log in to your My ASU and check your task list. The specific task will be listed (e.g., 'complete Stafford Loan MPN'). Click on the item and a link will appear in a dialogue box. Follow the links.

How long do I have to accept my loan?

In general, you have until the end of the term you are enrolled in to accept your loans. Click here for more details.

I received an email about paying tuition and taking out a loan referencing ASU. Was this sent by ASU?

You may receive emails or other forms of communication regarding paying your tuition or taking out student loans that will take you to a non-ASU website. Please be aware that these websites are not affiliated with ASU nor the ASU Financial aid and Scholarship Services Office. One example is a site hosted by a company called Simple Tuition, which is completely separate from and has no ties to ASU. The ASU Financial Aid and Scholarship Services Office had no input to the content of this website, and we cannot speak to the accuracy of the data represented. Additionally, Financial Aid and Scholarship Services did not provide ASU email addresses to this company.

As always, we strongly recommend you do your own research into your student loan options and verify all data you find directly with the student loan lenders you are considering. Only the lenders can verify the accuracy of any student loan data that is attributed to them. For more information visit <https://tuition.asu.edu/financial-aid/loans> [22].

I want to apply for a Parent PLUS Loan; do I have to submit a FAFSA?

Yes, all students must complete a FAFSA before they can be awarded a Federal Direct Parent PLUS Loan. Verification of a valid FAFSA on file will be part of the credit evaluation process performed by the lender (i.e., the US Department of Education).

My parents were denied the Parent PLUS loan. Are there any additional loans I can borrow as a student?

If your parents would like to appeal their Federal Parent PLUS Loan denial, they need to contact Direct Lending Plus Credit Appeals at 1-800-557-7394. Otherwise, the student may request an additional Federal Direct Unsubsidized Stafford Loan by submitting a Parent PLUS Loan Denial Funds Request form to Financial Aid and Scholarship Services. There are specific limits on the amount of additional unsubsidized loans that may be awarded (i.e., freshmen and sophomores are eligible for an additional $4,000 and juniors and seniors are eligible for an additional $5,000).

What is the difference between a Subsidized and Unsubsidized student loan?

Subsidized loans do not accrue interest while you are in school while unsubsidized loans begin accruing interest from the time the loan is fully disbursed (i.e., if you have a fall/spring loan, the loan is fully disbursed once the spring amount is paid to your student account). Both types of student loans do not begin repayment until six months after graduation, you stop going to school or your enrollment drops below half-time status (i.e., 6 credit hours for undergraduate students and 5 credit hours for graduate students). Undergraduate students also are eligible for an interest rate reduction on subsidized loans.

If an applicant wishes to provide information about an act of sexual harassment, including sexual assault, dating/domestic violence and stalking, without making a disclosure, what are their options?

Applicants can reference a traumatic experience without providing details about the perpetrator or location/context of the harassment if they do not want a mandatory reporter to initiate a report.

What happens if a student includes information in an application/request that requires a mandatory reporter to act?

Mandatory reporters report the disclosed information in order to allow a university representative the opportunity to reach out and provide available resources to the student as well as discuss the availability of available administrative processes related to potential university policy violations.

Where can I find information about university support and resources?

Information about campus resources including advocacy assistance and confidential counseling and victim-survivor advocacy can be found at <https://sexualviolenceprevention.asu.edu/resources> [24].

Will information in this application/request be shared with anyone else at the university?

A student's private information will only be shared with individuals who need to know the information in order to process the request. The only exception to this relates to mandatory reporting of acts of sexual harassment, which includes sexual assault, dating/domestic violence and stalking. ASU takes all reports of such conduct seriously and is committed to taking appropriate action to hold violators accountable and to prevent any recurrence. In order to ensure all members of our community have access to health and safety resources should an incident occur, all ASU employees are mandatory reporters and must report allegations of sexual harassment, which includes sexual assault, dating/domestic violence and stalking.

ASU California Center

Our California footprint

Arizona State University's inclusive mission to help people succeed knows no state boundaries. ASU has locations nationwide and throughout California, from the state-of-the-art and award-winning buildings of the ASU California Center in downtown Los Angeles to locations in Long Beach [1] and Chula Vista [2]. With a footprint in Los Angeles since 2013, we have continually welcomed students from across California, the nation and the world to study in our top-ranked degree programs.

Our downtown Los Angeles location enables ASU to serve adult learners and college-ready young adults — 36,000 of whom live within 7 miles of the ASU California Center.

In the heart of downtown Los Angeles

The ASU California Center in downtown LA provides ASU students and learners access to undergraduate and graduate degree programs, executive education, workshops and hands-on learning.

ASU California Center Broadway

ASU California Center Broadway, formerly the Herald Examiner Building, stands out as a cultural landmark in a modern city. The building's design supports community gatherings and inspires entrepreneurship and innovation. There are state-of-the-art facilities, including a creative media center, virtual reality and editing studios, and special event spaces. ASU programs with a presence here include the Sidney Poitier New American Film School in the Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts, the Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Communication, California College of ASU, the Thunderbird School of Global Management, the W. P. Carey School of Business, the College of Global Futures and other local programs.

In 2021, ASU completed a $40 million preservation and restoration project on the iconic Herald Examiner building, designed by renowned architect Julia Morgan in 1913 for the headquarters of the William Randolph Hearst-owned Examiner newspaper.

Now known as ASU California Center Broadway, the nearly 86,000-square-foot, five-level building has won multiple awards, including Grand Prize at the 53rd Annual Architectural Awards from the Los Angeles Business Council and Chair Award from the Los Angeles Conservancy as part of its 2021 Preservation Awards.

A brief history of a storied building

Julia Morgan, the first licensed female architect in California, designed the five-story building on Broadway and 11th streets in a mix of Spanish Colonial Revival and the Mission Revival style of architecture popular throughout Southern California in the early 20th Century. Soaring ceilings, arched windows and carved pilasters gave the building an air of grandeur and cemented it as an architectural icon in the city's landscape. The building's showpiece was its lobby, which Morgan ornamented with hand-painted tiles, elaborate ironwork and magnificently carved wood details. Morgan went on to design the Hearst Castle.

For 76 years, the Examiner, which later became the Los Angeles Herald Examiner, reigned as Hearst's flagship newspaper and a dominant voice in Los Angeles life and politics. The building was shuttered after the Herald Examiner ceased publishing in 1989. It was used sporadically as a filming location until 2015 and ASU began renovating the building in 2020.

Modernizing the space while preserving the historic character of the building was a high priority during the renovation. The building's exterior was refurbished to its original state. New roofing and fire sprinklers were installed, dropped ceilings and walls were removed and the original skylights were brought back to life.

The tall, arched windows facing Broadway had been boarded up since workers hurled bricks through the windows during a labor dispute that spanned 10 years in 1967; they were restored. An interior stairwell Hearst used to get from the newsroom's third floor to his apartment on the fifth also was restored. The solid bronze handrail still bears dents from bat-wielding strikers.

Much of the renovation work was painstakingly delicate, especially the ornate lobby. To ensure that key architectural details were preserved, a conservator helped oversee the work — from cleaning tiles to repairing light fixtures and a grand two-faced clock.

The renovated building has an open, modern feel and visitors enter through a new, separate lobby with access to a two-story event space. The third and fourth floors house classrooms, conference rooms, small “huddle spaces,” sizable open work areas and studios for broadcast and film production. Hearst's former apartment on the fifth floor was converted into offices.

“Not only does the building illuminate the city's rich history dating back more than a century, but with a new vision, it now bridges that tradition with innovation and enables us to help advance the downtown's intellectual, cultural and economic vibrancy,” said ASU President Michael M. Crow.

Much of the building's history and renovation details first appeared in the Cronkite Journal [7]. Kasey Brammell, now a Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Communication alumna, contributed to that article as a student reporter.

ASU California Center Grand

ASU California Center Grand is a building designed to inspire creativity. It is part of the final space in a grand boulevard through downtown LA called the Los Angeles Open Space Network. The nearly 200,000-square-foot building is home to the largest fashion library on the West Coast, the world-class ASU FIDM Museum, and ASU FIDM, ASU's fashion program. Students in the program learn in state-of-the-industry classrooms on professional equipment and have coursework embedded with industry partners across LA that allow them to work alongside experts while earning their degrees.

The California Center Grand includes Grand Hope Park, a 2.5-acre greenspace designed as a collection of “outdoor rooms” by landscape architect Lawrence Halprin. It features several art pieces from California artists, a water feature and a clock tower.

FAQs

Where do I apply for housing?

Students interested in applying for university housing can apply via the housing portal, which can be accessed on the My ASU [4] Campus Service tab. Once Housing has received your application, information regarding your assignment will be sent by email within three weeks of applying.

Is there an application deadline?

University Housing establishes a priority application date each semester and encourages students to apply as soon as possible to ensure priority assignment to a housing space. Please visit the University Housing [5] website for these dates. We accept applications year round and assign to a space after the priority application date if space is available.

Where will ASU housing be offered for ASU students in downtown Los Angeles?

Housing will be located at Broadway Palace Apartments: 1026 S Broadway, Los Angeles, CA 90015.
www.broadwaypalaceapartments.com [6].

How will students pay for their housing charges?

Housing charges will be posted to the ASU student account on a semester basis. Students will pay for their housing charges in the Finances tab on My ASU [7].

How much will housing cost for ASU students at Broadway Palace?

Housing rates for 2023-2024 in Los Angeles will be $7,900/semester, which includes a furnished apartment, utilities, internet, parking if needed, summer housing and an intentionally designed residential experience with university housing staff support on-site.

Are meal plans required for ASU students living in Broadway Palace?

Meal plans are not currently available for those living at Broadway Palace.

What if I need ADA accommodations for housing?

ASU students who need assistance or accommodations for their housing should contact the ASU SAILS office at eoss.asu.edu/accessibility [8] and schedule a meeting to discuss their needs.

What is provided in the apartment at Broadway Palace?

The units will be furnished with a twin XL bed, a desk and chair for each person, a sofa and side chair, a coffee table, dining table with chairs and bar stools. Students will also be provided with internet and parking (if needed). Small housewares are not included.

How close is Broadway Palace to ASU classes in downtown Los Angeles?

Broadway Palace is less than half a mile away from classes — roughly a 10-minute walk.

What type of apartment and bedroom set-up will be available to ASU students?

Four students will share the two-bedroom apartment, splitting the bedrooms with two students per room. In the shared living space, there will be a kitchen, dining area and living room.

Can I request my roommate or provide preference on roommates?

ASU Housing staff will try its best to accommodate roommate preferences, but they are not guaranteed.

What is the duration of the University Housing license agreement?

The license agreement for housing is for a full academic year. Information regarding the license agreement, including policies and procedures, can be found at housing.asu.edu/housing-resources/license-agreements [9].

What security is present at Broadway Palace?

24-hour security is provided at Broadway Palace Apartments.

- LiveSafe App - <https://cfo.asu.edu/livesafe-mobile-app> [3]

General Precondition Number 9

Precondition 9. Faculty and Instructional Personnel Participation

In alignment with the Standards of Academe, MLFC faculty are expected to demonstrate excellence in scholarship, teaching, and service, consistent with their job responsibilities. Faculty engage with public school systems in multiple ways. This includes co-leading alternative certification programs in partnership with local Arizona school districts, conducting research projects in collaboration with public schools, and leading faculty-initiated project teams focused on supporting K–12 education. The chart below provides a summary of MLFC faculty participation in public schools over the past three academic years.

Casey Swingle [44]

Clinical Associate Professor Division Strategist

Fall 2023 to Present: Partnership Strategist The Partnership Strategist is charged with coordinating and supporting our local district partners with their alternative certification teachers. Their teachers enroll in our educator preparation program. The Partnership Strategist leads and oversees recruitment, enrollment, and orientation of new partnership students. Servicing as the primary liaison for district leadership, this role is the main point of contact and is pivotal in building strong relationships with district leadership. Working with the Division Director, the Partnership Strategist contributes to staffing each local district with an ASU faculty member who serves as the Partnership Lead [45]. The Partnership Strategist provides support for the Partnership Leads, spearheading bi-monthly team meetings, segmented by program, cohort, and lead instructors to drive partnership success, including monitoring and facilitating partnership tiered systems of support to foster student retention and program effectiveness. As appropriate, the Partnership Strategist facilitates professional development for the districts' teachers that are enrolled in MLFC's alternative teacher preparation programs.

Leads the coordinated effort across four local partnerships

- Paradise Valley Unified School District [46]
- Mesa Public Schools [47]
- Casa Grande Union High School District [48]
- Madison Elementary School District [49]

EYEPlay ADAPT (All Different Abilities Participate and Thrive): A University-Theater-School District Partnership [59]

Grant Award Start Date 09/01/2023 - Award End Date 08/31/2025

This project, EYEPlayADAPT (All Different Abilities Participate and Thrive), builds on Early Years Educators at Play (EYEPlay) [60], a 10-year partnership [61] between Arizona State University and Childsplay Theatre Company that has developed, implemented and evaluated high-quality, drama-based early literacy experiences for Arizona students in more than 100 preschool classrooms and 10 school districts.

Pamela Kulinna [62]
Professor
Healthy Eating and Living in Phoenix

Grant Award Start Date 04/01/2022 - Award End Date 06/30/2022

Healthy Eating and Living in Phoenix, initiated by Professor Pamela Hodges Kulinna [63] and through a partnership with San Marcos Elementary School, addressed these shortcomings through an after-school program designed to improve student health. The project provided additional physical activity, social and emotional learning activities, and healthy eating programming to students at the Title I elementary school in Chandler, Arizona. The school's student population is 75% Hispanic, 12% white, 6% Black, 4% two or more races, 3% Asian or Pacific Islander and 1% Native American, and 90% of students are eligible for a free or reduced lunch.

Nicole L. Thompson [64]
Professor, Vice Dean
Preparing Early Childhood Educators for Arizona's Indian Communities [65]

Grant Award Start Date 08/01/2021 - Award End Date 07/31/2026

Preparing Early Childhood Educators for Arizona's Indian Communities (PEAIC) [66], spearheaded by Nicole Thompson [67], vice dean of the Division of Teacher Preparation and professor, will address the critical shortage of Indian teachers in Arizona, especially in Indian communities. The project will prepare 20 teachers to serve Indian students in grades PreK–3, who reside and attend schools on or near reservation lands in central Arizona.

Janice Mak [68]
Assistant Director and Clinical Assistant Professor
Weaving our CS Vision [69]

Grant Award Start Date 10/01/2023 - Award End Date 09/30/2024

With the input and collaboration of Native American educational communities, the project team will adapt these approaches specifically for these schools and communities. The toolkit project encompasses the development of a facilitator guide and a revised set of tools, guiding questions and vision statements. The project takes a participatory and co-development approach whereby the team will advise with state leaders in Arizona and New Mexico Departments of Education from their respective Offices of Indian Education.

The toolkit would be disseminated through national and regional partners, including the University of Arizona Data Sciences Academy, Computer Science Alliance, Computer Science Teachers Association, and the Arizona and New Mexico Departments of Education.

Project ACCLaIM: Advancing Civics Curriculum Learning through Instructional Microcredentials focuses on professional development for K–12 teachers in the areas of American history, civics and media literacy via a comprehensive microcredential program. A microcredential is defined by the National Education Association as a “short, competency-based recognition that allows an educator to demonstrate mastery in a particular area.” The project will impact 175 teachers who complete the program and who teach approximately 21,875 students. Up to 300 additional teachers (100 per year) will complete at least one microcredential, with the potential reach to an additional 10,500 students.

Year 1 will concentrate on teachers from the Mesa Unified School District, which is the largest district in Arizona state with more than 64,000 students and 79 schools. The majority of students in the district are considered “underserved” by the U.S. Department of Education definition.

Year 2 will expand Project ACCLaIM throughout Arizona, targeting teachers from rural parts of the state and schools with large populations of underserved student populations.

Year 3 will expand Project ACCLaIM nationwide, again targeting teachers who work with underserved students.

Division for Educator Preparation Project Teams*

The purpose of Project Teams is to bring together a diverse team of faculty (and staff) who share a common passion for a specific project or initiative that aligns to the ASU Design Aspirations, benefits the college and fulfills service commitments. These groups collaborate on projects that align with MLFTC’s mission and priority areas, drive innovation, and enhance the college’s programs and services. By combining the passion and strengths of its team members, the project team can achieve substantial progress in areas that are critical to the college’s mission and vision while also providing personal and professional growth for individual participants.

*Faculty propose and lead a project team as part of their professional and community service.

Dr. Alexandria Estrella-Bridges [72]

Equity Minded Classroom Connections (EMCC)

As teacher educators it is essential to understand relevant and timely experiences of current practitioners. More opportunities to be present in the classroom is a powerful asset to guiding teacher education with informed practice. This project is centered on mutual mentorship where teacher and teacher educator learn from each other working to break down hierarchies and come together with children! Another area of focus for this working group is to dismantle inequities in the classrooms and in teacher preparation, and reflect on transformational practices, experiences, and policies that support inclusive excellence.

EMCC is focused on connecting to P-12 classroom experiences and practitioners in effort to develop a deeper understanding of our craft as teacher educators. This socially embedded focus is not only to understand the changing landscape of P-12 classrooms but to also seek opportunities to implement change, transform practices, build networks, and curate resources across various spaces of education.

Dr. Abby Brown [73]
Clinical Associate Professor
Assistant Division Director, Undergraduate
MLFC PK-12 Support Partnership

The purpose of this project is to establish a partnership model in which in-service PK–12 teachers receive targeted support from MLFC faculty members who can provide instructional assistance directly within classroom settings. This initiative aims to create mutually beneficial relationships with schools and districts: PK–12 educators gain access to additional professional support, while MLFC faculty engage in meaningful service that deepens their understanding of current classroom realities and instructional needs.

Deb Martinez [74]
Clinical Assistant Professor
MLFC Early Childhood Initiatives

This project aims to design and implement engaging experiences for early childhood students and the broader community that foster relationships, promote a sense of agency, and provide authentic connections between coursework and professional practice. The initiative is designed to enrich the early childhood major and minor, supporting students' learning journeys through meaningful, community-embedded activities.

Fall Semester Focus:

In partnership with the Education Leadership & Innovation Division, this initiative will highlight diverse professional pathways available to early childhood students. Through webinars, career panels, and resource sessions, students will be introduced to a range of career options—including roles such as family support specialists, consultants, curriculum developers, and others outside of traditional classroom teaching. The sessions may also include professional development resources such as mock interviews and résumé-building workshops to help prepare students for the workforce.

Spring Semester Focus:

In alignment with the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC) and its local affiliate (AzAEYC), the project will lead efforts to celebrate the Week of the Young Child (WOYC). This celebration will spotlight the importance of brain development during early childhood and will include a range of in-person and online activities across campuses and courses. Planned events may include a university-issued proclamation, student engagement activities, and a culminating reception for MLFTC students and faculty. Collaborations with NAEYC-accredited preschools and childcare centers will also offer students the opportunity to tour high-quality early childhood programs and apply program concepts in real-world settings.

Ongoing Engagement:

Throughout the year, the project will coordinate visits to a variety of early childhood learning environments, including Head Start programs, infant/toddler centers, and other community-based early education settings where students may not typically complete internships. Additionally, social and community-building events will be developed to strengthen connections among early childhood students and faculty.

Policies for students at ASU at Los Angeles

The following policies apply to students pursuing programs at the ASU at Los Angeles location. Students at this location are also responsible for knowing and adhering to all other academic policies of Arizona State University.

BPPE compliance disclosures

Most compliance disclosures [1] mandated by BPPE, including School Performance Fact Sheets, are available on the Admission Services website. Below are additional disclosures related to finances; drop, add and withdrawal; and university and student record policies.

Institution financial status

ASU does not have a pending petition in bankruptcy, is not operating as a debtor in possession, has not filed a petition within the preceding five years, and has not had a petition in bankruptcy filed against it within the preceding five years that resulted in reorganization under Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code (11 U.S.C. Sec. 1101 et seq.).

University academic information

Prospective students are encouraged to review the ASU academic catalog [2] and Degree Search [3] prior to signing an enrollment agreement. They are also encouraged to review the School Performance Fact Sheets, which must be provided prior to signing an enrollment agreement.

The ASU academic catalog is published annually. Department, school, division, college and university requirements are upgraded often, and may change. A PDF archive [4] of the academic catalog for the catalog year [5] is published annually, which includes educational programs offered by ASU and their curriculum. ASU also publishes a list yearly of instructional faculty [6]; students can access the latest version of the catalog and requirements through the Academic Catalog website and Degree Search [3].

Class sessions in California are held in two ASU locations:

ASU California Center - Broadway

1111 S Broadway
Los Angeles, CA 90015
(213) 510-6900

ASU California Center - Grand

919 South Grand Avenue
Los Angeles, CA 90015
(213) 510-6960

Notice concerning transferability of credits and credentials earned at this institution

The transferability of credits a student earns at Arizona State University is at the complete discretion of the institution to which they may seek to transfer. Acceptance of the degree or certificate the student earns in the educational program is also at the complete discretion of the institution to which they may seek to transfer.

If the degree or certificate a student earns at this institution is not accepted at the institution to which they seek to transfer, the student may be required to repeat some or all of their coursework at that institution. For this reason, students should make certain that their attendance at this institution will meet their educational goals. This may include contacting an institution to which they may seek to transfer after attending ASU to determine if their degree or certificate will transfer.

Student records

Arizona State University permanently retains student transcripts, graded class rosters, official grade reports, graduation audit reports, combined name and gender change authorizations, degree/certificate issuance records, and theses and dissertations. Records Management [7] retention schedules list other records and the amount of time required to keep them. Many student records, including transcripts, can be accessed through a student's My ASU [8] at any time. Students can contact University Registrar Services [9] or the appropriate department for other record requests.

Student Tuition Recovery Fund

Note: The Student Tuition Recovery Fund payment is included as part of ASU tuition and is not assessed as a separate fee.

The State of California established the Student Tuition Recovery Fund to relieve or mitigate economic loss suffered by a student in an educational program at a qualifying institution who is or was a California resident while enrolled or was enrolled in a residency program, if the student enrolled in the institution, prepaid tuition and suffered an economic loss. Unless relieved of the obligation to do so, a student must pay the state-imposed assessment for the STRF, or it must be paid on their behalf if the student is in an educational program, who is a California resident or is enrolled in a residency program, and prepays all or part of the tuition.

Students are not eligible for protection from the STRF and are not required to pay the STRF assessment if they are not California residents or are not enrolled in a residency program.

It is important that students keep copies of their enrollment agreement, financial aid documents, receipts or any other information that documents the amount paid to the school. Questions regarding the STRF may be directed to the: Bureau for Private Postsecondary Education

1747 North Market Blvd., Suite 225
Sacramento, CA 95834
(916) 574-8900 or (888) 370-7589.

To be eligible for STRF, a student must be a California resident or enrolled in a residency program, prepaid tuition, paid or deemed to have paid the STRF assessment, and suffered an economic loss as a result of any of the following:

1. The institution, a location of the institution, or an educational program offered by the institution was closed or discontinued, and the student did not choose to participate in a teach-out plan approved by the Bureau or did not complete a chosen teach-out plan approved by the Bureau.
2. The student was enrolled at an institution or a location of the institution within the 120 day period before the closure of the institution or location of the institution, or was enrolled in an educational program within the 120 day period before the program was discontinued.
3. The student was enrolled at an institution or a location of the institution more than 120 days before the closure of the institution or location of the institution, in an educational program offered by the institution as to which the Bureau determined there was a significant decline in the quality or value of the program more than 120 days before closure.
4. The institution has been ordered to pay a refund by the Bureau but has failed to do so.
5. The institution has failed to pay or reimburse loan proceeds under a federal student loan program as required by law, or has failed to pay or reimburse proceeds received by the institution in excess of tuition and other costs.
6. The student has been awarded restitution, a refund or other monetary award by an arbitrator or court, based on a violation of this chapter by an institution or representative of an institution, but has been unable to collect the award from the institution.
7. The student sought legal counsel that resulted in the cancellation of one or more of their student loans and has an invoice for services rendered and evidence of the cancellation of the student loan or loans.

To qualify for STRF reimbursement, the application must be received within four years from the date of the action or event that made the student eligible for recovery from STRF.

A student whose loan is revived by a loan holder or debt collector after a period of noncollection may, at any time, file a written application for recovery from STRF for the debt that would have otherwise been eligible for recovery. If it has been more than four years since the action or event that made the student eligible, the student must have filed a written application for recovery within the original four-year period, unless the period has been extended by another act of law.

However, no claim can be paid to any student without a social security number or a taxpayer identification number.

Drop, withdrawal and refund policy

Per California education code EDC § 94919, students pursuing a degree program at the ASU at Los Angeles location may withdraw from ASU and obtain a prorated refund of money paid for institutional charges if they have completed 60% of the semester or less at the time of withdrawal. The refund excludes disbursed federal financial aid funds.

If you drop a class or officially withdraw during the 100% refund period, you will receive a refund in accordance with the ASU refund policy. The applicable refund periods are:

- For regular semester classes (session C) and sessions that are eight weeks or longer, the 100% refund period extends through the first two weeks of the semester.
- For sessions that are shorter than eight weeks (sessions A and B) and dynamically dated classes, the 100% refund period is one week after the semester begins.
- For classes that begin prior to the first day of the regular semester, the applicable 100% refund period begins on the class start date, not the semester start date.
- For the summer session classes (sessions A, B and C, and dynamically dated classes), the 100% refund period is the first five days of the applicable summer session.

You may withdraw from ASU completely by providing notice through My ASU. To withdraw through My ASU, you must complete the steps below after contacting your advisor to discuss the withdrawal process:

1. Review the Academic Calendar for complete session withdrawal and tuition refund deadlines. ASU at Los Angeles students may withdraw from a course after instruction has started and receive a pro-rata refund for the unused portion of the tuition and other refundable charges if you have completed 60% or less of the instruction for the academic term.
2. Log into My ASU [8].
3. Under the My Classes section, select Registration and then Drop/Withdrawal.
4. Indicate all classes and/or sessions for the withdrawal, answer the required questions, and select Submit Withdrawal Request.
5. Your request will be reviewed and you will be notified of the status. If approved, your Complete Session Withdrawal request will be sent to University Registrar Services for processing.

Students may also be subject to special types of withdrawal due to disruptive behavior, conduct or lack of attendance.

In addition to requesting withdrawal via My ASU, you must also withdraw from the enrollment agreement by completing the cancellation form.

Refunds will be paid within 45 days of cancellation or withdrawal.

If you received federal student financial aid funds, you are entitled to a refund of monies not paid from federal student financial aid program funds.

If you obtain a loan to pay for the educational program, you will have the responsibility to repay the full amount of the loan plus interest, less the amount of any refund. If you default on a federal or state loan, both of the following may occur:

- The federal or state government or a loan guarantee agency may take action against you, including applying any income tax refund to which you are entitled to reduce the balance owed on the loan.
- You may not be eligible for any other federal student financial aid at another institution or other government financial assistance until the loan is repaid.

Academic integrity

At Arizona State University, we place great value on the research and scholarship of our students and faculty and are committed to a culture of academic integrity and scholarly ethics. We welcome you into our culture of academic excellence and integrity and hope you will help foster and promote ethical and honest behavior in connection with your scholarly work and interactions with your peers.

Academic integrity and honesty at ASU: Arizona State University [1] on Youtube.

What is Academic integrity?

No matter what stage of your educational or professional career pursuits, acting with integrity is a cornerstone of leadership and good citizenship. Integrity is a character-driven commitment to honesty, doing what is right, and guiding others to do what is right. Arizona State University students and faculty are expected to act with integrity in their educational pursuits.

Academic dishonesty falls into five broad areas that include but are not limited to:

1. Cheating on an academic evaluation or assignment.
2. Plagiarizing [2].
3. Academic deceit, such as fabricating data or information.
4. Aiding academic integrity policy violations and inappropriately collaborating.
5. Falsifying academic records.

It is important that you understand what constitutes a violation of academic integrity. The ASU community is here to help you stay informed and to provide resources to avoid these kinds of violations. Please read ASU's academic integrity policy found here and visit the student resource page found here.

Mostly importantly, if you are not sure if something is really cheating, ask your professors, academic integrity officers, T.A.s or academic advisors.

ASU student honor code

The ASU student honor code affirms the commitment of ASU students to uphold the values, principles, and ethics of academic integrity.

Honor code

"We, the students of Arizona State University, adopt this code as an affirmation of our commitment to academic integrity and our participation in ethical education.

We embrace our duty to uphold ASU's Honor Code, and in light of that duty,

We promise to refrain from academic dishonesty.

We pledge to act with integrity and honesty and to promote these values among our peers. We agree to always abide by the Sun Devil Way and uphold the values of the New American University.”

Why is academic integrity important?

Foundational value

Academic integrity is a fundamental value and is paramount to your success as a student. Protecting the ASU community from violations of academic integrity is everyone’s responsibility.

Academic integrity violations negatively impact:

You as a student

If you cheat in a course or another academic exercise, you are taking away your opportunity to learn, develop and improve your skills, and obtain an educational degree that reflects your own academic achievements.

The ASU community

ASU is an intellectual community focused on teaching, research and the values of the New American University. The creation, transmission, sharing and applying of knowledge are central activities of the community. Cheating violates fundamental values of the university community.

Future employers, clients or patients

Cheating can hurt the people you will work with in the future. You are preparing for careers where you will provide services to others—legal, journalistic, medical, research, etc. If you do not learn how to do this work, you have cheated your future employers and clients of a knowledgeable professional.

Student policy

Why is academic integrity important? [1] on Youtube.

Keon McGuire, Assistant Professor in Mary Lou Fulton College for Teaching and Learning Innovation, shares why academic integrity is important. We want your time spent here at ASU to be enriching, engaging and full of wonderful educational experiences that prepare you for your future.

What is a violation of the academic integrity policy?

Academic dishonesty falls into five broad areas that include but are not limited to:

1. Cheating on an academic evaluation or assignment.
2. Plagiarizing.
3. Academic deceit, such as fabricating data or information.
4. Aiding academic integrity policy violations and inappropriately collaborating.
5. Falsifying academic records.

What are the consequences?

At Arizona State University, academic honesty is expected of all students in all examinations, papers, academic transactions and records. The possible sanctions include, but are not limited to: appropriate grade penalties, loss of registration privileges, disqualification and dismissal. ASU strictly adheres to the academic integrity policy. This policy sets forth the ASU Student Academic Integrity Policy and appeal procedures.

[View full policy \[2\]](#)

Additional policies to be aware of:

Student Code of Conduct

Violations of the ASU Student Code of Conduct, other than the provision concerning academic dishonesty, are more generally considered inappropriate behavior. The Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities [3] reviews and sanctions these matters. If a student violates both the academic integrity provision and additional provisions of the Student Code of Conduct, both the college and the Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities will review the matter. Each independently makes determinations concerning violations and appropriate sanctions.

Misconduct in research

For graduate students and undergraduates involved in research, there can be overlapping areas between Academic Integrity Policy violations, responsible conduct of research and research misconduct. The five areas listed above describe the kinds of Academic Integrity Policy violations and are handled under the ASU Student Academic Integrity Policy by faculty members, colleges and the provost.

If a student is working on a federally-funded research project, some of these items may also be considered misconduct in research [4]. Misconduct is defined as:

Fabrication, falsification, plagiarism and other practices that seriously deviate from those that are commonly accepted within the academic community for proposing, conducting or reporting research. Instances of honest error and honest differences in interpretations or judgments of data are not considered misconduct. (From RSP 004: Definitions [5])

A student who violates both ASU's Misconduct in Research Policy and Student Academic Integrity Policy will be reviewed by both the college and the Office of Knowledge Enterprise Development's Office of Research Integrity and Assurance [6] (ORIA). Each independently makes determinations concerning violations and appropriate sanctions.

In addition, some actions might be considered violations of the norms of responsible conduct of research, but not Academic Integrity Policy violations or misconduct in research. Many of these incidents fall into the general category of "collaborator disputes." For example, if a doctoral graduate of ASU continued a line of research begun at ASU in a new lab external to ASU, and the ASU mentor objected, generally speaking the matter would be addressed as a collaborator dispute, rather than as an Academic Integrity Policy violation or misconduct in research. Many conflicts over appropriate authorship credit on publications also fall into this area.

Student policy

At Arizona State University academic honesty is expected of all students in all examinations, papers, academic transactions and records. The possible sanctions include, but are not limited to: appropriate grade penalties, loss of registration privileges, disqualification and dismissal. ASU strictly adheres to the academic integrity policy. This policy sets forth the ASU Student Academic Integrity Policy and appeal procedures.

A. Purpose

1. This Policy sets forth the ASU Student Academic Integrity Policy and appeal procedures. These procedures are designed to encourage a fair and appropriate process for student and faculty to resolve allegations of academic dishonesty. They may be modified in individual cases, so long as the student is provided notice and an opportunity to respond to allegations of academic dishonesty.
2. This Policy does not apply to differences of opinion over grades issued by an instructor.

B. Definitions

Academic Deceit Any deceptive or fraudulent act that creates or attempts to create an advantage or disadvantage for any member of the academic community.

Academic Evaluation Any academic assignment, project, paper, performance, quiz, exam, comprehensive exam, candidacy exam, thesis, dissertation, clinical or internship experience, or other evaluation assigned or offered for credit (including extra or optional credit), intended to fulfill an academic requirement, or considered by the University to provide academic or research experience (such as a paid research position).

Academic Integrity Officer The person responsible for managing the academic integrity investigation and adjudication process in a College or School. The Academic Integrity Officer works with both the student and Instructor to ensure that all procedures are followed. The Academic Integrity Officer is responsible for guiding both the student and Instructor through the investigation and adjudication process. The Academic Integrity Officer may pursue the academic dishonesty allegation if, for any reason, the Instructor is unable or unwilling to do so.

Advisor An individual selected by the student to assist him/her during the academic integrity process. The advisor may be a faculty or staff member, student, or other representative of the student.

College/School Board College or School Board is appointed by the academic Dean to review allegations of academic dishonesty. Each College or School Board is a standing committee comprised of faculty members and at least one student.

University Academic Integrity Hearing Board Hearing board appointed by the Provost or designee to review allegations of academic dishonesty, typically through student appeals from a College/School Board.

Instructor An academic supervisor or any person holding a faculty appointment as defined in the Arizona State University Academic Affairs Manual and is responsible for or authorized to conduct an academic evaluation. The Academic Integrity Officer may take the place of the Instructor throughout this process.

Day University business day, not including Saturday, Sunday, any officially recognized university employee holiday, or any day the University is closed.

C. Student obligations

1. All students must act with honesty and integrity. ASU believes that any form of Academic Dishonesty negatively impacts not only the student involved but all ASU students. The ASU student honor code affirms this commitment to integrity and can be found here.
2. Academic Dishonesty includes attempting or engaging in the following:
 - a. Academic Deceit;

- b. Referring to unauthorized materials, sources, or devices (e.g., Internet resources, computer disks, audio recorders, cellular phones, personal electronic devices, text messages, crib sheets, calculators, solution manuals, materials from previous classes, or commercial research services) during an Academic Evaluation;
- c. Possessing, reviewing, buying, selling, obtaining, posting on a site accessible to others, reviewing materials from a site accessible to others, or using, without appropriate authorization, any materials intended to be used for an Academic Evaluation in advance of its administration;
- d. Using a substitute or acting as a substitute for another person in any Academic Evaluation;
- e. Relying on the aid of others, including other students, tutors, or for-hire agents, in connection with any Academic Evaluation to the extent that the work is not representative of the student's abilities;
- f. Providing inappropriate aid to another person in connection with any Academic Evaluation, including the unauthorized use of materials, cellular phones, text messages, photocopies, notes, or other means to copy or photograph materials used or intended for Academic Evaluation;
- g. Plagiarism, or the use of another's words, ideas, materials, or work from the Internet or any other source without properly acknowledging and documenting the source. Students are responsible for knowing the rules governing the use of another's work or materials and for acknowledging and documenting the source appropriately.
- h. Claiming credit for or submitting work done by another or through the unauthorized use of technology;
- i. Signing an attendance sheet for another student, allowing another person to sign on the student's behalf, or otherwise obtaining credit for attendance for oneself or another without attending;
- j. Falsifying or misrepresenting hours or activities regarding an internship, externship, field experience, clinical activity, or similar activity; or
- k. Attempting to influence or change any Academic Evaluation, or academic record for reasons having no relevance to academic achievement.

D. Academic dishonesty investigation and procedures

- 1. Anyone with a good faith basis for believing that a student has engaged in Academic Dishonesty may report the alleged violation to the Instructor or Academic Integrity Officer for the college or school in which the Academic Dishonesty occurred.
- 2. If the Instructor or Academic Integrity Officer conclude that there is a sufficient basis to believe the student engaged in Academic Dishonesty, the Academic Integrity Officer will notify the student of the alleged violation and initiate the investigative process.
- 3. Before concluding the investigation, the Academic Integrity Officer will provide the student a summary of the information gathered. The student will have 5 business days after the notice was sent to respond on his/her own behalf to the allegation.
- 4. At any point in the process, the student can contact the Academic Integrity Officer to seek consultation or clarification.
- 5. The student may be accompanied by an Advisor at any point in the process. The Advisor is not permitted to participate directly or speak for the student.
- 6. Once the investigation is complete, in consultation with the Academic Integrity Officer, the instructor will recommend a sanction. The student will be notified of the result of the investigation and the sanction to be imposed, if any.

E. Sanctions and appeal

- 1. The following sanctions may be imposed for Academic Dishonesty:
 - a. Reduced or failing grade for the Academic Evaluation;
 - b. Reduced or failing grade for the course.
 - c. An XE grade as described in section K below;
 - d. Withdrawal of credit for a previously accepted course or requirement;
 - e. Suspension from the University for a specific period of time;
 - f. Expulsion from the University without expectation of readmission; and/or
 - g. Other sanctions as consistent with this policy and the Student Code of Conduct: <https://eoss.asu.edu/dos/srr/codeofconduct> [1]

2. At any time, the student and the Instructor may agree on the sanction and inform the Dean. The Dean may reject the proposed resolution and appoint a designee to pursue the case on behalf of the University.
3. The student will also be notified of their right to appeal to the Dean. The student must file their appeal no later than 10 business days after the date the notification was sent. If the student does not file a timely appeal, the sanction is final.
4. A student's appeal of a recommended sanction must be submitted in writing and include the following:
 - a. A description of the alleged academic dishonesty, including a factual narrative of events, the dates and times of occurrences, and any other reason why the sanction should not be imposed;
 - b. The names of persons having information about relevant circumstances or events; and
 - c. The general nature and description of all evidence.
5. If the student files an appeal, the student must meet with the Academic Integrity Officer to discuss hearing procedures. The Academic Integrity Officer will help the student navigate the process and provide additional information when needed.
6. If the student wishes to dispute any aspect of the allegation or sanction, the student may file an appeal. If the student files a timely appeal, the sanction will not be imposed until the appeal is resolved. If the student files an appeal at the end of a semester, or during the last semester of enrollment, the course grade or degree may be withheld until the matter is resolved. If a grade or degree will be withheld for any period, the Academic Integrity Officer or Dean must notify the Registrar's Office.

F. College/school board hearing

1. The Academic Integrity Officer will forward a student's timely appeal to the Instructor.
2. Pre-Hearing Proceedings
 - a. The Academic Integrity Officer will send a notice of hearing to the student, Instructor, College/School Board, and the head of the College/School/academic unit where the alleged dishonesty occurred. The notice will include the following information:
 - I. Statement of time and place of the hearing before the College/School Board. Unless the parties and Academic Integrity Officer agree otherwise, the hearing will take place during the regular fall or spring semester;
 - II. A copy of this Policy or instructions on accessing the Policy electronically;
 - III. Requirement that the parties provide to each other and the College/School Board a written list of witnesses and a description of any documents or other evidence they intend to use at the hearing. Unless the Chair provides otherwise, this information must be exchanged at least 5 business days before the hearing.
 - IV. The length of time set for the hearing, the time limitation for the presentation of evidence, and any other procedural requirements.
3. Conduct of the Hearing
 - a. In order to preserve the confidential nature of the disciplinary process and to protect the privacy of those involved, the hearing will be closed to the public.
 - b. The College/School Board Chair will preside at the hearing and will rule upon all procedural matters. The formal rules of evidence will not apply, although objections to the introduction of specific statements or documents may be considered by the Chair. Irrelevant, immaterial, privileged, or unduly repetitious information will be excluded.
 - c. The Instructor shall have the burden of showing it is more likely than not that the student engaged in Academic Dishonesty. The Instructor must also explain the reason for the sanction. If the student accepts responsibility for Academic Dishonesty, then the College/School Board may focus the hearing on the appropriate sanction.
 - d. Information regarding prior violations or informal resolutions of previous allegations may not be used as proof of a current violation, but may be admitted for other purposes, such as to show that the student had prior experience relevant to the allegations or to show that the student had been informed previously that the conduct was unacceptable. The College/School Board may also consider information regarding prior violations in determining an appropriate sanction.
 - e. A student who fails to appear or refuses to participate at the hearing will be deemed to have abandoned his/her appeal, unless the student can demonstrate that extraordinary circumstances prevented his/her appearance or participation.

- f. The student and Instructor may each have an Advisor present, but the Advisors shall not be permitted to address the College/School Board directly, except as the College/School Board Chair deems necessary or appropriate.
- g. The hearing will be recorded and the student may request a copy of the recording. The student may also request a transcript, but will be responsible for its cost.
- h. Except as otherwise permitted by the College/School Board Chair, witnesses will be excluded from the hearing except during their own testimony. The Chair may remove a party, Advisor, or witness from the hearing if that person's conduct is disruptive.
- i. When necessitated by fairness or extraordinary circumstances, the College/School Board may permit the parties to make arrangements for recorded, written, or telephonic testimony from their witness(es) for use in the proceeding.
- j. The Instructor shall proceed first at each stage of the presentation.
 - I. Each party may present an opening statement, which summarizes what information is expected to be presented.
 - II. Each party will call witness(es) to provide statements under oath.
 - III. At the conclusion of each witness's statement, he/she may be questioned by the other party.
 - IV. The College/School Board may ask further questions of each witness.
 - V. Each party may present a closing statement, which summarizes the information that was presented.
4. If the alleged Academic Dishonesty involves the work of multiple students, the College/School Board may modify these procedures to address the circumstances. The College/School Board should provide prior written notice of any modification of the procedures to all parties. Each student must file his/her own appeal. A student who has not filed an appeal should not expect to benefit from another student's appeal.

G. College/school board deliberations and recommendations

1. Following the presentation of information and closing statements, the College/School Board will discuss the information that has been presented and the reasonable inferences to be drawn from it. Only the Board, its legal advisor, if any, and the Academic Integrity Officer may be present during the deliberations. Neither the student nor the Instructor may be present during the deliberations.
2. Based solely upon the information presented, the College/School Board will formulate a recommendation to the Dean as to whether the student more likely than not engaged in academic dishonesty and the appropriate sanction. Recommendations must be supported by a simple majority of the Board.
3. The College/School Board will prepare and send a written recommendation to the Dean within 5 business days of the hearing. The written recommendation will include findings of fact and a statement of the reasons for the recommendation. It will also be signed by the College/School Board Chair. If the recommendation is not unanimous, dissenting opinions should be reflected in the recommendation.

H. Review and decision by dean

1. After reviewing of the College/School Board's Recommendation, the Dean will render a written decision which affirms, denies, or accepts the College/School Board's recommendation with modifications.
2. The Dean may not make new findings adverse to the student or increase the severity of a sanction, unless
 - a. The Dean provides the student notice and an opportunity to respond to the new findings or sanction, and
 - b. Remands the matter to the College/School Board for further proceedings.
3. The Dean will provide written notice of the decision to the student, the Academic Integrity Officer, the instructor, the College/School Board, and the head of the College/School/academic unit where the alleged dishonesty occurred within 20 business days following receipt of the College/School Board's recommendation. A delay may occur if it becomes necessary to conduct further investigation or to remand the matter to the College/School Board. In those cases, the written decision will be transmitted no later than 20 business days following completion of the investigation or the College/School Board's subsequent recommendation.
4. The Dean's decision is final and may not be further appealed unless the Dean recommends that the Provost suspend or expel the student from the University.
5. If the Dean recommends the suspension or expulsion of an international student, both the student and Academic Integrity Officer should consult with the ASU International Students and Scholars Center.

6. If the Dean recommends that the Provost suspend or expel the student from the University, the letter from the Dean will state that the student may appeal the recommendation by filing a written request for review with the Provost within 10 business days of the date of the letter.
7. If the student does not timely appeal, the Provost or designee will review the Dean's recommendation and issue a final decision on suspensions or expulsions from the University.

I. Review and decision of a suspension or expulsion from the university

1. A student may seek to have a Dean's decision reviewed by the University Academic Integrity Hearing Board only if the Dean recommends that the Provost suspend or expel the student from the University. However, a student who failed to appeal or abandoned his/her appeal at the College/School Board hearing may not appeal to the University Academic Integrity Hearing Board.
2. The appeal must be in writing and must be filed with the Provost within 10 business days of the date of the Dean's decision letter.
3. The Provost or designee will appoint and charge a University Academic Integrity Hearing Board to conduct the hearing. The Hearing Board will be comprised of three members. One member must be a student and one of the other members will act as Hearing Board Chair. The hearing shall follow the procedures set forth in the Student Code of Conduct Procedures, except that the College/School will take the role of the Dean of Students and the Provost or designee will take the role of the Senior Vice President for Educational Outreach and Student Services.

J. Review and decision of a degree or certificate revocation

1. Anyone with a good faith basis to believe that an ASU alumnum has engaged in Academic Dishonesty may report the alleged violation to the Office of the University Provost.
2. The Provost's designee will investigate and make an initial determination as to whether there is a sufficient basis to believe that the alumnum engaged in Academic Dishonesty and whether the appropriate sanction includes degree or certificate revocation.
3. If the Provost's designee decides to initiate an Academic Dishonesty complaint, he/she will notify the alumnum of the allegations and provide the alumnum an opportunity to respond.
4. The Dean of the College/School that awarded the degree or certificate may choose to convene an ad hoc committee to review the evidence and make a recommendation as to whether the alumnum engaged in Academic Dishonesty and the appropriate sanction.
5. In cases not involving graduate students, after reviewing the evidence and committee recommendation, if any, the Dean of the College/School that awarded the degree or certificate will render a written decision as to whether the alumnum more likely than not engaged in Academic Dishonesty and the appropriate sanction.
6. In cases involving graduate students, after reviewing the evidence and committee recommendation, if any, the Dean of Graduate College in consultation with the Dean of the College/School that awarded the graduate degree or certificate, will render a written decision as to whether the alumnum more likely than not engaged in Academic Dishonesty and the appropriate sanction.
7. If the Dean recommends that the Provost revoke a degree or certificate, the letter from the Dean will state that the alumnum may appeal the recommendation by filing a written request for review with the Provost within 10 business days after the date the notification was sent.
8. If the alumnum does not timely appeal, the Provost or designee will review the recommendation and issue a final decision.
9. If the alumnum files a timely appeal, the Provost or designee will establish a University Academic Integrity Hearing Board to conduct the hearing. The hearing shall follow the procedures set forth in the Student Disciplinary/Grievance Procedures, except that the College/School will take the role of the Dean of Students and the Provost will take the role of the Senior Vice President for Educational Outreach and Student Services.

K. XE grade

1. The XE grade will be recorded on the student's official and unofficial transcript with the notation "failure due to academic dishonesty." The XE grade shall be treated in the same way as an E for the purposes of grade point average and determination of academic standing.

2. No student with an XE grade on his/her transcript shall be permitted to represent the University in any extracurricular activity or to run for or hold office in any recognized student organization.
3. Generally, the XE grade will remain on the transcript permanently. For other cases, after at least 12 months have elapsed since the XE grade was imposed, the student may file a written petition to the Dean to have the XE grade removed and replaced with an E grade. The decision to remove the XE grade and replace it with an E grade is within the discretion and judgment of the Dean.
4. Before replacing an XE grade with an E grade, the Dean may confer with other University officials and may require the student to attest that he/she has not been involved in any other act of academic dishonesty or similar disciplinary offense at ASU or another institution. If the student's representation is later discovered to be false, the Dean may reinstate the XE grade and recommend suspension or expulsion.

L. Procedures following final decision

1. If any student work affected by the finding of Academic Dishonesty has been placed in the library or forwarded to a third party in partial fulfillment of degree requirements, that work may be removed from the library or withdrawn from the third party.
2. A student's official and unofficial transcript may reflect that an XE grade, suspension from the university, expulsion from the university, or degree or certificate revocation was the result of Academic Dishonesty.
3. One year after the completion of a suspension for Academic Dishonesty, a student may petition to have the notation of suspension for Academic Dishonesty removed from his or her transcript. The student must submit a written petition to the Provost which summarizes his or her academic and personal history since the suspension which justifies removing the notation. The decision to remove the notation that the student was suspended for Academic Dishonesty is within the sole discretion and judgment of the Provost.
4. A notation of expulsion from the university or degree or certificate revocation resulting from Academic Dishonesty is permanent.
5. A degree may be revoked if its requirements were not adequately fulfilled.
6. If a degree is revoked and a transcript was forwarded to another institution, ASU will notify the institution of the revocation.

M. Other university policies

The University's Misconduct in Research Policy is independent of the Student Academic Integrity Policy and the Guidelines for Graduate Appeals. Individual conduct may also violate and be subject to review and sanctions under these policies.

Student resources

Over the course of your academic journey here at Arizona State University, you will be challenged to continually build upon your skills and academic abilities. At times, pressure and stress can arise from balancing busy schedules, academic commitments, and personal commitments. In these moments of adversity, it's important that you make ethical decisions and uphold a high standard of integrity for you and for others.

Sun Devil Integrity

Engages in learning

Chooses to engage in learning in college courses to fully understand the content so he/she can be a knowledgeable professional when entering the career world.

Takes notes

Diligently takes notes during class and during readings to begin preparing for exams. Studies his/her own notes, making flashcards and study materials, without seeking shortcuts.

Reports cheating

Reports cheating to the department's academic integrity officer.

Studies diligently

Studies for exams and assessments diligently and well in advance of exam day. Collaborates with classmates to study for exams by quizzing each other, but completes the exams entirely by himself/herself.

Cites sources

Cites all sources that are referenced, paraphrased, and/or quoted in full or in part, using appropriate source citation (such as APA or MLA format).

Avoids cheating

Avoids online or contract cheating websites where offers to complete college coursework, in full or in part, are made.

Completes tasks

Breaks long papers into parts (bibliography, outline, introduction, body, conclusion, and further sub-parts) to complete the task in stages ahead of deadlines.

Works in advance

Academic Integrity at ASU tutorial

The Academic Integrity at ASU tutorial [2] also will walk you through the importance of academic integrity. Upon completion of the tutorial you will be able to:

- Describe the five types of academic integrity
- Identify the do's and don'ts of academic integrity at ASU
- Recognize the consequences of academic dishonesty

Strategies

Strategies for how to complete your work with integrity

Be informed: Understand ASU's expectations regarding academic integrity by understanding the Academic Integrity Policy [3] and Student Code of Conduct [4].

Ask questions: If you are not sure if something is really cheating, ask your professors, T.A.s, academic integrity officers, or academic advisors.

Seek tutoring: Ask your professors and others in your department for help in finding academic support. Help is available from the following sources:

- On-campus, in-person writing support [5]
- Online support for citations and style manuals [6]
- Tutoring and academic success resources [7]

Stay healthy: Checkout the Live Well at ASU [8] webpages to obtain information, resources and involvement opportunities found in each element are designed to positively impact you academic performance, personal well-being and assist you in reaching your full potential.

Avoiding plagiarism

Plagiarism may be the most common form of academic dishonesty and is often unintentional. Protect yourself by understanding how to avoid plagiarism at Arizona State University using the following resources.

What is plagiarism?

Defining plagiarism

Acts of plagiarism can be glaringly obvious or very subtle. Understanding plagiarism, with all of its intricacies and nuances, provides a foundation of knowledge one can use to make sound decisions and avoid getting caught up in a plagiarism scandal—whether intentional or unintentional.

Document sources appropriately

Lapses in one's technique for paraphrasing ideas, quoting information or citing sources can make way for accusations of plagiarism. Make it a point to learn how to integrate the ideas of others and to document the sources of “borrowed” information appropriately. View citation styles [6].

Avoiding unintentional plagiarism

Keeping track of the deluge of notes and source material can become a mind-boggling undertaking, and mistakes can lead to unintentional plagiarism. Learn about web-based citation management tools at ASU Library's Citation Management Tools [9] library guide.

Self-plagiarism

Quoting words or borrowing ideas without reference to the author is a problem, even if you happen to be the author.

Same story – different outlets

You cannot:

- submit the same paper for different classes.
- use sections of your previous work for a comp exam answer.
- expand on your master's thesis for your dissertation.
- submit the same research article to different journals.

Learn more about the complicated issue of self-plagiarism. Talk to your Academic Integrity Officer about what this means for you.

Recycling is not always good

Not when it comes to your own words. Many researchers use the same literature, research methods or analyses across studies and find it time consuming to write new versions of these sections. Yet blind journal reviewers or electronic cross-checking may indicate you are plagiarizing. Take the time to rephrase and remember you need to cite yourself.

Avoid salami-slicing

Or publishing multiple studies from the same data set. You may need to reduce a complex set of distinct hypotheses into separate papers. If so, let the readers know you did this. If the slices can be combined to make a whole, then it is better to go with the whole salami. To learn more about the nuances of “salami-slicing” in your discipline just pop this term into Google scholar and it will open your eyes.

Contract cheating

Definition of contract cheating

Contract cheating is a type of academic dishonesty where a student asks another person to complete all or part of their work for them. The student may ask someone they know to write a paper for them, as a favor, or they may pay someone to do it. Regardless of whether money changes hands or not, presenting someone else's work as your own is always cheating.

What are some of the ways contract cheating negatively impacts you and the ASU community?

There are numerous ways in which contract cheating negatively impacts you, your fellow students, and the ASU community. Here are a few:

- You do not acquire any of the knowledge that your instructor intended for you to learn when you have someone else do your work. By doing so, you are taking away your opportunity to grow as a student and professional contract cheating is a very serious academic integrity violation which could result in suspension or expulsion permanently from the University.
- Students who complete their work on their own are disadvantaged by students who are cheating.
- When you ask someone to do work for you, you are asking them to cheat on your behalf. Your request for their help will lead to negative consequences for them as well.

What are some things I can do if I am overwhelmed and notice that I am becoming tempted by contract cheating?

Part of the learning process as a college student is to work your way through challenging times in an honest and ethical manner. Spending time prioritizing your assignments and engaging in good time management practices is ideal. However, you may still experience times where you feel overwhelmed by multiple deadlines and projects.

There are resources to support you:

- Communicate and/or meet with your instructor.
- Schedule an appointment to talk to your advisor.
- Meet with the Academic Integrity Officer [14] in your college/school.
- Utilize your college/school tutoring resources.
- Utilize the ASU resources [15] offered from the Dean of students' office.
- Contact the ASU First Year Success Center [16].
- Contact the International Students and Scholars Center [17].

Remember, it is better to do poorly on an assignment or even fail an examination than it would be to commit an academic integrity violation. The skills you develop working through challenging situations, enhances your resiliency and makes you an even more effective college graduate.

Accelerated master's

How to apply

There are over a thousand accelerated master's degree options available at ASU. You may be able to choose a master's degree option from the same discipline as your undergraduate major or one from a different discipline.

What to expect

The accelerated master's program allows you to share up to 12 credit hours between your undergraduate and graduate degree requirements. You should start working with your advisor early, as a first-year student or sophomore, to make sure you're on track by your junior year.

Here is a sample of the milestones you should be achieving each year in order to be on the accelerated path to program completion.

1. Undergraduate first year:
 - Review the accelerated master's degree program options.
2. Undergraduate sophomore year:
 - Talk to an academic advisor to discuss your program of interest.
3. Undergraduate junior year:
 - Meet GPA and other requirements specific to your program of interest.
 - Meet with your accelerated program advisor to discuss the application process.
4. Undergraduate senior year:
 - Complete shared coursework and apply for admission to the graduate program.
 - Complete your undergraduate degree and be admitted to the graduate program.
5. Graduate year:
 - Complete your graduate degree program

List of accelerated master's program options

Because every program is specialized, the best way to determine if an accelerated master's program is right for you is to talk to an advisor. Most accelerated master's programs have different advisors for the undergraduate and graduate programs. The table below will help you find the right contact person.

Choose your program from the dropdown menu to view approved graduate programs paired with your undergraduate program. Scroll down and click "Apply" to filter the results and locate contact information.

Student FAQ

Answers to frequently asked questions about the accelerated master's program at ASU.

Can I be in the accelerated master's program?

All current ASU undergraduate students are eligible to apply for a pre-approved Accelerated Master's program. Acceptance to become a candidate differs among programs, but generally requires a minimum GPA of 3.0, among other requirements. An advisor for the program of interest can provide their program-specific criteria.

How many graduate-level courses can I take as an undergraduate student that will count toward both my undergraduate degree and my graduate degree?

Most programs allow up to 12 credit hours of graduate-level courses as an undergraduate student [1] that will count toward both your undergraduate and graduate degree program requirements. Please contact the advisor of your desired program for more information.

How will participating in the accelerated master's program affect my financial aid?

Students in the undergraduate portion of the accelerated master's program pay undergraduate tuition. Financial aid awards for the undergraduate portion apply while the student is an undergraduate. Once they are admitted to the graduate program, they pay graduate tuition and have to utilize financial aid for graduate students. Students should contact Financial Aid and Scholarship Services [2] to inquire about their specific aid and the requirements to receive it while enrolled in the AM program.

Do accelerated master's students graduate with their bachelor's degree and master's degree at the same time?

No, they graduate with their bachelor's degree prior to finishing their graduate degree.

What happens if I begin taking graduate courses and decide I do not want to continue with the graduate degree?

The graduate-level courses completed to satisfy undergraduate degree requirements will still apply, and your graduation will not be delayed.

How can I register for graduate-level courses?

You will be granted course approval overrides by your advisor once you have been approved to be a program candidate.

Will I be automatically admitted to the graduate program once I am accepted to be an Accelerated Master's candidate and take graduate courses?

Students have to still apply to the graduate program as part of the regular ASU graduate school application. However, some application requirements may be waived for Accelerated Master's program students. The advisor can provide you specifics for their program.

When will I become a graduate student?

You will become a graduate student once you have been admitted to the graduate program and successfully completed your undergraduate degree. This is typically the semester after earning your bachelor's degree.

What if I don't see the program that I am interested in on the list of Accelerated Master's programs?

Programs are added to the list once they are approved. If your program of interest is not on the list, you cannot pursue it as part of the Accelerated Master's program. However, you can reach out to the advisor for that program to request for one to be approved so that you can participate in it (not guaranteed).

Artificial intelligence

Guidelines and resources

Teaching and learning with generative AI

Generative AI has the potential to address some of the biggest challenges in education today. Nonetheless, as educators and students, we face a new frontier as we navigate a world in which the distinction between content generated by AI and humans is rapidly blurring. To support these conversations, please visit the Provost resource page.

Digital trust guidelines for generative artificial intelligence use

Arizona State University is committed to the practice of Principled Innovation [2], embracing innovation with curiosity and wisdom.

During a Summer Series of Digital Trust in AI conversations, individuals from across the campus were brought together to identify appropriate considerations for the use of Generative Artificial Intelligence (genAI) at ASU. This group assembled guidelines that have been reviewed and approved by Enterprise Technology Digital Trust, Cybersecurity, AI Acceleration, Learning Experience and the Office of General Council.

Generative AI: FAQs

What is Generative AI? What is ChatGPT? What can they do?

Generative AI is a broad term that refers to a type of artificial intelligence (AI) application that is designed to use a variety of machine learning (ML) algorithms to create new content (text, images, video, music, artwork, synthetic data, etc.) based on user input that was not explicitly programmed into the AI application. Generative AI systems are “trained” by using complex algorithms to learn from an existing large corpus of datasets (often consisting of millions of examples) and to analyze patterns, rules, and statistical structures from the sample data to be used in generating new content that is similar in style and characteristics to the original training datasets.

There are many different types of generative AI applications and models, and while they might share a similar high-level definition of creating new content based on large sets of training data, they often represent completely different machine learning models and underlying neural network technologies and approaches to generating new content. You may have heard of recent popular examples of generative AI such as ChatGPT, DALL-E or StableDiffusion. While these are all examples of generative AI applications, DALL-E and StableDiffusion are text-to-image generators that use a type of neural network called generative adversarial network, or GAN, to create a new image based on two systems (a generator and discriminator) surfacing an image of best fit based on the input parameters. By contrast, ChatGPT builds a transformer-based language model from a Generative Pre-trained Transformer, or GPT, in order to process sequential data, such as language, and then calculate the most probable words that will follow in a sequenced response. Generative AI and the broader classification of artificial intelligence have been identified by UNESCO [1] as having the potential to “address some of the biggest challenges in education today, innovate teaching and learning practices, and accelerate progress” as well as call for a human-centered approach in order to respond to inequalities

Will I get accused of cheating if I use AI tools?

Before using AI tools in your coursework, confer with your instructor about their class policy for using AI tools.

How do I find out about tools I can or cannot use?

Before using AI tools in your coursework, confer with your instructor about their class policy for using AI tools.

Is text (including citations) produced by generative AI accurate?

The accuracy and quality of text produced by Generative AI varies. You should not depend on the accuracy for work that is to be turned in as an assignment.

Can generative AI create anything besides text?

Yes, Generative AI can produce text, images, sound, code, and work with data.

How should I cite the use of generative AI in a work product?

Begin by talking to your professor about their expectations for how to properly cite in your coursework. You can also reach out to the ASU Library and research what specific citation styles (e.g., APA, MLA, IEEE, etc.) advise by visiting their web sites.

Classification of courses

Course numbering system

Lower-division courses

Lower-division courses, numbered from 100 to 299, are designed primarily for first-year students and sophomores. Certain classes are closed to first-year students who lack the designated prerequisites or whose majors are outside the units offering the courses. This information is available in the course catalog [1] or from the student's academic advisor.

Upper-division courses

Upper-division courses, numbered from 300 to 499, are designed primarily for juniors and seniors. Prerequisites and other restrictions should be noted before registration. Courses at the 400 level apply to graduate degree requirements for some graduate programs when approved by the Graduate College.

Graduate-level courses

Graduate-level courses, numbered from 500 to 799, are designed primarily for graduate students. However, an upper-division undergraduate student may enroll in courses numbered 500–599 with the approval of the student's advisor, course instructor, department chair and dean of the college in which a course is offered. If such a course does not meet an undergraduate graduation requirement, it may be eligible for use in a future graduate program on the same basis as work taken by a nondegree-seeking graduate student. Undergraduate students should review additional information about graduate credits earned by undergraduate students [2].

Omnibus courses

Omnibus numbers are used for courses offered on an experimental or tutorial basis or for courses in which the content is new or periodically changes. Each academic unit uses that unit's prefixes with omnibus course numbers. The general nature of the work required for a particular omnibus course is consistent from unit to unit, but subject matter varies. Omnibus courses often are offered for a variable number of credit hours.

Within the academic catalog and course catalog, abbreviations are frequently used with a colon to introduce specific omnibus course topics, which are shown in the omnibus course abbreviations chart below (e.g., MGT 494 ST: Cultural Factors in International Business).

Omnibus course abbreviations
Abbreviation	Title	Number
AP	Applied Project	593, 693, 793
CW	Conference and Workshop	594
FW	Fieldwork	583, 683, 783
FYS	First-Year Seminar	191
HC	Honors Colloquium	497
I	Internship	484, 584, 684, 784
P	Practicum	580, 680, 780
PS	Pro-Seminar	498
R	Research	592, 692, 792

RC	Reading and Conference	590, 690, 790
RM	Research Methods	500, 600, 700
S	Seminar	591, 691, 791
ST	Special Topics	194, 294, 394, 494, 598

Omnibus undergraduate courses

191 First-Year Seminar (1-3)

Small course emphasizing student-faculty discussion and interaction.

194, 294, 394, 494 Special Topics (0.25-4)

Covers topics of immediate or special interest to a faculty member and students.

484 Internship (1-12)

Structured practical experience following a contract or plan, supervised by faculty and practitioners.

498 Pro-Seminar (1-7)

Small-group study and research for advanced students within their majors.

499 Individualized Instruction (1-3)

Provides an opportunity for original study or investigation in the major or field of specialization, on an individual and more autonomous basis.

Honors courses

These courses and all with the HON prefix are reserved for students in Barrett, The Honors College.

298 Honors Directed Study (1-6)

Independent study or practicum under the supervision of a faculty member.

492 Honors Directed Study (1-6)

Independent study in which a student, under the supervision of a faculty member, conducts research or creative work that is expected to lead to an undergraduate honors thesis or creative project.

493 Honors Thesis (1-6)

Supervised research or creative activity focused on preparation and completion of an undergraduate honors thesis or creative project.

497 Honors Colloquium (1-6)

A class emphasizing discussion, written and/or oral presentation by students, and active participation.

Omnibus graduate courses

The following courses are described in the Graduate College announcements and are also available from their respective departments. Under special circumstances, at the dean's request and through the approval of the executive vice president and provost of the university, arrangements may be made to increase the standard number of credit hours.

500, 600, 700 Research Methods (1-12)

Course on research methods in a specific discipline.

580, 680, 780 Practicum (1-12)

Structured practical experience in a professional program, supervised by a practitioner or faculty member with whom the student works closely.

583, 683, 783 Fieldwork (1-12)

Structured, supervised field experience in a field science or other discipline requiring experience in field techniques.

584, 684, 784 Internship (1-12)

Structured practical experience following a contract or plan, supervised by faculty and practitioners.

590, 690, 790 Reading and Conference (1-12)

Independent study in which a student meets regularly with a faculty member to discuss assignments. Course may include such assignments as intensive reading in a specialized area, writing a synthesis of literature on a specified topic or writing a literature review of a topic.

591, 691, 791 Seminar (1-12)

A small class emphasizing discussion, presentations by students and written research papers.

592, 692 Research (1-12)

Independent study in which a student, under the supervision of a faculty member, conducts research that is expected to lead to a specific project such as a thesis or dissertation, report, or publication. Assignments might include data collection, experimental work, data analysis or preparation of a manuscript.

593, 693, 793 Applied Project (1-12)

Preparation of a supervised applied project that is a graduation requirement in some professional majors.

594 Conference and Workshop (1-12)

Topical instruction, usually in compressed format, leading to academic credit. Often offered off campus to groups of professionals.

595, 695, 795 Continuing Registration (1)

Used in situations where registration is necessary but where credit is not needed. Replaces arbitrary enrollment in reading and conference, research, thesis, dissertation, etc. Used by students when taking comprehensive examinations, defending theses or dissertations, or fulfilling the continuous enrollment requirement in doctoral programs. Credit is not awarded and no grade is assigned.

598 Special Topics (1-4)

Topical courses not offered in regular course rotation (e.g., new courses not in the catalog, courses by visiting faculty, courses on timely topics and highly specialized courses responding to unique student demand).

599 Thesis (1-12)

Supervised research focused on preparation of a thesis, including literature review, research, data collection and analysis, and writing.

792 Research (1-15)

Independent study in which a student, under the supervision of a faculty member, conducts research that is expected to lead to a specific project such as a dissertation, report or publication. Assignments might include data collection, experimental work, data analysis or preparation of a manuscript.

799 Dissertation (1-15)

Supervised research focused on preparation of a dissertation, including literature review, research, data collection and analysis, and writing.

Other subjects

Visiting student program

The numbers 597, 697 and 797 in the LAW subject are reserved for the visiting student program in the Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law.

Global education programs

Courses with the subject SAO are reserved for participants in programs offered through the Global Education Office [3]. Courses with an SAO subject are used in two ways: either to provide general university elective credit for specific programs or courses, or as a placeholder course for participation in partnership and exchange programs.

In the case of a placeholder course, the course remains on the student's academic record until the student's record is updated by the Global Education Office following completion of the student's study abroad program. The SAO-subject course is then dropped from the student's record and replaced with the ASU courses, credits and grades equivalent to the coursework completed abroad. Students must register for at least the number of credit hours equivalent to full-time study at ASU (i.e., 12 credit hours for undergraduate students and nine credit hours for graduate students during the fall and spring semesters, or one to six credit hours during the summer session). Students participating in a GEO partnership program must register for the subtopic SAO: Study Abroad Program, whereas participants in an GEO exchange program must register for the subtopic SAO: Exchange Program. The SAO placeholder course is not an indication of the level of coursework or the total number of credit hours the student may complete abroad.

Courses completed as part of these programs that do not have direct ASU course equivalencies are awarded "department elective" credit, using a respective subject with a course number of 1DE, 2DE, 3DE or 4DE. Lower-division courses at the 100 level are given 1DE, and 200 level are given 2DE. Upper-division courses at the 300 level are given 3DE, and 400 level are given 4DE.

Course component descriptions

Each course is composed of one or more components, different instructional modes or meeting types such as labs, studios, lectures and seminars. A course can have more than one component. However, all components must be scheduled. The primary component is always the graded component.

Course component	Description
Individualized Instruction (IND)	This is a class in which an individual student is provided an opportunity for original study or investigation in a major or field of specialization on a more autonomous basis. Normally a contract or plan is used, and the student is supervised by faculty or practitioners.
Integrated Lecture/Lab (LEL)	The integrated lecture/lab is a class that has some lecture and some hands-on components but does not require a separate time like a traditional lab. It is scheduled like a lecture. This is primarily used in educational technology, computer science, technology, and engineering. As per ABOR: "At least fifteen (15) contact hours of recitation, lecture, discussion, testing or evaluation, seminar, or colloquium, as well as a minimum of thirty (30) hours of student homework is required for each unit of credit."
Laboratory (LAB)	The hands-on, workshop component of a class is usually held in a laboratory. The laboratory time is separate from the lecture although it is often associated to a lecture. This is primarily used in science and engineering. As per ABOR: "Laboratory courses require a minimum of forty-five (45) contact hours per unit of credit."
Lecture (LEC)	A lecture is the traditional method of instruction in which students are taught a subject by a member of the faculty. As per ABOR: "At least fifteen (15) contact hours of recitation, lecture, discussion, testing or evaluation, seminar, or colloquium, as well as a minimum of thirty (30) hours of student homework is required for each unit of credit."
Practicum (PRA)	A practicum is structured practical experience in a professional program, supervised by a practitioner and/or faculty member with whom the student works closely. Internships and student teaching fit into this category. These classes are often held off campus at a professional location. The practicum component should also be used for internships and field studies courses. As per ABOR: "Each unit of internship or practicum must require a minimum of forty-five (45) contact hours per unit of credit."
ProMod (PRO)	In ProMod courses the role of lectures is deemphasized in favor of learning based on projects. The learning is driven by the needs of the project, not by predetermined lecture topics. Students will go where the questions take them, leading to an individualized exploration of the issues at hand.
Recitation (REC)	A recitation is a small interactional meeting that combines formal presentation, review and interaction between the students and an instructor, and it is usually combined with a lecture as the primary component. Recitations are often lead by teaching assistants (TAs) or graduate assistants (GAs) to supplement a lecture. TAs/GAs will review the lecture, expand on the concepts and usually allow for question-and-answer time. The recitation component should also be used for courses previously categorized as discussion (also known as break-outs). As per ABOR: "At least fifteen (15) contact hours of recitation, lecture, discussion, testing or evaluation, seminar, or colloquium, as well as a minimum of thirty (30) hours of student homework is required for each unit of credit."
Research (RSC)	Under the supervision of a faculty member or group of faculty, the student conducts research that is expected to lead to a specific project such as dissertation, thesis, report or publication. Assignments might include data collection, experimental work, data analysis or preparation of a manuscript. This component is appropriate to use for continuing registration, dissertation, thesis, individualized instruction, research, etc.
Seminar (SEM)	A seminar is a small class that emphasizes discussion, presentations by students, and written research papers. As per ABOR: "At least fifteen (15) contact hours of recitation, lecture, discussion, testing or evaluation, seminar, or colloquium, as well as a minimum of thirty (30) hours of student homework is required for each unit of credit."
Studio (STO)	The studio is a hands-on workshop component of design and the arts courses. As per ABOR: "Studios must involve at least thirty (30) contact hours and at least fifteen (15) hours of homework for each unit of credit."

<https://public.powerdms.com/ABOR/documents/1491660>

ABOR Definition of a Unit of Credit: An hour of work is the equivalent of 50 minutes of class time (often called a "contact hour") or 60 minutes of independent study work. A minimum of 45 hours of work by each student is required for each unit of credit. Ordinarily, a course must cover a one-week period for every unit of credit given. During summer sessions, however, six units of credit may be given over a five-week period.

Concurrent degrees (double majors)

Request to add an additional major that fits your academic and career goals

Step 1: Determine interest

Interested in pursuing an additional degree? Concurrent degrees, sometimes called “double majors,” allow students to earn two distinct degrees and receive two diplomas, while pursuing their unique personal or professional interests.

Step 2: Review the concurrent degree policies

While there are many degree combinations for you to choose from to meet your academic goals, there are some college policies that might affect when you can add another major or which majors can be paired together. View the specific policies of your college, and the college of the major you’d like to add, here.

All requirements for both degrees must be satisfied before either degree can be conferred.

Step 3: Submit a request

Submit a request to add an additional major to your academic plan or to be contacted with more information. You can track the progress of your request by viewing My Requests from your My ASU [2] Help tab.

Add major [3]

Disclaimer

Both your current major and your requested concurrent major must approve your request. Pursuing multiple degrees could result in additional time to graduate which could affect cost and financial aid.

Only active degree-seeking undergraduate students can request to add a concurrent major. Please be advised that requests may be denied if you have less than 30 completed credit hours.

Distance education-specific policies

University policies

The U.S. Department of Education requires that certain information be disclosed in a clear, prominent, user-friendly and easily understood manner. The intent of the requirement is to enable students to make an informed choice.

Learn about complaint filing and resolution at Arizona State University, as well as out-of-state student policies, international students policies, and credit transfer and refund policies below.

ASU complaint procedure

ASU is committed to the success of each student and strives to resolve issues that may arise. All ASU distance education students should attempt to resolve complaints with the university through the university process first before contacting external agencies.

Available processes and links to policies and contacts are listed below.

University process

ASU greatly values the student experience and expects all students to adhere to the Student Code of Conduct [1]. Please refer to the Student Code of Conduct for student expectations and rights.

When an issue is brought to our attention, ASU takes appropriate action to seek resolution.

Academic issues

For academic concerns, a student is encouraged to first speak with the course instructor. If an issue cannot be resolved at that level, a student may contact the appropriate college or school for guidance on how to proceed. Please refer to our list of colleges and schools [2] for more information.

Non-academic issues

For non-academic concerns, please contact the Dean of Students [3]. The Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities is responsible for reviewing and handling student disciplinary incident reports.

Non-academic issues not resolved by the university process

ASU is an institutional participant of the State Authorization Reciprocity Agreement (SARA). If an issue has not been satisfactorily resolved through the university's internal process, a distance education student may submit a non-academic complaint to the Arizona SARA Council by filing a complaint form [4].

Instructional complaints, such as grade grievances, are not reviewed by the council and should not be submitted for resolution.

Students located in American Samoa, California and Guam may not submit a complaint to the council. These territories and states do not participate in SARA.

Other agencies

A student may contact higher education regulatory agencies, accrediting agencies or consumer protection agencies for specific issues that are unresolved through the university process.

Arizona Board of Regents

If an issue submitted by a student is unresolved and involves a complaint arising under state law, an Arizona Board of Regents policy or any other matter, the student may contact the Arizona Board of Regents [5] (in accordance with 75 Fed. Reg. 66865-66, October 29, 2010).

Accrediting agencies

ASU is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission (HLC) [6]. If an issue is unable to be resolved through the university process, a student may follow the HLC complaint process [7].

For specialized accreditation, please see this page [8].

International students

ASU works to provide global access to its online degree programs. While requirements related to authorization and licensure are carefully tracked, it is the student's responsibility to understand the requirements for whether an online degree will be recognized in the country in which the student intends to work; how the collection of student data may be used in that country; and whether there are any tax implications in addition to the price of tuition.

Several countries will not formally recognize foreign online degrees, which may have implications for students who later seek to enroll in other educational programs, or for those who seek employment in another country's government or employers requiring specific credentials. International students considering an academic program that leads to a professional license should first confirm with the appropriate professional licensing board in the country in which the student intends to work as to whether a degree from ASU is recognized when seeking licensure or certification.

Professional licensure

There are certain careers or fields that require professional license to practice, and licensure requirements vary by state. ASU's professional licensure programs are designed to prepare students for a license in the State of Arizona. Students who wish to practice in a state other than Arizona should check the professional licensure each session for the most up-to-date information.

Professional licensure info [9]

Residency and student location

Course and program availability varies by state. Admission into a program is granted at the time of initial acceptance into the program and is dependent on program availability in the state where the student is physically located at the time of admission.

If a student moves to a different state after admission to the program, continuation within the program will depend on the availability of the program within the new state where the student is physically present. Relocating may impact whether a student can remain in the program, meet the state licensure requirements and/or continue to receive financial aid funding. Prior to considering relocation, please contact your program advisor to discuss authorization and licensure eligibility requirements. It is the student's responsibility to notify the institution of a change in physical location.

MILITARY PERSONNEL: The state where military personnel are stationed will determine whether they may enroll or continue in an ASU Online program.

Transfer of credit

ASU does not imply, promise or guarantee that credits earned at the university will transfer to other institutions, since such determinations are made according to the policies of the receiving institution. If a student is considering transferring to another school, prior to such transfer, the student will need to work with that school to determine if ASU's academic credits will be accepted.

Some medical schools and other health science schools may require additional information for alternative classroom experiences, such as online courses. Students may be asked to provide detailed information about the course or courses that transfer credit is being sought for and provide evidence to the requesting institution of the textbook and topics covered that can be found in a complete syllabus.

Enrollment and degree verification

Arizona State University is frequently asked to certify a student's earned degrees and/or enrollment status (full-time, part-time, etc.). Enrollment status is determined by the number of credits for which a student is enrolled during the term in which certification is requested. Courses a student has withdrawn from are not included. Classes taken for audit are included in total enrolled hours. A student's enrollment status is also based on university policy and federal regulations. ASU reports enrollment status (i.e., full-time, half-time) to the National Student Clearinghouse multiple times each semester. The enrollment statuses reported are based on federal regulations and are defined in the financial aid load tables below.

Obtain an enrollment or degree verification as a current or former student:

1. Log in to My ASU [1] and navigate to the My Classes box
2. Select Grades & Transcripts
3. Select Transcripts & Test Scores
4. Select Enrollment Verification

If you need special information on your Enrollment Verification, or if you need a specialty verification form completed such as the Canadian or Alaskan form, submit an Enrollment Verification Request [2] form at any University Registrar Services location [3] (photo ID required for in-person visits). Requests by email, mail or fax must include the student's verifiable signature. Please allow up to two business days for processing.

For students that attended the Thunderbird School of Global Management prior to December 31, 2014, information on how to obtain verification of your Thunderbird coursework or degree can be found here [4].

Enrollment & degree verification for outside agencies and third parties

ASU has contracted with the National Student Clearinghouse [5] to process all enrollment and degree verification requests for employers, employment agencies, background search firms, and various other businesses that offer products or services based on the individual's status as an enrolled student.

- If you need assistance, contact National Student Clearinghouse [5] directly at 703-742-4200.
- If the National Student Clearinghouse can confirm the degree or enrollment, the response is immediate and requestors will be able to print or obtain a PDF version of the verification.
- Enrollment verifications for each term will be available starting the first week of classes for that term.
- A fee will be charged for this service.

Glossary of academic terms

Student academic status terms

University academic good standing (undergraduate) [1]

2.00 cumulative GPA

- College-specific academic good standing rules can be developed; the college name in a policy title differentiates it from university policy. Example: W. P. Carey School of Business academic good standing.

University academic warning

An undergraduate student with a cumulative GPA of less than 2.00 at the end of their first semester (fall or spring) is considered to be in the status of university academic warning.

University academic probation [2]

An undergraduate student is placed on university academic probation if, at the end of a semester (fall or spring) that is not the student's first semester at ASU, the student has a cumulative GPA of less than 2.00, or the student received an academic warning in the prior term.

- Colleges may establish specific criteria for their own academic probation status; the college name in a policy title differentiates it from university policy. The college academic probation status may take the place of university academic probation but may not replace the university academic warning. Example: Ira A. Fulton Schools of Engineering academic probation.

University continuing academic probation [2]

A student is said to be on university continuing academic probation each semester (fall or spring) that student (previously on university academic probation) earns a semester GPA greater than 2.00, but yet has a cumulative GPA of less than 2.00.

- Colleges may establish individual time limits and specific semester GPA requirements for continuing academic probation; they are defined as "[College Name] continuing academic probation".

Co-enrolled continuing probation program [3]

Select disqualified students may participate in the co-enrolled continuing probation program at the discretion of their college or school. Under this program, the student takes the academic refresher course UNI 220 Mindset Connections plus one ASU course selected by the student's advisor, and the student co-enrolls at a Maricopa Community College with a schedule selected in consultation with the ASU advisor. If, upon completion of the term, the student has a combined semester cumulative GPA of 2.50, the student may continue regular enrollment at ASU. Parameters regarding the number of co-enrolled hours required are at the discretion of each college or school.

Ineligible

A college designation for a student on university continuing academic probation who is not permitted to continue in the major based on college-specific academic requirements. The student may remain an ASU student, but is required to change their major. College-specific procedures are located on their college policies [4].

Disqualified [5]

A student on university academic probation who does not earn a semester GPA of 2.00 or greater (fall or spring) will be disqualified. Students who are disqualified are not permitted to enroll at ASU in any subsequent fall or spring semester unless they are readmitted.

Catalog year

A catalog year runs from fall through summer, and a student who enters during the fall or spring semester follows the policies and requirements in effect for that catalog year. For example, catalog year 2024-2025 is the catalog year for students who enter in fall 2024 or spring 2025. Students who enter for the first time during the summer term follow the requirements in effect for the subsequent catalog year.

In most cases, a student's catalog year is the year in which they started at ASU. Students may be in a different catalog year for a variety of reasons, including:

- change of major
- continuous enrollment in an Arizona community college or public university
- student request to move to a newer catalog year

- significant changes to curriculum either due to accreditation or rapid changes to subject matter

More information and conditions of continuous enrollment can be found at Guidelines for Determination of Catalog Year [6].

General Studies Gold

General studies requirements [7] for undergraduate students beginning with the 2024-25 catalog year.

General Studies Maroon

General studies requirements [8] for undergraduate students up through the 2023-24 catalog year.

Satisfactory progress [9]

This term is used in different ways for students, such as with regard to financial aid, sponsored international programs, athletics and veterans' benefits. Satisfactory progress is a complex calculation specific to major and situation. This term does not refer to academic standing.

Progression [9]

This term refers to how a student meets milestones and degree requirements in movement toward achieving degree completion. This term does not refer to academic standing.

Quick re-entry [10]

The term quick re-entry refers to a streamlined process in which students do not need to submit a new application or application fee if they are undergraduate degree-seeking students who previously attended ASU but have not been enrolled at ASU for up to seven consecutive fall or spring semesters. Students absent on military deployment, on service for official church missions, for foreign aid service of the Federal government, or for permanent disability reasons should follow leave of absence [11] procedures. Students who have not remained continuously enrolled [12] may have their catalog year adjusted upon quick re-entry.

Reinstatement [13]

A student who has previously been academically disqualified and seeks to return either for a fall or spring semester a) immediately or b) after a period of absence and has met college admission standards.

Readmitted [14]

Students not eligible for quick re-entry (i.e., because they have not been enrolled at ASU for seven or more semesters, completed their academic program or were academically disqualified), must apply for readmission and submit applicable fees. Candidates for readmission who are not in academic good standing are subject to college review. A disqualified student who has not already been absent for a semester may contact the college advisor to see if reinstatement is possible.

eAdvisor terms

eAdvisor [15]

A suite of tools used to monitor student progression towards degree completion, including Degree Search, major maps and the tracking of critical and necessary requirements (eight semester tracking application).

Academic year

The university year, counted as a fall semester and the following spring semester and can also include the following summer semester. Example: the 2024-25 academic year consists of the Fall 2024 semester, Spring 2025 semester and Summer 2025 semester.

Major map

A major map is an eight-semester, optimal course plan that outlines a recommended sequence of courses, enabling full-time students to graduate in four years. The major map is posted on a student's My ASU in the My Programs box under Degree Progress.

eAdvisor tracking

ASU's eAdvisor tracking outlines critical courses, GPA requirements and milestones that predict success in each major and tracks students' progress toward meeting them. Sometimes called critical tracking, eAdvisor tracking evaluates how a student's completed courses meet degree requirements in a specific term, including both critical and necessary courses. Students who have not completed critical course requirements for two consecutive fall or spring semesters may be required to change their major.

Critical requirement [16]

As identified on the major map, a curricular or noncurricular degree requirement that the faculty have identified as critical predictors of success in a specific major. Critical requirements can be courses, grades, GPAs or noncurricular requirements such as submitting a fingerprint clearance card. Critical requirements appear in terms 1-4.

Necessary requirement

As identified on the major map, a curricular or noncurricular degree requirement that the faculty have identified as necessary for timely completion of degree requirements. Necessary requirements appear in terms 5-8.

Off track

This refers to a student who has not met one or more critical requirements as stated in terms 1-4, or one or more necessary requirements in terms 5-8 of their major map in a given fall or spring semester.

Twice off track

This refers to a student who has not met one or more critical requirements as stated in terms 1-4 of their major map in two consecutive fall or spring semesters. Students who are twice off track may be required to change their major.

On track

This refers to a student who has met all critical requirements identified in terms 1-4 or all necessary requirements in terms 5-8 of the major map in the current term and previous terms against which they are being evaluated.

Academic status reports

ASRs allow faculty to provide weekly feedback to students regarding class performance. Through My ASU [17], students see an indicator notifying them that they have received an ASR, which can include suggested follow-up items and information about academic resources so that they can get the help they need to be successful.

Academic support team

Each student has an academic advising committee that helps them set personal academic goals, understand policies and create strategies for staying on track toward graduation. The committee is listed on the student's My ASU page. Also included is information about how advising services work in the student's department, how to get answers to advising questions, and how to make an appointment with an advisor.

Milestone

This is a curricular or noncurricular requirement that needs to be completed by a specific point in time. Examples: portfolio review or audition.

Progress reports

Progress reports from eAdvisor allow students to track their progress through audits available on My ASU [17]. The Graduation Audit (DARS) outlines a complete list of degree requirements, including university graduation requirements, general studies and major requirements. The DARS Graduation Audit is the official record used to verify degree completion. A major map is an eight-semester, optimal course plan that outlines a recommended sequence of courses, enabling full-time students to graduate in four years.

In addition to traditional progress reports, eAdvisor students can run a critical requirement audit and view their tracking status in My Major Map at any time during the semester. My Major Map, also available on My ASU, provides students the ability to track how their courses are meeting degree requirements as well as their progress toward completing other critical requirements (GPAs and milestones required to stay on track).

A student's record may change multiple times during the semester because of dropped courses, transferred credit, completed milestones or changed majors. The system accounts for changes to student records and updates eAdvisor status, My Major Map and the DARS Graduation Audit nightly.

Priority tasks

eAdvisor places important notes and reminders in the Priority Tasks box on students' My ASU page. If students become off track, an advising hold is placed on their record. While they may drop and withdraw from a course, they will not be able to add courses to the current semester. Students with off-track status will not be able to register for future fall and spring semesters until they have contacted their advisor and discussed strategies for getting back on track. The advisor will then remove the hold. Other tasks, from student support areas such as Financial Aid and the Registrar's Office also appear in this box.

Course terms

Crosslisting

The same course offered under more than one subject, may be offered by more than one college or department, and may have different course numbers. Students get credit for only one course in the pair or group of crosslisted courses. Some programs may require students to enroll in a course under a certain subject to properly receive credit.

Examples: CDE 350/SOC 350 and AFR 363/HST 333

Corequisite

A course that must be taken while taking another course at the same time. Example: a lab that is required to be taken with a lecture.

Prerequisite

A requirement to be met before registering for a course, such as completing another particular course.

Omnibus course

A course offered on an experimental or tutorial basis, or in which the content is new or periodically changes is termed an omnibus course. The Classification of Courses Policy [18] contains more information about omnibus courses.

Subject [19]

The three-letter code that denotes the subject of a set of courses; sometimes referred to as a prefix.

Examples: AMS = American Studies; EEE = Electrical Engineering; SSP = Sports Science and Performance Programming

Program and degree terms

Accelerated master's program [20]

Accelerated bachelor's plus master's degree programs are designed for high-achieving undergraduate students who want the opportunity to share undergraduate coursework with graduate coursework to accelerate completion of their master's degree. These programs feature the same high-quality curriculum taught by ASU's world-renowned faculty. These programs are preapproved combinations and are internal to ASU.

The terms 4+1 and 3+2 have been phased out, effective Fall 2023.

Concurrent degree [21]

Internal to the university, two degrees, same level, same time, and may include some shared courses. Concurrent degrees can either be preapproved combinations or unique combinations added by the student through an approval process. Examples: JD/PhD or BS/BSE. Two diplomas are awarded.

Disestablished program

A disestablished program is a major, minor or certificate which the institution has chosen to discontinue. Upon the effective term and year of disestablishment, ASU may choose to stop admitting new students into the program. This includes current ASU students seeking to change into the disestablished major, to add the disestablished major as a concurrent degree, or to add the disestablished minor or certificate. Active students in a disestablished program have a period of four academic years to complete the program requirements. This includes active, not enrolled students typically eligible for quick re-entry. Students choosing quick re-entry to the institution after a period of nonenrollment cannot re-enroll in a disestablished program if four academic years have passed since the effective term of disestablishment.

Students who have not completed the requirements for a disestablished program four academic years after disestablishment will be changed administratively to a different major, or have the minor or certificate removed from their record.

Dual degree

This is an offering that is both internal and external to ASU. The student pursues two degrees simultaneously, one with ASU and one with an external institution. Example: ASU and Mayo Clinic.

Exploratory program

Exploratory programs [22] are non-degree granting programs that allow students to explore their interests in different major areas before they formally declare a major. Students formally declare their major by the time they have accumulated 45 credit hours.

Honors program

Offered by Barrett, the Honors College [23], an honors program gives academically outstanding undergraduate students opportunities to enhance their degree program with an intellectually rigorous honors curriculum and resources only available to Barrett students. Upon graduation, students who complete the Barrett requirements along with their major requirements are awarded an honors endorsement on their transcript.

Joint degree

Joint programs, or jointly conferred degrees, are a single program of study offered by more than one college at ASU that provide opportunities for students to take advantage of the academic strengths of two or more academic units. Upon graduation, students are awarded one degree and one diploma conferred by both colleges. Both colleges will appear on the transcript and diploma.

Multiple concentration

Internal to the university, one degree awarded, same level, same time, some shared courses. For undergraduate degrees with multiple concentrations, students may not share coursework between the core concentration curricula. Multiple concentrations are typically added through an approval process. Example: Business (Global Leadership), BA and Business (Sustainability), BA.

Learning modality terms

ASU Local

ASU Local [24] programs combine the high-quality academics of ASU degrees offered online with in-person coaching and academic support. In addition to online learning, students also participate in two-day, local signature experiences, which are designed to harness the essence of the local community. An ASU Local coach is provided on-site and in-person to assist students with guidance, support and development of success skills.

ASU Sync

ASU Sync [25] programs utilize synchronous online courses, meaning students learn online, but the courses are scheduled at certain dates and times so that all students attend live classes together via Zoom. Classes are designed to foster active collaboration and discussion in real-time with faculty and peers.

Experiential learning

Experiential learning such as internships and co-ops are integral to the preparation of an ASU graduate.

- An internship is a structured practical experience, which allows students to gain work-based skills with the possibility of earning academic credit. Students follow a contract or a plan and are supervised by faculty or practitioners in the career field. Credit-bearing internships are an approved way to meet elective requirements and can count towards the university 120 credit hour graduation requirement at the bachelor's degree level. The department and individual faculty determine whether or not a specific internship experience meets the requirements of the unit and how many credit hours should be awarded.
- A cooperative education program, commonly known as a co-op, is a structured method of combining classroom-based education with practical work experience. Co-ops allow students to earn academic credit for structured job experience as well as a paycheck to help finance their college education. Co-ops are a joint venture between a college or university, a selected employer, and the student.

Grades and grading policies

Credit enrollment

The semester hour is the unit on which credit is computed. It represents one 50-minute class exercise per week per semester. To obtain credit, a student must be properly registered and must pay fees for the course.

Grading options and definitions

Ordinarily a grade of "A+," "A," "A-," "B+," "B," "B-," "C+," "C," "D," or "E" is given upon completion of a course, unless another grading option such as "audit" or "pass/fail" is indicated at the time of registration. Grading options cannot be changed after the close of the add period.

The instructor of a course has full discretion in selecting which grades to use and report from the available grading options on the grade roster.

Incomplete (I)

A mark of "I" (incomplete) is given by the instructor when you are otherwise doing acceptable work but are unable to complete the course because of illness or other conditions beyond your control. You are required to arrange with the instructor for the completion of the course requirements. The arrangement is recorded on the Request for Grade of Incomplete form [2]. Do not re-register or pay fees to complete the course. The completion date is determined by the instructor but may not exceed one calendar year from the date the mark of "I" is recorded. When you complete the course, the instructor must submit an online grade change request. If you receive an "I" in an undergraduate course in the fall 1983 or thereafter, your grade will be automatically changed to a failing grade "E" if you do not complete the course within one calendar year. If you receive an "I" in a graduate course (500-level or above) your "I" grade will become a permanent part of your transcript if you do not complete the course within one year, and you will have to reregister and pay fees to repeat the course for credit. Marks of "I" are changed to a grade of "E" (0.00) for purposes of evaluating graduation requirements for undergraduate students.

No report (NR)

The "NR" grade simply means that a grade has not yet been reported. Once final grade processing takes place for the semester, most classes will have an actual grade posted instead of the "NR". If an "NR" grade appears for a course in a prior semester, you should contact the instructor of the course to find out why a final grade was not recorded.

Pass (P)

The "P" grading option is used to indicate a passing grade in a class when an individual student receives permission from both the class instructor and his/her college or school. For further information about this grading option, contact your advisor. If you earn a "P" grade, you will earn hours, but the grade is not used for computing your GPA.

A "P" grade should only be assigned when an individual student receives permission to take a course as pass/fail. Permission is recorded on the Pass/Fail Enrollment form [3]. If the course only awards pass/fail grades, the "Y" grade should be utilized to indicate successful completion of the course.

Withdrawal (W)

If you withdraw from a class after the first week of school, you will receive a mark of "W" on your transcript. You earn no credit or grade for withdrawn classes.

Audit (X)

A student may choose to audit a course, in which case the student attends regularly scheduled class sessions, but no credit is earned. The student should obtain the instructor's approval before registering and paying the fees for the course. Selected courses may not be audited. Veteran students using education benefits should see Veterans Services.

The mark of "X" is recorded for completion of an audited course unless the instructor determines that the student's participation or attendance has been inadequate, in which case the mark of "W" (withdrawal) may be recorded. This grading option may not be changed after the close of the add period. The "X" is not included in earned hours and is not computed in the GPA.

Satisfactory (Y)

The "Y" grade is generally used as a grade for successfully completed internships, projects, readings and conference, research, seminars, theses, dissertations, and workshops. You earn hours for a "Y" grade, but the grade is not used for computing your GPA.

Course in progress (Z)

The "Z" grade is typically used for courses where work will not be completed within one semester's time, such as research, thesis, and dissertation. Once coursework is complete, your instructor will submit a grade change to assign an appropriate grade. Some courses, such as continued registration, do not earn credit and the "Z" grade will remain on your transcript.

Failing never participated (EN)

The grade of "EN" denotes failure due to the student never participating in a course and is treated the same as an "E" for the purposes of GPA, course repeatability, and academic standing determination. The "EN" grade assists ASU in determining a student's financial aid eligibility. For federal aid purposes, we must determine if a student participated in all courses for which they received federal aid. When a student does not participate, the financial aid office must recalculate the student's eligibility. A grade of "EN" will display on the student's transcript beginning fall 2016. Please review the "Grades and Grade Selection" section of the Grade Posting FAQs [4] page for more information about the "EN" grade.

Failing did not complete (EU)

The grade of "EU" should be used to indicate that a student never officially withdrew from the course, but failed to participate in course activities through the end of the course. The EU grade should be used when, in the opinion of the instructor, the student's completed assignments, course activities or both were insufficient to make normal evaluation of academic performance possible because the student stopped participating in the course. This grade distinction is critical to federal financial aid administration. A grade of "EU" will display on the student's transcript beginning fall 2019. Please review the "Grades and Grade Selection" section of the Grade Posting FAQs [4] page for more information about the "EU" grade.

Academic dishonesty (XE)

The grade of "XE" denotes failure due to academic dishonesty and is treated the same as an "E" for the purposes of GPA, course repeatability, and academic standing determination. A student may not avoid any penalty for academic dishonesty by withdrawing from a course. A student may be reinstated to a course to receive a penalty of a reduced or failing grade or XE. The grade of XE may only be assigned in accordance with ASU's Student Academic Integrity Policy, and not as part of the normal end of the semester grading process.

Support and roster contacts [5].

Grade reports

You can obtain your final grades after every semester by using any of the following methods:

- To view or print your grades, sign in to My ASU [6] using your ASURITE UserID and Password.
- Submit a request for an official grade report that will show the grades for the last semester in which grades have been processed. You may submit a request to any registration site [7].

Grade changes

Ordinarily the instructor of a course has the sole and final responsibility for any grade reported. Once the grade has been reported to the registrar, it may be changed upon the authorization of the faculty member who issued the original grade, a department chair, and the dean of the college concerned. This policy also applies to the grade of "I" (incomplete).

Grade changes are submitted online and receive approval by the department chair (or designee) and the dean of the college (or designee) in which the course is offered. Once approvals are received, the new grade will be reflected on your transcript immediately.

Repeating courses

An undergraduate course taken by undergraduate students at ASU may be repeated for credit if the grade or mark of "D", "E", (including EU, EN, and XE) "W", "X" is received. To be eligible for the deletion of "D" or "E" grades from calculations of the GPA, the course must be repeated at ASU. Independent Learning courses may not be used to repeat "D" or "E" grades. Students who have graduated are not eligible to delete the grade for a course taken before the award of the ASU bachelor's degree. Undergraduate courses in which grades of "D" or "E" (including EU, EN, and XE) are received may be repeated only once. Generally, students may not repeat an undergraduate course for credit when a grade of "C" or higher is earned.

For additional information on repeating courses please refer to the following policies:

SSM 203-06: Deletion of a "D" or "E" Grade Received by an Undergraduate in an Undergraduate Course [8]

SSM 203-05: Duplication of Credit by an Undergraduate Student [9]

Graduate students see the ASU Graduate Policies and Procedures [10].

Financial aid & repeating courses

Federal regulations limit the number of times a student may repeat a course and receive federal financial aid for that course.

- A student may receive federal financial aid when repeating a course that was previously failed.
- A student may receive federal financial aid to repeat a previously passed course (with a D or better) one additional time, whether or not a student received federal financial aid for an earlier enrollment of the course.
- Once a student has completed any course twice and earned a passing grade (with a D or better) they are no longer eligible to receive federal financial aid for that course

- If a student retakes a course that is no longer eligible for financial aid, the units are excluded from the total enrollment calculated for financial aid and the student's financial aid will be adjusted to exclude these units.

Grade adjustments will be processed automatically after the grades are reported each term. For additional information on repeating a course or the deletion process, contact Records & Enrollment Services at registrar@asu.edu

Demonstration of mastery

An undergraduate student who receives a "D" in a course in which a "C" or higher is required may use the grade from an equivalent course taken elsewhere to demonstrate mastery at the "C" or higher level. However, the course may neither be transferred to ASU (since credit has already been given for the course) nor computed in the student's GPA.

Grades appeal

ASU has informal and formal processes students may follow to appeal a grade. See the Catalog [11].

GPA calculation

The following grades and their values are used in computing your semester and cumulative ASU GPA:

Grade*	Grade Point Value
A+	4.33
A	4.00
A-	3.67
B+	3.33
B	3.00
B-	2.67
C+	2.33
C	2.00
D	1.00
E	0.00
*Other grades (W, X, Y, etc.) are not included in the GPA calculation.
Grades EN, EU, XE, E1, E2, E3, E4, E5, and E8 are equivalent to an E for GPA calculation purposes.

To calculate your GPA, follow these steps below, or use the GPA Calculator [12].

1. Multiply the grade point value by the number of semester hours for which the course was taken to determine the honor points.
2. Add together all the honor points.
3. Add together all the semester hours that received one of the above grades to determine net hours.
4. Divide the honor points by the net hours to calculate the GPA.

$$\text{Honor Points} \div \text{Net Hours} = \text{GPA}$$
 GPAs are rounded to the nearest 100th of a decimal point.

Semester GPA is based on semester net hours. Cumulative GPA is based on total net hours.

Although the plus/minus scale includes a grade of A+ with a value of 4.33, the cumulative GPA is capped at 4.00.

Example:

Course	Semester Hours	Grade	Grade Point Value	Honor Points
ENG 101	3.0	A	4.00	12.00
MAT 117	3.0	B-	2.67	8.01
ECN 111	3.0	E	0.00	0.00
Total:	(net hours) 9.0			20.01
20.01 ÷ 9.0 = 2.22 GPA
Students may receive credit for an ASU course by taking an examination in place of the actual course. Learn more [13].

Grade appeal policy — student procedures

The steps outlined here, beginning with step A, must be followed by any student seeking to appeal a grade. Student grade appeals must be processed in the regular semester immediately following the issuance of the grade in dispute (by commencement for fall or spring) regardless of whether the student is enrolled at the university. It is university policy that students filing grievances and those who are witnesses be protected from retaliation. A student who believes they are a victim of retaliation should immediately contact the dean of the college or school in which the course is offered.

Students enrolled in courses taught by another institution through a formal ASU partnership (e.g., the PLoS Alliance) must follow the grade grievance and appeal process of the institution teaching the course.

Informal

Step A

The aggrieved student must first undergo the informal procedure of conferring with the instructor, stating any evidence and reasons for questioning that the grade received was given in good faith. The instructor is obliged to review the matter, explain the grading procedure used and show how the grade in question was determined. If the instructor is a graduate assistant and this interview does not resolve the difficulty, the student may then take the problem to the faculty member in charge of the course (regular faculty member or director of the course sequence).

Step B

If the grading dispute is not resolved in step A, the student may appeal to the department chair or other appropriate chair of the area within the department (if any). The department chair may confer with the instructor to handle the problem. Step B applies only in departmentalized colleges or schools.

Step C

If these discussions are not adequate to settle the matter to the complainant's satisfaction, the student may then confer with the dean of the college or school concerned (or the dean-designate), who reviews the case. If unresolved, the dean or designate may refer the case to the college or school academic grievance hearing committee to review the case formally. In most instances, however, the grievance procedure does not go beyond this level.

Formal

The following procedure takes place after steps A, B and C (or A and C) have been completed.

Step D

Each college or school has on file in the office of the dean (and in each department of the college or school) the procedures and composition of the undergraduate or graduate academic grievance hearing committee for student grievances. Each college or school committee operates under grievance procedures as stated, which satisfy due process requirements. The committee always meets with the student and the instructor in an attempt to resolve the differences. At the conclusion of the hearing, the committee sends its recommendations to the dean.

Step E

Final action in each case is taken by the dean after full consideration of the committee's recommendation. Any recommended grade changes may be made by the dean. The dean informs the student, instructor, department chairperson (if any), registrar and grievance committee of any action taken.

Professional licensure and certification

Professional licensure and certification information is provided per U.S. Federal Regulations, 34 CFR § 668.50 (2016 Rules) [1], 34 CFR § 668.43 (2019 Rules) [2], 34 CFR § 668.14(b)(32) [3] and 34 CFR § 668.43 [4] (2023 Rules) [5] and in compliance with the State Authorization Reciprocity Agreement [6] (SARA) Manual for academic programs reasonably assumed to lead to professional licensure or certification.

Arizona State University's academic programs generally are designed to prepare students to apply for applicable licensure or certification in Arizona where such licensure or certification exists. Completing an ASU program may not result in meeting the educational requirements for licensure or certification in any other state. ASU does not guarantee a student will be eligible to take or successfully complete licensure or certification exams. Additional steps such as background checks, examinations, fieldwork and more may be needed to acquire professional licensure, certifications or credentials. Students and prospective students are strongly encouraged to contact the state's licensure entity where they intend to practice using the links provided to review all licensure and certification requirements imposed by the state of choice.

These disclosures also include information about available licenses and certifications that are unrelated to state-specific requirements. ASU has identified these credentials as private-issued licenses and certifications and has provided this information for convenience only.

These disclosures are strictly limited to the university's determination in consultation with State licensing and certification entities about licensure and certification requirements and whether the degree programs, if successfully completed, would be sufficient to meet the educational licensure or certification requirements in a State. States vary in which professions are required to be licensed and how licensure functions. The terms related to licensure and certification, among others, also vary by state as well. ASU cannot provide verification of an individual's ability to meet licensure or certification requirements unrelated to its educational programming. Some states require individuals to complete additional requirements that are unrelated to educational prerequisites.

These disclosures do not provide any guarantee that any particular state licensure or certification entity will approve or deny an application. Additionally, these disclosures do not account for changes in state law or regulation that may affect an application for licensure or certification that occurs after these disclosures have been made. Students should check the Professional Licensure material before registering for classes each session for the most up-to-date information.

Arizona State University is a member of the National Council State Authorization Reciprocity Agreements (NC- SARA) [6], which allows the university to provide distance education programs (both online and learning placements) and coursework to students located in states other than Arizona. Membership does not grant reciprocity or exemption from state professional licensing requirements. Licensing requirements in Arizona may not be recognized as sufficient to obtain a license in other states. ASU will notify students at the time of initial enrollment if it has determined that a distance education program does not satisfy the applicable educational requirements for professional licensure or certification in the state in which the student is located.

ASU shall not be held liable if a student is unable to qualify for licensure or certification in any jurisdiction.

Relocating to a different state after admission into a degree program may impact whether a student can remain in the degree program, meet the state licensure requirements and/or continue to receive financial aid funding. Prior to considering relocating, it is recommended that students contact their program advisor to discuss authorization and licensure eligibility requirements. It is the student's responsibility to notify the institution of a change in physical location.

Registration

Registering for classes at ASU

Registering for classes is easy no matter where you are on your academic journey. Start by determining the type of student you are below, and then follow the instructions provided.

Newly admitted students

Undergraduate students

If you have been admitted to ASU, you will register for classes at New Student Orientation [1].

Graduate students

Connect with your academic department for more information on how to register for courses. You can find the contact information for your academic department in the Academic Support Team box on My ASU [2].

Continuing students

If you are currently enrolled at ASU, follow the steps below to register for classes.

Returning students

If you previously attended ASU as an undergraduate student but have not remained consecutively enrolled at ASU each fall and spring semester, visit the re-entry page [3] for next steps.

Registering for classes

Step one

Clear any registration holds

Sign in to My ASU [2] to determine if you have any holds that will prevent you from registering for classes. Examples of registration holds include missing transcripts, unpaid fees, academic advising requirements and immunizations requirements. Clearing registration holds as quickly as possible avoids delays in registration which can impact your chances of getting the classes and schedule that are best for you.

For more information on a particular hold, select Help on My ASU and enter any questions.

Step two

Register for classes

Once you have cleared any registration holds, you are ready to register for classes. You may register for classes online [2] or in person [3]. You can also search for available classes online [5].

Undergraduate students should check out this article [6] explaining how to use your major map and DARs, or watch this video [7] with step-by-step instructions on how to register.

Graduate students, you should review your plan of study [8] (iPOS) as your program roadmap to help you stay on track for graduation.

Step three

Pay tuition and fees

Once you are registered, sign in to the My ASU Finances tab [9] to view and pay your tuition and fees. More information regarding how tuition and fees are calculated and important deadlines for paying tuition and fees is available via Student Business Services [10].

Step four

Purchase textbooks

Sign in to My ASU [2] to obtain your required book list by selecting Books in the My Classes box and order textbooks through ASU Bookstores [11].

Step five

Easily access your class schedule Download to iCal

Sign in to My ASU [2] to download your class schedule and add it to your personal calendar. Click on View My Schedule and you'll be taken to a screen where you can download to iCal.

View in the ASU Mobile App

Download the ASU Mobile App [12] to easily view your class schedule and navigate directions to all of your classes.

Drop/add and withdrawal

How to drop, add and withdraw

How to add a class

The easiest way to add a class is by signing into My ASU [1], clicking on the Registration link in your My Classes box, and selecting Add. You may add a class to your schedule up until the add deadline for that class.

Adding a class after the add deadline is considered a Late Add [2] and requires instructor, department and college approval.

Policies and procedures for late adds vary by college/school, click here [2] for detailed instructions.

Dropping/withdrawing from a class

Beginning Fall 2023, the drop deadline and add deadline will be distinct. If you drop a class by the drop deadline, you may be eligible for a 100% refund of your tuition for that class.

How to drop/withdraw from a class

You may remove a class from your current schedule by dropping/withdrawing from it up until the appropriate deadline for that class. You can request a drop/withdrawal from a class by signing into My ASU [1], clicking on the Registration link in your My Classes box, and selecting Drop/Withdrawal. Please refer to the Tuition Refund Policy [3] to determine if dropping or withdrawing from classes will generate a tuition refund. The timing of when you make your request determines whether it is a drop or a withdrawal.

Before the drop deadline

A drop/withdrawal request made prior to the drop deadline for your class will be considered a drop. A drop will remove the class from your current schedule with no record of your enrollment in the class on your official transcript. Beginning Fall 2023, dropping a course by the drop deadline may generate a 100% tuition refund for that class.

After the drop deadline

A drop/withdrawal request made after the drop deadline but before the course withdrawal deadline for your class will be considered a withdrawal. A withdrawal will remove the class from your current schedule and will result in a grade of 'W' on your official transcript. The grade of 'W' has no impact on your GPA.

Swapping classes

How to swap classes

You may simultaneously add a class while dropping another by swapping them. You can swap classes by signing into My ASU, clicking on the "Registration" link in your My Classes box, and selecting "Swap." A swap will not drop you from your original class unless your add request was successful. This is especially helpful when attempting to switch from one section of a class to another section of the same class. A swap must be completed by the appropriate add deadline for that class.

Complete session drop/withdrawal

How to completely withdraw from classes

If you no longer plan on attending or completing your classes in a given session, you can remove all of them from your current schedule by requesting a complete session drop/withdrawal up until the appropriate complete withdrawal deadline. This should be viewed as a last resort as there may be serious academic and financial consequences. Please refer to the Tuition Refund Policy [3] to determine if dropping/withdrawing from classes will generate a tuition refund. The timing of your request determines whether it is a drop or a withdrawal.

Before drop deadline

A complete session drop/withdrawal request made prior to the drop deadline for your classes will be considered a complete session drop. A drop will remove the class(es) from your current schedule with no record of your enrollment in the class(es) on your official transcript.

After the drop deadline

A complete session drop/withdrawal request made after the drop deadline for your classes will be considered a complete session withdrawal. A withdrawal will remove the classes from your current schedule and will result in a grade of 'W' on your official transcript for each class withdrawn. The grade of 'W' has no impact on your GPA.

The process for requesting a complete session drop/withdrawal will depend on whether you are an undergraduate or a graduate student.

Undergraduate students

Requesting a complete session drop/withdrawal is an important decision as it may result in serious academic and financial consequences. If you have questions about withdrawing or the academic or financial consequences of withdrawing contact your college/school [4] to discuss your situation. The timing of your request will determine the impact it will have as well as the steps you will need to take to complete the process.

- Before the start of the fall or spring semesters (or anytime during a summer session) you may request a complete session drop/withdrawal by signing into My ASU [1], clicking on the "Registration" link in your My Classes box, and selecting "Drop/Withdrawal."
- After the start of the fall or spring semesters, contact your college/school [4] for more information.

Graduate students

You may request a complete session drop/withdrawal by signing into My ASU [1], clicking on the "Registration" link in your My Classes box, and selecting "Drop/Withdrawal."

Other types of drops/withdrawals

This section covers special types of drops/withdrawals due to extenuating circumstances (such as a personal mental/physical condition, death or serious illness of a family member or close friend, or military duty/activation), lack of attendance or disruptive behavior.

Medical/compassionate withdrawal

You may be eligible for a medical/compassionate withdrawal if your withdrawal is due to extenuating circumstances such as a serious physical or mental illness (medical withdrawal) or the death/serious illness of a family member (compassionate withdrawal). To request a medical/compassionate withdrawal, you must submit a Request for Documented Medical/Compassionate Withdrawal [5] form along with appropriate documentation to the college of your major. Approved medical/compassionate withdrawals may generate tuition refund if approved within two years of the end of the semester, please see the Tuition Refund Policy [3] for more information.

Military activation withdrawal

A student who is a member (or the spouse of a member) of the National Guard, Reserve, or other U.S. Armed Forces branch and is unable to complete classes because of military activation, may request complete withdrawal or course withdrawals, incompletes, or grades, depending on the timing of the activation and the individual student's needs. Absences resulting from military activation will not adversely affect a student's catalog year.

To receive consideration under the military activation policy, a student should complete a Military Activation Form [6] and return the completed form, along with a copy of the military activation order, to the Pat Tillman Veterans Center. The Pat Tillman Veterans Center staff will coordinate the processing of the form for the student, including verification of orders, counseling on available options, referrals to academic departments, referrals or notification to offices regarding potential refunds, and initiation of processing administrative withdrawals or incomplete grades.

Instructor-initiated drop

Instructors have full authority within departmental or other higher-level policies to decide whether or not class attendance is required. If you are unable to attend class it is your responsibility to notify your instructors and/or follow their attendance policy. If you are absent from class through the second week of classes (for a fall or spring semester) or the first four days of a summer session, your instructors may exercise the option to drop you from the class (this is often done to create an open seat for another student wishing to add the class).

Please be aware that nonattendance will not automatically result in you being dropped from a class. Instructors have the right to exercise this option at their discretion. If you are unable to attend or complete a class it is your responsibility to drop/withdraw from the class prior to the appropriate deadline.

Instructor-initiated drops for nonattendance must be based upon concrete evidence of nonattendance and be signed by the Dean or Dean's Designee of the college offering the class. The college will notify students that they have been dropped for nonattendance by mail at the students' currently posted mailing address. Nothing in this policy contradicts any other policy regarding attendance, religious holidays or the students' responsibility to notify instructors in case of their absences.

Instructor-initiated withdrawal

Instructor-initiated withdrawals are made when an instructor withdraws a student from a class with a grade of "W" or "E" in cases of disruptive behavior.

Add, drop and withdrawal deadlines

Registration deadlines determine the last day you are able to add, drop or withdraw from classes. Each class has its own set of registration deadlines which are based on the length of the class as well as the session in which the class is held. The individual add, drop and withdrawal deadlines drop/add/withdrawal or add deadlines listed on the Academic Calendar [7] apply to classes scheduled in the regular A/B/C sessions. If your class does not follow the A/B/C session timelines, the individual add, drop and withdrawal deadlines drop/add/withdrawal or add deadlines are prorated. The best way to determine the registration deadlines for a class you are registered for is to sign in to My ASU [1] and click on the calendar icon next to the class in the My Classes box. To determine the registration deadlines for a class you have not yet registered for, use the online Class Search and Course Catalog [8] to search for the class and click on the Dates column in the search results.

Add deadline

This is the last day to add a class. Adding a class after the deadline is considered a Late Add [10] and requires instructor, department, and college approval.

Drop deadline

This is the last day to drop a class without receiving a grade of "W" on your transcript. All withdrawals after this date will result in a grade of "W" on your transcript for each class withdrawn.

Course withdrawal deadline

This is the last day to request a withdrawal from a class while staying enrolled in other classes in the same session. A withdrawal from a class after this date is only available as part of a complete session withdrawal (see below).

Complete session withdrawal deadline

This is the last day to request a complete withdrawal from a session. As part of a complete session withdrawal you must withdraw from all of your classes in the session. Beginning the first day of the fall and spring semesters undergraduate students are required to contact their college/school [4] to facilitate the withdrawal process.

Editing a class

Some classes allow you to select the number of credit hours, grading basis, and instructor for the class. If you are registered for one of these classes you may edit these options by signing into My ASU [1], clicking on the Registration link in the My Classes box, and selecting Edit.

Complete session withdrawal

Undergraduate students

Beginning the first day of the fall and spring semesters, you are required to connect with your college/school of your major to facilitate the withdrawal process. Select your college or school below for instructions regarding the complete withdrawal process.

The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences [1]

Edson College of Nursing and Health Innovation [2]
Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts [3]
Ira A. Fulton Schools of Engineering [4]
Mary Lou Fulton College for Teaching and Learning Innovation [5]

University College [14]

During the fall or spring semester, submit your withdrawal request by signing in to My ASU [15], click on the Registration link in your My Classes box, and select Drop/Withdrawal. Your request will be electronically routed to your college or department for review and next steps. If the semester has not yet begun, or you wish to withdraw from a summer session, sign in to My ASU [15], click on the Registration link in your My Classes box, and select Drop/Withdrawal and follow the steps to withdraw from your classes.

Graduate students

You may request a complete session drop/withdrawal by signing in to My ASU [15], clicking on the Registration link in your My Classes box, and selecting Drop/Withdrawal, or by submitting the Complete Session Withdrawal [16] form to any University Registrar Services office location [17]. Be sure to review the Graduate College's continuous enrollment policy [18] and discuss your withdrawal with your program advisor, if needed.

Please refer to the Tuition Refund Policy [19] to determine if dropping/withdrawing from classes will generate a tuition refund.

ASU support resources & options

Withdrawing from one or two classes (course withdrawal)

After the drop/add deadline through the course withdrawal deadline for a class, students can withdraw from the class while remaining enrolled in other classes. Students are encouraged to contact their academic advisor to discuss the impact this may have on meeting critical requirements.

Medical/compassionate withdrawal

Medical/Compassionate withdrawals are available for students needing to withdraw from one or more classes due to a personal mental/physical health condition or the death or serious illness of a family member/close friend. More information concerning medical/compassionate withdrawal requests can be found here [20].

Tutoring & academic support services

ASU tutoring centers provide a variety of services to help students become better learners and gain the confidence and skills to achieve their academic goals. Services include: writing centers, math tutoring, subject area tutoring, and supplemental instruction. More information about tutoring centers can be found here [21].

ASU counseling services

Counseling and mental health services are provided at each of the four ASU campuses. ASU students may seek services at any of the campus counseling centers, regardless of their college affiliation. ASU Counseling Services locations and contact information can be found here [22].

"I" (incomplete) grade

If approved, a mark of "I" (Incomplete) may be given by the instructor when students are otherwise doing acceptable work but are unable to complete the class because of illness or other conditions beyond their control. Students interested in incompletes should discuss this option with their instructors and arrange for the completion of the class requirements.

Possible consequences resulting from a complete session withdrawal:

- Financial aid: Financial aid recipients who completely withdraw from the university may be responsible for immediate repayment of funds. The effect of a complete withdrawal on financial aid depends on when the withdrawal is dated and the type of financial aid. More information concerning the return of financial aid is available here [23].
- Tuition and refunds: The date of a complete withdrawal will determine whether or not a tuition refund will be generated. Please review the Tuition Refund Policy [19] for more information.
- Health insurance: Students should contact their health insurance company to determine whether or not withdrawing from the university affects their coverage.
- Residential life: Students who live on campus should contact their residential hall community staff to determine what impact withdrawing will have on their eligibility to live on campus, to complete a License Agreement Release (LAR) form, and to arrange an appointment to officially check out. More information concerning housing cancellations is available here [24].
- Veteran benefits & certifications: Students should contact the appropriate Veteran Benefits & Certifications office to discuss information regarding veterans' educational benefits and/or military activation. Veteran Benefits & Certifications office locations and contact information can be found here [25].

For more information on Complete Withdrawals, contact University Registrar Services at registrar@asu.edu or 480-965-3124.

Late Registration

Registering for any class after the deadline [1] requires approval from the college or school offering the course and is an exception to university policy. There is no guarantee that a late request will be approved.

Courses for which the deadline to register has passed are marked in the schedule of classes by a gray "add" button.

When this button is selected, students are directed to a page that prompts them to select the appropriate link for the college offering the course. The link connects the student to a customized page with step-by-step instructions on how to request a late add for that particular course. Policies and procedures vary by college/school. See the list below for detailed information and instructions.

Student Privacy: Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)

The federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (also called FERPA or the Buckley Amendment) affords students certain privacy rights regarding their education records. Those rights are summarized below. For more detailed information about FERPA, consult SSM 107-01: Release of Student Information [1] or contact University Registrar Services [2].

Student rights

The right to inspect

The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day the university receives a request for access. Students should submit to the registrar, dean, head of the academic department, or other appropriate official, written requests that identify the record(s) they wish to inspect. The university official will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. If the records are not maintained by the university official to whom the request was submitted, that official shall advise the student of the correct official to whom the request should be addressed.

Note: Students must provide photo identification in order to access their education records.

The right to amend

The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the student believes are inaccurate or misleading. Students who believe their record is inaccurate or misleading should write to the university official responsible for the record. Clearly identify the part of the record they want changed, and specify why it is inaccurate or misleading. If the university decides not to amend the record as requested by the student, the university will notify the student of the decision and advise the student of his or her right to a hearing about the request for amendment. Additional information about the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

Note: FERPA does not address grade disputes or grievances, which are pursued through other university and/or college procedures.

The right to consent

The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent. One exception which permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. School officials are administrators, faculty, professional staff, academic advisors, clerical or support employees, including ASU law enforcement unit personnel and ASU health staff; volunteers; a person or company with whom the university has contracted as its agent, acting with a legitimate educational interest, to provide a service instead of using university employees or officials (such as an attorney, auditor, collection agent, service provider); a person serving on the Board of Regents; staff in the Alumni Association and ASU Foundation offices; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the interest in an education record is justified under one or more of the following conditions:

- the information or records requested are relevant and necessary to accomplish some task or determination related to the legitimate educational interest of the student
- the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibilities for the university
- the task or determination is an employment responsibility or a properly assigned subject for the inquirer's determination and/or
- the task or determination is consistent with the purpose for which the records, information, or data are maintained.

Note: A parent of a dependent student may challenge denial of access to the dependent student's record by producing the most current copy of Internal Revenue Form 1040. (Dependency is defined in Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code.) If that form lists the student in question as a dependent, the parent will be required to sign an Affidavit of Dependency which affirms that the student is his/her tax dependent. The affidavit will be retained by the University Registrar's Office and must be renewed each tax year. Upon receipt of these documents, the dependent student records may be made available to the parent as specified under FERPA.

The right to file a complaint

The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by Arizona State University to comply with the requirements of FERPA. Students are encouraged to first contact University Registrar Services at (480) 965-7302. A complaint may be filed in writing with the Department of Education at the following address: Family Policy Compliance Office U.S. Department of Education 400 Maryland Avenue, SW Washington, DC, 20202

Definitions

Student —Any individual formally admitted who is or has been in attendance at ASU. The term does not apply to applicants for admission, nor does it apply to persons who have been admitted but who have not registered.

Education record —Any record(s) directly related to a student and maintained by ASU or by a party acting for the university. Education records include any information or data recorded in any medium, including but not limited to handwriting, print, computer media, video or audio tape, film, microfilm, and microfiche.

Directory information — Information that may be released to anyone without the consent of the student, unless the student indicates otherwise, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent:

- Student name
- Addresses (e.g., local, home, mailing and ASU e-mail, including directory number)
- Telephone numbers
- Date of birth
- Degrees, honors and awards received (including Dean's List, National Merit, National Achievement, and National Hispanic Scholars)
- Most recently attended educational institution
- Academic level
- Major
- College
- Dates of attendance
- Enrollment status (e.g., undergraduate or graduate, full-time or part-time)
- Participation in officially recognized activities/sports
- Weight/height of members of athletic teams

Personally identifiable information — Includes not only the name of the student and other personal identifiers, but also a list or description of personal characteristics or any other information that, alone or in combination, is linked or linkable to a specific student that would allow a reasonable person in the school community, who does not have personal knowledge of the student and/or relevant circumstances, to identify the student with reasonable certainty. Further, personally identifiable information includes all information about a student that is not defined as directory information, as well as any information that the student has indicated may not be released, including directory information.

My ASU Parent Guest Access

My ASU Parent Guest Access is an online tool that allows students to share FERPA-protected information with parents and guests. Students have the choice to share some or all of their FERPA-protected information with parents and guests. For more information visit My ASU Parent Guest Access [3].

Student control of directory information

Students may control release of directory information by submitting a Withhold Directory Information Request [4] form.

Unless otherwise requested, a student's name, college, major, enrollment status (undergraduate or graduate), and ASU e-mail address will appear in the directory of faculty, staff, and students in ASU's online directory. To avoid the release of directory information on the web or in general, the Withhold Directory Information Request [4] form must be submitted.

ASU has a policy that regulates and permits the sale of enrolled student directory information only through University Registrar Services. If a FERPA directory hold is on the student's record, the directory information will not be included in these requests.

Students accessing education records or receiving university services must provide proof of identification.

For more detailed information on ASU's FERPA policy, please see SSM 107-01: Release of Student Information [1].

Questions or requests for additional information may be directed to University Registrar Services' Records & Enrollment Services at registrar@asu.edu.

Transaction by proxy

Students unable to process transactions in person or via My ASU [5] may designate another person to process transactions on their behalf by proxy [6].

Student Right to Know Act and Higher Learning Commission Data

As part of the federal Student Right to Know Act, institutions receiving Title IV funding are required to disclose certain information, such as completion or graduation rates of degree seeking, full-time students entering the institution, to current and prospective students. Similarly, the Higher Learning Commission requires that institutions publish student achievement information, such as completion rates, job placement rates or other information useful for current and prospective students. In furtherance of those mandates, the following “Facts About ASU” section provides valuable consumer information about the success of ASU’s students.

Facts About ASU

Arizona State University has a national reputation as a leading research institution. ASU produces more graduates than any other university in the state. Students from around the nation and the world choose ASU because of its diversity and quality of academic, student, and research programs, beautiful campus settings, and the value of the ASU degree in today’s world.

Academic environment

ASU offers over 400 undergraduate majors and over 450 graduate programs. In Fall 2024, when looking at majors with concentrations, students were enrolled in 6 associate’s programs, 440 bachelor’s degree programs, 307 master’s degree programs, 129 doctoral programs, and one law degree program. A list of all degrees offered can be found here: <https://degrees.asu.edu/> [1].

Total ASU students

In the 2023-24 academic year, Arizona State University (ASU) enrolled over 183,000 students across its various campuses. The student distribution was as follows: Tempe (61,493), Downtown Phoenix (11,417), Polytechnic (6,769), West (5,357), Online (97,716), and Other Locations (1,234). By Fall 2024, ASU’s total enrollment was 152,812 students. Of these, 79,818 were enrolled in campus immersion programs, while 72,994 were part of digital immersion programs. ASU attracted students from all 50 U.S. states and 178 countries in Fall 2024. Additionally, 40% of enrolled students were Arizona residents.

New ASU students

In Fall 2024, Arizona State University enrolled 17,269 first-year students, including 13,985 full-time students. Among these full-time first-year students, 29.4% graduated in the top 10% of their high school class. The average ACT composite score for full-time first-year students was 24, and their average SAT combined score was 1241. Additionally, ASU welcomed 15,221 new transfer students, with 22.6% transferring from community colleges in Arizona.

Undergraduate enrollment

In Fall 2024, Arizona State University enrolled 119,676 undergraduate students. Seniors made up the largest portion of the undergraduate population, with 43,248 students, followed by juniors (32,340), sophomores (23,915), and freshmen (18,940), while 1,233 students were enrolled as nondegree seekers. Seniors accounted for more than a quarter of the total student body and over a third of the undergraduate enrollment. The undergraduate student profile reflects a diverse and dynamic community, with 45.3% identifying as ethnic minorities, 4.5% as U.S. nonresident students, and 68.4% enrolled full-time. The average undergraduate student age was 24.2 years.

Graduate enrollment

In Fall 2024, Arizona State University enrolled 33,136 graduate students. This included 26,200 master's students, 4,546 doctoral students, 749 first professional students, and 1,641 nondegree graduate students. The graduate student body was diverse, with 31.8% identifying as ethnic minorities and 23.0% as U.S. nonresident students. Additionally, 50.8% of graduate students were enrolled full-time. The average age of graduate students was 30.7 years.

Degrees awarded & graduate rates

In 2023-24, ASU awarded four associates, 23,678 bachelor's degrees, 12,390 master's degrees, 730 doctoral and 290 law degrees, resulting in a total of 37,092 degrees awarded.

The graduation rate for 2018 full-time first-year students graduating in six years or less was 68.0%. The transfer-out rate for 2018 full-time first-year students was 18.1%. The six-year graduation rate for 2018 full-time first-year students receiving Pell grants, receiving subsidized Stafford Loans but no Pell grant, and receiving neither Pell grant nor Stafford loan was 60.1%, 61.0% and 74.1%, respectively.

The graduation rate for 2019 campus immersion full-time lower-division transfer students graduating in five years or less was 66.3%. The graduation rate for 2020 campus immersion full-time upper-division transfer students graduating in four years or less was 77.8%.

Student-athlete profile

Among student-athletes in the 2017-18 cohort, 71% graduated within six years. The latest NCAA Graduation Success Rate for Division I institutions is 93%. For more details on student-athlete graduation rates, visit: <http://www.ncaa.org/about/resources/research/graduation-rates> [2]. Transcripts

Official and unofficial ASU academic transcripts are available through University Registrar Services.

Sending your transcripts to ASU? Contact Admissions [1] for mailing address information.

Official transcripts

An official transcript is a copy of the student's permanent academic record issued by the University Registrar. It displays all courses taken for credit at ASU and includes all grades received. Unlike unofficial copies, paper and electronic copies of the official transcript display the ASU seal and list a print date. The official paper copies are also signed by the registrar. Effective July 1, 2024, official transcripts are not held for past due financial obligations to the university.

For students that attended the Thunderbird School of Global Management prior to December 31, 2014, information on ordering official transcripts can be found here [2].

ASU cannot send official transcripts by email or fax.

University Registrar Services has partnered with Parchment, a digital credentials service, to manage the ordering, processing, and secure electronic delivery of your official ASU transcripts.

All students are encouraged to go online to place their transcript order. This is the easiest and most efficient way to place an order for either a traditional paper transcript or electronic transcript delivery.

Electronic delivery of official transcripts

Official electronic transcripts may only be ordered using Parchment's online request system. Students choosing this option will identify their recipients by selecting them from a list within the ordering system or by providing the email address of their intended recipients.

To expedite and ensure accurate delivery, students should:

- Make sure the transcript recipient will accept the electronic transcripts, so they can avoid paying to send a replacement copy.
- Double check that the email address they provided for an institution or individual is correct, so they can avoid paying again to send a replacement electronic or paper copy.
- Provide their email addresses for notification purposes (the student's email address assists with tracking and confirming delivery by notifying the student when the transcript is sent and when it is received by the selected institution or individual).
- Instruct recipients to allow emails from Parchment (noreply@parchment.com) to avoid potential problems with spam filters.

Orders are generally processed immediately, unless you request a hold for degree or grades. (Degrees are posted approximately 6 weeks after the conferral date for the semester.)

The transcript is not delivered by email; the recipient's email address is used for notification and reminder messages regarding delivery of the student's transcript to a secure site where it can be accessed.

Ordering official transcripts

Official transcripts can be ordered online or by mail.

Online

- Students who have an ASURITE ID — Sign in to My ASU [3] and order official transcripts online. In the My Classes box, click Grades & Transcripts and then Transcripts & Test Scores (see sample My ASU navigation screenshot below).
- Students who attended ASU after 1980 and who do not yet have an ASURITE ID [4] or do not know their ASURITE ID and password — Please contact the ASU Help Desk at 855-278-5080 for assistance requesting your ASURITE ID.
- Students who attended ASU prior to 1980 and do not have an ASURITE ID — Request transcripts in person or by mail.

By mail

Students may order transcripts by submitting a Request for Official Transcript Form [5] or signed letter including the following information:

- Name
- Former names (if applicable)
- Arizona State University identification number (or SSN)
- Date of birth
- First and last dates of attendance
- Current return address
- Daytime phone number
- Specific mailing address for each transcript ordered

Pre-payment is required. See costs for official transcripts below. Make check or money order payable to Arizona State University.

Send requests for official transcripts to:

Outgoing Transcripts

In person

Students presenting photo ID may order official transcripts in person at the Cashier's Office at the following locations:

- Downtown Phoenix campus — Mon. - Fri. 8:15 a.m. - 4:30 p.m., University Center Building, Suite 112
- Polytechnic campus — Mon. - Fri. 8:15 a.m. - 4:30 p.m., Administration Building, Room 160
- Tempe campus — Mon. - Fri. 8:15 a.m. - 4:30 p.m., Student Services Building, 244
- West campus — Mon. - Fri. 8:15 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., University Center Building, Room 101

Costs

All charges for official transcripts must be paid at time of request. Official transcripts cost $15.00 per official transcript copy requested.

Starting January 6th, 2025, sales tax will be collected in compliance with federal, state, and local tax laws. This change may affect the total cost of your request based on various factors such as document type, delivery method, and location. Before completing your order online, you will see a breakdown of all charges, including any applicable taxes, to ensure total transparency.

Rush transcripts (same day service): $10.00 in addition to the costs for the total number of transcripts ordered. Available for in-person requests only.

- Special delivery in the U.S. — Special delivery processing, instead of regular mail, is available via FedEx or U.S. Express Mail at $22.00 per recipient, in addition to the costs for the total number of transcripts ordered.
- Special delivery outside the U.S. — Express delivery to addresses outside the U.S. is available through International FedEx Express or International Express Mail at $38.00 per recipient, in addition to the costs for the total number of transcripts ordered.

FedEx requires a street address for delivery. FedEx charges an additional fee for all returned shipments, and the student will be responsible for paying the total amount before the transcript(s) will be mailed.

Transcripts will not be reissued after 90 days from the processed date.

Fees subject to change without notice.

Unofficial transcripts

An unofficial transcript is an uncertified copy of the student's academic record. In addition to courses taken for credit at ASU and grades received, unofficial transcripts also include information such as note records regarding Dean's List achievement, grade changes, semester GPAs and probation/disqualification status.

For students that attended the Thunderbird School of Global Management prior to December 31, 2014, information on ordering unofficial transcripts can be found here [7].

Accessing and ordering unofficial transcripts

Here's how to view and request unofficial transcripts:

Online

- Students and former students who have an ASURITE ID — Sign in to view and print an unofficial transcript [8]. You may need to temporarily disable pop-up blocker for this site to retrieve your transcript.

- Students who attended after 1980 and who do not have an ASURITE ID or do not know their ASURITE ID and password — Request an ASURITE ID [4] to access unofficial transcripts online by contacting the ASU Help Desk at 855-278-5080.
- Students who attended prior to 1980 — ASU does not offer online transcript services for students who attended prior to 1980. Request the unofficial transcript in person, by mail or by fax.

You should be in your My ASU student view to access your transcripts. If you have both a student and staff view, this will be indicated in the top right of your screen.

By mail or fax

Students may order an unofficial transcript by mailing or faxing a signed letter including the following information about the student:

- Name and former names (if applicable)
- Arizona State University identification number (or SSN)
- Date of birth
- First and last dates of attendance
- Current return address
- Daytime phone number
- Return Fax number or specific mailing address

Requests for unofficial transcripts by mail or fax must be signed by the student. No computer generated signatures will be accepted. Please send requests for unofficial transcripts to:

Outgoing Transcripts
University Registrar Services
Arizona State University
P.O. Box 870312
Tempe, AZ 85287-0312

Fax: 602-543-8312

In person

Students presenting photo ID may order unofficial transcripts in person at any campus registration site [9].

Costs

There is no fee for an unofficial transcript. For assistance, please contact University Registrar Services [9].

Transcript FAQs

Have questions? Here are the most common FAQs [10].

If you have an ASURITE ID, want to order online, and are familiar with the applicable transcript policies, you can access your transcripts through My ASU [3].

Apostille

Some international organizations may ask for the attachment of an apostille to certain documents. An apostille is an additional level of authentication given to a notarized document to certify that the document is a true, i.e., exact, copy of the original.

Arizona State University can provide notarization of official transcripts or your diploma to submit to the Arizona Secretary of State's Office for apostille purposes. Before requesting notarization, please check with the agency requesting your documents to determine what level of document verification is required.

For more information on how to request notarized official transcripts, please contact Outgoing Transcripts at 480-965-7276 or academicfiles@asu.edu.

For more information on how to request a notarized diploma, please visit this page [1] or contact Graduation at 480-965-3256 or graduation@asu.edu.

You will be responsible for submitting the notarized document(s) to the Arizona Secretary of State's Office to request the apostille. Review the complete instructions for filing an apostille request [2].

Transcript FAQs

Can a student enroll in school after the drop/add deadline?

Provided that the student has been admitted to the university, college approval is required to register for classes after the Drop/Add deadline. Contact the college offering the desired course and follow the instructions given. For initial registration, contact the college of your major. Consult the academic calendar [1] for important deadlines and view detailed instructions on dropping and adding classes [2].

Can someone else order/pick up my official transcript for me?

Yes, someone else may order or pick up your official transcript as long as you give written and signed authorization to do so. The request must include all the information requested for ordering an official transcript.

Does my ASU transcript list courses I transferred from other institutions?

No. Credit is awarded for traditional course work successfully completed at institutions of higher learning as indicated by ASU and the Arizona Board of Regents. However, only the name of the institution(s) and degrees awarded are listed on the ASU transcript.

How can I give my parent/guardian or another individual access to my records?

The Consent for Access to Educational Records or Proxy form [3] is available online. Follow the instructions on the form and turn it in to any registration location [4]. Read more about the privacy of your educational records [5].

How can I obtain a copy of previous school transcripts?

You may request unofficial copies of transcripts from other schools if they were submitted to ASU and if they remain on file. If you are requesting transfer transcripts for official purposes, you must order transcripts from the issuing institutions.

How do I find my ID Number?

Your ASU ID or affiliate number can be found on your Sun Card [6] listed as a 10-digit number, or you can login to My ASU [7] and look under ID's on the My Profile tab.

How do I find out what Holds are on my record?

Holds are listed on your My ASU [7] page under the My Tasks section. There are two types of holds: financial aid disbursement holds and registration holds. Click on the title of Hold to find out how to have the hold removed.

How do I find the pre-requisites for a course?

Search for the course in the Schedule of Classes [8]. The pre-requisites are listed in the Enrollment Information section of the Class Detail.

How do I get a course description for courses listed on my ASU transcript?

Course descriptions for catalogs after 1996 can be printed from the web at the catalog web site [9]. For course descriptions prior to 1996, contact University Archives archives@asu.edu or 480-965-4932.

How do I get an override for a class?

Contact the department offering the desired course, and follow the instructions they provide. Overrides are given either online or on paper. Paper forms must be processed in person at any registration location [4].

How do I order official transcripts?

Official transcripts can be ordered online via My ASU [7], in person or through the mail. Read more detailed information about ordering official transcripts [10].

How do I register for classes? How do I drop/add/swap a class?

To register for the first time or make any changes to your existing registration you have the following options: Log into My ASU [7] and navigate to the My Classes box. Use the registration link and follow the three easy steps listed there. Registration is available 24 hours per day, excluding scheduled outages. You may also visit any registration location [4] to register in person. See detailed instructions [11] and check the academic calendar [12] for important drop/add/withdrawal deadlines.

How long does it take for my degree to post to my transcript?

The majority of degrees are posted within 10-14 days of the degree conferral date. If you need to request an official transcript with your degree posted, you have the option to "hold for degree" which will ensure your official transcript will not be issued until your degree is posted.

How long does it take for my transfer work to appear on my record?

Once the transcript is received, normal processing time is four to six weeks.

I have an immunization hold. What do I need to do?

All students born after January 1, 1957 are required to meet the MMR (Measles, Mumps, Rubella) immunization requirement before class registration. Students have two options for completing this requirement and both are explained here [13]. The MMR vaccine is available for a fee at any of ASU's Health Services [14] locations.

Read additional information [15] about ASU's Immunization Policy FAQ's [16].

What if I have a delinquent account? Can I still obtain a transcript?

You may obtain an unofficial and official transcripts if you have past due financial obligations to the university. Graduates with a delinquent financial obligation of $25 or more will not receive a diploma until their account is paid. Questions about delinquent accounts can be directed to Collections at 480-965-5220.

What is the procedure to change my name on my ASU transcript?

Currently enrolled, newly admitted/readmitted or former ASU students may submit a Student Change of Legal Name Form electronically through DocuSign, by mail, in person or by scanning and e-mailing. All requests require two different forms of documentation, one of which must be picture identification (state/government issued photo ID or ASU Sun Card) and one of the following: marriage license/certificate, adoption papers, court order, divorce decree, social security card or passport/permanent visa. The link to the DocuSign form and paper form can be found at /forms/name-change [17]. For further assistance email registrar@asu.edu or call 480-965-7276.

Where is the schedule of classes available?

The schedule of classes [18] can be found online. A link is also available in the My Classes box in My ASU [7].

Who can I contact if I'm having problems registering for a class?

Contact any registration site on any campus. View locations and hours [4].

Why isn't my class showing up in Canvas?

Once registered for a course, it can take 24 hours for the course to appear. If the course still does not appear, contact the Help Desk at 480-965-6500. Be sure to verify you are registered for the course by checking your class schedule on My ASU [7].

Will ASU hold my transcript and not send it out until my degree or a specific grade is posted?

On the Request for Official Transcript form or the online ordering system, you may request one of the following holds:

- Hold until degree is posted - Your transcript will not be sent until your degree is posted to your ASU transcript.
- Hold until grades are posted - Your transcript will not be sent until all grades for the term you specified on your order are posted to your ASU transcript.

Undergraduate policies and procedures

Admission

First-year students

We're here to help make each step toward becoming a Sun Devil a smooth experience. Follow the steps below to apply to become a first-year student at ASU.

Admission requirements

Course competency requirements

To be admitted to ASU, you need the following coursework:

- 4 years math
- 4 years English (non-ESL/ELL courses)
- 3 years lab sciences (1 year each from biology, chemistry, earth science, integrated sciences or physics)
- 2 years social sciences (including 1 year American history)
- 2 years same second language
- 1 year fine arts or 1 year career and technical education

Detailed course requirements [1]

Aptitude requirements

To be admitted to ASU, you will need one of the following:

- top 25% in high school graduating class
- 3.00 GPA in competency courses (4.00 = "A")
- ACT: 22 (24 nonresidents)
- SAT: 1120 (1180 nonresidents)

These are the general university admission requirements. Students who do not meet these aptitude requirements may be reviewed individually before a final admission decision is made. Some degree programs have higher aptitude requirements. To find the requirements for your specific program, please visit ASU's Degree Search [2].

Applicants must successfully complete the ASU competency requirements. Admission may be granted with one deficiency in no more than two competency areas. Deficiencies cannot be in both math and laboratory science. Students must earn a minimum 2.00 in each subject area. Most competencies may also be met by test scores or college courses. See detailed competency requirements [3] for more information.

How to apply to ASU

Step 01: Complete an undergraduate admission application

Apply online with ASU's Application for Admission [4] or Common Application [5]. You need to submit only one application to be considered for admission to ASU.

To expedite the admission decision, self-report your high school grades in the application.

Choose to not self-report → quicker application process, but takes a little longer for an admission decision.

Choose to self-report → application takes longer to complete, but the admission decision comes much faster.

ASU does not have a preference for which application you use to apply, and we do not require an essay or personal statement for either of these options.

Step 02: Submit the nonrefundable application fee

Arizona residents: $50

Domestic nonresidents: $80

ASU Online: $70

International nonresidents: $85

You can pay using a credit card (Visa or Mastercard) or eCheck at the time you submit your application or when you log in to My ASU [6]. Or you can mail a check or money order to Admission Services (payable to Arizona State University) at the address below.

Admission Services Applicant Processing
Arizona State University
PO Box 871004
Tempe, AZ 85287-1004

If you applied for admission through the Common Application [5], pay the application fee through that application.

Fee waivers

There is no form, paper or code to submit for an application fee waiver. If your financial circumstances qualify you for an application fee waiver, you will answer a series of questions in the application that will automatically qualify you and post to your account.

Step 03: Transcripts

If you do not self-report your high school grades in the application, you must have your high school send an official copy of your transcripts [7] to ASU.

If you have earned college or university credit, request to have your official transcripts [7] sent to ASU from the issuing institution.

Step 04: ACT or SAT scores (optional)

ACT or SAT scores are not required for admission, but may be submitted for ASU course placement or as supplemental information. Have your scores sent to ASU from ACT [8] or College Board [9] when you register for the test. Learn more about sending your test scores to ASU in our FAQ section [10].

Step 05: Check application status

Once you've completed all these steps, ASU will review your application. To see if you have any missing items and to review your admission status, sign in to My ASU using your ASURITE UserID, which is sent to you after you apply for admission.

Check application status

Step 06: Fill out the FAFSA

The Free Application for Federal Student Aid [11] is used to award grants, loans, Federal Work-Study and certain scholarships. We encourage you to compare financial aid and college costs. ASU's Federal School Code is 001081.

Submit your completed FAFSA by ASU's Feb. 1 priority filing date to be considered for the most need-based aid.

Here are important deadlines you need to know for fall 2025

To help you stay on track with the admission and financial aid processes, here are the important deadlines you need to know.

Priority admission date

Complete your application for fall 2025 admission [4] by the Nov. 1 priority admission date to ensure you're considered for the maximum amount of scholarship opportunities.

Regular admission date

ASU's regular admission date is Jan. 15. Make sure to complete your fall 2025 admission application by this date.

ASU's Scholarship Universe

ASU's Scholarship Universe opened for admitted students on Oct. 1, 2024. Students can build their profile, match with and apply for scholarships.

FAFSA priority date

The 2025–2026 Free Application for Federal Student Aid [11] is now open. ASU's priority FAFSA filing date is Feb. 1, 2025.

ASU's Federal School Code is 001081.

Obama Scholars Program priority date

Obama Scholars Program

Students must complete two steps by the dates below to be considered and evaluated for the Obama Scholars Program [12].

Jan. 15 application deadline — Students must submit their complete ASU admission application. A complete application includes the admission application and application fee.

Feb. 1 FAFSA submission deadline — Students must have their FAFSA submitted by Jan. 15 to be eligible for Obama Scholars review.

Arizona Promise Program priority date

Arizona Promise Program

To be considered for the Arizona Promise Program [12], you must submit a completed application for admission, including application fee or waiver, official transcripts, and the FAFSA, by April 1, 2025. The sooner you complete all these items, the sooner you receive your notification.

Barrett, The Honors College

Barrett, The Honors College [13] is a community of scholars at all four ASU campuses which offers a unique curriculum and honors-only benefits to complement and enhance the Sun Devil experience. Students must apply to Barrett through a free and separate application to be considered for admission.

The Barrett application opened Sept. 4, 2024.

Prospective students should apply to ASU at least 4 weeks before their preferred Barrett deadline, which are listed below:

Early Action: Nov. 1, 2024

Regular Decision: Jan. 15, 2025

Late Consideration: March 15, 2025

National Scholars and College Board National Recognition Program Awardee

Arizona residents who've been designated as National Scholar or College Board National Recognition Program Awardees [14] must apply to ASU in order to be eligible for their scholarship.

Nation Merit Finalists must select ASU by May 1 to be awarded their scholarship.

Next Generation Service Corps

Students who join the Next Generation Service Corps [15] at ASU are committed to more than academic achievement and career preparation. This program builds a culture of service in future leaders who will go on to tackle some of the world's toughest challenges.

The application opened Oct. 15.

The priority deadline is Jan. 15 2025.

Housing portal opens

ASU's housing portal will open in early January.

New American University Scholarships

New American University Scholarships are awarded in late fall. Students are automatically considered for NAMU awards (there is no additional application). Submitting your test scores is encouraged.

Students will be notified by letter and email if NAMU is awarded.

Enrollment deposit

ASU's enrollment deposit opens in early October.

New Student Orientation Experience

Through ASU's New Student Orientation Experience, accessed online at links.asu.edu/nsoe [16] or in My ASU [6], you will prepare to take classes by completing essential next steps for enrollment.

There are three steps as part of the New Student Orientation Experience:

1. ASU Essentials (opens in October).
2. Academic Orientation Session (select your date now for a session in spring or summer).
3. ASU Ready (opens mid-summer).

Tips for applying to college

Higher admission requirements

If your first-choice major has higher requirements, you will be instructed to select a second major without higher requirements.

Common Application

ASU accepts the Common Application [5] and our own online application [4] for incoming first-year students. Only one application will be accepted, with no preference between the ASU application and the Common Application. If two applications are submitted, one will be canceled in our system. Application fees are nonrefundable.

Self-report your grades

ASU accepts self-reported high school grades on the undergraduate admission application. Submission of an ACT or SAT score is highly recommended for merit-based scholarship consideration.

Individual review

ASU admission decisions begin the first week of September. Students who do not meet the admission standards will be evaluated through individual review and may experience a longer wait time for an admission decision.

Homeschool or online/virtual high school students

ASU welcomes applications from home-educated students and students who have attended an accredited online/virtual high school. You can easily fill out the application and then include additional information to accurately demonstrate your accomplishments.

GED*

Battery average score:

50 or above for tests taken between 1998 and 2001.

500 or above for tests taken between 2002 and 2013.

170 or above for tests taken after 2013.

HiSet*

Total score of 75.

TASC (Test Assessing Secondary Completion)*

Minimum total score of 2700.

Minimum score of 500 on each of the five content areas.

Score of 2 or above on essay.

California High School Proficiency Examination

The California High School Proficiency Examination and other high school equivalency diplomas are recognized as high school diplomas, but do not satisfy course competency and aptitude requirements needed for admission. Students should submit their diploma to show completion of high school, but will also need to submit additional high school transcripts or SAT or ACT scores to satisfy course competency and aptitude requirements for admission. Alternatively, enrollment and successful completion of 24 semester credits with a 2.75 minimum GPA through Earned Admission [17], or completion of 24 or more college credits from a regionally accredited college or university with a minimum of 2.50 cumulative GPA on a 4.00 scale may be used to satisfy requirements for admission.

College Credit Pathway

Some states, including Arizona, offer a College Credit Pathway as an option for students to obtain a high school equivalency (HSE). If the HSE is obtained, ASU will accept that credential as completion of the high school graduation requirement but the student may still need additional high school coursework and/or SAT/ACT scores to meet course competency requirements and high school aptitude if the student does not have 24 transferable credits taken post high school. *Some higher requirement programs may require ACT/SAT scores or additional coursework in order to satisfy aptitude and/or course competency requirements.

Frequently asked questions about applying to college

When should I apply to college as a first-year student?

The ASU application opens on or around July 1 each year. You are encouraged to apply to ASU as early as possible. Nov. 1 is ASU's priority admission date, and Jan. 15 is ASU's regular admission date. The earlier you apply, the earlier you'll receive an admission decision and the more likely you'll be to secure the most financial aid possible.

Is it OK to submit applications to several different universities?

Yes, you should apply to all the universities you are interested in possibly attending. Just be aware that universities charge application fees, which can add up. Many universities are part of the Common Application [20], including ASU, which can save you time by using the information you enter once for several applications.

Other than the admission application, what information will I need to provide to complete the application process?

In addition to the application, you will need to submit the nonrefundable application fee, as well as self-report your high school grades or have your high school transcripts sent to ASU. ACT or SAT scores are not required for admission, but may be submitted for ASU course placement or as supplemental information.

How to meet ASU course competency requirements

Competency requirements may be met with high school work, college work or test scores. These requirements must be met regardless of your major or the number of transferable hours you have earned. Students must earn a minimum 2.00 GPA in each competency area.

Admission may be granted with one deficiency in no more than two competency areas. Deficiencies in both math and laboratory science are not acceptable.

For exceptions to the competency requirements, see below [1].

English competency requirement

Meet one of the following:

- Four years of high school English (composition- or literature-based).
- Minimum test score of 21 on ACT English, or 580 on SAT evidence-based reading and writing.
- One transferable 3-credit college English composition course.

English composition placement

All new students will be placed in First-Year Composition ENG 101. Students whose native language is not English will be enrolled in ENG 107. Enrollment in ENG 105, Advanced First Year composition, is based on placement test scores [2].

If you have college-level transfer credit or test credit equivalent to ASU's first year composition course(s), that credit will be considered in placement. You can search ASU's equivalency database for transfer credit at tcg.asu.edu [3]. If applicable, be sure to include any of the above when you register for the Academic Orientation Session.

Mathematics competency requirement

Meet one of the following:

- Four years of high school courses: one year each of algebra I, geometry, algebra II and an advanced math class for which algebra II is a prerequisite.
- Minimum test score of 24 on ACT math, or 580 on SAT math.
- One transferable 3-credit college math course for which at least intermediate algebra is a prerequisite.

Laboratory science competency requirement

Students may meet any one or a combination of the following options, provided that three distinct laboratory-based science courses are completed with a 2.00 unweighted GPA or higher.

- Three years of high school laboratory sciences in three different subject areas, preferably biology, chemistry, earth science or physics.
 - A laboratory-based integrated science course may be allowed to substitute for one of the three lab sciences. Each course should be one year in length.
 - Additionally, a laboratory-based advanced science course may be allowed to substitute for one of the three lab sciences. An advanced science class is a lab science that is generally taken in the last two years of high school and is at least one of the following:
 - an advanced placement course
 - a higher-level international baccalaureate course
 - a dual enrollment course
 - other honors course for which the previous lab science course is a prerequisite
- Minimum test scores in three standardized tests from three different subject matters. The following tests may be taken: SAT II subject test score in chemistry-600, biology-590, physics-620 or ACT test score in science-20.
- Three transferable 4-credit college laboratory science courses from the following: biology, chemistry, earth science or physics. An integrated laboratory science or advanced-level laboratory-based science may be substituted for one of these laboratory subjects.

Laboratory science courses (for online high schools only)

ASU requires students to complete three different lab sciences. In order to determine if your lab sciences meet our lab science requirement, we may need additional information from you. If we require additional information once your admission application reaches our evaluation team, you will see a Priority Task displayed on My ASU called Course Description.

You can provide the additional information required through one of the following:

- Have your high school submit your lab sciences to the courseapproval.asu.edu [4] website for ASU to review if it is not already listed on the website.
- Submit a course description form for each lab science taken in an accredited online high school environment if not already approved for your entire high school to ASU's homeschool representative.

Second language competency requirement

Meet one of the following:

- Two years of the same high school second language.
- Attainment of minimum score on a national standardized second language test or placement into a third semester college second language class based on university placement exam results.

- Two transferable 3- or 4-credit, college-level courses in the same second language.

Social science competency requirement

Meet one of the following options from Section A and one from Section B:

Section A

- One year of high school American history.
- Minimum SAT II subject test score of 560 on American history/social studies.
- One transferable 3-credit college American history course.

Section B

- One year of high school social science (e.g., European history, world history, economics, sociology, geography, government, psychology or anthropology).
- Minimum SAT II subject test score of 580 on world history.
- One transferable 3-credit college social science course.

Fine arts or career and technical education competency requirement

Meet one of the following:

- One year (or a combination of two semesters) of high school fine arts or career and technical education.
- One transferable 3-credit college fine arts course.

Exceptions

You do not need to meet competency requirements if one of the following statements is true:

- You have completed an associate or higher-level degree from a regionally accredited postsecondary institution with a minimum 2.00 GPA ("A"=4.00) if you are an Arizona resident, or you have a minimum 2.50 GPA ("A"=4.00) if you are a nonresident.
- You have completed the Arizona General Education Curriculum (AGEC) with a minimum 2.00 GPA ("A"=4.00) if you are an Arizona resident or a 2.50 GPA ("A"=4.00) if you are a nonresident.

Admitted student next steps

Welcome, first-year Sun Devil!

You're now on your way to becoming part of the most innovative and forward-thinking university in the nation.

They say the longest journey begins with a single step. Well, enrolling at ASU isn't really a "long journey," but it does begin with one step, followed by a few more. Start taking your steps and check them off as you complete them so you can get closer to becoming a Sun Devil.

Important deadlines

To help you stay on track with the fall 2025 admission and financial aid processes, check out our important deadlines page.

First-year student next steps

Activate your ASURITE User ID

Your ASURITE User ID grants you access to My ASU and university services. You'll find reminders for things like submitting your final transcripts, sending in your test scores and submitting your immunization forms.

When you activate your ASURITE User ID, you will select to have your ASU email forwarded to a personal account. You'll gain access to your official ASU email after you have attended your academic orientation session and enrolled in your first semester courses. You can check which email account your ASU email is forwarding to by looking in the Profile tab in My ASU.

[Activate ASURITE \[3\]](#)

If you need help logging in, you can have your activation code for My ASU sent to you by visiting admission.asu.edu/resendcode [3] or by contacting your admission team member [2].

Give your parents access to your records and account

Through My ASU Parent Guest Access, you can share your academic records with your parent or guardian, and even better, give them access to pay your tuition and bills. Go to My ASU [4], select the Profile tab at the top and find "Add a Guest" under My ASU Guest Access Permissions.

Pay your enrollment deposit

Beginning Oct. 1, you can confirm your place in the incoming fall 2025 class by submitting your deposit. Then make sure to check My ASU [4] often for any Priority Tasks you need to complete to enroll for fall 2025.

[Confirm your spot \[5\]](#)

Submit your FAFSA and apply for scholarships

The Free Application for Federal Student Aid for the 2025–2026 academic year opens fall 2024, but you can set up your FSA ID now to get ready to file the FAFSA. You'll need to create an FSA ID to electronically sign and submit your FAFSA. If you are a dependent, your parent (contributor on the FAFSA) will also need to create an FSA ID.

Submit your measles, mumps and rubella immunization record

All students born after Jan. 1, 1957, are required to meet the following MMR immunization requirement [8] before classes begin:

Option 1: Provide proof of two MMR (Measles, Mumps and Rubella) vaccinations. The first MMR must be given on or after your first birthday; The second MMR must be four weeks from the first, or later.

Option 2: Provide a copy of a Measles IgG or MMR IgG lab test showing positive immunity.

Upload required documentation in My Health Portal [9].

ASU's New Student Orientation Experience

Through ASU's New Student Experience, accessed online in My ASU, you will prepare to take classes in the fall by completing essential next steps for enrollment. There are three steps — view details here [12] and check My ASU for updates. As part of the New Student Orientation Experience, you'll meet with your academic college and finalize your class schedule. All students must complete the New Student Orientation Experience in order to enroll in classes.

New Student Orientation Experience [12]

Confirm your housing and dining

ASU first-year students live in the residential college of their academic major. Barrett, The Honors College students live in the Barrett residential community for their first two years. The priority deadline to apply for housing is May 15. Students who do not meet the deadline will need to seek alternative housing arrangements for the 2025-2026 academic year. Once you've paid your enrollment deposit, you can select your housing and dining preferences.

Please note that it may take one to two business days for your enrollment deposit status to be reflected in the housing portal.

First-year student FAQs

What does it mean to self-report my courses on the admission application?

During the application process, you will be asked to enter all your courses and grades for school years 9 to 11 as they appear on your official high school transcript. You will also be asked to enter your in-progress courses for year 12.

How do I enter my courses and grades into the admission application?

To accurately enter all information, you must have your high school transcript when filling out the Required High School Courses section in My Grades. All semester, trimester or quarter grades must be listed in the Required High School Courses section.

The information entered in the Required High School Courses section must match your official transcript if you have been admitted and intend to enroll. Any inaccurate information can result in your admission being revoked.

Am I able to include college courses or dual credit courses I have taken while in high school on my admission application?

Yes, the application gives you the option to self-report any college courses or dual credit courses you have taken before enrolling at ASU.

What should I do if my high school lists my grades numerically?

If your transcript includes a numerical grading scale, click on 100 point based in the Grading System section of your application and then you will select the number range for your grades in the Grades section.

When do I submit my final transcripts for admission to ASU?

If you have been admitted and intend to enroll at ASU, you will need to have your official high school transcripts sent directly to ASU once you graduate. Do not send any official transcripts during the application process or before you graduate.

Admission for homeschool students

Homeschool students at ASU

Arizona State University welcomes homeschool students and recognizes the unique academic experiences these students contribute to our rich, scholarly environment. We have a growing community of home-educated students who thrive at ASU.

We understand that your academic background differs from students who attended traditional public, private or charter schools. As a homeschool student, you can fill out the ASU application for admission and then include additional information to accurately demonstrate your accomplishments.

Admission requirements

As a homeschool student, you must meet the general requirements for ASU admission, and include specific documentation [1] with your application to confirm your completion of the requirements.

First-year student requirements [2]

Transfer student requirements [3]

Steps to apply to ASU as a homeschool student

Step 01: Complete an undergraduate admission application

Apply online with ASU's Application for Admission [4] or the Common Application [5]. You need to submit only one application to be considered for admission to ASU.

To expedite the admission decision, self-report your high school grades in the application.

ASU does not have a preference for which application you use to apply, but submit only one. Additionally, ASU does not require an essay or personal statement to accompany either application.

Step 02: Submit the nonrefundable application fee

Arizona residents: $50

Domestic nonresidents: $70

International nonresidents: $85

You can pay the application fee using a credit card (Visa or Mastercard) or eCheck at the time you submit your application or when you log in to My ASU [6]. Or you can mail a check or money order to Admission Services (payable to Arizona State University) at the address below.

Admission Services Applicant Processing
Arizona State University
PO Box 871004
Tempe AZ 85287-1004

If you applied for admission through the Common Application [5], pay the application fee through that application.

There is no form, paper or code to submit for an application fee waiver. If your financial circumstances qualify you for an application fee waiver, you will be asked to answer a series of questions in the application that will automatically determine if you qualify and post to your account if you do.

Step 03: Transcripts

If you do not self-report your high school grades in the application, you must have your high school send an official copy of your transcripts [7] to ASU.

If you have earned college or university credit, request to have your official transcripts [7] sent to ASU from the issuing institution.

Step 04: Laboratory Science Courses: (For online high schools ONLY)

ASU requires students to complete 3 different lab sciences. In order to determine if your lab sciences meet our lab science requirement, we may need additional information from you. If we require additional information once your admission application reaches our evaluation team, you will see a Priority Task displayed on My ASU titled "Course Description." You can provide the additional information required through one of the following:

1. You can have your high school submit your lab sciences to the courseapproval.asu.edu [8] website for ASU to review if it is not already listed on the website.
2. You can submit a course description form [9] for each lab science taken in an accredited online high school environment if not already approved for your entire high school to ASU's homeschool representative [10].
3. You can choose to be evaluated without some or all of your lab science requirements met. Note, if you choose this option, you may not be admissible to the university.

Step 05: Send ACT or SAT scores (not required)

ACT or SAT scores are not required for admission, but may be submitted for ASU course placement and to meet aptitude requirements if you have less than a 3.00 GPA in your competency courses. To find the requirements for your specific program, please visit ASU's Degree Search [11]. Have your scores sent to ASU from ACT [12] or College Board [13] when you register for the test. Learn more about sending your test scores to ASU in our FAQ section [14].

Step 06: Check application status

Once you've completed all these steps, ASU will review your application. To see if you have any missing items and to review your admission status, log in to My ASU [6] using your ASURITE User ID, which is sent to you after you apply for admission.

Step 07: Fill out the FAFSA

The Free Application for Federal Student Aid is used to award grants, loans, Federal Work-Study and certain scholarships. We encourage you to compare financial aid and college costs [15]. You can file the FAFSA [16] now. ASU's Federal School Code is 001081.

Step 08: Submit a secondary school education affidavit or high school transcript (if applicable)

Homeschool applicants may self-report their grades or send a homeschool transcript. A homeschool transcript is a list of courses you have taken and the credit and grade associated with each course. The transcript must include a signature from a parent or guardian who oversaw the education.

If you have completed courses through a traditional high school, you may self-report your grades or have your high school send an official copy of your transcripts [7] to ASU.

If you have coursework from both a traditional high school and from homeschool transcript (see above for requirements), please self-report grades for both or have a transcript sent to ASU.

If you have earned college or university credit, request to have your official transcripts [7] sent directly to ASU from the issuing institution.

Should a home school transcript not be available to submit and you only need proof of your high school graduation, you may complete the Affidavit of Completion of Secondary School Education [17] form in substitution of a home school transcript. The affidavit must be completed by a parent or guardian who oversaw the education.

Admission to Barrett, The Honors College

Homeschool students who want to be considered for admission to Barrett, The Honors College [18] are encouraged to submit a separate application — an early application is strongly suggested. Please contact the Barrett admission staff [19] for help with any questions about the college and application process.

Scholarship opportunities

Homeschool students will be considered for ASU scholarships upon admission. Explore scholarships and additional types of financial aid [20].

Frequently asked questions about homeschool student admission at ASU

Can I be admitted to ASU as a homeschool student?

Yes, ASU welcomes and values all our homeschool students and the special academic experiences they bring to the university. Homeschool students submit the same ASU admission application as students who went to public or private school.

Are homeschool student admission requirements the same as high school student admission requirements?

Yes, like public and private high school students, homeschool students must meet and demonstrate completion of ASU's general requirements for university admission [2].

Can homeschool students apply for financial aid?

Yes, homeschool students are eligible to apply for and receive financial aid. You should submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid [16] to see how much federal aid you may be eligible to receive. By submitting ACT or SAT scores, ASU will automatically consider you upon admission for a merit scholarship.

Homeschool affidavit and lab sciences evaluation

For homeschool students only.

Homeschool applicants can submit their homeschool transcript with a signature from a parent/guardian to meet their proof of high school graduation. Should a homeschool transcript not be available, an Affidavit of Completion of Secondary School Education [1] can be completed in lieu of the homeschool transcript but note this affidavit will only meet the proof of high school graduation requirement. The affidavit must be completed/signed by the parent or guardian who oversaw the education.

Homeschool students without a high school transcript who need the high school transcript to meet the first year student requirement [2] may complete one of the following high school equivalency exams with scores mentioned below to fulfill their first year student requirement.

GED battery average score of

- 50 or above for tests taken between 1998-2001
- 500 or above for tests taken between 2002-2013
- 170 or above for tests taken after 2013

HiSet total score of 75

TASC (Test Assessing Secondary Completion):

- Minimum total score of 2700
- Minimum score of 500 on each of the five content areas
- Score 2 or above on essay

Laboratory science for online high schools or non-standard homeschool laboratory science courses

For homeschool and online students only.

ASU requires students to complete three different lab sciences. In order to determine if your lab sciences meet our lab science requirement, we may need additional information from you. If we require additional information once your admission application reaches our evaluation team, you will see a Priority Task displayed on your MyASU page titled "Course Description." Transfer student admission

Transfer and second bachelor's student admission requirements

A transfer applicant is a student who has attended one or more colleges or universities and has completed 12 or more transferable semester credits post-high school. Students with fewer than 12 transferable credits are considered incoming first-year students.

Competency requirement

You must have completed one of the following:

- Graduated from high school.
- Earned a GED.

Aptitude requirement

You must meet one of the following:

- Transfer students with 12–23 transferable credits must also have a minimum 2.50 cumulative transfer GPA and meet first-year student admission requirements [1].
- Transfer students with 24 or more transferable credits must have a minimum 2.50 cumulative transfer GPA.
- Transfer students who have earned an associate degree or higher from a regionally accredited higher education institution must have a minimum 2.00 cumulative GPA (for Arizona residents) or 2.50 cumulative GPA (for nonresidents).

Download this infographic to help guide you through the transfer requirements.

Download [2]

Some degree programs have higher admission requirements. To find the requirements for your specific program, please visit ASU's Degree Search [3].

"A" = 4.00; ASU accepts college-level courses in which you have earned a "C-" or better.

The ASU transfer student admission process

Follow these steps to apply to Arizona State University as a transfer student.

Step 01: Complete the undergraduate application for admission

Apply online with ASU's Application for Admission [4] or the Common Application [5]. ASU accepts only one application. We have no preference between the ASU application or the Common Application. If two applications are submitted, one will be canceled in our system. Application fees are nonrefundable.

Step 02: Activate My ASU and your ASURITE UserID

You will receive your ASURITE UserID and activation code via email within one to three business days of submitting your application. If you have previously applied to ASU, your ASURITE UserID will remain the same. You'll use your ASURITE UserID to log in to My ASU.

Step 03: Submit the nonrefundable transfer application fee

Arizona residents: $50

Domestic nonresidents: $80

ASU Online: $70

International nonresidents: $85

You can pay for the ASU application fee using a credit card (Visa or MasterCard) or eCheck at the time you submit your transfer application or when you log in to My ASU [6]. Or you can mail a check or money order to Admission Services (payable to Arizona State University) at the address below.

Admission Services Applicant Processing
Arizona State University
PO Box 871004
Tempe, AZ 85287-1004

If you applied for admission through the Common Application [5], pay the application fee through that application.

Step 04: Request to have your official transcripts sent to ASU

College or university transcripts

ASU requires official transcripts from all previous institutions attended in order to process your application. Please contact the registrar's office at your college or university and request your official transcripts be sent directly to Admission Services. Official transcripts delivered by hand will be accepted only if they are sealed in the original envelope provided by the community college or university and bear the university seal and the signature of the registrar of the issuing institution.

If your college or university uses Parchment, eSCRIP or National Clearinghouse to send electronic transcripts, please request that your institution sends us your official transcripts by choosing Arizona State University on the request form.

Upon graduation or completion of your final semester at your current school, request a final transcript be sent directly to ASU Admission Services [7] to determine final admission status. Receipt of your final transcript impacts financial aid disbursement and your eligibility to register for classes. (Note: ASU does not accept faxed college transcripts.)

Find out more about transferring credits to ASU [8].

High school transcripts

If you haven't completed an associate degree or higher from a regionally accredited university or college you must submit one of the following:

- Official high school transcript with a graduation date
- Official GED/HiSet transcripts
- Affidavit of Completion of Secondary School Education

ASU accepts hand-delivered official high school transcripts in sealed envelopes from applicants. (ASU does not accept faxed high school transcripts.)

NOTE: Transfer applicants with 24 or more transferable semester credit hours from a regionally accredited college or university, including previously completed ASU credits, and who will be 22 or older by the start of the requested semester of admission, will not be required to submit a high school transcript for admission. Once all prior college or university transcripts and outstanding admission items are received and verified, the high school transcript requirement will be waived. Transfer applicants are required to have graduated from an approved high school (or equivalent) prior to the semester of requested admission at ASU, and to include this information on the application for admission.

Test scores

If applicable, have your ACT or SAT scores sent directly to ASU. If you have taken AP, IB or CLEP exams, request your scores be sent directly to ASU.

Have your test scores (e.g., ACT, SAT, TOEFL) and official high school or college transcripts sent from the issuing institution to the address below.

Admission Services Applicant Processing
Arizona State University
PO Box 871004
Tempe, AZ 85287-1004

Second bachelor's degree students

Students seeking a second baccalaureate degree must meet admission criteria for that degree. High school transcripts are not required unless you have selected a higher requirement degree program that requires it. If admitted, a minimum of 30 credit hours in resident credit courses at ASU must be successfully completed to earn the second baccalaureate degree and all degree and university requirements of the second degree must be met. After admission, your academic advisor in your college will help you determine if there are enough courses to meet this criteria for your chosen program. For more information on additional degrees, please visit the university undergraduate graduation requirements page [9].

You can find other important dates on ASU's academic calendar [13].

Frequently asked questions about transferring to ASU

What are ASU transfer requirements?

To apply to ASU as a transfer student, you must have earned either a high school diploma or a GED. Additionally, you must have transferable college credits or an associate degree and meet GPA requirements.

When should I apply to ASU? What are the application deadlines?

ASU uses a rolling admission process that allows for a flexible time frame. ASU typically recommends that students start their steps to apply at least one semester prior to their starting term at ASU. It may take approximately two to six weeks to receive an admission decision once all requested materials are received. Although there are no “hard” deadlines to apply to ASU, there are a few priority dates to keep in mind if you’d like to maximize your opportunities for financial aid. You can review these dates, as well as admission requirements and steps to apply on this page.

Transfer student FAQ

How do I know if I'm considered a transfer student?

At ASU, a transfer student is anyone applying for admission who has attended another college or university and has completed 12 or more transferable credits post-high school, at the time of application. If you are completing college courses while in high school you are considered a first-year student and not a transfer student.

Do I have to take the ACT or SAT to transfer to ASU?

It depends on your particular situation. If you transfer fewer than 24 transferable credits, you must also meet freshman admission requirements, which may require ACT or SAT scores. Also, some majors, such as business, require a particular ACT or SAT score for admission into the program. Take a peek at the ASU undergraduate Degree Search [1] for admission information specific to your major.

Who can I speak with about my transfer to ASU?

ASU's expert transfer specialists are available to answer your questions and help with your transfer to ASU. Find your transfer admission team member [2].

Do I need to send my high school transcripts to apply for admission?

Transfer applicants with 24 or more transferable semester credit hours from a regionally accredited college or university, and who will be 22 or older by the start of the requested semester of admission, will not be required to submit a high school transcript for admission. Once all prior college or university transcripts and outstanding admission items are received and verified, the high school transcript requirement will be waived. Transfer applicants are required to have graduated from an approved high school (or equivalent) prior to the semester of requested admission at ASU, and to include this information on the application for admission.

Do I have to send all my college transcripts as part of my admission application?

Yes, for ASU to determine whether you meet admission requirements, we must evaluate your entire academic history, including coursework completed at each college or university attended, regardless of academic performance. College transcripts should be sent directly from your college to:

ASU Admission Services

P.O. Box 871004

Tempe, AZ 85287-1004

I attended ASU previously. Am I a transfer student or a readmission student? Do I need to reapply?

If you have previously attended ASU as a degree-seeking student, you will be considered a readmission student. Please see readmission information [3].

I applied to ASU and was admitted, but did not attend. Do I need to reapply?

Yes, you need to reapply. Be sure to sign in to My ASU [4] to see if any additional items are needed to complete your file.

Do I have to have an associate degree to transfer to ASU?

No, you can transfer to ASU at any time as long as you meet the transfer admission requirements. However, ASU recommends attaining your associate degree before transferring.

As a transfer student, how do I know how many credits can be applied toward my major?

Once you are admitted, you'll work with your academic advisor and review your DARS (Degree Audit Report System) to see which credits apply to your major.

What prerequisites do I need to complete before I can transfer to ASU?

There are no prerequisites required to be admitted to ASU, unless you have fewer than 24 transferable credits. Students with fewer than 24 transferable credits are required to meet first-year admission requirements [5], including aptitude and competency requirements.

Can I live on campus as a transfer student?

Yes, ASU has housing devoted specifically to upper-division students and strongly encourages all students to live on campus during their first year at ASU. For more information, please refer to University Housing [6].

There are also a variety of off-campus housing options in close proximity to ASU's campuses. For more information on off-campus housing, check out Off-Campus Housing [7].

If I'm attending a California community college, is the IGETC/CSU GE required to transfer to ASU?

The IGETC/CSU GE is not a requirement for admission to ASU but is highly recommended. Completing either of the GE patterns and getting certified by your community college will satisfy the General Studies requirements at ASU.

What does it mean to get IGETC/CSU GE certified?

Getting certified means you have completed all General Education requirements at your California community college. If you have confirmed with your community college counselor that you are eligible for the certification, ASU will require that you submit the official certification along with your official transcripts to Admission Services.

Currently, I don't meet the Western Undergraduate Exchange admission requirements. Should I wait to apply?

No. Even though you may not currently qualify for WUE, we will always reevaluate your admission to the program if you currently have courses in progress and submit your final transcripts.

I live in California but would like to meet with an ASU representative in person to discuss the transfer process. Is this possible?

ASU representatives will be attending college transfer fairs and hosting various visits at community colleges throughout California. Find your transfer specialist [8] to ask about upcoming opportunities near you.

How do my credits transfer to ASU?

ASU awards transfer credit for college-level coursework as long as it was completed at a regionally accredited institution, you earned a grade of "C" or higher, and ASU offers an equivalent course. To see how your credits transfer to ASU, use the online Transfer Guide [9]. Click on Course Search to get started. Read more about how your credits transfer to ASU [10], and if you have additional questions, contact your transfer admission team member [8].

When should I apply to ASU? What are the application deadlines?

ASU uses a rolling admission process that allows for a flexible time frame. ASU typically recommends that students start their steps to apply at least one semester prior to their starting term at ASU. It may take approximately two to six weeks to receive an admission decision once all requested materials are received. Although there are no "hard" deadlines to apply to ASU, there are a few priority dates to keep in mind if you'd like to maximize your opportunities for financial aid. You can review these dates, as well as admission requirements and steps to apply, at admission.asu.edu/apply/transfer/admission [11].

How are pass/fail courses being accepted?

If the transcript key or the institution provides information that indicates a Pass grade is comparable to a C- or higher, the course will be counted as transferable but will not be calculated in the student's transfer GPA for admission. A Fail grade will be counted as an "F" and calculated in the student's GPA accordingly.

Will a pass/fail grade affect my transfer GPA to determine if I meet admission criteria?

Pass grades are not counted in the GPA, but may be transferable to ASU if the institution or transcript indicates the "P" grade is comparable to a C- or better. Fail grades are calculated as an "F" and will impact your GPA.

If I receive a pass/fail grade for a course, does it transfer to ASU?

If the transcript key indicates a Pass grade is comparable to a C- or higher, the course will be counted as transferable but will not be calculated in your GPA. A Fail grade will be counted as an "F" and calculated in your GPA.

If I receive a pass/fail grade, does it count toward my degree completion?

If the institution or transcript indicates the "P" grade is comparable to a C- or better and the course is on your degree map, it will count toward degree completion.

Can I be admitted to ASU with a pass/fail course on my transcripts?

The admission criteria remains the same. We will look at all submitted information to determine admissibility to ASU.

Can I be admitted into programs with higher admission requirements if I opt to receive a pass/fail grade for my courses?

GPA and test scores will still be used to determine admissibility. Pass grades are not calculated into your GPA for admission purposes, but may still be transferable. Opting for a Pass grade rather than a letter grade could impact your admissibility if you need to bring up your transfer GPA to meet the criteria for a program with higher requirements. If you have the option of being issued a Pass grade or a letter grade, opt for the letter grade.

Will ASU accept my AGEC completion with pass/fail grades on coursework?

Yes.

Will my associate degree transfer to ASU if I have coursework with a pass/fail grade?

Yes. Any coursework with a Pass grade that the institution indicates is comparable to C- or better is transferable.

Will pass/fail grades affect financial aid or scholarships that I receive from ASU?

No, maintaining eligibility for ASU financial aid or scholarships is based on your ASU GPA.

How does my coursework with grades transfer to ASU?

Refer to admission.asu.edu/transfer/transferring-credits [12] for information on how credits transfer to ASU.

How does academic renewal play into the evaluation process? For example, if a community college agrees to grant academic renewal to a particular grade and exclude it from their GPA calculation, would that also exclude the grade from ASU's GPA calculation?

If a grade was earned, ASU will calculate it into the transfer GPA for admission. Academic renewal at a prior institution does not carry over to ASU.

Admission requirements

General university admission is guaranteed upon successful completion of the following conditions: 1) Completion of an associate degree from a regionally accredited higher education institution with a minimum 2.00 cumulative GPA (Arizona residents) or 2.50 cumulative GPA (nonresidents) or 2) completion of 24 or more transferable semester credits post-high school with a minimum cumulative transfer GPA of 2.50 (4.00="A") and verification of high school graduation or the equivalent. NOTE: Some ASU colleges and schools have additional or higher requirements for admission into their majors. Students will also need to submit an Arizona State University admission application, including an application fee and other required documents, such as official college/university transcripts. MyPath2ASU® pathway programs are based on a minimum of 24 transfer credit hours; students with fewer than 24 credit transfer credit hours will need to meet the appropriate admission [13] requirements. International students will need to meet international admission requirements [14].

Frequently asked questions about transfer pathway programs

What is MyPath2ASU® and how does it affect my MAPP, TAG or GPA agreement?

MyPath2ASU® is a new set of customized tools to help students transfer from community college to ASU. It makes transferring colleges seamless by allowing students to plan their path to transfer into their major at ASU by taking the right classes. Your MAPP, TAG or GPA agreement has been updated to a MyPath2ASU®. No changes are necessary.

When should I sign up for MyPath2ASU® and how long do I have to complete it?

Students can sign up for MyPath2ASU® when they enroll in community college. Upon signing your MyPath2ASU® agreement, you have four academic years to complete a MyPath2ASU®.

Can I change my major after I sign up for MyPath2ASU®?

Yes, you can change your major.

If you are a student from Maricopa County Community College District you can update your pathway agreement by signing up for a new MAPP MyPath2ASU®. For all other students, you can change your pathway agreement by logging in to My Transfer Guide account and updating your current MyPath2ASU® agreement.

Transferring credits to ASU

Transfer Guide

ASU's Transfer Guide is a helpful online tool to assist you in your transfer planning process. Manage your Transfer Pathways, requested course evaluations, saved courses searches, saved exam searches and more.

[View the Transfer Guide \[1\]](#)

How credits transfer to ASU

When you transfer to ASU from another college or university, the following general standards for transfer credits apply. You can use ASU transfer tools to learn how credits will transfer and begin creating your roadmap to graduation.

Accepted credits

ASU accepts college-level (not remedial) courses in which transfer students have earned a grade of "C-" (4.00="A") or better from regionally accredited colleges and universities. If a course is repeated, the first course in which a minimum of "C-" grade was earned will be used.

Pass grades may be transferable to ASU if the institution or transcript indicates the "P" grade is comparable to a C- or better. Pass grades are not calculated into your transfer GPA for admission.

Applicability

The applicability of a specific transfer course toward an ASU degree program depends on the requirements of the department, division, college or school in which you are enrolled at ASU.

Credit hours

A maximum of 64 semester hours of credit will be accepted as lower-division credit when transferred from a regionally accredited community, junior or two-year college, with the exception of some special programs. An unlimited number of credit hours will be accepted from four-year institutions. Upon admission to the university, you will work with an ASU academic advisor to determine how your transferable credits apply toward your selected major.

Credit conversion

Acceptable academic credits earned at other institutions that are based on a different unit of credit than the one prescribed by the Arizona Board of Regents are subject to conversion before being transferred to ASU. All ASU students must meet graduation requirements (university, college, major and general studies requirements) to earn a four-year degree.

Degree requirements

The ASU college of your major determines how transfer courses fulfill the degree requirements of your ASU major. You should review the degree requirements of the program into which you intend to transfer and talk with an academic advisor about your transfer credits and how they will apply to your degree program.

Determining GPA

Grades and honor points that you earned at other colleges and universities are considered for admission, but your ASU cumulative grade point average is based solely on coursework taken at ASU.

Types of transfer credits not accepted by ASU:

- Courses in which you earned below "C-" as your final grade.
- Credit awarded by postsecondary schools in the United States that lack candidate status or are not accredited by a regional accrediting association.

- Credit awarded by postsecondary schools for life experience.
- Credit awarded by postsecondary schools for courses taken at noncollegiate institutions (e.g., governmental agencies, corporations, industrial firms, etc.).
- Credit awarded for continuing education units (CEU), continuing education credit, workshops, seminars, professional development courses and other not-for-credit courses through postsecondary institutions.
- A student who feels they have been unjustly denied credit for transfer may appeal the decision.
 - Prospective students can contact Admission Services [2] or Academic Transfer Credit Solutions [3].
 - Admitted students can contact their academic advisor or academic unit (found on My ASU).

Military credits

ASU is proud to welcome transfer student veterans of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines, Coast Guard and National Guard to our undergraduate student community.

Evaluation of military transcripts

ASU uses the American Council on Education's Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experiences in the Armed Services [4] to assess how to transfer military credits to ASU. In general, a military course must be similar to an ASU undergraduate course to transfer to ASU.

Military credits that transfer to ASU through educational experiences in the armed services are not applicable toward completing ASU's general studies requirements [5] for graduation, but do count for total credits toward completion. No transfer credit is awarded for vocational certificate category ACE recommendations.

The JST is reviewed for potential transfer credit in accordance with VA guidelines and Arizona statutes related to awarding credit for military training and education. Credits are evaluated at the time of JST submission to ASU. It is recommended the JST be sent to ASU upon application to ensure timely processing and evaluation.

[Archivist note: Degree Worksheets tool unable to be captured.]

ASU accepts the following military transcripts for transfer credit:

Air Force and Space Force members

Enlisted members

The Community College of the Air Force is a regionally accredited community college. If you received credit for courses taken through the CCAF while in active service, submit this transcript as part of your application.

- CCAF now offers electronic transcript delivery through Parchment, a digital credentialing service. Students are able to create an account on Parchment [6] to send transcripts, or you can request to have your official CCAF sent to ASU from the Community College of the Air Force transcripts [7] page.

Officers

Officer transcripts are maintained by Air University. First-time users must create an account by accessing the AU Service Desk [8]. This works better on non-NIPR and Google Chrome. On the homepage under the Quick Links tab, select Official Transcript Request. Complete the required components of the form, add the attachments and submit. The Service Desk can be accessed by any device that has internet access; it is Common Access Card (CAC) enabled, but this is not required. The AU Service Desk is a secure application and certified for submission of Privacy Act information.

Army, Marine Corps, Navy and Coast Guard members

- The Joint Services Transcript has replaced the Coast Guard Institute Transcript, the Army/American Council on Education Registry Transcript System and the Sailor/Marine American Council on Education Registry Transcript.
- All enlisted members, officers and warrant officers, both active and veterans from all Army components, Coast Guard, Marine Corps and Navy, are eligible for a JST. You do not have to be on active duty to access the JST website and your transcript. Active duty, reserve, veterans or National Guard personnel can use JSTs.

- Some students may have concerns about a security warning when accessing the website. This happens when a user logs in to a Department of Defense network from a non-networked computer without a CAC. You can confirm the security exception to proceed to the JST request site. If you do not confirm this exception, you will be unable to place your order.
- Register [9] for a JST account, and direct the DoD to send your transcript to ASU.

Veterans exception

By Arizona statute, no failing grades received by a veteran at an Arizona university or community college before military service may be considered when determining admissibility. This exception may be used only one time and applies only to veterans who:

- Are honorably discharged.
- Have served in the armed forces of the United States for a minimum of two years.
- Have previously enrolled at a university or community college in Arizona.

Military service records must be submitted, including form DD 214.

Credit by exam

You may earn no more than 60 hours of credit by exam for any degree program, including ASU comprehensive and proficiency exams.

ASU's credit by exam policy [10]

Frequently asked questions about transferring college credits

How do I transfer college credits to ASU?

You can transfer credits to ASU by requesting your transcripts from all colleges you have attended and have them sent directly to ASU. Then, when you have completed the admission application, paid the application fee and are admitted to ASU, your qualifying credits will automatically be added to your ASU Degree Audit.

How many college credits can be transferred to ASU?

You can transfer a maximum of 64 college credits from a regionally accredited community, junior or two-year college for courses in which you have earned a "C" (4.00="A") or better.

What is the ASU Transfer Guide?

ASU's Transfer Guide [11] is a useful tool that shows how college courses you've already taken will transfer to ASU. If you don't see a particular course in the Transfer Guide, you can request a course evaluation.

Your next steps as an admitted transfer student

Activate your ASURITE User ID

Your ASURITE User ID grants you access to My ASU and university services. If you haven't activated your ASURITE User ID yet, see your admission letter for details on how to do it.

When you activate your ASURITE User ID, you will select to have your ASU email forwarded to a personal account. It's important to check your email often for time-sensitive notifications and next steps about enrollment. You'll have access to your official ASU email when classes begin. You can check which email your ASU email is forwarding to by looking in the profile tab in My ASU.

If you previously applied to ASU, use your existing ASURITE User ID to activate and log in to My ASU and your ASU email.

Activate ASURITE [3]

Need help? You can find your activation code in an email from computer.accounts@asu.edu with the subject line "ASU Account Activation." If you need assistance, call 1-855-278-5080 or 480-965-6500.

Review your transfer credits

To review your transfer credits, visit the ASU Transfer Guide [4], log in with your ASURITE User ID and password, and click on My Transfer Guide. For questions about applying your transfer credits to your degree program, please connect with your academic advisor using the Academic Support Team box in My ASU [5].

Pay your enrollment deposit

Confirm your place in ASU's incoming class by submitting your enrollment deposit via My ASU [5]. Then, be sure to check My ASU often for any Priority Tasks you need to complete to enroll.

Submit your MMR immunization verification form

You must submit your measles (rubeola), mumps and rubella immunization form before classes begin. You can fax, email or mail your records to ASU Health Services [11].

Immunization form [12]

Explore housing options

There are limited on-campus [13] options for transfer students; however, we strongly encourage you to take advantage of off-campus housing options surrounding each ASU campus. We understand that you may not be familiar with all of the housing options in the Phoenix metropolitan area, so we have developed the Off-Campus Housing Marketplace [14] to help you search for the apartment or house that works for you.

Request final transcripts

As soon as you graduate or complete your current semester or term, request an official final transcript be sent from your college or university to ASU's Admission Services.

International first-year student admission

Review the requirements and follow the steps below to apply to become an international first-year student at ASU.

Applying to ASU as an international student

Academic requirements

First-year students must:

- Have a 3.00 grade point average (GPA) (a "B" or better where "A"=4.00) from a secondary school. Some ASU programs may have higher admission or English proficiency requirements and may consider a minimum ACT or SAT score.
- Must have three years of high school coursework. (If you are currently in high school, ASU needs to see 9–11 grade coursework. If you have completed high school, ASU needs to see 10–12 grade coursework.)
- Must have and present a completed high school diploma or certificate.

Conditional admission

ASU may offer conditional undergraduate admission to international applicants to an on-campus program who meet the academic (aptitude) requirements but who are not proficient in English. This offer of conditional admission will give you time to improve your English proficiency before you start classes at ASU. Your conditional admission offer is good for up to three semesters, during which time you must meet one of these requirements [1] to begin your ASU experience.

Competency requirements

International students who completed high school outside the U.S. are required to meet the following competency requirements:

- Math: four years (algebra I, geometry, algebra II and one course requiring algebra II as a prerequisite).
- Laboratory science: three years total (one year each from any of the following areas are accepted: biology, chemistry, earth science, integrated sciences and physics).

International students who attended four years of high school in the U.S. are required to meet the competency requirements [2].

Comparable degree requirements in different countries and territories

Arizona State University recognizes that educational systems are different across the world. To help you determine if your academic credentials are comparable to a U.S. high school degree and to understand the documents that need to be submitted for admission, please review the requirements for the country from which your credential was earned.

How to apply to ASU

Step 01: Complete the undergraduate application for admission.

Apply online with ASU's Application for Admission [6] or the Common Application [7]. ASU accepts only one application. We have no preference between the ASU application or the Common Application. If two applications are submitted, one will be canceled in our system. Application fees are nonrefundable.

Step 02: Submit the nonrefundable application fee.

International nonresidents: $85 ($70 for ASU online programs)

You can pay using a credit card (Visa or Mastercard) at the time you submit your application or when you log in to My ASU [8]. Or you can mail a check or money order to Admission Services (payable to Arizona State University) at the address below.

Admission Services Applicant Processing
Arizona State University
PO Box 871004
Tempe, AZ 85287-1004

If you applied for admission through the Common Application [7], pay the application fee through that application.

Step 03: Have official transcript(s) and examination results sent directly from your school(s) or exam board to Admission Services. Provide English translations of all documents not issued in English.

Official transcripts are certified copies of official documents from each secondary school, college, university or technical school attended. Records must include courses completed, grades or marks earned, and certificates or degrees awarded. Include a certified English translation of all documents not issued in English.

Visit the transcripts page for detailed information on submitting international transcripts and English translations.

Transcripts information [9]

Step 04: Provide evidence of English language proficiency.

Have your TOEFL, IELTS, PTE, Duolingo English test, or Cambridge English exam score, sent directly to ASU, or provide proof of completion from Global Launch.

TOEFL

The official TOEFL score report can be sent directly to ASU from the Educational Testing Service. ASU's TOEFL institutional code is 4007. For information about this test and registration procedures, contact ETS at PO Box 6151, Princeton, NJ 08541-6151, USA or visit www.toefl.org [10].

Duolingo English test

Learn more about the Duolingo test [11].

Global Launch

ASU accepts completion of the Global Launch English Language program or English for Undergraduate Admission and Achievement online self-paced course. Learn more about Global Launch [12].

IELTS

For information about this test and registration procedures, contact the IELTS Office, University of Cambridge Local Examination Syndicate, 1 Hills Road, Cambridge/CB1 2EU, UK, or visit www.ielts.org [13].

PTE

For information about the Pearson Test of English, visit www.pearsonpte.com [14].

Cambridge English

ASU accepts the B2 First, C1 Advanced, and C2 Proficiency Exams. For information about Cambridge English Language Assessments, visit <https://www.cambridgeenglish.org/exams-and-tests/> [15].

Undergraduate English proficiency [1]

Step 05: Secondary and post-secondary documentation.

All documents must be an original or an attested copy with an original institutional seal and/or signature. Photocopies, notarized copies, faxes or scans are not considered original documents. All documents must be translated into English if the original is not issued in English.

Note: Before mailing or sending any documentation, you must fill out an ASU application. Sending documents before doing so will delay the processing of your application. It is also recommended that you include your ASU EMPLID on the envelope of any documents being mailed to ASU.

Do you have any college credits?

- All college work must be reported at the time of filling out your application.
- We must see all transcripts/academic records from all institutions that you have ever attended (regardless if you have finished the program at that institution or not).
- All documents not issued in English must be accompanied by an English translation.
- Access the transfer credit guide [16] to check your college credits.

Professional third-party evaluations

ASU provides in-house credential evaluations of your secondary and postsecondary academic records at no extra cost. However, if you have already had your academic credentials evaluated, ASU will consider course-by-course evaluations from the four agencies below:

- Educational Credential Evaluators. [17]
- Foreign Credentials Service of America. [18]
- Academic Credentials Evaluation Institute. [19]
- Scholaro. [20]

Note: Official evaluations do not take the place of official academic records. The evaluation is in addition to the official academic record. If the evaluation agency includes academic records they used to complete their evaluation and indicates that the evaluation was based on official or authenticated records, we may accept those documents as official.

Transfer guide [21]

Step 06: Submit your ACT or SAT scores (optional).

ACT or SAT scores are not required for admission, but may be submitted for ASU course placement or as supplemental information. Have your scores sent to ASU from ACT [22] or College Board [23] when you register for the test.

Step 07: Check application status.

Once you've completed all these steps, ASU will review your application. To see if you have any missing items, and to review your admission status and I-20 status, sign in at My ASU using your ASURITE UserID, which is sent to you after you apply for admission.

Activate My ASU and your ASURITE UserID.

You will receive your ASURITE UserID and activation code via email within one to three business days of submitting your application. If you have previously applied to ASU, your ASURITE UserID will remain the same. You'll use your ASURITE UserID to log in to My ASU. If you have previously applied to ASU, your ASURITE UserID will remain the same. If you have not previously activated My ASU, have your activation code sent to you [24] by submitting your ASU ID number and last name. If you have trouble logging in with your ASURITE UserID, contact the ASU Help Desk at 855-278-5080 or contact.asu.edu [25].

International transfer student admission

How to transfer colleges as an international student

Comparable requirements to a high school diploma

Arizona State University recognizes that educational systems are different across the world. To help you determine if your academic credentials are comparable to a U.S. high school degree and to understand the documents that need to be submitted for admission, please review the requirements for the country from which your credential was earned.

[Archivist's Note: In-page by-country requirements tool unable to be captured.]

U.S Citizen?

If you are a U.S. citizen and completed all of your coursework in the U.S., visit our domestic transfer admission web page [1].

How to complete the undergraduate application as an international transfer student

Your info

Apply to ASU step 1: Your info [2] on YouTube.

The first step in completing the ASU undergraduate application is the My Information section. We walk you through each of these fields and address questions you might have about this section of the application.

Academic history

Apply to ASU step 2: Academic history [3] on YouTube.

The second section of the application focuses on your prior academic history, including high school and any colleges or universities you previously attended. Watch as we guide you through these scenarios and explain how to fill out each part based on your situation.

Grades

Apply to ASU step 3: Grades [4] on YouTube.

All students have the option to self-report high school grades in the My Grades section of the application, though self-reporting is not required. In this video, we walk you through this process and explain what courses you should include, how to add these courses to your application and more.

Residency

Apply to ASU step 4: Residency [5] on YouTube.

The information you share in the residency portion of the undergraduate application helps the admission office determine if you are an in-state, out-of-state or international student. In this video, we cover these terms in detail and explain how to accurately fill out this part of your application.

Choose a major

Apply to ASU step 5: Choose a degree [6] on YouTube.

One of the final sections of the undergraduate application is the Choose Major section. If you're unsure about what major is best for you, we offer resources that might help you decide. And, you can always change your major later.

Submit

Apply to ASU step 6: Submit [7] on YouTube.

Now all that's left is to review your application, submit it and pay the application fee. In this video, we review how to pay the application fee and what the next steps are now that you've submitted your application to ASU.

International transfer student admission requirements

Academic requirements

Transfer students are considered anyone with 12 or more transferable credits completed post high school. Transfer students must have a minimum 2.50 cumulative GPA (a "C+" or better where "A"=4.00). Some majors have higher admission requirements. To find the requirements for your specific program, please visit ASU's Degree Search [8].

Some ASU programs may have higher admission and English proficiency requirements and may consider a minimum ACT or SAT score.

You must have and present a completed high school diploma or certificate.

You must submit official transcripts from every high school, college and university you attended, regardless if a degree was earned.

For more information on the process, additional requirements for students with additional credits and other information, visit transfer apply [9].

Aptitude requirement

You must meet one of the following:

- Transfer students with 12–23 transferable credits must also have a minimum 2.50 cumulative transfer GPA and meet first-year student admission requirements [10].
- Transfer students with 24 or more transferable credits must have a minimum 2.50 cumulative transfer GPA.
- Transfer students who have earned an associate degree or higher from a regionally accredited higher education institution must have a minimum 2.00 cumulative GPA (for Arizona residents) or 2.50 cumulative GPA (for nonresidents).

Some majors have higher admission requirements. To find the requirements for your specific program, please visit ASU's Degree Search [8].

"A" = 4.00; ASU accepts college-level courses in which you have earned a "C-" or better.

Competency requirements

International students who attended four years of high school in the U.S. are required to meet the competency requirements.

- English: four years (composition/literature based).
- Math: four years (algebra I, geometry, algebra II and one course requiring algebra II as a prerequisite).
- Laboratory science: three years total (one year each from any of the following areas are accepted: biology, chemistry, earth science, integrated sciences, and physics) .
- Social science: two years (including one year American history).
- Foreign language: two years (same language).
- Fine arts: one year.

International students who completed high school outside the U.S. are required to meet the following competency requirements:

- Math: four years (algebra I, geometry, algebra II and one course requiring algebra II as a prerequisite).
- Laboratory science: three years total (one year each from any of the following areas are accepted: biology, chemistry, earth science, integrated sciences and physics).

Important deadlines

You must submit your application for admission to ASU, along with the application fee, by the deadline specified for each semester. To expedite the evaluation of your application, please remember to submit official transcripts, test scores and supporting credentials along with your application.

Otherwise, I-20s will be created for the fall semester. Make sure to apply as early as possible to allow time for all documentation and processes to be completed.

How to apply to ASU

Step 01: Complete the undergraduate application for admission and pay the nonrefundable application fee.

Apply online with ASU's Application for Admission [12] or the Common Application [13]. ASU accepts only one application. We have no preference between the ASU application and the Common Application. If two applications are submitted, one will be canceled in our system. The application fee is $85 (U.S. Dollars) and is nonrefundable.

Step 02: Activate My ASU and your ASURITE User ID.

You will receive your ASURITE User ID and activation code via email within one to three business days of submitting your application. If you have previously applied to ASU, your ASURITE User ID will remain the same. You'll use your ASURITE User ID to log in to My ASU. If you have previously applied to ASU, your ASURITE User ID will remain the same. If you have not previously activated My ASU, have your activation code sent to you [14] by submitting your ASU ID number and last name. If you have trouble logging in with your ASURITE User ID, contact the ASU Help Desk at 855-278-5080 or contact.asu.edu [15].

Check application status [16]

Step 03: Have official transcript(s) and examination results sent directly from your school(s) or exam board to Admission Services. Provide English translations of all documents not issued in English.

Official transcripts are certified copies of official documents from each secondary school, college, university or technical school attended. Records must include courses completed, grades or marks earned, and certificates or degrees awarded. Include a certified English translation of all documents not issued in English.

For more detailed information on submission of international transcripts and English translations, please visit our transcripts page [17].

High school transcripts

If you have not completed an associate degree or higher from a U.S. regionally accredited university or college, you must submit one of the following:

- Official high school transcript with a graduation date.
- Official U.S. GED/HiSet transcripts.
- Affidavit of Completion of Secondary School Education.

ASU accepts hand-delivered official high school transcripts in sealed envelopes from applicants. (ASU does not accept faxed high school transcripts.)

NOTE: Transfer applicants with 24 or more transferable semester credit hours from a regionally accredited college or university or recognized international university, including previously completed ASU credits, and who will be 22 or older by the start of the requested semester of admission, will not be required to submit a high school transcript for admission. Once all prior college or university transcripts and outstanding admission items are received and verified, the high school transcript requirement will be waived. Transfer applicants are required to have graduated from an approved high school (or equivalent) prior to the semester of requested admission to ASU, and to include this information on the application for admission.

Step 04: Provide evidence of English language proficiency.

Have your TOEFL, IELTS, PTE, Duolingo English test or Cambridge English exam score sent directly to ASU, or provide proof of completion from Global Launch.

TOEFL

The official TOEFL score report can be sent directly to ASU from the Educational Testing Service. ASU's TOEFL institutional code is 4007. For information about this test and registration procedures, contact ETS at PO Box 6151, Princeton, NJ 08541-6151, USA or visit <http://www.ets.org/toefl> [18].

IELTS

For information about this test and registration procedures, contact the IELTS Office, University of Cambridge Local Examination Syndicate, 1 Hills Road, Cambridge/CB1 2EU, UK or visit www.ielts.org [19].

PTE

For information about the Pearson Test of English, visit www.pearsonpte.com [20].

Global Launch

ASU accepts completion of the Global Launch English Language program or English for Undergraduate Admission and Achievement online self-paced course. Learn more about Global Launch [21].

Duolingo English test

Learn more about the Duolingo test [22].

Cambridge English

ASU accepts the B2 First, C1 Advanced and C2 Proficiency Exams. For information about Cambridge English Language Assessments, visit cambridgeenglish.org/exams-and-tests [23].

Step 05: American university admission reminders and secondary and post-secondary documentation.

All documents must be an original or an attested copy with an original institutional seal and/or signature. Photocopies, notarized copies, faxes or scans are not considered original documents. All documents must be translated into English if the original is not issued in English.

Note: Before mailing or sending any documentation, you must fill out an ASU application. Sending documents before doing so will delay the processing of your application. It is also recommended that you include your ASU EMPLID on the envelope of any documents being mailed to ASU.

Do you have any college credits?

- All college coursework must be reported at the time of filling out your application.
- We must see all transcripts/academic records from all institutions that you have ever attended (regardless of whether you have finished the program at that institution or not).
- All documents not issued in English must be accompanied by an English translation.
- Access the transfer credit guide [24] to check your college credits.

Professional third-party evaluations

ASU provides in-house credential evaluations of your secondary and postsecondary academic records at no extra cost. However, if you have already had your academic credentials evaluated, ASU will consider course-by-course evaluations from the four agencies below:

- Educational Credential Evaluators [25].
- Foreign Credentials Service of America [26].
- Academic Credentials Evaluation Institute [27].
- Scholaro [28].

Note: Official evaluations do not take the place of official academic records. The evaluation is in addition to the official academic record. If the evaluation agency includes academic records they used to complete their evaluation and indicates that the evaluation was based on official or authenticated records, we may accept those documents as official.

Step 06: Check application status.

Once you've completed all these steps, ASU will review your application. To see if you have any missing items, and to review your admission status and I-20 status, sign in to My ASU [16] using your ASURITE User ID, which is sent to you after you apply for admission.

Step 07: Submit your student visa application.

All international students planning to attend Arizona State University will need to first apply for an I-20 in order to apply for an F-1 or J-1 student visa.

Following the exam, there will be an interview portion that will ask you to respond to various prompts in 30 to 90 seconds. The exam will take about 45 minutes to complete and you will need either a passport, driver license, or national or state ID to show the camera. The score results are generally received within a few days of exam completion.

Should you choose to take the Duolingo English test, the access information is below.

Information on preparing for the exam [4] | Take the exam or practice exam [5]

A verification email will be sent to you a few days after completing the exam containing a link to send your score to ASU.

For additional information, please review the frequently asked questions [6].

Cambridge English exams

ASU accepts the B2 First, C1 Advanced, and C2 Proficiency Cambridge English exams.

General requirement programs overall minimum score requirement: 170.

Bachelor of Science in Nursing: minimum score of 176.

Ira. A Fulton Schools of Engineering (higher admission requirement programs only): minimum score of 176.

Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Communication (higher admission requirement programs only): minimum score of 185.

Information on sending your Cambridge English Scores to ASU [7]

An IELTS, PTE, TOEFL, Duolingo exam, or Cambridge English exam must have been taken no longer than two years prior to the student's start date at ASU. Applicants who have scores that are more than two years old (or will be more than two years old by the time of their ASU start date) may be requested to submit updated test scores or demonstrate English proficiency through one of the other listed options.

*Individual academic units may have higher requirements for English proficiency. Review your degree program of interest for details. Visit ASU's degree search to find your program

Other ways to demonstrate English proficiency

1. U.S. citizens or U.S. permanent residents.
2. Citizen of a country/territory on the ASU English speaking country and territory list [9].
3. Junior and senior year of high school completed in the U.S. AND ACT English score of 23 or higher or SAT EBRW score of 580 or higher, AND two years English.
4. Four years of high school in the U.S. with four years of English.
5. 48 transferable credits from a regionally accredited U.S. college or university with a GPA of 2.50 or higher, of which six credits are in first-year English (comparable to ASU ENG 107 and 108).
6. Undergraduate applicants who have earned a secondary or high school degree or higher from an international institution that is officially recognized by that country, and whose sole medium of instruction for the degree program was in English. If the transcript does not indicate language of instruction, the applicant should email asuinternational@asu.edu to request exemption and include a letter from the institution on letterhead indicating language of instruction or provide information on the institution website to verify language of instruction.

Note: English as a Second Language (ESL) courses are not accepted as proof of English proficiency.

Global Launch at ASU program details

The Global Launch English language program is developed for a wide range of learners at the basic, intermediate and advanced levels. In each course, all students will learn and improve upon the four core competencies of reading, writing, listening and speaking.

When you apply for Global Launch, you will choose to learn in the Global Launch Campus Immersion or Online Immersion English language program.

Once you are admitted to Global Launch, you will take a placement test to determine which level you will begin your English studies. There are six levels and it takes eight weeks to complete each level. Short term, 4-week study is available to online immersion students and campus immersion students.

When you complete the highest level of the Global Launch English language program with a passing grade of B- (80%) or better, you will receive a certificate of completion that will satisfy the English language requirement for admission [1] to Arizona State University's undergraduate and graduate* degree programs.

International student visas

I-20 updates

We look forward to your arrival and have been hard at work making plans to welcome our new international students to campus.

What we want you to know

1. It is extremely important that you submit the documents required for the issuance of your I-20 to us. Upload the required documents through My ASU [1]. The upload tool on My ASU only allows the upload of each document type once, so please ensure you have all your documents ready before uploading. If you upload financial documents that do not cover the full funding needed as shown on the financial guarantee, you will be asked to submit additional documentation to demonstrate the full funding, which will delay the issuance of your I-20. Please ensure your financial documents show sufficient funding before uploading.
2. Once ASU has received all documents required to issue an I-20 and has verified that they are complete, you will receive an email with a link to download your I-20 from the Document Portal in My ASU. Once received, you should print the I-20 and sign the document. You will not receive a physical I-20 via mail.
 - a. The email will be sent to your @asu.edu email. As a reminder, your @asu.edu email address is being forwarded to your personal email account, so be sure to check it often, including junk and spam folders, so you do not miss any messages.
3. Once you have received your I-20, be sure to pay your I-901 fee [2]. Once the fee has been paid do not delay in contacting your consulate to obtain a visa appointment. Some consulates may have long wait times, so do not delay on securing an appointment time.
4. If you are unable to submit the documentation needed to receive an I-20 from ASU or are unable to obtain your F1 visa in time to arrive by the start of the semester of your admission, contact ASUinternational@asu.edu and we can advise you on your options.
5. If you have any questions, please contact our International Admission Services team. We will work with you to keep you on track.
6. View the I-20 Frequently Asked Questions webpage [3] for more information.

Helpful reminder

Be sure to check wait times for your local embassy [4] or consulate, as some areas may be experiencing wait times longer than 30 days. You can now apply for your visa up to 365 days before the start date listed on your I-20. Complete these steps as soon as possible so that when your local embassy can take your appointment, you will be ready to proceed with your next steps.

Types of international student visas

As an international student at Arizona State University, you will need to obtain an F-1 or J-1 student visa.

F-1 student visa

The F-1 visa is the most common student visa and is issued to full-time students enrolled in an academic or language program at a U.S. institution. Any student who is funded either by personal or outside funds, or a combination of the two, is eligible for F-1 status. If you are a student applying for an F-1 visa, you must request the SEVIS Form I-20 from the appropriate ASU admission office once admitted to ASU.

J-1 student visa

The J-1 visa is an exchange visitor visa issued to students at all academic levels. Students must have a substantial portion of their funding coming from a source other than their personal finances (e.g., their home institution or government). If you are a student applying for a J-1 visa, you must request Form DS-2019 from the appropriate ASU admission office once admitted to ASU.

F-2 dependent visa (undergraduate)

The F-2 visa is a nonimmigrant visa that allows dependent spouses and children of F-1 student visa holders to enter the U.S. and enroll in an educational institution. As a student with F-2 visa status, you can attend ASU only as a part-time student. For the undergraduate level, this means you may register for up to 11 credit hours for the spring and fall terms.

More F-2 information [5]

F-2 dependent visa (graduate)

The F-2 visa is a nonimmigrant visa that allows dependent spouses and children of F-1 student visa holders to enter the U.S. and enroll in an educational institution. As a student with F-2 visa status, you can attend ASU only as a part-time student. For the graduate level, this means you may register for up to eight credit hours for the spring and fall terms. Some graduate programs do not allow students to attend part time. For additional information, please contact your program of interest.

More F-2 information [5]

SEVIS Form I-20

An initial I-20 is issued for students with a new SEVIS record. A transfer I-20 is issued for students who have an active SEVIS record at a U.S. high school or higher education institution, and are transferring their records to ASU.

Initial I-20

If you have not been issued an I-20 in the past, or if you have but the SEVIS record affiliated with that I-20 was terminated or completed, you should request an initial I-20.

Once you have uploaded all required documents in My ASU [1] for the I-20, ASU Admission Services will begin the process of creating your initial I-20.

Transfer I-20

If you have an active SEVIS record at another U.S. school (high school or higher education institution) and are requesting an I-20 through ASU, you should follow the Request Transfer SEVIS Form I-20 section below. Once you have uploaded all required documents in My ASU [1] for the I-20, ASU Admission Services will begin the process of creating your transfer I-20.

Getting an I-20

An I-20 is an important immigration document that F-1 students need in order to obtain their student visa and enter the U.S. ASU guides each student through the process of obtaining their I-20. Priority Tasks on My ASU [1] alerts students to the steps they need to take. The process of obtaining an I-20 can take some time, so it is important not to wait until the last minute to begin gathering the necessary documents and uploading them.

For sponsored students, the steps to obtaining an I-20 are slightly different than for nonsponsored students. Students should use the descriptions below to determine whether or not they are a sponsored student.

Sponsored student

A sponsored student's school and living expenses are paid by a sponsoring agency recognized by ASU.

Some examples of sponsoring agencies are ADNOC, Aramco, Dubai Electricity & Water Authority, Kuwait Cultural Office, Oman Cultural Division, Qatar Airways, Qatar Defense Attaché, Qatar Higher Education Institute, QatarEnergy, RasGas, Saudi Arabian Cultural Mission, Sidra, UAE Cultural Division and the UAE Scholarship Coordination Office.

Most of ASU's sponsored students come from Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, United Arab Emirates, Qatar and Oman.

Note: Students receiving an ASU scholarship or TA/RA position are not considered sponsored students.

Once you have uploaded all required documents in My ASU [1] for the I-20, ASU Admission Services will begin the process of creating your initial I-20.

Nonsponsored student

A nonsponsored student's school and living expenses are paid for through personal or family funds, loans, or other means not associated with an ASU-recognized sponsoring agency.

Students who are unsure if they are a sponsored student should contact ASU Admission Services at ASUinternational@asu.edu or +1 480-965-2437.

How to request an I-20

Step 01: Fill out the Financial Guarantee form

In compliance with the Department of Homeland Security and SEVIS regulations, all international applicants on the F-1 student visa must provide evidence of sufficient funds available for their studies in the U.S. For this purpose, a Financial Guarantee form [6] must be completed and submitted along with bank statements dated within the past 12 months and signed or wet stamped by an authorized bank or representative, or by a recognized sponsoring agency in the U.S. Please submit your Financial Guarantee form along with your bank statements or sponsor letter from an authorized sponsoring agency. ASU will not be able to process your SEVIS Form I -20 without receipt of your Financial Guarantee.

Please refer to the Financial Guarantee form to determine the amount of funds required for your specific program and campus. You can access the form here [6].

Students with dependents (e.g., spouse, child) who will be joining them in the U.S. during their time on an F-1 or J-1 visa will need to provide proof of the following additional funds:

Additional financial support needed for dependents:

Spouse – $7,000

Each child – $5,000

Step 02: Financial document requirements

To meet ASU's financial requirements for your I-20 processing, you must provide Financial Documents that meets the following criteria:

Document requirements:

- All financial documents must be dated within the last 12 months.
- Please include your 10 digit ASU Affiliate ID # on all pages.
- The total available balance across all documents must meet or exceed the amount listed on the Financial Guarantee form [6] for one academic year (9 months) for tuition and fees and living expenses.
- Ensure that all documents are in English or include a certified translation.
- Incomplete or unclear documentation may delay your I-20 processing so carefully review your documents to ensure they meet all requirements and documents are legible before submission.
- IMPORTANT NOTE: The I-20 tracker on My ASU [1] upload tool only allows the upload of each document type once, so please be sure to have all your financial documents combined together prior to uploading.

Acceptable types of financial documents:

Bank statements/bank certification/balance certificate

- Documents should include the following information:
 - Summary of the balance of the account(s) showing liquid assets only (cash, deposits, certificates of deposit, or savings accounts)
 - Account holder name(s)
 - Date of document issue or of balance
 - Currency of the account(s)
 - Type of account(s)
 - Balance Certificates must also show: bank official's printed name, title, and original signature, and be issued on bank letterhead with bank official's signature/stamp.
 - Business account statements must be accompanied by a letter on company letterhead confirming that funds from the account statement are available for student educational purposes. This letter must be signed by a company official with authority over the account.
- Note: the account transaction history is not required and screenshots of bank accounts are not acceptable.

Loan letters:

- Provide in-principle and sanctioned loan letters that include the terms and conditions of the loan and the agreed loan amount.

Investment statements:

- Include statements showing liquid assets (accounts that show cash balances only).

Scholarship letters/government funding letters:

- Letters must be issued by scholarship/government agency official on letterhead, which includes the following information:
 - Student's full name
 - Award amount
 - Duration of the award
 - Confirmation that the award is valid for study at ASU
 - The degree and major the scholarship/government funding covers

Note: if a scholarship/government fundings does not cover the full amount required on the Financial Guarantee form, include additional financial documents to cover the remaining amount.

Acceptable government sponsorship agencies include ADNOC, Aramco, Dubai Electricity & Water Authority, Kuwait Cultural Office, Oman Cultural Division, Qatar Airways, Qatar Defense Attaché, Qatar Higher Education Institute, QatarEnergy, RasGas, Saudi Arabian Cultural Mission, Sidra, UAE Cultural Division, and the UAE Scholarship Coordination Office. For more details, refer to the sponsored student section.

Provident fund statement:

- A Provident account statement may be used when submitted with a written statement from the financial institution, which verifies the withdrawable amount for educational purposes.

Department assistantship (RA/TA):

- Provide a copy of your RA/TA offer letter issued by the department to which you have been admitted at Arizona State University.
- Admissions will review your offer letter to determine the total funding provided by your offer as it pertains to the I-20 requirements.
- We are not able to list summer funding on the I-20 document.
- The I-20 document is required to show funding for the first 9 months of your program only.
- Note: if the assistantship does not cover the full amount required for I-20 processing purposes, you must submit additional financial documents

Step 03: Upload a copy of your passport

You may take a clear photo or scan of the biographic page of your passport and upload it to the link on My ASU [1]. The bio page is the page that shows your picture and personal details. Your passport must be valid for at least six months after your proposed date of entry into the U.S. If it is not valid, the I-20 will not be processed.

Step 04: Requesting SEVIS Initial or Transfer Form I-20

Document submission

After being admitted to ASU and submitting your Financial Guarantee form, follow these steps to have your SEVIS Form I-20 created and sent to you:

1. Access My ASU: Log in to My ASU [1] where you will find I-20 tasks listed in your Priority Tasks.
2. Upload Documents: Upload the following items through My ASU:
 - Financial Guarantee Form:
 1. SEVIS Transfer Form I-20: If you are eligible for a SEVIS transfer to ASU, ensure you complete Step 4 with all your SEVIS information.
 - Financial Documents: For example, a bank statement showing sufficient funds.
 - Passport: A clear copy of your passport.

Click on each Priority Task item for additional instructions. Allow at least three business days for intake. Once your documents are on file, we aim to review documents within 7-10 business days to ensure completeness and sufficient funding for one academic year. If any issues are found, you will receive an email and updated priority task requesting additional documentation.

SEVIS Transfer Form I-20 ONLY (if applicable)

If you are currently studying in the U.S. on a F-1 visa and are eligible for a SEVIS transfer, you will need to have your SEVIS record transferred to ASU and complete all fields on Step 4 of your Financial Guarantee form [7] including but not limited to the Transfer Release Date.

Note: A Transfer I-20 will be issued only after your Transfer Release Date. If Step 4 on the Financial Guarantee form [7] is missing any information, we will request an updated form to review for a Transfer I-20.

Important note for all students

If you plan to travel outside the U.S. before starting your studies at ASU, you will need to re-enter the U.S. with your ASU SEVIS Form I-20. Present the ASU SEVIS Form I-20 at the U.S. Port of Entry.

Contact information

If you have any questions, please contact the international student advisor at your transfer out school or reach out to ASU: Admission Services

Address: 1151 S Forest Avenue, Tempe, AZ 85287-0112

Phone: 480-965-2437

Email for Undergrad: asuinternational@asu.edu

Email for Graduate: gograd@asu.edu

Step 05: Review your SEVIS Form I-20 or DS-2019

It's crucial to very carefully review your SEVIS document, as each page contains important information that you need to understand. Here's what you need to check:

For SEVIS Form I-20 (F-1 Visa)

Page 1: Program and biographical information

- SEVIS Identification Number: Located on the top right corner of the first page. You will need this number for your visa application and to pay the SEVIS fee.
- Entry Date: You can enter the U.S. up to 30 days before the report date listed on your form (Item #5). Entering after this date may cause issues with immigration officials at the Port of Entry.
- Student Certification: By signing the Student Certification (Item #11), you confirm that you have read and understood the terms and conditions of your F-1 status.

- Program Name: The I-20 may list a CIP Code/Name, which groups similar programs, rather than the exact name of your program.

Page 2: Instructions

- This page includes important information for maintaining your F-1 status while studying at ASU. Make sure to read and understand these instructions.

Page 3: Travel Authorization

- This page is for future travel authorization. You do not need a signature on this page for your initial entry into the U.S. with your SEVIS Form I-20.

Note: Dependents accompanying an F-1 student in F-2 status must have their own SEVIS Form I-20 issued in their name.

For SEVIS Form DS-2019 (J-1 Visa)

Page 1: Program and Biographical Information

- SEVIS Identification Number: Located on the top right. This number is needed for your visa application and to pay the SEVIS fee.
- Travel Authorization: Includes spaces for future travel authorization. You do not need a signature on this page for your initial entry into the U.S. with your SEVIS Form DS-2019.
- Program Name: The DS-2019 may list a CIP Code/Name, which groups similar programs, rather than the exact name of your program.

- This page contains important information for maintaining your J-1 status while studying or conducting research at ASU. Be sure to read and follow these instructions.

Note: Dependents accompanying a J-1 student in J-2 status must have their own SEVIS Form DS-2019 issued in their name.

Important Actions

- Verify Accuracy: Ensure all information (e.g., spelling, dates) on your SEVIS Form I-20 or DS-2019 is correct. If you find any mistakes, contact the admissions office immediately to have them corrected.
- Visa Application: You will need your SEVIS Form I-20 or DS-2019, ASU admission notification, Financial Guarantee form, and passport to obtain your student visa at the U.S. consulate nearest to you.

Step 06: Process SEVIS Form I-901 and payment

Upon receipt of SEVIS Form I-20 or Form DS-2019, you will have the information needed to pay the SEVIS fee and the SEVIS Form I-901 [8] fee. You must pay the SEVIS fee and have a receipt prior to applying for a student visa.

The SEVIS Form I-901 [9] fee is mandated by the U.S. Congress to support the program office and the automated system that keeps track of students and exchange visitors, and ensures that they maintain their status while in the U.S.

I-20 and DS-2019 issuance timeline

The U.S. government has strict regulations on the issuance of I-20 and DS-2019 documents to international students who wish to attend an educational institution in the U.S. The dates below are for issuance of an I-20 or DS-2019, the latest date to report to the appropriate international student office, and the final day to be enrolled full time. Any noncompliance with these dates may preclude you from registering for classes. International students not enrolled full time will have their SEVIS record terminated and become subject to detainment and deportation.

The student visa application process

Step 01: Apply for nonimmigrant visa, DS-160

As a visa applicant, you must submit a completed DS-160: Online Nonimmigrant Visa Application [10] for all nonimmigrant visa categories. Read complete details about student visas [11].

Note: After you have completed the DS-160, you will need to print and keep the DS-160 barcode page.

Step 02: Schedule visa interview

To schedule your interview, locate your local U.S. Embassy or Consulate [12]. Each consulate sets its own timeline for accepting and processing [4] student visa applications. If the consulate says apply “at least” 60 days before your program departure, this means no fewer than 60 days. To avoid problems, submit your visa application at the earliest date the consulate will accept it.

Step 03: Pay visa application fee

Please read information about nonimmigrant visa application fees [13]. Applicants must pay these fees as directed prior to their visa interview, and they must bring the receipt to their interview.

If the visa is issued, please note that a Visa Issuance Reciprocity Fee may be applicable based on your country of citizenship. Please refer to the Visa Reciprocity Table [14] to see if this fee applies to you.

Step 04: Prepare for visa interview

Start gathering the required documents for your student visa application the moment you apply to your program. Read through all information provided online by the U.S. Embassy or Consulate [12] that you will be visiting.

Gather and prepare the following required documents before your visa interview:

- Passport valid for at least six months after your proposed date of entry into the U.S.
- Nonimmigrant Visa Application, Form DS-160 confirmation page.
- Application fee payment receipt, if you are required to pay before your interview.
- Photo. You will upload while completing the online form DS-160. If the photo upload fails, you must bring a 2x2 inch photograph of yourself.
- SEVIS Form I-20 or Form DS-2019 with your SEVIS record number issued by ASU. You must sign Form I-20.

Additional documentation may be required

A consular officer will interview you to determine your qualifications for a student visa, and may request additional documents. You should be prepared to provide evidence such as:

- A receipt of your SEVIS Form I-901 fee.
- Transcripts, diplomas, degrees or certificates from schools you attended.
- Standardized test scores required by your U.S. school.
- Your intent to depart the U.S. upon completion of the course of study.
- How you will pay all educational, living and travel costs, including financial evidence showing you, your parents or sponsor have sufficient funds to cover your tuition and living expenses during your study.

Tips on preparing for your interview [15]

In addition to visiting the U.S. State Department link above, here are some additional tips on preparing for your interview.

- A consular officer will interview you in English to determine whether you qualify for a student visa. Do not ask them to conduct the interview in another language.
- On average, visa interviews are about three minutes long. Students must be proactive at their visa interview to succeed. Be prepared if they ask you (1) why you want to study in the U.S., (2) why you chose your major and why you chose to study at ASU, (3) what you are excited about, and (4) what you plan to do in the future and/or what ties you have to your home country.

- If asked for proof of funding, some officers look favorable upon students who can show more than the required amount on their I-20 as a way to show they can afford their education and time in the U.S. If funds from extended family members are submitted, be prepared to answer questions about how close you are to your relatives, if you are planning to pay them back, if they are funding your entire education, how much that person is providing you, etc.

For more information, please visit the U.S. Department of State [15] website.

Step 05: Prepare documents for travel

As you get ready to arrive in Arizona, be sure to prepare your documents for travel. Here are some items you should carry with you. It is advisable to keep a copy in your checked luggage and one with your family at home. Make sure you have these original documents available at all times while traveling to and within the U.S.:

- SEVIS Form I-20 or Form DS-2019.
- Valid passport.
- Current visa.
- Copy of immunization records.
- Original supporting financial documents.
- Dependents' I-20 or DS-2019 and passports if your spouse and children will be traveling with you.
- International travel coverage documents, if you purchased this coverage.

Frequently asked questions about student visas

How do I get a student visa?

To get a student visa, you must first apply and be admitted to ASU. Once admitted, you must apply for an I-20 through ASU by uploading the required documentation. Once you receive your SEVIS number from the I-20 created by ASU, you'll apply for your student visa through your country's embassy. The visa process includes some paperwork and an in-person interview with an immigration officer at your local embassy. The embassy then creates the student visa with your passport and will indicate the dates you can arrive in the U.S. for your studies.

What is SEVIS?

SEVIS stands for Student and Exchange Visitor Information System. You must complete a SEVIS form I-20 to get an F-1 student visa or a SEVIS form DS-2019 to get a J-1 student visa.

Can I get a job while in the U.S. as a student?

Yes, you may work as a student, though ASU recommends you work no more than 20 hours per week. Many international students work for ASU, as the university employs more than 10,000 students. You may also work off campus, but if you do, it's important that your employer understands that you are an ASU student and that your education is one of your top priorities.

International first-year student next steps

Congratulations on your admission to ASU

It is our pleasure to welcome you.

We are excited that you have chosen to pursue your degree at Arizona State University.

This is your guide through the important steps you need to take to enroll in classes and prepare for the beginning of your academic year. Here you will find information about the visa application process, preparing for travel, arriving at ASU, registering for classes and much more.

Be sure to check My ASU [1] regularly and complete any pending items under your Priority Tasks. We look forward to seeing you in Arizona soon.

International student tips

Important deadlines

To help you stay on track with the fall 2024 admission and financial aid processes, check out our important deadlines page.

Travel and arrival

ASU is committed to the safe and seamless transition from your home country to the U.S.

Travel info [4]

International first-year student next steps

Activate your ASU ID to check My ASU

After you applied to ASU, you were issued an ASURITE User ID in an email with the subject line “ASU Account Activation.” This ID gives you access to ASU’s online student services in My ASU [1], where you’ll see next steps and to-do items for enrollment. You must activate your ASURITE User ID online [5].

When you activate your ASURITE User ID, you will select to have your ASU email forwarded to a personal account. It’s important to check your email often for time-sensitive notifications and next steps about enrollment. You’ll have access to your official ASU email when classes begin. You can check which email your ASU email is forwarding to by looking in the profile tab in My ASU.

Remember to save your admit letter, which is posted to My ASU, so you have it for travel.

Request your I-20 and apply for your visa

International students who wish to pursue their studies at ASU must obtain an F-1 or J-1 visa. To obtain a visa, students must first receive a SEVIS number and I-20 document from ASU.

ASU guides each student through the process of obtaining their I-20 using the I-20 Tracker in My ASU.

[More about I-20 \[6\]](#)

Give your parents or family access to your records and account

Through My ASU Parent Guest Access, you can share your academic records with your parent or guardian and give them access to pay your tuition and bills. Go to My ASU, select the Profile tab at the top and find “Add a Guest” under My ASU Guest Access Permissions.

[Visit My ASU \[1\]](#)

Pay your enrollment deposit

Pay your enrollment deposit [7] through My ASU [1] to confirm you will attend. For fall 2025 admits, the enrollment deposit will be available beginning Oct. 1, 2024.

Complete the math placement test

All first-year students are required to take the math placement test at least seven calendar days before their Academic Orientation Session. You will see the item “Take Math Placement Test” under Priority Tasks in My ASU [1], and you will also see this task in ASU’s New Student Orientation Experience step 2, Academic Orientation.

Submit your measles, mumps and rubella immunization record

All students born after Jan. 1, 1957, are required to meet the following MMR immunization requirement [8] before classes begin. You can upload required documentation in your ASU My Health Portal [9].

The MMR vaccine is available for a fee at any of ASU's Health Services [10] locations.

ASU's New Student Orientation Experience

Through ASU’s New Student Experience, accessed online in My ASU, you will prepare to take classes in the fall by completing essential next steps for enrollment. There are three steps — log in to My ASU [1] to view details. Step 2 is the Academic Orientation Session, where you'll meet with your academic college and finalize your class schedule. All students must complete the New Student Orientation Experience in order to enroll in classes.

Confirm housing and dining options

All ASU first-year students live in the residential college of their academic major. Barrett students live in the Barrett residential community for their first two years. ASU's housing portal for fall 2024 is now open. The housing portal for fall 2025 admits will open in early January 2025.

Once the housing portal opens and you've paid your enrollment deposit, you can select your housing and dining preferences. The priority housing deadline is May 15. We cannot guarantee your housing preference if you apply after the priority deadline. Visit ASU’s housing portal [12].

[Select housing \[13\]](#)

Learn about housing options [14].

Health insurance

Health insurance is mandatory for all registered international students and a condition of enrollment, and requires that international students have adequate medical and accident insurance coverage. Mandatory student health insurance is automatically charged for all international students.

Insurance info

Learn about tuition and fees

Tuition charges will be billed to your student account and may be viewed online through My ASU. By registering for classes, you agree to pay all applicable tuition and registration fees. If you decide not to attend, you must completely withdraw from all classes before the semester begins.

If tuition is not paid by the applicable due date, you will automatically be enrolled in the tuition installment plan and charged a nonrefundable enrollment fee.

ASU has partnered with Flywire [16] to offer a streamlined and cost-effective payment method for you to send international payments. Flywire offers favorable exchange rates and a secure portal for processing your payment to ASU. Create a Flywire login to make payments and review your payment activity and history.

Visit the Tuition and Billing [17] website for more information.

Transcripts

Request transcripts from ASU

If you're an ASU student or graduate requesting your transcripts so you can send them to another institution, please see registrar.asu.edu/transcripts [1].

Sending transcripts to ASU

Request that your official transcript(s) be sent to Admission Services.

Your official transcripts are certified copies from each high school, college, university or technical school you attended that show the courses you took, grades you earned, and certificates or degrees you were awarded. Arizona State University requires you to send transcripts from every institution you attended.

Upon graduation or the completion of the semester, request that your school or schools send a final transcript directly to ASU to determine final university admission status. Official transcripts must be sent directly to Admission Services at ASU from the issuing institution's records office either by mail or electronically through a secured transcript service approved by ASU.

1. Transcripts may not be faxed.
2. Transcripts sent via email may be accepted if sent directly from an authorized school official at the issuing institution to ASU at transcripts@asu.edu. If ASU is unable to verify the sender is from the issuing institution, the emailed transcript will not be accepted as official.
3. Official transcripts delivered by hand will be accepted only if they are sealed in the original envelope provided by the community college or university and bear the university seal and the signature of the registrar of the issuing institution.
4. When possible, please include the student's full name and student number or application number in transcript submissions.
5. Any transcripts submitted by students directly via email are considered unofficial and will not satisfy our official transcript priority task requirement.

Emails sent to transcripts@asu.edu or gradtranscripts@asu.edu must not exceed 25MB total and individual attachments must not exceed 5 MB. Any attachments must be in one of these approved file types.

Microsoft Word (.doc or .docx)

Microsoft Excel (.xls or .xlsx)

Image (.jpg .jpeg .gif .png)

Adobe PDF (.pdf)

Text (.txt)

If the file size is exceeded and/or the document type is not supported, the email will be rejected.

Documents not accepted through the transcripts inboxes

NOTE: The transcript inboxes are only for transcripts/mark sheets sent to ASU directly from the sending institution or transcript vendor, English translations of transcripts, degree/graduation certificates, and transcript supporting documentation such as school profiles and degree program curriculum sheets. Please do NOT send the following documents to our transcript email addresses (transcripts@asu.edu or gradtranscripts@asu.edu) as they will not be added to the student record.

- I-20 documents such as bank statements, financial guarantees or passports.
- English proficiency scores not sent by the testing service itself.
- Letters of recommendation.
- Resumes.

* Note: List is subject to change.

For transcripts sent through a secured transcript service, please select Arizona State University from the vendor's dropdown list to ensure the transcript is routed to the correct place. If an email address is requested you can route to transcripts@asu.edu, or for graduate applicants to gradtranscripts@asu.edu. Please note that transcripts sent by students to transcripts@asu.edu or gradtranscripts@asu.edu will not be accepted as official. These addresses are only for transcripts received from secured and approved transcript services.

International transcript/degree certificate

NOTE: The transcript inboxes are only for transcripts/mark sheets sent to ASU directly from the sending institution or transcript vendor, English translations of transcripts, degree/graduation certificates, and transcript supporting documentation such as school profiles and degree program curriculum sheets. Please do NOT send the following documents to our transcript email addresses (transcripts@asu.edu or gradtranscripts@asu.edu) as they will not be added to the student record.

If you are required to submit a degree certificate along with your transcripts, a scan may be made of the front and back of your certificate and emailed to transcripts@asu.edu for undergraduate applicants or gradtranscripts@asu.edu for graduate applicants. Please make sure that ASU is in possession of your official, final degree posted transcript prior to submission of your degree certificate. The original certificate does not need to be mailed.

For more information on country specific comparable degree requirements and transcript/degree certificate information per country, please refer to comparable requirements section on:

- International First-Year Apply webpage [7]
- International Transfer Apply webpage [8]
- International Graduate Apply webpage [9]

Important: If you email a copy of your degree certificate, please email only the degree certificate. Do not include copies of transcripts. Transcripts will not be accepted as official if sent by you and will delay processing of your degree certificate.

The mailto:transcripts@asu.edu and gradtranscripts@asu.edu email addresses are for receipt of transcripts from vendors and institutions and copies of degree certificates from students. This inbox does not respond to general questions. Questions should be routed to your admission representative [10].

High school transcripts from the United States

Official transcripts must be sent directly to Admission Services at ASU from the issuing institution's records office either by mail or electronically. Domestic high school transcripts delivered by hand will be accepted only if they are sealed in the original envelope provided by the high school. High school transcripts must show courses, grades, GPA and date of graduation. Sealed official high school transcripts can be sent in the mail or dropped off at the Admission Services customer service counter on the first floor in the Student Services Building [11], Suite 150, Window #5, on the Tempe campus.

Community college or university transcripts from the United States

An official college transcript must be in a sealed envelope sent directly from the issuing institution's records office either by mail or electronically. Transcripts delivered by hand will be accepted only if they are sealed in the original envelope provided by the community college or university.

International transcripts and exam results

Graduate applicants: Official, original or authenticated transcripts from every college or university from which you earned a comparable credential to a U.S. bachelor's degree or higher must be sent to ASU in the original language and accompanied by an English translation (if the original document was not issued in English).

Undergraduate applicants: Official, original or authenticated transcripts and exam results from every secondary or higher-secondary school (grades 9-12) and transcripts from any college or university attended must be sent to ASU in the original language and accompanied by an English translation (if the original document was not issued in English).

Request transcripts from each international educational institution you attended and exam boards from which you have official results. Official transcripts must be mailed or sent directly from the issuing institution's records office electronically, and must include a certified English translation of all documents not issued in English. ASU will accept transcripts sent as email attachments if the email can be verified as coming from an authorized school official at the sending institution.

If your school(s) cannot send them directly to ASU, you may send them yourself, making sure they meet one of the following requirements:

- Original academic credentials issued by the registrar of the institution attended, bearing the original raised or colored seal of the institution and the signature of the institution's registrar, academic official or recognized international organization.
- Photocopies of academic credentials that have been verified as true copies of the original by a responsible official of the institution attended or by an education representative of the country's government or embassy. Each page must bear the verifying official's signature and stamp.
- Photocopies of academic credentials that have been certified by a recognized international educational organization, such as EducationUSA, the U.S. Educational Foundation, AMIDEAST or the Institute for International Education.
- Photocopies of an international high school academic credential that has been verified as official by a recognized U.S. high school.

ASU recommends that you have your international transcripts sent to ASU directly from the issuing institution, utilize a secured transcript service (where available) or obtain an attested copy of the transcript (where possible). Sending your only original copy to ASU should be the last option.

- We recommend students sending documents from abroad use FedEx or DHL in order to obtain a tracking number. If possible, include your ASU student ID number and name written on each page of the transcript(s) you send.
- Any document ASU receives becomes property of ASU and will not be returned to you, unless it is a situation where another copy cannot be obtained.
- Photocopies certified by a notary public are not official and will not be accepted. Scanned copies are also not accepted in lieu of original official academic documents.

International documentation and translation

Transcripts and degree certificates not issued in English require submission of an English translation in addition to the original language documents.

Translations must be literal, complete versions of the originals and must be translated by one of the following:

- Issuing university or college.
- Official translation services. Need assistance locating a translation service? Visit American Translators Association [12] to search for a translator for your target language.
- Ministry of Education, consulate or embassy.
- Education USA (EdUSA) [13], AMIDEAST [14], or U.S. Indian Education Foundation (USIEF) [15].

The translation does not take the place of submitting official academic records in the original language. The translation is in addition to the official academic record. Translations may not be completed by the student. Translations certified by a notary public are not acceptable.

You may not complete your own translation. Please have the translation service mail the official translation to ASU. Translations may also be emailed to transcripts@asu.edu by the translation service.

Note: Some third-party evaluation agencies are also members of American Translators Association and provide both translation and credential evaluation services. If using a third-party evaluation agency for translation services, be sure you are requesting a literal translation. A literal translation is an exact translation of the document (including notation of seals, signatures, etc.). Credential Evaluation reports will have grade and credit conversions and interpretation of the document and are not literal translations.

Instructions for requesting original international transcript return (only in cases where another copy is unobtainable)

To request a return of your original documents (only in cases where another copy is unobtainable) use the eShipGlobal service to have your document(s) express mailed to you through FedEx, DHL or UPS at your own expense. To do so, visit <https://study.eshipglobal.com> [16] (do not visit FedEx, DHL or UPS websites directly). You will be required to create a user name and password to set up an eShipGlobal account. To request shipment, you will need your ASU ID number, mailing address, email address, phone number and payment information.

After creating your eShipGlobal account, follow the steps below to create your shipping label.

1. Get started: Click on the "Get started" link on the homepage and select "Receive documents from university."
2. Choose university: Proceed to the university selection and choose Arizona State University-All Locations. You will see two options. One for International Students and Scholars Center and one for Admission Services. Be sure to select Admission Services or your request will not be fulfilled.
3. Confirm address: The next page asks you to enter your shipping details. There will be a drop down on this page for type of document. Select "Documents/transcripts."
4. Select carrier: You will see a list of carriers that deliver to your area and the cost for delivery. Select the carrier and option you prefer.
5. Confirm payment: You will see a page requesting your payment information. The payment options for your country will be listed. Options may include one or more of the following: credit/debit, wire transfer or PayPal.

If you have questions about how to use this service, review the Help section of the eShipGlobal website or email support@eshipglobal.com.

Once you have requested the shipment, please allow up to one month for return of your documents. Admission Services will review your request and if the request can be fulfilled you will receive an email from eShipGlobal to track your return.

If a request for return is not made within 60 days of receipt of your documents, we cannot guarantee that we will still have the documents to return. We regularly purge all physical documents after scanning. Email transcriptreturn@asu.edu with questions.

Applicants with credentials from India

If you have secondary or postsecondary study from India, you should have your credentials verified through Truecopy and Truecopy will send to ASU electronically through Parchment.

You can begin your order at <https://www.electronictranscripts.com/about-us.php#etquery> [17]

Frequently asked questions

How do I submit my transcripts to ASU?

You must request official transcripts from each educational institution attended. Official transcripts must be mailed or sent electronically directly to Online Applications by the records office of the issuing institution(s). ASU does not accept transcripts transmitted by fax.

Please have your transcripts sent to:

Regular mail (USPS)

Admission Services Applicant Processing

Why do I need to turn in my high school transcript?

We need your high school transcript in order to verify your credits fulfill ASU's competency requirements for admission.

Will my transfer credits be accepted?

In general, transfer credit is awarded for courses meeting all of the following requirements: Grade earned is a "C" or better (on a scale of 4.00). Completed at a regionally accredited postsecondary institution in the United States. Course is considered to be college-level (not remedial) and is not highly technical/vocational. A maximum of 64 community college credits may be transferred to ASU.

Do you have international credits? <https://students.asu.edu/international/future/undergrad> [21]

There isn't an expiration date for transfer credits that meet the eligibility requirements, although some courses (e.g., Computers and Economics) may need to be retaken depending on their relevancy to today's courses.

Certain types of credit cannot be transferred to ASU, including credit awarded by postsecondary institutions for life experience, workshops and seminars. Also, military SMART transcripts and experiences are not transferable.

Your enrollment counselor will tell you exactly how your transfer credits fit into your degree program.

When will I receive an admissions decision?

Once your application file is complete, we will process it with the highest priority, and you should expect an admission decision within a few weeks. To see if you have any missing items and to view your admission status, sign in to My ASU using your ASURITE UserID, which is sent to you after you apply for admission.

How do I complete my application?

An admission application file is complete once ASU receives all of your required transcripts. If you haven't completed an Associate of Arts degree, have your official high school transcript sent as well. Please have your transcripts sent to:

Military and veterans at ASU

Why so many veteran and military students choose ASU

ASU and the Pat Tillman Veterans Center [1] welcome you to your next adventure — accomplishing your education and career goals. Student veterans and active-duty service members are a valuable part of the ASU community and our academic environment. Whether you're planning to earn your degree online or on campus, you can:

- Continue serving as a leader by getting involved.
- Take advantage of job and career opportunities.
- Attend virtual or in-person career fairs.
- Earn your service honor stole to wear at graduation.

You've already proven you can succeed in one world-class organization. We believe in you and know you can succeed here as well. ASU's Pat Tillman Veterans Center team is here to help you every step of the way. It's why ASU is consistently included among the best schools for veterans and military students.

Benefits

You've earned your military benefits, but navigating the paperwork can be tricky. We're here to help.

Check out these steps [2] for getting your benefits started.

Pat Tillman Veterans Center

ASU's Pat Tillman Veterans Center is one of the reasons ASU is a top university for veteran, military and dependent students. The center's mission is to empower and engage our ASU military and veteran community with their academic and personal success at ASU and beyond.

Pat Tillman Veterans Center [1]

Campuses and ASU Online

ASU lets you choose the best learning environment for you. We offer four metro Phoenix area campuses as well as a location in Lake Havasu City, known for its outdoor adventures and one-on-one attention. You can also study remotely with ASU Online, which offers the same degrees and professors as our on-campus programs.

LIA 294: Student Success for Veterans

Have you registered for ASU’s veteran-specific introductory course? Designed for the student veteran, LIA 294: Student Success for Veterans provides you with support systems, academic resources and transitional aid. Meet other student veterans and learn about how ASU, the state of Arizona and the VA can assist you throughout your college experience. There are only 19 seats per class on each campus, so secure your spot today.

If you are a veteran in need of an orientation class, then you have no business taking the regular ASU orientation course. Do yourself a favor and take LIA 294; it will put you at a running start for successful and expedient graduation.

ASU accepts the following military transcripts for transfer credit:

Air Force and Space Force members

Enlisted members

The Community College of the Air Force is a regionally accredited community college. If you received credit for courses taken through the CCAF while in active service, submit this transcript as part of your application. You can request to have your official CCAF transcript sent to ASU from the Community College of the Air Force transcripts [10] page. CCAF now offers electronic transcript delivery through Parchment, a digital credentialing service. Students can create an account on Parchment [11] to send transcripts.

Officers

Officer transcripts are maintained by Air University. First-time users must create an account by accessing the AU Service Desk [12]. This works better on non-NIPR and Google Chrome. On the homepage under the Quick Links tab, select Official Transcript Request. Complete the required components of the form, add the attachments and submit. The Service Desk can be accessed by any device that has internet access; it is Common Access Card (CAC) enabled, but this is not required. The AU Service Desk is a secure application and certified for submission of Privacy Act information.

Army, Marine Corps, Navy and Coast Guard members

- The Joint Services Transcript has replaced the Coast Guard Institute Transcript, the Army/American Council on Education Registry Transcript System, and the Sailor/Marine American Council on Education Registry Transcript.
- All enlisted members, officers and warrant officers, both active and veterans from all Army components, Coast Guard, Marine Corps and Navy, are eligible for a JST. You do not have to be on active duty to access the JST website and your transcript. Active duty, reserve, veterans or National Guard personnel can use JSTs.
- Some students may have concerns about a security warning when accessing the website. This happens when a user logs in to a Department of Defense network from a non-networked computer without a CAC. You can confirm the security exception to proceed to the JST request site. If you do not confirm this exception, you will be unable to place your order.
- Register [13] for a JST account, and direct the DoD to send your transcript to ASU.

ASU is measured not by whom it excludes, but by whom it includes and how they succeed.

Pat Tillman's life and legacy live on at ASU

Pat Tillman was an ASU student scholar and star football player who graduated in 3½ years and went on to play professionally with the Arizona Cardinals. In 2002, Pat walked away from a $3.6 million contract with the Cardinals to enlist in the U.S. Army. He died while serving in Afghanistan in 2004.

As a scholar, athlete and soldier, Pat Tillman performed at his best. ASU continues to honor Pat with the annual Pat's Run, the Pat Tillman Veterans Center, Tillman Tunnel and in countless other ways. His passion for life and expectations of excellence reverberate through everything we do.

Frequently asked questions about being a veteran at ASU

What's it like to be a veteran or military student at ASU?

There are more than 20,000 veterans and military students on campus and online. You'll receive support from the Pat Tillman Veterans Center, the VA VetSuccess on Campus counselor, and ASU's faculty and staff to succeed in your goals — from applying to ASU, getting your benefits set up, making sure you are using your benefits to your best advantage, and getting connected to events and opportunities for veterans and military students.

Is ASU a military friendly school?

ASU is consistently recognized as one of the best schools in the country, both on campus and online, for veterans and the military community. We want veteran and military students and their families to succeed, achieve their goals and move on to the next chapter in their lives, and we're here to help you get there.

What are the steps to getting admitted as a student veteran?

We understand the admission process can be complicated, so we've created a checklist to help guide you through it. Start your application [16] and refer to this checklist [17] throughout the admission process for helpful tips about applying and succeeding as an active duty, veteran or military-affiliated student at ASU.

Are there any degree programs just for veterans or military students?

ASU does not offer exclusive degree programs for veteran or military students. However, we encourage you to take advantage of two courses specifically designed to connect you with other veteran and military students on campus and online, and introduce you to various resources available through the university, the state of Arizona and the Department of Veteran Affairs.

Admission and enrollment guidance for benefit users

The Pat Tillman Veterans Center is here to assist you in checking off your to-do list prior to attending Arizona State University. Your next steps are provided below to help you prepare for your enrollment, but we acknowledge that each students' experience and requirements differ. If you have any questions as you review these tasks, PTVC is here to help.

Steps to ASU enrollment

Prior to admission

Step 01: Apply or update my VA benefits

It takes approximately one to two months for benefits to be approved. Start the process early to ensure a smooth transition to the university.

Start VA benefit forms [2]

If you need to update the location of your VA benefits [3]

Step 02: Check to make sure your program is VA approved at ASU

On the webpage, go to Arizona, then Arizona State University, and select the "Programs" tab. Undergraduate and graduate degree programs, as well as graduate certificates, will be listed under IHL. Undergraduate certificates can be found under NCD.

Step 05: Complete ASU's documents for VA benefits processing

Processing times vary. See PTVC/VA Benefits Flowchart [9].

PTVC documents

VA Benefits Responsibility form

You'll fill this form out only once while at ASU. It notifies the Pat Tillman Veterans Center of your intent to use VA education benefits, such as the GI-Bill®, while at ASU. Please note that it contains important information regarding the use of VA benefits throughout your school enrollment. Fill out the form online and submit it directly to the Pat Tillman Veterans Center. You will receive a confirmation email indicating you have completed the form.

VA Benefits Responsibility form [10]

Prior to your first semester at ASU, fill out this form if you intend to use VA education benefits. The form provides important information about your particular benefit program. Your completed form will submit directly to the Pat Tillman Veterans Center, and you'll receive an email confirmation.

VA Enrollment Activity form

This form notifies the Pat Tillman Veterans Center of your intent to use (or not use) your VA education benefits for the semester's enrollment. Submit this form each semester after finalizing your schedule. Additionally, you can revise your EAF to tell us about classes you or your college may have added since your original submission. Once completed, the form will submit directly to PTVC, and a confirmation will be sent to your ASU email address.

Enrollment activity form [10]

Prior Credit Evaluation form

Submit this form following your acceptance to ASU to ensure that all your prior course credit and/or previous experience is evaluated for potential transfer credit. Follow the directions on the form and work with your academic advisor to complete and submit it to the Pat Tillman Veterans Center.

Prior Credit Evaluation form [11]

Step 05: Register for LIA 294 or another first-year success course

LIA 294: Student Success for Veterans is designed for the student veteran, and provides you with support systems, academic resources and transitional aid. Meet other student veterans and learn about how ASU, the state of Arizona, and the VA can assist you throughout your college experience. Speak with your academic advisor to see if this class or another first year success course would benefit you. Find their contact information in MyASU.

My ASU [12]

Step 06: Register for a Veterans and Dependents Welcome event

The Veterans and dependents Welcome event is a seminar-style orientation. It is expected that all incoming graduate and undergraduate student veterans and dependents attend the welcome event prior to their first semester at ASU. Hosted by ASU and the Pat Tillman Veterans Center, the Veterans and Dependents Welcome event introduces you to valuable benefits information and procedures that will apply each semester that you use your benefits. Spouses and dependent students do not need to attend this event.

If you are a new student, you will receive notifications by mail and email prior to the event so you can RSVP and plan to attend. Events are scheduled before both fall and spring semesters. Refreshments are provided and space is limited, so we request that you don't bring guests. We look forward to seeing you there.

Register for welcome event [13]

Nondegree and visiting student admission

Some individuals may be interested in studying in a nondegree status, either through precollege summer programs or for their own personal learning experience. A nondegree student is one who has not attended ASU as a degree-seeking student, has not earned a bachelor's degree, is not attending full time and is not currently applying to a degree program.

If you are a visiting university student interested in taking classes, see this information on how to apply and enroll in classes [1].

- Once admitted to a degree program, a student is not permitted to register in a nondegree status.
- Nondegree students can enroll in eight credit hours for each fall, spring, and summer semester, with a maximum limit of 24 credit hours over the course of the academic year.
- Nondegree students may apply up to 15 hours taken in nondegree status to a degree program if they choose to pursue an undergraduate degree in the future.
- Nondegree students are not eligible for financial aid.
- Nondegree students may not be eligible for academic advising.
- VA education benefits are often not applicable to nondegree-seeking students.

Exceptions to these guidelines may be made for specific programs or partners with approval from the provost's office.

Nondegree requirements

To be eligible to take classes at ASU as a nondegree student, you must either be a high school graduate or currently enrolled in high school.

If you are currently enrolled in high school or are under the age of 18, you may be eligible to take classes as a nondegree student. Before enrolling, ensure you are academically prepared for any college-level course, as these courses and grades will become part of your permanent academic record. It may be advisable to speak with your high school counselor prior to enrollment.

Application procedures

1. Complete an undergraduate admission application.
2. Submit the nonrefundable application fee.
Arizona residents – $50 Nonresidents – $80 ASU Online – $70 International – $85
3. If needed, have your transcripts sent directly to ASU.

ASU will review your application for admission once all materials are on file. To see if your file is complete, sign in to My ASU using your ASURITE User ID provided to you after you submit your application.

You may need to submit a transcript if you are trying to enroll in a course that has prerequisites.

Visiting university students

Arizona State University welcomes visiting university students and is proud to provide students enrolled in other colleges and universities with opportunities to stay on track academically and advance toward your goals.

Apply as a visiting student [1]

If you are a current high school student, you can earn university credit.

We're embedding the university experience in high school [2] to give students an accelerated path toward university admission and careers of the future. Our concurrent courses offer the opportunity to earn both high school and university credit toward a major.

Courses for visiting university students

As a national leader in online and remote learning, ASU's robust catalog of classes is available wherever you are. ASU has the class you need to get back on track or get ahead on progress toward your degree.

Steps to become a visiting university student at ASU

Step 01: Find a course [11] you want to take.

Search the entire catalog of ASU classes — find those available to help you catch up, stay on track or accelerate your degree.

Step 02: Submit your application [1].

Our Visiting University Student application is streamlined, taking only 10 to 15 minutes to complete. Decisions are made within 24 to 48 hours.

Step 03: Get an ASU email and activate your account [12].

Check your email for ASURITE User ID credentials to activate My ASU.

Step 04: Register [13] for classes and pay your bill [14].

Though financial aid is not available for visiting university students, affordable tuition rates have been set to support students interested in advancing their degree through ASU credits.

We recommend checking the course number and name with your home institution advisor before you register to make sure it transfers back to your home institution.

Tuition for visiting university students is set at ASU Online tuition rates [15] regardless of course modality.

Step 05: Take the class.

Your admission to ASU with nondegree-seeking status permits you to register for up to eight credit hours per semester. You may apply a maximum of 15 credit hours toward a degree at ASU. Nondegree-seeking students are not eligible for financial aid. For more information, visit this page [16].

Step 06: Order your ASU transcript [17].

Use this official document to submit to your home institution and apply toward your degree.

Visiting university student frequently asked questionsAre all classes taught online?

All classes are offered remotely. Some are offered as our traditional ASU Online courses, some are iCourses and some are taught remotely through ASU Sync.

What is an ASU Online class?

ASU Online courses are part of our industry-leading online education platform and most are delivered asynchronously, meaning they do not have specific dates and times that the class meets. These classes are listed in ASU's course search as "ASU Online Classes".

What is an iCourse?

iCourses are online classes and may be offered asynchronously or they may be taught in live, digital sessions, or other synchronous methods. If an iCourse has a day and time listed, you will meet remotely during that time. If there is no specific time listed, this means that the class is asynchronous, meaning they do not have specific dates and times that the class meets. These classes are listed in ASU's course search as "In-Person & iCourses".

What is ASU Sync?

ASU Sync allows any student to attend a live-taught, on-campus class via Zoom during its regularly scheduled day and time. These classes include a live lecture or class presentation by a faculty member alongside other virtual learners in Zoom and students in the classroom.

How much does a class cost?

ASU is committed to providing our high-quality instruction at an affordable tuition rate. Tuition for visiting university students is set at ASU Online tuition rates [15] regardless of course modality.

When do classes start?

ASU classes begin six times a year. ASU regularly offers classes in the fall, spring and summer terms. Follow this link to review the start dates for upcoming terms: <https://students.asu.edu/academic-calendar> [18]

Is there a credit limit that visiting university students can take?

Yes. Visiting university students can enroll in eight credit hours for each fall and spring semester, seven credit hours for each six-week summer session, and nine credit hours for the eight-week summer session, with a maximum limit of 24 credit hours over the course of the academic year.

Can students who already have a bachelor's degree take undergraduate or graduate classes as a visiting university student?

While we do not have a visiting university student application for those with a bachelor's degree already completed, students who already have a bachelor's degree and are looking to enroll in courses at the undergraduate or graduate level are welcome to apply as a graduate nondegree-seeking applicant.

Who is eligible to be a visiting university student?

If you are an undergraduate student in good academic standing at any community college, college or university, you are eligible to take courses for credit with ASU as a visiting university student.

Can master's students take graduate-level classes as a visiting university student?

Yes, students who already have a bachelor's degree or are looking to enroll in ASU courses at the graduate (master's) level are welcome to apply as a Graduate Nondegree applicant [19].

How long does it take to apply and get accepted?

We have worked to make the application process as simple as possible. The application takes 10-15 minutes to complete. You'll have an answer on your application within 48 hours.

Do all classes transfer back to my home college or university?

Most of ASU's courses do transfer and count toward your degree at your home institution. However, we strongly encourage you to speak with your advisor at your home institution to ensure that the ASU class or classes you are taking will transfer back to your home institution. Ultimately, it is up to your home school to determine if ASU classes count toward your degree.

Undergraduate readmission

Quick re-entry

If you are an undergraduate degree-seeking student who previously attended ASU but who has not been enrolled at ASU for up to seven consecutive fall or spring semesters, you may be eligible to return through Quick Re-entry.* You do not need to submit a new application or application fee. You may sign in to My ASU and register for classes. You may have a hold or Priority Task that you need to complete before you are able to register for classes. Your catalog year upon re-entry will be determined via current policy.

International students are still responsible for all SEVIS requirements and should check with the International Students and Scholars Center at ASU.

If your absence is due to military deployment, service on an official church mission or with a foreign aid service of the federal government, or a permanent disability, you should submit a Leave of Absence [1].

You must submit official transcript(s) from all institutions you attended during your absence from ASU. Official transcripts must be mailed or sent electronically directly to Admission Services by the records office of the issuing institutions. Please check the contact page for the mailing address [2]. ASU does not accept transcripts sent or carried by hand by applicants themselves or transmitted by fax.

International students (F1/J1 visa) eligible for quick re-entry should contact ASU's International Students and Scholars Center at ISSC@asu.edu to submit documentation for issuance of an I-20 for visa purposes. Visit issc.asu.edu [3].

*If you have completed an ASU bachelor's degree program and are seeking to pursue another program or were academically disqualified, you are not eligible for quick re-entry.

Readmission requirements

If you are not eligible for Quick Re-entry you must apply for readmission and submit applicable fees. An applicant for readmission must have an ASU GPA of 2.00 or higher, depending on the ASU school or college and must have left on good academic standing. Students who do not meet this GPA and academic standing requirement may appeal. In these cases, the completed application for readmission may be subject to a due date that is earlier than the application deadline.

If a readmission appeal is required, please note that the decisions may take 4-6 weeks.

Note: You must submit official transcripts from all institutions you attended during your absence from ASU. Official transcripts must be mailed or sent electronically directly to Admission Services by the records office of the issuing institutions. ASU does not accept transcripts sent or carried by hand by applicants themselves or transmitted by fax. Please visit our contact page for the mailing address [2].

Priority readmission application deadlines

Fall semester

The priority readmission application deadline for fall semester is June 1. Readmission applications received after June 1 will be considered on a space-available basis. Space is limited in some programs and admission to these programs is more competitive.

Spring semester

The priority readmission application deadline for spring semester is Dec. 1. Readmission applications received after Dec. 1 will be considered on a space-available basis. Space is limited in some programs and admission to these programs is more competitive.

Summer sessions

The priority readmission application deadline is May 1.

What needs to be submitted by the deadline?

You must submit the application for undergraduate admission, along with the application fee, by the deadline specified for each semester. In order to expedite the evaluation of your application, also submit official transcripts, test scores and supporting credentials immediately.

I was previously admitted to ASU but did not attend. Am I a readmission student?

If you have previously been admitted to ASU but did not attend, you will be considered a first-year student or a transfer student.

Steps to apply for readmission

Step 01: Complete the undergraduate admission application.

ASU accepts online applications only.

Apply now [4]

Step 02: Submit the nonrefundable application fee.

Arizona residents: $50

Nonresidents: $80

International: $85

If you're applying to an ASU Online degree program, a nonrefundable application fee of $70 will be charged regardless of residency classification.

Step 03: Request that your official transcripts be sent directly from your school(s) to Admission Services.

Upon completion of the semester, request that a final transcript be sent directly to ASU to determine final admission status. If you do not meet readmission requirements for your selected major, you must submit complete transcripts before an admission decision is made. Submit transcripts only from institutions other than ASU.

Note: Receipt of your final transcript impacts financial aid disbursement and eligibility to register for future classes.

Find out more about transferring credits to ASU [5].

Veterans exception

By Arizona statute, no failing grades received by a veteran at an Arizona university or community college before military service may be considered when determining admissibility. This exception applies only to veterans who fulfill these three criteria:

- Are honorably discharged.
- Have served in the armed forces of the United States for a minimum of two years.
- Have previously enrolled at a university or community college in Arizona.

Military service records must be submitted, including form DD 214.

Disqualification

If you have been academically disqualified from ASU, you will need to wait for at least one fall or spring semester to pass immediately following your disqualification before applying for readmission. Some ASU colleges or schools may require you to wait for a longer period. Contact the college or school [6] of your desired major for more information.

Academic renewal

Academic renewal guidelines

Academic renewal is a university policy administered to recalculate the cumulative ASU GPA of an undergraduate student who:

- Is pursuing his/her first undergraduate degree and has not previously received an academic renewal; and
- Has a cumulative ASU GPA below 2.0; and
- Is readmitted to a degree program after an absence of at least five consecutive years.

ASU Courses completed before the five-year absence with a grade "C" or better are accepted in the same manner as transfer credit. This will apply to the maximum number of community college transfer credits allowed by the program, as specified by SSM 401-01 [7].

Graduation requirements for resident credit hours and GPA must be fulfilled after the academic renewal. Graduation requirements for academic recognition (resident credit hours and GPA) must also be fulfilled after the academic renewal.

Courses completed before and after the academic renewal remain on the transcript and may be considered when students apply for undergraduate professional or graduate programs.

Procedure:

The student must:

- Print the Application for Academic Renewal form [8] from the web, or request it from the college of the student's major; and
- Submit the form to the dean's office in the college offering the student's major before the last day of the third semester after readmission.

The dean's office of the college of the student's major:

- Specifies a minimum of 12 semester hours the student is required to earn with a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.5 and no grade lower than a "C," to be completed within three semesters after reentry.

Upon completion of the requirements by the student, the dean's office:

- Forwards the approved Application for Academic Renewal to the Course Catalog and Curriculum Maintenance section of University Registrar Services.

Course Catalog and Curriculum Maintenance section of University Registrar Services:

- Processes the academic renewal and adjusts the student's credit hours and GPA; and
- Sends an unofficial transcript showing the processed academic renewal to the student.

Frequently asked questions about readmission

Am I eligible for Quick Re-entry?

If you're an undergraduate degree-seeking student who has attended ASU before but have not been enrolled for up to seven consecutive fall or spring semesters, you are eligible for Quick Re-entry. If you haven't been enrolled at ASU for eight or more semesters, you are not eligible for Quick Re-entry and must apply for readmission.

How do I know if I have to reapply for admission?

If you have not been enrolled at ASU for eight or more semesters, you have to apply for readmission and submit all applicable fees. If you have not been enrolled at ASU for one or two fall or spring semesters, you are eligible to return through Quick Re-entry.

Are readmission requirements different than when I was first admitted?

They may be, depending on when you were first admitted. ASU admission requirements change from time to time, so the admission standards you met previously may be different than they are currently.

Course load and concurrent enrollment

Course load

A minimum full-time course load for an undergraduate student is 12 credit hours.

The maximum course load for which a degree-seeking student may register in a fall or spring semester across all three sessions (A, B and C) is 18 credit hours, with a maximum of nine credit hours in each A or B session. The limit is 19 credit hours for students enrolled in the Ira A. Fulton Schools of Engineering. A student wishing to register for more than the maximum must petition the standards committee of the college in which the student is enrolled and must obtain an approved overload before registration.

Summer session credit hour load

The summer session credit hour load limit is seven credit hours for each six-week session and nine credit hours for the eight-week session, and the load limit is 14 credit hours for any combination of sessions.

Graduate credits earned by undergraduate students

ASU undergraduate students who have achieved senior status (they cannot be postbaccalaureate) with a cumulative GPA of 3.00 or higher may count up to 15 credit hours of graduate-level coursework toward their graduate degree at ASU

(termed preadmission credit hours). Only graduate courses with a grade of "B" (3.00) or higher may be included on a graduate plan of study. Preadmission graduate courses cannot be used to meet any baccalaureate graduation requirements. Before registering for these courses, students are advised to check with their academic advisor to ensure the correct internal academic unit or college process is followed. Permission to take a preadmission graduate course does not guarantee admission to a graduate degree program or that the course may be used toward graduate degree requirements.

Use of graduate course credit by undergraduates

Graduate course credit earned by an undergraduate student that is used to fulfill requirements for an undergraduate degree program cannot also be used in a graduate degree program unless the student is enrolled in an approved accelerated master's degree program. Students must contact their advisor before enrolling in a graduate course they wish to use toward a future graduate program at ASU.

Concurrent enrollment

A student may enroll in classes at other institutions or in independent learning courses while enrolled at ASU, provided that the student adheres to the other institution's regulations concerning enrollment, graduation requirements and transfer of credits. However, the student is urged to seek advising before concurrent enrollment to ensure orderly progress toward a degree. If the total credit hours exceed the maximum course load, prior permission must be granted by the college standards committee.

Changes in enrollment can affect financial aid awards. Students should contact Financial Aid and Scholarship Services [1] for more information.

Enrollment verification guidelines

The registrar is responsible for verifying enrollment, according to general guidelines; students should review the enrollment verification [2] page.

Credit by examination

Students may receive credit for an ASU course by taking an examination in place of the actual course. Some exams may be taken prior to admission to ASU. Information is provided below on each type of exam, the courses that are equivalent and other conditions that may apply to credit being awarded.

- A student pursuing a bachelor's degree may earn no more than 60 hours of credit by examination, including ASU comprehensive and proficiency exams, for any or all programs.
- A student pursuing an associate degree may earn no more than 30 hours of credit by examination, including ASU comprehensive and proficiency exams, for any or all programs.
- Credit is not awarded for any course in which the student has been given credit from any educational institution.
- Credit is not granted for a course taken at an educational institution after credit by examination has been awarded.

Exception: There may be instances in which a student wishes to remove exam credit earned through Advanced Placement, College-Level Examination Program, DANTES Subject Standardized Test, Cambridge International exam or International Baccalaureate exams. If the student elects to remove exam credit, the cumulative university hours are adjusted, and the student can complete the corresponding ASU course. When a student decides to complete the ASU course, the earned credit and grades always apply. Students should see below for additional details on each exam and its equivalent scores.

- Credit may not be received for a lower-level or prerequisite course when credit has already been received in a higher-level course within the same field.
- Only credit earned by comprehensive examination counts toward the resident credit requirement for graduation.
- Credit by exam is awarded based on the date the exam was taken. Students who take the exam during the current catalog year (August 2025–July 2026) earn credit based on the credit equivalency found in the current catalog. If the test was taken in a prior academic year, the student should refer to the catalog of that year or search the Transfer Guide [1] for more information.

Types of examinations

College-Level Examination Program (CLEP) can be taken before or during enrollment at ASU.

Advanced Placement (AP) is taken during secondary school or before enrollment at ASU.

DANTES or DSST (Defense Activity for Nontraditional Education Support Subject Standardized Test) is taken by military or approved government personnel before or during enrollment at ASU.

International Baccalaureate (IB) exam credit is earned by students of an International Baccalaureate®-approved school before enrollment at ASU.

Cambridge International exam is taken by students who have completed a Cambridge course in their secondary school.

Comprehensive examinations can be taken by current ASU students.

Proficiency examinations can be taken by current ASU students.

For information about placement testing for mathematics and English classes before orientation, students should refer to the placement and testing requirements [2] in the ASU Academic Catalog.

College-Level Examination Program (CLEP)

Students who have taken a College-Level Examination of the College Entrance Examination Board may receive university credit. The table of CLEP credit applies to all students enrolled in the university for the first time in August 1975 and any student enrolling thereafter. CLEP examination credit is not given if it duplicates credit previously earned by the student at the university or accepted by the university for work done elsewhere. All examinations are given monthly by University Testing and Scanning Services [3].

CLEP examination credit does not satisfy the General Studies Maroon requirements for Natural Sciences (SQ and SG) or Literacy and Critical Inquiry (L), or General Studies Gold requirements for Scientific Thinking in the Natural Sciences (SCIT). There is no limit to the number of CLEP credits that can be used to fulfill the other parts of the general studies requirements within either system. A student who has received ASU credit for a course as a result of special programs credit may not duplicate the credit by enrolling in the same class for credit at ASU or transferring it to another institution.

Subject examinations

To obtain credit or placement for all subject exams except English, History, French, German, and Spanish, a student must receive a score of 50 (computer-based testing scale) or higher. To obtain credit for College Composition, a student must receive a standard score of 610 (1978 scale), 500 (1986 scale), or 50 (computer-based testing scale). Test scores for French, German, History and Spanish are shown below in the CLEP credit table.

All equivalency is subject to future review and possible catalog change. Students should refer to the Transfer Guide for equivalencies of exams taken outside of the current catalog year. For more information on registering for CLEP testing [3], students should contact University Testing and Scanning Services [4] at 480-965-7146 or uts@asu.edu.

*Credit awarded as a department elective displays as DEC. A DEC course is not directly equivalent to a current ASU course but could be used for graduation requirements. Students should see their advisor to determine how these courses may apply to their major.

Advanced Placement (AP)

Students who have taken an Advanced Placement course of the College Entrance Examination Board in their secondary school and who have taken an AP examination of the CEEB may receive university credit. No credit is given for any examination with a score of 2 or 1. There is no limit to the number of AP credits that can be used to meet the general studies requirement, including the requirements for Natural Sciences (SQ and SG) and Literacy and Critical Inquiry (L) within General Studies Maroon, and those for Scientific Thinking in the Natural Sciences (SCIT) within General Studies Gold.

When scores are received by the university directly from the CEEB, credit is awarded as shown in the Advanced Placement credit table below.

DANTES/DSST

Students who have taken a Defense Activity for Nontraditional Education Support Subject Standardized Test, known as DSST, may receive university credit. Credit is awarded for score results equal to or above the American Council on Education's recommended score if the subject examination is applicable to a program of study at ASU, or credit may be assigned as elective. To receive credit, a transcript showing the DSST results must be received by ASU directly from the Educational Testing Service.

Students should refer to the Transfer Guide for equivalencies of exams taken outside of the current catalog year. To register for the exam [5] or for more information about exam fees, students should contact University Testing and Scanning Services [4] at 480-965-7146 or uts@asu.edu.

*Credit awarded as a department elective displays as DEC. A DEC course is not directly equivalent to a current ASU course but could be used to fulfill graduation requirements. Students should see their advisor to determine how these courses may apply to their major.

International Baccalaureate (IB) exam

Students who present an International Baccalaureate exam may qualify for university credit, depending on the level of the examination and the grade received. Arizona State University grants credit for higher-level courses and some standard-level courses. A high level grade of 5 qualifies the student to receive credit for up to two introductory courses, while a grade of 4 qualifies a student to receive credit for one introductory course. No credit is awarded for English as a second language (English B). Credit is awarded according to the IB credit table below.

Comprehensive examinations

A comprehensive examination is intended to permit a student to establish academic credit in a field in which the student has gained experience or competence equivalent to an established university course. Applications are given only for courses listed in the current catalog and only for courses in which a comprehensive examination can serve as a satisfactory measure of accomplishment.

A number of restrictions apply. To be eligible to apply to take a comprehensive examination to establish undergraduate course equivalence, a student must:

1. have earned not more than 60 credit hours through comprehensive, CLEP, International Baccalaureate and Advanced Placement examinations
2. have earned no credit for a duplicate course
3. have earned no credit for a course for which this course is a prerequisite

The decision on the suitability of course material for a comprehensive examination, the development of a comprehensive examination, and the administration of an examination are strictly departmental functions. An application is for one course only. The student should complete an application form with the number, title and number of credit hours for the course. When completed, the application must be approved by the student's advisor and the chairperson of the department responsible for offering the course.

The student must then pay the stated fee for such examinations at cashiering services. The receipt must be taken to the departmental office.

The examination is prepared by the instructor who normally conducts the course, and it is comprehensive in nature and scope. The instructor and other experts designated by the chairperson grade the examination using letter grades "A+", "A", "A-", "B+", "B", "B-", "C+", "C", "D" or "E". If the grade is "C" or higher, a mark of "Y" is entered on the student's permanent record; otherwise, no entry is made. Credit by examination is indicated as such on the record. The student is notified by mail of the result of the examination. In cases of failure ("D" or "E"), the student is not given an opportunity to repeat the examination.

A student pursuing a second baccalaureate degree may not receive credit by comprehensive examination, but with prior approval of the college, the student may use the examination to waive a course requirement if a grade of "C" or higher is earned.

Proficiency examinations

Proficiency examinations and auditions are given:

1. to waive a course requirement
2. to validate certain transfer credits in professional programs
3. to determine a student's ability in a field in which competence is an important consideration

Detailed information may be obtained from the dean's office of the college in which the student is registered.

Leave of absence (undergraduate)

The Undergraduate Leave of Absence (LOA) policy assists and encourages undergraduate degree-seeking students to return and graduate after an absence due to military deployment, service on an official church mission or with a foreign aid service of the Federal government, or a permanent disability. If your absence is for any other reason, you may be eligible to return to ASU through Quick Re-entry [1], which permits undergraduate students to enroll without submitting a new application or application fee if they previously attended ASU but have not enrolled at ASU for up to seven consecutive fall or spring semesters.

Eligibility requirements

To be eligible for an Undergraduate LOA, students must be eligible to register for classes and meet the following criteria:

1. Be a degree-seeking undergraduate student.
2. Be registered during the semester immediately prior to the beginning of the LOA.
 - Students who were admitted as new first semester freshmen or transfer students but did not attend will not be eligible for an LOA. Instead, they should contact the Undergraduate Admissions office.
 - Students who were readmitted but did not attend will not be eligible for an LOA. Instead, they should contact the Undergraduate Admissions office.
 - Students who are participating in an ASU-sponsored study abroad program need not apply for an LOA.
3. Be in academic good standing, warning, probation, or continuing probation with their college.
4. Have no hold (e.g., disciplinary, financial, testing, etc.) which would restrict registration. Note: Students with financial holds may be given consideration for an LOA if authorized by the Collections Office [2].
5. Have submitted any outstanding high school and/or transfer transcripts, if prior admission/readmission and continued enrollment was contingent upon receipt of those transcripts.

Leave of absence FAQ's

Information for students returning from a Leave of Absence.

Am I able to view my unofficial transcripts?

Yes. Student can view their unofficial transcripts through their My ASU [4] page.

Can I attend another institution while on an LOA?

Yes. Once all coursework is complete and graded, please request official transcripts to be sent directly from the transfer institution to ASU at the following address:

Arizona State University
PO Box 870112
Tempe, AZ 85287-0112

Can I come back earlier than what my original LOA was processed for?

Yes. If you wish to return to ASU prior to the end of your scheduled leave you will need to contact University Registrar Services at 480-965-3124 so that your return may be updated immediately to maximize enrollment opportunities and meet any college, financial aid, etc. deadlines.

Can I request an extension of my LOA?

Yes. If you are unable to return to ASU by the term you initially identified, then you may request an extension through the college of your major. To extend your LOA, please complete the LOA form [3] and submit to your college for approval.

How will the university inform me regarding upcoming enrollment, deadlines and holds that may occur while on I'm on an LOA?

We recommend checking your My ASU [4] page often during your LOA so that you may stay informed about registration dates, financial aid and tuition deadlines and advising holds that may occur prior to the end of your leave.

If I qualify for an LOA, does this defer my scholarship?

No. In order to request a deferment of your scholarship, you will need to complete the Scholarship Deferment Application [5] found on the Scholarship website. To have your scholarship reinstated after the deferment period, you will need to complete the Scholarship Reinstatement Request [6] form.

My LOA is about to expire; what do I do now?

View your registration date as well as any current registration holds and "To Do" list items on My ASU [4]. Schedule an appointment with your advisor to discuss course selection. Submit transcripts for coursework you completed during your LOA.

Will my loans be deferred while on an LOA?

No. In order to defer loans, students must be currently enrolled. While the LOA keeps student records up to date, it does not allow for deferment. Please contact your lender for more information.

Placement and testing requirements

English placement

All students must meet the university first-year composition requirement through completion of both ENG 101 and ENG 102 or ENG 105 with a grade of "C" (2.00) or higher. Students whose native language is not English should complete ENG 107 and ENG 108 to satisfy this requirement.

Math placement

Before attending orientation and enrolling in classes, incoming first-year students must complete the ASU mathematics placement assessment [1]. ASU uses the placement assessment score and major math requirements [2] to identify the appropriate math course for students' math skills and academic goals.

Retention and academic standards

Class standing

A student's class standing is determined by the number of credit hours earned, as shown in the table below.

Student	Credit hours earned
Freshman	24 or fewer credit hours earned
Sophomore	25 to 55 credit hours earned
Junior	56 to 86 credit hours earned
Senior	87 or more credit hours earned
Graduate	bachelor's degree from accredited institution

Academic good standing

For the purpose of retention, university academic good standing [1] for degree-seeking students is defined as maintaining a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.00. This standard is in effect for all students regardless of catalog year.

Academic warning

An ASU student who does not achieve the minimum GPA standard at the completion of the first term of study receives an academic warning [2]. If, after one term with an academic warning, a student still does not achieve the minimum GPA standard, the student is placed on probation for at least one additional term. If a student's minimum GPA first falls below the standard in a term that is not the student's first term at ASU, the student is placed on probation. Failure to return to good academic standing after being placed on probation may result in disqualification.

A student with an academic warning or on academic probation is considered in conditional good standing and is permitted to enroll.

A student who has received an academic warning or is on probation must meet with an academic success advisor to discuss academic success strategies for the subsequent semester and develop a success plan for returning to university academic good standing. That plan may require successful completion of the academic refresher course UNI 220 Mindset Connections.

Dean's list

Undergraduate students are eligible for the dean's list if they earn 12 or more graded credit hours ("A+", "A", "A-", "B+", "B", "B-", "C+", "C", "D" or "E") during a semester in residence at ASU with a GPA of 3.50 or higher. A notation regarding dean's list achievement appears on the unofficial transcript. The dean's list is generated at the completion of the fall and spring semesters.

Satisfactory academic progress

The university is required to publish and enforce standards of satisfactory academic progress for certain students (e.g., student-athletes, students receiving financial aid, students receiving veterans benefits).

Certification of satisfactory progress for student-athletes is verified by the academic advisor and the dean's designee for certifying satisfactory progress. Certification of satisfactory progress [3] for students receiving financial aid or veterans benefits is verified by Financial Aid and Scholarship Services or the Pat Tillman Veterans Center, respectively. Students should contact their advisors or the appropriate office for additional information on satisfactory progress requirements.

Probation

A student's college assumes responsibility for enforcing academic standards and may place on university academic probation [4] any student who has failed to maintain good standing as previously defined. For purposes of probation and retention, an individual college may set higher GPA standards. A student on academic probation is required to observe any rules or limitations the college may impose as a condition for retention, including college-established policies regarding continuing probation.

Co-enrolled continuing probation program

Select disqualified students may participate in the co-enrolled continuing probation program at the discretion of their college or school. Under this program, the student takes UNI 220 Mindset Connections plus one ASU course selected by the student's advisor. The student co-enrolls at a Maricopa County Community College with a schedule selected in consultation with the ASU advisor. Upon completion of the term, students with a combined semester cumulative GPA of 2.50 may continue regular enrollment at ASU. Parameters regarding the number of co-enrolled hours required are at the discretion of each college or school.

Disqualification

A student who is placed on probation at the end of a semester is subject to disqualification [5] by the college or school at the end of the following semester if the conditions imposed for retention are not met.

Disqualification is exercised at the discretion of the college or school. A student is notified of disqualification by the dean of the college and is not allowed to register in a fall or spring semester at the university. If the student has already registered for a future fall or spring semester, the registration is canceled. A disqualified student who has not already been absent for a semester may contact the college advisor to see if reinstatement is possible. A disqualified student may not attend as a nondegree-seeking student. If a disqualified student elects to attend another university or two-year college, any credits earned there will not affect the ASU cumulative GPA. A course repeated elsewhere will not result in a replacement of a grade earned at ASU. Disqualified students must consult with an academic advisor to determine eligibility to attend ASU in the summer session in order to raise their ASU cumulative GPA.

Select disqualified students may participate in the co-enrolled continuing probation program. Information about this is available in the Glossary of Academic Terms, at probation [4].

Readmission

Students not eligible for quick re-entry [6] (i.e., because they have not been enrolled at ASU for more than seven semesters, completed their academic program, or were academically disqualified) must apply for readmission [7] and submit applicable fees.

Candidates for readmission who are not in academic good standing are subject to college review.

A disqualified student who has not already been absent for a semester may contact the college advisor to see if reinstatement is possible.

Academic integrity

All students should be familiar with ASU's academic integrity policy [8].

University undergraduate General Studies requirement

In addition to preparing students for careers and advanced study, a baccalaureate education should prepare students for satisfying personal, social and civic lives. Students should both acquire a depth of knowledge in a particular academic or professional discipline and be broadly educated, with knowledge of interdisciplinary and transdisciplinary approaches to address an array of questions. They should develop the general intellectual skills required to continue learning throughout their lives. The ASU general studies requirements complement the undergraduate major by developing critical learning skills, investigating the traditional branches of knowledge, and introducing students to approaches applicable to addressing contemporary challenges.

Students in a 2024–2025 catalog year and beyond - General Studies Gold

Effective fall 2024, ASU undergraduate students are required to complete the General Studies Gold requirements. Students who began their degree at ASU before fall 2024 and are in a catalog year preceding 2024–2025, are required to complete the General Studies Maroon [1] requirements. More information about what these changes mean and answers to some frequently asked questions are available on the Provost general studies [2] page.

The degree requirements for a student's catalog year are displayed on their major map or curriculum checksheet. For more information on the determination of catalog year, students should reference the undergraduate graduation requirements [3].

General Studies Gold includes courses in nine required categories. Courses that fulfill each category are noted in the course catalog [4]. General studies courses are regularly reviewed and are occasionally changed. A student receives the general studies credit that a course carries during the semester in which the course is taken. Students should consult the course catalog [4] each semester to determine which courses meet general studies requirements.

Required Categories

Humanities, Arts and Design (6 credits)
Social and Behavioral Sciences (3 credits)
Scientific Thinking in Natural Sciences (8 credits)
Quantitative Reasoning (3 credits)
Mathematics (3 credits)
American Institutions (3 credits)
Governance and Civic Engagement (3 credits)
Global Communities, Societies and Individuals (3 credits)
Sustainability (3 credits)

Humanities, Arts and Design (six credit hours - two courses)

The humanities explore questions of human existence and meaning, the nature of thinking and knowing, and moral and aesthetic experience. Humanities reflect on values of all kinds and seek to make the human mind more analytical, contemplative and expansive. They are often concerned with the study of textual and artistic practices of cultures, such as traditions in literature, philosophy, religion, ethics, history and aesthetics; the humanities also explore human thought and action and their application to human environments. They deepen awareness of the breadth of human heritages, traditions and histories; build literacy and critical thinking skills in evidence analysis and argumentation; and implicitly or explicitly promote the application of this knowledge to contemporary societies.

The study of arts and design deepens awareness of human societies and cultures. The arts have as a primary purpose the creation and study of objects, installations, performances and other means of expressing or conveying aesthetic concepts and ideas. Design study concerns itself with material objects, images and spaces; their historical development; and their significance in society and culture. Disciplines in the arts and design often employ nonverbal modes of thought and communication, and courses in these areas tend to focus on sounds, objects, images and structures, or on the practical techniques and historical development of, and innovation in, artistic and design traditions.

Learning outcomes

Upon completion of a course in Humanities, Arts and Design, students will be able to complete all outcomes in one of the two following groups.

Group 1:

1. analyze cultural creations or practices in historical or contemporary context
2. interpret the formal, aesthetic and creative elements in literary, visual or cultural texts
3. articulate relationships among tradition, innovation, individual creativity and communal expression in cultural creations or practices
4. communicate narratives, ideas or arguments using such elements as evidence, creativity and critical thinking

Group 2:

1. analyze cultural, political or social practices, texts or discourses in historical or contemporary context
2. communicate coherent arguments or narratives using evidence drawn from qualitative or quantitative sources
3. identify perspectives or values as manifested in a given philosophical or religious framework or a given historical or cultural context

Social and Behavioral Sciences (three credit hours)

Courses in social sciences and behavioral sciences expose students to the systematic investigation of human institutions, relationships, social structures, behavior, emotions, communication and health. Students learn about evidence, methods and approaches that social and behavioral scientists use to analyze, understand and describe human activities, experiences and systems. They learn how social scientists and behavioral scientists conduct research, how they disseminate their findings, and how the findings from social and behavioral science can be used in the pursuit of individual, societal and policy goals.

Learning outcomes

Upon completion of a course in Social and Behavioral Sciences, students will be able to do the following:

1. utilize behavioral or social science approaches, qualitative or quantitative, to examine aspects of human experiences or explain social or behavioral phenomena
2. describe the strengths and limitations of behavioral or social science methods in predicting or understanding human behavior
3. communicate coherent arguments using evidence drawn from qualitative or quantitative sources

Scientific Thinking in Natural Sciences (eight credit hours - two courses)

Courses in scientific thinking in natural sciences promote public scientific literacy, which is critical for making sound decisions about scientifically infused issues such as climate change. Scientific thinking in natural sciences includes understanding basic science concepts, such as the fundamental behavior of matter and energy, as well as understanding that science is not an encyclopedic collection of facts. Science is a process of exploration that embraces curiosity, inquiry, testing and communication to reduce uncertainty about nature. In Scientific Thinking in the Natural Sciences courses, students engage in the scientific process through lab experiences.

Learning outcomes

Upon completion of a course in Scientific Thinking in the Natural Sciences, students will be able to do the following:

1. obtain and interpret qualitative or quantitative data and communicate the findings
2. employ evidence to construct and test scientific hypotheses

3. assess the validity of scientific claims using evidence from biological or physical science
4. create models to explain observable phenomena and understand biological or physical processes in the natural world
5. communicate coherent arguments using evidence drawn from qualitative or quantitative sources

Quantitative Reasoning (three credit hours)

Quantitative and computational reasoning skills are essential for success in modern careers, for critically evaluating information in the age of "big data," for assessing the quality of arguments conveyed through digital media, for informed participation in community and social life, and for contributing to the formulation of effective solutions for achieving a sustainable and just future. Quantitative reasoning enables students to apply relevant mathematical, statistical, computational and visualization methods in academic, social and personal settings.

In a Quantitative Reasoning course, students learn about data, data management, data summaries, data visualization, and the use of computational tools with data. Data can take many forms, including numerical data, textual data and images. Students also learn about how quantitative reasoning can be used to make arguments clear, precise and verifiable. Finally, they learn to build quantitative models, make predictions, and communicate their findings based on available data. This may include some combination of mathematical, statistical, computational or network models, or visualizations.

Learning outcomes

Upon completion of a course in Quantitative Reasoning, students will be able to do the following:

1. understand variables, measurement and data, including how they can be used to pose and answer questions about society and nature, and to manipulate, organize, classify and visualize quantitative data
2. evaluate arguments from everyday life or academic fields of study that are represented mathematically, statistically or computationally, or in visualizations
3. formulate hypotheses, mathematical models or narratives that are consistent with quantitative data
4. communicate how quantitative data, interpretations or models are connected to outcomes, predictions, decisions, explanations or future states
5. effectively employ one or more digital tools to demonstrate quantitative reasoning, interpretations of calculations, or the creation and evaluation of visualizations

Mathematics (three credit hours)

The Mathematics studies requirement is intended to ensure that students have skill in basic mathematics and can use mathematical analysis in their chosen field of study. The mathematics requirement requires the student to complete a course in college mathematics, college algebra or precalculus, or demonstrate a higher level of skill by completing a mathematics course for which a course in the above three categories is a prerequisite. A course in mathematics includes the application of mathematical skills in the solution of real-life problems and introduces or makes significant use of fundamental mathematical skills and concepts.

Learning outcomes

Upon completion of a course in Mathematics, students will be able to do the following:

1. demonstrate an understanding of mathematical relationships from multiple perspectives, such as functions from graphical, numerical and analytic points of view
2. apply mathematical skills in the solution of real-life problems

American Institutions (three credit hours)

In each American Institutions course, students discuss people, ideas, institutions, movements and structural forces that have created and transformed the United States. Students analyze struggles over the meaning of America's constitutional democracy. Throughout the course, students analyze a wide variety of sources drawn from both past and present, and contemplate American history, ideals and institutions in global as well as national contexts. In doing so, students refine their ability to make and evaluate reasoned arguments, engage in civil debate, and participate constructively in civic life.

Learning outcomes

Upon completion of a course in American Institutions, students will be able to do the following:

1. demonstrate how ideas and groups have historically shaped the creation of and change in U.S. institutions.
2. identify key institutions in U.S. politics and their impacts on social, economic or political outcomes. This includes differential impacts on disparate communities.
3. describe the impact of key ideas, people, events, institutions or movements on the nature, history and boundaries of American citizenship and the various forms of civic participation in a self-governing society.
4. communicate coherent arguments using evidence drawn from qualitative or quantitative sources.

To achieve these goals, students must be exposed to the following knowledge or sources:

- principles of American constitutional democracy and how they are applied under a republican form of government
- the U.S. Constitution and major American constitutional debates
- founding documents that have shaped American institutions
- landmark policy achievements and Supreme Court cases
- economic knowledge necessary to assess policy options affecting both the public and private sectors
- international context of American institutions and the evolution of America's role in international affairs

Governance and Civic Engagement (three credit hours)

Courses in the Governance and Civic Engagement category explore ways in which humans confront the dilemmas and opportunities of community life and develop skills of civic communication.

Governance and Civic Engagement courses analyze principles and practices of decision-making in historical and contemporary contexts, and explore ways in which people have defined and pursued justice and the common good. Courses in the Governance and Civic Engagement category broaden students' understanding of how collective decisions are made, how they impact communities positively or negatively, and how various groups are included in, or excluded from, the decision-making process. Students have the opportunity to explore dynamics between governance and civic engagement, which can include perceived inequality or marginalization related to a variety of factors including race, class, citizenship, gender and disability. This category also develops students' skills in civic communication, including listening, deliberation, negotiation, consensus building and productive use of conflict, which are essential to participating more fully in their communities. Courses in this category may be entirely focused on developing skills in civic communication.

Learning outcomes

Upon completion of a course in Governance and Civic Engagement, students will be able to complete all outcomes in one of the two following groups.

Group 1:

1. analyze the context and consequences of one or more collective decision-making theories or practices
2. define an element of the common good and propose a way to pursue it within a specific contemporary context
3. communicate coherent arguments using evidence drawn from qualitative or quantitative sources

Group 2:

1. articulate diverse perspectives on the common or collective good
2. demonstrate the ability to collaborate effectively in the presence of dissenting opinions and experiences
3. communicate arguments, narratives or information using qualitative or quantitative evidence

Global Communities, Societies and Individuals (three credit hours)

Courses in the Global Communities, Societies and Individuals knowledge area explore the world from multiple vantage points. They consider historical, ongoing or transforming global issues across multiple scales and types of human experiences. Students analyze ways that geographical and historical contexts influence communities, societies and individuals. In addition to courses focused entirely on non-U.S. American issues, courses structured to include comparative or transnational connections between the United States and other countries (i.e., courses that consider a global issue in multiple locations one of which is the United States) fall into this knowledge area. Courses focused mostly or only on U.S. American issues or populations, however, even across diverse communities, are not included in this knowledge area. This knowledge area develops students' skills in global awareness and in the analysis of social, political, economic or cultural systems, skills essential to participating more fully in communities.

Learning outcomes

Upon completion of a course in Global Communities, Societies and Individuals, students will be able to do the following:

1. describe historical, contemporary or transforming global issues through the perspective of specific individuals, communities or societies
2. analyze the interactions among social, political, economic or cultural systems across local, regional and global scales or spaces
3. articulate ways in which dimensions of difference such as race, gender, socioeconomic status, religion, language or citizenship, separately and together, affect individuals and communities
4. communicate coherent arguments using evidence drawn from qualitative or quantitative sources

Sustainability (three credit hours)

The Sustainability requirement provides students with an interdisciplinary understanding of socio-ecological systems in relation to global challenges and opportunities. The learning objectives emphasize systems thinking, where human and non-human systems are understood as intimately connected, with human actions affecting all life on a planet with limits and boundaries. Students should also become familiar with how cultural, political, economic, social and ethical beliefs, practices and systems are related to and impact planetary systems. Students use course concepts and systems and futures thinking to address contemporary questions or challenges.

Learning outcomes

Upon completion of a course in Sustainability, students will be able to do the following:

1. demonstrate an understanding of the Earth and its ecosphere, including the measures that indicate their capacities and limits
2. trace historical impacts of a range of socioeconomic, political or cultural choices on integrated human-environmental well-being
3. envision pathways toward futures characterized by integrated human-environmental well-being
4. articulate an approach to addressing contemporary questions or challenges that employs concepts or practices of sustainability

Meeting the general studies requirement

All students enrolled in a baccalaureate or associate degree program must successfully complete a minimum of 35 credit hours of approved general studies courses.

There is no limit to the number of Advanced Placement [5] credits that can be used to meet the general studies requirement. Credits earned through College-Level Examination Program [6] may be applied to General Studies Gold requirements, with the exception of Scientific Thinking in Natural Sciences. A student pursuing a bachelor's degree may earn no more than 60 hours of credit by examination, including ASU comprehensive and proficiency exams, for any or all programs. A student pursuing an associate degree may earn no more than 30 hours of credit by examination, including ASU comprehensive and proficiency exams, for any or all programs.

Transfer credit

Completion of general studies and composition requirements, as documented on an official transcript from regionally accredited institutions of higher education within the United States fulfills ASU's General Studies Gold and first-year composition requirements. Certification of completed general studies includes completion of a general education package recognized by ASU, an Associate of Arts degree, a bachelor's degree or comparable. General studies packages and recognized degrees do not waive program requirements and prerequisites within major and minor areas of study.

Transfer students without completed and documented general education packages or degrees receive credit for general studies based on course-by-course equivalency. Students transferring from Arizona community colleges should see the Arizona General Education Curriculum [7] page for more information.

University requirements — first year composition

In addition to the 35 credit hours of General Studies coursework, students must complete, per university graduation requirements [8], ENG 101 and ENG 102, or ENG 105 with a grade of "C" (2.00) or higher to graduate from ASU in any baccalaureate or associate degree program. Students whose native language is not English may meet the first-year composition requirement by completing ENG 107 and 108 with a grade of "C" (2.00) or higher.

Students who are required to take first year composition must enroll in their first required composition course within the first year and continue to enroll in required composition courses every term until composition requirements are met.

College or school and major requirements

In addition to fulfilling the general studies requirement, students must also complete college or school and major requirements. Students are encouraged to work with their academic advisors to develop a program of study that efficiently meets all graduation requirements. A well-planned program should enable a student to concurrently satisfy requirements at the university, college or school levels, and within their major.

Students in catalog years before Fall 2024 — General Studies Maroon

In effect for students who began their degree program at ASU before fall 2024 and are in a catalog year before 2024-2025, the General Studies Maroon requirements include courses in five core areas and three awareness areas. Relevant courses are noted in the course catalog [4]. Effective fall 2024, new General Studies Maroon courses are no longer being added to the course catalog. General Studies Maroon courses retain their general studies designations to ensure that students can complete their degree requirements. A student receives the general studies credit that a course carries during the semester in which the course is taken. Students should consult the course catalog [4] each semester to determine which courses meet general studies requirements.

Five core areas (General Studies Maroon)

L: Literacy and Critical Inquiry (three credit hours)

Literacy is competence in written and oral discourse. Critical inquiry is the gathering, interpretation and evaluation of evidence. The Literacy and Critical Inquiry requirement helps students sustain and extend their ability to reason critically and communicate clearly through language.

Students must complete three credit hours from courses designated as L. Students must have completed ENG 101, ENG 105 or ENG 107 to take an L course.

The three credit hours required to meet the general studies L requirement are in addition to the upper-division L university graduation requirement. Students should review the university baccalaureate graduation requirements [8] for more information.

MA and CS: Mathematical Studies (combined six credit hours)

This core area has two categories. Mathematics (MA) is the acquisition of essential skills in basic mathematics. Computer/statistics/quantitative applications (CS) involves applying mathematical reasoning and requires students to complete a course in either the use of statistics and quantitative analysis or the use of a computer to assist in serious analytical math work.

The Mathematical Studies requirement has two parts: At least three credit hours must be selected from courses designated MA, and at least three credit hours must be selected from courses designated CS. All students are expected to fulfill the MA requirement by the time they accumulate 30 credit hours in residence at ASU. Any student who has more than 30 hours of resident ASU credit and has not fulfilled the MA requirement must enroll in an MA course or an appropriate prerequisite and continue to do so every semester until the mathematics requirement is met. College officers may grant waivers to the immediate and continual enrollment requirement only when there are scheduling conflicts detrimental to the student's academic progress.

HU: Humanities, Arts and Design and SB: Social-behavioral Sciences (combined 12 credit hours)

The study of the humanities and the disciplines of art and design deepen awareness of the complexities of the human condition and its diverse histories and cultures. Courses in the humanities are devoted to the productions of human thought and imagination, particularly in philosophical, historical, religious and artistic traditions. Courses with an emphasis in arts and design comprise the study of aesthetic experiences and the processes of artistic creation. They also may feature a design emphasis in which material culture is studied as a product of human thought and imagination.

The social-behavioral sciences provide scientific methods of inquiry and empirical knowledge about human behavior, within society and individually. The forms of study may be cultural, economic, geographic, historical, linguistic, political, psychological or social. The courses in this area address the challenge of understanding the diverse natures of individuals and cultural groups who live together in a world of diminishing economic, linguistic, military, political and social distance.

Twelve credit hours must be completed in two core areas: Humanities, Arts and Design (HU) and Social-behavioral Sciences (SB). At least six credit hours must be taken in each of these two core areas.

The 12 credit hours required to meet the general studies HU/SB requirement are in addition to the upper-division HU/SB university graduation requirement. Students should review the university baccalaureate graduation requirements [8] for more information.

SQ and SG: Natural Sciences (combined eight credit hours)

The natural sciences help students appreciate the scope and limitations of science and its contributions to society. Natural Sciences areas of study include anthropology, astronomy, biology, biochemistry, chemistry, experimental psychology, geology, microbiology, physical geography, physics and plant biology. Knowledge of the methods of scientific inquiry and mastery of basic scientific principles and concepts are stressed, specifically those that relate to matter and energy in living and nonliving systems. Firsthand exposure to scientific phenomena in the laboratory is important for developing an understanding of the concepts, principles and vocabulary of science.

General studies courses that satisfy the Natural Sciences requirement are given one of two classifications: quantitative (SQ) and general (SG).

- quantitative (SQ): These laboratory courses include a substantial introduction to the fundamental behavior of matter and energy in physical and biological systems.
- general (SG): These laboratory courses cover aspects of scientific inquiry that lend themselves to more qualitative or descriptive discussions of science.

Students must select eight credit hours of courses designated SQ or SG. Of these, at least four credit hours must be in the SQ category.

Three awareness areas (general studies)

Students must complete courses that satisfy three awareness areas. Courses that are listed for a core area and one or more awareness areas may satisfy requirements concurrently, up to a maximum of two of the awareness areas listed for that course. These awareness areas promote appreciation of cultural diversity within the contemporary U.S., the development of an international perspective and an understanding of current human events through study of the past.

1. Cultural Diversity in the United States (C)

The objective of the Cultural Diversity in the United States (C) requirement is to promote awareness and appreciation of cultural diversity within the contemporary U.S. This is accomplished through the study of the cultural, social or scientific contributions of women and minority groups, examination of their experiences in the U.S., or exploration of successful or unsuccessful interactions between and among cultural groups. Awareness of cultural diversity and its multiple sources can illuminate the collective past, present and future and also help students achieve greater mutual understanding and respect.

2. Global Awareness (G)

The objective of the Global Awareness (G) requirement is to help students recognize the need for an understanding of the values, elements and social processes of cultures other than those of the U.S. This area consists of courses that recognize other contemporary cultures and the relationship of the American cultural system to generic human goals and welfare.

3. Historical Awareness (H)

The objective of the Historical Awareness (H) requirement is to help students develop knowledge of the past, which can be useful in shaping the present and future. History is present in languages, art, music, literature, philosophy, religion and the natural sciences, as well as in the social science traditionally called history.

Meeting the general studies requirement

All students enrolled in a baccalaureate or associate degree program must successfully complete a minimum of 29 credit hours of approved general studies courses. Many general studies courses are approved as satisfying more than one requirement. The following conditions govern the application of courses toward the general studies requirements:

- A single course may be used to satisfy one core area and a maximum of two awareness area requirements.
- A single course may be used to satisfy a maximum of two awareness area requirements.
- A single course cannot be used to satisfy two core area requirements, even if it is approved for more than one core area.

There is no limit to the number of Advanced Placement [5] or College-Level Examination Program [6] credits that can be used to meet the general studies requirement. However, CLEP credits do not satisfy the Natural Sciences (SQ and SG) or Literacy and Critical Inquiry (L) portions of the General Studies Maroon requirements.

Transfer credit

Completion of general studies and composition requirements as documented on an official transcript from regionally accredited institutions of higher education within the United States fulfills ASU's lower-division General Studies Maroon and first-year composition requirements. Certification of completed general studies includes completion of a general education package recognized by ASU, an Associate of Arts degree, a bachelor's degree or comparable. General studies packages and recognized degrees do not waive lower-division program requirements and prerequisites within major and minor areas of study. Additionally, students still must take six upper-division credit hours (three for L and three for SB or HU) to complete the ASU university-level graduation requirements.

Transfer students without completed and documented general education packages or degrees receive credit for general studies based on course-by-course equivalency. Students transferring from Arizona community colleges should see the Arizona General Education Curriculum [7] page for more information.

University requirements

In addition to completing the 29 credit hours of lower-division general education coursework, per university baccalaureate graduation requirements [8], students must take six additional upper-division credit hours. Three hours with a Literacy and Critical Inquiry (L) designation must be chosen from approved upper-division courses, preferably in the major. Three hours with either a Humanities, Arts and Design (HU) or Social-behavioral Sciences (SB) designation should also be chosen from approved upper-division courses, preferably in the major. Additionally, students must complete the first-year composition [9] requirement.

College or school and major requirements

In addition to the general studies requirement, students must complete college or school and major requirements. Students are encouraged to work with their academic advisors to develop a program of study that efficiently meets all graduation requirements. A well-planned program should enable a student to concurrently satisfy requirements at the university, college or school levels, and within their major.

University associate degree graduation requirements

All students enrolled in an associate degree program must fulfill the following university requirements to graduate.

Credit requirements

A minimum of 60 credit hours is required to graduate with an associate degree. Students should check the program's graduation audit and major map or curriculum checklist for graduation requirements.

Grade point requirement

A minimum cumulative GPA of 2.00 for all courses taken at ASU is required to graduate. Some programs may require a cumulative GPA higher than 2.00; students should refer to the specific program's graduation audit and major map or curriculum checklist for graduation requirements.

General studies requirement

All students enrolled in an associate degree program must satisfy the university-required minimum number of approved lower-division general studies courses. Students should refer to the general studies policy [1] for more information.

Completion of general studies and composition requirements at a domestic institution accredited by an organization recognized by ASU as certified on the official transcript fulfills ASU's lower-division general studies and composition requirements. Certification of completed general studies curriculum may include students' completion of a general education package (e.g., AGECE, CSUGE, IGETC), an Associate of Arts degree, a bachelor's degree or comparable, as documented on an official transcript. If students transfer from an Arizona community college without completing the AGECE or from another accredited postsecondary institution, they receive credit for general studies based on course-by-course equivalency. Students should review the Arizona General Education Curriculum [2] page.

Mathematics requirement

All associate degree-seeking students are expected to fulfill the university's mathematics requirement by the time they have accumulated 30 credit hours in residence at ASU. Any student who has more than 30 credit hours and has not fulfilled the mathematics requirement must enroll in a mathematics course or an appropriate prerequisite course and continue to do so every semester until they meet the mathematics requirement. A waiver may be granted for continuous enrollment if there are scheduling conflicts detrimental to the student's academic progress.

First-year composition requirement

All students must meet the university first-year composition requirement through completion of both ENG 101 and ENG 102, or ENG 105 with a grade of "C" (2.00) or higher. Students whose native language is not English should complete ENG 107 and 108 with a grade of "C" (2.00) or higher to satisfy this requirement. All incoming students are placed [3] in ENG 101 or an appropriate first-year composition course based on submission of test scores, exam scores or transfer credit.

Transfer credit

Composition courses transferred from other postsecondary institutions may require evaluation. After consultation with an advisor, if evaluation is necessary, the student should submit a request for evaluation through the ASU Transfer Guide [4]. The process should be completed upon transfer of coursework to ASU so the student is able to enroll in additional courses if required to do so. Students who are required to take first-year composition must enroll in their first required composition course within the first year and continue to enroll in required composition courses every term until they meet composition requirements.

Credit by exam

A student pursuing an associate degree may earn no more than 30 hours of credit by examination, including ASU comprehensive and proficiency exams, for any or all programs.

Resident credit requirement

Resident credit refers to a course completed at ASU in a regular semester or summer session. Credit earned through ASU comprehensive examinations also is included when calculating ASU resident hours. Credit earned through independent learning, Advanced Placement testing, the College-Level Examination Program or an International Baccalaureate exam are excluded when calculating ASU resident hours.

Every candidate for an associate degree is required to earn a minimum of 15 credit hours in resident credit courses at ASU.

Definition of a catalog year

The ASU Academic Catalog is published annually. A catalog year runs from fall through summer, and a student who enters during the fall or spring semester follows the policies and requirements in effect for that catalog year. For example, catalog year 2024–2025 applies to students who enter in fall 2024 or spring 2025. Students who enter for the first time during the summer term follow the requirements in effect for the subsequent catalog year.

In most cases, a student's catalog year is the year in which they started at ASU. Students may be in a different catalog year for a variety of reasons, including:

- change of major
- continuous enrollment in an Arizona community college or public university
- student request to move to a newer catalog year
- significant changes to curriculum due to either accreditation or rapid changes to subject matter

More information and conditions of continuous enrollment can be found at guidelines for determination of catalog year [5].

Transfer credit

Students can review the general transfer credit requirements [6].

Application for graduation

Students can review the ASU graduation [7] website for information on how to apply for graduation, and associated fees and deadline dates.

Petition for variance from degree

Any student wishing to have a college or university degree requirement variance must petition the standards committee of the college in which the student is enrolled. All petitions must originate with the student's advisor.

The University Undergraduate Standards Committee advises the Office of the University Provost regarding undergraduate student petitions that concern university-level academic requirements. These include requirements on the amount of transfer credit, graduation requirements, and limits on credit by examination. To petition for a variance from such university requirements, the University Undergraduate Standards Committee petition [8] is used. Most petitions heard by the University Undergraduate Standards Committee start at the college level and are forwarded for final review and decision to the university-level committee.

Overview of graduation requirements

Students in the AA program in military studies, AA program in organizational leadership or AS in logistics (maritime) should refer to the credit requirements for U.S. Naval Community College programs [9].

The associate degrees comprise four parts: university requirements, college/school requirements, major requirements and electives.

University requirements include general studies and first-year composition requirements. Some colleges and schools at ASU have college-specific requirements applicable across all degrees offered within that academic unit. Major requirements represent the majority of the disciplinary content of the degree. Some degrees may also have room for electives, allowing students to complete credit hours toward the minimum number of credits required for graduation while they explore areas of personal and professional interest. Some students choose to declare a certificate, which typically adds 15–25 hours of coursework; this can also be used for elective credit. Students are encouraged to consult with their academic advisor in planning a program to ensure it meets all requirements.

Associate degrees are 60 credit hours. Some courses may fulfill two or more types of requirements, but other courses fulfill only one requirement. As such, the size of the circle segment attributed to each requirement category in the graphic below does not necessarily correspond to the exact number of credits required for each.

Major requirements

Changing majors

Some majors may have specific requirements that a student must meet to be eligible for acceptance to the new major. A degree-seeking undergraduate student may view the requirements for changing majors on Degree Search [10] and visit the changing your major site [11] for more information and resources on major exploration.

Changing from an associate degree to a bachelor's degree program may impact financial aid.

Graduation with academic recognition

Graduation with academic recognition is applicable only to bachelor's degree programs.

Concurrent degrees

If prior approval is given by the colleges or schools offering the degrees, more than one associate degree may be pursued concurrently. Students may receive concurrent degrees if they meet the minimum requirements for both degrees. Specific combinations of degrees may be deemed inappropriate because of high curricular overlap. Pursuing concurrent degrees may impact financial aid disbursement.

Disestablished programs

A disestablished program is a major, minor or certificate that the institution has chosen to discontinue. Upon the effective term and year of disestablishment, ASU may choose to stop admitting new students to the program. This includes current ASU students seeking to change to the disestablished major, to add the disestablished major as a concurrent degree, or to add the disestablished minor or certificate. Active students in a disestablished program have a period of four academic years to complete the program requirements. This includes active, not enrolled students typically eligible for quick re-entry. Students who choose quick re-entry to the institution after a period of nonenrollment cannot re-enroll in a disestablished program if four academic years have passed since the effective term of disestablishment.

Students who have not completed the requirements for a disestablished program four academic years after disestablishment are changed administratively to a different major, or have the minor or certificate removed from their record.

Nondegree credit

Some individuals may be interested in studying in a nondegree status, either through pre-college summer programs or for their own personal learning experience. An undergraduate nondegree-seeking student is one who has not attended ASU as a degree-seeking student, has not earned an associate or bachelor's degree, is not attending full time, and is not currently applying to a degree program.

- Once admitted to a degree program, a student is not permitted to register in a nondegree status.
- Nondegree-seeking students may enroll in eight credit hours each fall or spring semester, seven credit hours for each six-week summer session, and nine credit hours for the eight-week summer session with a maximum limit of 24 credit hours over the course of the academic year.
- Nondegree-seeking students may apply up to 15 credit hours taken in nondegree status to a degree program if they choose to pursue an undergraduate degree in the future.
- Nondegree-seeking students are not eligible for financial aid.
- Students in a nondegree status may not be eligible for academic advising.

Exceptions to these guidelines may be made for specific programs or partners with approval from the Office of the University Provost. Students enrolled in ASU Prep may apply 30 credit hours earned at ASU while in a nondegree status toward a degree program.

Additional policies

Students enrolled in these degree programs are held to all other ASU and appropriate college policies [12], including:

Academic good standing and probation [13]

University undergraduate graduation requirements (baccalaureate)

All students enrolled in a baccalaureate degree program must fulfill the following university requirements to graduate.

Credit requirements

Students must have completed a minimum of 120 credit hours to graduate with a baccalaureate degree; at least 45 credit hours must be in upper-division courses. Associate degrees require a minimum of 60 credit hours. Students should check the program's graduation audit and major map or curriculum checklist for graduation requirements.

No more than 60 credit hours earned in independent learning courses or earned by comprehensive examination (including Advanced Placement, College-Level Examination Program, DANTES Subject Standardized Test, Cambridge International exam and International Baccalaureate exams) are accepted for credit toward the baccalaureate degree. Credit is not granted for courses taken at an educational institution after credit by examination has been awarded.

There may be instances in which students wish to remove exam credit earned through Advanced Placement, College-Level Examination Program, DANTES Subject Standardized Test, Cambridge International exam and International Baccalaureate exams. If the student elects to remove exam credit, the cumulative university hours are adjusted, and the student can complete the corresponding ASU course. When the student decides to complete the ASU course, the earned credit and grade always apply.

Grade point requirement

A minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.00 for all courses taken at ASU is required to graduate with an undergraduate degree. Some programs may require a cumulative GPA higher than 2.00; students should refer to the specific program's graduation audit and major map or curriculum checklist for graduation requirements.

General studies requirement

All students enrolled in an undergraduate degree program must satisfy the university requirement for a minimum number of approved credit hours of general studies coursework. Effective fall 2024, ASU has approved a revised general studies curriculum. Students beginning in the 2024–2025 catalog year complete the requirements in the General Studies Gold [1] curriculum. Students who attended ASU before fall 2024 and are in a catalog year before 2024–2025 complete the requirements defined by the General Studies Maroon [2] curriculum. The requirements applicable for a student's catalog year are displayed on their major map or curriculum checklist and graduation audit. Students should refer to the general studies policy [1] for more information on their specific general studies requirements.

Completion of general studies and composition requirements, as documented on an official transcript from regionally accredited institutions of higher education within the United States, fulfills ASU's lower-division general studies requirements within the Gold and Maroon systems as well as first-year composition requirements. Certification of completed general studies includes completion of a general education package recognized by ASU, an Associate of Arts degree, a bachelor's degree or comparable. General studies packages and recognized degrees do not waive program requirements and prerequisites within major and minor areas of study.

Transfer students without completed and documented general education packages or degrees receive credit for general studies based on course-by-course equivalency. Students transferring from Arizona community colleges should see the Arizona General Education Curriculum [3] page for more information.

Mathematics requirement

All undergraduate degree-seeking students are expected to fulfill the university's mathematics requirement by the time they have accumulated 30 credit hours in residence at ASU. Any student who has more than 30 credit hours and has not fulfilled the mathematics requirement must enroll in a mathematics course or an appropriate prerequisite course and continue to do so every semester until the mathematics requirement is met. A waiver may be granted for continuous enrollment if there are scheduling conflicts detrimental to the student's academic progress. Students should also see the math-intensive programs: required course policy [4].

First-year composition requirement

Completion of ENG 101 and ENG 102, or ENG 105 with a grade of "C" (2.00) or higher is required for graduation from ASU in any baccalaureate or associate program. Students whose native language is not English may meet the first-year composition requirement by completing ENG 107 and 108 with a grade of "C" (2.00) or higher. Students who are required to take first-year composition must enroll in their first required composition course within the first year and continue to enroll in required composition courses every term until composition requirements are met.

Transfer credit

Composition courses transferred from other postsecondary institutions may require evaluation. If, after consultation with an advisor, it is determined that an evaluation is necessary, the student should submit a request for evaluation through the ASU Transfer Guide [5]. The process should be completed upon transfer of coursework to ASU so the student is able to enroll in additional courses, if required. Students who are required to take first-year composition must enroll in their first required composition course within the first year and continue to enroll in required composition courses every term until composition requirements are met.

Resident credit requirement

Resident credit refers to a course that is offered in a regular semester or summer session. Credit earned through comprehensive examinations also is included when calculating ASU resident hours. Credit earned through independent learning, Advanced Placement testing, the College-Level Examination Program or an International Baccalaureate exam is excluded when calculating ASU resident hours.

Every candidate for an undergraduate degree is required to earn a minimum of 30 credit hours in resident credit courses at ASU.

Definition of a catalog year

The ASU Academic Catalog is published annually. A catalog year runs from fall through summer, and a student who enters during the fall or spring semester follows the policies and requirements in effect for that catalog year. For example, catalog year 2024–2025 applies to students who enter in fall 2024 or spring 2025. Students who enter for the first time during the summer term follow the requirements in effect for the subsequent catalog year.

In most cases, a student's catalog year is the year in which they started at ASU. Students may be in a different catalog year for a variety of reasons, including:

- change of major
- continuous enrollment in an Arizona community college or public university
- student request to move to a newer catalog year
- significant changes to curriculum that are due to either accreditation or rapid changes to subject matter

Guidelines for determination of catalog year

The ASU Academic Catalog is published annually. Department, school, division, college and university requirements are upgraded often and may change. In determining graduation requirements, an undergraduate student uses only one edition of the catalog but may elect to follow any subsequent catalog edition under which the student attends. Students may not use an edition of the catalog that was in effect before their high school graduation or completion of their GED. Students who maintain continuous enrollment at any Arizona community college or public university may graduate according to the requirements of the catalog in effect at the time of initial enrollment following high school graduation or completion of a GED, or according to the requirements of any single catalog in effect during subsequent terms of continuous enrollment. Students may maintain continuous enrollment while pursuing their degrees, whether attending a single Arizona community college or public university, or transferring among public institutions in Arizona. Students transferring among Arizona public higher education institutions must meet all requirements of the degree-granting institution: admission, residency, curricular and academic.

1. A semester in which a student earns course credit is counted toward continuous enrollment. Noncredit courses, audited courses, failed courses and courses from which the student withdraws do not count toward the determination of continuous enrollment for catalog purposes (examples A and B in the continuous enrollment table below).
2. Students who do not meet the minimum enrollment standard stipulated in step 1 during three consecutive semesters (fall/spring/fall or spring/fall/spring) and the intervening summer term at any Arizona community college or public university are no longer considered continuously enrolled. These students must meet requirements of the Arizona community college or public university catalog in effect at the time they are readmitted or of any single catalog in effect during subsequent terms of continuous enrollment after readmission (examples C and D in the continuous enrollment table below). Students are not obligated to enroll and earn course credit during summer terms, but summer enrollment may be used to maintain continuous enrollment status.
3. Students admitted or readmitted to an Arizona community college or public university during a summer term must follow the requirements of the catalog in effect for the following fall semester or of any single catalog in effect during subsequent terms of continuous enrollment (example E in the continuous enrollment table below).
4. In areas of study in which the subject matter changes rapidly, material in courses taken long before graduation may become obsolete or irrelevant.
5. Coursework that is more than eight years old is applicable to completion of degree requirements at the discretion of the department of the student's major. Departments may accept or reject such coursework or request that the student revalidate the substance of the coursework. The eight-year limit on coursework applies except when program accreditation agencies limit the life of coursework to fewer than eight years. Departments also may require students to satisfy current major requirements rather than major requirements stated in earlier catalogs when completing earlier requirements is no longer possible or educationally sound.
6. Enrollment by Arizona community college students in nontransferable courses still constitutes enrollment for purposes of determining whether the student has been continuously enrolled. For example, if a student takes two semesters of cooperative education classes that are not transferable to the university but constitute continuous enrollment at the community college, the university should consider it continuous enrollment.

7. Exceptions made by an institution apply only to the institution that made the exception. For example, a community college department accepts credit that is more than eight years old, but the university department to which the student transfers does not; the university department has the right and the obligation to reevaluate any credit more than eight years old.

Inquiries about these guidelines may be directed to the student's academic advisor.

Application for graduation

Students should visit the ASU graduation [6] website for information on how to apply for graduation, associated fees and deadline dates.

Petition for variance from degree

Any student wishing to have a college or university degree requirement variance must petition the standards committee of the college in which the student is enrolled. All petitions must originate with the student's advisor.

The University Undergraduate Standards Committee advises the Office of the University Provost regarding undergraduate student petitions that concern university-level academic requirements. These include requirements on the amount of transfer credit, graduation requirements, limits on credit by examination and requirements for a second baccalaureate degree. To petition for a variance from such university requirements, the University Undergraduate Standards Committee petition [7] is used. Most petitions heard by the University Undergraduate Standards Committee start at the college level and are forwarded for final review and decision to the university-level committee.

Overview of graduation requirements

At ASU, students take classes that fulfill four types of requirements: university requirements, college/school requirements, major requirements and electives.

University requirements include general studies and first-year composition requirements. Some colleges and schools at ASU have college-specific requirements applicable across all degrees offered within that academic unit. Major requirements represent the majority of the disciplinary content of the degree. Many degrees also have room for electives, allowing students to complete credit hours toward the minimum number of credits required for graduation while exploring areas of personal and professional interest. Some students choose to declare a minor or certificate; this typically adds 15–25 credit hours of coursework, which can also be used for elective credit. Students are encouraged to consult with their academic advisor in planning a program to ensure it meets all requirements for their specific combination of credentials.

Bachelor's degrees consist of 120 credit hours, 45 of which must be upper-division. Some courses may fulfill two or more types of requirements, but other courses fulfill only one requirement. For that reason, the size of the circle segment attributed to each requirement category in the graphic below does not necessarily correspond to the exact number of credits required for each.

Major requirements

Change of major

Some majors may have specific requirements that a student must meet to be eligible for acceptance to the new major. A degree-seeking undergraduate student may view the requirements for changing majors on Degree Search [8] and visit the changing your major site for more information and resources on major exploration.

Changing from a bachelor's degree to an associate degree program may impact financial aid.

Additionally, sponsored students, those who receive tuition benefits from a non-ASU entity, or those who accept certain federal funds, including military-affiliated benefit funding, should understand that changing their major may impact college costs. It is recommended that these impacts be fully explored and understood before changes are fully executed.

Graduation with academic recognition

An undergraduate student must have completed at least 56 hours of resident credit at ASU to qualify for graduation with academic recognition for a baccalaureate degree.

The ASU cumulative GPA determines the designation, as shown in the academic recognition table below.

Academic recognition
ASU cumulative GPA	Designation
3.40–3.59	cum laude
3.60–3.79	magna cum laude
3.80–4.00	summa cum laude

The cumulative GPA for these designations is based on ASU resident coursework only. All designations of graduation with academic recognition are indicated on the diploma and the ASU transcript. Graduation with academic recognition applies only to undergraduate bachelor's degrees.

A student who has a baccalaureate degree from ASU and is pursuing a second baccalaureate degree at ASU (with a minimum of 30 hours of resident credit) is granted academic recognition on the second degree based on the credit hours earned after the posting of the first degree. If fewer than 56 credit hours are completed at ASU after completion of the first ASU degree, the level of academic recognition can be no higher than that obtained on the first degree. If 56 or more credit hours are completed at ASU after completion of the first ASU degree, the level of academic recognition is based on the GPA earned for the second ASU degree. Inquiries about graduation with academic recognition may be directed to University Registrar Services [10].

Additional degrees

Second baccalaureate degree

Students seeking a second baccalaureate degree must meet admission criteria for that degree. After conferral of the first degree, a minimum of 30 additional credit hours in resident credit courses at ASU must be successfully completed to earn the second baccalaureate degree. The student must meet all degree and university requirements of the second degree.

Admission to a specific second baccalaureate degree program may be deemed inappropriate based on the discipline or degree type of the original baccalaureate degree, regardless of whether that degree was earned at ASU or another institution (e.g., admission to a BS program in psychology after earning a BA in psychology).

A student pursuing a second baccalaureate degree in the same discipline as a minor previously conferred by ASU will have the minor removed from the original academic record upon completion of the second degree.

Students who wish to use courses taken while in graduate nondegree status toward a second bachelor's degree may have up to 15 credit hours applied toward this degree.

Concurrent degrees

If prior approval is given by the colleges or schools offering the degrees, more than one baccalaureate degree may be pursued concurrently. Students may receive concurrent degrees if they meet the minimum requirements for both degrees. Specific combinations of degrees may be deemed inappropriate because of high curricular overlap.

For additional information, students can review the glossary description [11].

eAdvisor and critical requirements

eAdvisor [12] ensures that students get off to a good start and stay on track toward graduation by helping them find a major that fits their talents and career goals, and then monitoring progress. Students use eAdvisor to do the following:

1. Learn more about graduation requirements for their major.
2. Discern the critical courses and grades that are required to stay on track to successfully complete their degree.
3. Plan for and schedule appropriate courses in the correct sequence to maximize success.
4. Monitor progress toward their degree.
5. Find out how courses may fit into other majors if they decide to change majors.

Through eAdvisor, students follow a major map that outlines the critical requirements and optimal eight-semester plan. If a student does not meet the critical requirements, an advising hold may be placed on their record, and an advising session is required before future registration activities can take place. When students do not meet the critical requirements for two consecutive semesters, they are considered off track and may be advised to change majors.

Critical requirements are identified by the faculty and academic units as predictors of success in a major. To ensure students are able to enroll in critical courses, ASU academic units coordinate to offer sufficient seats to meet demand. Specific class schedules (days and times) are not guaranteed.

Math-intensive programs: required course policy

ASU undergraduate degree programs are categorized in the area of math intensity [13] as either general, moderate or substantial based on the number and type of required math courses. Students enrolled in a degree program that is categorized as substantial in math intensity who receive a failing grade of “E” twice in the same required math course may be required to change their major to one categorized as general or moderate. This policy is applicable even if the required math course is not marked as critical through the eAdvisor tracking tool.

Disestablished programs

A disestablished program is a major, minor or certificate that the institution has chosen to discontinue. Upon the effective term and year of disestablishment, ASU may choose to stop admitting new students into the program. This includes current ASU students seeking to change to the disestablished major, to add the disestablished major as a concurrent degree, or to add the disestablished minor or certificate. Active students in a disestablished program have a period of four academic years to complete the program requirements. This includes active, not enrolled students typically eligible for quick re-entry. Students who choose quick re-entry to the institution after a period of nonenrollment cannot re-enroll in a disestablished program if four academic years have passed since the effective term of disestablishment.

Students who have not completed the requirements for a disestablished program four academic years after disestablishment are changed administratively to a different major or have the minor or certificate removed from their record.

Nondegree credit

Some individuals may be interested in studying in a nondegree status, either through precollege summer programs or for their own personal learning experience. An undergraduate nondegree-seeking student is one who has not attended ASU as a degree-seeking student, has not earned an associate or bachelor's degree, is not attending full time, and is not currently applying to a degree program.

- Once admitted to a degree program, a student is not permitted to register in a nondegree status.
- Nondegree-seeking students may enroll in eight credit hours each fall or spring semester, seven credit hours for each six-week summer session, and nine credit hours for the eight-week summer session, with a maximum limit of 24 credit hours over the course of the academic year.
- Nondegree-seeking students may apply up to 15 credit hours taken in nondegree status to a degree program if they choose to pursue an undergraduate degree in the future.
- Nondegree-seeking students are not eligible for financial aid.
- Students in a nondegree status may not be eligible for academic advising.

Exceptions to these guidelines may be made for specific programs or partners with approval from the Office of the University Provost. Students enrolled in ASU Prep may apply 30 credit hours earned at ASU while in a nondegree status toward a degree program.

Graduate College policy manual

Introduction

The Graduate College admits students into programs leading to both professional and research-oriented advanced degrees and certificates beyond the bachelor's degree. The master's and doctoral degrees are awarded to students completing programs that culminate in research and creative endeavors. The doctoral degree is the highest university award, conferred on candidates who have proven their ability as scholars and original researchers.

Students are admitted, therefore, both to their academic programs and to the Graduate College of Arizona State University. This Policy Manual outlines those policies and procedures that apply across the board to all graduate students who matriculate at Arizona State University, from application to graduation. Graduate College policies supersede all academic program policies, although units may impose stricter policies. The Vice Provost and Dean of the Graduate College, hereafter referred to as "Dean," has final authority in matters of Graduate College policy and procedure.

Academic integrity

The highest standards of academic integrity and compliance with the university's Student Code of Conduct are expected of all graduate students in academic coursework and research activities. The failure of any graduate student to uphold these standards may result in serious consequences including suspension or expulsion from the university and/or other sanctions as specified in the academic integrity policies of individual colleges as well as the university.

Violations of academic integrity include, but are not limited to cheating, fabrication of data, tampering, plagiarism, or aiding and/or facilitating such activities. At the graduate level, it is expected that students are familiar with these issues and assume personal responsibility in their work. Toward this end, the Graduate College makes available an online Academic Integrity Tutorial, which all newly admitted graduate students are expected to complete within their first semester of coursework. This Tutorial appears under "Priority Tasks" in their My ASU screen.

Additionally, graduate students pursuing research that is funded by external sponsors are responsible for understanding and completing the necessary trainings to ensure the responsible conduct of such research. It is very important that students check with their thesis/dissertation advisor well in advance of data collection to ensure compliance with university regulations, and may seek further assistance from the university's Office for Research Compliance. Please see the section of this guide titled "Research Involving Human and Animal Subjects."

Notice of nondiscrimination

ASU prohibits all forms of discrimination, harassment and retaliation.

Title IX protects individuals from discrimination based on sex in any educational program or activity operated by recipients of federal financial assistance. As required by Title IX, ASU does not discriminate on the basis of sex in the education programs or activities that we operate, including in admission and employment. Inquiries concerning the application of Title IX may be referred to the Title IX Coordinator or to the U.S. Department of Education, Assistant Secretary, or both. Contact titleixcoordinator@asu.edu or 480-965-0696 for more information. Information on making a report can be found online.

Inclusive excellence

As part of the ASU community, the Graduate College upholds, values, and enacts the ASU Charter on behalf of its graduate students and postdoctoral scholars. Our commitment to just and equitable treatment starts with our policies, continues with our processes, and imbues our practices in all we do, from admissions to alumni relations. That means treating every graduate student and postdoctoral fellow fairly and justly, demonstrating our commitment to inclusive excellence and our promise to whom we include and how they succeed.

Graduate student responsibilities

Graduate students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with all university and graduate policies and procedures. Students should also communicate directly with their academic unit to be clear on expectations for degree completion.

Communications with the graduate college

Important information from the Graduate College is provided to students via their My ASU portal, Interactive Plan of Study (iPOS) and ASU email account. Students should frequently check their My ASU account, iPOS and ASU email account for the most up-to-date information regarding their status, holds, items to attend to and other important information. All email communication to the Graduate College must come from the secure ASU email account.

Expressing concerns and resolving conflicts

Occasionally, a student may run into difficulties with a peer, faculty member, or even advisor or supervisor that seem to defy resolution. While every situation is different, we encourage the following resources and processes.

For matters related to sexual harassment, discrimination, and/or retaliation, follow the reporting procedures.

For matters that appear to be outside the scope of formal reporting to the Title IX Office or Office of University Rights and Responsibilities, but are nevertheless difficult to resolve and interfere with the student's effective academic progress, we recommend the following:

- 1) If possible, students should report program-specific issues to the program area head or area coordinator.
- 2) If this report does not resolve the issue or the student is uncomfortable speaking to the program area head or area coordinator, the student may approach the appropriate graduate administrator in their school (e.g., Director of Graduate Studies).
- 3) If a student feels that their concern has not been adequately heard or resolved, they may schedule a meeting with the Director of their school.
- 4) If a student feels that their concern has not been adequately heard or addressed after meeting with individuals in the school, they may report to the appropriate representative in the academic college Dean's Office.
- 5) If a student is uncomfortable working through the school procedure for any reason, they may go directly to the academic college Dean's Office representative.

Graduate student government

Graduate Student Government (GSG) is the graduate student government for Arizona State University. We advocate for students, not only on the university level, but in all levels of government and provide services and resources that facilitate and empower student success in all aspects of academic and professional life. From travel grants to research grants and professional development initiatives, we enhance the graduate student experience. Join us in championing graduate student concerns on all levels. Visit the GSG webpage for more information and join them on social media to stay informed of real time events and resources.

Ombudspersons

Designated as impartial factfinders who can facilitate problem-solving, ombudspersons at the university can help students who are unsure how to resolve their complaints or unsure where to go next. Refer to the list of designated ombudspersons at ASU.

Application

Submission of an application

General admission information and procedures are available online. Applications for all graduate degree, microcertificate and certificate programs and/or non-degree seeking students must be submitted via the graduate application portal. Select initiatives provide exceptions to this process.

Prior to applying to the Graduate College, applicants should review information regarding their specific graduate program and academic unit application requirements and deadlines.

Note: Students who are returning to school after an approved Leave of Absence are not required to reapply, so long as the following applies: they must have a Graduate College-approved Leave of Absence or enrollment exception on file with the Graduate College and be re-entering the same graduate program for the semester immediately following the approved request.

Application deadlines

Application deadlines are set by the graduate programs. Consult the program website or the Graduate Degrees and Certificates search tool for specific application deadlines.

International students wishing to attend an in-person program must apply to Sessions A or C only (Applications for Session B are not available to international students due to visa requirements).

Application fee

Each application to an ASU graduate program must be accompanied by a non-refundable application fee, payable by credit or debit card at the time of submission. The application fee covers Graduate Admission Services' administrative costs of processing all applications and is not refundable under any circumstance.

Applicants receive an email acknowledgement once the application has been successfully submitted. The acknowledgement includes an ASURITE ID and activation code so that students may follow the progress of their application through My ASU. Applicants should review My ASU to monitor their application status, "To Do" items and "Holds".

Application requirements

Applicants must submit official transcripts from their bachelors granting postsecondary institution. Additional transcripts may be required:

1. To verify that international credentials are comparable to a U.S. bachelor's degree.
2. If significant coursework used towards the bachelor's degree was completed at another institution.
3. If the applicant intends on transferring coursework into a graduate program. Information about specific program requirements and general requirements are available online.

Academic units may have additional admission requirements. Some graduate programs require scores from a national admissions test such as the Graduate Record Examination (GRE), Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT) or the Miller Analogies Test (MAT). Some programs require a portfolio, letters of recommendation, a statement of goals and/or a resume.

Applicants should consult the academic unit regarding program admission requirements prior to submitting an online application. Programs submit a recommendation to the Dean of the Graduate College regarding their willingness to admit an applicant.

All documents received by Graduate Admission Services in connection with an application become property of ASU and will not be returned.

Academic credentials

Applicants must have earned a bachelor's degree or higher from a regionally accredited institution in the U.S. or the equivalent of a U.S. bachelor's degree from an international institution that is officially recognized by that country. Effective spring 2025, international three-year bachelor's degree programs are acceptable for admission purposes. Applicants are required to have completed their bachelor's degree prior to the start of their graduate program, and provide the final, official documents to ASU showing completion and attainment of a bachelor's or graduate degree prior to registration in the second semester of graduate studies at ASU.

If original credentials are issued in a language other than English, applicants must provide the original language transcripts as well as an official and literal translation. Photocopied documents certified by a notary public are not official. Professional third-party credential evaluation reports may not be used in place of official transcripts or in place of literal English translations.

Applicants must have maintained a minimum grade point average of 3.00 (scale is 4.00 = "A") in the last 60 semester hours or 90 quarter hours of undergraduate coursework. Students may be admitted with additional requirements identified by the program.

Because ASU receives applications from many highly qualified students, some applicants may be denied admission for reasons not related to their academic performance. Examples include, but are not limited to: program capacity, mentor availability and/or program match.

ASU may make an exception to the U.S. equivalent bachelor's requirement for admission to certain preapproved programs. This exception may require specific documentation including, but not limited to: postsecondary education, significant work experience in the discipline and/or a non-U.S. equivalent degree that the college leadership and the ASU Graduate College Dean deems equivalent to the learned skills of a bachelor's in that discipline. For specific program requirements are available in ASU Degree Search.

ASU Personalized Graduate Admissions

ASU undergraduate students who meet the eligibility criteria receive an offer for ASU Personalized Graduate Admissions (ASUPGA) in their final undergraduate semester. Students who accept an ASU Personalized Graduate Admissions offer are automatically admitted to one selected ASU graduate degree program without submitting a graduate admission application or supplemental materials.

Additional international requirements

International applicants

Please consult the Graduate Admission Services and international student visas websites for complete information. Applicants who will hold an F-1 or J-1 visa must:

- 1) Meet the regulations of the U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) agency.
- 2) Obtain insurance coverage against illness and accidents before being permitted to register for classes. Insurance must be maintained throughout the students' enrollment at the university.
- 3) Submit proof of English proficiency.
- 4) Submit additional materials as outlined on the Graduate Admission Services website.
- 5) Verify that they have the financial resources to cover their expenses during graduate study at ASU by submitting the Financial Guarantee form. In addition to the Financial Guarantee form, if ASU is providing an assistantship, an official offer letter must be sent to Graduate Admission Services. Similarly, if a governmental entity is funding the student, an official letter from the government must also be submitted to Graduate Admission Services.

The I-20 or the DS-2019 (documents needed to obtain a student visa) is issued only after the completed and properly verified Financial Guarantee form, acceptable proof of funding, proof of English proficiency and supporting documents have been received by Graduate Admission Services. International students may enroll at ASU only if they have been admitted to a degree program or the certificate program for teacher certification.

International students must be enrolled in a graduate degree program to enroll in an in-person certificate program.

English language requirement

English proficiency is required for all students who wish to enter an ASU graduate program. There are several ways to meet the English proficiency requirement:

- TOEFL score of at least 66 (PBT) or 80 (iBT). The TOEFL is administered by TOEFL/TSE Services. ASU's institutional code is 4007. ASU accepts only electronic copies of the TOEFL score report. ASU does not accept TOEFL iBT® Home Edition, TOEFL iBT® Paper Edition, or TOEFL Essentials Exams.
- IELTS overall band score of at least 6.5. The IELTS is administered by the University of Cambridge. No institutional code is needed.
- Pearson Test of English (PTE) score of at least 60. The PTE is administered by Pearson.
- Duolingo English Test score of at least 105.

Alternatively, Global Launch provides options for satisfying the ASU English Proficiency requirement with completion of Advanced Level 2. It is recommended that students check with their department first before enrolling to ensure the college which their program resides in will accept one of these options.

Graduate options:

- English for Graduate Admissions and Achievement Online Course.
- Completion of online course with a passing score.

- English Language Program – In-person or Online.
- Complete Advanced Level 2 with passing score.

Individual academic units may have higher requirements for English proficiency.

Consult the academic unit's website. English proficiency is only valid for two years and must be taken within two years from the beginning of the semester for which the student applied.

Some applicants are exempt from the English proficiency requirement. The following exceptions must be met exactly to be considered for an exemption:

- Applicants who are U.S. Citizens or U.S. Permanent Residents.
- Applicants who have earned a bachelor's degree or higher from a regionally accredited college/university in the United States.
- Applicants who have earned the equivalent of a U.S. bachelor's degree or higher from an international institution that is officially recognized by that country, and the country is on the ASU English Speaking Country and Territory List (official transcript required).
- Applicants who have earned the equivalent of a U.S. bachelor's degree or higher from an international institution that is officially recognized by that country, and the sole medium of instruction for the program was in English (official transcript required). Student should email gograd@asu.edu to request exemption and include a letter from the institution on letterhead indicating language of instruction or provide information on the institution website to verify language of instruction.
- Applicants who have completed at least 9 semester hours of graduate coursework with a cumulative GPA of 3.0 (on a 4.0 scale) or higher at a regionally accredited college/university in the United States or from an international institution that is officially recognized in that country and is on the ASU English Speaking Country and Territory List (official transcript required).
- Applicants who have completed at least 90 semester hours of undergraduate coursework with a cumulative GPA of 3.0 (on a 4.0 scale) or higher in residence at a regionally accredited college/university in the United States (official transcript required).
- Applicants who have completed ASU Global Launch's English for Graduate Admissions and Achievement online course with a passing score.
- Applicants who have completed Advanced Level 2 of ASU Global Launch's English Language Program – either in-person or online with passing scores.
- Applicants who have a U.S. High School Diploma (official transcript required).
- Applicants who are citizens from a country or territory listed on the ASU English Speaking Country and Territory List.
- Applicants who have listed a future conferral date from an ASU bachelor's degree program on their application for admission and will complete their ASU undergraduate degree before starting their graduate program.

All international applicants from countries where the native language is not English must pass an examination that certifies their skill in speaking English before applying for teaching assistantships. English proficiency for admission may not fulfill the English proficiency requirements for teaching assistantships. Visit the International Teaching Assistant website for information on how to fulfill this requirement. Departmental requirements may differ, so it is recommended that applicants contact their departments for specific details.

Nondegree seeking applicants

Applicants who do not immediately intend to pursue a graduate degree may apply as non-degree seeking students. The application process does not require the submission of academic credentials or test scores.

Non-degree applicants must have earned a bachelor's degree or higher from a U.S. regionally accredited institution or the equivalent of a U.S. bachelor's or graduate degree from an international institution that is officially recognized by that country.

There is no limit to the total cumulative credit hours students can take as non-degree students. However, to apply the credit hours toward an ASU master's or doctoral degree, students are limited to 15 credit hours taken per pre-admission policy.

Non-degree students may not be eligible to enroll in some classes. Students should check the enrollment requirements before registering and contact the academic unit offering the courses with questions regarding qualification for registration. See "Non-Degree Students" in the section "Registration and Enrollment" for more information.

Financial aid is not available to non-degree students.

In-person non-degree study is typically not available to international students on F-1 or J-1 visas. For exceptions, prior to applying, students must contact their Designated School Official (DSO) at the school managing their SEVIS record to inform them that they have applied to take non-degree classes at ASU.

After applying

Applicants receive an email acknowledgement once the application has been successfully submitted. The acknowledgement includes an ASURITE ID and activation code so that students may follow the progress of their application through My ASU. Applicants should review My ASU to monitor their application status, “To Do” items and “Holds”.

Admissions

Competitive applicants typically have a “B” (3.00 on a 4.00 scale) grade point average in the last 60 semester hours or 90 quarter hours of undergraduate coursework. If students do not meet the minimum GPA requirements, their application may still be considered by the department. Academic units submit recommendations regarding admission decisions to Graduate Admission Services, but only the Dean of the Graduate College can make formal offers of admission.

Applicants monitor the status of their application through My ASU. If admitted, the formal letter of admission can be downloaded from My ASU. If denied admission, letters are sent via email to the address on record.

Campus modality

Students may apply to programs that are both campus-based immersion programs, as well as online-based digital immersion. However, students must choose one modality to attend if admitted to both.

Progression requirements

Applicants may be admitted with additional requirements and a deadline, as determined by the program of admission. These requirements may include successful completion of specific coursework or minimum grades and/or GPA. Additional requirements are outlined in the student admission letter and appear on the iPOS.

Admission deferrals

Students may, with the recommendation of the degree program, defer their initial start semester and year of admission. Requests for deferrals must be submitted by the last day to drop a class for session C for campus immersion students and the last day to drop a class for session B for ASU Online students. Students who miss the deferral deadlines have the option to submit a petition for an enrollment exception for the original admit term.

International student admission

International students planning to attend ASU on an F-1 student visa or a J-1 exchange visitor visa must provide documentation required by the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services. Visa documents are only issued for international students enrolled in a degree program or the post baccalaureate teacher education program. There are strict regulations regarding when an I-20 or DS-2019 can be issued.

Academic renewal

Academic renewal is a university policy administered to reset the graduate cumulative ASU GPA of a returning ASU graduate student. To request an academic renewal, applicants must have:

- Not previously received an academic renewal; and
- A cumulative ASU GPA below 3.0; and
- Been admitted to a graduate degree program after an absence from ASU of at least five calendar years; and
- Not been previously dismissed from ASU due to Academic Integrity or Student Conduct violations.

Students approved for academic renewal cannot apply any previously completed coursework or credit hours to their degree program and must complete all degree requirements after admission. All courses completed before and after the academic renewal remain on the transcript and may be considered when students apply for other graduate programs. To pursue an academic renewal, students should seek advising from the intended program of admission.

Registration and enrollment

Graduate students register through My ASU according to their enrollment appointment. Details regarding registration and course drop/add procedures are provided in the Registration and Tuition Payment Guide.

My ASU is an important tool to use during your ASU experience. Among other helpful information, students can access next steps and to-do items for enrollment and registration holds that need attention.

Enrollment deposit

All master's students admitted to campus immersion programs are required to submit a graduate enrollment deposit prior to registration.

Immunizations

All students admitted to campus immersion programs are required to have proof of measles immunizations on file with Student Health prior to registration.

Enrollment verification guidelines

The University's Registrar's Office will verify student enrollment each semester according to the general guidelines that follow.

Enrollment guidelines for graduate students

Term	Full-time	3/4 time	Half time	Less than half time
Fall & Spring	9+ credits	7-8 credits	5-6 credits	1-4 credits
Summer	3+ credits	N/A	2 credits	1 credit

*Audited courses do not count toward full-time enrollment

International F-1 and J-1 students are required to maintain full-time enrollment status. Any exception to full-time enrollment must be previously approved by the International Students and Scholars Center (ISSC).

Registration for students holding graduate appointments

Students with Graduate Research or Teaching appointments (RA/TA) must maintain enrollment in a minimum of 6 non-audit credit hours during each fall and spring semester appointments, and a minimum of one non-audit credit hour for summer semester appointments. Academic units may have specific requirements regarding RA/TA appointments; students should consult with their degree program unit. Failure to maintain enrollment in the minimum required hours will result in the termination of their appointment. Students with RA/TA appointments should refer to the Graduate Assistant Handbook for more information.

Full-time equivalent (FTE) is a unit of measurement used to determine the number of hours students are involved in appointment activities. An FTE of 1.0 is equivalent to 40 hours per week. An FTE of 0.50 or 50% represents an appointment of 20 hours per week and is the maximum graduate appointment allowed by ASU.

RAs and TAs appointed for 50% FTE (20 hour per week) receive a tuition award (reflected as RA/TA Remission on their student account) for 100% of ASU graduate tuition. This appointment also provides premium coverage for ASU individual health insurance if the student elects for health insurance coverage. Please note, if health insurance is needed, students must select that option when registering for classes on My ASU; if they decline, they will be without coverage from the university. The university does not cover premiums for any other insurance plan.

RAs and TAs appointed for 25% FTE (10 hours per week) receive a partial tuition award (reflected as RA/TA Remission on their student account). Students are responsible for 50% of the Arizona base resident tuition costs. This appointment does not provide premium coverage for ASU individual health insurance.

RA and TA appointments do not cover university mandatory fees, program tuition and/or fees for the academic year or summer sessions; these are the responsibility of the student.

Due to federal regulations, international students may be appointed a maximum of 20 hours per week during fall and spring semesters.

International students may be allowed to work 40 hours per week during summer sessions. International students typically are not allowed to seek employment outside the university and should consult with the International Students and Scholars Center (ISSC) to confirm eligibility.

Maximum course load

The Graduate College does not have a maximum credit hour enrollment policy for degree-seeking students. It is expected that academic units will set course loads for their students that facilitate academic success.

Continuous enrollment

Once admitted to a graduate certificate or degree program, students must be registered for a minimum of one graduate-level credit hour during all phases of their graduate education, including the terms in which they were admitted and graduate. This includes periods when students are engaged in research, conducting a doctoral prospectus, working on or defending theses or dissertations, taking comprehensive examinations, taking Graduate Foreign Language Examinations or in any other way utilizing university resources, facilities or faculty time.

Registration for every fall semester and spring semester is required. Summer registration is required for students taking examinations, completing culminating experiences, conducting a doctoral prospectus defense, defending theses or dissertations or graduating from the degree program. Summer registration is also required for students whose first matriculation term is the summer and for those graduating in the summer.

To maintain continuous enrollment, the credit hour(s) must satisfy one or more of the following:

- 500, 600, or 700-level graduate course
- 400-level undergraduate course that is a degree requirement on an approved iPOS
- Undergraduate course that is a progression requirement

Grades of “W” and/or “X” are not considered valid registration for continuous enrollment purposes. “W” grades are received when students officially withdraw from a course after the drop/add period.

“X” grades are received for audit courses. All other grades, including “E,” “EU” and/or “EN” are considered valid registration for continuous enrollment purposes despite receiving no credit. “E” is a failing grade, “EU” is for failing and did not complete the course, and “EN” is for failing and never participated in the course. Undergraduate courses not included on the iPOS do not satisfy the Graduate College continuous enrollment policy.

Additionally, students completing work for a course in which they received an incomplete grade of “I” must maintain continuous enrollment as defined previously. Graduate students have one year to complete work for an incomplete grade; if the work is not complete and the grade changed within one year, the “I” grade becomes permanent and remains on the students’ transcripts.

Leaves of absence

Graduate students planning to discontinue registration for a semester or more must submit a Leave of Absence request via their Interactive Plan of Study (iPOS). Students may request a maximum of two semesters of leave during their entire program. Having an approved Leave of Absence by the Graduate College enables students to re-enter their program without re-applying to the university.

Students who do not register for a fall or spring semester without an approved Leave of Absence or enrollment exception are considered withdrawn from the university under the assumption that they have decided to discontinue their program. Students removed for this reason may re-apply for admission to resume their degree program; the application will be considered along with all other new applications to the degree program.

Students with a Graduate College approved Leave of Absence are not required to pay tuition and/or fees, but in turn are not permitted to place any demands on university faculty or use any university resources. These resources include university libraries, laboratories, recreation facilities or faculty and staff time.

Voluntary withdrawal from ASU

Students who wish to withdraw from their graduate certificate or degree program and the university must complete and submit a Voluntary Withdrawal form. If withdrawing from the university, students must also withdraw from all courses. International students should contact the International Students and Scholars Center (ISSC) before submitting a Voluntary Withdrawal form, as it most likely will affect their visa status.

Voluntary withdrawal for choosing a new program

Students who wish to discontinue a graduate program should complete and submit a Voluntary Withdrawal form. Students should not take this action until they have been admitted to the other graduate degree program.

Medical/compassionate withdrawal

There are appropriate circumstances when students may need to withdraw from the university (i.e., medical withdrawal, compassionate leave). The policies for such withdrawals are the same for both undergraduate and graduate students. An approved Medical/Compassionate Complete Withdrawal is valid towards meeting the continuous enrollment policy.

Nondegree students

Continuous enrollment is not required for students admitted as non-degree seeking. Students should check the enrollment requirements for courses before registering and contact the academic unit offering the course regarding registration questions. With the approval of the academic program, non-degree seeking students who decide to apply to a degree program may be allowed to apply up to 15 applicable credit hours taken within three years of admission to the degree program. Students should seek advising from the intended program for applicable course options.

Academic progress

Satisfactory academic progress

All graduate students are expected to make systematic progress toward timely completion of their graduate program. This progress includes satisfying the conditions listed below, and achieving the benchmarks and requirements set by the individual graduate programs as well as the Graduate College. If a student fails to satisfy the requirements of their program and/or the benchmarks outlined below, the student may be dismissed from their program based on the academic unit's recommendation to the Graduate College, at which time the Dean of the Graduate College makes the final determination.

Satisfactory academic progress includes:

- 1) Maintain a minimum 3.00 for all GPAs (see definitions below).
- 2) Satisfy all requirements of the graduate program.
- 3) Satisfy the maximum time limit for graduation for the student's graduate program (six years for master's and certificates, ten years for doctoral), see "Time Limit" sections.
- 4) Successfully pass comprehensive exams, qualifying exams, foreign language exams, and the oral defense of the proposal/prospectus for the thesis or dissertation.
- 5) Successfully complete the culminating experience, if required.
- 6) Remain continuously enrolled in their graduate program. Failing to do so without a Graduate College approved Leave of Absence is considered a lack of academic progress and may result in the Graduate College withdrawing the student from their program. See full Leave of Absence rules above.

Grade point averages

Graduate students must maintain a minimum 3.00 (scale is 4.00 = "A") grade point average (GPA) to maintain satisfactory academic progress and to graduate. The minimum 3.00 GPA must be maintained on all GPA's (iPOS GPA, Overall Graduate GPA and Cumulative GPA).

- 1) The iPOS GPA is calculated on all courses that appear on the student's approved iPOS.
- 2) The Cumulative GPA represents all courses completed at ASU during the graduate career.
- 3) The Overall Graduate GPA is based on all courses numbered 500 or higher that appear on the transcript after admission to a graduate program (or graduate non-degree). This includes shared 500-level coursework taken as part of an approved accelerated bachelor's/master's program.

Transfer credits and some courses taken in the Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law are not calculated on in the iPOS GPA or the Graduate GPA.

Courses lower than a "C" cannot fulfill program requirements on the iPOS, but are included when calculating the cumulative and graduate GPAs. Courses with a permanent "I" grade cannot appear on the iPOS.

Academic dismissal by the graduate college

Students who do not comply with Graduate College policies for continuous enrollment or satisfactory academic progress may be dismissed from their graduate program after review by the Dean of the Graduate College.

In addition, academic units may recommend dismissal of students from graduate programs for lack of compliance with published departmental policies or lack of satisfactory academic progress. All such recommendations must be submitted to the Graduate College with appropriate documentation (e.g., nature of issue, communications with student). Students may appeal such recommendations at the level of their program, department, and/or college level. When they come to the Graduate College, they are reviewed for procedural due diligence only. If the Dean of the Graduate College (or the Dean's designee) concurs with the recommendation, the student receives the official notification of dismissal from the Graduate College. Only the Dean of the Graduate College may dismiss students from a graduate program due to lack of compliance with satisfactory academic progress policies.

Students who have been dismissed from a graduate program due to lack of compliance with published departmental or Graduate College policies or lack of satisfactory academic progress are immediately eligible to apply for admission as a non-degree student or to another graduate program. Students may reapply to the same program only after one year has passed from the term of the dismissal.

It is important to note that program dismissal is not an option for students who have been found in serious violation of ASU's Academic Integrity Policy by their unit; they must be recommended either for suspension (for a specified period of time) or expulsion (with no expectation of readmission) to the Provost's office, which has the ultimate authority in matters of suspension and expulsion. Students are afforded a final appeal at the university level in such cases.

Graduate program requirements

Determination of academic requirements

The requirements and policies that students must follow are based on the catalog, manual and program handbook for the semester and year of their admission to a graduate program. Students who do not maintain continuous enrollment and are re-admitted to the graduate program must follow the requirements and policies in effect at the time of the new admission. All graduate programs are required to maintain a program handbook specifying all program requirements and make it available to students at the beginning of their degree programs.

Academic certificate programs

Academic certificates are a programmatic series of linked courses. A graduate microcertificate requires 9 credit hours of graduate-level coursework at ASU. A graduate certificate requires a minimum of 15 credit hours of graduate-level coursework, although individual programs may require more credit hours.

Master's degree programs

A minimum of 30 credit hours of graduate-level coursework is required for a master's degree, although individual programs may have higher requirements.

For programs that include a culminating experience, this requirement may be a written comprehensive examination, a capstone course, an applied project, a written portfolio, a thesis or equivalent. Students who have a capstone or applied project course requirement must earn a grade of “B” or better. Students who do not earn a final grade of “B” or better must retake the course and earn a “B” or better to fulfill program requirements.

Interactive Plan of Study (iPOS)

The Interactive Plan of Study (iPOS) functions as an agreement between the student, the academic unit and the Graduate College. The iPOS contains certain requirements such as coursework, a committee and a culminating experience, which must be specified before the final plan of study can be approved. The academic unit’s graduate support staff should be the primary contact for questions regarding iPOS, degree and certificate requirements. The iPOS must be approved by the student’s committee, the head of the academic unit, and the Dean of the Graduate College.

Graduate students are required to complete their iPOS in their first enrolled semester. This requirement is monitored by the student’s academic unit and is considered critical to satisfactory academic progress.

Coursework

Graduate-level courses are those numbered 500 or higher. All core courses required by a graduate program must be at least 500-level. A maximum of six credit hours of 400-level undergraduate coursework can be included on an iPOS if permitted by the curriculum and approved by the program. Undergraduate 400-level courses taken prior to admission and 400-level courses graded as “Pass/Fail” are not acceptable. Courses with grades of “D”, “E”, or “W” and audited courses (graded as “X”) cannot be included on an iPOS. Courses applied to a previously awarded degree cannot be included on an iPOS unless the student is enrolled in an approved course-sharing degree program or approved coursework from an awarded master’s degree is applied toward a doctoral program.

Any course with an incomplete grade (“I”) must be completed within one calendar year of the end of the scheduled course. If a regular grade is not assigned within the calendar year, the “I” becomes permanent. The student will have to re-register for the course to receive credit.

Graduate students may register to audit one or more courses with the approval of the supervisory committee chair and the consent of the instructor involved. An audited course does not count toward the minimum number of credits required for international students with visa restrictions, students employed as TA/RAs or students receiving financial assistance. Courses taken for audit do not satisfy the Graduate College continuous enrollment policy.

Undergraduate courses do not satisfy the Graduate College continuous enrollment policy unless they are noted on the admission letter as an additional requirement or they are approved by the academic unit to be listed on the iPOS.

Master’s degree students whose culminating experience is a thesis must include 6 (and only 6) credit hours of 599 Thesis on the iPOS. Doctoral students whose culminating experience is a dissertation must include 12 (and only 12) credit hours of 799 Dissertation on the iPOS. Thesis and Dissertation credit hours may only receive grades of “Z” (research is in progress), or “Y” (research is satisfactorily complete). PhD students may apply up to 30 credit hours, sometimes referred to as a blanket 30, of appropriate coursework from a previously awarded master’s degree toward one ASU PhD plan of study with approval of their academic unit and the Graduate College. Professional doctorates may apply either up to 15 or up to 30 credit hours of appropriate coursework from a previously awarded master’s degree toward their doctoral plan of study with approval of their academic unit and the Graduate College. Students should consult their program handbook for specific rules regarding their professional doctorate.

Petitions

A formal request for an exception to any Graduate College policy requires a petition to be completed by the student and must be approved by the committee chair and the head of the academic unit. The Graduate College reviews the petition and makes a final determination. The Graduate College Dean has final authority in all matters of Graduate College policy.

Preadmission credits

Credit hours completed at ASU or at another regionally accredited U.S. institution or international institution officially recognized by that country, before the semester and year of admission to an ASU graduate program, are considered pre-admission credits. With approval of the academic unit and the Graduate College, students may include a maximum of 15 graduate-level credit hours with grades of “B” or better that were not used towards a previous degree. Coursework taken while completing another degree awarded at another institution cannot apply to an ASU graduate degree, except for the blanket credit hours of appropriate coursework from a previously awarded master’s degree that can be used towards a doctoral degree, or unless enrolled in an approved course-sharing degree program. Pre-admission credits completed at another institution must also meet the “Transfer Credits” criteria outlined below.

Pre-admission credits must have been taken within three years of admission to the ASU degree or certificate program to be accepted. If special approval is granted for coursework older than three years from the admission term to apply towards the program, the maximum time limit may be updated to reflect the start date of the pre-admission coursework.

Note: All ASU credits used to earn a graduate microcertificate or graduate certificate may also be used towards a graduate degree, pending a course is evaluated to fulfill a degree requirement. The graduate microcertificate or graduate certificate must have been completed within three years of admission to the degree program and applicable courses must have been completed with grades of “B” or better.

With program and Graduate College approval, former ASU graduate students who are admitted and reenroll in a program in which they were previously enrolled may apply previously completed ASU coursework to their program. Returning ASU graduate students may have additional flexibility in the pre-admission time limit and credit hour limit. The maximum time limit may be updated to reflect the start date of the preadmission coursework.

Graduate credits earned by ASU undergraduate students

An undergraduate degree and a graduate degree may not be awarded during the same term of enrollment. Students must be admitted and registered as graduate students to earn a graduate microcertificate, graduate certificate, master’s degree or doctoral degree at ASU.

Accelerated master’s

ASU students enrolled in an approved Accelerated Master’s degree program (formerly referred to as 4+1), may use a maximum of 15 pre-admission credit hours, which may be shared between a bachelor’s and master’s program. Students must contact their ASU undergraduate advisor and graduate support staff to ensure proper sharing of credit hours. See “Accelerated Master’s Programs” under “Master’s Degree” for more information.

Reserved credit

Upon approval by the unit and the Graduate College, undergraduate ASU seniors with at least a 3.0 cumulative GPA may reserve up to 15 graduate-level credit hours (6 credits of which may be 400-level), for possible use towards a future ASU graduate program. Reserved courses must have grades of “B” or better and have been completed within three years of enrollment in the graduate program. Courses must be officially reserved in the Degree Audit System (DARS) for eligibility and may not be used towards any baccalaureate graduation requirement. Students may not exceed the 15-credit hour pre-admission policy.

Transfer credits

Transfer credits include any graduate-level credits earned at another institution, either pre-admission or while active in an ASU graduate program, that are used to fulfill ASU graduate program requirements. To apply credits earned at another institution toward an ASU graduate program, official transcripts from the regionally accredited U.S. institution or officially recognized international institution must be sent to Graduate Admission Services from the records office of the institution where the credits were earned. Graduate credit transferred from another institution may be applied toward only one ASU degree program. Certain types of graduate credits cannot be applied, including credits awarded in the following situations:

- By postsecondary institutions that lack candidate status or accreditation by a regional accrediting association, or an equivalent international institution.
- Life experience.
- Courses taken at non-collegiate institutions (e.g., government agencies, corporations, and industrial firms).
- Courses, workshops and seminars offered by other postsecondary institutions as part of continuing education programs.
- Extension courses on a case-by-case basis.

Academic credits earned at institutions other than ASU that base their credit calculation on a different scale from ASU’s are subject to conversion before inclusion on the iPOS. In all cases, the inclusion of transfer courses on the iPOS is subject to approval by the academic unit and the Dean of the Graduate College.

Repeating ASU courses

Graduate students (degree or non-degree) may retake some courses at ASU. Students cannot register for a course that is not designated as repeatable for credit in the catalog if they are currently enrolled in it or previously completed it with a grade of “C” or better. If a student earned a “C” or better but did not meet the required grade for their degree program, the student must obtain approval from the academic unit offering the course. All grades, original and repeated, are part of the students’ permanent academic record, remain on their official transcript and are included in all GPA calculations.

Graduate Foreign Language Examination (FLE)

Graduate programs may require at least a reading level proficiency of a foreign language relevant to the area of study. Students who are required to demonstrate proficiency in a foreign language must pass the Graduate Foreign Language Examination specific to their particular graduate program. Students must be enrolled for a minimum of one credit hour during the term in which they take the examination.

Students must successfully complete the Foreign Language Examination before taking any required comprehensive examinations or scheduling the final oral defense of the thesis or dissertation. Students may submit a petition to the Graduate College for a re-examination but must pass the examination in no more than three attempts.

Completing programs concurrently

Students may pursue degrees in different academic areas at the same time with prior written approval from the head of the academic unit for each degree program and the Graduate College. Approval is not required to pursue a simultaneous certificate and degree program. A separate online application is required for each program, except in the case of predefined concurrent programs.

Students must maintain continuous enrollment as previously defined. Please see each academic unit for specific satisfactory academic progress and program rules, including registration requirements. If a leave of absence is needed, students must submit a separate request for each program. Students may not be registered for coursework for either program while on a leave of absence.

The maximum time limit for completing degree requirements and graduation apply to each active program individually (six years for graduate microcertificates, graduate certificates and master’s degrees; ten years for doctorates).

Preapproved concurrent degree programs

The Graduate College has formally approved coordinated concurrent degree programs that students can pursue by submitting one graduate application. These programs have specific set shared hours approved in their proposals. Units should refer to these to review the proper shared credit hours and other applicable policies.

Shared coursework

Coursework common to two or more programs must constitute a well-planned and meaningful part of each program. In all cases, the guidelines below must be followed:

- Coursework from graduate microcertificates or graduate certificates may be shared with a degree program if the microcertificate or certificate was completed within three years of admission to the degree program.
- Culminating experiences and comprehensive examinations cannot be shared between degree programs but may be shared between a graduate certificate and a master’s degree, when appropriate.

If all other criteria are met, the table below outlines the maximum number of credits that can be shared between different credentials with appropriate approvals:

	Microcertificate	Certificate	Master's	Doctorate
Microcertificate	None	All	All	All
Certificate	All	20% of total credits with one semester of program overlap	All	All
Master's	All	All	20% of total credits with one semester of program overlap	12 credits if completing programs simultaneously*
Doctorate	All	All	12 credits if completing simultaneously*	12 credits

*In addition to 15-30 blanket credits from a previously awarded master's degree when appropriate

The total number of credit hours common to two degree programs may vary from this maximum only when the Graduate College has formally approved coordinated concurrent degree programs.

Master's degree

Master's degree Interactive Plan of Study (iPOS)

Graduate students are required to complete their iPOS in their first enrolled semester. This requirement is monitored by their academic unit and is considered critical to satisfactory academic progress. Students are not eligible to schedule a comprehensive examination or defense without an approved iPOS.

Master's degree minimum credit hours

A minimum of 30 credit hours of graduate work is required for a master's degree at ASU. No more than 50% of coursework applied toward a master's degree may be awarded "Y" grades.

If a thesis is required, six (and only six) of the minimum required credit hours on an iPOS must be 599 Thesis credits. Interactive Plans of Study submitted for master's degrees that do not have a thesis requirement cannot include 599 Thesis credits. If an applied project or capstone is required, the applied project course (XXX 593) or capstone course must be included on the iPOS and requires a grade of "B" or better.

Master's degree maximum time limit

All work toward a master's degree must be completed within six consecutive years. The six years begin with the semester and year of admission to the program. Graduate courses taken prior to admission that are included on the iPOS must have been completed within three years of the semester and year of admission to the program. If coursework completed over three years ago is applied towards a degree program as preadmission coursework, the maximum time limit may be updated to reflect the start date of the pre-admission coursework. Programs may require a shorter time limit for degree completion in the program's handbook.

Any exception to the time limit policy must be approved by the supervisory committee and the head of the academic unit. Exceptions of six years or more require review and approval by the Dean of the Graduate College. The Graduate College may withdraw students who are unable to complete all degree requirements and graduate within the allowed maximum time limits.

Master's degree supervisory committee

A master's supervisory committee must be appointed before the student may apply for the comprehensive examination or before the student can register for 599 Thesis credits (if applicable). The committee is appointed by the Dean of the Graduate College upon the recommendation of the head of the academic unit. For programs requiring a thesis or written examination, the supervisory committee comprises a minimum of three members, including a chair or two co-chairs. At a minimum, the Chair or Co-Chair of the committee is required to be active ASU faculty or an approved faculty affiliate.

Master's faculty have expertise in the student's area of study, or in a specific element of a student's thesis or applied project. These faculty can include tenure-track faculty, career-track faculty, and clinical or research professors. Master's faculty endorsed to chair must have a terminal degree. Professionals external to ASU can be added to master's faculty with either a terminal degree or with significant experience in the area. The chair of the committee is typically from the student's degree program and should be carefully selected by the student to guide their work.

Master's thesis/thesis defense

Students must be in good academic standing regarding GPA requirements (see previous section titled "Satisfactory Academic Progress") prior to scheduling a defense. See the Supervisory Committee section and the Thesis/Dissertation section below for more information.

Nonthesis master's culminating experiences

Master's degrees that require a non-thesis culminating experience must include a written comprehensive examination, capstone course, applied project or written portfolio. The Graduate College office requires a written component to the comprehensive examination; academic units may also require an oral component. Students must have an approved iPOS prior to scheduling their comprehensive examination and/or registering for their applied project or capstone course. An applied project requires registration in the Applied Projects course (XXX 593) and requires a grade of "B" or better. A capstone course requires a grade of "B" or better.

Students must be in good academic standing regarding GPA requirements (see previous section titled "Satisfactory Academic Progress") in the semester of the culminating experience.

Students are required to register for at least one semester hour of appropriate graduate-level credit during the fall, spring or summer session in which they complete their culminating experience.

Master's comprehensive examination

Students must be in good academic standing regarding GPA requirements (see previous section titled "Satisfactory Academic Progress") prior to taking master's comprehensive examinations. Foreign language requirements, if applicable, must be fulfilled before taking comprehensive examinations.

Students are required to register for at least one semester hour of appropriate graduate-level credit during the fall, spring or summer session in which they take their comprehensive examinations. If the date of defense falls between semesters, the student is required to register for the next available semester.

The master's comprehensive examination must have a written component; however, individual master's degree programs may require an additional oral component of the comprehensive exam for all of their students based on the academic progress policy of the program.

Students must schedule the comprehensive examination with their academic unit. All comprehensive examination results must be reported to the Graduate College office via the students' iPOS immediately upon completion.

Failing the comprehensive examination(s) is considered final unless the supervisory committee and the head of the academic unit recommend, and the Dean of the Graduate College approves, a re-examination. Only one re-examination is permitted. A petition with substantial justification for re-examination, endorsed by the members of the students' supervisory committee and the head of the academic unit, must be approved by the Dean of the Graduate College before students can take the examination a second time.

Re-examination may be administered on a timeline recommended by the committee chair and made in consultation with the committee, which should be no later than 12 months from the date of the original examination. The Graduate College office may dismiss a student from the degree program if the student's petition for re-examination is not approved, or if the student fails to successfully pass the retake of the comprehensive examination(s).

Students choosing to appeal the results of their comprehensive examinations must follow the grade appeals process outlined by their academic unit.

Students who have received a final result of failure in the comprehensive examination will be recommended for dismissal by the academic unit.

Course-based master's degrees

Select master's degrees are course-based and do not require a culminating experience. Students must maintain a minimum 3.00 for all GPAs and satisfy all course requirements of the graduate program.

Accelerated master's programs

ASU allows for the simultaneous pursuit of an undergraduate and graduate degree in certain pre-approved programs. In such cases, the program must be approved by the Dean of the Graduate College. Undergraduate students must meet the unit's criteria for approval to pursue their accelerated program and be granted consent to complete up to 15 credits of graduate coursework.

Students must contact their ASU undergraduate advisor and graduate support staff to ensure proper sharing of credit hours. Students may not share any credit hours taken as an undergraduate student unless they are participating in an approved Accelerated Master's program. Students must meet minimum admissions standards to be admitted to the master's portion of the accelerated program. Credit hours taken as an undergraduate student may only apply to the master's degree if an Accelerated Master's student enrolls in the master's degree within three years of completing their bachelor's degree.

Graduate microcertificates and graduate certificates

Graduate microcertificates and graduate certificates are a programmatic series of linked courses. Graduate microcertificates and graduate certificates facilitate professional growth for people who already hold the baccalaureate degree. For more information on current graduate microcertificates and graduate certificates see the Graduate Degree and Certificate search.

Microcertificate and graduate certificate Interactive Plan of Study (iPOS)

Graduate students are required to complete their iPOS in their first enrolled semester. This requirement is monitored by their academic unit and is considered critical to satisfactory academic progress.

Microcertificate and graduate certificate admission

All applications for graduate microcertificate and graduate certificate programs must be submitted through the graduate application portal.

Graduate certificate requirements

A graduate certificate requires a minimum of 15 semester hours. No more than 50% of coursework applied toward a graduate certificate may be awarded "Y" grades. No more than 20% of the minimum required credit hours for a graduate certificate may be transferred from another university. All transfer and preadmission coursework must meet the Graduate College policies. A maximum of six credit hours of 400-level undergraduate coursework can be included on a graduate certificate (not a microcertificate) iPOS if permitted by the curriculum and approved by the program.

Sharing credits with microcertificates and graduate certificates

All credit hours earned in a graduate microcertificate or graduate certificate program can be applied towards a degree program. All credit hours earned in a degree program can be applied towards a graduate microcertificate or graduate certificate if:

- pre-admission policies are followed
- admission to the graduate microcertificate or graduate certificate occurred prior to the completion of all courses required for that credential

If a student completes two graduate certificates, they may share no more than 20% of the total minimum required credit hours for both graduate certificates. Students may use all credits earned in a graduate microcertificate toward the requirements of a graduate certificate, master's or doctoral degree. Credits cannot be shared between multiple microcertificates. See the "Shared Coursework" section for more information.

Satisfactory academic progress

All graduate students are expected to make systematic progress toward completion of their graduate microcertificate or graduate certificate program. Graduate students pursuing an undergraduate certificate program are held to graduate satisfactory academic progress requirements.

Microcertificate and certificate maximum time limit

All work toward a graduate microcertificate or graduate certificate must be completed within six consecutive years. The six years begin with the semester and year of admission to the program. Graduate courses taken prior to admission that are included on the iPOS must have been completed within three years of the semester and year of admission to the program. If coursework completed over three years ago is being applied towards a graduate microcertificate or graduate certificate program as pre-admission coursework, the maximum time limit may be updated to reflect the start date of the pre-admission coursework. Programs may require a shorter time limit for completion in the program's handbook.

Any exception to the time limit policy must be approved by the supervisory committee and the head of the academic unit. Exceptions of six years or more require review and approval by and the Dean of the Graduate College. The Graduate College may withdraw students who are unable to complete all certificate requirements and graduate within the allowed maximum time limits.

Awarding of a graduate microcertificate or graduate certificate

Students are eligible for the official posting of the graduate microcertificate or graduate certificate to their transcripts when all applicable coursework has been successfully completed and Graduate College requirements have been met (including a 3.0 minimum iPOS, Graduate and Cumulative GPA). Students must submit an approved iPOS and apply for graduation in order to complete the graduate microcertificate or graduate certificate program.

Thesis/dissertation

Format Manual and Format Wizard

Students must use the Format Manual to prepare their thesis/dissertation. The Format Manual is a comprehensive guide to formatting a thesis, dissertation or equivalent document and it always overrides a style guide if the two conflict. Questions regarding the Format Manual requirements should be directed to gradformat@asu.edu.

Use of the Graduate College's Format Wizard is required for all students going through the format process. The Format Wizard generates a template into which students can insert their document's text. It is designed to help students with the basic format requirements such as margins and spacing and greatly improves the format review process for students.

Thesis/dissertation research

The master's thesis and doctoral dissertation (or equivalent) must be based on original and independent research/creative activity conducted by students, under the guidance of the graduate supervisory committee. The thesis is an introduction to scholarly writing and is intended to create an understanding of theory and methods applicable to one's field. The dissertation should demonstrate the candidates' mastery of research and scholarly methodologies, theory and tools of the discipline. Both the thesis and dissertation should demonstrate the candidates' ability to address a major intellectual problem and to propose meaningful questions and hypotheses, as well as utilize the methods with which to study the proposed research question(s) and related hypotheses, and draw justifiable conclusions based on the research conducted.

The written doctoral dissertation is based on original and substantial scholarly work that constitutes a significant contribution to knowledge in the student's discipline. The dissertation research must be conducted during the time of the student's doctoral studies at ASU, under guidance of ASU Graduate Faculty and in accordance with Graduate College policies and procedures. The composition of the dissertation is defined by the degree program with the approval of the Dean of the Graduate College.

Research involving human and animal subjects

Theses or dissertations that make use of research involving human or animal subjects must include an official statement indicating that the research has been approved by the appropriate university body.

Research involving human subjects conducted under the auspices of Arizona State University is reviewed by the University Human Subjects Institutional Review Board (IRB) in compliance with federal regulations. Documents containing any data collection from human subjects require that applications be submitted to the ASU Office of Research Compliance for approval before data collection or recruitment of subjects is initiated.

Research involving the use of animals conducted under the auspices of Arizona State University is reviewed by the Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC) in compliance with federal regulations. Documents containing any data collection from animal research require that applications be submitted to the ASU Office of Research Compliance for approval.

It is very important that students check with their supervisory committee or chair well in advance of data collection to ensure compliance with university regulations regarding the collection of research data. Students who are required to submit their document through Graduate College format review must attach the IRB (or IACUC) approval as an appendix to their document.

Generative artificial intelligence (AI) in culminating experience

Generative artificial intelligence (AI) is rapidly evolving, and the Graduate College at Arizona State University upholds standards for academic integrity and rigor. This document provides guidance on the use of generative AI within the context of the graduate culminating experience, including written and oral examinations, portfolios, applied projects, capstone courses, master's theses, and doctoral dissertations. Updated guidance and policies may be issued in the future to adapt to changing technology, legal frameworks and ethical standards.

The graduate student's committee is responsible for determining permissible amounts and types of generative AI—if any—to use as a support tool for the student's culminating experience. It is the student's responsibility to consult with their committee to understand appropriate and allowable uses of generative AI for their culminating experience. If the committee permits the use of generative AI, the student must be transparent about their use of generative AI and correctly attribute all uses in their document(s).

If a committee finds that a student utilized an unallowed generative AI tool or produced a significant portion of their culminating work using generative AI, they should report the violation according to the ASU Student Academic Integrity Policy. When in doubt refer to the ASU Student Academic Integrity Policy.

Additional information and resources

Refer to the ASU Artificial Intelligence site, Office of the University Provost site and ASU Library Guide on generative AI for frequently asked questions (FAQs) and more information about citing AI models, permanent links to AI results, and uses of AI in research.

All culminating experience documents are required to use the ASU Format Wizard and Format Manual for proper formatting before submission in the iPOS. Students and their committee chair(s) are responsible for ensuring that documents meet ASU format requirements.

Thesis/dissertation defense

Thesis and dissertation defenses are open to all members of the university community and the general public. The oral defense engages the supervisory committee and the candidate in a critical and analytical discussion of the research and findings of the study, as well as a review of the contribution of the research topic to advancing knowledge in that discipline. The presentation of a thesis or dissertation defense in an open forum fosters a broader awareness of the state of graduate research at ASU, promotes a wider scholarly dialogue among disciplines, and recognizes publicly the scholarly contributions of master's or doctoral candidates. The defense information will be published on the Graduate College Master's/Doctoral Defense Calendar.

Scheduling and holding the defense

Students with a thesis or dissertation as a culminating event are required to present and defend it in a public oral examination and to the satisfaction of the supervisory committee. Students must schedule the defense in the iPOS at least 10 business days prior to the planned defense and have it approved by the program. See Graduation Deadlines.

Students work with their supervisory committee and the academic unit's graduate support staff to identify a suitable date and reserve a room (for in-person defenses). Defenses that are held without being scheduled with the Graduate College are considered invalid.

Students must be registered for at least one semester hour of appropriate graduate-level credit.

Students must be physically present at the oral defense of their thesis, dissertation or equivalent document unless the student is in an online program that requires a thesis/dissertation and a virtual defense was approved by the committee and the Graduate College. It is expected that oral defenses are held on an ASU campus (for in-person defenses) and during regular business hours (8 a.m. to 5 p.m. AZ Mountain Standard Time) in order to facilitate student, faculty, and public accessibility. A student has the option to include a virtual link to encourage audience attendance. When there are sound educational reasons for holding a defense under different circumstances, contact the Graduate College for approval before scheduling the defense.

All members of a student's supervisory committee must attend the final oral defense of a thesis or dissertation. However, there are situations (e.g. faculty travel, faculty emergencies and/or faculty leave) that may necessitate holding a defense with one or more committee member(s) absent. The committee chair must be in attendance and 50% of the entire committee is required to attend in person. If a committee member cannot attend, a qualified substitute must be appointed to attend in their place. The substitute should be a regular faculty member within the academic unit. In these circumstances, the Graduate College must be notified with the name of the member who will be absent, the faculty member who will attend as a substitute, and the student's name and ID number. This information must be submitted before the defense.

Once a defense has been scheduled and approved in the iPOS, students must submit a complete draft copy of the thesis/dissertation to be defended by uploading the document to the "Format" tab of their iPOS at least 10 days before the defense.

Passing the defense

At the completion of the defense, faculty determine if the student has passed or failed the defense, or if the submitted document requires revisions. Defense results are considered final. Failure will result in dismissal from the program. Therefore, it is important that the faculty committee review a student's readiness to defend prior to scheduling the defense. The initial defense results must be submitted by all committee members via the defense results tab in the iPOS within 10 days after the defense occurrence. If there are revisions required by the committee, they must be completed and approved by the committee before a full "Pass" can be designated in the iPOS. If the committee's requested revisions are not completed by the graduation deadlines for the semester of the defense, the student must maintain continuous enrollment until they are completed. If they are not successfully completed within one year of the defense, re-submission of the document and a re-defense of the thesis or dissertation may be required in order to ensure currency of the research.

Format review

Students who are required to complete a thesis or dissertation as part of their graduate program must submit their document to the Graduate College for format review. Format revisions are typical and must be completed in a timely manner. If students are unable to complete format revisions and submit to UMI/ProQuest by the deadline for the semester in which the defense is held, they must complete the revisions, remain continuously enrolled and present the final document to UMI/ProQuest within one year of the defense. In rare cases, the Graduate College may grant exceptions to the one-year time limit for revisions. If an exception is approved, the document must be resubmitted for format review and may require a re-defense of the thesis or dissertation to ensure currency of the research.

If supported by the supervising faculty chair and committee (if applicable), students may request an alternative format for their culminating experience by emailing gradformat@asu.edu. All exceptions are reviewed by the Vice Provost and Dean of the Graduate College.

All students who have a culminating event document that requires format review are also required to complete the “Design Aspirations” tab within the iPOS. In addition, all PhD students are required to complete the Survey of Earned Doctorates (SED) as part of the format process.

ProQuest ETD submission

ProQuest ETD requires all students to submit a PDF version of their final culminating event document. Students are required to create a new user account specific to the submission of their document and must use their ASU email address. The Graduate College requires that the PDF document follow the formatting standards presented in the format manual. Students receive final format approval only after the submitted PDF document has successfully passed a format review. Students can order bound copies of their document for themselves through ProQuest ETD. The final document also appears archived in the ASU Digital Repository.

Graduate-level disestablished programs

A disestablished graduate program is a graduate certificate, master's, or doctoral program that the institution has chosen to discontinue. Upon effective term and year of disestablishment, ASU may choose to stop admitting new students into the program. This includes students seeking to change into the disestablished program or pursue it concurrently with another program. Active students in a disestablished program have the option to continue to pursue the program provided continuous enrollment, and satisfactory academic progress policies are followed, including maximum time limits which are 6 years for master's and certificate programs and 10 years for doctoral programs. Students who are discontinued from the program for any reason are not eligible to re-enroll in the disestablished program. Students who return and are in good academic standing will be required to choose a new program that is accepting applications. Students may have the option to choose a new program under the guidance of leadership from their discontinued graduate program.

Degree conferral

Graduation

Students must apply for graduation through My ASU in accordance with the University Registrar policies. See Application for Graduation. Students must meet all University and Graduate College degree requirements prior to the conferral date, including achieving a 3.0 GPA in the graduate GPA, iPOS GPA, and cumulative GPA. Students must continue to be registered until all degree requirements have been met. All students seeking a graduate-level academic credential must apply for graduation.

The graduation deadlines and procedures are set by the Graduate College and are available online at graduation deadlines. Deadline dates vary slightly depending on the calendar year, so students should check them carefully in advance of the semester they plan to defend their thesis/dissertation. It is very important that students become familiar with these deadlines so that graduation can occur during the expected term.

College Policies

W. P. Carey School of Business policies

The W. P. Carey School of Business [1] is one of the largest and highest-ranked business schools in the country, repeatedly lauded by publications such as The Wall Street Journal, Financial Times, the Princeton Review, and U.S. News & World Report. The school is internationally regarded for its leadership in business education, research productivity, and distinguished faculty, which includes a Nobel Prize winner. Students come from all over the world, and among them are dozens of National Merit Scholars.

The school's academic offerings are as diverse as they are abundant. Undergraduates can earn a degree in one of more than 30 degree programs, including 100% online business degrees, noncalculus-based degrees and flexible programs for working professionals. Its programs of study reflect and respond to the demands of business and industry today and beyond, and the school has dedicated career placement services. The school is located in the heart of the fast-growing Phoenix metropolitan area, which provides opportunities for internships, employment and networking. Classes are offered on ASU's Tempe, Polytechnic and West Valley campuses, as well as online.

Academic integrity

Academic dishonesty

The faculty of the W. P. Carey School of Business follow the guidelines on academic dishonesty in the ASU student academic integrity policy [2].

The W. P. Carey School of Business honor code [3] may be found online. Additional resources and information may be found at the W. P. Carey academic integrity [4] website.

Notice of nondiscrimination

ASU prohibits all forms of discrimination, harassment and retaliation. Students should review ASU's policy ACD 401: Prohibition Against Discrimination, Harassment and Retaliation [5].

Title IX protects individuals from discrimination based on sex in any educational program or activity operated by recipients of federal financial assistance. As required by Title IX, ASU does not discriminate on the basis of sex in the education programs or activities that we operate, including in admission and employment. Inquiries concerning the application of Title IX may be referred to the ASU Title IX coordinator or to the U.S. Department of Education Office for Civil Rights or to both. For more information, students should email titleixcoordinator@asu.edu, call 480-965-0696, or visit the office located at 1120 S. Cady Mall, INTDSB 284. For information on making a report, students should reference the Report It [6] website.

Undergraduate policies

W. P. Carey School of Business academic good standing

Academic warning

A new student is placed on academic warning when their ASU cumulative GPA falls below 2.00 at the end of their first fall or spring semester after grades are posted. Students on academic warning must meet with an academic advisor to discuss a plan for getting back into good standing, and complete the following tasks:

1. Download and read through the academic warning information packet [7].
2. Complete the Canvas course WPC Rising Scholars. Advising holds are not removed until this course is completed.
3. Schedule an advising appointment through Advising SOS [8].

4. Complete the optional survey [7] if there is anything the advisor should know about the previous semester.

Probation

All business students, first-year through senior, must maintain a minimum GPA of 2.00 for all courses completed at ASU to remain in academic good standing. If this standard is not maintained, the student is placed on university academic probation.

Students on university academic probation must see an advisor before further registration and must do one of the following:

- raise their ASU cumulative GPA to 2.00 or higher to return to academic good standing
- obtain a semester GPA of 2.50 with no grade lower than "C" to be granted one additional semester on continued college probation and, at the end of the continued college probation period, return to academic good standing with a minimum cumulative ASU GPA of 2.00 to avoid disqualification

W. P. Carey School of Business continued probation: If a student's ASU cumulative GPA is still lower than 2.00 at the end of the probationary semester but the student has earned a semester GPA of 2.50 or higher with no grade lower than "C," the student is placed on continued probation in the subsequent semester. The student then has only one more semester to raise the ASU cumulative GPA to 2.00 or higher.

ASU continued probation: If a student's ASU cumulative GPA is still lower than 2.00 at the end of the probationary semester, but the student has earned a semester GPA of 2.00 or higher with no grade lower than "C," the student is placed on continued probation with ASU but is ineligible to remain in the W. P. Carey School of Business as a business student. The student must change to a major that is not offered through the business school.

Disqualification

A student who does not meet college probation requirements is academically disqualified and is not allowed to register in a fall or spring semester at the university. If the student has already enrolled in a future fall or spring semester, the student is dropped from those courses, and the registration is cancelled. A disqualified student may attend ASU during the summer session only immediately following the semester in which the student was disqualified.

A disqualified student must wait one year to apply for readmission to ASU. A student will not be readmitted to the W. P. Carey School of Business unless they also meet the following requirements:

Bachelor of Science programs

- A grade of "C" or higher in all required skills classes (ACC 231, ACC 241, CIS 105, ECN 211, ECN 212, ECN 221, MAT 210 and MAT 211)
- The student meets direct admission [9] or is readmitted via Admissions Portfolio [10]

Bachelor of Arts in business programs

- A grade of "C" or higher in all required skills classes (ACC 231, ACC 241, CIS 105, ECN 211, ECN 212, ECN 221 and MAT 210)
- The student meets direct admission [9] or is readmitted via Admissions Portfolio [10]

BA in entrepreneurial leadership or applied business and technology solutions programs

- There are no additional requirements for students to be readmitted to these majors, though the college can still exercise discretion when reviewing a student's readmission appeal.

Disqualified students should contact their academic advisor immediately to determine what is needed to earn readmission to the university in the future.

Professionalism policy

The W. P. Carey School of Business is committed to promoting the highest levels of honesty, integrity and professionalism so as not to impede the personal, academic and social development of all students. Professionalism, broadly speaking, includes ethical decision-making, consideration of others and demonstration of personal accountability. Exhibiting professional behavior is integral to a positive learning environment within the university and promotes innovation, openness to diversity, integrity, and mutual respect for students, faculty and staff.

The behaviors that are practiced today become habits in the future. To that end, business students are expected to treat others as they wish to be treated. Students are to be considerate of classmates, professors, staff and recruiters in all aspects and commit to acting in a professional manner in all school settings, including classes, sponsored events and interviews. Students should be aware that they are representing the W. P. Carey School of Business and Arizona State University.

More information is available on the W. P. Carey professionalism policy [11] website.

Advising

W. P. Carey School of Business offers undergraduate program academic advising at the Polytechnic, Tempe and West Valley campuses. Students may find personalized advising information and may schedule appointments in advance through Advising SOS [8].

Students are encouraged to schedule appointments each semester to ensure they are making progress toward their degrees. Advising is required for:

- newly admitted students, before enrollment for the first term (at orientation)
- first-year students, before enrollment for the second term
- seniors, upon completion of 87 or more credit hours
- any student who is off track with regard to eAdvisor tracking requirements
- any student who is on university academic probation
- disqualified students interested in attending ASU in the future

Additional information regarding academic advising is available online [12] or through the W. P. Carey School of Business undergraduate programs office by calling 480-965-4227.

Credit and registration

Pass/fail

Business majors may not enroll on a pass/fail basis in any course required for graduation. Pass/fail credits taken at another institution may be petitioned for use, but only if the student can demonstrate proof that the pass grade was equivalent to a "C" (2.00) or higher.

Transfer credit

Credit from other institutions is accepted, subject to the following guidelines:

Students planning to take their first two years of coursework at a community college or another four-year college should plan to take business and economics courses that are offered as freshman- or sophomore-level courses for transfer equivalency as supported through the Transfer Guide [13]. Frequently, these lower-division courses are numbered 100 through 299, but that can vary with each transferring institution. A maximum of 30 credit hours of business and economics courses from community colleges are accepted toward a bachelor's degree in business, and these are applied as lower-division credits.

Business courses completed at a two-year college may not be used for upper-division transfer credit in the business core or major. Such courses may be acceptable for general university credit but may not be applicable toward the degree requirements of the major. Courses taught in the upper-division business core must be completed at an accredited four-year institution. Upper-division business course transfer credits are considered for upper-division business credit in the ASU major only if the course was taken at an AACSB International-accredited school. <https://www.aacsb.edu/> [14]

Credit is granted for transferred courses deemed equivalent by the W. P. Carey School of Business to corresponding courses in the selected program of study and is subject to grade and ASU resident credit requirements. No grade lower than "C" (2.00 on a 4.00 scale) transfers to ASU. To be accepted for credit as part of a degree program in business, all courses transferred from other institutions must carry prerequisites similar to those of the courses they are replacing at ASU.

Degree requirements

Associate degree

Students in the Associate of Science program should refer to their major map or curriculum checklist and the university associate degree graduation requirements policy [15] for minimum credit hour, GPA and other degree requirements.

Critical requirements

All business students must meet the critical requirements for their majors. Students who are required to follow eAdvisor tracking requirements yet do not comply with the critical requirements are considered off track, and a hold is placed on their records. These students must work with an advisor to have the hold removed.

Undergraduates in the W. P. Carey School of Business are expected to be strong academically, especially with regard to grades earned in business courses. Careful course planning in consultation with an academic advisor assists students in maintaining satisfactory academic performance and progress.

Concurrent degrees

ASU students not enrolled in a W. P. Carey School of Business degree program who wish to pursue a concurrent degree with the business school:

- must be in good academic standing
- must have completed 30 credit hours of college coursework
- must meet direct admission criteria [9] for the degree program they wish to pursue

If direct admission requirements have been met, students should file a concurrent degree request form. Students who do not meet direct admission requirements for business degree programs must complete the Admissions Portfolio [10] and be admitted before filling out the concurrent degree request form. Students are allowed a maximum of two concurrent degree request attempts.

Students currently enrolled in the W. P. Carey School of Business who wish to pursue concurrent degrees within the business school:

- must be in good academic standing
- must have completed 30 credit hours of college coursework with a grade of "C" (2.00) or higher
- must have completed at least six business skill courses or their equivalents AND must have completed or be enrolled in the remaining two business skills courses (MAT 211 not required if submitting for BA degrees):
 - CIS 105 (or equivalent) — Computer Applications and Information Technology
 - MAT 210 (or equivalent) — Brief Calculus
 - MAT 211 (or equivalent) — Math for Business Analysis
 - ECN 211 (or equivalent) — Macroeconomic Principles
 - ECN 212 (or equivalent) — Microeconomic Principles
 - ACC 231 (or equivalent) — Uses of Accounting Information I
 - ACC 241 (or equivalent) — Uses of Accounting Information II
 - ECN 221 (or equivalent) — Business Statistics

Business students who meet the criteria shown above should submit a concurrent degree request [16] through the university approval process. Review and submission times are on the website. Business students are unable to change their major status after they are admitted to a concurrent degree program unless they submit a new concurrent degree request. The direct admission criteria only apply to a single major within the W. P. Carey School of Business; students are not able to freely change majors within their concurrent degree or dual concentration combinations. Students are allowed two concurrent degree request attempts.

Current business students who wish to pursue a concurrent degree outside the W. P. Carey School of Business should submit a concurrent degree request form and receive approval from both colleges (e.g., finance and psychology).

Major proficiency requirements

Students must receive a grade of "C" (2.00) or higher in upper-division courses for the major. If a student receives a grade lower than "C" in any course in the major, the course must be repeated. If a second grade lower than "C" is received in either an upper-division course in the major already taken or a different upper-division course in the major, the student is no longer eligible to take additional upper-division courses in that major.

Reinstatement/readmission

Students seeking readmission after an absence from the university should follow university undergraduate readmission procedures [17].

Other special requirements

Student appeal procedure on grades

W. P. Carey School of Business students follow the university policy for the student appeal procedure on grades [18].

Admission

Because of the additional requirements for the BS degree program, students who do not meet minimum admission standards automatically are considered for the BA degree program in the W. P. Carey School of Business. First-year admission requirements for the BA program are the same as the university's first-year admission requirements. Transfer students who want to be admitted to the BA program must have a GPA of 3.00 for all transfer coursework and a GPA of 3.00 for all ASU coursework, and must meet university transfer admission requirements.

Graduate policies

All graduate students in the W. P. Carey School of Business are required to maintain minimum cumulative, graduate and iPOS GPAs of 3.00 (grade of "B"). Students should see individual graduate degree programs for additional requirements on satisfactory academic progress, probation and disqualification. In addition, they should review the graduate conduct and professionalism policy [19].

Advising

Advising of graduate students is normally handled by a graduate program's operations team members. Students must prepare a plan of study during the first semester of their degree program. Students are encouraged to begin discussions with their program coordinators or managers early in their studies so that coursework can be geared toward supporting their academic progress. All students, whether in a thesis or nonthesis option, must file a POS.

Students must fulfill all requirements of their individual graduate programs to remain in good academic standing, and they must abide by all university policies, including those of the Graduate College and the W. P. Carey School of Business.

Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts policies

The Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts is built on a combination of disciplines unlike that in any other program in the nation, comprising the schools of Art [1]; Arts, Media and Engineering [2]; ASU FIDM [3]; Music, Dance and Theatre [4]; The Design School [5]; The Sidney Poitier New American Film School [6]; and the ASU Art Museum [7].

The institute is dedicated to the following design principles:

- Creativity is a core 21st-century competency. Students in the institute develop the ability to be generative and enterprising, work collaboratively within and across artistic fields, and generate nonroutine solutions to complex problems. With this broad exposure to creative thinking and problem-solving, graduates are well-prepared to lead in every arena of the economy, society and culture.
- Design and the arts are critical resources for transforming society. Designers and artists must be embedded in their communities and dedicate their creative energy and talent to building, reimagining and sustaining the world. Design and the arts must be socially relevant and never viewed as extras or as grace notes. The institute is committed to placing designers, artists and arts-trained graduates at the center of public life.
- The institute is committed to enterprise and entrepreneurship. For most college graduates today, the future of work is unpredictable, nonlinear and constantly evolving. A recent study found that 47% of current occupations likely will not exist in the next few decades. Design and the Arts faculty, students and graduates are inventing the jobs and the businesses of the future; reimagining how design, art and culture get made and distributed; and coming up with new platforms and technology for the exchange of culture and the enrichment of the human experience. Legendary author and expert on city life Jane Jacobs talks about the abundance of "squelchers" — parents, educators, managers and leaders who tend to say no to new ideas. At the institute, there are no squelchers. All embrace the cardinal rule of improvisation: Always say, "Yes, and..."
- Every person, regardless of social background, deserves an equal chance to help tell the stories of this nation and the world. Creative expression defines everyone, what each aspires to, and how all hope to live together. The institute is committed to projecting all voices — to providing an affordable education to every student who has the talent and the desire to boldly add their creative voice to the world's evolving story.
- Effectiveness requires excellence. The ability to solve problems, build enterprises, and create compelling and socially relevant design and art requires high levels of mastery. By each being the best in their chosen fields, all can stretch themselves and their talents to make a difference in the world.

Students with questions about Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts policies or procedures may review the Herberger Institute Office of Student Success [8] website, contact the office at 480-965-4495 to speak with advising staff, or contact the institute's dean's office at 480-965-0050.

Academic integrity

The Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts strictly adheres to the ASU student academic integrity policy [9]. Academic honesty is expected of all students in all examinations, papers, academic transactions and records. Possible sanctions include appropriate grade penalties, loss of registration privileges, disqualification and dismissal. Information about academic integrity also can be found on the school's academic integrity page [10].

Professionalism

Professionalism entails a set of skills critical for workplace and creative successes, and professional behavior creates an atmosphere that promotes safe and high-quality spaces for constructive learning as well as individual and community well-being. The institute expects students to show professional behavior with clients, members of the community and others in the university environment (e.g., classrooms, clinics, labs, studios), including members of the faculty and administration, other students and staff. Students are expected to conduct themselves in a professional manner, including arriving on time with an open attitude to learning, engaging in ethical behavior, resolving conflicts in an appropriate manner at all times, holding partnership information confidential, and using prudence in written and verbal communications. Professionalism includes:

- attendance and punctuality
- following all university and studio safety protocols and behavioral expectations

- honesty and integrity
- respectful communication
- self-control

Notice of nondiscrimination

ASU prohibits all forms of discrimination, harassment and retaliation. Students should review ASU's policy ACD 401: Prohibition Against Discrimination, Harassment and Retaliation [11].

Title IX protects individuals from discrimination based on sex in any educational program or activity operated by recipients of federal financial assistance. As required by Title IX, ASU does not discriminate on the basis of sex in the education programs or activities that we operate, including in admission and employment. Inquiries concerning the application of Title IX may be referred to the ASU Title IX coordinator or to the U.S. Department of Education Office for Civil Rights or to both. For more information, students should email titleixcoordinator@asu.edu, call 480-965-0696 for more information, or visit the office located at 1120 S. Cady Mall, INTDSB 284. For information on making a report, students should reference the Report It [12] website.

Undergraduate policies

Academic standing

University academic warning

A new incoming first-year or transfer student with a cumulative GPA that has dropped below 2.00 at the end of the first semester (fall or spring) at ASU is placed on academic warning. All students who are placed on academic warning are encouraged to complete academic success modules online through Canvas. Students are also encouraged to meet with their academic advisor to discuss any challenges they may have experienced in order to develop a plan to improve their standing.

If a student does not earn a cumulative GPA of a 2.00 or higher in their second semester, they are placed on probation.

On-campus students are required to enroll in UNI 220 Mindset Connections during their academic warning semester; this becomes a graduation requirement once a student's cumulative GPA falls below 2.00. If a student is not successful in this course, they must enroll in the course until they successfully complete it.

Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts academic probation

Students in any of the institute's degree programs are placed on probation when they fail to maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.00. Students on probation must observe rules or limitations imposed by the institute as a condition of retention. All students who are placed on probation are required to complete academic success modules online through Canvas. Students also are required to attend mandatory advising appointments in an effort to improve their academic standing.

On-campus students are required to enroll in UNI 220 Mindset Connections in the semester of their probation; this becomes a graduation requirement once a student's cumulative GPA falls below 2.00. If a student is not successful in this course, they must enroll in the course until they successfully complete it.

Continuing probation

A student who is already on probation and earns a GPA of 2.00 or higher for the term but is not successful in raising their cumulative GPA above 2.00 is placed on continuing probation. Continuing probation is meant to acknowledge the student's academic progress while still providing academic support to help them reach the required 2.00 GPA. Students on continuing probation must continue to attend mandatory advising appointments until they earn a cumulative GPA of 2.00 or higher.

Disqualification

If the student's ASU cumulative GPA is not 2.00 or higher and the conditions of probation have not been met after one semester on probation, the student is disqualified for a minimum of two full academic semesters. Disqualification is exercised at the discretion of the institute and becomes effective on the first day of the fall or spring semester following institute action. A disqualified student is notified by the dean's office of the institute and is not allowed to register for a fall or spring semester at the university until reinstated. Students should consult with their academic advisor to discuss this academic standing and their options for returning to ASU.

Co-enrolled continuing probation program

Select disqualified students may participate in the co-enrolled continuing probation program at the discretion of their college or school. This program allows the student the opportunity to attend ASU during the fall or spring semester part time to take UNI 220 plus one ASU course while co-enrolled in at least eight credit hours at a Maricopa County Community College. The student selects these courses in consultation with their ASU academic advisor. If the student achieves a combined semester cumulative GPA of 2.50 upon completion of the term, they may continue regular enrollment at ASU for the upcoming semester.

If the student is receiving financial aid, they need to check with the financial aid office to see how participation in this program will affect their eligibility for financial aid.

Reinstatement

A student who has been academically disqualified and seeks to return to ASU for either a fall or spring semester, at any time, and has met college admission standards is required to seek readmission to the university [13] and reinstatement to the institute. Applications for readmission to ASU must be made to ASU Admission Services; the application for readmission automatically generates a letter of appeal for reinstatement to the institute for consideration.

All disqualified students should contact the Herberger Office of Student Success [14] regarding procedures and guidance for reinstatement and returning to academic good standing. Disqualified students may attend summer sessions at ASU to raise their cumulative GPA. If a cumulative GPA of 2.00 or higher is achieved upon completion of summer coursework, the student may petition the institute for early reinstatement. The possibility of successful reinstatement is enhanced when students follow recommendations and meet established standards for summer coursework or coursework completed at other institutions. All students who are academically disqualified should contact an institute advisor to discuss their options.

Also available in the Office of Student Success is information on the college policies and procedures for student grievances with respect to grades [10], and various petitions regarding standards and graduation requirements.

Advising

Undergraduate academic advising is handled as a centralized activity within the institute. Students are encouraged to make appointments through the Herberger Institute Office of Student Success [14]. Appointments are recommended and should be scheduled in advance with the lead academic advisor.

There are multiple ways to schedule an advising appointment:

- online through My ASU [15]
- phone: 480-965-4495
- email: HerbergerAdvising@asu.edu
- in-person: Design South (CDS), room 101 (M–F, 8 a.m.–5 p.m.) or Fusion on First (FOF), Room 320 (M–F, 8 a.m.–noon; 1–5 p.m.)

While the institute provides academic advising, it is ultimately each student's responsibility to fulfill academic and program requirements. Administration of program requirements is the responsibility of the head of the academic unit and the dean.

Credit and registration

Course load

First-semester freshmen and entering transfer students are not permitted to register for more than 18 credit hours in session C, or nine credit hours in session A and nine credit hours in session B. Continuing students who wish to register for more than 18 credit hours must meet the academic criteria for an overload petition and work with their academic advisor in the Herberger Office of Student Success. No student should assume that the petition for overload will be granted.

For summer sessions, the maximum course load is 14 credit hours, seven per six-week summer session. Overloads are rarely granted for these sessions, and requests must be petitioned to the Herberger Office of Student Success.

Audit grade option

Students may choose to audit certain courses; this option allows them to attend regularly scheduled class sessions, but they do not earn credit. Students should obtain instructor approval before registering for these courses. The option to audit is not available for all courses.

This grade option may not be changed after the add period.

Pass/fail or credit/no credit

The only courses accepted toward graduation with a grade of pass/fail or credit/no credit are those designated by the academic unit as such, or internships and field studies.

Transfer credits

While the university accepts credits transferred from other accredited institutions, transfer coursework must be equivalent in content and level of offering. Arts or design transfer credits are not applied to specific degree programs until they are reviewed and accepted by the appropriate academic units. The Design School and the School of Art require a review of samples of work in portfolio format from previous studio classes to evaluate some transfer studio credits.

Incompletes

Students are responsible for contacting their course instructors regarding the process of requesting and fulfilling requests for an incomplete. The grade of "I" (incomplete) can only be given by an instructor (and it is subject to unit director approval) when a student who is doing otherwise acceptable work is unable to complete a course (e.g., final exam or term paper) because of illness or other conditions beyond the student's control. The student must submit a request to the instructor to be considered for a grade of "I." A completed request must have the incomplete grade request form [16] and include a justification, a listing of requirements that have not been fulfilled, and a proposed schedule of completion. The instructor reviews the request and determines whether to accept or deny the request. The instructor may propose modifications when submitting a copy of the accepted request to the appropriate office.

A grade of "I" in any course that is a prerequisite for sequential courses automatically denies the student enrollment in subsequent courses and could result in the student being administratively dropped from a subsequent course in which they are enrolled.

The student has a maximum of one calendar year from the date the grade of "I" is recorded to complete the course, but faculty can place lesser time limitations at their discretion. A student does not re-register or pay fees for a course for which an "I" has been received in order to complete the course. A grade of "I" for undergraduate coursework that has been on a student's record for more than one calendar year automatically changes to "E."

Withdrawals

University withdrawal regulations apply to all courses. In certain degree programs of the institute, curricula are modular and sequential; because space in these programs is limited, a student is expected to progress through the curriculum with the class. To fully understand all potential repercussions of withdrawal from any courses, the student should discuss their plans with their academic advisor.

Degree requirements

Associate degrees

Students in the Associate of Arts programs should refer to their major map or curriculum checksheet and the university associate degree graduation requirements policy [17] for minimum credit hour, GPA and other degree requirements.

Critical requirements

All Design and the Arts students must meet the program and critical requirements for their majors. Students who do not comply with the critical requirements are considered off track, and their records are placed on hold; students are required to meet with an institute academic advisor to have a hold removed. For more information about critical requirements, students should refer to the corresponding major map or curriculum checksheet.

Concurrent degrees

Students who wish to pursue concurrent degrees must have the approval of the colleges and institutes housing both majors. Students are approved for concurrent degrees if they meet the following requirements:

- They are in academic good standing (minimum 2.0 cumulative ASU GPA).
- They have completed at least six semester credit hours of major related course requirements for each degree (12 semester credits total).
 - For the Design and the Arts degree, the six credit hours must be completed from the discipline's prefix (e.g., GRA for graphic design; AME for media arts and sciences; ARS for art history).
 - For a non-Design and the Arts degree, six credit hours must be major specific or major related.
 - Music degrees require passing an audition; successful completion of the audition replaces the six credit hour requirement of music coursework.

Students who meet these criteria may request to pursue both degree programs by submitting a concurrent degree request form [18] as part of the university approval process.

Change of major

For most academic units, a current ASU student has no additional requirements for changing majors. Current ASU students who wish to transfer to The Design School must be in good standing.

Students who change their major from a bachelor's degree to an associate degree can only make the change after the degree conferral date for each semester:

- Fall - mid-December
- Spring - mid-May
- Summer - mid-August

Reinstatement/readmission

Undergraduate degree-seeking students who previously attended ASU in the Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts but have not been enrolled at ASU for up to seven consecutive fall or spring semesters may be eligible to return through quick re-entry [19]. Students do not need to submit a new application or application fee, but they must contact an academic advisor in their program for registration.

Undergraduates who have been away from the university for eight or more semesters and want to return to ASU in a Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts program are required to apply for readmission [20] through the ASU Admission Services office.

- Readmission is only considered after a student has remained out of the institute for a minimum of eight semesters.
- A student is required to supply proof that they are now capable of successfully completing courses in the discipline by the completion of at least 12 credit hours of appropriate coursework with a GPA of 2.50 or higher.

- If the readmission request requires a change of major, then admission decisions are made by the college that offers the intended major.
- If a student seeks readmission to their previous Design and the Arts major and that major requires a creative review, a new review may be required.
- If readmission is approved within the institute, the student returns with continuing probation status in the appropriate degree program.

Once readmitted, returning students are required to meet with an institute advisor before enrolling in courses at ASU.

Other special requirements

Creative reviews

A creative review (audition, interview, milestone, portfolio submission) is required for entrance into many majors in the Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts. Students should visit the school's admission page [21] for details.

Graduate policies

Advising is handled as a decentralized activity within the institute. To offer personalized attention, each academic unit establishes its own graduate advising procedures. Students are encouraged to make appointments through the central office of their major discipline. Students should consult their academic unit's website for general information about the programs, admission and advising procedures:

- School of Art [1]: 480-965-6303
- School of Arts, Media and Engineering [2]: 480-965-9438
- School of Music, Dance and Theatre [4]: 480-965-3371
- The Design School [22]: 480-965-3536
- The Sidney Poitier New American Film School [6]: 602-496-5555

Students must fulfill all requirements of their graduate program to remain in good academic standing, and they must abide by all university policies, including those of the Graduate College [23] and the Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts.

Thunderbird School of Global Management policies

For more than 75 years, Thunderbird School of Global Management has been the vanguard for global leadership and management education. Since 1946, Thunderbird has helped guide exceptional individuals to shape meaningful and impactful careers all over the world — as entrepreneurs and innovators; as leaders of multinational corporations and family businesses; and as individuals in government agencies, international organizations and the nonprofit sector.

Today, people live in an era of profound global transformation. The digital age is reshaping lives and unlocking vast opportunities, as well as posing distinct challenges and changes to the ways people live and work.

More than ever, the world needs Thunderbird graduates, those who possess contextual global mindsets and unparalleled fluencies that enable them to work across countries, across sectors and across cultures. Graduates do not just thrive in this new, digital and global economy — they redefine it, creating the industries, ecosystems and future they want for themselves and future generations.

Academic integrity

Academic honesty is expected of all students in all examinations, papers, laboratory work, academic transactions and records. The ASU student academic integrity policy [1] is strictly enforced for students found in violation of this policy. Possible sanctions include appropriate grade penalties, loss of registration privileges, disqualification and dismissal.

For more information on graduate-specific policies, students should review the Graduate College's academic integrity page [2].

Notice of nondiscrimination

ASU prohibits all forms of discrimination, harassment and retaliation. Students should review ASU's policy ACD 401: Prohibition Against Discrimination, Harassment, and Retaliation [3].

Title IX protects individuals from discrimination based on sex in any educational program or activity operated by recipients of federal financial assistance. As required by Title IX, ASU does not discriminate on the basis of sex in the education programs or activities that we operate, including in admission and employment. Inquiries concerning the application of Title IX may be referred to the ASU Title IX coordinator or to the U.S. Department of Education Office for Civil Rights or to both. For more information, students should email titleixcoordinator@asu.edu, call 480-965-0696, or visit the office located at 1120 S. Cady Mall, INTDSB 284. For information on making a report, students should reference the Report It [4] website.

Undergraduate policies

Academic standing

To remain in university academic good standing [5], all students at Thunderbird must:

- maintain a minimum GPA of 2.00 each semester
- maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.00

University academic warning

An undergraduate student with a cumulative GPA lower than 2.00 at the end of their first semester (fall or spring) is considered to be in the status of university academic warning.

Academic probation

An undergraduate student is placed on university academic probation if, at the end of a semester (fall or spring) that is not the student's first semester at ASU, they have a cumulative GPA lower than 2.00, or the student received an academic warning in the prior term.

Continuing probation

A student is on university continuing academic probation each semester (fall or spring) that they (previously on university academic probation) earn a semester GPA higher than 2.00 but have a cumulative GPA lower than 2.00.

eAdvisor tracking

In addition to being in good academic standing with the university, all students at Thunderbird must adhere to ASU critical tracking requirements, per the pertinent major map [6] or curriculum checksheet. Students are considered off track if they fail to meet ASU critical tracking requirements.

Students who remain in off-track status for two or more consecutive semesters may be required to change majors.

Remediation

Students are required to meet with an academic advisor if they are placed on academic warning, probation, continuing probation, or off-track status or are at risk for disqualification, at which point an appropriate remediation plan is discussed.

Disqualification

Students are disqualified from ASU if their cumulative GPA remains lower than 2.00 for more than two consecutive semesters. Students who are disqualified are not allowed to enroll in the following fall or spring semester. They may take courses during the summer to raise their GPA; however, this does not guarantee reinstatement for the following fall semester. Disqualified students must follow the procedures for readmission, and requests are reviewed by the college on a case-by-case basis.

Advising

Thunderbird is committed to the personal, social and academic experiences of students by providing high-quality, student-centered academic advising, ensuring the accuracy and accessibility of information and resources, and partnering with students to help them reach their career goals.

Academic advising is required for the following students:

- All first-year and new transfer students are required to meet with an academic advisor before course registration. Thus, first-year students are required to meet with an academic advisor before their first and second semesters.
- Students not in good academic standing status (e.g., on academic warning, probation, continuing probation, off-track status, disqualification) are required to meet with an academic advisor to discuss a remediation plan.

Faculty and staff use academic status reports [7] to provide students feedback over the course of the academic semester and year. Academic status reports may be used to identify students who are struggling academically or professionally or to recognize students who are exceeding in coursework. Academic advisors and faculty mentors may access ASRs to provide students with valuable insight into performance improvement.

Credit and registration

Course load

Students are allowed to register for a maximum of 18 credit hours per semester. To register for more than the maximum allowable, students may petition their Thunderbird School of Global Management academic advisor. No student should assume that a petition for overload will be granted. For more information, students should review the course load and concurrent enrollment policy [8].

Transfer work

Transfer credits from other institutions may be accepted and applied based on the student's major. Credit is granted for transferred courses deemed equivalent to corresponding courses in the selected program of study, subject to grade and ASU resident credit requirements. No grades lower than "C" (2.00) transfer to ASU. Credits transferred from a community college or two-year institution are applied as lower-division credits. Thunderbird School of Global Management recommends that students work closely with their academic advisor to determine the process for applying pertinent transfer credit hours to their program of study. For more information on the transfer process and a list of the courses transferable to the various degree programs, students should consult their advisor and refer to the ASU transfer tools [9].

Course prerequisites

Course prerequisites are established to ensure student success in a course. Students must complete all course prerequisites before enrolling in the desired course. Prerequisite overrides may be granted under the following conditions:

- A transfer course has been accepted by an advisor to fulfill a course prerequisite.
- A prerequisite override has been granted by an advisor, instructor or other authority.

Grade of incomplete

A grade of "I" (incomplete) [10] for a course may be granted by permission of the instructor under the following conditions:

- The student has completed a substantial portion of the required coursework.
- The student has experienced extenuating circumstances before the end of the semester, preventing completion of the course.

If qualified, students have one calendar year to complete course requirements. If requirements are not met per the standards agreed upon with the course instructor after one calendar year, the incomplete is adjusted to reflect a course failure.

Pass/fail grade option

A grade of "P" (pass) contributes to a student's earned credit hours but does not affect the GPA. A grade of "E" (failing) is calculated into the GPA.

The pass/fail grade option may be used under the following conditions:

- Approval has been granted by the instructor and college offering the course.
- The pass/fail option was chosen during initial registration for the course, if available.

Thunderbird students may not enroll under the pass/fail option in the following courses:

- those taken to satisfy first-year composition requirements
- those taken from the student's major, minor or certificate program
- those taken for honors credits
- those counted toward satisfying ASU general studies requirements
- those counted toward satisfying Thunderbird language and culture proficiency requirements

Pass/fail credit taken at another institution may be petitioned for use, but only if the student can demonstrate proof that the pass grade was equivalent to a "C" (2.00) or higher.

Withdrawal

Complete session withdrawal information

Because a complete session withdrawal from the university can be a difficult decision and could result in serious academic and financial consequences, undergraduate students are required to contact the college or school of their major to facilitate the withdrawal process.

During the fall or spring semester, students may submit a withdrawal request by signing in to My ASU [11], clicking on the Registration link in the My Classes box, and selecting Drop/Withdrawal. The request will be electronically routed to the student's college or department for review and next steps. If the semester has not yet begun, or the student wishes to withdraw from a summer session, they can sign in to My ASU [11], click on the Registration link in the My Classes box, select Drop/Withdrawal and follow the steps to withdraw from classes.

ASU has many resources in place to help students. Students may want to consider one or more of the following:

- Withdraw from just one or two classes (course withdrawal). Students may withdraw from a class while remaining enrolled in other classes as long as the withdrawal is completed between the drop deadline and the course withdrawal deadline. Students are encouraged to contact their academic advisor to discuss the impact this may have on meeting critical requirements. Students also are encouraged to contact a financial aid representative to consider any impact that withdrawing will have on scholarships, grants and loan packages.
- Request a medical or compassionate withdrawal. Medical or compassionate withdrawals are available for students withdrawing from one or more classes because of extraordinary personal mental or physical health conditions or the death or serious illness of a family member or close friend. If approved, students are allowed one medical or compassionate withdrawal during their academic career with Thunderbird. For information concerning medical or compassionate withdrawal requests, students should see the medical and compassionate withdrawal policy [12], and they may obtain the form online [13] (PDF).
- Seek tutoring or academic support services. University Academic Support Network [14] provides a variety of services to help students become better learners and gain the confidence and skills they need to achieve their academic goals. Services include writing centers, math tutoring, subject area tutoring and supplemental instruction.
- Make an appointment with ASU Counseling Services. Counseling and mental health services are provided at each of the four ASU campuses and via telehealth appointments. ASU students may seek services at any of the campus counseling centers [15], regardless of their college affiliation.
- Explore the possibility of an "I" (incomplete) grade.

The following are possible consequences of a complete session withdrawal:

- financial aid — Financial aid recipients who completely withdraw from the university may be responsible for immediate repayment of funds. The effect of a complete withdrawal of financial aid depends on when the withdrawal is dated and the type of financial aid. More information is available at ASU Financial Aid and Scholarship Services [16].
- tuition and refunds — The date of a complete withdrawal determines whether or not a tuition refund is generated. Students should review the tuition refund policy [17] for more information.
- health insurance — Students should contact their health insurance company to determine whether or not withdrawing from the university affects their coverage.
- housing — Students who live on campus should contact their residence hall community staff to determine what impact withdrawing would have on their eligibility to live on campus; to complete a license agreement release [18] form; and to arrange an appointment to officially check out. More information is available at the University Housing [19] website.
- veteran benefits and certifications — Students should contact the appropriate veteran benefits and certifications office to discuss information regarding veterans' educational benefits and military activation. For more information, students should email ptvc@asu.edu or visit the Pat Tillman Veterans Center [20] website.

For general university withdrawal procedures, students should review the university add, drop and withdrawal policies [21].

Degree requirements

All candidates for graduation in the Bachelor of Global Management or Bachelor of Science in international trade curricula are required to present at least 120 credit hours, of which at least 45 must consist of upper-division coursework. A minimum cumulative GPA of 2.00 is required for graduation.

It is the student's responsibility to be aware of the degree program requirements and to select courses accordingly.

To graduate, a student must satisfy the following requirements:

1. ASU 101 or equivalent (first-year students)
2. college proficiency requirements for language
3. university first-year composition [22] and general studies [23] requirements

4. six credit hours of coursework at the upper-division level — three credit hours of literacy (L), and three hours of humanities, arts and design (HU) or social-behavioral sciences (SB) — in addition to the university-required 29 credit hours of general studies coursework (General Studies Maroon only)
5. major requirements that involve concentrated coursework in one program
6. successful completion of critical-tracking courses as required on the student's major map or curriculum checklist

For more information regarding eAdvisor tools, students should visit the eAdvisor [24] website.

Thunderbird proficiency requirement

The Thunderbird proficiency requirement may be satisfied through one of the following:

- completion of a language course at the intermediate level (202 or equivalent)
- completion of an upper-division course or courses taught in a foreign language, taken in the United States or the relevant country
- completion of six credit hours of upper-division courses that have the global communities, societies and individuals (GCSI) designation (General Studies Gold), or six credit hours of upper-division courses that have the global awareness (G) designation or cultural diversity in the U.S. (C) designation (General Studies Maroon), in addition to the courses used to meet the university general studies requirements

Students must earn a grade of "C" (2.00) or higher in the courses taken to fulfill this requirement. Most students will fulfill this requirement through the completion of TGM 353 and TGM 468.

Concurrent degrees

Thunderbird allows students to request approval to pursue a concurrent degree through the university approval process [25]. A minimum of 30 distinct credit hours must be taken for each degree program, and degree combinations with significant curricular overlap might not be approved.

Students interested in applying for a concurrent degree should consult with their academic success advisor about the feasibility of a concurrent degree and also must meet the following criteria:

1. have attained sophomore standing or higher
2. have a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.00
3. have completed a minimum of 12 credit hours of coursework in the first major
4. follow approval criteria procedures for both colleges

Incompatible concurrent degrees

BGM in global management/BS in international trade

For more information on degree requirements, students should reference Degree Search [26].

Minors

Thunderbird students may pursue minors [27] in other colleges at ASU. Courses taken for the minor may not be used for the student's major program.

Readmission

Undergraduate degree-seeking students are eligible to return through quick re-entry [28] if they previously attended ASU but have not enrolled at ASU for up to seven consecutive semesters. These students are not required to submit a new application or application fee, but they must contact a Thunderbird academic advisor to enroll.

Undergraduates who have been away from the university for eight or more semesters and want to return to ASU in a Thunderbird program are required to apply for readmission [29] through ASU Admission Services.

Disqualified students must follow the procedures for readmission; requests are reviewed by the college on a case-by-case basis.

Other special requirements

Grievance policy

Undergraduate students with grievances pertaining to an enrolled course should first address issues with the course instructor. If an identified grievance is not resolved with the course instructor, the student should next seek resolution through the academic advisor, and then from Thunderbird's senior associate dean of undergraduate programs. Finally, if no resolution has been achieved, the student should contact the deputy dean of the Thunderbird academic enterprise.

Graduate policies

Academic progression

Each graduate program at Thunderbird adheres to specific academic requirements. Students are strongly encouraged to become familiar with the expectations listed for their respective graduate program and review ASU Graduate College policies [30] and the Thunderbird Graduate Student Handbook (PDF) [31]. Each student should also communicate directly with their program coordinator or academic advisor to ensure a clear understanding of all degree requirements and program expectations. Students must fulfill all requirements of their individual graduate programs to remain in good academic standing and must abide by all university policies, including those of the Graduate College and the Thunderbird School of Global Management.

All Thunderbird graduate programs require a minimum cumulative, graduate and iPOS GPA of 3.00. Students should see the individual graduate degree programs for additional requirements on satisfactory academic progress, probation and disqualification.

Credit and registration

Because of the intensity of the Thunderbird graduate programs, the number of credit hours that students take each semester may be limited. Students should see the Thunderbird Graduate Student Handbook (PDF) [31] for more information.

Students may petition the deputy dean to register for more than the maximum allowable number of credit hours. No student should assume that a petition for overload will be granted.

Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Communication policies

The Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Communication has a student-centered culture focused on helping students complete their degrees in a timely manner. Students are encouraged to visit the school website [1] or contact its student services center at 602-496-5055 with questions about any of the school's policies.

Academic integrity

Academic dishonesty in any form is not tolerated in the Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Communication. The crux of democracy is the ability of citizens to obtain honest, truthful and balanced information, and the credibility and integrity of individual journalists and communications professionals are crucial in that effort. In light of the school's mission to prepare students to become journalists and communications professionals, it is critical that credibility and integrity be fostered within the educational environment of the school.

The school has zero-tolerance for academic dishonesty; academic integrity is enforced within every course and educational activity offered or sanctioned by the school. Any allegation of academic dishonesty is referred to an appointed academic integrity officer for investigation, with cases elevated to the school's Standards Committee for review and recommendation to the dean of the school. If any student is found to have engaged in academic dishonesty in any form — including cheating, plagiarizing and fabricating (see examples (PDF) [2]) — that student will receive a grade of XE for the class and may face suspension or expulsion from ASU.

At the beginning of every Cronkite class, every student must digitally agree to uphold the school's commitment to academic integrity, as well as the ASU academic integrity policy [3] and the ASU student honor code [4]. This agreement indicates that each student has read and understands the terms of academic integrity violations and all potential sanctions.

Per ASU's policy, anyone with a good faith basis for believing that a student has engaged in academic dishonesty may report the alleged violation. In any case, the alleged violation should be brought to the attention of the faculty member or instructor who oversees the academic activity in question. Students can use this link to report an alleged violation [5] to an academic integrity officer.

If the Cronkite school dean determines that a graduate student has violated the ASU academic integrity policy and should be suspended or dismissed from the program, they will notify ASU's Graduate College and make a formal recommendation for dismissal or suspension. The Graduate College dean makes the final determination of sanctions.

Responsibilities related to academic integrity

Accuracy: Because accuracy is the most important aspect of journalism, students must adhere to rigid standards for all submitted work, regardless of the intent to publish. Any major error of fact, anything that would require a printed correction if the story appeared in a newspaper — a misspelled proper name, an erroneous phone number, an incorrect address, a libelous statement or a misstatement of a major fact — results in a grade of "E" (59%) on that assignment. Minor misspellings or errors of grammar bring down the grade. Carelessness causes students to lose points quickly.

Attendance and makeup work: Students must attend all classes for their full duration — as well as examinations, as noted by the ASU final exam schedule — on the days and times and in the locations indicated on the class syllabus and My ASU. If a student experiences extreme personal circumstances, they must notify their instructor immediately. The instructor is obligated to report extreme or extenuating circumstances to the dean's office for the coordination of student support. Other than for religious accommodations or university-sanctioned events, the Cronkite school does not give makeup work. If a student is absent and misses an in-class assignment, quiz or test, they do not earn credit for it.

Course content: Course content, including lectures, is copyrighted material. Students may not share outside the class, upload, sell or distribute course content, assessments, access codes or notes. Students must refrain from uploading to any course shell, discussion board or website used by the instructor or other course forum any material that is not the student's original work unless the student first complies with all applicable copyright laws; faculty members reserve the right to delete materials on the grounds of suspected copyright infringement.

Classroom etiquette: Students must keep mobile devices stored out of reach during class unless prompted by the instructor. Students may use computers, phones and other devices during class only to take notes and engage with course content. Food and drinks other than water are not allowed in the classroom. Students should arrive on time and be prepared to engage meaningfully with their instructor, peers and course content.

Deadlines: Effective Fall 2025, assignments submitted even one second past the deadline are subject to a 25% deduction; thus, a "C" becomes the highest possible grade for a late submission within the first 24 hours after the deadline. This includes assignments submitted at 12:00 a.m. when the deadline is 11:59 p.m. Assignments submitted more than 24 hours after the initial deadline receive zero points. Instructors do not grant exceptions for preventable circumstances, including technical difficulties and poor time management.

If a student begins an assignment but runs out of time to complete it, the student should remember that submitting a partially completed assignment is better than not submitting anything at all (as long as the work meets all expectations for academic integrity and does not compromise the work of other students).

Extreme personal circumstances: Students should notify their instructor as soon as possible if an extreme individual circumstance interferes with their ability to complete coursework. Examples include hospitalization of a student, death of an immediate family member or a natural disaster.

Active duty military: Students who are on active duty with the military and, because of deployment or service responsibilities, experience Internet connectivity issues that prevent them from participating in course activities or meeting assignment deadlines must notify the instructor as soon as possible to discuss appropriate accommodations.

Religious accommodations: Students who must be absent from class because of religious observance should notify their instructors at the beginning of the semester.

Diversity principles: The Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Communication embraces inclusivity [6] in student, staff and faculty populations to create an academic environment that fosters diversity of thought and acceptance of all people. To this end, the school directs efforts to the following four principles:

- Actively seek out and encourage diverse populations to become productive members of the faculty, staff and the student body.
- Create and maintain a work, learning and social environment that is cognizant and supportive of a diversity of human differences and beliefs.
- Incorporate within the formal content of the curriculum and in each course an affirmation of the core values of accuracy, fairness, ethical behavior and sensitivity when reflecting an increasingly multicultural world.
- Foster and support a climate in which events and activities of the school reflect diversity of awareness, and sensitivity to and support for people of different origins, orientations and abilities.

Expectations of professionalism: Students must exhibit professionalism in all course-related activities, assessments and communications. It is vital to the learning process that each student respect their instructor, classmates, clients, partners, sources, technology, equipment and course content. Students who engage in damaging or abusive behavior — and those who consistently make disruptive, disrespectful or intimidating comments in person or online — are referred to the Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities [7] for investigation and possible consideration for dismissal from the program.

The Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Communication strives to create a respectful, civil learning environment for everyone; however, some course content and discussions may evoke emotional responses based on personal experiences and backgrounds. Students should bring any concerns to the attention of their instructor or, alternatively, to school leadership.

According to ASU policy SSM 104-02 [8], "Students, faculty, staff, and other individuals do not have an unqualified right of access to university grounds, property or services. Interfering with the peaceful conduct of university-related business or activities or remaining on campus grounds after a request to leave may be considered a crime."

ACEJMC values and competencies: As a member of the Accrediting Council on Education in Journalism and Mass Communication, the school is committed to classroom learning that achieves ACEJMC professional values and competencies (<http://www.acejmc.org/policies-process/principles> [9]). These include the core areas of freedom of speech, ethics, diversity, critical thinking, research, writing and use of tools and technologies related to the field.

Social media guidelines: It is important that students of journalism and communication know how to use social media ethically and professionally. The school has developed standards [10] drawn from The Poynter Institute for Media Studies and the Society of Professional Journalists.

Original work and collaborations: All work submitted for classes must be original work, created solely for the current session of the class. This includes photos, text, video and images. Students may not submit assignments or evaluations done for any other class, for any other organization or for a previous session of the class. ASU offers resources for learning more about plagiarism and self-plagiarism [11]. Students who violate this clause are referred to an academic integrity officer.

All assignments must be the student's own work — from concept to execution — unless the instructor specifies some type of collaboration. Even when students are part of a team, not all elements of the assignment may be team-based. For example, the assignment may call for a team discussion of a topic, but a writing assignment based on that discussion must be the student's individual work. Violating this policy may qualify as academic dishonesty. Students are responsible for understanding what elements of an assignment or task (if any) require peer collaboration or individual completion.

Notice of nondiscrimination

ASU prohibits all forms of discrimination, harassment and retaliation. Students should review ASU's policy ACD 401: Prohibition Against Discrimination, Harassment and Retaliation [12].

Title IX protects individuals from discrimination based on sex in any educational program or activity operated by recipients of federal financial assistance. As required by Title IX, ASU does not discriminate on the basis of sex in the education programs or activities that we operate, including in admission and employment. Inquiries concerning the application of Title IX may be referred to the ASU Title IX coordinator or to the U.S. Department of Education Office for Civil Rights or to both. For more information, students should email titleixcoordinator@asu.edu, call 480-965-0696, or visit the office located at 1120 S. Cady Mall, INTDSB 284. For information on making a report, students should reference the Report It [13] website.

Undergraduate policies

Academic standing

Probation and Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Communication continuing academic probation

All ASU students, first-year students through seniors, must maintain a minimum GPA of 2.00 for all courses completed at ASU. If this standard is not maintained, the student is placed on probation. Students on probation must see an advisor before further registration and must do one of the following:

- Achieve an ASU GPA of 2.00 or greater to return to academic good standing.
- Obtain a semester GPA of 2.50 with no grade lower than "C" to be granted one additional semester on continuing probation. At the end of the continuing probation, the student must return to academic good standing (a minimum cumulative ASU GPA of 2.00) to avoid disqualification.

Disqualification

Students who do not meet probation requirements are academically disqualified. Disqualified students should meet with their academic advisors. These students may attend ASU only during the summer session immediately following disqualification.

Journalism and mass communication and sports journalism majors: Students in these majors must maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.50 for all courses completed at ASU to be in good standing in the major. Students who have a cumulative GPA lower than 2.50 have one semester to raise their cumulative GPA to meet the requirement. Students who fail to raise their cumulative GPA to 2.50 or higher must change their major from journalism and mass communication or sports journalism.

Mass communication and media studies, digital media literacy and digital audiences majors: Students in these majors follow the university policies on retention and academic standards [14] for GPA requirements, probation and disqualification.

Advising

Undergraduate students are assigned an advisor according to the student's last name. Students should see the school advising [15] page for specifics.

To ensure that students are making progress toward their degrees, the school encourages students to check in with their advisors each semester. Advising is mandatory for:

- first-time, first-year students, both semesters during their first year at ASU
- students on academic probation
- students who are off track in their major
- students who have completed 75 credit hours
- transfer students before they enroll in their first semester at ASU

ASU Online students are strongly encouraged to make an appointment with their respective advisors before enrolling in their first semester.

For additional information, students should contact the school's advising center at cronkiteadvising@asu.edu. Students should follow the sequence of courses outlined on major maps and online degree audits and contact their advisor with any questions. Critical requirements for first-year students in the school are available at the school website [16].

Credit and registration

Changes of major

Students are eligible to change their major [17] if they meet the criteria below.

Journalism and mass communication and sports journalism degree programs: Current ASU students are eligible to change their major to this program if they have a cumulative GPA of at least 2.50 in 12 or more credit hours earned at ASU in courses that can be used to satisfy the school's nonelective general studies requirements.

Mass communication and media studies, digital audiences and digital media literacy degree programs: Current ASU students are eligible to change their major to these programs if they have a cumulative GPA of at least 2.00.

Transfer credit

Students may apply up to 64 credits of coursework from an accredited two-year institution to their degree. Students may apply up to nine credit hours of approved upper-division journalism coursework from a four-year, ACEJMC-accredited institution to meet the school's Bachelor of Arts in journalism and mass communication and BA in sports journalism degree requirements. Students interested in having these courses reviewed should collect detailed syllabi and course schedules, review the ASU transfer credit criteria [18] and consult a Cronkite academic advisor [15] or admission specialist [19] for assistance.

Degree requirements

All students must meet the critical requirements for their majors. Students who are required to follow eAdvisor tracking requirements and do not comply with the critical requirements are off track, and a hold is placed on their records. These students must meet with an advisor to have the hold removed.

- specific requirements for the journalism and mass communication degree [20]
- specific requirements for the sports journalism degree [21]
- specific requirements for the mass communication and media studies degree [22]
- specific requirements for the digital audiences degree [23]
- specific requirements for the digital media literacy degree [24]

Concurrent degrees

The primary degree is the one that appears at the top of a student's transcript. A concurrent degree is an additional degree that a student pursues.

Following are general rules for students pursuing concurrent degrees in the Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Communication:

- Currently enrolled journalism and mass communication or sports journalism majors who would like to add a concurrent degree must have a cumulative ASU GPA of 2.50 or higher and must have completed 30 credit hours of coursework.
- Currently enrolled mass communication and media studies, digital audiences or digital media literacy majors who would like to add a concurrent degree must have a cumulative ASU GPA of 2.00 or higher and must have completed 30 credit hours of coursework.
- ASU students not enrolled in the school who would like to add a concurrent degree in journalism and mass communication or sports journalism must be in good academic standing within ASU, must have a cumulative GPA of at least 3.00 and must have completed 30 credit hours of coursework.
- ASU students not enrolled in the school who would like to add a concurrent degree in mass communication and media studies or digital audiences must be in good academic standing, must have a cumulative GPA of at least 2.00 in a degree program and must have completed 30 credit hours of coursework.
- The school requires that students enrolled in journalism and mass communication or sports journalism majors take a minimum of 36 credit hours of the school's courses.
- The school requires that students enrolled in the mass communication and media studies, digital media literacy, or digital audiences majors take a minimum of 30 credit hours of the school's courses.
- A student may not pursue concurrent degrees in journalism and mass communication, sports journalism, mass communication and media studies, digital audiences, or digital media literacy.

Procedures for adding a concurrent degree:

1. Once a student has decided to declare a concurrent degree, they should inform the academic advisor for each degree in order to receive proper information about requirements such as degree requirements and courses.
2. When a student meets the requirements for a concurrent degree, they should contact the assigned academic advisor for each major to review and complete the university's approval process [25]. Students in the school are assigned an academic advisor [26] by the student's last name.
3. If a student no longer wishes to pursue a concurrent degree, they should email that intention to the academic advisor. The message should include the student's full name and ASU ID number, and specify the degree that the student wants to have removed from the academic record.

Any questions should be directed to crankiteadvising@asu.edu.

Reinstatement/readmission

Students seeking readmission after being discontinued from the university should contact admission services [27].

Graduate policies

The Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Communication is a nationally recognized professional program that prepares students for careers as reporters, editors, producers, anchors, multimedia journalists, digital marketers, strategic communicators, entrepreneurs and media executives. Students go on to work for news organizations, digital media and production companies, public relations firms, nonprofit organizations and corporate brands around the world.

More information on the school's academic standards, policies and procedures can be found in the program handbook. Students must fulfill all requirements of their individual graduate programs to remain in good academic standing, and they must abide by all university policies, including those of the Graduate College [28] and the Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Communication.

Admission

Candidates for the on-campus Master of Mass Communication, Master of Arts in investigative journalism, MA in strategic communication or MA in sports journalism degrees apply online [29].

The graduate application opens Sept. 1. Applications are reviewed on a rolling basis. Applications received before Dec. 1 are given priority for both admission and funding. The final application deadline is June 1.

Applicants must have earned a bachelor's or master's degree from a regionally accredited institution.

They must have a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.00 (scale is 4.00 = "A") in the last 60 hours of their first bachelor's degree program or a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.00 (scale is 4.00 = "A") in an applicable master's degree program.

All applicants must submit:

1. graduate admission application and application fee
2. official transcripts
3. three letters of recommendation
4. personal statement of interest (350–500 words in length)
5. resume
6. proof of English proficiency

An applicant whose native language is not English must provide proof of English proficiency [30] regardless of their current residency. Students can choose to submit scores from the TOEFL, Duolingo or IELTS English proficiency exams. TOEFL scores must be at least 100 for the iBT® taken in a testing center, Duolingo scores must be 135 or higher, and IELTS must be 7.5 or higher.

Students should see the program website for application deadlines and admission terms [31]. Applicants must meet all deadlines and application requirements to be considered. The school's master's degree committee reviews applications that are complete and submitted on time. Recommendations for admission are made to admission services, where the final admission decisions are made.

Candidates for the Master of Science in digital audience strategy, offered online and at ASU's California Center in Los Angeles, apply online [29]. Candidates must submit a graduate application, application fee, resume, statement of personal interest (300–500 words) and official transcripts.

An applicant whose native language is not English must provide proof of English proficiency [30] regardless of their current residency. Students can choose to submit scores from the TOEFL, Duolingo or IELTS English proficiency exams. TOEFL scores must be at least 100 for the iBT® taken in a testing center, Duolingo scores must be 135 or higher, and IELTS must be 7.5 or higher.

Candidates for the MA in narrative and emerging media, offered at ASU's California Center in Los Angeles in collaboration with ASU's Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts, apply online [29]. Candidates must submit a graduate application, application fee, resume, statement of personal interest (300–500 words), two letters of application and official transcripts. An applicant whose native language is not English must provide proof of English proficiency regardless of their current residency, with an iBT® TOEFL score (taken in a testing center) equal to or greater than 80. Other exams may be considered. Applicants should consult the school with specifics.

Degree requirements

Plan of study

Graduate students are required to complete their interactive plan of study [32] in their first enrolled semester. This requirement is monitored by the academic unit and is considered critical to satisfactory academic progress. The plan of study is available online in the My Programs box on My ASU [33].

The student selects the ASU courses that have been taken, those in progress and those that the student plans to take in future semesters. Once the POS is completed, it is electronically forwarded to the school's graduate advisor. It must be approved by the school's director of master's degree programs. The completed POS is sent to the Graduate College and then to the graduation office. The approved POS is a contract between the student and the school, verifying the classes the student intends to take during the course of study. Students who do not have an approved POS on file are not eligible for graduation. Changes to the POS may be made by using the form Course Changes to the Graduate Plan of Study available on My ASU [33].

Students who need to file a POS are notified by the Graduate College via email. If the student fails to file the POS within the specified period, a hold is placed on the student's ASU record. The hold prevents the student from registering for classes. Once the student has filed the POS and it has been approved, the hold is removed. The Graduate College monitors students' iPOS statuses and places or removes the holds.

Academic standing

Satisfactory academic progress

All graduate students are expected to make systematic progress toward completion of their degree. This progress includes satisfying the conditions listed below, achieving the benchmarks, and meeting the requirements set by the individual degree programs. Each degree program should have in place policies for satisfactory academic progress. Students are responsible for verifying additional satisfactory progress policies as described in the program handbook. If a student fails to meet the requirements of their degree program and the benchmarks outlined below, the student may be dismissed from their program based on the academic unit's recommendation to the Graduate College. The dean of the Graduate College makes the final determination.

1. Maintain a minimum iPOS, graduate and cumulative GPA of 3.00. If a GPA is lower than 3.00, the student must develop, with their advisor, an academic performance improvement plan that includes the conditions and time frames for making satisfactory academic progress in the degree program.

The iPOS GPA is calculated from all courses that appear on the student's approved iPOS.

The graduate GPA is calculated from all courses numbered 500 or higher that appear on the transcript, with the exception of courses counted toward an undergraduate degree at ASU (unless shared with a master's degree in an approved bachelor's and master's degree program) and from courses identified as deficiencies in the original letter of admission. The student is considered to be on academic probation until the conditions specified in the academic performance improvement plan are met and both GPAs are 3.00 or higher.

The cumulative ASU GPA represents all courses completed at ASU during the graduate career.

2. Satisfy all requirements of the graduate degree program.
3. Satisfy the maximum time limit for graduation from the student's graduate degree program.

4. Students have three years from the start of their program to complete the MS in digital audience strategy, six years from the start of their program to complete other Cronkite master's degrees, and 10 years from the start of their program to complete the doctoral degree program.
5. Successfully pass any comprehensive exams, qualifying exams, foreign language exams, and the oral defense of the proposal or prospectus for the thesis or dissertation that are required for the specific graduate program.
6. Successfully complete the culminating experience and, if required, the oral defense of the culminating experience.
7. Stay continuously enrolled in the graduate program. Failing to do so without a Graduate College-approved request to maintain continuous enrollment is considered a lack of academic progress and may lead to automatic dismissal of the student from the graduate program. Persistent "W" (withdrawal) and "I" (incomplete) grades during multiple semesters on a POS or transcript may reflect a lack of academic progress.

In addition to the Graduate College satisfactory academic progress policies, the Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Communication has adopted the following:

- If any of a student's GPAs are lower than 3.00, the student is placed on academic probation. If the student's GPAs are not raised to at least 3.00 by the end of the next semester, the Cronkite School may recommend dismissal to ASU's Graduate College.
- If a student in the MMA, MA in investigative journalism, MA in strategic communication or MA in sports journalism earns lower than a "C" (2.00) in MCO 502 Multimedia Storytelling (Bootcamp), the school recommends to the Graduate College that the student be removed from the program immediately.
- To receive their degrees, MMC, MA in investigative journalism, MA in strategic communication and MA in sports journalism students who have MCO 570 Capstone as their culminating experience are required to earn at least a "B" (3.00).
- Students in the MS in digital audience strategy program must earn a "B" (3.00) or higher in MCO 561 Defining the Digital Audience before enrolling in MCO 562, 563, 564 or 565. To receive their degrees, students also are required to earn at least a "B" (3.00) in MCO 566 Digital Audience Management (Capstone). To enroll in the MCO 566, students must earn a "B" (3.00) or higher in MCO 561, and a "C" (2.00) or higher in all other courses.
- Students in the MA in narrative and emerging media program should consult their program handbook for applicable policies from the Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts.

Appeals

Students who want to appeal a course grade must first discuss the issue with the instructor. If the issue is not resolved, the student may appeal the grade to the school's standards committee by completing the academic affairs report form [34]; the standards committee reviews the issue and makes a recommendation to the dean. The dean's decision is final. Students should be aware that the standards committee may recommend a grade lower than the one awarded by the course instructor.

If a student fails to make satisfactory academic progress, and a recommendation is made to the Graduate College to remove the student from their graduate program, the student has 10 business days to file a written appeal with the dean. The dean's decision regarding appeals is final.

Credit and registration

Transfer credit

Students admitted to the 30 credit hour, midcareer MMC program may transfer up to six credit hours of approved coursework that was taken before beginning the program and not used toward a previous degree; the six credit hours may include nondegree coursework. Only courses with a grade of "A" (4.00) or "B" (3.00) and taken within three years of admission to an ASU graduate program may be accepted as transfer credit.

To have graduate coursework that was completed at other accredited institutions included on a POS, a student must petition the school's master's or doctoral committee. The student also must complete the petition section of the POS.

Students who are in the 36 credit hour professional master's degree programs are not permitted to transfer coursework from another institution or from another ASU program.

400-level courses taken for graduate credit

The Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Communication may allow graduate students to enroll in and use up to two three-credit, 400-level courses on their plans of study (a total of six credit hours). Students must receive permission from the program director before enrolling in any 400-level course they intend to include in their POS. Students taking these courses are responsible for obtaining and completing the 400-level course contract form. This form specifies what the student must do to receive graduate credit for the course. It must be signed by the professor.

Preadmission credit

Credit earned in graduate-level courses (per the Graduate College preadmission policy) by undergraduate students may count toward their graduate degrees at ASU, provided the credit hours have not been used toward a previously awarded degree. Before they are awarded a bachelor's degree, ASU undergraduate students should contact their undergraduate advisor to set aside graduate courses for use toward a graduate degree.

Reserving a course does not guarantee that the student will be admitted to a graduate degree program or that the course will be used to meet graduate degree requirements. A maximum of nine credit hours may be reserved, and only courses with a grade of "B" (3.00) or higher are applicable. Reserved credit is classified as nondegree credit and must be taken within the six-year limit to be included on a POS.

Grades of incomplete

A grade of "I" (incomplete) may be given by the instructor when a student who is otherwise doing acceptable work is unable to complete the course because of illness or other conditions beyond their control. The student must request an incomplete [35], which must be approved by the instructor and the director of the master's degree or doctoral program.

The Graduate College requires students who receive an "I" in graduate coursework (500 level and higher) to complete the necessary work within one calendar year or a shorter time frame as agreed upon by the instructor and student. If the "I" is not removed within one calendar year, it becomes part of the student's permanent transcript and cannot be used on a student's POS. To receive credit for the course, the student must repeat the course by re-registering, paying fees and fulfilling all course requirements.

Master's degree students with more than one "I" at any time are considered failing to make adequate progress, and they are placed on probation. If the student does not complete the work to remove the "I" and earn a letter grade by the end of the calendar year, a recommendation may be made to the Graduate College to remove the student from the program.

With 400-level courses taken for graduate credit, students are required to complete the necessary work to remove an incomplete grade within one calendar year. If the incomplete grade is not removed within one calendar year, the "I" becomes an "E" (failing) grade. An "E" cannot be used to meet the requirements for a graduate degree, but it is used to calculate the student's GPA. Students may retake the class to earn a higher grade; however, both the "E" and the new grade are used in calculating the student's GPA. If this results in a GPA lower than 3.00, a recommendation to withdraw the student from the program is made to the Graduate College.

Other special requirements

Time limitations

Students have three years from the start of their program to complete the MS in digital audience strategy, six years from the start of their program to complete other Cronkite master's degrees, and 10 years from the start of their program to complete the doctoral degree.

Financial aid

Many graduate students receive financial aid from ASU [36] to assist in financing their education.

Applied project

Students enrolled in the 30 credit hour, midcareer MMC program have the option of completing an applied project and are eligible to enroll in MCO 593 Applied Project when they have no more than six credit hours of coursework remaining on their POS. Students interested in completing an applied project are encouraged to meet with the master's program director no later than the end of their first year in the program.

Graduate degrees and certificates

Business, W. P. Carey School of

Artificial Intelligence in Business, MS (BAAIBMS)

College/School: W. P. Carey School of Business

Campus: Tempe, ASU at Los Angeles, Online

This program will begin accepting applications in fall 2026.

Program description

Students in the Master of Science program in artificial intelligence in business develop technical AI and professional skills needed for success in the constantly evolving landscape of technology and business. With an emphasis on mindful implementation, students learn to understand the implications and possibilities enabled by AI, in addition to the importance of governance and principled innovation. They gain the necessary foundation to excel in evolving fields, with a focus on mindful AI that sets them apart in the workforce. An optional third-semester custom track allows students to maximize the value of their degree by selecting additional courses from a variety of topics.

Anchored in the triad of mindful AI --- business domain knowledge, technical understanding and ethical awareness --- this program aims to cultivate a highly skilled workforce proficient in thoughtfully applying AI across various industries and sectors. The demand for AI professionals is expected to grow as more companies invest in AI technologies to improve their operations and customer experiences. Students can prepare to meet this demand with dedicated resources and career coaching from the W. P. Carey Career Services Center (<https://career.wpcarey.asu.edu/>).

The Department of Information Systems conducts inspirational and impactful research (<https://wpcarey.asu.edu/information-systems-degrees/faculty-research>) that helps push the frontiers of knowledge, and it incorporates state-of-the-art knowledge and advanced technology in teaching and seeks meaningful engagement with students, corporate stakeholders and society.

STEM-OPT for International Students on F-1 Visas

This program may be eligible for an Optional Practical Training extension for up to 36 months. This OPT work authorization term may help international students gain skills and experience in the U.S. Those interested in an OPT extension should review ASU degrees that qualify for the STEM-OPT extension (<https://issc.asu.edu/f-1j-1-students/employment/stem>) at ASU's International Students and Scholars Center website.

The OPT extension only applies to students on an F-1 visa and does not apply to students completing the degree through ASU Online.

STEM-OPT extension eligible: Yes

Concurrent program options

Students can choose to create their own concurrent degree combination to match their interests by working with their academic advisor during or after their first semester of study. Some concurrent combinations are not possible due to high levels of overlap in curriculum; students should speak with their academic advisor for more details.

This degree is also offered as a concurrent program with the following:

Global Management, MGM

Global Management (Global Business), MGM

Global Management (Global Digital Transformation), MGM

Degree requirements

30 credit hours including the required capstone course (CIS 576)

Required Core (6 credit hours)

CIS 565 Artificial Intelligence in Business (3)

CIS 568 AI Business Strategy (3)

Electives (21 credit hours)

Culminating Experience (3 credit hours)
CIS 576 Transforming Business with AI (3)

Admission requirements

General university admission requirements:

All students are required to meet general university admission requirements.

U.S. applicants (<https://admission.asu.edu/apply/graduate/admission>)

International applicants (<https://admission.asu.edu/apply/international/graduate>)

English proficiency (<https://admission.asu.edu/apply/international/graduate/english-proficiency>)

Applicants must fulfill the requirements of both the Graduate College and W. P. Carey.

Applicants are eligible to apply to the program if they have earned a bachelor's or master's degree in business or a related field from a regionally accredited institution.

Applicants must have a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.00 (scale is 4.00 = "A") in the last 60 hours of their first bachelor's degree program, or applicants must have a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.00 (scale is 4.00 = "A") in an applicable master's degree program.

Applicants are required to submit:

- graduate admission application and application fee
- official transcripts
- short answer questions
- one letter of recommendation
- professional resume
- written statement
- proof of English proficiency

Additional Admission Information

An applicant whose native language is not English must provide proof of English proficiency (<https://admission.asu.edu/international/graduate/english-proficiency>) regardless of their current residency.

The letter of recommendation should comment on the student's motivation, commitment, achievements, work experience and opportunity for success in the program.

Complete application instructions may be obtained from the department website (<https://wpcarey.asu.edu/information-systems-degrees>).

Tuition information

When it comes to paying for higher education, everyone's situation is different. Students can learn about ASU tuition and financial aid (<https://admission.asu.edu/cost-aid>) options to find out which will work best for them.

Attend online

ASU Online: ASU offers this program in an online format with multiple enrollment sessions throughout the year. Applicants may view the program's ASU Online page (<https://asuonline.asu.edu/online-degreeprograms/graduate/artificial-intelligence-business/>) for program descriptions and to request more information.

Career opportunities

Graduates of the master's degree program in artificial intelligence in business are equipped with the in-demand technical and business acumen needed to excel in the rapidly changing realms of technology and business. The AI market is experiencing rapid growth, valued at $136 billion as of March 2023 and projected to reach $15.7 trillion by 2030, growing at an annual rate of 37%. The job market mirrors this trend with nearly 45,000 open AI jobs in February 2023, and AI professionals rank among the fastest-growing job categories. Companies are embracing AI technologies, with 75% planning to adopt AI within the next five years and half of them expecting AI to drive job growth. Compensation in the AI field is lucrative; entry-level AI specialists earn an estimated $101,310 per year, and the average salary is $127,380.

Career examples include:

- AI consultant
- AI entrepreneur
- AI product or project manager

- AI specialist
- big data analyst
- business intelligence analyst
- chatbot developer
- data analyst
- machine learning engineer
- Python developer

Design and the Arts, Herberger Institute for

Narrative and Emerging Media, MA (CSNEMMA)

College/School: Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Comm
Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts

Campus: ASU at Los Angeles

Program description

In the Master of Arts program in narrative and emerging media, students learn how to tell stories that aren't just watched or read --- they're experienced. In under one year, students learn innovative storytelling techniques, explore the emerging media marketplace, connect with the field's top professionals and develop critical media project management skills.

Through hands-on learning, students explore the entire landscape of emerging immersive media techniques --- including augmented reality, virtual reality, extended reality, 360 video, animated graphics, short-form digital video and documentary production --- to tell creative fictional stories or create nonfiction journalistic work. Students capture and create content for workflow in multiple industries, and they learn to lead teams of producers, engineers, writers and artists across different technologies. They build business acumen and gain enhanced insight into the research, development, and finance and business models driving the future of emerging media, which are central to the program.

Delivered exclusively at the ASU California Center Broadway in downtown Los Angeles, the program immerses students in a state-of-the-art emerging media hub. The building includes a state-of-the-art virtual production stage --- and ASU is one of only a handful of U.S. universities to provide this incredible studio. In addition, the building has a green screen studio that allows for virtual-reality productions and live broadcasts, as well as markerless motion capture. Students learn and work in these spaces to create compelling visual storytelling for client productions and their own passion projects.

Students engage in courses that anchor content creation and project management with communication theory and current case studies, along the way building a cohesive portfolio of professional work aligned with industry standards. Students also network and receive critiques from industry professionals whose work may inspire their own. Students who complete the program are well-prepared to leap into creation, production and project management roles across the media industry or to pursue independent work.

This is a joint program offered by The Sidney Poitier New American Film School and the Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Communication.

Global Management, Thunderbird School of

Leadership and Management (Global Creative Industries), MLM (TBLDMGCMMLM)

College/School: Thunderbird School of Global Management

Campus: ASU at Los Angeles

ASU is not currently accepting applications for this program.

Program description

The Master of Leadership in Management with a concentration in global creative industries program delivers leadership and management fundamentals for success across sectors in the global creative industries, as well as a digital global mindset and a holistic approach to the global creative industries.

In this program, students gain the hard and soft skills needed to navigate and thrive in today's interconnected world (e.g., finance, accounting, marketing, data analytics, negotiation, cross-cultural communication and emerging digital technologies) and gain a deeper understanding of the creative process. Students attain a comprehensive set of practices that foster generative and sustainable innovation and implementation geared towards opportunity recognition within tomorrow's increasingly cross-border and trans-industry marketplace. The program prioritizes industry immersion in every class and focuses on the nexus of art and commerce, emphasizing creativity for managers and management for creatives.

About Thunderbird

Thunderbird School of Global Management has produced world-class leaders for more than 75 years. The ideal Thunderbird student is curious, globally minded, and eager to develop and advance their careers in leadership and management within the global and digital landscape. Upon completion of this degree, graduates will join a thriving global alumni network nearly 50,000 strong, managing some of the world's largest institutions, companies, nonprofits and NGOs.

Journalism and Mass Communication, Walter Cronkite School of

Digital Audience Strategy, MS (CSDASMS)

College/School: Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Comm

Campus: ASU at Los Angeles, Online

Admission to this program is limited to students who do not have an undergraduate degree or minor in digital audiences.

Program description

The Master of Science program in digital audience strategy prepares students to design and execute digital strategies through a data-driven, multidisciplinary, hands-on curriculum.

Students learn to measure and analyze how consumers interact with content online, on social media and on mobile devices. Using those measurement skills, students develop strategies and tactics to grow audiences through search engine optimization, search engine marketing, paid and organic social media campaigns, and digital content creation. They work with clients to develop, test and execute audience growth strategies in real time.

Through required coursework in media law and entrepreneurship, students learn to make sound business decisions regarding consumer privacy, digital data security and community engagement. Through elective courses, students develop additional expertise in areas such as management, audience data and intellectual property. Graduate students may also pursue an internship for elective credit.

Students graduate from the program ready to drive audience growth, lead digital marketing and further business development.

The MS in digital audience strategy is offered as an accelerated bachelor's plus master's degree with the Bachelor's of Arts in journalism and mass communication

(<https://degrees.apps.asu.edu/bachelors/major/ASU00/CSJMCBA/journalism-and-mass-communication>). Interested students should visit Cronkite's accelerated master's program (<https://cronkite.asu.edu/accelerated-masters-degrees/>) page to learn about eligibility requirements and review how to apply (<https://acceleratedmasters.asu.edu/how-apply>).

STEM-OPT for International Students on F-1 Visas

This program may be eligible for an Optional Practical Training extension for up to 36 months. This OPT work authorization term may help international students gain skills and experience in the U.S. Those interested in an OPT extension should review ASU degrees that qualify for the STEM-OPT extension (<https://issc.asu.edu/f-1j-1-students/employment/stem>) at ASU's International Students and Scholars Center website.

The OPT extension only applies to students on an F-1 visa and does not apply to students completing the degree through ASU Online.

STEM-OPT extension eligible: Yes

Accelerated program options

This program also allows students to obtain both a bachelor's and master's degree in as little as five years. It is offered as an accelerated bachelor's plus master's degree with:

Journalism and Mass Communication, BA

Acceptance to the graduate program requires a separate application. Students typically receive approval to pursue the accelerated master's during the junior year of their bachelor's degree program. Interested students can learn about eligibility requirements and how to apply (<https://acceleratedmasters.asu.edu/how-apply>).

These pathway programs include exclusive benefits, tools and resources, and they help students save time and money in their college journey.

Program learning outcomes

Program learning outcomes identify what a student will learn or be able to do upon completion of their program. This program has the following program outcomes:

- Apply technical, creative, and project management skills when undertaking the collaborative process of filmmaking.
- Produce a comprehensive, coherent literature review by synthesizing relevant professional and scholarly literature regarding the artistic value and cultural impact of film, television, and digital media making.
- Generate a media-based project following all of the stages required for successful completion.

Global opportunities

Global experience: The Sidney Poitier New American Film School's Semester in Los Angeles program is an opportunity for upper-division students to live and study in Los Angeles, California, for one semester. The program offers the opportunity for an internship with a film industry company, as well as networking events, screenings and site visits to Panavision, Universal Studios, the Academy Museum and more. This is a chance for students to take LA-exclusive, in-person courses at the ASU California Center locations while staying on their path to graduation.

Study abroad provides students a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to explore the globe while developing specific skills that can help them stand out in the competitive field of film.

With more than 300 Global Education programs (<https://goglobal.asu.edu>) available to them, students have an opportunity to explore their creative side through an intercultural lens and acquire a breadth of knowledge in arts and culture uniquely different from their own. The programs not only encourage students to build communication skills, but also challenge them, as artists, to think differently. Besides acquiring intercultural, communication and leadership skills, students have the chance to learn languages and expand their international network.

Whether in a foreign country, in the U.S. or online, Global Education programs challenge students to adapt and persevere, enabling them to look inside themselves in a way they haven't done before, growing their self-confidence along the way.

Career opportunities

Graduates with the concentration in filmmaking practices are prepared for careers in the film production and entertainment industry in areas such as public relations and marketing, management and law. Some graduates find entry-level positions in media and entertainment production, and others continue to advanced graduate-level education.

Program learning outcomes

Program learning outcomes identify what a student will learn or be able to do upon completion of their program. This program has the following program outcomes:

- Present a digital portfolio that represents and reflects the student's unique creative voice, advanced technical skills, successful production experience, and professional vision.
- Apply technical, creative, and project management skills when undertaking the collaborative process of filmmaking.
- Demonstrate understanding of cultural institutions through a synthesis of research, critical thinking, and communication skills from multiple disciplines, drawn from American cultural institutions and storytelling traditions, as applied to the making, viewing, and study of film/media

Global opportunities

Global experience: The Sidney Poitier New American Film School's Semester in Los Angeles program is an opportunity for upper-division students to live and study in Los Angeles, California, for one semester. The program includes an internship with a film industry company as well as networking events, screenings and site visits to Panavision, Universal Studios, the Academy Museum and more. This is a chance for students to take LA exclusive in-person courses at the ASU California Center locations while staying on their path to graduation.

Study abroad provides students a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to explore the globe while developing specific skills that can help them stand out in the competitive field of film.

With more than 300 Global Education programs (<https://goglobal.asu.edu>) available to them, students have an opportunity to explore their creative side through an intercultural lens and acquire a breadth of knowledge in arts and culture uniquely different from their own. The programs not only encourage students to build communication skills, but also challenge them, as artists, to think differently. Besides acquiring intercultural, communication and leadership skills, students have the chance to learn languages and expand their international network.

Whether in a foreign country, in the U.S. or online, Global Education programs challenge students to adapt and persevere, providing them with a chance to look inside themselves in a way they haven't done before, growing their self-confidence along the way.

Career opportunities

Graduates are equipped with the technical know-how and critical thinking skills to thrive in a quickly changing media industry and to pioneer new media careers that require advanced production skills and a strong creative voice.

Graduates are prepared to pursue a wide array of skilled professions, including:
cinematographer or director of photography

- editor
- film, television and documentary writer or director
- producer
- sound designer or sound recording engineer
- visual effects artist

Film and Media Production (Screenwriting), BFA (HIFMPSBFA)

College/School: Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts
Campus: Tempe, ASU at Los Angeles

Program description

A Bachelor of Fine Arts from The Sidney Poitier New American Film School empowers students with the critical thinking skills to navigate new, complex and changing environments in the film industry. Programs nurture the next generation of creatives, emphasizing the interconnectivity of filmmaking, the evolving landscape of the screen, and the journey of a story from idea to intended audience. With a foundation in ethical and collaborative practices and project-based learning using state-of-the-art technology, the school offers the most inclusive, affordable and innovative film programs in the country.

The BFA program in film and media production provides a deep dive into film production. It takes aspiring filmmakers beyond theory and teaches them how to communicate a vision and manage resources to take a story from page to screen.

Screenwriting concentration

This concentration program emphasizes the art of storytelling as the backbone of film and media, training students to craft narratives that connect across cultures and convey the complexity of the human experience. Reflecting the school's commitment to impactful storytelling, this pathway prepares students to create scripts that drive meaningful conversations and bring fresh perspectives to the screen.

GI Bill® benefits

This new program is not yet approved for use with GI Bill® benefits.

Federal Student Loan Debt

Calendar Year(s)	Most recent three year cohort default rate, as reported by the United States Department of Education.¹	The percentage of enrolled students in 2024/25 receiving federal student loans to pay for this program.	The percentage of graduates in 2024/25 who took out federal student loans to pay for this program.	The average amount of federal student loan debt of 2024/25 graduates who took out federal student loans at this institution.
2024	N/A	N/A	N/A	N/A
2025	N/A	N/A	N/A	N/A

¹The percentage of students who defaulted on their federal student loans is called the Cohort Default Rate (CDR). It shows the percentage of this school's students who were more than 270 days (9 months) behind on their federal student loans within three years of when the first payment was due. ASU received approval to participate in the federal student loan program for the California location beginning in fiscal year 2024. The cohort default rate is calculated over a three-year period. Given that participation only commenced in fiscal year 2024, a complete three-year measurement period will not be available until fiscal year 2026.

Federal Student Loan Debt

Calendar Year(s)	Most recent three year cohort default rate, as reported by the United States Department of Education. ¹	The percentage of enrolled students in 2024/25 receiving federal student loans to pay for this program.	The percentage of graduates in 2024/25 who took out federal student loans to pay for this program.	The average amount of federal student loan debt of 2024/25 graduates who took out federal student loans at this institution.

2025	N/A	N/A	N/A	N/A

¹The percentage of students who defaulted on their federal student loans is called the Cohort Default Rate (CDR). It shows the percentage of this school’s students who were more than 270 days (9 months) behind on their federal student loans within three years of when the first payment was due. ASU received approval to participate in the federal student loan program for the California location beginning in fiscal year 2024. The cohort default rate is calculated over a three-year period. Given that participation only commenced in fiscal year 2024, a complete three-year measurement period will not be available until fiscal year 2026.

Federal Student Loan Debt

Calendar Year(s)	Most recent three year cohort default rate, as reported by the United States Department of Education. ¹	The percentage of enrolled students in 2023/24 receiving federal student loans to pay for this program.	The percentage of graduates in 2023/24 who took out federal student loans to pay for this program.	The average amount of federal student loan debt of 2023/24 graduates who took out federal student loans at this institution.
2023	N/A	5%	--	$29,605
2024	N/A	35%	--	$30,697

¹The percentage of students who defaulted on their federal student loans is called the Cohort Default Rate (CDR). It shows the percentage of this school’s students who were more than 270 days (9 months) behind on their federal student loans within three years of when the first payment was due. ASU received approval to participate in the federal student loan program for the California location beginning in fiscal year 2024. The cohort default rate is calculated over a three-year period. Given that participation only commenced in fiscal year 2024, a complete three-year measurement period will not be available until fiscal year 2026.

Federal Student Loan Debt

Calendar Year(s)	Most recent three year cohort default rate, as reported by the United States Department of Education. ¹	The percentage of enrolled students in 2025/26 receiving federal student loans to pay for this program.	The percentage of graduates in 2025/26 who took out federal student loans to pay for this program.	The average amount of federal student loan debt of 2025/26 graduates who took out federal student loans at this institution.

2026	N/A	N/A	N/A	N/A

¹The percentage of students who defaulted on their federal student loans is called the Cohort Default Rate (CDR). It shows the percentage of this school’s students who were more than 270 days (9 months) behind on their federal student loans within three years of when the first payment was due. ASU received approval to participate in the federal student loan program for the California location beginning in fiscal year 2024. The cohort default rate is calculated over a three-year period. Given that participation only commenced in fiscal year 2024, a complete three-year measurement period will not be available until fiscal year 2026.

Federal Student Loan Debt

Calendar Year(s)	Most recent three year cohort default rate, as reported by the United States Department of Education.¹	The percentage of enrolled students in 2023/24 receiving federal student loans to pay for this program.	The percentage of graduates in 2023/24 who took out federal student loans to pay for this program.	The average amount of federal student loan debt of 2023/24 graduates who took out federal student loans at this institution.
2023	N/A	--	--	$29,605
2024	N/A	--	--	$30,697

¹The percentage of students who defaulted on their federal student loans is called the Cohort Default Rate (CDR). It shows the percentage of this school's students who were more than 270 days (9 months) behind on their federal student loans within three years of when the first payment was due. ASU received approval to participate in the federal student loan program for the California location beginning in fiscal year 2024. The cohort default rate is calculated over a three-year period. Given that participation only commenced in fiscal year 2024, a complete three-year measurement period will not be available until fiscal year 2026.

FMP	180	Principles of Production Technology	N	LEL	N	OPT	3
Introduces the basic terms, functions, theories and applications of film and media-making equipment and technology related to camera, sound and editing. First in a three-part sequence.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		The Sidney Poitier New American Film School
FMP	205	Introduction to Post-Production	N	LEL	N	Z1	2
Introduces post-production, its terminology, concepts and all phases of its process in storytelling projects and its importance in shaping and telling a story. Students learn the basic skills needed to understand how to best use editing and post-production tools to best tell their stories. Structured knowledge in post for basic learning skills to enable understanding, execution and essential procedures and toolsets in the post-production environment.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		The Sidney Poitier New American Film School		Prerequisite(s): ASU 101, FMP 101, or HDA 101 with C or better; FMP 180 with C or better OR Visiting University Student
FMP	210	Principles of Creative Producing	N	LEC	N	GNA	3
How does an idea, an article, a novel become a film? A creative producer is responsible for finding and shepherding a story from its origins to its audience. Students learn how an idea is developed and how a creative producer builds a strategy and team to lead a project from conception through pre-production, production, post-production, marketing and distribution.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		The Sidney Poitier New American Film School		Prerequisite(s): Sidney Poitier New American Film School major; FMP 180 with C or better OR Visiting University Student
FMP	245	Concepts of Cinematography	N	LEL	N	GNA	2
Introduces the terminology, concepts and practices of cinematography and visual storytelling. Builds foundational skills to understand the essential tools of cinematography including composition, camera settings and lighting for emotional impact.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		The Sidney Poitier New American Film School		Prerequisite(s): ASU 101, FMP 101, or HDA 101 with C or better; FMP 180 with C or better OR Visiting University Student

Subject	CatalogNbr	Course Title	Allow Mult Enroll	Component Primary	Crse Repeatable	Grading Basis	Units	General Studies
Course Description			College		Department		Requirements
FMP	261	Principles of Screenwriting	N	LEC	N	OPT	3
Explores fundamental skills of script writing for entertainment industry screen media, including: standard script writing software, formatting and technical standards; exercises in character creation and dramatic conflict; and analysis and understanding of common narrative structures of feature-length, series and short-form content.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		The Sidney Poitier New American Film School		Prerequisite(s): ENG 101, 105, or 107 with C or better; Pre- or corequisite(s): THF 160 OR Visiting University Student
FMP	280	Introduction to Film and Media Production	N	LEL	Y	GNA	3
Hands-on production course where students learn firsthand how to make films in a structured, informative environment that works through all phases of production, focusing on collaboration and application of basic mediamaking skills and technology. Second in a three-part sequence.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		The Sidney Poitier New American Film School		Prerequisite(s): FMP 180 or 194 (Principles of Production Technology) OR Visiting University Student
FMP	285	Portfolio Preparation and Review I	N	PRA	N	OPT	1
Introduces the basics of Digication e-Portfolio platform, including preparation and presentation of sophomore portfolio milestone for faculty review and admission to upper division.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		The Sidney Poitier New American Film School		Prerequisite(s): Sidney Poitier New American Film School major OR Visiting University Student
FMP	398	Capstone I: Development	N	SEM	N	GNA	3
First in a three-course sequence to allow students to complete a capstone film as part of their learning experience before graduation. Students conceive, plan and develop a proposal for producing a short film. This process of pre-production then continues as the production of a short film in later coursework.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		The Sidney Poitier New American Film School		Prerequisite(s): Sidney Poitier New American Film School major; FMP 300 with C or better; minimum junior standing
FMP	405	Film and Television: Pioneers, Practices and Innovations	Y	LEC	Y	OPT	3
Examines major historical figures, generic conventions and institutional practices in the global film, television and media industries.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		The Sidney Poitier New American Film School		Prerequisite(s): ENG 102, 105, or 108 with C or better OR Visiting University Student
FMP	411	Welcome to Hollywood	N	LEC	N	GNA	3
Students gain a sense of how the entertainment industry works by examining the product life cycle of filmed entertainment products including inception, development, casting, packaging, financing, production, marketing and distribution.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		The Sidney Poitier New American Film School		Prerequisite(s): minimum junior standing; Credit is allowed for only FMP 411 or FMP 494 (Welcome to Hollywood) OR Visiting University Student
FMP	460	Feature Writing Workshop I	N	LEL	N	GNA	3
Continues to explore the basic components of screenwriting as outlined in previous coursework, specifically focused on the differences between feature and short film screenwriting. Articulates in more detail techniques including story creation, dynamic theme, story structure, character development, conflict, pace, tone and dialogue employed to create longer-form projects.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		The Sidney Poitier New American Film School		Prerequisite(s): FMP 361 with C or better; Credit is allowed for only FMP 460 or FMP 461 or FMP 494 (Writing the Feature) or FMP 598 (Writing the Feature) OR Visiting University Student

Course Description			College		Department		Requirements
FMP	481	Capstone III: Post-Production	N	LEL	N	OPT	3
Completion of principal photography and all phases of editing/post-production on student-generated collaborative short film/media projects for senior portfolio, including final delivery and exhibition.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		The Sidney Poitier New American Film School		Prerequisite(s): Sidney Poitier New American Film School major; FMP 385 or 398 with C or better
FMP	484	Internship	Y	PRA	Y	Z1	1-12
Structured practical experience following a contract or plan, supervised by faculty and practitioners.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		The Sidney Poitier New American Film School		Prerequisite(s): minimum 45 hours
FMP	485	Portfolio Preparation and Review II	N	PRA	N	OPT	1
Helps students in the advanced development, design, preparation and presentation of senior portfolio milestone for faculty review, as well as mentors fellow students in early portfolio development.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		The Sidney Poitier New American Film School		Prerequisite(s): Sidney Poitier New American Film School major; senior standing OR Visiting University Student
FMP	494	Special Topics	Y	LEL	Y	OPT	1-4
Covers topics of immediate or special interest to a faculty member and students.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		The Sidney Poitier New American Film School		Prerequisite(s): Sidney Poitier New American Film School major or Film and Media Production minor OR Visiting University Student
FMP	598	Special Topics	Y	RSC	Y	OPT	1-4
Topical courses not offered in regular course rotation--e.g., new courses not in the catalog, courses by visiting faculty, courses on timely topics, highly specialized courses responding to unique student demand.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		The Sidney Poitier New American Film School		Prerequisite(s): Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts graduate student
FSH	101	The ASU FIDM Experience	N	LEC	N	GNA	1
Introduces the culture, resources and opportunities available at ASU FIDM. Students explore their academic and career goals, participate in meaningful discussions, engage in valuable programming and events and meet creative industry professionals as they broaden their network.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		ASU FIDM
FSH	122	Apparel Construction I	N	STO	N	GNA	3
Prepares students for a career in the apparel industry or for continued study in graduate school. Introduces core concepts of fashion materials and construction: cutting, sewing and finishing techniques for creating garment prototypes. Focuses on the fashion industry as well as apparel construction and production.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		ASU FIDM		Credit is allowed for only FSH 122 or FSH 152
FSH	125	Survey of the Fashion Industry	N	LEC	N	GNA	3	HUAD OR HU
Prepares the student to know how the fashion industry operates and what to expect when working in it. From manufacturing to retail, it is important for all members of the fashion industry to understand how the processes interrelate.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		ASU FIDM		Credit is allowed for only FSH 125 or HDA 125

Fall 2025 - California Course Catalog

Subject	CatalogNbr	Course Title	Allow Mult Enroll	Component Primary	Crse Repeatable	Grading Basis	Units	General Studies
Course Description			College		Department		Requirements
FSH	135	Foundations in Fashion Design Communications	N	STO	N	GNA	3
Immerses students in the language and practices of fashion design through drawing communications. Through in-class exercises, students learn to analyze, describe and critically think about editorial and design-related content. Provides an opportunity to consider and practice figure and clothing essentials such as creating line, shapes, shading, folds, forms, proportions, silhouettes, prints and color theories.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		ASU FIDM
FSH	175	Merchandising Essentials	N	LEC	N	GNA	3
Introduces merchandising concepts that support assortment planning, pricing strategy, open-to-buy management and inventory management as a fashion merchandiser. Teaches technical retail math concepts and explains their conceptual functions in industry context. Utilizes a mix of lecture to introduce key topics and computer-lab workshop to practice application of merchandising concepts.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		ASU FIDM
FSH	200	Textiles Science Lab	N	LAB	N	GNA	1	SCIT
Complements and supports the learning objectives and outcomes for the textiles survey lecture. Hands-on, interactive experience conducted in a lab setting. Includes identification of fibers, yarns and fabrics using various methods of observation, scientific testing and activities to reinforce the student's understanding of textile characteristics and performance properties, along with their end uses. Both FSH 200 and FSH 201 must be taken to secure General Studies Gold SCIT credit.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		ASU FIDM		Pre- or corequisite(s): FSH 201; Credit is allowed for only FSH 200 or FSH 294 (Textiles Lab) OR Visiting University Student
FSH	201	Textiles Science	N	LEC	N	GNA	3	SCIT
Investigates the organic and chemical foundations of fibers along with the manufacturing processes that form the backbone of the textile and apparel industry. From the natural world or lab processes through to the mechanical and chemical finishing, investigates, evaluates, manipulates and determines the viability, potential and environmental impact of all elements in textile production. Engages students in the scientific process by participating in lab experiments with binary (pass or fail) or nonbinary (qualitative) possibilities, acquiring the skills necessary to question, form hypotheses, initiate and perform testing, evaluate results and ultimately determine the viability of materials selected for specific products. Employs fundamental skills in chemistry, math and physics with repeatable methodologies in order to evaluate results in product development. Uses the scientific method as a unifying theme, manifested in all lectures and labs. Also considers the ever-changing global landscape of textiles, the limited availability of natural resources and their ultimate disposal. Considers consumer's demand for carbon-neutral choices. Both FSH 200 and FSH 201 must be taken to secure General Studies Gold SCIT credit.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		ASU FIDM		Pre- or corequisite(s): FSH 200 OR Visiting University Student

Subject	CatalogNbr	Course Title	Allow Mult Enroll	Component Primary	Crse Repeatable	Grading Basis	Units	General Studies
Course Description			College		Department		Requirements
FSH	203	Fashion Illustration I	N	STO	N	GNA	3
In this studio setting, students practice drawing the fashion figure from a live model, both in leotard and in clothing, facilitating understanding of drape, shape, shadow, silhouette and how it relates to fashion design. Demonstrates and practices fundamental skills of visual communication and problem solving, including fabric rendering and proportion and how it relates to the fashion designer's sketch. Brief lectures, demos and critiques are an integral component of each class. Materials used in class include, yet are not limited to, charcoal and gouache.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): ART 110, ART 111, or FSH 135 with C or better OR Visiting University Student
FSH	204	Social Aspects of Fashion	N	LEC	N	GNA	3	SOBE OR L or HU or SB
Introduces ways of examining clothing and fashion in context. How do we read images and representations of clothing and how do they manipulate the meaning of the garment and its wearer? In what ways is this visual language used to select and produce fashion? What influences how we dress on a daily basis and over time? These are just some of the questions about appearance, clothing and culture that are used to embark on a participatory research project and as a point of departure for class discussions and related readings.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): ENG 101, 102, 105, 107, or 108 with C or better OR Visiting University Student
FSH	206	Flat Patternmaking I	N	STO	N	GNA	3
Provides a foundation for the design process through drafting, flat pattern, construction and draping the professional way. In this hands-on setting, students apply principles of art to clothing design. Develops an understanding of the design concept based on the relationship of the two-dimensional pattern shape to the three-dimensional body.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): FSH 122 (FSH 202) with C or better OR Visiting University Student
FSH	208	Creative Digital Literacy for the Fashion Industry	N	LEC	N	GNA	3
Studio course that introduces the fundamental technology used for fashion design, technical design and business uses within the fashion industry. Explores the concepts, procedures and digital tools used for creating technical packages, manipulating images and crafting compelling visual presentations.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		ASU FIDM
FSH	222	Apparel Construction II	N	STO	N	GNA	3
Provides quality preparation for a profession in the apparel industry. In this hands-on setting, students continue to work on the core concepts of sewing, construction and finishing techniques for fashion garment as demonstrated in class.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): FSH 122 (FSH 202) with C or better; Credit is allowed for only FSH 222 or FSH 394 (Fashion Construction II) OR Visiting University Student

Course Description			College		Department		Requirements
FSH	224	Accessories Design	N	STO	N	GNA	3
Introduces the principles of developing a brand of fashion accessories. Provides the opportunity to develop student's own designs for a range of handbags, belts, shoes, scarves and hats. Through practical and experimental exercises, covers how to research accessory styles and trends to develop ideas and concepts. Students gain an understanding of what it takes to design their own brand and look into the world of accessory manufacturing by hearing from designers working in the industry.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): FSH 122 (FSH 202) with C or better; FSH 206 with C or better; Credit is allowed for only FSH 224 or FSH 394 (Intro to Accessory Design) OR Visiting University Student
FSH	275	Merchandising Applications	N	LEC	N	GNA	3
Explores and practices the application of merchandising concepts in real-world settings. Exposes challenges facing the ever-changing fashion industry and specific challenges faced in fashion merchandising. Further develops students' creativity, critical thinking and retail math skills to address merchandising challenges. As a foundation to applying merchandising concepts, students study business models that are vertically integrated including mono-brand, multi-brand and fashion resell models. Further examines channels of client engagement and distribution (e.g., omni-channel, e-commerce or private showroom). Interactive course engages students through vivid experiences, interaction with experienced professionals and application of retail math concepts that bring merchandising to life.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): FSH 175 with C or better OR Visiting University Student
FSH	300	Global Fashion Industry	N	LEC	N	GNA	3	GCSI OR G
Considers the textile and apparel industries in a global context. Examines issues from several viewpoints providing the facts and data needed to consider the ramifications of events with unbiased perspectives.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): FSH 175 or 280; FSH 208 OR Supply Chain Management BS major OR Visiting University Student
FSH	303	Fashion Illustration II	N	STO	N	GNA	3
Studies fashion illustration as a means of communicating, documenting and promoting fashion. Focuses on refining the fashion figure, rendering fabrics and apparel and exploring a variety of illustration media and techniques. Also explores the evolution of fashion illustration and illustrators. Emphasizes page design and layout for advertising and promotion. Builds upon previously learned skills and acquired concepts, expanding students' abilities to illustrate fashion figures and render garments and fabrics and create two-dimensional collections. Enables students to clearly communicate design ideas and effectively present their designs to critics in junior- and senior-level design courses.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): FSH 203 with C or better; Credit is allowed for only FSH 303 or FSH 394 (Fashion Illustration II) OR Visiting University Student

FSH	306	Flat Patternmaking II	N	STO	N	GNA	3
Reviews the principles of flat pattern making and the use of a library of block patterns and pattern manipulations. Develops advanced pattern-making skills. Introduces the torso, jacket and pant blocks. Students develop a strong understanding of flat pattern principles by applying these techniques to create designs for apparel. Students focus on conceptual design through sketching. then apply that two-dimensional idea into patterns to continue the design process through to a garment. Students work in full scale and half scale and learn techniques to move easily between the two.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): FSH 206 with C or better; FSH 222 or FSH 394 (Fashion Construction II) with C or better; Credit is allowed for only FSH 306 or FSH 394 (Fashion Design II) OR Visiting University Student
FSH	323	Draping for Fashion Design	N	STO	N	GNA	3
Students experiment with different methods of draping and quickly visualize their ideas by working with muslin on a dress form. Using the principals of draping, students learn how various fabrics can be manipulated to produce original designs and develop patterns, working in a sketchbook as well as with muslin on the dress form to present designs.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): FSH 206 with C or better; Credit is allowed for only FSH 323 or FSH 394 (Draping for Fashion Design I) OR Visiting University Student
FSH	326	Fashion Styling	N	LEC	N	GNA	3
Focuses on the teachings of different sectors of the fashion industry in the styling division. Oversees aspects of what it means to be a fashion stylist/wardrobe stylist in the fashion industry with a comprehensive detailed outline of the responsibilities in the field.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): minimum 30 hours; Credit is allowed for only FSH 326 or FSH 394 (Fashion Styling) OR Visiting University Student
FSH	340	Fashion Entrepreneurship	N	LEC	N	GNA	3
Explores what it means to be a fashion entrepreneur. Explores creativity in entrepreneurship, leading into the details of fashion entrepreneurship. Addresses launching a business and what happens after a business is launched. Explores both creative and technical aspects of fashion businesses including the idea, process and feasibility. Examines the competitive landscape and the unique propositions that allow fashion entrepreneurs to thrive in the marketplace, both theoretically and through existing market examples.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): minimum 45 hours; Credit is allowed for only FSH 340 or FSH 394 (Fashion Entrepreneurship) OR Visiting University Student
FSH	375	Fashion Branding Strategies	N	LEC	N	GNA	3
What is branding? What makes a fashion brand unique? In the trend-oriented fashion world, branding is what encourages consumers to pick one brand over another. For instance, to spend $100 for a plain white t-shirt from their favorite designer with just one small logo, over the plain white t-shirt from a high-street brand. Branding also enables sneakers to transcend function and wearability to cultural icon status. Fashion branding transforms a company from a business selling product into a trusted friend. How is a brand created? It is a sum of the creative direction bridging product, packaging and consumer interactions that create a holistic identity. Students gain exposure into the evolution of fashion branding, including iconic brand strategies and market disrupters. Covers how to interweave marketing messages and brand communication strategies to utilize storytelling as a central tool in creating a strong brand identity.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): minimum 45 hours; Credit is allowed for only FSH 375 or FSH 394 (Branding for Future Fashion Professionals) OR Visiting University Student

FSH	396	Professional Practices for Fashion	N	LEC	Y	GNA	1
Guest speaker series engages students with fashion industry professionals from across the field who have agreed to participate and discuss their career development paths, their jobs and personal information and provide general advice about working in the fashion industry. Provides students with a better understanding of careers in fashion and pathways to finding them.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): minimum 45 hours; Credit is allowed for only FSH 394 (Professional Practices for Fashion) or FSH 396 OR Visiting University Student
FSH	397	Fashion Capstone Development	N	LEC	Y	GNA	1
Guides students in the development of a detailed capstone project proposal. Capstone projects are completed with faculty/staff guidance in subsequent fashion capstone course. Students arrive at a project to be completed in one or two semesters that represents the culmination of their education.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): minimum 60 hours
FSH	435	Contemporary Fashion	N	LEC	N	GNA	3	HUAD OR L or HU
Identifies and analyzes contemporary fashion designers and brands in relation to fashion research and inspiration for design and branding. Provides a comprehensive understanding to their approach to silhouettes, construction innovation, textiles, garment details and accessories.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): ENG 101, 105, or 107 with C or better; FSH 204 with C or better; minimum 45 hours OR Visiting University Student
FSH	475	Communication Strategies for Fashion	N	LEC	N	GNA	3
Provides an understanding of professional public relations (PR) practices for the fashion industry where consumer perception is integral. In their work with fashion designers, retailers and manufacturers, PR practitioners are involved in almost every aspect of fashion, from forecasting trends and working on designer collections, to launching new lines and helping clients grow their brand. Fundamental skills involve public relations writing and marketing strategy. Students research and write various PR documents including pitches, press releases, fact sheets, backgrounders, bios and blogs focusing on fashion-related topics. Students focus on web-based PR strategies, including social media campaigns and online pressrooms. The course is run as a fashion public relations agency, and students choose a real or fictitious fashion brand (a new client) which they use as the target organization for all assignments. Requires students to complete a full brand strategy and develop both a traditional and digital communications plan for the organization. They need to produce and create all the components of a press kit, as well as a series of public relations writing assignments that include everything from press releases to media pitches. They work on social media calendars and create a social media influencer campaign for the brand. For the final presentation, students learn how to plan and promote a fashion event from start to finish.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): minimum 45 hours; Credit is allowed for only FSH 394 (PR for Fashion) or FSH 475 OR Visiting University Student

NEM	501	Emerging Media	N	SEM	N	Z1	3
Driven by contemporary case studies, this seminar course overviews the current emerging media markets by exploring latest developments in short-form video, AR/VR, extended reality, documentaries, live digital immersive theatre, virtual production and more. Reviews the history of these emerging media markets and considers the influences of various genres--gaming, theatre, film, TV and art--that inform content created in these new formats. Also looks ahead to the future of emerging media, examining development best practices, funding models including crowdsourcing and grant-funding, audience development as well as client-based commissioned productions that may be critical to their own practice.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		The Sidney Poitier New American Film School		Prerequisite(s): Narrative and Emerging Media MA student

Course Description			College		Department		Requirements
NEM	510	Narrative Development and Pre-Production	N	LEL	N	Z1	3
Why are some stories more engaging than others? What are the narrative tools that pull in audiences--to touch, teach and inspire? What are the kinds of stories that move you? Students learn the foundations of good storytelling and pre-production, particularly for short form and emerging media. Assesses the potential interest and impact of different storylines; conducts background research and interviews; develops compelling story arcs and characters; writes voiceover and narrative scripts; explores multiple emerging storytelling modes, including animation and immersive; and applies best practices for pitching and accepting/implementing critique. While primarily focused on nonfiction storytelling, also considers fiction.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		The Sidney Poitier New American Film School		Prerequisite(s): Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Communication graduate student or Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts graduate student
NEM	515	Emerging Media Production	N	LEL	N	Z1	3
Immersive storytelling breaks through the fourth wall, bringing audiences into the heart of the story. Viewers are no longer bystanders peering through a screen or a window. Explores the XR techniques artists, filmmakers and producers can use to ensure their audiences are immersed in the narrative. Deepens familiarity with the techniques required to produce emerging media, including exploration of game engine and other technologies for AR/VR/XR and successful short form video techniques. Explorations also include in-class experiments, readings, discussions and viewings. Students become familiar with theoretical understanding of spatial and embodied experience, in contrast to two-dimensional approaches and the development of how that might inform a personal approach for advanced artistic and professional production practices.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		The Sidney Poitier New American Film School
NEM	530	Emerging Media Project Management	N	LEL	N	Z1	3
Students master advanced skills in emerging media project management, including conceptualization and production workflows for AR/VR/XR, 360 and short-form film and the agile process. Focuses on essential project management techniques from pre-production, a topline budget, production tracking and delivery onto current potential distribution platforms as well as roll out/transmission on those platforms. Students become familiar with project timeline creation, tools for milestone tracking, licensing, audience insight/testing and the key emerging distribution channels such as new social media platforms and social virtual reality spaces. At the end of the course, students complete a fully formed pitch-deck, including concept, project overview narrative summary, budget, schedule, distribution goals and how to assemble a team.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		The Sidney Poitier New American Film School		Prerequisite(s): Narrative and Emerging Media MA student
NEM	584	Internship	Y	PRA	Y	Z1	1-12
Structured practical experience following a contract or plan, supervised by faculty and practitioners.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		The Sidney Poitier New American Film School		Prerequisite(s): degree- or nondegree-seeking graduate student

Course Description			College		Department		Requirements
NEM	585	Portfolio	Y	SEM	Y	OPT	1
Centers the relationship of artists and journalists to their own work by documenting process and progress through professional asset development and display. Students learn how to craft portfolios representing conceptual and developmental processes, critical thinking, creative ideation and evaluation with strong technical, production and communication skills. During this course, students have access to visiting professionals, specialized professional development opportunities and industry networking, and they build material for both assessment and evaluation of their progress as well as culminating materials for immediate transfer into professional portfolio platforms.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		The Sidney Poitier New American Film School		Prerequisite(s): Narrative and Emerging Media MA student
NEM	593	Applied Project	Y	LEC	Y	Z1	1-12
Preparation of a supervised applied project that is a graduation requirement in some professional majors.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		The Sidney Poitier New American Film School		Prerequisite(s): degree- or nondegree-seeking graduate student
THF	160	Introduction to Storytelling	N	LEC	Y	OPT	3	HUAD OR HU
Introduces the nature, structure, and operations of story, as well as the functions of narrative in societies and cultures. Several modules introduce a different mode of storytelling. Students learn to create their own stories utilizing several of the approaches introduced in the modules.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		School of Music, Dance and Theatre
THF	497	Senior Project	Y	PRA	Y	GNA	1-6
Mentored practicum for culminating capstone projects.			Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts		School of Music, Dance and Theatre		Prerequisite(s): Film BA, Film and Media Production BFA, Performance and Movement BA, or Theatre BA major; FMP 385, FMP 398, or THF 397 with C or better; minimum 56 hours

Spring 2026 - California Course Catalog

Subject	CatalogNbr	Course Title	Allow Mult Enroll	Component Primary	Crse Repeatable	Grading Basis	Units	General Studies
Course Description			College		Department		Requirements
Hands-on production course where students learn firsthand how to make films in a structured, informative environment that works through all phases of production, focusing on collaboration and application of basic mediamaking skills and technology. Second in a three-part sequence.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		The Sidney Poitier New Americ		Prerequisite(s): FMP 180 or 194 (Principles of Production Technology) OR Visiting University Student
FMP	285	Development of a Filmmaker's Practice	N	PRA	N	OPT	1
The first of a three-course sequence, provides an orientation to the larger field of film and media professions through professional development presentations from professors and experts in the field, each introducing a different aspect or mode of filmmaking. Engages students in interactive discussions while building the foundations of their creative careers, ultimately choosing two "focus areas" for upper-division study.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		The Sidney Poitier New Americ		Prerequisite(s): Sidney Poitier New American Film School major OR Visiting University Student
FMP	288	Understanding Ethics in Filmmaking	N	LEC	N	GNA	3
Leads students through a process of exploration and analysis of how our knowledge of and practice of ethics within the production of film and media has changed since the advent of the moving picture. From this foundation, students can begin to effectively recognize, analyze and address ethical issues in their practice as filmmakers.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		The Sidney Poitier New Americ		Prerequisite(s): Sidney Poitier New American Film School major or minor; FMP 280 with C or better OR Visiting University Student
FMP	300	Short Film Production	Y	LEL	Y	OPT	3
Specialized study of conventional film techniques; emphasizes the creative process through project-based, hands-on learning. Group and individual exercises cover all phases of short film production from creative inspiration to online distribution. Third in a three-part sequence.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		The Sidney Poitier New Americ		Prerequisite(s): Film (Film and Media Production) BA, Film (Filmmaking Practices) BA, or Film and Media Production BFA major; FMP 280 with C or better OR Visiting University Student
FMP	361	Writing the Short Film	N	LEC	N	GNA	3
An advanced exploration of screenwriting where students focus on story creation, structure, themes, character development, conflict, pace, tone and dialogue in a mentored and peer-sharing environment, culminating in the creation of two short film screenplays designed to develop the student's unique screenwriting voice.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		The Sidney Poitier New Americ		Prerequisite(s): FMP 261 with C or better OR Visiting University Student
FMP	405	Film and Television: Pioneers, Practices and Innovations	Y	LEC	Y	OPT	3
Examines major historical figures, generic conventions and institutional practices in the global film, television and media industries.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		The Sidney Poitier New Americ		Prerequisite(s): ENG 102, 105, or 108 with C or better OR Visiting University Student
FMP	411	Welcome to Hollywood	N	LEC	N	GNA	3
Students gain a sense of how the entertainment industry works by examining the product life cycle of filmed entertainment products including inception, development, casting, packaging, financing, production, marketing and distribution.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		The Sidney Poitier New Americ		Prerequisite(s): minimum junior standing; Credit is allowed for only FMP 411 or FMP 494 (Welcome to Hollywood) OR Visiting University Student

Course Description			College		Department		Requirements
Provides advanced screenwriting students with the knowledge and guidance to create screenplays for television, film and new media in support of senior projects and professional portfolios. Continues to develop techniques and tools in all aspects of screenplay writing, working from completed outlines, theme and character development until the completion of a feature-length screenplay at the end of the semester.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		The Sidney Poitier New Americ		Prerequisite(s): FMP 460 (FMP 461) with C or better; Credit is allowed for only FMP 462 or FMP 494 (Writing the Feature) or FMP 598 (Writing the Feature) OR Visiting University Student
FMP	481	Capstone III: Post-Production	N	LEL	N	OPT	3
Completion of principal photography and all phases of editing/post-production on student-generated collaborative short film/media projects for senior portfolio, including final delivery and exhibition.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		The Sidney Poitier New Americ		Prerequisite(s): Sidney Poitier New American Film School major; FMP 385 or 398 with C or better
FMP	484	Internship	Y	PRA	Y	Z1	1-12
Structured practical experience following a contract or plan, supervised by faculty and practitioners.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		The Sidney Poitier New Americ		Prerequisite(s): minimum 45 hours
FMP	485	Development of a Filmmaker's Career	N	PRA	N	OPT	1
Third in a three-course sequence for Sidney Poitier New American Film School majors who are preparing to graduate and transition from coursework into their respective filmmaking specializations. Concludes with a senior portfolio presentation as a culmination of the work done throughout their degree.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		The Sidney Poitier New Americ		Prerequisite(s): Sidney Poitier New American Film School major; FMP 385 with C or better; senior standing OR Visiting University Student
FMP	494	Special Topics	Y	LEL	Y	OPT	1-4
Covers topics of immediate or special interest to a faculty member and students.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		The Sidney Poitier New Americ		Prerequisite(s): Sidney Poitier New American Film School major or Film and Media Production minor OR Visiting University Student
FSH	122	Apparel Construction I	N	STO	N	GNA	3
Prepares students for a career in the apparel industry or for continued study in graduate school. Introduces core concepts of fashion materials and construction: cutting, sewing and finishing techniques for creating garment prototypes. Focuses on the fashion industry as well as apparel construction and production.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		ASU FIDM		Credit is allowed for only FSH 122 or FSH 152
FSH	125	Survey of the Fashion Industry	N	LEC	N	GNA	3	HUAD OR HU
Prepares the student to know how the fashion industry operates and what to expect when working in it. From manufacturing to retail, it is important for all members of the fashion industry to understand how the processes interrelate.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		ASU FIDM		Credit is allowed for only FSH 125 or HDA 125
FSH	175	Merchandising Essentials	N	LEC	N	GNA	3
Introduces merchandising concepts that support assortment planning, pricing strategy, open-to-buy management and inventory management as a fashion merchandiser. Teaches technical retail math concepts and explains their conceptual functions in industry context. Utilizes a mix of lecture to introduce key topics and computer-lab workshop to practice application of merchandising concepts.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		ASU FIDM

Course Description			College		Department		Requirements
FSH	200	Textiles Science Lab	N	LAB	N	GNA	1	SCIT
Complements and supports the learning objectives and outcomes for the textiles survey lecture. Hands-on, interactive experience conducted in a lab setting. Includes identification of fibers, yarns and fabrics using various methods of observation, scientific testing and activities to reinforce the student's understanding of textile characteristics and performance properties, along with their end uses. Both FSH 200 and FSH 201 must be taken to secure General Studies Gold SCIT credit.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		ASU FIDM		Pre- or corequisite(s): FSH 201; Credit is allowed for only FSH 200 or FSH 294 (Textiles Lab) OR Visiting University Student
FSH	201	Textiles Science	N	LEC	N	GNA	3	SCIT
Investigates the organic and chemical foundations of fibers along with the manufacturing processes that form the backbone of the textile and apparel industry. From the natural world or lab processes through to the mechanical and chemical finishing, investigates, evaluates, manipulates and determines the viability, potential and environmental impact of all elements in textile production. Engages students in the scientific process by participating in lab experiments with binary (pass or fail) or nonbinary (qualitative) possibilities, acquiring the skills necessary to question, form hypotheses, initiate and perform testing, evaluate results and ultimately determine the viability of materials selected for specific products. Employs fundamental skills in chemistry, math and physics with repeatable methodologies in order to evaluate results in product development. Uses the scientific method as a unifying theme, manifested in all lectures and labs. Also considers the ever-changing global landscape of textiles, the limited availability of natural resources and their ultimate disposal. Considers consumer's demand for carbon-neutral choices. Both FSH 200 and FSH 201 must be taken to secure General Studies Gold SCIT credit.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		ASU FIDM		Pre- or corequisite(s): FSH 200 OR Visiting University Student
FSH	203	Fashion Illustration I	N	STO	N	GNA	3
In this studio setting, students practice drawing the fashion figure from a live model, both in leotard and in clothing, facilitating understanding of drape, shape, shadow, silhouette and how it relates to fashion design. Demonstrates and practices fundamental skills of visual communication and problem solving, including fabric rendering and proportion and how it relates to the fashion designer's sketch. Brief lectures, demos and critiques are an integral component of each class. Materials used in class include, yet are not limited to, charcoal and gouache.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): ART 110, ART 111, or FSH 135 with C or better OR Visiting University Student

FSH	206	Flat Patternmaking I	N	STO	N	GNA	3
Provides a foundation for the design process through drafting, flat pattern, construction and draping the professional way. In this hands-on setting, students apply principles of art to clothing design. Develops an understanding of the design concept based on the relationship of the two-dimensional pattern shape to the three-dimensional body.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): FSH 122 (FSH 202) with C or better OR Visiting University Student
FSH	208	Creative Digital Literacy for the Fashion Industry	N	LEC	N	GNA	3
Studio course that introduces the fundamental technology used for fashion design, technical design and business uses within the fashion industry. Explores the concepts, procedures and digital tools used for creating technical packages, manipulating images and crafting compelling visual presentations.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		ASU FIDM
FSH	209	Quantitative Digital Literacy for the Fashion Industry	N	LEC	N	GNA	3	QTRS
Introduces the fundamental concepts, procedures and techniques used for quantifying and analyzing data and documents in business and data management software for fashion industry applications. Explores the concepts, procedures and digital tools used for data management, merchandising and strategic planning.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): MAT 114 (MAT 142) with C or better OR Visiting University Student
FSH	222	Apparel Construction II	N	STO	N	GNA	3
Provides quality preparation for a profession in the apparel industry. In this hands-on setting, students continue to work on the core concepts of sewing, construction and finishing techniques for fashion garment as demonstrated in class.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): FSH 122 (FSH 202) with C or better; Credit is allowed for only FSH 222 or FSH 394 (Fashion Construction II) OR Visiting University Student
FSH	224	Accessories Design	N	STO	N	GNA	3
Introduces the principles of developing a brand of fashion accessories. Provides the opportunity to develop student's own designs for a range of handbags, belts, shoes, scarves and hats. Through practical and experimental exercises, covers how to research accessory styles and trends to develop ideas and concepts. Students gain an understanding of what it takes to design their own brand and look into the world of accessory manufacturing by hearing from designers working in the industry.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): FSH 122 (FSH 202) with C or better; FSH 206 with C or better; Credit is allowed for only FSH 224 or FSH 394 (Intro to Accessory Design) OR Visiting University Student

Spring 2026 - California Course Catalog

Subject	CatalogNbr	Course Title	Allow Mult Enroll	Component Primary	Crse Repeatable	Grading Basis	Units	General Studies
Course Description			College		Department		Requirements
Explores and practices the application of merchandising concepts in real-world settings. Exposes challenges facing the ever-changing fashion industry and specific challenges faced in fashion merchandising. Further develops students' creativity, critical thinking and retail math skills to address merchandising challenges. As a foundation to applying merchandising concepts, students study business models that are vertically integrated including mono-brand, multi-brand and fashion resell models. Further examines channels of client engagement and distribution (e.g., omni-channel, e-commerce or private showroom). Interactive course engages students through vivid experiences, interaction with experienced professionals and application of retail math concepts that bring merchandising to life.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): FSH 175 with C or better OR Visiting University Student

Course Description			College		Department		Requirements
FSH	300	Global Fashion Industry	N	LEC	N	GNA	3	GCSI OR G
Considers the textile and apparel industries in a global context. Examines issues from several viewpoints providing the facts and data needed to consider the ramifications of events with unbiased perspectives.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): FSH 175 or 280; FSH 208 OR Supply Chain Management BS major OR Visiting University Student
FSH	303	Fashion Illustration II	N	STO	N	GNA	3
Studies fashion illustration as a means of communicating, documenting and promoting fashion. Focuses on refining the fashion figure, rendering fabrics and apparel and exploring a variety of illustration media and techniques. Also explores the evolution of fashion illustration and illustrators. Emphasizes page design and layout for advertising and promotion. Builds upon previously learned skills and acquired concepts, expanding students' abilities to illustrate fashion figures and render garments and fabrics and create two-dimensional collections. Enables students to clearly communicate design ideas and effectively present their designs to critics in junior- and senior-level design courses.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): FSH 203 with C or better; Credit is allowed for only FSH 303 or FSH 394 (Fashion Illustration II) OR Visiting University Student
FSH	306	Flat Patternmaking II	N	STO	N	GNA	3
Reviews the principles of flat pattern making and the use of a library of block patterns and pattern manipulations. Develops advanced pattern-making skills. Introduces the torso, jacket and pant blocks. Students develop a strong understanding of flat pattern principles by applying these techniques to create designs for apparel. Students focus on conceptual design through sketching, then apply that two-dimensional idea into patterns to continue the design process through to a garment. Students work in full scale and half scale and learn techniques to move easily between the two.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): FSH 206 with C or better; FSH 222 or FSH 394 (Fashion Construction II) with C or better; Credit is allowed for only FSH 306 or FSH 394 (Fashion Design II) OR Visiting University Student
FSH	322	Apparel Construction III	N	STO	N	GNA	3
Continues and advances students' preparation for a profession in the apparel industry or for continued study in graduate school. In this hands-on setting, students work on concepts of patternmaking, draping, construction and finishing techniques for assigned projects, emphasizing knits: contemporary sportswear, athleisure wear, weekend wear, lingerie.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): FSH 222 or FSH 394 (Fashion Construction II) with C or better; Credit is allowed for only FSH 322 or FSH 494 (Fashion Construction III) OR Visiting University Student
FSH	326	Fashion Styling	N	LEC	N	GNA	3
Focuses on the teachings of different sectors of the fashion industry in the styling division. Oversees aspects of what it means to be a fashion stylist/wardrobe stylist in the fashion industry with a comprehensive detailed outline of the responsibilities in the field.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): minimum 30 hours; Credit is allowed for only FSH 326 or FSH 394 (Fashion Styling) OR Visiting University Student

FSH	375	Fashion Branding Strategies	N	LEC	N	GNA	3
What is branding? What makes a fashion brand unique? In the trend-oriented fashion world, branding is what encourages consumers to pick one brand over another. For instance, to spend $100 for a plain white t-shirt from their favorite designer with just one small logo, over the plain white t-shirt from a high-street brand. Branding also enables sneakers to transcend function and wearability to cultural icon status. Fashion branding transforms a company from a business selling product into a trusted friend. How is a brand created? It is a sum of the creative direction bridging product, packaging and consumer interactions that create a holistic identity. Students gain exposure into the evolution of fashion branding, including iconic brand strategies and market disrupters. Covers how to interweave marketing messages and brand communication strategies to utilize storytelling as a central tool in creating a strong brand identity.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): minimum 45 hours; Credit is allowed for only FSH 375 or FSH 394 (Branding for Future Fashion Professionals) OR Visiting University Student
FSH	394	Special Topics	Y	LEC	Y	OPT	1-4
Covers topics of immediate or special interest to a faculty member and students.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): minimum 45 hours OR Visiting University Student
FSH	396	Professional Practices for Fashion	N	LEC	Y	GNA	1
Guest speaker series engages students with fashion industry professionals from across the field who have agreed to participate and discuss their career development paths, their jobs and personal information and provide general advice about working in the fashion industry. Provides students with a better understanding of careers in fashion and pathways to finding them.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): minimum 45 hours; Credit is allowed for only FSH 394 (Professional Practices for Fashion) or FSH 396 OR Visiting University Student
FSH	397	Fashion Capstone Development	N	LEC	Y	GNA	1
Guides students in the development of a detailed capstone project proposal. Capstone projects are completed with faculty/staff guidance in subsequent fashion capstone course. Students arrive at a project to be completed in one or two semesters that represents the culmination of their education.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): minimum 60 hours
FSH	435	Contemporary Fashion	N	LEC	N	GNA	3	HUAD OR L or HU
Identifies and analyzes contemporary fashion designers and brands in relation to fashion research and inspiration for design and branding. Provides a comprehensive understanding to their approach to silhouettes, construction innovation, textiles, garment details and accessories.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): ENG 101, 105, or 107 with C or better; FSH 204 with C or better; minimum 45 hours OR Visiting University Student

FSH	475	Communication Strategies for Fashion	N	LEC	N	GNA	3
Provides an understanding of professional public relations (PR) practices for the fashion industry where consumer perception is integral. In their work with fashion designers, retailers and manufacturers, PR practitioners are involved in almost every aspect of fashion, from forecasting trends and working on designer collections, to launching new lines and helping clients grow their brand. Fundamental skills involve public relations writing and marketing strategy. Students research and write various PR documents including pitches, press releases, fact sheets, backgrounders, bios and blogs focusing on fashion-related topics. Students focus on web-based PR strategies, including social media campaigns and online pressrooms. The course is run as a fashion public relations agency, and students choose a real or fictitious fashion brand (a new client) which they use as the target organization for all assignments. Requires students to complete a full brand strategy and develop both a traditional and digital communications plan for the organization. They need to produce and create all the components of a press kit, as well as a series of public relations writing assignments that include everything from press releases to media pitches. They work on social media calendars and create a social media influencer campaign for the brand. For the final presentation, students learn how to plan and promote a fashion event from start to finish.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): minimum 45 hours; Credit is allowed for only FSH 394 (PR for Fashion) or FSH 475 OR Visiting University Student
FSH	477	Fashion Collection Development	N	STO	N	GNA	3
Focuses on the process of designing a fashion collection. Collection development is a "holistic," studio-based practice that requires integration of all the technical skills acquired by students: different types of research, ideation, conceptualization, fabric sourcing, fabric manipulation, surface design, sketching, technical drawing, illustration, design and execution. Provides a step-by-step approach to designing a fashion collection and guides students through different stages of the process. Gives special attention to organization and line planning to create a cohesive fashion collection for a catwalk show or digital exhibition space.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		ASU FIDM		Prerequisite(s): FSH 208 with C or better; FSH 306 with C or better; Pre- or corequisite(s): FSH 303 with C or better if completed; Credit is allowed for only FSH 477 or FSH 394 (Fashion Collection Development) OR Visiting University Student

NEM	520	AR/VR/XR for Storytelling	N	LEL	N	Z1	3
Applies game engine technology and techniques to create original and compelling AR/VR/XR work. Students gain advanced skills in game engine workflows and development mechanics to gain an understanding of how 3D programs can create fully immersive narratives. Using techniques previously applied to video games, this course deepens understanding how narrative, interactive and linear, can be powerfully employed using these new technologies. Students learn the strengths and limitations of game engine tools available to ensure immersion, exploring audience interaction techniques as well as 3D environment creation, to create agency for audiences or viewers and to center the story using embodiment.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		The Sidney Poitier New Americ		Prerequisite(s): Narrative and Emerging Media MA student
NEM	525	Virtual Production for Storytelling	N	STO	N	Z1	3
Taught directly on the Planar virtual production stage at the California Center's Hearst Building, provides professional skills necessary for working in virtual production. Techniques used in virtual production are derived from techniques devised for live action production, cinematography, animation and video games, but merge them in using real-time technologies to produce cinematic content. With major Hollywood film and television productions turning to virtual production to capture scenes once reliant on costly visual effects, this course familiarizes students with the crucial workflows to successfully manage and produce narrative using the virtual production pipeline with a focus on the core underlying technologies used in virtual production, including motion capture, performance capture, virtual cinematography, "simulcam" and others. Upon completion of this course, students produce cinematic content captured fully in a game engine that can be directly edited into the professional-level film or television content.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		The Sidney Poitier New Americ		Prerequisite(s): Narrative and Emerging Media MA student
NEM	550	Diversity and Ethics in Emerging Media	N	SEM	N	Z1	3
What is the dominant narrative in emerging media and how can we make sure diverse voices and viewpoints are ethically represented? Students explore these questions and evaluate current ethical and inclusive practices in narrative development, artistic practice and collaboration frameworks. Also focuses on a critical understanding of the importance of and best practices for ethically and diversely sourcing/portraying subjects in projects, particularly children and vulnerable characters; applying ethical decision-making models; analyzing diversity in storytelling; respecting privacy of subjects; as well as exploring content co-creation and collaboration with nonfiction characters. Using one or more forms of emerging media, students create a piece of storytelling anchored in a diverse community and/or subject matter. NEM	593	Applied Project	Y	LEC	Y	Z1	1-12
Preparation of a supervised applied project that is a graduation requirement in some professional majors.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		The Sidney Poitier New Americ		Prerequisite(s): degree- or nondegree-seeking graduate student
NEM	630	Emerging Media for Clients	N	STO	N	Z1	3
Gives students a unique opportunity to work with a leading emerging media industry client to gain invaluable experience developing and producing an emerging media project. Students work to a real-world brief set out by the emerging media company for a live project. The briefs varies according to the needs/project of the emerging media company, but could include projects such as background research, market insight and user testing, writing pitches and R&D experimental work. By the end of the course, students have developed a professional-level understanding of how creative productions are conceived, produced and delivered within emerging media industries.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		The Sidney Poitier New Americ		Prerequisite(s): Narrative and Emerging Media MA student
THF	160	Introduction to Storytelling	N	LEC	Y	OPT	3	HUAD OR HU
Introduces the nature, structure, and operations of story, as well as the functions of narrative in societies and cultures. Several modules introduce a different mode of storytelling. Students learn to create their own stories utilizing several of the approaches introduced in the modules.			Herberger Inst Design & Arts		Sch of Music, Dance & Theatre
