

XI - 79 - 3. A Play About China

B. Persons In The Play - Two versions - 2 pages

(or Kao Bei
(soldiers) is absent)

PERSONS IN THE PLAY

- General Wang Shih-pu (the Old Man), Commander of a Central China front. (Old Uncle) is respectful and also affectionate
- Col. Wu, his devoted friend and chief-of-staff. (Pao-chang)
- Major General Chou, his critical friend and divisional commander. (doe)
- General Li, commander of an Army under General Wang's general command. Tai-yung
- Col. Chen, a secret service man with General Li's Army.
- Frances Stone, an American Red Cross nurse.
- Dr. Lin ~~Yang~~ Chung, a Chinese woman doctor, wife of Col. Wu.
- Kuo Hwa, a little boy orderly. Little Tiger
- TSai Loh, crippled
- Lao Tso, a headquarters guard.
- Shih-fu, a headquarters guard.
- Chinese guards, soldiers, wounded soldiers, Chinese puppet soldiers.
- Peasant stretcher-bearers.
- ~~An old Chinese Story Teller.~~

Little Old Man -

PERSONS IN THE PLAY

General Wang Shih-pu (the Old Man), Commander of a Central China front.

Col. Wu, his devoted friend and chief-of-staff.

Major-General ^{Han} Chou, his critical friend and divisional commander.

General Li, commander of an Army under General Wang's general command.

Col. Chen, a secret service man with General Li's Army.

Frances Stone, an American ~~Red Cross nurse~~ ^{writer; friend of Dr. Lin Yung.}

Dr. Lin Yung, a Chinese woman doctor, wife of Col. Wu.

~~Kuo Hwa~~, a little boy orderly. Little Devil crippled

Lao Tso, a headquarters guard.

Shih-fu, a headquarters guard.

Chinese guards, soldiers, wounded soldiers, Chinese puppet soldiers.

Peasant stretcher-bearers.

~~An old Chinese Story Teller.~~

Old Story Teller - the eternal Chinese people.
Missionary

Names to be changed to make them
~~very~~ distinctly different, so the public can clearly distinguish them.

Chou to be changed to Han