Dear Anna Lipshitz:

Thank you for your dear letter of May 16th.

I have written to Mr. Slee about the goods. I have found out from the Postoffice here that they left Hamburg, but now I have sent another tracer through to ask what has happened. They were registered, and I have the registration slip. I have asked Mr. Slee to cable me a very short cable when they arrive for I am afraid to ship the others unless those reach you. I do not know what to do about the whole situation.

I am sending herewith for Mrs. Sanger, a reply to Gandhi by Marie Stopes, and also the attitude of the "Indian Social Reformer". Please give them to Margaret.

I am very sorry that I ever had Margaret pay that Fund there the one hundred dollars. For now the Fund has given me an unlimited time in which to repay the money, and it was unnecessary for Margaret to take this action. I am sorry but it is too late. I applied to the Fund for the postponement of payment for I simply can not make it now. I am never completely well and keep hoping that I shall recover my health entirely. But it does not work. My physical health is perfect, but my mind is simply an old curiosity shop. I am sick much of the time and for the past three months have written not a line because of my state of mind. I am teaching in the University, but that is pure drudgery which requires no creative thought, and then I have but two hours a week there. This summer semester we are studying conditions in America, chiefly social conditions, such as prohibition, the racial problem, the woman question, social movements (birth control comes in here), America and Pan-America, and America and her Asiatic Foreign Policy. It is hot as hell here but we drudge along in this class. It may interest you to know that I use Margaret's books and the Review in my classes. This semester I have mostly men students--but two girls, and I don't know just what the results will be on the question of birth control.

You say Margaret wants to know what my financial situation is. Fairly rotten because during the summer I have no students and my income becomes nil. My sole steady income now is from the University, which just pays my room rent and nothing more. From my writing I usually get something, but my mind has gone on a strike, as I say, and I don't know what the reason is. I have had a number of private students in English, and they have kept me going for some time, but they all go away ~~fixed~~ during the summer months, starting this month. Many of them were actresses and artists, and the theatres are closed from June 1st onward.

And I'm worn out, not only with my teaching work, but from living under a strain. I want to get out of this place for a month in the summer or I fear I'll cut my honorable throat. I can hardly stick it even now and only live until God steps in and takes a hand.

I wonder how life is there with you. You are, I see, still on the job. It is a wonderful thing to see you sticking on through the years with Margaret and Kitty Marion. It is for you what India is for me. Only I hope to see India one of these days. I want to get there as soon as my treatment is finished here and take up social work. The B.C. movement there is destined to play a great role.

Please give my love to all.

Sincerely,

Pariserstr 4.
