Dearest Bruce:

The London Mercury asked me to send an article of mine to J. P.'s & Cassell's Weekly (or monthly). Could you find the address of the magazine and post the letter &
article for me? Just print on the address Perhaps you can find it in a telephone book or on a "news" stand.

Love across the enclosed & thought of

you. It is what you are interested in. Berlin.

I hope you aren't enjoying at my last fortnightly letter. Sometimes I go on the warpath against you ^{can} ^{we} ^{have} ^{been} ^{and} ^{the} ^{he} ^{was} ^{has} ^{been} ^{to} my best friends. Perhaps I'll never get over it. I don't know. Anyway for a time I must live in peace - or as much peace as is possible. I am not very well, often and even here fall into long, periods of deep unhappiness.

Are you also post the enclosed note to "Time & Tide" magazine? I left the address in ^{they} ^{now} ^{construct} ^m

Time & Tide " is the woman's Berlin. London and I'm quite certain

at my last fortnightly
you can get the address easily.

against we have been studying Mozart's life here & have been to his birthplace and his home
and the Cathedral where his father & later he was organist. Then Fran Schubert -

has been teaching me things of architecture -
almost a course. Roman. Gothic. Christian, Rococo (etc)
Gothic, Renaissance, Baroque, Rococo (etc)

and so on. I can tell you all about some of them now - provided you don't know enough to contradict me.

closed note
the address in

The Club mountains also.

Frau D. plays in Wedekind's "Franziska" and then Law's "Anthony & Cleopatra". I believe or what not. I am what I don't know. Schnitzler I've met Palmberg, one of Germany's greatest actors, and Barnowsky the director now united with Reinhardt. I've and loads of others who try to be impressive. I've was a political writer who's always spoke of breakfast with Coindre & Hudenburg. & Kees, etc. Frau D. called him the breakfast champion. Frau D. says she is famous but will never be so famous as Odal Mundwasser. I thought you would like it so send it on.

I'm writing a lot of not her to try & make money. She says who inherited money ~~not~~ deserves purgatory forever. I've lost interest in my dresses by the time and hate to change. Sometimes I think I've nothing to wear.
Love to you & Sam.
Agnes.

A story by Frau D.

A woman wrote to a ^{little} mountain place that had said it would take guests for the summer. She concluded: "And please let me know about the accommodations for the W.C. What kind is it, etc.?"

The little Wirt had never heard of W.C. He was worried and went to the little church in the near-by grove & asked the pastor. The pastor said: "Oh she means the 'Wald Kirchlein!'"

So the Wirt wrote back about the W.C. to the lady - thus:

"As for the W.C. All in order. It is open once a week. Sunday from 9 to 12. You have to go early for the place is crowded and the seats all taken."

etc. Elaborate as desired.
