

Berlin. Nov. 12.

1926

Dearest Florence:

I wrote you to Paris on Nov. 5th and you perhaps have the letter by this time. If not, have it forwarded. It contains quinquagen and things. The trunk left on the 5th by Eilgut - it would take about 10 days, at the most. The keys & all are with the Am. Express Co. in Paris, for they had to have them for the customs. Instructions have been given to hold the trunks until you come and present your passport. The cost of shipment, insurance and the storage money here and moving came to M. 109.90, and the book I bought for you to M. 6. Total M. 115.90.

is for my health. I don't know what to do. The cold hung on for days & days & disabled me. Then I was about for 4 or 5 days. But now the last 3 days I've been laid out with it again and couldn't go hear lectures. I'm still at home but today am up. The cold clings to my lungs. Not at all painful, but the ugly cough won't leave. When I have to go any place, Fran & Verney send her car these days & I feel like a princess.

I've changed my Dr. thesis to "Opium." An historical and economic study. The other subject was so vast that it requires many volumes & years to write. Really, I can't tell you how I feel in the University. It is like walking in heaven, so worry. Everything clean and clear and cool & scientific. I've never felt so before in my life. I feel like ing. I'm doing all my work on India. In economic geography I'm taking India to make a thorough study. Then I've a semester on "The British Empire." I hope to make an excellent study on opium. None has been made so far.

Then I've been reading on China these days.
Last night I went to Frau Durieux's to meet a Professor. She sent her car and we had dinner after the theatre & talked. Another interesting man was there. Then I've met Frau Schrecker, the wife of the director of the Hochschule für Musik. Intellectual life here is so rich that I keep wishing you and Sam had been able to remain for one winter. I can't go out much because of work and the days because of health, but you might have had time. Everything is being given here in the theatre: "Mensch und Übermensch," by Shaw, "Frauziska ysistrata," "Turandot" and a number of new things.

of young writers. Jokki's "A Night's Lodgings" is at the Volkshäus and Jokki is to be here this winter and I'm to meet him. The operas - all four, are running full blast, the concerts are too numerous to mention, the Psychoanalytic platform has scheduled and begun a number of lectures (popular) on such subjects as "The Electric Psychoanalysis and Marxism," etc. All the things that would have interested you.

I am glad you are happy. Don't go see my bull fights if you want to keep your child. Argentina, the greatest Spanish dancer, is dancing here now.

Everyone here is well except Baba. He is in a very bad way, psychically, but is under analytic treatment and may get better. Bakas is finished analysis, or will finish within 5 weeks.

Could you let me have the pajama films to make some copies here? I'll return them if you wish.
When are you in Paris? Don't forget to see Sasha if you have time.
Love to both of you dear things.
Agnes -
