wed - ding bells shall ring out soon; I've kissed you and you blushed so red; I've built the nest and now I've come to take you there with me, With-wait - ed as you bade me to al - though I've longed for you, And out you I'm as lone - ly as can be, The ev' - ry day my heart beats fond and true, So birds are sweet - ly sing - ing and they sing a wed - ding tune, 'Tis while the moon is shin - ing we will call the par - son in, And time to start our hon - ey - moon. When there's a Chorus.

moon in June it's time for us to hur - ry up those wed - ding bells, So let them ring, ring, ring, A joy - ful ding, ding, ding; ——— Now don't you fear, — my dear, — for there's no cause for wor - ry when that old bell tells, ——— That I'll al-ways cling to you when the clouds have hid the blue, So hur - ry up those wed - ding bells. ———

Here's to you, lit - tle girl, here's to you — I will drink to your true eyes of blue, — May the love that I give in your heart al - ways live As fresh as the sweet morn ing dew, — You're the rose that now grows in my heart — May the fra - grance you leave ne'er de - part, A toast should be to some one who is true, Here's to you, lit - tle girl, here's to you.
