RECITATION for
"CALLING ME HOME"

By L. Wolfe Gilbert

I went to an orphanage not long ago,
They asked me to come, they were giving a show,
The large hall was crowded, with tots left and right,
'Till my dying day I'll remember that sight,
It was my turn to sing, and I rose like in pain,
A feeling crept over me, I can't explain.
A white child - a black child - a crippled one too,
Their faces all smiles, so what could I do?
With a lump in my throat and my eyes filled with tears,
I sang as I never had done all my years,
And when I was finished, each motherless child
Applauded and stamped as if they were wild.
I ran from the hall, like my reason was gone,
I jumped in a taxi, and rode and rode on
'Till I reached the one place, where I wanted to be
And I found the one soul, who was calling to me.
"Mother Oh! Mother, caress me," I cried,
I'm shaking and aching and breaking inside
If I've ever hurt you, by word or by deed,
I've only been careless, and now I'll take heed
For I just left some children, who've made me so sad,
For they've lost the best pal, that a child ever had."

(Sung) "They miss that blessing divine, Mother of mine,
I heard you calling me home."
