

The Story of the Rose.

Words by "ALICE."

Music by ANDREW MACK.

Andante.

Moderato.

A youth one day in a gar-den fair A rose found wither'd and dy - ing, And all for love, ah! love in vain, This rose was sad - ly sigh - ing

CHORUS. Moderato.

Heart of my heart, I love you, Life would be naught with-out you,

p

Light of my life, my dar - ling, I love you, I love you.

rall.

I can for-get you nev - er, From you I ne'er can sev - er,

a tempo.

Say you'll be mine for - ev - er: I love you.

dim.

Andante.

f

Moderato.

p

O sweet wild rose of a summer day, Thy love has all been in vain;

dim.

Loved by a maid then cast a-way, I e - cho thy re - frain.

CHORUS. Moderato.

Heart of my heart, I love you, Life would be naught with-out you;

p

Light of my life, my dar - ling, I love you, I love you.

rall.

I can for - get you nev - er, From you I ne'er can sev - er,

a tempo.

Say you'll be mine for - ev - er: I love you.

dim.