When the snow is on the ground, my dear-ie, I'll glide you mem-ber what I prom-ised you? Well, dear-ie, I've bought the to the near-est preach-er man — He'll mar-ry us and place a cut-est lit-tle wed-ding band — I know, my hon-ey, that you gold-en band — up-on your lit-tle fin-ger, now we won't ling-un-der-stand — and so, why hes-i-tate, — my dear? Par-son's wait-er But rush right to our lit-tle home so grand.

-ing here, Old Jack Frost will act as our best man.

By this time next year, hon, maybe,
We will have the cutest bull dog,
I will marry you.

We'll let the servant home at seven,
Then we'll go right straight to Brooklyn,
I will marry you.

When you hear the bells ring, jingle, I'll be awfully glad you're single,
I will marry you.

Now we'll surely raise the dickens,
'Cause I'm awfully fond of Huylers,
I will marry you.
