Now Ma-ry Ann Mc Cue Went out to Hon - o - lu To teach the nat - ives They're talk-ing now they say Of sending her a - way To dance for all the how to read and write She sailed a - way One sum-mer's day But when she got out soldiers now at war And who can tell Mid shot and shell If she should start to there to teach she did -n't care She saw a dance that fill'd her with de-light Oh how she'd yearn that dance to prance and do her Hoo - la dane The soldiers might for - get the cannons roar And start to do the Hoo - la - learn How she did that dance She was not a - afraid Ma - ry said "At home my fortune's made" Since hoo Air - ships Zepp - lins too They could not re - sist Ma - ry's lit - tle Hoo - la Hoo - la twist Since

Chorus. Slower

Ma-ry Ann Mc Cue came back from Hon-o-lu she took a chance— Did a fun-ny lit-tle Hoo-la dance— Oh what a dance with a rig-gle and a fun-ny lit-tle wig-gle just a sim-ple lit-tle twist of the should-er and the wrist so ve-ry new— And ev-'ry night— in And ev-en birds— are swell so-ci-et-y She is found— Ev-'ry bod-y's do-ing it All a-Hoo-la-hoo-ing it in the trees— I saw sharks a do-ing it In he round Since Ma-ry Ann Mc Cue brought the Hoo-la-hoo from Hon-o-lu— Since lu.—
