

SM 334

Sly Musette.

SONG and CHORUS.

Yvette.

Lyrics by SYDNEY ROSENFELD.

Music by
A. BALDWIN SLOANE.

Tempo di Gavotte.

Piano f

Solo.

Once there lived a lit - tle maid, they Such a speak - ing eye she had, this p

Chorus.

called her sly Mu - sette. Pret - ty maid was sly Mu - sette.
lit - tle Miss Mu - sette. Speaking eye had sly Mu - sette.

f

Copyright MCMII by Jos. W. Stern & Co.
International Copyright Secured.

Solo. Chorus.

And her mother scold-ed her and called her a coquette, Scolded her, this sad co-
Such a tell-tale smile she had, this lit - tle Miss Coquette, Tell-tale smile had Miss Co - p f

Solo.

quette. — "You're to blame, Musette re-plied, "I took you at your word;"
quette. — So although she spoke no word her looks and smiles were there,

p

Chorus. Solo.

To her moth-er spoke Mu - sette, — "For you said that lit - tle girls should Looks and smiles had sly Mu - sette, — And a head that nod-ded, too, with

f p

Chorus.

all be seen, not heard!" Sau - cy lit - tle maid, Mu - sette! — such a know - ing air, Nod - ding head had sly Mu - sette! —

f

Chorus.

p & f 1st time Solo

Sly Mu - sette— Kept her promise, did this sly Co - quette;— And when the Sly Mu - sette— Kept her promise, did this sly Co - quette;— And when she boys drew nigh she wink'd her eye, But nev - er spoke a word, Co - quette!

cross'd the street with an - kles neat, She had no need to speak, Co - quette!

Sly Mu - sette!— That's the way she kept her word Co - quette!— For she was Sly Mu - sette!— That's the way she kept her word Co - quette!— For she was seen, not heard, you see was sly Musette, Co-quette, Mu-sette! sette!

seen, not heard, you see was sly Musette, Co-quette, Mu-sette! sette!