In the far-off mystic land of "Nev-er Wor-ry" there I saw a tribe — who nev-er die; Some were near five-hundred years of age so to the chief I gave a bribe — to find out why. He said, "stick a-round, and you'll be sur-prised, Watch the dance we do, And you'll soon be wise?"

Well, I learned it in a jif-fy, So if old you're anxious to be, — just fol-low me. —

CHORUS

First you laugh, then you dance for a - while, — Then you stop, start a - gain with a p-f smile, You'll get "hep" to the step right a - way; And you'll dance ev - 'ry hour of the day. In a jazz par - a - dise, You'll find it nice, Ev - 'ry-time you wig - gle, Don't for-get to gig - gle. You'll for - get ev - 'ry troub - le you had, For to dance this you've got to be glad. If your wife's mother's call - ing on you, Do this dance — you won't be blue. — Now you will nev - er need a band to play at all — Just go ha! ha! ha! — and skip a - round the hall. — You'll nev - er die, nev - er sigh, nev - er frown; — If you laugh while you're danc - ing a - round! — First you round!
