

SM 678

"The Umpire is a most unhappy man."

Lyric by HOUGH & ADAMS.

Music by JOS. E. HOWARD.

1. An
2. Na -

um - pire is a cross be - tween a bull - frog and a pol - e - on and Wash - ing - ton were gen - er - als of goat, He has a mouth that's flan - nel lined and old, Their light - est word moved reg - i - ments and

Copyright MCMV by Chas. K. Harris.
British Rights Secured.

brass tubes in his throat; He needs a cool and lev - el head, that ar - mies we are - told; Where - 'er they led men fol - lowed them, but is - n't hard to hit, So when the fans beat on - ly came for hire, Just think of all that up his frame, They'll have a nice place to sit; The gra - tis come, To fol - low the bold um - pire; He rit.

on - ly job that's worse, is dri - ver on a hearse.
leads them with such vim, be - cause they're chas - ing him.

rit. fz

The Umpire.

REFRAIN.

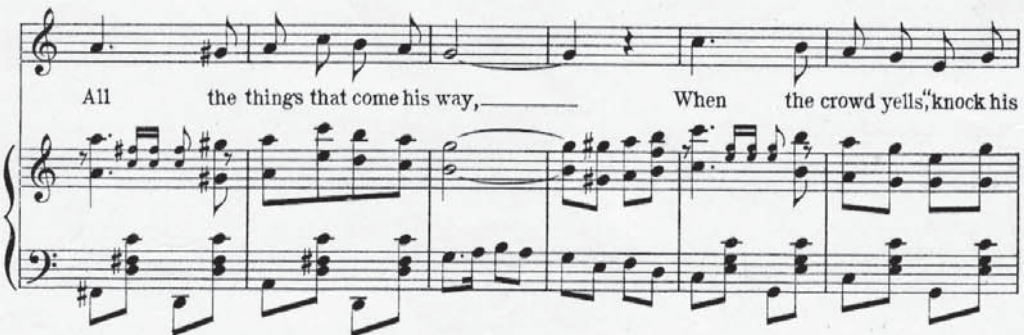

How'd you like to be an um - pire, — Work like his is mere-ly play, — He don't ev-en have to ask for, —

All the things that come his way, — When the crowd yells, "knock his block off," — "Soak him good," says ev - 'ry fan, —

The Umpire.

Then who wants to be an um - pire, ——— The brick-bats whiz, When he gets his, For the um-pire is a Cymbal. Cymbal. B. Dr. B. Dr.

1. most un-hap-py man. ——— 2. man. ———

fz

EXTRA CHORUSES.

How'd you like to be a camel,
 He don't ever mind the heat,
 He has seven lovely stomachs,
 They're all full of things to eat;
 But he travels without drinking,
 Seven days to say the least,
 So who wants to be a camel,
 Without a drink? ——— (Crash)
 Well, I don't think ——— (Crash)
 For the camel is a most unhappy beast.

How'd you like to be a mermaid,
 Live below the glassy sea,
 Why if you could swim like she can,
 What a cinch this life would be;
 But suppose she took a street car,
 'Spose the cable broke in two,
 Then, who'd want to be a mermaid,
 Gee what a shock ——— (Crash)
 She couldn't walk ——— (Crash)
 Wonder what the dickens would a mermaid do.

The Umpire.