ARIZONA IS IN THE MIDST OF A DEMOGRAPHIC, ECONOMIC AND EDUCATIONAL TRANSFORMATION.

Although our past has been illustrated with inequity and average achievement, our future is painted with quite a different brush. As Arizona solidifies itself as a majority minority state, we will be forced to focus our attention on how even the most underperforming students can enhance their educational outcomes for the greater benefit of all Arizonans.

This report illuminates the current status and trends of educational achievement in the State of Arizona from the beginning of the pipeline in elementary education through to graduate and professional school.

We encourage you to consider the 2013 Minority Student Progress Report before reading this sixth edition. We hope you will be able to use the rich data in these reports to develop your own conclusions and recommendations for addressing the issues we highlight.

Beyond this edition, there are additional data and resources available at the Arizona Minority Education Policy Analysis Center website: www.highered.az.gov/amepac
