Season's First Play Opens Tonight

Drama To Run For Three Nights

"The Lady's Not For Burning," ASU Drama Workshop production, opens in Payne Auditorium this evening, at 8:30, for a three-night run.

Christopher Fry wrote the drama in 1948, while he was a resident member of the Little Theatre Group of London. The following year Pamela Brown and John Gielgud co-starred in the play in London.

Theatrical Guild of London, with the original cast, presented Fry's drama in New York in 1950. Since this United States premier, it has been performed throughout the world.

According to Dr. James W. Yeater, director of the ASU production, "Fry is one of the most significant figures in modern theatre and one of the best for restoring verse to the drama."

Admission to "The Lady's Not For Burning," is by activity card or 75 cent ticket. Tickets are obtainable at the Memorial Union information desk or at the auditorium this evening.

Leading roles are portrayed by Fred Norman, Bob Payton, Phil Wade, Jill Fisher, Alvie Thomas, Dolores Gregory, Phil Auth, Mike Rost, Sandra Walters, Larry Webb, and Kirk O'Higgins.

Bob McNulty designed the sets.

Student Rally To Burn 'Cat'

"Burning of the Wildcat" will be the highlight of a pep rally and bonfire tomorrow evening.

Students will congregate between Matthews Library and the Arts building at 7:30 and march to the parking lot at Palo Verde Hall.

President Grady Gammage, coach Frank Kush and football team co-captains Tom Ford and John Hangartner will address the fans.

The pep band, pom pon girls and cheerleaders will also be at the rally, aimed at raising spirits for Saturday's game at the U of A.

Fraternities, sororities and halls are urged to supply torches, banners and signs for the parade through campus, and to take the banners and signs to the game in Tucson, according to Dave Mecke, rallies chairman.

Another rally, to have been held in Tucson, has been cancelled, Mecke said.

REGENTS ACT

Approve MU Alleys

Authorization to call for bids and award a contract for installation of an eight lane bowling alley in the MU was granted by the Board of Regents in a meeting Saturday.

ASASU has appropriated $60,000 for the project. It will not involve state funds.

An area in the MU basement, presently containing classrooms, is expected to be available when construction begins.

Kemper Goodwin was approved as architect for the installation.

The regents also took the following actions:

The MU fee was raised from $1.25 to $2.55 per semester and the alumni fee from $5.00 to $7.50, effective next September.

ASASU was authorized to conduct a study toward possible development of a student group insurance program.

A bid of $83,475 by Robert R. Adams of Phoenix for construction of a utility tunnel with piping for the two science buildings now under construction was accepted.

Transfer of $29,980 from ASU's unappropriated funds to be used for instructional needs due to this fall's greatly increased enrollment was approved. The money, registration fees collected from those students who exceeded the anticipated enrollment, will enable ASU to hire graduate and laboratory assistants, part-time instructors and lecturers, graders, readers and clerical help, as well as to purchase additional class materials and laboratory facilities.

The present budget is based on an average annual enrollment of 8,700 on campus students. Later estimates, however, indicate an increase in the figure to 9,500 registered annually. Second semester registration normally decreases about three and one-half per cent.

ASC Sends 'Best Wishes' To Sumners

Congratulations for success in the recent election has been received by ASASU President Warren Sumners from Charles Williams, student president of Arizona State College at Flagstaff.

In a letter dated Nov. 12, Williams said, "On behalf of the Associated Students of Arizona State College at Flagstaff, I offer our congratulations to the Associated Students at Tempe for their success in the past election.

"We know that you (Sumners) and every student at Arizona State University will do everything possible to uphold the great honor bestowed upon you by the people of this state."

Williams apologized for the "lateness" of his letter, explaining that ASC had just finished mid-term exams and was in the process of making last minute arrangements for inauguration of their new president.

Williams closed the letter wishing the ASU student body "great success through the year."

AS Gets 400 More Big Game Tickets

The University of Arizona has authorized Arizona State graduate manager Frank Rispoli to sell at $1.50 student rates an additional 400 seats for the game in Tucson Saturday.

Tickets go on sale at 9 this morning at the ticket window in the Men's Gym. Sale is on a first come first served basis with no limit on individual purchases.

Rispoli said the seats are in a more desirable location than those sold previously.

Governor Proclaims Day To Honor Jim Creasman

Monday was Jim Creasman State College to Arizona State Day throughout Arizona.

The proclamation by Governor McFarland honoring the ASU Alumni Association executive secretary was read by Wayne E. Legg, of Mesa, Saturday night during a testimonial dinner for Creasman. The dinner was held at the Feed Bag dining room in Mesa.

More than 200 persons attended the banquet, sponsored by the Mesa chapter of the ASU Alumni Association.

Legg, a member of the Mesa chapter, presented Creasman with an engraved pocket watch and a book of testimonial letters from civic leaders of the state and nation.

The proclamation honors the man who helped direct the successful campaign in which the voters voiced their desire to change the name of Arizona

State Educators Hold Workshop Here Tomorrow

Nearly one hundred educators are expected for the school board workshop tomorrow in the Memorial Union.

The meet is open to school board members, school superintendents and others interested in education.

Registration, at 4:15 p.m. on the second floor of the Union, will start the three-session program. Dr. Robert Ashe, ASU education professor, will be chairman of the 4:30 p.m. session. Wade Church, Arizona attorney general-elect, will speak on "What Schools Should Do For Children."

Dr. Taylor Hicks, of Prescott, will address an evening session with "What Are My Duties as a School Board Member?" He is past president of the American School Board Association.

Plans for the school board convention also will be discussed.

The conference will end with speeches by Dr. Ashe on legal aspects of school boards and by George Morse on financial problems.

Korean veterans may sign for their checks Nov. 26 before Thanksgiving vacation starts.

Indian Work Lecture Topic

Indian basket making will be described in a lecture today at 4:45 p.m. in room 335 of the Arts building.

Bert Robinson, author of "The Basket Weavers of Arizona," will be the guest lecturer. Mr. Robinson was head of the Indian Bureau at the Pima Indian Reservation for 30 years.

The lecture will include slides and describe basket making from pre-historic days to the present. The public is invited.

Family Dinner Set For Friday

A family night buffet dinner, sponsored by the Student-Faculty Committee, is scheduled for Friday a 5:30 p.m. in MU 218.

Everyone is invited. For those bringing children, there will be a puppet show featuring Rex Castle and his Little People.

The purpose of the dinner is to create a better understanding between students and faculty.

The dinner will be $1.35 for adults and 85c for children.

Meal tickets will be honored.

The swimming pool is closed Tuesday and Thursday evenings. The pool also will be closed Saturday, November 22.

The recreational swimming hours are 2:40 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. daily and 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. on Saturdays.

Basketball Cheerleaders Announced

New cheerleaders have been announced by Pat Fay, head cheerleader.

The new squad, to perform during the coming basketball season, includes Sharon Higbee, Marty Wilson, Brenda Peterson, Janet Sues, Sharon Graybill and Shirley Smith. These girls will join former cheerleaders Jacque Martyes and Betty Oda.

A record number of 55 girls attended tryouts last week in the Moer Activity Building Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Only six openings were available.

New outfits for the cheerleaders have been approved and are expected to be in use by the first basketball game.

The attractive squad hopes to boost student spirit at the basketball games.

"Gambler from Natchez" is the title of the free movie to be shown at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow and Friday in Cosner Auditorium.

Dale Robertson, Debra Paget, and Thomas Gomez star in the film.

Students and faculty are invited to attend the movie.

meeting will be a discussion of the Dec. 4 MU Christmas Party.

Plans will be made for decorating the MU, selection of a tree to be placed outside the building and decoration of the downstairs lounge.

Voting council will be Junior class officers, Wayne Zimmerman, president; Carolyn Wagoner, vice president; Pat Tracy, secretary; and Junior senators Jane Wagner and Dave Barnes. Each dorm, sorority and fraternity will also have one voting representative.

Student Music Recital Scheduled Today In Union

A recital by 13 music students will be presented this afternoon at 2:30 in the Memorial Union Ballroom.

The first selection on the program is "Interlude in Ancient Mode," by Glazounov. Marian Flink and Eugene Lombardi will play the violin; Renee Vanasse, the viola; and Russell Farnsworth, the cello.

The second selection will feature Dorine Blundell, mezzo-soprano, singing "Prepare Thyself, Zion," from the Christmas Oratorio, by Bach, and "Reditative-Fia Dunque Vero," and "O Mio Fernando," from La Favorita, by Donizetti. Carol Hamilton will accompany her.

Jerry Whalin, clarinetist, and Linda Ellsworth, accompanist, will present the Adagio, from Concerto in A Major, by Mozart.

Carol Hamilton will accompany Lella Crandall, soprano, in "Un Bel Di" from Madam Butterfly, by Puccini. Her second selection will be a French Folk Song, "Menuet d'Exaudet."

Shirley Hall, mezzo-soprano, will sing "Amarylli," by Caccini, with Sue Culley as accompanist.

The final selection will feature Charles Parker, tenor, singing "Panis Angelicus," by Franck and "The Fiddler of Dooney," by Hageman. Lavinia Richey will accompany him.

Payment Change For Nov. Made

The AS Payroll department has announced a temporary change in procedure for payment of student employees.

Student checks for Nov. 25, will be held at the Business Office in the Administration building, and issued there after employes have checked and signed detail record cards. The cards are necessary for the State Auditor's office.

The Payroll department also requests students whose pay date is Dec. 10 to sign the cards Nov. 25 or 26. To avoid waiting in line,

Interviews Set This Week

Four pre-Thanksgiving interview sessions have been scheduled by the Placement Center this week.

A representative of the Naval Aviation Procurement Program will talk with interested students on the MU patio today and Thursday. Graduates in accounting, finance and office management may contact Mr. C. L. Vande Poel, representing California Packing Corporation, Thursday, in the Placement Center.

Interviews for technical graduates in the fields of engineering, physics and mathematics will be conducted Friday by John A. Zimmer of U. S. Army Ordnance Weapons Command.

Two representatives of W. T. Grant Co. will be on campus Monday. Mr. I. J. Thorn, and Mr. A. H. Longman will interview candidates for careers in retail sales.

'Flag' On The Move

Undoubtedly one of the finest football performances staged in Arizona for a long time was the game between Arizona State College at Flagstaff and Willamette University of Salem, Ore., in Yuma last Saturday.

Scoreless until halfway through the fourth quarter, ASC's 7-0 victory virtually assured the Lumberjacks' participation in the national small college championship playoffs.

Willamette was rated third and ASC second in small college standings.

Students and faculty at Flagstaff are most assuredly proud of their team and coach, Max Spillsbury. They aren't the only ones.

Congratulations to the Lumberjacks and Coach Spillsbury. Best of luck for the rest of this season and future seasons.

Spirit Defined

One of the quickest ways to lose State Press editorial readers is to talk about school spirit.

School spirit is like the weather: everybody talks about it, and few do anything about it. School spirit is like mother, money and patriotism: everybody is all for it.

And, school spirit at this time is a very tired subject. The Rallies and Traditions board, the Associated Students, the Administration and the State Press all harp on the subject, exhorting students and faculty alike to show more of it.

Yet no one has supplied an adequate definition of the term.

We feel the finest possible demonstration of school spirit occurred right here on campus election night. That night, the entire campus community showed real pride in the institution and a real appreciation of the ideals for which it stands.

The campus police anticipated the possibility of too much exuberance if the name change vote was favorable and too deep gloom if it was unfavorable. Afterward they reported the quietest night of the year.

That is school spirit, pride in the institution and its ideals.

School spirit is the desire to see our team win, to see Arizona State excel in every field, to do everything possible to help make our school the finest in every regard.

School spirit is that factor which will make every ASU rooster Saturday in Tucson behave with the same dignity, maturity and sense of pride in this institution that was so evident the night we scored our greatest victory.

Points Of Interest

A couple of interesting sidelights on educational standards and admissions emerged from the Board of Regents meeting in Flagstaff Saturday.

An "information only" report from an official of the College Entrance Examination Board indicated that Arizona high school graduates scored at least as high on entrance tests as did students in other states.

Then the Regents admission committee reported that a uniform admission plan for all three state institutions will be ready for release by next month. It's reasonable to hope that with all three schools overflowing, the new plan may be more rigid.

It becomes evident that Arizona educators are interested in quality. Wonderful. In a system growing like Arizona's, it would have been easy to overlook standards in the rush.

Happily, this seems to have been averted.

"I understand he's one of the artists."

BY PHIL FRY

There are few newspaper editors, if any, who don't encourage letters from the paper's readers.

Collegiate papers are no exception. Consider the fact that the State Press has a total weekly circulation of 13,000. That means twice each week some 6,500 people read some part or all of the paper.

There is no possible way the editors can keep direct contact with even a small per cent of these readers. Letters are the sole alternative. Through letters we can find out not only how we can better serve our readers with appropriate news stories, but the direction of student thought on issues of common, current interest.

Naturally, if everyone began flooding the desk with mail, only a small sample could be published. But what an ideal situation this would be.

In spite of the need for two-way communication, or possibly because of this need, abuses sometimes occur that make us wonder about the ultimate worthiness of the idea after all.

Take the following example: Two weeks ago we received a letter signed by two men. In the past we have accepted signatures and published letters in good faith.

Apparently we have been too trusting, at least in this case, since investigation proved that neither signature was that of a registered student or other bona fide member of the campus community.

The letter in question was a criticism of the entertainment policy for school dances. The complainants felt there should be more variety in the bands used for campus social events.

If a segment of student opinion assumes an attitude in regard to an issue or policy, that's fine. However, when non-campus elements inject criticism under the guise of campus citizenship (implied in this letter through lack of proper identification) an abuse definitely exists.

How incensed we become, when for instance, a man such as John Casper leaves his New Jersey home to incite racial riots in the South. Yet, what is the letter in question but an example of the same thing on a less important scale.

If Jim Randall and George Eddings are matriculates of ASU, two suggestions may be of some benefit to them.

First, above all else they had better check with the registrar's office to see what's happened to their records.

Second, contact the ASU student talent bureau through Julie Jones in Palo Verde B or Marilyn Arnold in Palo Verde A. These young ladies, aware of the fact that room for improvement always exists, have tried unsuccessfully to contact the letter writers for constructive suggestions and ideas.

In the same vein, any student with legitimate suggestions for improvement in the conduct of student affairs can make his ideas known to the appropriate board chairman through the Associated Students offices on the second floor of the Union.

And please, let's keep letters on the level. If they're not, we'll have to change our letter policies, and that wouldn't be to anyone's advantage.

In case anyone has doubts that the work of Arizona State students is being noticed, an invitation to Louis D. Loucks to attend the student section of the American Institute of Architects convention should clear them up. This is not only an honor for Loucks, an architect major in his fifth year and one of the first five slated to graduate from the AS School of Architecture, but it is an honor for the Architecture department and the university.

By ROCHELLE MACKEY

Recently I've heard several student complaints concerning the Sahuaro staff's decision to print individual pictures of the senior class only.

Most of the complaints quite naturally come from freshman, sophomore and junior class members. They feel gyped because when they ordered their Sahuaros no mention was made of the change in policy.

Nevertheless, the Sahuaro decision stands valid. There are reasons for it which have probably been overlooked by complainants.

Most obvious of these is that it is not the purpose of a university annual to provide each student with a copy of a book containing a portrait of himself. University yearbooks are published as a pictorial record of the activities held on campus during the year . . . a permanent record for the university and the individual student.

Present trends among other large colleges and universities favor the plan set out by the Sahuaro. Few, if any, institutions the size of Arizona State University include individual portraits of each student in their yearbooks. They do, however, make every effort possible to see that each student is pictured at least once in the book. These appear in either organization or living unit sections.

Nationally an average of only 31 percent of people who enter college as freshmen complete the requirements for their bachelor's degree in four years. Thus, another primary purpose of a yearbook is to honor graduating seniors, and the custom is to accomplish this by printing individual portraits of them.

It seems to me that a student — especially an underclassman — who purchases a yearbook solely for the purpose of seeing his own picture in it isn't really old enough to be in college. The idea is to be able to take the book home and say, "Look, Ma! This is what Arizona State University did this year," not, "Hey, Ma! That's me!"

Shouts of "We want a rocket!" will undoubtedly be heard in Tucson Saturday. And, there will be rockets . . . after every ASU touchdown that is. The UofA recently granted permission for Arizona State to set off rockets after each Sun Devil TD during the U of A-ASU game.

Whether or not the Wildcats expect any rockets to be fired, I don't know, but the grant of permission shows that the University of Arizona is willing to cooperate with this campus. This is good.

If ASU and the U of A are willing and able to cooperate on relatively minor matters such as firing of rockets, surely the two universities will be able to combine forces and work in areas of greater importance.

Math Club Underway

The undergraduate Mathematics Club, a newly organized group on campus, recently elected officers. Election results named Jan Leverton, president; Jon Wexler, vice president; Ruth McBirnie, secretary; and Alice Stelzer, treasurer.

Next meeting will be tomorrow, 7:30 p.m., in the B A.

building, when speaker Dr. Charles Wexler will give "a lesson in decimals."

Highlighting activities will be a monthly math problem. A prize awarded by the Math department will go to the first person with the correct answer. Winner of the first monthly award was Kenneth Foote, freshman.

THE CLOTHES YOU SAVE MAY BE YOUR OWN

In this column we take up fashions for college men, which means of course, the Ivy Look. Today's Ivy Look clothes have made a great stride forward. Not only do they have thin lapels, three buttons, narrow trousers, and a minimum of shoulder padding, but—now hear this!—this year they are actually covered with ivy!

This new development, while attractive beyond the singing of it, nevertheless gives rise to certain hazards. For instance, people keep trying to plant you on Arbor Day. Indeed, this is precisely what happened to two SAE's of my acquaintance, Walter R. Gurlash and Fred Rasp. Before they could protest, they were snatched up, planted, limed, and watered, and today they support a hammock in Cut and Shoot, Vermont.

People keep trying to plant you on Arbor Day...

Let us now discuss shirts. Again this year the campus favorite is the good old Oxford with button-down collar and barrel cuffs. This is without doubt an admirable garment, but let me ask you a question: if you don't wear anything but Oxfords, what do you do with all the cuff links people have been giving you for your birthday since you were twelve years old?

Well sir, some fellows have their wrists pierced, but what E. Mackenzie Sigafos, a Chi Psi of my acquaintance, did was to take a dozen pairs of his handsome gold monogrammed cuff links and string them together in a charm bracelet for his girl, Jo-Carol Isobar.

(It turned out, incidentally, to be a mistake. In short order so many admirers accrued to Jo-Carol on account of her gorgeous bracelet that she grew tired of plain old E. Mackenzie, and one night when she was seated on a bench in Lovers Lane throwing sticks for E. Mackenzie to retrieve, she suddenly, cruelly, without warning, told him they were through.

"I am heartbroken," said E. Mackenzie, heartbroken. "But if go you must, give me back my charm bracelet."

"No, I will keep it," said Jo-Carol.

"What for?" said E. Mackenzie. "You can't wear it. The initials on the cuff links are all mine—E.M.S."

"Ha, ha, the joke is on you," said Jo-Carol. "Yesterday I was voted Miss Chinese Restaurant of 1958."

"So?" said E. Mackenzie.

"So," replied Jo-Carol, "E.M.S. does not stand for E. Mackenzie Sigafos. It stands for Eat More Subgum!"

A broken man, E. Mackenzie today squeezes out a meagre living as a pendulum in Cleveland. Jo-Carol was killed in a tong war.)

But I digress. We were talking about well-dressed men, and the one essential for every well-dressed man—and every well-dressed woman too—is a well-dressed cigarette—neat, compact, flavorful, and correct for work or play, sunshine or shower, repose or revelry, darkness or light. And where does one find such a perfect companion? Just go to any tobacco counter and ask for Philip Morris. Ask for it in long size or regular. Ask for it in soft pack or hard. But ask for it; that's the important thing. Don't just stand there making cryptic gestures at your tobaccoist. He may be armed.

Those of you who favor filters, try a filter that will favor you—Marlboro, made by the makers of Philip Morris, who bring you this column throughout the school year.

Foreign Show Set Friday

Fashions and entertainment representing 15 countries will be presented by the Foreign Students' Club Friday at 8 p.m. in the MU Ballroom, according to Ahmaddin, club member.

Admission is free to this annual event, at which the Mexican Hat Dance will be featured along with other acts.

Costumes and entertainment on hand will represent Afghanistan, Burma, China, England, Finland, Hong Kong, Iraq, India, Jordan, and Korea.

Secretary Club Plans Meeting

Alpha Pi Epsilon, secretarial honorary, will meet tomorrow at 6:30 p.m.

The speaker will be a representative of the Valley of the Sun Chapter of the National Secretaries Association.

New initiates are Gretchen Alexander, Orva Brewer, Amelia Callaway, Yvonne Derrick, Dolores Escarsega, Merlue Frasier, Vicki LeBaron, Jae Dee Merrill, Arlene Paskiewicz, Cheryl Thraen, Linda Lee Tussa, Corinne Weyrens, and Anna Mae Willis.

Alpha Sigmas Sell "Hexing" Voodoo Dolls; Sororities Entertaining Chapter Visitors

Greeks plan another busy week with visits by national and regional officers, exchanges, and voodoo doll sales on the agenda.

Planning to conjure up some black magic are members of Alpha Sigma Alpha selling UofA voodoo dolls this week. The blue and red yarn dolls, made by the sorority, are sold for 15 cents or two for 25 cents with proceeds going to the chapter's charity, crippled children.

Mrs. Gilbert C. Hesper, GAMMA PHI BETA province director, was the guest of the ASU chapter this week.

Omicron province president of ALPHA DELTA PI, Mrs. Roy Huett, arrives on campus today for her annual visit with the sorority.

A guest of SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA this week is Mrs. W. F. Zachman, Rocky Mountain regional director.

National alumnae director of ALPHA SIGMA ALPHA, Mrs. Nancy Mathisen, was the honoree at the sorority's Founders Day Banquet, Saturday.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON welcomed Ed Star into the brotherhood recently and pledges Paul Kock, Mike Hallaran, Dick Faust, and Doug Sellers.

The actives of DELTA SIGMA PHI pulled a switch on the pledges as they "walked out" Thursday evening from the annual Delta Sig birthday party taking the food along.

The actives celebrated at the home of Tom Meredith, while the hungry pledges and their dates were forced to "eat dinner out."

A Hobo Hop is on the schedule for members of ALPHA PHI and PHI SIGMA KAPPA tonight.

ADPi pledges' annual first semester work-day, Saturday, left fraternity men on campus with shiny shoes and a satisfied sweet-tooth as the girls sold goodies and shined shoes to raise money for their pledge projects.

Spurs Planning Regional Meet

Arizona State Spurs will be the guests of University of Arizona Spurs at the annual ASU-UA football game, Saturday afternoon.

Part of the events scheduled for the annual Spurs regional convention to be held on the campus Friday through Sunday, the game will be on the agenda of the sophomore women's honorary along with a pinata party, buzz groups, and a Sunday morning breakfast in Sabino Canyon.

Tickets for the Westminster Foundation annual Thanksgiving Banquet are now being sold for 50 cents each. The dinner will be Sunday, 6 p.m. at the Westminster Foundation and is open to the public.

Accounting Club Meets For Breakfast

The Accounting Club will hold a breakfast meeting Friday at 6:30 a.m. in the faculty dining room. A picture for the ASU annual will be taken then.

Rodeo Queen Entries Taken

Arizona State coeds, who reached their 18th birthday before October 1, are invited to compete for the annual Scottsdale Parada Del Sol Queen. The main basis of judging for the contest is the ability to ride horseback well, with appearance and personality also considered.

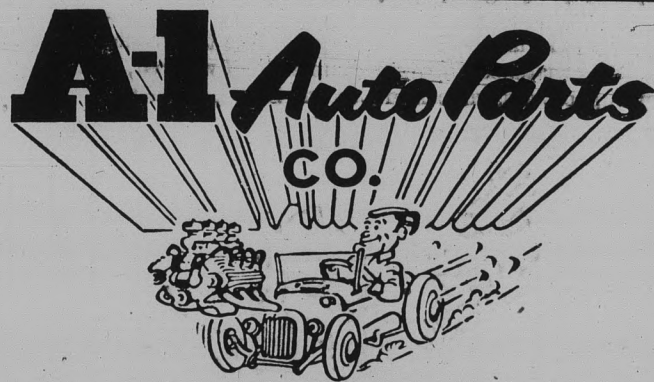

Entry blanks, which may be obtained at the office of the Dean of women, must be in to the Scottsdale Jaycees by Dec. 8.

More information may be obtained at WH 5-2691 or CR 4-5256.

CAGE COACH . . . Ned Wulk is starting his second season as basketball coach at Arizona State. Wulk, in his rookie season at AS, wasted no time in bringing this school its first Border Conference basketball championship. His dynamic court capers brought previously hidden cage fans flocking in droves to AS games. Attendance last year set all-time season and game highs for basketball here.

Wulk Starts Second Season, Guns For Second Loop Flag

By PAUL JACKSON

Basketball Coach Ned Wulk will be shooting for his second Border Conference championship this year as he prepares the Arizona State cagers for their second season under his guidance.

With Wulk at the controls, the AS hoopsters took the BC crown with a league play record of eight wins and two losses last season.

The BC win was a continuation of Wulk's outstanding career as a basketball coach who had already racked up an impressive winning record.

Wulk came to AS in July of 1957 to replace Bill Kajikawa. Wulk had just completed six years of basketball coaching at Xavier University in Cincinnati, Ohio, where he had led the Xavier team to its best season in modern basketball history with 20 wins and 8 losses. His Xavier Musketeers of 1956-57 fought their way into the quarterfinals of the National Invitation Tournament at Madison Square Garden in New York.

Wulk's brand of fast-break offense which proved so effective with the AS quintet was also the reason for his popularity with the Xavier team. In 1956, a record Ohio crowd of over 14,000 fans jammed the Cincinnati Garden to see Wulk's boys at work.

Wulk renewed an old acquaintanceship at AS. Clyde B. Smith, AS Athletic director, coached Wulk in football, baseball and basketball at LaCrosse State College in Wisconsin.

After his graduation from LaCrosse in 1942, Wulk saw World War II action as an infantry officer in Europe. At the war's end, he coached high school athletics at Hartford, Wisconsin. He began his coaching career with Xavier in 1948 when he took a position at that school as assistant football coach. He became basketball coach in 1951.

Wulk came to AS when, "I felt that I had gone as far as I could at Xavier." His friendship with Clyde Smith and his search for, "the challenge of building a basketball program at a school which hasn't put much emphasis on the sport," led him to this school.

Wulk has always been popular with the players under him, although he is a stern believer in player discipline and strictly enforces his training program.

Wulk resides in Tempe with his wife, Fern, and two children.

Cowboys One Win Away

All the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys have to do now is rope in one more league victory for the 1958 Border Conference championship.

But Arizona State is not quite out of the picture. If the Devils beat Arizona this Saturday and New Mexico A & M beats Hardin-Simmons Nov. 28, AS will come out on top with a 4-1 record, nosing out H-SU's 3-1 record.

Right now the Demons are third in league standings, but second place Arizona, 2-0, will not play enough games to be eligible for the crown.

Should Hardin-Simmons take the Conference crown, it will be the first time they've done so since 1946.

In last Saturday's competition the Cowboys rode all over winless West Texas, 26-6. The Wildcats journeyed to El Paso to edge out Texas Western, 14-12. Arizona State and New Mexico A & M were idle.

Besides the AS-Arizona clash in Tucson, Saturday's slate has New Mexico A & M at West Texas and Texas Western hosting Trinity. Hardin-Simmons takes a holiday.

Winkles Stresses Fundamentals; Baseball Intra-Squad Games End

New head baseball coach Bobby Winkles moved his varsity and freshmen teams into their final two weeks of fall practice yesterday, with the emphasis now completely on fundamentals.

Up until then, the teams had been busily engaged in intra-squad games.

Winkles said no baseball candidate will be allowed to come out in the spring unless he is either on the football or basketball teams, or did not attend Arizona State first semester.

This year no freshmen will play with the varsity, so that they will be eligible to compete in possible NCAA playoff games their senior year.

Winkles is optimistic about his first year as head mentor and said, "Our pitching should be fairly strong, but all three outfield positions are wide open due to the graduation of Ken Toney, Hadley Hicks, and Bill Mead."

Philip Morris Inc. Will Stage Stereophonic Hi Fi Contest

The time has come to once again start collecting empty cigarette packages, announces Gene Hastings, campus representative for Philip Morris, Inc. Marlboro, Philip Morris, Spud, and Parliament packages will count towards the winning of a unique Motorola Stereophonic HI FI set, to be given away as the grand prize.

The contest, scheduled to commence 15 November and extend through 20 December, will be open to all campus fraternal organizations and independent dormitory groups. Contest rules, already in the mails, are regulated to give every group, no matter what their size may be, a fair chance to win.

The guy and gal who collect the most packages will each be presented with a Motorola transistor radio. The prizes will be on display at the Hills Record Shop in the Tempe Shopping Center, on and after the 15th of November.
