University Name Official Today

Rifle Team Meets U of A, UCLA Here

Arizona State's Army ROTC rifle team will shoot against UCLA and the University of Arizona today and tomorrow in a match on the AS rifle range.

The Sun Devil team goes into the shoulder-to-shoulder match with a 9-1 record, the only loss being to the University of Missouri team in a postal shoot two weeks ago. The score was 1417 to 1422.

Tom Downs is the leading shooter with 283.16 points, and only 3.16 points separate the first seven contenders. Team coach, M/Sgt. John Booth, said he would like to have three more shooters above 280. "If we can accomplish that, we'll be the hardest team to beat in the 6th Army area," he concluded.

Downs, James Ferris, Dave Shore, Richard Anderson and Gary Stuart are the first five shooters. They, along with Jack Jones, Dick Matteson, Joe Andrews, Roger Baker and Harry Zakes, will be the team competing against the U of A.

In postal matches, each team files on its home range under rigid supervision. Scores are cleared and then circulated.

Shoulder-to-shoulder matches are shot with the competing teams firing against each other on the same range.

Auto Accident Claims Student

A two-car collision Wednesday night resulted in the death of an Arizona State University student.

The victim, Richard Borup, was registered in the College of Education as a freshman.

The accident occurred at 44th Street and Thomas.

Arizona State Debaters Compete In Coast Tourney

Five members of the Arizona State debate team are competing today and tomorrow in the Western Alternate Forensic Tournament at the University of Southern California at Los Angeles.

Attending the annual meet for debaters who did not enter the Annual Western Forensic Tournament, held this year Nov. 24-26 in Salt Lake City, are Doug Miller as an individual

NAME CHANGE FEATURED . . .

Sahuaro Has New Look

Arizona State UNIVERSITY will be the theme this year of the largest Sahuaro in the history of Arizona State.

The annual features a special Name Change section, which tells in words and pictures the entire story of the change.

A new University Life Section, a picture-calendar of activities on the ASU campus, will use special technicolor pages for the first time.

Another highlight will be an index of all students pictured.

More than sixty pages will be devoted to organizations while an additional seventy will feature the Greeks and their campus activities.

For the first time, only the senior class will be pictured individually, thus making more room for the Sports and Student Government sections.

Sahuaro copies may be purchased at the Student Financial Office, Room 207 of the Memorial Union.

Editor Ron Ellenson is assisted by Ida Hocken, University Life; Allana Wilson and Jessica Thomas, Dormitories and Greeks; Elizabeth Bixby Name Change Section; Ann Robinson, School Administration; Donna Lonatska, Seniors; Deana Dorman, Sports; Vernon Cardwell, Organizations; L i n d a Church, Student Index; Linda Purlia and Cathy Brimhall, Student Government; Bill Bayer, Photography, and Arden Lawrence, Sahuaro Secretary.

Yearbook editor Ron Ellenson has announced that December 15th is the deadline for space reservations in the 1959 Sahuaro for organizations and special interest groups.

McFarland Signs '200'

Governor Ernest W. McFarland is expected to sign Arizona State's university name into the books this morning at 10 in the office of Secretary of State Wesley Bolin.

The action, formerly expected about Nov. 24, has been delayed two weeks by a recount of Pima County ballots.

The delinquent ballots were received yesterday by special delivery, enabling Bolin to complete the necessary vote canvass in time for the signing ceremony this morning.

Arizona voters endorsed Proposition 200, the name change initiative measure, by a margin of nearly two to one Nov. 4.

Sun Angel Grant To Aid Students

The Sun Angel Foundation yesterday donated $6,714.41 for engineering and agricultural scholarships at ASU.

The Foundation, known primarily as a booster of ASU athletics, also provides agricultural and engineering as well as general academic scholarships to aid ASU students.

The money was raised at the third annual Sun Angel Night at Western Greyhound Racing Inc. in October. A total of $15,000 has been raised at the special race nights in the past three years.

Jobs for students are also provided by Western Greyhound during the season.

Fair catch?

Intramurals Attract 500 Participants

Still interested in football? Well, so are some 500 ASU students who, for the next two weeks, will do or die for their fraternity, hall or organization in intramural warfare.

Intramurals are a year-round activity for ASU students and right now football holds their attention. The season started Dec. 2 and ends Dec. 18.

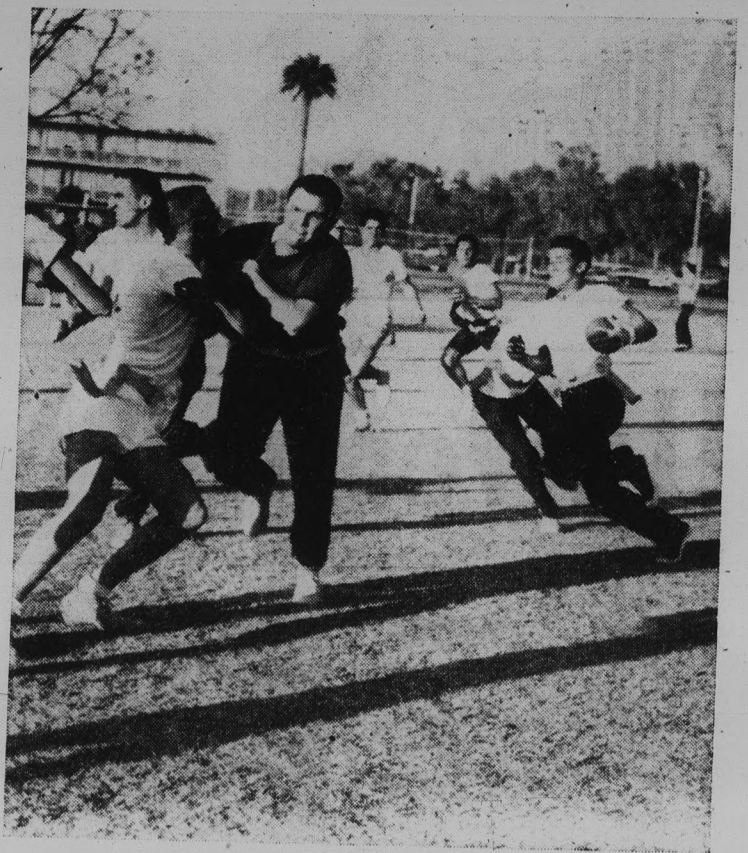

Intramural football will end this semester with the Cactus Bowl to be played Dec. 18, at 7:30 in Goodwin Stadium. The Cactus Bowl will consist of the league play-offs. A girl's football game between two women's dorms also will be offered.

The regular intramural games are played during the week starting at 3:30 in the afternoon. The teams are divided into five leagues, the Arizona, State, University, Sun, and Devil.

There are now over 550 individual participants in the intramural program. Twenty-eight different organizations have entered teams in the various sports.

This semester, competition has been offered in volleyball, tennis, cross-country, football, and horseshoes. Sports offered next semester include badminton, bowling, basketball, swimming, softball, golf, wrestling, and track.

According to the Registrar's office, today is the deadline for petitioning to drop classes.

Refreshments, Entertainers Are Features Of "At Home"

Free refreshments, singing Christmas carols and ballads, and entertainment will be featured at the "At Home" series in the Memorial Union lower lounge Sunday, 9-10:30 p.m.

This is the first in a series of fireside "get togethers" sponsored by the Social Board.

Carole Curtis is chairman of the series.

The "At Home" series was initiated two years ago by the Freshman council.

The Memorial Union building is the student's home away from home, being the center of campus activities. According to Mrs. David B. Scouler, MU director, the lower lounge is most appropriate for the "at-homes."

Hot cider and popcorn will be served.

Evangeline Mendoza and John Sumners will play the piano, while other students will entertain with their guitars.

Regular school dress is in order for Sunday evening's event, and it is open to all ASU students.

Culley, Parker Organ Recital Slated Sunday

An organ recital sponsored by the Music Department and performed by Sue Culley and Charles Parker will be presented Sunday at 3 p.m. in the First Congregational Church in Tempe.

A brass quartet consisting of Roger Harris and Keith Reidhead, trumpets; Carl Radusch, trombone; and Gary Weingartner, baritone, will accompany the soloists.

CHRISTMAS BONUS

Whether it be a free carton of cigarettes or a $5 bill, or both, Philip Morris, Inc. is playing Santa early this year. Commencing next Monday all campus cigarette vending machines will contain Philip Morris brand cigarettes — some with your free bonus coupon. During the next two weeks we're giving away 50 cartons of free cigarettes and 8 five dollar bills. Coupons will be redeemed at the College bookstore. # Fencing Teams Face Tough Competition

By GORDON PETERSON

Inexperienced ASU fencing teams will face tough competition against UofA, YMCA and Davis-Monthan Air Force Base teams tomorrow.

The invitational tournament, sponsored by the ASU fencing club, will begin at 9 a.m. in the gym and continue until 11 p.m. according to Charles (Chips) Mehard, president.

Events will include women's foil, men's foil, epee and sabre.

Fencing for ASU are Charles Mehard, Richard Guerra, Joseph Terteling, Pat Robeson, Carla McManus, Carole Curtis and B. Currie.

The ASU fencers, with the exception of Mehard, are first-year students of the fencing art. Chips Mehard, with three years experience, has won eight medals in Amateur Fencers League of America and Gay Blades competition, and has fenced in Mexico. He also captured the Northern California epee championship in a tourney at Davis-Monthan AFB.

The ASU teams, however, will be facing opponents with a great deal of experience. Toughest competition is expected to come from the YMCA team, featuring Doctor Edward B. Slote and William A. Meyer.

Dr. Slote, a Phoenix physician, fenced in high school, college and medical school.

Dr. Meyer began fencing 29 years ago at St. John's Military Academy in Wisconsin, where he was team captain and coach. He then transferred to Dartmouth College and again served in the dual capacity. He has honors in competition from 1939 to 1957.

The UofA has three 4-year veterans who have fenced in Arizona, California and Mexico, including a young lady who took first place in the women's division of the tourney at Davis-Monthan.

Saturday's schedule for the men's foil, 9 a.m. Lunch, 1 to 2 p.m. Conclude men's foil and begin men's epee, 2 p.m. to 3:30. Women's foil, 3:30 to 6 p.m. Dinner, 6 to 7 p.m. Sabre and conclude epee, 7 to 11 p.m.

COFFEE TIME . . . Enjoying a coffee break in last Tuesday morning's Student-Faculty coffee hour were, from left to right, Calvert Krueger, Don Kunkel, Walt Giford, Dr. Keith Davis, Marilouise Greene and Dr. Harold Shapiro. The next coffee hour before Christmas will be held next Tuesday from 9 to 10 a.m. in the faculty dining room next to the Devil's Den. These coffee hours are sponsored by the Student-Faculty Relations Board. Besides the free coffee, orange juice and donuts at five cents each are also available. Lately, more faculty members have attended the sessions than students. More students are urged to attend the next meeting Tuesday.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING —

It Could Be You

Arizona State is minus one student today as the result of a two-car collision in Phoenix Wednesday night. On a campus of over 10,000, more than 60% of the student body commutes daily between the university and some off-campus location, according to Campus Security.

This situation is created by the institution's proximity to the major population area of the state and the lack of sufficient on-campus living space.

Although we may heave a sigh of relief that more such student fatalities aren't reported, even one is too many.

With Arizona ranking as the second fastest growing state population-wise and having one of the nation's worst records of traffic deaths, it is perhaps surprising that we haven't had more cases of student deaths from traffic accidents.

While the present circumstances exist — a growing university situated in the heart of a rapidly growing state with an extremely high traffic death toll — it behooves all students and faculty members to join in an automobile safety campaign by being the most courteous and cautious drivers in the state.

This in no way means that the student mentioned was at fault.

It does, however, mean that every automobile driver should observe traffic and safety rules . . . Keep their cars in good working condition by having safety checks every year . . . Avoid driving while under the influence of alcohol or suffering from fatigue.

Remember, accidents aren't just stories put in newspapers. They can happen to you.

Tightening Up

Admission and academic standards are never ending topics of debate on most campuses. Arizona State is no different.

Recently the Board of Regents announced that the results of an admission requirement study would be made public late this month. The study deals in part with creating uniform requirements for ASU, UofA and ASC.

Naturally it is too soon to know the nature of the committee's report, however, there are hopes that requirements will be tightened all around.

At present, a high school diploma from an approved school is the only requirement. In the light of present day educational practices, where everyone eventually graduates if he so desires, the diploma requirement isn't enough.

Most states restrict admission to their colleges and universities to at least the top 65 per cent of the graduating class without drawing cries of pain from taxpayers. Indeed, by restricting college work to those definitely qualified, the tax burden would be reduced.

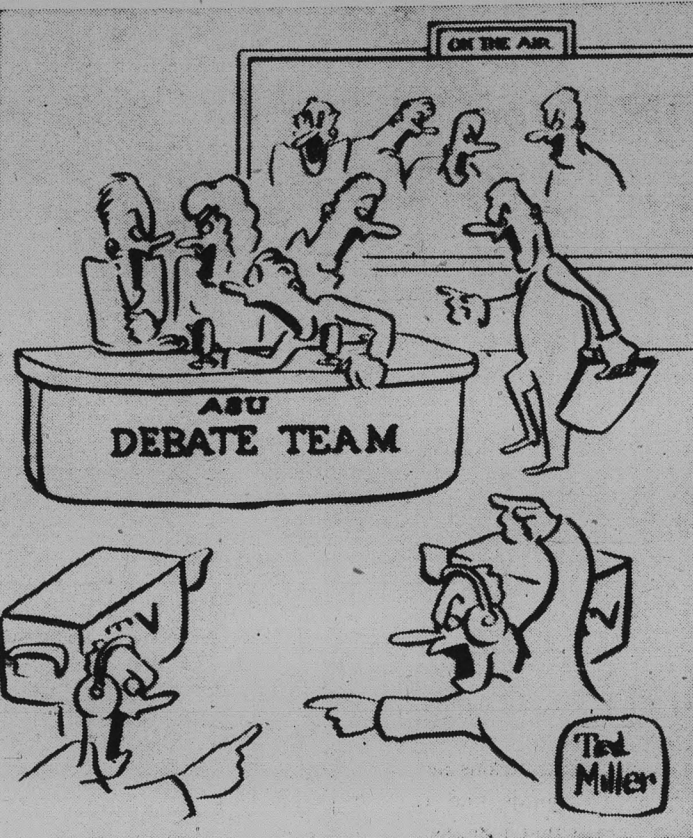

Notice has been served by Dr. H. D. Richardson academic vice president, that "quality education" is the goal of ASU.

During the past three years, an overall tightening of academic standards has become evident here.

It is to be hoped that the Board of Regents' admissions report will show the same evidence of strength.

EDITOR'S Scratchpad

BY PHIL FRY

Cultural Affairs board chairman Valerie Clark has raised a legitimate point about audience etiquette in her letter to the editor printed below.

She says the commotion during performances at the Homecoming dance was excessive and that a large number of people were discourteous at a recent piano concert.

The second point is certainly well taken. Presumably, those in attendance at any concert are there by choice. They knew in advance who was to perform, and the artist's reputation.

Under these circumstances, rudeness is inexcusable.

However, her other example is less valid. How much checking is done when acts are lined up to fill band intermissions at

To The Editor

I hate to play the same theme song that has been used quite frequently on previous occasions, but something must be done.

If we are a university, we must act like university students. I will relate to you two recent incidents which have caused my blood pressure to fluctuate.

At the Homecoming dance, the board in charge spent money to hire entertainers to perform during the dance. The noise and talking was so loud that standing halfway across the ballroom I could not hear them.

Another, and, more serious, offense was committed recently when a talented pianist performed here. While she was taking her encore, half the audience was struggling with papers and coats and streaming toward the door!

This is the worst social error I have ever witnessed.

Please, fellow students, be courteous to those who spend their time and your money trying to entertain you.

Just Askin'

By CHARLES R. CONLEY
 "What do you think about getting married before you finish your education?"

Grace Silva: Soph. — single. I think it depends on the situation of the couple, but in my case I am an elementary education student, and I feel it is necessary to get my degree first. I feel I'll be a better wife after I get my education, because I'll be able to devote my full time to being a wife.

Silva

Krofchik

Charles Krofchik: Soph. — single. I think it is all right to get married before you finish school. It depends on the couple. They could help each other financially and also help each other with their studies.

William Ross: Sr. — married. Even though I love my wife dearly, I would recommend anyone contemplating marriage to wait because it does pose an economic problem. I also find it harder to concentrate on my studies at home. Of course on the other side I believe marriage makes a person more stable.

Ross

Todd

Betsy Todd: Sr. — married. I feel marriage is a great institution. I don't believe in long engagements (not more than a year) and a couple should get married when they fall in love even if they are both attending school.

My husband and I are both more settled and also broke.

Junior-Senior Honorary Plans Initiation Thursday

bois and Margaret O'Leary. Following the ceremonies, scheduled for President Grady Gammage's office, will be a traditional Pleiades party for members present.

THE GIFT HORSE

I know how busy you are—studying, going to class, catching night crawlers—but let me interrupt your multifarious activities—studying, going to class, helping old grads find their dentures after Homecoming—to remind you that busy as you are—studying, going to class, searching for meat in the dormitory stew—time and tide wait for no man, and the Yuletide will soon be upon us. Busy or not, we must turn our thoughts to Christmas shopping. Let us, therefore, pause for a moment in our busy schedules—studying, going to class, rolling drunks—to examine a number of interesting gift suggestions.

We will start with the hardest gift problem of all: What do you give to the person who has everything? Well sir, there follows a list of a half dozen gifts which I will flatly guarantee the person who has everything does not have:

1. A dentist's chair.
2. A low hurdle.
3. A street map of Perth.
4. Fifty pounds of chicken fat.
5. A carton of filter-tip Marlboros.
6. A carton of non-filter Philip Morris.

"What?" you exclaim, your young eyebrows rising in wild incredulity. "The person who has everything does not have cartons of filter Marlboros and non-filter Philip Morris?" you shriek, your young lips curling mockingly. "What arrant nonsense!" you rasp, making a coarse gesture.

And I reply with an emphatic no! The person who has everything does not have filter Marlboros and non-filter Philip Morris—not for long anyhow—because if he has Marlboros and Philip Morris and if he is a person who likes a mild, mellow, fresh, flavorful cigarette—and who does not? eh? who does not?—why, then he doesn't have Marlboros and Philip Morris; he smokes them. He might possibly have a large collection of Marlboro and Philip Morris butts, but whole Marlboros and Philip Morris? No. An emphatic no!

Now we take up another thorny gift problem: What do you buy your girl if you are broke? Quite a challenge, you will agree, but there is an answer—an ingenious, exciting answer! Surprise your girl with a beautiful bronze head of herself!

Oh, I know you're not a sculptor, but that doesn't matter. All you have to do is endear yourself to your girl's roommate, so she will be willing to do you a favor. Then some night when your girl is fast asleep, have the roommate butter your girl's face—quietly, so as not to wake her—and then quietly pour plaster of Paris on top of the butter and then quietly wait till it hardens and quietly lift it off—the butter will keep it from sticking—and then bring you the mold, and you will pour bronze in it and make a beautiful bust to surprise your girl with!

Remember, it is important—very important—to endear yourself to the roommate, because if anything should go wrong, you don't want to be without a girl for the holiday season.

© 1958 Max Shulman

Your gift problem is no problem if you will give Marlboros to your filter smoking friends and Philip Morris to your non-filter smoking friends. Both come in soft pack or flip-top box; both are made by the sponsor of this column.

Results Of Greek Pranks Good, Bad, And Indifferent

By PETEY OLMSTED

All ended well, according to pledges of Alpha Tau Omega and Gamma Phi Beta whose walkout last week left the ATO active home alone with an empty refrigerator. Meanwhile, the pledges were cooking dinner over a desert campfire and singing songs. Keeping to tradition, an active was kidnaped, and the whole group remained undiscovered.

But revenge was tasted by Lambda Chi Alpha actives who caught their pledges on a walkout with Alpha Delta Pi pledges Wednesday.

Wise Alpha Epsilon Phi

pledges when caught on a walkout Monday evening appeased the actives with refreshments at Helsing's in Phoenix. During the walkout, pledges collected clothing for a rummage sale.

Clever Delta Gamma pledges kidnaped the entire active chapter at 5 a.m. one recent morning, but started the day off right by treating them to breakfast at Mariana Roca's home in Phoenix.

Alpha Sigma Alpha pledges will arise with the sun tomorrow morning to work at their rummage sale in Phoenix, beginning at 6 a.m.

A "night out with the boys" is in store for Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity members and actives. Tomorrow evening they'll stage the annual "pledge-active stag party."

New pledge president of the group is Thomas Rosenbaum.

Outstanding Alpha Phi pladge last week Mary Kay Landkamer, who's wearing a gold pledge pin this week because of the honor, and Pam Gannarelli is wearing the gold necklace honoring her service to the sorority last week.

June Morris, Kappa Delta pledge, is pinned to Don Gaare, Phi Delta Theta.

Theta Chi members are busy getting established in their new two-story house at 28 W. Eighth, in Tempe.

New officers recently installed are Al Thomas, secretary, and Joe Bacskay, chaplain.

Christmas formals this weekend include that of Sigma Phi Epsilon tonight at the Valley Ho, Phi Sigma Kappa's in Chandler tomorrow, Alpha Phi's at the Valley Ho tomorrow, Tau Kappa Epsilon's at Sky Harbor tomorrow, and Chi Omega's at the Desert Rose tomorrow. Have fun, groups.

Remember to keep a place open on your holiday calendar for the all-Greek Christmas party next Sunday evening, Dec. 13, at the TKE house. Snow, Christmas carols, food, and a good time are in store for those attending the free event.

Tate Parker was recently added to the Sigma Chi Sigma pledge roster.

ADPi pledge of the month, Martha Peck; active of the month, Bev Dryer; and new pledge class treasurer, Diane Davis, were honored at a coke party given by the pledges recently.

AS Cagers Tour Southwest, Hit Tulsa, Wichita, Houston

By BOB LAIRSON

The Arizona State University basketball team will engage three tough opponents this weekend on a back-breaking swing through the Southwest.

The Sun Devils will open their away schedule against the University of Wichita's Wheatshockers tonight in Wichita, Kan., travel to Tulsa, Okla., for a battle with the University of Tulsa's Hurricanes tomorrow, and then meet perhaps the strongest of the three Missouri Valley Conference foes in the University of Houston's Cougars Monday night.

The Demon starting lineup will be minus guard Ed Olson, team captain for last Monday's game. Olson reported for practice with a head and chest cold on Wednesday and was replaced in the starting five by Paul Denham, whose vacated position was in turn filled by Gary Norton. Olson will make the trip, however.

The Wichita starting quintet will have 6-5 Al Tate and 6-8 Elbert Urban at forwards, 6-9 Everett Wessel at center, 6-2 Sy Rosdeitcher at one guard, and the team's shortest starter 6-1 Virgil Brady at the other guard. The Wheatshockers have several promising reserves and hope to better their 1957-58 record of 14 wins and 12 losses.

Wichita was 63-58 victor over Texas Western last Tuesday and will be looking for its second win over Border Conference opponents.

Tulsa, losing only one starter from last year's squad, is led by All-conference guard Roger Wendall, a 5-11 sparkplug who averaged 17.5 points per game last year. Dave Voss, 6-4 will man the other guard position. Other starters are 6-5 Jack Pontious and 6-8 Ed Scruggs at forwards and 6-8 Bob Goodall at center.

Houston has one of the tallest teams the Devils will face this season. Eddie Erickson, a 6-8 center, will be joined in the rebounding department by 6-11 Bill Hathaway and 6-10 Carl Haleigh. Gary Phillips, 6-3, and 6-1 Bill Tuffli will man the guard spots.

TWO MORE . . . Points go into the books as Ed Olson shoots one with Whittier's Carroll Hooks (23) attempting to break up the play. Poet Bill Donner (3) and Devil scoring star Paul Denham (44) watch the action. The Demons crushed the Californians, 89-60.

FIG'S FILE

By VIC FIGARELLI

Employing the dart board approach in picking football winners the season past, this column finished with a 40-21 record, a .655 percentage. I knew I should have quit when I lost 14c on the World Series.

Houston's Cougars, who beat their first two opponents of the season by 30 and 32 points, respectively, go into Monday night's basketball game as 11-

Imps On Road, Play Luke AFB

The Arizona State Sun Imps basketball team goes after its second win of the season Friday night when they travel to Luke Field Air Force Base.

The Imps, who edged Williams AFB 74-73, in their season opener, will start Harvey Darche (6-3) and Ollie Payne (6-4) at forwards; Mike McConnell (6-6) at the pivot; and Les Kuhnz (5-11), and Chico Morrison (6-3) at guards.

point favorites, according to Sporting News.

Of the 18 teams on the Arizona State '58-59 schedule, the Devils have met 12 in former years. Of those 12 AS holds a series edge over only three teams: Los Angeles State (5-2), Texas Western (25-22) and New Mexico A&M (26-25); Hardin-Simmons and AS have broken even in 24 matches.

The longest series, of course, is with the University of Arizona, and it is by far the most pathetic . . . the U-Cats, since the cage wars started between the two schools in 1923, lead by a 75-26 bulge.

Here's hoping the breaks are with ASC-Flagstaff tomorrow at Tucson against Gustavus Adolphus. It will be a meeting of two small college monsters, and we would like to see the Lumberjacks in the Holiday Bowl at St. Petersburg, Fla., Dec. 20.

position to 1257 yards and a 125.7 average. Halfback Leon Burton was second in individual rushing with 642 yards in 108 carries. However, his 6.0 average was 1.2 yards per carry better than that of front-running Pete Hart of Hardin-Simmons.

In overall offense, the Demons again were on top with 3795 yards and a 379.5 yard average per game. Defensively, the Sun Devils allowed their opponents only 1257 yards.

John Hangartner leads the BC in passing yardage with 1208 yards. The Devils, however, finished no higher than fourth in forward passing offense, with a total of 1256 yards. Arizona was first with 1409.

Copper Bowl Tilt At ASU Dec. 20

By JEFF KIEHL

Player selections for the first annual Copper Bowl game to be played Dec. 20 at Arizona State's new grid stadium are to be released in the next day or two, according to John Woudenburg, secretary of the Copper Bowl Committee.

Five players from the Border Conference have already accepted invitations and will represent the Southwest All-Stars coached jointly by Frank Kush of Arizona State and Frank Broyles of Arkansas.

Included in the five are Sun Devil stars John Hangartner, Leon Burton, Joe Belland, and Al Carr. The other is guard Jerry Epps of West Texas State College.

A sixth member of the Southwest squad is All-Southwest Conference tackle Bill Michels of Arkansas.

National All-Stars selected thus far are Tom Greene, quarterback from Holy Cross, All-East guard Don Healy, also from Holy Cross, and highly rated All-America nominee quarterback Billy Stacy, of Mississippi State.

Proceeds from the clash will go to the March Of Dimes Charities, Inc.

Tickets arrangements may be made by calling the Arizona State Ticket office, WO 7-1411, Extension 231, or by mailing orders for tickets to John Weisand, ASU Ticket Manager.

Ticket prices range from $3.50 to $5.

Lemoyne Perkins of Lambda Delta Sigma ran the mile-and-a-quarter in six minutes, 30 seconds to win the event in intramural competition.

His fraternity brother, Jim Tryon, finished second, Joe Waters of Sigma Chi Sigma third, with Ed Raymer of Phi Sigma Kappa fourth.

Forty-four men from eleven teams entered the race, which started in front of the gym and continued through the campus and city. Top five teams were L.D.S., Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Chi Sigma, Sahuaro Hall and Haigler Hall.

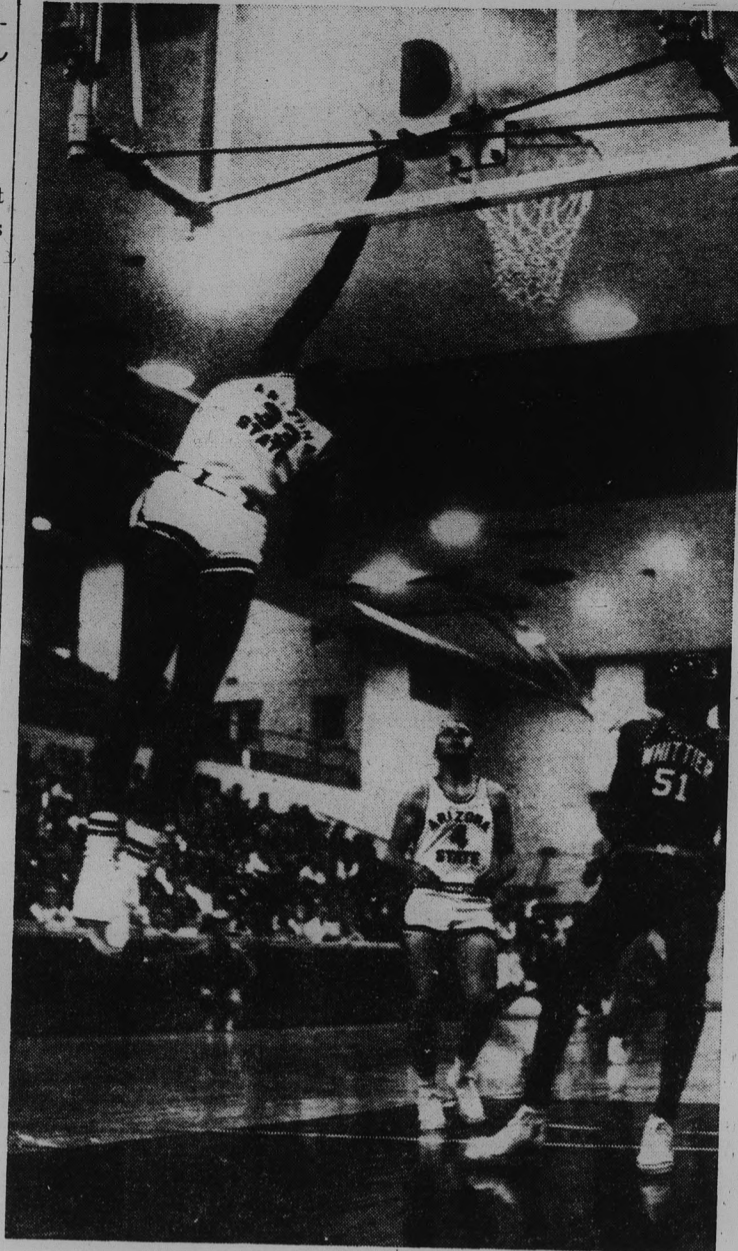

Phi Sigma Kappa presently holds first place in the Intramurals with 58 points. Delta Sigma Phi is second with 41, then Alpha Tau Omega and Sigma Nu tied with 36; Hayden Hall, 34; Sigma Chi Sigma, 32; Haigler Hall, 27; Sahuaro Hall, 26; Delta Chi, 25; and Phi Delta Theta, 22.

Richard Reakes of Sahuaro

Hall leads the individual standings with 14 points, followed by Ed Olson of Delta Chi with 10.

Bob Harness of Phi Sigma and Arno Lauterback of Hayden Hall have nine points each. Chuck Murdough of Sahuaro Hall, Lemoyne Perkins of L.D.S. and Bill Plank of Phi Sigma Kappa have eight points each. Fifth place is shared by Curt Swanson of Hayden Hall, Jim Tryon of L.D.S. and Dick Yates of Phi Sigma Kappa with seven points each.

In ping pong, Joe Parks of Sahuaro Hall finished first among some 68 players. Tom Stabler was second with Blaine Steel of Delta Phi third and Ken Heinze fourth.

FAST BREAK . . . Effectiveness shows here as Al Nealey (33) dunks a two-pointer. Whittier's Herm Mason (51) looks hopefully for a rebound, as Paul Howard (4) backs up the play for Nealey. Nealey scored 19 points for the night, but Paul Denham topped him with 21.

Football Banquet Dec. 11

The annual Arizona State football banquet has been set for next Thursday, at 7 p.m. in the Memorial Union ballroom.

The 1958 team, which won seven games and lost three, will be honored, with special plaquets going to its graduating seniors and to '58 co-captains John Hangartner and Tom Ford.

The Sun Angels Foundation and the Phoenix Alumni Association chapter sponsor the yearly feed.

Walt Ditzen, who pens the Fan Fare cartoons appearing in the Arizona Republic, and who is a Sun Angel member, will serve as master of ceremonies at the $4 a plate stag affair.

Besides the lineup of entertainment and speakers, the program will include the naming of the 1959 co-captains of the AS eleven.

The Oil Can award will be given to the team member who contributed most to team spirit and morale. Last year's winner was center Dave "Buckets" Fonner.

The most valuable Sun Devil player of 1958 will also be spotlighted. Bobby Mulgado, Arizona State's triple-threat back and winner of four varsity football letters, won the 1957 MVP award.

In all, 59 men will step up to receive mementoes for their work in 1958's ASU grid campaign. Thirty varsity letters will go to both players and managers, and 29 frosh numerals will be given.
