ROTC Records All Wins

ASU's Army ROTC Rifle Team concluded the first semester with a record of seventeen wins and four defeats in postal matches and nine wins and no defeats in shoulder-to-shoulder competition.

Sun Devil shooters outpointed Harvard, Colgate, UCLA, University of Connecticut, Michigan State, St. Bonaventure, Fordham, Cornell, Middlebury, University of California, Lehigh, US Air Force Academy, Utah State, Wake Forest, Washington State and the University of Minnesota. They lost postal matches to the University of Mississippi, University of Missouri, Montana State College, and Maine University.

In shoulder-to-shoulder matches, the marksmen defeated the University of Arizona, UCLA and the Phoenix All-City team.

While competing against a field of 54 teams in the 6th Army Area, the ASU team placed 4th in the national Hearst Trophy Match. The riflemen also took six first place trophies in the Central Arizona Shooting League.

Team members include Tom Downs, Dave Shoore, Joe Andrews, Gary Stuart, Roger Baker, James Farris, Dick Mattson, Bob Holtzman, Harry Zakas, George Shoemaker, John Jones, Perry Tribbey, and Tom Wadham. Coaches are M-Sgt. John H. Booth and Capt. John J. Luxemburger, Jr., both ROTC.

The team is now practicing for the state big-bore championships at Papago Park on Washington's birthday and two road trips, one to El Paso, Texas, for the Southwestern Invitational, and one to Los Angeles to compete in the National Intercollegiate Sectionals at UCLA.

Men Have Priority At ASU

Men outnumber women more than two to one at ASU.

There were 26 coeds and 1,901 male students in the College of Applied Arts and Sciences, the third largest college of the university, last semester.

In the College of Business Administration, smallest of the five colleges, males outnumbered females 1,261 to 266.

In the fourth largest, the Graduate College, male students numbered 1,091 women students 522, and the men retained their lead 1,368 to 1,017 in the largest college of all, Liberal Arts.

However, the coeds took the upper hand in the College of Education, second largest of the five, outnumbering their male counter-parts 1,348 to 908.

The total for the university was 6,529 men and 3,179 women, according to an analysis of first semester enrollment at ASU, released last week by Alfred Thomas, registrar and director of admissions.

If a coed were going to ASU to get a husband as well as an education, she might do well to enroll in the Technology and Industry Division where there were two women for 351 men, or the Division of Architecture and Construction with its three women and 219 men.

On the other hand, the Kindergarten-Primary Division of the College of Education had an enrollment of 217 women and two men, while the School of Nursing had 197 women and only two men.

Other statistics released by Mr. Thomas reveal that 89.21 per cent of on-campus students at ASU were Arizona residents, 9.47 per cent live in other states, 1.26 per cent were from foreign countries and .06 per cent were from United States' possessions.

Students from 44 states, 37 foreign countries and two U. S. possessions were enrolled last semester, with California furnishing the largest number of out-of-state students, while Canada led the foreign countries.

Sun Devil Band Annual Concert Set For Tuesday

The ASU Concert Band's spring concert will be held in the Phoenix Union High School auditorium Feb. 17 from 8 to approximately 9:15 p.m.

Free tickets are available from band members and most valley music stores. Persons without tickets will be admitted to available seats five minutes before the concert begins.

The 75-piece band, directed by Harold Hines, will open the concert with the "School Musician March" by Beebe and Paul. Other selections include: Tchaikowsky's "Capriccio Italien," Richard Strauss' "Concerto in E-Flat Major for Horn and Band," Sullivan's "Pineapple Poll Ballet Suite," Virgil Thompson's "A Solemn Music," Miklos Rozsa's "Themes and Moods," Mendelssohn's "Concerto in G Minor for Piano and Band," Jean Sibelius' "Valse Triste," Morton Gould's "American Salute" and Strauss' "Death and Transfiguration."

Selections from "South Pacific" will conclude the concert.

Donate Blood

AS Drive Date Set Feb. 17

A blood drive will be held on campus Feb. 17-19.

The purpose of this drive is to get blood for the Veterans Administration Hospital. Those people who are willing to donate should report to the Health Service sometime during those afternoons.

As an expression of thanks from the hospital, all donors will be registered with the Southwest Blood Service Plan. Membership in this organization guarantees your receipt of, and payment for, all the blood you may need for one year, anywhere in the United States, Mexico or Canada. If you do not need this type of coverage, the membership card will be reissued to any person you designate.

Anyone between the ages of 21 and 59, who is in good health, can give blood. Persons 18-20 may also donate provided they have parental consent. Should this latter age group be in the armed forces, reserves, or married, parental consent is not required.

Those students who wish to donate and are not 21, may clip the permission blank from page two of the State Press. It is to be turned in to Mrs. Kilbourne's office in the Administration Building.

Miller, Boysen Named Regents

O. D. Miller, Phoenix, and Mrs. B. C. Boysen, Douglas, were appointed to the Board of Regents by Governor Fannin yesterday.

The appointments fill vacancies made by John Jacobs, Phoenix, and Mrs. Evelyn W. Kirmse, Tucson.

Miller, widely known produce man and civic figure, has been active in Valley and state affairs many years. He sought the governorship as the Republican candidate and has been a senator from Maricopa county.

Painting Reproductions Are Available For Rent

Reproductions of famous paintings and prints are now available to students.

Ranging from 15th century Renaissance to contemporary and from realism to abstraction, the framed, ready-to-hang reproductions are available on a rental basis of $1.00 per semester.

Examples of the art works, purchased by the ASASU, are now on exhibit on the Mezzanine in the Memorial Union.

The reproductions may be rented at the MU information desk.

The Traffic Appeals Board will hold its future meetings on Wednesdays at 3:30 in MU 208.

FREE COFFEE . . . Students and faculty drink coffee and chat at the Student-Faculty Coffee Hour, yesterday. Event was sponsored by the Student-Faculty committee. Included on the agenda was a discussion of plans for Family Night, Friday. Dates of future coffee hours have not been announced.

ASU Physics Department Awarded $18,300 AEC Grant

An $18,300 grant from the metallurgy and materials branch of the Atomic Energy Commission has been awarded to the ASU Physics department.

The grant will provide for a year's research into the electrical behavior of semiconductors after exposure in a nuclear reactor. Semiconductors are materials used commercially to make transistors, rectifiers and light and heat detectors.

The project, under the supervision of Dr. Ben Gossick, ASU professor of Physics, will include a study of exposed titanium dioxide and a study of possible electrical fluctuations within radioactive germanium.

The latter study is being carried out by Dr. Gossick and Dr. J. H. Crawford Jr., assistant director of the solid-state division, Oak Ridge National Laboratory.

Donald K. Stevens, chief of the metallurgy and materials branch of the AEC, said, "This was the first opportunity for this branch to support research in Arizona, and it is particularly encouraging to note the degree of partnership between the AEC and the university."

Various Companies, Schools Seek Prospective Employees

Job recruiting on campus continues tomorrow.

Ted MacDonald of Phoenix will interview for insurance sales, and a representative from Sixth Army Medical Service Corps will interview engineers, business administration majors, and biological science or chemistry majors for direct commissions in the M.S.C. Mr. Stolliker, of Palo Verde Unified School District, will continue to interview teaching candidates for all levels, from elementary through junior college.

Friday, Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., U. S. Naval Laboratory of San Diego and the US Army Ordnance Weapons Command will interview students in the Placement Center. Capt. W. E. Hutchison of the US Marine Corps, will interview students interested in the U.S.M.C. Officers Procurement program on the MU patio Friday, Saturday and Monday.

W. A. Ralston of Lincoln National Life Insurance Company will be here Monday to interview business administration majors interested in salaried sales positions. Recruiters from Arthur Andersen will interview accounting seniors, Monday and Tuesday.

Mechanical, civil and electrical engineers (power option only) will be interviewed by A. J. Mickow of US Army Engineers Tuesday.

W. T. Grant Co. and Union Oil recruiters will see graduating seniors Wednesday, Feb. 18. The Grant Company is interested in retail management trainees. Union Oil has positions in the Comptrollers division, for which accounting, economics, finance and general business majors will be considered. They are also interested in electrical engineers for their Communications division.

Williams Moorhead, from Anaheim Jr. & Sr. High Schools Calif., will interview for teaching vacancies in all subjects, Feb. 18.

Lucky Strike presents

—the funniest, easiest way yet to make money!

PUT IN A GOOD WORD AND MAKE $25!

Speak English all your life and what does it get you? Nothing! But start speaking Thinklish and you may make $25! Just put two words together to form a new (and much funnier) one. Example: precision flight of bumblebees: Swarmation. (Note: the two original words form the new one: swarm+formation.) We'll pay $25 each for the hundreds and hundreds of new Thinklish words judged best—and we'll feature many of them in our college ads. Send your Thinklish words (with English translations) to Lucky Strike, Box 67A, Mt. Vernon, N. Y. Enclose name, address, college or university, and class. And while you're at it, light up a Lucky. Get the full, rich taste of fine tobacco—the honest taste of a Lucky Strike.

LICORICE STICKS . . . Members of the clarinet section of the Arizona-California district convention concert band earnestly play their parts. ASU hosted representatives of Kappa Kappa Psi and Tau Beta Sigma, national honorary band fraternity and sorority, respectively, last weekend. Students attended from the U. of California at Los Angeles, the U of A, ASC at Flagstaff, and ASU.

Music Recital Scheduled Tonight In MU Ballroom

A music recital this evening in the MU ballroom will feature Clarinetist Donald Glabe, of Wickenburg.

Glabe, an ASU junior, will be assisted by Merrill Harlan of Phoenix, at the piano, and Rodney Gehre of Scottsdale, viola.

The free recital will begin at 8:15.

Glabe and Harlan will perform Paul Hindemith's "Sonata for Clarinet and Piano" and all three will present Mozart's "Trio No. 7 in E-flat Major for Piano, Clarinet and Viola."

Faculty Member Article Printed

Dr. Robert W. Albright, chairman of the ASU Speech and Drama department, is author of an article in the current issue of the Journal of Language and Speech.

The article, "The Child and the Aphasic," analyzes the differences in the language of children and brain injured adults.

Since the brain-injured adult has suffered a severe setback, Albright said, he must adjust to his changed relations with the world on a level that is inferior to and quite different from his former level.

New Instructor To Teach German

E. Bernell McIntire, former Brigham Young University and University of Michigan teacher, has joined the ASU foreign language department as a German instructor.

McIntire received Bachelor and Master of Arts degrees in German Literature at BYU and has completed course work and examinations for a Doctor of Philosophy degree at the University of Michigan.

In AS Government

Students Can Introduce Bills Through Senators

By GORDON PETERSON

Every student has a voice in ASU government, Ralph Segal, first vice president, emphasized.

All a student need do to make his voice heard is introduce a bill into the ASASU Senate.

Under ASU's three-branch government, every student is represented by at least one senator. Any student wishing to originate legislation may do so only through a senator.

The senator initiates a bill, which, if passed by the senate and signed by President Grady Gammage, will become law.

Although strictly personal grievances are not usually the Senate's concern, often a need of a majority of the student body is recognized only by those to whom it causes a personal hardship, Segal pointed out. For this reason, students are offered the opportunity to consult their senators regarding ideas for changes or improvements.

The ASASU student government can enact legislation to govern any student activity within the framework of college policy.

Previous legislation established and defined the Traffic Appeals Board, Rally and Traditions Board, and the Cultural Affairs Board.

Further information, including names of senators, may be obtained in MU 203 any weekday afternoon between 2:30 and 5.

Dr. Robert Heimann Co-Author Of Book

Dr. Robert A. Heimann, Associate Professor of Education at ASU, has co-authored "Measurement for Guidance," a book dealing with the role of testing in counseling work.

The book, which will be used as a text for college students training for counseling work, explores the value of tests in the educational and vocational counseling of individuals. It discusses testing in general and in the high school counseling program.

Dr. Heimann, director of the ASU Guidance Center, has been a faculty member since 1952.

Co-authors of the book are Dr. Paul J. Danielson, counselor-trainer at the University of Arizona, and Dr. John Rothney, director of the guidance laboratory for superior students at the University of Wisconsin.

Reservations for the student-faculty dinner, to be held in the Memorial Union Feb. 13, must be made by Feb. 13 at 4 p.m. at the MU information desk. Students and faculty members are invited to attend. Student meal tickets will be accepted.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING —

Worth Giving

A small donation on your part may save the life of another.

The Veterans Administration Hospital needs your blood for its patients. It has to come from private sources; it cannot be purchased from blood banks.

Arizona State students will have the opportunity to contribute to the blood bank of the Veterans Ad. Hospital Feb. 17-19.

Persons between the ages of 18-59 in good health may donate blood. Anyone between 18-20 must, however, have signed permission from parents or guardian.

Donating blood is not harmful to one's health. Loaning a pint of blood is comparable to an afternoon's exercise. A person in good health can do either safely. The temporary absence of one pint of blood in the blood stream makes no difference in the functioning of the healthy body.

A person should not go hungry before his donation. He should, however, avoid heavy, fatty foods during the last four hours prior to the time he donates blood.

Following registration and approval of medical history, temperature is taken, hemoglobin is tested, blood pressure and pulse are checked, and a glass of fruit juice is given the donor. Actual blood donation takes about 5 minutes. Afterward a 10 minute rest and another glass of fruit juice await the donor. The entire procedure is under the supervision of a doctor.

We strongly urge that those students and faculty members who are able to donate a pint of blood do so. Not only is the cause beneficial to others, but it is beneficial to the individual donor.

Fine Job

Students and faculty members who attended the after-show party Sunday evening following "The Happiest Millionaire" at the Sombrero Playhouse will probably agree that the Cultural Affairs committee deserves congratulations for arranging the event.

One-hundred and fifty ASU theater-goers attended the party, at which, Walter Pidgeon, star of the production, and other cast members were present.

Held in the Galaxy Room of the Backstage Club, the party was an opportunity for student dramatists to chat with professional actors and actresses about opportunities in the legitimate theater.

In addition to the post-performance get-together, the Cultural Affairs committee is credited with setting up, completely, "ASU Night," including reduced rates for students and a special section of seats.

Thanks also go to the Sombrero management, party host. Refreshments were delicious, and the atmosphere was most enjoyable.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"MIGHTY POOR STUDENTS THIS TERM -- THESE PAPERS ARE SO BAD I CAN'T ADAPT A SINGLE ONE FOR TH' BOOK I'M WRITING!"

By PETEY OLMSTED

Birthdays are a wonderful invention. Wouldn't be without one myself!

For little tots, birthdays mean, among other things, the best time of the year to plead for a new bicycle or a puppy dog.

Parties, cakes, pretty gift-paper, and colored ribbons add to the charm of birthdays for many young folks.

However, as more sand sifts through the hourglass of life, birthdays take on a different aspect. Added years can mean added wrinkles, more gray hair, more responsibilities. The more birthdays we stack up behind us, the less time we have in which to accomplish our goals.

On the happier side, birthdays, even without the presents and parties, mean celebration.

In at least one case, this celebration has gained greater importance since its "owner" expired. How many Americans will be remembered with such reverence as Abraham Lincoln is 94 years after his death?

Another person born on February 12, 1809, as was Lincoln, came from more comfortable beginnings. His father was a poet and physician, an English gentleman.

Like Lincoln, the boy grew to great heights (over six feet tall). He was educated at Cambridge University. The results of his many years of study and research led him to become one of the most controversial figures of his time.

Like Lincoln, his contributions were great enough to merit his being remembered.

Had he carried out his original plan to become a clergyman, we might never have heard of Charles Darwin.

Men, don't forget this Saturday is Valentine's Day. If you're interested in preserving the happy relationship between you and your fair ladies, why not send each and every one of them a "Spurgram?" (See page 5.)

LETTERS to the Editor

To the Editor:

Your answer to Mr. Umbaugh's letter in last week's State Press did not really bear upon the facts. The State Press would be empty if it did not reprint anything that was printed in another paper. Most all sports and social events happening at this university are covered in the local newspapers.

Several of my friends knew the students who were killed and told me about them. In many ways they contributed to the university. I cannot see how an article showing their achievements and what the school has lost in losing them can bring unhappy memories to anyone.

I believe there was a point well taken, and the paper should print an article about these students.

Roger LeBarron

To the Editor:

With reference to the comments you made pertaining to my last letter to you about the students killed in accidents over the semester break: I suggest that you take another look at the job your paper does. Your lead comment about the paper covering current news only, which would not cover events happening over the semester break, does not ring true. I suggest you notice page 12 of your Feb. 4 edition. A quarter-page article by Bob Lairson covers basketball events which dated back a full 18 days before publication. Page 11 carries a similar article, and there were reports on social events happening over the printing break you had. Is this current?

Your comment about not reprinting stories previously covered by other newspapers set me to thinking. I recall reading very good coverages of the basketball games, mentioned above, in the Arizona Republic and the Phoenix Gazette, yet you covered them in your paper. Is this not reprinting?

Please tell me, how would an article honoring the deceased and their achievements here at our great university recall unhappy memories to their families and friends? The student body has had a great loss in all the unfortunate accidents, which took away part of us.

The above is my analysis of your transparent excuses for not printing a memorium to the students who were killed over the break. Even now it is not too late to publish an article about the students for the students.

ART UмбаUGH

Editor's note: We suggest that Mr. Umbaugh and Mr. LeBarron enroll in JO 110.

THE GIRL I LEFT BEHIND ME

It happens every day. A young man goes off to college leaving his home-town sweetheart with vows of eternal love, and then he finds that he has outgrown her. What, in such cases, is the honorable thing to do?

Well sir, you can do what Rock Sigafos did.

When Rock left Cut and Shoot, Pa., he said to his sweetheart, a simple country lass named Tess d'Urbervilles, "My dear, though I am far away in college, I will love you always. I will never look at another girl. If I do, may my eyeballs parch and wither, may my viscera writhe like adders, may the moths get my new tweed jacket!"

Then he clutched Tess to his bosom and planted a final kiss upon her fragrant young skull and went away, meaning with all his heart to be faithful.

...You can do what Rock Sigafos did...

But on the very first day of college he met a coed named Fata Morgana, a girl of such sophistication, such poise, such savoir faire as Rock had never beheld. She spoke knowingly of Franz Kafka, she hummed Mozart, she smoked Marlboros, the cigarette with better "makin's". Now, Rock didn't know Franz Kafka from Pinocchio, or Mozart from James K. Polk, but Marlboros he knew full well. He knew that anyone who smoked Marlboros was modern and advanced and as studded with brains as a ham with cloves. Good sense tells you that you can't beat Marlboro's new improved filter, and you never could beat Marlboro's fine flavor. This Rock knew.

So all day he followed Fata around campus and listened to her talk about Franz Kafka, and then in the evening he went back to the dormitory and found this letter from his home-town sweetheart Tess:

Dear Rock,

Us kids had a keen time yesterday. We went down to the pond and caught some frogs. I caught the most of anybody. Then we hitched rides on trucks and did lots of nutsy stuff like that. Well, I must close now because I got to whitewash the fence.

Your friend,
Tess

P.S. . . . I can do my Hula Hoop 3,000 times.

Well sir, Rock thought about Tess and then he thought about Fata and then a great sadness fell upon him. Suddenly he knew he had outgrown young, innocent Tess; his heart now belonged to smart, sophisticated Fata.

Rock, being above all things honorable, returned forthwith to his home town and walked up to Tess and looked her in the eye and said manfully, "I do not love you any more. I love a girl named Fata Morgana. You can hit me in the stomach with all your might if you like."

"That's okay, hey," said Tess amiably. "I don't love you neither. I found a new boy."

"What is his name?" asked Rock.

"Franz Kafka," said Tess.

"A splendid fellow," said Rock and shook Tess's hand and they have remained good friends to this day. In fact, Rock and Fata often double-date with Franz and Tess and have heaps of fun. Franz can do the Hula Hoop 6,000 times.

All's well that ends well—including Philip Morris. Philip Morris ends well and begins well and is made of superb natural tobaccos by the same people who make Marlboros.

PLEDGES HONORED . . . Dave Barnes welcomes new Tau Kappa Epsilon pledges into the fraternity Monday night in the faculty dining room, as Jim Larson, (1) and Tony Mitten look on.

Skin Diving Club Started On AS Campus

The newly organized Skin Diving Club meets Thursday evenings at 7 in MU 209.

Instructors for the group, Jim Gremanis and O'Jay Bourgeois, invited all students able to swim to join. Under water safety and first aid will be taught, in addition to skin diving.

Journeys to nearby lakes and to Mexico are on the club's agenda.

Dr. Grant L. Richardson and Dr. Thomas W. Barrett, ASU professors of Agronomy, are faculty sponsors.

"Seven Hills of Rome" will be shown tomorrow and Friday nights at 7:30, in Cosner Auditorium. The free movie is sponsored by the Cultural Affairs board.

Election Of Officers, Initiations Hold Greek Activity Spotlight

By KATHY BURKE

Phi Kappa elected Noel Levy chapter president recently. Other new officers are: Charlie Moraga, vice-president; Jim Willsey, treasurer; Dave Groeber, recording secretary, and Raymond Reilly, corresponding secretary.

Sigma Sigma Sigma's ASU chapter was presented a 72-cup silver coffee-maker by the Phoenix alumnae group last week at a surprise party.

CLOUT CATS, 85-62

Devils First In BC

By VIC FIGARELLI

Alone at the top in Border Conference basketball, the Arizona State Sun Devils can thank their chief rival for a big assist.

The Devils routed the University of Arizona, 85-62, Saturday night at Tucson, handing the Wildcats their 15th consecutive loss and driving them deeper into the BC cellar.

For Ned Wulk's quintet, it was the fifth victory in succession and gave them an over-all record of 13 wins and four losses.

ASU gets a chance to lengthen its loop lead this weekend with home games against West Texas and Hardin-Simmons Saturday and Monday, respectively. In the meantime, nearest contenders Texas Western and New Mexico State meet in a crucial tilt at NMSU Monday.

Saturday's big factor was the deadly jump shot of ASU guard Paul Howard. The 5-10 junior put on a dazzling display of accuracy, hitting on 13 of 16 floor attempts for 26 points (three other baskets were nullified by fouls). Two baskets came on layups, one from the key and the rest on jump shots from far out.

Bill Pryor, ASU's 6-6 center, also dealt himself in, scoring 14 points and gathering 16 rebounds. The 14 points represented his best output of the season.

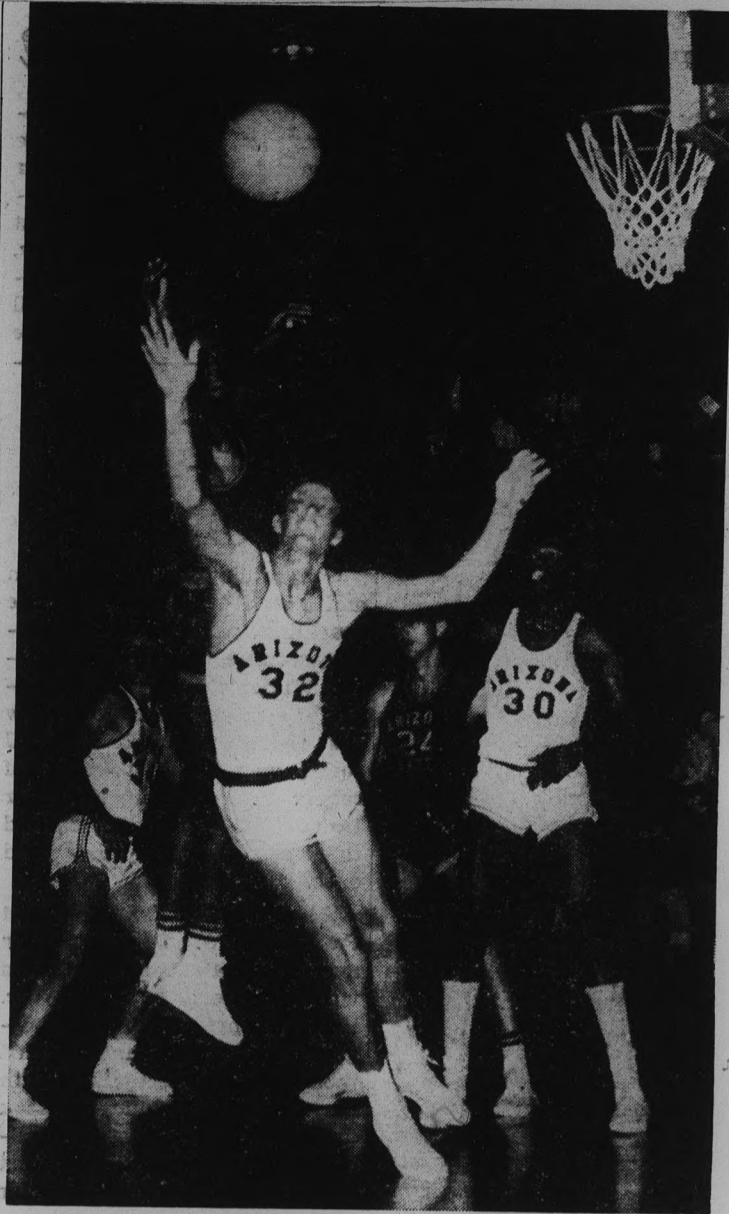

Forward John Bowen added 11 points, and with Howard assisting, worked Wulk's fast break to perfection. At least three times in the late stages of the game a Wildcat defender was caught with his shorts sagging as Bowen and Howard raced in on two-to-one situations.

The usually high-scoring duo of Al Nealey and Paul Denham resigned themselves to decoy duties, eventually finishing with 10 and 8 points, respectively. Starting forward Gary Norton contributed nine points.

Dick Mower was high man for Arizona with 16 points, and Ernie McCray came next with 11.

Jim Brittain, the Cats' leading scorer in the UA-ASU game here two weeks ago, failed to score.

The Tucson team's record is now 2-17.

BRIT(T)AIN FALLS... Jim Brittain (32), Wildcat center, and ASU's Bill Pryor head for a rebound in Saturday's 85-62 Sun Devil victory. Also present are Arizona's Ernie McCray (30), Miles Zeller (34), and ASU's John Bowen (24).

STATISTICS

Nealey, Denham Status Quo

Veteran forward Al Nealey and Paul Denham maintained their 1-2 domination of Sun Devil basketball scoring.

Nealey, playing in all 18 games, leads the Devil pack with 333 points for an 18.4 average. He has dunked 126 field goals and hit on 81 out of 118 free throws.

Nealey's versatility is also apparent defensively, as he leads the cagers with a 10.5 average for rebounds.

Denham, playing in all but one encounter, has compiled 298 points for a 17.1 average. He has sunk 110 field goals and leads the starting quintet in free-throw accuracy with 78 out of 96 for an .812 percentage.

Guard Ed Olson leads in field goal accuracy with 37 hits of 74 attempts for a .505 percentage.

Reserve guard Rich Jarvis has the lowest Sun Devil field goal average, with 7 baskets out of 29 tries for a .241 percentage, but he leads the team in foul shot accuracy with 16 out of 18 successes for an .888 percentage.

In Border Conference activity, Denham and guard Paul Howard are ahead of their nearest teammate in the scoring column, with a 21.3 and 20.1 average, respectively.

Team-wise, the Devils lead their opponents in scoring, averaging 80.9 points to 71.6.

Arizona State's 80.9 figure is good enough to lead the Border Conference in scoring and also enough to place them twelfth in the nation.

Imps Stumble, Fall To Kittens

By BOB LAIRSON

The ASU freshman basketball team, unable to find the range in the first half, allowed the UofA Wildkittens to grab a 74-68 win Saturday night.

It was the Sun Imps' third loss of the season.

The frosh teams collided in the preliminary to the varsity contest. The Sun Imps warmed up in the second half to outscore the Wildkittens, 42-40, but lack of reserves and the Kittens' first period lead kept the ASU freshman five from victory.

In the previous meeting between the two teams, the Sun Imps defeated the Kittens, 66-58, in the Sun Devil Gym.

UofA frosh coach George Rountree called the Kitten exhibition their "best showing of the season."

The Imps came within one point of closing the gap in the final minutes of the game as Chico Morrison and Mike McConnell pushed the tally to 58-59. Morrison ended the evening with 21 points and McConnell with 17 to lead Imp scoring.

Kirk Young of the Wildkittens turned in an outstanding performance as he led both teams in scoring with 24 points and held ASU's Harvey Darche to a meager 7. The Kittens' 6-8 center, Doug Chapman, accounted for 20 points while displaying tremendous rebounding ability. Chapman failed to score in the previous game with the Imps.

The loss left the Sun Imps with a 10-3 record for season play, the other two losses being to Phoenix College.

Globetrotters On Display Tonight

By RICHARD STEHR

A tilt to the hilt with Wilt "The Stilt".

That's what basketball fans can expect to see tonight when the Harlem Globetrotters — led by Wilt "The Stilt" Chamberlain, take to the floor against the Hawaii 50th-Staters in the Sun Devil gym.

WILT THE STILT

The current crew of Globetrotters is heralded as the strongest in the team's 32-year history, and many experts regard the squad as the most powerful in basketball today. But Hawaii coach Art Kim asserts: "We've got a good ball club ourselves and will give them plenty of tough competition."

Globetrotter coach Abe Saperstein will meet the competition with Chamberlain, 7 feet; Clarence Wilson, 5-11; Roman Turman and Tex Harrison, 6-4; McCoy Ingram and Ed Burton, 6-8; Millard Harris, 6-9; dribbling sensation Honey Taylor, 6-even, and the clown of renown, Meadowlark Lemon, 6-1.

The nationally-known Texas Cow Girls will set the cage stage with a contest against the all-male Phoenix Headliners.

Also on tap is a championship table tennis exhibition, pitting England's Richard Bergmann against Japan's Norakazu Fujii, and a rope twirling act by Bud and Rose Carlell.

Activity starts at 8. Tickets may be purchased at the ticket office or at the door.

Intramural managers are asked to attend a meeting tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 to discuss bowling plans and pick up entry blanks.

Beginning Judo Classes Start Tomorrow

The ASU Judo Club will begin classes for beginners tomorrow afternoon at 3 in the men's old gym.

Club advisor Raymond Studer announced that classes are free and are open to interested male students. He said the club will enter some judo tournaments in the state this semester.

COACH IEHL'S CORNER

Congratulations to the team and coach Ned Wulk on the sparkling performance Saturday evening, handing the Tucson Wildcats a 85-62 shellacking. Tucson spectators, few that there were, said the ASU squad was the best bunch of cagers to perform in Bear Down Gym this season, and they've seen some pretty good ones.

Also, the UA fans felt that Paul Howard's 26-point show and ball-handling exhibition was the finest of the year. Howard thrilled the flabbergasted spectators, and dazzled the Wildcat basketballers with his brilliant behind-the-back dribbling and almost impossible passing. The 5-10 backcourt wizard hit on 13 of 16 shots for a phenomenal night's effort.

Arizona State's two top scorers, Paul Denham and Albert Nealey were held to 8 and 10 points respectively, but few noticed the rebounding and floor games by the two. Denham added much to Howard's scoring rampage, as he screened the bedraggled Arizona crew for Howard's jump shot.

Also, sophomore center Billy Pryor led both teams in rebounding and scored his season's high, 14 points, on tip-ins, and fade-away jumps from underneath the hoop.

Believe it or not, football is here again. Coach Frank Kush's charges have started their spring "head-knocking" campaign in preparation for the annual spring intra-squad contest March 9. Several newcomers and ex-servicemen fill the squad to make up for the host of veterans lost through graduation. This department thinks the quarterback situation, somewhat of a problem with Hangartner's loss, will be well taken care of with senior Fran Urban at the helm. Urban sat out last season and gets his big chance in '59.

The "Rock and Roll" craze has caught up with cage boss Ned Wulk. He has been heard walking across campus on the way to practice, singing the rhythmic strains of "Tall Paul (Denham), Small Paul (Howard). They're my guys; they're my all." Shades of Bandstand!!
