

Regents Bar Press

The public and press were excluded from a seven-hour Board of Regents meeting Monday on this campus. Reports varied as to what happened at the meeting.

"We just wrangled back and forth and had a good time," explained Regents President Alex Jacome, declining to specify what decisions had been made.

The reason for the closed doors, Mr. Jacome said, was, "There were a lot of matters we wanted to discuss quietly." Newsmen outside the doors reported hearing "angry voices and heated debate."

Quibbling was "apparently on the customary sectional basis" between Tucson-area and Phoenix-area Regents regarding expansion at ASU and the UofA, according to reports in the daily press.

Under discussion were "a string of programs being sought by ASU and the University of Arizona," Mr. Jacome said. "We eliminated a number of courses requested and approved a lot of them," he said, declining to point out specific action.

Decisions will be made public "at the next meeting," members of the press were told. Mr. Jacome said he didn't know when that would be.

The UofA's requests are said to include "distinction between its history and political science programs, two new PhD-level courses of study, and a new program in accounting."

ASU's request list is said to include a school of architecture and bachelors degree in Architecture, an honors program, new engineering programs, and master's degree programs in art, French, German, economics, geology, home economics, and physical education.

Although this meeting was public the first two hours, it sets a new record for length of closed Regents meetings in Arizona since 1954, according to the Arizona Republic.

Petitions Are Due 4 p. m. Tomorrow

Petitions for ASASU, AWS, AMS and Senate offices must be filed at the secretary's office in the MU by 4 p.m. tomorrow.

Candidates for offices will be required to attend a meeting in the Memorial Union ballroom immediately following the petition deadline, said Jan Jackson, newly appointed Election board chairman.

At the meeting, candidates and campaign managers will be briefed on ASU's election rules and procedures.

Regulations regarding publicity for campaigns are as follows:

1. Each candidate in campus elections shall be allowed a maximum of five posters, either picture or painted; a maximum of two banners; and name tags if desired.

2. No posters or banners may be displayed before 6 a.m. Monday, March 16.

3. Every poster and banner must have the permit number plainly in sight.

4. There is to be no painting or advertisement materials placed on buildings and no defacing of school property (trees, shrubs and sidewalks).

5. Posters and banners must be removed by 7 p.m. the day of elections. This applies to both primary and general elections.

Prior to State Press deadline yesterday, there were approximately 30 candidates running for 16 available Senate seats, 10 candidates for the five vacant student-body positions.

MU Birthday Party Plans Take Shape

The SS Memorial Union sails for the South Pacific Islands March 21 at 7 p.m.

The ship will be boarded via the College Ave. entrance of the MU, and it will visit "Bali Hi" (ballroom), "Off Limits" (basement), "Java" (cafeteria) and "Plantation" (banquet rooms).

Inspired by the Pulitzer-prize-winning musical "South Pacific," written by Rodgers and Hammerstein, the third annual MU birthday party will feature such exotic refreshments as "Bloody Marys," pineapple and cheese entrees and coconut liquor.

The ship's captain will be on deck to greet passengers as they begin their journey among native singers and dancers, sailors, jungle animals and palm trees. A native hut on the ballroom stage, decorated hallways, fish nets, life savers, canoes and murals will add to the atmosphere along with live and recorded music.

A huge birthday cake will be on display in the upper lounge and will be served in the ballroom during the evening.

The rooms are being decorated, and refreshments and entertainment arranged for, by the Cultural Affairs, Rallies and Traditions, Social and Student-Faculty boards and the four class councils, under the sponsorship of the Activities Coordination board.

The original theme, "University of the Universe," was discarded due to lack of functional ideas.

Last Chance To Buy Sahuaro Ends Friday

Sahuaros will be sold today through Friday from 9 to 3, on the MU patio.

The yearbooks may be purchased for $7 cash or for $3.50 down, the balance to be paid at time of pick-up.

This year's issue, the largest in AS history, contains four-color end sheets, a complete coverage of the name change, a new section portraying school life, and complete student picture classification. Seniors in the annual are grouped according to colleges.

Milba Queen Secret — Known Only To Judges

It's a big secret.

It will be revealed when the 1959 Military Ball Queen is crowned April 18 at the annual Army and Air Force Cadet Corps Military Ball.

Eight candidates met the judges Tuesday, and a queen was selected. The girls are: from the Army, Diane Rose, Barbara Defer, Patty Lowe and Mary Olmstead; and from the Air Force, Dee Davis, Brenda Peterson, Shirley Sperger and Linda Peterson.

A free movie, "The Man in the Gray Flannel Suit," will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday in Cosner Auditorium. Gregory Peck, Marisa Pavan and Jennifer Jones star.

The girls were chosen from 26 Kaydette and Angel Flight contestants. Finalists were selected by Army and Air Force Cadets.

Judges included Mrs. Robert A. Heimann, of the ASU Physical Education department, president of the judges' board; Maggie Savoy, woman's page editor of the Arizona Republic; Jack Ware, news director of KOOL-TV; Col. William G. Eldridge, senior advisor of the Arizona National Guard; and Col. William T. Mulligan (US-AF-Ret.), past ASU Air Science instructor.

The Military Ball will be held in the ASU gym and is open to all students.

Hal MacIntyre and his orchestra will furnish music for the formal event.

Luce To Address Noon PR Meeting

Henry R. Luce, internationally famous editor and publisher of Time, Life, Fortune, Sports Illustrated, Architectural Forum and Home and Garden will be main speaker at a luncheon planned for the all-day institute sponsored by the Public Relations Society of Phoenix for Thursday, March 19, in the BA building.

Mr. Luce's wife, Clare Booth Luce, was recently appointed United States ambassador to Brazil.

ASU students interested in journalism, radio-TV, advertising and public relations may attend sessions of the institute free. The luncheon at which Mr. Luce will speak will be served in the Memorial Union banquet rooms. Luncheon tickets are $2.25.

Mr. Luce's topic will carry out the theme of the institute, "Public Relations is Everybody's Business."

Paul Hughes, vice president of KTAR, will combine satire and serious subject matter in his address, "What Are These Things Called Public Relations?" at 9:30 a.m.

Talks will follow by Fred Mitten, executive director of Maricopa County Medical Society, on "What is a Public Relations Man?"; Dr. Marvin Alisky, chairman of the ASU department of Mass Communications, "What are the Publics in Public Relations?"; and Charles W. Pine, publicity director of the Valley National Bank, "How to Get the Most Mileage Out of Your Publicity Program."

Closing the morning sessions will be a symposium on "Your Organization and Community Relations," featuring: Ken W. Michael, community relations director for General Electric in the Phoenix area; Bill Da-

Talk Tonight On Job Chances In Ag Research

Specialists of the Agricultural Research Service of the US Department of Agriculture will discuss job opportunities in Agricultural Research Service, at 7:30 p.m. in room 250 in the Science building.

The program is sponsored by Beta Beta Beta, honorary biology fraternity. It should be of interest to engineering, agriculture, chemistry, geology, biology, home economics and business administration students, Betty Jane MacNab, Beta Beta Beta newsletter editor said.

Tomorrow, personal interviews for those interested in the Research Service will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Division of Agriculture offices in the Business Administration building.

Luncheon is served in the Faculty Dining Room until 1:15 p.m. each week day. The new policy began Monday, due to requests from faculty members.

Placement Interviews On Upswing

Next Wednesday will be the busiest recruiting day of the school year at the ASU Placement Center. Dr. Robert F. Menke, director of Placement, announced.

Twelve representatives will be on hand from General Electric, Western Electric, Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph, Bank of America, Los Alamos Scientific Labs, US General Accounting Office, US Navy and the Newark School District of Newark Calif.

Today, liberal arts candidates interested in positions with the YWCA will be interviewed at the Placement Center by Mrs. E. F. Tompane. Also today, a representative of Southwestern Investment Co. will seek business administration and liberal arts students for trainee positions in the field of time sales and consumer loan finance. Elliott Walters of College Life Insurance Co. will talk to seniors interested in salaried sales positions in Arizona and nearby states.

In addition, James D. Laurits of Cubberly Junior and Senior High Schools, Palo Alto, Calif., will interview secondary candidates in various subject fields.

Alamitos School District representatives from Garden Grove, Calif., will interview for openings from kindergarten through the 6th grade and junior high tomorrow.

Faculty Member Delivers Speech

"A Psychologist Looks at International Tensions" is the title of a speech at the meeting of the International Relations Council and the Collegiate Council for the United Nations this evening at 7:30 in the MU senate chamber.

The speaker, Mr. Terry A. Votichenko, was born in New York and studied in Italy, France, England and Switzerland. He received his A. B. degree at Princeton University, did graduate work at Stanford, completed requirements for his Ph.D. at Columbia University, and is now an assistant professor of Psychology and Philosophy at ASU.

Mr. Votichenko, who speaks French, Italian and Spanish fluently, was Planning and Panel Officer in charge of the Europe-Africa Section in the Office of Strategic Services, Intelligence Planning Board, Washington, D. C. in 1945.

Tonight's meeting is open to the public.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING —

Lucky Eleven?

Eleven — a significant number in certain games — figures in your life.

That's the number of weeks until this semester is over (as of next week). Just eleven more weeks of listening to lectures and struggling for chairs in the library stacks.

More important than this, we have eleven weeks — 55 days — of grades yet to go on our records. Of course, we know that grades aren't always a true indication of how much we learn. There are plenty of variables to justify lower grades. But future employers have only our black and white records to look at when deciding who gets the job. So to safeguard our futures, we do all we can to insure favorable black and white records.

If your record doesn't look too promising right now, eleven is your lucky number. A ten-minute chat with your professor might make a big difference in your outlook and grades.

But get the matter straightened out now at mid-semester before the prof has that lasting impression that you are "just a D student." You wouldn't have lasted this long if your potential wasn't greater than that.

Lasting Proof!

"Hey, Dad, I don't believe you really were president of Tappa Keg Aday at ASU.

"Uncle Herbert says you were low man on the chimney sweep crew.

"And say, Dad, you're kidding about your classmates when you say they got out and campaigned for the ASU name change, aren't you?"

So, Dad, what do you tell him? That you could prove what you say, if only you had a copy of the 1959 Sahuaro.

Rather than regret, 15 or 20 years from now, that you don't have a copy of ASU's '59 annual, why not reserve one for yourself sometime between now and Friday?

From all we've seen, this year's book promises to be one worth having. ASU activities of this year are recorded in pictures and in writing to present in a most attractive way the historic events which have taken place since last September.

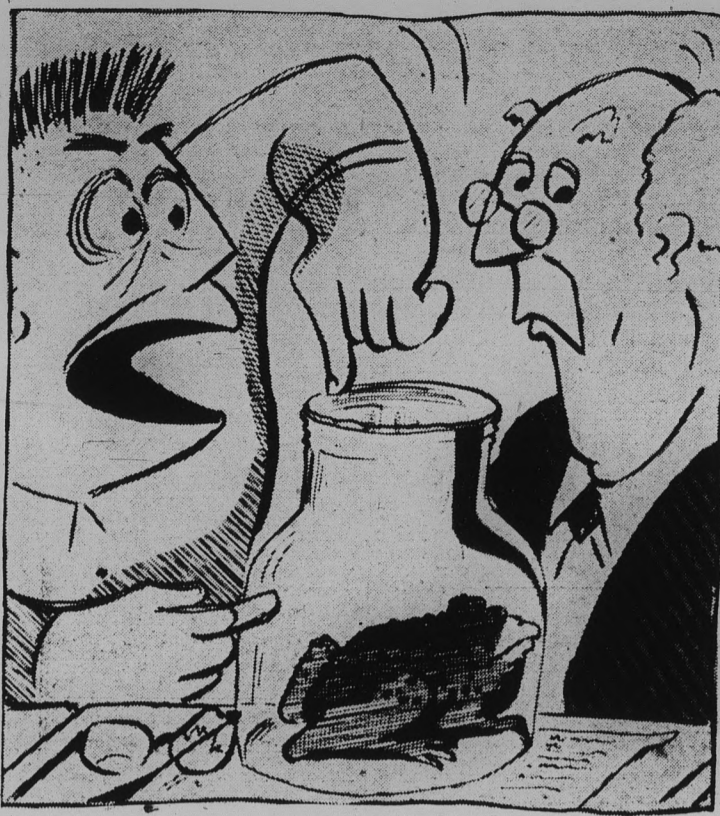

A full section is devoted to the name change campaign, from the time school opened last fall until Dr. Gammage announced victory election night.

Color pages depict campus life at ASU.

Members of campus organizations are shown engaged in their club's activities. Dorm residents are pictured. Sports activities and records are covered thoroughly. Campus queens and their courts are included. You name it and it's in the forthcoming Sahuaro.

More than this, everyone who buys a copy of the Sahuaro is getting a bargain. Not just is there gain in having the yearbook, but the cost to students ($7) is considerably lower than publication costs of each book, which is $8.60.

Sales goal set by Ron Ellensen, Sahuaro editor, and his staff is 4,500. We see no reason why this number and many more cannot be sold.

WORLD NEWS BRIEFS

U.S. Growing Wiser; Ignores Soviet Offer

Washington — The U. S. has shrugged off as meaningless Soviet Premier Khrushchev's offer to allow some allied troops to remain in West Berlin if it becomes a so-called "free city." A State Department spokesman says the offer merely repeats an old Russian theme first proposed in a Soviet note Nov. 27, 1958.

Ed. note: To Khrushchev: you can fool all of the people some of the time and some of the people all of the time; but thank heaven you're going to fool the U. S. less and less of the time!

Paris — French diplomatic sources say British Prime Minister MacMillan and French President De Gaulle have agreed on lining up with other Western powers on the Berlin crisis. Reliable sources say the U. S. is in accord with the policy hammered out in a Mac-Millan-De Gaulle talk yesterday.

Ed. note: It's about time the Western powers realize hanging separately gets old awfully fast.

Edwards Air Force Base, Cal. — America's first manned rocket ship, the X-15, has been airborne to complete the first test in a series designed to put a man above the earth's atmosphere. The X-15 was carried aloft, with a pilot strapped inside, by a B-52 bomber from Edwards AFB.

Ed. note: Ugh! Bet that strapped-in pilot had the same furiously frustrated feeling you have in a night-mare when the sheets are strapping you down while an eagle the size of a house hovers over you.

Beirut, Lebanon — The Iraqi government claims a right-wing army revolt has been crushed and the country is quiet. But a United Arab Republic broadcast says villages in Northern Iraq were strafed yesterday, and reports reaching Beirut tell of anti-Nasser demonstrations in the streets of Baghdad.

Ed. note: Isn't it funny how governments facing revolution so frequently crush the revolt every day and still end up in exile? Senor Batista, for one, might have some interesting commentary on this subject.

LETTERS to the Editor

To the Editor:

We have been asked to bring to your attention a TV event of great historical importance in this state. Sunday, March 15, at 10 p.m., stations KOOL-TV in Phoenix and KOLD-TV in Tucson, will broadcast "The Arizona Story." It will be a 90-minute pageant-spectacular, dramatizing Arizona's 400 years of rich and colorful history.

This is a major public service program, for which the broadcasting station has contributed the time, and the Phoenix Civic Light Opera Association has furnished the talent and sponsorship. Production and direction is by the Association's producer, Mr. Val Rosing, internationally known in the theatrical field, who has had the historical collaboration of Mr. Frank Brophy and Mr. Steve Shadegg. In addition to almost every type of theatrical production, Mr. Rosing has produced "The California Story," "The San Diego Story" and a number of other famous historical pageants. "The Arizona Story," covering six major eras in our state's history, will be the first "spectacular" ever produced in the Southwest.

This is a program well worth viewing, both as a matter of historical interest and in recognition of its importance to the state. The time, again, is Sunday at 10 p.m., stations KOOL-TV and KOLD-TV.

O. D. MILLER,
Member of the Board of Regents

Editor's note: We sincerely thank Regent Miller for his interest in Arizona State University students and are sure any program he endorses will be well worth our attention.

A thousand times a week I say I'm going to write a letter to the editor. Sometimes I even get one partly written. Then I remember I have to walk all the way over to the MU to mail it. Maybe if there were campus mailboxes scattered around the school, you and lots of other people might get more mail.

AWS will hold its annual pajama party tonight from 10 to 12 p.m. in the Moeur Activity building and Palo Verde hall. "Nightie Nite" is the theme of the get-together. It will be held at two sites in order to let the girls get better acquainted in the smaller groups. Contests will be held to select the flanneliest, cutest, and prettiest pajamas. Head residents will act as judges. Refreshments will be served. Chairmen for the event are Barbara Termain and Jan Hoeksema. No boys are allowed, and a police escort will be provided.

ADVENTURES IN SOCIAL SCIENCE: NO. 2

Today, with earnestness and sobriety, we make the second of our forays into social science. We take up the most basic of all social sciences—sociology itself.

Sociology teaches us that man is a social animal. It is not instinct or heredity that determines his conduct; it is environment. This fact is vividly borne out when you consider the case of Julio Sigafos.

Julio, abandoned as an infant in a dark wood near Cleveland, was adopted by a pack of wild dogs and reared as one of their own. When Julio was found by a hunter at the age of twelve, the poor child was more canine than human. He ran on all fours, barked and growled, ate raw meat, lapped water with his tongue, and could neither speak nor understand one single word. In short, he was a complete product of his environment.

Julio, incidentally, was more fortunate than most wild children. They never become truly humanized, but Julio was exceptional. Bit by bit, he began to talk and walk and eat and drink as people do. His long-dormant mental processes, when awakened at last, turned out to be fantastically acute. He was so bright that he learned to read and write in a month, got through grammar school in three years, and high school in two. And last June as thousands of spectators, knowing the odds Julio had overcome, stood and raised cheer after cheer, he was graduated valedictorian from Cal Tech with a degree in astrophysics!

Who can say to what towering heights this incredible boy would have risen had he not been killed the day after commencement while chasing a car?

But I digress. To return to sociology, people tend to gather in groups—a tendency that began, as we all know, with the introduction of Marlboro Cigarettes. What an aid to sociability they are! How benignly one looks upon one's fellows after puffing on Marlboro's filter that really filters, on Marlboro's flavor that's really flavorful. How eager it makes one to extend the hand of friendship! How grateful we all are to Marlboro for making possible this togetherness! How good not to live in the bleak pre-Marlboro world with every man a stranger!

The groups that people live in today (thanks to Marlboro) vary widely in their customs. What is perfectly acceptable in one society may be quite outlandish in another. Take, for instance, the case of Ug Van Wyck.

Ug, a Polynesian lad, grew up in an idyllic South Sea isle where the leading event of the year was the feast of Max, the sun god. A quaint all-day ceremony was held, with tribal dancing, war chants, fat-lady races, pie-eating contests, and, for the grand finale, the sacrifice of two dozen maidens.

According to Ug's folkways, sacrificing maidens was entirely acceptable, but when, in his eighteenth year, he was sent as an exchange student to the University of Wisconsin, he soon learned that Americans take a dim view of this practice—in Wisconsin, at any rate. The first fifteen or twenty maidens Ug sacrificed, he was let off with a warning. When, however, he persisted, drastic measures were taken: he was depledged by his fraternity. A broken man, Ug quit school and moved to Milwaukee where today he earns a meager living as a stein.

Thinclads Show Well On Coast

The Arizona State University track team made a brilliant debut last weekend with two West Coast appearances. The Demons competed in a triangular affair Thursday at Camp Pendleton, Calif., with San Diego State and the Pendleton Marines. Arizona State dominated the meet, taking 8 firsts out of a possible 13.

In the Southern Pacific AAU relays held in Los Angeles Saturday, the distance medley relay team composed of Mel and Mal Spence, Jim McGowan, and Alex Henderson shattered the meet record of 10:17 with a brilliant 9:55.5 clocking. Henderson was clocked in 4:08 for the mile, the last lap of the distance medley. The LA Striders finished second, followed by UCLA, Occidental, and USC.

Joe Rose and Don Jeisy tied for first in the pole vault, both Demons clearing 14 feet 6 1/2 inches. Rose and Jeisy barely missed at the 15-1 height. The 14'6 1/2" performance was the best of Jeisy's career and is possibly the best recorded vault for a left-hander.

The Demons will host Occidental in a dual meet in Goodwin Stadium this Saturday to open their 1959 dual-meet schedule. Occidental was the national AAU track champion last year.

FIG'S FILE

By VIC FIGARELLI

If it hadn't been for a bit of bad luck, Arizona State's basketball activities might not have ended as abruptly as they did Monday night.

A flip of the coin decided that the ASU quint had to travel to Las Cruces for the playoff game, with New Mexico State.

Well, that's the way the coin flips, but wouldn't it have been better to hold the BC playoffs on a neutral court, where neither team has a decided advantage?

True, the New Mexico team beat Texas Western in a visitor's role, but TW had lost three of its top players, two through ineligibility rulings and one through injury.

It's quite obvious that both the Devils and the Aggies are tough to beat at home. Neither lost a home game in '58-'59. If a flip of a coin dictates which team must spend money for travel expenses, why not have a neutral site, so cost can be disbursed? And if there is remuneration for the traveling team, why not have the game played on a neutral court and call it even?

These are questions which can be answered only by BC officials, and they probably had good reason to decide as they did. So, there's nothing left to do but wish the Aggies good luck tonight against Idaho State.

As for the Sun Devils, a 17-8 record and a second straight conference championship (though split three ways) looks good from here.

AS Golfers Rack 'Cats

Arizona State's golf team opened its season Friday with an easy 23-4 victory over the University of Arizona. The match was played at Paradise Country Club in Scottsdale.

Sophomore Rex Wilson led the Devils with a two-under par 69. Arizona's Mike Rombold shot a 73 for his team's best effort.

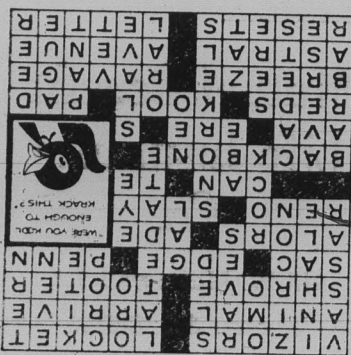

The Devils' six-man team swept all three matches. The team of Don Boaz and Duff Lawrence defeated Dave Leon and Rombold, 7 1/2-1 1/2; Wilson and Dave Klein took Tim Sexon and Neil Brown, 8 1/2-1 1/2; and Phil Brignall and Joe Kallof beat Bob Holzer and Dick Dillon, 7-2.

The ASU golf team's next match will be against the University of New Mexico here Friday.

ASU Gymnasts Score Second Win Over UOfA

Chuck McMahon, scoring 39 points, led the Sun Devil team to its second victory over the visiting Arizona Wildcats Saturday afternoon, 86-58.

McMahon won the side horse, still rings and flying rings and tied for first with U of A's Nick Nuttycombe in the parallel bars. He also placed second in the free exercise, trampoline and tumbling, and he was third in the horizontal bars and fifth in rope climbing.

Harvey Plant won three events to be second high point man with 19. Plant scored first in free exercise, trampoline and tumbling. He was fifth in side horse.

Dave Bonham was third in free exercise and flying rings and placed fourth in still rings and tumbling for a total of 10 points.

LEFTY . . . Jim Sims, letterman southpaw star, is Coach Bobby Winkles' choice to start today's first game against Pepperdine. Roger Barnson is slated to see starting action in the second game. Game time is 1 p.m.

WIN, 94-68

Imps Rout EAJC

Chico Morrison, Harvey Darche and Ollie Payne accounted for 64 points Saturday night as the Sun Imp basketball team closed out its season with a 94-68 win over Eastern Arizona Junior College.

The victory gave the ASU frosh a 13-4 record for the campaign.

Morrison led the point-makers with 12 field goals for 24 points. Darche and Payne each hit 20.

The game, a Lion's Club benefit played at Morenci's Civic Center, was Arizona State's first of the opening buzzer. The Imps scored first and never EAJC's Monsters watched helplessly as the Imps raced to a 10-1 lead, and they never recovered even to threaten.

After building an initial 14 point margin, the ASU lead was never less than 14. At one point the margin reached 32.

Halftime score was 47-31.

For EAJC, Charlie Bearup and Norm Patton divided scoring honors with 15 apiece.

For the first time this season, the Imps bagged better than 50 per cent of their field goal attempts. They hit on 39 of 77 shots for 52 per cent accuracy.

AGGIES TRIUMPH, 78-57

Devils Lose Playoff

New Mexico State's Aggies won their 24th consecutive home court game Monday night with a 78-57 verdict over Arizona State. The win gave the Aggies the right to meet Idaho State's Bengals tonight at Las Cruces in the NCAA sectional playoff. The winner will go to the NCAA regional tournament at San Francisco's Cow Palace.

Ice cubes in Alaska couldn't be much colder than the Devils were Monday. At halftime, ASU was behind, 39-19. Overall, the Tempe quint hit only 25 per cent of their field goal attempts.

For the Aggies, Joe Kelly scored 21 points and big Bill Price followed with 19. Paul Denham was high man for the Sun Devils with 14 points, and Al Nealey and Paul Howard were next with 10 each.

Devil Nine, Grand Canyon Tie; Face Waves In Twinbill Today

By RICHARD STEHR

Darkness dimmed the Sun Devil baseball team's chances of winning its opening game against the Grand Canyon College Antelopes Monday on the GC diamond.

Overcoming a 6-2 deficit with a late-inning surge, the Devils finally took the lead in the top of the tenth, 8-6. But with one out in the Antelopes' half of the inning, the umpire called the game after the Grand Canyon coach complained it was too dark for his batters to see the ball. The game officially ended in a tie, reverting back to the ninth inning score, 6-6.

The Devils open their home schedule today at 1 p.m. with a doubleheader against Pepperdine on the new ball field just east of Goodwin Stadium. The two teams also play a single game tomorrow. There will be bleachers set up for the fans.

MAROON, 16; GOLD, 16

Gridders In Tie

By BOB LAIRSON

More than 5,000 fans witnessed the favored Maroons struggle to a 16-16 tie with the Golds in the annual intrasquad football game in Sun Devil Stadium Saturday night.

Quarterback Joe Zuger directed the Gold attack to two touchdowns, passing for both, and kept the Maroon offense out of range with 50-yard punts. The stellar performance by freshman Zuger earned him the spring game's annual outstanding player award.

The Maroons, sporting the first-string backfield and several first or former first-string linemen, scored first on an 11-yard pass from Fran Urban to Bob Rembert. Halfback Joe Drake fought his way through a determined Gold line for the two-point conversion.

The Golds retaliated with a 12-yard pass play from Zuger to Tim Lee on the second play of the second quarter. Zuger then passed to Karl Kiefer for the two-point conversion to tie the score at 8-8.

Zuger gave the Golds the lead seven minutes later by passing to Ossie McCarty for an 18-yard scoring play. The conversion attempt failed.

Later, Gold tackle Charlie Krofchik blasted through the Maroon linemen to drop quarterback Fran Urban in the Maroon end zone. The two-point safety ended first-half scoring with the underdog Golds possessing a 16-8 advantage.

Drake bulled his way for 24 yards to the Gold one-yard line late in the fourth quarter to set up the game-tying touchdown. Fullback Ed Ellis plunged over from the one, and Urban passed to Bill Spanko to tie the game at 16-all.

WHO SAID IT FIRST?

A column of incidental intelligence

by Jockey® brand

"LOVE IS BLIND"

Next to the Bible, Shakespeare is the richest source of common quotes. He's responsible for this one, too. See his "Merchant of Venice," Act II, Scene 6:

"But love is blind, and lovers cannot see
The petty follies that themselves commit."

"THIRTY DAYS HATH SEPTEMBER," ETC.

No need to recite further from this bit of doggerel which has served us all as a pony ever since grade school. For this universal handy reference we are indebted to a man named Richard Grafton who was nice enough to compose the rhyme way back in 1570.

"PUT IT IN YOUR PIPE"

No, Sir Walter Raleigh didn't originate this smoker's challenge. It was R. H. Barham, in "The Lay of St. Odille":

"For this you've my word,
and I never yet broke it,
So put that in your pipe,
My Lord Otto, and smoke it."

Jockey® T-Shirts

The most respected, creative name in underwear is Jockey brand. It stands to reason, then, that Jockey brand T-shirts are unmatched for quality as well as styling. You can choose from standard T-shirt, "taper-tee" shirt, sleeveless I-shirt, and V-neck T-shirt models. Every man needs a drawer full of T-shirts—and the label to look for is Jockey brand.
