

48 File Petitions For 38 Positions

Forty-eight petitions have been turned in by candidates seeking 38 offices available in ASU student government.

The primary election will be Wednesday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on the corner of College and Orange, next to East hall. Students must present activity cards in order to vote.

The ASASU offices are president, first vice president, activities vice president and secretary. AMS and AWS offices are president, vice president, secretary and treasurer.

The student senate consists of two senators from each of the following groups: the colleges of Applied Arts and Science, Business Administration, Liberal Arts, Education; AMS, AWS, Foreign Language Council, Inter-Hall Council, Inter-Fraternity Council, Junior class, Off Campus Men, Off Campus Women, Panhellenic Council, Senior Class, Sophomore Class, Student Religious Council; and a Veteran Senator

Only one candidate has applied for each of several offices. These candidates will receive automatic election, unless defeated by write-in votes in the primary election Wednesday. For several other positions, only two students have filed petitions. These elections will be determined in the primary.

Other officers will be determined by the general election Wednesday, March 25.

Candidates and the offices they seek are: ASASU president: Dave Barnes, Tom Hulen, Diane E. Blommel and Bill Sullivan. ASASU first vice president: Larry L. McCord and Max C. Richards. Activities vice president: Toni Johnson and Tom Meredith. ASASU secretary: Jane Wagner and Barbara Defer.

AWS president: Georgia Kasnetsis. AWS vice president: Velva Richey, Barbara Termain and Kay Murdock. AWS secretary: Carole Hendrickson and Mary Olmstead. AWS treasurer: Sue Penrod and Sue Frost.

AMS president: Sam Stocks and John Lindauer. AMS vice president: Leon Charles Hauck and Thomas (Tom) Lewis. AMS treasurer: Richard T. Tarrant.

Senatorial candidates are: College of Liberal Arts: (Carolyn) Lynn A. Steinko, Sel Erder, Judy Olson and Shirley M. Sperger. Business Administration: Louis Friedman, John Marshall and Marilyn Leafdale. Education: Linda C. Cooper, Marjorie A. Bonham, Jane Wolcott and Helene E. Chabat. Applied Arts and Science: David Adamy and Ronald J. Paquin.

Speakers Revealed

The assistant to the Secretary of Labor and a pastor are scheduled speakers for the national biennial convention of the Intercollegiate Association of Women Students, March 31-April 3, at ASU.

Mrs. Alice K. Leopold, director of the Women's Bureau in the U. S. Department of Labor, will speak on "The Challenge of Tomorrow." Her talk, to be given at a banquet for 500 delegates April 1 at 7 p.m. in the MU ballroom, will carry out the convention's theme, "Challenge to the Educated Woman: Conformity or Independence."

Rev. Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, president of Churches of Christ in the U. S., will address delegates at a dinner April 2 in the MU.

Rev. Dahlberg, born in Fergus Falls, Minn., is a graduate of the University of Minnesota and Rochester (N. Y.) Theological Seminary. He received his doctor of divinity degree from Keuka (N. Y.) College in 1939, is a member of the board of trustees of the Colgate-Rochester Divinity School, and pastor of the Delmer Baptist Church, St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Leopold graduated from Goucher College in 1927. She was personnel director of B.

Altman's department store in New York City from 1930 to '37; has been designer and manufacturer of "My Town" toys since 1946. A resident of Weston, Conn., she was a Republican member of the House of Representatives in Connecticut in 1949-52, and became Secretary of State in Connecticut in 1951. She has been assistant to the Secretary of Labor since 1953.

Three institutions of higher learning have presented her with honorary degrees.

ASU coeds will be hostesses at the convention.

Les Brown, Band Of Renown Appear Tomorrow At Riverside

Les Brown and his Band of Renown will appear tomorrow at the Riverside Park Ballroom, Phoenix, from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. ASU students will be offered special rates of $1.75.

The band was organized by Brown in 1940 and has moved steadily forward to the number one position in the nation today according to Billboard and Metronome magazines and the National Ballroom Operators of America.

Brown's dance band is on the top of all major polls, including Down Beat, which has voted it first place for the past four years.

The name Les Brown has become a symbol of good, danceable music throughout the continent. Time magazine recently quoted him as saying: "We prefer sound to noise and we like the melody if it's good."

Traffic Safety Campaign Opens

A safe driving-safe walking campaign is being launched on the ASU campus today.

Citations for speeding and failure to yield the right-of-way to pedestrians are to be issued by the Campus Police whenever violations of such traffic laws are observed, Gayle Shuman, director of Campus Security, announced yesterday.

Jay-walkers were reminded by Mr. Shuman of the ordinance prohibiting crossing a thoroughfare except in a crosswalk. Violation of this law is common on campus, he said, and will force police to issue citations to violators unless the practice is discontinued immediately.

Crack-down on violators has been ordered as the latest move in a long-continued effort to expedite traffic on campus and at the same time to maintain maximum safety standards, Mr. Shuman said.

"The law specifically states that the pedestrian has the right-of-way," Mr. Shuman said. "But it also states that pedestrians are required to cross thoroughfares only in duly marked and designated crosswalks. We are going to enforce both of these laws strictly from now on."

"Another point most campus drivers seem to have forgotten is that there is a speed limit of 15 mph on all campus streets," he continued.

The speed limit through the rest of the congested area in Tempe is 25 mph except when posted differently, Mr. Shuman said. He warned that the Campus Police and Tempe City Police are intensifying their patrol and that hot-rodgers will not be tolerated.

54 Students Earn 4.00

Fifty four ASU undergraduate students received perfect grades for the first semester, announced Alfred Thomas, Jr., registrar and director of admissions. All are residents of Arizona.

A total of 1,002 undergraduates, completing 12 or more semester hours, received 3.00-4.00 grade indices.

Of the 54 students who received the possible four point average, 10 are freshmen; 9 sophomores; 14, juniors and 21, seniors. Breakdown by colleges is: Liberal Arts, 22; Education, 25; Business Administration, 4 and Arts and Sciences, 3.

The four-point scholars consisting of 31 women and 23 men, are:

Women, College of Liberal Arts: R. K. Taylor, W. C. Walters, I. B. Abrahams, V. K. Anderson, L. Musgrave, A. H. Prickett, J. W. Minnick, G. M. Fletcher, N. M. Packer, and M. F. Stites.

Busy AS Housing Director Relates Views On Program

LISTENING . . . intently to a student's problem is ASU assistant director of housing R. E. Troxell, left. Housing office personnel counsel students on financial matters in addition to helping them find appropriate living quarters.

The tape recorder was a small, modern portable, and an excellent means for obtaining an interview.

"I'm sorry I couldn't be here in person. We're always busy, and this just happens to be one of those days." The voice coming quietly from the machine was that of Edward Hickcox.

Director of the ASU Housing department, Mr. Hickcox's official job calls for the "bedding down" of an average of 2400 ASU students annually. But his unofficial job is much bigger. He also has to be a psychologist, a financial counselor, a patient man, and a mother hen.

Director of 15 residence halls, Mr. Hickcox and his staff collect rent, maintain the halls, counsel the students in financial matters, and help with the discipline. Aside from this, they also see that each resident has a change of linen every week.

"The hardest time always occurs right at the beginning of each school year. No sooner do we get everyone settled, than there are some students who decide to pack up and go home. And then there are those who have problems which are referred to us by the head residents."

Another problem occurs at the beginning of each month. The housing department has its fair share of those who can't, or won't, pay their rent on time.

"We realize," says Mr. Hickcox, "that there are some who can't pay at the scheduled time. All we ask is that they come in and talk with us. We'll try to help them in any way we can."

Finding places for conference delegates to sleep is another duty of the Housing department. Usually the conferences are planned so that they fall on a holiday or in the summer. Still it takes a great deal of planning and scheduling to accommodate everyone.

"There is definitely a rewarding side to our job though," says Mr. R. E. Troxell, assistant director. "We get a great deal of satisfaction out of helping the students with their problems. At the time their difficulties seem awfully big to them, and it is comforting to have someone help them work out the problem. That's what we're here for."

"One thing's for sure," he continued, "there's never a dull moment."

Dr. Robert Coonrod Says

'Dr. Zhivago' Condemns Communism

"Dr. Zhivago," recent novel by the Russian author Boris Pasternak, condemns Communism in the Soviet Union; but more important, it reaffirms the philosophy of individual rights, freedom and a return to Christian philosophy," said Dr. Robert Coonrod, ASU's History and Political Science department chairman yesterday.

Dr. Zhivago is a member of a special group of Russian intelligentsia of philosophers, writers and artists who arise between 1914 and 1921, the years of World War I and the Communist revolution. This group refuses to embrace Communism.

Although Dr. Zhivago will not leave his homeland, he attempts to withdraw from his society which subjugates the individual for the group. Pasternak tells the story of Dr. Zhivago's wife and mistress, his inner conflicts and wandering across Russia to find his family and peace. Eventually, Dr. Zhivago degenerates as a physician and human being and finally dies.

But Pasternak doesn't blame his characters for their failings. He believes there is great good in them. However, he blames society and history, whose pressures were more than the people could withstand.

In the tradition of the great Russian novels of the 19th century, "Dr. Zhivago" does not "measure up" with the psychological complications in Dostoyevsky's works or the intricate characterizations in Tolstoi's. However, Pasternak has written truth which is dangerous in his country, said Dr. Coonrod.

Had Pasternak written this book in the 1930's, he probably would have been executed in the purges. After Stalin's death in 1953, there was a "loosening up" in the realm of arts whereby writers and artists were given more creative freedom.

However, this problem of free expression in the U.S.S.R. was brought into focus last year when the Soviet government forbid Pasternak to accept the Nobel Prize for Literature, added Dr. Coonrod.

More than 100 persons attended the book review luncheon which was sponsored by the Student-Faculty Relations committee yesterday afternoon in Memorial Union.

This filter, be it e'er so pure and white
 Must needs give flavor too, full clear and bright
 Else would the trusting smoker, filled with hope
 Again be dashed, dejected be ... and mope.

And thus we come to Winston's obvious truth
 It's what's up front that counts—and 'tis, forsooth
 In that the fine tobaccos, in the end
 Are by exclusive process—Filter-Blend—

President's Inauguration Bill Passed By Senators

An inauguration ceremony for ASASU officers was established Wednesday when the Student Senate passed Senate Bill 121. The date recommended is the Saturday preceding non-activity week of the spring semester. The day is to be designated ASASU President's Day.

An afternoon "President's Tea" will be included in the day's agenda, with dinner and an inaugural ball in the evening. The bill will be given its final reading at the next Senate meeting, March 25.

A bill to rename the Executive Council the "President's Cabinet" was withdrawn because it would require a constitutional amendment rather than Senate action.

Appointment of Gary Walker as chairman of the Rally and Traditions Committee was approved by the Senate, as was Lora Rhodes' appointment as chairman of the Senate Cultural Affairs Committee.

Recently appointed senators participating in their first Senate session included: Roberta Taylor, Off Campus Women; Mary Kay Landkammer, Panhellenic; George Cullom, Veterans; Paul Ellsworth, Engineering Council; and Warren

McArthurs, Engineering Council.

There is a Senate position open for the College of Liberal Arts. Those interested should contact Ralph Segal, ASASU vice president.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"THE VERY SAME STUDENTS FLUNKING MY CLASS ARE OUT THERE FOOLING AWAY THEIR TIME ON THE ARCHERY FIELD."

By PETEY OLMSTED

Did your mother ever throw away a ragged, but favorite pair of shoes you loved, or a faded, comfortable pair of levi's, and not tell you until "later."

If nothing else upsets your equilibrium, this usually can. First you don't believe it. In a frantic second, you wonder how you can get these relics back. Then, resigned, you puzzle, "Why?"

With an experience like this in your past, you can understand the sorrowful atmosphere pervading the Devil's Den currently. For it was with shock the Den's most reliable customers found their hangout's comfortable personality renovated.

Where once the clank of coffee cups and spoons, and raucous chortles of happy loafers were muffled by the u n e f u l Messrs. Johnny Cash, Don Gibson, and Duane Eddy, now persistent snare drums and clarinets rattle away at your weakening nerves.

That is, when anyone puts any money in the juke box. Since this advent on campus of progressive jazz, the usual jukebox-feeders have withdrawn into mourning. So now you're lucky (?) to hear anything but clanking dishes and sorrowful murmurs in the Den.

These mourners don't begrudge jazz-lovers their taste. Apparently, however, the connoisseurs of progressive jazz don't spend much time in the Den. Either that, or they are saving their nickels to buy albums of their own. If the former is the case, why couldn't there be a selection of Western songs to attract the old guard back again?

If the latter is the case, the proponents of progressive jazz must have lots of will power. Maybe this would enable them to stand an occasional twangy guitar in the Den.

After all, with twangy guitar records playing, you can't hear anything else. And that's better than no escape at all from the reality of clanking coffee cups.

Please understand, I enjoy all kinds of music — a little. Let's have a balance here.

Maybe whoever is in charge of that machine would change its tune — a little?

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING —

Let's Check

The ASASU elections Wednesday should cause very few candidates to lose any sleep. More than three fourths of them will be elected this year.

With 38 offices available, only 48 contestants are in the race. This sounds almost like the situation in some other countries we accuse of being "undemocratic."

But ASU is not guilty on that count. Dozens could be running for each office, with qualifications what they are. Student leaders encourage anyone eligible and interested to run for office.

Even with all the encouragement, the number of candidates averages out to hardly any choice for voters. Could there be too many offices around compared to the number of students interested enough to run?

Maybe an investigation of the worth and need of some offices would remedy the situation.

Whose Fault

Two years ago a grammar school student was struck by an automobile on the Arizona State campus and critically injured. She later suffered a partial amputation of one leg as a result.

Yesterday a similar accident nearly occurred at the corner of College and Orange.

In the former accident the driver was exonerated of all blame. The little girl dashed into the side of his car from behind the bushes in front of the Lyceum. The driver was going less than the speed limit and was observing every reasonable safety precaution.

In that case those of us who saw the accident realized the fault was that of the Arizona State community at large. The child had seen Arizona State students (yes, and faculty too!) display blatant disregard of the rules of simple safety as well as of common courtesy. She had learned from the example of her elders that the pedestrian has the right of way; it is up to the driver to yield to the slightest whim of a pedestrian.

We endorse heartily and fully the traffic safety campaign starting today on campus. There is no room for hot-rodgers on any campus, especially on such a crowded one as this.

However, we would like to commend especially the threatened crack-down on jay-walking. It's a wonder some drivers don't lose their tempers and deliberately run down those arrogant, adolescent and inconsiderate pedestrians who wander diagonally across the street in the middle of the block or pick the middle of the street or driveway to stand and have their fatuous flirtations.

The fault in yesterday's near accident was partly that of the driver and that of the pedestrian. Most car-pedestrian accidents are.

While the current campaign is, in its beginning phases, directed specifically at unsafe drivers, Mr. Shuman has warned the next phase will be directed against unsafe walkers. The problem is two-phased.

It's unfortunate but true that a great many ASU pedestrians and drivers seem to need the law to teach them common courtesy and simple safety.

More power to the Campus Police and their campaign.

EDITOR'S Scratchpad

By ROCHELLE MACKEY

For the past two weeks or so a small fire has been smoldering over the alleged inability of Arizona State students to discuss such topics as existentialism, melting ice-caps, the merits of Holst, and so on and on.

Perhaps it would be a good idea for ASU students to investigate, understand and learn to appreciate their cultural surroundings before crossing the Atlantic to existentialism. How many of us, for instance, are aware of the art collection in Matthews Library? Or for that matter, who takes careful note of art exhibits displayed in the Union?

At this time there is an exhibit in the Union lower lounge displaying the work of two Art department faculty members. Mrs. Jean Hopkins' jewelry, ranging from pins to polished stone inlaid rings, and Tom J. Harter's paintings show to good advantage the talent there is on the ASU faculty.

The second floor hall of the Union contains an outstanding exhibit of photographic art, the work of the staff of the Photography section of the ASU Art department. Both exhibits are well worth the attention of everyone on campus.

In a recent editorial the State Press discussed the possibilities of European travel and study. We neglected to mention the residence study program in Mexico City, sponsored by ASU.

Curriculum for the program includes history, political science, art and Spanish. Minimum cost for the five-week study is $250 for round-trip transportation from Tempe, board and room, tuition and books.

Anyone desiring more information about the program should contact Dr. Roy C. Rice, director of Summer Sessions.

Today is the last day to buy an annual. It is a book more than worth its $7 price tag and includes the history of the name-change campaign from its opening days in 1954 to final victory election night last fall. Be sure to get your 1959 Sahuaro; it's quite a package.

Letters To The Editor

In some preceding issues of this periodical I noticed with interest a series of letters exploring the lack of intellectual awareness on this campus. I wish to take issue with one such letter in particular.

The composer of said communication states he has discovered no one with whom to discuss the relative philosophies and mechanics of various authors and poets. C'est dommage. Perhaps it has not occurred to the afore-mentioned individual that some who have read said writer may have found many or most of them "incredibly dull, as have I, and do not particularly care to discuss them.

I concur, in essence, with said individual as to the lack of intellectual atmosphere in the institutions of higher learning in the state of Arizona. However, as to the matter of this person's lack of communicants, I

I feel, for example, that it is sheer idiocy to occupy one's time unravelling the works of the various Russian authors (I choose the Russians because they seem to be in vogue at this time), whose works have survived not because they are profound or scintillating, but because Russian literature (with the exception of some of the post-revolutionary writers) has failed to rise above mediocrity and has nothing better to offer.

Being appreciators of good music and all that jazz, we find it quite depressing to find some damn yankee has replaced our boy Johnny Cash and associates with some high brow stuff.

Now we respect them ivy's taste and they're welcome to their choice of noise, but if something isn't done soon about the Den juke box — we're going to pipe Long John Roller in live from his flag pole.

Fraternity Celebrates Founders Day; Others Hold Pledging, Attend Dance

By KATHY BURKE

Arizona Alumni and members of the ASU and UofA Alpha Tau Omega chapters commemorated the fraternity's founding together at a banquet Sunday in the AS Memorial Union. Principal speaker was Past Worthy Grand Chief Lawrence A. Long.

New pledges added to ATO include Bob Alexson, Bob Plenty, Lee Wright, Marshall Trimble, Larry Palmer, John Marshall, Don Bigler, Wallace Harvey, Don Griffin, Fred Davis, Paul Hughes, Alex Henderson, Ron Schopper, John Hill, Doug Whiteneybell and Steve Stefanos.

ATO and Alpha Delta Pi danced under colorful Japanese lanterns last night at an Oriental exchange at the fraternity house.

Martha Peck is wearing ADPI's pledge of the week bracelet.

Recently pledged to Alpha Epsilon Pi were Dennis Rosenthal and Frank Merlino.

A Queen of Hearts will be chosen tonight at the annual Sigma Phi Epsilon spring formal, from the fraternity members' dates. Ray Andrade's band will play for the dance which follows a buffet dinner at the Phoenix Terrace Club.

Sig Ep pledge-class officers are: Dick Faust, president; Doug Sellers, vice-president; Roger Flagg, secretary; and Paul Koch, treasurer.

Ten Alpha Gamma Rho members are attending a southwest province fraternity convention today and tomorrow at Oklahoma State University, Stillwater. The agenda includes officers leadership training and discussion groups.

Saralyn Stein has been elected president of Alpha Epsilon Phi sorority. Chosen to serve with her were: Sandra Mark, vice-president; Jacque Adler, secretary; Sheila Palais, treasurer; Norma Temkin, ritualist; Marilyn Sharnik, rush chairman; Toby Schleifer, notary; and Barbara Milkes, historian.

Rita Plotkin, out-going president, will install the girls March 22 at the Desert Inn.

Tony Diorio and Betty Cosgrove served as co-chairmen for a recent Delta Gamma steak and beans night. Actives cooked the steaks but ate beans, as pledges took advantage of their higher grade averages.

New pledge officers of Phi Delta Theta are: Jack White, president; Jim Davjs, secretary; Jim McClain, treasurer, and Art Savoini, warden.

It'll be toga-time for Theta Chis tomorrow night as they stage their annual Roman party at the fraternity house.

Sigma Chi Sigma will enjoy a steak fry tomorrow night following a hayride.

The fraternity's house is now complete with new curtains and drapes, donated by the mothers club.

Lambda Chi Alpha's social calendar has been kept full with a dance at the Arizona Ambassador Hotel last week and an exchange with Kappa Delta at the fraternity house.

Impala Sport Coupe—like every Chevy—has Safety Plate Glass all around.

Chevy stops quickest... goes farthest on a gallon!

Chevy showed the best brakes of the leading low-priced three in a test of repeated stops at highway speeds conducted and certified by NASCAR*. Chevy also won over the other two in a NASCAR economy run—with the highest gas mileage for 6's and V8's at cruising speeds of just over 55 miles an hour.

Here's a car that knows how to get the most out of a gallon. And it's the only car in its field to bring you hydraulic valve lifters in all popular engines—6 and V8. This means smoother, quieter performance for you. There are many other advances just as fundamental as the efficiency of Chevrolet's engines and the dependability of its new brakes (with more lining area than any other low-priced car). But why not stop by your dealer's and let Chevy do its own sweet talking!

April Event Is Planned By Blue Key

Blue Key, national service honorary for junior and senior men, will sponsor its campus Carnival on April 14, according to Max C. Richards, chairman.

Replaced last year with a talent show, the Carnival will once again be held on the area between the Science and BA buildings, lasting from 7 to 10 p.m. All AS organizations are invited to participate. The event provides scholarship funds for high school graduates.

Information and entry blanks for booths are available from Joe Atkins, program chairman, or any Blue Key member.

Junior class council representatives are urged to attend an important meeting Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Memorial Union.

PAST CHAIRMAN . . . of the National Interfraternity Conference, Herbert L. Brown, will speak tomorrow night to his ASU Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity brothers at their 10th annual Founders Day Banquet at the Hotel Westward Ho. Lou Boudreau, Chicago Cubs sportscaster, will also attend the banquet.

Do You Think for Yourself?

(TAKE THIS TEST AND FIND OUT!*)

1. Does it bother you to admit that you haven't read a very popular book? YES NO

2. Do you think there are degrees of cheating in a game or examination? YES NO

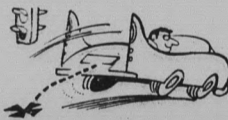

3. Are there certain foods you feel sure you'd dislike without having ever tried them? YES NO

4. Would you be seriously concerned to read in your horoscope that catastrophe would befall you tomorrow? YES NO

5. Do you often fall short of cash several days before your pay or allowance is scheduled to come through? YES NO

6. When you're driving, do you like to be first getting away from a stop light about to change? YES NO

7. Would you be reluctant to learn a new sport in the presence of friends who were experts? YES NO

8. Have you found it to be personally true that "a man's best friend is his dog"? YES NO

9. Do you believe your choice of a filter cigarette should be based on hearsay? YES NO

If you're the kind of person who thinks for yourself, then choosing a cigarette will be based on a careful study of the facts—not on quick decisions.

Men and women who think for themselves usually smoke VICEROY. Their good judgment tells them there's only one cigarette with a thinking man's filter and a smoking man's taste. And that cigarette is VICEROY.

*If you've answered "NO" to eight out of the nine questions above, you really think for yourself!

AS Golfers Play UNM Here Today

The visiting University of New Mexico golf team will tee off at 2:30 today against ASU's linksmen at Paradise Valley Country Club.

New Mexico's golf team is rated one of the best in the southwest with several returning letterman included on this year's team.

The Devils' number one man, Duff Lawrence, will double up with teammate Don Boaz for the first matched round. Rex Wilson and Dave Klein will compose the second team and Joe Kallof and Phil Brignall will round out ASU's six-man squad.

FIRE AWAY . . . Sun Devil righthander Joe Kostyk is shown here in sequence letting go with a pitch in Wednesday's double-header with Pepperdine College. The Devils split the two games and Kostyk saw action in relief in both games. The senior moundsman from Ambridge, Pa. has pitched in three of the four games the Devils have played this season.

Devils Split Doubleheader

ASU's Bob Reid and Syl Mabry blasted fourth-inning triples in Wednesday's twin bill to pave the way to a Sun Devil second game 11-7 victory over Pepperdine College. Pepperdine won the first game 4-2.

The Devils, playing their first home game, scored five times in the fourth inning to break a scoreless tie. Mabry's 3-bagger drove in two runs and Reid's smash came with the bases loaded.

Pepperdine fought back to tie the score at 7-7 in the eighth; but five ASU singles and a double by John Jacobs in the bottom of the inning brought in four runs, icing the game for the home team. Jerry Hochevar, third Demon pitcher, gained the win after relieving in the eighth.

Pepperdine nipped ASU 4-2 in the seven-inning opener. Leading 2-1 in the top of the seventh, the visitors scored twice on two doubles, two errors and a hit batsmen. The Devils scored once in their final frame.

Pepperdine Pitcher Ray Sims got the win and the loss went to ASU hurler Jim Sims.

The Devils play Los Angeles State on the new baseball diamond today at 3:00 p.m. The two teams meet tomorrow in a doubleheader starting at 1 p.m. ASU meets Colorado State here in a twin bill on Monday. Game time is 1 p.m.

A ninth inning over-throw by Pepperdine shortstop Norm Greenbaum gave Arizona State a 4-3 victory and the rubber game of a three game series here last night.

CASE STUDY . . . Sun Devil baseball fans got their first look at new coach Bobby Winkles during Wednesday's doubleheader against Pepperdine. Here is the coach in four different shots as he watched his group split the twinbill. The Devils won yesterday afternoon's game, 4-3, in the bottom of the ninth, to win the three-game series with the Waves, two to one.

AS Spikers Meet Occidental

By BOB LAIRSON

Arizona State University's track team will meet some of this season's toughest competition tomorrow as it hosts Occidental College in a dual meet at Goodwin Stadium.

Occidental, one of the strongest dual meet teams in the country, will be favored in the trackfest, but ASU fans will be watching for several highly-touted Devil tracksters to regain their 1952 form and send the California thinsies homeward with a defeat.

A highlight of the meet will be the mile duel between ASU's Alex Henderson and Tod White of Occidental. White possesses a 4:08.3 clocking in the distance and approached 4:10 this season.

Henderson has timed 4:03.1, and turned in a 4:08 performance last Saturday in the last lap of the medley relay in the Southern Pacific AAU relays.

Joe Rose and Don Jeisy of ASU will be favored to win the pole vault, although Ed Crouch and Tim Helms of Oxy have cleared 14-4 and 14-0, respectively.

Tom Whetstine and Dick Fischl of ASU are favored in their events. Whetstine has cleared 6-10 in the high jump and Fischl has a 14.0 clocking the high hurdles. Freshman Jesse Bradford should add points in the low hurdles, although he finished Spring football just last Saturday. It is doubtful that he has regained the form that won him the national prep low hurdles standard in 1957.

The Demon weak point is the dashes. These could be strengthened by Bradford since he has sprinted the century in 9.5 seconds. Ike Johnstone, another freshman who competed in football drills, owns a 9.7 timing in the 100. Either Demon could bolster ASU scoring tomorrow.

Jim Cerveny of Oxy is favored to win the half-mile, although Mel Spence of Arizona State will be on hand to provide excitement for Sun Devil track fans.

Field events are scheduled to start at 7:30. Admittance is $1.00 for public, activity cards for AS students.

Riflemen Fourth

The ASU Army ROTC rifle team returned from El Paso, Texas, Saturday with the 4th place trophy in the 10th annual Southwestern Invitational Rifle Match, sponsored by Texas Western College and Fort Bliss.

Forty-eight teams from colleges and universities throughout the South, Southwest, the Midwest and the Pacific Coast competed. The smallbore match is the largest intercollegiate shoulder-to-shoulder competition held in the United States.

Kansas State College took first place honors with a score of 5,688, followed by Arlington State and the University of California at Berkeley. The Sun Devils fired a total of 5,661, 27 points off the pace.

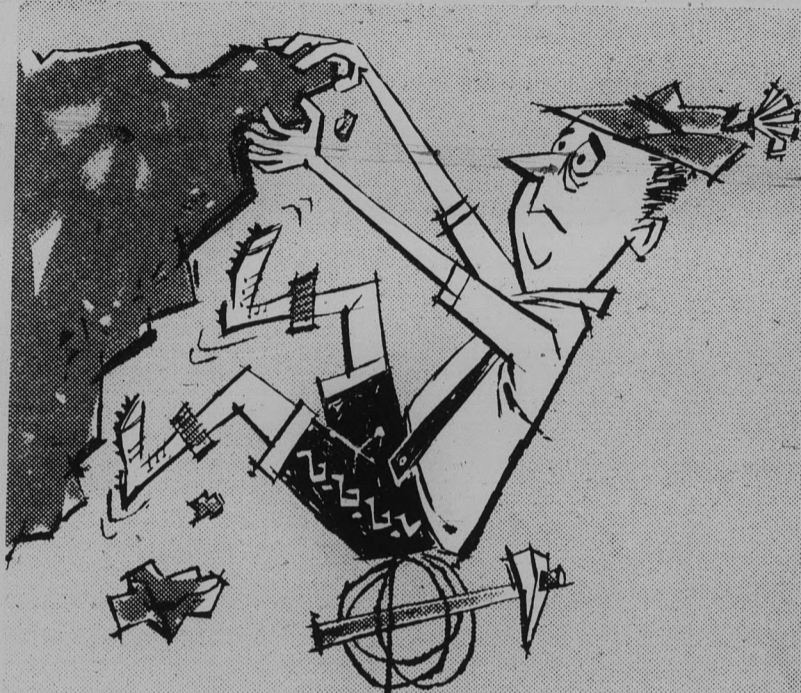

Tom Downs led the ASU team with three individual trophies. He tied for 1st place high aggregate award with 1,158 out of a possible 1,200 in three matches, won the high off-hand trophy with 277 out of 300 and won 5th high kneeling trophy with 290 out of 300. He was in competition with a field of 240 shooters.

AGGIES LOSE NCAA PLAYOFF

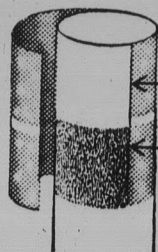

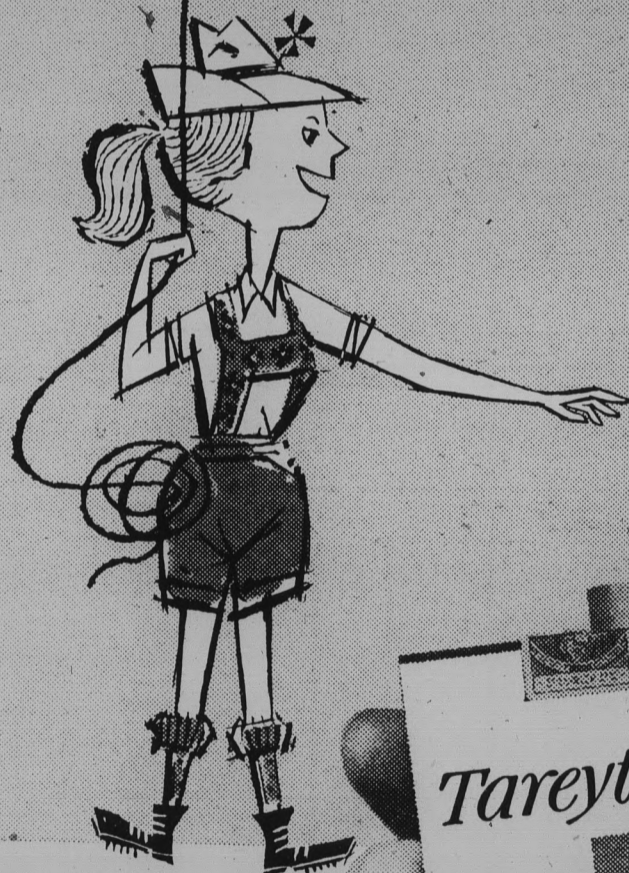

Rocky Mountain champion Idaho State knocked Border Conference entry New Mexico State out of the running for the last berth to the NCAA major college basketball tournament Wednesday with a 62-61 victory at Las Cruces.

Idaho State meets St. Mary's of California tonight at the Cow Palace in San Francisco in first round NCAA regional play.

The Aggies of NMSU earned the right to meet Idaho State by whipping Texas Western and Arizona State.

HOW THAT RING GETS AROUND!

Here's Why Tareyton's Dual Filter filters as no single filter can:

1. It combines an efficient pure white outer filter . . .
2. with a unique inner filter of ACTIVATED CHARCOAL . . . which has been definitely proved to make the smoke of a cigarette milder and smoother.

Notice how many Dual Filter Tareyton smokers you see around campus these days? Why so? Just try the cigarette yourself. You'll see "why so"!

THE TAREYTON RING MARKS THE REAL THING!
