

MU Birthday Festivities Readied

Ship Sails To S. Pacific Tomorrow

By Gordon Peterson

It's three years old tomorrow!

The Memorial Union will celebrate its third annual birthday party tomorrow from 7 p.m. to midnight. "South Pacific" will be the theme.

The SS Memorial Union (College Ave. entrance to the MU) will sail to the South Pacific, where it will visit "Bali Ha'i" (ballroom), "Off Limits" (basement), "Java" (cafeteria) and "Plantation" (banquet rooms).

The theme is based on the Pulitzer-prize-winning musical "South Pacific," written by Rodgers and Hammerstein. The affair will feature three name bands, strolling musicians and a huge birthday cake.

The ship's captain, Wayne Zimmerman, will be on deck to greet passengers as they begin their journey among native singers and dancers, sailors and palm trees. A native hut on the ballroom stage, decorated hallways, fish nets, life savers, canoes and murals will add to the atmosphere, along with live and recorded music.

Characters from "South Pacific" will be on hand to entertain, as will the bands of Carl Ritter, Ernie Carbajal and Bob Roth. Student performances will be presented at 8:30, 9:30 and 11:30 in the ballroom, cafeteria and basement, and the bands will play throughout the evening.

At 10:30, a cake-cutting ceremony will take place in the ballroom. ASU President Grady Gammage will cut the first piece of cake, and ASASU President Warren Sumners will preside over the ceremony as native dancers (pompon girls) perform to the rhythm of bongo drums. The cake will then be carried to the terrace, where Phrateres members will serve it to the guests.

South Pacific characters participating in the entertainment include: Luther Billis (Leroy Whitson), Nellie Forbush (Sue Westervelt), Lt. Cable (Chuck Rust) and the captain (Ron Koch) in Java; Liat (Shirley Sperger), Bloody Mary (Lynn Bullock), Nellie (Sue Culley), Lt. Cable (Ed Bostrom) and Emile de Bacque (Carsie McCall) in Bali Ha'i.

Other entertainment includes music by David Zeitlin, The Strolling Musicians (Mel and Mal Spence), Gary Walker, Steve Anthony and the Chi Omega "Exotics."

Show tunes from "South Pacific" include "I'm Gonna Wash That Man Right Outta My Hair," "Cockeyed Optimist" and "Wonderful Guy" by Nellie; "Honey Bun" by Luther Billis and Nellie; "Happy Talk" by Liat, Bloody Mary and Lt. Cable; "Younger Than Springtime" by Lt. Cable, and "Some Enchanted Evening" by Emile de Bacque.

The party is staged in celebration of the third anniversary of the dedication of the MU.

Graphic Arts

Conference Opens

The International Graphic Arts Education Association of the Arizona-New Mexico region will hold its spring conference here tomorrow.

Registration begins at 9 a.m. in the engineering building, room 137, where ASU students will serve as guides.

A welcome and introductions will open the confab at 9:30, followed by a report of the Arizona industrial arts curriculum committee, by Louis Tassi, Graphic Arts department chairman, Rincon high school, Tucson.

Student employee time slips or termination cards for the last half of March must be turned into the Payroll Office before students leave for Easter vacation.

For students working through the vacation period, time slips are due April 1.

Students paid monthly rates from academic accounts will receive only one-fourth month's pay for the first half of April.

"Developments in Offset for High School and College Shops" is the subject of the next speaker, Dr. Clarence Lamb, New Mexico Western College, Silver City. Otis H. Chidester, head of the Graphic Arts department, Tucson High School, will tell of scholarships available to graphic-arts students.

At 10:15, IGAEA president Dick Hoffman, department chairman of Journalism and Graphic Arts, Los Angeles City College, will discuss the subject, "Your Type is Showing." "The Future of Photography for the Graphic Arts Student" is the subject of an 11:15 a.m. talk by Ivan Mashek, chief photographer for the Phoenix Gazette.

Dr. H. D. Richardson, ASU academic vice president, will welcome the group at a 12:30 p.m. luncheon in the MU faculty dining room, where Hoffman will be featured speaker. His topic is "Graphic Arts in General Education." A tour of Type Founders Inc., at 2:30 p.m., will conclude the conference.

Hulen, Sullivan Get In General

ASASU primary elections Wednesday told the tale, except for two major offices which will be decided next Wednesday in the general election, Jan Jackson, Elections Board chairman said. A total of 1,925 votes was cast.

Tom Hulen with 434 votes and Bill Sullivan with 381 votes will vie for ASASU president. Dave Barnes and Diane Blommel followed with 376 and 128 votes, respectively.

Also in the run-offs will be AWS vice presidential candidates Velva Richey and Kay Murdock. Their votes numbered 215 and 193, respectively.

Tom Meredith defeated Toni Johnson, 658 to 602, for activities vice president, while Max Richards took the first vice president's position with 778 votes to Larry McCord's 495.

Winning the secretarial office, Barbara Defer had 733 votes to Jane Wagner's 519.

Unopposed winner of the AWS president's job is Georgia Kasnetsis. Mary Olmstead was also unopposed for the office of AWS secretary. Sue Frost defeated Sue Penrod, 250 to 226, to be elected AWS treasurer.

Sam Stocks, Tom Lewis, Dick Thomas and Dick Tarrant hold the offices of AMS president, vice president, secretary and treasurer, respectively. Stocks drew 382 votes to John Lindauer's 344, and Lewis defeated Charles Hauch 412 to 265. The other were not opposed.

Veterans did not poll five percent of the vote, according to Miss Jackson, therefore will not be represented in the student senate.

Other senatorial winners are Linda Cooper and Marjorie Bonham, College of Education; John Marshall and Marilyn Leafdale, College of Business Administration; Judy Olson and Lynn Steinko, College of Liberal Arts; and David Adamy and Ronald Paquin, College of Applied Arts and Sciences.

In the class senator race, Barbara Farone, Judy Hamer, Bob McAdams, Becky McDonald and Janet Steward will compete again for the two sophomore senate positions.

Senior senators are Carole Ann Beley and Peter Gulatto. Dennis Christy and Juanita Dees are junior senators.

Off-campus women senators are Barabar Milkes and Bobbie Taylor. The off-campus men senate race was not entered. Candidates written in for those offices were disqualified because of insufficient grade indices.

Presidential ballots were counted three times and double-checked each time, according to Miss Jackson. All ballots were double-checked, with 300 thrown out due to marking other than the required "X".

Television Hour Has New Time And New Format

The Arizona State Television Hour, a production of the ASU Radio-TV Bureau, has a new time and a new format. Starting Saturday, this program is scheduled from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. on KPHO-TV, channel 5.

This week the first half hour, "University Concert," will feature the Westwood Quintet, ASU faculty and student recital group. Dr. Philip Nelson, instructor in Music, will host the program.

The second half-hour is "Viewpoint," a discussion of contemporary ideas by faculty members. Dr. Karl Dannenfeldt, head of ASU's division of Behavioral and Social Sciences, will moderate. This week's discussion will be on "The Cult of Personality" by members of the psychology and political science faculties.

Life Of Priest Is Movie Topic

"Monsieur Vincent" is title of the movie to be shown at 3 p.m. today in Cosner auditorium.

The film is based on the life of St. Vincent de Paul, a 17th century priest who devoted himself to helping the poor.

Pierre Fresnay, who won best actor award at the Grand Prix International, Venice biennial exposition, and was named Actor of the Year by the London Express, stars in the film.

The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences voted "Monsieur Vincent" the best foreign movie of 1948; London Telegram voted it best film of the year; New York Times, one of top 10 films of 1948.

Nuclear War Threat To Americans' Pursuit Of Happiness Says Editor

"The biggest thing in America today is the pursuit of happiness, but a heavy cloud hangs overhead — the threat of nuclear war and total annihilation," stated Henry R. Luce, editor-in-chief of Time, Life and Fortune magazines, yesterday.

"This problem of war may be controlled through world law," he said.

"At this time Americans enjoy the greatest freedom and the longest life span in the history of man. Now that they have an adequate material basis for a good life, they are occupied with the pursuit of happiness for a fuller life," Mr. Luce continued.

"However," he added, "it is necessary that we approach this pursuit of happiness with a spiritual and mental outlook which will truly do justice to our American heritage."

Mr. Luce congratulated ASU President Grady Gammage as the leader of Arizona State University, a symbol, he said, of growing American culture.

Nearly 200 persons attended the Public Relations Institute luncheon speech in the Memorial Union yesterday.

Summer Study Tour Of Spain To Be Conducted By Escudero

This summer Arizona State University sponsors a six-week study tour to Spain. Students participating will receive six semester hours of graduate credit in Spanish.

Dr. Mary Escudero, ASU associate professor of Spanish, will be tour leader.

Cost will be approximately $935, which will cover registration at Madrid, trans-Atlantic fare by air, rooms, meals and motor coach for the sight-seeing tours.

A reservation, with a $200 deposit must be made by April 15.

Complete details of the trip may be obtained from Dr. Roy C. Rice, director of summer sessions at ASU.

Dr. Yale Named To NSF Institute

The selection of Dr. Francis G. Yale, ASU assistant professor of Physical Sciences, to attend a science and math summer institute was announced yesterday by the sponsoring National Science Foundation.

The institute is held at the University of California at Davis and is designed to improve science and mathematics instruction at colleges and universities.

Annual Workshop For School Administrators' Slated Today

The annual workshop for upper elementary and junior high school administrators and supervisors of Arizona will meet in the Memorial Union today.

Dr. Melvin W. Barnes, Oklahoma City public schools superintendent, main speaker for the all-day meeting, will discuss "Today's Direction of the Junior High School" at 9:30 a.m. Dr. Barnes will also speak at a noon luncheon.

Following registration at 9 a.m., the ASU College of Education Dean, Dr. G. D. McGrath, will open the meeting with an introductory talk.

Dr. Ray Wochner, ASU professor of Education, will coordinate five group discussions at 10:45 a.m.

After the luncheon, Dr. Bill Fullerton, ASU assistant professor of Education, will moderate a panel discussion. Various other meetings will make up the day's activities.

Ceramics Expert Speaks Tuesday

An illustrated address on ceramics will be given by Mrs. Marguerite Wildenhain at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Memorial Union ballroom. The lecture will be open to the public.

Mrs. Wildenhain's talk is sponsored by the ASU Arts and Ceramics departments.

LAW! WHAT LAW? . . . seems to be the attitude of these jay-walkers crossing College Ave. between the Memorial Union and BA buildings. Campus Police are conducting a safe walking-safe-driving campaign to eliminate conditions such as this from the campus.

'Idylls' Idle, Still Seeks Articles

Publication of the first issue of "Idylls", the ASU literary magazine, has been delayed until next fall.

The magazine is still soliciting articles for the first issue, however, announced Dr. Collice Portnoff, English department chairman.

Don Ernst is student editor.

Poetry is welcome, but there is a special need for high quality prose fiction and non-fiction. Faculty members, as well as students, are invited to submit articles.

Boxes for manuscripts are placed outside the English department office and in the bookstore.

Carl Ritter's Orchestra To Provide Music For Engineers' Ball April 11

Carl Ritter's 15-piece orchestra will provide music for an all-school dance April 11, from 9 to midnight in the MU ballroom.

A coronation and free refreshments will be special features of the first annual Engineers' Ball, sponsored by the Engineers' Joint Council. Tickets will be available for $2 per couple at the Engineering Center, the MU information desk and at the door.

The "Queen of the Ball," to be selected from candidates representing ASU dorms and sororities, will be revealed at the semi-formal affair.

The Engineers' Joint Council is composed of representatives from the ASU student branches of six professional engineering societies, according to Joe Kreml, chairman of the executive committee for the Engineers Ball.

Cal Tech Professor Slates Talks

Dr. Tom Apostol, professor of Mathematics at the California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, will deliver two public lectures Wednesday and Thursday on the ASU campus.

The Cal Tech professor will discuss "Lattice Points" during a meeting of the ASU mathematics club at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

At 10:30 a.m. Thursday the speaker will discuss "Symmetrizing." Both talks will be given in room 103 of the Business Administration building.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING —

Successful Election

Percentage-wise, this election can be counted a success. Nearly one third of all eligible voters did their part at the polls Wednesday. Some rules were clearly posted at the polls, and most of them were observed by voters.

However, the rule that ballots must be marked "X" to be valid caused about 300 ballots to be tossed out. In some cases this made a difference in results. Elections are supposedly a voice of the people. With 300 opinions tossed out, how valid is that voice?

Counting only X's and not check marks seems a trivial reason for invalidating so many ballots. But the Elections Board clearly followed the code set up by the Student Senate last spring.

Why all the check marks? Some students apparently have short memories, are near-sighted, or don't bother to read rules. With college life as complex as it is, students should be forgiven these faults at times. After all, voters in community and national affairs are safeguarded from making a mistake like this at the polls. They are provided voting machines.

It would be fine if voting machines were available for ASASU elections. Even without them, though, the Elections Board could have provided some measure of accuracy for voters. What happened to the rubber stamps purchased for previous elections?

One other matter that detracted from the "fool-proofness" of this election was the way in which offices were listed on the ballots.

With all senatorial candidates from every college on one ballot, anyone could have voted for senators in any college. In some cases, students voted for candidates in every college. With a reasonable amount of figuring, this could have been prevented.

Considering the short notice upon which Elections Board duties were taken over by the new chairman, there's little room for fault-finding.

Standing Room Only

It is gratifying to see the standing-room-only crowds at ASU baseball games on the new diamond.

Last week the 300 bleacher seats were filled to capacity at one time or another, and fans lined up on the sidelines from home plate, past third base, to the fence in left field. At one game, there were approximately 500 people attending.

For one baseball game played here in the past, not even a scorekeeper showed up. Nobody likes to watch a ball game from a bleacher seat which guarantees slivers. Nobody like to watch a ball club which displays no fire, determination or color. Nobody like to watch a baseball game in which the ball will take crazy bounces, depending on the slope of the terrain and how rocky the infield is.

Most of the baseball ills here are being rectified. The bleachers are no longer in danger of collapsing; slivers are at a minimum. Three hundred seats have been set up, and there are more to come.

The new field is heaven, compared to the old diamond and there we use the world loosely. Plans are in operation to seed the outfield, which, although covered only with dirt, is free of the chuckholes, rocks and slopes that made the old field a menace.

The ASU team may not win all of its games, but baseball coach Bobby Winkles won't let them slow down, even in defeat.

Winkles is a man who generates enthusiasm. His boys play baseball, or else. And he isn't afraid to mix with the umpires.

The ball field is new. The club is new, bolstered by some dependable veterans. The coach is new. The crowds are beginning to gather.

Let's hope that when those new seats are installed, there'll be more SRO crowds.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"I HEAR HE'S DATIN' A REAL 'BEAST'."

By PETEY OLMSTED

In the favorite word of our editor-in-chief, "gadzookies!"

Doesn't this weather make you want to flop down under a tree and watch cloud-faces float overhead? If you should doze off in this heavenly repose, you're still under the spell of orange blossoms that flavor the air.

You can't escape spring fever, no matter how many books you carry or how many exams stand between you and that lazy spot under a tree. If you could just close your eyes a few seconds and find yourself on some lush island in the South Pacific when you waken...

Oh, for just one day of nothing but happiness and coconuts! Give in... you must have illusions like this once in a while — or are you from some other planet?

Did you know your illusions can materialize? Saturday night our Memorial Union celebrates its third birthday in this care-free island atmosphere. "South Pacific" inspired the theme, music and characters from the show will carry it out. You can travel to Bali Ha'i, Java and even "Off-limits" free in the MU Saturday night.

Floor shows will include students portraying Nellie, Bloody Mary, Emil, Lt. Cable and many others from the Broadway production. Cake-cutting ceremonies at 10:30 p.m. will highlight activities in the ballroom.

A strolling guitar player will wander among the "islands" to entertain you between shows.

It all adds up to the most fun-filled event of the year in the MU... and we hear that some of the characters may be wearing grass skirts. It's from 7 'til midnight. See you there?

Wondering why the State Press isn't supporting a slate of candidates in these elections? A note on the blackboard to all S. P. reporters explains, "We can hardly support ourselves!"

By ROCHELLE MACKEY

From the vantage point of the State Press office windows, it is interesting to note the example staff members set for students in the current campus safety campaign.

The parade starts early in the morning and proceeds in two directions up until about 4:30 in the afternoon. Staff members leave the Administration building, usually by the east door (facing College Ave.), walk to the curb via the wide path, then proceed to wander diagonally across College toward the west walk leading past the Bookstore in the Union. They reverse the order on their return trip.

They are in the middle of the street — in a traffic lane — for about 30 or 40 yards. Cars are forced to stop and wait while these wanderers wend their leisurely ways along the asphalt. Traffic is tied up, tempers rise and the ASU campus looks like Jaywalkers J. C.

Our photographer shot the picture, which appears in this issue, of students committing the same breach of the laws of safety and etiquette in front of the BA building. We have assigned him to make similar shots between the Administration building and the MU for next issue.

It's going to be interesting to see the people (or should I say "personages?") who appear in the next picture. Unless the people who work in the Administration building amend their ways muy pronto, there are bound to be some red-faced staff members.

But we'd rather publish an embarrassing picture than a front-page story to the effect that a high-ranking member of the Administration (or a lowly clerk, for that matter) has been seriously injured in a car-pedestrian accident on College Ave.

The current campus safety campaign is not addressed only to students. Members of the Faculty and Administration are just as fragile when hit by a car; their meanderings tie up traffic just as badly.

The safety campaign is serious business. We're sure the people in the Administration building agree with the campaign in principle; they just haven't stopped to realize its success depends just as much on them as on the greenest freshman.

We trust this reminder will be sufficient.

After having the firm conviction that apathy had doomed campus elections forever, it was both startling and gratifying to see the results of Wednesday's primary.

"George! George! Drop the Camels!"

More people are loyal to Camels than any other cigarette today. It stands to reason: the best tobacco makes the best smoke. The Camel blend of costly tobaccos has never been equalled for rich flavor and easy-going mildness. No wonder Camel is the No. 1 cigarette of all brands today!

AS Golfers Take CSU

Arizona State University's golf team downed visiting Colorado State Wednesday at Scottsdale Country Club, 24½-2½. It was the Sun Devils' fourth consecutive win.

Rex Wilsen (71), ASU, def. Ray Bostich (76), CSU, 3-0; Don Boaz (76), ASU, def. Dave Atnip (80), CSU, 3-0; Wilsen-Boaz, ASU, def. Bostich-Atnip, CSU, 3-0; Duff Lawrence (71), ASU, def. Bill Owen (81), CSU, 3-0; Roger Hedlund (79), CSU, def. Dave Klein (88), ASU, 2½-½; Lawrence-Klein, ASU, def. Owen-Hedlund, CSU, 2½-½; Phil Brignall (76), ASU, def. Dick Wise (76), CSU, 3-0; Joe Kallof (73), ASU, def. Dick Johnson (76), CSU, 2-1; Brignall-Kallof, ASU, def. Wise-Johnson, CSU, 2½-½.

Four members of the golf team, accompanied by Coach Fanny Markham, will leave Monday night by plane for the Houston Golf Invitational Tournament.

ASU's Femme Swimmers Win

For the second time this season, the ASU women's swimming team beat the women's swimming team from the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque, by a score of 55-28 in a meet held last Saturday at the ASU pool.

TONIGHT AT 7:30

Spikers, San Jose Collide

RELAY MAN . . . As he did last week, ASU's George Hershey will carry the baton first in the relay race during tonight's dual meet with San Jose. Hershey, who can negotiate 100 yards in 9.9 seconds, is a junior from Bisbee, Arizona. Following Hershey in the relay will be Mel Spence, Willis Palmer and Mal Spence.

The world 100-yard dash record could be jeopardized tonight as ASU plays host to the San Jose State Spartans in Goodwin stadium.

Ray Norton, co-holder of the world record at 9.3 seconds, will be pushed by teammates Bob Poynter (9.4), Bob Brooks (9.5) and Demon frosh Jesse Bradford, who has a best time of 9.5 for the event and who turned in a 9.8 clocking last week against Occidental after training for only three days.

Carrol Lindroos, blond giant from Finland, will attempt to better his Arizona State school record of 172 feet in the discus. The Sun Devils' other consistent winner in the field division, Herb Montoya, will try to improve his javelin toss of 220'3" tonight against top-flight Spartan competitor Dick Bocks, who has a 229' 6" effort to his credit.

Alex Hnederson, Demon national distance record holder, should contribute his usual ten points in the mile and two-mile, although his clockings of 4:08 and 9:12 last week are within reach of San Jose's Wes Bond, 4:13 miler, and Don Kelly, who also has completed the two-mile distance in 9:12.

Pole vaulter Stan Hopkins of the Spartans will press Sun Devils Joe Rose and Don Jeisy. Hopkins has cleared 14-4, while Rose and Jeisy both have 14-6 vaults to their credit.

The return of SJS hurdler Kent Herkenrath poses a problem for Demon track mentor Baldy Castillo, since his top man, Dick Fischl, pulled a leg muscle against Oxy last week and has not regained his 1958 form. Spartan Herkenrath set a meet record of 23.4 in the low hurdles last year and is credited with a 22.9 timing this season. Castillo has high hopes for freshmen John McFalls in the highs and Jesse Bradford in the lows. Bradford holds the national prep low hurdles title but did not feel that he was properly conditioned for the event last week.

The mile relay, which decided the meet with Occidental last week, could be another thriller. Sun Devils Mel Spence, George Hershey, Willis Palmer and Mal Spence have clocked 3:20 for the relay, while the San Jose quartet of Bob Myers, Jerry Howell, Chuck McNeil and Charles McNiff has an identical clocking for the distance.

Cagers Pick All-Opponents

New Mexico State University and its 6-8 sophomore center, Bill Price, turned out to be top vote-getters in ASU's all-opponent basketball team.

Price received the greatest number of votes, and the Aggies were voted the best team played by the Devils.

The rest of the first five included Ron Bazadier of Los Angeles State, Charlie Brown of Texas Western, Al Tate of Wichita and Ted Luckenbill of Houston.

Devils Maul Grand Canyon

Baseballs bounced around the Sun Devil ball field like kernels of popping corn yesterday as ASU demolished Grand Canyon College, 21-2.

Some 150 fans sat through a combination sun bath and dust storm to witness the game.

Paul Denham, rounding into shape after his stint on the basketball team, showed mid-season form with a brilliant 7-inning, two-hit stint. Coach Bobby Winkles yanked the righthander in the eighth frame, figuring seven innings were plenty for Denham on his first outing.

Jerry Hochevar mopped up, giving up an unearned run in the ninth.

Fig's File

A few days before Gene Leek signed with the Cleveland Indians, the University of Arizona newspaper, the Wildcat, ran a feature on their prized slugger.

"I plan to go into pro ball after this season," Leek said. "I haven't made up my mind, though, who it will be with."

Four days later and $30,000 richer, Leek played third base for the Indians and got two for two in an exhibition game.

There you have the shortest season and the quickest change of mind ever.

Naturally, UA Coach Frank Sancet was upset, to put it mildly. In the same issue of the Wildcat, Sancet had named Leek third baseman on his mythical Sancet-coached All-Star team.

Leek's departure was just beginning to look advantageous from the Arizona State viewpoint, when Sancet made a shift in personnel and came up with Bob Wilson, normally a first baseman.

Wilson played third Wednesday and proceeded to rap a bases-loaded triple, a three-run homer, and a run-producing single, batting in seven runs during Arizona's 18-3 massacre of Colorado State. C'est la vie.

There will be an intramural managers meeting today at 2:30 p.m. in the Senate Chamber of the Memorial Union. Plans for wrestling and softball will be discussed. Attendance will be taken.

The outcome was a complete reversal of the last game the two teams played. That one was called after 9 innings a 6-6 tie.

ASU bombed a pair of GC pitchers for 20 hits, including a two-run, third inning 360 foot homer by Troy Neal, another fugitive from the hardwood court. He also singled and batted in three runs.

Bill Gorman, sophomore catcher, continued his batting spree, going 4 for 4. Gorman has now hit safely in six of seven trips to the plate.

Centerfielder Fran Urban broke out of a mild slump with a three for three day, including a 400 foot triple.

Leading 12-1 going into the bottom of the eighth, the Devils put together four singles, a pair of doubles, two walks, an error and a sacrifice fly for nine runs. Highlight of the frame was Ed Littleton's bases-loaded double, which accounted for three runs.

ASU faces San Diego State today at 3:30 on the home diamond, and does a repeat tomorrow. Winkles will start either Ray Martinez or Jim Sims today. Both are lefties.

Monday, Wyoming's Cowboys come to town for a four-game set.

BENNY BELTS ONE... John Jacobs extends a hand to congratulate Devil shortstop Benny Ruiz on his fifth inning sacks-empty homer Monday. The circuit clout didn't help, though, for Los Angeles State won the game, 8-4.

L&M is Low
in tar

with
taste to it

Don't settle for one without the other!

© 1959 Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company

"L&M is kindest to your taste because L&M combines the two essentials of modern smoking," says TV's Jack Lescolie.

LOW TAR: L&M's patented filtering process adds extra-filter fibers electrostatically, crosswise to the stream of smoke... makes L&M truly low in tar.

MORE TASTE: L&M's rich mixture of slow burning tobaccos brings you more exciting taste than any other cigarette.
