Regents Expand Academic Program

Enrollment Boom Seen For A-State

Arizona State University will have successive enrollment gains of 20 and 18 per cent in the next two years, adding 4,042 students to the present on-campus registration of 9,708, the Board of Regents was told yesterday.

The enrollment prediction of 13,750 students by the 1960-61 academic year was made by Alfred Thomas Jr., registrar and director of admissions, and was conveyed to the Regents. The increase, Mr. Thomas said, has been more than 20 per cent each year since 1955-56 and since then has been approximately three times the national gain in college and university enrollment.

In the last five years, Mr. Thomas pointed out, registration on campus has more than doubled and the distribution among the five ASU colleges has shifted.

The registrar prepared the projection to help administrators and deans in planning for necessary adjustments in space, faculty and academic programs in the next two years. If the present rate of increase is maintained, he said, enrollment will be more than 25,000 in five years.

During the next two years, Mr. Thomas predicts, freshmen will compose 43 per cent of the undergraduate students, sophomores, 21 per cent, juniors, 19 per cent, seniors, 17 per cent, and graduate students will increase 18 per cent. The ratios are essentially the same as they are this year.

LANEY BACKS ASU

Course Duplication Fight On

A request by Arizona State University to have five advanced engineering courses restored to its offering for next year precipitated a heated word battle at the Board of Regents meeting at Tucson Tuesday and raised again the controversy of duplication of courses.

Dr. Grady Gammage, ASU president, had requested the Regents to approve five courses, one in Nuclear and four in Chemical Engineering, which had been rejected by the board at its March 9 meeting which was closed to the public and press.

The courses, it was explained, were to implement the master of Science in Engineering degrees previously authorized by the Regents and already being taught at ASU. At the same time the board rejected the five courses, however, it approved master and doctor of Philosophy degrees in Chemical Engineering at the University of Arizona, where no undergraduate program in that field had been offered.

It was this inconsistency which drew fire from Regent Lynn M. Laney, of Phoenix, who wondered aloud "if this board is designed to penalize one institution . . ."

"We've just used the meat axe" on ASU, Mr. Laney said, pointing out that ASU students, on the basis of Regents' prior approval, had a right to expect the advance work in engineering.

"It is sweet when the UofA duplicates, but terrible when ASU does it. Duplication is

Add 3 Degrees And 230 Courses

A major expansion of Arizona State University's academic program, including the addition of an undergraduate and two graduate degrees, was approved yesterday by the Board of Regents.

$122,118 Given For Scholarship, Research, Grants

A total of $122,118 in research contracts and grants and scholarship gifts to Arizona State University was reported yesterday to the Board of Regents by Dr. Grady Gammage, ASU president.

The contracts include a $35,000 grant from the U.S. Office of Education, Washington, D. C., for the operation of a counseling and guidance training institute at ASU this summer and a $12,030 grant from the National Science Foundation, Washington, D. C., for an in-service institute for secondary school teachers of science and mathematics, to be conducted during the 1959-60 academic year.

Also included were a $9,569 research grant from the National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md., for an investigation of the effects of tranquilizers on the learning processes; a $18,300 research contract with the Atomic Energy Commission for a study of electrical properties of semi-conductors; and a $14,667 research contract with the U.S. Office of Naval Research for a study of the psychological processes in language communication.

More than $32,000 was reported for scholarship grants and gifts of equipment and books for the academic program and library.

The Regents also approved the addition to two departments, nine areas of specialization and 230 courses to the ASU academic program; the redesignation of three divisions in the College of Applied Arts and Sciences; and the establishment of two new research bureaus.

Effective next fall, ASU will offer a five-year curriculum leading to a bachelor of Architecture degree and new master's degree programs leading to master of Fine Arts and master of Public Administration degrees.

These additions increase the number of degrees offered at ASU to 14, six undergraduate and eight graduate.

Also approved by the Regents were the division of the department of History and Political Science into two separate departments and the addition of a department of General Physical Sciences to the division of Physical Sciences.

New areas of specialization approved by the Regents are: Art, French and German in the master of Arts degree program, and Economics, Home Economics and Physical Education in the master of Science degree curriculum.

The additions increase the number of programs leading to the master of Arts degree from five to eight and the number of curriculums for the master of Science degree also from five to eight.

Three name changes were authorized for the College of Applied Arts and Sciences. Effective next fall, the division of Technology will be known as the division of Industrial Education; the division of Architecture, the School of Architecture; the division of Engineering, the School of Engineering.

Also approved were the establishment of a research center in the School of Engineering and a bureau of government research in the Political Science department.

The addition of 230 courses, 137 undergraduate and 93 graduate, to the ASU curriculum was authorized by the Regents. The new courses include: 77 undergraduate and 49 graduate, College of Liberal Arts; seven undergraduate and five graduate, College of Education; eight undergraduate and eight graduate, College of Business Administration; and 45 undergraduate and 31 graduate, College of Applied Arts and Sciences.

The Regents also reduced the number of proposed course additions to the graduate program from 109 to 93. A total of 40 courses, 31 undergraduate and nine graduate, were dropped by ASU from its curriculum.

Also authorized for ASU were the establishment of an honors program designed for students of exceptional ability and a College of Liberal Arts scholarship requirement that a student achieve a grade of "C" or better in all upper division courses in his major field.

Other catalog changes approved Feb. 18 by the Regents were ASU requests to require a cumulative scholarship index of 2.00 or "C," of all candidates for graduation and that 40 per cent of the semester hours required for graduation be in upper division courses. The new graduation requirements will apply to all students entering ASU next fall.

Also starting next fall, students will be disqualified when their cumulative grade index falls below 1.25 at the end of their freshman year; below 1.50 at the close of the sophomore year; and below 1.75, the junior year.

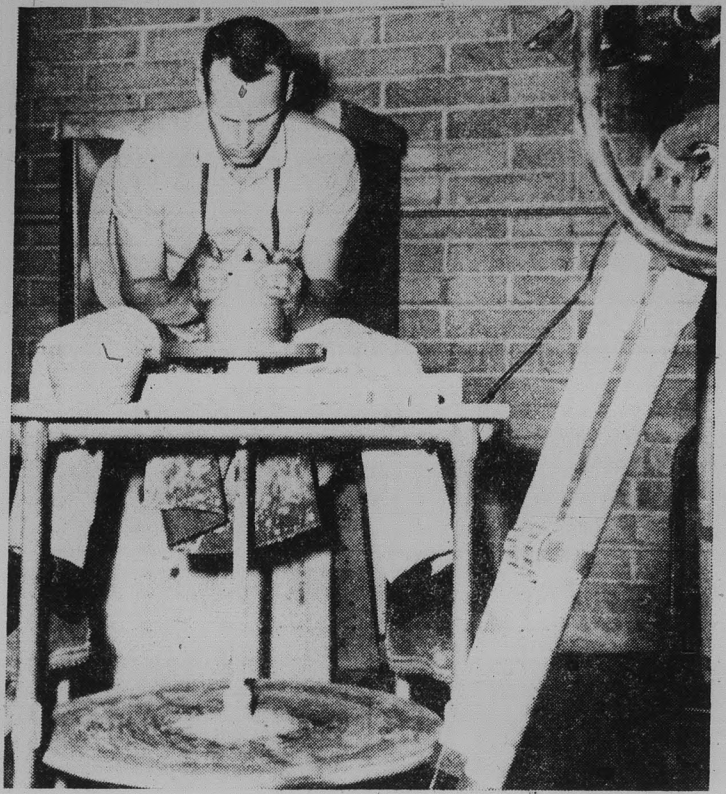

Calendar Contest Entry Deadline Is Set May Fifth

The 1959 fall calendar contest is now open. The contest closes May 5. Tom Meredith, Activities Vice-President-elect, and Madge Munro announced.

Requirements for the cover are:

1. It must be in two colors.
2. It should depict student life at ASU.
3. It may be either a photo or a sketch.

Entries are to be turned in at MU 202.

DEMONSTRATION . . . of the throwing of a ceramic pot was given Saturday by ASU assistant professor of Art Don Schaumburg over KPHO-TV Channel 5. The show was part of the Creative Arts Festival.

Try-outs will be held this afternoon at 2:30 in Payne Auditorium for the last directing show of the season. All interested are urged to attend.

Scholarship Applications Due May 1st

May 1 is the deadline for applications from students seeking scholarship renewals and/or new scholarships, Mrs. Marge McKemy, ASU scholarship secretary, announced.

Forms may be obtained at the Scholarship Office, 103B, Administration building. Scholarships are available in all fields, Mrs. McKemy said.

This year the grants will be awarded before the end of the school year.

ASU Request Opens Battle

a two-way street," Mr. Laney said, and cited nursing, architecture and, now, chemical engineering as examples of UofA duplication of existing ASU programs.

After Dr. Richard Harvill, UofA president, attempted to explain the Regents' action, Mr. Laney retorted:

"I have great respect for Dr. Harvill, but he would oppose any engineering at ASU. Valley industry, however, demands and needs it.

"I protest any decision against these young people who were led to believe that they would have graduate training. I appeal to the conscience of the board that these boys should not be deprived of their opportunity.

"There are a lot of good people at ASU," he continued, including "more PhD's on its staff than any other engineering school in the country."

Regent John Babbitt, of

Flagstaff, earlier said, "In regard to engineering, Tempe has no kick," and later thought the matter deserving of more study by the regents. "Maybe we ought to take some courses away from the UofA and give them to Tempe," he said.

After voicing his plea in support of Dr. Gammage's request, Laney moved that the five courses be restored. The motion was seconded by Regent O. D. Miller, of Phoenix, but before it came to a vote, Regent Sam Morris, of Globe, said:

"You shouldn't impugn the motives of the board in voting. However, if there is a wrong, it should be corrected."

Mr. Morris asked Laney to withdraw his motion to permit further study of the request.

Mr. Laney complied.

Meet a Young Executive on the Champs Elysées

(SHE COULD BE YOU!)

Not long ago this young lady was a college senior. Today, she handles the responsibilities and decisions of an executive in one of the world's largest organizations. Today, she's stationed in Paris... an officer in the Women's Army Corps.

Her professional and social life is busy... exciting... happily balanced.

On duty, this young executive occupies a position requiring education, initiative and intelligence. She commands the high salary and traditional privileges of an Army officer.

Off duty, she enjoys her leisure time. (Free evenings and weekends plus 30-day annual paid vacation.) Perhaps she'll attend evening classes at the Sorbonne. Or make a skiing trip to St. Moritz. Or spend a holiday on the French Riviera. Whatever she does, she'll find a world of fun!

Of course, her assignment didn't have to be Paris. It might have been Heidelberg, Honolulu, Tokyo... even New York or Los Angeles.

But wherever this young lady goes, her uniform will be her passport to a wonderful world of opportunity. Because she began her career as an executive... an officer in the Women's Army Corps.

She could be you... this young executive on the Champs Elysées.

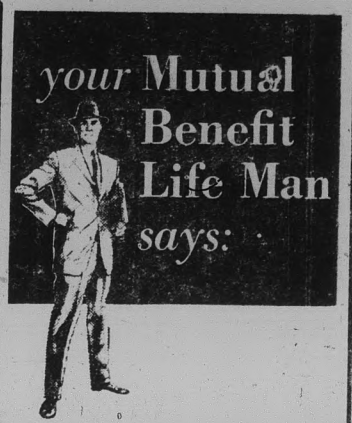

Special... 1959 Summer Program for Juniors:

Want a special preview of Army life? Why not see it for yourself this summer! If you qualify for this limited program, you'll receive 4 weeks of orientation training during the summer of 1959—without any commitment. The sole purpose of this program is to help you decide—with confidence—if you want to apply for a commission after you graduate. If you're interested, today is the day to mail the coupon. There's no obligation.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING —

Plan Ahead

As one of Arizona State University's usually most successful events, the annual Blue Key Carnival should have carried on its fine tradition last evening in Goodwin Stadium.

But the usual large attendance could hardly have been expected. The date of the event wasn't known on campus until Friday, and even then the location wasn't definitely set.

We hope that next year's group in charge of the carnival will let us all know about it farther in advance so more of us can be in on the fun. In other words, it helps to plan ahead.

The all-school calendar committee is working now on next year's schedule of events (check story on page 2). To help those in charge of scheduling, the committee will send each campus organization a list of dates already closed on next year's calendar. Each group's events may be scheduled around the closed dates.

Why not start now to plan ahead?

Pre-paid Benefit

If you have been carrying your activity card for nearly eight months now without getting any use out of it — if you missed Emyln Williams, the Concerto Festival and the TV broadcast — it's still not too late. The Creative Arts Festival, which began last Wednesday, continues through Friday night with three one-act plays by the Drama Workshop and a concert of original music and choreography by Orchestis. Your activity card will admit you to the plays. Tickets for non-students cost 75-cents.

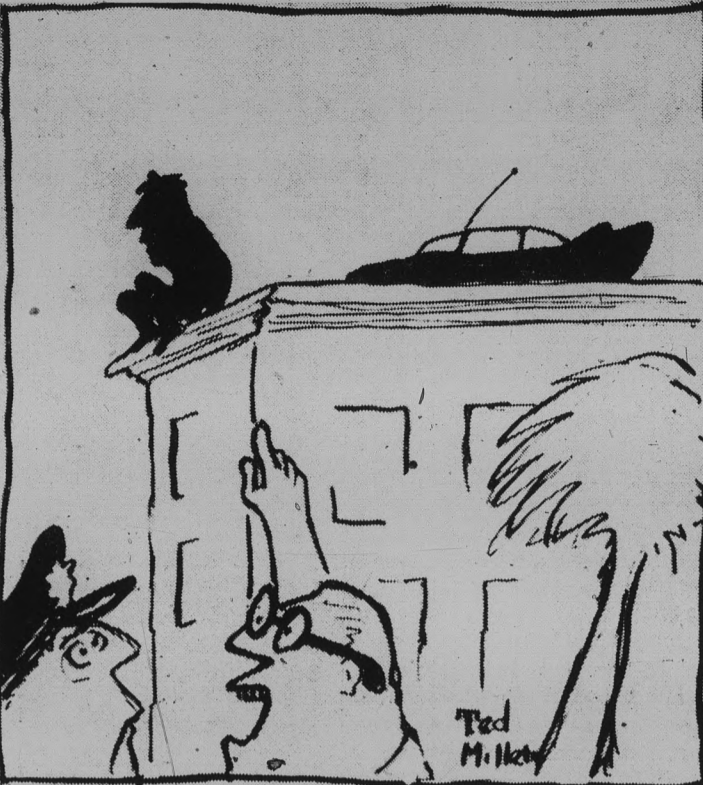

The plays, one each night at 8:30, and the dance concert, tomorrow at 8:15 p.m., offer you a chance to get your money's worth out of your activity fee and at the same time spend a few enjoyable hours.

Why not attend some, if not all, of these doings? If the previous presentations in the festival are any indication, you can expect a good time.

Proofreaders' Holiday

To the editor:
 In regard to your reply to my last letter, I have just a few words to say . . . According to the figures given in "Editor's Scratch Pad," which I might add looks just like a scratch pad, you stated that there are "30 acres" of parking area allotted to off-campus students and that each acre holds 150 cars. You went on to say, "this makes a total of 8,500 parking spaces" for the 4,800 off-campus cars to park. Now, dear lady, lady, I might not be able to read, but I sure as hell can add; and when I add the 150 car spaces for every acre of parking area, I get 4,500 parking spaces for 4,800 cars. That means there are 300 students with no place to park. That's what I mean about checking your facts . . .

Dave M. Hummel
 To The Editor:
 In reference to Mr. Hummel's letter of last week, we would like to inform you that more than one student becomes ill when your twice weekly trivia makes its appearance (sic). Mr. Hummel certainly placed the last straw on the camels back in regard to his statement that your voice as editor of the state press reflects the views of the administration rather than that of the more numerous student body. You would attempt to close the issue by stating "that's tough" to us this conglomerous statement sounds like the last resort of a feeble mind.
 Whether or not the editor knows what she is talking about the letters to the editor gives students a chance to explain a few of the finer points on the facts of life at ASU to the editor. You state "There are more than enough parking spaces on campus for the cars registered . . ." You go on to say there are approximately 30 acres . . . this leaves 300 cars parked on campus rooftops. Which happen to be reserved for the ever booming pigeon population.

 Yes we have been successful with the 3 R's. But, will continue to fight senility and pigeons.

Larry Foley, Jim Sneed, Bill Mattoon, Bob Valantas, Bob Lukian, Ron Rayner
 (Ed. Note: The above excerpt is reprinted just as received.)
 We acknowledge with thanks the above letters and that from Jack Pritchard expressing a similar point of view. We compliment them on their abilities as proofreaders. For further facts we refer them to Mr. Shuman's letter on this page.

To The Editor

I would like to thank you and your staff for your excellent work in the present safety campaign. I feel that through your efforts, all persons on campus have become more conscious of their driving and walking habits.

In answer to questions asked of this office regarding the parking situation on campus; parking was eliminated on College Ave. and the south side of 8th St. by the City Council, at the request of the Department of Security and the Tempe Police Department. This move provides greater safety for both pedestrian and vehicular traffic. A recent survey shows that an average of 2,800 cars travel College Ave. between 7 a.m. and 4 p.m. It is estimated that from 1,600 to 2,000 pedestrians cross College Ave. during any one class break. A spot check has indicated that vehicular traffic on College Ave. has been reduced by approximately 200 automobiles a day since parking has been banned.

This office has received many comments from students, faculty, staff and visitors, stating that the campus appears much less congested since parking on College Ave. has been eliminated.

Even with the parking bans on campus, it is estimated that during any peak period we could still accomodate 1,000 automobiles within five-minute's walking distance of the center of campus.

A 1957 survey by Houston University shows Houston has 10,000 cars and 5,039 parking spaces; Iowa (Ames), 8,000-4,000; U of Texas, 13,135-3,361; Purdue, 4,000-2,293; U of Oklahoma, 7,950-1,577; Northwestern U, 2,800-2,000; U of A, 4,436-3,400 and ASU, 5,200-2,300. Number of cars includes those of faculty, staff and on-campus students. Space available excludes off-campus parking.

Thus, ASU, with 4,700 off-campus cars and 4,500 off-campus parking spaces, plus some 200 spaces on city streets, is still in pretty good shape.
 Gayle Shuman,
 Director, Campus Security

Letter To The Editor

To The Editor:
 Intellectual curiosity is, or ought to be, the lifeblood of any institution. Hence I am curious as to the reasons behind the new move to eliminate parking on College between Apache and Eighth. The obvious answer is . . . to help the parking problem — sign of progress, don't you know — all the big cities are limiting parking to solve the parking problem!

Without wishing to sound cynical, may I point out that very often things are done in the name of progress that are fashionable in appearance but not helpful . . . just important sounding words such as so often pass for wisdom.

I then respectfully inquire (1) why parking is ruled off College . . . ; (2) who passed the rule; (3) if it is found that there is not discernible reason for the new rule, beyond its appearance of efficiency, is there any dignified, face saving way for the "no parking" signs to be removed? . . . Could the State Press make this inquiry, or is it too student-run to dare? . . .

Georges Spelvin
 (Ed. note: Poor State Press! First it's "the megaphone for the present administration's use." Now it's "to student-run to dare" make inquiries for information that has appeared in its last six issues.)

 You malcontents will be happy to hear another newspaper is being published on campus. You who aren't malcontents might be interested, too, for variety's sake. And you who find most of the material in the State Press above or below your mental maturity might also like to subscribe to the Tribune.
 For two cents an issue, you get seven pages with full coverage of classroom events, creative writing and crossword puzzles to boot!
 Impressed? There's more — jokes, etiquette advice, want ad and several feature stories in each issue. This week's edition includes a short description of how names of months of the year have evolved.

 Opinion polls are another feature of the Tribune.
 Sports and social coverage is excellent. Editorials are timely and concise.
 Want to subscribe? Check with Duain Wolf, editor, or Pressy Overman and Mark Randal, assistant editors of the Payne Training School Tribune. They're eighth graders in the training school on 10th Street, and they're doing a fine job on the new publication.

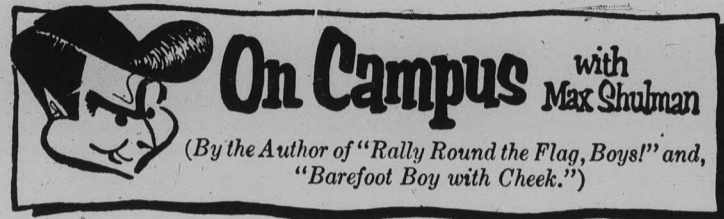

Conquistadores Set Dance

Los Conquistadores will hold their Spring Scholarship Dance Sunday from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Calderon Ballroom. Admission is $1.25 for couples and 75c stag.

Chalio Dominguez and his orchestra will furnish music for the dance.

The club annually awards a scholarship to a worthy Arizona high school graduate of Spanish descent. Proceeds from the dance will go toward the club's scholarship fund.

Frank Hernandez, Astrid Durazo, Jimmy Aguilera and Bertha Barnett are in charge of arrangements.

THE CARE AND FEEDING OF ROOM-MATES

Room-mates are not only heaps of fun, but they are also very educational, for the proper study of mankind is man, and there is no better way to learn the dreams and drives of another man than to share a room with him.

This being the case, it is wise not to keep the same room-mate too long, because the more room-mates you have, the more you will know about the dreams and drives of your fellow man. So try to change room-mates as often as you can. A recent study made by Sigafoos of Princeton shows that the best interval for changing room-mates is every four hours.

How do you choose a room-mate? Most counselors agree that the most important thing to look for in room-mates is that they be people of regular habits. This, I say, is arrant nonsense. What if one of their regular habits happens to be beating a Chinese gong from midnight to dawn? Or growing cultures in your tooth glass? Or reciting the Articles of War?

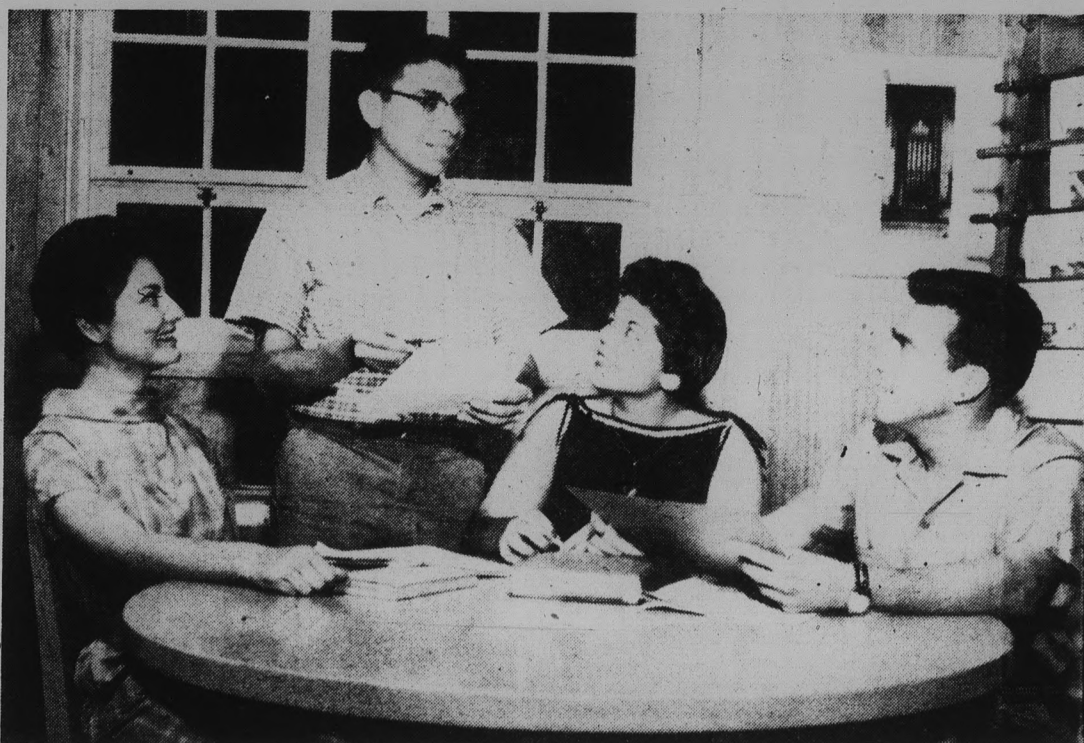

Regular habits, my foot! The most important quality in a room-mate is that he should be exactly your size. Otherwise you will have to have his clothes altered to fit you, which can be a considerable nuisance. In fact, it is sometimes flatly impossible. I recollect one time I roomed with a man named Osage Tremblatt who was just under seven feet tall and weighed nearly four hundred pounds. There wasn't a blessed thing I could use in his entire wardrobe—until one night when I was invited to a masquerade party. I cut one leg off a pair of Tremblatt's trousers, jumped into it, sewed up both ends, and went to the party as a bolster. I took second prize. First prize went to a girl named Antenna Radnitz who poured molasses over her head and went as a candied apple.

But I digress. Let us turn back to the qualities that make desirable room-mates. Not the least of these is the cigarettes they smoke. When we bum cigarettes, do we want them to be shoddy and nondescript? Certainly not! We want them to be distinguished, gently reared, zesty and zingy. And what cigarette is distinguished, gently reared, zesty and zingy? Why, Philip Morris, of corrie! Any further questions?

To go on. In selecting a room-mate, find someone who will wear well, whom you'd like to keep as a permanent friend. Many of history's great friendships first started in college. Are you aware, for example, of the remarkable fact that Johnson and Boswell were room-mates at Oxford in 1712? What makes this fact so remarkable is that in 1712 Johnson was only three years old and Boswell had not yet been born. But, of course, children matured earlier in those days. Take Mozart, who wrote his first symphony at four. Or Titian, who painted his first masterpiece at five. Or Hanso Felbgung, who was in many ways the most remarkable of all; he was appointed chief of the Copenhagen police department at the age of six!

It must be admitted, however, that he did badly. Criminals roamed the city, robbing and looting at will. They knew little Hanso would never pursue them—he was not allowed to cross the street.

If you are allowed to cross the street, tie yourself to a tobaccoist and stock up on Philip Morris, outstanding among non-filter cigarettes, or Marlboro, the filter cigarette with better "makin's." Pick your pleasure.

Drama Workshop, Orchesis End Creative Arts Festival

Closing the Arizona State University Creative Arts Festival are Drama Workshop and Orchesis, modern dance honorary, presentations. Tonight through Friday at 8:30 p.m. three one-act plays will be presented in Payne Auditorium. The Orchesis production is tomorrow at 8:15 p.m. in the Moeur Activity building.

Featured dance of the evening will be "Farewell to Mardi Gras," with music composed especially for Orchesis by Mrs. Louis Lincoln Kerr, Phoenix composer and symphony performer.

The lyrical motif was written by Spanish author Maria Martine-Sierra and translated into English by Dr. Collice Fortnoff, chairman of the ASU English department. Coreography is by Margaret Gisolo, assistant professor of Physical Education.

The concert is free to the public.

The three dramas will be "Aria Da Capo" by Edna St. Vincent Millay, "Theater of the Soul" by Nikolai Yevienov, and "The Bald Soprano" by Eugene Ionesco.

Mr. Frank Byers, instructor of Drama, will direct "Aria Da Capo." "Theater of the Soul" and "The Bald Soprano" will be directed by Dr. James Yeater, Drama instructor.

The plays, by Russian, French, and American writers, represent experimental departures from realism. They depict symbolism, expressionism, theatricalism and various forms of theatrical staging and writing.

The cast for "Aria Da Capo" includes David Burn, Andrea Bowers, Sanford Sorensen, Robert Schwartzman and Jeff Berner.

Performing in "Theater of the Soul" are Don Hay, Alvie Thomas, Phil Wade, Paul Lingol, Nadine Clayton, Valerie Dunnington and William Killip.

Nadine Clayton, Valerie Dunnington, William Killip, Jack Ragland, Sandra Vale and George Winingham will also appear in "The Bald Soprano."

Tickets for the plays may be obtained at the Memorial Union information desk for 75c. Students will be admitted through activity cards. However, preferential seating will be given to ticket holders.

Devils Lose Pair To 'Cats

After dropping a Saturday doubleheader to the Arizona Wildcats in Tucson, the Sun Devils bounded back Monday with a victory over the Williams Air Force Base nine on the base diamond.

Arizona State found the going rough against the UofA last Saturday as the defending Border Conference baseball champions dehorned the Devils twice, 10-1 and 6-3, at Hi Corbett Field, Tucson.

The first game saw the Wildcats score five runs in the first inning after pitcher Joe Kostyk walked three consecutive batters.

ASU managed to wangle a tally in the eighth, putting together an error, a single, a walk and a fielder's choice, but Arizona added three more in the ninth off reliefer Jim Sims to run away with the game.

Third baseman John Regoli led the Devils with two hits, including a triple.

In the night cap, ASU got off to a quick lead with two singles and a double for a first-inning run, but the Wildcats pulled it out of the fire to win, 6-3.

Devil pitcher Roger Kudron, sporting a 3-1 lead going into the UofA half of the fifth, pitched to only five batters in that inning and allowed three doubles and a home run. Sims came in to relieve the big righthander, but the damage had been done.

ron (2-2). Home runs—ASU: Bryant, 4th, 0 on; Arizona: Hall, 5th, 1 on.

Home runs by Troy Neal and Fran Urban gave the Sun Devils the artillery they needed to down the airmen from WAFB, 6-3, at the base Monday.

The Sun Devils open a two-game series with Sul Ross State of Texas today afternoon at 3:30 on the ASU diamond. The two teams play again tomorrow.

DUFFER . . . Golfer Duff Lawrence will again pace the Sun Devil linksters as a four man team leaves today for the West Coast for dual matches with Fresno State, UCLA, and Southern California. At the annual Houston Invitational Tourney two weeks ago, Duff missed medalist honors by two strokes.

Ruiz, Regoli Hitting .355

Shortstop Benny Ruiz and third baseman John Regoli are tied at .355 in the batting average race after 31 games. Each has 43 hits in 121 times at bat.

Ruiz also leads the team with 10 doubles, is second in runs batted in with 21 and is tied for second in runs scored with 24. Regoli is tops in runs with 31 and in triples with four. Their 43 hits apiece is also team high.

Leading the pack in home runs are first baseman John Jacobs and outfielder Fran Urban, each with three. Jacobs also leads in RBIs with 25, is close behind Regoli and Ruiz in hits with 39 and is tied with Ruiz for second place in runs scored with 24.

Joe Kostyk, though losing two games last week, still leads Sun Devil pitchers with four victories. Roger Barnson, winning three games in the same period, tied Kostyk for the lead in the win column.

Big Roger Kudron continues to be low man in the earned run department, although his average was upped from 0.87 to 2.60.

WAA Cage Title To McClintock B

McClintock "B" defeated Off-Campus Women 19-16, Thursday in the WAA intramural basketball finals.

A plaque will be presented to the team at the WAA banquet April 21.

Runner-up was McClintock "A", who defeated Alpha Delta Pi.

AS Golfers Lose First To Wildcats

The Arizona State golf team lost its first match of the season to the U of A, 21½-5½, Monday at Tucson. The loss gives the Devil golfers a 10-1 match record.

Coach Fanny Markham's linksmen had defeated the Wildcat golfers earlier this season on ASU's home course.

The Wildcat victory was the first in three years over the Devil team.

ASU's Rex Wilsen and Wildcat Mike Rombold tied for medalist honors with 72 each. Duff Lawrence shot 76, Phil Brignall, 78, and Joe Kallof 81. Demons Dave Klein and Don Boaz scored 82 and 83, respectively.

Coach Markham and Wilsen, Lawrence, Klein and Boaz leave today by plane for the West coast. They will meet Fresno State tomorrow, UCLA Friday and USC Saturday.

COACH KIEHL'S CORNER

By JEFF KIEHL

Sportsmanship—a word several thousand people down Tucson way should find out about, understand, and pay serious attention to.

In no other sport can a partisan crowd convey as much malice toward the opposition as in baseball. Harsh riding is one thing, but vile speech after every pitch and every play . . . for two to three hours . . . is some indication of very poor sportsmanship on the part of the UA followers.

Mr. Webster defines the word sportsmanship as . . . skill and devotion to, or understanding of sports of various kinds. Conduct becoming to sportsmen, involving honest rivalries, courteous relations and graceful acceptance of results.

Keeping this definition in mind, Saturday's doubleheader with the University of Arizona was definite proof that the Wildcats and their fans have had no contact whatsoever with the word or its meaning.

Breaking this definition into separate parts, and applying it in Saturday's case, I doubt whether the UA fans have a true knowledge of the game. Secondly, there was such a display of unsportsmanlike conduct at the games, even the Sun Devil players themselves and the accompanying members of the athletic staff couldn't believe it. Thirdly, the relations of the Tucsonians were far from courteous with booing and vile language pouring from the stands from the mouths of the youngest of students to the eldest of Wildcat partisans.

Last Home Meet Tomorrow

The Camp Pendleton Marines help the ASU Sun Devils close out their 1959 home track and field schedule tomorrow night in Goodwin Stadium.

The Marines, led by sprinter John McLean, hurdler Tom Young, high jumper Phil Hoover, half-miler Jim Shepard and javelin thrower Curt Lively, have split a pair of meets with San Diego State and lost to the powerful Los Angeles Striders.

Coach Baldy Castillo announced that he will limit most of the Demon thinlies to one event tomorrow night. With the dual meet schedule almost completed, Arizona State thinlies will start concentrating on top marks in preparation for several national meets.

The Devils expect no stiff competition from the Marines, although Lively, Shepard, and Hoover might edge out Demon performers in their respective events.

AAU Gymnastics Festival, Clinic Here April 24, 25

The seventh annual Arizona AAU Gymnastics Festival and Clinic, sponsored by ASU, will be held April 24 and 25 in the ASU gym.

Women may compete for the AAU Championship in free exercise, tumbling and trampoline.

Anyone interested may enter the AAU meet after becoming a registered member of the AAU, Gymnastics Coach Norris Steverson said. Entry blanks, which may be obtained from Steverson, must be in the mail by Monday.

Ronny Amster, 1956 national collegiate horizontal bar champion; Bruce Riley, who placed 10th in all-round NCAA championships in 1955-56; Lloyd Cochran, 1955 NCAA tumbling champion; and Joe Fait, all-round champion of Czechoslovakia, will demonstrate, lecture and perform different phases of gymnastics.

WHIRLYBIRD . . . Sun Devil discus thrower Carol Lindroos starts his spin in the discus circle as he prepares to toss the platter into outer space. The Finnish transfer student is among the top men in his event in the nation, and has a best toss of 184 feet.

Wildcats Beat Demon Swimmers

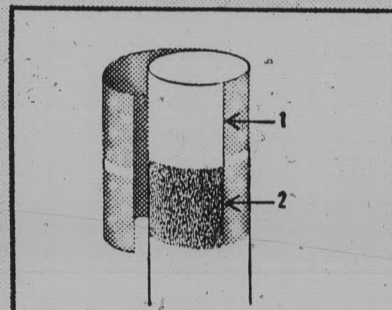

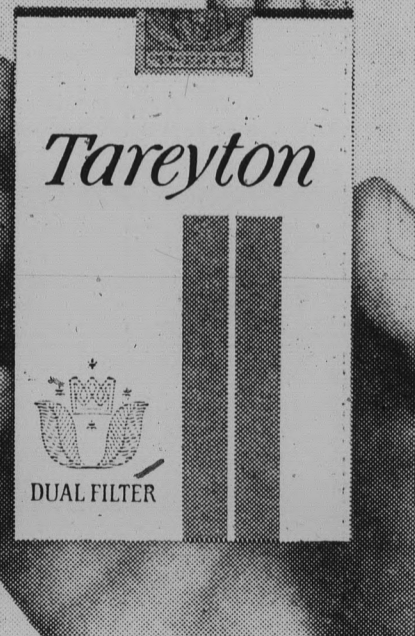

Arizona State's swimming team was swamped, 67-17, by the University of Arizona Saturday in the winners' tank, with the Wildcats winning all 10 events.

John Frederick of ASU placed second in the 220-yard free style and third in the 100-yard free style. Sun Devil Harvey Pfant placed third in the 50-yard free style and second in diving. Chuck McMahon, of ASU, placed third in diving.

Craig Thompson placed second in the butterfly, Gary Vanderslice placed third in the 200-yard backstroke, Doug Cooper placed third in 440-yard free style, and Bill Blair placed second in the 200-yard breaststroke.
