

Coeds Will Be Honored May 7th

Coeds will take over Thursday, May 7, during ASU's seventh annual Woman's Day.

Highlights of the day's activities will be an assembly at 10:30 a.m. in the MU ballroom and a banquet there at 5 p.m., during which new members of women's honoraries will be tapped and various awards given out.

Tickets for the banquet went on sale Monday and will be sold until Friday for $1.50 each or 75c with a meal ticket. Only 550 tickets are available, and they will be distributed to the halls and other organizations by AWS representatives on a percentage basis.

Off-campus women may obtain their tickets in Dean Nichols' office or at the desk in the lobby of Palo Verde Hall. After May 1 any available tickets may be purchased through Dean Nichols' office.

This year's Woman's Day is themed "The University Woman: the World at her Feet, the Community in her Hand and the Home in her Heart."

Mrs. John R. Newcombe is guest speaker for the assembly. She is active on the YWCA drive and is a member of the National Board of Woman's Work of the Episcopal Church as representative of the western states.

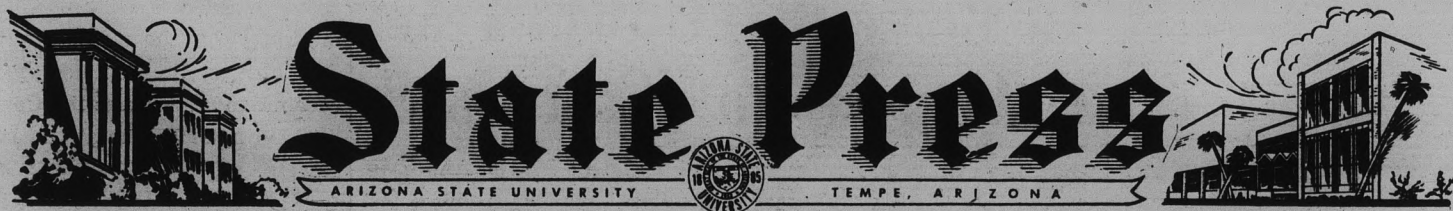

Woman's Day was started by the dean of women in 1953 to co-ordinate all women's activities. It was extended to include the Faculty Woman's club in 1954 which added the present vocational assembly with a prominent woman speaker.

Chairmen for the event include Katrina Sabey, newspaper publicity; Judy Hamer, posters; Darlene Pornonowski and Judy Warnken, radio and TV; and Beverly Grandstaff, invitations.

Other chairmen are: Sandra de Prophetis, assembly; Barbara Hayes, food; Judy Skinner and Karlene McGee, decorations; Suzanne O'Brien, program; Sue Penrod and Linda Hutchins, awards and trophies; Jan Hocksema, installations; and Carol Mackintosh, maintenance and clean-up.

All ASU women are urged to dress up in heels and Sunday attire and participate in the activities of the day.

Growth, Development Is Topic

ASU Reports To People

"ASU Reports to the People," an hour-long report on the growth and development of Arizona State University, will be heard tomorrow night at 8 on 18 radio stations throughout the state. The program will originate at a banquet for 250 guests of the ASU Foundation at the Hotel Westward Ho.

Before the dinner, the first public exhibition of 250 thousand dollars worth of Renaissance paintings recently given to ASU will be displayed. The seven masterpieces are gifts of Lewis J. Ruskin, Scottsdale philanthropist.

The broadcast will feature four speakers and will promote the distribution of an illustrated 30-page booklet on the growth of Arizona and ASU. The booklet was published by the foundation under the editorial supervision of Lester Goldberg, assistant vice-president of Valley National Bank.

Purposes and objectives of non-profit corporations will be the subject of an address by J. C. Wetzler, president of the ASU Foundation. John M. Jacobs, former member of the Board of Regents, will discuss the Regents' role in the development of ASU. Dr. Gammage will speak on ASU's achievements and future. Eugene C. Pulliam, publisher of the Arizona Republic and Phoenix Gazette, will respond to Dr. Gammage's report, for the public.

Radio stations KOY and KTAR will carry the broadcast in Phoenix.

A panel discussion will follow the broadcast. Dr. Gammage will act as moderator for panelists: Business Affairs Vice President Gilbert Cady, Academic Vice President H. D.

Richardson, Dean of Liberal Arts Arnold Tilden, Dean of the Graduate College Irving Stout, Dean of the College of Education G. D. McGrath, Dean of the College of Applied Arts and Sciences Lee P. Thompson and Dean of Students W. P. Shofstall.

The panel will answer questions addressed to it from the audience.

International Tensions Subject Of Club Panel Discussion Tonight

Present international tensions will be discussed by a panel of four faculty members at tonight's meeting of the International Relations Club at 7:30, in the MU upper lounge.

Panelists are: Wallace Adams, assistant professor of History; Dr. Gullford Dudley, assistant professor of History;

NCA Team Inspects AS

A leadership training project consisting of three members of the North Central Association, the regional accrediting agency in which ASU holds membership, is in progress this week at ASU.

The three members are: Dr. Wayne C. Booth, head of the department of English at Earlham College, Richmond, Ind., Dr. Elmer J. Clark, director of graduate studies at Indiana State Teachers College, Terre Haute, Ind., and Dr. C. V. Galbreath, dean of students at Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa. Dr. Booth is chairman of the team.

The three members will evaluate ASU in a report to the NCA as part of their year-long training program to become consultants in higher education. They will be available as consultants for member schools in the association on completion of the training period.

As part of their assessment of ASU, they will talk with faculty, staff and students, attend committee and department meetings, attend university, college and faculty senate meetings and observe classroom activity.

Dr. Robert W. Coonrod, chairman of the ASU department of History and Political Science along with another of the 15 participants in the leadership training program is visiting other institutions in the North Central Association on similar evaluation missions.

This is the second year of a three-year project in which the NCA is training 45 educational consultants under a grant from the Carnegie Corporation.

Thomas Herrick, assistant professor of Political Science; and T. Alexander Votichenko, professor of Psychology.

Also scheduled in the open meeting is a report by the delegation to the Model United Nations held last week in Los Angeles.

Salary Increases On Senate Slate

A bill concerning impeachment of officers will be voted on today by the ASU Senate. The bill got the "do not pass" recommendation from the Committee of the Whole at the last session.

A bill to increase the salaries of the ASASU officers and the AWS and AMS Presidents will be introduced today. The proposed bill would increase all the officers' salaries by fifteen dollars a month. This would raise the ASASU officers' salaries from $60 to $75 and the AWS and AMS Presidents' salaries from $30 to $45 a month.

Air Force ROTC Drill Team To Compete In UCLA Match

Arizona State's Air Force ROTC Drill Team will compete in an area match at UCLA Sunday.

The 24-man team won the right to fly to the meet by defeating New Mexico State University in Las Cruces March 7.

The squad will compete against four of the outstanding teams from the Southwest.

Drill team members include

Bill Bullock, Philip Anderson, Jo Coates, David Strand, Roger Crobarger, Dana Dyer, Harold Hall, Fred Magnuson, Larry Carrigan, John Sumners and John Culpepper.

ASU Music Camp Subject Of Award

Arizona State University was awarded a National Award of Merit by the National Federation of Music Clubs for "distinguished service to music" in aiding outstanding, talented students throughout the Western district.

Arizona All-State High School Music Camp was the reason for the scholarship program award.

The camp has been conducted by ASU for 15 years.

Miles Dresskell, professor of Music, and his wife, Nadine, assistant professor of Music, have been active in aiding music clubs in Arizona and the other western states to provide scholarships for talented students.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING —

Viva Mexico

A five-week vacation in Mexico City and six hours of college credit can be yours this summer for no more than on-campus residency and study costs during the first summer school session here.

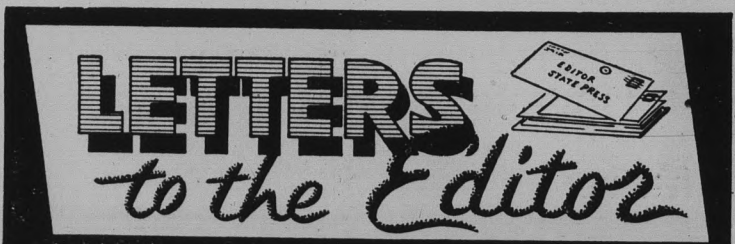

ASU's annual summer residence Study Program in the Mexican capital offers students a unique chance to learn about and understand culture south of the border.

Classroom instruction will be supplemented by travel tours and individual excursions. Housing may be arranged in a cooperative apartment with other ASU students, in a boarding house or with a family where the predominant language is either Spanish or English — your choice.

Hotel and apartment rates are about $1 a day, while homes or boarding houses are slightly higher, with meals included.

Knowledge of the Spanish language is not necessary, except as prerequisite for the Spanish conversation course. Other courses available for ASU credit are Mexican art, aesthetics, Mexican history, Latin American politics, beginning Spanish, and a professional seminar in the culture and history of Mexico.

Recreation facilities include dances, receptions, cultural programs and field trips. And in your spare time, you might want to take advantage of the six libraries, with which arrangements have been made, in Mexico City. (See story on Page 5.)

To the Editor:

The April 24 edition of the State Press contained a letter written by Mr. Kenneth Parrish.

In his letter he proposed closing College Ave. to through traffic, repaving and cutting Forest Ave. through to Apache Blvd. Mr. Parrish suggested replacing College Ave. with grass, trees, shrubs and benches.

As this is an excellent idea, I believe the cost of such a project would make it almost prohibitive. Therefore I suggest, for the time being, that College Ave. be blocked off just above the entrance to parking lot 1, which is between Hayden and Irish Halls; at the south corner of Orange and College; just north of the entrance to parking lot 2, which has its entrance between the Chapel and South Hall; and just south of the circular drive in front of Old Main.

This would leave Orange Ave. open to traffic and parking.

Since parking has been banned on College Ave., Mr. Gayle

Shuman reported in the State Press that approximately 2800 cars per day use College Ave., whereas from 1600 to 2000 students use this same street PER HOUR. Besides ensuring greater safety to students, ASU would be the first university in Arizona to eliminate traffic through the core of its campus.

I would like to see other students write to the State Press on this matter and express their views.

Sincerely,
 S. A. Conrad

(Editor's note: One other letter, from Edward A. Witt, was received. Mr. Witt's ideas coincided so closely with Mr. Conrad's we felt it wouldn't be necessary to print both. We welcome other letters on this subject and will try to print those with different points of view or opinions. We do not want to discourage students who agree with Mr. Witt and Conrad from writing. All letters on this subject will be forwarded to the Campus Security.)

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"WELL WE CAN'T PROMOTE TH' WHOLE FACULTY - GET ME A LIST OF THE TEACHERS WHO OWN A HOME, HAVE A LARGE FAMILY AND CAN'T AFFORD TO MOVE AWAY."

By PETEY OLMSTED

Here's a quickie test of your powers of observation. Try your hand at it and rate yourself according to the scale at the end.

Just check off the ones you can identify correctly — count the rest and read a daily newspaper to see where you goofed.

The answers not available in daily newspapers, you should know from general history courses required of college students.

Identify Batista, Hernan Siles Zuazo, Barry Goldwater, Fidel Castro, Stewart Udall, Paul Fannin, Christian Herter, Gilbert Cady, Rochelle Mackey, Duke Ellington, Max Ernst, Lyndon Johnson, Reuters, UPI, Vic Figarelli, Benny Goodman, Peter Townsend and Jack Williams.

To continue: Where is Bolivia? Of what state is a man named Brown governor? Whose sports column appears daily in the Arizona Republic? What is a 1930 predecessor of rock 'n roll? Who is William B. Mathews? Where was there a blizzard in the past week? Who is Wade Church? Name a great news story that broke during the '30's. Who is Mary Carolyn Kurtz? Who or what is Dr. Zhivago?

Can you identify Nelson Rockefeller, John F. Kennedy, Tom Hulen, Eugene S. Pulliam, Joe Rose, Ray Noble, Adolph Hitler, Addison and Steele, Karl Johnstone, Dusty Rhodes, Earl Warren, Jack Lefler, Pete Olmsted, Thomas E. Dewey, Warren Sumners, Schostikovich, Gayle Shuman and Mac the Knife?

RATING: 40-48 right — you're a real gone observer; 35-39 — you're awake and fairly interesting; 30-34 — you'll do at a dull soiree, 20-29 — better get a cup of coffee; 10-19 — tsk tsk; 0-9 — and you're still in college?

Next issue: some interesting answers to this quiz by people who have taken it already. Care to send in your answers?

EDITOR'S Scratchpad

By ROCHELLE MACKEY

A trip to Houston, Texas, for the National Association of College and University Traffic and Security Directors convention, by Gayle Shuman, director of ASU Campus Security, and Tom Randolph, assistant director, may prove profitable to Arizona State in other areas than campus security.

During the convention the University of Houston was holding its annual Fiesta, in which participation is by campus organizations — each sponsoring a carnival-type variety show.

A large plot of land is set aside for the show. Tents are put up, and the organizations fill the mid-way with their acts. Confederate money is the medium of exchange used. A booth outside the mid-way is set up for the currency exchange.

Last year more than 106,000 people, including Hollywood talent scouts, went through the gates.

Success of the Fiesta, financially and fun-wise, is obvious. Reasons for the success leave little fear that it could fail.

Participating organizations must have a scholastic index of 2.0. Students participating are also required to have an individual 2.0 index. In addition, the Fiesta is one of few big activities on the Houston campus, so when time for it rolls around, students are ready, willing and able to give it a big boost.

Perhaps the ASU Activities Coordination board could do this campus a great service by investigating the fiesta.

To The Editor

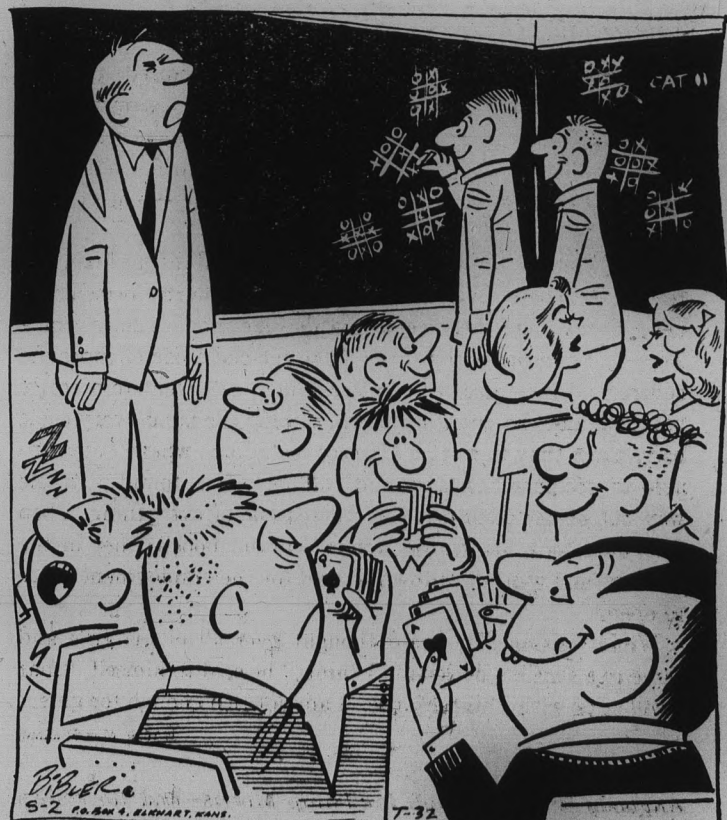

As you know, Mr. Randolph and I recently attended the first National Convention of the National Association of University and College Traffic and Security Directors, at the University of Houston. There were twenty-eight schools in attendance, representing eighteen states.

I thought you would be interested in two points which were brought out in the conference.

1. All schools were very envious of the amount of parking we have available for our students. They were also quite surprised that we can provide parking so close to the campus. Some schools are allowing only junior and senior students to drive cars, and others will not allow students to drive cars on campus beginning next year.

2. In discussions of student conduct, Arizona State University stood heads above all others. After listening to other schools tell of the troubles they have with their students, I can honestly say that never have I been as proud of our school as I was at that time.

 Director

Seven Summer Courses Offered In Mexico City; Registration Closes Friday, Classes Start June 8

Seven courses in Mexican, Spanish and Latin American art, history and political science will be taught in Mexico City the first summer session this year. Courses taught are particularly adapted to Mexico City and the surrounding area, and when appropriate, classes will be conducted in museums and on archaeology sites. Three ASU professors will act as instructors. They are:

Thomas R. Herrick, assistant professor of Political Science; Dr. J. D. Hale, assistant professor of Art; and Dr. Paul Luenow, instructor in Foreign Language.

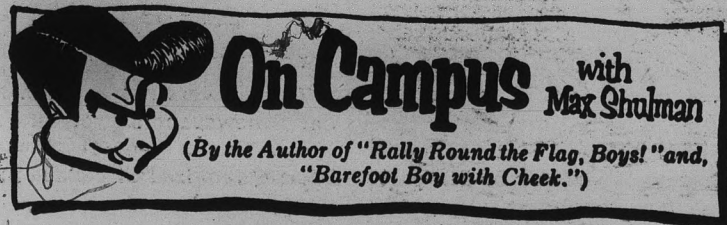

Classes are from June 8 to July 11. A total of six semester hours may be carried by students. They may be applied to graduate, under-graduate or general requirements.

Basic cost for the entire program is between $250 and $350. This includes transportation to and from Mexico City, housing, meals and tuition.

Registration closes Friday.

Interested students should contact any one of the three instructors or Dr. Roy Rice, Director of Summer Sessions.

Students planning to drive their own cars have expressed a willingness to furnish rides for others. Transportation costs vary from about $27 one-way by bus to about $46 one-way by air. Students who wish assistance in arranging housing or transportation should see Thomas R. Herrick, ASU assistant professor of Political Science.

THE MANY LOVES OF THORWALD DOCKSTADER

When Thorwald Dockstader—sophomore, epicure, and sportsman—first took up smoking, he did not simply choose the first brand of cigarettes that came to hand. He did what any sophomore, epicure, and sportsman would do: he sampled several brands and then picked the mildest, tastiest, pleasingest of all—Philip Morris, of corris!

Similarly, when Thorwald took up girls, he did not simply select the first one who came along. He sampled. First he took out an English literature major named Elizabeth Barrett Grisht, a wisp of a girl with luminous eyes and a soul that shimmered with a pale, unearthly beauty. Trippingly, trippingly, she walked with Thorwald upon the beach and sat with him behind a windward dune and listened to a sea shell and sighed sweetly and took out a little gold pencil and a little morocco notebook and wrote a little poem:

*I will lie upon the shore,
I will be a dreamer.
I will feel the sea once more
Pounding on my femur.*

Thorwald's second date was with a physical education major named Peaches Glendower, a broth of a girl with a ready smile and a size 18 neck. She took Thorwald down to the cinder track where they jogged around 50 times to open the pores. Then they played four games of squash, six sets of tennis, 36 holes of golf, nine innings of one old cat, six chukkers of lacrosse, and a mile and a quarter of leap frog. Then they went ten rounds with eight-ounce gloves and then they had heaping bowls of bran and whey and exchanged a manly handshake and went home to their respective whirlpool baths.

"I think I'll stick with PHILIP MORRIS," he said

Thorwald's final date was with a golden-haired, creamy-browed, green-eyed, red-lipped, full-calved girl named Totsi Sigafoos. Totsi was not majoring in anything. As she often said, "Gee whillikers, what's college for anyhow—to fill your head full of icky old facts, or to discover the shining essence that is YOU?"

Totsi started the evening with Thorwald at a luxurious restaurant where she consumed her own weight in Cornish rock hen. From there they went to a de luxe movie palace where Totsi had popcorn with butter. Then she had a bag of chocolate covered raisins—also with butter. Then they went to a costly ballroom and cha-cha'd till dawn, tipping the band every eight bars. Then they went to a Chinese restaurant where Totsi, unable to decipher the large and baffling menu, found a simple way out of her dilemma: she ordered one of everything. Then Thorwald took her to the women's dorm, boosted her in the window, and went downtown to wait for the employment office to open.

While waiting, Thorwald thought over all of his girls and came to a sensible decision. "I think," he said to himself, "that I will stick with Philip Morris. I am not rich enough for girls."

Hurts Won't Hamper Devils

By RICHARD STEHR.

Injury and illness have been plaguing the Sun Devils' baseball team lately, but coach Bobby Winkles expects all of his infirmed players to be ready for Saturday's big two-game stint with the University of Arizona.

Infielders John Regoli and Don Wilson both came down with the flu on the Devils' California road trip last week but are now back in action.

Marines when he collided with pitcher Roger Barnson, who was unhurt.

Catcher Curt Bryant required eight stitches after being hit on the head by a bat Saturday; but, according to Winkles, the stitches have been removed, and Bryant should be all right for the UofA series.

The Sun Devils — with or without the aforementioned players — will take on Luke Field Air Force Base today at 3:30 on the ASU diamond and will travel to Casa Grande tomorrow for a return contest with the Cotton Kings.

Devils Topple NTC, Luke, Lose 2 To Marine Crews

The Arizona State baseball team left California last weekend with a win over the San Diego Naval Training Center and a pair of losses to Camp Pendleton and the San Diego Marines. But they evened the four-game road series with a Monday night victory over Luke Air Force Base.

Thursday the Camp Pendleton Scouts took advantage of three ASU errors to edge the Sun Devils, 6-4.

The Demons got off to an early lead by parlaying two singles and four errors for two runs in the second inning. but the Scouts took the lead with three runs in the fourth and halted pitcher Jim Sims' streak of 23 scoreless innings (a school record).

Home runs accounted for all the runs as the San Diego Marines outslugged the Sun Devils, 5-3, Friday in the Tijuana suburb.

Roger Barnson started for the Sun Devils and allowed only six hits, but three of them were homers, two of them by Bob Copeland.

The Devils were held scoreless until the final frame when second baseman Troy Neal homered with two aboard.

It was rough sailing for the San Diego Naval Training Center Saturday as they mustered only one hit off Joe Kostyk and were trounced by the ASU crew, 17-1.

Leading all the way, the Devils broke the game wide open in the seventh stanza with eight runs on five singles, three walks, and an inside-the-park home run by Dick Saunders with two men on. Former pitcher Saunders, now an outfielder, also led off the long inning with a single.

Luke Air Force Base staged a late-inning rally Monday night on their home field, but it wasn't enough to overcome an early Sun Devil lead. Final score: ASU — 8; LAFB — 5.

Roger Kudron pitched two-hit ball for the first six innings but went wild in the seventh, walking three, yielding two hits, hitting one batsman and allowing two runs to score. A walk and a pair of wild pitches gave the Raiders a run in the eighth, and they scored two more in the ninth on three hits.

Dick Saunders once again led the Sun Devil hitters, coming through with a single and a homer. Benny Ruiz, John Regoli and Ed Littleton each picked up two hits.

KOACH IEHL'S ORNER

By JEFF KIEHL

Congratulations to Sun Devil star gymnast Harvey Plant for his fine performance recently in the National Men's Gymnastics Tournament at Amhurst College in Amhurst, Mass. Plant's showing earned him a second place, only one point behind champion Ronald Munn of Michigan. Plant picked up a 9.35 average in trampoline competition, compared with Munn's 10.35.

Plant, a freshman from Los Angeles, earned a right to represent the US Gym team in the Pan American Games later in the summer and to tour Europe on an exhibition run.

This week is probably the biggest week of the year for Arizona State athletic teams, as they oppose the University of Arizona in four sports. The Sun Devil track and field team journeys to Tucson, while the ASU baseball, golf and tennis teams host the Wildcats in Tempe.

Arizona has been boasting all season of one of the finest track teams in the history of the school, and head Wildcat coach Carl Cooper stated that the Cats definitely had the top squad in the Conference. Saturday evening at 8 will prove or disprove his statement.

The Sun Devil baseball team needs to sweep a pair from the Wildcats to remain in the running for a District Six playoff. Coach Bobby Winkles of the Devils will probably go with senior lefthander Jim Sims in the first game of the day-night twin-bill, with either Roger Kudron or Joe Kostyk in the nightcap.

TWO FIRSTS, FOUR SECONDS

Henderson Stars In Drake Relays

Tireless Alex Henderson collaborated with other ASU track and field stars over the weekend to raise Arizona State in national stature with victories and outstanding performances in the Drake Relays.

Henderson, sinewy Aussie junior, successfully defended his Drake two-mile championship with a blazing 8:57.4 clocking and the next day anchored the Sun Devil distance medley relay team to a new Drake Relays record. His time in the relay was 4:13, which pushed the Drake mark to 10:01.9, just 2/10 of a second faster than the old mark, set by Arizona State last year.

Henderson was admitted to the Drake Relays hall of fame for his sparkling performances during the last two years. He joins other track and field greats such as Jesse Owens and Glenn Cunningham. Other former ASU stars cited for outstanding performances at the relays included Bill Miller and Benny Garcia in the javelin, Tom Whetstone in the high jump, and Joe Rose in the pole vault.

Although no team point totals were compiled, the Demon contingent grabbed two first places and four second places.

Carol Lindroos placed second in the discus with a heave of 172'8", while Herb Montoya, the other half of ASU's field power, placed third in the javelin competition with a toss of 226'9".

The Sun Devil team competing in the college sprint medley finished in third place, with scarcely a stride separating the first, second and third place runners. The sprint medley relay team was composed of Mel Spence, Tom Pettit, Jesse Bradford and Jim McGowan.

The distance medley team listed Henderson, Mal Spence, Mel Spence and Jim McGowan as the foursome, and it was the same team which set the Drake record last year. Mal Spence started the race in spectacular form, turning in a 47.1 440, then handed the baton to his twin brother Mel, who toured the 880 before Jim McGowan ran his lap of the medley, a 1,320. McGowan in turn handed the stick to Henderson, who blazed a 4:13 mile and personally insured the Devils of their new record.

GOLF

Devils Second In Triangular

Arizona State's golf team placed second in a triangular meet last Thursday when they hosted Williams and Luke AFB at Mesa Country Club.

Williams won with 27½ points to the Devils' 26½. Luke failed to score a point.

ASU's Rex Wilsen tied for low-medalist honors with a 69. Friday the Devil golf team will host San Diego Naval Training Center, Luke and Williams AFB at Paradise Country Club.

Coach Fanny Markham's linksmen will meet Luke AFB May 4 before traveling to the U of A May 6 for the Border Conference finals. The Devils and Wildcats have each won a meet on their home links.

INTRAMURAL Scene

Phi Kappa Tau overpowered Phi Sigma Kappa, 12-4, to capture the intramural softball championship Monday.

Al Brinias was the winning pitcher, and Budge Gray took the loss for Phi Sig.

The two teams had battled to a 5-5, 7-inning deadlock Thursday before the game was called.

In number 3 position behind the finalists was Sigma Chi. Phi Delta Theta wound up in the fourth spot, followed by Hayden Hall, Sahuaro Hall, Off Campus men and M.O. Best A. The eight teams were from an original group of 16 entries.
