

Group Health And Accident Insurance Offered ASU Students Next Fall

FINAL DRAFT . . . of the group health and accident plan to be offered ASU students next fall is studied by (from l) Dr. Grant Osborn, associate professor of Insurance, and Phoenix insurance men Wayne O. Sproule, LL. B., and Charles H. Lock.

Plan Provides Year Coverage

A group health and accident insurance plan will be open next fall for members of Associated Students of ASU at rates one-third the usual cost of similar plans.

The plan provides 12-month coverage at rates per year of $23.55, for student only; $47.10, for students and spouse; $67.10, for student and spouse with maternity benefits; $59.50, for student, spouse and children (any number); and $79.50 for student, spouse, and children with maternity benefits.

American Casualty Company, a multiple-line insurance company, has been authorized by the Executive Council of Associated Students to offer the plan to ASU students during registration in September.

Wayne O. Sproule, LL.B. and Charles H. Lock, Phoenix insurance men and agents for American Casualty, will administer the plan.

Some months ago a student-faculty committee drew up specifications for a plan to fit the needs of ASU students. More than 60 U. S. insurance companies then submitted plans based on the ASU specifications. The committee's recommendation of American Casualty was submitted to the ASASU Executive Council last week. The Council gave its unanimous approval Monday.

More than 130 colleges and universities in the United States now have American Casualty group plans similar to the one which will be available here. Some of the more prominent schools are Bowling Green State University, Northwestern University, and the universities of Maryland, Michigan, North Carolina and North Dakota.

One of the more unusual aspects of the ASU-American Casualty plan is a benefit of $18.50 per day for 90 days per confinement for expense of hospital room and board as against similar or lower payment for only some 28 to 60 days per year paid in average group plans.

On a per confinement basis, $300 will be paid by the company for miscellaneous expense incurred in the hospital. This includes X-rays, blood tests, operating room charges, drugs and medicines, dressings, ambulance and anaesthetist fees.

In addition to the $300 for miscellaneous expense there is a $300 blanket allowance for accident cases.

Surgical schedule for the plan has been written with a $300 maximum on a scale graded down according to the severity of the operation.

For physician's visits when no surgery is involved, $5 per day will be paid for 90 days per confinement.

Also, the ASU plan will pay

For Women's Day

Tapping, Banquet Planned

Pre-dawn tapping ceremonies, an assembly, a luncheon and an evening awards banquet will highlight annual ASU Women's Day tomorrow.

Coeds traditionally don their prettiest cottons and heels and hose to observe their special day, which has as its theme: "The University Woman; The World at Her Feet, The Community in Her Hand and the Home in Her Heart."

Members of Pleiades, women's honorary service group, will be tapped in pre-dawn ceremonies. Mrs. John Newcomer, of Phoenix, noted for her activities in music, civic and church affairs, will be guest speaker at a 10:40 a.m. assembly in the Memorial Union ballroom. The Faculty Women's Club, with its president, Mrs. Patricia B. Keating presiding, sponsor the assembly. Sue Culley, soprano, is scheduled to sing.

Following the assembly, Mrs. Newcomer will be honored at a luncheon for her work as a member of the national board of Women's Work of the Episcopal church. She conducts leadership conferences throughout the Western states, Hawaii and Alaska as Women's Work representative. The luncheon will begin at 11:45 in MU 218.

To finish the day's activities, the Associated Women Students will sponsor a banquet at which officers of sororities and women's residence halls will be introduced, the new AWS council installed and other honors and awards presented.

Dr. Catherine G. Nichols, associate dean of students, and Mrs. Grady Gammage, wife of the ASU president, will be on hand to welcome attending students and guests. Rose Bourne, AWS president, will preside over the banquet which starts at 5 p.m. in the MU ballroom.

ASASU Officers Attend Meeting At U Of Nevada

ASU is represented by five student government leaders at the 34th annual Pacific Student Body President's convention, this week at the University of Nevada, Reno, Nev.

Delegates include Warren Sumners, outgoing ASASU president; Tom Hulen, ASASU president-elect; Max Richards, ASASU first vice-president-elect; Tom Meredith, ASASU activities vice-president elect; and Barbara Defer, ASASU secretary-elect.

Purpose of the PSPA convention is to bring together the in-coming and out-going student body officers from colleges and universities in the Pacific North and South to discuss student government problems of the various schools.

Registration began last night, and the convention will end Saturday.

Warren Sumners will lead one of the eight panel discussions covering everything from public relations to orientation of freshmen and work with the administration.

Exhibit

Thirty-four representative works from the 1958-59 Whitney Annual Art Exhibit will be on display in the MU until May 25.

The selection includes a considerable amount of controversial work, and it has been described by reviewers as "highly imaginative and technically striking." Landscapes and still lifes are shown as well as the more abstract styles.

Seniors' Exams Set Next Week; Replace Classes

Seniors and graduate students whose applications for graduation have been filed and accepted, must take final examinations during the week of May 11-16 during regularly scheduled class hours.

These students are not required to attend classes May 18-26, with the exception of those who are registered this semester for Directed Teaching and for Nursery School Education.

All must plan to be on campus May 22-26 for scheduled commencement activities.

Seniors who have applied for graduation in August or January and May seniors registered in post graduate courses or in courses for graduate credit, will continue in classes until the end of the regular semester.

Housing Agreements Set For Dormitories

ASU students who wish to live in residence halls next semester will be required to sign a housing agreement, Housing Director Ed Hickcox, announced this week.

Outlined in the agreement are provisions governing deposits, damages and losses, room rent, and hall conduct.

Students who sign the semester contract will not be allowed to move off campus unless they are ill, join fraternal affiliations recognized by ASU, get married, withdraw from school, are subjects of hall disciplinary action, or move out before the end of late registration period.

"The Dean of Students, Associate Dean of Students, hall head residents, interhall council and individual students were all asked for suggestions after the need for a housing agreement was ascertained," Hickcox said.

"The new agreement is a product of the ideas of these people, the housing office, and from standard agreement forms used at other colleges," he said.

He also stated that students unable to meet rent payments should make special financial arrangements with the housing office.

Agreements are available at the housing office in the basement of the MU.

Student AS Plan Revealed

in addition to any other insurance the individual may carry.

The plan has some exclusions but they are ones standard in all group health and accident plans.

Payment will not be made for injury or sickness incurred while the insured is a pilot or crew member in an air craft. Passengers in an air craft, however, will be covered.

The plan will not pay for eyeglasses, or examinations or prescriptions for eyeglasses; treatment not considered necessary by a physician; loss caused by war or act of war or suffered by the insured while in naval, military or air service; injury or sickness covered by workmen's compensation; or injury due to play or practice of intercollegiate sports.

Premiums will be returned on a pro rata basis to policy holders who enter naval, military or air service.

The ASU student-faculty committee asked that coverage for injury due to inter-collegiate sports be excluded because the university carries a policy for this.

However, the plan does cover injury due to play and practice of intramural sports.

The plan was designed to pick up where benefits at the ASU Infirmary leave off.

Maternity benefits in the plan give a flat $100 allowance for pre and post natal care, providing the plan has been in effect for over nine months. $50 will be paid for miscarriages, providing the plan has been in force 30 days prior to conception.

There are no waiting periods except for the maternity care.

Members of the student-faculty committee which selected the final plan are Dr. Grant Osborn, associate professor of Insurance, and chairman of the committee; Dr. A. R. Burton, professor of Accounting; Dr. Robert C. Headington, professor of Real Estate; Herman Schmidt, acting Dean of Men; Warren Sumners, out-going ASASU president; and insurance majors William Hepp, Jerry Campbell and Jay Freeman.

Federal Loan Blanks At AB-103

Application blanks for federal loans to students are now available in the Student Affairs Office in the Administration building.

Loans are for the academic year, 1959-1960, according to Herman Schmidt, acting dean of men.

The office, room 103, is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. It closes for an hour at noon.

Korean Veterans who haven't signed their forms for April should do so as soon as possible in order to be paid May 20th.

Veterans can sign for May forms on the day of their last final exams.

WIDE AWAKE . . . Despite the early morning hour at which they were tapped yesterday morning, new Spur pledges Carmen Ruthling and Sue Ritchie (seated) smile happily on the occasion. Pinning on their corsages are old Spurs Nancy Plotner (l) and Kay Richmond.

Spurs Add 25 Pledges

Twenty-five ASU coeds were tapped at dawn yesterday for membership in Spurs, sophomore women's service honorary.

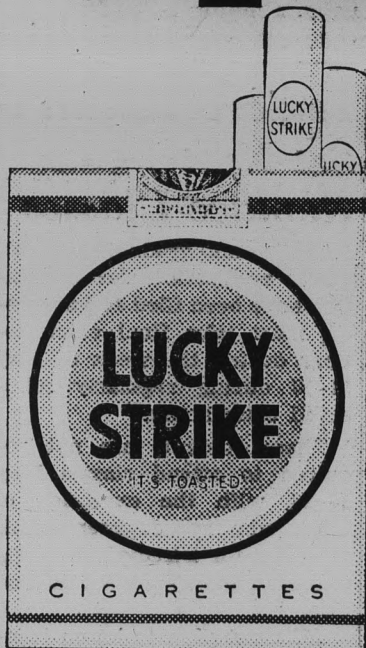

New pledges are Susan Becker, Fran Breslin, Carol Coon, Julie Coulter, Marilyn Davis, Barbara Farone, Suzanne Frost, Sandra Harsha, Alice Howsmon, Marilyn Kirby, Becky McDonald and Carmen Ruthling.

Also, Kathleen Clark, Susan Rogers, Sue Dupree, Catherine Brimhall, Dolores Jimenez, Darlene Swadley, Irma Rovey, Barbara Hartner, Judy Hamer, Karen George, Susan Ritchie, Judith Skinner and Wanda Watson.

Candidates for Spurs are chosen on the basis of leadership, character, scholastic standing and service.

Pledge ceremonies were conducted in Danforth Chapel.

ASU Architectural Students To Receive Awards At Annual AIA Dinner Tomorrow Night

A total of $1,100 in scholarships and prizes will be awarded Arizona State University students tomorrow at the annual dinner of the Central Arizona Chapter and the ASU student chapter, American Institute of Architects.

Vernon DeMars, professor of Architecture at the University of California and national prize-winning architect, will be featured speaker at the awards meeting, 8 p.m. in the Memorial Union. He will speak on "Residential Areas and Community Appearance."

Prior to the dinner, to which state architects, their wives and guests are invited, there will be an exhibition of student work in the School of Architecture on the third floor of the engineering center. The exhibit opens at 7 p.m.

Also featured at the exhibit will be a showing of the prize-winning works of DeMars. Included are the first award this year by Progressive Architecture Magazine of the Capitol Towers Redevelopment Project, Sacramento, California; the winner of the student center competition at the University of California; a citation of one of his designs as one of 50 significant buildings in "A Century of Architecture" by Architectural Record, 1957; and an A.I.A. regional award of merit for a residence in Berkeley, Calif.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING —

Healthy Plan

The news reported on the front page of this issue is the best since the name-change victory.

Arizona State University students are going to have available to them, beginning next fall, a health and accident insurance plan. That, in itself, is good news, for many students have been in the embarrassing position of being too old still to be covered under their families' policies and too broke to go out on their own and buy a policy.

The results have been several: many students have dragged around sick or half-sick for as much as a whole semester just because they couldn't afford proper treatment; a whole lot of married students have had to drop out of school when the impending arrival of a baby made itself known because the prospective parents couldn't afford to pay the hospital and doctor bills unless Papa got a full-time job; and a great many students have suffered injuries in accidents, from which they will suffer discomfort in later years because they couldn't afford proper medical treatment in college.

So, for these and many other reasons, we cheer loud and long for the fact that at last a health and accident plan will be available to members of the Associated Students of Arizona State University.

We cheer even louder and longer, however, that the Insurance Committee appointed by ASASU did such a thorough and conscientious job. Headed by Dr. Grant M. Osborn, associate professor of Insurance and a man eminently well qualified to judge the many intricacies of different plans, the committee contacted more than 60 companies throughout the United States.

These companies were told what the committee, after mature study and consideration, deemed the essential provisions of a plan for ASU. The companies then tailored plans to fit these specifications and the plans in turn were examined by the committee.

The American Casualty Company's plan was accepted after it had been refined in several meetings between the committee and Messrs. Lock and Sproule, representatives of American Casualty who will administer the plan on the ASU campus. It represents, according to those who have studied it, the highest benefits for the lowest rate of any group insurance plan in the state.

Dr. Osborn told the State Press the plan is "much more generous" than any of the others considered by the committee.

This is a real milestone in the progress of ASU. With the raising of academic standards and the constantly increasing demands upon the time and energies of students, a serious student cannot afford prolonged debility due to his inability to afford hospitalization. Nor can students afford to worry about the possibility of bills piling up due to sickness or accident.

With the remarkably generous and inclusive plan in effect next fall, these sources of worry can easily be eliminated. We say easily, because the annual rates for the insurance are well within the means of any student who is sufficiently serious about getting his university degree to earn or save an extra $24 a year.

To Dr. Osborn; all the members of his committee; Warren Sumners, under whose administration the committee was appointed and the plan brought into being; Messrs. Lock and Sproule, who were of great help to the committee; the members of the Administration who gave their official blessing to the idea; and to the ASASU Executive Committee, which promptly and unanimously approved the committee's recommendations, our hearty congratulations and thanks.

You all have done a wonderful job for thousands of ASU students in the years ahead.

"THIS TIME HE'S CARRIED HIS EXPERIMENTS TOO FAR."

By ROCHELLE MACKEY

This truly is a Red-Letter day for Arizona State. Not since announcement of the name-change victory has there been anything happen that will benefit so completely every student enrolled here.

The insurance plan adopted this week and announced today in a page-one story in this issue undoubtedly will help everyone who buys it. Because the average age of college students is 20, the insurance company has been able to offer the plan at rates less than one-third the cost of similar group plans.

I heartily endorse the plan. My only regret is that I won't be here next year to benefit from it... What am I saying? I haven't passed senior finals yet!

In the congratulation department — to Phil Fry, the guy who filled this space last semester.

Each semester ten consecutive issues of the State Press are sent to the Associated Collegiate Press for judging with other campus newspapers.

Papers from all over the country are judged on a point basis in seven categories (each of which is sub-divided) which include coverage, content, department pages, front page makeup, inside page makeup, headlines and photography.

After the judging the points are added up and one of four ratings given the papers. Highest rating is All-American, then First Class, Second Class and Third Class.

For last semester the State Press received the highest number of points in the First Class division and lacked only 50 points for All-American.

My heartiest congratulations to Phil for a wonderful job.

Undoubtedly, anyone on campus yesterday at 11 a.m. wondered what the loud explosion-like sound was. After the walls stopped shaking and the typewriters settled back down on the tables, some of us in the State Press office wondered if there was any connection between the noise and the fact the plumbing in the Union was out-of-order Monday afternoon.

Actually, we found out later, the noise was created by a jet breaking the sound barrier. Incidentally, it was heard from Casa Grande to Maryvale in Phoenix. Glad I wasn't in the jet.

 Ever put money in a vending machine and get nothing for it but an empty clank when you pull the lever or push the button? Irritating, isn't it?

Next time, try again, and think of it as a benevolent act when you lose money in one of those tenacious machines.

Wondering what causes me to think a thing like that? Yesterday afternoon, I heard that the Irish Hall council established a collection of books for this university on Southwestern Americana. The initial fund for buying these books is $400 from the Irish Hall treasury.

Besides that, the hall is continuing its annual scholarship to a worthy Irish Hall resident.

And where do they get all this money to help develop our school? Hall dues couldn't possibly support such an ambitious goal.

You guessed it — vending machine profits go into the hall treasury for these projects. Okay, so it's very likely you don't patronize the Irish Hall vending machines. Maybe you live in Palo Verde Hall. Where do you think the money came from for the hospital bed your dorm donated to the Valley of the Sun School for Handicapped Children? Vending machines.

Ditto for the rest of the campus. So don't be so upset next time you lose a nickel or dime in a campus vending machine. If it doesn't come out when you shake the machine, remember you're probably helping to improve your education indirectly.

Then shake the machine again.

ADVENTURES IN SOCIAL SCIENCE: NO. 3

Today, ranging again into the fascinating world of social science, let us take up the subject of anthropology—the study of man and his origins.

The origin of man was indeed a puzzle until the Frenchman, Jean-Louis Sigafoos, discovered the skull and shinbone of Pithecanthropus Erectus in Java in 1891. What Sigafoos was doing in Java is, incidentally, quite an odd little story. Sigafoos was a Parisian born and bred. By day one could always find him at a sidewalk cafe, sipping barley water and ogling the girls; each night he went to a fashionable casino where he gambled heavily at roulette and go-fish; in between times he worked on his stamp collection, which was one of the largest in Paris.

She was beautiful—but only by local standards

Well sir, one summer Sigafoos lost his entire fortune gambling at the casino. He was seriously contemplating suicide when, quite unexpectedly, a letter arrived from one Lotus Petal McGinnis, a Javanese girl and an avid stamp collector, with whom Sigafoos had been corresponding from time to time through the international stamp collectors journal. Until now the nature of their correspondence, though friendly, had been strictly philatelic, but in this new letter Lotus Petal declared that although she had never laid eyes on Sigafoos, she loved him and wanted to marry him. She said she was eighteen years old, beautiful and docile, and her father, the richest man in the tribe, had agreed to give half his fortune to the husband of her choice. Sigafoos, penniless and desperate, immediately booked passage for Java.

The first sight of his prospective bride failed to delight Sigafoos. She was, as she said, beautiful—but only by local standards. Sigafoos had serious doubts that her pointed scarlet teeth and the chicken bones hanging from her ears would be considered chic along the Champs Elysees.

But sobering as was the sight of Lotus Petal, Sigafoos had an even greater disappointment coming when he met her father. The old gentleman was, as Lotus Petal claimed, the richest man in the tribe, but, unfortunately, the medium of exchange in his tribe was prune pits.

Sigafoos took one look at the mound of prune pits which was his dowry, gnashed his teeth, and stomped off into the jungle, swearing vilely and kicking at whatever lay in his path. Stomping thus, swearing thus, kicking thus, Sigafoos kicked over a heap of old bones which—what do you know!—turned out to be Pithecanthropus Erectus!

But I digress. From the brutish Pithecanthropus, man evolved slowly upward in intellect. By the Middle Paleolithic period man had invented the leash, which was a remarkable technical achievement, but frankly not particularly useful until the Mesolithic period when man invented the dog.

In the Neolithic period came the most important discovery in the history of man—the discovery of agriculture. Why is this so important? Because, good friends, without agriculture there would be no tobacco, and without tobacco there would be no Marlboro, and without Marlboro you would be without the finest filter cigarette that money can buy, and I would be without a job.

That's why.

© 1959 Max Shulman

Without tobacco you would also be without Marlboro's sister cigarette, Philip Morris, a non-filter smoke that can't be beat. Philip Morris or Marlboro—pick your pleasure.

Currents On Campus

Phrateres International, off-campus women's organization at ASU, will install new officers tonight at 7 in the home of Mrs. Robert Coonrod, Phrateres sponsor. A dessert party will follow.

New officers are: president, Lora Rhodes; membership vice president, Jan Johnson; social vice president, Donna Carver; recording secretary, Lynn Pigg; corresponding secretary, Barbara Hartner; and treasurer, Sue Rogers.

Awards will be presented tonight to Sharon Westerberg, outstanding officer; Adair Ronning, outstanding participation; and Marjann Fletcher, outstanding senior.

An exchange with East Hall is planned for next week.

"Consciousness — What Is It?" will be the topic of a speech by Dr. Nan McCurdy at the Philosophy Club meeting tonight at 8. The public and members are invited.

"Who Speaks for Man Tomorrow?" will be the topic of a speech at the Baha'i Faith Club meeting tomorrow night at 8. Carsten and Theresa Schmidt are guest lecturers this month. The public is invited.

New officers of Orchesis, ASU modern dance honorary, are: president, Nancy Sues; vice president, Carolyn King; recording secretary, Doris Parisek; corresponding secretary, Suzanne Miller; treasurer, Stanley Partalski; and publicity chairman, Carol Ashburn.

"Construction of the Glen Canyon Dam" will be the subject of a film for the student chapter of Civil Engineers today at 3 in room 332 of the Engineering Center.

Industrial Commission will be guest commentator of the 30-minute program open to students and faculty.

The student chapter of the American Institute of Architects will hold an awards dinner tomorrow at 8 p.m. Scholarships and competition awards will be given. Vernon DeMars, a member of the AIA in Berkeley, Calif., will speak on "Residential Areas and Community Appearance."

Architects, students and guests are invited.

The Amerind Club will meet today at 4:30 p.m. in MU 209. Reports will be given by delegates who attended the Regional Indian Youth Council at BYU and the Indian Student Conference at the U of A.

The Management Club elected officers for the fall semester at a breakfast meeting Thursday morning.

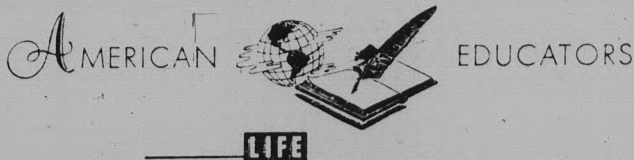

New officers are: president, Benny McNeveins; vice president, Bill Cheatham; secretary, Jerry Hall; and treasurer, Dave Williams.

Richard C. Lemons will speak on "Computers and Automation" at a meeting of the ASU Math Club at 7 tonight in room 102 of the Engineering building. A tour of the non-restricted areas at the computer center will follow Mr. Lemons' talk.

Anyone interested may attend.

Sorority Officers Visit ASU Chapter

By KATHY BURKE

Delta Gammas are making plans for a chapter visit by their national president, Mrs. Daniel C. Hay, and executive secretary, Miss Roberta Abernathy, this weekend. They will arrive Friday.

The Alpha Tau Omega spring formal and banquet will follow an afternoon of sports events, including swimming, tennis and golf, Friday at Camelback Inn. Dancing will be to the music of Ernie Carhjal's Band, and a new ATO Sweetheart will be crowned at the dance.

Nominees for Dram Girl, to be chosen at the annual Theta Chi spring formal Friday, are Carol Coon, Sue Dircks, Lynn Ruehlen, Linda Houle and Jan Leverton. The dance will be at Ramada Inn, where Theta Chi's outstanding senior, pledge and man contributing most to the chapter will be announced. Dan Sullivan was initiated into the fraternity Sunday.

Fathers were presented with Alpha Phi ash trays at the sorority's father-daughter luncheon Sunday at Madge Munro's home.

Alpha Phi has announced the selection of eight members to a newly-founded chapter scholarship honorary. They are Gail Peterson, Lois Stahbs, Ann Storrs, Phyllis Pickard, Dolores Kaczmarek, Jeanne Dewar, Marie Piercey and Susan Campbell.

The Clowns' Den at Arizona Manor will be the location for the Tau Kappa Epsilon Sweetheart Formal Saturday night. Dinner starts at 7:30; dancing at 9.

Newly-elected TEKE officers are: Dave Barnes, vice-president; Ray Embry, secretary; Don Glabe, pledge trainer; Lewis White, social chairman; and Ray Hoaglin, chaplain. Other offices are held for an entire year.

The annual TEKE active vs. alumni softball game takes place Friday night at Phoenix University Park. Loser will give a party for the winners.

Sigma Chi Sigma actives are wondering where their pledges will take them Friday evening for the annual pledge-given fraternity party. Location is secret, but a jungle theme will be followed. Send us a postcard from Africa, boys!

Officers chosen to serve Sigma Chi Sigma for 1959-1960 are: Mike Hogan, president; Bob Lairson, vice-president; Bob Stouffer, secretary; J. R. Stevens, treasurer; Bob Humphrey, pledge trainer; and Joe Hurd, corresponding secretary.

Chartered buses will leave the Delta Sigma Phi house Saturday morning at 7 for Las Vegas, Nev. Members, dates and alumni will attend a dinner-dance around the swimming pool at the Moulin Rouge that evening, and the Delta Sig Sweetheart will be announced. Also to be named is outstanding active of the chapter. Kemp Biddulph is in charge of arrangements for the event.

Delta Sigs celebrated their Greek Games victory Friday night with a party at Joe Rain-eri's home. Special attraction at the party was a water ballet by "Miss" Bob Sloncen!

Elected to offices recently in the fraternity were Roland Eidam, sergeant-at-arms, and Bill Druke, "official head dishwasher."

Members of Kappa Delta served at the Cistic Fibrosis barbeque, held Sunday at South Mountain Park, as their annual philanthropic project.

Gamma Phi Beta and ATO enjoyed a hamburger fry, games and songs at the Verde River Sunday.

Ron Iverson is ATO's newest pledge.

Wearing Alpha Delta Pi's pledge-of-the-week bracelet is Jayne Barrett. Suzanne Ledbetter has been chosen pledge of the month.

Phi Kappa Theta recently exchanged with Phrateres, off-campus women, at the fraternity house. The event was a Casino Party and entertainment was provided by the Phi Kaps.

Army Group Takes First In Drill Meet

ASU's Pershing Rifles drill team won the regimental championship at the Pershing Rifles 10th Regiment drill meet Saturday in Tucson.

The P/R 10th Regiment includes the states of Arizona, California, New Mexico and part of Texas. Drill teams from as far away as Ohio were present.

Cadet M/Sgt. Gary Shoemaker leads the ASU team, and squad leaders are cadets Sgts. John Marshall, Kie Kiedaisch, Steve Anderson and Bill Eccles.

The P/R drill team has participated in the Veteran's Day parade and the Homecoming parade, and recently bested the Air Force ROTC drill team in competition here. The team will perform during Military Honors Night, May 22.

Panel Presents Tolerance Talk

The Panel of Americans, representing different races, religions and cultures, discussed tolerance Monday at a special program at West Hall.

Panel members were: Ina Abrahams, moderator; Darlene Rogers; Sue Ritchie and Carol Everett.

It was the first time the Panel has appeared for a residence hall program, according to West Hall head resident Miss Margaret Walsh.

Residents from North and South halls attended also.

Foreign Language Honorary Initiates; Twenty-Six ASU Students Chosen

Alpha Mu Gamma, national collegiate foreign language honor society at ASU, recently initiated 26 new members. Students were chosen for membership on the basis of their achievement in studying foreign languages.

Students of French initiated were Ida Ruth Davis, Sue McCullough, Mary Maher, Sheila Palais and Marina Pressendo.

Russian: Paul L. Carlson, Won

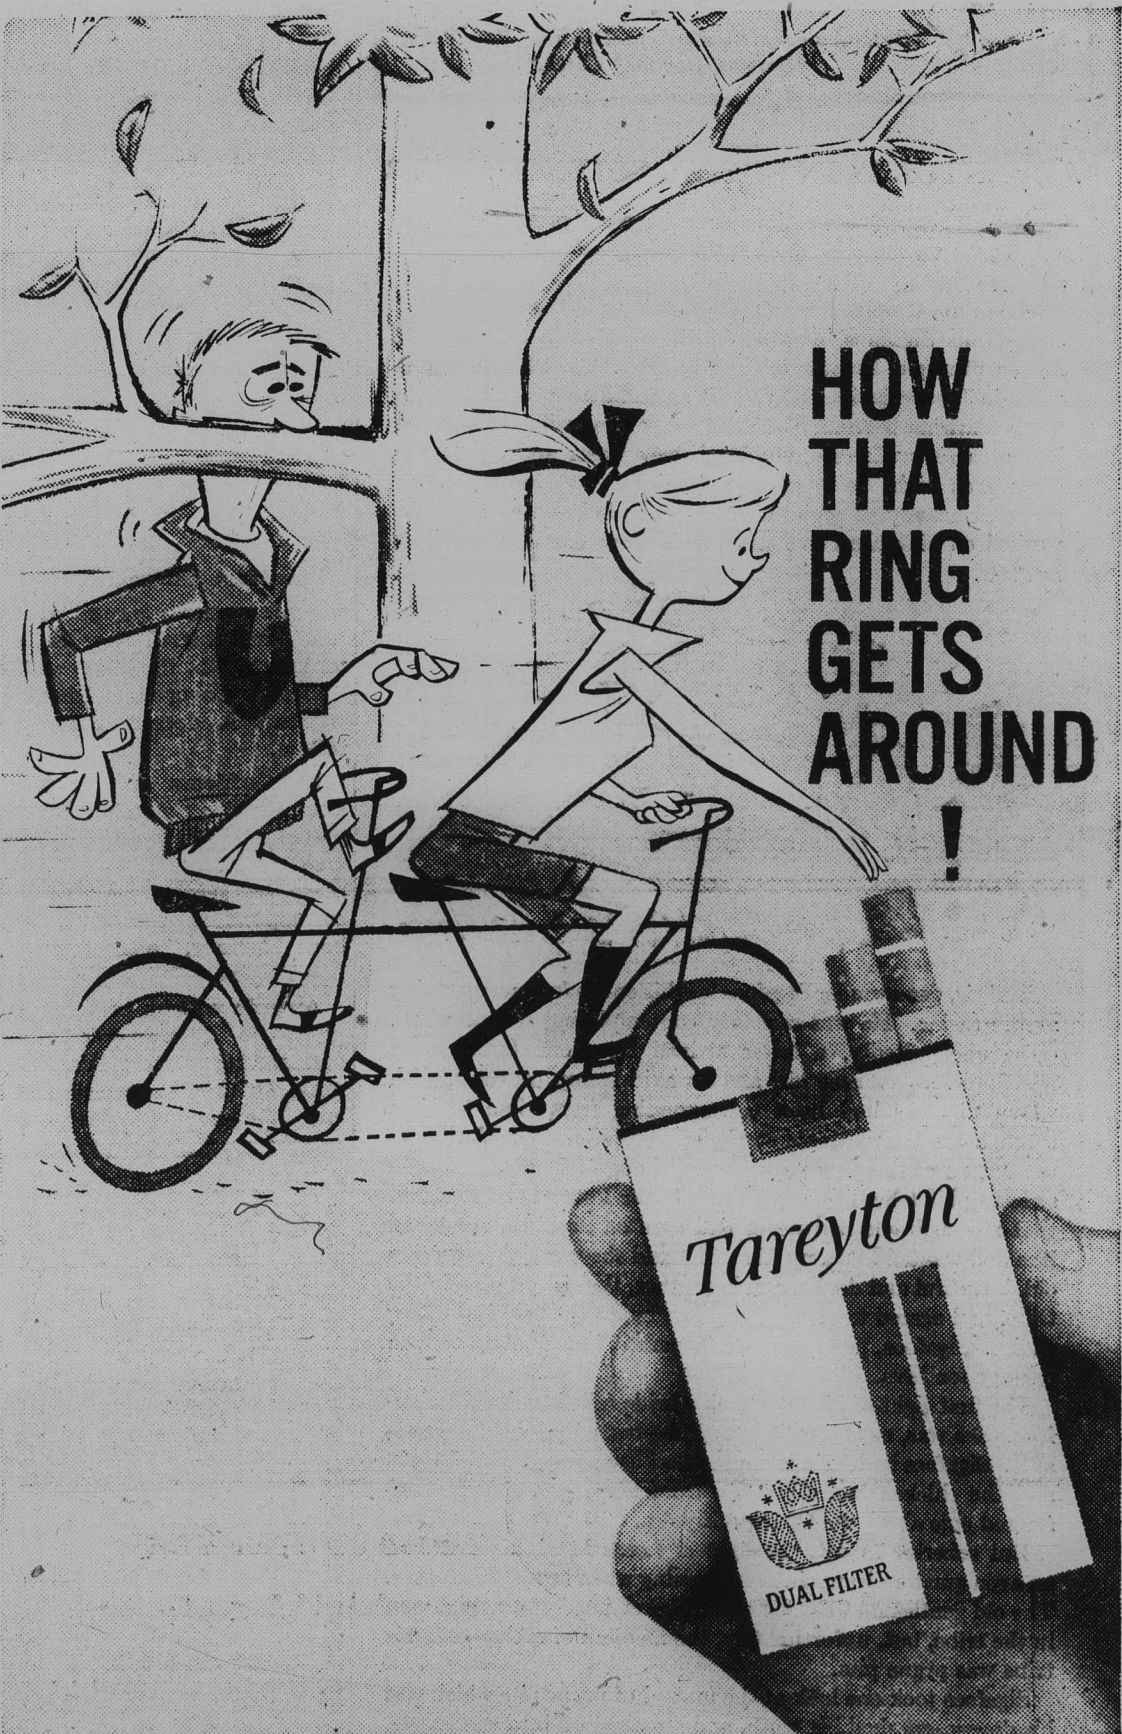

K. Choe, Sophie Kwiatkowski and Leland R. Lewis.

German: Dorthe Dana, Joseph Didio, Walter Geiger, Keith Dale Ryder, Lawrence Smith and Benna Wallis.

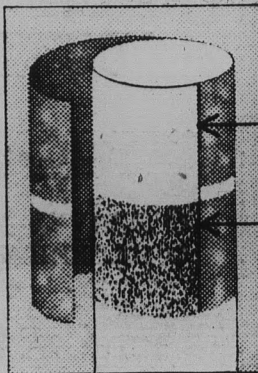

Spanish: Marcia Celetano, Daniel Cullinan, Robert Gibbons, Juanita Griego, Mary Hing, Bernadine King, Tonia Marett, Petey Olmsted, Michael Reilly, Jorth Richardson and Luz Vargas.

Officers of the group are: Bertha Barnett, president; Frances Flajnik, treasurer; Gail Weidman, vice-president; and Miriam Iglehart, secretary.

Organized at Los Angeles City College in 1931, the honorary became a national organization the following year. It strives to recognize linguistic achievement and encourage an interest in foreign languages.

Demons, 'Cats Split

Whatever hopes Arizona State's baseball team had for an arguing point on representation to the NCAA District Six playoffs went down the drain Saturday night at Rendezvous Park as Arizona pounded out a 9-1 victory.

The Sun Devils had taken the afternoon tilt in Tempe, 3-2, kindling a possibility for a split of the four-game series with the Wildcats, a rare occurrence in these parts.

Saturday's twinbill concluded the year's activities for Arizona State, the Devils ending with a 26-18 slate.

Despite losing the series to Arizona, the Demons achieved the best baseball record in ASU history. Last year's team, with a 17-17 record, had compiled the previous best mark.

For Arizona, Saturday's split gave them a 34-5-2 record versus collegiate competition. They still have games against Fort Huachuca, Casa Grande and Davis-Monthan AFB.

AS third baseman John Regoli gave Jim Sims his fourth win of the year with an eighth-inning, two run homer in Saturday's opener.

Arizona hurler Burdette Morago was sailing along on a three-hit whitewash, leading 2-0. Then John Hanna, batting for Sims, drew a pass in the eighth frame. With John Jones running for Hanna, Ed Littleton tripled him home, making the score 2-1. Fran Urban was retired, whereupon Regoli laced a 400-footer to put the Demons ahead.

Roger Kudron was called upon to mop up in the ninth, but the Wildcats put two men on via singles, and a dramatic Regoli-to-John Jacobs double play finally put a stop to the action.

things in the nightcap. The 'Cat hurler threw an eight-hitter and struck out seven to win his ninth without a loss.

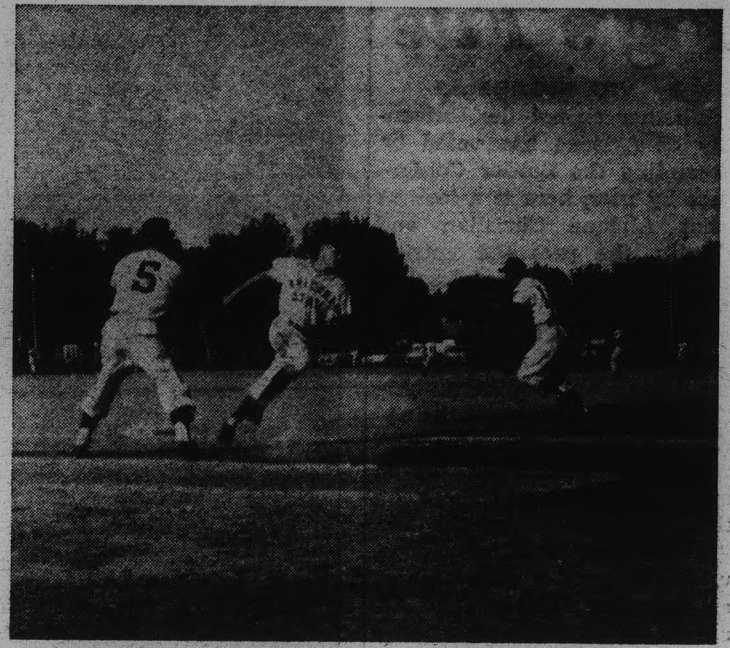

The Tucson nine jumped on Devil starter Joe Kostyk for three runs in the second inning, added two more off Roger Kudron in the sixth and raked Roger Barnson for the rest, getting one in the seventh and three more in the ninth.

Arizona State got its only score on four singles in the sixth frame, batted in by John Jacobs. Some wierd ASU baserunning killed off numerous other budding rallies.

Arizona's leading hitsmith was Bob Wilson, with four safeties. Jerry Lewis batted in three runs.

The loss went to starter Kostyk, his fourth against six victories.

FINALLY . . . John Jones races around third with Arizona State's first run in the eighth inning of Saturday's opener against Arizona. Ed Littleton, whose triple propelled Jones, later scored on a home run by John Regoli, giving ASU a 3-2 victory. The Wildcats took the nightcap, however, 9-1.

Golfers Take Pair Of 4-Way Meets

ASU's golf team defeated San Diego Naval Training Center, Luke AFB and Williams AFB Friday, and Arizona State College at Flagstaff, University of Arizona and Phoenix College Saturday at Paradise Country Club.

Williams had defeated the Devil golfers in a previous triangular meet, 27½-26½, with Luke Air Force Base scoreless. Saturday, ASU's linksmen finished three strokes ahead of second place UofA. The score was 293-296. ASC was third with 327 strokes, and PC had 349 strokes.

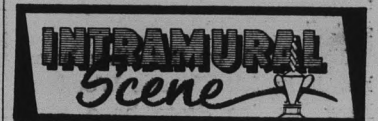

Demon Duff Lawrence was medalist Friday with 67. Par for the course was 71.

ASU's Rex Wilsen was medalist Saturday with 69. Lawrence shot 73, Phil Brignall, 77, and Joe Kallof 74. Vern Nicholas was low for the UofA with 70. Joe Riordan with 73 and Mike Riordan with 82 were low men for ASC.

Coach Fanny Markham and Lawrence, Wilsen, Brignall, Kallof and Don Boaz left for Tucson this morning for the Border Conference golf championship, tomorrow through Saturday. The Devil golfers, winning two and dropping one to the UofA, will be defending their BC title, won two years in a row. Hardin-Simmons, last year's runner-up, will be represented this year by another strong team.

The BC winner will represent the conference in the NCAA Golf Championship June 21-27 at the University of Oregon in Eugene.

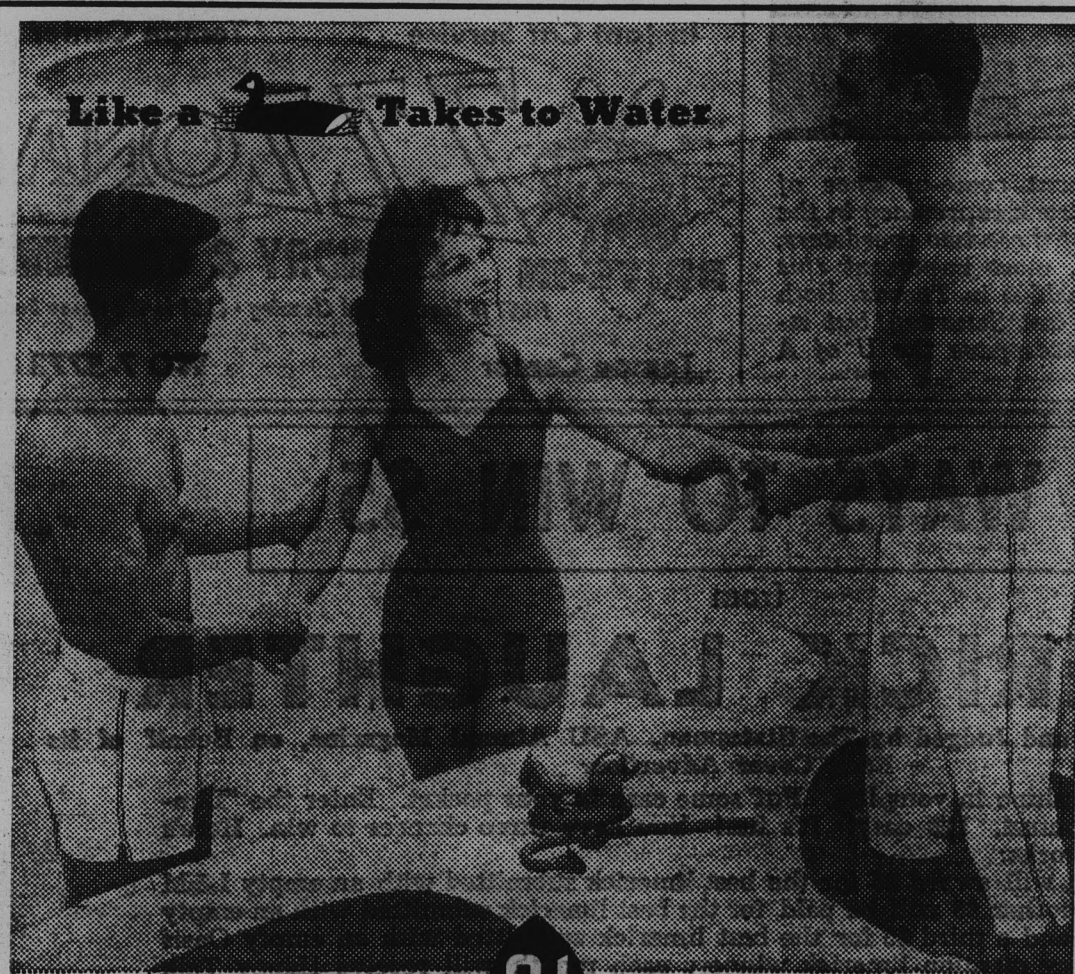

Sahuaro Hall won top honors last Saturday in the Intramurals golf tournament at Thunderbird Country Club.

Sahuaro had a four-man team score of 348. Delta Sigma Phi was second with 350, followed by Sigma Chi Sigma with 359. Phi Epsilon Kappa was fourth and Phi Delta Theta placed fifth.

Paul Spengler was medalist with a score of 72.

Baseball was made a major sport here Monday at a meeting of the ASU athletic board of control. The Committee noted that the team played a major schedule and was worthy of elevation.

Whether or not the University of Arizona has voted on expanding the Border Conference by now, here is a look at what Abilene Christian and Trinity, the proposed entries, had for football schedules last year.

The Abilene Christian eleven had for its most noted opponent Mississippi Southern. Although not rated among the nation's major schools schedule-wise, the Mississippi eleven made a few appearances on the wire services' top 20 lists.

They played Chattanooga, which is rated a major school on the schedule they play. Also on the Abilene slate were East Texas State, Texas Western, McMurry, Southwestern Louisiana, Southwest Texas State, West Texas State, Trinity and Howard Payne.

Trinity also played Mississippi Southern, and, hold on to your bowler, Mississippi. However, we look further down the list and see that New Mexico State (then A&M), Texas A&I, West Texas State, Southwestern Louisiana, North Dakota State, Abilene Christian and Texas Western fill out the schedule.

Latest reports had it that all but Arizona had okayed the expansion proposal. ASU athletic director Clyde Smith said that this school would approve the plan, mainly to alleviate problems other 'loop schools had in scheduling, but that ASU, whose breadwinner is football, would avoid all scheduling that is not "economically feasible."

The UofA, on the other hand, has it in for Warren Woodson, New Mexico State head football coach and athletic director, the man who made the proposal.

Woodson, formerly head grid mentor at Tucson, purportedly led a NMSU raiding party into Arizona and scalped the Tucson U to the tune of three players.

No wonder the wondering yesterday around 5:30 p.m. Will they say O.K.? Or will they say to blazes with it and look for another conference affiliate? We shall see.

Either way, welcome to the group, fellas.

Netters Blanked By Wildcats, 7-0

Doug Harrington, Don Daniels, Bob McDannold, and Frank Paddock will represent the ASU men's tennis team at the Border Conference meet at the University of Arizona this weekend.

Each man is entered in the singles competition, and Harrington-Daniels and McDannold-Paddock will team for the doubles matches.

Last Saturday the Devil net team suffered a 7-0 beating by the Wildcats in Tucson.

Doug Harrington lost to Bill Hinderer, 6-1, 7-5; Don Daniels was defeated by Carter Lenoir, 6-2, 6-0; Bob McDannold was shut out by Barry Edberg, 6-0, 6-0; Frank Paddock was defeated by Bill Payne, 6-2, 6-0; and Myron Speaker lost to Phil Grace, 6-0, 6-2.

In doubles matches, Harrington-Daniels lost to Lenoir-Edberg, 6-1, 6-1; and McDannold-Paddock were defeated by Payne-Grace, 6-2, 6-1.

SPEEDY TWINS...The recent come-uppance of Arizona as a threat to ASU's track supremacy in the BC makes the performances of these two speedsters, Mal (left) and Mel Spence, most important this weekend at the BC championships in Tucson. Both twins performed as expected last Saturday, but injuries and sub-par performances gave the U of A a 77-54 victory.

'CATS SURPRISE

Thinclads Upset!

The University of Arizona Wildcats upset the ASU track and field team, 77-54, in their last dual meet of the 1959 season last Saturday night in Tucson.

The absence of Demon distance star Alex Henderson and injuries to two other AS thinclads, coupled with stellar performances by several UofA tracksters, handed the Wildcats the coveted victory over the Sun Devils.

Henderson, holder of the nation's fastest mile, and two-mile clockings this season, suffered blisters on his feet the latter part of last week and was unable to compete. Carol Lindroos, Demon discus star, sprained his finger in the shotput, which forced him to settle for second place in his pet event. The discus was won by Wildcat Jim Burke at 167'4", a new UofA school record.

The meet was highlighted by Ray Hiscock's 56'1" shot put and Sun Devil Mal Spence's 47.1 clocking in the 440-yard dash. Spence later ran a 46-flat 440 in the mile relay, won by ASU in the new dual meet record time of 3:16.7.

Several Sun Devils failed to perform as well as was expected, and the Wildcats took first and second places in the shot put, half-mile, 220-yard dash and the broad jump. Arizona also swept the two-mile run and placed two performers in a three-way tie for first in the pole vault with ASU's Joe Rose. Rose, a 15-foot vaulter, was able to clear only 13' 7" Saturday.

Herb Montoya tossed the javelin 227'3" to continue his dominance of that event and list a new UA-ASU dual meet record. Other Demon first-place winners were Dick Fischl in the high and low hurdles, Jesse Bradford in the 100-yard dash and Jerry Robertson in the high jump.

Coach Senon (Baldy) Castillo is conditioning his charges for the Border Conference championships to be held in Tucson Friday and Saturday.
