Gammage Memorial Is Tomorrow

Jubilee Details Outlined

"A tradition of growth — a commitment to quality" is the theme of Arizona State University's Diamond Jubilee which will begin March 12, and continue through Feb. 8, 1961.

The Jubilee commemorates the school's 75 years of educational service to the state. The bill providing for the establishment of ASU, the state's oldest institution of higher learning, was passed March 12, 1885 by the 13th Territorial Legislature. ASU began operation Feb. 8, 1886.

Richard H. Bell, ASU-TV bureau director and Diamond Jubilee observance chairman, announced the dates for the full-year celebration Thursday.

Special convocations will be held on the opening and concluding days of the observance, according to Bell. He said the "two-fold theme indicates both a review of the past and a projection into the future."

"The past will be reviewed largely in terms of the university's continuing commitment to quality," he said.

An objective of the Jubilee will be "to initiate as many long-range projects as possible with the expectation that their value to the university will extend well beyond the dates of the observance," Bell added.

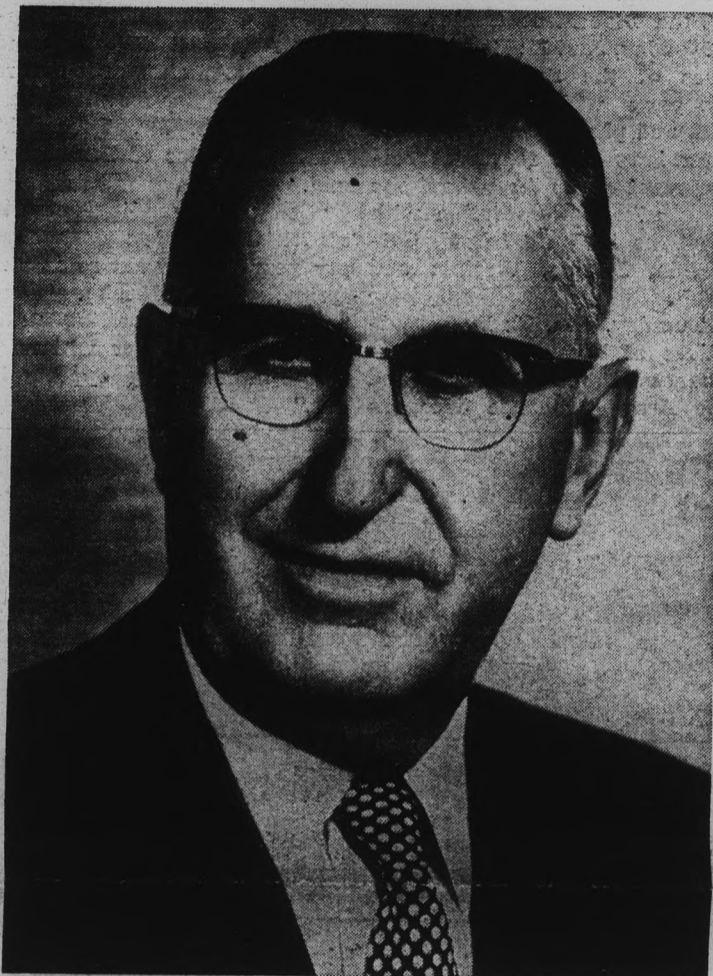

The program will include a comprehensive self-study of the university; special convocation, events, symposia, student projects and publications; and a limited number of commemorative awards.

Wisconsin Votes On ROTC Issue; Compulsion Wins

(I.P.) — Compulsory ROTC, long a controversial topic on the campus of the University of Wisconsin, recently was upheld by the faculty. In a very close (143-127) vote, members of the Wisconsin faculty voted not to accept a recommendation to make the program voluntary.

The matter, sent to a special committee for further study, will come up for faculty vote again. This past summer the state assembly or lower house, voted at first to abolish the compulsory program. Later, it concurred with a vote of the state senate to leave the decision to the university faculty

From Dr. Richardson:

Students, Faculty, and Staff:

As we come together again after the Christmas recess, we shall all be keenly aware of the tragic loss we have suffered in the untimely passing of our president, Dr. Grady Gammage.

A Memorial Tribute will be held in his honor at 10 a.m. tomorrow in the MU Ballroom. All classes will be dismissed for the day and offices will be closed.

Our task now is to carry forward the total program of Arizona State University in light of the objectives clearly set forth under the leadership of President Gammage, and to advance steadily toward the realization of unfulfilled dreams and goals that were being developed for the future.

With your continued interest, full cooperation and unflinching support, I am confident that by joining hands and hearts, we can set and hold a steady course toward the greater realization of the unfinished tasks ahead.

This confidence that guidance and strength would come through all of us working together prompted me to accept the appointment as Acting President until a permanent President shall be chosen by the Board of Regents.

May each of us resume his work with the spirit of helpfulness and courage.

Sincerely,
H. D. Richardson
Acting President

Dr. H. D. Richardson, ASU academic vice president, was named acting president of ASU at a Board of Regents meeting Dec. 29, 1959. Dr. Richardson will fill the vacancy created by the death of Dr. Grady Gammage.

The Board of Regents will name a permanent successor to Dr. Gammage, but the date of selection has not been decided. However, a Regents committee has been appointed to make the selection. The committee consists of Sam H. Morris, Globe; O. D. Miller, Phoenix; William R. Mathews, Tucson; Mrs. Vivian L. Boysen, Douglas; and fifth member will be the new president of the Regents to be elected when the board meets tomorrow.

Classes Are Closed For MU Services

A memorial tribute honoring the late Dr. Grady Gammage will be in the MU ballroom tomorrow at 10 a.m.

All classes will be dismissed and offices closed for the day, according to Dr. H. D. Richardson, acting president of the university. Provisions have been made for extra seats in banquet rooms and on the terrace.

The list of speakers who will deliver tributes during the program includes:

Governor Paul Fannin; Lynn M. Laney, '03, alumnus and member of the Board of Regents; Marvin N. Palmer, '38, president of the Alumni Association; Dr. George Bateman, head of the division of Physical Sciences.

Also Dr. Arnold Tilden, dean of the College of Liberal Arts; Max Richards and Tom Hulén, vice president and president respectively of the Associated Students, and Jack Williams, former mayor of Phoenix.

The ASU Choir, under the direction of David B. Scoular; the Faculty Trio, comprised of Miles and Nadine Dresskell and Roland Searight; and the Reverend Cecil L. Prior, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Tempe, will also participate in the program.

In addition to paying tribute to the beloved president of the university, the program will also serve as the impetus for the Grady Gammage Memorial Scholarship Fund, according to James W. Creasman, chairman of the memorial tribute committee.

"The development of the ASU scholarship fund was one of Dr. Gammage's greatest concerns throughout his 26 years as president," Creasman said.

Dr. Gammage died at his campus home Dec. 22 following a heart attack. He had complained of feeling "dreadfully tired" the night before.

The body lay in state in the rotunda of the state capitol the following day. Funeral services were conducted from the Tempe First Methodist church.

Dr. Gammage, one of the senior college and university presidents in the United States, completed his 26th year as president of ASU last July. Previously, he served as president of ASC, Flagstaff, from 1926 to 1933.

Although a native of Prescott, Arkansas, 67-year-old Dr. Gammage's story essentially is one of Arizona. He came to Tucson in 1912 to enter the university after serving as Deputy Clerk of the Circuit Court of Nevada Co., Arkansas, in 1911-1912.

He landed on the campus — then miles out of town — with $9 in his pocket and no job in sight. Young Gammage convinced the president of the university that he had what it takes; landed something to do and a place to sleep.

In 1913 he married Dixie Dees of Osyka, Mississippi, who died in September, 1948. Dr. Gammage was awarded a Bachelor of Arts degree from the U of A in 1916. By 1920 he was principal of Winslow High School. In 1922 he re-

Eight-Lane Bowling Alley Opens Feb. 5

ASU will officially open its eight-lane bowling alley with a ribbon-cutting ceremony February 5.

Throughout the first week, tours will be conducted to show students the operation of a mechanized bowling alley. There are plans to show films of national bowling champions.

Mr. Edward Heler (class of '59) will direct the bowling alley operations as well as the Games Room. However, Mr. Heler said that he will ask to have the name "Games Room" changed to "Recreation Area" because of the new alley.

The alley is completely Brunswick-equipped and will hold a Brunswick franchise. This franchise will enable students to buy their own bowling equipment should they so desire. As Mr. Heler put it, "bowling with your own equipment is one of the surest ways to raise your score."

The alley will be open only to ASU students, faculty, staff and their guests, Mr. Heler said. He also said that tournaments will be planned to enable students to compete against each other with prizes awarded to top eliminators.

Mr. Heler plans to form short-term leagues in the near future to promote team competition, but as Mr. Heler said, "there will always be at least two lanes available for open bowling during league bowling."

Mr. Heler will attend the Buddy Bomar School of Bowling to become an American

Hulen Names Men To Study ROTC

By MIKE BARRETT

ASASU President Tom Hulen, Engineering senior, today appointed a five-man student committee to study the controversial compulsory ROTC issue at Arizona State University.

"This issue is a matter of concern to almost everyone on campus," President Hulen said yesterday.

James Kirkpatrick, Liberal Arts sophomore, was named committee chairman. Other members are Martin Hoffman, LA senior; Ed Moore, LA senior; and Bill Wingfield, LA freshman.

These students are against compulsory ROTC and were among the 11 persons who discussed the issue with Governor Fannin Dec. 17. At that time, the Governor expressed interest in the compulsory ROTC issue, "especially if there is much discontent."

The students are not affiliated with the "Students Against Compulsory ROTC" committee formed Dec. 17, with Gary Peter Klahr, LA sophomore, as executive director.

President Hulen will appoint a fifth member, with pro-compulsory ROTC views, to the Kirkpatrick committee within a few days.

Hulen said yesterday, "I feel the four students on the committee are intelligent, fair-minded persons with high interest in the issue, and that they, along with a student of pro-compulsory ROTC views, will present a good report on the problem."

"The purpose of the committee is to bring a complete study of the problem before the student body, school administration, Board of Regents and Governor Fannin," Hulen added.

Six ASU students will discuss and debate the issue of compulsory ROTC on "The Public Domain," 8 p.m. Monday over radio station KRIZ, Phoenix.

Speaking for compulsory ROTC on the program will be Bud Bartlett, LA sophomore and a member of Army ROTC, and Don Reilly, LA sophomore and an Air Force ROTC member.

Speaking against compulsory ROTC will be Kirkpatrick, Hoffman and Klahr. Chuck Allen, LA senior and operations manager of the ASU-Radio-TV Bureau, will be moderator.

Placement Center Lists Semester-End Interviews

The following end-of-semester interviews have been scheduled by the Placement Center:

Friday: Mr. E. N. Skomal, an engineer with Motorola, will be on campus to interview seniors in electrical engineering and physics. Mr. Skomal will be here as a volunteer recruiter for the Air Force Cambridge Research Center in Cambridge, Mass.

Appointments may be made in the Placement Center.

Monday, Jan. 11: Representatives of the Sperry Phoenix Company will interview EE, ME, and physics seniors. These interviews will represent employment offers throughout the Sperry Rand Corporation with locations in Long Island, California, Florida, Virginia and Utah.

Tuesday, Jan. 12: Representatives of both the Army Ordnance Missile Command and the Army Ordnance Weapons

Command will interview engineers, physical science and accounting students. Also representatives of Crown Zellerbach Corp. will interview engineering, accounting, general business, marketing and selling and chemistry students for both manufacturing and sales work. A recruiter from Northwestern Life Insurance Company will talk to students interested in insurance as a career.

January '61 graduates of the colleges of Liberal Arts, Applied Arts and Sciences and Business Administration are urged to register for placement this month, Dr. Robert F. Menke, Director of Placement, said.

"Companies sending recruiters to the campus only once per year usually do so in the spring," said Dr. Menke. "January graduates waiting until next fall to register will miss many interviewing opportunities."

Deadline for Senior year-book portraits is Jan. 29; appointments should be made immediately.

LUCKY STRIKE presents

Dear Dr. Frood:

BAFFLING BLOT FAILS TO FAZE FROOD!

(see below)

Dear Dr. Frood: Every night for the past two weeks I've dreamt that I am being pursued by a beautiful girl in a Bikini who wants one of my Luckies. Just as she catches me, I wake up. How can I prevent this? Puzzled

Dear Puzzled: Go to bed a few minutes earlier.

Dear Dr. Frood: I am the ugliest guy on campus. My face looks like 90 miles of bad road. When I go to a party someone always steals my date. I worry about this. Can you help me? Loveless

Dear Loveless: Take heart. Any girl who would go out with you isn't worth worrying about.

Dear Dr. Frood: I think this ink blot looks just like rabbit ears. My friends say I'm nuts. What think? Bugs

Dear Bugs: It's your friends who are nuts. Those are clearly rabbit ears. And the long shape extending down is the rabbit's trunk.

Dear Dr. Frood: I have invited three girls to the dance this Saturday. How do I get out of this mess? Uptha Creek

Dear Mr. Creek: Tell two of them to dance with each other until you cut in.

Dear Dr. Frood: I have been dating one girl but I am so good-looking and so popular that I have decided to spread myself around a little more. What should I do about this girl? Dashing

Dear Dashing: Tell her the good news.

Dear Dr. Frood: My roommate always wears my clothes. What should I do? Put Upon

Dear Put Upon: Cover yourself and stay indoors.

Dr. Frood, Ph.T.T.

Dear Dr. Frood: My mother and my brother don't like my boy friend, but my father and my sister do. His father and two brothers don't like me, but his mother and his other brother do. What should I do? Miss Muddle

Dear Miss Muddle: Tell your father to talk to your mother and tell your sister to talk to your brother. Then tell your boy friend's mother to talk to his father and tell his brother to talk to his brothers. If that doesn't work, then talk to your mother and brother yourself. Maybe they know something you don't know.

Regents Seek $3 Million, Land, Buildings For ASU

The Board of Regents will seek an $8,671,000 capital budget for 1960-61 for Arizona's three institutions of higher education.

The proposed budget, an increase of $1,310,000 over this year, includes $3,246,000 for ASU, $3,300,000 for UorA, and $1,125,000 for ASC. The total includes $500,000 for land acquisition for each of the two universities.

The proposed budget for ASU includes $1,300,000 for a new Education building, $265,000 for tunneling and electrical cable service, $1,170,700 for the proposed auditorium, $296,000 for moving the ASU farm, and $214,300 miscellaneous, such as remodeling, renovation and street improvements.

The Regents also discussed possible alteration of dormitory fees and proposed construction of an auditorium at ASU. They neither accepted nor rejected the proposed design or site for the auditorium.

Budget Committee Chairman Sam Morris of Globe said, "We want the most for our money with a minimum of frills." He commented that "the first plans (by the late Frank Lloyd Wright) did not go down well with the members."

Morris also expressed disapproval of the proposed location for the fine arts center — on the curve at Apache Boulevard and Mill Ave.

Regent Mrs. Vivian Boyson of Douglas, who had previously referred to Wright's plans as a Disneyland, said she didn't "want to go on record as opposing the Wright plan. I think Disneyland is beautiful."

A Campus-to-Career Case History

Mark Dollard (center) discusses an impending customer service problem with two of his supervisors.

There's a message for you in Mark Dollard's progress story

Mark C. Dollard earned his B.A. degree in English from Yale University in June, 1955. He joined the New York Telephone Company the following July 18th. Three and a half years later, he became a District Manager for the company in New York City—with a staff of 87 people reporting to him and responsibility for 49,000 customer accounts.

Mark's choice of a telephone career came after numerous job interviews in a variety of business fields. "What sold me," he says, "was the telephone company's reputation for solid managerial training, stability and growth. And I was impressed by the high caliber of people I met during my visit to the company."

And those are the things to which Mark credits his rapid advancement. His training during his first two years covered a wide range of activities... including the handling of customer contacts in the business office, selling communications services to businessmen and supervising a business office.

"It was the company's vigorous growth that created the opportunity for me to become District Manager in January, 1959," Mark points out.

"What I like most about my present position is the variety of managerial responsibilities I have," he says. "It's interesting, stimulating work. I deal with sales and marketing programs, handle personnel problems and make a lot of public relations contacts."

The message for you? Stability, growth, systematic training and genuine advancement opportunities all add up to rewarding careers with the Bell Telephone Companies. Be sure to look into the opportunities for you. Talk with the Bell interviewer when he visits your campus — and read the Bell Telephone booklet on file in your Placement Office. You'll like what you learn.

Gammage Tribute

(Continued from Page 1) ceived a Master of Arts degree in Education from the U of A and that same year was appointed superintendent of schools at Winslow.

In 1925 Dr. Gammage was named vice president and director of the Training School of Northern Arizona State Teachers College at Flagstaff. The next year, at age 32, he succeeded Dr. F. A. Cotton to the presidency. Also in 1926 he was awarded an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws at the U of A. During the seven years he headed the Flagstaff institution, he built up the faculty, obtained recognition for a Class A rating and membership in the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, major accrediting agency in the United States. Also during his administration, the Flagstaff college was converted from a normal school to a four-year teachers' college.

Dr. Gammage was named president of Arizona State Teachers College at Tempe July 1, 1933 and, for a month, had the distinction of being president of both schools. In 1940 he received a second doctorate — this time a Doctor of Education degree from New York University, where he had served as a special lecturer in Education.

When Dr. Gammage came to Arizona State Teachers College in 1933, it was a single-purpose institution with an enrollment of 901 students. Today Arizona State University is a multi-purpose institution with five colleges and an enrollment of more than 11,000 students. The academic program has expanded from a single curriculum for the preparation of teachers to the point where the University is authorized to grant six undergraduate degrees and eight graduate degrees.

Dr. Gammage has been prominently identified in national educational circles, serving as president of the American Association of Teachers Colleges in 1945-56. His record of service on the State Board of Education is longer than that of any other man. This is also true of the State Board of Vocational Education. He was a member of two national accrediting committees, and vice president of the Western College Association.

He was a member of the Phoenix and Tempe Chambers of Commerce, Paradise and Arizona Country Clubs, member of the board of directors of the American Institute for Foreign Trade, Phoenix Symphony Society, Association for Applied Solar Energy and the Marshall Foundation; also a member of the National Education Association, Arizona Education Association, Committee to Abolish Intolerance in Higher Education, Western Committee on American Council on Education, the Newcomer Society, Order of Distinguished Americans, and Sons of the American Revolution. His other affiliations included Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Delta Kappa, Kappa Delta Pi, Alpha Sigma Kappa, Epsilon Pi Tau, Iota Sigma Alpha, Phi Eta Sigma, and Tau Kappa Epsilon.

During the war, Dr. Gammage served as a member of the board of directors of the National War Fund and raised

Editorially Speaking

Game's Not Over

A good deal of Dr. Gammage's life history has been published since his death on Dec. 22 — more than many students suspected had happened.

Our late president figured prominently in several dozen national and state organizations dedicated to education and the welfare of humanity in general.

But what most of us will remember is his work as an Arizona educator and administrator, from his life as a student at the University of Arizona, to his term of presidency at Arizona State College at Flagstaff, through his arrival here in 1933. Twenty-five years later he saw ASU to its "finest hour."

But his work is not finished. He has left all of us concerned with our own education — and that of those to follow us through ASU — a large order to fill.

Dr. Gammage saw seeds planted here — for a medical school, a fine arts center, for innumerable educational benefits for Arizona.

When Dr. Gammage proclaimed Arizona State University's "finest hour" last November, it was the beginning of a new era here. He started the ball rolling.

Now, ASU let's carry it.

By MIKE BARRETT

Four hundred University of San Francisco students are wearing black slumber masks in hour-long foreign language class sessions, reported the USF "Foghorn," Nov. 26.

"The masks — which shut out all light — are designed to rivet the students' attention on the classroom drill, eliminating one of the college professor's greatest problems — the tendency of his students to be distracted by fellow students and whatever is going on outside the window. The solution as envisioned by Rev. P. Carlo Rossi, S. J., Professor of Romance Languages, 'Don't let the students see anything.'

"The masks allow a student to give all his attention to the drill," Father Rossi says. "There is no possibility of outside visual distraction."

"Father Rossi experimented this summer with the slumber masks during a workshop on foreign language teaching. The students in this summer class, all of whom were either high school or college teachers, found the masks to be of great help in eliminating distractions, according to Father Rossi. The masks helped the summer class learn much faster than normally," Father Rossi said.

"Many of the teachers in my summer class were quite excited about the idea,' Father Rossi said. He thinks the masks may start an entirely new trend in methods of classroom instruction."

This experiment demonstrates the positive value of audio techniques in learning.

However, in his quest for speed in learning, Father Rossi seems to have overlooked inherent shortcomings in this teaching method.

First is the complication which will arise in blackboard diagramming of correct sentence structure, spelling, and accent marks.

Second, and more important, it is unfortunate if college students are so lacking in stimulation for learning, in self-discipline, and the instructor so inept that such artificial methods must be used to "rivet" the students' attention on what they are attempting to learn.

This mask method takes away that which the college student is in school to develop: learning, thinking, intelligent criticism and discipline.

For some reason I have a natural dislike of having to wear a black mask over my eyes for any reason whatsoever. Call it extreme if you like, but this "unique" method has connotations and possible ramifications of "Big Brother" in George Orwell's book, "1984."

Letters To The Editor

Granted

To the Editor:

It seems as if Son of Liberty has been misinformed as to the status of Arizona State and the state law.

Arizona State is not a land-grant school, nor is there any state law requiring ROTC.

ROTC is on a contractual basis between the government and the Board of Regents.

Ed Moore

Too Much Fuss

To the Editor:

I see no basis for the fuss being made over the loyalty oath and disclaimer affidavit in the Federal Student Loans.

Many men have died to keep democracy, many more will die fighting communism. Under these conditions, I hardly think the oath unreasonable. If I were granted one of these loans, I would be far from ashamed to pledge my loyalty to the United States.

May I remind you that there are hundreds of oaths signed every day. These are used to protect our freedom rather than to destroy it. I don't believe that college students are being singled out to be humiliated, but rather that a greater responsibility lies in their hands.

I think that those universities refusing the loan are wrong in denying their students the opportunity to use a device especially devised to help them. Let those students who object the oath forego using the loan.

Well Engineered

To the Editor:

In the spirit of democracy the Engineers made plans in September to place a suggestion box in the Engineering Center for the use of all engineers. It is now ready for use, and the Engineers Council hopes that engineers will use this communication service freely both for engineering problems as well as general campus problems.

If you want to help improve your student government, your engineering society, the Engineer Council, etc., then a suggestion is a good first step.

Please use it.

To the Editor:

For the past three months, numerous off-campus students have been wondering what has happened to the Off-Campus Men's organization.

The Off-Campus Men's organization has for the past three months been in semi-retirement, because of lack of funds and lack of student participation.

Now enough students have expressed their desire to see that this organization be kept alive. Therefore, executive action is being initiated by the Associated Men Students and past-present Off-Campus Men's student officers.

On Thursday, Jan. 7, 1960, at 3:30 p.m., a meeting will be held in the Memorial Union building — for the purpose of reorganizing the O.C.M. student's organization.

All male, off campus students, who have an interest in their own well-being, are invited to attend.

Beside the business on hand, refreshments and dessert will be served by the Off-Campus Women's organization, Phrateres.

He Was?

To the Editor:

Indeed, Mr. Gary Peter Klahr, military officers are usually NOT known for being nationalistic, but fight for what they believe to be just to their frontiers.

The wealth of the Southland that supported the federal government until the North inflicted a moral monstrosity through their propaganda led to one of the boiling points, and yet the South did produce some of the finest men. Now that you have the abolition of slavery and in this century you have the working of the abolition of private property, in the intent to produce a dynastic despotism to far reaching goals which no one will enjoy, but labor, tell me, of whom do you defend?

Calhoun was just as good as Lincoln.

Students, teachers and administrators alike mourn the death of Dr. Grady Gammage. All look back to the job Dr. Gammage has done at this institution, look forward to the future of this university — and continue to live in the present.

Tomorrow, a memorial tribute to Dr. Gammage will be in the MU ballroom — a beautiful place for a ball, ironically enough, but hardly the place for 11,000 students, plus faculty and administration members and "outsiders" to pay their last respects to our president — especially since the ballroom only seats 850. Sure, additional seats can be set up in the banquet rooms and on the terrace, but this is hardly a convenient or conducive arrangement.

The answer is obvious — we need an auditorium! The Board of Regents has approved $1,170,000 to be used for a new auditorium, but designated neither plans nor site. The university has a design drawn by the late Frank Lloyd Wright, for a proposed auditorium to be constructed near the Apache Boulevard curve. His proposed building is beautiful — but definitely not practical, either size-wise or economically. It would seat only some 3,000 people. ASU already has more than 11,000 students registered, and who knows how many may be here during the many years any auditorium would be in existence? And let us not forget the "outsiders" that would attend ASU-sponsored events if they could be sure of a seat.

Economically speaking, the proposed plans are WAY out. We're not contractors, but we feel it would be a safe bet that, for the price of Wright's building, ASU could have at least 2,000 additional seats in a more conventional - type building. Maybe this many more wouldn't be sufficient either, but they would help toward the 10,000 or so seats we should have.

And, while we're being practical (trying to save money), if the auditorium could be built near Sun Devil stadium (perhaps where the last of the old "Adobe Town" was recently razed) there would already be an immense parking area adjacent to it. Anybody know the cost of clearing, leveling and paving an area large enough for 6-8,000 cars?

Well, it's all just a thought — but we see nothing wrong with saving money.

Speaking of saving money, let's hope the quality of pipes in the buildings now under construction (and in the future) is higher than some of those put in the Memorial Union. In case everyone has forgotten, some of the pipes in the MU had to be replaced recently after being in service less than four years. Pretty poor endurance — and expensive.

Incidentally, non - activity week starts today and finals start next Thursday. Happy New Year!

203 of the BA building. He will also present slides and exhibit a model center during his talk. The meeting will be sponsored by the ASU Marketing club, and is open to all students and faculty.

ASU Young Democrats have been invited by the Phoenix YD's to attend a forum this evening at 8 p.m. in the National Life Building. Prominent members of the Democratic Party from this state will be participating in the forum.

John Ehrke has been inducted into membership of the ASU Circle K club. The group will meet tonight at seven in the MU. The project committee will report on possible service projects for the group, during the meeting.

Members and pledges of Gamma Alpha Chi, national professional advertising fraternity for women, will meet this afternoon at four o'clock in BA, 309 A.

Newly-elected officers of the Pre-Medical, Pre-Dental Seminar at ASU are: Tom Jasperson, president; Keith Hooker, vice president; Jo Ann Gross, secretary, Larry Severson, treasurer. The group is petitioning Alpha Epsilon Delta, national pre-medical honorary.

Greek To Me —

Officers Elected

By KATHY BURKE

Charlene Gauldoni has been elected president of Chi Omega for 1960. Other officers chosen were: Pat Miller, vice president; Linda Cooper, recording secretary; Norma Walker, treasurer; Jan Severson, rush chairman; Darlene Swadley, personnel; Sandy Seyfried, pledge trainer; Carolyn Stabler and Susie Lennartz, Panhellenic representatives.

"The Ganster Era" was restaged last night at a Sigma Chi Sigma-Kappa Delta exchange at the Sig house.

Members of Sigma Nu fraternity will hear a talk on alcohol this evening at 6:30. Main speaker will be Judge Pennsinger from Phoenix. The lecture will be sponsored by the Citizens Committee on Alcohol.

Alpha Epsilon Pi pledges started out their vacation on a sad note, having been caught by their actives on a walk-out just before they left for the holidays.

Lynne McAndrew has been chosen active of the week by Kappa Kappa Gamma. Sandee Hodgson is pledge of the week.

A week-end trip to Flagstaff was included on Sigma Phi Epsilon's schedule of holiday events.

Professors Talk Tonight

Dr. Harold W. Coppock, ASU associate professor of Psychology, and Dr. Richard E. Schutz, assistant professor of Education will discuss "New Frontiers in Psychological Research Through Computer Analysis" at tonight's meeting of Psi Chi, ASU honorary psychology group.

The public is invited to attend the 8 p.m. meeting in the MU upper lounge. Coffee will be served following the discussion.

Rifle Team Men In Competition

Members of the ASU Rifle Team will be firing at intervals during the next two weeks in hopes of winning this year's Sixth Army championship.

The Sixth Army district includes schools from Arizona, Utah, Nevada, Washington, California, Montana and Oregon.

Master Sergeant John Booth, of the ASU Army ROTC department, is in charge of the ASU competition.

Dr. Ralph Hook Describes Work

Dr. Ralph C. Hook, director of the ASU Bureau of Business Services, talked about the Bureau of Business Services at Delta Sigma Pi's professional meeting this morning.

In his speech, Dr. Hook outlined the services the bureau offers, activities of the group, and future plans.

Dr. Hook said the bureau's services are directed toward businesses, industries, government agencies, communities of the area served, faculty of the College of Business Administration, and Business students.

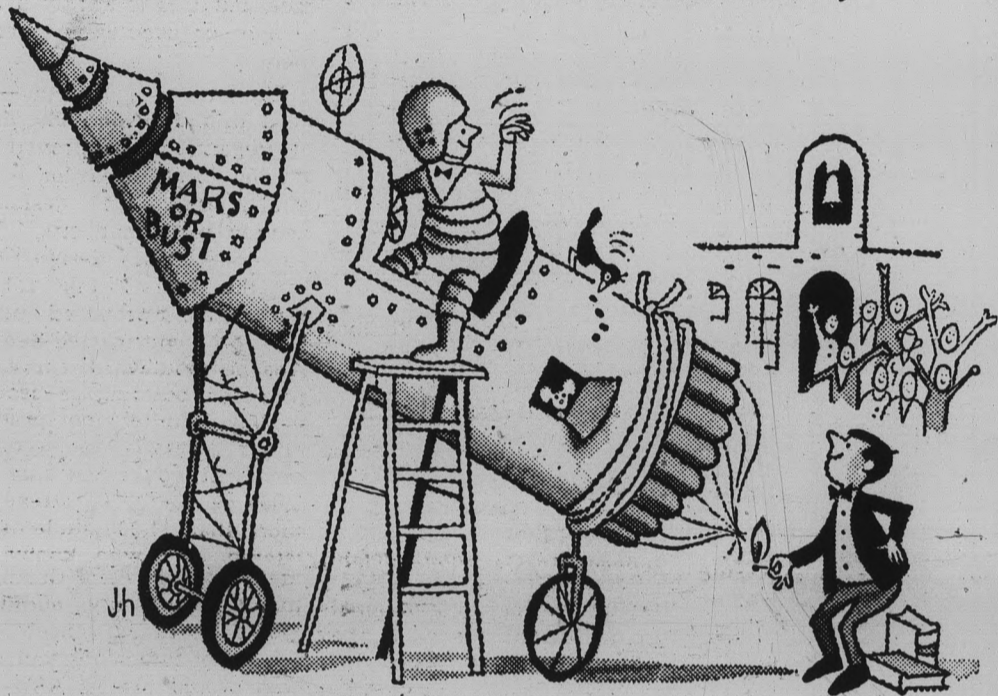

Research and education and public relations form the major categories for the bureau's activities.

During the past year, the bureau's projects were primarily designed for management. Some of these projects included migration, General Electric, farm magazine readership, cotton manufacturing study, motivational study of consumer buying, building permit data, and Arizona taxes.

The bureau's education and public relations section conducted numerous seminars, conferences, and institutes.

 a half million dollars in Arizona for the USO. He was president and chairman of the United War Fund Campaign Committee of Arizona, chairman of the United China Relief, and council advisor, board member of the Boy Scouts of America. He was advisor to the Allied Military Government in Germany (American Zone), working in higher education there.

For this service he was cited by General Lucius Clay. He has also been awarded the Legion of Merit Medal (Denmark) and Certificate of Merit (China). In 1946 Dr. Gammage was awarded a citation by the Jewish Chatauqua Society.

On the basis of his work in Germany, the government later offered him the post of Director of Japanese Colleges and Universities for the Army of Occupation. He declined that as he did an attractive offer from New York University to join its faculty in 1949. He spent years and studies of colleges and universities throughout the United States.

Also in 1949, he married Kathryn Klink, former dean of Women at Lake Forest College, Illinois. The Gammages have an eight year old son, Grady Gammage, Jr., nicknamed "GG."

His biography appears in American Association of School Administrators, World Who's Who, Biographical Encyclopedia of the World, Leaders in Education, and Burke's Landed Gentry (England).

Until his death, Dr. Gammage never ceased working for "what's best for the University."

New schedules of Classes are available at the registrar's office in the B.A. Building.

Devils And Diamonds —

Cupid's Season Soars Over School Holidays

Sue Nichols announced her pinning to Bill Moody, Sigma Chi who attended San Diego State, Monday night at a Sigma Sigma Sigma candle passing ceremony.

Chi Omegas who announced their engagements after the holidays were Petey Olmsted to Martin Hoffman, ASU senior; Lorilee Kier to Dave Pilcher, Lambda Chi Alpha; Carolyn Wagoner to Gene Miller, Alpha Gamma Rho; Nancy McCloy to Jock Evans, Phoenix College; and Anita Reiff to Don Tausig.

Former president of Alpha Epsilon Pi, Bob Scholnik was married to Deanna LeBeau, 1959 AEPi sweetheart, Dec. 20.

Candlepassing ceremonies took place in the Kappa Kappa Gamma chapter room Monday evening for Miriam Barton, engaged to Gene Ritschard, a graduate of Colorado State University.

Jean Gabbard, Gamma Phi Beta, has announced her pinning to Larry Royse, Sigma Chi at Stanford University.

Several candles were passed by members of Alpha Delta Pi following the Christmas holidays. Becky McDonald revealed her pinning to John Larkin, Beta Theta Pi, Colorado College; Sue Westervelt is engaged to Bob Enright, former ASU student; and Grace Silva is pinned to Paul Hicks, Kappa Sigma formerly of the U of A, now attending University of Southern California Dental School.

Shirley Rankin, ASU sophomore, is newly engaged to Ronnie Clegg of Phoenix College.

Members of Kappa Alpha

Theta have learned of the engagements of Pat Dice to Bob Hattig, California resident; Marty Gwyn to Al Wier, of Michigan; and Lynn Miller to Dean Cowan, ASU graduate.

Her Uniform —

The Exclusive Executive Model...
 Tailored To Fit The Finest

One look at her and you know she's an officer in the United States Army. Her uniform gives it away—and she doesn't mind a bit! Because it's her passport to prestige... the distinctive sign of a young executive in the Women's Army Corps. Wherever she goes—and it might be anywhere from Heidelberg to Honolulu!—she knows that uniform will bring respect and recognition.

She doesn't have time to get smug about it, though—her uniform demands as much from her as she does from it! She's got to keep on her toes. She's got to show initiative and intelligence, foresight and flexibility—qualities worthy of a college graduate. Qualities worthy of an executive in a world-wide organization.

Interested in wearing the Army uniform? We'll be glad to tell you more if you mail us the coupon below... (It's your preliminary "passport to prestige!")

SPECIAL... SUMMER PROGRAM FOR JUNIORS: Want a special preview of Army life? Why not see it for yourself this summer! If you qualify for this limited program, you'll receive 4 weeks of orientation training this summer—without any commitment. The program is to help you decide—with confidence—if you want to apply for an Army officer's commission after you graduate. If you're interested, today is the day to mail the coupon. There's no obligation.

The Demon's Lair

By BOB LAIRSON

Watching the New Year's Day bowl games, we saw many powerful football teams, and made note of a change that has been present for a few years without receiving much acclaim. We state this opinion boldly, even though we are going to step on somebody's toes. The Southeastern Conference has replaced the Big Ten as the toughest football conference in the nation.

The Big Ten's lone bowl representative, Wisconsin, suffered a 44-8 humiliation at the hands of the University of Washington, a team with 10 juniors and one sophomore on the starting lineup.

Southeastern Conference representatives LSU, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Mississippi, and Alabama all put up good battles in their bowl games.

Back to basketball, the Sun Devils have improved 100% since the season opener, and should compile a record equal to or better than the 17-9 record in season play and the 7-3 record in conference play that the cagers tallied last year. The wins over Washington State and Abilene Christian have helped the Demon prestige, and when coach Ned Wulk's hoopsters open their conference schedule Jan. 9 against Texas Western, BC opponents should sit up and take notice.

Of course, the Demons meet Texas Western, Hardin-Simmons, and New Mexico State all within a one-week period, and a loss to any of these three teams is possible. Last year, the Devils, New Mexico State, and Texas Western tied for the Border Conference crown.

More About — Bowling Alleys

Bowling Congress certified instructor. If the demand for instruction is great enough, he plans to have a qualified co-ed also giving instruction.

Although not yet open and with minor installations and adjustments being completed, the ASU alley has had, as Mr. Heler put it, "a good sign." One of the installation men rolled the first ball down lane eight and scored a strike.

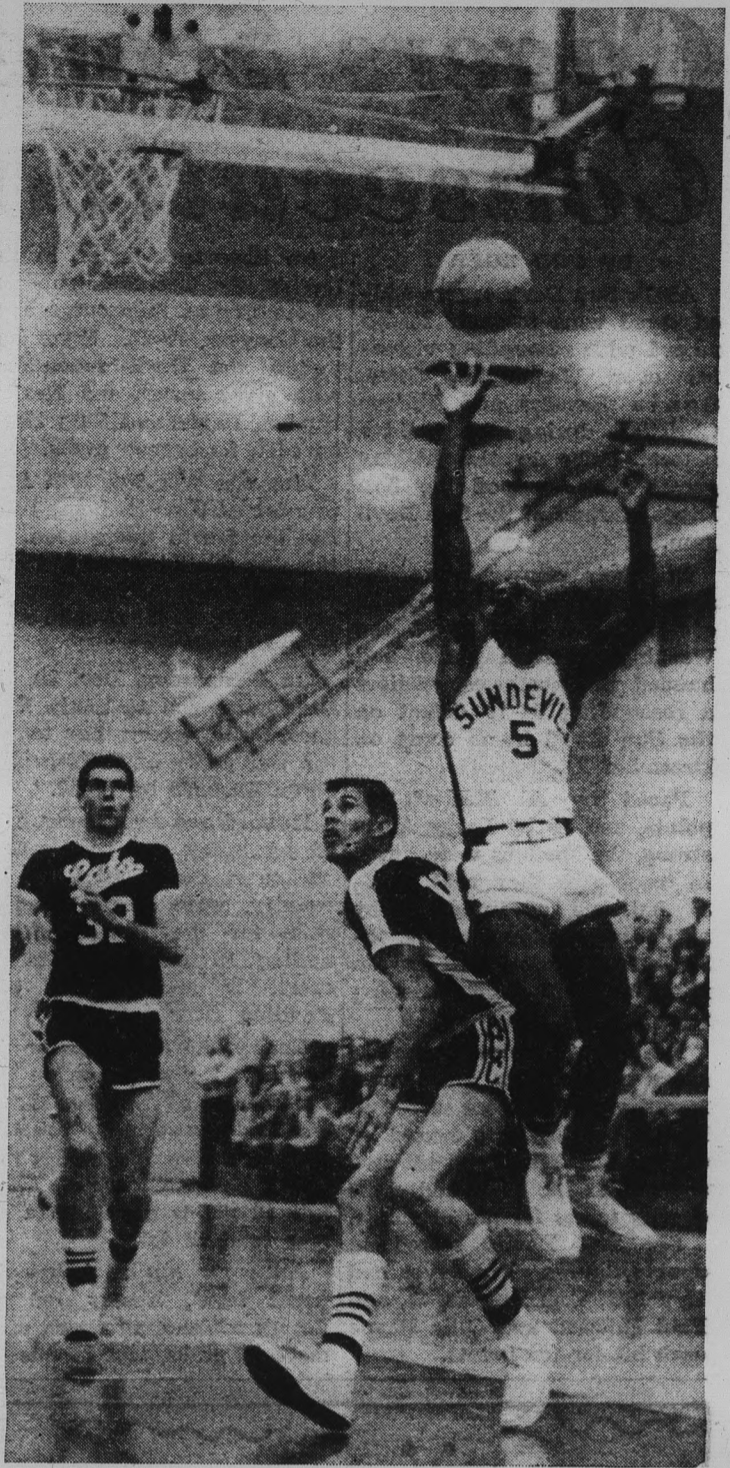

Mr. Heler and Mrs. Cecelia Scoular, MU director, will meet with the MU board this week to work out final details for the alley's operation. This meeting will determine fees for the use of facilities, hours of operation, rules affecting use of the alley, and other details.

Clyde Smith Found Guilty By Regents

The Board of Regents officially recognized the National Collegiate Athletic Association two-year probation of ASU, censured Clyde B. Smith, ASU athletic director, and placed him on probation for the same period at their meeting on December 29.

The NCAA announced Oct. 27 that ASU had been placed on probation two years from that date for violation of certain provisions of the association by-laws and constitution concerning the recruiting of athletes.

In an official announcement, the Regents stated that they "sincerely regret such infractions held to have been committed and the unfavorable reflections from this finding respecting the athletic policies of Arizona State University."

TWO POINTER . . . Diminutive guard Larry Armstrong scores for Arizona State in holiday action in the ASU Gymnasium. Armstrong's lack of height didn't bother him on this scoring drive as his speed and deceptiveness threw opposing cagers off-balance. Armstrong currently is in third place in team scoring averages.

Cagers Score Four Consecutive Wins

By BOB EGER

ASU's Sun Devil cagers added three wins to their season record with resounding victories over Washington State, Santa Barbara and Abilene Christian during the holiday season. Prior to the holiday games they stopped the San Diego Marines at the Sun Devil gym.

In their most impressive showing to date, the Devils completely dominated the Washington State game and handed the northwest visitors a resounding 94-70 defeat on the Sun Devil home court on December 21.

Paced by Al Nealey's 21 points, and 18 by Larry Armstrong, the Demons were never in trouble as they held a 52-37 halftime advantage. They also outscored the Cougars, 42-33, in the second half for an impressive 25-point winning margin.

Nealey's 21 points came on seven field goals and seven free throws and were scored in limited playing time caused by early fouls. Armstrong hit five shots from the floor and eight charity tosses for his 18 points.

Six Sun Devils scored in double figures. Bill Pryor had 12 points, Tom Hughes, 11, and Paul Howard and Ollie Payne each hit for ten points.

An important factor in the Devil's win was their superior rebounding as they outgrabbed the Cougars, 40-24. Pryor had topped the Devil rebounders with eight snares and Nealey, Hughes, Payne and Gary Norton each had seven grabs.

The win was the 19th in a row for ASU on its home court and the fourth this season. It came at the hands of a young Cougar team which has 11 sophomores on its 15-man roster.

On Wednesday, Dec. 30, the Devils traveled to Santa Barbara, Calif., where they topped the University of California at Santa Barbara by 77-57.

Howard and Armstrong, called by many the best college backcourt combination in the country, were largely responsible for the Devil's victory netting 18 and 17 points respectively and playing outstanding floor games.

Nealey, ASU's big scorer this year, hit for 12 points on five field goals and two free throws and in doing so broke the ASU scoring record of 1,036 points held by Royce Youree. Nealey's 12 points gave him a career total of 1,042.

Although hitting below his usual level, Nealey led the Devil's rebounding attack as he made 22 grabs, tops in this department.

Norton helped the Devil cause with 17 points — his highest effort of the year.

The defeat was only the second loss this season for the Santa Barbara crew. The other Santa Barbara loss came at the hands of California, ranking national basketball power. The Devils fared comparatively better than Cal against Santa Barbara, beating them by 20 points whereas Cal came out ahead by only 12.

On Saturday, Jan. 2, the Devils returned home and for the second time this season went over the hundred mark, as they topped a game Abilene Christian crew, 102-83, in the Sun Devil gym.

Nealey aided the Devils to their 20th consecutive victory at home as he netted 13 field goals and three free throws for 29 points to lead both teams. Nealey was one field goal shy of his own Sun Devil game field goal mark, 14, which he set two years ago.

Armstrong turned in a 20-point performance to back Nealey in scoring for the Devils. He hit eight shots from the floor and four free tosses in one of his better efforts.

The Devils were unable to gain a comfortable lead until late in the game as the Abilene crew kept doggedly on their heels. The halftime score was 42-37 in favor of the Devils and midway through the third period it narrowed to three points. The Demons pulled away in the late stages of the game and increased their lead to over 20 points late in the final period. Their final winning margin was 19 points.

Abilene's scoring attack was led by Gene Denman who canned nine field goals and six free throws for 24 points. Mike Allen had 19 and Robert McLeod 17 to add to the loser's scoring total.

Sun Devil scoring was spread out as six players scored ten or more points. In addition to Nealey's 29 and Armstrong's 20, Pryor had 12, Norton, Hughes and Payne 10 each. Howard, ASU's second highest season scorer, had an off-night scoring nine points.

Nealey's 29 points upped his career total to 1,071. He surpassed the old career scoring mark by 35 points, and with every game he plays, will pad his own mark.

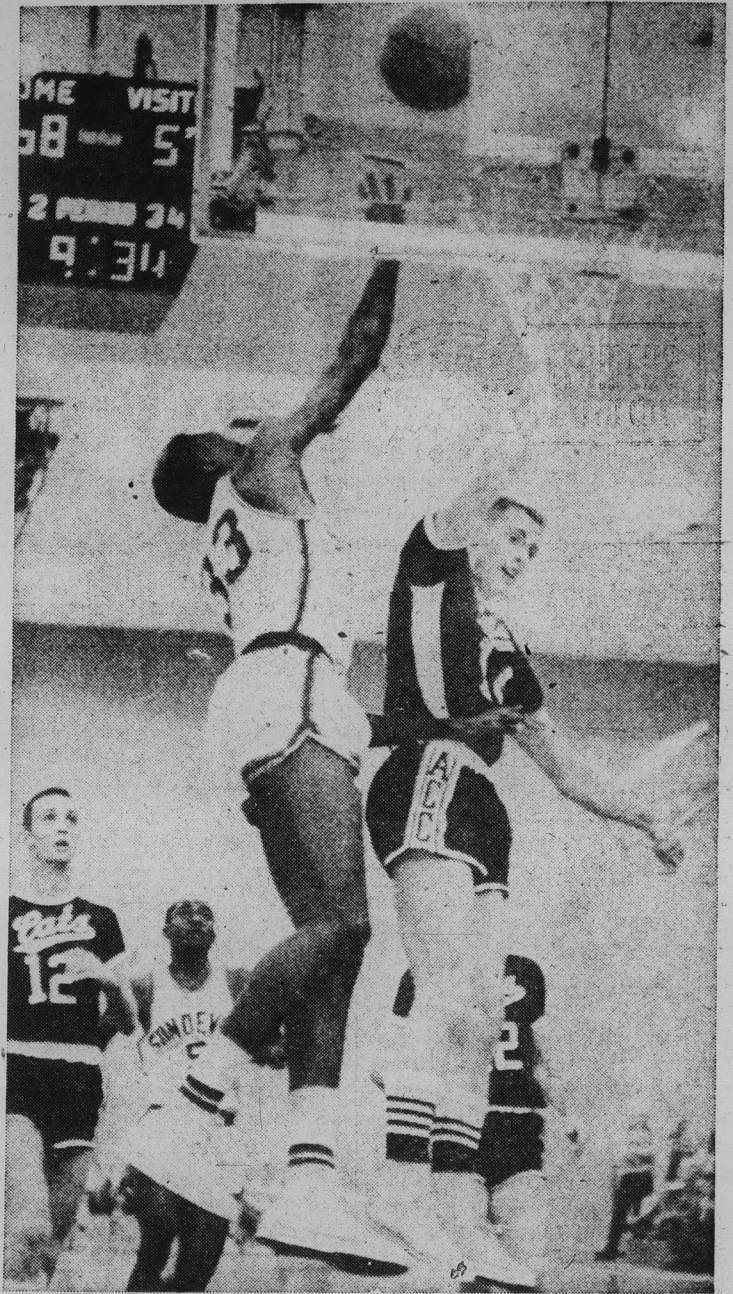

The Devils topped a rugged San Diego Marine team, 87-60, in the Sun Devil gym on Dec. 17 with Howard and Armstrong hitting 21 and 20 points, respectively.

The game does not count as an official game in Sun Devil records but the locals gained valuable experience against the service club which is capable of holding its own against good college competition.

Ahead by 20 points at the half the Devils were never in serious trouble and lengthened their winning margin to 27 points by the end of the game.

Saturday night, Jan. 9, the Devils will host powerful Texas Western in their first conference game of the season. The Miners are considered to be one of the toughest teams in the Border Conference and they will be out to break the Devil's home winning streak which has now extended to 20 games.

RECORD BREAKER... Al Nealey is caught in a familiar pose here as he scores on his way to a 29 point total against Abilene Christian last Saturday night. The 29 point contribution helped the ASU cagers to a 102-83 victory over the visiting team, and established a new school record of 1,071 points for an individual player.
