1,797 ASU Students Apply For Degrees This Year

A record-breaking total of 1,797 students may receive graduate and undergraduate degrees during annual graduation exercises May 30, ASU President G. Homer Durham announced to the Board of Regents last weekend.

Less than that number, however, will be presented because some students will fail to complete the requirements on time.

"Even allowing for the normal rate of reduction, it appears likely that ASU will have the largest graduating class this spring in its 76-year history," Dr. Durham said.

A total of 1,640 students applied for degrees last year, 1,523 were conferred for the largest graduating class in ASU's history.

Candidates for 1961 include 1,317 applicants for undergraduate and 480 for graduate degrees, the latter comprised of two Doctor of Education; two Education Specialists; 27 Master of Science in Engineering; three Master of Public Administration; 20 Master of Natural Science; 250 Master of Arts in Education; 94 Master of Science; and 82 Master of Arts degrees.

Applications for undergraduate degrees include: College of Liberal Arts, 345 (164 Bachelor of Arts, 164 Bachelor of Science, one Bachelor of Science (Nursing) and 16 Bachelor of Science in Nursing); College of Business Administration, 237 (Bachelor of Science);

Chilton

College of Applied Arts and Sciences, 191 (three Bachelor of Architecture, 27 Bachelor of Science in Architecture, 83 Bachelor of Science in Engineering, 40 Bachelor of Science in Agriculture, 38 Bachelor of Science in Industrial Education);

College of Education, 544 (53 Kindergarten-Primary, 257 Elementary and 234 Secondary).

New Forum Set Tomorrow

Dr. G. Homer Durham will present a forum in the MU upper lounge, 3:45 p.m. tomorrow.

The forum is sponsored by the Education Board. "If you have questions, come and ask," said Larry Ellis, board chairman.

Ellis pointed out that this is not a lecture, but an opportunity for students to bring up questions on university policies.

This is not the first of such forums in ASU's history, noted Karl Dennison, ASASU president.

Business Conclave Opens Here

The third annual Business Day will begin at 9:40 a.m. today with an address by Ernest R. Breech, a director of Trans World Airlines and past president of North American Aviation Inc.

Over 1,000 ASU faculty members and students are expected to hear Breech speak on "Long-term Economic Growth" in the MU ballroom.

Twelve local business executives will conduct seminars with Business Administration students in the BA building following the address.

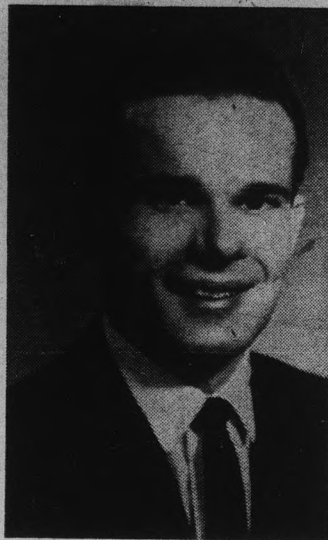

Outstanding students of various organizations will be cited following the seminars at the third annual awards luncheon in the MU banquet rooms. Principal speaker at the luncheon will be James P. Simmons, president of the Guaranty Bank in Phoenix.

This year's Business Day is co-sponsored by the Business Administration Student Council of ASU and Delta Sigma Pi, Business honorary for men.

Award Winner Will Be Shown

"From Here to Eternity" and "The Eddie Duchin Story" will be shown at Cosner Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow and Friday.

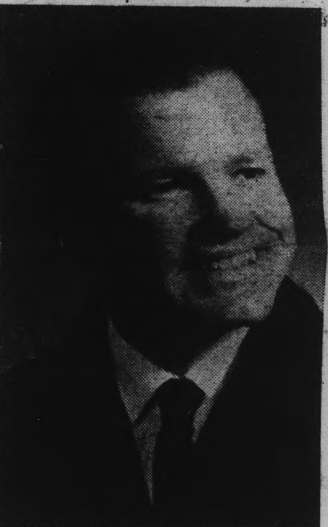

The movies, including a cartoon, are sponsored by Haigler Hall. Admission will be 75 cents.

First Voting Today

Arizona State's Associated Students take to the polls in spring primary election style today, after a week's postponement, to choose their student leaders for next year.

Voting is scheduled from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at three polling places: the northeast corner of College Ave. and Orange St.; the lawn before the Business Administration building; and on the Old Main lawn.

Identification cards will be necessary to allow students to vote.

Purpose of the primary election is to narrow the slate of candidates for the general election, set next Wednesday, April 26. In ASASU, AWS and AMS cases, all but two candidates will be eliminated today; four senatorial hopefuls will survive the first voting, as two senators are elected in the various senate categories.

Due to lack of candidates, two ASASU, three Associated Women Students, three Associated Men Students and eight senate posts will be filled in the primary.

Candidates' qualifications were listed in the April 12 State Press. The primary, originally scheduled that day, was postponed till today. The postponement was decided at press time April 11.

Limited copies of the April 12 Election Edition are available at MU 211.

Appearing on the ballot today are:

ASASU President: Grant Allen, Frank Hennig, Dick Shaw, Jim Sult, Gary K. Walker.

ASASU First Vice President: Jim Chilton, Andy Mitchell.

ASASU Activities Vice President: Michael A. Craig, Jim Howard.

ASASU Secretary: Sel Erder, Dianne Parker, Kathryn Sefferovich.

AWS President: Barbara Anderson.

Vice President: Bonnie Evans, Claudia McDonald.

Secretary: Connie Barr, Donni Coombs, Carole Hendrickson, Marilyn Rossini.

Treasurer: Mary Ellen Ross, Lois Richardson.

AMS President: Bob Carter, Mark Cockrill VIII, Dan Pflumm, Joe Watters, Don Wolfram.

Vice President: John Power, Walt Taft.

Secretary: Richard Lattin, John Towler.

Treasurer: Jim Warne.

Senatorial candidates include:
Liberal Arts: Howie Bernstein, Gerald Brown, Sue Jefferies, Henry Klopping, Ron Meyer, Bob Schure.

Education: Kathi Bunch, Beverly Dexter, Margie Dexter, Margie Holstine, Don Noller, Helen Plummer, Sherrie Ulmer.

Applied Arts and Sciences: Gary Nichols, Steve Sargent, Daniel D. Moulton.

Business Administration: Richard Havertine, A. D. Jacobson.

Brown Resigns Election Board Post

The resignation of Tom Brown as chairman of the Election board has been announced to ASASU President Karl Denison.

In a statement to the student body president, Brown said, "As you know, the student court . . . has overruled the Election Board decision disqualifying Mr. Richard C. Shaw. This was not the first occasion that the Election board has been overruled during the ensuing campaign.

"I feel my presence on the Election board as chairman would be detrimental to the basic goals of the board, and further, my personal convictions and principles are in direct conflict with the decision handed down by the student court.

"I would be willing to serve on the Election board as a member through the remainder of the year. I request your immediate action upon my resignation as Election board chairman in order that I will be able to make the necessary adjustments . . ."

Election Board Probe Asked

Tom Brown, Elections Board, reported that ballots and materials for the election were delivered with the wrong date (as the election was postponed) at the Executive Council meeting Monday.

Brown resigned as chairman and recommended that Marsha

Smith, ASU sophomore, be appointed in his place.

It was moved and passed that the council request that the Elections Board conduct a thorough investigation of all campaign expenditures and strictly enforce the expenditure provisions in the ASASU Statutes Election Code.

John Summers, ASASU activities vice president said a closed inaugural dinner is planned for the incoming officers and will be followed by a dance open to students.

John Sampson, AMS president, reported the Awards Banquet will be either May 14, 15, 17 or 18, depending upon when the two main speakers can attend. The guest speakers are to be the student body president of UCLA and Olympic star Rafer Johnson.

Watersports Day is to be May 20.

The council approved the constitution for Alpha Rho Chi, Architecture honorary.

Wes Metzler, MU board chairman, said they were trying to re-name the Memorial Union's lounges.

The board has sent out memos to all organizations asking what they would like for future MU building extensions.

No definite building plans have been made yet.

Dean Shofstall reported that the Engineering Council suggested that one hour a week be set aside in next year's class schedule to allow students to attend organization meetings.

Entrees Sought In Annual Art Show

Two $100 prizes are to be awarded at the Annual Student Art show April 28-May 20 in the Memorial Union.

All ASU students are eligible.

Entry blanks are available in Art 328 and are to be turned in no later than tomorrow.

A student may enter any number of categories but may not exceed more than two entrants in any one category. Categories include oils, encaustic, lacquer; watercolor, casein, gouache, drawing in all media, prints, etching, woodblock, serigraph, lithograph, sculpture, ceramics, crafts, jewelry and photography.

Drama Workshop Tryouts Due Today At 2:30

Tryouts for a series of one act plays to be presented May 7, will be in Payne auditorium 2:30 p.m. today.

The plays, sponsored by the directing class of the Drama department, will have student directors working under the advisement of Dr. James W. Yeater, assistant professor of Drama.

According to Mrs. Margie Jones, general manager of the Drama Workshop, there is an urgent need for male applicants to fill the great number of male rolls.

The one act plays will be presented one night only and there will be no admission charge.

Mr. Steel Gray Smile, unknown campus poet and intellectual, has said that to vote in today's elections is good, and not to vote in today's elections is bad. He went on to say however that "if you vote wrong today it is bad even though it is good to vote. But voting wrong is not quite as bad as not voting at all. So if you want to be good you must vote right. If you vote right you will find truth. If you don't you won't."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR POLICY
 Letters to the State Press Editor-In-Chief must be legibly written; be less than 250 words in length (if longer, the Editor reserves the right to shorten the content while preserving the writer's ideas); be signed in the writer's handwriting.
 The writer may request that his name be withheld from publication; however, he should include his address and identify himself as a student, faculty or staff member, or a person not associated with the University. The Editor is responsible for the selection of letters to be published.

Against Speaker

To the Editor:
 As a graduating senior, who is required to attend commencement exercises, I feel compelled to express my displeasure concerning the selection of Barry Goldwater as the major speaker at the graduation ceremony.

I am not aware of the criteria which are used at Arizona State in the selection of the individual who is to address the senior class; however, I feel quite firm in my belief that the individual chosen should represent a position of high scholarly achievement.

Certainly, this individual need not be a professional academician nor able to boast of three or four higher degrees. But, he most assuredly should represent to those he is addressing a tradition of intellectual and scholarly pursuit.

There is no doubt that Mr. Goldwater has a great deal of popular appeal, on both state and national levels, but it is my belief that he, without a doubt, does not possess those qualities which I feel are necessary in that person delivering the main address at any university commencement.

I feel that the selection of Mr. Goldwater is not in keeping with Arizona State University's commitment to high academic quality.

I realize that students are generally not consulted as to the selection of speakers for commencement exercises, but I felt that I had to express one graduating senior's disappointment with the probable tone of the climax to four years of intellectual application at Arizona State University.

Ina Abrahams

Letter Answered

To the Editor:
 In reply to Leslie Farnsworth's inane partisan letter of April 14:

Miss Farnsworth's opinion of Mr. Shaw's activities represents one valid viewpoint, I'm sure. Still the image of Shaw which her letter presents is a distorted one. He is not exactly a second Horatio Alger who has come North (from the UofA) to find his fortune and then come up against the "big-bad" Election Board which is supposedly a wicked ogre trying to destroy spirited student activity. Since Mr. Shaw has "won" his case and remains in the election race, another side to his fascinating case should be presented.

The Election Code, in spirit, was designed to prohibit this type of campaign procedures Mr. Shaw is utilizing. A budget of forty dollars for campaign expenses was prescribed, a clause stating that "fair market value of all donations" would be added to the budget and the elections board was given the power to disqualify candidates who exceeded their budgets.

Last year's senate apparently felt, as does a large percentage of the senators this year, that campaigns for student body offices should be waged on the basis of personal merit. The campaigns should not be in the form of a circus with winners determined on the basis of who runs the biggest sideshow. Spirited elections activity would be left for the Election Board to organize on a non partisan basis and for the Homecoming King and Queen elections. However, someone left a loophole.

Roger Brindle

There has been quite a lot of name calling around here since the election campaigns have gotten into full swing, so we think we ought to get into the contest. "Khrushchev is a Communist!" There.

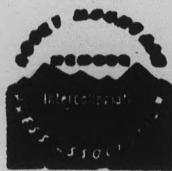

There is a lot of fighting going on in Cuba we understand. It looks like a good chance for the Spanish students to practice up. A speak Spanish or die type of thing. Maybe they could get a few hours credit to make up for their lost citizenship.

Educational values can be defined many ways, and the students, faculty and administration have done so. One student commented the other day that his ability to negotiate the distance from his 10:40 class on the top floor of the Business Administration building to Old Main for his 11:40 class is an education in itself. Most of the students and faculty members would be inclined to agree with him.

We understand that the Den will sell anyone a cup of coffee for 10 cents. This is all well and good but anyone who would have the guts to drink a second cup should be able to buy it for a nickel. Don't you think? The local civil defense unit is thinking about using the Den patio to practice fallout procedures. An ideal place we think. A newcomer might think they have hidden a volcano around there somewhere.

What hath education wrought? Just a few years ago asking a girl to get married was a long drawn out thing. Flowers, porch sitting on summer nights, canoeing, long talks (or short whichever the case may be) with the old man and an engagement of at least a year. Now days just about all that is said is "you're what?"

The STATE PRESS, distributed by the campus chapter of Sigma Delta Chi under the direction of Circulation Manager Charles Higeman, is the official campus newspaper of Arizona State University. It is published each Wednesday and Friday throughout the school year, excepting holidays, and is entered as second class matter at the Tempe, Arizona, Post Office under the Acts of March 3, 1879, and August 24, 1912. Subscription price, $3 per school year. The STATE PRESS is a member of the Arizona Newspapers Association, Associated Collegiate Press and National Advertising Service, Inc.

Good Offsets Bad

In contrast with the puerile "smear"-type campaign staged against an ASASU presidential candidate last week, which, we are proud to say, was viewed by most Arizona State students as an insult to their intelligence, a mature court hearing of another candidate deserves praise.

The hearing, provided by an injunction granted by the student Supreme Court, was the scene for well prepared presentations by the defense as well as by the prosecution.

We would like to commend First Vice President Les Miller, speaking for the defense, who presented his constituents with a look at his professional stature before a court.

The hearing also made students more aware of their Supreme Court's importance. We actually overheard some people state they didn't know such a governmental branch existed on campus.

The Supreme Court justices, headed by Fred Koory, are also to be commended for their ability. They must have spent much time seeking the right decision through the most logical reasoning, knowing that they themselves are also students.

Seventy candidates continued to work with enthusiasm through an election postponement seeking our vote. Would, then, five minutes of our time today be too much?

This election is important to them. It should hold no less importance to us.

Letters To The Editor

Stands With Dean

To the Editor:
 Those who recall the letter in the March 29 issue entitled "Commie Talk Nonsense" will recall that Gary Peter Klahr purported Dean Shofstall's purpose in fighting communism... "is to oppose liberalism, not communism." Pardon me if I stand with the Dean for I believe modern liberalism is the first step toward communism. Modern liberals have completely changed the colors of this constantly waving battle flag called Liberalism. They have taken upon themselves a title previously given to those who denounced the excesses of state. This title originally belonged to a group of people who saw in the excesses of state power a stifling of the individual initiative and eventually a complete stamping out of the individual mind. This is liberalism waving as a battle flag for an open, inquiring mind.

Modern conservatives are the liberals in the original sense of the world for it is they who believe that the powers of the state should be severely circumscribed.

J. Kent Butler

Commendations

To the Editor:
 I think Tom Brown and the Election Board are to be commended for their courageous and non-partisan stand on the up coming elections. Here is a clear case of recognizing responsibility and an effort to enforce the present Election Code, poorly written as it may be.

The Student Court has their second chance to support the Election Code. If they fail to do so, any future code passed by the Senate, no matter how well written, will be unenforceable and any election board will be powerless. The obvious end result of this could be that the present, and all future elections will be turned into three ring circuses, complete with clowns, elephants and rockets. Then the administration might decide that student government is only a game and has no real reason to exist.

With this end in mind, I am certain that the Supreme Court, after the example set by the Election Board, will recognize its responsibility to the students and act accordingly.

Regents Kill ROTC Move

The Board of Regents voted unanimously Saturday to continue compulsory ROTC training at ASU and the UofA.

By their vote the Regents rejected Senate Petition 1, which asked the Regents to make ROTC voluntary.

ASASU President Dennison

said, "It is quite evident from my standpoint that the program needs evaluation. It would appear to me that the Regents would be interested in at least looking into the program since that is their obligation. Their recent action would indicate 'no interest'.

I contend however, that 'polishing boots' has little educational value today."

AMS President John Sampson said, "The Regents for the second year in a row, have thus decided this matter without hearing the student side. We believe that the student case deserves more consideration than a summary rejection by the Regents."

One of the best investments you'll ever make...

You know what you invest in advanced ROTC... two years of classroom time and outside study.

But just see how handsomely your investment pays off.

First and foremost, there's the proud moment in Graduation Week when the gold bars of a Second Lieutenant are pinned on your Army uniform... and deep inside the warm sense of accomplishment at having made it.

There's immediate help in meeting expenses

... a subsistence allowance of $535 for the two-year advanced ROTC course. Uniforms and military textbooks paid for. $117 for your six-week summer camp training, plus travel allowance. And when you're commissioned, a $300 uniform allowance.

You discharge your military obligation with the traditional rank, pay, privileges and responsibilities of an officer in the United States Army.

And later, when you're starting your climb up the civilian ladder, advanced ROTC will still be paying off. Success in the executive areas of business and industry comes earlier and more substantially to the man who can lead. Few are born leaders; but leadership can be learned. And advanced ROTC is a great place to learn it.

Talk with the Professor of Military Science at your school. Learn more about advanced ROTC. Ask particularly about the ROTC course in Leadership, with its practical experience in command responsibilities.

DIGITAL READOUT CAPABILITY INCREASED 2500 PER CENT. The big problem in achieving higher storage densities in magnetic disc or drum memories is not one of getting information in, but one of reading it out. To solve the problem, NCR engineers record magnetically, read optically. In their developmental MAGOP system, a beam of plane-polarized light responds to the surface magnetization of the disc or drum, enabling the system to read out five times as much linear information (25 times as much per area) as present magnetic equipment.

FOOLPROOF FIGURES HELP MACHINES "READ" BETTER. Business machines must be infallible readers, even though ink splashes, worn printing ribbons and other conditions conspire to "fool" them. To keep data accurate, NCR logical designers have created numerals that are virtually immune to variations in printing. These numerals embody a double-code reliability concept in which separate readings are taken across upper and lower portions of the figures. Optical reading permits direct processing of printed data without further intervention by a human operator, thus eliminating another possible source of error.

PAPER TAPE READING SPEED INCREASED TO 1800 CHARACTERS PER SECOND. Starting and stopping instantaneously at this rate without tearing the tape was an electromechanical problem of the first order. NCR engineers solved it with a unique direct drive which uses independent "bang-bang" servo motors for feed and take-up reels. Conventional clutching is eliminated. A 3-foot section of tape remains slack for safe, low-inertia starts, and a photoelectric system reads and checks data at the unprecedented speed of 15 feet per second.

RANDOM-ACCESS MEMORY TIME CUT FROM 3 MINUTES TO 1/5 SECOND. Each card above stores as much information as seven feet of magnetic tape. You can record the equivalent of 1800 feet of tape-stored information on the 256 cards that comprise the full memory. The cards hang from eight trunions, each of which rotates to the right or left depending upon the binary coded signal. Only the card whose die-cut top corresponds to the alignment of all eight trunions is free to fall. A pneumatic system pulls the card past the readout head and shoots it back to the magazine. Maximum access time—less than 1/5 second!

WANTED:

INCISIVE, LOGICAL THINKERS WITH IDEAS LIKE THESE

If you have done work in math, statistics, business administration or the sciences you may qualify for an important creative position at NCR. You may or may not be an engineer, but you must be a capable planner. If you are, you may use your own talent as a short cut to success.

Digital computer technology is "taking off." It is wide open to new ideas from technical and non-technical people alike, and it holds rich promise for the superior creative thinker. If you major in any of the areas listed above and have elementary knowledge of computers, you may be able to help us plan the systems of ten years from now. If you qualify, you will work with some of America's foremost computer specialists. You will earn an exceptionally good salary and you will have the satisfaction of seeing your own bright ideas contribute to widespread social, economic and cultural advancement. To learn more, be sure to reserve the date below.

Devils Topped By USC In Mile Relay Battle

Southern Cal's Trojans evened things in their mile relay duel against Arizona State Saturday but the two teams meet three more times this season and anything can happen.

The Trojans sped the mile course in a fantastic 3:07.9 to edge ASU, clocked in 3:08.1, before 5,000 frantic fans. USC won the meet, its 94th straight, by a 99% to 31 1/4 score.

USC's relay time equaled the all-time collegiate best set earlier this season by Abilene Christian. The Sun Devils' clocking was the third best ever run by a college mile relay quartet.

The Devils and Trojans tangle again on April 29 at the Mt. San Antonio Relays, May 19 in a 4-way meet at Occidental and June 2 at the Compton Invitational. Abilene Christian has been invited to the Compton meet.

ASU improved 2.3 seconds over its previous best effort this season. Ron Freeman led off with a 48.3, Karl Schreiner had 47.0, Mel Spence 46.7 and Mal Spence 46.1.

Mel and Mal collected two-thirds of Arizona State's victories against the powerful Trojans. Mel won the half in a speedy 1:51.5 and Mal finished a brilliant ASU home career with a 47.0 victory in the quarter mile.

Hubie Watson won the 100-yard dash in 9.6 for ASU's only other victory.

Arizona State is idle this weekend but the following week the Sun Devils start hitting the big meets.

Netters Second In Arizona Open

Pinky Shoemaker and Emma Flores of Arizona State were second in women's doubles in the Arizona Open tennis tournament in Tucson Saturday.

Miss Shoemaker and Miss Flores were defeated 3-6, 6-4, 6-4 in the finals by JoAnne Sears and Jane Severson of Tucson.

Diamonders On Road Trip

Coach Bobby Winkles and his Arizona State baseballers left Monday afternoon for Southern California where they play Los Angeles State, Cal Poly, the San Diego Marines and San Diego University this week.

The Devils met LA State in a double header yesterday with Larry Smith and Mike Tatum handling the starting pitching chores.

Today they play a single game against LA State with Sterling Slaughter on the mound. Harley Anderson is slated to pitch tomorrow against Cal Poly.

The LA State contests are expected to be the toughest of the trip. The Diablos were ranked 12th in the recent Associated Press baseball poll. ASU was rated 9th.

ASU returns home for games against the San Diego Marines on the 25th, 26th and 27th of this month. The Devils play the UofA twice in Tucson on the 29th and host the Wildcats in two games May 6.

Swim Date Changed

Co. Rec. swimming will be Wednesday, April 16, at 3:30 p.m. in the campus pool instead of Tuesday, April 25.

LUCKY STRIKE PRESENTS:

DEAR DR. FROOD:

DR. FROOD'S THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: The best defense is a good offense, unless you're weak or cowardly, in which case a good hiding place is unbeatable.

DEAR DR. FROOD: Every guy I go out with thinks he's Casanova. What should a girl do?

Chased

DEAR CHASED: Ask each one to roll up his sleeve. If there is a small birthmark just above the left elbow, you've got the real Casanova.

DEAR DR. FROOD: A tackle on the football team likes the same girl I do. He says that if I see her any more, he'll mop up the floor with me. I refuse to be intimidated! What should I do?

Ninety-nine Pounder

DEAR NINETY-NINE: You'd better let your hair grow long.

FROOD TO WASHINGTON! Dr. Frood has been called by government officials to unveil his extraordinary "Luckies for Peace Plan." Questioned about this plan, Frood replied: "The details are still classified, but it all started when I discovered that college students smoke more Luckies than any other regular. This led me to believe that if all the world's peoples would but lean back and light up a Lucky, they would be too happy to be belligerent."

DEAR DR. FROOD: I am a sophomore majoring in architecture. Our college has just completed a magnificent carillon tower. Yesterday, while examining the blueprints, I was horrified to discover that the tower will collapse at 3:30 P.M., June 3, 1964. I have taken my calculations to the dean, to the architects, to the builders, to the president of the college. No one will pay any attention to me. I am desperate. What can I do to avert disaster?

Frantic

DEAR FRANTIC: You've done your best, son. Now, for your own peace of mind, won't you join me in a short trip to Las Vegas to see what kind of odds we can get?

DEAR DR. FROOD: I've been writing poems to a certain girl for about five months. Yesterday I found out that this girl and her friends get together to read my poems and laugh at them. Do you think I should stop writing to her?

Upset

DEAR UPSET: Definitely not. There are all too few humorous poets writing today.

CHANGE TO LUCKIES and get some taste for a change!
