Checking Over Report . . .

John Ingersoll, Jerry Sullivan and Dick Panzica read a newspaper story covering the historic flight into space by Astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr.

History Made, History Seen -

Students Admire Astronaut's Flight

By BILL OVEREND

The historic flight of a Redstone missile and the calm courage of its single passenger drew expressions of pride and admiration from ASU students this week.

Praising America's willingness to take a gamble, the skill and dedication of the technicians who made Friday's space flight a success, and the icy nerve of Alan B. Shepard Jr., students hailed the dramatic space-shot as a major triumph for the United States.

A few stated, however, that it could have been even more impressive if Navy Commander Shepard had matched Russia's Yuri Gagarin's orbital flight.

Shepard's flight, delayed for more than four hours by minor technical problems and bad weather, began at 9:34 a.m., Friday. Nineteen minutes later, he was picked up by helicopter in the Atlantic Ocean.

Subjected to stresses up to eleven times that of normal gravity and traveling at speeds up to 5,100 miles per hour, America's newest hero emerged from his space capsule saying, "Man, what a ride!"

The flight was joyfully received in Western European capitals, from government leaders to the man-in-the-street. Prague radio, however, termed the feat "scientifically primitive."

Some student reactions to Shepard's trip include:

Don J. Casturo, freshman, Aeronautics: "Speaking in accordance with a recent article in True magazine stating that the Russians had three unsuccessful attempts in putting a man into space in which actual lives may have been lost, I think the United States has had tremendous success in this initial attempt in both propaganda and technical areas."

Delma Van Hooser, junior, Business: "It's definitely a step forward. Shepard was a privileged man to be the first. I hope he pilots our first orbital flight."

Howie Bernstein, sophomore, Radio and TV Announcing: "I believe it was a tremendous achievement for our country. However, if it had occurred two weeks earlier, our prestige would have been at an uncontested peak."

Nancy Suess, senior, Business Administration: "It was really fantastic, and can lead to eventual space travel. I doubt if Russia's was superior to ours. Since ours was successful, it

No Parking On Apache

Lt. Norman Peck of the Department of Campus Security has reported that during the construction period, there will be no parking on Apache Blvd. "Cars found parking in the area will be impounded," Peck said.

Campus Royalty Elections Today

Nine students (including one write-in candidate) are competing for 1961 Campus King and Queen today. Winners will be crowned Saturday evening at the annual Inaugural Ball.

One election poll, at College Ave. and Orange St., will be open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Candidates include Marie Burnham, Suzi Gerber, Jeanine Neal, Jessica Thomas and Nancy Weigle (write-in) for Queen; and Bob Bulla, Darrell Franklin, Mike Tiffany and John Towler, King candidates.

Delma Van Hooser, supported by Alpha Delta Pi sorority, was disqualified by the Election Board at 3:45 yesterday.

The Royal Ball is scheduled from 8:30 to midnight Saturday in the MU ballroom. There will be no charge for students.

Bob Roth's Octet will provide music; the attire will be semi-formal.

Prior to the dance, a dinner honoring outgoing ASASU officers is planned, with attendance by invitation only.

New officers will be installed at the start of the ball.

The Inaugural Ball, formerly called the Royal Ball, will be sponsored by the ASASU Social committee, headed by Jim Howard, committee chairman.

Pat Devaney is staff advisor to the group.

Art: "I believe that it is one of the best things the United States could have done to build up the morale among its citizens."

John Sands, senior, Pre-Med: "This was a great gamble and it paid off. But we shouldn't be in too much of a hurry to keep up with the Russians purely for the sake of propaganda, but should let scientific achievement run its own natural course."

Phil Follins, sophomore, Psychology: "It was a big stepping stone for our nation, and I think it will help other nations to respect and recognize us more."

Dick Panzica, freshman, Psychology: "Shepard is the new Columbus of the United States. In the coming years, more and more astronauts will journey into the unknown world of the stars. This flight marked the real beginning of a new era in the history of Americans. It was a smashing success!"

was a great boost to United States rocket superiority."

Gary Peter Klahr, junior, Pre-Law: "The best thing about this feat is that it may help dispel the hysteria that has existed in this country since Sputnik. This popular hysteria has led to unfortunate changes in our educational system and a threat of more government controls over the lives of individuals. We cannot fight the Communist system with Communist-type totalitarianism."

John Ingersoll, junior, Personnel Management: "Although we took quite a chance, it was an outstanding success for the United States. I'm glad that we let the world see our success."

John Miller, freshman, Pre-Law: "It showed that the United States is confident of its space program. The publication given it brought our ability to the eyes of the world. We were sure of success. We couldn't afford a failure."

Audrey Rozefsky, freshman,

Mexican Residence Program Offered

ASU will again offer the annual summer residence study program in Mexico City, beginning June 12 and ending July 15.

The program, which offers students a unique opportunity to acquire an intimate understanding of past and modern Mexico, also offer four courses for college credit. Classes to be offered are:

- AH 416g Mexican Art...3 Hrs.
- HI 448g Pro-seminar in the Culture and History of Mexico...3 Hrs.
- HI 341 History of Mexico...3 Hrs.
- PS 473g Latin American Politics...3 Hrs.

Professors for these courses will be Dr. John Martinez and Mr. Thomas Herrick, assistant professor of Political Science. Registration fee covering all tuition expenses is $100. Housing will be arranged in a co-operative apartment with other students, in boarding houses, or with private families.

Minimum cost for the entire program including housing, meals, and tuition is approximately $215. Transportation can be procured with those driving down or on the Mexican bus lines, air lines or train.

Registration forms are available in Dr. Martinez's office in the Social Sciences building.

Swarthout Gives Prizes Tomorrow

Prizes will be awarded at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Memorial Union for the Swarthout Creative Writing contest, sponsored by the Glendon and Katherine Swarthout fund.

There will be a first prize of $50 and a second prize of $25 given for prose fiction. A first and a second prize of the same amounts will be given for poetry.

Mrs. Grady Gammage will present the awards. Also on the program will be John Zimmerman, associate professor of English, who will address the Language and Literature Club.

200 Graduating Seniors Are Members Of '61 Club

Over 200 graduating seniors will be honored Saturday by the Arizona State University Alumni Association as members of its '61 Club.

Members are chosen as a cross-section 10 per cent of the graduating class on the basis of leadership, service, scholarship, and character. They are selected each spring by a student faculty selection committee.

Members of the '61 Club will gather on the Alumni House lawn for a ceremonial breakfast at 8 a.m. Saturday. They will be inducted into the club in a brief ceremony administered by Alumni President Wayne Legg, Mesa attorney.

Besides the 200 graduates, guests of honor will be Dr. D. R. Van Petten, Dr. George Young, and E. J. Hilkert, retiring professors.

Speaker will be Alumni Secretary Jim Creasman, talking on "Behind the Sheepskin Curtain." Master of Ceremonies will be Marvin Palmer, Casa Grande, past alumni president. Alumni First Vice President Edward M. Carson, Phoenix, will also speak to the graduates.

All members of the graduating class, Creasman explained, are just as much members of the Alumni Association as this cross-section '61 Club group, but the Club members are named as a working nucleus of the class, due to the large number of graduates.

Speech Hits Loyalty Oaths

Patrick Murphy Malin, director of the American Civil Liberties Union, spoke in the MU upper lounge Monday night on the role of the press in guaranteeing American freedom.

According to Malin, educational freedom is a non-legal matter. It is not a privileged sanctuary for a small group of people, but rather a highlight of freedom in all areas.

Malin gave a test colored by examples of academic freedom. Points touched on were: Can teachers be citizens on off time; Can teachers exercise anticipatory self-restraint? and, Federal aid to education.

Malin summed up his speech by opposing loyalty oaths, saying, "They don't do any good." It is the honest man who will hesitate to sign, whereas the dishonest man finds lying in his stock in trade and will not hesitate to sign, according to Malin.

Special Movies To Be Shown In B.A. Building

ASU's English and Humanities departments, in cooperation with the Audio-Visual Center, will present a movie of Sophocles' "Oedipus the King," tomorrow at 1:45 p.m. and Friday at 2:45 p.m. in BA 203.

A film-version of William Shakespeare's "Hamlet" will be shown in BA 203 on May 16 at 1:45-3:40 p.m., and on May 17 at 2:45-4:45 p.m.

"The Canadian Stratford Players, the Ford Foundation and Yale's Professor Bernard Knox have produced in these movies a model combination of outstanding acting and excellent filming," Wilson G Baroody, ASU assistant professor of English said.

Recognition Received By 11 Students

Eleven journalism awards were presented to Mass Communications students at the annual Sigma Delta Chi-Pi Delta Epsilon Press Banquet last Saturday evening.

Receiving awards were Bob Eger, Sigma Delta Chi-Pulliam scholarship of $1,000; Tom Hilton, TDN award; Warren Field, John Tyler award; Sel Erder, McGrew award; all three for outstanding work on the State Press; Bill Flick, Mass Communications award for outstanding work.

Also Bill Overend, outstanding reporter; Dan Sullivan, outstanding newscaster; Dick Stuart, outstanding senior student; Linda Rankin and Barbara Marlowe, Ernest J. Hopkins award; Leo Liten, Pi Delta Epsilon service award and highest senior scholarship award with a 3.58 index; Terry Fleeher, a letter of commendation from the Mass Communications department, for outstanding work.

Hahn Says Rules 'Need Revision'

By JIM BAKER

"This is a growing university and there is a definite need for a revision of our traffic regulations; however, we are ahead of many schools," said Chuck Hahn, chairman of the ASASU Department of Traffic Appeals.

Hahn explained that, "The purpose of revising our traffic regulations is to make them more easily understood by the reader."

In a meeting today with Lt. Norman Peck of Campus Security, Hahn and other members of the Department of Traffic Appeals outlined several areas of the parking, traffic and safety regulations that need revising or additions.

The first item to be discussed was the position and visibility of signs at parking lots. It was noted that some of these signs have been turned or otherwise obscured at times. Lt. Peck said that it is campus policy to place the sign to the right of the lot entrance when possible.

Students have said that an officer told them they could park in a certain area. When that area is later restricted, and the student receives a parking citation, he complains that he had permission to park there.

Another problem was that of placing parking decals on the upper portion of the windshields of convertibles and station wagons with tinted glass. Lt. Peck noted that the regulations may have to be changed to require the decals be placed only in the bottom center of the glass.

Hahn proposed that future maps of parking facilities, issued with campus parking, traffic and safety regulations, include identification of parking areas by letter.

Hahn said that one of the areas of greatest need was for parking spaces in unpaved lots. Lt. Peck mentioned that logs could be used with individual spaces marked on the logs. He indicated that the parking facilities in the Palo Verde area will be improved before the fall semester begins.

A time limit may have to be set, limiting the length of time appeal decisions may be kept on file. Hahn said, "It is a privilege to be able to appeal citations. Apparently some students do not appreciate this privilege."

The members of the Department of Traffic Appeals are students. For this reason Lt. Peck believes they are better able to "sound out" students' opinions concerning campus parking problems.

Applications Due May 14

On-campus students planning to return next fall are urged to pick up their dormitory applications from the head residents immediately.

Forms must be returned to the head resident by May 14, signed by both the student and parents, or students will lose priority, according to the Housing department.

The STATE PRESS, distributed by the campus chapter of Sigma Delta Chi under the direction of Circulation Manager Charles Hilgeman, is the official campus newspaper of Arizona State University. It is published each Wednesday and Friday throughout the school year, excepting holidays, and is entered as second class matter at the Tempe, Arizona, Post Office under the Acts of March 3, 1879, and August 24, 1912. Subscription price, $3 per school year.

The STATE PRESS is a member of the Arizona Newspapers Association, Associated Collegiate Press and National Advertising Service, Inc.

Election A Farce

If ASU students would focus their election spirit to important ones, i.e., student body officers and Homecoming royalty, these elections might be more successful.

Instead, elections like the one we are having today make the whole voting procedure tiresome, boring and farcical.

The Campus King and Queen are to represent, more or less, epitomes of our outstanding students in terms of service, personality, endeavor.

Each candidate nominates himself. Surely there must be more modest ones who render as much if not more service as those whose fraternities or sororities support them.

The essence of this royal couple is vague; the royalty unnecessary.

For Dances Only

Friday morning Allan Nevins, a Pulitzer Prize winner, will speak at the ASU honor convocation.

Unfortunately, most of the graduating seniors and many other students will not hear Dr. Nevins' talk, due to the seating capacity of the MU ballroom. Only 800 people can be seated comfortably in the ballroom. This is less than six per cent of the student body.

To make it even harder for the students who wish to attend, the address is open to the public. So if a third of the people attending is faculty, staff and the general public, only 266 students will be able to be seated in the ballroom.

It seems obvious that more students will want to hear Professor Nevins speak. But it will probably be impossible for them to do so. It is indeed strange that all university classes are to be dismissed during the address when only a small percentage of the students will be in attendance.

One possible solution of course is to have an auditorium that will seat an adequate number of people, but an auditorium can't be built in a day. Dr. Nivens' talk however, can be piped throughout the Memorial Union for interested students.

It may be possible to televise the speech on KAET, campus television channel 8, on a closed circuit basis and make reception available at various points on campus.

Examinations for classes that are scheduled with "Time Arranged" and for classes that meet at, or after 4:30 p.m., in the evening, will be held at the time scheduled for the last regular meeting of the class during the examination period of May 26 thru June 2nd, unless otherwise scheduled by the instructor at a time during this final week of the semester. Since Tuesday, May 30, Memorial Day, is a holiday, no examinations will be held during the day or evening.

MATHEMATICS:

All classes in Math. 116, 117, 118, and 119 will be scheduled for the final exam from 8:00 to 10:00 a.m. on Saturday, May 27. All classes in Math. 120, 121, 212, and 220 will be scheduled for the final exam from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. on Saturday, May 27. The specific room assignments will be made by the individual instructors at the last regular lecture meeting of the class.

AH 102

The examination for AH 102 will be held in LSC-191 on Monday, May 29, from 7:40 - 9:30 a.m.

ZO 102-Sec. 1

The examination for ZO 102-Sec. 1 will be held in LSC-191 on Thursday, June 1, from 7:40 - 9:30 a.m.

Three-hour courses that meet twice a week should schedule examinations in that part of the period which represents a full class hour.

If conflicts occur, or if under this schedule, a student has more than three exams in one day, he should consult instructor(s) regarding possible schedule adjustment, or, if necessary, the Dean(s) of the College in which the courses are offered.

No changes should be made in this schedule, except those required in individual cases, without the approval of the Dean of the College concerned.

"Hear Ye, Hear Ye. All Rise: the 99th session of the student senate will now convene. The first bill we will take up is the bill providing for gold bill books for senators who have served over 10 years. Is there any debate?"

Senator John Knowitall speaks. "I think gold is too extravagant. Let's give diamond books. After all, the senators represent the students, and they must legislate in appropriate style. Also, after giving 10 years of their lives to student service, they are entitled to their just reward."

Another senator jumped to his feet. "That is impossible. In three months we take up the report of the Committee on Miscellaneous and Trivia which has been studying painting the senate chamber since 1957."

At this point, Don Conscientious rose. He was always the last to speak, and many senators considered him an idealist and a dreamer.

"Have the senators forgotten," he said, "that we have not yet taken up the athletic seating problem, the budget, confirmation of officers, and the education board bill?"

"Don't be impractical!" reprimanded Sen. Knowitall. "Those subjects would require extensive debate. We have to be out of here in 15 minutes to attend the Retired Senators Association banquet. Then we have to be at the Parliamentarian's Dance. We can't miss those monthly events."

"Besides," added Sen. Omniscient, "work on THOSE bills would require research in the library. You know the library has been closed for repairs since 1959."

Speaker Bob Noncontro interrupted. "Now, boys, let's not argue. We must have harmony in the senate. You know it is bad public relations for the senators to disagree. It might even lead to an undignified public image of the senators."

"I agree," exclaimed Knowitall. "We can't waste our time discussing controversial subjects. I move we unanimously pass senate bills 165, 166, 167, 168, and 169. We don't have to discuss them. They all relate to improving the health, morals, and welfare of the senators."

"Aye!" shouted the student lawmakers. "Let's adjourn," they yelled in unison. "We can't miss the banquet."

Letters To The Editor

Columnist Condemned

To the Editor:

Who does Tom Hilton think he is? I have never read a more ridiculous article than his "I Cover College Avenue."

It makes one wonder if this pseudo-intellectual is really going to college judging by the gramblings (sic) contained in his column. Who cares what Tom Hilton thinks? Evidently he has set himself up as a great authority on the pros and cons (mostly cons) of campus groups and organizations.

I can assure Mr. Hilton that most Greeks and probably most independents don't give a d—m (sic) what he thinks!

It is really a shame that this space couldn't be better used in looking for for a new managing editor instead of criticizing Sally Sorority or the present editor. The intellectual caliber of this individual is certainly not indicative of an ASU student.

Don Hollenbeck

Editor's Note: Mr. Hilton's first reaction to this letter was: "Freddy Fraternity is going to be the topic of my next column." Myself, I thought it was a compliment last Friday . . . facts if nothing else. Perhaps I'll take another look . . . between the lines, this time.

Top Designer Will Speak At Architect Awards Fete

Charles Eames will be guest speaker at the ASU student chapter of the American Institute of Architects fourth annual awards dinner May 11 at 8 p.m. in the MU Ballroom. Eames will speak on "Communications and Architecture" and will show one of his own films, "Communications Primer". Eames is best known for his design of award winning mass-produced chairs in molded plywood and molded plastic, many of which we have on campus. Last fall he received the $20,000 Kaufman International Design Award which is the largest comprehensive award ever offered in the design field. In connection with the dinner there will be on exhibit ASU student work and drawings for the project "City on a Mesa" by Paolo Soleri. The exhibit will be on the third floor of the Engineering Building at 7 p.m. May 11. The AIA Central Arizona Chapter will award at the dinner Illuminating Engineering Society Prizes, Arizona Masonry Guild Prizes, Southwest Pine Association Prizes and the Weaver and Drover Prize. Also the AIA Central Arizona Chapter, Phoenix Blueprint Company and The Architecture Foundation scholarships will be awarded. Reservations should be mailed or phoned to the School of Architecture.

General chairman for the banquet is Jo Anne Gunderson.

Earn This Summer

ASL will provide you with the means of earning $75 a week during the summer, and in addition you can earn a round-trip ticket to Europe on the airline and departure date of your choice.

Students Only

This unusual experiment in the promotion of student overseas travel provides you with both a jet airline ticket to Europe, and earnings of $1000 in cash before your European departure. If you prefer not to travel to Europe, your cash earnings will be proportionately increased. . . . We stress the necessity of your immediate response, since any delay will affect summer employment opportunities and availability of European departure dates.

Sociology Club To View Play

The Sociology Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in MU 218 for the election of officers.

The business meeting will be followed by a play, "Pink Telephone," presented by the social workers from the V.A. Hospital and a counselor from the Arizona Division of Vocational Rehabilitation.

"Pink Telephone" was presented last week at the Arizona Conference of Social Welfare and was a great success according to Mrs. Naomi Harward, assistant professor of Sociology and advisor of the Sociology Club.

The play portrays the problems of an adolescent girl from a home deserted by the father and shows how public aid can help the dependent children.

Officers Visit

The Agarium Club, Agriculture honorary, will host the national officers of Alpha Zeta on May 16, concerning the club joining the national organization.

ASU Athletes Compete For Conference Titles

Arizona State athletes will leave en masse this week for the Border Conference championships in Abilene, Texas.

Hardin-Simmons will host Sun Devil teams from the fields of track, tennis, golf and riflery.

The Sun Devil rifle team will be favored to win its competition while ASU's netters will be cast in the role of underdogs against strong contingents from Arizona and New Mexico State.

Demon cindermen will be pointing for an upset on the Abilene-Christian track against favored Arizona while ASU's linksters should be co-favorites with the Wildcats on the golf course.

Teams in the conference are Arizona State, Arizona, New Mexico State, West Texas State, Texas Western and Hardin-Simmons.

Spence, Dairman Receive Awards

Jamaican track star Mal Spence and freshman basketballer Dennis Dairman have been picked as the outstanding athletes of their classes.

Spence was named as the recipient of the I. Rosenzweig Trophy, presented annually to the outstanding senior athlete.

Dairman was named winner of the Charles Christopher memorial award, given each year to the top freshman athlete.

Scholarship and character are determining factors in the selection of both award winners.

Devils Split With Cats; Host LA State This Week

By BOB EGER
Sports Editor

Coach Bobby Winkles' Arizona State baseballers, their hopes for a College World Series berth dashed by Arizona's Wildcats, are preparing for a three game series against Los Angeles State here this weekend.

The Sun Devils made a gallant bid for a split in their four game series with the Cats, taking the first game of Saturday's double header in Phoenix Municipal Stadium and losing a squeaker at night.

After the Devils' booming bats pounded out a 12-10 win in the wind-blown opener, the Cats tightened things up and grabbed a 3-1 verdict in the second contest.

In the afternoon contest Saturday the Sun Devils showed a complete reversal of the form they displayed in Tucson a week earlier. Long ball hitting by Mario Ramirez and Roger Tomlinson and clutch relief pitching from Roger Barnson and Sam Cook played key roles in the A-State win.

Ramirez and Tomlinson each blasted a pair of home runs and Tomlinson added a triple to provide the backbone of ASU's offensive attack.

Barson, the winner, relieved starter Mike Tatum and Cook took over when Barnson tired in the late innings.

The Sun Devils succeeded in knocking Wildcat starter Gus Zeller from the box, one of their pre-game battle plans. It was the first time in 12 starts this season that Zeller failed to go the distance.

In the second game the Cats pushed across three runs in the third inning and the Devils got a single tally in the fourth and that was the extent of the scoring as pitchers got stingy in the late innings.

Wildcat hurler Marv Dutt, who limited ASU to two runs in Tucson, was equally hard to cash in against Saturday as he scattered eight hits and whiffed eight Sun Devils. That gave him a total of 19 strikeouts in 18 innings against Arizona State.

A double by Paul Runge and a single by Mike Matsik produced the only run off Dutt in the fourth and the Wildcats out-stratigized the Devils in the 7th to cut short another rally.

With two ASU runners on base and no outs the Cats brought their first and third basemen within a few feet of the plate, moved the second baseman to first, the center fielder to second and the shortstop to third.

Roger Barnson, the ASU batter, swung away and hit the ball to the right fielder who had moved into right-center. The Arizona State rally collapsed at that point.

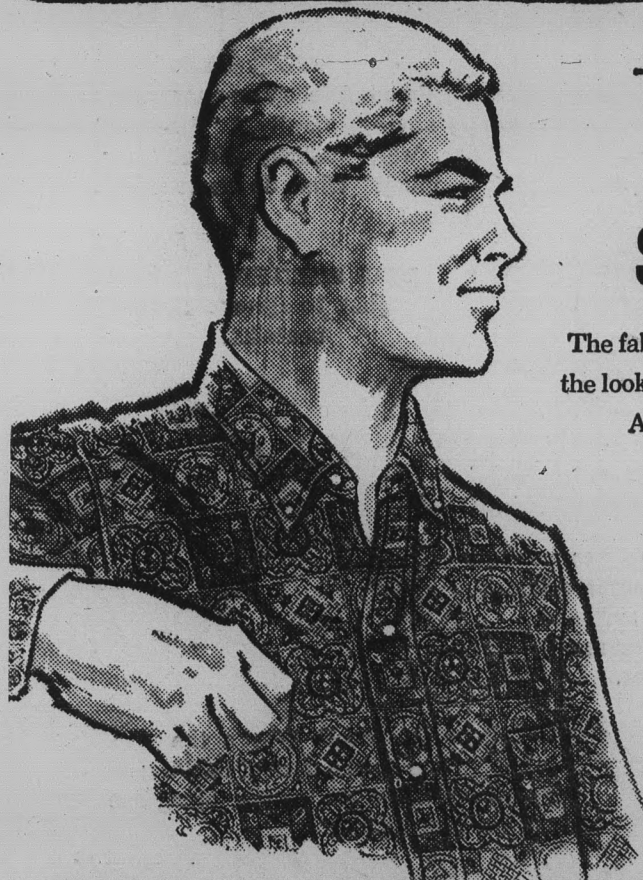

Friday the Sun Devils entertain LA State in a single home game starting at 3:30 p.m. and Saturday they host the Diablos in a 1:00 p.m. twin bill.

Spikers Lose In Tucson; Seek Upset At Abilene

By DICK BURROUGHS

Coach Baldy Castillo and his ASU cindermen are putting last Saturday's loss to the University of Arizona behind them and working towards the upcoming Border Conference meet in Abilene.

Castillo still rates the Wildcats as the team to beat but says, "I'm sure the Devils will give a better account of themselves than they did in Tucson. That many things just can't go wrong this Saturday."

ASU's spikers managed to take only five first places in the competition but without offering excuses were severely hampered by injuries and untimely occurrences leading to the 82 1/4-48 3/4 margin.

Hubie Watson, ASU's terrific sprinter, watched his much heralded duel with Arizona's Larry Dunn go down the drain as he pulled up with a strained leg muscle. Dunn went on to win the 100-yard dash in the unspectacular time of 9.7 and then edged teammate Steve Robbins in 21.2 for the 220-yard dash victory.

Hurdler Gaston Green managed a second place spot after hitting the first barrier in the highs in which the Wildcat's Harry Lucky broke the tape in 14.2.

The same problem befell Green in the lows as he displaced his starting blocks and scraped the first hurdle, almost falling before recovering. Actually, he never did recover as he ran out of the money to a Wildcat trio of John Mallery, Lucky and Joe Hernandez.

Karl Schreiner, Mal Spence, Don Jeisy and Wayne McDonnell were the only individual winners for the Devil tracksters and only Jeisy's performance was particularly outstanding.

Jeisy just missed vaulting 15-1 1/2 and won the event with a clear of 14-10 1/4, setting a new dual meet record.

Schreiner outbreasted teammate Ron Freeman to win the 440 in a time of 47.9 while Spence, usually a quarter-miler himself, toyed with the field in winning the half with a 1:53.8.

McDonnell, defending Border Conference javelin champion, barely nosed out freshman ASU tosser Bob Barkus, to take the five points in his event. McDonnell threw the spear 208-2 while Barkus was just eight inches back at 207-6.

ASU's only other winning entry was the mile-relay team which coasted to a victory in 3:13.4 while setting a new stadium record. Freeman, Mel Spence, Mal Spence, and Schreiner won the event by almost 90 yards.

LUCKY STRIKE PRESENTS: DEAR DR. FROOD:

DR. FROOD'S THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: Don't let exams upset you. After all, there are worse things—distemper, hunger, insatiable thirst.

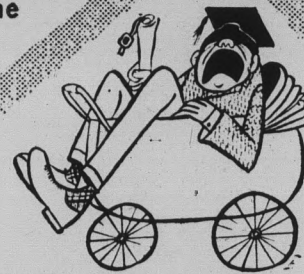

Dear Dr. Frood: Shouldn't we spend our millions on education instead of a race to the moon? Taxpayer

DEAR TAXPAYER: And let the Communists get all that cheese?

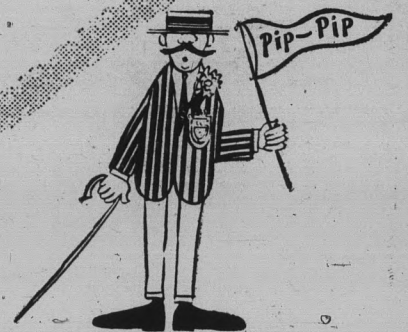

Dear Dr. Frood: What would you say about a rich father who makes his boy exist on a measly $150 a week allowance? Angered

DEAR ANGERED: I would say, "There goes a man I'd like to call Dad."

Dear Dr. Frood: How can I keep from bawling like a baby when they hand me my diploma? Emotional

DEAR EMOTIONAL: Simply concentrate on twirling your mortarboard tassel in circles above your head, and pretend you are a helicopter.

Dear Dr. Frood: A fellow on our campus keeps saying, "Bully," "Pip-pip," "Ear, ear," "Sticky wicket," and "Ripping!" What do these things mean? Puzzled

DEAR PUZZLED: It's best just to ignore these beatniks.

Dear Dr. Frood: What's the best way to open a pack of Luckies? Rip off the whole top, or tear along one side of the blue sticker? Freshman

DEAR FRESHMAN: Rip? Tear? Why, open a pack of Luckies as you would like to be opened yourself.

FROOD REVEALS SECRET: After exhaustive study and research, Dr. Frood claims to have discovered the reason why college students smoke more Luckies than any other regular. His solution is that the word "Collegiates" contains precisely the same number of letters as Lucky Strike—a claim no other leading cigarette can make!

CHANGE TO LUCKIES and get some taste for a change!
