

At AMS Banquet -

Jamaica Gets ASU Award

A special award to the people of Jamaica for special services given to ASU through Mel and Mal Spence in the fields of service, academics and athletics was the highlight of last night's annual AMS Awards Banquet.

The award, presented by President G. Homer Durham, will be given to the people of Jamaica by the Spence brothers. It will hang in the governor's mansion for public observance.

In addition to the first award, president of the Alumni Association, Wayne Legg; presented a pair of silvered track shoes to the Spence brothers for their services to ASU.

AMS award for the Outstanding Athlete of the Year as chosen by the coaches, went to Larry Armstrong.

Donald Taylor, of the College of Business Administration, received the AMS Academic Achievement award. Throughout his four years as a student, Taylor had a 3.95 accumulative grade index.

Ned Wulk, basketball coach, got the Rally and Traditions Board award for being the person contributing the most spirit to ASU in the past year.

ASASU First Vice President Les Miller won the AMS award for the ASU Man of the Year.

Other awards presented by AMS were for: Outstanding Staff Member of ASU, Gayle Shuman; Outstanding President of a Men's Organization, Jim Crosby, Alpha Mu Sigma; Outstanding Committee Chairman, Frank Hennig; and Outstanding Advisor, Ken Calbeck, head resident of M. O. Best A Hall.

Award for first place in Intramurals, presented by ASU Intramural Director Bruce Thompson, went to Delta Sigma Phi. Alpha Tau Omega won second place. ATO's Marsh Trimble won the Outstanding Intramural Player award.

Inter-hall Council award for the Best Academic Dormitory went to M. O. Best A.

Guest speaker at the AMS Awards Banquet was Rafer Johnson, winner of two Olympic Decathlon gold medals.

Queen Fete Set Today

Applications for Water Sports Day Queen have been accepted and three finalists will be judged today at 3:45 p.m. at the ASU pool.

The judges are Gary Anderson, dean of men; Ken Calbeck, student head resident of Best A Hall; and a representative from the Flair School of Modeling. The public is invited.

New ASASU Finance Bill Passed By Student Senate

The 1961-62 finance bill, recommending the appropriation of the activity fees income to the Associated Students program, has been passed by the Student Senate.

A total appropriation of $198,855 has been divided between eleven different areas. Intercollegiate athletics receives the largest amount, $69,999.75. Music and cultural activities are second with a proportion of $16,359.

The State Press receives $10,643.25 and the Activities Coordination Board will receive $11,355.75.

Other areas and their proportions are: Executive Manager, $13,158 (student handbook and I.D. cards); Student Administration, $8,993.25; Associated Men Students, $495; Associated Women Students, $672; Men's Intramural $2,919.75; Women's Athletics, $8,368.50; Service Activities, $2,489.25; and Travel Activities, $8,146.50. The General Contingent proportion, required by the Board of Regents, is $8,625.

An anticipated income of $26,355 is expected from a number of the proportioned areas.

Only three changes were made in the original bill recommended by the Senate Finance Committee headed by Tod Walker.

These were: the combining of the Off-Campus Men's budget with that of AMS; the combining of the Livestock Judging with the Livestock Judging budget; and the transference of $200 from the Social Board to the Cultural Affairs Board.

This bill, which is a recommendation, now goes to Dr. G. Homer Durham for his approval.

Solons Meet Last Time

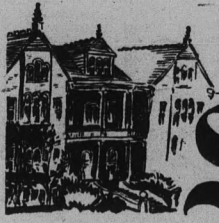

The Student Senate passed a bill this week outlining the duties of the ASASU president.

Senate Bill 160 states that the ASASU president will be chairman of the Executive Council, chairman of the Board of Financial Control, student representative to the Board of Athletic Control, and voting member-chairman of the Who's Who selection committee.

The president shall also appoint two student members to the Board of Publications, Board of Athletic Control; all Supreme Court justices; chairmen of all executive committees and chairmen of the executive boards.

Bill 160 also makes the ASASU president official representative of the Associated Students at all university functions.

Solons meet the last time in this eighth legislature today.

Election Code Accepted

By LINDA WARREN

After weeks of debate, changes and additions, a new election code has been passed in the Student Senate.

No specific campaign cost limit has been provided in the new code. Instead, candidates must restrict their campaign expenditures to finances used for banners, posters, name tags, and handbills. These various campaign materials are strictly defined in the new code.

The responsibility for carrying out the new election code and maintaining the proper order and legality of elections goes to the Election board.

The chairman of the Election board will be accountable to the ASASU president for the conduct of all elections covered in the code.

Only those ballots marked with an "X" in the square provided beside the candidate's name will be valid.

Five days prior to the primary election, the ASASU Election Board shall display no fewer than six posters on campus listing the location of the election booths, the date and hours for voting, positions to be filled, and reminding voters to bring their activity cards to the polls.

General qualifications for all candidates include enrollment for at least one school year immediately preceding the taking of office except for freshmen registration for at least seven semester hours at the time of candidacy; persons cannot compete for more than one office in any one election; all candidates must be members of the constituency for which they are competing, except in the case of class senators who may be members of the next lower class all candidates for ASASU secretary must be able to type 60 words per minute and take dictation at 80 words per minute. A test will be given the candidates by an individual from the College of Business Administration.

Petitions must bear the signatures of ten per cent of the votes cast for that office in

Yearbook Here Next Week

The 1961 Sahuaro yearbook will be distributed May 24-June 3, from 8-12 a.m. and 1-4 p.m. in Matthews Hall.

No checks will be accepted. For the first time the Sahuaro is operating in the black, according to Jack Haehl, editor. Haehl stated that the annual bought what it could afford and counted on the sales of the book and space. They accounted for the rest of the space and ordered only as many books as they sold.

The sales were boosted 500 copies over the previous year, which helped the annual meet its budget.

No extra copies will be available, but students who wish to purchase an annual can leave their names with the staff and be contacted later.

Function Of Court Debated

Supreme Court decisions on civil liberties, particularly those on Communism, were attacked and defended by a historian, a judge, and a professor Friday, in the MU.

Dr. Allan Nevins, Pulitzer Prize-winning historian, Judge M. T. Phelps, long-time state judge, and national member of the John Birch Society, and Dr. Heinz Hink, assistant professor of Political Science, battled verbally over the Supreme Court judgements.

Professor Hink, who holds a law degree from the University of Berlin, emphasized that a function of the Supreme Court is to judge laws about the Communists, and not to make them "From the point of constitutional law, one ought to look to congress and the people, not the court, concerning communism."

Citing numerous case histories, Retired State Supreme Court Justice Phelps declared "The Supreme Court, if it continues as it has been, is a dangerous thing." He lashed out at the court for adopting policy making powers that are against the 14th amendment, the one dealing with "due process of law."

Rebuttaling Phelps asked

Nevins how he thought the HUAC should fight Communism. To this the famous author replied that it would be good if it gave effective ground for legislation.

Talking of the general principles of democracy, Dr. Nevins, who had spoken at the Honors Convocation, said he believed in "liberty versus restraint."

He then challenged the right of the House of Un-American Activities, to "indulge in exposure for the sake of exposure."

Faculty, Students Given Army ROTC Awards

Seven students and three faculty members of the ASU Army ROTC received awards Monday.

Four cadets received the Superior Cadet Ribbon Award for outstanding leadership. They are: Enoch Sigal, freshman; Robert Baron, sophomore; Grant F. Allen, junior; Richard A. Strobres, senior.

The Academic Vice President Award went to John Vucichovich of Company "B". This award is for the Top Drill Company. The Dean of Liberal Arts Award was presented to Danell F. McElroy for the First Platoon of Company "A".

Joseph H. Andrews was awarded the Commandant's

Award. This is given to the student with the highest accurate score in competitive shooting with the .22 rifle.

Velva Richey was presented the Outstanding Kaydette Award.

Faculty members of the ROTC department were also honored. Sargeant Grenzebech was given an honorary membership to the Pershing Rifle Company.

Both Major Camunez and Lt. Colonel Ferrell were presented the Veterans of Foreign Wars Award by George Malone.

Honorary Inititates 15 Men At Breakfast

Fifteen freshmen were initiated into Alpha Mu Sigma, sophomore men's service honorary, at a breakfast this morning.

They will be active next year; this year's actives will serve as student advisors.

Selected for membership were Al Anderson, Bryon Clæland, Scott Crosby, William Cross, Dennis Dorin, Chuck Eversole, David George, Nick Hagen, A. D. Jacobson, Thad Nehrling, William Overend, Lance Renfrow, Charles Roberts, Somporn Sanchai and Daryl Winn. Faculty advisor to Alpha Mu

Sigma is Dr. Gene B. Montague. Current officers include Jim Crosby, president; Henry Klopping, vice president; Jerry Cirou, secretary-treasurer; and Andy Coles, sergeant-at-arms.

Corps Exam Set

Civil Service examination board officials will conduct two five-hour test sessions for local Peace Corps recruits in Phoenix May 27 and June 5.

Peace Corps examiners will test the recruits beginning at 8:30 a.m. each day in room 204 of the main Post Office building. The tests will measure intelligence, learning ability, knowledge of American history, language aptitude and job competence in various fields.

A Peace Corps spokesman said that persons who have not submitted questionnaires should check with their nearest Civil Service office for details.

Hamlet Shown

The last showing of Maynard Mack's version of Shakespeare's "Hamlet" will be at 2:45 p.m. today in BA203.

The color production is sponsored by the Ford Foundation and is for general education students and the public.

Return Date Set

The loan service of Matthews Library requests the return of all library books on or before Friday, May 26.

Board Of Regents Acts On Budget

The Board of Regents recently approved an operating budget of $8,763,343 for the fiscal year July 1, 1961 to June 30, 1962.

In other action, the Board of Regents approved ASU requests that: John A. Carollo, a Consulting Engineer of Phoenix, be commissioned to develop plans and specifications for a farm well and water system at the new farm site at Elliott and Price Rds., and that bids be called and contracts awarded in the Phoenix area.

Also approved that William T. Baker, a Mesa architect, be commissioned to develop plans for the construction of livestock buildings and hay sheds and for moving existing structures at the present farm to the new site, and that bids be called and contract be awarded by the Phoenix Regents.

Kemper Goodwin, of Tempe, was designated architect to develop plans for an addition to the Life Sciences Center and the construction of an Animal House.

The engineering firm of Lowry and Sorensen, Phoenix, was approved to develop plans for a tunnel extension and a new boiler for the Central Heating and Refrigeration plant.

A contract is to be negotiated with the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation for final plans for the construction of a new auditorium within the $2,861,700 total appropriated for this purpose.

Joe Elson, May 1962 graduate, has been awarded a three-year Department of Health, Education, and Welfare fellowship to Oregon State College. Elson is seeking a Ph.D. in Plant Pathology and minors in Botany and Chemistry.

New Staff Chosen; Bill Flick Named ME

Bill Flick, sophomore, has been appointed managing editor of the State Press for the first semester next year by Jack Ong, recently re-appointed editor-in-chief.

Flick has served as a State Press reporter and was news editor this semester.

Other appointments include: News editors, Bill Overend and Linda Warren; copy editor, Carol Osman; chief proofreader, Edie Allers; assignments editor, Barbara Marlowe; and assistants to Miss Marlowe, George Bussing, Mary Gorman, Jim Holland, Rose Leister and Janet Wolhuter.

Heading the society department will be Rosalyn Whitney, with Betty Adams as assistant.

Bob Eger will serve his third semester as sports editor; he will be assisted by Bob Jacobsen.

Police Blotter

By BING BROWN

Thievish activity around ASU during the past week fell off, with only two petty thefts, which netted the crooks some $38 according to Campus Police Lt. Norman Peck.

There was also one case of grand theft, in which a set of hub caps, valued at $35, was stolen from a car belonging to Lee Wright.

Lt. Peck reported that two bad checks, with a combined value of $34.12, were passed at the bookstore.

Some 18 moving vehicle citations were issued by the department during the past week, Peck said.

One student was charged with reckless driving and driving while intoxicated.

Campus officers also spent time during the week searching for a girl missing from one of the dorms.

Lt. Peck reported that there was a small amount of vandalism done to a candy machine in East hall.

Two campus officers are attending the second week of a three-week FBI basic school for law enforcement officers. Those attending are Bill Stevenson and Bruce McDonough.

"Many persons have failed to pay the fines levied for illegal parking," Peck said. "Those who do not pay the fines by the end of the school year will not receive their grades," he reminded students.

"It's a serious matter," he continued, "but most of them have just forgotten."

The STATE PRESS, distributed by the campus chapter of Sigma Delta Chi under the direction of Circulation Manager Charles Hilgeman, is the official campus newspaper of Arizona State University. It is published each Wednesday and Friday throughout the school year, excepting holidays, and is entered as second class matter at the Tempe, Arizona, Post Office under the Acts of March 3, 1879, and August 24, 1912. Subscription price, $3 per school year.

The STATE PRESS is a member of the Arizona Newspapers Association, Associated Collegiate Press and National Advertising Service, Inc.

Oops!!

Yesterday the Arizona Republic published a story concerning a 22-year-old man who was jailed on a charge of armed robbery.

The Republic, in the lead paragraph of its "Student Held in Robbery" article, stated this man was a student at Arizona State University.

Investigating, we found that Jack P. Powell, 22, is not a student at our school; moreover, we feel The Republic did an injustice to the name and students of ASU.

We're sure The Republic realizes this and that the error was not intentional. We do hope, however, that a similar thing will not occur in the future.

After all, fellas, let's not accuse us of everything!

Letters To The Editor

Agree, But . . .

To the Editor:

In regard to this matter of the Campus Royalty elections, I would like to present to you the feelings of many of us as they were discussed the day of the election.

Most of us agree that the whole election is superfluous, as pointed out in your editorial. Further, that next year it should be eliminated by what we hope is a less wishywashy student administration. Nevertheless, a few of us were "drafted" this year to run since the election was still going to be held.

(Note: we did not nominate ourselves.) We feel that your editorial, while basically true, was poorly timed, so that the success of the election probably was seriously hampered. This does seem a shame for both the Elections Board's and the candidate's sake, all of whom spent time, money and labor to carry out the Executive Council's lack of "won't" power.

Secondly, many of us wonder how in the world you could consider it legal or even proper to picture and list an unofficial, write-in candidate? A write-in by definition is an unofficial one who did not complete the necessary petitions, budget, etc. and must secure their votes by private publicity instead of through the channels of the State Press.

Lastly, it is also an indication of your prejudice and lack of cooperation to not list candidates' qualifications as is always done for every other election.

We agree — the "tradition" is outmoded; but like everything else, it takes a good stiff kick for some decision makers to realize it.

Name Withheld

Ludicrous, Ineffectual

To the Editor:

As a Phoenix teacher who consistently discourages high school students from attending the play school at the end of Van Buren, where the boys seem as short on pants as brains, where the girls are beautiful but bovine, where the cult of the V.I. can be found girating nightly in spasms of college ritual and orgy reminiscent of natives shaking spears at one another — only they never seem to come of age, I was amused by the Hollenbeck-Hilton feud in the May 10 State Press, with Hollenbeck obviously though painfully writing his most lucid prose in the throes of educational D.T.s, valiantly protesting the Dorothy Pareresque indignation of the sentiment of "most Greeks and probably most independents" at the rape of Sally Sorority.

As a bona fide Greek I gasp at the ludicrous, ineffectual efforts of the crass class at ASU whose only contact with culture, unfortunately, is an illusory association with a badly pronounced Greek alphabet, an association that ascribes Latin deities to Greek functions, a feat attesting to the cultural lobotomy that so notoriously exists in the confusion these quasi-Sybarites gingerly term higher education.

H. Callas
3077 N. 19th Ave.
Phoenix, Ariz.

Editor's Note: As a bona fide quasi-Sybarite, I must say: (1) Your first sentence is much too long; (2) Your second sentence is too long; (3) I had to look up the meaning of quasi-Sybarite. And I ask: weren't you a student once?

If we remember correctly, every attempt at a "creative magazine" for ASU since we've been around (three years) has been pointed to poetry and short story.

Now why can't we have a good yearly or semi-yearly publication that will include students' literary attempts, plus photography, cartoons, humor? Seems feasible enough.

That brings us to the real point of today's scratching: jokes. They're "Campus Grypes" from the San Jose State (sorry, but whether we like it or not, it's still existing) feature magazine, the quarterly "Lyke."

"Lyke" this quarter had a series of "grypes" followed with editorial comments. A few follow:

Grype: I don't like all the pigeons in the trees. It's unhealthy and unsanitary.

Comment: So's kissing.

Grype: My landlady.

Comment: Wanna trade?

Grype: There is not enough intellectual ferment on campus.

Comment: No, but there's plenty of grape ferment.

Grype: There is no school spirit.

Comment: State law forbids spirits on campus.

Grype: There are no beds in the classrooms.

Comment: Most students sleep all right without them.

Grype: The plumbing in the men's dormitories is very poor every time anyone flushes the toilet you get scalded in the shower.

Comment: Strike back. Flush the shower first.

And so on. "Lyke" and other campus mags give students a chance to try their hand at writing, drawing and taking pictures.

Can't see what harm such a chance would do at ASU.

ONG-AO — The crowd at Saturday's Inaugural Ball was so disappointing with all the good music going to waste, we skipped over to see Grace Metalious' sequel to her oft-talked-about-more oft-condemned "Peyton Place," "Return to" same.

The photography was good, the natural scenery of the East beautiful, the musical score appropriate.

We think Carol Lynley was perfect as Allison and Tuesday Weld good as Selena. Now why wasn't Jeff Chandler cast in the role Robert Sterling had, and vice versa. Sterling looked younger than Eleanor Parker and Chandler looked much too old as Allison's publisher friend.

Mary Astor presented the most convincing portrayal, that of a tradition-bound, truth-fearing woman objecting to Allison's book, which, incidentally, is actually the author's "Peyton Place" novel. "Return" is simply what Miss Metalious felt in the way of public criticism to her first book.

We wished that Lana Turner could have returned to play the party of Allison's mother. Miss Parker was fine, but Lana was excellent in the part that won her an Academy Award nomination.

AFTER-THOUGHT — Dig this pun: "The director of any Broadway play, but particularly one like "Oklahoma!" . . . could aptly be called a 'stage coach' . . ."

Conrad The Campus Cop

"It was a tough chase, but I knew I'd . . ."

By LINDA WARREN

Swimming in the ASU campus pool is better than taking a bath! At least the water is cleaner than Tempe tap water. The "olympic swimming suits" provided at the pool are made of cotton and can be washed in boiling water, if necessary, to insure maximum cleanliness.

If, by chance, a strange bacterium is flying through the air and decides to take a dip in the ASU pool, he's one doomed germ. If he's not knocked off by a dose of chlorine, he'll never survive the six-to-seven-hour turn-over of the diatomaceous earth filtering system.

You've probably gathered by now that the ASU pool is clean, clean, clean! Actually, it's way above the Maricopa County Health Department requirements, and a reliable source estimated a good percentage of the pools in the Phoenix area would have to close down if the health department requirements were suddenly raised to the standards of cleanliness observed at the ASU pool.

With all the diseases to which college students can fall prey and then communicate, a dirty campus pool might add to the cases of mononucleosis, athlete's foot, colds and pink eye. In fact, probably the safest, disease-free place on campus is the pool.

There have been several complaints from students (mostly coeds), about the "olympic swim suits." They say that they are ill-fitting and shapeless. The suits seem to come in colors which designate the sizes. Small students are green, medium sized students are blue, and large students are red (are they blushing?). Purple suits are provided for those who are extra large. Fellas, if your girl won't go for a swim with you to the campus pool, chances are she's a size green and can't bear for you to know the truth!

With a capacity for 100 to 150 people, the highest average daily count during the 2:30 to 3:30 hours range from 60 to 65. Swimmers numbering in the low 20's enjoy the 11:30 to 12:30 morning hour. However, counts taken during the peak on Saturday afternoons find 80 to 100 students splashing and sunning despite the suits. Perhaps the formula for this is: students plus Saturday equal swimming minus their own suits.

It all "boils" down to this; if you want a clean swim and you have a "tank suitable" figure of physique, go to the campus pool. However, if you're not so blessed physically or have just plunked out a small fortune for a swim suit or don't mind dirty water, go elsewhere to get wet.

Election Code

the last election.

Each candidate shall be allowed five posters and 2 banners which are to be placed on University property, with the exception of the Danforth Chapel lawn and the Memorial Union lawn. Material displayed in these places shall be confiscated by the Election board.

The definition of a poster is "a stationary printed advertisement of not more than 20 square feet per side.

A banner is defined as a stationary printed advertisement of not less than 20 square feet per side and not more than 60 square feet per side.

Candidates also may distribute name tags and handbills. Name tags are to be not more than 20 square inches per side and should be provided with a device for attaching the tags to clothing.

Handbills shall not be larger than nine inches by twelve inches and must be printed no heavier than thirty-pound.

Printing on the bodies or glass of automobiles or trucks will be legal. Printed campaign materials other than those designated with the code will be declared illegal.

The official ASASU loudspeaker may be used on campus during any election. However, it may be used only to advertise the election, not individual candidates.

Any infraction of the rules governing all campus elections, will be reported to the Election board chairman for further action.

All responsibility for the eligibility of candidates and voters, security of the voting places, publicity before and during elections, and the counting of ballots lies with the Election board.

This Board is also responsible for the handling of all protests and reported or observed infractions of the rules.

After the facts of the said violations have been heard, the Board shall fully investigate the situation and dismiss the case, disqualify the candidate in question, refer the matter to the ASASU Student Court, or take any other action deemed appropriate.

All decisions of the Election board may be appealed to the ASASU Student Court.

Gerber And Tiffany Reign As Royalty

Suzi Gerber and Mike Tiffany were crowned Campus King and Queen at the annual Inaugural Ball Saturday night.

Miss Gerber is a member of Chi Omega sorority, Angel Flight, Little Sisters of Minerva and Pleiades. She has served on the Election Board and the AWS Council.

This year's Women's Day chairman, Suzi reads four hours a week to a blind student and works 15 hours weekly in the Associate Dean of Women's office.

Tiffany is a member of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity. He was sophomore class president, a member of the freshman football team and the Rally and Traditions Board.

In 1959, he was ASU Homecoming King.

The women who help during Freshman testing are members of the national freshman women's scholastic honorary, Alpha Lambda Delta.

It is the only woman's honorary requiring a scholarship index of 3.5 or better for acceptance. Each member must enroll in at least 15 hours or if working, 14 hours.

"By recognizing and encouraging high scholarship among freshman women, I believe Alpha Lambda Delta is doing its part to further the scholastic growth of ASU," said Linda Fallgren, president.

Names of freshman women who have the required index, are required from the Dean of Women's office. New members are chosen at the end of each semester.

Besides assisting with freshman testing, they help with scholarship testing and student body elections. They also support an Indian Brownie troop at Ganado, Arizona.

The group has popcorn sales in McClintock A, B and Gammage Hall to raise money for a scholarship. This scholarship is given an incoming freshman woman chosen from high schools in the valley.

At the Woman's Day banquet, Alpha Lambda Delta presents certificates to seniors who have maintained a 3.5 for seven semesters.

SAM Plans Senior Fete

The Society For Advancement of Management will hold a party for graduating seniors at 3 p.m. Saturday at the Cactus Rock Lodge, 7645 N. 16th Street, Phoenix.

The event, honoring graduating senior members, will feature a buffet dinner at 5:30. Also to be featured are swimming, croquet, golf and dancing.

Membership cards will be required and senior members wishing to attend must sign the paper on the Management bulletin board by Friday noon.

Committee members are June Langham, Lucy Bott, and John Campbell.

Future Rushees Invited To Tea

Independents who are interested in going through formal rush next fall are invited to a tea by the ASU Panhellenic Council tomorrow in the MU lower lounge, at 4 p.m. The advantages and disadvantages of sorority life will be discussed. Independents may sign up for rush at the tea. The attire will be cotton dresses and flats.

Barbara Defer, left, receives roses from Deanna Dorman, Gamma Phi Beta president, after she was named Gamma Phi Crescent Girl. The award is given to the most outstanding senior girl.

Diamonders Drop 2 Of 3 Games To Conclude Season

By DICK BURROUGHS
Coach Bobby Winkles' Sun Devil baseballers ended their season last weekend on a somewhat sour key when they dropped two out of three games to Los Angeles State.

Unable to hit during the first two games, and generally play-lack-luster ball, the Demons lost Friday's single game, 5-2, to Diablo right hander Ken Reuter and then followed an identical pattern in dropping Saturday's opener to Bob Stand 7-1.

The second half of Saturday's twin-bill brought the Devils their 36th victory against 13 losses and provided the handful of fans with the most interesting game of the season.

Using nine different pitchers, one an inning, and virtually his entire bench, Winkles saw his squad show real spirit, something reminiscent of previous years, and pound out a 13-6 verdict over the Diablos.

Paul Runge (3-4) and Larry Brion (2-3) led the Devils at bat but the real highlights of the game were other incidents which brought the fans to their feet.

Jerry Richardson smashed a three run homer over the left field fence, his first of the season, and got so excited that he missed first base and had to retrace his steps to tag the bag before completing his circle.

Sterling Slaughter got his first base knock of the year when he singled sharply to center field. He received a standing ovation by players and fans alike and Slaughter, playing the real ham, took a bow while standing on first base, doffed his hat and clasped his hands over his head.

The finale of the game came in the ninth inning when outfielder Steve Kennedy, who has talked about his pitching prowess all season, got his chance on the mound and quickly proceeded to give up two runs although not being hit hard.

Each strike brought applause from teammates and when he struck out the Diablo's last batter, fellow Devils tried to carry him off the field as a hero. Among those in on the action was left-hander Bob Lefebvre who had batted right handed earlier in the contest. He struck out.

Roger Barnson picked up the win, his ninth of the year against two losses after pitching the first inning.

Arizona State Riflemen 3rd In BC Competition

ASU's rifle team finished a close third in last weekend's Border Conference championships after entering the matches as a co-favorite.

Arizona repeated as champion and was followed by New Mexico State's shooters. The Wildcats rolled up 4,189 points while the Aggies shot at a 4,174 clip and the Devils were right behind at 4,143.

Texas Western and West Texas trailed the field with 3,980 and 3,766 respectively.

Otto Wildensteiner of New Mexico State was high individual shooter with 858x900. Two Arizona gunners were right on his heels. Fred Gladden had 857, Fred Nagele 856.

Joe Andrews was Arizona State's high man at 849.

Golfers Win BC Title In Abilene

By BOB JACOBSEN
Sparked by co-medalist Wayne Breck's 140, the ASU golf team captured the Border Conference title last week-end at Abilene, Texas, with a team total of 572.

The Sun Devils beat the UofA by seven strokes.

Breck shot a 67 on the second and final round to go with a 73 on opening day for his 140.

Defending Border champ Rex Wilson shot a 142 to finish two strokes off the pace. Other Sun Devil scores were: Ray Stawicki, 143; Cal Cooke, 147 and Joe Pennington, 151. Only the four low scores count toward the team total.

Breck tied with Hardin-Simmons' Jerry Mobley and Larry Beem of New Mexico State. In a 19th hole playoff, Mobley edged both Breck and Beem by one stroke.

Hardin-Simmons was third with a 585 total. The cowboys were followed respectively by New Mexico State, 596; Texas Western, 626; and West Texas State, 674.

On June 16 the Sun Devils travel to Lafayette, Indiana for the NCAA Intercollegiate championships. The first qualifying round is on Monday, June 19 with the second round on the following day. The team championship will be decided on those two days.

Wednesday the low 64 players from the previous two days vie for the individual championship, the "Chick Evans Bowl." They compete through Saturday with four rounds being played Wednesday and Thursday, the semi-finals on Friday and the finals on Saturday.

Sherry Wins Southwestern Tournament

Sherry Wheeler of Arizona State once again gained national recognition as she won her second straight Southwestern Golf Association tournament in El Paso, Texas, last weekend.

Miss Wheeler defeated New Mexico State champion Mary Lou Butler 5 and 4 with her consistent play, highlighted by spectacular putting.

She and her mascot teddy bear were the favorites of the crowd in El Paso and her clutch playing proved to be too much for Mrs. Butler.

Miss Wheeler and Judy Loftfield, also of ASU, met in a semi-final match that carried all of the excitement and superb play of a championship round.

Miss Loftfield won the tournament driving honors with a booming 274 yard drive on the 18th hole.

Aggies Re-Scheduled

Arizona State has scheduled New Mexico State for football games in 1962 and 1963. The Aggies, who defeated ASU here last fall, are not scheduled for next year.

Spikers Second In BC; Meet USC Again Friday

By BOB EGER
Sports Editor

Arizona State's tracksters are preparing for a renewal of their mile relay duel with Southern Cal this weekend after placing second in team standings to defending champion Arizona in the Border Conference meet in Abilene, Texas, Saturday.

A pulled leg muscle by Trojan anchor man Rex Cawley could keep him out of action when the Devils meet USC, UCLA and Occidental in a four way meet Friday at Oxy.

It was simply a case of too much Wildcats Saturday as the Tucson cindermen dominated the meet, scoring 82 2/3 points to 52 2/3 for the Sun Devils. Texas Western had 13, Hardin-Simmons 9 and New Mexico State 7.

Highlight for ASU was the 440-yard dash as the Devils unleashed one of the finest arrays

Netters Fifth In Conference

Arizona State finished fifth in the Border Conference tennis championships, in Abilene, Texas, last Friday and Saturday.

The conference title was won by the University of Arizona with 24 points. New Mexico State had 18, Hardin-Simmons 12, Texas Western 11 and Arizona State 3.

of collegiate quarter milers in the country for a 1-2-3-4 sweep.

Mal Spence successfully defended his conference 440 title with a 47.5 clocking. Ron Freeman had 47.7, Karl Schreiner 48.0 and Mike Barrick 48.3.

Freeman was perhaps the top performer for ASU. He finished third in the 220 and ran on the winning Sun Devil mile relay team in addition to his second spot in the quarter. He was the only Sun Devil to win medals in three events.

Arizona State's 3:11.5 mile relay clocking was one of the better efforts of the meet. Freeman ran 49.0 out of the blocks, Schreiner 47.4, Mel Spence 47.5 and Mal Spence 47.6.

Freshman javelin thrower Bob Barkas dethroned teammate Wayne McDonnell for the conference crown. Barkas threw the spear 216-1, McDonnell 214-2.

Don Jeisy and John Rose tied Dick Glover of Arizona for first in the pole vault with 14-5 vaults. Glover went out at 14-10 while Jeisy and Rose passed at that height and failed in their attempts to clear 15 feet.

Joe Caldwell of ASU and Angris Alexander of the UofA tied for first at 6-6 in their expected duel in the high jump. Caldwell won the first place medal on fewer misses.

Sun Devil sprinter Hubie Watson won his heats in the 100 and 220 yard dashes easily, turning in a wind-aided 9.4 century.

However he suffered a slight occurrence of a pulled muscle that has restricted his performances in recent meets.

He was edged by Larry Dunn of Arizona in 9.5 in the finals and didn't compete in the 220 for fear of severely straining the muscle.

Sun Devil Tracksters Compete After School

ASU's track and field team will continue competition after the conclusion of school. Sun Devil spikers will compete in the Compton Invitational June 2, the Meet of Champions in Houston on June 10 and the NCAA Championships in Philadelphia on June 16 and 17.
