New Auditorium Nears Construction

Groundbreaking ceremonies for ASU's new 3,000-seat auditorium are expected to be this fall.

According to John Ellingson, director of the physical plant at ASU, construction on the multi-purpose building designed by the late Frank Lloyd Wright will probably be started then.

When completed, the auditorium will be one of the major cultural centers in the West. The state legislature has appropriated $2,861,700 for construction.

Preliminary plans for the building have been approved by the Board of Regents.

Final plans are being prepared by William Wesley Peters, chief architect, Taliesin Associated Architects.

The auditorium will be located at the southwest corner of the campus in the area bounded by the Tempe-Mesa highway as it moves south and then turns east toward Mesa.

Besides seating approximately 3,000 persons, it will provide space for the music department. The storage loft of the stage will accommodate the sets for any opera currently in production.

The auditorium will serve as a gathering place for convocations, daytime lectures, and other meetings essential to the educational program of nearly every department.

Its value to the music, speech and drama departments will be immeasurable. Backstage space could be constructed in such a way so as to provide excellent facilities for regular daily instruction and use by the student symphony, chamber music and other instrumental groups. The same facilities could also be used at the same time for choral, or mixed instrumental-choral combinations.

Acoustics for the auditorium were checked by Dr. Vern O. Knudsen, chancellor Emeritus of the University of California and internationally established authority on acoustics.

Initiated by the late Grady Gammage, ninth president of ASU, the auditorium should soon start to materialize.

IFC Gives Service Prize

Sigma Phi Epsilon won the IFC outstanding service award for the $3,500 collected for the Heart Fund this past semester.

During the week of Feb. 17-24, 25 men donated 150-200 hours canvassing the valley area headed by John Jarvis, general chairman.

Honorable mention was awarded to Theta Delta Chi who sold $248 worth of tickets to the Polio Fund Dance and provided transportation for guests to the inauguration of Dr. G. Homer Durham.

Also to Phi Sigma Kappa, who collected $1,304 for cerebral palsy in conjunction with Kappa Delta.

And to Sigma Pi for the display of a wrecked car stressing traffic safety during Easter vacation.

Oh, To Be Lost On An Island! . . .

Either Marianne Harismendy, left, Carol Wiehl, or Joan Chlarson will be crowned Water Sports Day Queen tomorrow.

Water Sports Day Queen Will Be Crowned Tomorrow

Three finalists from a field of 11 are competing for the annual IFC-AMS Water Sports Day Queen.

Diane Huber, last year's Queen, will crown either Joan Chlarson, Mary Ann Harismendy, or Carolyn Wiehl at is on the ASU Social Board and a member of Kaydettes. Mary Ann appeared as Queen of the Hop on Les Brown's Band of Renown show, televised at ASU. Carolyn Wiehl, Chi Omega, is a member of Angel Flight and Little Sister's of Minerva, of which she was president one semester.

The victorious candidate will receive a gold trophy while her attendants will each be awarded a bouquet of flowers.

Seniors Can Get Caps And Gowns

Seniors may pick up caps and gowns in the basement of the Bookstore at any of the following times:

May 26—10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

May 27—9 a.m. to noon

May 28—6 p.m. to 7 p.m.

May 30—2 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Caps and gowns are to be returned by May 30.

Communism Column Topic

"The two real threats to our nation . . . are secularism and materialism," says Rev. John Arthur in today's "Be Our Guest!" column, on the Editorial Page.

Rev. Arthur for the past several months has been visiting American colleges and universities studying students' reactions to current problems.

He was at Arizona State University for Spiritual Exploration Week Feb. 26-March 4 and is western secretary of the National Lutheran Council's Division of college and university work, Palo Alto, Calif.

Alpha Sigma Alpha Sorority Offers Scholarship To Train Teachers

ASU is one of four schools in the nation to offer a graduate study in training teachers for mentally retarded children.

This is made possible under an annual $1,000 scholarship from Alpha Sigma Alpha, national social sorority.

Applications are now available and may be obtained through the scholarship office or by contacting Dr. Willard Abraham, chairman of the department of Special Education. The scholarship may be for summer school or regular semester work.

The other three institutions where the scholarships will be offered are George Pabody College, Nashville, Tenn.; Teachers College, Columbia University, and the University of Illinois.

Walker Outstanding Senator

Tod Walker, student finance committee chairman, was chosen the outstanding senator of the year at Wednesday's final session of the Student Senate.

Four bills were passed and several individuals were commended by Speaker Les Miller.

The following bills were passed by the senate: SB 161 designating the duties of the ASASU Activities vice president; SB 162, enumerating replacement procedures for vacated ASASU student government positions; SB 164, discontinuing the election of a campus king and queen; and SB 165, the finance bill for 1961-62.

Speaker Miller announced

Senators Jim Chilton, Chris Kilgard, Ed Manley, Bobbie Taylor and Ron Paquin as recipients of a $1 bill for their outstanding work on the student finance committee. The bills were signed by senate members and will be framed for presentation.

Senator Walker and Dick Finley, ASASU executive manager, were also announced as recipients of bills to be framed. Walker, who was elected outstanding senator for his fine work during the year and especially as finance committee chairman, will receive a $2 bill. Walker was presented a desk set as outstanding senator. Finley will receive a $1 bill for aiding the finance committee.

Speaker Miller in evaluating the past year pointed out that 14 bills were passed. He said the petition concerning compulsory ROTC was handled in a fine manner. Miller also pointed out the organizing of a new year book and a student handbook.

Deans Weldon Shofstall and Catherine Nichols both agreed that this was a most productive year for the senate.

Miller formally relinquished the gavel to Senator Chilton, next year's elected speaker. At the conclusion of the session, ASU President G. Homer Durham made a brief talk.

Bird watchers can easily see the top of the new Education Building, now in final stages of construction. The building will be five stories high, ready to serve as ASU's College of Education next fall.

M.O. Best 'A' Invaded By Grizzly Bear

The next time you answer a rapping at your chamber door, Ken Calbeck, head resident at M.O. Best "A" advises you to proceed with caution.

Tuesday evening Calbeck answered such a rapping and found a live black bear at his door.

"What did you do?" Calbeck was asked.

"I closed the door!" he promptly answered.

The story? One of the residents rallied his cohorts and rented a trained black bear for an hour, pre-arranged a "counseling" appointment with Calbeck, then . . .

"Then we invited him (the bear) in for tea!" Calbeck said.

Students Honored For Music Skills

Sixteen Arizona State University students have been honored for outstanding music achievements throughout the year of 1960-61.

Rita Chatwin received the Eleanor Altman Piano Scholarship, plus the Dean's Honor Award of Sigma Alpha Iota, women's professional music fraternity. Jan Sessions, designated as outstanding orchestra member of 1960-61, was presented with a Sigma Alpha Iota Alumnae Scholarship award.

Tom Watts, outstanding Kappa Nu pledge, of Phi Alpha, national men's music fraternity, was named as outstanding senior music major. Judy Conrad received honors as outstanding music major. She also won a special performance award.

Outstanding sophomore music major, Suzanne Williams, is regional and district winner of National Federation of Music Club's competition. A Groene Piano Scholarship was awarded to Merrill Harlan, outstanding junior music major, and to LaRene Turley.

Rolene Susselman was presented the Ralph H. Morris Instrumental Music Award. Outstanding Freshman music majors are Jerry Cobb and Chris Bonds.

Other honors included: Choral Union Managers Award, John Summers; outstanding freshman bandsman, Gerald Brown; top senior Bandsman, James Butler; special performance awards, Janet Morris and Gerald Whalin; and the SAI scholarship, Pauline Leung.

Students Can Visit Mexico

ASU's Department of Foreign Languages has received an offer to place Spanish students with Mexican families for direct study of the language culture and history of Mexico.

According to El Experimenta de Convivencia Internacional, 70,000 persons during the past 29 years have taken part in "experiment activities."

Information on the activity may be obtained by writing to Experiment in International Living, Putney, Vermont, or to the Experiment offices in care of Barbara B. de Gomez, Director, Liverpool 149-2, Mexico 6, D.F.

KAET To Show Realistic Films Of Ear Operation

A film involving an operation replacing a faulty ear bone with a plastic one, will appear on KAET Channel 8, Friday at 6:45 p.m.

Produced by the ASU motion picture department and Cinematographer Nancy Witt, the film records an actual operation performed at Phoenix Memorial Hospital.

The film shows both the intricate operative manipulations as well as the necessary equipment for the operation.

Seven Med Schools Accept ASU Students

Dr. E. E. Burgoyne and Dr. Roy Johnson, faculty advisors of Alpha Epsilon Delta, National Premedical Society, announced that all of the members who have applied to medical and dental schools have been accepted for the fall of 1962.

Lester Goldstein and Keith Hooker will attend the University of Oregon Medical School. Sherman Axel, Don Kunkle and Alan Schwartz will enter the University of Colorado School of Medicine. Dave Morrison will enter the University of Southern California's Medical School, and Gerald Webster will enter George Washington University. James Stillman, University of Utah's School of Medicine. Joanne Gross has chosen the Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania.

Ronald and Gerald Wilson will attend the University of Southern California's Dental School.

The STATE PRESS, distributed by the campus chapter of Sigma Delta Chi under the direction of Circulation Manager Charles Hilgeman, is the official campus newspaper of Arizona State University. It is published each Wednesday and Friday throughout the school year, excepting holidays, and is entered as second class matter at the Tempe, Arizona, Post Office under the Acts of March 3, 1879, and August 24, 1912. Subscription price, $3 per school year.

The STATE PRESS is a member of the Arizona Newspapers Association, Associated Collegiate Press and National Advertising Service, Inc.

LETTERS to the Editor

Student Body Informed

To the Editor:
 It seems appropriate that the student body be apprised of recent events concerning some unethical behavior of the Young Democrats club on campus and in the State Press. Here the facts are presented as they occurred. No conclusions are drawn about whether or not this is good citizenship and responsible journalism.

About Feb. 2 the Young Republicans accepted the negative side of a debate on federal aid to education with the YDs. The YDs were to prepare posters and the YRs were to reserve the room and notify the State Press. Subsequently, when the YDs were asked to cooperate in developing the format and resolution for the debate, they were very uncooperative and indicated that all they really wanted was to have a sort of bull session.

The YRs, having accepted a challenge for a formal debate, nevertheless did agree to a somewhat less formal format in the interest of getting this important topic before the student body. Dr. Mason was asked to be moderator. Three weeks later the resolution was finally made by the YRs since the YDs would not cooperate in formulating it. It was accepted.

The resolution: "Resolved, that the federal government should provide funds for the states for the purpose of paying teachers salaries in the public schools."

The YRs were promised coverage in the State Press when the date was confirmed. Notice was taken to the paper concerning the debate on March 9. It was to be printed later. It was not. Meanwhile the YDs were repeatedly asked to fulfill their obligation to make posters. They did not.

The State Press then informed the YRs president that the material "was not important enough." In view of the importance of the topic and the earlier assurances of publicity this answer was unacceptable. Further inquiry brought the comment that it was too controversial.

The YRs then put up four posters that evening. At ten p.m. that night the YDs president called the YRs president and said that the debate would have to be cancelled since one of their team was ill. The next morning the two presidents and the "ill" team member attended class together. When confronted with this fact it was admitted that the YDs just were not prepared. The YDs president would not fulfill her responsibility even at this point, by telling Dr. Mason what had happened. The YRs president had to do this.

The YRs were well prepared and had worked hard in deference to the importance of the topic. They have waited for six weeks now for a rescheduling of the debate and have received no cooperation from the YDs. This is long enough to wait. The facts are therefore respectfully submitted to the student body for consideration.

Fate Depends On Us

To the Editor:
 In past issues of the State Press I have noted columns devoted to movie reviews. With each column that I read, my wonder grew that none of the reviews concerned our own Valley Art Theatre.

I very strongly feel that the theatre does deserve some student attention — if only a word or a look — since it does offer to cater to our film cultural taste. (And, incidentally, at a reduced rate.)

Judging from the quality of some of the films I have seen there and from the appallingly low attendance, I feel that not enough students are aware that the theatre is so well-prepared to serve them.

Perhaps they mistakenly believe the College Theatre is still at that location. But it isn't, and neither will the Valley Art Theatre be there for long if we don't support it better.

Terry McDonald
Editor's Note: Education starts at home, agreed? And culture is a form of education. Home in this particular instance is "our own" ASU. Hope you enjoy today's movie review.

BE OUR GUEST! —

Two Real Threats

By REV. JOHN ARTHURS

The two real threats to our nation and the two things which gave rise to materialistic Communism in the first place are secularism and materialism. Secularism is the way people try to have their pious cake and eat it too by dividing their lives into religious and secular compartments.

It is secularism that permits vast throngs of Americans to attend church and synagogue without letting it affect their daily lives.

There has been an increase in religiosity in the United States, but a decrease in real religion. A god in a little box is no more to be preferred than the blatant atheism of Communism.

Those who are publicly leading the fight against Communism in America frequently invoke affirmations of the Biblical and Christian faith. It should be asserted clearly that the Scriptures make no judgment on the worth of one or another economic system. They do not extol capitalism or socialism. Both Jesus and the prophets condemned materialism, exploitation of the poor and the love of wealth rather than of God and people.

It would seem quite clear that any economic system can be materialistic and godless. A capitalist may be as idolatrous in his atheism.

Neither does the Bible endorse any political system. At one time or another in the history of the western world, Christians have approved on one or another political system. At one time it was feudalism, another time monarchism, and for Americans, the republican system. Here again, any political system can become a dictatorship and a substitute for the Lordship of God. Ultimately, the Scriptures teach that we must obey God rather than man.

All nations, therefore, and their political and economic systems, are under the judgment of God. When a nation loses its trust in God or forsakes its obedience to His will, it deserves judgment and destruction. This includes both America and Soviet Russia.

Letters To The Editor

Stands For Arizona State

To the Editor:

There are two things which peeve me: insects and pseudo-intellectuals. Fortunately, insects are usually seasonal. However, as was poignantly illustrated by the letter from H. Callas, people are forever being subjected to the inane babblings and self-eulogizings of pseudo-intellectuals.

H. Callas referred to this University as the playground at the end of Van Buren. Our friend has stated he is a Phoenix school teacher. It always amuses me to hear someone with the scholastic rank of teacher, working in a grade or high school, criticize an institution such as ASU. I am reminded of the fox that said, "The grapes are probably sour anyway."

The teacher has said he is a bona fide Greek. He has also stated that the Greeks use Roman gods as a symbol of their Greek fraternity. This is a curious charge. I wonder if perhaps our friend has not based a generalization on his Greek organization, whatever it may be.

As to the reference about the coeds on this campus, "they are beautiful but bovine," it doesn't take a Psychology major to determine that this personality is warped by severe misogynic psychosis.

It would be more than a pleasure for me to take up the cudgels and do a little verbal sparring concerning the merits of this institution with H. Callas. Choice of subject, time and place will be gladly given the "teacher."

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"MAN WE JUS DON'T DIG THIS JAZZ O' YOU BUGGIN' US FROSHNIKS WITH TWO TERMSVILLE OF THIS CRAZY FOREIGN LANGUAGE BIT, DADDIQ!"

By TOM HILTON

Today is the last day of school for the graduating seniors. What is he thinking as he goes to his last class? Let's see: "Boy . . . after this class I'll be through! No more studying and no more messing around with Mickey Mouse homework. I'll be finished! YAHOO!"

"Now I'll be able to go out into the world and settle down to a life-time of good honest work . . . after a few years in the army of course. What am I saying? Work? Army? I wonder if I could get into graduate school, somewhere."

The best of luck to the graduating seniors. Be sure to pay your taxes.

To whom this may concern: Pets are not allowed in Best Hall. Especially Grizzly Bears. It's bad for the heart.

Now that the Finance bill has passed in the Student Senate, it's time for the lobbyist factions to swing into action. A good picketing session might add to the spirit of things because undercover work is not too spectacular. Anyway, we haven't had a decent picketing campaign in almost a year.

Most students, however, would like to see more colorful posters displayed. In the past the picketer's posters lacked quality. A good way to add quality to a picketing campaign would be to have a group of dignified old ladies conduct the session.

A few odd-balls have complained about the logic used in matters of finance, etc., but anyone can see that logic is a poor tool when you can create an image with mass confusion, threats and mis-information.

No matter what the cause, a good mud sling always peeps up the old campus life.

Lucy, the "Good Grief Charlie Brown" girl, from all appearances, has been getting quite a bit of attention lately.

Our missing persons bureau has reported that 2nd Lt. Jerry Hall, currently vacationing on the Continent, is missing. Anyone wishing to contact Lt. Hall will probably find him hiding underneath a table on the sixth floor of the Hofbrau Haus.

Students (male) have been complaining that there are not enough trash cans, pencil sharpeners and girls in shorts along College Avenue.

Students (female) have been complaining that there aren't enough trash cans, pencil sharpeners and men in long pants along College Avenue.

Dr. Parker Given $500 Grant

The Poultry and Egg National Board, a non-profit organization for consumer information with headquarters in Chicago, has given Dr. Ernest L. Parker, ASU professor of Poultry Husbandry, a $500 research grant.

The funds are to support Dr. Parker's project of studying the effects on health, study habits, and achievement of pupils in elementary schools of proper breakfasts.

Fourth grade students in a Valley school located in an under-privileged area are being given breakfasts, and their responses are being compared to a similar group not fed breakfast at school.

Dr. Parker, who is working with the ASU Home Economics department on the projects, expects to complete the work this year and publish results in July. The PENB grant will enable full publication of the study.

Why the blue suit with the gold bars?

You're needed... just as your father and grandfather were. It's an obligation that a lot of qualified college men have to meet... that of serving your country, when and where you are needed.

And the Air Force needs college-trained men as officers. This is caused by the rapidly expanding technology that goes with hypersonic air and space flight. Your four years of college have equipped you to handle complex jobs. You have the potential to profit from advanced training... then put it to work.

There are several ways to become an officer.

First there is Air Force ROTC. Another program, relatively new, is Officer Training School. Here the Air Force commissions certain college graduates, both men and women, after three months' training. The navigator training program enables you to win a flying rating and a commission. And, of course, there's the Air Force Academy.

An Air Force officer's starting salary averages out to about what you could expect as a civilian. First there's your base pay. Then add on such things as tax-free rations and quarters allowances, free medical and dental care, retirement provision, perhaps flight pay, and 30 days' vacation per year. It comes to an attractive figure. One thing more. As an officer, you will become eligible for the Air Force Institute of Technology. While on active duty many officers will win graduate degrees at Air Force expense.

Why not contact your local Air Force Recruiter. Or write to Officer Career Information, Dept. SC15, Box 7608, Washington 4, D.C., if you want further information about the navigator training or Officer Training School programs.

Phi Eta Sigma Honors First-Year Scholarship

Phi Eta Sigma, national scholastic freshman men's honorary, recognizes freshman men students for attaining a high index.

This idea originated from Thomas Arkle Clark, the first Dean of Students, University of Illinois in 1910. Clark hoped this would give them an incentive to continue working for a high index.

The only requirement for acceptance is a 3.5 or better. All boys who make the required index are invited to join.

For the past few years they have ushered at commencement and baccalaureate. They also distribute a pamphlet to freshman men each fall on "How to Study" which is sent to them from the national office of Phi Eta Sigma.

Newly elected officers are Douglas Nohava, president; Andrew Coles, vice president; Floyd Martin, secretary; Steve Sargent, treasurer; Arthur Sanera, historian; and Douglas Gehrman, senior advisor.

Dr. John H. Krenkel, professor of History is the advisor of Phi Eta Sigma.

Lt. Peck Corrects Police Blotter

The Police Blotter Column, in Wednesday's State Press incorrectly quoted Lt. Norman Peck of the Campus Police, as saying "Those who do not pay the (parking) fines by the end of the school year will not receive their grades."

The story should have said that those who do not pay the fines will be referred to the disciplinary committee.

TILL WE MEET AGAIN

Seven years now I have been writing this column for the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, and each year when I come to the last column of the year, my heart is gripped by the same bittersweet feeling. I shall miss you sorely, dear readers, in the long summer days ahead. I shall miss all you freckle-faced boys with frogs in your pockets. I shall miss all you pig-tailed girls with your gap-toothed giggles. I shall miss you one and all—your shining morning faces, your apples, your marbles, your jacks, your little oilcloth satchels.

But I shall not be entirely sad, for you have given me many a happy memory to sustain me. It has been a rare pleasure writing this column for you all year, and I would ask every one of you to come visit me during the summer except there is no access to my room. The makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, after I missed several deadlines, walled me in. All I have is a mail slot into which I drop my columns and through which they supply me with Marlboro Cigarettes and such food as will slip through a mail slot. (For six months now I have been living on after-dinner mints.)

For six months now I have been living on after-dinner mints

I am only having my little joke. The makers of Marlboros have not walled me in. They could never do such a cruel thing. Manly and muscular they may be, and gruff and curt and direct, but underneath they are men of great heart and sweet, compassionate disposition, and I wish to take this opportunity to state publicly that I will always have the highest regard for the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, no matter how my lawsuit for back wages comes out.

I am only having my little joke. I am not suing the makers of Marlboros for back wages. These honorable gentlemen have always paid me promptly and in full. To be sure, they have not paid me in cash, but they have given me something far more precious. You would go far to find one so covered with tattoos as I.

I am only having my little joke. The makers of Marlboros have not covered me with tattoos. In fact, they have engraved no commercial advertising whatsoever on my person. My suit, of course, is another matter, but even here they have exercised taste and restraint. On the back of my suit, in unobtrusive neon, they have put this fetching little jingle:

*Are your taste buds out of killer?
Are you bored with smoking, neighbor?
Then try that splendid Marlboro filter,
Try that excellent Marlboro sleighbor!*

On the front of my suit, in muted phosphorus, are pictures of the members of the Marlboro board and their families. On my hat is a small cigarette girl crying, "Who'll buy my Marlboros?"

I am only having my little joke. The makers of Marlboros have been perfect dolls to work for, and so, dear readers, have you. Your kind response to my nonsense has warmed this old thorax, and I trust you will not find me soggy if in this final column of the year, I express my sincere gratitude.

Have a good summer. Stay healthy. Stay happy. Stay loose.

© 1961 Max Shulman

The makers of Marlboros and the new unfiltered king-size Philip Morris Commander have been happy to bring you this uncensored, free-wheeling column all year long. Now, if we may echo old Max: Stay healthy. Stay happy. Stay loose.

The World Outside —

Students Enjoy 'Sunday' Movie

Some students report they're seeing "Never On Sunday" for the third or fourth time this weekend.

There is little wonder: cleverly written and brilliantly acted, the movie, an hour and a half in length, sports Melina Mercouri, who won the Cannes Film Festival best actress award for her role as the "Grecian earner," as Bob Hope said on the Academy Awards program.

Miss Mercouri was also nominated for the best actress Oscar, but lost to Elizabeth Taylor.

Her co-star in "Never on Sunday" is Jules Dassin, who also wrote and directed the movie.

The story is based on Dassin's attempt to help Miss Mercouri realize the "finer things of life"; namely, classical music, and good books.

He has come to Greece to find out what brought about the fall of the Grecian culture, once the world's greatest.

He feels his answer lies in the life (and profession) of Miss Mercouri, and decides to guide her back to the paths of truth and virtue.

His attempts fail, however, and Miss Mercouri returns to her favorite tavern to celebrate: the two weeks during which her instructor said he'd convert her have expired and she is still more a fan of fun and dancing than of reading and writing.

Sulking in his failure, Dassin does discover, though, that in Greece there is a truth in the joy of living.

Arizona Indians Meet On Campus

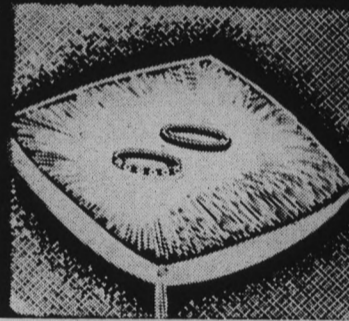

More than 100,000 Arizona Indians will be represented at the annual spring Arizona Inter-Tribal Council Meeting on campus Saturday.

Representatives from 14 Arizona Indian tribes will attend the annual conclave. The group will elect new officers for the council.

The council meeting is open to the public, according to Raymond Enos, Salt River Reservation and chairman of the council.

Club Announces Most Outstanding Campus Debaters

ASU's Debate Club announced Wednesday the selection of two outstanding 1960-61 campus debaters.

Bettie Boyer, a journalism pre-law sophomore, was named top female debater while Frank Wattles, electrical engineering senior, took the male title.

Miss Boyer won an excellent rating for ASU at the annual speech tournament of Phi Kappa Delta, national forensic honorary, at Oklahoma State University this year. She was recently elected president of the local honorary chapter.

Wattles has also been active in campus debates and served as the defense attorney in two actions before the ASASU Supreme Court this spring. He won both cases. Wattles plans to enter law school next fall.

Cole Heads Well Study

Several plants and animals of undetermined species have been revealed during the current investigation of Montezuma's Well, located in Yavapai County.

The investigation is being conducted by Dr. Gerald A. Cole, under sponsorship of the National Science Foundation.

The well was described by Dr. Cole as "A combination sink-hole and warm-water artesian well."

He said, "We mapped the entire basin. We found the deepest part to be about 55 feet... We found three holes that go down to about 150 feet where the water enters."

According to Dr. Cole, the commonest animal found was a small shrimp-like crustacean.

Among the strange discoveries were leeches of an undetermined species. Dr. Cole said, "It may be a western race of an eastern species."

Dr. Cole is being assisted in the investigation by John G. Wise, research assistant.

Students To Journey To Europe

EVERY COLLEGE STUDENT needs this book to increase his ability to learn

An understanding of the truth contained in Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy can remove the pressure which concerns today's college student upon whom increasing demands are being made for academic excellence.

Christian Science calms fear and gives to the student the full assurance he needs in order to learn easily and to evaluate what he has learned. It teaches that God is man's Mind—his only Mind—from which emanates all the intelligence he needs, when and as he needs it.

Science and Health, the textbook of Christian Science, may be read or examined, together with the Bible, in an atmosphere of quiet and peace, at any Christian Science Reading Room. Information about Science and Health may also be obtained on campus through the

Roger Tomlinson Signs With Giants

Roger Tomlinson, star shortstop on Coach Bobby Winkles' Sun Devil baseball team the past two seasons, signed a professional contract with the San Francisco Giants' organization earlier this week.

He reportedly signed for a substantial bonus although the amount was not disclosed. He will report June 10, after graduation, to the Giants' Class C team at Fresno in the California League.

Tomlinson broke six batting records and turned in countless fielding gems in his two years at shortstop for the Sun Devils.

In the season just concluded he set new batting marks in four categories. He hit ten home runs, drove in 56 runs, got 65 hits and scored 54 runs — all new highs for Sun Devil baseball.

Last spring he set records with 13 doubles and 193 times at bat. This year he hit seven doubles and had 190 at bats.

In addition to his hitting, Tomlinson teamed with second baseman Mario Ramirez to give the Sun Devils one of the finest double play combinations in college baseball.

Ramirez is also interested in playing pro ball and is reportedly negotiating with a major league team.

Rex Cawley is shown snapping the tape ahead of Arizona State's Mal Spence in a mile relay which was run in Goodwin Stadium earlier this season. Cawley will be missing from the USC lineup tonight when the Devils and Trojans renew their relay duel at Occidental.

Trackmen Meet UCLA, USC, Occidental Tonight

By BOB EGER
Sports Editor

A contingent of Arizona State track and field performers will compete in a four-way meet against three of the top collegiate teams in the country tonight—at Occidental College.

USC, UCLA, Occidental and Arizona State will vie for top honors with Southern Cal's powerful Trojans heavy favorites to compile the majority of the points.

Coach Baldy Castillo will send only 11 Sun Devils and is concentrating on getting improved performances out of them in individual events rather than worrying about the final outcome of the meet.

Heading the list of ASU entrants is the mile relay team composed of Ron Freeman, Karl Schreiner, Mel and Mal Spence.

That foursome will be shooting for a new national collegiate record in the meet. The present mark is 3:07.6 by USC this year and second are 3:07.9 times by ASU and Abilene Christian.

Trojan anchor man Rex Cawley, who ran a 45.3 leg when USC did 3:07.6, will miss the meet because of a strained leg muscle.

The absence of Cawley should hamper the Troy quartet greatly and give the Devils a good chance of evening their relay record against USC at 2-2-1. The two teams will meet again at Compton June 2 and Abilene Christian will also be on hand for that relay.

Other Sun Devils in tonight's meet are hurdlers Gaston Green and Darrell Jansen. They will be up against such competition as Bob Pierce and Brian Polkinghorne of USC, Dixon Farmer of Occidental and Jim Johnson, brother of Olympian Rafer Johnson, of UCLA.

Pole vaulters Don Jeisy and John Rose will receive stiff competition from Jim Brewer of Southern Cal. Last week Brewer vaulted 15-3.

Sprinter Hubie Watson, still slightly hampered by a strained muscle, will match strides with such names as Doug Smith of Oxy and Bruce Munn and Jim Bates of Troy.

Joe Caldwell, who cleared 6-6 last week to win the Border Conference title, will high jump and Carol Lindroos is entered in the discus competition.
