

Latin American Authority To Speak Here Tomorrow

Dr. Hubert Herring, nationally recognized authority on Latin America, will open ASU's summer concert and lecture series tomorrow with a talk on "The Chips Are Down in Latin America."

A pioneer in North America's belated discovery of Latin American problems, Dr. Herring will speak at 8 p.m. in the MU ballroom. The event is open to the public as well as students.

SPEAKER — Dr. Hubert Herring noted Latin American authority, will speak on current Latin American problems tomorrow in the MU.

Forces of social and political unrest stemming from bad government and low living standards have reached an explosive point in many Latin American countries.

Dr. Herring will give his interpretation of whether the U. S. is on the brink of disaster or if there is still time to "implement with deeds the promises and policies which the U. S. has offered the countries of Central and South America. He will also discuss the policies of the Kennedy administration and appraise their results.

A professor of Latin American Civilization at Pomona College and the Claremont Graduate School, he has written several books in this field and has had articles published in the "Christian Science Monitor", the "New York Times", "Harper's and Yale Review."

For more than 25 years the noted author has made extended annual visits to various Latin American countries, speaking with officials and citizens in nations where angry outbursts against the U.S. have seriously marred the tranquility of the Western World.

Dr. Herring has also made global trips for several successive years, most recently visiting India, Ceylon, Thailand, Hong Kong, Japan and Egypt, to study the problems of all underdeveloped countries in order to relate these problems to those of comparable nations in Latin America.

In 1926 Dr. Herring organized the Committee on Cultural Relations with Latin America, one of the first agencies to antedate the official "good neighbor" policy.

Other concert and lecture series guests, appearing later during the first session, will be the famed Mitchell's Singing Boys, Lecturer Philip Geary and the ASU Drama Workshop presenting "Ring Round the Moon."

State Press

ARIZONA STATE UNIVERSITY TEMPE, ARIZONA

1885

Diamond Jubilee

1960

Summer, 1961

Monday, June 19, 1961

No. 1

Workshop To Host Speakers

Two nationally-known economists will be the major speakers during a two week economic education workshop, beginning today in the College of Business Administration.

They are Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, Washington, D.C., economist, and Dr. Jim E. Reese, professor of economics at the University of Oklahoma.

A senior fellow with the Guggenheim Memorial Foundation from 1950-52, Dr. Nourse was chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, Office of the United States President, from 1946-49.

Dr. Reese, regional director of the Joint Council on Economic Education, is the co-author of "Our American Economy" and "American Economic History of the United States."

The purpose of the workshop is to help high school business and social studies teachers learn more about the American free enterprise system, economics as applied to this system, the resources and economy of Arizona, and the application of this knowledge to classroom teaching.

Workshop sessions will be from 9:30 a.m. to noon, and from 1-5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Registration for the workshop, offering two semester hours of graduate credit, will be held at the first class meeting in the executive seminar room in the BA building.

COOL OFF — and forget those empty wallets. Mrs. David B. Scouler, MU director, refreshes registration-weary students with lemonade. Patiently waiting are summer session students (l to r) John Hill, George Anderson and Mrs. Jack Casey.

Dr. Jost Named A.A.A.S. Fellow

Dr. Hudson Jost, professor and chairman of the ASU psychology department, has been named a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

An ASU faculty member since 1959, Dr. Jost was notified of his election to the honor by Marlowe G. Anderson, of New Mexico State University.

Former head of the psychology department at the University of Georgia, Dr. Jost is also a Fellow of the division of theoretical-experimental psychology of the American Psychology Association.

New Publication Released Today

Arizona State University's College of Education has published the first issue of the "Journal of American Indian Education," this month. This is the first publication of its kind in the nation.

More than 2,500 copies of the new journal, a quarterly, will be distributed today through ASU's Indian education center. The publication is printed in two-color and includes six articles by people directly concerned with Indian affairs.

Copies of the first issue will be mailed to teachers and administrators.

ASU Professor Dies

Harry B. Harelson, head of the ASU music department for more than 21 years, died June 12 in Kevil, Ky., where he was vacationing for the summer.

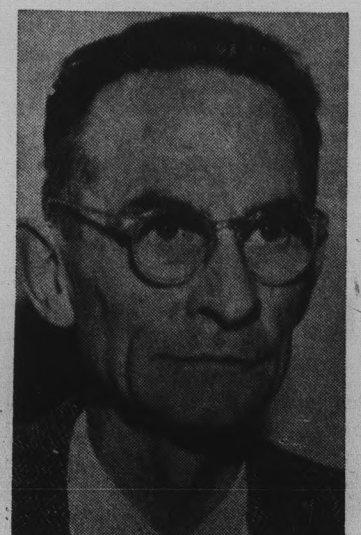

Born April 26, 1892, in Bardwell, Ky., he received his bachelor of public school music degree and his master of music degree from the Columbia School of Music in Chicago.

Joining the ASU faculty in 1935, he was instrumental in organizing and developing the music department, which he headed until 1956.

He continued in active work as an ASU professor of music and was one of the faculty members who helped organize the ASU chapter of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, national music fraternity.

Harelson was affiliated with the Society of Arizona Composers, Phi Mu Alpha, Music

Educators National Conference, Music Teachers National Association, American Association of University Professors and Arizona College Association.

Professor Harelson

Health Service Available

The ASU Student Health Service will offer limited facilities to those enrolled in summer session classes and special University programs.

A physician will be in the clinic from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. Monday through Friday; a registered nurse will also be in the clinic on weekdays from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. to give first aid or emergency care only.

No bed care will be given during the summer session.

Students may obtain polio vaccine at 75 cents per dose.

The STATE PRESS, distributed by the campus chapter of Sigma Delta Chi under the direction of Circulation Manager Charles Hilgeman, is the official campus newspaper of Arizona State University. It is published each Wednesday and Friday throughout the school year, excepting holidays, and is entered as second class matter at the Tempe, Arizona, Post Office under the Acts of March 3, 1879, and August 24, 1912. Subscription price, $3 per school year.

The STATE PRESS is a member of the Arizona Newspapers Association, Associated Collegiate Press and National Advertising Service, Inc.

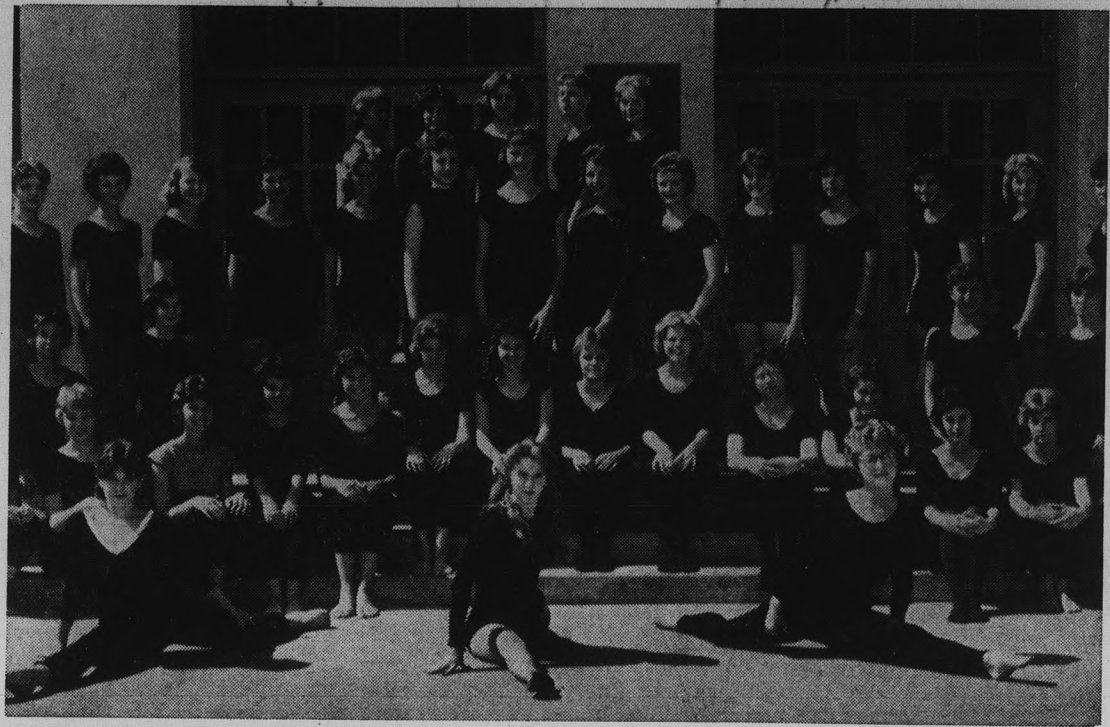

OOPS!

We Goofed

Our faces are red, and its not due to the heat. Due to a misunderstanding, this issue of the State Press was published today, Monday, instead of last Friday . . . sorry.

For the remainder of the summer sessions, the State Press will appear on Fridays.

Yours for the summer,
Carol Osman

MUSIC CAMP DANCERS — These modern dance class participants are among the 300 high school students enrolled in the 16th Arizona All-State Music Camp, currently being held on the ASU campus. Demonstrating the split are (l to r) Only Renrod, Patsy Stone and Loa Ella Brown.

Union Offers Many Events

- MONDAY
- 3 p.m.—Tour of Radio-T.V. Bureau, Engineering Center Room 118
 - 1 p.m.—Tour of the Planetarium
 - 7:30 p.m.—Same
 - 8 p.m.—Square Dancing, MU Clancy's
- TUESDAY
- 8 p.m.—Speaker, Dr. Hubert Herring. "The Chips are Down in Latin America." MU Ballroom.
- WEDNESDAY
- 9-10:30 a.m.—Coffee Hour, MU lower lounge
 - 6:45-8:15 p.m. — Intermediate Dance Lessons, MU Clancy's
 - 8:15-9:45 p.m.—Advanced Dance Lessons, MU Clancy's
 - 8 p.m.—Music Camp Solo Recital, MU ballroom
- THURSDAY
- 12:30-2 p.m.—Lecture-luncheon, Dr. Joel Dauten speaker in MU 218
 - 3 p.m.—Trip to Desert Botanical Gardens
 - 6:45-8:15 p.m. — Intermediate Dance Lessons, MU Clancy's
 - 8:15-9:45 p.m.—Advanced Dance Lessons, MU Clancy's
 - 7:30 p.m.—Movie "To Catch a Thief," Cosner Auditorium

- 8:15 p.m.—Star Gazing, Roof of Physical Science building
 - 9 p.m.—Same
- FRIDAY
- 6:30 p.m.—Bridge Lessons, MU 209
 - 7:30 p.m.—Bridge Play, Mu lower lounge

Student Honored With Fellowship

Roy J. Ruffin, Jr., an ASU graduate of the College of Business Administration, has been named recipient of the first H. B. Earhart Foundation Fellowship granted at ASU.

William Huizingh, assistant dean of the College of Business Administration, announced Ruffin's fellowship, a grant of $1,500 and his tuition for a year.

The program of the foundation, of which Huizingh is a member, is designed to help recruit from among college seniors outstanding candidates for graduate study in order to encourage them to become college teachers.

ASU Receives $149,354 In Grants, Gifts, Loans

Arizona State University has been awarded $149,354 in research grants, equipment, gifts, loan funds and scholarships since April 15, it was reported by Dr. G. Homer Durham, ASU president.

Largest amount—$101,428—came in the form of contracts or grants from the following sponsoring agencies:

U. S. Office of Education, $59,423 for the 1961-62 academic year Institute in Counseling and Guidance training, under the direction of Dr. Sanford S. Davis, professor of education.

National Science Foundation, $11,140 for an in-service institute for the training of junior and senior high school teachers of science and mathematics from September 1961 through June 1962, under the direction of Dr. Ernest E. Snyder, associate professor of science education.

U. S. Public Health Service, Bethesda, Md., $14,908 for the further integration of the concepts of psychiatric nursing into the basic curriculum of the School of Nursing, under the direction of Mrs. Loretta Hanner, director of the school.

American Chemical Society, $8,670 for a "Crystallographic Study of Strained Olefins," under the direction of Dr. Clarence Carpenter, assistant professor of chemistry.

U. S. National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md., $6,887 for "Immunological Studies on Coccidioides Immitis (Valley Fever)," under the direction of Dr. William T. Northey, assistant professor of microbiology.

Poultry and Egg National Board, $500 for a study of "Nutrition in the Elementary Schools," under the direction of Dr. Ernest Parker, professor of animal husbandry.

Dr. Durham also reported gifts of $11,000 from the Beckman Instruments Company of California for electrical engineering equipment for the School of Engineering and of $5,000 from the Reynolds Metals Company of Richmond, Va., for books and periodicals in engineering and allied fields.

Included in other gifts are a Wagner tractor, Comet radial power saw and miscellaneous construction equipment, valued at $22,278, from the Fisher Contracting Company, of Phoenix, to the university's physical plant.

Scholarship gifts include $50 from Alpha Lambda Delta sorority for an in-coming freshman girl for the first semester; $100 from the Delta Nu Alpha transportation fraternity for a student enrolled in the College of Business Administration majoring in transportation.

An annual $500 scholarship for a male student majoring in civil engineering from the concrete Pipe Industry of Arizona, Phoenix; a graduate scholarship of $800 to $1,000 from Alpha Sigma Alpha, Lancaster County Public Schools, Lancaster, Pa., for preparing teachers of mentally retarded children.

A grant of $2,500 from the General Electric Company to continue support of the General Electric Computer Department honor program for 1961-62; and a $100 scholarship from the Arizona Recreation Association to be awarded every other year by Clarence Allan, Scottsdale.

The ASU president also reported a gift in the form of a long-term student loan fund of $5,398.41 from the Disabled American Veterans in memory of the late Dorothy E. Bailie.

ASU Students Are Winners

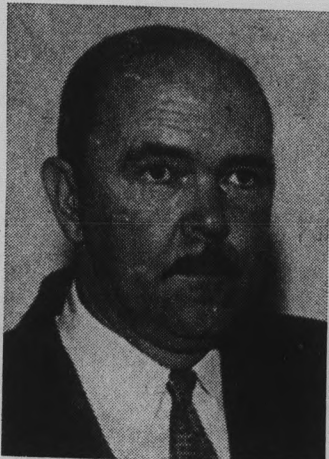

Four students in commercial art classes of Tom Harter, ASU professor of art, have won prizes in the West's largest advertising art contest.

"Out of four student entries, we received four prizes," Professor Harter said. Three of the prize winners are beginning art students.

The ASU winners are Donna Laws, $100 first prize; Lynda Lecky, $50 second prize; Charles Bramen, $25 third prize and Karen Sorgatz, honorable mention.

The annual contest, sponsored by Advertising Association of the West and Zellerbach Paper Co., covers 13 western states and four Canadian provinces. Posters submitted for competition were judged by top men in the advertising field.

PROFESSOR HARTER instructed four art contest winners.

Kappa Delta Pi Meets Tomorrow

A summer organizational meeting is scheduled by members of Kappa Delta Pi, national education honorary, for tomorrow at 12:45 p.m. in MU 210.

Newly elected officers are: Robert Frazier, president; Mrs. Jack Verner, vice president;

Carol Coon, secretary; Alvin Shipley, treasurer, and Larry McGrath, historian-reporter.

ASU summer session students belonging to Beta Phi chapter and other chapters are invited to attend this meeting.

Natural Science Institute Hosts 39 Educators

Thirty-nine teacher-students from 26 states are enrolled in ASU's summer institute in natural sciences for elementary school teachers and supervisors.

Supported by a grant from the National Science Foundation of $31,300, the nation-wide student educators will study under the direction of Dr. Theodore W. Munch, ASU associate professor of science education.

Arizona State University is one of 19 colleges and universities throughout the nation selected by NSF as a summer training center for elementary school teachers.

Cosner Movie

Cary Grant and Grace Kelly star in "To Catch A Thief", being shown at the Cosner Auditorium Thursday and Friday evenings. The movie, free of charge, is set in the lush background of the French Riviera.

Memorial Union Sponsors Luncheons, Lectures

"Why Humanity — Learning Not a Burden but a Delight" was the topic of Dr. Ernest D. Parker, featured speaker in the first of a lecture-luncheon series held Thursday in the MU.

A professor of animal husbandry, Dr. Parker received his first two degrees from the University of Halle and his doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Leipzig, Germany.

Dr. Joel Dauten, professor and Chairman of the Department of General Business, College of Business Administration, will speak on "Personal and Family Finance" in the second of the series, scheduled for 12:30 p.m. Thursday in MU 218.

All professors advise that summer session students keep up with all class work, as these are accelerated classes and students can't afford to waste time.

Remember to stay calm, cool and collected at all times . . . especially when you are looking at the thermometer.

NOTICE

Those wishing to submit items to the State Press, may slip them under the State Press office door, MU 211, or leave them at the MU Information Desk.

Feature ideas would be appreciated.