Record Number Votes -

Rankin, Evans Will Reign As Homecoming Royal Pair

Linda Rankin and Ron Evans were crowned 1961 Homecoming royalty at the Coronation Ball last night at 10 in the MU ballroom. They won over 10 candidates for Queen and nine for King in yesterday's election.

A record-breaking 2,050 students placed their ballots; the election was also to place two freshman senators and decide upon five subjects in the ASASU plebiscite. (The senatorial results are in a separate story; Plebiscite finals will be announced Friday.)

Runners-up for Homecoming Queen were Lynda Salisbury and Brenda Tibshraeny. They received 295 and 268 votes, respectively, while Miss Rankin won with 483.

Evans received 412 votes. His runners-up, Howie Bernstein and Wayne Cole, got 311 and 256, respectively.

The King and Queen will appear on "Phoenix Marquee" (4:30 p.m., KTVK television, Channel 3) tomorrow, talking about themselves and Homecoming Week in general.

They will be interviewed at 4:30 Friday on KTAR-TV, Channel 12.

Miss Rankin, a senior majoring in Education, is president of Alpha Delta Pi sorority; president of Kaydettes, Army ROTC auxiliary; and co-chairman of Homecoming Week.

She was society editor of the State Press second semester last year, receiving the "Hoppy" award for her service. Miss Rankin is a member of Pi Delta Epsilon, national Journalism honorary; and Little Sisters of Minerva, auxiliary of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, ASU Phi Alpha colony.

She was Outstanding Freshman Woman of 1959 and Queen of Hearts two years ago.

Homecoming King Ron Evans is a senior majoring in Management in the College of Business Administration.

He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, past vice-chairman of the Election Board and served as cover man for the 1961-62 University catalog.

Evans was Man of the Year, voted by the Little Sisters of Minerva last year; and fraternity vice president.

The royal pair was awarded gifts from various Valley merchants at the ball last night.

Linda received the following: (gift certificates) $10 from Diamonds, Park Central; $5 from Togs, Scottsdale; $5 from Porter's, Tempe; $5 from Roblee, Scottsdale; and $5 from Jody Iris Bootery, Scottsdale.

She was presented with a bouquet of flowers last night and will receive another bouquet plus a corsage and trophy at the Homecoming game Saturday.

Evans received a $35 gift certificate from Hanny's, Phoenix; a $25 one from the Phoenix Gentry Shop; a sport shirt from the Tom Sawyer Shop, Phoenix; a trenchcoat from the Americana Shop, Phoenix; and slacks from the Campus Men's Shop, Tempe.

Both the King and Queen were presented dinner tickets for themselves and guests from Durant's, Phoenix.

Executive Council Plans Meeting With Tempe On Avenue Closing

Gary Walker, ASASU president, announced last Friday that student councilmen will confer with Tempe city councilmen concerning the closing of College Ave. and Orange St. to all traffic on campus.

"The street closing will have a two-fold purpose," explained Jim Chilton, ASASU vice president, "to maximize safety conditions on campus and to intensify the beauty of our school."

In other action, President Walker appointed Dick Langmade, chairman of the Elections Board, to arrange a showcase dedicated to Secretary of State, Dean Rusk.

Walker said this action was prompted by an informal survey he had taken in which eleven students were unable to tell him who Rusk was, or what position he held.

Along with Rusk, the showcase will feature reports on the Berlin crisis and the students' draft status. These reports are to be compiled by J. C. Brown and Ed Manley respectively.

The motion concerning segregated seating in Sun Devil Stadium presented last week was tabled in favor of placing it on the Plebiscite to gain the benefit of student opinion.

Proclamation

WHEREAS, the week of October fifteenth through October twenty-first has been designated National Newspaper Week, emphasizing the theme "Your Newspaper - Freedom's Guardian;" and

WHEREAS, during this year of 1961 when America is beset by crisis without and within our borders, the preservation of all freedom is a sacred obligation of the press; and

WHEREAS, our newspapers as representatives of the free press of America aid materially in bringing about desired civic and state improvements by calling to the attention of our citizens to these needed improvements; and

WHEREAS, our newspapers accept as a solemn trust the passing on to our youth the sacred heritage of a free press in order to assist them in keeping their government and their lives free,

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Paul J. Fannin, Governor, do hereby proclaim the week of October fifteenth through October twenty-first, 1961, as in Arizona, and urge our citizens to join in the observance of this week and to reflect upon the great tradition of the free press of these United States, and upon the theme of National Newspaper Week, "Your Newspaper - Freedom's Guardian."

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Arizona to be affixed at Phoenix, the Capital, this twenty-fifth day of September, in the year of our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Sixty-one.

A Peek Inside

Is the City of Tempe doing ASU a favor or should Tempe feel lucky for having Arizona State? Bill Overend expresses his opinion on the Editorial Page. See "I Cover College Avenue."

Dana, Wochner Are Elected To Freshman Senate Seats

Freshmen elected Steve Dana and Karl Wochner as their representatives to the student senate.

Defeated were Bob Coar and Kermit Thompson.

Dana received 417 votes and Wochner got 385.

Dana is a Management major and is a member of the Latter-day Saints Church.

Student body president of Mesa High school last year, he worked on the MHS student council four years and attended three student council conventions.

He won the Elks Leadership Award, the Lee Kramer Award at Mesa; was Junior Rotarian, and holds an Eagle Scout Duty to God Award.

Wochner is majoring in Pre-Dentistry and is a member of the Rally and Traditions Board.

He was student body president of Tempe Union High school last year, won the American Legion and Thom McAn awards, and was named to "Who's Who Among Students in American High Schools."

HERE'S WHO TO VOTE FOR - Supporters for the 19 Homecoming royalty candidates kept the College Ave - Orange St. corner busy yesterday with signs, banners, handbills and name tags for their respective choices. Motor scooters, go-carts and decorated vehicles of varied sorts driven throughout campus added to the spirit.

Placement Notices -

First Recruiting Set For Oct. 23

Dr. Robert F. Menke, Director of Placement, announced recently that Oct. 23 is scheduled as the first day of campus recruiting.

Seniors and graduates not yet registered with Placement Center are urged to come to Room 101, Administration Building.

The Union Carbide Chemical Company will hold the first interview. The company will interview mechanical engineers, electrical engineers, chemical engineers and chemists.

Dr. Menke has also announced that the Naval Reserve is now accepting applications for the Navy College Aptitude Test, to be administered this December.

Students interested in Navy officer programs may obtain information Oct. 25 from Navy LCDR Vince Maggiore and Lt. Hal Pierce, who will be available on the MU patio to interview candidates from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Brown Releases Mail Notice

J. C. Brown, ASASU organization and leadership chairman, reports that all organizations with mailboxes in the MU should pick up their mail at least once a week... they're getting cluttered.

GET IN THE VOTE — An impressive number of students showed up at the polls to vote in yesterday's elections. Three issues were on ballot: Homecoming King and Queen, freshman senators and topics for the ASASU Plebiscite.

Homecoming Rally Thurs. Night At 7

"Take time out from those last minute touches to Homecoming decorations and join us at the pep rally tomorrow night," invited Sue Cantwell, chairman of the Homecoming Rally Committee.

"We're starting in the parking lot between Irish and Hayden Halls at 7 p.m. and will wind up at the bonfire in the vacant lot by the stadium at 8 p.m.," she continued.

The rally will move from Irish Hall north on College Avenue, with a brief stop at the quadrangle, then turn right at 8th Street and proceed to the bonfire. Cars are being furnished by Bill Luke Chrysler.

Guests for the event will include—besides the Homecoming King and Queen—Head Football Coach Frank Kush, Student Body President Gary Walker, Alumni secretary James Creasman and football team co-captains, Fred Rhoades and Dick Locke.

The pep squad, pompon girls, cheerleaders and mascot will also be on hand to add pep and spirit to the rally.

An Oregon State "beaver," donated by East Hall, will be burned at the bonfire. Refreshments will be served to climax the rally.

Navy Recruiters Here Tomorrow

Officers from the U. S. Navy Recruiting Station at Los Angeles and the U. S. Naval Air Station, Long Beach, Calif., will be on the ASU campus tomorrow and Friday to counsel interested students concerning officer programs in the U. S. Navy.

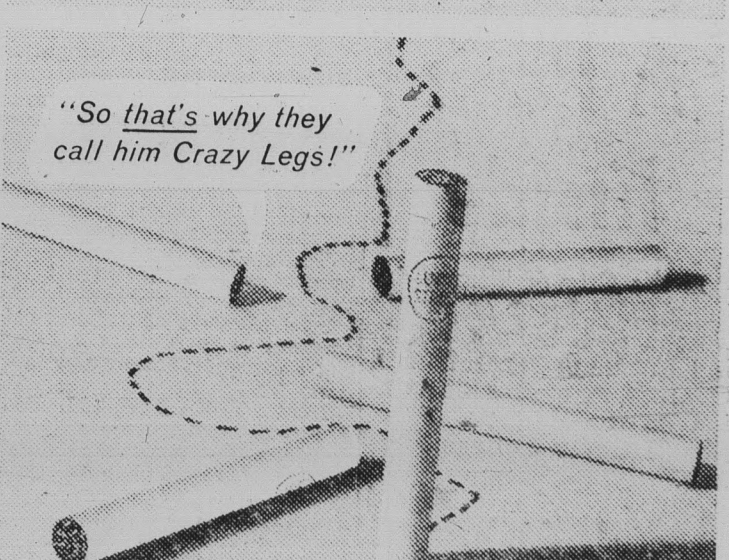

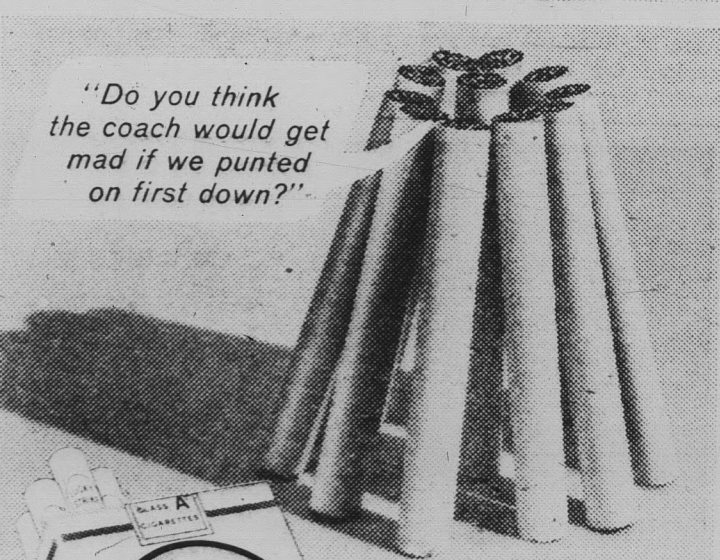

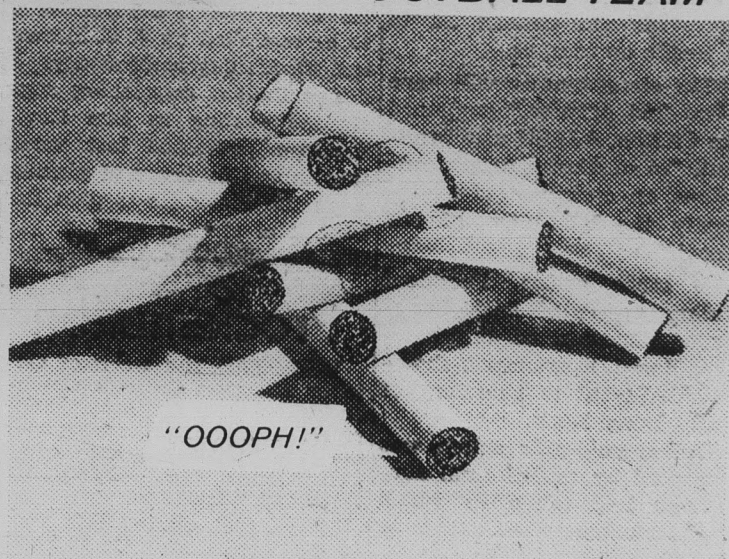

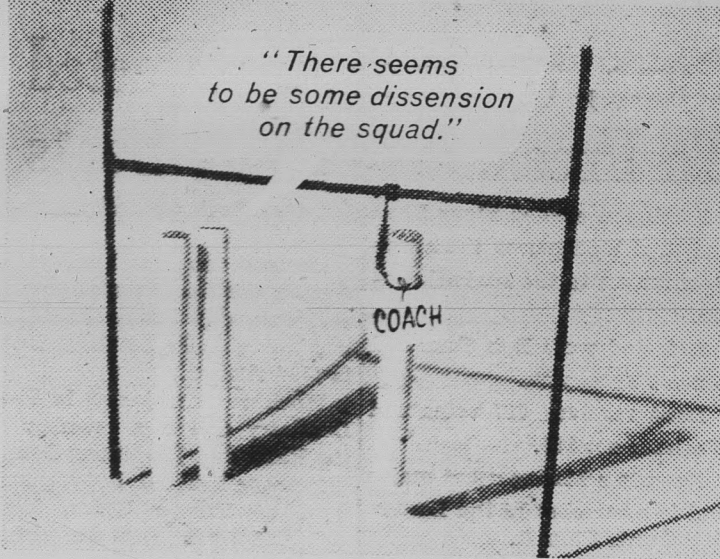

The information team will set up shop on the patio of the MU's Devils Den.

Commissions are available in the fields of line officer, aviation, engineering, supply corps, medical service corps and other specialties. Commissions also are available to qualified women in the Navy Nurse Corps and in the WAVES. Officer qualification tests will be administered on campus.

LUCKY STRIKE presents:

LUCKY TUFFERS

"THE FOOTBALL TEAM"

WHY ONLY 11 MEN ON A FOOTBALL TEAM? Because all the other students are just too busy. Yes, busy doing research, studying, smoking Luckies, playing bongos, smoking Luckies, dating, partying, praising professors and smoking Luckies—much too busy for football. Why so many "smoking Luckies"? Simply this: We try to give an honest representation of college life; and college students smoke more Luckies than any other regular cigarette — so smoke Luckies.

CHANGE TO LUCKIES and get some taste for a change!

IN TV SERIES -- Richard Rodgers, composer of the music for "Oklahoma!," "Carousel," "South Pacific" and "Victory at Sea," among others, is one of the personalities the National Educational Television system will bring to audiences of KAET, ASU's television Channel 8, Wednesday nights. The show is "Heritage," starting tonight at 9 p.m.

Industrial Education Advancing

Under the direction of Miss Lucile Kaufman, assistant professor of Engineering, the division of Industrial Education is steadily developing.

Miss Kaufman is solely responsible for the technical design program in the division of Industrial Education and has been with ASU since 1950.

According to Miss Kaufman, 24 new drafting tables complete with machines have been added to the new technical design headquarters located in the old Visual Aids building. These drafting machines eliminate the necessity of students bringing triangles, protractors and "T" squares to class.

A new blueprint laboratory also has been added — a first for ASU.

Librarian Says Staff Must Protect Matthews Materials

"Because we have an open stack arrangement, the library staff must protect the materials for the use of the entire student body of ASU."

The statement was made by Frank A. Schneider, assistant librarian of Matthews Library.

Schneider went on to say that "an attempt is made to check each book withdrawn from the book stack area. This necessitates that the library staff check large purses and briefcases belonging to students, faculty and staff leaving the stacks."

"The open stack arrangement has many advantages to the users of the library," said Schneider. An alternate plan to this is the closed stack arrangement whereby students are not allowed into the stacks. Instead, library assistants are employed to bring the books a student may wish from the stacks to him. This causes a large waste of time on the part of both the library staff and the library users. It does, however, protect the library materials from unauthorized borrowing.

Material Asked For Prospector

The ASU department of English has announced that it is now accepting manuscripts for the third annual Prospector.

Areas of writing accepted are Prose, Fiction, Non-Fictional Prose, and Poetry. There is a limit of 2,000 words per manuscript for the first two categories.

Deadline for contributions is Nov. 22 and publication date is Dec. 14. All manuscripts can be turned into Eng. 114 or to any English professor.

Today we painted some music

It may seem unusual that these youngsters are painting "by ear"... turning music from the classroom radio into colorful pictures. But this is the kind of creativeness the Standard School Broadcast inspires

Currently, the program's theme is "Music—Passport to the World." Using our listening guide, teachers relate music to geography, history, art, folklore, literature.

This helps children gain insight into the life and culture of the peoples of the world. It leads to better and quicker understanding of both the music and the other studies.

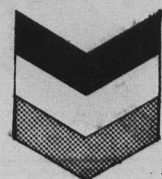

By playing and dramatizing all types of music—from symphony to jazz, Thailand dances to Broadway hits, the program adds a new, delightful dimension to learning.

We started this program 33 years ago, never dreaming our listening family would grow to include 2½ million children in classrooms. Now countless adults, too, have discovered how entertaining and informative the broadcasts are at home.

If you'd like to know why the program has such wide appeal, try tuning in on Thursdays. We think you will enjoy it, too.

Pay! Pay! Pay! Pay!

That's right, gang, chip in! We've got a town living off us, so let's keep throwing some loot its way. The shape Tempe's in right now, it needs all the money it can get.

This happening to be National Newspaper Week, we felt it appropriate to let you know a bit about how to turn in articles for publication.

Actually, it would be simpler to tell you how NOT to do same. Yes, there is a way . . . like shoving the gear into first while the car's still in third or fourth or whatever, depending on the type of shift . . . or like cracking an egg into the pan without adding half the shells.

Now, we newspaper people (there used to be a sign up here: "Please Don't Feed the Journalists") are conditioned from the start how to handle all sorts of people, probably including you.

So no matter what you say, we most likely have in our vast minds a retort. And don't worry about our forgetting some cross-remark: before anyone is placed on the masthead staff, he is drilled in a rehabilitation program featuring the comments most likely to pop up during his term on the staff.

First of all, let it be known that we do not promise anything . . . ever! The most prominent story may be replaced at the last minute by what we feel is a more important article; i.e., a mass riot on the Old Main steps over the Tri-Rho annual Black-and-White brunch.

Okay . . . how should you go about working with us? Here's how NOT to . . .

"Print on Friday — No Exceptions," we read on the information sheet (sheets are at the front counter for organizations). We showed there are exceptions, one at least: it didn't get printed at all.

Ditto this one: "Must be in Friday's paper—" . . . nothing is a must, save for living, dying and paying taxes, right?

My pet peeve (getting personal) is such a conversation: "Get this in tomorrow's paper and don't change a word of my copy. If you've got to edit it, don't print it at all." Guess what!

Please understand, dear readers, our space limitations. We amateurs are working with extremely tight papers and are responsible for what gets in. Sometimes, of course, our choices are wrong. We won't ever be able to please everyone, but remember, there are lots of other groups besides yours.

So think before you gripe; there's a reason for everything that happens . . . to you or for you.

AFTER-THOUGHT — "You may have a heart of gold, but so does a hard-boiled egg" . . .

Be Christian! What if informed sources do say ASU students already bring in some $200,000 to $1,000,000 every month for the Tempe Tycoons! What if this University is the main attraction for new businesses and industry entering the Tempe area!

The merchants want more money — and I mean MORE!

That's why we get to pay fifteen lousy cents for a cup of coffee at the "House of Pancakes" and the "Tempe Sands."

No need to get carried away however. What if some Tempe residents are greedy! Their actions show what they really think of this campus and its students.

Like when they tried to force the police to throw us all in jail last year for our motor caravans during the NCAA basketball tournament.

Or their declaration that this school could burn to the ground, and we wouldn't get any help from the Tempe Fire Department, 'cause we don't give 'em any money.

Wake up! Tempe would be a dusty street without us. Without our money, many of its leading businesses would fold. Without our facilities, our library, our football team, and every other phase of this school, Tempe would have to hang it up.

Hats off to the many students who answered the State Press editorial about a student in need. It's refreshing, and a little inspiring, to see that people can still find time to give a hand to a stranger in trouble. Yours is the kind of attitude that makes for good men, and a strong, close-knit university.

Been down to the games room this year? They've really got it organized down there. Friendly little feller behind the desk tells me the only problem they've got is thievery.

Seems like everybody tries to walk out with the ping pong balls, cue sticks, billiard balls, etc.

So cut out the hi-jacking boys; they mean well.

Advice to the female Peace Corps member who so adeptly inserted foot in mouth in Nigeria — with your talent, baby, you ought to switch to writing college columns.

Blood Needed Tomorrow

We would like to commend the Army ROTC on their current project to help a fellow cadet's wife with blood donations.

Cadet Col. Thomas A. Wadham, Army ROTC battle group commander, said that several friends of the student asked him to enlist the aid of the Corps.

After a call to the Southwest Blood Bank, it was arranged for the bank to furnish necessary equipment at the University Infirmary tomorrow from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Kaydettes, ROTC auxiliary, including new members, recently selected, will be on hand to serve refreshments to donors.

Blood is needed by the cadet's wife to help offset the unusually large blood debt and hospital bills incurred while giving birth to twins.

Army ROTC cadets who donate tomorrow will receive merits; others will have that lasting satisfaction of knowing they helped.

Donors under 21 years of age need their parents' written consent. Forms are available now at the Infirmary.

Letters To The Editor

Campus Security Offered Book Title

To the Editor:

I believe-I have the appropriate title for the book the Campus Security seems to be writing—"How to Lose Friends and Not Influence People."

The police seem to be more interested in a parking sticker being six inches one way or the other instead of who is parking in my lot with no sticker and keeping me from a place.

Campus Security does a very good job at the football games, and I hope that this will also turn out to be the case on campus from now on.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"NOW ARE THERE ANY OTHER SUGGESTIONS ON HOW WE MIGHT MAKE THIS COURSE MORE PRACTICAL?"

Standard A Bit Higher, Please

To the Editor:

Overall, I think you and your staff do a highly commendable job. Please consider my suggestion on improving the State Press.

In the Friday, Oct. 13 edition on Page 3, an unusual — and pleasing — photograph of female legs was supported by an explanation that reeks of puritanistic overtones; specifically: ". . . pull down the skirts, thank you."

To me, puritanistic thoughts and their expressions are embraced today by a sick lot. This includes, for example, such stereotypes as: fanatical, asinine do-gooders, or highly prejudiced religious addicts, or those phony, two-faced better-than-you-are people that are engrossed in a self-made social standing.

I hope that puritanistic expressions do not find any acceptance on our campus or any future inclusions in the State Press.

As for the photograph of legs, a masculine man would enjoy seeing those skirts a bit higher, if anything. Even the vogue is for shorter skirts.

Rudolf R. Novak

Editor's Note: Alas, 'twould be sad 'twere a man's masculinity depended on what he liked to look at. And, in my opinion, a masculine man wouldn't need to get his thrills from looking at pictures.

P. S. Thanks for your compliment.

Former Student Author of Book

A former ASU graduate student, Theodore F. Henning, has written a book, "Buritis in Paradise" published by Greenwich Book Publishers, Inc., New York, N. Y.

The book concerns bureaucracy in the Trust Territory of the Pacific, where Henning was a teacher-trainer in the territorial administration.

The book is described as "the revealing story of a dedicated teacher's conflict with officialdom."

Language Plan Is Inaugurated

Dr. Russell K. Bowman, chairman of the Department of Foreign Languages, recently disclosed that a new long range program for the student preparing to teach Spanish in elementary schools, was inaugurated this fall.

For the teaching graduate desiring a preparatory program for teaching Spanish in elementary schools, the following sequence of courses is available: SP 485, SP 486, SU 487 and SP 488g. This is a correction of courses as listed in the catalog.

Plan Initiated By Guidance To Aid Gifted

ASU's Guidance Center, under the direction of Dr. Robert Heimann, has prepared a program to help develop the greatest potential among the academically talented of this year's freshman class.

The program, labeled "Project Talent," will include freshmen who are in the upper 10 per cent of their group, based on national averages. The freshmen will be rated on their College Qualification Test scores.

The program will assist these students in making decisions on vocational, educational and personal planning. Tests, occupational information, scholarship materials and individual counseling will be offered. The counseling will be done by advanced doctoral students under Dr. Heimann's supervision.

Implications

Hi there! This is your little implicating devil again with your "gripes" about good ole ASU. Keep those cards and letters coming in (as they say on KASN) with your implications.

cept in a couple of rare instances) the job of announcing on camera was done by the faculty of the Radio and TV department. But, the student, we are sorry to report, is only "standing in" and will be back running a camera again on Monday. Let's hope we get to see more "students" doing on-camera work.

Wanted: Someone to pick up the bodies of students who tried to dart across College Ave. in front of the SS building.

Hey there! The ole Den looks real nice, with the flowers and pictures. Good show! Now all that is needed is an addition to the bookshelf. We saw one freshman girl almost crushed to death by an avalanche of books that slipped when she tried to get her book.

Luckily, a nice marine who was recruiting on the patio saved her.

Old deans never die; they just lose their faculties.

In 1958, a total of 443 men and 134 women quit school at the end of the first semester. Most of the withdrawals were blamed on the students falling behind in their class work.

had a one-man conference about your future lately?

You: Why the gold bars?
Future You: You're needed... just as your father and grandfather were. It's an obligation that a lot of qualified college men have to meet. If we don't...

You: All right. But what can I do for the Air Force?
Future You: The Air Force needs college trained men and women as officers. This is caused by the rapidly advancing technology that goes with hypersonic air and space flight. Your four years of college have equipped you to handle complex jobs.

You: Say I was interested... how can I get to be an officer?
Future You: You know about Air Force ROTC and the Air Force Academy. Then there's the navigator training program. You've probably heard about Officer Training School... where the Air Force takes certain college graduates, both men and women, and commissions them after three months of training.

You: Starting salary is important. What about that?
Future You: Add it up. Base pay, tax-free allowances, free medical and dental care, retirement provision, perhaps flight pay. You don't have to be an eco major to see it adds up to an attractive package.

You: I've been thinking about getting my Master's.
Future You: As an officer you can apply for the Air Force Institute of Technology. At no cost, and while on active duty some officers may even win their Ph.D. degrees.

You: Tell me more.

Unusual Panel Set Thursday

A birth control panel discussion will be presented by faculty members of the Sociology department and some birth control experts at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the MU upper lounge.

Dr. Sherman K. Fitzgerald, assistant professor of Sociology, will moderate the panel with Dr. Fred Lindstrom, associate professor of Sociology and Dr. James O. Fuzzell, M.D., of the Planned Parenthood Clinic at Memorial Hospital supporting the issue. Arven Richardson, advisor for the Church of Latter Day Saints at ASU, and Dr. Oscar Harden, M.D., will oppose birth control on the panel.

The discussion will be followed by a social hour and refreshments. "This, we hope, will be but the first of many similar get-togethers," said Ellen Chamberlain, president of the Sociology Club.

Goal Posts Are Problem Of 'Spirited'

College football games are the basket where many customs and traditions are collected.

In long past years and in present times, it was quite the thing to tear down the goal posts at the end of a victorious game. The primary purpose was to break up the posts and grab a piece to have as a trophy of the victory.

Well, students, they don't make them like they used to. Instead of using breakable wood they have substituted unbreakable steel. Anyone who wants a souvenir from these goal posts is going to have an over amount of school spirit or an extra sharp ax.

According to Mrs. Elaine McFarland, Director of Student Health Service, someone could acquire numerous injuries in the process of tearing down the ASU steel goal posts.

Most of that extra spirit could be used during the games. There is a time and place for everything. The Rally and Traditions Board has been notified that the ASU campus police will be stationed at the games to help remind the students.

YD's To Show Film At Cosner

"Compulsion," the story of the Leopold and Loeb sensational murder trial, will be shown Friday at 7:30 in Cosner auditorium.

The movie stars Orson Welles, Bradford Dilliam, Diane Varsi and Dean Stockwell.

The Young Democrats are sponsoring the film, which won the Cannes Film Festival Award plus an award from the New York film critics.

Admission is by donation.

'62 CORVAIR MONZA

NEW FACE, SAME SPORTING HEART

We might as well tell you straight off: Corvair's the car for the driving enthusiast. Think that lets you out? Maybe. Maybe not.

Until you've driven one, you really can't say for sure, because Corvair's kind of driving is like no other in the land: The amazing air-cooled rear engine sees to that. You swing around curves flat as you please, in complete control. You whip through the sticky spots other cars should keep out of in the first place. (Especially this year, now that you can get Positraction as an extra-cost option.) You stop smoothly, levelly with Corvair's beautifully balanced, bigger brakes.

And Corvair's found other new ways to please you this year. A forced-air heater and defroster are standard equipment on all coupes, sedans and both Monza and 700 Station Wagons. So are dual sunshades and front-door armrests and some other goodies. You'll note some new styling, inside and out. Nice. And safety-belt installation is easier, too, and cheaper. Another extra-cost option well worth considering is the heavy-duty front and rear suspension; it turns a Corvair into a real tiger.

So you can see we haven't really done much to Corvair this year. Why on earth should we? If this car, just as she is, can't make a driving enthusiast out of you, better take a cab.

A New World of Worth

And here's America's only thoroughbred sports car, the '62 CORVETTE. We warn you: If you drive a Corvette after your first sampling of a Corvair, you may well end up a two-car man. And who could blame you?

Faculty Facts

Dr. Robert Ashe, ASU professor of Education, and Dr. John B. Barnes, ASU associate professor of Education, will conduct a survey of school buildings and sites for the Peoria public school system.

"The many indices of growth in the Peoria area demand that comprehensive studies and plans be developed," Dr. Barnes said, in explaining reasons behind the new survey.

Lt. Col. Theodore Wyckoff has been appointed chairman of the ASU department of Military Science, Dr. Arnold Tilden, dean of the College of Liberal Arts announced.

Lt. Col. Wyckoff, recent chief of the World War II Histories Branch, is a holder of the Master of Arts degree and a public affairs degree in political science awarded by Princeton University.

Sidney W. Wilcox, ASU assistant professor of Technical Communications, attended the United Nations Conference on New Sources of Energy including representatives of 61 nations in Rome, Italy, Aug. 21-31.

At Wilcox's suggestion, each participant in the conference received a copy of the "Sun at Work," published by the Association for Applied Solar energy, the headquarters of which are at ASU.

"Technical Managers and Human Relations," an article by Dr. Keith Davis, chairman of the Management department, appears in "Proceedings of the Industrial Engineering Institute" from the University of California at Berkeley.

In this article, Dr. Davis points out ways to overcome the training deficiency in human relations which technical men usually have.

Miss Moorehead Thanks Audience After Saturday Night's Performance

By MARNE PERKINS

Miss Agnes Moorehead and her audience were equally appreciative after her Saturday night ASU appearance in that "Fabulous Redhead."

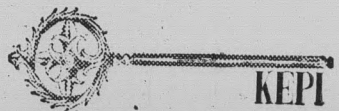

"You were a wonderful audience," she commented at the reception after the play. "I should be thanking you, not you thanking me. I'd go home and say, 'you haven't played theater till you've played Phoenix,' but they wouldn't understand what I meant."

"Finish college," was Miss Moorehead's advice to aspiring actors and actresses. "Some people have an instinct for acting," she said. "But it's so much better if you have instinct plus intelligence. My education was invaluable in helping me."

Strong gestures are characteristic of Miss Moorehead. During her interpretation of the Bible story, "Noah and the Ark," she constructed the ark imaginatively with her hands. Her fingers traced the movement of the wave's brown dulling foam in Rupert Brooke's poem, "The Great Lover." At the reception, her red hair tossed back and forth and her eyes closed as she expressed herself.

Miss Moorehead plans to act in two plays in the future, "Divine" and "Preparation for Murder," both to be produced by Paul Gregory. Charles Boyer will star with her in "Divine."

Performance By Durham Set Oct. 20

A musical composition by George H. Durham, father of President G. Homer Durham, will have its Arizona premiere Friday at 8:15 in the MU Ballroom.

Eugene P. Lombard, ASU assistant professor of Music, will conduct the ASU Symphony Orchestra, presenting the score, "A New England Pastorale Sketch."

The Symphony Orchestra will also present Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony," Frescobaldi's "Toccata," "Intermezzo" from 'Hary Janos Suite' by Kodaly; Brahms' "Hungarian Dance Number 5;" and "Revival" by Morton Gould, a fantasy on Negro spirituals.

Campus Group Discusses Books

A great books discussion group is being started on the ASU campus.

The group, sponsored by assistant Dean of Students William Coulson and his wife, will have its first meeting Thursday from 7:45 to 9:45 p.m. in the Catholic Student Center.

The meetings will be at the same time and place every other Thursday. Books to be discussed through the year will include the "Communist Manifesto," "The Federalist Papers," and works by Aristotle and Plato.

Foreign Citizens Enrich Campus

There are about 150 foreign students attending ASU this year.

These students are citizens of 42 countries from all over the world. They are members of the Foreign Club, of which Fikret Kirdar from Bagdad, Iraq, is president.

The purpose of the club, according to Kirdar, is not to segregate foreign students but to be a medium between them and American students and to help acquaint them with the American culture.

Last year 65 students spoke at various clubs, churches and civic groups throughout the Valley. The income from these engagements was applied to the fund for foreign students needing financial aid.

The Foreign Club's main event of the year is an international variety show with students exhibiting something unique from their own country. An international dinner follows the show, with dishes being served from throughout the world. It is scheduled for this spring and is open to the public. Last year over 400 people attended this affair.

Asked what he thought of the American culture, Kirdar said that he likes it here very much and that when he goes back to Iraq, he hopes to make good use of what he has learned here.

Board Requests Posting Change

The MU Board requests that personal messages not be left on the bulletin board near the a la carte side of the cafeteria.

The first report, received yesterday, concerning opening the bowling alleys an hour earlier, was not accepted. Further investigation will be made.

In keeping with the policy of the MU Board, all campus posters on MU grounds will be removed and may be claimed in the MU building.

Limited supplies of two free books are now available at the Placement Center, Dr. Robert F. Menke, Director of Placement, said recently.

"Career for the College Man" contains information on specific employers plus a variety of interesting articles to students planning business or governmental careers. Of importance to men is the program summary for discharging military obligations.

The second book is the "College Placement Annual," a 450-page publication. It is the most comprehensive of its kind for graduates seeking employment.

These books will be given each student registering for Commercial Placement.

"Career" is available on a first-come-first-served basis.

ASU Club To Sponsor Discussions

Classes are larger than ever and the former opportunities for students and faculty to become better acquainted in informal, social situations are rare.

The Sociology Club and the faculty of the department of Sociology and Anthropology are planning a series of informal discussions and social meetings to begin in the near future. "At last this will be a start toward better relations in our department," said Dr. R. J. Ruppe, chairman of the department of Sociology and Anthropology.

Activities Galore On ASU Campus

Contain Buffs' Pete Pedro; Next Foe Is Oregon State

By BOB JACOBSEN

"We had fine team pursuit — which we had to have to contain Pedro," commented Head Coach Frank Kush after his Sun Devils smashed West Texas State's dream of Border Conference supremacy 28-11 Saturday night at Canyon, Texas.

AN UNPAID TESTIMONIAL

Napoleon Bonaparte says:

I'd never have lost to Wellington* ...if I'd been wearing a Jockey POWER-KNIT T-SHIRT

Q: You mean ...?

A: Oui! I spent so much time tugging at my baggy, saggy T-shirt ... I couldn't concentrate on the battle.

Q: I see. Well do you realize that Jockey's new T-shirt is Power-Knit with a quarter again as much resilient combed-cotton yarn to stay soft and keep its perfect fit, even after countless washings? The new Seamfree® collar won't sag; the full-proportioned body won't bag. And the deep-tuck tail stays every inch as long as the day your Jockey Power-Knit T-shirt came fresh out of the package.

Pete Pedro, WTS's sensational sophomore ballcarrier who led the nation in scoring and rushing before Saturday, was held to 12 yards in 11 carries by a superb Sun Devil defense which displayed tremendous pursuit in nailing Pedro before he could get loose.

"Our blocking was especially good in the interior of the line and Nolan Jones was outstanding. He went for that extra yard on every play," said Kush.

Sun Devil notables included: Joe Zuger's passing for 118 yards hitting on 10 of 23 passes; Roger Locke's two touchdowns, his snaring of 6 passes for 78 yards, and his blocking of a punt which set up a touchdown and Jones' 88 yards gained rushing.

Saturday night the Devils face powerful Oregon State College, a team which has not yet lived up to its potential but which countered 20 points against Wisconsin in the second half only to lose the game to the Badgers' first half 23 points.

The Beavers are paced by one of the nation's total offense leaders of last year, junior quarterback Terry Baker. Baker, 6'3" and 195 pounds, gained 185 yards in 11 carries and passed for two touchdowns against Wisconsin and is generally regarded as one of the best college athletes in the country.

Other Beaver stalwarts include 6'2" Roger Johnson, a 195 pound end, and tackle Neil Plumley, 6'6" and 231 pounds.

BOB VIEWS SPORTS NEWS

Devils, Cats Both Loaded

By BOB EGER

Sports Editor

Arizona's two Universities keep rolling along the gridiron road, gaining momentum for a head-on clash which will take place here on the 25th of November.

That date — the 25th day of November, year 1961 — will probably not soon be forgotten. The signs all point to a gridiron spectacular like none other ever witnessed on Arizona soil before.

The Wildcats of the University of Arizona are a good football team. In fact it's been called "one of the best all-around teams in the country," and we don't doubt it.

The Sun Devils of Arizona State University are a good football team. A narrow loss to powerful Utah and a convincing win over national everything-leader West Texas State are the Devils' current calling cards to national acclaim.

Arizona plays a more-than-respectable schedule, with such names as Nebraska, Oregon, West Texas, Wyoming and Idaho present. Arizona State's slate is equally impressive, with Wichita, Utah, West Texas State, Oregon State and Detroit dotting the schedule. And, of course, the two teams play each other.

Arizona is past two of its toughest hurdles. Nebraska was fortunate to gain a tie with the Cats and Oregon fell under the Wildcats' claws last weekend.

One of ASU's big battles is behind it — that being Utah's rough Redskins. The Devils didn't win that one but they gave an account of themselves that will be remembered awhile.

Another barrier stands in the way of a successful Sun Devil season this weekend. Oregon State brings plenty of prestige and a pretty good ball club into the Valley of the Sun in hopes of drubbing the Devils.

Heading the headliners is Terry Baker, everybody's All American boy who does everything but fly the airplane on trips. He'll be the top individual opposing football player to perform here since North Carolina State's Roman Gabriel played on the Sun Devil Stadium turf last season.

Coach Frank Kush and his mighty men are hoping to give Baker the same kind of hero's reception they gave Gabriel last season. In that memorable contest, the Devils forgot their lesson in etiquette and after rolling the red carpet out for Gabriel, pulled it out from under his feet.

SMALL-THINGS — Have you noticed that since Monday several of the taller male students on campus have looked rather tired? That's because they play a sport called basketball and their coach, Ned Wulk, is laying the groundwork for a faster-than-ever basketball offense this season. With five starters running faster than they did last season and five more to replace them — watch out opponents.

Net Team Gets Win

Arizona State's woman netters copped victories in every division to sweep the New Mexico Collegiate Invitational tennis tournament in Albuquerque last weekend.

The ASU crew, playing without top-ranked Carol Prosen, topped a field of female competitors from six southwestern colleges and universities.

Lynn Haines, the top ranked girl in Texas and an ASU freshman, won the women's singles title. Runner-up was Emma Flores, an ASU junior.

Miss Haines and Pinky Shoemaker, an ASU sophomore, copped the women's doubles division.

Miss Haines made a clean sweep of her competition as she teamed with Jim Maloney of South Africa and Lamar Tech to win the mixed doubles competition. Miss Shoemaker and Al Driscoll of Lamar Tech were second in the mixed doubles division.

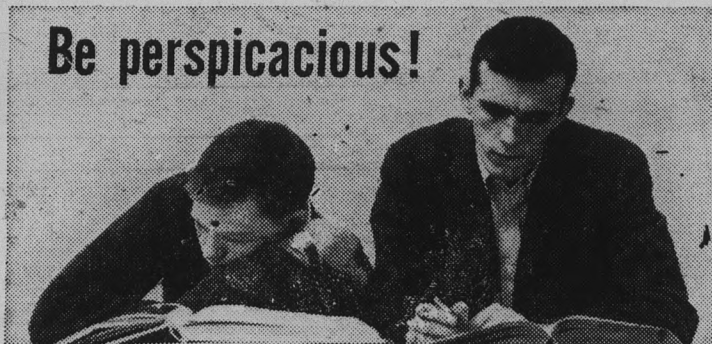

This weekend Miss Pittman will attend a USLTA sponsored seminar on the campus of Ohio State University in Columbus. She is one of 25 coaches from both the amateur and professional ranks of men's and women's tennis in the United States asked to attend.

Carol Sorenson Leads Golfers To Tourney Win

Carol Sorenson led ASU's women golfers to the women's team championship in the William Tucker Invitational tournament in Albuquerque last weekend.

Miss Sorenson fired a 236 to top teammate Sue Meerdink by seven strokes and win the women's championship. The ASU girls won by 30 strokes over runnerup New Mexico.

The ASU men's team finished eighth in a tough field which was topped by powerful Houston.

A prosperous second half, anchored by a deceptive last moment aerial maneuver was the highlight of the ASU frosh gridders' offensive program vs. New Mexico Western last Saturday.

Bill Kajikawa's Sun Imps, paced by the second half six-point scampers of Willie Rogers and Gene Foster, finally succumbed to host NMW, 21-14, after a dramatic aerial attempt had failed.

With 20 seconds left, Sun Imp QB Butch Brest on a fourth down, lofted a pass to end Wayne Burdett in the end zone for an apparent score. However, officials ruled that the Imp end grabbed the toss with one foot out of bounds.

Kajikawa commented, "It was just one of those things. We have to abide by the officials' ruling."

The frosh mentor felt that his freshmen had matured greatly in their first 1961 football encounter. "They really began to play as a unit in that second half," the frosh coach related. "In fact, the brightest spot in the game for us came with less than 60 seconds left."

Kajikawa was pleased with the defensive trio of guard Larry Barager, end Bob Gaskell and end John Klepacki, who teamed to waylay a NMW back in the end zone for a safety, in addition to the halfback duo of Rogers and Foster.

Summarizing, the director of the freshman football group said, "It was a team effort. I was very pleased with the team as a whole. Our main function you know, is to help the varsity and to teach these men our system of football, so our practices have been limited."

The Sun Imp squad journeys to Tucson Oct. 28 to tangle with its annual adversaries, the UofA Wildkittens.

INTRAMURAL Scene

Sigma Nu grabbed first place in the intramural team standing on the strength of a tennis doubles victory by Richard Reakes and Bill Overend and a second place finish by Aeakes in tennis singles.

With volleyball competition still underway, here are intramural point standings.

Now You Know

Ned Wulk is starting his fifth season at ASU this year. Since Wulk came to ASU the Devil cagers have never seen a losing season.

DEVIL END — Roger Locke, who played an outstanding defensive game two weeks ago against Utah, blossomed into his own as an offensive end Saturday against West Texas State with six receptions for 78 yards and two touchdowns.
