Pleiades Choose Sixteen

Pleiades tapped 16 new members in candlelight ceremonies Wednesday night at 10:30.

A breakfast honoring the new initiates was in the Alumni House yesterday morning.

New members are: Donna Arnote, Betty Barclay, Sharon Brosseau, Kathy Mangano, Arlene Przanowski, Karen Sor-gatz, Pearl Tang, Margaret Truman Baker and Linda Brown.

As section director of Mortar Board, Dean Snyder examined all honorary groups on campus plus the University's academic atmosphere.

The decision of placing Mortar Board at ASU will be announced this summer after the national council of Mortar Board.

ASU has 19 members in Pleiades this year. The activities included working on a booklist compiled by ASU professors for ASU students.

Pleiades also served as ushers at all the football and basketball games this year.

They cooperated on the AWS scholarship drive and held a tea for all upperclass women who maintained a 3.5 grade index.

Rally & Traditions Board Names New Cheerleaders

New cheerleaders for 1962-63 were announced Wednesday by the Rally and Traditions Board.

Cheerleaders selected from 12 finalists for next year are: Bruce Peterson, Bill Smith, Richard Bouck, Mike Schwartz and Bernie Weber.

Other cheerleaders include

Delma Van Hooser, Pam Dyer and Pam Loeb.

He will assume his new position Sept. 1.

Dr. Castle was one of the founders of the Western Association of Graduate Schools and has been Montana commissioner on the executive committee of the Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education since 1955.

Acting president of MSU in 1958-59, Dr. Castle was dean of its Graduate College from 1952-57 and chairman of the Zoology department from 1938-48.

Whitney. Sponsoring organizations are Alpha Tau Omega, Sigma Nu and Sigma Chi, respectively. The queen will be announced during the event at Saguaro Lake tomorrow.

Educational Research Head Named Junior College Chief

Dr. John B. Barnes, director of educational research and school services at ASU, has been named the first president of Yuma Junior College.

The Yuma County Junior College Board announced the move this week.

The Yuma Junior College will be the first formed in Arizona under the new state law for organization of junior colleges.

It will open in September, 1963.

Dr. Barnes will assume his new duties on July 1. He will work with the board on the planning and construction of the new junior college and in obtaining a faculty.

Dr. Barnes said he is "as enthused as the board and the people of Yuma County over the new college."

"There is much to be done, and the potential is excellent," he said.

Dr. Barnes has been with ASU for the past five years, where he has participated in several studies of junior colleges as well as some applied studies of other Arizona schools.

He graduated from the University of Denver in 1949 and received the master of arts degree from there in 1950. He earned the doctor's degree in educational administration in 1955.

Girl Watcher's Guide

Presented by Pall Mall Famous Cigarettes

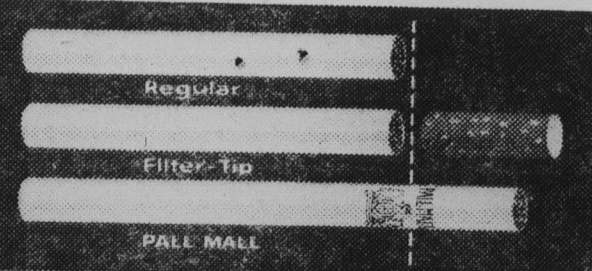

The mover is more of a girl scout than a girl watcher.

LESSON 12 - Watching at a beach or pool

When watching at the beach or pool it is not necessary to keep moving. In fact, it is unwise to move at all, unless the watcher actually enjoys swimming. In such cases he should swim.

At the beach it is better to stay in one place, because the mover is more of a girl scout than a girl watcher

(see above). He is somewhat like the man who goes to the theater to see girls. The girl watcher goes to a musical and happens to notice the beautiful girls. The scout goes to see the girls and, sometimes, happens to notice the musical. (Whether you're a watcher or a scout, you'll find Pall Mall makes a most pleasant companion.)

California Architect Named Awards Banquet Speaker

The annual awards dinner of the central Arizona chapter of the American Institute of Architects will be May 17 at 8 p.m. in the MU Ballroom. Raphael Soriano, California architect and member of the AIA, will be guest speaker. All AIA members and interested students are invited. Reservations can be made by contacting Anthony Ellner, Room 504, of the Engineering building. They cost $2 apiece.

Senate Sets Bill Hearing

The Student Senate Finance committee will conduct an open hearing on its suggested $237,022 ASU budget appropriations bill Tuesday at 3 p.m. in the senate chamber.

Three minutes each will be allowed for those interested in discussing the appropriations of each heading with the senators. The bill will be debated in the senate next Wednesday.

Resolution Killed In Senate Session

A report on a recent survey of the State Press and final action on the controversial Senate Resolution 4 were the main business items for the Student Senate Wednesday.

The Publications-Public Relations committee read its four-page report on the 15-question survey of the State Press.

About 25 per cent of the 250 ASU students who received the questionnaire returned replies.

The complete percentage of the 15 questions will be printed next week in the State Press.

The following suggestions were offered by the report:

1. A recruiting campaign might be conducted during the first three weeks of the fall semester in order to increase student participation on the State Press.

2. The State Press could be allowed to become a thrice weekly paper.

3. A schedule of activities, times and meetings might be printed at least once a week.

4. A plan of distribution could be developed for night students.

5. Student government coverage could be extended in keeping with its role as an integral part of ASASU.

Senate Resolution 4, introduced by a committee headed by Gary Nichols, was defeated 13-9.

Resolution 4 would have "censured" the Election Board and Executive Council for their handling of the election.

COVERING COLLEGE AVENUE

a student's idea will help others get home

By BABS MARLOWE

Recipe for success: Take one student with an idea, stir gently with a receptive Memorial Union staff, and bake quickly for best results.

The idea of the student was a more effective means of obtaining ride and riders for students who quickly scatter to the four corners as soon as finals are over.

How to implement this? Make a map of the U.S. with the states enlarged to about three times the size found on road maps.

Then, through a system of colored pins, one for those with a car and one for those needing a ride, stick a pin in the city you are going to.

A red pin will be given to students who will be able to carry riders. To obtain your red pin, go to the information desk at the MU and register your name, college address and phone and the destination city.

This red-pin information will be kept in a manila folder, alphabetized according to destination.

Blue pins will be given to people who need rides, and they may be obtained in the same manner.

A definite advantage to a visual registration is obvious.

A person who needs a ride to Seattle might notice a red pin stuck in Tacoma. The cities are close enough together that a person going to Seattle could ride as far as Tacoma, then catch a bus to Seattle.

This map will be placed on the bulletin board near the entrance to the cafeteria.

The Memorial Union staff is enthusiastic about the idea, and we hope that the students will take full advantage of this service.

It sometimes is necessary to lose something before you really realize its worth.

This is particularly true in the loss of a friend.

The men of Irish Hall are realizing the loss of Fred Benjamin, who was killed in an automobile accident during the Easter holidays.

Benjamin was a freshman from Granada Hills, Calif., and was the type of resident that every hall wants to have more of.

A pre-med student, Benjamin served on the hall council and worked diligently on hall functions, never missing even one.

Fellow residents from Irish Hall collectively sent flowers and cards expressing their sympathy to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Benjamin, of their mutual loss.

Many residents separately sent notes to the Benjamins.

We wish to express our personal condolences to Fred's parents, recognizing that he truly made himself respected by his fellow students.

If you were to give a summation of this weekend's activities, it might be water.

Between Water Sports Day and the annual Naiads shows, both popular events, the arid-living Arizonans might almost believe they were on the coast.

Sometime, we hope that the Athletic department will realize the need and desire for an ASU Swimming team. We have too much student potential to neglect having such a team.

OFF THE EDITOR'S DESK

report discrepancy aggravates us

The Senate Publications-Public Relations committee has completed its poll concerning the adequacy of the State Press and has published the findings of the questionnaire.

For the most part, we feel that the report was handled well and that the committee's recommendation are definitely worth consideration.

THERE ARE, however, a few misconceptions in the report. They arise from the fact that both the students and the committee do not completely understand certain policies of the State Press.

One such misconception in the report which particularly aggravated us was incorporated in the fourth recommendation, which read: "The committee recommends that a fair and objective policy be developed in regard to the placement and coverage of news and feature stories and acceptance of letters to the editor..."

THE STATE PRESS now maintains a fair and objective policy on these matters, particularly in the acceptance of letters.

This semester's editorial staff has accepted AND PRINTED every letter to the editor which we have received, with the exception of two.

One was completely religious in nature and, in our opinion, the paper should not be used to either promote or criticize religion.

THE OTHER letter concerned Campus Security and was completely libelous throughout.

We feel we have been completely fair in this area, and we question this part of the committee's survey.

We hope that a closer examination will not prove this one part of the report to be symbolic of the rest of it.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

cooperation on space needle was outstanding

To the Editor:

Recent inquiries by industrial representatives indicate that the "space needle" project at ASU will in all likelihood receive national publicity.

While this project was undertaken as an extra-curricular activity, it presented an opportunity for a number of students to put into practice many of the things that they have studied in the engineering classroom.

That an extra-curricular activity should reflect credit on the academic program of the University is truly commendatory, especially when the reverse seems more often to be the rule.

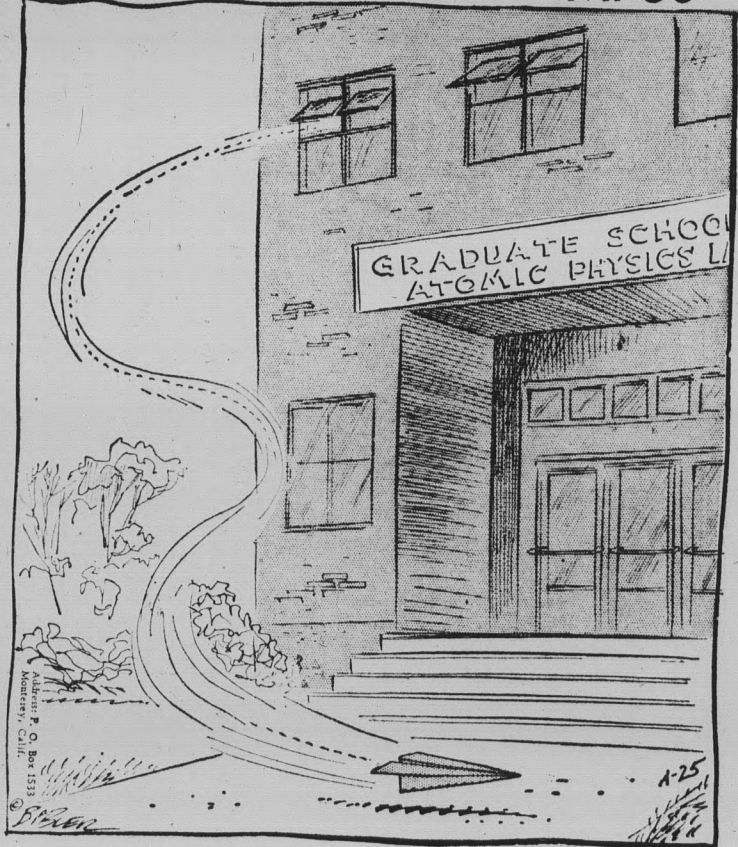

As you know, a great many students had a part in this undertaking. To list any names, one would surely take the risk of omitting some very important contributor.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all involved—the Student Chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers, the Student Construction Society, the division of Industrial Education, the Memorial Union, physical plant, buildings and grounds personnel and Associated Students—the credit is theirs.

The cooperation of all concerned has been singularly outstanding. Here truly is a case where the various entities of the University have contributed to a joint undertaking that would not have been possible otherwise.

Dual Meet Shapes Up As One Of The Season's Best

By DENNIS ANDERSON
Arizona State closes the 1962 home track schedule at 7:30 tomorrow night, hosting the University of Arizona in a Goodwin Stadium dual meet.

For the Sun Devils, a win is a must. This perhaps, has been the most successful and exciting season ever in ASU home appearances. All team members want to finish out in a blaze of glory by defeating their arch rivals from down south.

Coach Baldy Castillo is cautiously optimistic about the outcome of the meet. "It will take a complete team effort for us to win," he said.

Castillo has shuffled the ASU lineup in an attempt to break up the Wildcats' monopoly in several events.

As a result, Ulis Williams, the nation's premier quarter miler, will once more try his hand at the 880, along with Dan Roth. Roth will first go in the mile and figures to be good for a second behind the 'Cats' Jack Hudson.

Henry Carr, fresh off sensational performances at the Mt. Sac Relays, will try the broad jump, where he has a best of 22-8.

Perhaps a key part to the meet will be the dashes, where Carr and Hubie Watson will go against Larry Dunn and Steve Robbins of Arizona.

Weightman Pete Anselmo will have his hands full going up against the U's musclemen. Wildcat Karl Johnstone is a shoo-in for discus honors, but a close battle for second shapes up between Anselmo and the UofA's Bob Morris.

On the basis of previous meetings, Anselmo rates over Mike Psaltis of Arizona in shotput competition. However, Psaltis has a season best edge in distance, 52-5 to 51-11/4, so Anselmo's placings here could be significant in the final outcome of the meet.

Castillo has kept distance man Bill Jost out of the mile in an attempt to have him place against a strong Wildcat entry in the 2 mile. This again could be a crucial factor in the final outcome.

Pole vault entries finds ASU's John Rose the favorite. However, John was bothered by an injured knee at Mt. Sac and may not be ready for an all out effort.

Record Breakers

THERE GOES ULIS — Ulis Williams heads for the first turn in his customary position, ahead of the rest of the pack, after taking the baton from Ron Freeman in the mile relay during a recent home track meet. Freeman ran a 47.2 with a ripped shoe and a badly cut foot after being spiked, and Williams churned 45.9, as ASU set a new national collegiate mile relay record, 3:07.5, at Mt. Sac last Saturday. They'll be in the relay tomorrow night as the Sun Devils host powerful Arizona in a dual track meet.

Devil Nine Faces Huge Task Of Topping 'Cats

By BOB EGER
Sports Editor

Arizona State takes on the overwhelming task of tangling with mighty Arizona in the Wildcats' home territory for a three game baseball series starting tonight.

The 'Cats, top ranked nationally, are bigger favorites to sweep the series than they have been in recent years when they did it anyway.

Last year the Sun Devils went to Tucson after splitting a pair of games with the 'Cats in Tempe, and the Tucson crew dished out a pair of defeats to Bobby Winkles' crew.

The year before, a strong Sun Devil squad dropped the Wildcats twice in Tempe and journeyed to Tucson with high hopes, only to return with a 2-2 mark against Arizona.

In fact, the last time a Sun Devil baseball club won a game in Tucson was way back in 1933.

And even though they have three chances this year, the odds in behalf of the Sun Devils are not good. Winkles' crew will try at 7:30 tonight to upset the odds, and tomorrow, the Devils will take a couple more stabs at the Wildcats' baseball balloon.

Tomorrow's contests are set for 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m., and all three games will be played at Hi Corbett Field. Arizona State has drawn the unfortunate assignment of facing Dan Schneider in the opening game tonight.

The speedy lefty is easily the top collegiate pitcher in the nation. He's started 12 games, finished them all, won them, all and has compiled a 0.92 earned run average. He leads the nation in strikeouts.

Winkles will counter with Harley Anderson, another speedy lefty who has pitched steady ball lately but who lacks the illustrious background of Mr. Schneider. Anderson's record is a more down-to-earth 4-1.

Gary Graham, who pitched a terrific game against Schneider earlier this year only to lose on his teammates' boots, gets the call in the second contest. Graham has a 3-4 mark, but he can be extremely tough on occasion.

Pete Lovrich takes a 6-4 record on the hill in tomorrow night's tilt. Lovrich is one of the three pitchers who has beaten the 'Cats this year.

Some 38 other hurlers didn't fare so well, however, accounting for the UofA's 38-3-2 record.

Arizona State's 23-17 mark looks rather meek along side the Wildcats' impressive array of victories, but when these two clubs clash, records mean next to nothing.

The Sun Devils need two wins to grab a season split with the Wildcats. The ASU nine came through with a win behind Lovrich after losing a pair of close contests in the previous meeting of the two teams.
