5,500 New Students Welcomed At Assembly By President Durham

President G. Homer Durham welcomed 5,500 freshmen and new transfer students to ASU at a recent orientation assembly.

"The doors are open to you at Arizona State University," said President Durham. "Before you are the greatest opportunities ever presented to young people by a conscientious nation. Being here is a privilege, extended by the people of Arizona to those who can qualify for admission."

STRESSING the importance of physical health, the president said, "The mind works best in a healthy body. Your moral, emotional and spiritual health is fundamentally related to your physical health."

"Maintain your church affiliations," the president said. "Remember there can be no freedom without law, so keep the University rules."

New students were urged by Dr. Durham to develop an immediate acquaintance, and then "go steady" with the university library. "A school day without use of the library is a day lost!"

HE ALSO advised students to get to know their academic advisers, deans, faculty members and other personnel who stand ready to advise and help, maintain good daily study habits and form friendships on campus.

Monday's orientation assembly marked the beginning of a week of social and traditional events at ASU. Wednesday afternoon was the annual picnic, Thursday the "A" was painted and a frosh splash was on Friday.

Brothers Four To Appear In Sun Devil Gym Oct. 2

The Brothers Four, one of the top folk-singing groups in circulation, will appear in the Sun Devil gymnasium Oct. 2 from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m.

Tickets are now on sale at the MU information desk, Hill's Record shop in Tempe, Bill's Records in Chris-Town, Park Central and Uptown Plaza, and TV Leo's in Tower Plaza.

The Brothers Four made their debut less than two years ago and since have tasted the success of many night club, television and concert performances.

Their best-selling record "Greenfields" has received world wide acclaim.

Fraternity brothers at the University of Washington, they started out with five guitars, a banjo and a bass fiddle.

The four left behind careers in medicine, TV directing, electrical engineering and diplomacy.

John Brooking, ASASU activities vice president, has announced more efficient sound and lighting systems will be provided for the evening.

Student tickets are $1, general admission, and $1.50, reserved seats. The general public will pay $1.50 for general and $2 for reserved.

Today's Issue Biggest Ever!

As a special "Welcome Back to School" issue, The State Press today has compiled the largest single issue in its history.

Today's 28-page paper is divided into two sections, with a special insert on sports and society news. The first section contains campus news of general interest.

This paper makes The State Press the largest bi-weekly in Arizona. The University of Arizona Wildcat came out earlier this week with a 24-page edition.

Carter Picks Montgomery

Steve Montgomery, prelaw senior, has been appointed chief-justice of the ASASU Supreme Court by ASASU President Bob Carter.

Montgomery has already begun his work by participating on the University Discipline Committee in the capacity of the supreme court justice.

As chief justice, Montgomery will preside over all impeachment proceedings, administer all oaths of office and serve as a nominating member on the Committee for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

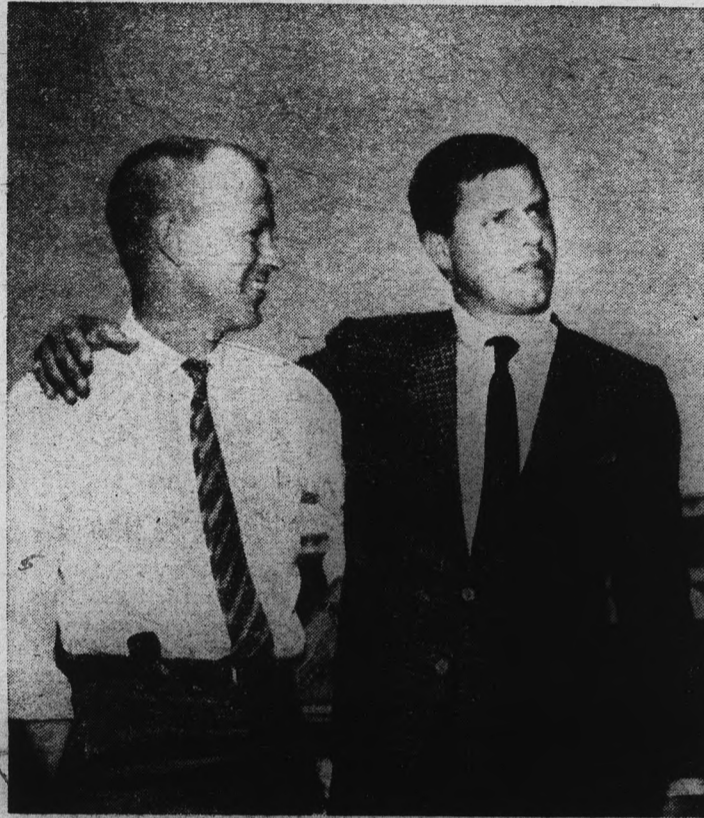

It is the duty of the court which he will head to determine the legality of bills and conditions on the campus in reference to the ASASU constitution.

Although the new chief has long been interested in student government, it will be his first appointment to the court. Last year Montgomery served as chairman of the Social Board and helped in setting up the new student leadership course for ASU's student government participants.

Montgomery also is an active member of Blue Key and Sigma Nu.

Construction Work To Total $8 Million

The Nutty Professor --

JERRY LEWIS — "The Nutty Professor," starring comic Jerry Lewis, is scheduled for filming on the ASU campus Oct. 1. Lewis, shown here with Dr. James W. Yeater, head of the University Players, will use student extras in the movie, which he terms "a modern Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde without horror."

Additions, Buildings Slated

ASU students and faculty disturbed by various campus construction projects won't get any rest this year.

Almost $8 million worth of new buildings, additions and remodeling plans are on the agenda for this year. Most of the construction will begin this semester.

The new seven-story women's dorm addition to Palo Verde is scheduled to begin in October and will be ready for occupancy next September.

It will cost $1,397,840 and will house 410 coeds. Three wings of the dorm will surround a domed cafeteria-dining hall south of the present Palo Verde building.

Grady Gammage Memorial Auditorium and parking lots, already under construction, are to be ready for use in the spring of 1964 at a cost of about $2,860,000.

Home economics students are getting their building refrigerated next month. This will cost $33,963 and should be completed in 30 days.

Before 1963 a language building will be going up west of Old Main. Estimated cost is about $1.25 million. Completion is set for next year.

ASU's 320-acre farm, located at the intersection of Price and Elliott Roads, is to receive several new buildings.

Construction is scheduled to start immediately on dairy, poultry and horticulture buildings and a bull and calf barn.

About $500,000 will be spent here. New facilities should be finished soon after January 1963.

WORLD NEWS

New Astronauts Named

HOUSTON, Tex. — Nine young test pilots, each "dedicated to the challenge of the unknown," were chosen Monday to join America's pioneer astronaut corps. They will be trained specifically to shoot for the moon and for intermediate trips in this decade.

The men, who have trained secretly for their space corps jobs for almost a year, include four Air Force officers, three Navy officers and two civilians.

House Cuts Kennedy Program

WASHINGTON — A House appropriations subcommittee approved Monday a $1.5 billion cut in President Kennedy's foreign aid program. The slash, voted by the appropriations subcommittee on foreign operations, was the largest ever proposed.

The President had requested funds totaling $4.75 billion for economic and military aid in the current fiscal year.

Frenchman Leaves Cave

PARIS, France — An emaciated and weakened French cave explorer, 23-year-old Michel Siffre, was taken Monday from the cave in southern France where he has lived in self-imposed isolation for two months.

Unable to move, Siffre was bearded, his skin a dead white. The light caused him stinging pain. The young explorer told newsmen he cried a lot while he was "down there in my loneliness."

U.S. Stands Firm

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Dean Rusk told Congress in testimony made public today that the United States has made it clear it would intercept any Communist arms or troop shipments from Cuba to other Latin American nations.

Frosh Senate Seats Open

Petitions for freshman class candidates to the ASASU Student Senate are now available. They must be completed and returned by 4 p.m. Sept. 26.

At 3 p.m. today there will be a meeting in MU 210 for all freshmen senate candidates.

Petitions are available in the ASASU secretary's office, MU 202. They must be picked up by the candidate.

The primary election of the two freshman class senators will be Oct. 3. The general election will be one week later.

Men's Counsel Vacancy Filled

Dr. George F. Hamm, former assistant dean of men at the University of Wyoming, began duties this week as ASU's counselor of men.

The position, previously known as assistant dean of students, had been vacated by the expiration of William Coulson's contract August 31.

COULSON IS studying currently at Notre Dame University to complete the doctoral requirements.

Dr. Hamm is a 1953 graduate of South Dakota State College, where he played football and earned the bachelor of arts degree in psychology.

Upon graduation, Dr. Hamm entered the Army as a second lieutenant. He spent 16 months in Korea and returned stateside to enroll at the University of Wyoming in 1956.

THERE HE received the master of arts degree in psychology in 1958, and the doctoral degree in guidance in 1961.

He served as supervisor of student employment and veteran relations at Wyoming from July 1957 to September 1958. He became Wyoming's assistant dean of men in September 1961.

HIS DUTIES as counselor of men here encompass the administrative responsibility for men's discipline.

Dr. Hamm, now residing in Phoenix, is married and has two children. He is affiliated with Psi Chi, psychology honorary; Omicron Delta Kappa, scholastic honorary, and the American Personnel and Guidance Association.

Sahuaro Sales, Staff Members Break Records

The Sahuaro, ASU's yearbook, set a record this year with its advance sales.

Gary Avey, editor, attributed the increase to the fact that last year's Sahuaro was superior to those of other years.

A record number of 75 students signed up during fall registration for work on the yearbook staff. All who signed up to work on the yearbook will be assigned jobs.

Avey will name his staff the first of next week.

Seniors who want their portraits in the yearbook should make appointments at the Audio-Visual Center before Nov. 1.

The center is located in Matthews Hall. The Sahuaro office is MU 2.

Yearbook staffers can be contacted also by calling extension 221.

Class Slated For Managers This Semester

The College of Business Administration will present a seminar for middle managers this semester. Eleven sessions are scheduled from 3 to 5:30 p.m. each Thursday beginning Sept. 27. Meetings will be in the executive seminar room in the Business Administration building.

The seminar is designed for those in middle management who did not emphasize management in their education. It is especially suitable for persons with scientific, engineering, liberal arts or other non-business education or experience.

This is one of several management development programs conducted by the College of Business Administration Management Department and Bureau of Business Services as a service to the Arizona business community.

For additional information concerning registration, contact the coordinator of executive seminars, Bureau of Business Services, Arizona State University.

Wilson Aid Petitions Due Oct. 31

Nomination of candidates for the 1,000 first-year graduate study awards offered by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation for 1963-64 began this week.

October 31 is the deadline for nominations. Information forms will be sent to all nominees. They must be returned to the foundation before Nov. 20.

The purpose of the awards is to attract large numbers of men and women to the profession of college teaching and to provide financial aid for them.

Nominations may be made by any member of the academic profession in any college or university in the U. S. or Canada.

Traffic Rules Set

This year, all ASU students, whether on-campus, off-campus or day or night students, must get new parking stickers, according to Lt. Godbehere of ASU police department. Also, students are requested to read the rules received with the stickers as there have been changes made this year to ease the parking problem.

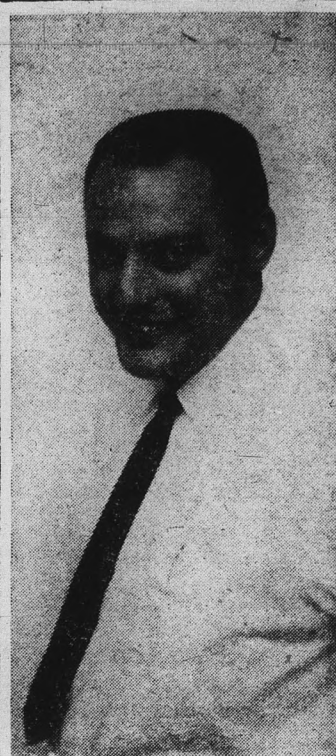

All lost and found articles are to be turned in to the police department. These articles will be kept and, if unclaimed, then will be turned over to a charity.

Lt. Godbehere also requests that all thefts be reported to the police department so that action can be taken to recover the articles.

Also stressed: all bicycles must be registered with the city of Tempe.

They may be registered at the Fire Station next to Tempe city hall.

Editorially Speaking

Reporting from the "Report of the President" for 1961-62, compiled by Dr. G. Homer Durham, the section under "Faculty Salaries" reads:

"Our most critical need is faculty salary improvement to attract and maintain the faculty strength required. It is hoped that the regents and the legislature will continue to recognize this situation.

"Within the province of our assigned fields, we aspire to faculty talent second to none to serve our students. I see no reason why, if California can afford top-flight faculty for California students, Arizona should not aspire to the same for its youthful minds. Arizona is not a backward country nor a colonial dominion of the United States. Its genetic strength is at least the equal of other American states. I urge a greater investment in faculty salaries as the central means of improving the productivity of our people, of generating a richer spiritual and cultural life."

Dr. Durham read the above statement, plus much supporting material, to the Board of Regents on August 4. At that time he urged the regents to take the step taken by California some 42 years ago when the California Regents began to build the huge educational bulwark they have today.

Why must Arizona always be behind? Why must we forever remain local yokels holding off until the last . . . until we are forced to progress? It seems that invariably an outsider (meaning one from out of state) must come in to set us straight.

It is no wonder that Easterners still think that buffaloes roam the plains and Indians are still on the warpath. They have no other evidence to show them otherwise. Why don't we get out of our safe ten-gallon hats for a change and at least improve our children's education?

After Dr. Durham made his monumental announcement, a notice came from the regents expressing "great interest and concern" over the need to increase salaries. They also cited the "comprehensive nature" of Dr. Durham's report.

Dr. J. Byron McCormick was then appointed to conduct a study and analysis of the legislation affecting nonforfeitable annuities and faculty retirement.

Yesterday, the State Press telephoned our President's office to inquire how the study was progressing. We received no encouragement whatsoever and we are still curious. In fact, we intend to remain curious or nose-y (whatever it may be named) until we learn what progress Dr. McCormick has made.

After all, we may be planning to send our children here and we are interested in the academic progress of this institution and this state.

Letters To The Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

We the girls of East Hall wish to extend our sincere good wishes to you as you prepare to launch the '62-'63 football season. We want you to know that we are supporting you 100%. This first game will be out of state, and we will not be there in person to cheer you on to victory, but we can assure you, we will be there in spirit. If the Wheatshoekers happen to gain yardage and you are tempted to feel discouraged, stop for a moment—if you listen hard enough you will hear the ASU student voices echo, East Hall's foremost, as they cheer you on—in spirit.

East Hall, as you know, was formerly a men's dorm and they established a tradition of always showing, in every possible way, their loyal support of their team.

Now within these, old but memorable walls, rings the feminine spirit. We may not be as "big and strong" as you men, but we too can have a powerful voice which we intend to use. The East Hall tradition will be carried on. We too will show, in every way possible, our loyalty to you, the team.

Victory is very rewarding and it is what we all would like to see, but just trying, win or lose, is the most anyone of us could ask.

Good luck, and God bless you. May He bring you all the success we know you deserve.

Sincerely,
EAST HALL

Sounding Off

By LINDA WARREN SIMS

You are reading today the largest State Press ever to come off the presses. The only comparative issues have been the bulky 24 pages that have appeared from time to time in the past. Count the pages in this baby—there are 28.

We figure that we now compare in size to the large Phoenix papers. The Republic is the largest, with the Gazette following second. The Arizona Journal, has been known to drop to 24 pages but maintains an average of 32.

Therefore, we lay claim to the fourth position in the state of Arizona. We also lay claim to the position of the largest bi-weekly paper in Arizona. We hope you readers are honored—we staff members are only exhausted.

THE WOMEN ARE BURSTING the seams of the dorms. They're hanging from the rafters and sleeping in the cooling vents. It's almost like China in overpopulated Palo Verde where the females are stacked, three to a room. This arrangement leaves about 10 cubic inches per woman for storage space; 16 inches of closet space, and it turns six women loose on one tiny wash-room and two wash basins. Aw, the joy of togetherness, huh gals?

Evidently this overcrowding technique is common at the larger universities across the country. But isn't it a bit unhealthy and isn't it a bit dishonest? For example, each girl is being charged the dorm rent she should pay for a four-person suite with plenty of space and convenience galore. Yet she is squashed and mangled and quite inconvenienced for the very same amount.

NEEDED—ONE LARGE WOMEN'S DORMITORY.

Perhaps the huge construction strike this summer could be one of the reasons that the foundations of the new seven-story dorm have not yet appeared. Perhaps we should hate all unions for the inconvenience they have caused our coeds. Or maybe we could just hate the house planning on campus.

BUT THE REAL BLAME lies with our parents who produced this fantastic war baby population that is now hitting campuses across the nation. In the meantime, girlies, stick it out until midsemester when school drop-outs should begin. Then hold out until after finals when the "big disillusionment" should solve the present problem. Whom knows? All of you may have private rooms.

Once again the offer is repeated . . . anyone interested in contributing his time and knowledge to the success of this paper is welcome up there in MU 211. If you have knowledge in a particular field and feel as though you can contribute this knowledge toward better reporting about your interest area, please consider this offer.

IT IS CERTAIN that a little effort from all of you will benefit everyone more than the caustic criticisms that have been leveled at this "poor" paper in the past. It's up to you.

Anyone interested in learning more about the Peace Corps should contact Dean Gary Anderson in MU 213. He has a large filing cabinet full of corps information. He also has the forms to fill out in order to be considered.

I Cover College Avenue

By BILL OVEREND

The first inglorious week of classes at Arizona State will end today. And most of the persons around this institute are mighty glad they've lived through it.

Registration, sorority rush, endless waits for ID cards and books are now behind most of our frenzied student populace. Never pleasant, these academic "necessities" were made almost unbearable this year by a handful of university employees.

IT'S A SHAME that incoming and returning students were subjected to treatment during registration approaching that used at penal institutions throughout the nation.

It's even more unfortunate that the campus police and others who "supervised" the registration lines will probably be allowed to continue their activities next semester.

They acted rudely, man-handled students and used threats in many cases where polite advice would have sufficed. They made an ordeal out of a process formerly only unpleasant.

THEY GRABBED too many students by the arm, they shouted too much and too loudly. They seemed to believe that each new victim was another John Dillinger.

They blemished the start of what should become ASU's greatest year.

It's great to hear that Jerry Lewis and crew will be hopping around this campus in a couple of weeks. Not only will his arrival provide our starving student body with a chance to pick up a few extra bucks, but his antics will brighten up this place considerably.

ONLY QUESTION is, why did he choose ASU to film "The Nutty Professor"?

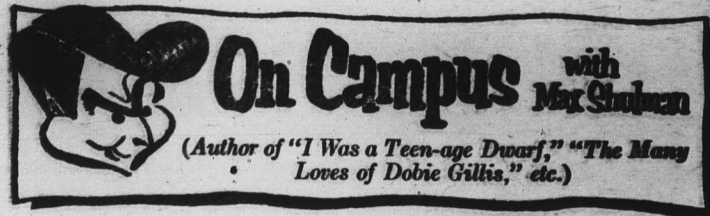

Student government at this university will be starting to roll in a few days at the latest. Since we happen to have one of the finest student governments in the nation, it will be interesting to follow its progress during the coming months.

Beginning next Wednesday, this column will concentrate on behind-the-scenes actions that make student government run smoothly. We will attempt to bring out the "inside" story on senate bills, executive programs and other governmental tidbits, so that you can receive some idea of what's happening around this place.

Notice the East Hall women continuing the spirit the East Hall men made so traditional? Wonder if it's something within the walls themselves in that old building or the type of people who house themselves there?

Training Program Opened

In an attempt to meet the increasing demand for officers, the Air Force now stresses its Officer Training School Program for college graduates. The program, open to male and female college graduates, provides the opportunity for qualified applicants to obtain an Air Force commission upon completion of a three-month training course. According to S/Sgt. Aubrey Bowen, local Air Force recruiter, college seniors can apply before graduation.

ANOTHER YEAR, ANOTHER DOLLAR

With today's entry I begin my ninth year of writing columns in your school newspaper for the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes. Nine years, I believe you will agree, is a long time. In fact, it took only a little longer than nine years to dig the Suez Canal, and you know what a gigantic undertaking that was! To be sure, the work would have gone more rapidly had the shovel been invented at that time, but, as we all know, the shovel was not invented until 1946 by Walter R. Shovel of Cleveland, Ohio. Before Mr. Shovel's discovery in 1946, all digging was done with sugar tongs—a method unquestionably dainty but hardly what one would call rapid. There were, naturally, many efforts made to speed up digging before Mr. Shovel's breakthrough—notably an attempt in 1912 by the immortal Thomas Alva Edison to dig with the phonograph, but the only thing that happened was that he got his horn full of sand. This so depressed Mr. Edison that he fell into a fit of melancholy from which he did not emerge until two years later when his friend William Wordsworth, the eminent nature poet, cheered him up by imitating a duck for four and a half hours.

But I digress. For nine years, I say, I have been writing this column for the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, and for nine years they have been paying me money. You are shocked. You think that anyone who has tasted Marlboro's unparalleled flavor, who has enjoyed Marlboro's filter, who has revelled in Marlboro's jolly red and white pack or box should be more than willing to write about Marlboro without a penny's compensation. You are wrong.

Compensation is the very foundation stone of the American Way of Life. Whether you love your work or hate it, our system absolutely requires that you be paid for it. For example, I have a friend named Rex Glebe, a veterinarian by profession, who simply adores to worm dogs. I mean you can call him up and say, "Hey, Rex, let's go bowl a few lines," or "Hey, Rex, let's go flatten some pennies on the railroad tracks," and he will always reply, "No, thanks. I better stay here in case somebody wants a dog wormed." I mean there is not one thing in the whole world you can name that Rex likes better than worming a dog. But even so, Rex always sends a bill for worming your dog because in his wisdom he knows that to do otherwise would be to rend, possibly irreparably, the fabric of democracy.

It's the same with me and Marlboro Cigarettes. I think Marlboro's flavor represents the pinnacle of the tobacconist's art. I think Marlboro's filter represents the pinnacle of the filter-maker's art. I think Marlboro's pack and box represent the pinnacle of the packager's art. I think Marlboro is a pleasure and a treasure, and I fairly burst with pride that I have been chosen to speak for Marlboro on your campus. All the same, I want my money every week. And the makers of Marlboro understand this full well. They don't like it, but they understand it.

In the columns which follow this opening installment, I will turn the hot white light of truth on the pressing problems of campus life—the many and varied dilemmas which beset the undergraduate—burning questions like "Should Chaucer classrooms be converted to parking garages?" and "Should proctors be given a saliva test?" and "Should foreign exchange students be held for ransom?"

And in these columns, while grappling with the crises that vex campus America, I will make occasional brief mention of Marlboro Cigarettes. If I do not, the makers will not give me any money.

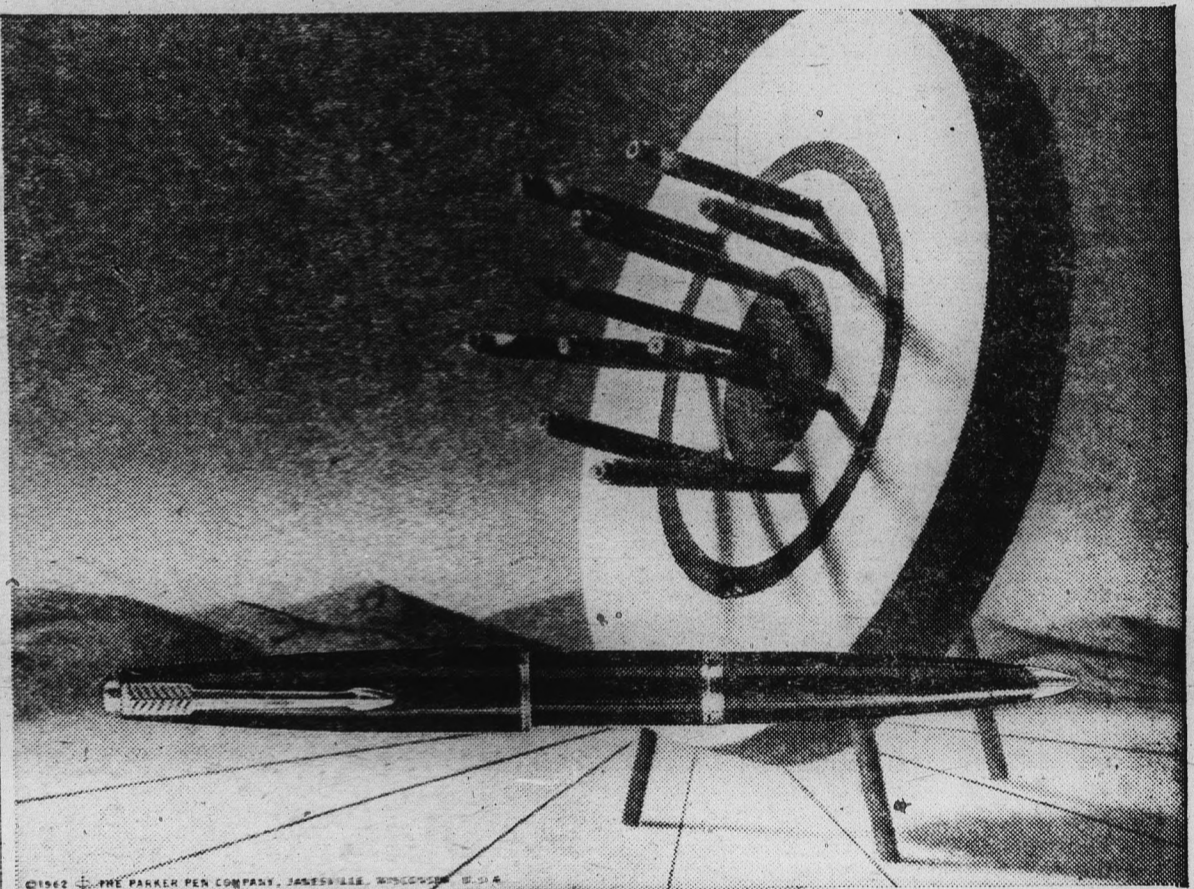

The makers of Marlboro will bring you this uncensored, free-style column 26 times throughout the school year. During this period it is not unlikely that Old Max will step on some toes—principally ours—but we think it's all in fun and we hope you will too.

Dr. Durham's '62 Report Tells Future ASU Goal

Dr. G. Homer Durham's 1961-62 "Report of the President," recently published by the ASU Bureau of Publications, points out two parallel educational objectives as the future mission of the University.

First: "Without neglecting the experimental, we should cultivate and develop a strong underlying theoretical approach—to mathematics, to the natural, engineering and related sciences."

And "An energetic, renewed quest for the cultivation and integrity of the human spirit. Through the fine arts, music, literature, history, the careful study of ideas (including the American experience) and their meaning, and languages as keys to cultural understanding and world communication, we must build new bastions for individuality and the free spirit of inquiry aimed at the perfectibility of man."

Dr. Durham also listed as one of the projects accepted in the 5-year building program a new library to supplement Matthews. Planning is now proceeding for this structure, he said.

Our most critical need, said Dr. Durham, is a faculty salary improvement to attract and maintain the faculty strength required. "Within the province of our assigned fields, we aspire to faculty talent second to none to serve our students."

Some of the major events of 1961-62 listed by Dr. Durham were:

—Construction totaling more than $8 million was approved, started or completed.

—More than $2 million in gifts and grants was presented to the university.

—The university served a record number—24,513 different students—12.95 per cent more than the previous record high of 21,702 during 1960-61.

Air Science Change Made

Lt. Colonel Jack R. Armstrong was recently appointed professor of air science and chairman of the department of air science replacing Colonel A. W. Bryant.

During his 18 years of service, Colonel Armstrong has served in various administrative capacities. He was in combat during World War II flying B-29's.

More About —

Approximately $20,000 will be spent converting the court in the old gym into three separate rooms and refrigerating the whole building.

A three-story addition to the engineering building is to be built adjoining it on the north. Cost: about $970,000.

The Life Sciences building also will get an addition this term at a cost of about $335,000. An added building for industrial education will cost about $450,000. Initial work will be started before the first of the year.

Refrigeration is being installed in the Moeur Activity building and modifications will total about $106,000.

About $1 million is going to be spent on additions and improvements in the central physical plant and tunnel distribution system.

Dawa-Chindi Picnic Scheduled

Members of the Dawa-Chindi Club will be heading for South Mountain Park tomorrow evening for a picnic set for 6:30 p.m. The club, which has Paul Bramlet, Phoenix Area Director of Indian Education and Bureau of Indian Affairs as its featured speaker, is sponsored by Dr.

Irving W. Stout and Dr. Robert A. Rossel Jr.

Those interested in Dawa-Chindi and members of the club are invited to attend. There is no admission. Transportation will leave the MU building at 5:30 p.m.

Noel Coward's Hit Will Open Play Season

The University Players, the new name for the ASU drama workshop group, open their season Wednesday night with Noel Coward's comedy, "Private Lives."

The first of eight plays to be presented this year, "Private Lives" is the story of a couple of newlyweds, honeymooning in a lavish French hotel, who discover that their ex-husband and ex-wife also are honeymooning in the adjacent suite.

The cast includes Susan Flannery as Amanda Prynne; Gary Stevens as Victor Prynne; Mike Payson as Elyot Chase; Mary Lou McNatt as Sybil Chase and Sally Davis as Louise.

"Private Lives" will be presented Wednesday and Friday and the following Wednesday and Friday in the University Playhouse in the Lyceum behind the Arts building.

Dr. James Yeater, chairman of the drama department, is directing the play.

Admission is $1 for students and faculty members. Season tickets are also available for $5.

Curtain time for all plays this season is 8:30 p.m.

Other plays to be presented this year are "Rashomon," "The Rivals," "The Consul," "Othello," "Rumpelstiltskin," "The Room" and "The Great Rage of Philip Hotz."

Dr. Alan Covey Selected For Head Librarian Post

The appointment of Dr. Alan D. Covey as head librarian of Matthews Library has been announced by President G. Homer Durham.

Formerly at Sacramento State College, Dr. Covey was also a librarian at the University of California, San Francisco State College and Stanford University.

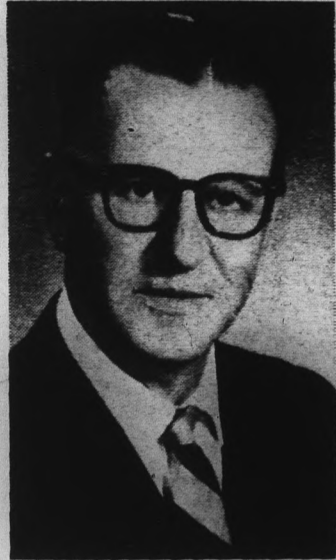

Dr. Covey succeeds Tempean Harold Batchelor who has retired as head librarian but who will continue teaching in the library science department.

The new librarian holds the bachelor of arts degree and a certificate in librarianship from Berkeley and a doctorate in education from Stanford.

He has been president of the California Library Association, chairman of the California State College Librarians Council and secretary of the California State Committee on Adult Education.

Dr. Covey also has been a member of the California State Committee on Criteria for Accrediting Library Science Programs and the advisory committee to the University of California Library Schools, Berkeley and Los Angeles.

Dr. Covey

Student Officers Offered Course In Government

A course in student government will be offered to all students participating in student government beginning this semester.

The upper-division course, listed as PS 303, will give two hours credit towards the behavioral and social sciences requirements.

The class will be held for one hour on Friday, 1:40 to 2:30, and the lab will be active work in any phase of student government. This includes senate, committees, councils, boards, and AWS or AMS.

The course will be taught by Dr. Heinz Hink, who has been working out the details of the class with Dean Shoofstall and Dr. Durham for two years. Dr. Durham was associated with a similar course at the University of Utah in Salt Lake City before coming to ASU.

Henry Kloppe, activities vice president of ASASU, stressed the fact that "all students active in student government are encouraged to register for the class before drop-add periods ends on Monday."

ASU Instructor Writes Articles

Robert P. Balin, instructor of industrial education at ASU, has two articles appearing currently in national magazines.

Balin's article in Electronics World, titled "Electronic Analogies," concerns operation of electronic components with mechanical devices. "A Potentiometer Quiz," electrical circuit problems designed to test circuit comprehension and visual imagery, is one article in a series for Popular Electronics.

R & T Board: White Dress At Grid Tilts

Signatures on a "good luck" telegram and white shirts or blouses as part of dress for football games are the initial campaigns of the Rally and Traditions Board this fall.

The board will have a booth set up along College Avenue tomorrow for the "good luck" telegram names.

The telegram, a tradition, will be sent to the Sun Devils in Wichita wishing them good luck in their season opener against the Wichita Wheatshockers.

Signatures will cost only five cents.

'Age of Kings' Series Begins

"An Age of Kings" will again be presented on Channel 8, KAET, ASU educational channel.

The fifteen week series of Shakespeare's plays will be shown each Tuesday and Friday nights at 10 p.m.

Tonight, "Deposing of a King," Richard II, Acts 3, 4, 5 will be presented.

Free play outlines are available at the KAET offices in the Engineering Center.

FRESHMAN ASSEMBLY — ASU President G. Homer Durham greeted some 5,500 students at an orientation assembly in the Sun Devil gymnasium during Orientation Week.

Tryouts Set Today For Pom-pon Girls

Annual pom-pon tryouts will begin today at 2:30 p.m. in the MU ballroom.

All freshmen, sophomore and junior coeds with a 2.00 grade index are eligible for the tryouts. Girls must be able to attend daily practices at 3 p.m.

Football Attendance High

Arizona State University drew a total attendance of 176,185 for the 1961 football season, averaging 29,364 fans for six home dates.

Judges at the tryout will include Bob Carter, ASASU president; Ned Wulk, head basketball coach; Al Stephan, athletic staging and promotion director; Marvin Grier, swimming pool manager and assistant professor in the health, physical education and recreation department; Hazel Rittenhouse, secretary to the director of athletics; Margie Low, pom-pon sponsor; and Patsi Rich, pom-pon captain.

Girls planning to try out must wear white shorts, blouses and tennis shoes.

Final selection will be made Sept. 22 at noon in the MU ballroom.

Newcomers Welcomed

About 50 new foreign students were welcomed to ASU at a rice and chicken dinner early in September.

The event was sponsored by the Committee for Friendly Relations among Foreign Students and hosted by the Cultural Affairs committee.

Dr. G. Homer Durham, ASU president, welcomed the students to ASU. Other speakers included Mrs. Cecelia Scoular, for the MU, and Bob Day, chairman of the Cultural Affairs committee.

James Creasman of the Alumni Association was emcee for the after-dinner program.

The Committee for Friendly Relations among Foreign Students, a nationally-organized group, works with all foreign young people.

One of its services is to provide homes for foreign youths.

Fraternity Rush Draws 550 Men

Preference Parties To Climax Activities

By ROSS FISH
Preference parties this evening will climax formal rush for 550 prospective fraternity men.

ASU's 21 social fraternities this week have displayed themselves before a group nearly doubling last year's.

JERRY SULLIVAN, Interfraternity Council president, greeted the rushees at the Sunday afternoon rush assembly in the MU ballroom.

Sullivan said the increase in rushees is "indicative of ASU's rapidly growing fraternity system."

Rushees attended open houses Sunday and Monday evenings.

To be eligible to pledge during formal rush at least 10 houses were to be visited.

RUSHEES CUT their choice to four fraternities after attending 45 minute "smokers" at each house Tuesday and Wednesday evening.

Two bids were to be selected for the preference parties by tonight.

Bids to pledge may be picked up between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. tomorrow in the MU upper lounge.

DEAN GARY Anderson stated that he expected the fraternity system on ASU's campus to double in the next few years.

He said Phi Gamma Delta will organize in January. Kappa Sigma and Beta Theta Pi are on a waiting list.

Aiding this year's rush has been the completion of 10 new houses on Alpha Drive.

FRATERNITIES who have moved into new homes include Sigma Nu, Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Phi Delta Theta, Alpha Epsilon Phi, Delta Sigma Phi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Alpha Tau Omega, Theta Delta Chi and Sigma Chi.

Rushing in their new houses on Adelphia Drive have been Tau Kappa Epsilon, Theta Chi, Pi Kappa Alpha, Alpha Gamma Rho and Delta Chi.

Phi Kappa Psi met rushees in its new house at 1120 McAllister.

FRATERNITY RUSH — Three of the 550 students entering fraternity rush this semester found this pleasant reception at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon party Tuesday.

130 Women Meet For International Phrateres Fete

One hundred and thirty off-campus women students attended Phrateres International's recent reception in the MU upper lounge.

Present were Associate Dean of Students Catherine G. Nichols, Assistant Dean Maxine Neely and Mrs. Charlotte Lewis, advisor to Phrateres. Phrateres president Jean Hallickson introduced sponsor Mrs. Edward J. Demson, who talked to the women attending.

The Phrateres "coming in" party was Wednesday on the Alumni House lawn.

A pledge class in excess of 60 is predicted by President Hallickson. Pledging starts Sept. 24 and lasts the duration of the semester.

Interested women students who have not been to either of the functions are urged to call Miss Hallickson at WO 7-4149.

Top Yell Spot

Mike Schwartz was chosen last week to lead the 1962-63 cheerleading squad.

The other cheerleaders are Bruce Peterson, Richard Bouck, Bill Smith, Delma Van Hooser, Pam Loeb, Pam Dyer and Bernie Webber.

MU To Hold Open House

The bustling Memorial Union activities gather full momentum next Friday at 8 p.m. when the MU holds its annual open house.

Entertainment and festivities will permeate throughout the building. Folk singer Ronnie Ryan will be in Clancy's billiard parlor in the basement. Ronnie is an ASU student who has performed in Europe with USO and YMCA tours.

The Cultural Affairs committee will display the first art exhibit of the year in the lower lounge. Upstairs in the social lounge, there will be a variety program sponsored by the Social Committee.

Latin Enterprises of Phoenix, in charge of the open house dance in the ballroom. An orchestra presenting Latin and American music will be featured.

In addition students will have an opportunity to meet new program director Robert Alberti, his MU staff and student body officers.

More entertainment is still in the planning.

Here's How To Look Best For A Distinctive Portrait

Portrait tips for students planning to have pictures made this year by the ASU Photo Service were compiled recently by Mary Botsford of the photo lab.

POINTERS FOR WOMEN

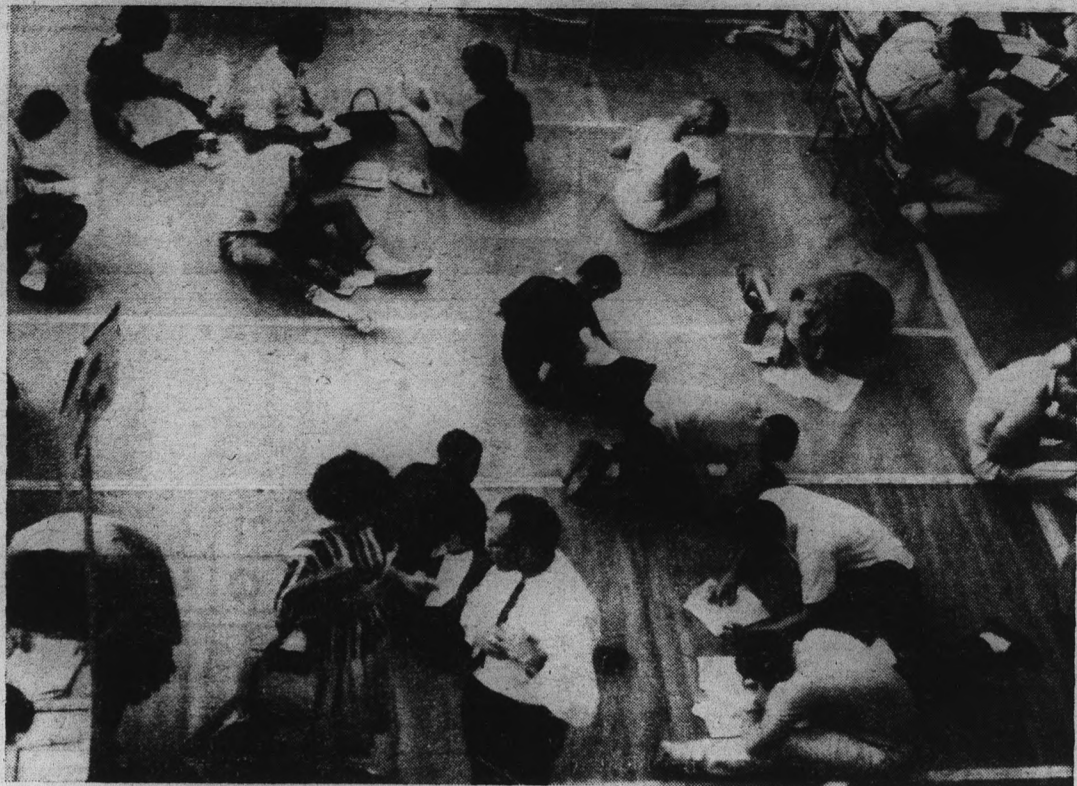

1. Wear a plain pastel blouse or dress with a flattering neckline. (No checks, patterns or stripes—too busy.)
2. Avoid bulky costume jewelry.
3. Pastel shades of lipstick are fine for street wear but for your portrait a darker shade is proper for the outline and expression of the lips.
4. Eye make-up should be applied lightly. Eye shadow and lid line sometimes are overdone—this is a difficult problem to retouch on the negative.
5. Be sure your hair is styled the way you feel most attractive and all ends combed and sprayed in place.

6. If your hands are to appear in the portrait be sure the fingernails are freshly manicured.

POINTERS FOR MEN

1. Be freshly shaven.
2. Have your hair cut about four days before your portrait sitting.
3. Dark suits keep the portrait in a lower key and make the subject look manly and distinguished.
4. Shirt should be white and freshly laundered. (Avoid shirt collars with long points since they tend to wrinkle.)
5. A regular four-in-hand tie with a small, conservative design is preferred for the distinctive man.
6. Smile with your eyes, not with your mouth. This keeps the portrait pleasant but dignified, the kind that can be used for business, family and friends alike.

Camp Tontozona Offers Team Summer Home On ASU Land

By DENNIS ANDERSON

At one time, Arizona State's Sun Devils could lay claim to the title of "Hottest Football Town, U.S.A." because of the extreme temperatures at the start of each season in Tempe.

Not so anymore. Two years ago the Sun Devil brass decided to come up with a Summer Place to conduct the first two weeks or so of practice. Most logical site seemed to be ASU-owned property high in the Payson pine country.

Dubbed Camp Tontozona, the facility offers excellent surroundings and atmosphere for ASU's grid-ders. Temperatures are as much as 25 degrees lower than in Tempe. Many of the squad members agree that the camp is advantageous for the initial drills.

Through the courtesy of ASU Sports Information Director, Dick Mullins and the coaching staff, we were afforded the opportunity of spending a weekend at the camp.

The team and numerous camp visitors were treated to a pit barbecue that evening, sponsored by the Sun Angel Foundation.

A couple of rootin'-tootin' wranglers were recruited from Blythe, Calif., by assistant coach Dick Mansperger to prepare the beef and trimmings. Afterwards they entertained with guitars and songs.

A group of Sun Devils also entertained. Charley Taylor, Tony Lorick, Ray Young, Larry Todd and Hase McKey showed talent by singing several past and present rhythm and blues numbers.

Squad spirit was high; perhaps this could key a winning season. Spirit and togetherness have been known to carry a team a long way.

Devils Open Away; Wheatshockers Foe

By DENNIS ANDERSON
Assistant Sports Editor
"Like old country boys going into the city for the first time," says Arizona State grid boss Frank Kush about tomorrow's season opener against Wichita's Wheatshockers.

The Sun Devils, forty-four strong, board at Sky Harbor this morning and head for the Kansas city for the sixth meeting with Wichita, a series which dates back to 1946.

ASU has won three, lost one and one ended in a tie. Last year the Sun Devils came out on top, 21-7.

"They said we were the best team they played last season and this includes Villanova in the Sun Bowl," Kush continued. "This plus their opening loss to Louisville (21-20) should give them cause to be more than up for us." In other words, Wichita feels ASU to be the "big one."

"Lots of desire and hustle," Kush feels about his own Sun Devils. "There will be lots of anxious moments, because we really don't know what we have," he continued.

"Inexperience is our biggest problem, as well as overall punting, kickoffs and blocking, and we won't know till we're under game conditions," Kush pointed out in pre-game analysis.

All-American end candidate Roger Locke is the only starter back from last season's Sun Devil eleven and the 6-3, 215-pounder from Muskegon, Mich., will be joined by Alonzo Hill, a defensive whiz at the opposite end. Hill is 6-2, 185 pounds.

Joe Kush, 5-10, 190, and veteran Bob Widmer, 5-11, 190, get the starting call at guards, while another vet, 6-0, 215-pound Steve Fedorchak gets the nod at center.

Tough Pat Appulese, 6-2, 225, a sophomore, starts at one tackle spot and letterman Mike Krofchik, 6-0, 210, holds down the other.

John Jacobs, 6-1, 195 pounds, opens at the vital quarterback slot. His throwing and leader-

Arizona State University's football opponents for the coming season fared about even for the past week with three winning and three losing.

The other four are due for their initial contest tomorrow.

Circle K Again Campus Group

Circle K, service organization for college men, has been re-established on the ASU campus this semester.

The campus chapter is sponsored by the Tempe Kiwanis club and patterned after Kiwanis International.

David M. Watt, ASU junior, was named trustee of the Arizona, New Mexico, Nevada, California and Hawaii district at the International convention this year.

Those interested in becoming members should contact Arnold Bullock, Arts 210, or Dr. Woodrow Nold, MU 213.

tomorrow, opened against Louisville where they were edged 21-20 after opening up a 14-0 lead at one time.

COLORADO STATE University, here on Sept. 29, took the measure of tiny South Dakota 35-26 in a high-scoring affair.

Paced by Pistol Pete Pedro, the West Texas State Buffaloes swamped Trinity of San Antonio, 61-0.

In a game which matched two ASU foes, Utah State's Aggies defeated San Jose State, the Sun Devil jinx ball club, 19-7.

NEW MEXICO State was beaten by an improved New Mexico ball club 28-17 in their intrastate clash.

This week, Washington State, Texas Western, Utah and Arizona all open their seasons.

For WAC schools, BYU was beaten by University of the Pacific 26-7, Wyoming whipped Montana 13-0, and New Mexico conquered NMSU.

Scheduled for this week are two conference games with New Mexico at Wyoming and Arizona hosting Brigham Young. Utah also hosts Colorado.

Sun Devil Facts

Tough Utah State University, ninth ranked nationally in one pre-season football poll, will be ASU's Homecoming opponent during the upcoming campaign.

Frosh Footballers Begin

Coach Bill Kajikawa's Sun Imps will hold their first separate football scrimmage tonight in preparation for their Oct. 6 opener against Arizona State College's Axbabes.

Up to today, the frosh have been confined solely to helping the varsity prepare for tomorrow's opener at Wichita.

Kajikawa hasn't had the opportunity to evaluate his squad of 45 and isn't sure of its potential. "They all come from different football backgrounds," he says, "and it takes time to form a well drilled unit."

Assisting Kajikawa in his coaching chores are four former Sun Devil gridders. They are Fred Rhoades, Don Bigler, Nolan Jones and John McFalls.

The full schedule:
Oct. 6 — at ASC Axbabes

Oct. 13 — at Eastern Arizona JC
Oct. 20 — at University of New Mexico Wolfpups
Oct. 27 — University of Arizona Wildkittens at Goodwin.

Is this the only reason for using Mennen Skin Bracer?

Skin Bracer's rugged, long-lasting aroma is an obvious attribute. But is it everything?

After all, Menthol-Iced Skin Bracer is the after-shave lotion that cools rather than burns. It helps heal shaving nicks and scrapes. Helps prevent blemishes. Conditions your skin.

Aren't these sound, scientific virtues more important than the purely emotional effect Skin Bracer has on women? In that case, buy a bottle. And—have fun.

Ten New Trackmen Enter Arizona State

Ten outstanding new trackmen have enrolled at ASU for the coming year, Coach Baldy Castillo announced yesterday. They include the nation's top high school shot putter, a combination sprinter and hurdler, and a group of highly rated pole vaulters.

They are:
Larry Hendershot, Washington High School, who threw the 12-pound high school shot 65 ft. and who has put the college shot 53 ft.

Tom Hester, San Bernadino, Calif., a 9.6 sprinter who has also done the low hurdles in 22.8.

Joe Cole, Glendale High School, who has thrown the high school discus 175 ft., the college discus 160 ft. and the javelin 200 ft.

Jerry Armon, Phoenix College, the national junior college pole vault champ with 14-8.

Dan McPeck, Phoenix College, who has done 23-6 in the broad jump, where the Devils have been hurting for a few years.

Art Reede, Phoenix College, who has a 1:54.5 in the 880 and who also runs the mile.

George Belcher, Oklahoma City, Okla., who has run the high hurdles in 14.8.

Dave Taylor, King City, Calif., who has done 13-8 in the pole vault.

Mike Morris, Walnut, Calif., has done 13-6 in the pole vault.

Larry Liffick, from the state of Washington, who has done 13-6 in the pole vault.

Coach Castillo also announced that Sun Devil sprinter Hubie Watson, a 9.5 hundred-yard dash man in recent years, will not be back but that javelin thrower Frank Covelli has vastly improved.

Covelli is now tossing around 250 ft., which is what he was throwing two years ago in junior college.

ASU Host For Tennis Tourney

Arizona State University has been selected as host school for the WAC tennis championship March 24-25.

The Sun Devil team will enter the playoffs under the direction of Ted Bredehoff, in his first year as head coach.

The official seasons opens Feb. 1, including approximately 22 dual matches and 6 tournaments.

ASU will enter a team in the Valley Winter League, early in November.

Men interested in varsity tennis competition may sign up with Coach Bredehoff in the Athletic Department.

Fourteen Game Schedule For Frosh Basketball

"Although we haven't as yet seen all of them play, they look like a real good bunch of kids," Frosh Coach Billy Mann said of his 1962-63 basketball team.

The Sun Imps schedule was cut to 14 games this campaign, due to Western Athletic Conference regulations, of which 11 will be preliminaries to the varsity games.

The Imps play the University of Arizona Wildkittens, Eastern Arizona's Gila Monsters, Phoenix College's Bears, and Arizona State College's Axebabes all home and away. In addition to these, they will supplement their schedule with teams from the Metropolitan League in Phoenix, Denver, Minnesota, and Colorado are the only varsity games in which the Imps do not play preliminaries.

The frosh roster:

Rich Coppola, a 6-2 guard from Struthers, Ohio;

Dennis Hamilton, a 6-7 forward from Huntington Beach, Calif.;

Jim Holloway, a 6-8 center from Chicago Ill.;

Don Holmes, a 6-1 guard from Winamac, Ind.;

Paul Meany, a 6-5 forward from Manitowac, Wis.;

John Meyers, a 6-5 center from Struthers, Ohio;

Charles Robinson, a 6-6 forward from Los Angeles, Calif.;

Jim Whitehead, a 6-3 forward from McKeesport, Pa.;

Dave Zesiger, a 5-11 guard from Arcadia High in Phoenix.

Sun Devil Facts

Frank Kush, head football coach at Arizona State University, and his line coach, Dick Tamburo, were teammates on a Michigan State team that was the national champion in 1952. Both men won All-America honors, Kush at guard and Tamburo at center.

ASU Golfers Tie For Second Place

ASU varsity golfers Les Wimp and Ted Lyford tied for second in the Phoenix City Championships this past weekend. Jack O'Hara, letterman from Palo Verde, Calif., also entered the tournament.

Lyford transferred this year from Fullerton Junior College in California and along with Wimp and O'Hara should make a strong trio for the Devils in their quest for the first Western Athletic golf crown.

Others on the team are John McGione, Santa Ana, Calif.; Dudley Merkle, Newport Beach, Calif.; and Pete Hirmer, Phoenix College transfer.

Faculty Facts

ASU's former Bureau of Broadcasting director, Dr. Richard H. Bell, has been named assistant director of audio-visual instruction in charge of radio-television at the University of Colorado.

During his nine years here, Dr. Bell was responsible for the development of KAET, a non-commercial educational television channel.

He helped develop the department of mass communications and initiate the campus laboratory radio station.

Dr. Marvin Fisher, ASU associate professor of English, is the author of "An Answer to Jefferson on Manufactures," which appeared in the South Atlantic Quarterly in the summer 1962 issue.

Dr. Paul Hubbard, chairman of the history department, has been nominated for a three-year term to the council of the Pacific Coast branch of the American Historical Association.

The nomination was announced last week at the organization's convention at Loyola University in Los Angeles.

Other ASU history professors attending the convention were Dr. Karl H. Dannenfeldt, Dr. Guilford A. Dudley, Dr. John R. Martinez and Dr. Wallace E. Adams.

Dr. Keith Davis, chairman of the department of management, is author of three chapters in the recently published book, "Current Issues and Emerging Concepts in Management."

ship could mean the difference between a win or loss.

Charley Taylor, 6-3, 198, and Tony Lorick, 6-1, 195, will be the starting halfbacks. Because of his hustle, attitude and determination, Lorick has been named game captain.

ASU has contributed four football players to the West squad in the annual East-West Shrine game. They were Wilford (Whizzer) White, 1950; John Jankans, 1955; Clancy Osborne, 1958; and Leon Burton, 1958.

Off The Cuff

By BOB JACOBSEN Sports Editor

Tomorrow night Arizona State's football Sun Devils embark on their 49th campaign but with a bright new look about them.

This season the Devils are entering their first year of Western Athletic Conference competition.

Although the Devils are ineligible for the conference crown because of playing only two league games, they still have a formidable schedule ahead of them including such notables as Washington State University, Utah State University, San Jose State, and their two league foes, the University of Utah and the University of Arizona.

Prospects look bright when one takes a look at Devil backfield speed but when a glance at the schedule shows that ASU plays EIGHT straight home football games, confidence really begins to set in.

And right so. The Devils, under Frank Kush's regime, have played .750 ball at home, winning 18 and losing six over the past four years.

The total amount of home games is more than any other football team in the country possesses and should be a record of some sort.

The away games are Wichita tomorrow and the University of Arizona in the finale of the season.

Sun Devil Facts

The ASU basketball team will meet University of Rhode Island at 7:30 p.m., Dec. 27, in a first round game of the Queen City Invitational Tournament at Buffalo, N.Y., Coach Ned Wulk announced this week.

In the second game Canisius will meet University of South Carolina. The winners will meet in the championship game Saturday night, Dec. 29. The losers will meet in the consolation game.

WAC America's Newest League

By BOB JACOBSEN
Sports Editor

America's newest major conference, the Western Athletic Conference, this year embarks on its initial season with the prospects of growth, prosperity and progress virtually unlimited.

Arizona State University, Brigham Young University, University of Arizona, University of New Mexico, University of Utah and the University of Wyoming make up the six charter members of the WAC.

The six universities, all located in the Rocky Mountain-Southwest region of the United States, have all experienced an explosive-rate growth in the last decade, and the immediate, and far-distant future for all seems to be one of prosperity.

Another positive item for the WAC in its intercollegiate athletic program is four of the six universities lie in metropolitan areas of 250,000 people or more.

With Arizona at Tucson, New Mexico at Albuquerque, Utah at Salt Lake City, and ASU near Phoenix, the possibilities of breaking attendance records are certain.

As football season is already here for half of the WAC, prospects look bright for an interesting and close campaign.

Wyoming, perennial champion of the old Skyline Conference, upended Montana 13-0 last Saturday at Billings and again appears to head the running.

The Cowboys return 24 lettermen from last year's 6-1-2 squad with at least two at every position except center. Wyoming lost All-Conference performers Quarterback Chuck Lamson and Fullback Bob Bisacre through graduation.

Heading the list of returnees are Halfbacks Bud Spicer and Mike Walker and punter Jim Gidley.

Over at Utah, Head Coach

Ray Nagel returns 17 lettermen and among them are End Marv Fleming, Guard Ron Manno, Quarterbacks Bill Cravens and Gary Hertzfeldt, and Halfbacks Jerry Overton and Bud Scalley—all standout performers.

The Redskins open up tomorrow with the University of Colorado at Salt Lake in a game which could set their season pattern for them.

Down the state a little we move to Provo where BYU is just coming off a 2-8 season. But with 24 lettermen returning, including Tailbacks Eldon Fortie and Bill Wright and a brilliant new soph prospect at fullback, Kent Nance, Head Coach Hal Mitchell has cause to smile.

BYU traveled to Stockton last Saturday where University of Pacific thumped them 26-7, due to three mistakes which all led to touchdowns.

New Mexico's Lobos sparkled last Saturday when they whipped state-rival New Mexico State 28-17 very soundly.

NMU, under Head Coach Bill Weeks, returns 19 lettermen including End George Heard, Quarterback Jim Cromartie and Halfback Bobby Santiago, who played vital parts in New Mexico's 6-4 campaign last year.

Tomorrow the Lobos tackle pre-conference favorite Wyoming at Laramie.

The University of Arizona, coming off their best season ever, 8-1-1, opens tomorrow with BYU at Tucson.

Head Coach Jim LaRue returns 18 lettermen with such familiar faces as Eddie Wilson, Bobby Thompson and Joe Hernandez gone through graduation.

Among the Wildcats' returnees are End Ken Cook, Tackle Vern Alexander, Guard Howie Breinig, Quarterback Jim Faulks, Halfbacks Dave Knott and Gary Kenley and Fullback Ted Christy.

Men's Intramurals Start Monday

Men's Intramurals will get into full swing Monday, Sept. 24 with the opening of the tennis program.

Signups for both singles and doubles are due Friday, Sept. 21 in the Intramural Office in the MU basement.

All organizations planning to compete in Intramurals should have eligibility lists filed in the office, open every day from 2:30-5:00 p.m.

Handbooks and information are available at the Intramural Office or call ext. 440.

Sun Devil Facts

Arizona State University has been a charter member of two athletic conferences. In 1931 the Border Conference was formed with ASU among those represented. Now the Sun Devils join five other universities in the formation of the Western Athletic Conference.

Angel Flight, Kaydettes Hold Teas

Fifty Coeds Chosen At Angel Flight Tea

Initial selection of candidates for Angel Flight membership was Wednesday at a tea co-sponsored by Angel Flight and Arnold Air Society.

Fifty of those attending the tea have been asked to return Sept. 25 for further consideration.

SEVEN positions must be filled, and ten alternates will be selected.

The tea provided an opportunity for those interested to meet the active Angel Flight members and to learn about the organization.

George Rhodes, coordinating sponsor of Angel Flight, was the speaker for the event.

Qualifications for the "blue and white" are based upon knowledge of Arnold Air Society, interest in Angel Flight, drilling ability, enthusiasm, poise and personality.

FINAL selection will be based on an interview scheduled for Oct. 9 and satisfactory completion of a written test and drill performance on Oct. 11.

The new members will be tapped Oct. 12.

Angel Flight members are hostesses at functions of Arnold Air Society. They also promote the Air Force.

The flight's activities include ushering at football games and marching in parades.

Moonlight Twist Slated Tonight On Den Patio

Students will have their choice of twisting or hopping tonight or tomorrow night in the MU.

The "Moonlight Twist" is scheduled 8 to 12 p.m. on the Devil's Den patio, and "Hades Hop" is the theme of the get-acquainted dance, which will begin at 8:30 p.m. in the MU ballroom Saturday.

Admission is free to the patio twisting session and open to both couples and stags. Free Cokes will be served during the dance.

The "hop" will feature live entertainment of an undisclosed nature.

Dress will be casual, and only students wearing some article of red clothing will be admitted to the admission-free affair.

The Corral will be open for refreshments during the dances.

Tapping To Climax Kaydette Selections

Six ASU coeds will be tapped today as members of Kaydettes, the Army ROTC honorary.

They have been selected from over 120 students who attended a tea Tuesday morning and who were part of forty finalists.

"Kaydettes are selected on personality and appearance," according to Captain Daryl D. Jones, Army advisor to the honorary. Some consideration is given to the distribution of the girls by their sororities and dorms.

Eleven Kaydettes are returning this year, bringing their total to 17 plus one alternate. Under the leadership of Colonel Lynn Anderson, the Kaydettes will serve at social functions for the Army ROTC and march in parades and drill meets.

Last year the Kaydettes won fifth place in the fancy drill division at the Sunnyside City Drill Festival in Tucson and Karen Arneson, a Kaydette, was named Milba Queen of 1962.

Pledge Presents On Tap For Oct. 5 In Ballroom

Pledge Presents is scheduled for Oct. 5 from 8 to 12 p.m. in the balcony of the MU Ballroom.

About 200 pledges representing the eleven national sororities on campus will share the spotlight in the annual program.

Ellen Roca, Pledge Presents chairman and vice president of Panhellenic, reports that plans feature a more formal atmosphere for this year's event. The most significant change is that fraternity actives and pledges will act as escorts for the sorority pledges.

Jerry Sullivan, Interfraternity Council president will present a bouquet to each pledge class.

M.C.'s Ellen Roca and Rick Bramlet will be aided by Jerry Sullivan, IFC president, and Margie Holstein, Panhellenic president.

A dance will conclude the evening's activities with sorority pledges and their escorts being honored at the first dance of the evening.

Special invitations have been extended to the deans.

Grid Tickets Sell Thursday

Student guest tickets for the ASU-Colorado State football game on Sept. 30 will go on sale Sept. 27.

Tickets will be on sale from 8:30 to 5 p.m. in the lobby of the men's gym.

Guest tickets for the Colorado State game will cost $3.50. For some of the other football games the guest tickets will cost $4.

GUIDANCE IS GOAL — Bringing a touch of the Far East to the ASU campus is Kodungallore Janaki, known as Jaki to her friends. She is pursuing her doctorate in Guidance and Counseling in Education under the International Teacher Development program.

Doctoral Work At ASU Keeps Coed In States

By TWILA DRUMM

Admission to candidacy for a higher degree usually is a cause for happiness.

And for Kodungallore Janaki, an ASU student from the state of Kerala, South India: "It's like a dream come true."

Jaki, as she is called by friends, is doubly happy.

Her admission to doctoral work means she can spend at least two more years in the U.S.A.

A teacher in her home state of Kerala, Miss Janaki is currently working on a doctorate in guidance and counseling in education.

SHE HOPES TO complete degree requirements by June 1963.

Since early childhood she dreamed of some day coming to America. "At home, we were always exposed to American magazines, and I used to look at the pictures and read about your country," she said.

Her father, a civil servant in Kerala, believed education was the best insurance in the world. He encouraged her to further her education.

Jaki's dream was realized when she came to ASU in September 1959 under the International Teacher Development program of the U.S. Department of Education.

AFTER 13 weeks of study here, she undertook the travel phase of the program and then went to West Virginia for the community phase, studying every type of school and participating in community activities.

Returning to ASU, she became a full-time student and finished work on the master's degree in December 1960.

"Two things a foreign student should learn before coming to America is to type and drive a car. Both of them are needed."

In attempting to solve the problem, she took one semester of typing, and a friend gave her a car.

"IN INDIA, we drive on the left side, so I have a tendency to steer to the left — people haven't said anything to me yet, they just mumble," she laughed.

Still exploring new horizons, Jaki took an elementary journalism course in 1961 "just for fun." Such courses, she said, cannot be taken in India unless one attends a special school.

"It seems to me that students in this country learn fewer facts but are taught to study more intelligently — taught to think and understand.

"In India, we are taught more facts, but learn less intelligently," she said.

Her future goal is to return to Kerala, to teach in the Government Training College in Tellicherry.

Newman Opening Slated

The Catholic Student Center, 8th St. and College Ave., will be dedicated at 6 p.m. Tuesday by Francis J. Green, Bishop of the diocese of Tucson.

Open house for the general public will be from 1 to 6 p.m.

The new Newman Center, designed by Ralph Haver & Associates, cost about $200,000 and contains over 18,000 square feet. The Center and its facilities were designed and planned to service the needs of the present 2,500 Catholic students enrolled at ASU.

Facilities include Stovall Hall auditorium with a seating capacity for 500. Adjoining the auditorium is a small visitation chapel, St. Philip Neri.

A coffee shop began operation serving daily breakfast, lunches and snacks this year. There is a spacious lounge area and offices and workshops for the students, chaplain and administration staff.

On the second floor is a classroom and a library with stacks for 4,000 volumes.

The club originated in the basement of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church, one of the oldest churches in Tempe, in 1931, and was originally sponsored by Fredrick Irish, former college registrar.

University Players Open New Theatre

By MARY GORMAN

NEW! It's NEW! Everything's NEW! The building, the seats, the stage, the floor, the dressing rooms, the lobby, the furniture, the policy — everything.

This is the University Playhouse located in the Lyceum behind the Arts Building. Last year the building was known as the Drama Workshop, but has been recently remodeled into a modern University Theatre.

The place is literally bursting with new ideas, new faces, new costumes and a new name.

Don Doyle, formerly at Northern Illinois University, is one of the directors this year. He is well known in Children's Theatre work throughout Arizona. Doyle will direct four of the plays this season, while Dr. James Yeater, chairman of the drama department, will direct the other three plays scheduled.

Also new in the Drama department this year is the establishment of the National Collegiate Players, the highest honorary in the drama world.

The new name of the theatre comes from the honorary, and is just another part of the re-vamping program of the drama department, which hopes to establish a new name for itself in university life through new ideas.

The University Players are operating under a new policy this year by charging for all performances instead of the usual activity card admission.

Season tickets are $5 for students and faculty, while tickets for each individual play are $1. All tickets can be picked up at the box office in the Playhouse.

Included in the price of admission this year is a preview of art shows presented by the Art department under the direction of Dr. Raymond Fink. A new display will be presented at each different play.

The first show will feature Alicia Slette, a Master of Fine Arts candidate, who will display oils, water colors and graphics.

The first play to be presented this season is Noel Coward's comedy, "Private Lives." The play deals with the personality clashes among the married set.

The curtain rises on the first performance next Wednesday night at 8:30. The performers hope for one other new addition this year — a full house.

Full House Needed —

MOONLIGHT PRIVACY??? — Not for Susan Flannery and Mike Bryon in this scene of Noel Coward's Private Lives. The University Players will present the story in the Lyceum on September 26 and 28 and October 3 and 5.

Hayden Hall Selects New 1962-63 Officers

Hayden Hall's council held special elections this week to fill vacancies left by summer resignations.

President for the coming year is Ray Young; vice presidents, Chuck Boyd and Tom Fogelburg; treasurer, Leroy Harkins; and secretary, Walter Kehoe.

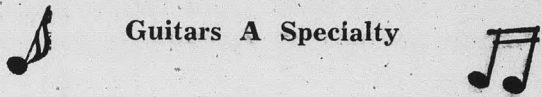

Russell Flaherty, elected sophomore representative last spring, will return to the council.

Representatives for the other three classes will be appointed next week.

Spurs Have Swim Party

Members of Spurs, sophomore women's honorary, met recently for a welcome-back swim party at the Scottsdale Community Pool.

RELAXING ATMOSPHERE — ASU students paired and reupholstered, students continue to make use of available facilities. (ASU Photo Service)

MU Lounge Transformed

Students have been sitting on the floor of the MU lower lounge this week.

The question is: what has happened to the furniture?

Mrs. Cecelia Scoular, director of the MU, announced that all of the cushions are being reupholstered, and all of the chairs are being refinished.

Opinion was expressed last year concerning the atmosphere of the lounge; new upholstery and new finishes are moves toward improving the atmosphere.

The present inconvenience could not be helped because work could not be started on the furniture until after summer school had ended.

Mrs. Scoular said the furniture should be in the lounges by the latter part of next week.

On the brighter side are the additions to the lounges.
