

Local Alumni Announce Phi Gamma Delta Colony To Organize Next Year

Phi Gamma Delta fraternity will start a colony at ASU in January 1963.

The colonization was approved at the fraternity's national convention last month in Dallas, Tex.

It was announced to the Phoenix Phi Gamma Delta alumni at a party two weeks ago at Paradise Valley Country Club.

The kickoff alumni party for the new colony is Oct. 2, coinciding with appearance of the Brothers Four on the ASU campus.

The Brothers Four are four Phi Gams from the University of Washington.

Phi Gamma Delta, founded in 1846, is one of the older national fraternities. University of Arizona has one of the most outstanding of the 86 chapters throughout the United States.

Last year, the UofA chapter won the fraternity's coveted Cheney Cup awarded each year to the most outstanding undergraduate chapter.

Bob Alexander, Washington national field secretary for the fraternity, will be on campus the last week in October.

All Phi Gams now attending ASU are urged to immediately contact Dean of Men Gary Anderson, or alumnus John Loucks, WH 6-3843.

Nominations Due Oct. 10

Nominations for "Who's Who among Students in American Colleges and Universities" for 1962-63 must be submitted to the office of the dean of students, MU 213 Oct. 10.

Nominations for this honor may be made by faculty, staff, students, student organizations, departments or residence halls.

ASU's selection committee currently has more than 100 names to consider, but additional nominations are encouraged.

To be eligible for consideration, the student must have at least 84 semester hours of credit with at least a 2.00 cumulative grade index.

Final selection of the candidates will be judged on the basis of scholarship, extracurricular activities and honors earned in college.

Senior Picture Deadline Set

Seniors who have not had their pictures taken for the Saharo should do so by the middle of October, ASU photo service announced yesterday.

The deadline for pictures is November 1.

The last days of the appointment period are filling up, and the photo laboratory would appreciate remaining students making early appointments.

Hall Elected Alumni Head

Wayne Hall, certified public accountant, has been elected president of the ASU Alumni Association.

The election was announced over the summer.

A 1941 graduate of ASU, Hall has served on the Alumni Board for the past two years. He succeeds Mesa attorney Wayne E. Legg in the presidential post.

Legg will remain on the Alumni Board as past-president.

Other officers and board members are T. Joseph Mahoney, judge of the Pinal County Superior Court, first vice president, re-elected; Donald L. Cramer, vice president of Lewis Offerman Investment Securities Co., second vice president; and Ralph R. Watkins, Jr., Bankers Life Insurance Co. of Nebraska, third vice president.

Also, Thelma Price Alexander, Phoenix teacher, secretary; George Morrell, ASU purchasing agent, treasurer, re-elected; and Del Bennowitz, vice president of Home Savings and Loan Association, director.

John R. Sandige remains on the board as trust officer.

Temperatures Keep Lewis In Hollywood

Comedian Jerry Lewis, who originally intended to invade the ASU campus next Monday to film "The Nutty Professor," has decided that warm Tempe temperatures will prohibit actual shooting until late October.

He and his crew will remain in Hollywood to film the indoor scenes of the movie. They will arrive in Tempe when the weather cools.

"We want to work in a nice, cool, school-like atmosphere," Lewis said. Most of the ASU filming will involve outdoor action.

Despite the delay in Lewis' arrival, student extras are now being signed for the campus scenes by Dr. James W. Yeater, head of the University Players.

Although drama majors have priority, all interested students may apply at the theater office in the Lyceum building. A sign-up sheet is posted.

University Players Open 'Private Lives'

Opening Night -

120 See Premier Showing

By MARTI CZEPOWSKI

The University Players initiated what appears to be a most successful drama season Wednesday evening with their presentation of "Private Lives."

A comedy by Noel Coward, the production received three curtain calls from an enthusiastic crowd of 120 at University Playhouse in the Lyceum building.

Included in the cast are Susan Flannery, portraying Amanda Prynne; Mike Byron as Elyot Chase; Gary Stephens as Victor Prynne; Mary Lou McNatt as Sybil Chase; and Sally Davis as Louise.

The play begins in a lavish French hotel when a newlywed couple discovers their ex-wife and ex-husband, respectively, are honeymooning in the adjacent suite. Hilarious complications arise when both couples become aware of the situation.

FIVE YEARS HAVE elapsed since Amanda Prynne and Elyot Chase's divorce, but love has not died and neither have their petty quarrels. They decide that they cannot live without one another and vow that this time things will be "different."

The next scene opens in Amanda's flat that evening. Amanda and Elyot are peaceful and loving without feeling the least bit guilty. Then the "tables turn" and so does the furniture — a violent quarrel arises. Meanwhile Victor and Sybil arrive.

ALTHOUGH THE FINALE is apparent it is by no means disappointing. Even to the end hilarity dominates.

The play runs through tonight and three more performances are scheduled beginning next Wednesday. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

Discussion Set Monday

Professor J. Roland Pennock, professor of political science at Swarthmore College in Pennsylvania, will visit ASU on Monday, Dr. G. Homer Durham has announced.

At 10:40 a.m. Prof. Pennock will discuss, "Recent Developments in Political and Legal Theory," in SS 322. Students and faculty are invited to attend.

For many years Prof. Pennock has been a leader in the development of the distinguished honors program of Swarthmore College.

Negro Still Refused Admission

OXFORD, Miss. — State officials compounded the gravest constitutional crisis of its kind since the Civil War Wednesday by again refusing to admit Negro James Meredith to the University of Mississippi.

Their actions prompted Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy to threaten the use of federal troops unless Meredith is admitted.

Representatives Ready To Go

WASHINGTON — The House by a roaring vote of 384 to 7 gave notice Wednesday that the United States will fight if she must over Cuba.

However, before the final vote a Republican effort to toughen the resolution, by branding the Soviet arms build-up in Cuba a violation of the Monroe Doctrine, was defeated 140 to 251.

Texas Dockmen Boycott Reds

HOUSTON, Tex. — Longshoremen honored a picket line of housewives, children and Cuban refugees Wednesday and refused to load U.S. government flour aboard a Yugoslav freighter which had carried Russian grain to Communist Cuba.

The angry captain of the freighter Drazic stood helpless on the bridge of his ship, scowling at the pickets.

BARCELONA, Spain — Flash floods from drought-breaking rainstorms ripped through industrial centers of the Barcelona area early Wednesday, killing hundreds of persons and destroying many factories, homes and bridges.

ASU Grad Gets Top Pay In Study

Four years of electrical engineering courses is a long, hard haul for any industrious college student, but it paid off for at least one ASU graduate this summer.

He received the highest starting salary offer made to any graduate from the 82 colleges and universities participating in the annual College Placement Council's salary survey.

The offer was $700 a month. The student accepted.

Starting salary offers to new college graduates during the summer increased sharply over the preceding year, according to the nationwide survey.

Dr. Robert F. Menke, director of placement, said, "The volume of offers for engineering and scientific positions continued to outnumber offers for non-technical jobs by more than three to one, but graduates of all curricula enjoyed about four of five per cent increases over last year.

The greatest percentage increase in offers made by a single employer category was in public accounting. This amounted to 5.3 per cent for an average offer of $496.

Second highest increase by employer category was banking and finance, which raised last year's average offer by 5.1 per cent to $433.

The average offers to aeronautical engineers, highest of all curricula, was $584, nosing out electrical engineering by a single dollar. For all engineering, physical science and mathematics offers, the average was $570.

Final results of the year-long survey showed that, by curriculum, offers to Liberal Arts candidates posted the greatest increase at 4.5 per cent, followed closely by accounting at 4.2 per cent. Average offers to Liberal Arts candidates jumped from $444 to $464.

Institute Of European Studies Announces Overseas Programs

Applications for spring semester study programs conducted at the universities of Vienna and Freiburg will be available on Monday, Oct. 8, the Institute of European Studies has announced.

Formal classes, lectures, seminars and field-study in Europe, are included in each program.

The University of Vienna will admit junior and senior students, as of Feb. 2, 1963, into English-taught liberal arts and general studies courses, intensive German language instruction, regular university courses taught in German for those competent in that language, and supplementary lectures and seminars. Previous knowledge of German is not required.

The "Das Deutsche Semester," intended only for juniors, will stress political science, German language study, German philosophy and literature, and European history. All of these classes will be taught in German.

Admission into the Institute will depend on the student's previous academic achievement and the recommendations of the dean and department chairman and of a professor familiar with his recent college work. Only students with a C-plus college average will be considered. The application period closes

Dec. 10 and students will sail for Europe from New York Feb. 2.

A descriptive brochure on the two programs is available from the Institute of European Studies, 35 E. Wacker Drive, Chicago, Ill.

The Institute reports that more than 200 U.S. colleges and universities have accepted credits earned by their students on these programs.

Dr. Bachrach New Psychology Head

Announcement has been made by Dr. G. Homer Durham of the summer appointment of Dr. Arthur J. Bachrach as chairman of the psychology department.

Dr. Bachrach had been director of behavioral science since 1958 and is past chairman of the department of neurology and psychiatry at the University of Virginia.

He is a fellow or member of 11 different scientific and professional groups, including the American Association for the Advancement of Science, British Interplanetary Society, American Psychological Association and Sigma Xi.

He received the bachelor of science degree from the City College of New York, master of arts degree from Western Reserve University and a doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Virginia.

Other positions held by Dr. Bachrach in the past include associate professor of neurology and psychiatry, UofV School of Medicine; since 1957, principal investigator of Naval Research project on experiments in decision-making and verbal behavior, and editor of the professional journal, "Behavior Research Monographs."

The new chairman is the editor or author of four books on psychology and approximately 30 papers and articles for professional journals and is presently completing work on five research projects, two of which are sponsored by the ONR.

Valley Teacher Has High Praise For Peace Corps

Jorge Carrera, a Glendale businessman who taught Peace Corps volunteers Spanish during the summer session at ASU, thinks the corps is "the most economical and honest way to help underdeveloped countries."

Carrera has just returned from Puerto Rico where he and 44 other corps members underwent two weeks of physical training.

The training included swimming, rock climbing, hunting food and locating water.

He said Peace Corps members are now working with the farmers of the island and soon will be transferred to Bolivia where they will work in the cattle industry.

Hopkins Moves

Ernest J. Hopkins, professor emeritus of journalism, and his wife, Mrs. Jean Hopkins, former assistant professor of art, have sold their Tempe home and moved to Descanso, California.

Professor Hopkins retired from ASU in 1957.

Card Section Size Doubled; Help Needed

Big is the word for the new ASU card section. It has expanded to two and one-half sections, double last years size.

The Rally and Traditions Board hopes to make it into the best card section in the Western Athletic Conference.

This can't, however, be done without student cooperation, the board points out.

As white makes the best background for a card section the board would like students to wear white shirts and blouses. Girls who don't care to wear white blouses may bring white shirts to slip into at half-time.

Jim Holland and Barbara Sprinkle, co-chairmen in charge of the section, spend 20 hours a week planning stunts and numbering cards.

Editorially Speaking

Yesterday evening the Interfraternity Council voted unanimously to suspend all Greek exchanges until such time as the Executive Council of IFC and the Panhellenic officers could meet and iron out their current difficulties.

It seems that the Panhellenic Council got together the other day and drew up a decision that exchanges could be held only on Sunday evenings!

This was a rather rash move, for little did the women know that the men might resent this just a little. First of all the men pointed out, exchanges are sponsored and financed by the fraternities. Sororities are only guests and must receive an invitation from the fraternity men. It is generally accepted in polite society that guests never designate when and how they should be invited to an event. Therefore, the Panhellenic decision was in poor taste and rather insulting to the hosting fraternities.

The IFC voted (also unanimously) to send a letter of "vigorous protest" to the Panhellenic council and to hold no exchanges until they reply and a meeting is held. This means that there will be absolutely no exchanges this week or any other week until Panhellenic agrees to talk out the difficulties and come to some agreement with IFC.

Another point brought out in the meeting is that Dr. Durham has in the past discouraged fraternities from planning activities on Sundays because this is the one day of the week that the various campus religious groups utilize for their activities.

Exchanges have generally been held on Wednesday or Thursday nights but Panhellenic felt that this middle-of-the-week partying detracted from study time. However, from the ire aroused, perhaps Sunday exchanges are not the answer to this dilemma. It will be interesting to watch for the outcome of this disagreement. These two normally peaceable bodies of power could end up at each other's throats.

Five days from now the ASASU Senate will convene for its first meeting of the 1962-63 school year.

After being sworn into their senate seats, this university's student senators and visiting officials will hear ASASU President Bob Carter deliver the annual "State of the Union" address.

ASU President G. Homer Durham will be on hand along with members of the press. Governor Paul Fannin, although originally scheduled to appear, is too busy campaigning to retain his incumbency.

Although no legislation is expected to be presented at Wednesday's opening session of the Tenth Legislature, Henry Klopping, ASASU first vice-president and head man of the Senate, is already compiling "must" legislation for the coming year.

Among Klopping's major goals this year are the revision of the Supreme Court, the creation of a civil service program for student government and the "unleashing" of a special watchdog committee to investigate and report on such varied campus traditions and institutions as freshman Orientation Week, the library, the parking situation and student government itself.

Klopping explained that the Senate has attempted twice in the last two years to revamp the Supreme Court. Neither attempt was successful.

"I want to straighten out certain contradictions in the court," said Klopping. "I would like to see it become a court of action with specific duties and powers."

But Klopping's major goal this year is his civil service program.

"The major purpose of this program is to eliminate student government appointments made only out of friendship," he said. "I hope to see legislation pass the Senate enabling interested students who can meet specific qualifications to apply for student committee positions in the spring."

The watchdog committee that Klopping hopes to inaugurate will be known as the student government operations committee.

Actually, the committee itself exists now as the student services committee. Unfortunately, the present committee has not compiled a very impressive record.

Under Bob Bonitati, whom Klopping has appointed to head the new committee, investigations should flourish. We might even have a purge or two.

Another little Senate group that has already been meeting may have some legislation ready for the second Senate meeting. That's the rules committee, usually one of the busier Senate committees.

Letters To The Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

It is beyond my comprehension why this university has any need of TWO stadiums when the new one would suffice. The space which could be obtained from eliminating the old stadium could provide parking space for off-campus students who now have to walk so far to their classes—those who can find a place to park that is!

I know there are plans for more buildings and some of these are to be constructed on the sites of current off-campus lots. What will be the use of the buildings without parking space enabling students to attend school? This is a serious problem and something should be done quickly.

It is ridiculous to maintain the old stadium when such a problem exists. In my opinion it is much more important to provide parking space for students, than it is to provide a separate ENTIRE stadium for football practice, men's gym classes and ROTC rifle matches. Let them go to the new stadium and give us a parking lot, even if we have to pay for spaces. I'd gladly pay if I just had a place to park.

If matters get much worse, we'll need to park our cars, then take the bus to class.

Miss Barbara Coy

TO THE EDITOR:

The characteristic twaddle, which Bill Overend passes off as journalistic achievement, has again exceeded my tolerance of his illogical thinking. His previous article has "blemished the start" of what should become the State Press' greatest year.

Concerning the actions of those university employees who supervised the registration lines, I must say that their efforts were commendable and justifiable. It is evident that those students, "man-handled," treated "rudely" and subjected to "threats," were mostly those students out of line who were unwilling to take their rightful turn in registration, but willing to infringe on the rights of those students who waited in those long lines.

As long as there are people too small to take the consequences of fair play in their lives, there is a definite need for "supervisors" to protect the rights of others. These "supervisors" have other names such as Police, Better Business Bureau, American Medical Association, Internal Revenue Department, etc.

On a personal level, those of us (who stood in registration lines for 2-3 hours out in the sun) thought that the grabbing of certain students' arms was mild treatment compared to our desire to widen the shoulder blades of said students with well-placed kicks in their "Kolben."

Roger A. Frantz

TO THE EDITOR:

We heartily encourage any spirited residents of East Hall to continue the spirit the East Hall men made so traditional.

However, there are at least two East Hall residents who do not consider East Hall tradition mandatory and resent last week's letter committing them to a policy of which they had never heard.

We write this to state that we do not feel bound to the pledge of support and tradition mentioned in the letter.

Sincerely,

Haroldene Haase, Judith Brimhall

TO THE EDITOR:

It was disappointing to learn that this year students will be charged $1 admission to plays presented by the University Players.

In the past, the plays presented by our drama department offered an evening of free cultural entertainment. Now it is no longer so!

Shouldn't our large activity fee allow us to see those plays without additional expense? I'm afraid that the new admission charge will discourage students from enjoying our plays.

Sincerely yours,

Patricia Inbody

$17 Million Poured Into State

During the past fiscal year students and employees of ASU have poured an impressive $17 million into the economies of Tempe and the state of Arizona.

The greatest amount of this money went for wages, operating and construction expenses.

ASU personnel and students who make their homes in Tempe contribute revenue for property taxes, rent, sales, gasoline, luxury and hidden taxes which are prorated back to Tempe.

They also spend money on food, clothing and other goods which are beneficial to Tempe.

WRITE? YOU'RE WRONG

In the recent furor over the assassination of President McKinley, it may have escaped your notice that a nationwide study of the writing ability of American college students has just been published.

The survey reveals an astonishing fact: that when students have completed their freshman year and are no longer required to take English, their writing skill progressively declines until we come to the fantastic situation where graduating seniors actually are poorer writers of English than incoming freshmen!

Many theories have been offered to account for this incredible fact. Some say that seniors know less English than freshmen because all seniors major in French. This is not true. No more than 94 percent of seniors major in French. How about the other six percent?

Well sir, of the other six percent, half—or three percent—take physics, and it is not hard to understand how these poor souls grow rusty in English when all they ever say is "E equals MC squared."

Of the remaining three percent, two-thirds—or two percent—major in whaling, and their English too grows feeble with disuse. Whalers, as we all know, do not speak at all except to shout, "Thar she blows!" maybe twice a year.

Of the one percent remaining, it cannot be fairly said that they are poor writers. The fact is, we don't know what kind of writers they are. Why not? Because they never write. And why don't they ever write? Because this remaining one percent of American college students are enrolled at the University of Alaska, and never take their mittens off!

(Incidentally, I received quite a surprise upon first visiting Alaska two years ago when I was invited to Juneau to crown the Queen of the Annual Date Palm Festival. Frankly I expected to find a surly and morose populace. After all, going through life with your mittens on all the time is hardly calculated to make you merry as a cricket. Not only can't you write, but you miss out on all kinds of other fun things—like three card monte, making shadow pictures on the wall, and lint picking. However, to my astonishment, I discovered Alaskans to be a hale and gregarious group, mittens notwithstanding, and I soon found out why: because mittens notwithstanding, they could still smoke Marlboro Cigarettes, still enjoy that rich mellow flavor, that fine, clean Selectrate filter, that truly soft soft pack, that truly flip-top flip-top box—and that, friends, will make anybody happy, mittens notwithstanding. In fact, Alaskans are the happiest people I have ever met in the whole United States—except, of course, for the Alaskan vendors of Marlboro Cigarettes, who have not been paid in many years—indeed, never—because how can anybody dig out coins to pay for cigarettes when he is wearing mittens?)

But I digress. What are we going to do about this deplorable condition where college students, having completed Freshman English, become steadily less proficient in the use of the language? The answer is simple. We will make them take Freshman English all through college. In fact, we won't let them take anything else! This solution, besides producing a nation of graceful writers, will also solve another harrowing problem: where to park on campus. If everybody takes nothing but Freshman English, we can tear down all the schools of law, medicine, engineering, and whaling, and turn them into parking lots. Can't we?

The makers of Marlboro, who sponsor this column, plead guilty to being among those Americans whose writing skill is not all it might be. However, we like to think that as tobaccoists we know a thing or two. Won't you try us and see if you agree?

Y.R.s Meet Thursday

ASU's Young Republicans Club will have an organizational meeting Thursday at 2:30 p.m. in the MU upper lounge.

John Conlan, one of Arizona's voices of conservatism, will be the keynote speaker.

Conlan, former instructor of political science, helped set up Governor Paul Fannin's campaign this year.

Gary Walston, the club's president, says that all Young Republicans are needed at this planning meeting.

Professor To Join In Study

Dr. Roy M. Johnson, associate professor of microbiology at ASU, has been selected to participate in the two year international Indian Ocean Expedition.

Dr. Johnson will spend three months during the summer of 1964 studying the distribution of spore-forming bacteria in the strait between eastern Africa and Madagascar.

The professor has been doing research on spore-forming bacteria under a contract with the Office of Naval Research for the past two years.

He has taught at the University of Chicago and the University of New Mexico in addition to ASU.

Girls wishing to tryout have one more day to practice, at 3:40 p.m. Thursday at the pool.

Social Service M. S. Program Due In '63

A two-year professional program leading to a master of science degree in social work from the Graduate School of Social Service Administration is scheduled to begin operation in the fall of 1963.

Dr. Horace W. Lundberg is dean of the school. For the past two years Dr. Lundberg has been responsible for the development of the school social work program in the U. S. office of Education in Washington.

DEAN LUNDBERG'S immediate concern is with initial development of the school, including staff requirements, curriculum and relationship with local and state social agencies.

Curriculum will emphasize generic case work. Also stressed will be knowledge and skills for successful social work with individuals and families.

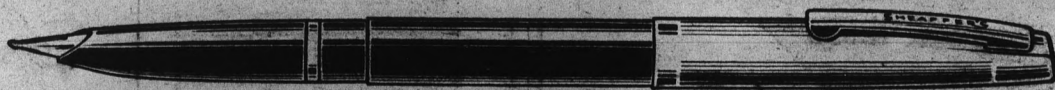

Working under close supervision in various community agencies, students will devote about half their time to field work.

Dean Lundberg pointed out that the decision to establish the school was based upon results of program studies.

PRELIMINARY STUDIES were conducted by ASU with the aid of community agencies and with consultation of the Council on Social Work Education, the professional body which accredits graduate schools of social work.

A population trend, available positions, and sources of trained personnel were factors.

Grants To Be Discussed By Research Committee

A university research committee named by President G. Homer Durham will meet Oct. 1 at 3:45 p.m. in the Business Administration board room to discuss programs concerning graduate research fellowships available.

The committee will advise President Durham on the selection of recipients and will consider research proposals from university faculty members.

The committee will make recommendations to the president for grants up to $40,000 between now and June 30, 1963.

The committee members are Dr. Arthur Bachrach, Dr. Robert L. Baker, Dr. Gordon B. Castle, Dr. Keith Davis, Dr. LeRoy Eyring, Dr. Ben Gossick and Dr. Paul Hubbard.

Submit Verse, Poets Urged

Aspiring ASU poets are invited by the National Poetry Press to submit verse for consideration in two of its publications.

College students are eligible to enter work for possible inclusion in the College Student's Poetry Anthology.

College teachers and librarians also are invited to submit verse for publication in the College Teacher's National Poetry Anthology. Shorter works are preferred.

Closing dates will be Nov. 5 for students and Jan. 1 for teachers and librarians.

All manuscripts should be sent to National Poetry Press, 3210 Selby, Ave., Los Angeles 34, Calif.

Others are Dr. Robert Kersten, Dr. Gene Montague, Dr. Evar Néring, Dean Irving W. Stout, ex-officio, George Boyd, secretary and Dr. William J. Burke, chairman.

'How To Study' Program Set

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Nu and Phi Kappa Psi will start an experimental "how to study" program for their pledges Oct. 7-21.

Dr. Gary Anderson, dean of men, will conduct the lectures three consecutive Sunday afternoons in the MU Ballroom beginning Oct. 7.

Pledges from all three fraternities involved in the program will be required to attend the lectures. They must also purchase the textbook, "How to Study," by C. T. Morgan.

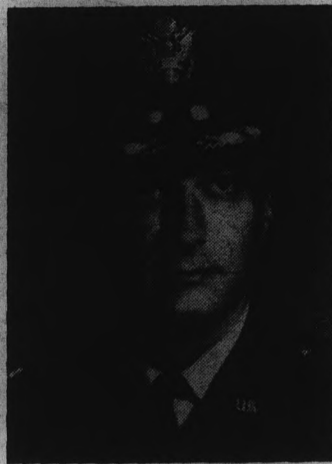

Night Class Set

A night course in chemical engineering will be offered this semester by the school of engineering.

The course, designed for engineers and scientists trained in other fields, will provide an elementary knowledge of chemical engineering principles for graduates and upperclassmen.

AFROTC Makes Col. Armstrong Department Boss

Lt. Colonel Jack R. Armstrong was recently appointed professor of air science and chairman of the department of air science replacing Colonel A. W. Bryant.

LT. COL. ARMSTRONG

During his 18 years of service, Colonel Armstrong has served in various administrative capacities. He was in combat during World War II flying B-29's.

For the past two years he has been an assistant professor of air science at ASU.

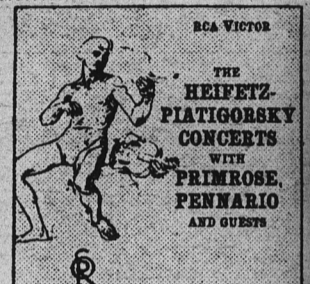

Colonel Armstrong, a graduate of the Air Force command and staff college, holds the B.S. degree from the University of Kansas and a M.B.A. from the University of Texas.

Economics Gets New Chairman

Dr. John A. Cochran, associate professor of economics at Southern Illinois University for the past five years, has been appointed chairman of the economics department at ASU.

ASU President G. Homer Durham announced Cochran's appointment to the faculty of the college of business administration, stating he has already assumed new duties.

Dr. Cochran, a research economist with the Federal Reserve Bank of New York in 1956-57 received doctor of philosophy and master of arts degrees from Harvard University and a bachelor of arts degree from Drake University.

He has completed additional study at Clark University, Worcester, Mass., and the University of Exeter, England.

After serving as a teaching assistant at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and as a teaching fellow at Harvard, Dr. Cochran was an assistant professor of economics at the University of Illinois for six years.

The new ASU professor was with the Army from 1944 to 1946, with civil affairs in France and with the military government in Germany. He was a psychological warfare instructor at Ft. Riley, Kans., during the Korean War.

Dr. Cochran is secretary-treasurer of the Midwest Economic Association and a member of the American Finance Association, the American Economic Association, Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Tau Delta, Pi Kappa Delta and Who's Who in Education.

He is currently under contract with the Macmillan Publishing Company to write a book on money and banking.

Russian Minor Now Available

Dr. Russell K. Bowman, chairman of the foreign language department, has announced that a Russian minor is now being offered at ASU for the first time.

Classes are open in Russian composition and conversation, survey of Russian literature, and Scientific Russian along with the first and second year courses currently offered.

Dr. Sanford Couch, formerly of the University of Wisconsin, has been appointed to the staff of the language department. He completed a doctorate in the department of Slavic languages and literatures.

MAP SHOWS north access road Sun Devil fans can take to parking area.

Land Owners Open Road For Football Fans Access

A current topic of discussion is the north access road to Arizona State University's stadium which should be thronged with cars of fans, attending tomorrow night's game.

The road intersects the Phoenix-Tempe Highway below the Salt River bridge on the west end and Scottsdale Road on the east end, with an approach leading to the stadium.

Ernie Mohamed, Phoenix contractor, and Attorney Wade Church, owners of 160 acres bisected by the access road, reopened the road to Sun Devil Stadium Wednesday.

The right of way stipulations are that the university grade and maintain the road, and free Mohamed and Church from liability for any accident occurring due to public use of the road.

Also, ASU has to take all reasonable steps against trespassers on the rest of the property.

The right of way agreement, effective for 30 days, will become permanent when the university acquires right of way through two other parcels bisected by the road, Church said.

Until that time gates on both ends of the access road will be open only during game time.

"We're giving all of our land free for the dedicated road they want," said Church. "We think they need the access and we want them to have it. We just want to be protected."

"Member of the Wedding," the prize-winning Broadway play, will be shown, in screen version tonight at 7:30 at Cosner Auditorium.

Julie Harris, Ethel Waters and Brandon de Wilde, the original stars when the play was on Broadway, also star in Stanley Kramer's screen version.

Miss Harris portrays a young girl who teeters on the edge of heartbreak because of loneliness. The girl uses the wedding of her brother to help her out of her loneliness.

TO STAR AT CLANCY'S — Ronnie Ryan will be featured at the MU Open House tonight. Accompanying him will be Gail Walston.

Folk Singer Stars Tonight At Clancy's

by BECKY ACUFF

Former ASU student, Ronnie Ryan, will be featured at the MU Open House tonight. Ryan, a folk singer, will be performing at 8:45 p.m. and 10 p.m. in Clancy's.

Among the numbers Ryan will present will be his favorites, "This Little Light Of Mine," "The Hammer Song" and "Maria."

Ryan, well known on the campus, has formerly entertained at the Baboquivari in Scottsdale, the Something Else in Phoenix and several coffee houses in the Los Angeles area.

Recently returned from a tour of Europe, Ryan was the featured soloist with the Phoenix YMCA on their entertaining tour of European USO bases. He has also been featured soloist with the YMCA on their tours of the Caribbean and the Orient.

Ryan, an ASU junior, will not be on campus this semester because of a business engagement. He and a partner will be opening a coffee house, The Mews, in Scottsdale in early October.

MU Reception

ASU President G. Homer Durham and other University officials will meet the university's military community at a fall military reception in the MU upper lounge from 3-5 p.m. today.

The Army ROTC program will be represented by the Kaydettes advanced and honor cadets and members of the Pershing Rifles.

Judith Anderson To Head Series

Vance Packard, author of a number of best sellers, and Judith Anderson, famous Broadway actress, are two of the top names on the Concert and Lecture Series this year.

The series opens on Oct. 17 with the classic and flamenco guitarists, Caledonia Romero and sons.

The group, which has been featured in Time magazine, will play Bach as well as Spanish and flamenco music.

The Loewenguth Quartet from Paris will present a chamber music concert on Nov. 18.

On Dec. 7, Panhellenion, a Greek folk festival production, will be portrayed through a study in depth of the folk arts of the country.

Packard, author of "The Hidden Persuaders" and "The Status Seekers," will lecture on "Our Morality and the New Persuasion Techniques" on Jan. 8.

Packard's latest book is "The Pyramid Climbers," published by McGraw-Hill. It will be issued on Oct. 29.

One of Russia's leading string groups, the Komitas String Quartet, will be presented by the concert series on Jan. 23.

Miss Anderson, nationally known actress, will present scenes from Macbeth and a presentation of "Medea" on Feb. 1.

A viola and piano sonata program will be presented by the Wallfisch Duo on Feb. 17.

Feruccio Tagliavini, Metropolitan tenor, will appear in a program on March 17.

His appearance on the Concert and Lecture series is one of his two appearances in the West, the other being in Pasadena.

Noted English poet, playwright and critic, W. H. Auden, will lecture on "A Poet and His Poems" on March 20.

On April 1, Dr. Juscelino Kubitschek, former president of Brazil, will speak on "United States—Argentina: Partners for Peace and Progress."

Mieczslaw Horszowski, Polish pianist, will appear on April 18.

Lola Montes and her Spanish dancers are on the final program of the concert series May 6.

All the concert and lecture programs begin at 8:15 p.m. in the MU ballroom with the exceptions of Panhellenion, and the programs of Miss Anderson and the Montes dance group.

Those performances will be in the Tempe Union High School auditorium.

University students will be admitted with activity tickets.

'Angel' Tap Set Oct. 12

Angel Flight, AFROTC women's honorary auxiliary, recently chose 50 candidates.

Following an afternoon tea in the MU Tuesday, the number of candidates was reduced to 30. By Oct. 2, 21 women will be eliminated. The remaining few will have the task of proving themselves for two weeks.

Finalists must prove their marching ability, have a sincere desire to attain membership, show a keen interest, have a pleasing personality, display poise and understanding and fulfill Angel Flight requirements.

Pledging will be Oct. 2-11. Tapping will take place Oct. 12 from 5-6:30 a.m. Breakfast to honor the new members will be served at 6:30.

Dean Maxine Neely

'Communications' New Dean's Aim

By ROSS FISH

Possessor of a beaming smile and deep dimples, Maxine Neely, new dean of women claims to have developed her good sense of humor in Claremore, Okla., birthplace of Will Rogers.

"Good communications" will be a primary aim of Dean Neely in her new position.

"TO BE UNDERSTOOD as well as understanding" has been the motto followed by the dean of women. She wants to emphasize that a girl in the dean's office is not necessarily being reprimanded.

One of her first ASU ambitions is to get acquainted with the student body. In working with college women she believes a friendly atmosphere with sincere cooperation is essential.

As Panhellenic adviser, Dean Neely was pleased that the sorority rush pledged the greatest percentage ever this fall.

She hopes ASU's Panhellenic system will continue to grow.

WHILE WORKING on her master's degree in student personnel and guidance in higher education on a fellowship, she worked on the Oklahoma State University dean of women's staff as head counselor. She received her bachelor of arts degree from Kansas State.

Striving to fulfill her "insatiable thirst for learning," she is continuing work on her doctorate at ASU.

A life member of the National Education Association, Dean Neely is also active in the National Association of Women Deans and Counselors, the American College Personnel of AP and G, the American Association of University Women and Psi Chi, psychology honorary.

Dance Set Saturday

Live music will be the attraction in the Memorial Union Ballroom at Saturday's post-game dance. Feature entertainment will be "The Rovers," Tau Kappa Epsilon singing group.

Jan Nichols, Social Board program chairman for the event, announced that the dance will last from the completion of the ASU-Colorado State University football game until 12:30 a.m.

The dance is open to all. No admission will be charged. The Corral will be open for those desiring refreshments.

Party Planned

The women of Wilson Hall will have an exchange party, their first of the year, tonight with the men of Best A.

The kickoff party and dance will be in the Wilson Hall lobby from 7:30 till 10.

Delta Sig Rush

Delta Sigma Pi, business administration fraternity, will open fall formal rush with a rush luncheon on Thursday at 12:30 p.m. in MU 218.

Dr. Eaton Read will be guest lecturer at the luncheon, which is open to all business administration students.

Frat Houses Open On Alpha Drive

Greeks' Dream Becomes Reality

By ED HEATH

It has taken $2.5 million to complete the new fraternity row, Alpha Drive, at ASU.

Four years of planning have become a reality for Alpha Epsilon Pi, Alpha Tau Omega, Delta Sigma Phi, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Nu, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Theta Delta Chi and Sigma Chi fraternities.

Each group was able to choose its own architect and $18,000 is to be spent on landscaping of the lots. Individual lots, including the house, lawn and parking lot, are about one acre each. There are three other lots available for more houses if additional money can be obtained.

Furnishings for the ten houses averaged about $20,000 according to Gary R. Anderson, dean of men.

JERRY SULLIVAN, president of the Interfraternity Council, reports that every one of the houses has been filled and, in some cases, there are waiting lists.

The largest house, Sigma Nu, has rooms for 64 men and the smallest, Alpha Epsilon Pi, houses 40. This makes the average for the ten houses about 55 men per house.

Each fraternity house has kitchen facilities and meals are prepared by each houses' own professional cook. In fact, Delta Sigma Phi has its own cafeteria.

Each house has separate living rooms, dining rooms, kitchens, study facilities, sleeping quarters housing from two to six men, laundry facilities and patios.

TRAINED AND EXPERIENCED house mothers are present to act as hostesses for the socials, to counsel, to iron, sew on buttons and perform the many other duties necessary to sound operation.

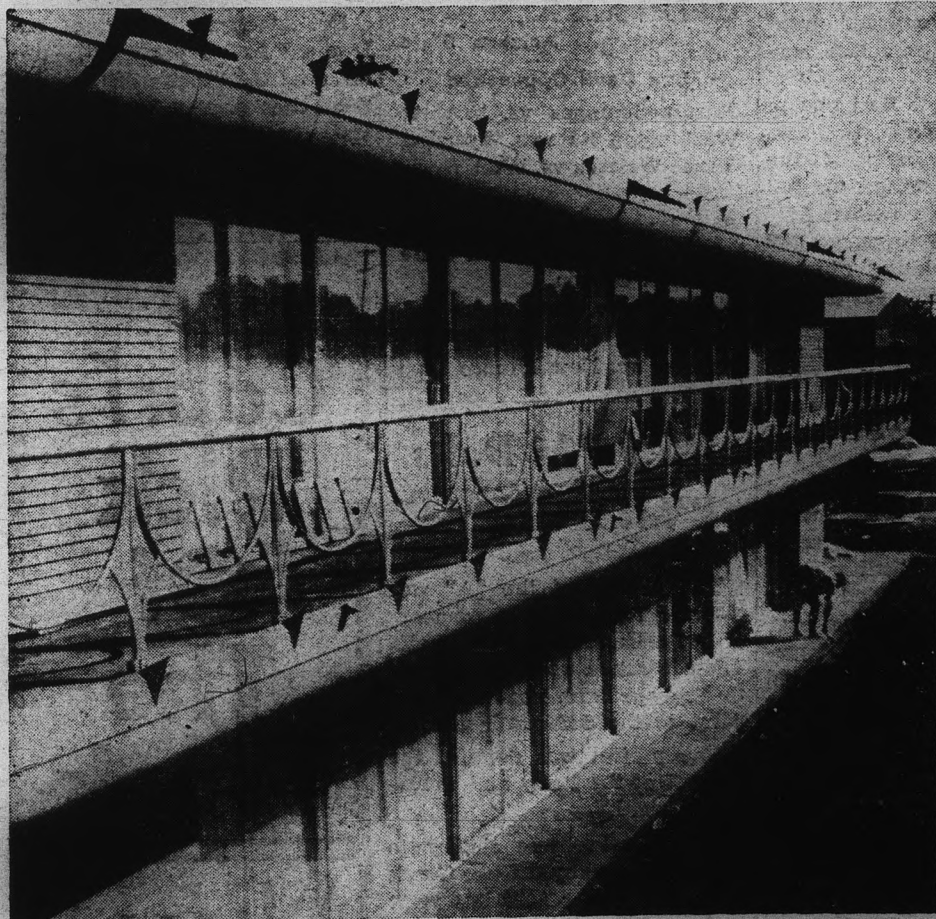

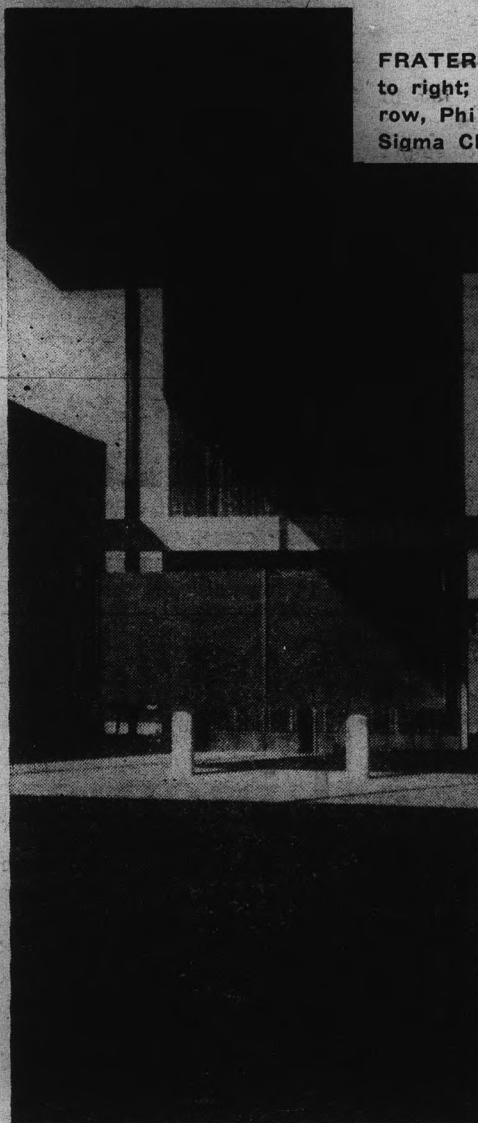

Room and board cost for the students averages about $90 a month. This does not include fraternity dues.

Dean Anderson is administratively responsible for the new houses as well as those on Adelphi Drive. However, each house acts under self-governing procedures.

According to E. R. Hunter, associate comptroller, cost of the project was financed through the sale of bonds obtained through the federal government's Housing and Home Finance Agency, which gives aid to colleges and universities for housing through loans.

The bonds will be paid off through the rent proceeds obtained over a 40-year period.

Devils Tackle CSU Rams

By DENNIS ANDERSON
Assistant Sports Editor

An unprecedented eight home-game football schedule opens in Sun Devil Stadium at 8 p.m. tomorrow when Arizona State hosts Colorado State's winless but hungry Rams.

The Fort Collins crew will bring a 17-game losing streak up against the Sun Devils, but ASU's Frank Kush expects another down-to-the-finish ball game.

"It's irrelevant," he responded, when asked about the long winless CSU record. "This club is very hungry for its first win, and after hearing scouting reports on CSU we believe its team is as good as Wichita's."

Colorado State opened its season against the Air Force last week, coming out on the short end of a 34-0 score after being down by seven points at half-time.

Favorable weather prevailing some 28,000 fans will see tomorrow night's contest, according to the ASU staging and promotion director, Al Stephan. The figure even may go as high as 30,000.

Sun Devil Stadium has 29,748 permanent seats and 5,700 bleacher seats bringing total capacity to 35,448.

OFFENSIVELY, COLORADO State operates out of a wing-T offense and operates very effectively, according to Kush.

"There is much diversity in the Rams' offense, and they'll have lots of fan eye-openers," he said. "Their personnel is gradually developing."

The Rams boast 20 lettermen on their squad headed by quarterback Bill Wrenn, who was a fullback last year. Starting halfbacks will be Ken Cullars and Stan Watkins. Ken Hines will be the fullback.

Ends will be Tom Sperl and John Nelson. Center and guards will be Bob Nunnery and John Cook and Doug York, while the tackles will be manned by Russ Nun and Curtis Threatt.

The line averages 202 pounds, the backs 168, for a 190-pound team average.

KUSH HAS MADE three changes in the Sun Devil starting lineup.

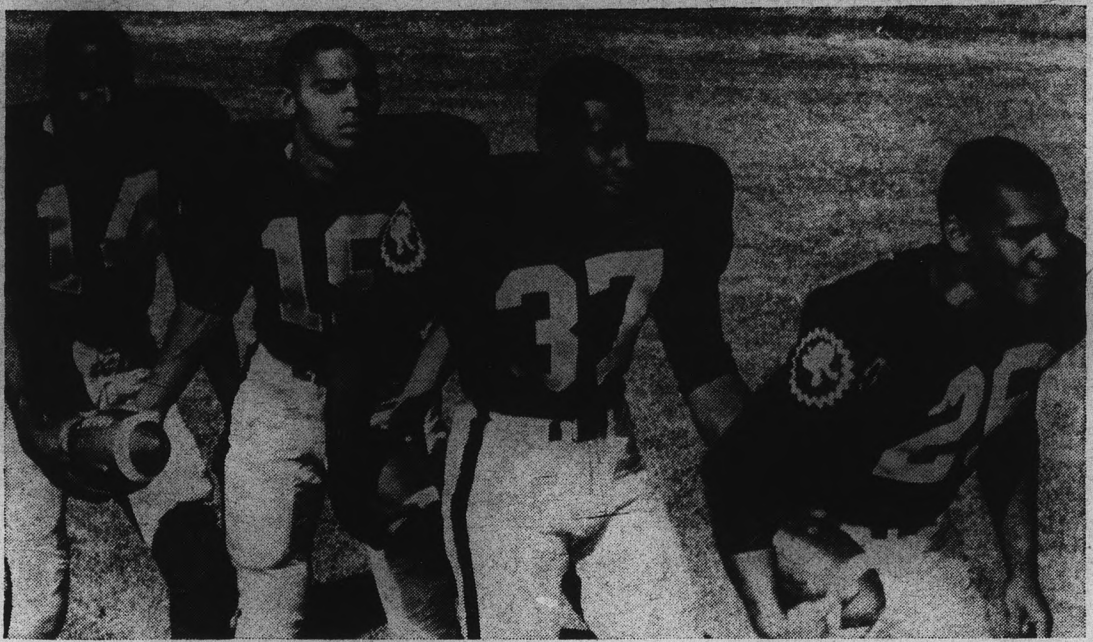

Bob Kec, an outstanding sophomore linebacker, will operate at one guard spot, hustling Larry Facchine will start at quarterback and Dornel Nelson will regain the starting fullback slot.

This will be the fifth meeting between the teams, the first dating back to 1950.

The Sun Devils have won all five previous encounters, including last year's 14-6 squeaker at Fort Collins.

Stetzer Honored; Lineman Of Week

A 205-pound converted quarterback - to - linebacker from Scranton, Pa., is this week's Western Athletic Conference lineman of the week: He is Chris Stetzar, ASU's defensive leader in last week's 21-10 triumph over Missouri Valley champ, Wichita.

Stetzar was honored for his sterling play in helping the Devils limit the Shockers to 38 yards rushing in 31 rushing plays. Used mainly on defense, he was credited with nine unassisted tackles, two assisted tackles, and two knocked-down passes.

Stetzar was converted from his quarterback post last season.

Eldon Fortie, Brigham Young's 167-pound tailback, was chosen as back of the week. Fortie accounted for 343 yards total offense against Arizona, carrying 24 times for 136 yards and completing nine of 15 passes for 207 yards. His total offense mark not only bettered his old school mark, but beat the old Skyline Conference's mark by 37 yards. BYU was in the Skyline for 23 years.

Receiving honorable mention for back of the week were ASU's Tony Lorick, who scored twice against Wichita; Bobby Santiago, who led New Mexico to their triumph over Wyoming, and Gary Hertzfeldt, Utah, who completed eight of 11 passes for 179 yards against Colorado.

Guard Howie Breining, tackle Gerald Zeman and end John Fouse, all of Arizona and Wyoming fullback Rick Desmarais, all received honorable mention for lineman of the week. The trio from Arizona all displayed fine defensive work in the last quarter against BYU, and Desmarais turned in a superb defensive effort in the Cowboys' loss to New Mexico.

DG's Phi Delts Whitewash "A"

The dignity of the "A" was restored Wednesday as members of Delta Gamma and Phi Delta Theta trekked up Tempe Butte to apply a fresh coat of white paint to the defaced landmark.

The project was done at the request of the Rally and Traditions Board.

The painting was similar to that performed by the two Greek organizations for ASU last year.

INTRAMURAL Scene

Intramurals began with a tennis tournament, with 95 men vying for singles championship honors, reports Bill West, director.

Twenty-seven doubles teams also are competing.

Todd Paces Grid Figures

The grid season is only one game old, but already the Sun Devils have compiled some interesting statistics.

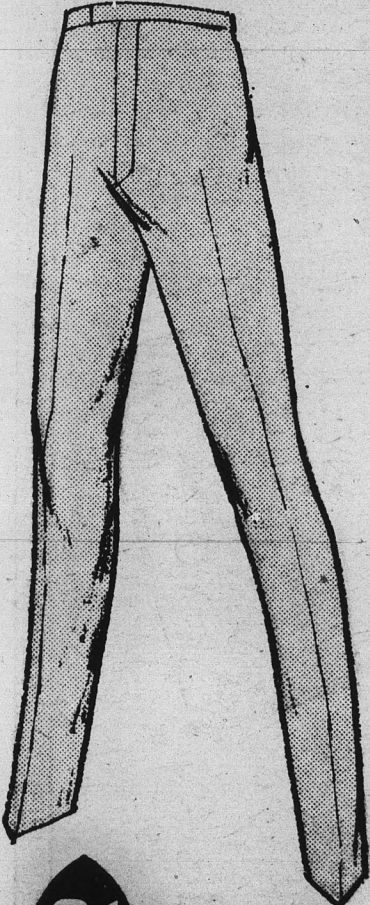

Larry Todd, not rated as a pin-point passer, has completed two passes out of three attempts for a sizeable 90-yards gain, including one TD.

The Devils are supposed to be a non-kicking team also with the losses of Joe Zugar and "Rollin" Nolan Jones. John Seedborg is trying to convince ASU fans that this isn't so, as he has already attained a total of 164 yards on four punts for a 41.0 average.

Off The Cuff

By BOB JACOBSEN

Chris Stetzar, Sun Devil linebacker, was honored this past weekend and rightly so. Stetzar, a virtual unknown at this time last season, was named Western Athletic Conference lineman of the week.

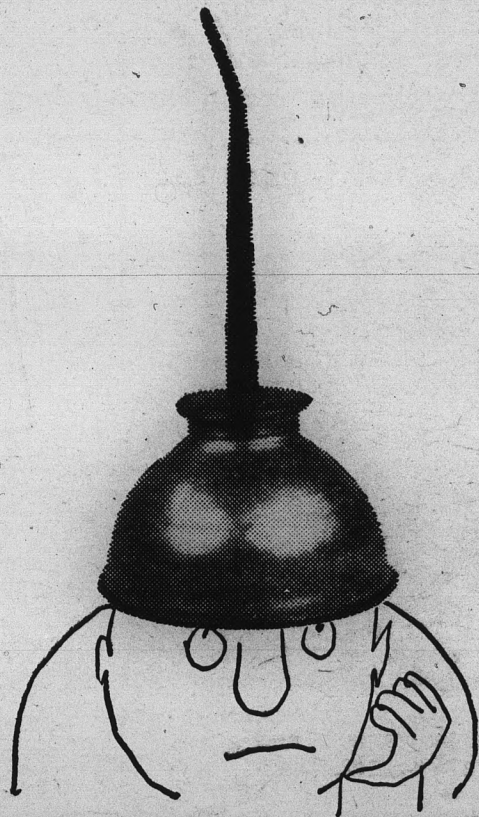

He was the main cog in the Devils' limiting Wichita to 38 yards rushing as he made nine unassisted tackles, two assisted tackles and knocked down two passes to spark the Devils all evening.

TWO OTHERS WHO played vital parts in the victory were Larry Facchine, promoted to the starting quarterback's berth for tomorrow's battle with the CSU Rams, and converted end Bob Kec, who was right behind Stetzar in superb defensive play.

Some stadium facts about Saturday's contest with CSU:
EVENT ASU vs. Colorado State
DAY Tomorrow
KICKOFF 8 P.M.
PROBABLE ATTENDANCE 28,000
STUDENT SEATING 8,864 seats on east side of stadium only. Sections T through Z.
STUDENT CARD SECTION 2,520 seats in Sections U and V
STUDENT ADMISSION On ASU ID card or student guest ticket.
(Student section only unreserved seats in stadium on first come, first served basis.)

PARKING Student parking stickers not valid for stadium parking lots.
Injury-wise tomorrow night, the Sun Devils have Henry Carr on the list. Carr injured a shoulder against Wichita and may see only limited defensive duty.

Some fearless forecasts: Wichita over Hardin-Simmons; Washington State over Wyoming; West Texas State over Texas Western; California over San Jose State; Utah State over Montana State University; Utah over Oregon; Wisconsin over New Mexico State; New Mexico over Arizona; Brigham Young over George Washington; and ARIZONA STATE over Colorado State.

Offensive Show Sparks WAC

In the Western Athletic Conference's first full week of activity, football fans who like their football wide-open received exactly that as in the four games played, there was a staggering total of 183 points scored, an average of 45.75 points a game.

They were topped by Utah's 37-21 victory over Big Eight rival, Colorado.

Yardage-wise, there were 2,639 yards gained on total offense, an average of 659 yards pergame, and 131 first downs, or almost 33 first downs per contest.

The BYU-Arizona game was the top offensive show from the yardage standpoint as the Cougars and Wildcats accounted for 469 yards rushing and 337 yards passing.

In spite of the offensive fireworks at every turn, defense played a major role in all the contests except the Utah-Colo- rado one. New Mexico protected its goal line on the one-yard line with five minutes to go against Wyoming. Arizona did the same against BYU, stopping the Cougars within the five-yard line with one second to go.

ASU spotted Wichita a 10-0 lead in the third quarter and then roared back to win 21-10 relying on its defense in the last quarter.

The Devils limited Wichita to 38 yards rushing and Charlie Taylor's 60-yard pass interception with 45 seconds to go gave ASU an insurance touchdown.

A total of 76,175 fans saw Western Athletic Conference activity last week for an average of 19,019 per game. The three WAC home games drew 66,075, or 22,025 per game. The top crowd was at Salt Lake City where 25,878 fans came out to set a new Utah opening game mark. Arizona was not far behind with 25,100.

Many of the 27 touchdowns scored were of the homerun variety. Longest run was by Bobby Santiago who ran 97 Larry Todd and Tony Lorick, ASU, provided the longest pass play of 83 yards while Arizona's Tommy Kossler got away the longest run from scrimmage, 49 yards for a touchdown.

This week in Western Athletic Conference play, Arizona travels to Albuquerque, New Mexico, to play the Lobos in what will be the most important game yet in the WAC. Both are undefeated (1-0) in conference play.

Utah journeys to Oregon to play the Webfeet of Oregon in a top non-league contest.

Utah State tackles Montana State University in Bozeman, Mont., while Brigham Young hosts George Washington.

Fortie Leads WAC

Eldon Fortie, who almost single-handedly defeated the University of Arizona last week, has jumped to the front of the Western Athletic Conference in three categories, according to statistics released by WAC Commissioner Paul W. Brechler.

Fortie leads the conference in rushing, passing and total offense.

Although the BYU star has the advantage of having played two games he has more than doubled his nearest opponent, Bobby Santiago of New Mexico, in the total offense department and has a substantial lead in the other two races.

Fortie has 470 yards total offense with 170 by rushing and 300 by passing. He has completed 14 of 28 passes with Mike Wright of Wyoming and Gary Hertzfeldt of Utah second and third respectively. Hertzfeldt with 81 yards per tosses against Colorado in his only contest to show that he will be a large factor in this race.

Other individual leaders include: pass receiving, Loyd Smith of Brigham Young with five receptions for 85 yards; punting, Dave Marion of Wyoming with two punts for a 48.5-yard average; punt returns, Howard Hancock of New Mexico with one return for 42 yards; kickoff returns, Bobby Santiago of New Mexico with one return for 97 yards; and scoring, Santiago with three touchdowns for 18 points.

In team statistics, ASU paces the league in total defense with a limit of 175 yards per game and rushing defense with an amazing 38.0 yards per game.

Utah's Redskins lead the conference in total offense and forward passing offense. The Utes are averaging 429 yards per game overall and 234 yards in the passing department.

The University of New Mexico team is the pacer in rushing offense with 261 yards per game and in forward passing defense with 81 yards per game.

Sun Devils Host Three Champs

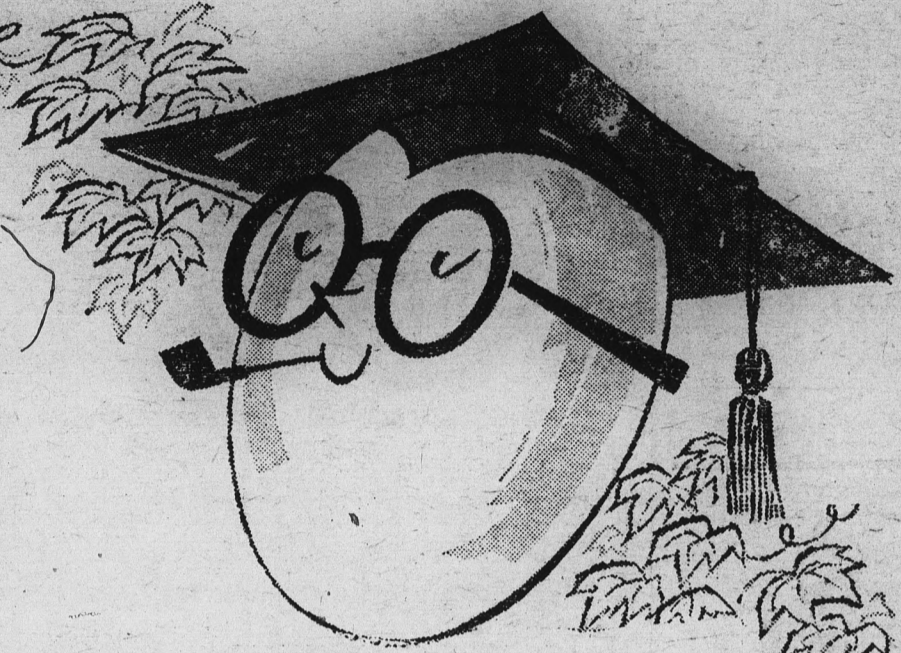

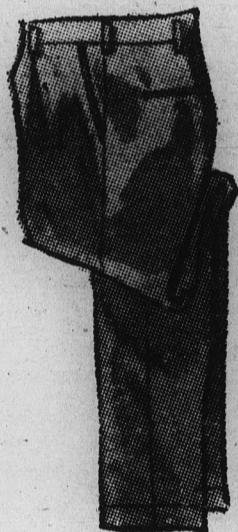

Arizona State University will play three conference basketball champions during the 1962-63 season.

The Sun Devils, competing for the first time in the newly formed Western Athletic Conference, will meet Pepperdine, West Coast champion, Dec. 8 at Tempe; Colorado, Big Eight champion, Dec. 21 at Tempe, and Utah, Skyline champion, on a home-and-home basis in WAC play.

Last season Coach Ned Wulk's Sun Devils posted a 23-4 record and won the Border Conference title.

This year in addition to the three conference champs, the Devils also travel to Kansas to meet three toughies from the state of Kansas. They visit Kansas State and Kansas in a doubleheader and then tangle with Wichita two nights later.
