National ROTC Revisions Asked

37 Make Final Cut By Corps

Thirty seven Peace Corps candidates have been selected to go to Bolivia from the original 60 members trained at ASU this summer, according to Dr. Mayland L. Parker, campus director of Peace Corps activities.

The selection was made Oct. 5 in Puerto Rico.

Commenting on the number chosen from the original trainees, Dr. Parker said, "Peace Corps requirements are becoming more rugged."

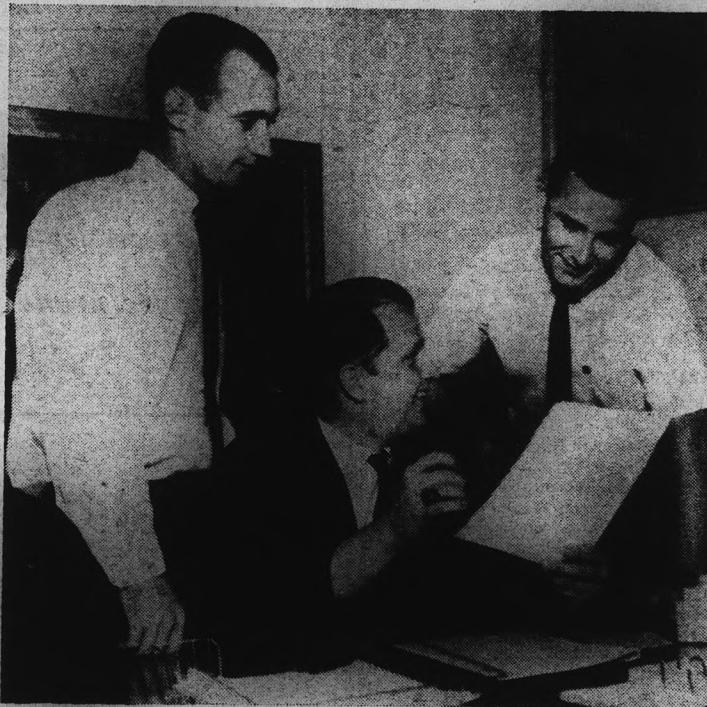

Candidates were trained for eight weeks at ASU this summer. They ended their stay on Aug. 26 and reported to the outbound training camp in Puerto Rico for four more weeks of intensified training.

TRAINING at ASU and Puerto Rico emphasized physical conditioning. In one instance candidates were tied hand and foot and thrown into pools. A four day survival trek through the jungle climaxed the training.

From the outward camp, candidates were sent to the University of Puerto Rico at Mayaguez, 90 miles west of San Juan.

They received agriculture training at the university and were billeted in Puerto Rican private homes where they had to use and develop their Spanish.

IFC Training Session—

GREEKS — Jerry Sullivan, left, Dean of Men Gary Anderson and Bob Chamberlain met Saturday to "guide" the first fraternity training session at ASU.

Fraternities Meet For Training Day

By ROSS FISH

Fraternity officers convened Saturday at 9:30 a.m. for an all day training session organized by the Interfraternity Council.

Delegates attending the program in the Senate Chambers included the president, vice-president, treasurer, rush chairman and pledge trainer of each fraternity represented.

Under the chairmanship of Dean of Men Gary Anderson and Sandy Chamberlain, special projects chairman of IFC, the schedule was filled with speeches and discussions on a wide variety of fraternity areas.

FOLLOWING the opening general session, Ken Calbeck Jr. gave tips on fraternity maintenance and finances.

The importance of rush was stressed in John H. Eversol's speech. Eversol was named 1962 Man of the Year at a recent Theta Delta Chi national convention. He is alumni adviser to ASU's local chapter.

During the afternoon session, Dean of Students W. P. Shofstall spoke on "Social Fraternities in 2012 A.D."

DEAN SHOFSTALL said the training session was "one of the most progressive things the fraternities have done for many years."

He said he believes sponsorship of the session "means that the fraternities are concerned with achieving the objectives they profess to have more than only achieving good public relations.

"The major criticism and weakness of fraternities is best expressed by an old saying: 'His actions speak so loudly we cannot hear what he has to say,'" he said.

New Bill Would End Compulsion

By ED HEATH

A revised two-year ROTC program, scheduled for submission to Congress early next year, will, if approved, provide for the gradual elimination of compulsory ROTC at ASU.

The secretary of defense submitted the proposal which recommends discarding the present four-year program at 187 colleges and universities.

THE PROPOSAL also recommends the adaptation of a two-year course for students competing for commissions and the addition of a $1,100 yearly scholarship for cadets under this program.

Only students who have junior standings will be eligible for entrance into the program.

The first of two summer camps replaces the present basic course and three hours of class weekly would replace the present five hours required for students now enrolled in the advanced course.

If the program is approved, junior college transfers would not be denied commissions because of a four-year requirement.

NEARLY 65 per cent of all male college students, especially junior college students, are being denied eligibility because of this requirement.

A change-over period will be necessary before complete elimination of the basic course can take place. The final decision on how this phase is to be handled will be made by the university itself.

Tentative Air Force plans are to drop freshman ROTC and to change the junior courses the first year after approval.

THE SECOND year, sophomore ROTC would be dropped, senior courses would be changed and summer camp would be held for the juniors.

Provisions will be made that will enable the colleges and universities currently offering an ROTC program to accept the two-year program or to continue the present four-year program.

Devil's Den Under Fire

MU Board members will start a preliminary investigation this week to determine how conditions in the Devil's Den can be improved.

Board Chairman Roger Brindle, speaking at the board's first fall meeting Monday, appointed Paula Eisenman, AWS representative, and Al Abrams, member at large, to begin the inquiry.

BRINDLE SAID the investigation was spurred by complaints of students about the time required to get a meal in the den at noon and at other times.

He said expansion of Den facilities could be the outcome of the survey.

Board members present heard Brindle and Mrs. Cecelia Scouler, MU director, make proposals to inject more college atmosphere into the Den.

Among these were plans to improve the decor of the popular spot and add more mature records to the juke box collection.

Brindle said the board hopes to issue a pamphlet to tell students about the facilities of the MU.

HE SAID the pamphlet would be prepared by students and would utilize student art and writing talent.

He said he would welcome student suggestions for improvement of the Devil's Den and other MU facilities.

Carter Starts Study

A student check cashing system and a centrally located U.S. Post Office branch on campus are current projects being considered by ASASU President Bob Carter and his cabinet.

At present, ASU has a mail room service, which is considered inadequate for distribution of mail to the more than 13,000 university students and hundreds of organizations, departments and buildings.

The University bookstore is the only place on campus which cashes student checks, and then only for a maximum of $5.

WORLD NEWS

Walker Returns To Texas

DALLAS — Flanked by three attorneys, former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker waved a Western hat to a small but spirited crowd of greeters after gaining freedom from a U.S. hospital for federal prisoners in Springfield, Mo.

Walker was freed after agreeing to undergo a mental checkup at the Southwestern Medical Center in Dallas.

Arrested on the University of Mississippi campus last week, Walker has been charged with rebellion, insurrection and seditious conspiracy in rioting at the school.

U.S. Filters Price-Revolt Story

WASHINGTON — Government analysts are slowly piecing together stories reporting that "several hundred" deaths occurred last spring during riots in a southern Soviet industrial city.

Food shortages and work "speed-ups" are believed to be the primary causes of the demonstrations touched off by the sudden increase of milk and butter prices.

Refugee Jumps To Freedom

BERLIN — A freedom-seeking East German refugee jumped into a West Berlin fireman's net from a four-story apartment house in the Eastern sector Saturday night.

Police withheld details of how the jumper got past Communist border guards.

'103' Debated At Club Meeting

The ASU Pre-Law club's noon luncheon-debate yesterday featured Carl Weinberger, president of the Phoenix Real Estate Board, and George Welch, representative of the Arizona State Bar Association discussing proposition 103.

Proposition 103 concerns granting real estate brokers or salesmen the power to draw up agreements for the sale of property and preliminary purchase.

Mr. Weinberger stated during the noon debate that proposition 103 will restore to the public the right to decide whether to sell or buy property themselves, or through a real estate broker or an attorney.

HE ADDED that if proposition 103 is not passed, it will remain necessary to acquire the services of a lawyer, and this will require the payment of a lawyer's fee.

He also said that in 1961 $1.6 million were charged for these fees.

Weinberger stated that a real estate broker is more qualified to complete a real estate transaction than is an attorney. He said that salesmen are under the protection and supervision of a trained broker.

MR. WELCH contended that real estate brokers' service is to buy and sell property, not to give legal advice to the buyer or seller. Under proposition 103 it would not be necessary to go to a lawyer for legal advice, he said.

Welch stated that an attorney giving incorrect advice is subject to suit for total damages and may even be disbarred.

However, if a broker or salesman gives incorrect advice, the buyer or seller can only obtain damages to the extent of the bond that the broker possesses, Welch said.

East Hall Elects 1962 Officers

Newly elected officers of the East Hall council are Judy Hammer, president; Mellie Maldonado, vice president; Barbara Stickler, secretary; Margie Miller, treasurer and Geri Swanson, AWS representative.

New wing representatives are Jo Ann Drechman, Pam Bigelow, Judy Papa, Peggy Wedlake and Tova Petersen.

The dorm is planning an open house October 12.

Dave Graybill Named To Board Of ASU Alumni

Dave Graybill, former Sun Devil athletic standout, has been named a member of the board of directors of the Alumni Association.

He will serve on the board for one year, filling the vacancy created when director Wayne Hall was elected alumni president in the middle of his two-year term.

Graybill is a builder sales representative for Arizona Public Service Co., Phoenix.

He lives in Tempe with his wife, Arlene, also an ASU graduate, and daughter Dalene.

While a student, Graybill earned varsity letters in football, basketball and baseball.

He was chosen for All-Border Conference teams in football and basketball and holds the all-time ASU records for most passes completed in a season (80) and in a single game (15).

Graybill joins five other directors and six officers on the association's board, which meets monthly at the Alumni House to conduct the business of the growing 20,000 member organization.

Faculty Travels; Earns Degrees

By JEAN POWELL

When classes ended last spring, the faculty departed to many parts of the world.

Some traveled in Mexico or overseas; others visited the World's Fair and other U.S. wonders. Summer sessions kept a large number here and some relaxed at home.

But the need for education sent many of the faculty back to the books.

Miss Gloria Natale received the doctor of education degree from Columbia University. She is in the department of office administration and business education.

Charles Jameson studied at the University of Southern California and became a doctor of business administration.

Mrs. Lola Dawkins and Alfred Schoennauer, from the management department, acquired Ph.Ds. Mrs. Dawkins studied at the University of Texas and Dr. Schoennauer at UCLA.

The School of Industrial Engineering at Purdue awarded Charles Hoyt the Ph.D. in industrial engineering, Dick A. Renner from the English department studied at the University of Missouri and earned the Ph.D.

Robert H. Ellis received the master of arts degree from Western Reserve University this summer. He is a member of the mass communication faculty.

In the mathematics department, Charles Lustfield received the M.A. degree at ASU.

Reports show that several other ASU Faculty members also earned scholastic honors while abroad during the summer.

Student Loans Will Be Easier

ASU students will find it easier this fall to borrow money needed to complete their educations.

Extra loan funds totaling $75,000 will be available from home town banks and may be repaid as late as four months after graduation, it has been announced.

Maximum loans of $1,000 will be made to ASU students upon recommendation from proper authorities.

Interest rate will be six per cent.

Collateral is not required, grades are not a prerequisite, and parents are not responsible for repayments.

Interested students may make applications in Dr. Woodrow V. Nold's office, MU 212.

Editorially Speaking

We humans are so smug when we begin to count our advancements — my what a grand bunch we people are! Shooting off into space, conquering disease, developing new resources...

Yet we haven't come so far from the primitives.

IF YOU'RE SKEPTICAL, just keep your wits about you at the next football game and watch the pageant unfold.

The arena is lighted and ready for the contest. The crowd begins to pour in to sit and await what will follow. They begin to yell and chant and soon the musicians come into the arena and perform and play, entertaining the spectators.

There is a tenseness in the air. Expectation is high. The crowd stands fidgeting while the flag is pulled high into the air over the arena.

Some sing the anthem, but most wait for it to end.

Again the crowd sits and waits. Suddenly they all stand and roar loudly, joyously — for the gladiators have taken the field, and the worship now begins.

NOWADAYS WE PAD the healthy, young gladiators with the strongest of modern materials. Protected thus, they can hit each other harder, yet the injuries sustained are less serious and less frequent.

However, there are still injuries, but now we cheer those who lie mangled on the field when we used to laugh and jeer. We cheer them vigorously and generously and then we forget them after they are carried from the field.

Yes, we haven't come so very far after all.

We still have a Pledge Presents that reeks of ancient days of Greek and Roman rule when the young unmarried women were "shown" to the young unmarried men.

Not much has changed, we imagine, except now our maidens dress in formals while those long ago dressed in togas. The ASU fraternity men still jot notes as the beautiful specimens parade by.

WE IMAGINE that this note taking is a holdover from the days of the great slave auctions when the prospective buyers wrote down vital statistics to consult before buying.

Our men consult their statistics before dating.

We still hunt witches, only now we call them communists or fellow travelers. We used to burn witches to death, now we torture suspected Reds with vicious tongues.

We used to draw and quarter or decapitate criminals, now we shock them to death or hang them with a rope.

We used to own slaves, now we enslave souls.

Yes, we have a long way to go before we advance. Or perhaps we fondly cling to the ill-disguised remnants of our primitive past.

More Letters

TO THE EDITOR:

I hope that Doris Fell (Grad) will learn something that Doris Fell (Senior) has not, viz.: anything you acquire (or, call it "get"), to be meaningful, must come from yourself.

Seeking external stimulation, excitement, motivation, titillation, what have you, is still in the puppy dog stage... a sort of drooling after being petted or scratched behind the ears.

The meaningful part of education is learning this while you are young, rather than wasting a whole life in frustration because no one is making your life meaningful.

Cordially, Betty Pustarfi (Grad)

Letters To The Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

A student newspaper lends itself to expression of student opinions. It is also an opportunity for students of journalism to use their talents. As a non-journalism major I would assume that a trait of good journalism is to present a situation in the light of apparent facts.

I have noticed in the past issues of the STATE PRESS faults in various stories. The Panhellenic decision (whether right or wrong) was to participate in exchanges only on weekends — Friday, Saturday, and Sunday — not just on Sunday evenings as stated in the editorial of September 28, 1962. In the same issue, the write-up on Mrs. Maxine Neely should have stated her title as the assistant dean, office of the associate dean of students; instead of "dean of women" (ASU does not have such a position). In the Sept. 26, 1962 issue the column, "I Cover College Avenue" was dedicated to the creation of a new freshman orientation committee which would "be free to make any suggested changes it feels necessary," but it actually would not have the power to carry this out.

I consider the STATE PRESS a very good medium of communicating news of current campus activities to the student body. If the STATE PRESS serves this purpose then the students should be able to accept the reports as correct.

Brenda Shears

TO THE EDITOR:

After attending both of ASU's football games, I noticed that the students either don't know how to honor the flag of the United States properly or they don't care whether it is honored or not. This was embarrassingly accentuated the first game when the Sun Devils came roaring onto the field directly after the announcement that the "National Anthem" was to be played, and had to come to an abrupt halt as soon as the band began playing.

Last Saturday night as the color guard marched onto the field, no one stood up, at least not on the student side, until the color guard had stopped. The student body noticed that the west side was standing and soon assumed that it should be standing also.

For the enlightenment of several thousand students, a person is supposed to show recognition of the flag by standing or saluting. If he is in military uniform he should salute when the flag is six paces from his left or right and remain in that position until the colors have gone six paces to his right or left. I also noticed that the head cheerleader seemed to be talking and looking around when "The Star Spangled Banner" was being played last Saturday night. Rather disrespectful, don't you think?

Perhaps this lack of proper respect for the flag was unintentional, but it seems that now, even more than at any other time in history, we should be concerned about the flag and the values and ideals symbolized by it.

R. A. D.

TO THE EDITOR:

I am very happy that my mother was not attending the Washington State-Arizona State game that was played here last Saturday night. When the "Head" cheerleader called for a yell that went like, this, "Smother the Mother," I felt ashamed of ASU. To me this does not seem like the type of language that a college student should put forth, especially over the P. A. system.

It seems that rather than a yell like "Hold that line" when the opposing team was passing over ASU's heads was just a bit out of place. How about "get that man?"

Over all, I believe that the cheerleaders did a very wonderful job except for the above mentioned items.

By TOM WING

Student government on the ASU campus had its "grand opening" of the year last week.

It was greeted by what appeared to be the usual apathy on the part of a great majority of the students.

WHERE WERE you:

—When ASASU First Vice President Henry Klopping called to order the first session of the legislature and President Bob Carter outlined his 12-point program of the year in the senate chamber Wednesday afternoon?

—When freshman senatorial elections were conducted from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday?

—When the Cultural Affairs, Student-Faculty and Social Boards were seeking applicants all last week?

—WHEN student government leaders were seeking applicants to attend the Student Leadership Workshop at Payson Oct. 12-14?

There were about a half-dozen students in the senate gallery last week at the student senate's opening session, compared to more than a dozen faculty leaders.

Less than 15 per cent of the freshmen voted in the class' first student government election.

We understand also that the number of students to fill out applications for the openings on the three boards and for the Payson workshop was exceptionally low.

IF YOU are interested in student government, there are plenty of opportunities for your support as well as participation.

Freshmen may vote today in the general election from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., at the polls at the corner of College and Orange avenues and in front of Old Main.

Student Senate meetings on alternate Wednesdays at 3:45 p.m. in MU 227 are always open to students.

The senate will meet Oct. 17.

ALTHOUGH it is too late to apply for the Payson workshop, applications for the three student boards are still available at the MU information desk.

If you are interested in helping our student government, we suggest you get busy; ASASU government opportunities await.

Although Head Cheerleader Mike Schwartz continues to receive angry letters condemning his antics at ASU football games, it remains clear that he is building student spirit with his crowd pleasing tactics.

He provides humor for the hometown fans and would, by the way, appreciate hearing new cheer suggestions from students.

Students Urged To Get Flu Shots

Fifty cents can be a matter of life and death.

That is the student cost for one immunization dose against Asian flu, which has taken 80,000 lives in two epidemics since 1957 in the United States.

A 90 per cent chance of a major outbreak has been predicted between early November and late March of next year by the Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta, Ga.

THE CENTER, part of the U. S. Public Health Service, in conjunction with state health departments and the World Health Organization has forecast the exact type of influenza likely to strike.

Vaccine for this type of flu, which will give almost 100 per cent protection, is now available.

Students taking seven hours or more at ASU are qualified to receive these shots.

For those who had them last year, only a booster is necessary. Otherwise two should be taken this year over a three- to four-week period.

They are recommended by the Student Health Service, according to Mrs. Elaine McFarland, director.

She cautioned students not to take the shots if they are allergic to eggs or have colds. Colds can cause a bad reaction.

THE STUDENT Health Service has seen no influenza so far this year, but there is a heavy incidence of colds.

The shots are not effective against colds, Mrs. McFarland explained.

There is nothing new about colds," she said. "Just keep up resistance, get adequate rest, exercise and diet."

Zacher Reappointed

Robert V. Zacher, ASU associate professor of advertising, has been reappointed education director of the Advertising Association of the West.

As education director, his duties include coordination of educational activities of the 44 member advertising clubs in the 13 Western states.

Zacher addressed the convention on "Advertising Education."

Fellowships Are Now Available

Two ASU Foundation graduate research fellowships for 1962-63 are available for graduate students enrolled here.

Each winner will receive $2,600 for nine months, and each of the departments in which these students do their research will receive $400.

Application forms and additional information may be obtained from George Boyd, secretary of the University Research committee.

This form and three letters of reference must be returned by Oct. 17.

Dr. G. Homer Durham will announce the winners' names on Nov. 1.

Missing Cash?

A large amount of cash was found on the campus last weekend, said Lt. Tom Godbehere of ASU Police.

The owner may claim the money by contacting the campus police.

Senior Forms Due

Seniors who plan to complete degree requirements at the end of the first or second semester of the 1962-63 academic year must file an application for graduation before Nov. 15.

The application fee is $5, payable to the business office. There will be a $5 late fee.

Appointments to obtain the final check list of degree requirements will be arranged when the applications are filed. The student must take the check sheet to his advisor for approval.

Alfred Thomas Jr., registrar and director of admissions, advises seniors who will complete degree requirements by the end of the first semester to file applications for graduation immediately.

MU Desk Has Campus Data

Like a halo above an angel's head, the catch-all word "information" hangs over the desk.

The word identifies a supply center of the MU—who is assisted by Charley Roberts, Steve Montgomery and Dave Hulen.

MEMBERS of the Freshmen Hostesses organization also aid the desk as a source of supply for information-seekers.

Located opposite the main entrance of the MU, the feature of the information desk is its usefulness. If they are unable to answer a question, they know where the answer can be found.

Items available are a telephone, pencil sharpeners, paper clips, thread and needles.

Popcorn and poppers can be checked out for use in the lower lounge.

For a headache or a scratch, the desk has aspirin and band aids.

TICKETS FOR Valley events, such as the Sombrero Playhouse and Phoenix Little Theatre presentations and Linde Box-office attractions, can be purchased at the desk.

Tickets often are available at reduced rates for students, faculty and administration members.

A list of rides for commuting off-campus students is another MU desk service.

Greeks To Get New Stickers

Fraternity row will give a new twist to the campus parking program by issuing and recording dorm parking lot decals to off-campus fraternity men.

Fraternity houses wishing to give away their parking space could do so at their own expense and responsibility, according to John B. O'Leary, director of Campus Security. O'Leary said that cars with dorm stickers must be parked in dorm lots.

Cars with dorm lot decals will be cited from 6:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m. Monday through Friday if found parked in an off-campus student parking lot.

Navy Info Team On Campus

Officers representing the Navy Information team will be on the MU Den patio tomorrow and Friday to counsel students interested in various Naval Officer programs.

Commissions presently are available in general line, supply, aviation and other specialties. Applications for some programs can be made nine months prior to the baccalaureate degree.

The team also is interested in counseling women interested in commissions in the WAVES and Navy Nurse Corps.

Graduate Study Abroad Offered

Applications for Rhodes Scholarships are now available in the scholarship office, MU 212, according to W. P. Shofstall, ASU Scholarship committee chairman.

These scholarships are available to any unmarried male citizens of the United States between 18 and 24.

The initial award is for two years of study at the University of Oxford.

General qualifications for a Rhodes applicant are literary and scholastic attainments, truthfulness, courage, devotion to duty, unselfishness, and fellowship.

Other essentials: Exhibition of moral force of character and physical vigor, as shown by fondness for and success in sports.

Homecoming

A meeting of the Homecoming committee will be each Thursday at 4 p.m. in the MU, according to cochairmen Bob Frend and Leslie Farnsworth.

Each interested organization should send a representative to the meetings with its group's ideas for Homecoming.

Also, an extra representative should be present to represent each organization on the 1962 Homecoming steering committee.

Homecoming is Nov. 3, when the Sun Devils host Utah State's Aggies.

Pall Mall Presents - GIRL WATCHER'S GUIDE

BATON-TWIRLING HIGH-STEPPER

CAMPUS TYPE I

The High-Stepper is an ideal choice for Campus Type #1 for two reasons. First, she is a fairly common species—and second, she is easy to identify.

Just as the bird-watching beginner should concentrate on the Robin, Sparrow and Cardinal before moving on to more exotic species, the girl watching beginner should master the observation and identification of types such as the High-Stepper before progressing to rarer (and usually more difficult to identify) types.

As in all fine arts, the mastery of fundamentals is the key to girl watching success. This mastery of fundamentals is just as important in the art of cigarette making. Taste Pall Mall and see what we mean!

Pall Mall's natural mildness is so good to your taste!

So smooth, so satisfying, so downright smokeable!

PRECISELY — The 115-member Sun Devil marching band forms treble clef in half-time ceremonies at ASU Stadium. Photographer, unfortunately, was on wrong side of field when band formed figure to face opposite stands.

115-Piece ASU Band Makes Half-Time Shows Sparkle

By MARY GORMAN

Some people go to the football games to watch the action, some go to get gassed, some harass the cheerleaders, some criticize referees and some even go to see the half-time show.

The latter group is guaranteed good entertainment every time it attends an ASU home football game.

The 115-member Sun Devil band, which will be seen every Saturday night for the next six weeks, makes a lot of appearances the average student doesn't know about.

EVERY afternoon for an hour and a half, the band can be seen practicing in back of Cosner Auditorium.

The "ARIZONA - ARIZONA - ARIZONA STATE" chant so familiar to ASU rooters, is not something decided the night of the game.

The band routines are the results of more than eight hours of practice a week.

Around campus it is a common belief that all band members are on scholarship, but, according to the latest figures on band scholarship, less than half the band is on scholarship.

Some of these receive only their music lessons.

ANOTHER belief is that all band members have to be music majors, but at the present time less than 40 per cent of the Sun Devil band members are music majors.

The ASU marching band has 115 members including 7 trombones, 9 baritones, 20 trumpets, 10 percussions, 6 bases, 12 flutes and piccoloes, 10 horns, 10 saxophones and 20 clarinets.

The Sun Devil band has performed at Disneyland, the Los Angeles Rams professional football game, the state fair, the JC rodeo and many parades throughout Arizona.

AT THE present time plans are being made for the formation of two bands which will play for the basketball games and for the Twilight Concerts in December.

Bell, Book, Candle Due At Cosner

"Bell, Book and Candle," starring James Stewart, Kim Novak, Jack Lemmon, Ernie Kovacs and Hermione Gingold, will be shown at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow and Friday in Cosner Auditorium.

The movie, one of the films included in the fall film festival at ASU, is the story of a conventional bachelor who is "bewitched" on the eve of his wedding by his beautiful neighbor.

Other movies scheduled this semester are "Anatomy of a Murder" and "The Green Man."

Band Honorary Host For Dance

A semiformal dance sponsored by Kappa Kappa Psi, national honorary band fraternity, will be Oct. 19 from 9 to 12 p.m. in the MU ballroom.

Admission will be $1 per couple.

Music will be by a 10-piece dance band comprised of Kappa Kappa Psi members.

Money gained will go toward the Sun Devil Band scholarship fund.

The fraternity's goal is to offer both an in-state and an out-of-state band scholarship this year.

The dance is open to all ASU students.

Devils Tie WSU Cougars, 24-24

Cougar Spurt In Second Half Rally

"I was real pleased with our running game, but on the 10 series of downs in which we had the ball, we stopped ourselves five times, once on a fumble and the rest on penalties."

Thus commented Coach Frank Kush after his ASU Sun Devils had tied the Washington State Cougars 24-24 Saturday night at Sun Devil Stadium.

"The passes they completed were thrown perfectly," Kush went on. "Our rushing of the passer, though, was not very effective."

THE SUN Devils used only six plays and 2:48 of the clock to put the first score on the board with WAC back of the week Charley Taylor scoring it on a seven-yard sweep around end.

John Seadborg added the extra point to make it 7-0.

Later in the period, in perhaps the big series of downs of the game, WSU held the Devils on the one-foot line and then punted out safely to halt the drive.

MIDWAY through the second period, John Jacobs, who hit on nine of 13 passes for 168 yards, hit Dale Keller on a five-yard scoring strike to give the Devils a commanding 14-0 half-time lead.

Then the big break of the game occurred in the third period as center Steve Fedorchak's pass from center sailed over punter John Seadborg's head to give the Cougars a first down on the Devil 21-yard line.

Five plays later WSU had scored and added a two-point conversion to put the Devils in front 14-8.

A FIELD goal by Seadborg jumped the Devil lead to 17-8, but Cougar Quarterback Dave Mathieson hurled a 19-yard strike to sophomore end Gerry Shaw to close the gap to 17-16.

ASU then struck back with Jacobs again hitting Keller, this time for 46 yards and a TD and a 24-16 lead.

Then with 6:34 remaining on the clock, sophomore quarterback Dale Ford hit Shaw for 35 yards and six points, with fullback George Reed barging over right tackle for the two-point conversion and a tie ball game.

Taylor paced the Devils with 119 yards rushing, Todd picking up 42 and Lorick 35.

JACOBS, who had three aeri- als dropped by potential receivers, probably played his best ball game to date.

Other Devils lauded for their

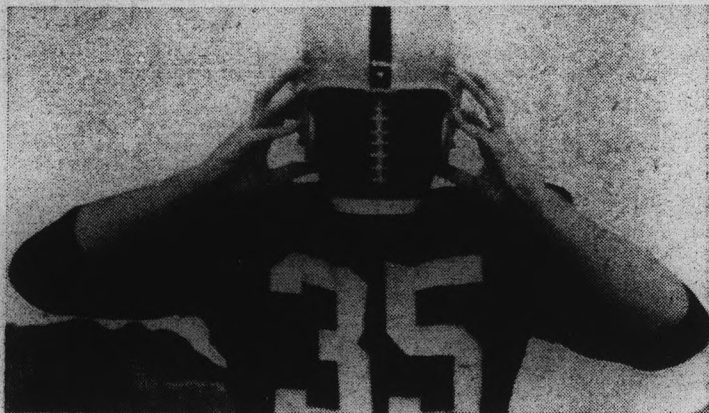

Swimming jumps to the fore- front on the intramural scene this week with diving prelimi- naries today, swimming pre- liminaries tomorrow and finals in both Friday.

The tennis finals in singles were played yesterday while the doubles finals will be played today on the men's tennis courts.

The co-recreational volley- ball entries are due tomorrow.

Other sports played during the year will be cross-country, football, table tennis, wrest- ling and basketball.

ARIZONA STATE'S ANSWER TO PETE PEDRO — The Sun Devils of Arizona State are expecting kingsized head- aches when it comes to defending Pete Pedro of West Texas State. ASU hosts the Buffaloes, Oct. 13, at Tempe. No. 35, sophomore fullback Ed Mauck, is really working hard at it, so hard he is beginning to think (and look) like a football!

TONY THE TIGER — Leading Arizona State and the Western Athletic Conference in scoring this season is Tony Lorick, 195-pound junior halfback from Los Angeles. Lorick was averaging 9.7 yards per carry, through the first two contests of the season.

Off The Cuff

By BOB JACOBSEN
Sports Editor

Last year Tony Lorick let someone down who was as close to him as anybody—himself.

This year Lorick has lived up to his vow at the close of the campaign last season that it will never happen again.

HE IS leading the Western Athletic Conference in scoring with 30 points plus averaging close to nine yards per carry in ASU's three games.

When Lorick came to camp last fall, he weighed 215 pounds, and it took him nearly half the campaign to get down to a decent playing weight. He had been inactive over the summer and didn't figure the extra poundage would matter.

Tony's press clipping were as impressive as any ever seen when he arrived last fall.

IN FOOTBALL at John C. Fremont High School in Los Angeles he was all-city, all-state, All America, while in track he excelled in the 100 (9.7), 220 (21.0), 440 (49.6) and broad jump (24-8).

Two years ago he played football at East Los Angeles Junior College and was first-team all-conference. Then he transferred to Phoenix College for a semester and then wound up here last fall.

HE WOULD like to play pro ball after college, but gives no preference to offense or defense.

Diamonders Schedule 39 Home Games

Arizona State University baseball fans will see a lot of action this next season as the 1963 Sun Devil baseball schedule shows 39 home games.

The only two road trips for the team will come late in the year, first to Tucson and then to Albuquerque.

HIGH LIGHTS of the season will come when Wisconsin, representing the Big 10, and the University of Oklahoma, Big 8, pay their initial visits to the Tempe diamond.

For conference play, the WAC has been divided into two divisions: ASU, New Mexico and Arizona will form the south, and Utah, Wyoming and Brigham Young form the north.

Teams in each division will be required to meet each other at least four times.

The Devils will meet both New Mexico and UofA six times apiece, each school hosting a three-game series.

ASU will play Utah and Wyoming in nonconference games.

TEN doubleheaders will be on the schedule for this year's squad.

Other visitors to the ASU campus will include Utah State University, Colorado State University and Oregon State University.

It will be the first time OSU and ASU have met.

Last year, ASU's baseballers compiled a 27-18 mark.

ASU SWIMMING COACH — Walter J. (Walt) Schlueter is the new swimming coach at Arizona State University. He will head the program along with Dick Smith, recently named diving coach. Schlueter has coached swimmers who have set eight world records. The Sun Devils will compete this season on an intercollegiate basis in the Western Athletic Conference.

Smith Appoints Varsity Coach

By JOE HEATH

Clyde B. Smith, ASU athletic director, announced Monday the hiring of Walter J. (Walt) Schlueter as the Sun Devil swimming coach.

Arizona State's swimming program will be operating on an intercollegiate level this year with the Sun Devils fighting for the first WAC swim crown.

Schlueter will be assisted by Dick Smith, recently appointed diving coach.

THE NEW coach has had much experience working with young swimmers and is "looking forward to working with swimmers on the collegiate level."

Schlueter started building top level swimmers in Chicago, his home town.

Since then his talents have been noticed in Miami, Portland and Phoenix.

Presently he is serving as swimming instructor at the Dick Smith Swim Gym in Phoenix.

Eight world records and 35 American and national senior records have been set by his swimmers. They have won 35 national senior championships.

Since 1948, Schlueter swimmers have been on the U.S. team in every international meet for the Olympic and Pan-American games.

HIS SWIMMERS accounted for gold medals in each of these meets.

He was U.S. Pan-American swim and diving coach in 1950 in Buenos Aires and was sel-

BULLETIN

Dick Smith and Wale Schlueter, swimming coaches at Arizona State University, ask that all candidates for the swimming and diving team meet with them Tuesday, Oct. 16, at 2:50 p.m. in Room 105 of the Physical Education building.

Taylor Gets WAC Honor

Charley Taylor, who played a major role in ASU's tie with the Washington State Cougars last weekend, was chosen as the Western Athletic Conference's back of the week this week.

He is the second Sun Devil so honored.

Chris Stetzer was the WAC's lineman of the week the first week.

Taylor carried the ball 14 times for 119 yards, an average of 8.5 yards per carry, and scored the Devil's first touchdown on a seven-yard jaunt.

In addition, he intercepted one WSU pass and returned it 14 yards.
