

Board Reinstates Mike Schwartz

Fannin Appoints Regent

Arthur Schellenberg, Phoenix' Man of the Year in 1961, recently was appointed by Gov. Fannin to an eight year term as a member of the state board of regents. He will assume the nonsalaried post Jan. 7, replacing Lynn Laney, Phoenix attorney.

DURING the past several years Schellenberg played a leading role in the creation of the city and county health departments, and in the acquisition of Papago Park by the City of Phoenix.

The board of regents has jurisdiction and control over policies and operations of the state's institutions of higher learning.

MEMBERS of the board at present are: the departing Laney; O. D. Miller, Phoenix; Sam H. Morris, Globe; Elwood W. Bradford, Yuma; John G. Babbitt, Flagstaff; Mrs. Vivian Boyesen, Douglas; and George W. Chambers and Leon Levy, both of Tucson.

In the board's most recent action, it approved the construction of a new library on the ASU campus and allowed for a wing to be added to the Physical Science building.

Fidel Demands U.S. Base Check

HAVANA — Fidel Castro announced Monday that Communist Cuba will permit UN investigators to check the removal of Soviet missiles from Cuba on the condition that the U.S. agree to UN supervision of dismantling what he termed anti-Castro training bases on U.S. soil.

The surprise demand, first disclosed by the government press, was believed to have been formalized by Anastas Mikoyan, Russia's special envoy to Cuba.

Apple Story Disputed

LONDON — Eve gave Adam an apricot, not an apple, in the Garden of Eden, Dr. Tatham Whitehead, one of Britain's leading botanists, claimed Monday.

"The apple is not a native of Mesopotamia (supposed site of the Garden of Eden)," he said. "The only edible fruits they had there in the days of the biblical story were the apricot and the quince, a distasteful fruit."

Dummy Hung Near MU

Campus Security reported a dummy was hung in front of the Memorial Union Sunday morning, shortly after the Sun Devil loss to the UofA Wildcats.

The dummy, hanging from a sign stretching across College Avenue near the west side of the MU, was hung so low that cars were running into it.

A driver reported it to Campus Security and Patrolman H. Jalmanson removed it.

Campus Security made no indication that it had any information as to the offenders.

Student Protests Precede Action

Mike Schwartz, suspended last Tuesday, was unanimously reinstated yesterday as ASU's head cheerleader by the Rally and Traditions board.

His reinstatement, which came after he pledged to follow board policies, climaxed a week of controversy among students over his suspension.

It started when approximately 300 students gathered on the corner of College and Orange avenues in front of the MU Wednesday afternoon to express their disapproval of the suspension.

At least 15 cars cruised campus honking horns and displaying various signs and banners.

AROUND 3:30 p.m., the cars were parked and the occupants joined the crowd on the corner to continue chanting "We want Mike."

The crowd then moved into the MU, up the steps to the second floor and out onto the area in front of the Devil's Den.

With air horns honking and continuous chanting, the group proceeded to the Administration building where they stopped in front of the president's office on second floor.

DR. DURHAM was in an important meeting and could not appear.

The group then returned to the MU, going through the Den entrance and out the front door.

On the corner of College and Orange, they sat down in the middle of the road but were soon dispersed by several officers of the campus police force.

Failing to gain any more strength, because many students had left for Thanksgiving vacation, the crowd broke up about 5 p.m.

Tuesday and Wednesday, petitions objecting to the suspension were circulated on campus. There were plans to submit the collected signatures to the Rally and Traditions Board for their consideration.

Mike said yesterday, that he was "overwhelmed" by the Board's decision. He also stated he had "no warning" that an actual suspension would be voted. Mike explained that he had been warned about "leading" the "questionable" yells but that he was not aware that the response to his "everybody yell your favorite cheer," would be grounds for his suspension.

$3.4 Million Okayed For New Library

More than $5 million was approved by the board of regents in its meeting last Saturday at the UofA, to be used for construction of a new library and Physical Sciences wing at ASU.

The funds will be requested from the state legislature at its next session, for the expansion projects are planned for 1963-64.

THE BOARD approved $3.4 million for the proposed library, which ASU President G. Homer Durham said would be "indispensable equipment" in the pursuit of educational objectives.

The president said that Matthews Library has served its purpose during the last 32 years, but can no longer meet the growing demands and requirements of the university's program.

HOWEVER, Matthews will continue to provide useful facilities, including undergraduate reading rooms, storage space and housing for a collection of American art, he added.

The board also approved ASU's capital request of $1 million for land acquisition and approved bonding authority to issue revenue bonds of $3 million for student housing.

In other actions, the regents approved 29 faculty appointments; three faculty and six staff resignations; appointment of 14 graduate assistants and 14 staff members, and six changes in appointments.

PRESIDENT DURHAM made an announcement at the Tucson meeting that ASU recently had received grants totaling $332,780 and gifts totaling $15,507.

It was also announced that the Board of Regents accepted eight construction projects, in addition to the proposed library and science wing, at $306,427 for the ASU campus.

Students Oppose Board Decision

By ROSS FISH

Students disagreed yesterday about the sudden suspension last week of Head Cheerleader Mike Schwartz until December 1 by the Rally and Traditions Board.

Opinions taken from various segments of the ASU student body revealed a split in sentiment concerning the wisdom of the suspension.

MOST AGREED that it was unwise to suspend the Head Cheerleader four days before the final game of the season.

Schwartz was unanimously praised for his boost to school spirit.

Opinions expressed include the following:

FRED JOSEPH, sophomore, pre-law: "I believe that the Rally and Traditions Board was justified in its decision since Mike was forewarned not to continue his popular yell. However, his suspension right before the UofA game definitely thwarted spirit which under his leadership had developed to the greatest in years."

JUDY HAMER, junior, psychology, president of East Hall: "The consensus of opinion here in East Hall seems to be that Mike was a good cheerleader and shouldn't have been suspended right before the UofA game. Personally, I agree, however, I feel that since he didn't comply with the board's warning he'll have to take the consequences."

NANCY CLAYTON, junior, education: "Student opinion should have had more bearing on the decision and Mike should have been able to defend himself."

PATSI RICH, senior, speech correctionist, head pom pon girl: "It seems to me that everytime we finally get someone around here that has the ability to really boost school spirit, someone finds something wrong with it and before we know it they're out."

BRENDA BATCHELOR, sophomore, education: "The Rally and Traditions Board should be representative of the student body, but this action doesn't reflect student opinion at all."

JERRY EPPLER, senior, speech: "Poorly timed! The board's decision hurt the morale of the school more than anything else."

PAM DYER, sophomore, English: "I think they acted too hastily. They represent the students and should have had more student opinion."

GARY WASSON, freshman, pre-med: "One com-

Doctor Becker Dies At Age 65

Dr. Elery Becker, author and former professor of parasitology at ASU, died in Phoenix Nov. 20. He was 65.

Dr. Becker taught parasitology and protozoology here from September 1958 until he resigned in February 1961.

He then worked at the Communicable Disease Center of the U.S. Public Health Service in Phoenix where he was employed at the time of his death.

Before coming to ASU, Dr. Becker taught 33 years at Iowa State University. He received the BA from the University of Colorado and the Doctor of Science from Johns Hopkins University.

He was the author of 137 articles on parasitology, past president of the American Society of Protozoologists, former editor of the Journal of Parasitology and a veteran of World Wars I and II.

mittee shouldn't have the say so on something like this. I don't think Mike is really the one at fault completely. And, by the way, just exactly what is so bad about our favorite yell?"

KAREN KELLOGG, sophomore, "The spirit this year has been tremendous and Schwartz has been responsible for it. His absence was obvious at Tucson. Mike's entertainment would have been appreciated since we couldn't see the game from our Knot Hole seats."

Holiday Thieves Not Deterred; Cash, Lamp, Other Items Taken

Thieves were not discouraged by extra security officers placed on duty last week prior to the UofA game.

But ASU's 1,500-pound victory bell, recovered by UofA personnel, was returned.

ACCORDING TO Lt. Thomas Godbehere, campus security, no incidents of vandalism were reported, but several thefts occurred.

Campus security incidence reports showed, occupants of three rooms in East Hall reported thefts of cash and one table lamp.

PERSONAL belongings were reported stolen from a car parked in off-campus parking area number 49, north of Palo Verde dormitory.

Personal belongings also were reported stolen from a car parked in dormitory parking area number 31, adjacent to Thanksgiving Day a jacket was reported stolen from a car parked in the visitors parking area south of the MU.

CAPT. PECK commented that many complaints often are withdrawn within a few days, when "lost" items are found, misplaced rather than stolen.

In addition, he said that since detective LeRoy Wick, campus security, has been assigned to investigate each incident, recovery of stolen property has been excellent.

Yes, the original is still standing in Seattle but the ASU space needle is gone. No, it wasn't the raiders from NOGO Tech, it was the grounds crew from ASU that dismantled the space needle.

Impromptu Contestant Takes Western Forensic Honors

Awarded top honors for ASU at the Western Forensic Association Nov. 22-24 tournament was Charles Stewart, first place winner in impromptu speaking.

Stewart was one of 185 contestants from 67 colleges and universities who entered impromptu competition at the San Fernando, Calif. speech meet. Speakers participated in three preliminary rounds and two final rounds of impromptu on the topic of "American Social Values." Each speaker was presented an editorial which he read out loud then spoke on for a seven-minute period.

Stewart was presented with two trophies; one for the school and one for himself.

In debate competition, the team of Betty Duffy and Stewart entered the final elimination rounds where they were defeated by the University of Hawaii in the sixth round.

All teams debated the current national topic: Resolved that the non-communist countries of the world should form an economic community.

Forensic association members from the 12 western states who annually host the speaking event also sponsor the Western Alternate Tournament.

Fourteen members of the debate squad will travel to Los Angeles Dec. 7-8 to participate in the alternate tournament. Dr. William Stites, debate coach, will accompany the group.

Letters To The Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

It is indeed unfortunate when a supposedly responsible school newspaper places the goal of sensationalism above that of reporting the facts. Regrettably such seems to be the case with the Nov. 21 issue of the State Press.

Not only were most of the facts purposely overlooked, several outright untruths were printed.

ON NOV. 20 at the regularly scheduled meeting of the Rally and Traditions Board, the cheerleader advisory committee presented the following report which it recommended for adoption. The following are direct quotes from that report as it was passed:

"On Oct. 2 and again on Oct. 9, rulings were passed by the R & T Board acting as a whole that the yell 'Smother the Mother' not be used by the head cheerleader. Our head cheerleader indicated he would comply with the Board's ruling.

"AT LAST WEEK'S ASU-New Mexico State game this ruling of the Board was flagrantly violated three times. Certainly no one is so naive as to suppose the response gotten to 'our favorite yell' appeal was not clearly solicited. Mike Swartz has been warned about such leading yells on numerous occasions.

"It is the cheerleader advisory subcommittee's recommendation that Mike Swartz be suspended from the cheerleading squad until he is ready to accept the responsibility a head cheerleader must assume.

"WE RECOMMEND that Mike Swartz be taken off the squad until at least Dec. 1. At any time after this date that Mike feels that he can honestly declare before this Board that he will exercise more discretion in any yells he might lead and that he will adhere to the rulings of the Rally and Traditions Board, he will be reinstated. It is the contention of this committee that the Board should take disciplinary action."

Who passed this report? The R & T Board is composed of students — each fraternity, sorority and dormitory being entitled to one representative each. It is interesting to note that those who rioted the loudest were in many instances those groups who have never cared enough to send the representative by which they are allowed to "honk" their opinions.

THE STATE PRESS reported that "the Board acted under the orders of administration officials and other powers that be." There were no administrative directives.

The ruling was initiated, written, presented and passed by your student representatives to the Rally and Traditions Board. And what was the vote of these, the "powers that be?" Mike Swartz was suspended by a student vote of 20 to 1.

The State Press went to laborous (sic) pains to inform the student body of its exhaustive efforts to get the Rally and Traditions side of the story. "When we attempted to get an official comment from one of the Board members he was too busy to comply."

BOTH the chairman and advisor to the Rally and Traditions Board were where they might be expected to be—

Tuesday night's rally and could hardly leave their duties to give an interview as the State Press expected. At the conclusion of the rally, one half hour after being contacted, the State Press was no where to be found when attempts were made to locate them.

Mimeographed copies of the Board's ruling were distributed at the time it was presented and passed. Although it is certainly a newspaper editor's prerogative to comment as she may, it is a sad state of affairs when the basic issue being commented on (in this case, the ruling) has to be quoted in a letter-to-the-editor.

THERE IS absolutely no reason why the readily available text of the ruling itself — the very heart of the editor's invective — could not have been printed too.

To put it in a nutshell: The Rally and Traditions Board considering the propriety of the yell "Smother the Mother" deemed it to be in poor taste. In so doing the Board considered not only students opinion, but also the opinion of the 22,000 other people who attend ASU home games. The Board made its sentiments known to Mike Swartz who indicated he would comply with the Board's judgment and refrain from leading any yells which might wake the response "Smother the Mothers."

YET having been warned on several occasions and openly acknowledging his acquiescence to the Board's rulings, Mike continued to defiantly violate and ignore the judgment of those student representatives to which he is directly responsible.

Repeated warnings followed by repeated violations made suspension the inevitable result. Suspension as stated in the ruling is temporary. At any time after Dec. 1 Mike feels he is ready to accept the responsibility that goes along with being head cheerleader, he will be re-instated.

IT IS the sincere hope of this Board that Mike will find himself able to accept this responsibility and return to the squad. Mike has done an excellent job of creating school spirit, and the R & T Board has always been the first to commend him.

This whole situation has been unfortunate, but necessary. It was the literally, unanimous (20 to 1) will of the Rally and Traditions Board.

Too, it is unfortunate that a letter-to-the-editor has had to be a substitute for objective reporting. None-the-less, these are the facts in their entirety.

AN OPEN LETTER

TO FACULTY and STUDENTS:

This letter comes as an expression of my thanks and deep appreciation for all the courtesies and considerations accorded myself and my staff during our recent "visit" there.

WE WERE all overwhelmed with the willingness to help expressed by every department.

The students themselves who worked on the production were just great, and their very professional behavior and ability to take direction were gratefully appreciated by me and every member of my staff.

I CAN only say further, that if the people I met and worked with are indicative of the entire university, then all of you must be very proud.

Again, thanks to all of you for making our stay a very pleasant and successful one.

Very sincerely,
 Jerry Lewis

"MY CHEERING SECTION WASN'T SO HOT, EITHER!"

Sounding Off....

By LINDA WARREN SIMS

The huge letter you see in the Letters to the Editor column is from the much publicized Rally and Traditions Board. This is its chance to clarify its position and scream 'incompetence' at the editor.

However, we still believe that its suspension of Mike Swartz was poorly timed. If he had violated its warning so often, why didn't its members suspend him before the very last and most important game of the season?

Perhaps, because he was so successful in bouncing those cheers off the "Butte" and sending chills up the spines of the paying public, he was allowed to continue throughout the home schedule. But just as soon as the Sun Devils hit the road for Tucson, it was feasible to leave Mike out of the picture.

Timing such as this raises resentment within students. They feel as if a "fast one" has been pulled on them and begin to distrust the actions of student boards. They distrust these actions especially when they are quick, poorly timed, and without the general knowledge of the public.

From all the reports of ASU'ers who journeyed to Tucson for "that" game, the treatment of the spectators was lousy. The cheering section was seated in the north end zone on sleazy, low slung bleachers. The Sun Devil band sat in the southwestern corner, and Valley rooters with the $4 tickets sat on either side of the UofA cheering section.

The football team was seated on the UofA side, directly in front of the cheering section. The psychological effect of this arrangement was anything but fair.

The ASU band provided the half-time entertainment, and as usual, did a stupendous job. However, they took up more time than the UofA card section had planned. So, as the band marched off the field, the UofA students comprising the card section hurled their cards into the air, into the crowd, and onto the field.

Win or lose, a mature, university-like attitude should display unquestionable sportsmanship. But on the playing field, the University of Arizona has yet to come of age.

More Letters

TO THE EDITOR:

ASU students at the UofA game in Tucson wish to thank the UofA officials for the fine seating arrangement they devised for us Saturday.

The very least we can do to repay them next year is to put a third of their fans on Hayden Butte, a few on Piker's Peak and the rest on the roof of Old Main.

THE UofA's card section showed fine accuracy and marksmanship throwing their cards at our band.

The UofA cheerleaders demonstrated their ability to get a resounding UofA yell from their cheering section right at the noiseless climax to our band's great half-time show.

WHEN THE UofA cheerleader gets use of the public address system, heard all over the stadium, not just in their cheering section, we don't mind too much, because we know that the UofA faculty and staff do not condone such actions.

We know their faculty and staff is definitely against such unsportsmanlike action, yet it seems our hosts entertained us in much the same way two years ago.

Mike Schwartz returned to ASU yesterday afternoon.

He strolled into the State Press office, said hello to his friends, and began answering a host of questions.

"I WAS SHOCKED," Mike said when asked of his reaction to dismissal as head cheerleader.

"It caught me completely off guard and..." He paused, then continued, "but that's neither here nor there."

"If you're running this," Mike said, "please be careful. I've got no power, and I've had none as cheerleader from the start."

HEAD CHEERLEADER is an appointed position, Mike explained. "Anytime the R&T wants to act on its appointments it can. There is nothing I can do now except appeal the board's decision."

When asked if this is what he would do, Mike shrugged and said no.

"The problem is," said Mike, "that the position is appointed. I would suggest for the future that it be elected in a campus-wide election. Then a cheerleader would have the support and power to act more independently."

MIKE SAID that he had heard some mention of a petition circulated last Wednesday demanding his reinstatement. The petition, circulated in a matter of hours, was signed by over 1,350 students.

When told of this number, Mike smiled.

Someone asked Mike if he would return to his cheerleading post Dec. 1 as offered to him by the R&T board. He shrugged again and remained silent.

As more people began to gather around Mike he appeared uncomfortable and asked if he could leave.

HE LEFT to lead cheers for his fraternity's intramural football team. His fraternity hasn't dismissed him and I doubt that it will.

Congratulations to Campus Security!

Rebounding from criticism they received last week for permitting the theft of ASU's victory bell, Campus Security officers have once again displayed the ability to flex the mighty arm of the law.

THEY CITED the Western Week jackass for parking in an undesignated area and for failure to display a proper sticker.

The State Press recently received criticism from several quarters concerning its content this year. Some of this was constructive — too much of it was not.

Might I remind those so eager to criticize that staff membership on ASU's student newspaper is open to any regularly enrolled student of this university.

COMMITTEES: AN AGONIZING RE-APPRAISAL

To those of you who stay out of your student government because you believe the committee system is just an excuse for inaction, let me cite an example to prove that a committee, properly led and directed, can be a great force for good.

Last week the Student Council met at the Duluth College of Veterinary Medicine and Belles Lettres to discuss purchasing a new doormat for the students union. It was, I assure you, a desperate problem because Sherwin K. Sigafoos, janitor of the students union, threatened flatly to quit unless a new doormat was installed immediately. "I'm sick and tired of mopping that dirty old floor," said Mr. Sigafoos, sobbing convulsively. (Mr. Sigafoos, once a jolly outgoing sort, has been crying almost steadily since the recent death of his pet wart hog who had been his constant companion for 22 years. Actually, Mr. Sigafoos is much better off without the wart hog, who tasked him viciously at least once a day, but a companionship of 22 years is, I suppose, not lightly relinquished. The college tried to give Mr. Sigafoos a new wart hog—a frisky little fellow with floppy ears and a waggly tail—but Mr. Sigafoos only turned his back and cried the harder.)

He only turned his back and cried the harder

But I digress. The Student Council met, discussed the doormat for eight or ten hours, and then referred it to a committee. There were some who scoffed then and said nothing would ever be heard of the doormat again, but they reckoned without Invictus Millstone.

Invictus Millstone, chairman of the doormat committee, was a man of action—lithe and lean and keen and, naturally, a smoker of Marlboro Cigarettes. Why do I say "naturally"? Because, dear friends, active men and women don't have time to brood and bumble about their cigarettes. They need to be certain. They must have perfect confidence that each time they light up they will get the same gratifying flavor, the same Selectrate filter, the same soft soft-pack, the same flip top flip-top box. In brief, dear friends, they need to be sure it's Marlboro—for if ever a smoke was true and trusty, it's Marlboro. Get some soon. Get matches too, because true and trusty though Marlboros are, your pleasure will be somewhat limited unless you light them.

Well sir, Invictus Millstone chaired his doormat committee with such vigor and dispatch that when the Student Council met only one week later, he was able to rise and deliver the following recommendations:

1. That the college build new schools of botany, hydraulic engineering, tropical medicine, Indo-Germanic languages, and millinery.
2. That the college drop football, put a roof on the stadium, and turn it into a low-cost housing project for married students.
3. That the college raise faculty salaries by $5000 per year across the board.
4. That the college secede from the United States.
5. That the question of a doormat for the students union be referred to a subcommittee.

So let us hear no more defeatist talk about the committee system. It can be made to work!

Cadets Visit Missile Site

Forty members of the Silver Wing and Arnold Air Society, honorary air science groups, toured an Air Force Titan II missile site in Tucson last Saturday.

The cadets were shown the underground sites which are specially reinforced to withstand all but a direct hit from a nuclear bomb.

The Titan II is one of America's prime retaliatory missiles. It is completely self-contained and capable of striking any of three pre-selected targets.

The 18 sites in Tucson will comprise the United States' first operational Titan base when it is completed next month. Each site will have a four-man crew at all times after the base becomes operational.

Rachel Carson Book Pictures Peril, Doom Of Mankind

By JEAN POWELL And ED GASSER

The book "Silent Spring," by Rachel Carson, presents a picture of peril and even doom to mankind through chemical poisoning.

Miss Carson is a respected biologist and author of several books on nature including "The Sea Around Us," a literary success.

"Silent Spring" tells of the hazards of food poisoning from agricultural chemicals but depreciates the safeguards built up by research.

IT STRESSES the misuse of chemicals, assuming they are grossly misused.

The book is causing alarm among consumers.

It reads like a well-written detective story, but much of what the author presents as evidence is nothing more than supposition, according to chemists, zoologists and agriculturists throughout the nation.

THE BOOK is well documented, but it should be remembered that it presents the one-sided view of an ardent crusader.

Miss Carson cites many causes of death due to insecticide poisoning when arsenic and DDT were used.

The author's fears cover almost the entire spectrum of possible harmful effects, including the possibilities that cancer, leukemia and hepatitis may result, that all wildlife, plant and animal, may be poisoned and that highly resistant insects may run rampant over the earth.

MISS CARSON claims residues of pesticides have been found in foods and in some cases are stored in the fatty tissue of our bodies and that they may cause genetic defects in man.

Referring to the author's statements in the book, Paul Harvey in his column wrote: "It may be that we will all perish by our own hand; civilization will die of civilization."

However, Dr. R. H. White-Stevens, an agricultural scientist for the American Cyanamid Co., said chemicals offer the only hope of meeting world food needs.

THE IDEA would be to have all the benefits of science and no hazards, according to Alex P. Davies of the American Meat Institute.

Landsman Joins Two Professors In President's Forum Program

"Recent developments in Space Science" will be the topic of guest speaker Gerald Landsman of the military electronics division of Motorola, Inc., and two ASU professors tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 in the MU upper lounge.

THE SECOND presentation of the President's Forum will feature Landsman who is the associate director of research and development of military electronics at Motorola.

ASU professors discussing the space developments will be Dr. Leroy Eyring, chairman of the Chemistry department, and Dr. Carleton Moore, director of the Nininger Meteorite Collection at ASU and assistant professor of geology and chemistry.

Landsman is responsible for coordination of military electronic contracts associated with large military systems.

HE HAS held this position since 1958.

Some of the projects which Landsman is a consulting member of include guidance of launch vehicles for National Aeronautic and Space Administration; the Marine Corps Air Defense project; the Regulus Guidance Committee; and the Sparrow Fuzing and Warhead Committee.

Landsman is the author of classified articles on missile systems requirements, missile stabilization, and the error theory.

LANDSMAN received a B.S. and M.S. in electrical engineering from the Illinois Institute of Technology. He also studied automatic control systems at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology during 1946-47.

EAGLE SHIRTMAKERS PROUDLY ANNOUNCES A DACRON* / COTTON OXFORD THAT WILL NOT PILL!

OH, given time a short-necked man with a heavy beard could pill any oxford cloth, they're that soft. But until just recently even Little Lord Fauntleroy could have pilled a DACRON/cotton oxford cloth shirt with one curl tied behind him. Which is why we didn't put out any of them. ★ Sure you know what pilled means; it's when the fabric gets roughed up into little pills. ★ Well, Du Pont has a brand new type DACRON that resists pilling. It came out about a year ago, but we waited until Greenwood Mills, the weavers who make our cotton oxfords produced a DACRON/cotton oxford they were proud of; a really luxuriant lofted oxford. And that brings us up to now. We are making Eagle Shirts of this new material in both a Tabsnap® collar and a button-down collar. At about $8.50.

★ Tabsnaps, you may recall, are Eagle tab collars that need no collar buttons. Our button-down collars also have a property highly prized by the toney cognoscenti: a sort of sloppy bulge. We used to call this "flare" until we noticed everybody else was too. Besides, it really isn't a flare, it's a sloppy bulge, but it's ours and we like it. ★ So if you want a drip-dry oxford shirt that won't pill perhaps you'd better drop a note to Miss Afflerbach (she says forget the footnote) and ask her where in your town you can find Eagle Shirts. This is because many fine stores prefer to put their own labels in our shirts; very flattering, but tough on Eagle eyed shoppers. Write her care of Eagle Shirtmakers, Quakertown, Pa.

*Du Pont's trademark for its polyester fiber. That wouldn't be a bad name for an Italian fashion consultant. Say, do you suppose we could get Miss Afflerbach to change her name to Toni Cognoscenti and

UofA Students Return ASU Victory Bell

By STAN WHISENHUNT
Just as master-criminals before them have learned, three UofA students found out Tuesday that crime does not pay.

Proud, even in defeat, the youths from the university south of here, returned the missing 1,500 pound ASU victory bell to this campus Tuesday afternoon in a convertible-driven horse-trailer.

Upon returning the bell, the youths (who shall remain anonymous) were penalized by having to repaint the bell with the ASU colors and emblem.

They had previously painted the bell red with a blue UA insignia.

The bell, which was reported missing by the ASU Security Police between Oct. 20 and 26, was taken by the three adventurers with the aid of a rented hoist.

THEY REPORTED that they hid the bell in a barn near Chandler. They had planned to take the bell to Arizona Stadium inside a horse-trailer, using a burro as a cover-up.

They said the UofA had issued them a pass to get the burro

(which would be a "UofA mascot") into the stadium last Saturday night at halftime. Once inside the gates, their plans included presenting the bell to ASU officials during the halftime ceremonies.

THE WELL-LAID plan was foiled by an off-duty deputy sheriff of Pima County, who caught the bell-snatchers as they were picking up the burro in Tucson — thus putting an end to their "perfect crime."

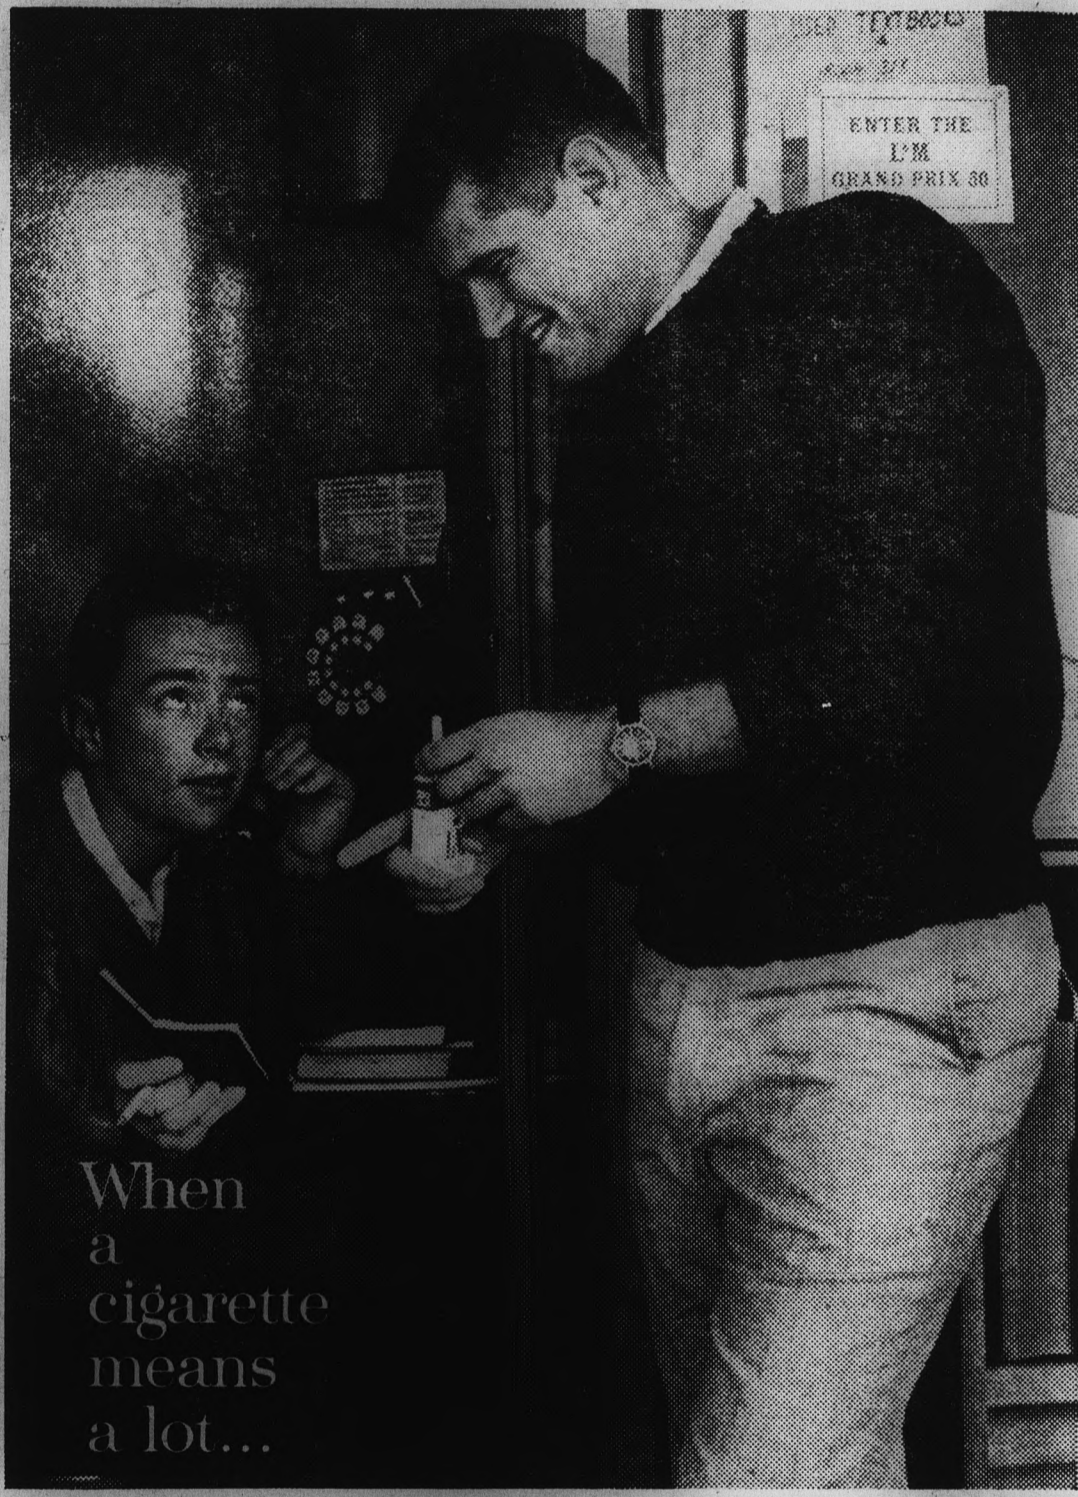

The deputy sheriff turned the boys over to UofA Security Police Saturday evening.

The fall lecture series "Expressions of the American Spirit" will end today.

Unusual Visitor

Potency is not necessarily related to size.

Early Monday morning, while the world slept, a little skunk entered the Moeur Activity building and headed right for the Women's Athletic Association office. He was discovered about 9 a.m. by Mrs. Wanda Smith, secretary for the physical education department, the hard way. She encountered the animal as she made her rounds unlocking offices in the basement.

The State Game and Fish Department and the Humane Society were called to remove the potent interloper.

Basketballers Open Season

By BOB JACOBSEN
Sports Editor

Sun Devil basketballers open their 1962-63 campaign against Whittier College in a campaign expected to provide more thrills and chills than ever before at ASU.

The Devils have lost their leading scorer and playmaker of last year, Larry Armstrong, and the second leading scorer and field goal percentage leader, Jerry Hahn.

BUT SIX lettermen return, plus several promising sophomores and two junior college transfers, to spearhead play for ASU's initial season in the Western Athletic Conference.

Says varsity coach Ned Wulk, "We'll be hurting for depth, particularly under the basket. I don't expect much help from the new boys right off, so the majority of the load will be carried by the lettermen."

Topping the list of returning lettermen are Joe Caldwell, 6-5, Tony Cerkenik, 6-4, Art Becker, 6-8, and outside men Raul Disarufino, 6-2, Bobby Howard, 6-0, and Gary Senitza, 6-2.

HEADING THE sophomore list is Dennis Dairman, 6-5, who suffered a broken collar bone in pre-season practice last year and remained out of action the remainder of the campaign.

Dairman averaged 23.2 points a game two years ago as a freshman.

Other sophomores include inside men Tom Owens, 6-5, and Dave Reid, 6-7, and outside men Gerald Jones, 6-4, and Jim Sturgeon, 5-11.

THE TWO junior college

WAC Play Winds Up Saturday

Western Athletic Conference basketball will begin Friday, and WAC football play will end Dec. 1 with Utah entertaining UCLA, from the Big Six.

New Mexico has won the conference championship, but the Redskins have a chance to bring a little prestige to the new conference with a victory over UCLA.

THE 'SKINS' take a 4-4-1 record into the contest.

Arizona State and New Mexico posted the best season marks of 7-2-1, while Wyoming and Arizona finished 5-5.

BYU ended up 4-6.

The league starts its initial basketball campaign Friday with Brigham Young visiting Oregon.

DEC. 1 OTHER members swing into action with Fresno State at Arizona, Wyoming hosting Wichita, Kansas State visiting New Mexico, Utah at California, and Whittier invading Arizona State.

ASU, because of its experience, is an early favorite to win the first WAC championship.

Last year the Sun Devils were 23-4, winning the title of the now defunct Border Conference.

THREE starters return from the 1961-62 club.

transfers are Alan Schmelz, 6-3, and Harry Orr, 6-7, both inside men.

"The conference should be a good league," Wulk said.

"It is composed of outstanding basketball schools from a traditionally strong section of the nation. It should have good national prestige, and I look for a good brand of basketball to get better."

Wrestlers Open Dec. 1 At Goodwin Stadium

ASU's first outdoor intercollegiate wrestling match is scheduled Dec. 1 at Goodwin Stadium when ASU opens its season against Long Beach State College.

Coach Ted Bredehoft said meet time will be 2 p.m., weather permitting.

Matches are scheduled for all weights except 115 and 191 pounds.

Heading the slate for ASU are three returnees from last season's club.

Top man is Buzz Hays, sophomore, whose feats include winning the junior national AAU and the state AAU championships as a freshman.

He will wrestle in the 157-pound class.

Also back is Rex McConaghy, sophomore, Arizona AAU champ at 177-191 pounds. He will wrestle in the heavyweight division. Tom Kelly, sophomore, will be matched in the 177-pound class.

Rounding out the roster are:

123 pounds, Pete Russo, freshman;

130 pounds, Jon Walker or John Hagan, both freshmen;

137 pounds, Oliver Carter, freshman, or Bill Watt, sophomore.

147 pounds, Dave Greer, freshman;

167 pounds, Rick Jackson, freshman.

Locke Invited To Senior Bowl

Arizona State University end Roger Locke has received an invitation to compete in the Senior Bowl game at Mobile, Ala., Jan. 5.

Locke, a 212-pound senior from Muskegon, Mich., was outstanding defensively and as a blocker for this year's Sun Devils.

Off The Cuff

The defeat suffered by our Arizona State Sun Devils Saturday night in Tucson was not one for which ASU students and fans should hang their heads.

Angered by an early Arizona fluke score, the Sun Devils countered with 17 points in an action-packed second quarter in which they showed Arizona why they led the nation in total offense and were second in scoring.

BUT THEN, ABOUT MIDWAY through half-time, Arizona "hospitality" began to show.

While ASU's visibly superior marching band was on the field, Arizona students began showing their appreciation by throwing their cards for the card stunts all over the football field, on the bench and hitting a few band members.

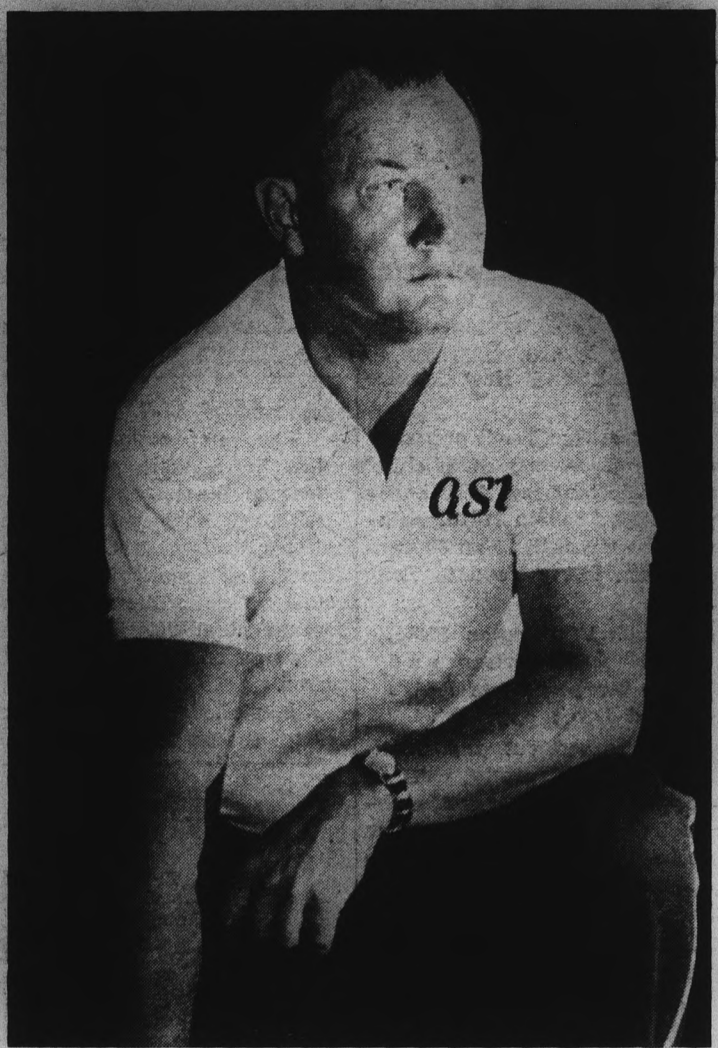

AS IS THE CUSTOM at most universities, the home team's bench usually rests on the side of the field where the home team's students sit. But not at Arizona!

It is reported that when "Gentleman" Jim LaRue came to Arizona, he ordered that the opposing team sit in front of the Arizona stands.

Then the UofA's "hospitality," and one really wonders how, got worse!

AFTER ARIZONA SCORED TWICE to go ahead, 20-17, the Sun Devils took over the ball and proceeded to march into Arizona territory despite the UofA band playing "Bear Down, Arizona" continually, as loud as they could, for the last four minutes of the game and the UofA stands yelling their lungs out to make it much easier for quarterback John Jacobs to call signals!

The seating of ASU students and fans and the ASU band were as expected, spread out all over the stadium.

HEAD COACH NED WULK — This Arizona State basketball mentor has not had a losing season at ASU. In fact, his team's records have improved every year since his arrival. His overall record at ASU is 94-39. His sixth season as head coach begins Saturday, Dec. 1 as the Sun Devils host Whittier College. (Photo by Ed Ryan)

Devils Complete Fine Campaign

By JOHN NADEL

The ASU Sun Devils, with a 7-2-1 record, have completed their most successful season since 1959, when they were 10-1.

The 1962 schedule included wins over Wichita, Colorado State, San Jose State, Texas Western, Utah State, Utah and New Mexico State.

The first Sun Devil opponent was the University of Wichita, in a battle that saw ASU battle from behind to win 21-10, mainly on the strength of an 83 yard pass from Larry Todd to Tony Lorick.

Tough Washington State, with All-American end Hugh Campbell, was ASU's second home opponent.

As it turned out, the Devils held Campbell pretty well in check, but their other end, sophomore Gerry Shaw, grabbed two touchdown passes to pull the Cougars from behind to a 24-24 tie.

Then it was the West Texas State College Buffaloes turn to challenge the Devils.

After grabbing an early 14-0 lead, the Devils saw that lead cut to 14-7 at halftime, and late in the third quarter, Buff halfback Jerry Logan intercepted a John Jacobs' pass and ran 99 yards for a score.

After the two-point conversion the Buffs had a 15-14 lead, which they held for an upset victory.

Next came San Jose State, the "jinx" team.

The Spartans had defeated the Devils the last four years in a row, and this game was considered a must.

After a close first half, the Devils busted the game wide open for a 44-8 victory, as well as breaking the jinx.

The seventh game of the season was with Utah State University, a participant in last year's Gotham Bowl.

The Aggies, with a big, tough team, did not have the speed to match the Devils.

At the final gun, it was another convincing win for ASU, 34-15.

Then came the Utah Redskins. Although, according to Ray Nagel, Redskin coach, they played their best game, the Devils

Howard Ruled Eligible

Senior varsity basketball guard Bobby Howard, a question mark participant because of a rule requiring completion of eligibility within a five-year period, was ruled eligible Monday by the WAC.

Howard, who is in his sixth year officially, but has only been in school three years, withdrew from school after one month one year, was injured in an automobile accident the next year and wasn't in school the following year.

Howard's availability may take some of the load off sophomore Dennis Dairman, who is playing both inside and outside.

again romped, 35-7.

The next opponent and last home game, was New Mexico State.

Although they possessed the nation's leading ground gainer, James "Preacher" Pilot, they could not stop the Devils and succumbed 45-20. Pilot gained 149 yards rushing to lead both teams.

All in all, it was a very successful season for the Devils.
