Senate Passes First Bill, Ends Work On Another

The Senate unanimously passed S.B. 179 Wednesday, abolishing the requirement that the chairman of the Rally and Traditions Board have served one year on the board previously.

This bill is a revision of S.B. 117 that previously established the Rally and Traditions board.

Senator Bob Bonitati, Graduate College representative, introduced S.B. 179.

S.B. 181, appropriating $2,314 to ASU's Inter-Collegiate Athletics, passed the senate committee of the whole in the Wednesday Nov. 28 session.

THE APPROPRIATION bill was introduced by the Finance committee and will receive final vote in the senate's next session Dec. 12.

The additional appropriation is being considered because last year's ICA appropriation was based on 248 students less than were actually enrolled.

If the ICA appropriation is passed and signed by President Durham, the funds would be taken from the ASASU unappropriated balance from last year's budget.

FOUR BILLS are presently being considered by the senate and will be debated in the committee of the whole senate at the Dec. 12 session.

The bills would alter MU Board chairmanship requirements, establish a senate parliamentary procedure training program, establish policies for campus charity drives, and repeal S.B. 73, which established a Campus Community Chest steering committee.

S.B. 182, abolishing the requirement that the MU Board chairman have one year's experience on the board, was debated in the committee of the whole Wednesday and reassigned to the MU committee.

Senator Bonitati introduced the bill.

The parliamentary training program bill was introduced by Senators Karl Wochner, sophomore representative, and Jeff Louis, Liberal Arts College.

SENATORS, if the bill is passed, would be required to attend a parliamentary workshop held the Wednesday prior to the first regular senate session.

Dr. Martinez Takes Peace Corps Offer

By MARTI CZEPOWSKI

Dr. Quino E. Martinez, associate professor of Spanish at ASU, has been appointed associate government representative for the Peace Corps in Brazil.

Dr. Martinez's responsibility during his two-year leave of absence from ASU will be liaison work between the Brazilian authorities and the Peace Corps, but no specific duties or departure date have been set for him yet. However, Dr. Martinez hopes to report for duty on January 8, 1963.

Exactly where in Brazil Dr. Martinez, his wife and six children, will be stationed also has not been disclosed, but he suspects it will be in Rio de Janeiro at the Peace Corps headquarters there.

DURING the past year, Dr. Martinez, who speaks Spanish and Portuguese fluently, directed the language programs for two groups of Peace Corps volunteers who trained at ASU. One group went to Colombia, the other to Bolivia.

"Silent Spring" Alerts Home Economics Staff

By JEAN POWELL

(This is one of a series of three articles on a current controversy between followers of the point of view expressed in Rachel Carson's book "Silent Spring" and those who believe in the use of chemical insecticides).

Food and nutrition are vital subjects in the ASU home economics department and anything that affects them receives attention from the staff.

Dr. Jessie M. Rannels, professor of home economics, is following the controversy caused by Miss Carson's book and noting statements made through the press by qualified persons.

SHE RECENTLY cited examples of control by the federal government over the use of chemicals in growing food products.

The cranberry incident of several years ago was an example. Quick action by the government halted consumption of cranberries that might have been toxic from insecticide sprays.

"We must trust the producers to follow the laws and the government to enforce them," Dr. Rannels said.

How should one handle fresh fruits and vegetables before use?

AMONG OTHER things, home economics students learn to wash all fruits and vegetables, Dr. Rannels said.

This eliminates residue from dust, handling and insecticides. She commented that it is well to be aware of dangers in the use of pesticides. But all the evidence should be considered before allowing panic to develop.

"It is unfortunate that the writing of one person can influence so many people on a controversial subject," she said.

The book "Silent Spring" has been a best seller in Phoenix and the nation for several weeks.

DR. RANNELS concluded, "If we are to produce enough food to feed our population, we must control the insects. It is a choice we have to make."

Mrs. Mary C. Wooldridge, assistant professor of home economics, agreed that in order to produce enough food to feed the people, it is necessary to control insects.

"That matter of the additive effect of insecticides on humans is still not known. It is wise for consumers to be aware of new developments in research on the subject," she said.

Laws have been passed and amended that require producers to test chemicals used in and on foods. The tests enable them to set safe limits or tolerances for residues of pesticides, Mrs. Wooldridge explained.

A FAILING of many consumers, she said, is that they do not read labels. People use insecticides without reading instructions and in this way endanger themselves.

Mrs. Wooldridge spoke of tolerances to pesticides established by the government. She said that pesticide labels are registered and the Food and Drug Administration must certify that products are useful. Food and drug inspectors take samples of fruits and vegetables and test them to make sure tolerances are not exceeded.

1963-64 Budgets Due By Dec. 1

ASASU Student Senate Finance committee has designated Saturday as the deadline for 1963-64 budgets required from all recognized and approved organizations of ASU.

Budgets should be delivered to Dick Finley, MU 226.

If problems in meeting the deadline arise, group representatives should see Dick Finley or call Senate finance chairman Susan Chemnick at WO 7-2904 today.

Other Senate committee members are Daryl Winn, Linda Carnowski, Mike Stanton and Karen Kolb.

Synthetic Environment," by Lewis Herber, Mrs. Wooldridge pointed out his statement that there are few fish, birds or animals that do not bear residues of insecticides in their bodies.

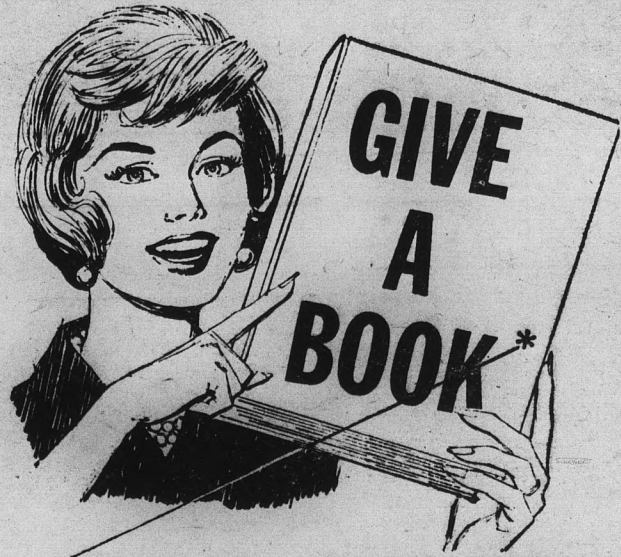

They are present, too, in many human beings. Herber deflates the general view that government protection is sufficient.

Herber's book is designed to help people understand the scientific complexity of the world. It differs from "Silent Spring" in that it does not attempt to frighten people, but to inform them.

MRS. WOOLDRIDGE said that there is a problem of possible poisoning from insecticides, additives and other chemicals used in food processing.

"However, she added, "it is our responsibility to support measures which will insure adequate research and inspection to protect our welfare as consumers."

A college student in a Midwest university was asked to paraphrase the sentence, "He was bent on seeing her." He wrote, "The sight of her doubled him up."

Editorially Speaking

The United States flag is our nation's highest symbol of freedom, courage, justice, and even God.

The red and blue stripes and white stars have been our expression of loyalty, determination, pride and love of country since April 4, 1818.

President James Madison signed into law at that time Peter Wendover and Samuel Reid's "Acts to Establish the Flag of the United States."

There were no formal rules to follow in matters of flag etiquette until civic groups held National Flag conferences in Washington, D.C., in 1923-24.

The conferences drew up a national code prescribing the correct manner of displaying and respecting the U.S. flag.

Congress in 1942 adopted, by joint resolution, this code as a federal policy. President Franklin D. Roosevelt approved the act on Dec. 22, 1942.

Two recent letters to editors now raise a question in our minds as to whether the federal law outlining the procedures for treatment of our precious flag is being closely followed by persons responsible for the display of the flag at ASU.

One of the letters of which we speak was written by an ASU student to the editor of this newspaper; the other was written to and printed in the Tempe Daily News.

The student stated in his letter that he had noted that on occasion the national flag at the west entrance to the campus had not been lowered and taken in until after dark.

Section 2 (a.) of Public Law Number 623, the flag act mentioned previously, reads:

"It is the universal custom to display the flag only from sunrise to sunset on buildings and on stationary flagstaves in the open. However, the flag may be displayed at night upon special occasions when it is desired to produce a patriotic effect."

Was there a "special occasion" to produce a "patriotic effect" at ASU? Or are we misinformed?

Tempe city councilman Wayne Forde, who is dean of men at South Mountain High School in Phoenix, wrote the letter to the Tempe paper.

Councilman Forde pointed out to residents of Tempe that he had noticed the local high school as well as ASU lowering the flag to half-staff on unwarranted and improper cases.

President Dwight Eisenhower on March 1, 1954, issued a proclamation establishing rules for flying the Stars and Stripes at half-mast as a "mark of respect" upon the death of major officials (and former officials) of the U.S. government.

Note: The national flag was to be lowered to half-staff only for major U.S. officials.

ASU has recently been lowering the flag half way for respect to university officials upon death, according to Forde's letter.

We emphasize respect, and we are sure these acts were intended for respect. However, we would appreciate the acts more if they were not in violation of federal standards.

We have brought the federal flag code to the attention of those persons in charge of displaying the flag at ASU who we understand to be Campus Security.

We feel that the federal code was drawn up after extensive study and should be more highly respected and followed here at ASU.

Letters To The Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

My first impulse was to write you a letter crowded with explosive expletives to convey my indignation, embarrassment, and disgust. After second thoughts and a striving-for-objectivity period, I am more convinced than before that it must be said. I refer to the pathetic "nod to God" week known on the ASU campus as Spiritual Exploration Week.

RELIGION — Christianity or otherwise — is man's highest expression of his potential. What a heart-rending discovery to learn that the highest expression in evidence on this campus is a fistful of fumbling fuddy-duddies.

The interested guest should have been forewarned when he noticed the small attendance at the first meeting of this annual observance. Thirty people in a room that seats hundreds was indicative of either unrewarded optimism or short-sighted planning; further fiascoes bore out the latter thought.

Introductions and announcements were handled with all the finesse of a sixth grade home-room program. The keynote speaker, a figure highly respected in ecumenical councils and literary circles the world over, was described as "an editor of—oh—some magazine."

EMINENT resource persons were placed in inaccessible conference rooms vainly to await the inquiring student who might by chance stumble upon them. Pompous people-in-charge arrived late to put into lethargic motion a program that obviously had been planned on the way up the stairs. Trite cliches and rambling jargon elevated the ego of these folk. The good men who came hundreds of miles to offer their thoughts to the intellectually seeking had instead unlimited opportunity to exercise the forbearance and humility to which they attest.

By the conclusion of the final meeting, it was obvious to the no-longer interested guest why the initial meeting had attracted such a meager gathering: this campus activity has a reputation, well deserved, which would turn away an audience for the president of the United States himself.

TO SEE something that could be so fine dragged in the dust of mediocrity — no, inferiority — is to make a strong Christian shudder and turn away; small wonder the average student is disinterested in SEW. Why? Who is responsible? The greatest contribution of the steering (to where?) committee seems to have been the production of a beautiful brochure replete with errors and empty of meaning.

If feelings are hurt, I'm sorry. But if this letter produces even a small percentage of the indignation that I, an observer, feel, perhaps the participants in SEW activities will engage in an introspective, constructive criticism to the benefit of all — most particularly the God whom they profess to serve.

Sincerely yours,
Name Withheld

TO THE EDITOR:

When is Intellectual Exploration Week?

Is the University going to provide a week for those of us who would like to find the solution to our problems in our own minds? Many students believe through education and reflection the answers to life can be found. Many others believe the answers are provided by mythological teachings of those who profess to have prophetic vision.

Now the latter students have been provided for by Spiritual Exploration Week. Will those of us in the former group be given our Intellectual Exploration Week? Will we be able to bring our philosophy instructors into the classrooms to preach?

I don't pretend to be an intellect, nor do I "have an emptiness in my heart that needs to be filled." I am merely a student of life who would like to be forewarned of these S.E.W. guest speakers who break the continuity of education with their "answer to life's questions."

I Cover College Avenue

By BILL OVEREND

Although most persons don't realize it, a movement was launched in this column last week to obtain a new costume for the Sun Devil mascot for football games next year.

Unfortunately, during the Mike Schwartz controversy most students didn't really care too much about campaigning for shiny uniforms.

NOW, HOWEVER, since the Rally and Traditions Board has apparently completed its cycle of rules on Schwartz, perhaps it can concentrate on the "sloppy looking mascot" issue.

Since football season has ended, the board has a full year in which to ponder and debate the subject.

If nothing else, they could suspend the mascot until the first game next year.

The ridiculous idea of having a campus election for some king or queen of something every other week of the year annually reaches its zenith of idiocy with the "Mr. Preferred" election.

THE MOST poorly handled of all campus elections, Mr. Preferred usually goes to the guy who's polite enough to show up at the right place at the right-time.

But that's not the issue.

The election comes too soon after Homecoming. It doesn't receive great student support. There is little campaigning.

This year the contest is even less interesting because almost all of the nominees were candidates for Homecoming king.

It seems like there's a union of candidates who alternate as victors of these elections.

BECAUSE OF the total boredom inspired by this yearly election, we are very glad that one organization has broken tradition by running the VI's Harold for Mr. Preferred.

With a little campaigning, old Harold could possibly show his young rivals what it takes to be a successful campus candidate.

Western Week is that time of year when our Easterners can show their scorn for the "hick" West by continuing to wear "decent" clothes.

Western Week is also that time of year when our Westerners can show their scorn for "city" dress by wearing cowboy-type clothing.

THAT'S WHAT time of year Western Week is.

The current condemnations appearing in the State Press as letters on SEW can show nothing but good results.

The week itself can probably stand some reorganization.

Faculty-Student Forum Airs Campus Opinions

Students recently questioned ASU's scholarship program at the first in a series of forums whose purpose is to air opinions on issues that affect good campus faculty-student relations.

The forum, sponsored by the Student-Faculty Relations Committee, was attended by Dean of Students W. P. Shofstall and Clyde Smith of the athletic department. They represented the administration at the meeting.

One major question asked at the forum was why ASU doesn't have a better academic scholarship program. Bonnie Olson, student representative on the Student-Faculty Relations Committee, gave the following points as of major importance.

A 1.6 grade average is necessary to compete for athletic scholarships while a 3.25 average must be maintained for academic competition. Athletes must carry 24 hours a year while academic scholarship holders must carry 30 hours.

Athletic scholarships have increased from 96 to 147 while academic scholarships have remained the same in number since 1954. Scholarships, the forum agreed, should increase in proportion to the student body.

THE SCHOLARSHIP committee often cannot award a student with a 4.0 average a scholarship because only a small number are available and these go mainly to freshmen and as renewals. The Honors program, students said, should tie in more with the Scholarship Committee.

If there is a mistake on an application for scholarships or if part is missing, the application is thrown away. The individual is not notified of this.

The money athletics earns through gate fees is apportioned through various organizations. Clyde Smith maintains that a player who puts in 600 hours a year earns more than a student would who worked the same hours.

THIS PROBLEM has not been brought up and seriously discussed by the Board of Regents, which apportions money for scholarships, Dean Shofstall said. It is felt that an athlete earns his scholarship and so deserves a full one.

Students indicated that they believed the small number of scholarships sends many other students to other schools than ASU and that the size of scholarships should be increased.

Miss Olson said that students with questions or complaints about the scholarship program should "take them to the Scholarship Committee," which is in charge of changing scholarship procedure, because "they are your liaison to authority and your resource of facts."

Miss Olson stated that the second forum probably will be scheduled after Jan. 1.

Say it with a Parker

If you're a little shy and have difficulty saying "I love you" or even "I like you very much"—say it with a Parker.

The new Parker Arrow makes a beautifully expressive gift and looks as if you paid a small fortune for it. It only costs $3.95, however, which should leave you with enough date money for an impressive presentation ceremony in romantic surroundings such as the second booth from the back in your local drugstore.

The new Parker Arrow comes in black, dark blue, light blue, light gray, and bright red, with a choice of four instantly replaceable solid 14K gold points. Gift-boxed with five free cartridges.

P. S. To girls: a Parker Arrow—besides being a very romantic gift—comes in one size (the right one), should last at least ten times longer than a scarf or a tie, and should bring in a harvest of correspondence you'll cherish the rest of your life.

Yates To Lead Varied Yuletide Themes Contemporary Music Forum Planned For MU Party

Peter Yates, noted author, lecturer and musician, will be featured at a seminar on contemporary music at Arizona State University Dec. 4, 5, and 7.

Yates will present three illustrated programs at 2:30 in the afternoon. The first two programs will be at Cosner Auditorium and the third will be in the Memorial Union. Students, faculty members and the public are invited to attend all three programs.

The Tuesday program will concern the importance of things to contemporary music, Wednesday's will include the music of John Cage, and Friday's will be on contemporary music, including Ives, Schoenberg, Partch, Harrison and Stauckhausen.

Yates is associate editor of "Arts and Architecture" magazine and has contributed to many leading magazines and lectured widely. He is currently writing two books, concerning five centuries of keyboard music and the evolution of 20th century music.

Yates also broadcasts a weekly FM radio program of music in Los Angeles.

In 1939, Yates founded the Los Angeles series of chamber music concerts, "Evenings on the Roof," and directed it for 15 years. It still continues in its 24th season, but is now known as "Monday Evening Concerts."

The annual Memorial Union Christmas Party to decorate the MU is planned for Dec. 6 at 8 p.m., according to John Brooking, ASASU Activities Vice President.

The whole MU, interior, exterior and lawns, will be decorated by ASU students under the supervision of the Activities Coordination Board, which sponsors the party.

A hay ride wagon will tour the campus the evening of the party to take students to the MU.

THEMES for the decorations throughout the building have been chosen by the committees assigned to lead the decorating of each area.

Themes for this year's decorations will be:

Lower lounge: old fashioned traditional Christmas.

Clancy's: Western Christmas.

Upper lounge: Winter Wonderland.

Faculty dining room: Mexican Christmas.

Display cases: Japanese lighting.

THE SEVERAL Christmas trees to be decorated at the party will be cut from the Payson area by the Cultural Affairs committee and other students.

Christmas music and refreshments will be abounding during the evening festivities.

Many other areas of the MU besides those listed above will be decorated without a special theme.

Jacobs Breaks Records

The 1962 Arizona State University football squad's offense was more run than pass, but it was the pass that carried the team into the record book.

At the head of the parade was junior quarterback John Jacobs, who set three individual school records and tied another.

Sophomore halfback Larry Todd and junior halfback Tony Lorick were the other record setters, collaborating on an 83-yard pass-and-run play against Wichita.

THE INDIVIDUAL records, set by the '62 team:

Most yards passing in a season: Jacobs, 1,263. Former record, 1,208, set by John Hangartner in 1958.

Most passes attempted in one game: Jacobs, 32, against West Texas State. Former record, 23, by Joe Zuger against Texas Western in 1961.

Most passes completed in one game: Jacobs, 18, against West Texas State. Former record, 15, set by Dave Graybill against Midwestern in 1955.

Longest pass-run play: 83 yards, Todd to Lorick against Wichita. Former record, 75 yards from Hangartner to Bill Spanko against West Texas State in 1958.

JACOBS TIED the record for most touchdown passes thrown in one season—14. He shares the mark with Hangartner, who threw a like number in 1957.

Intramural football is again on the scene at ASU and the same problem that has plagued it for many years is apparent again, a lack of good, efficient referees who KNOW THE RULES.

The referees are so varied in their knowledge of the flag football rules set up by the intramural board, that each game is played under each referee's different set of rules.

ONE BECOMES CONFUSED AFTER two or three games.

The solution does not lie in hiring varsity football players to referee.

It lies with all the refs reading the rule book and positively knowing the rules.

Maybe head intramural director Bill West could hold a meeting of his hired hands and read the rule book to them until they completely understand it.

Such a meeting would surely not take up too much of their time and certainly would help in the long run when the playoffs start.

ASU DEFENSIVE HALFBACK BOB Minitti was honored this week by the Western Athletic Conference. He was given an honorable mention on the WAC All-Academic team. Bob carries a 3.00 grade average in physical education.

Former ASU quarterback Joe Zuger will appear on ABC-TV's Wide World of Sports this weekend in the Canadian football championships.

Zuger, who recently set a Canadian record of eight touchdown passes in a game, will lead his Hamilton Tiger-Cats into battle against the Winnipeg Blue Bombers in Toronto.

The program will take place on Channel 3.

The wrestling meet tomorrow against Long Beach State will be in the old gymnasium instead of Goodwin Stadium, as previously stated.

IT WILL START AT 2:00 P.M.

Frank Burk, an Avondale product currently enrolled at ASU as a freshman, scored a TKO in 1:20 of the first round Tuesday night in a warmup bout for the Golden Gloves championships to be held later on.

Burk, a 140-pounder, defeated Willie Stringfellow.

Devils Host Whittier In Cagers' Opener

By JOE HEATH

Pigskins are no sooner packed away, when the nets start popping in Sun Devil Gymnasium.

ASU's hard-court men open their 1962 season tomorrow night against the Whittier Poets.

GAME TIME is set for 8:30 p.m., with the frosh to see action against Mesa 15th Ward in the opener, starting at 6:30.

Poet mentor is Aubrey Bonham, in his 23rd year.

His teams, courting only one losing season since 1939, have posted a 421-211 record, won three NAIA District 3 championships, and 13 Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic Conference championships.

Sun Devils Lead Nation

With the final figures now in the books, the nation-leading Sun Devil total offense shows an outstanding average of 384.4 yards per game during the 1962 season.

The leading rushers for the Devils were Tony Lorick, with 704 yards in 105 carries, a 6.7 average, and Charley Taylor, with 567 yards gained in 106 carries, a 5.3 average.

These two quick-charging halfbacks also led the team in scoring, with Taylor tallying 50 points and Lorick scoring 48.

RIGHT BEHIND these two was kicker John Seedborg, who connected on 37 out of 39 extra point tries, plus kicking three field goals.

Quarterback John Jacobs finished the season with 77 completed passes in 136 tries, a .568 percentage. Jake threw for 1,263 yards, a new school record, and 14 touchdowns, tying a school record.

DALE KELLER led the team in receptions with 20 grabs for 358 yards and five touchdowns.

In other departments, Jacobs led the team in total offense with 1,231 yards in 151 plays. Taylor led in interceptions with four, and Lorick was the leader in kickoff and punt returns.

Leading the Poets' offensive attack will be Steve Hayes, all-SCIAC on last year's 15-14 squad.

Hayes is top Poet shooter, hitting 17.4 of the 65.4 per game squad average last year.

Starting in the backcourt for Bonham will be lettermen captain Tom Freese, 5' 10", and Jon Hill, 6' 1".

Up front with Hayes will be Ian Desborough, 6' 2". At center will be the tallest of the Whittier starters, 6' 3" Henry Ellis.

The Poets' tallest man is 6' 4" Bob Jarvela.

The Devils bring a team into the game that averages 6' 5".

ASU, ENTERING the game with a 13th national ranking, will see the three systems of defense: man-to-man, zone and down court press.

As the Devils, the Poets employ a fast-break type game, utilizing their speed.

Probable starters for Ned Wulk's followers are Dennis Dairman, 6' 5" sophomore, and 6' 2" junior Gary Senitz, at the outside positions.

INSIDE WILL be junior Joe Caldwell, 6' 5" All-America candidate; Art Becker, 6' 8" junior, and Tony Cerkenik, 6' 4" senior.

Wulk labels Dairman "the best shot on the team" and is counting heavily on him along with Caldwell and Becker to pick up the slack left by Larry Armstrong and Jerry Hahn.

Armstrong and Hahn, were top scorers of last year's 23-4 ASU cage squad.

Locke, Krofchik Award Winners

Roger Locke, Mike Krofchik and Joe Pico were award winners at the annual football awards banquet Wednesday night.

Roger was chosen "Most Valuable Player" by his teammates, Mike received the Glenn Hawkins award for sportsmanship, and Joe received the Oil Can award for supplying the team with the most morale and spirit.

Fresno State's Bulldogs invade Sun Devil gym Monday night in the Devils' second home contest of the season.

Fresno, who won the CCAA championship last year in California for the third time in five years, will bring a tall, experienced ball club to Tempe.

THE BULLDOGS' starting lineup includes Ron Neff, 6'9" center, who closed last season with a rush and averaged 19 points and 13 rebounds per game plus being All-CCAA; Tony Burr, a 6'5" second team All-CCAA forward who averaged 16 points per game last campaign; Maurice Talbot, a 6'5" frontliner who averaged 24 points per game last year in junior college; Tom Jacobsen, a 6'3" guard who was a starter on the 1961-62 club; and Eddie Greene, a letterman last season.

Bulldog head coach Harry Miller claims, "We have a distinct weakness in the backcourt although our front line is equal to anyone in our league and maybe on the Coast. It may take use a couple of weeks to jell, though."

Other players expected to see action are Ken Jensen, Larry Wait, Marty Sharp, Tom Uriarte, Tom McFerson, Woody Smith and Joe Chappell.

Freshmen Play Host To Mesa

Tentative starters will include:

Inside posts: Dennis Hamilton (6'7"), Paul Meany (6'5") and Charles Robinson (6'6").

Outside posts: Jim Whitehead (6'3") and Chris Richmond (6'0").

Hamilton and Meany were big guns in last week's varsity-frosh clinic game.
