FORMER PROFESSOR—John Beecher, social poet and former ASU English professor, will open the Evening Art Series tomorrow night at 8 in the MU ballroom. Mr. Beecher's topic is "An Evening With a Modern Poet."

Poet John Beecher Opens Art Series

By TOM WING

"An evening With a Modern Poet," by John Beecher, will premiere the Evening Art Series tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the MU upper lounge.

Beecher, author of seven volumes of poetry and one novel which deal with contemporary conditions of civil rights, threat of thermo-nuclear war and religious and national apathy, will read and discuss selections of his poetry.

The 59-year-old poet, steel mill laborer, editorial writer, social worker, reporter, teacher and World War II veteran, will be speaking and reading of social conditions during his turbulent life, as observed through experience.

Beecher has attended the University of North Carolina, Cornell, Harvard and the Sorbonne in Paris — "the best of what is offered," he says.

He has taught at Dartmouth, the University of Wisconsin and at ASU during 1959-60.

Beecher is a descendant of the family which produced Henry Ward Beecher, the great abolitionist, and Harriet Beecher Stowe, the author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

"Report to the Stockholders and Other Poems," Beecher's latest book, has been selected as one of the 27 books in the 1963 Western Books Exhibition and the only book in the show from a private press. He also had books in the 1960 and '61 exhibitions.

Wulk's Cagers Oregon Bound

By TROY IRVINE

Arizona State's classy Sun Devil cagers clinched the Western Athletic Conference basketball crown with a 76-62 triumph over University of New Mexico Saturday night in Tempe.

At the same time, Utah dropped Brigham Young University to WAC runner-up with a 106-100 overtime victory.

The Devils (23-2) won their way to a March 11 revenge match with non-conference foe, Utah State in Eugene, Ore.

Last year, Skyline Conference champion Utah State dealt the ASU Border Conference champions a 78-73 setback in play-off competition.

The winner will advance to the NCAA Far Western Regional Tournament at Provo, Utah.

Ned Wulk's cagers could lose their only remaining game with the UofA on March 4 and still claim possession of the conference crown.

It was the fourth conference title in six seasons for the Devils under Wulk. His clubs won the defunct Border Conference in 1957-58, 1960-61 and last season.

For additional information of conference play and a sports roundup see the sports pages.

Board Of Regents Approves Two Construction Projects

The Board of Regents met Monday and approved final plans and specifications for the construction of a 65,000 square-foot addition to the Engineering Center.

The $78,000 project involves the addition of a three-story wing to the north portion of the present structure.

Providing critically-needed space for research, the addition will include 15 classrooms, administrative and faculty offices. Occupancy is expected for the second semester of the 1963-64 school year.

Final plans for the modification of the Moeur Activity building were also approved by the Board.

Plans for the $185,000 project to accommodate the University's housing and registrar's offices have been designed by the Biddle and Young Electrical and Mechanical Engineering firm of Phoenix.

Funds for both projects, for which bids will be opened March 14, were appropriated during the last session of the state legislature.

The Board in another action involving the ASU physical plant, approved a $12,953 contract for the extension of piping and chill water lines in the Engineering Center.

The Board also accepted recently-completed construction projects and authorized final payment for four small-group housing units; three housing units at the University Farm; alterations for the Physical Education building; and a parking lot adjoining the Gammage Memorial Auditorium.

'DerbySnatch' To Be Staged On Friday

A dance from 8-11 p.m. in the MU ballroom will conclude the event. The dress will be bermudas and capris.

Refreshments will be served. Winners of field events will receive trophies and Sigma Chi paddles at the dance.

Trading stamps collected by the teams will be presented to a local charity.

A Derby Snatch will start Friday. Participating teams will be awarded points for each derby won.

The traditional Derby Darlin' Contest and the Dress a Sig contest will be held.

Events will include greased pig chase, egg swat, flour frolic, dizzy Lizzie relay, doughnut dash and egg-in-cup relay.

The public is invited to attend.

YR's Present Tax Views At Forum

"The Salt River Project does not and should not pay taxes." "The Salt River Project is not a non-profit municipality and should pay taxes on the electricity sold."

Two views were presented yesterday afternoon as Leslie Alexander, associate general manager of the Salt River Project and William Reilley, vice president of Arizona Public Service Company, faced each other for the first time to debate the current legislative bill to tax the non-agricultural business of the Project.

The program was sponsored by the ASU Young Republicans.

Reilley said that the Arizona Public Service paid $15 million in taxes in 1961. Of this $6 million went for state education. This is more than the Service paid their stockholders, he added.

Alexander said that the Project was a public service to the people in the form of water reclamation and should not be taxed.

Campus Police Investigate $1450 In Worthless Checks

Three grand thefts were reported this week according to security department officials.

In each instance a battery was taken from a car in a campus parking lot.

Several petty thefts have occurred including a wallet, books, a crash helmet from a motorcycle and other small articles.

Two trophies and two plaques were removed from the display case in the AFROTC orderly room.

Several minor traffic accidents amounting to less than $100 were also reported and a peeping tom was apprehended and turned over for booking by the Tempe police.

A hit-and-run side swipe also was reported to have damaged the right side of a student's car parked in area 14.

Other offenses were two bad checks, which the student cleared and two cases of excessive parking and traffic violations which were referred to the proper faculty offices for further action.

Arizona's Faculties To Convene

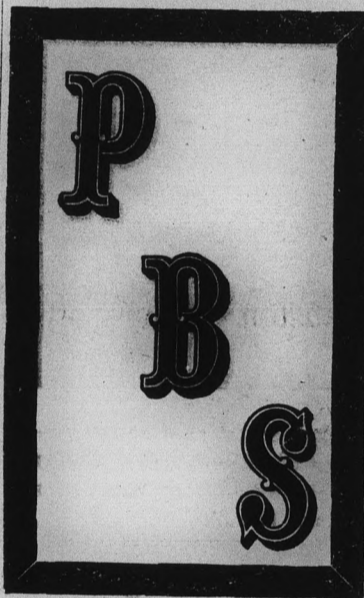

Faculty members from all colleges and universities in Arizona will meet this Saturday at the UofA campus for the 14th annual Arizona College Association meeting.

Highlighting the meeting will be the keynote address given by Dr. Francis A. J. Ianni, director of cooperative research branch of the U.S. Office of Education. Dr. Ianni, a Fulbright scholar, is a specialist in social anthropology.

Divisional meetings will be held at 2 p.m. following the 12:15 luncheon. Luncheon tickets will be available at the conference.

American Study Lecture -

American Spirit Series Initiates Spring Program

By BILL DEWHURST
A group of wayward but determined Southern idealists featured prominently in the first of a series of spring lectures presented by the Center for American Studies.

Dr. Brice Harris, professor of English, initiated the program last Wednesday in the MU ballroom as he spoke on "The Southern Agrarians: John Crowe Ransom, Allen Tate, and Their Group in 1930."

The theme of the program, which all future lectures will emphasize, is "Expressions of the American Spirit."

Dr. Harris acknowledged a personal acquaintance with the group while attending Vanderbilt University, where he earned his master's degree in 1925.

Besides Ransom and Tate, the group was composed primarily of Robert Penn Warren, Merrill Moore, and Donald Davidson. Each man avoided the extreme conventionalism prevalent in modern poetry, adhering to its best qualities without casting aside those of the past.

THEIR MAGAZINE, entitled "The Fugitive," first received national recognition in 1925 and with it came the established friendship which was to lead them to far-reaching goals.

Dr. Harris emphasized fervid attachment of the group to the Southern way of life "against what they interpreted as the American or the prevailing way." He also stated that the distinction could best be expressed as "Agrarian versus Industrial."

Here's What It's All About

By JERRY REILLY

Well, since you've had a three day weekend and mid-term exams are a good three weeks off, we're going to take advantage of your mellow mood and try to explain the purpose and policies of "College Avenue."

The purpose, believe it or not, is to inform you.

You might say we try our best to keep abreast of campus events and get behind the scenes. Then you can read about it in "College Avenue" (you do read it don't you?).

OUR POLICY is to present to you in a casual manner a little bit of everything. As we skip over campus activities we may hit something you're glad about, sad about, mad about or griping about. No matter how it affects you, it will be about you and your fellow students.

Now that you know all about us, we'd like to ask a little something from you. If you run across any news or information that is scandalous, risqué or downright nasty — keep it to yourself.

If you have something that you think is important (or unimportant for that matter) and EVERYONE should know about it, come up and tell us about it — maybe we can do you some good. We're upstairs in the MU, room 211.

Since the 50 mile hike is the current rage, I've figured how we can all participate in a hike and still not miss any classes or clutter up our weekends.

Before you read any further, give your legs a trial. Stand up and hop around on one leg — backwards. If you pass this test you're silly for trying it.

NEXT, THE organization of the hike itself. Each hiker will participate in groups of 50 and walk in relays. Naturally you'll only be walking in your spare time and while you're in class or otherwise busy, someone in your group will carry on the hike (each group will be recognized by a specific colored armband).

Where do we hike, you say? Well, I have that figured out and you can do your university and country a great service at the same time. Half of the groups will walk on off-campus parking lots 41, 47 and 49. There is only one hitch, as you walk you must drag your feet. This helps to smooth down the rough, uneven lots.

The other groups will carry old "Vote for Nixon" placards and signs around campus to get in shape for the '64 elections.

SOUNDS LIKE a pretty good idea, huh? Then everybody stand up and give it three Chinese cheers — foey, foey, foey-

Devil Fans Show How

Remember football season?

That was when ASU fans decried the poor sportsmanship of West Texas and the abuses dished out by the University of Arizona in Tucson.

YOU PROBABLY recall how the Texas team wouldn't sit down during the game thereby giving some Devil fans a football player rear-view to watch rather than the ball game. And I'll bet you recall how coach Joe Kerbel put on a one-man display to prove that he was a person of poor taste and unsportsman-like conduct.

In recollection, you might also remember how you were so angry with Wildcat yelling, seating and general treatment by the host school.

Well the other night Devil fans showed what good fans do when a miss-call has been made.

THEY HOLLER, scream, jeer, chant and really make a visitor, irresponsible for the call, however wrong, really eager to come back again.

Luckily we had coach Ned Wulk's leadership to keep things in order.

That was him leading the hollering and running out on teh floor and up and down the bench at a feverish pitch.

What it all boils down to is this.

We cry and carry on when mistreated.

But lack the intelligence and class needed when the shoe is on the other foot.

Letters To The Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

Thursday afternoon (Feb. 21, 1963) the ASU Forum presented an excellent and thought-provoking address by Dr. Fred Schwarz. He dealt with the Communist threat in a realistic and non-emotional manner. For the most part the audience was courteous and attentive.

However, one small group of more socially conscious ASU students behaved as one would expect from their appearance. They displayed a complete lack of adult courtesy and took childish delight in annoying those around them with irrelevant comments. The spokesman of the band abused his privilege of questioning the speaker by attempting to inject his own biased views in a highly rude manner.

Let it be hoped that social consciousness does not spread if this is to be the result.

Bruce Shauner Glenn

TO THE EDITOR:

Dr. Schilpp several weeks ago defended Deweyism in our schools but failed to grapple with the problem it has brought about in our educational system.

John Dewey, who was an admitted socialist, removed the former emphasis on the training of the child's intellect and placed emphasis on the child's social activities, when he wrote in "My Pedagogic Creed," "to conceive of himself from the standpoint of the welfare of the group to which he belongs."

Vice Admiral Hyman G. Rickover, in an extensive commentary on publication in March, 1958, said:

"Dewey's ideas have led to elimination of many academic subjects on the ground that they would not be useful in life, and to the substitution of trivial, recreational and vocational subjects alleged to be of more practical value. The student thus receives neither intellectual training nor the factual knowledge which will help him to understand the world he lives in, or to make well-reasoned decisions in his private life or as a private citizen . . ."

We should return to the kind of education which Horace Mann helped to found with the admonition:

"Educate your children. Educate them in the great eternal principles of justice and right which underlie the entire length of human existence."

A Smelly Situation

"Whew, what an odor! Golly, does that ever stink." This statement can be heard by almost any ASU student in most any classroom or dorm on campus or new fraternity house on Alpha Drive.

They're talking about the fresh sewer odor that gentle spring breezes waft over our campus every evening.

This foul odor is attributed to the Tempe Sewer Plant just northeast of our campus. Tempe's city father and planners say this is nonsense, "It's Scottsdale, our neighboring city to the north."

The town of Scottsdale and its citizens have their own sewer plant, so how can their sewer waste overload the Tempe Plant?

Regardless of whose plant is whose, the problem still remains and it sure is a "stinker," for it affects us at Arizona State.

SOMETHING VERY definitely needs to be done to combat this major problem to Tempe, Scottsdale and our campus community.

Perhaps a shot in the arm by ASU students might do the trick. We certainly campaigned when we wanted the name of our institution of higher learning changed to "University" and made sure it became official.

How about making this problem official and planning a campus effort to campaign for this "stinkin" cause? It certainly is one that appeals to our senses.

IMAGINE WHAT the odor will be like in a couple of months when the weather gets warmer and we need to turn on our coolers, especially when the air is drawn through damp, musty cooler pads.

What is the answer?

One thing is sure, it's time students and faculty united on this campus to find out what can be done to help solve the "odor barrier" or else we'd better be issued gas masks as standard classroom and dormitory equipment.

This Is News? Really Now...

(From a news item clipped Saturday, Feb. 22)

KENNEDY TREATED FOR SKIN BLEMISH

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy has been receiving treatment for several weeks for a skin blemish on his left cheek, the White House said yesterday.

A spokesman said it was a minor irritation and no cause for concern.

The spokesman did not indicate the nature of the reddened spot nor the type of treatment being given to clear it up.

WELL, goodness gracious. How many tens of thousands of pretty important people had skin blemishes and worse last week without a bit of publicity? They weren't the president of the United States, though; that makes a difference.

Several weeks ago it was Caroline's pony, Macaroni, with some intestinal disorder.

Really now, is that the kind of coverage to be expected from the correspondents in Washington, supposedly the cream of the reportorial crop?

IN SPITE of all the recent reports about government management of news it seems that a somewhat higher type news item could be dug up on the reporter's own or at least asked of the White House press secretary; I doubt that he would volunteer such a tidbit without being asked.

Some people really read such stuff, though, and apparently are very disappointed when they don't get it. They must, otherwise it wouldn't be printed; publishers will not print something their audience won't buy.

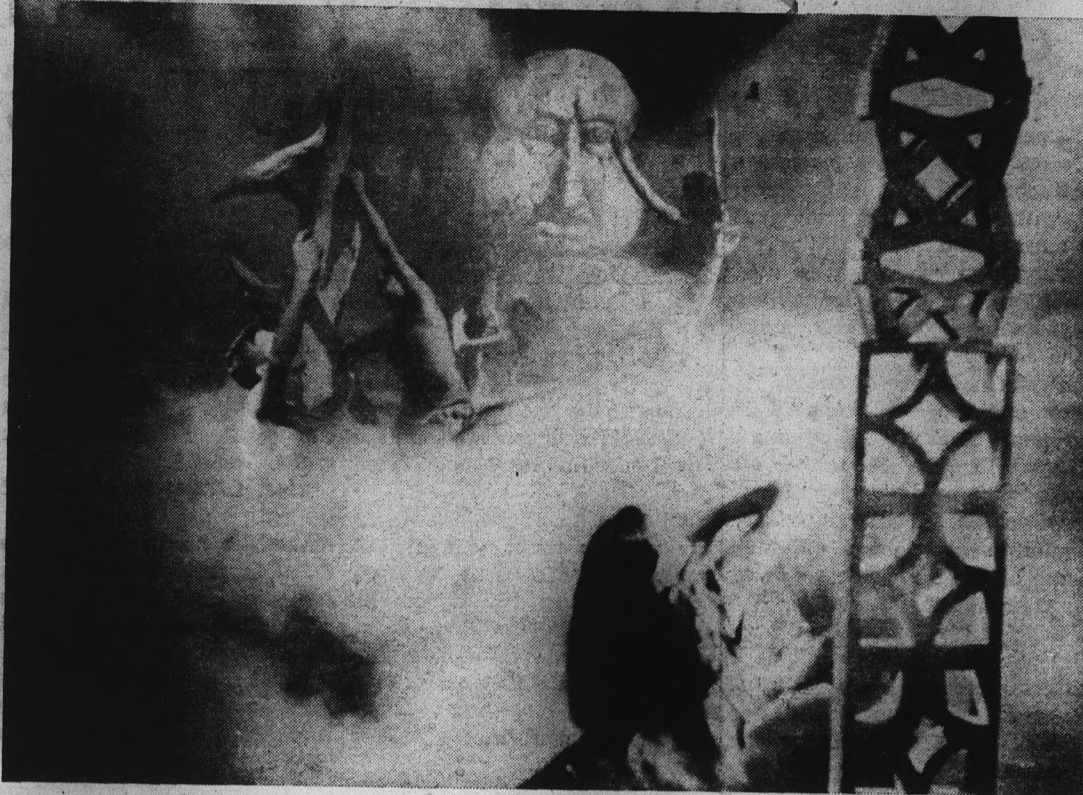

And when you think about it you wonder if the first family likes such coverage any better than us suffering readers. How would you like it for several million people to be watching your every move?

Ech!

Pleiades Conduct Drive For AWS Scholarship

Inter-dorm rivalry is going on for a fund raising cause.

The annual scholarship drive conducted by the Pleiades will continue through March 10.

The senior honorary women sponsor this inter-dorm activity to raise funds for the AWS academic scholarship. This then goes to an outstanding incoming freshman.

LAST YEAR money was raised for two scholarships and it was given to an outstanding upperclasswoman, Nancy Moore.

Although the women in Pleiades plan the drive, each participating group must organize its own original event.

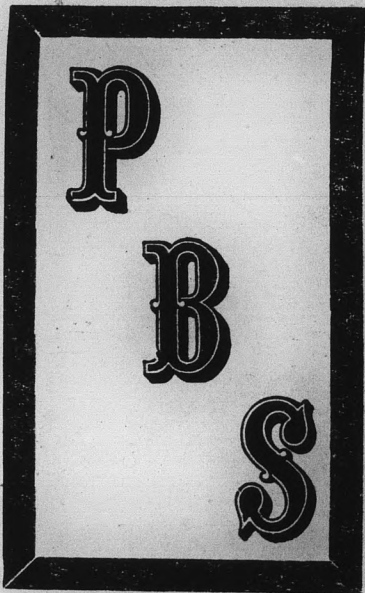

A TROPHY will be awarded on Woman's Day to the group which raises the most money and has the most originality.

Last year Wilson Hall raised approximately $600 with its "Twist Party." Other dorms sold late nights, auctioned head residents and threw a "Roaring 20s" party.

Over 100 scholarships are available each year, although some of these may be renewed by current holders.

Scholarships range from partial payment of private lessons to complete fee coverage, plus a small cash award. Each scholarship is awarded for one year, and is renewable upon satisfactory performance by the recipient. The scholarships will be in effect September, 1963.

Antiquity Theme Set For MU Party

By CHUCK HIGGINS

Classical Greek facade will mask the modern architecture of the MU in observance of the "Sands of Time" theme for the seventh annual MU Birthday Party.

Tall columns will line the building's main entrance for the event, April 6.

The Grecian theme, sponsored by the Faculty-Student Relations Committee, will also include lobby decorations and a street scene along Orange Avenue.

Other eras of history, from pre-historic times to the beat generation, will be represented in scenes and decorations throughout the building.

The Cultural Affairs Committee will Roman-ize the cafeteria for a Roman feast and will effect a Medieval theme in the area of the den.

The faculty dining room will display some of the cultural contributions of the Medieval Ages, and the den will be transformed into a pub where pretzels and beer (near or ginger) will be served.

THE LAWN in front of the bookstore will be used for a makeshift Medieval courtyard. The University Players are tentatively scheduled to recreate a Shakespearian Theater in this area.

The basement of the MU will be the pre-historic level, a project of the Rally and Traditions Board.

Decorating will begin 7 p.m. April 5 and much help will be needed.

SUSAN BERGSTROM

Miss Arizona Enrolled At ASU As Freshman

By GEORGIA FOX

The future Miss America may be an ASU student! Holding the title of Miss Arizona of 1963 is poised and gracious Susan Bergstrom, a freshman at ASU living in Palo Verde Hall.

The 20-year-old Miss will represent Arizona in the 1963 Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City, N.J.

Miss Bergstrom's mother and Mrs. Nellie Vanderhoff, Miss Arizona Pageant director, will accompany her to the week-long pageant competition in early September.

The contestants will be judged on poise, personality, talent and appearance in bathing suit and evening gown.

Blonde, blue-eyed Miss Bergstrom is majoring in physical education. She hopes to teach in high school after completing her schooling.

HER HOBBIES include water skiing, gardening, cooking and dancing.

Miss Bergstrom plans to use her knowledge and background of dance in an original modern jazz arrangement for the Miss America contest.

At present she is taking private dance lessons and several modern dance courses at ASU in preparation for the contest talent competition.

Miss Bergstrom attributes her success in receiving the Miss

Arizona title to friends and relatives who encouraged her.

WHEN ASKED her thoughts on being Miss Arizona, Susan commented that many people have misconceptions about the type of girls in beauty contests.

She feels that few girls enter contests for glory or recognition and few are influenced in any way by competing in beauty events.

During her year as the reigning Miss Arizona, Miss Bergstrom will take part in charity and advertising work throughout the state.

She said of the participation in the contest, "No money or recognition could ever be stated in an amount equaling the experience of being Miss Arizona."

Female Invades Male's 'Piston And Plug' World

By GEORGIA FOX

Attention men: the woman once again has broken the sex barrier in the world of the male. It appears that females have invaded almost every occupation, field and area of the twentieth century.

Much to the surprise of the basic mechanics class, conducted by Dr. C. Burke, assistant ASU professor of industrial education, a female is registered in the class for this semester.

Colleen Cook, a junior, majoring in sociology, approached Dr. Burke at registration for admittance to the class.

COLLEEN reported that his first awed remark was that the class was closed.

After several minutes of discussion, during which Colleen convinced the instructor of the seriousness of her request, Dr. Burke gave his consent for her to audit his course.

The basic mechanics course involves the elementary study of engines, power transmissions, brakes and chassis assemblies, in both classroom and laboratory experience.

"THE MOST natural thing in the world to me is that girls would be curious about an automobile and its functions, especially since they drive them all the time," Colleen said.

She plans to use her knowledge of mechanics to save on car repair bills and to see that expensive and unnecessary improvements are not added by garage mechanics.

THE MEN in Colleen's class, quite happy with her presence, urge her to bring a few friends to audit the class too.

However, they are still rather puzzled that a female would want to discover the "piston and plug" world of the engine.

Colleen's mother, a teacher, is quite pleased with her daughter's decision to audit the mechanics course.

SHE IS much in favor of mechanics and woodworking for the female, and home economics for the male in the school systems.

Look out, men, the ladies will be up for U.S. president soon!

Symphony Concert Planned For Tonight

A formal concert by the Sun Devil Symphonic Band will be presented at 8 p.m. today and Saturday at the Tempe Union High School auditorium.

The program, conducted by Harold Hines, will include "Fanfare for the Common Man" by Aaron Copland, "Star Spangled Banner" by John Stafford Smith, "Symphony No. 3 for Band" by Vittorio Giannini and "Claire de Lune" by Debussy, arranged by Hugh M. Stuart.

Ronald A. Holloway will perform on the marimba, transcription of the first movement of the Mendelssohn "Violin Concerto in E Minor."

Other numbers on the program are "Legend of the Pines" by Russel Howland, "March of the Steel Men" by Charles Belstering, "Five Miniatures" by Joaquin Turina, arranged by John Krance.

The first number is one of ten short pieces commissioned and presented by Eugene Goossens when he was conductor of the Cincinnati Symphony. It pays tribute to those whose heroism marks the war years.

Howland, composer of two selections on the program, spent last semester at ASU. He is noted for his work with woodwind choirs and as a clinician.

He will be band clinician at the forthcoming All State Band, Orchestra and Chorus Festival in Tucson.

The concert will be open to the public. Free tickets may be secured from members of the band, the ASU band office, the MU information desk and local music stores.

'At Your Service' Motto Symbolizes Spurs' Goals

By BARBARA ELLIOTT

Who are those girls in the white uniforms who usher at the home basketball games?

They are members of Spurs, the sophomore service honorary. A golden spur emblazoned on a maroon background symbolizes their goals of sacrifice, patriotism, understanding, responsibility, and service to the University.

Their motto is "At Your Service".

IN NOVEMBER 1955, the organization was initiated as the ASU chapter, sponsored by Mrs. Grady Gammage.

From the beginning, "Spurs" has functioned as a service honorary. In the past, they have made tray favors for children's hospitals, collected magazines for the tuberculosis sanatorium, helped with registration on Parents Day and Senior Day, served as guides for campus tours and helped with campus elections.

To earn the needed money to carry out their projects, Spurs have sold "Mums for Mom" on Parents Day, "Spur-

O-Grams" and "Spurshey Bars."

THE FACULTY ADVISOR for Spurs is Mrs. Charlotte Lewis and Mary Avery, junior advisor.

Officers include Gay Walberg, president; Karla Payne, vice president; Diane Ulmer, secretary and Margaret Esparza, treasurer.

Girls selected for membership in Spurs must be at least a sophomore with a 2.50 or better grade index. In addition, they must show dependability, responsibility and leadership qualities.

Special Recital Set For Sunday

A special recital featuring Carol Sue Tynes will be presented Sunday at 8:15 p.m. in the MU ballroom.

Miss Tynes, a sophomore majoring in music, is recipient of a full music scholarship and a Ruth Ackerman Memorial Scholarship. She is studying under Harry P. Rickel, associate professor of music.

Included on her program will be "Impromptu in G Flat Major, Opus 90" by Schubert, "Three Preludes and Fugues" by Bach, "Sonata in E Flat Major" by Haydn, "Sonata in D Minor" by Beethoven, and a Chopin group including "Nocturne in F Major, Opus 15, No. 1," "Waltz in A Flat Major, Opus 69, No. 1," and "Ballade in F Major, Opus 38."

A-State Shines In Home Meet

The cinders flew at Goodwin Stadium last Saturday afternoon as four meet records were broken in the Fifth Annual Arizona Relays.

Much to the delight of Coach "Baldy" Castillo, all four records were set by ASU performers as his team captured 10 of the 15 scheduled events.

The Sun Devil mile relay team of Mike Barrick, Henry Carr, Ron Freeman and Ullis Williams, did all that was expected of them as they set a new meet record of 3:12.4.

The surprise of the afternoon was the 440 relay. Carr, Tom Hester, Ben Hawkins and Joe Parham, brought the crowd to its feet by turning in a record time of 41.2.

Carr, Hester, Freeman and Williams teamed together to set a meet record in the 880 relay, a time of 1:25.0.

The only field event record to be set was in the javelin throw. Sun Devil Frank Covelli won the event with a toss of 226 feet.

His nearest competitor was Judson Smith, Texas Western, with a throw of 171'10".

Baseballers Victorious In Alumni Contest, 7-3

By NORDY JENSEN

ASU made it three in a row over the Alumni baseball team with a 7-4 victory at Sun Devil Field last Saturday afternoon.

A five run outburst in the varsity's fourth broke a 1-1 tie. ASU sent ten men to the plate during the inning.

Merrill Hyde started the rally with a lead off single. He scored when John Ruedy was safe on a fielder's choice.

Dave Fellers followed with a double and pinch hitter Dick Heiden sent both Ruedy and Fellers home with a two-run single.

A sacrifice fly by Bob Kavgian and a bases loaded walk to Doug Westley sent two more runs across for ASU.

Sun Devil second baseman Jack Handley, led all hitters with two singles.

Sophomore shortstop Luis Lagunas doubled home an insurance run for the Devils in the sixth.

Herb Boetto had the alums only extra base hit, a run scoring double in the fourth. Ed Manning and Al Benedict drove in two other Alumni runs.

Intramurals

Regular season intramural basketball climaxes this afternoon.

The first two teams from each of the five competing leagues will participate in post season playoffs, commencing Friday.

Table tennis and horseshoe pitching competition, the next events on the intramural calendar, are tentatively slated for March 18.

Remaining events scheduled for this spring will include softball, followed by track and field events. Physical fitness tests are held each month.

Devils Take WAC Title

By JOHN NADEL

The ASU Sun Devil basketball team captured the first Western Athletic Conference basketball championship last weekend by defeating Wyoming, 82-72, and New Mexico, 76-62.

The clinching of the championship was made possible when Utah upset Brigham Young University, 106-100 in an overtime contest played last Saturday in Salt Lake City.

The Devils of Coach Ned Wulck jumped off to a big lead and held it in defeating Wyoming, 82-72, Friday.

The game was marred by continuous whistle blowing with 58 fouls called, 29 on each team. Two Cowboys and one Sun Devil fouled out of the contest.

LEADING THE SUN DEVILS were center Art Becker and forward Joe Caldwell. Becker tossed in 21 points and pulled down 16 rebounds, while Caldwell was close behind with 20 points and 12 rebounds.

The Cowpokes were led by high-scoring Flynn Robinson, who netted 27 points, 23 coming in the second half. Robinson is currently the fifth leading scorer in the nation.

THE FOLLOWING NIGHT, the Devils entertained the Lobos of New Mexico. The result was a convincing 76-62 victory for ASU.

The Devils also pulled into an early lead in this contest, and had little trouble holding a safe margin.

After the early minutes of the game, the closest the Lobos came to the Devils was eight points midway in the second half.

The Sun Devils were again led by Becker and Caldwell, who scored 19 and 20 points respectively. Tony Cerkvnik chimed in with 12. Caldwell led ASU rebounders with 13.

Ira (Large) Harge and Claude Williams led the Lobos with 22 points apiece. Harge led all rebounders with 15 grabs.

MONDAY NIGHT the Sun Devils ran into the visiting Creighton (Neb.) University Bluejays, led by their All American candidate, 6-7 center Paul Silas.

ASU lost the services of center Art Becker after about eight minutes of play, and had to struggle to hold off the Bluejays, winning 73-70.

The Devils also lost Joe Caldwell via the foul route with 6:22 remaining.

The score was tied as late as 3:59, when Gary Senitza hit a jump shot from the side and gave the Devils a lead which they didn't relinquish.

Senitza, Dennis Dairman, and Cerkvnik led the Devils, scoring all but three of ASU's second half points.

Dairman led the scoring parade with 24 points. Senitza scored 15, Joe Caldwell 14 and Cerkvnik had 12. "Cerk" led ASU rebounders with 14, while Caldwell pulled down 10.

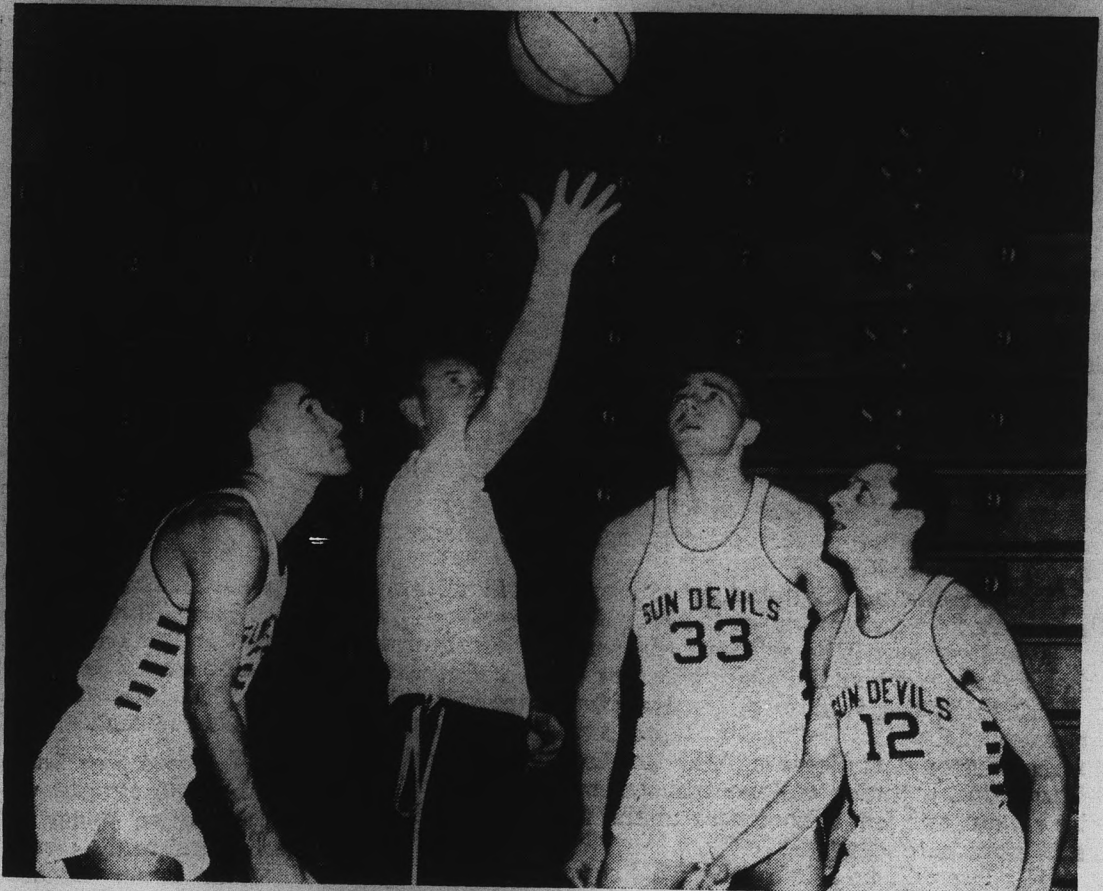

Silas led the Jays with 25 points and 24 rebounds, besides playing a good game on defense.

The victory ran the Devils' season mark to 23-2, and wrapped up another undefeated home season for the team.

ASU NOW HAS WON 47 STRAIGHT IN SUN DEVIL GYMNASIUM.

The Sun Devils wrap up their regular season March 4 playing the UofA in Tucson.

They then travel to Eugene, Ore., for a playoff with Utah State University to see which team goes to the Western NCAA regionals, played in Provo, Utah.

Reigning as the champions of the Western Athletic Conference, ASU will travel to Eugene Ore., March 11 to decide who will go to the Western Regionals in Provo, Utah.

Four teams will meet at Eugene, the Devils playing Utah State, while Oregon State goes against Seattle.

THE TWO WINNERS will then venture to Provo for the next plateau, the Western Regional tournament on the 15th and 16th.

The winner of this tourney will go to Louisville as the West's representative for the NCAA Championships.

The Devils will be without the services of reserve Alan Schmelz when the playoffs start on the ninth.

SCHMELZ, a junior college transfer, attended only one year at Cerritos College in California; and, according to the National Collegiate Athletic Association's eligibility rules, a junior college transfer must graduate or else sit out one full school year at the four year college he is now attending.

His loss will be felt by the ASU squad. Schmelz has come off the bench on several occasions to get a couple of quick baskets for the Devils.

ON ONE OCCASION he hit eight of ten floor shots for 16 points.

THE DEVIL GYMNASTICS team goes on the road this weekend for two matches.

Thursday they head for Provo to battle with Brigham Young University.

For their next match, they skip over to Golden, Colo., for a double-dual meet with Colorado State College and New Mexico University.

ALTHOUGH HE HIT a "cold streak" last weekend, Wyoming ace Flynn Robinson actually increased his lead in the WAC individual basketball scoring race.

The Cowboy sophomore scored only 48 points while visiting the state of Arizona. He now has 200 points in eight games for a 25.1 scoring average.

Becker and Tony Cerkvenik are one-two in the WAC field goal percentage department. Becker has a .568 percentage while the "Horse" rests at .511.

Wrestlers Drop Axers

ASU's wrestling team defeated Arizona State College, 17-13, in a dual meet and finished second in the State College Wrestling Tournament in weekend action.

Coach Ted Bredehoff's grapplers beat the Axers at Flagstaff Friday on the strength of wins in the lighter weights.

JOHN HAGAN earned the only ASU pin, downing Cal Leuter in 4:32.

ASU's Manuel Aragon won at the 123 division, Hagan at 130, Pete Russo at 137, Dave Greer at 147 and John Davis at 157. The Sun Devils lost the four heavier classes to ASC.

Russo decisioned Sam Lafon, 9-6, for his 11th straight victory of the season Friday but his streak ended in the tournament finals. Russo extended Phoenix College's Dick Garcia into overtime but lost 9-2.

PHOENIX COLLEGE defended its title, earning 66 points to ASU's 60. New Mexico followed with 59, Arizona 45 and ASC 31. PC won the tourney in its initial run last year.

Greer took the 137-pound state title with a 3-1 decision over Bill McCormick of UNM. Aragon, Russo, Bill Watt and Rick Jackson all took runner-up honors in their weight classes Saturday.

ASU meets Arizona Friday in a dual wrestling meet at Tucson. Arizona will be out to revenge an earlier 39-2 loss.

Footballers Please Coach

By ALAN MICHAELS

The pace is beginning to quicken in spring football drills at ASU, and head coach Frank Kush is well pleased with the progress.

"We've been primarily concerned with fundamentals up to now," Kush said, "and the results have been highly satisfactory. The athletes have shown good spirit and are working hard."

Singled out for special praise by Kush were, by position:

ENDS: "Herman Harrison and Alonzo Hill have added weight and are looking better than ever. Jerry Smith (transfer from Eastern Arizona Junior College) has great pass catching ability and sophomore Brian Tyler, transfer Joe McDonald and John Klepacki have all shown well."

TACKLES: "There are no standouts thus far among the returnees, but I'm particularly impressed with junior college transfer Frank Mitacek. He has a lot of know how."

GUARDS: "He's my little brother, but it's a fact Joe Kush is the best blocker we have among the guards."

QUARTERBACKS: "John Jacobs is still king, but soph Chuck Kolb and transfer John Torok have shown talent."

HALFBACKS AND FULLBACKS: "When you have the likes of Larry Todd, Tony Lorrick, Charley Taylor, Gene Foster, Ray Young and Mitch Siskowski, you spend more time worrying about the interior line."

Nineteen lettermen have returned from last year's 7-2-1 squad. In addition, Bill Daniels, 6-6, 215-pound end, and Willie Rogers, a 5-10, 175-pound halfback, have returned to school after an absence.

The Sun Devils will conclude spring practice the night of March 16 with the staging of the annual intrasquad game.

BB Frosh Take Two

Over the weekend, Coach Bill Mann's frosh basketball squad, handed defeats to the Arizona Hawks, 102-87, and Central Insurance, 92-85.

What the Imps are lacking in height they make up in hustle and desire.

The Imps have only two inside men to go with the six little guards, but the little men have out rebounded opponents and are scoring well on the fast break and from the outside.
