Approximately 2,659 students cast ballots in Wednesday's primary election to place Daryl Winn and Doug Zimmerman in the top contending position in the general elections April 10.

Daryl Winn polled 1,137 votes and Doug Zimmerman followed at 911, edging losing candidates Nick Hagen with 556 votes and John Power with 46 votes.

Perry Gooch with 1,355 votes, was elected over the only other contender, Dick Panzica with 1,127 votes, for the office of activities vice president.

The office of ASASU secretary will be filled by Marilyn Vihel who polled 1,471 votes as opposed to Sarah Frost's 1,003 votes.

GENERAL election candidates Paula Eisenman, 492 votes, and Martha Dillner, 289 votes, were selected over their primary opponent Vergie Behrens, 277, for Associated Women Students presidency.

Beth Mitchell polled 606 votes over Lynn Winson's 430 to capture the office of Associated Women Students vice presidential office.

lead with 389 votes over Charlotte Land's 310 votes, pushed out Jimmie R. Sloan with 301 votes for the office of AWS secretary.

MARTY Stellhorn led the race for AWS treasurer with 455 votes over her general election contender Jill Johnson, 299 votes. Mary Burns fell short with 247 votes.

General election opponents for the presidential seat of Associated Men Students are Joe Sparks, 480 votes, and Karl Wochner, 401. Missing the chance for the general elections are Joe Heath, 276, and Jose Carpio, 192.

Dick Shankland with 384 votes and Alan Bunch with 331 will vie for the office of AMS vice president, thus retiring candidates Bob Page, 304 and Donald Werner, 292.

ROBERT Geer's 765 votes carried the needed majority to elect him as AMS secretary over Dennis Turnage, 537.

Elected on the first ballot is Bill Walker with 663 votes over Gary Rasmussen, 631 votes, for AMS treasurer's office.

Fred Reish, 581 votes, and John Reiser, 483 votes, were elected sophomore class senators.

edging out Melvin Miller, 103 votes.

MIKE Bowlin, 317 votes, and Jim Greener with 224 votes were elected as business administration senators.

The only senatorial candidates still to be contested are Nancy Tenney, 215; Paula Christolm, 214; Sue Hinkle, 162, and Jack Foreman, 150 votes from the Education College. Losing opponents are Ken Duvall, 134 votes, and Mary Holmgren, 89 votes.

Steve Rummel, 374 votes, and Robert Montano with 262 votes were elected as liberal arts senators over Roger von Holtz, 247, and Charles Stough, 161.

OFF-CAMPUS men's senators are Dave McKee with 291 votes and Rick Clelland with 205 votes, edging out James Stern with 179 votes.

Betty Burton, 212 votes, and Joan Yenerick, 11 votes, are the new women's off-campus senators.

Election Bulletin

Improper marking of the IBM ballots in Wednesday's primary election created unnecessary delay in the tabulation of the votes according to Jack Johnson, election board chairman.

All ballots must be marked by completely filling in the bubble adjacent to the candidate's name with the provided IBM pencil.

In the general election, any ballots not marked in this manner will be thrown out.

Party And Carnival To March Through 'Sands Of Time'

By BILL QUAYLE and JON MORRIS

A trip through time awaits all those who attend tomorrow night the seventh annual MU Birthday Party.

With "Sands of Time" as its theme, the party promises to be entertaining, fun and worthwhile.

Upon entering into the MU a person will be greeted by grape eaters, Roman dancers and the Roman Senate.

In the Roman banquet cafeteria, one can lie back, drink "wine" and view Olympic wrestling by ASU's wrestling squad.

LEAVING the Roman period and taking a short journey to the basement of the MU, a person enters a dense, tangled jungle with overtones of jungle noises and mist. Sounds of the "Rockettes," ASU's pom pom girls, will be heard echoing from a hidden town called "Flatstone City."

A walk on one of the very famous streets in Rome leads to the Renaissance period.

The Renaissance room will be decorated in original furniture donated by the Phoenix Art Museum. Louis Ruskin's collection of authentic Renaissance paintings will be one of the main attractions of the room. The most renowned of these paintings is "Simonette de Medici," by Alessandro.

THE MU lawn will convey a medieval theme. The patio will be converted into a nobleman's courtyard. A stage will feature several plays, a fencing exhibition and medieval music will be heard.

The Devils Den will be turned into Boar's Head Inn where wandering Troubadours and Minstrels will play music.

The upstairs of the MU changes from medieval to modern. The upper lounge will have on display the finest meteorite collection in the world.

THE STAR attraction in the Coconut Grove ballroom will be Chuck Dodds, who is hailed by critics as certain to achieve stardom. Dodds' singing will alternate with the Bob Roth Orchestra, which will play dance music.

Susan Stahlberg, a popular local blues personality, and the Coconut Grove Show Girls, ASU's pom pom girls, will also provide singing and dancing entertainment.

The last stop through time is the Greenwich Village banquet room.

THE MAIN "hang out" is the "Cafe Wha." Here one can sit back and sip coffee and listen to folk singing, piano playing and poetry reading.

Theta Delta Chi will auction off a group of pledges, dinners with sororities and — a special German dinner served by Dean Weldon P. Shofstall and his wife in one of the events of the Blue Key Carnival Saturday.

The carnival will run from 6 p.m. to midnight on the East (Continued on Page 2)

WAC Champions To Be Honored

Arizona State's nationally third-ranked basketball team will be honored at the annual basketball banquet at 6:30 p.m. Monday in the MU ballroom.

Reserved tickets are available to the public for $3 at Ext. 569 or at the door.

Bob Vache, KTAR radio-television broadcaster for all ASU games, will be master of ceremonies.

Western Athletic Conference Commissioner Paul Brechler and ASU coaches Ned Wulk and Billy Mann will speak and present trophies.

Trophies to be presented include those for Most Valuable Player, "E," Most Improved Player and Honorary Captain of the team.

Seniors Tony Cerkvenik, Bobby Howard, and Raul Disarufino will receive their final ASU basketball honors at the banquet.

French Writer To Visit Campus

Pierre Boulez, French composer, will discuss the relationship of modern poetry to modern music Sunday at 8:15 p.m. in the MU ballroom, according to David B. Scoular, chairman of the Concert and Lecture series.

The Boulez lecture was scheduled as a supplement to the Concert and Lecture series because of the cancellation of Dr. Jucelino Kubitschek's talk on April 1.

Boulez is presently a visiting lecturer at Harvard, where he occupies the Charles Eliot Norton chair of poetry.

He studied at the Paris Conservatory and at the age of 22 was made the musical director of a touring theater company. Theater owners Jean-Louis Barraault and Madeline Renaud made it possible for Boulez to organize a series of concerts that have become famous as the "Domaine Musicale."

Many of Boulez's major musical works are based on the poems of Rene Char. Best known of these are "Le Marteau Sans Maitre," "Le Visage Nuptial" and "Le Soleil des Eaux."

The lecture is free and open to the public.

MU Birthday: Big--Elections: Bad

By MARY GORMAN
Tomorrow night marks one of the biggest school events offered to the ASU student body, the Memorial Union Birthday Party.

ago what was the sense of spending so much money for one night of entertainment. WELL, WHERE else could so little money be spent to entertain so many people? Hundreds of students work together every year to make the party a success and thousands attend the annual event.

event on campus" by many school leaders because of the school participation involved. IT'S TAKEN a lot of cooperation from the students and staff to make the party "go over." This year's can and will be just as successful as other years' have been if everyone comes over to the Union tonight to work on the party.

Street System Study Set

Students commuting to and from the campus will be glad to hear that something is finally going to be done about the transportation problem.

The old City Recreation Center building on the corner of College Avenue and Seventh Street is now the home of the bureau of transportation study. The official name of the organization is "The Cities of Mesa, Tempe, Scottsdale and Maricopa County Area Transportation Study."

OUR NEW campus neighbors have rented the building from the City of Tempe and plan to spend the next year-and-a-half conducting field studies toward the eventual formation of a major street system plan for the area.

The work of the bureau of transportation study will have three phases.

A street system study, designed to measure supply and use of streets, will pinpoint which streets are deficient and which are excessive.

A land-use study will determine which streets carry the most traffic. This is necessary because of the traffic caused by special events and popular activities.

INTERVIEWS will register the more personal aspects of the road problems.

The agency staff expects many ASU students to be among those interviewed. Some will be questioned in door-to-door interviews at their homes and on the campus.

QUESTIONS asked will involve trip purpose, destination and route. Some people will be asked to make a list of facts about their travels on a given day.

It will take a while for the results of the study to become evident. In the meantime, it is good to know something is being done. If you are one of those interviewed, you will be informed and able to answer intelligently.

Letters To The Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

This letter is being written to state my disapproval of the criticism written about the "Concert of Soloists" performance which appeared in the March 27, 1963 issue of the State Press.

I notice that the Press does not employ a mathematician to write book reviews and literary essays, why then does the Press employ a "lay" critic to 'criticize' a musical event?

I am well aware that anyone may enjoy music, but I do not think that anyone with a super hi fi or a Vox album of the life of Wagner should be considered informed enough to write a formal criticism of a musical event—and what is worse, present it to the public as a competent criticism.

Jill Pisani

TO THE EDITOR:

Somebody with a little sense should mention to certain members of the administration that disgruntled students "who don't like it" and leave may well have some talent and could possibly benefit ASU somehow. After all, more grads mean more alumni. And anybody in the cashier's office will tell you what alums are for.

Charles Stough

TO THE EDITOR:

If you had the pleasure of sauntering through the SS building during the first week of April, you were, I hope, as pleased as I to hear the invigorating music being played to advertise Foreign Language Week. It produced an exuberance in people who previously had appeared lifeless and taciturn. I think it would be a splendid idea if the sound of music were to continue to be heard between classes throughout the semester.

There is something about a lively tune that alleviates some of the detrimental afterthoughts of a poorly-done exam or the consternation provoked by the dogmatic "like it or leave" attitude of our religious catalog. It may even provide a release for the malicious nut(s) who drowned the Greek activities of last Saturday.

If it accomplishes none of these objectives, it will at least brighten up an otherwise drab, grey concrete environment. But, of course, if I don't like it I can always leave. — Nasty, nasty.

John F. Marchok

Come on, students, it's your student union and your Birthday Party.

THIS YEAR was a losing one for the Elections Board as usual.

The Board has nothing, absolutely nothing, to do all year but plan for the ASASU elections and for Homecoming elections.

So what do they do, they blow their big chance of the year and mess up the elections.

Yesterday, when students went to the voting places to "X" the spot, they were not given specific directions to vote.

SOME VAGUE information was passed out that meant nothing to the voters and so naturally voters stood around in groups in the voting places talking about the way to vote, who to vote for and anything else that popped into their minds.

According to the election rules, or whatever they are called, there is to be no campaigning within the voting places and no discussing the candidates, etc.

WHERE WAS the Election Board when this was happening?

Also, it seems that a way could be figured out to get the votes tallied faster than they were Wednesday night. — Like telling the voters to use IBM pencils on IBM cards.

MACHINES can fail and have before, but it seems like here they fail every year.

This year it wasn't only the machines that failed, it was the Election Board. Better luck next time. You obviously need it.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

IT'S MY REQUIRED TEXTS FOR 'RE.' — NO READING — WE JUST HAVE TO CARRY 'EM AROUND.

Are You Hero Or Villain?

"Three things come back not: The spoken word, The sped arrow And the neglected opportunity."

Unfortunately we can never revive a neglected opportunity.

Yet, to be sure, every one of us bypasses numerous opportunities every day.

For example, every time students cut classes, submit a borrowed term paper or shove their books under the bed, they shun opportunities that never again will be.

Undoubtedly, America is the land of opportunity.

Unlike the European universities which are comparatively open to a very small group, every one is free here in America to pursue a college education.

So every year more and more people go to college. However, a comparatively small percent of college students receive degrees.

Why?

To be sure, many students neglect opportunities. Certainly there are numerous reasons for not receiving a college degree but not all could be the result of "tough luck."

We are our own villains and our own heroes too!

Money Available To War Orphans

There may be students at ASU who are blithely unaware that they are eligible for educational benefits up to 36 months of schooling with an allowance up to $110 a month.

Impossible? The answer is "no," according to Mrs. Marty Harrison, ASU Veterans advisor.

THE WAR Orphans Education Public Law 634 has been in operation only six years. It is possible that not everyone knows of the program, or of the efforts of the Veterans Administration to contact the surviving parent.

Mrs. Harrison reports that there are 97 students training under the War Orphans program at ASU. Forty students are enrolled in liberal arts, 22 in business administration, 25 in education and 10 in applied arts.

The program is for the sons and daughters of veterans whose death resulted from disabilities or illness incurred in active duty.

THOSE eligible remain "children" as far as this program is concerned even if they marry.

They are considered "orphans" even if one parent is still living or if the remarriage of the surviving parent results in their legal adoption.

TO BE eligible, students must be between 18 and 23 years of age and in most cases training must be completed before they are 23.

We suggest that if there are students who are doubtful of their eligibility status they should contact Mrs. Harrison in the administration building. She will be happy to direct them to the nearest Veterans Administration regional office where applications are accepted and approved for enrollment.

Dedicators Praise New Greek Row

President G. Homer Durham described the fraternity group housing unit on Alpha Drive as "a most handsome physical feature of the University campus" during Sunday afternoon's dedication.

The ten houses, located near the corner of Eighth Street and Scottsdale Road, provide accommodations for 546 men.

Dr. Durham's speech said the structures "afford a significant opportunity to each of the ten fraternities, not only to demonstrate their financial and managerial skills, but also to demonstrate the cultural and educational advantages of group life under the American college fraternity system."

The presidential message which was read by Dr. William J. Burke, ASU executive vice-president, also expressed confidence that "the spirit of free competitive enterprise among these ten organizations will express itself in such a way that the Alpha Drive area will always stand out in the experience of students, visitors to the campus and all others concerned — that here, indeed, is an expression of the highest standards of citizenship, leadership and responsibility."

Dr. Durham, who was unable to participate in the dedication is in Washington, D.C., attending a meeting of the Commission on Goals and Objectives of American Higher Education.

School Aid Action Hopes Are Killed

By TOM WING

Any hope for passage in the near future of a capital outlay bill for land acquisition and construction at ASU, UofA, ASC and other state institutions was killed yesterday.

Governor Paul Fannin destroyed the hope when he limited the business session of the legislature. The governor called the special session yesterday to consider a proposed compromise on the Salt River Project tax problems.

The action tied up pending ASU funds for a new library, parking facilities, street repairs and recreational areas. Another special session of the legislature or its next regular session in January, 1964, will be necessary to make the funds available.

The proposed $19.1 million capital outlay bill was in a Senate-House deadlock when the legislature adjourned its regular session Tuesday, after more than two weeks of payless overtime sessions.

The two houses were unable to agree on cuts made in the original proposal. The Senate made the first reduction in the bill, about $5 million, and the House later cut the appropriation several million more.

Gilbert Cady, ASU vice president for business affairs, yesterday expressed "hope" that Governor Fannin would consider calling another special session to settle the capital outlay bill.

Music Students Note Conference

ASU will be represented by ten music students at the western division conference of the Music Educators National Conference, Bakersfield, Calif., April 7 through 10.

The students are in a woodwind, piano and percussion ensemble. Members are Fred Capps, Jerry Brown, Barre Griffith, Henry Spencer, Richmond Johnson, Howard Pink, Jeff Morse, Charles Oehlerking, Charles Steele and Clydene Dechert.

Greek To Me Greeks Prepare For Last Stretch

By ROSS FISH

Color Wednesday bright red.

The closing of the general election polls on that day marks the end of the most activity-packed period on campus in a long time.

THE IFC Sing, the progressive parties, the Parade of Chariots, the Grecian Ball and the Greek Games are only memories to the large crowds attending every event.

Sweepstakes singers of Chi Omega shared the big Greek Week trophy honors with Kappa Kappa Gamma and Delta Sigma Phi who won Greek Games.

There's no time for rest this weekend because of the MU Birthday Party and Blue Key Carnival.

BUT IT all ends Wednesday with the general election. A fine list of Greeks edged out opponents in nearly every primary race last Wednesday.

A maze of spring formals, scattered throughout the next six weeks, will complete the Greek social season.

ASU's chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta will host delegates from California and Arizona this weekend at its first district convention in Arizona in 23 years.

Legs are shaping up for the Gamma Phi Beta-Delta Sigma Phi chorus lines for the April 26-27 "Follies Go to Vegas." Tom Burns and Lynnda Cook are directing the show which will feature the ASU Coloring Book and Playboy bunnies at Scottsdale High School auditorium.

Pep Boosters Schedule Cheerleader Auditions

Tryouts for ASU cheerleaders will be April 30 at 3:30 p.m. in the men's gym, according to head cheerleader Mike Schwartz.

Cheerleader applicants must have attended ASU for one semester, have a 2.0 grade average for the semester prior to application and be registered for a minimum of 12 hours.

Applications will be available at the MU information desk beginning Monday and must be returned by 4 p.m., April 24.

Cheerleaders will teach traditional ASU yells April 25-29 on the lawn adjacent to Sun Devil gym.

Each applicant will be expected to give one traditional and one original yell during the tryouts.

Trumpet Recital Set For Junior

A trumpet recital will be given by Willard Schisler, junior music major, Sunday at 3 p.m. in Cosner auditorium.

Schisler is a trumpet student studying under Harold Hines,

ASU director. He will play "Concerto for Trumpet" by Haydn, "Fantaisie" by Thome and "Scherzo" by Busser and will be assisted by his wife Barbara.

Devils Disciples Group To Portray ASU Mascot

Devils Disciples, a club to "promote school spirit and enforce its traditions," is being organized by sophomore, junior and senior men.

Approximately 50 participants will cooperate with the Rally and Traditions Board in initiating the project next fall.

"Disciples" plan to assume responsibility for the Sun Devil mascot with one of the members portraying the Devil at each home football game.

Tentative goals of the group are roping off a special section for members at sports functions, purchasing special sweat-shirts and getting traveling money to attend athletic events away from ASU.

"Disciples" members must be in good standing with the University. Interested students may sign the list posted in MU 202. Jeff Louis, chairman of the R and T Board can be contacted at Sahuaro Hall for further information.

Devil Nine To Play Wildcats

By JOHN NADEL

The ASU baseball team journeys to Tucson for contests with rival University of Arizona today and tomorrow.

Team Captain Gary Graham (3-0), fully recovered from an early season throat infection, will open the three-game series at Hi Corbett Field tonight at 7:30.

Scheduled to hurl in tomorrow night's day-night double-header are right-handers Sam Cook (4-0) and Sterling Slaughter (5-1).

SLAUGHTER, who will start the night contest, has fanned 72 batters in 40 1/3 innings.

The ASU team strikeout record is 74, and Slaughter could eclipse it this weekend.

The Sun Devils will be without the services of left fielder Bob Kavagian who suffered a slipped disk in his back recently, and won't make the trip.

He had been hitting at a .327 clip, and leads the team in RBI's with 17.

CENTERFIELDER Merrill Hyde is the leading Sun Devil hitter, with a .353 mark.

He had a personal eight-game hitting streak broken Tuesday

Cinder Crew Vies At Cal

Winner of its last two dual meets, ASU's track and field team travels to Berkeley tomorrow for a triangular contest with the University of California and San Jose State.

The Sun Devils' Ullis Williams will be hard pressed to keep his unbeaten string intact when he faces Cal's Dave Archibald (46.3) and the Spartans' Dwight Middleton (47.6) in the 440.

WILLIAMS' best clocking this season is 46.4.

A-State's mile relay quartet of Mike Barrick, Henry Carr, Ron Freeman and Williams will seek its 29th consecutive win.

The relay team established the national collegiate record at Santa Barbara last Saturday with a 3:06.3 performance.

ALONG WITH Archibald, the Golden Bears boast Roger Olsen, the defending NCAA high jump champion. Olsen (6-10) will be facing ASU's Joe Caldwell (6-8).

San Jose will be favored in all distance events.

The Spartans have entered Ben Tucker (1:47.8) and Mike Gibeau (1:50.1) in the 880, Ron Davis (4:09.7) and Tucker (4:03.6) in the mile and Davis (9:08.9) in the two-mile.

SUN DEVIL Coach Baldy Castillo said that the team with the most depth will win. "Unfortunately, I don't believe that's us," he added.

in the Devil victory over Sul Ross.

Clutch pitching by Sterling Slaughter and timely hitting by John Ruedy led the Devils to a narrow 1-0 victory over Sul Ross.

Golfers To Host Match

Sun Devil golf fans will get a chance to see their team in action this Saturday when the ASU team plays host to Los Angeles State College and the University of Arizona in a triangular meet.

The team will be hampered somewhat by the absence of its number one player, Ted Lyford, a junior from Whittier, Calif., who will be participating in the Southwestern Amateur Tournament in Phoenix.

Mike Farrell, Dud Merkel, Jim Gafke, Mike Katres, Kim Von Temsky and Allen McCarty will vie for the Devils.

Off The Cuff

JOE HEATH
Sports Editor

Six of the 10 official championships have been decided in the Western Athletic Conference and Brigham Young leads in the over-all sports championship race.

With the exception of swimming, in which they did not field a team, BYU has failed to finish any lower than third in WAC competition.

The point system is based on six points for a first place finish, five for second, etc.

THE COUGARS have polled 24 points with New Mexico accounting for 22.

Arizona has 21 1/2, Wyoming, 17 1/2 and Utah and the Sun Devils each with 17.

However, ASU was not eligible for WAC football competition and did not compete in the Conference swimming meet.

The Devils took six points in basketball, five in gymnastics, and three each in cross-country and wrestling.

TRACK AND FIELD in the WAC has come up with some real winning winners so far this season.

In the dashes, Daily Oliver, Utah, has a 9.4 clocking, Henry Carr's 20.3 in the 220 is tops, and Ullis Williams has a 46.4 in the 440.

Jack Hudson, Arizona, has the best in the 880 (1:50.0) and the mile (4:07.3). The top two-miler is Ray Barrus, BYU, with a 9:24.6.

The Sun Devils have the top relay time, 41.0 in the 440, and 3:06.3 in the mile.

JUST A REMINDER of the basketball banquet to be on Monday.

Reservations may be made by calling Frank Rispoli, ASU assistant athletic director, ext. 569.

Cost is $3 per person.
