

Mortar Board Taps 18 Coeds

Eighteen coeds were tapped for membership Wednesday evening in Mortar Board, national senior women's honorary.

The ASU senior women's honorary, formerly known as Pleiades, became the 108th chapter in the national society of Mortar Board in March when chapter members were tapped.

Membership in Mortar Board is known to be one of the highest honors a college woman can attain.

New members tapped yesterday evening include Mary Avery, Susan Chemnick, Anna Sue Crush, Sharon House, Karen Maglich and Mary Ellen Ross.

Also Margaret Dahl, Susan Rawson, Sarah Frost, Pauline Leung, Patricia Brinias and Susan Collins were tapped.

Others are Linda Fallgren, Judith Hamer, Patricia Rovey, Barbara Sprinkle, Martha Dillner and Paula Eiseman.

Initiation ceremonies for the pledges will be tomorrow at 10 a.m. in the home economics building.

A luncheon at the Paradise Valley Country Club will follow the initiation ceremonies.

The three ideals of Mortar Board are discriminating service, responsible leadership and the application of scholarly principles to personal and general problems.

Advisement Announcement

Indians To Feature Dances And Rituals

By SANDY PFAFF

The ASU Indian Club will perform in its second annual Dawa-Chindi Indian ceremonials Saturday night at 8 in the men's gym.

The program will feature 10 colorful Indian dance teams doing traditional dances and rituals in a two-hour show.

DANCE TEAMS participating in this year's ceremony will include Navajo, Hopi, Apache, Pima, Mohave, Salt River and Plains Indians.

Some of the dances scheduled for the evening are the Hopi Buffalo dance, the Navajo corn grinding ceremony, the Plains shield dance, the Hoop dance, the Navajo "yei be chai" healing ceremony, an Apache war dance and a Plains snake dance.

THE DAWA-Chindi Club has 95 members composed of ASU students from 32 tribes. Joy Sells, the club president, says, "We feel our ceremonials will be bigger this year and it offers a nice evening of entertainment for the entire family as well as a good educational experience for children. We also feel the club is making a contribution to better understanding of cultures between the Indian and non-Indian."

Currently the ceremonies are the largest of their kind being presented to Valley residents and visitors.

The event raises scholarship funds for Indian students attending ASU. Donations are $1.50 for adults and $1 for children.

ASU Professor Found Dead

The body of Dr. William H. R. Shaw, 38, professor of chemistry, was discovered in his office in the Physical Sciences building Wednesday at approximately 12:05 p.m. by Dr. Tom Thompson, also of the chemistry department.

Dr. Shaw had been dead for approximately two hours, according to Security Department officials who are investigating.

Ex-officio coroner and Tempe Justice of the Peace Ralph Fowler ordered the body sent to the Maricopa County medical examiner's office in Phoenix for an autopsy, officials added.

An inquest is pending the results of the report. A note was found at Dr. Shaw's office but the contents were not released, officials said.

Rifle Discharge Hits Sgt. Brown

T/Sgt. Fred Orville Brown, USAF, of the ROTC Department was taken to Williams Air Force Base for treatment of a wound he received during a regular ROTC rifle team practice Tuesday night in Goodwin Stadium, said Security department officials.

The accident occurred when AFROTC Cadet Vic Elsberry, in preparing his .22 caliber rifle for storage accidentally discharged a bullet which had not been ejected properly from the weapon, he said.

The bullet struck the floor of the armory causing a fragment to become lodged about 3 1/2 inches into Brown's face, near his throat, officials said.

"The fragment is expected to be swallowed by the Sergeant upon being worked loose from his soft palate by natural process according to a doctor at the Air Base," Elsberry said.

Claire Boothe Luce Reports About 'The Laws Of Drama'

By GEORGIA FOX

"History is drama, the story of many actors; a plot is the skeleton story of everything in history," according to Claire Boothe Luce, authoress, editor, former ambassador to Italy and playwright.

Mrs. Luce made this statement in her dramatic discussion of "The Laws of Drama."

MRS. LUCE through an analogy of the fight for life between the tarantula and the wasp in Walt Disney's "The Living Desert," on Tuesday evening, compared the protagonist and antagonist of everyday drama.

Mrs. Luce pointed out that drama is not just a stage action or quality of the theater. Drama exists in man, as well as in the lowest creature, the insect. She said the action of each is significant to history.

Everything that lives is endowed with instinct, inner-conflict and the ability to choose and act purposefully, according to Mrs. Luce.

ALL MEN have a choice to be or not to be," as Shakespeare's Hamlet. The choices and actions of the individual will determine the significance of his life and death, she continued.

Mrs. Luce also believes that death has meaning and purpose. In death, action does not cease, she noted, but continues its conflicts, tragedy, comedy and dialogue affecting others in the human drama.

IN CLOSING, Mrs. Luce referred to the Man who brings down the final curtain of life. She mentioned that individuals may call Him anything, but with herself, the final curtain is lowered by God. The climax is finished, but the action continues. "Drama of life is infinite," she added.

Mrs. Luce is currently working on a novel and an autobiography. Her husband, Henry Robinson Luce, is editor-in-chief of Time, Inc. Publications.

FOLLOWING the Evening Art program, Mrs. Luce was present at a reception in her honor.

President Durham Stresses Need For Capital Funds

By TOM WING

Dr. G. Homer Durham Wednesday stressed the critical need of a new $3,392,000 library and a $1,323,880 Physical Science Center wing in declaring that the Arizona Legislature's delay in the ASU land acquisition program "will cost the taxpayers millions."

Dr. Durham's prepared statement regarded the Board of Regent's request for an ASU capital budget of $5,049,630 and $1 million for land acquisition.

THE REQUEST was deadlocked in the regular 1963 legislature and was not included in the special session called by Governor Paul Fannin.

The statement took into consideration the anticipated 15-

500 student enrollment in September, 1963 and eventually (taking the proposed junior colleges into account) 27,500 students between 1970 and 1975.

Citing the library as "the most important structure and facility on any university campus," Dr. Durham stated that ASU "cannot adequately serve its present academic program until the new library is completed."

HE NOTED that Matthews Library now seats only 4.2 per cent of the enrollment as "compared to a national standard of 25 per cent."

Regarding the addition to the Physical Science Center, President Durham said, "Much of the future prosperity of Arizona depends on the capacity of its universities in the physical sciences and engineering.

"Some of our principal tax-paying interests are industries in this field. Their payrolls and future growth depend upon the universities capacity to produce qualified scientific manpower," Durham stated.

The number of ASU chemistry majors has increased more than 300 per cent, from 95 in 1957-58 to 290 last year, Dr. Durham pointed out.

THE VALUE of building and construction permits in Tempe and the campus area has exceeded all records for the past two years with Tempe becoming "the fastest growing area in the Valley in the past few months," Durham remarked.

ASU Foundation Member, Thorne Donnelley, 67, Dies

ASU Foundation member, Thorne Donnelley, 67, died Wednesday of a heart attack at his home in Scottsdale.

Dr. Durham, president of the University, expressed "great sorrow" over the death of Mr. Donnelley. He was "a close friend of the University," he said.

Mr. Donnelley has generously contributed both funds and equipment to the audio-visual center. He set up a $10,000 annual donation fund, plus photographic equipment such as cameras, projectors and a field truck for on-location scenes.

Robert Mayer, head of the audio-visual center, said, "Mr. Donnelley's vast background and experience in photography and interest in the instruction of photography on a university level, has contributed greatly in our growing courses in photography. His counsel and advice in photographic matters will be greatly missed."

Mr. Donnelley, once a football coach at Harvard University, retired from the board of directors of the R. H. Donnelley Publishing Company of Chicago. While in the Navy, he helped found the Navy Photographic Science Laboratory.

The YMCA in Southern Rhodesia was founded by Coles. He also served as warden of the Dunford College in Sussex, England, for four years.

New Honorary Members Lauded

By MARY GORMAN

Congratulations to all the ASU coeds who gained membership in the respective class honoraries this week.

A big hand should be given especially to those 18 women who were tapped for Mortar Board, national senior women's honorary.

THE GROUP officially became known as Mortar Board a month ago when charter members were tapped, under the direction of national officers and many former members who were also tapped.

Since the tapping of new members, there has been considerable discussion as to why "so and so didn't get into one of the various honoraries."

Well, women, remember, it is an honor to get into one of the groups, for sure, but it is no dishonor when one doesn't get tapped.

A little something to remember if you're going to appeal one of those traffic tickets which some of you have seen fairly regularly.

EVERYONE who appeals a ticket must post bond and then is allowed to fill out a form which can be picked up at the Cashier's Window in the Administration building.

The form lists instructions to fill out and to be sent to the Campus Security office.

Well, if you want your appeal to go through, send it directly to the Traffic Appeals Board, where it should go in the first place.

AFTER ALL, that's the purpose of the Board, isn't it? So let's send all our appeals to the Board directly, that way we'll get our appeal taken care of and the Board will be doing its duty.

Something a little different in the line of entertainment this weekend.

Dawa Chindi, the American Indian Club is putting on its annual show tomorrow night at 8 in the Sun Devil gym.

AN INDIAN "chief" as moderator, some beautiful costumes and a view of some "real American culture" are just a part of the show.

It should be good; let's see you there.

Looking for something else to do this weekend?

Well, the Gamma Phi-Delta Sig Follies should be very entertaining.

Titled "Follies Go to Vegas," the show features bunnies, acrobats, dancers and songs.

Bad news everyone. No more "Happy Hour" on Friday afternoon.

Paint Job

Old Main's Roof Green For A While

In case someone hasn't noticed, Old Main is getting a face lifting — or rather a roof cleaning.

It is costing $1,240 to clean and paint the roof. This was last done, as far as anyone can remember, back during the 1930's on the WPA program.

Built in 1894 Old Main cost $44,071.34 to complete. Since then $189,041.02 has been spent in remodeling, repairs and additions. This includes electric wiring of the entire building in 1912 and steam heating pipes and radiators in 1936.

What is the architectural style of Old Main? It's very hard to classify according to Associate Professor of Architecture Marcus Whiffen. He called it classic with touches of "Queen Anne," an architectural trend in America during the late 19th century. He added that in his estimation it is a very good building and valuable as an example of this style of architecture.

What is going to be done about the pigeons now that the roof is all clean?

Nothing. After all, what public building would be complete without its pigeons? Besides, according to authorities, it would be almost impossible to move the birds even if we wanted to.

Just for comparison, the Social Sciences building cost $1,004,251.12 to complete in 1960. The architectural services alone cost $57,600. That's $13,529 more than Old Main cost 66 years before. And, $31,528.51 has

Parking Free-Still No Cars

Since last week, University officials have bowed to the fact that our automobile driving population will not spend 25 cents to park in the Frank Lloyd Wright parking lot.

A week ago Monday, workmen replaced the 25 cent fee sign, locked up the elegant ticket booth and reassigned the watchman. Now the 300-space lot has been designated as a general parking lot. This means — parking is free.

Why it is still being shunned by our motorists is a mystery that might be referred to the psychology department. Perhaps it is merely the lack of publicity. At any rate, the sign means free parking and we hope the lot is soon filled to capacity.

We would like to point out that this new lot still has all the features that the University felt was worthy of a parking lot. We suggest that all users take care not to litter the area nor de-beautify the landscaping.

Letters To The Editor

Sincerely yours, Wilson Miller, '68

Editor's note: It was noted that Beta Alpha Psi is a national accounting fraternity. Now, accounting is a department of the College of Business Administration in practically all universities. Dr. Overman is dean of ASU's B.A. college. He would, therefore, be a participant in the installation of a national accounting fraternity. He introduced guests and initiates at the installation program.

TO THE EDITOR: All work and no play makes Ed a very dull boy. Who is Ed Gasser? I read his feature article in the April 19 issue of the State Press, entitled, FOR TEACHERS TOO — ACADEMIC EDUCATION. I happen to teach two of the three courses Mr. Gasser so irresponsibly selected from the ASU catalog to EVALUATE. I would like to suggest that Mr. Gasser inform himself on the "philosophies of play" he chose to ridicule. Here are a few suggestions. He might start with J. C. F. von Schiller, Herbert Spencer, Karl Groos, Sigmund Freud, Joseph Lee, William McDougall, G. Stanley Hall, Elmer Mitchell, Bernard Mason, William Kilpatrick, and John Dewey, just to mention a few. And if Mr. Gasser would like a few earlier references, he might consider Comenius, Froebel, Pestalozze and Rousseau. Has Mr. Gasser ever heard of these scholars?

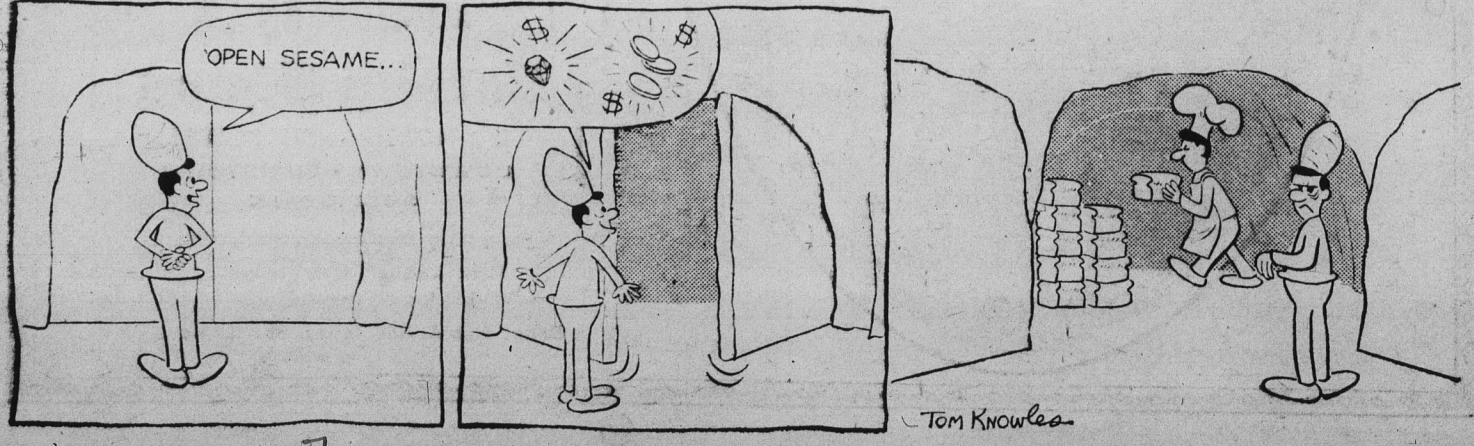

ACADEMIC EDUCATION, Mr. Gasser? EE544 will be offered during the first summer session. Consult the catalog for time and place.

Nell B. Byers Associate Professor of Education

TO THE EDITOR: A couple of my friends might want to come down to the campus for a little fun and excitement. Can you, your staff, or any of the readers give me an estimation as to the price for riding one of the two small roller-coasters up to the great merry-go-round (in order to ride there too — Glee!!) in ASU's miniature Coney Island south of the Education Building? Would appreciate speedy reply.

Roger A. Frantz P.S. May I be spared the wrath of architectural lighting?

The course is organized so that the current prerequisite listed can be waived to accommodate qualified students wishing to learn programming but not having a calcular course, it was said.

Sanitation Is Subject Of Course

ASU will be host to a comprehensive two and one-half day training course in the operation and maintenance of water and sewage systems and treatment plants on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The course will be aimed at operators, superintendents and municipal and private industry officials who are engaged or interested in operation and maintenance of water and sewage systems and treatment plants.

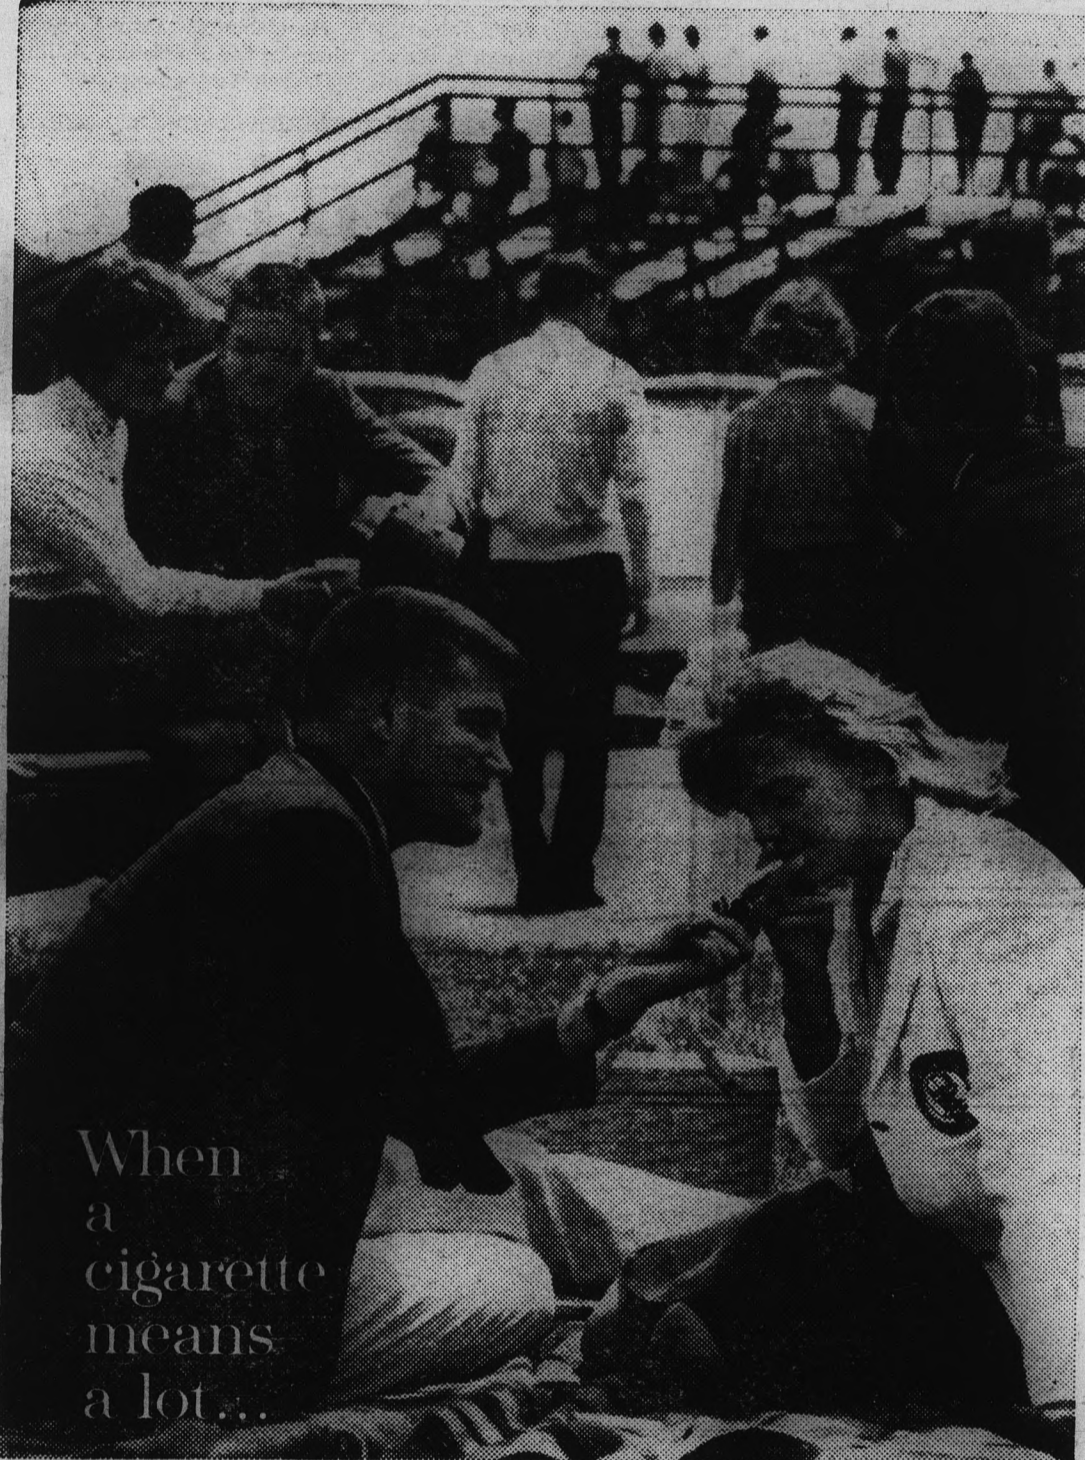

Peace Corps Test Given In Phoenix

A short experimental Peace Corps placement test will be given Saturday at 8:30 a.m. in the Phoenix Post Office.

Only new applicants for the 4,000 Peace Corps openings in 44 countries may take the test, which consists of half-hour sections on general aptitude and modern language.

Zero Coins Delays Closing Of Streets

Efforts to close the campus sections of College Avenue and Orange Street to traffic have been delayed again by a lack of funds needed to acquire the southwest corner of Eighth Street and College Avenue, according to Gilbert Cady, business vice president.

Purpose of closing College Avenue and Orange Street is to relieve the congestion in the mid-campus area and make the campus safer for pedestrians.

Plans indicate College Avenue eventually will be blocked off from Eighth Street to the Hayden Hall parking lot. Orange Street will be closed between Forest Avenue and Van Ness Street.

ASASU and the administration have been working together for approximately five years to obtain the street closure. Petitions have been sent to the City of Tempe on several occasions, said Dr. W. P. Shofstall, dean of students.

The Tempe City Council still will have to approve the plan after the corner is purchased by the University, Mr. Cady said.

Summer Course To Hear Erikson

Professor Jon Erikson will be a visiting lecturer in English at ASU during the first term of the summer session.

He will teach courses in history and structure of the English language.

Professor Erikson is a Ph.D. candidate at the University of Texas where he is described as the most outstanding student in his field for many years.

Professor Erikson has had intensive training in comparative Arabic linguistics, in Portuguese and in transformational grammar and structural linguistics.

He is also a specialist in Old English.

What souvenirs or treasures would you bring back from a five-week yacht tour of Central America, the West Indies and the Bahamas?

Would 500 assorted specimens of reptiles and amphibians interest you?

This is what Dr. Arthur E. Dammann, assistant professor of zoology and director of the Animal Resource Center, returned with after five weeks of coast-hopping in the 90-foot yacht previously owned by the late Robert E. Maytag.

DR. DAMMANN and five crewmen sailed from San Diego last August 10.

They stopped in Manzanillo and Acapulco, Mexico, then went to Costa Rica and Nicaragua collecting snakes, turtles, lizards, frogs and toads.

After several stops in Panama they passed through the canal and headed for the British West Indies and Nassau in the Bahamas.

Dr. Dammann returned Sept. 15 by airplane from Nassau after delivering the yacht to its new owner, the University of Miami.

The cruise wasn't a pleasure trip — specimen collecting is hard work. He spent many nights wading through soggy marshes or wet rain forests hunting reptiles. He caught three-foot boa constrictors in Costa Rica and alligator-like caimans in Panama.

LATE ONE NIGHT, Dr. Dammann was knee deep in a swamp on the outskirts of Manzanillo, Mexico. He turned over a water soaked log hoping to find a frog or toad. Instead he saw a zig-zag glow from the luminescent eyes of a large click beetle as it scurried for cover.

Then a sharp pain raced up his arm. He realized that he had put his hand on a large scorpion.

The natives expected Dr. Dammann to die from the sting before sunrise. Though it didn't make him sick, his entire arm was numb the rest of the trip.

THE CRUISE was jointly financed by ASU, the Arizona Zoological Society and Dr. Dammann. The AZS, which operates the Phoenix-Maytag Zoo, asked Dr. Dammann to purchase tropical finches and birds for the zoo's aviary.

Dr. Dammann collected the specimens for ASU's herpetology museum collection of nearly 6,000 representatives of every family of reptile and amphibian.

He also sent many live scorpions to the Poisonous Animals Research Laboratory.

8 Students Receive Disciplinary Action

The University Disciplinary committee took action regarding three ASU students and five former ASU students at a meeting April 16, according to Dr. W. P. Shofstall, dean of students.

One student was suspended for an indefinite period of time for violation of the University catalog ruling against "serious and repeated difficulties with law enforcement authorities."

Two students, who have been jailed under multiple charges including inter-state transportation of a stolen vehicle, grand larceny and attempted kidnapping, were suspended pending outcome of court action.

The disciplinary committee has a policy of taking no official action regarding people who are not presently enrolled at ASU, but places on the record of former students who are referred to it, "not allowed to enter without permission of the University Disciplinary Committee."

Three former students had the "not allowed to enter" placed on their records for refusal to meet financial obligations.

Ever See A Drunk Rat?

Mrs. Alyce Dengler, research assistant of ASU's Poisonous Animals Research Laboratory, discussed "The Effects of Alcoholic Beverages on the Toxicity of Rattlesnake Venom."

Mrs. Dengler force-fed white rats with vodka, brandy, tequila, scotch and plain ethyl alcohol in the experiments.

Venom was injected into the abdominal cavity area containing the organs and intestines.

Each liquor affected the venom action in different ways, but the presence of alcohol in the blood stream increased the potency of the rattlesnake venom and death rate of the rats, although large quantities of vodka produced the opposite effect and increased chances of survival.

Mrs. Dengler reported that this quality of vodka is attributed to certain unknown constituents of the liquor itself, since plain ethyl alcohol was harmful in every case.

The experiment disproves the old west remedy of getting drunk to survive snake bite.

In preparation for this assignment, Dr. Dudley obtained a full fellowship from the Faculty Institute on the Middle East at Williams College, Massachusetts last summer under the auspices of the American Association for Middle East Studies.

Two New Cars are Born

*Avanti-inspired...
Bonneville-tested!*

R2 SUPER LARK
R2 SUPER HAWK

We designed two new cars—and built a lot of our record-setting Avanti into them: supercharged R2 engines... heavy duty springs and shock absorbers, plus anti-sway bars, front and rear... trac rods, rear... racing type disc brakes, the safest known and ours alone.

We named them R2 Super Lark and R2 Super Hawk and had Andy Granatelli take them out to the infamous Bonneville Salt Flats for final performance and endurance tests.

We could scarcely believe the results, but the official U.S. Auto Club timers confirmed them: R2 Super Lark—132 mph! R2 Super Hawk—140 mph! Two-way averages—under the most punishing weather and surface conditions. That kind of performance, combined with their gentle 'round-town manners, told us these cars were ready. R2 Super Lark and R2 Super Hawk are now available on special order at your Studebaker dealer's.

Flash: front seat safety belts now come factory-installed on every car—another advance from Studebaker.

Q: Dear Answer Lady: My boyfriend rubs me the wrong way. Please help me!

A: Dear Irritated Frosh.

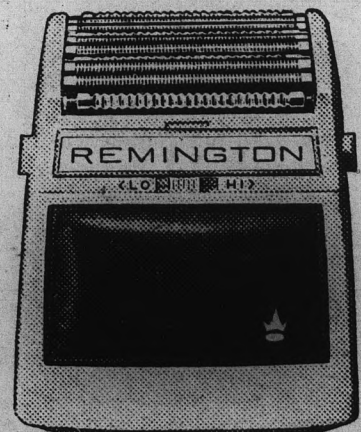

Yours may be an emotional problem. I don't think so.

I feel you're suffering from simple "Whisker Rub." Most girls have come up against this same trouble.

My advice: Go to the bookstore and buy him a REMINGTON® 25. (Use any excuse for the gift. A birthday, Groundhog Day or the eve of Bacon's Rebellion.) You'll be surprised how much closer you two will be. You see, Dear Irritated, the REMINGTON 25 is a powerful shaver. Powerful enough to shave closer... faster... smoother. Sports a man-size shaver head. It has roller combs, too. They roll skin down, comb whiskers up. Push them in the path of six rows of diamond-honed cutters. (And other jazz like that.)

You may wonder how the Answer Lady knows so much about shavers? Well, you see, my dear, I am really a man. I live on fraternity row. I use a REMINGTON shaver myself. Maybe you should give up this guy. I'll call you Saturday.

Greek To Me

Greek Column Continues To Uphold Greek Words

By ROSS FISH

To "A Concerned Student." Apologies are not my field. However, if they are in order, I deeply regret that any words of "Greek To Me" were found to be a "personal insult to all the fine hard working Independents who devote many long hours to student activities without any regard for receiving credit." (Letters To The Editor, last Wednesday.)

MY ONLY excuse for "handing out praise" to the Greeks in this column is that this is the only space set aside solely for Greek comments.

You see, one of the first lessons in journalism taught me to write for the audience.

It seems obvious to me that "Off The Cuff" written by the sports editor should carry news and perhaps even praise, of ASU's fine sportsmen.

If "Chapel Corner" didn't carry news about church activities, another name would be set in type for the column.

DOES IT SEEM so peculiar that a column labeled "Greek To Me," which has carried nothing but fraternity and sorority news all semester, should devote space to complimentary remarks for their extra-curricular work?

Believe me, no Greek is blind to the fact that Independents are active on campus, too.

Why don't more "concerned" students use their initiative to write something constructive which would commend those who have made this year's activities outstanding?

A LETTER signed "Names Withheld" last Wednesday did just this by pointing out that the Independents have been equally outstanding on campus this year as the Greeks.

The letter was constructive and clever.

There is no barrier on this campus between Greeks and Independents. — Let's not try to build one.

Graham Dorland, Sigma Chi, was named 1963 DG Man at Delta Gamma's annual Shipwreck Party at Paradise Inn last Saturday.

Phi Delta Theta crowned Louise Diercks, Kappa Kappa Gamma, as its Dream Girl at its spring dance in the ABC Club in Phoenix last Saturday. Dream Girl attendants were Rosemary McDowell, Sigma Sigma Sigma, and Kathy Bressler, Delta Delta Delta, transfer student from the University of Oregon.

This Saturday, Phi Delta Theta will escort children from Sunshine Acres to the zoo. After the tour, they will picnic and play games.

Slaughter Sets Pace

The All-American trend at ASU has turned to baseball with the Sun Devil candidate, Sterling Slaughter.

The 5-11, 160-pound Devil hurler leads the ASU diamond squad in wins with a 9-2 record.

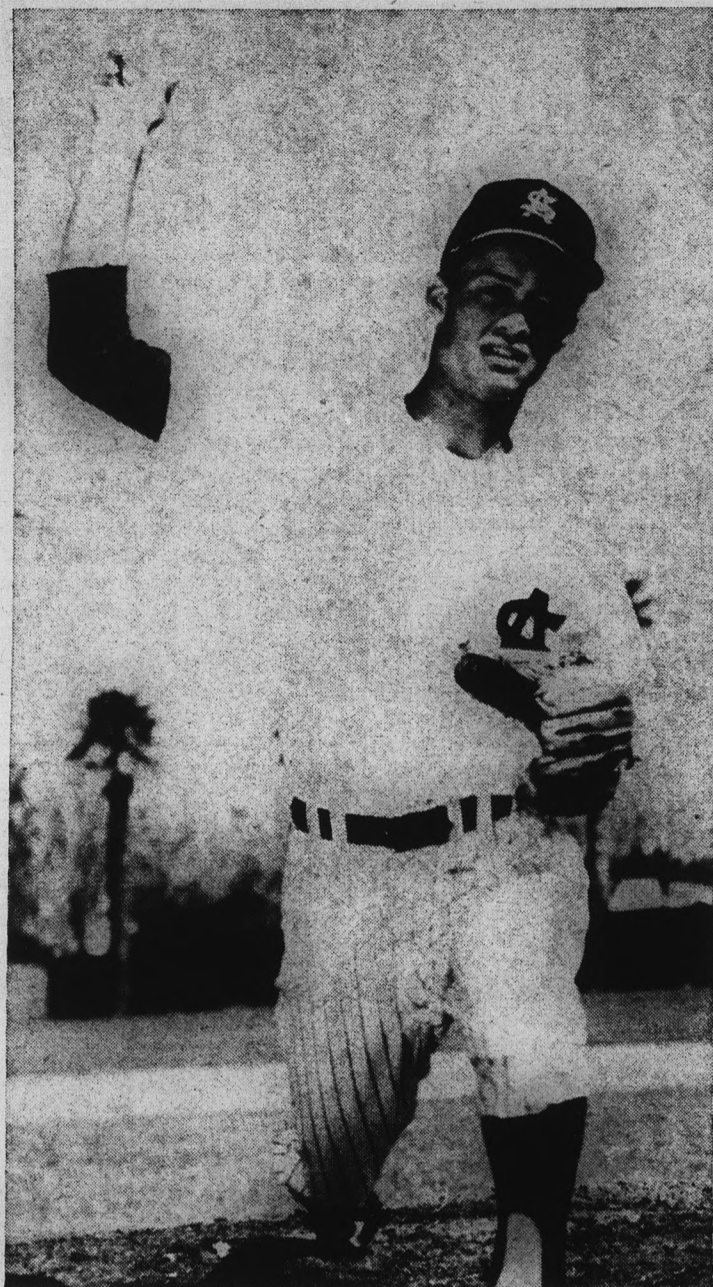

With good control over his hopping fast ball, a curve and a slider, he has allowed only 13 earned runs in his 83 innings of duty to give him a 1.40 earned run average.

Slaughter set a new single-game strikeout record for ASU against Colorado State when he fanned 22 batters. He has whiffed 10 or more batsmen in four separate occasions.

He has pitched 7 2/3 innings of relief on the season, striking out 15 of the 25 men he faced. He has fanned a total of 116 on the season.

The Devil ace has tossed two shutouts and a one hitter this year and has completed six of eight starts with four relief appearances.

When Slaughter graduated from high school, he turned down a $45,000 bonus to attend college.

Hazal, Cotter Aid Soccer Win

The ASU soccer team, led by the three-goal scoring performance of Mehmet Hazal, defeated the American Institute for Foreign Trade last Saturday, 5-3.

Support for Hazal was provided by Terry Cotter, who scored two goals for the Sun Devils.

Cotter also provided the corner kick assist for one of Hazal's goals.

The victory gave each team one victory in the two matches played and a final playoff is expected.

This Saturday the team will play the German student pilots in a match at 10:30 a.m. at Williams Air Force Base.

Admission is free.

Wednesday the team selected Steve Stogsavljevich and Pete Versteegen as team co-captains.

Team members are reminded to meet in front of the swimming pool this Saturday at 9 a.m.

Persons interested in more soccer details may call Mark Berent, the team coordinator, at 272-6162.

Mt. SAC To Host Relays

By ALAN MICHAELS

Arizona State's mile relay team of Mike Barrick, Henry Carr, Ron Freeman and Uli Williams spotlights tomorrow's Mt. San Antonio College Relays at Walnut, Calif.

The Devil foursome has a 3:05.9 clocking to its credit in 1963 and an all-time best of 3:05.8.

The world's record of 3:05.6 is held by the 1960 United States Olympic team consisting of Eddie Southern, Jack Yerman, Earl Young and Otis Davis.

COINCIDENTALLY, the Southern - Yerman - Young - Davis tandem accomplished its mark on this same Mt. San Antonio track in a pre-Olympic meet.

A capacity crowd and a national television audience (the meet will be televised in Phoenix Saturday on channel 3 at 3 p.m.) will see the Devils make their most serious attempt yet at the coveted mark.

The Mt. SAC track is regarded by many authorities as the fastest track in the world and with ideal weather conditions prevailing the A-State quartet stands a better-than-even chance of erasing the record.

ASU'S STIFFEST competition in the relay event will be provided by the University of Southern California, the UofA and the Southern California Striders.

Sun Devil coach Baldy Castillo will send sixteen athletes to the meet. Hurdler Darrell Jansen and jumper Dan McPeck will remain in Tempe.

Both are suffering from leg injuries.

SOPHOMORE HENRY Carr will participate in a special 100-meter race in addition to the mile relay.

Carr, the Sun Devils' candidate for the world's fastest human, faces his stiffest task of the season in the 100.

Henry will join nine of the fastest sprinters going, including Florida A&M's Bob Hayes, co-world record holder in the 100-yard dash in 9.2.

HAYE'S BEST clocking in the 100 meters is 10.1, just one-tenth of a second off Armin Hary's world mark.

Others entered in the century include Dick Cortese of Southern Cal, freshman Forrest Beaty of California, Bob Poynter and Jack Higgins of the Santa Clara Youth Village, Johnny Gilbert of the Striders and Lloyd Murad and Ed Moody of San Jose State.

Other features at Mt. SAC include the discus where two-time Olympic champion and world record holder Al Oerter will be facing former Utah State performer Jay Silvester.

OERTER'S RECORD IS 204-10½ while Silvester hit 206 in practice just last week.

C. K. Yang of Nationalist China and a U.C.L.A. student will take part in the two-day decathlon competition in an attempt to break ex-teammate Rafer Johnson's record of 8,683 points.

Those close to the U.C.L.A. track situation report Yang cleared 17 feet in pole vault practice recently.

Two issues ago I ran a story about two undefeated track teams doing battle in Texas. The teams were University of New Mexico and Abilene Christian College.

Well, oddly enough, both powerhouses are still undefeated.

The teams kept their records unblemished by fighting to a 72-72 deadlock. This is extremely unusual in track and field competition.

Coach Hugh Hackett's New Mexico team has now won seven and tied one.

WHILE THE OTHER teams in the WAC are celebrating victories and suffering defeats, the Redskins of the University of Utah are just reading about it in the sports page.

Last week, Salt Lake City had a mixture of snow and rain that forced the cancellation of all spring sports activities.

Ute track coach Marv Hess isn't happy at all with the situation.

"It hurts us," says Hess. "We haven't been able to work out for a week and the prospects don't look good now. As a result, we're weaker as a team than we were a week ago."

The Ute coach blames the muscle injury of star 880 man David Snapp on the cold weather.

IN LARAMIE, WYOMING, the Cowboys will delay the starting of their baseball doubleheader with the University of Denver on Saturday, long enough to dedicate their spanking-new home park, Cowboy Field.

The new park is constructed of steel, concrete and brick.

It seats 1,200 and is considered one of the finest college parks in the nation.

MEANWHILE, ASU is holding down the number six position in the national baseball ratings, according to the Collegiate Baseball paper from Tucson.

The UofA is ranked fifth.

Devils Play Lobos In Conference Test

By NORDY JENSEN

There's only one road the ASU baseball team can travel the rest of the season — that of winning.

Nine games remain on the schedule and they are all WAC contests. The Devils (28-10) meet the University of New Mexico Friday and Saturday at Albuquerque for three games.

Next weekend, ASU hosts the UofA for three games and on May 10-11 battles New Mexico to close out WAC play. All home games will be played at Mesa's Rendezvous Park.

THE DEVIL'S precarious position was made even more dangerous last week with Arizona's three-game sweep of the Lobos.

The wins gave the Wildcats a commanding 5-1 WAC record. ASU is 1-2 and UNM 0-3.

Coach Bobby Winkles' team stands a good chance of winning if it can back its strong mound corps with sound defense and a steady hitting attack.

THE MASTERFUL hurling of All-American candidate Sterling Slaughter has sparked the Devils throughout the season and he will start the first game at Albuquerque.

Slaughter, who has a 9-2 record and a nation leading 116 strikeouts, fell victim to the fielding bug Tuesday at Grand Canyon College as a two out error and a hit (the only one he allowed in 4 2/3 innings of relief) gave Slaughter the loss, 3-2.

Senior captain Gary Graham (4-2, 2.14 ERA) was named by Winkles to start the first game Saturday.

FIREMAN SAM Cook will throw in the finale if he is not needed to relieve during the first two games.
