Buckley To Talk At ASU

William F. Buckley Jr., well-known conservative author and editor, will speak on "The Failure Of American Foreign Policy" in the MU ballroom at 8 p.m. May 13.

Buckley is editor of "National Review" magazine and is author of such publications as "God and Man at Yale," one of the most widely reviewed books in 1951; "Up From Liberalism," "The Committee and Its Critics," "Rumbles Left and Right" and co-author of "McCarthy and His Enemies."

A critic of liberal weaknesses and spokesman for conservative ideas, Buckley has studied in England and France and served in the U.S. Army during World War II. He attended Yale, where he was chairman of the college paper and graduated with honors in 1950.

The ASU Forum will sponsor the program. Dr. Keith Davis, co-advisor of the ASU Forum, will introduce Buckley.

A reception will be given in the MU upper lounge following the speech, according to Dr. Davis.

New Head Of Physics Is Named

Dr. Richard G. Stoner, former chief of the solid state division of the U.S. Air Force Office of Scientific Research, Washington, D. C., has been named chairman of ASU's department of physics.

"We are extremely happy to welcome Dr. Stoner to the community of scholars and distinguished teachers at ASU," Dr. Durham said.

Dr. Stoner was instructor, assistant and associate professor of physics at Pennsylvania State University from 1947 to 1962. In 1959 he became full professor.

Dr. Stoner is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Xi, Sigma Pi Sigma, the American Physican Society, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Announcement

Students who have received National Defense Education Loans and are not returning to ASU should make an appointment for an exit interview before leaving school, according to Mrs. Joan Walsh, supervisor of Student Loan Department.

Appointments may be made in room 107 of the Administration building.

FORUM SPEAKER — William F. Buckley, Jr., editor of National Review magazine, will discuss foreign affairs at the ASU Forum next Monday night at 8 in the MU ballroom.

'63 Graduate Earns Dual Masters Degree

By BILL QUALYE

In a history-making commencement, ASU will grant two masters degrees to one student during graduation exercises June 4, the graduate office announced this week.

Graduate student Glen Gibson will receive the Masters of Science in both electrical engineering and mathematics, thus becoming the first ASU student to do so.

Gibson began work at ASU in 1960 after receiving the Bachelor of Science in electrical engineering from the University of Kansas.

Beginning graduate study here in electrical engineering, he was offered a graduate assistantship in mathematics. Since then, he has been working toward both graduate diplomas.

While most masters candidates must work hard to maintain high grades on one graduate program, Gibson has maintained a 3.5 accumulative average in both programs.

Gibson plans to return to campus after graduation to pursue a Ph.D. in electrical engineering and then hopes to teach at the university level.

He and his wife, Mary Louise, a secretary in the physics department, live in Tempe.

Carter Will Host First Annual Prayer Breakfast

Associated Students President Bob Carter will host ASU's first annual Presidential Prayer Breakfast on campus at 7 a.m. Friday.

Dr. J. Edwin Orr, a noted chaplain and Oxford scholar, will address the honored guests on the "Necessity of Faith Among Leaders."

PRESIDENT Carter has invited some 45-50 University student and administrative leaders to attend the breakfast in MU 218-A.

The idea for the Presidential Prayer Breakfast originated from the equivalent programs presented annually on the state and national levels, according to Carter.

The programs of the governors and presidents are of "great worth," Carter feels, and "a valuable insight may be gained as to the guiding force which accounts for the greatness of many noted men."

AN EQUIVALENT goal of "inspirational wisdom" is intended by Carter for the traditional event at ASU.

Invited guests range from Governor Paul Fannin to President G. Homer Durham to University deans to the presidents of ASU fraternities, men's halls and men's scholastic honoraries. Many former, present and future student government leaders will also attend.

Dr. Orr, a chaplain at large of the International Christian Leadership's Mission to the Academic Community, received his second doctorate from Oxford University.

HAVING traversed 140 of the world's 150 countries and visited two thirds of its major cities, Dr. Orr has spoken on major university campuses in each of the six continents.

He is also the author of a score of books in many languages and with a circulation of about a million. "Faith That Makes Sense" is his latest.

Phi Kappa Phi To Initiate 26

ASU's highest scholastic honor, membership in Phi Kappa Phi, will go to 26 juniors, seniors and graduates and a college dean at initiation ceremonies Friday.

The ASU counterpart to the well-known Phi Beta Kappa, which is composed of Liberal Arts scholars, only, Phi Kappa Phi is open to majors in all colleges.

A 3.75 grade index as a junior and a 3.5 index as a senior is the minimum requirement for membership in this honorary. Graduate students and faculty must have met the same undergraduate standards plus having a 3.5 graduate index.

DR. WILLIAM J. EURKE, ASU executive vice president, will be guest speaker at the 6:30 p.m. banquet and initiation in the MU.

Presiding at the ceremonies will be Dr. Daniel Robinson, professor of agronomy and Phi Kappa Phi president.

INITIATES will be: Faculty: Dr. G. D. McGrath, dean of the College of Education.

Graduates: Naomi S. Hunke, Kenneth Rhoades, Douglas Robertson, Ida Joyce Englishs, Carol S. Keller, Barbara Lawrence and Kenneth Zahorski. Seniors: Marjorie Ellen Avery, Robert Barron, Jacquelyn D. Dolphin, Sherri Lane, Dean Leroy Drake, Eileen Frederick Morrison, Shelia Dianne Sample, Rose Mary Schwent, Bernard L. Casey, Linda J. Brown and Patricia M. Fulks.

Juniors: Roger Allen Frantz, Judith E. Kippola, Gordon Clark Sage, Marilyn J. Bankhead, Susan Jane Collins, Byron Cleeland and Louise Erramouspe.

Bev Bulla Is Queen Of Water

By JON MORRIS

Bev Bulla, Alpha Gamma Rho's candidate, was named Water Sports Day queen Saturday before a crowd of 500 at Saguaro Lake.

The sweepstakes award for sports competition was won by Delta Sigma Phi. The Aggies of Alpha Gamma Rho captured second place, and the independent "Hooters" and Sigma Phi Epsilon tied for third.

Lyle Jo Janes, Kappa Sigma, was first runner-up in the queen competition and Pam Shelley, Delta Sigma Phi, gained third place.

Six sports events were scheduled. Lance Renfrow, Sigma Phi Epsilon, took first in the men's water skiing. Helen Dillon, representing Sahuaro "A", captured first in the women's water ski race.

Four classes (A through D) competed in the boat race. Bob Hoddy, Water Ski Club took first in Class A.

Gary Rasmussen, Aggies, was first in Class B. Dan Jefferies, Aggies, and Tony Marloric, Delta Sigma Phi, took Class C and D victories.

Dan Stysma, Sigma Nu, took first in the individual swimming race, while G. L. West of Sigma Chi was first in the inertube race.

The swim relay award went to Best "A". Two events were cancelled, inner-tube relay and water boxing.

Miss Bulla, 19, received the trophy from Sherrie Andre, last year's queen.

She is 1963 Phoenix Auto Show Queen, a member of Kaydettes, Chi Omega, Cultural Affairs Board, and Little Sisters of Minerva.

Debate Team Pair Wins Third Place

Third place debate honors for ASU were won by Betty Duffy and Bedford Douglass last weekend at the Pacific-Southwest Speech Tournament at Pasadena State College, Calif. The team debated for six rounds on the topic: Resolved, that the non-communist nations of the world should establish an economic community.

ASU debater Mahlon Gaumer won an "excellent" certificate for impromptu speaking.

Fifty-four debate teams from Arizona, California, Oregon and Texas were represented at the annual speech meet.

California teams from Santa Barbara State College and the University of Redlands won first and second place awards respectively.

Other ASU speech squad participants were Wes Shellen, Mike Yarnell, Toby Blaivas, Calvin Lasalvia and Robin Vair.

Dr. William Stites, debate advisor, accompanied the group.

Summer School Sessions Slated To Begin June 3

ASU 1963 summer sessions will include a pre-session from June 3-15; first session, June 17-July 20; second session July 22-Aug. 24; and post-session Aug. 26-Sept. 7.

The pre-session consists of conferences in education covering such subjects as Aerospace Education, Yearbook Advising, Teaching Reading to Bi-lingual Children and Student Council Leadership.

Registration for regular summer sessions is June 17 and July 22. Students must pick up registration materials at Moer Activity building, fill out all registration forms, receive class cards at designated areas, and go to the men's gym to have materials checked and to pay fees.

Summer session students must be graduates of accredited high schools or over 21 years of age. The maximum load for each term is 6 hours.

Fees include $11.25 per semester hour and $3.50 student service fee. Residence halls will be $50 for a five-week session. All meals are served on a a-la-carte basis.

Summer session course schedules may be obtained in Ad 213.

ASU Student's Paper Awarded Second Prize

Harold Joe McGann, mechanical engineering senior, has been awarded second prize during the regional student paper's contest at California Institute of Technology, Pasadena.

Top honors went to a Santa Clara engineering student.

Competition involved outstanding engineering undergraduates from Cal Tech, University of Southern California, University of California, Stanford University, University of Arizona, Santa Clara University and the University of Nevada as well as ASU.

A paper by Saul Herscovici, foreign student from Israel, was also presented.

Tour Of Mexico Slated June 15-16

Dr. John Martinez, assistant professor of history, will sponsor a twelve-day cultural and recreational excursion through Mexico starting June 5.

The $120 cost will cover expenses for lodging, transportation and meals.

Interested students should contact Dr. Martinez in the history department.

ASU Alumni Will Host Annual Senior Breakfast

In less than a month members of the Class of 1963 will be alumni . . . and the Alumni Association has started the transition process by inviting all seniors to be its guests at the Annual Senior Breakfast Saturday morning.

DEDERA

All graduating seniors will be honored by the Association Saturday at 8 a.m. in the Memorial Union ballroom.

DON DEDERA, member of the Class of 1951 and award-winning columnist for the Arizona Republic, will give informal remarks. Dederer's column written on his travels through Russia last year were nationally syndicated. He was the recipient of the 1958 National Ernie Pyle Memorial Award for outstanding writing.

The seniors will be greeted by President G. Homer Durham. They will also be inducted into the Alumni Association by Alumni President H. Wayne Hall, '41, Phoenix.

Invocation will be by the Rev. B. R. Johnson, '54, campus Lutheran pastor. G. M. "Jack"

Dean, member of the Class of 1913 which will celebrate its Golden Reunion at Commencement, will be introduced.

THE ASSOCIATION will also name special Class Agents at the breakfast who will carry out future projects as alumni on behalf of their class. As they prepare for alumni status, members of the class will officially organize, electing officers at the breakfast.

Alumni Executive Secretary Jim Creasman will be master of ceremonies of the event he says the seniors "will always remember."

Seniors may make reservations for the breakfast by telephoning Alumni House, WO 7-1411, ext. 531, or by dropping by at Alumni House any time before Saturday.

Question Of Missing Fish Initiates Fraternity Ruckus

By GORDON BLACK

"Car 54 where are you?"

At the ASU fraternity row—that's where.

Singing, exploding firecrackers, a gushing fire hydrant and the disappearance of a university patrol car resulted in the presence of officers from Tempe police department, Maricopa County sheriff's office and Security Department officers.

The disturbance took place in the fraternity row area of Alpha Drive about 1:50 a.m. Friday.

Department of Security officers were dispatched to the area after a disturbance had been reported.

The fracas apparently grew out of charges that fish had been taken from the fishpond at the Delta Sigma Phi fraternity house.

Over 100 men were involved in the disturbance.

A Tempe fire truck arrived to shut the hydrant off and police officers from the nearby jurisdictions assisted the Security department in quieting the disturbance, according to Security Department officials.

One student, William D. Eitrem, was booked at Tempe jail on charges of disobeying an officer in his official capacity and resisting arrest, it was added.

He was later released on $100 bond, and is scheduled to appear for hearing before Judge Ralph W. Fowler, Tempe Justice of the Peace.

Dr. Gary Anderson, dean of men, said "the matter is being investigated and no further action is planned at this time."

ASU Law Day Is Pronounced 'Total Success'

Law Day ASU, which took place Saturday, was a complete success according to Richard L. Merkel, faculty advisor to the pre-law club.

Approximately 65 undergraduates and high school students who attended were told everything about law from forming a corporation to the do's and don't's of being a good lawyer.

Addressing the students were keynote speaker William T. Keogh, associate dean of the Stanford University Law School; Judge Renz Jennings, Arizona Supreme Court; Carl Muecke, United States federal attorney; John Frank, practicing attorney and Maynard P. Goudy, corporation lawyer.

According to Merkel, plans for a similar program next fall already are being made.

Law Day will become an annual event on campus and is proposed to be held in conjunction with the ASU-UofA football game.

Alumni Will Dine To Fete Durham

Dr. G. Homer Durham, president of the University, will be honored at a "Meet the President" dinner Saturday by the Gila County chapter of the ASU alumni association at the Elks Lodge in Miami at 7 p.m.

Dr. Durham will present a "State of the University" message. Ned Wulck, basketball coach, also will be at the program.

Jim Creasman, alumni association executive secretary, will present color slides of the campus and faculty. Wayne Hall, president of the association, and several members of its board of directors also will attend the dinner.

All alumni and friends of the University are invited.

Nuclear Attack

How Prepared Are We?

Because of the concentration of population and industry in the area surrounding the ASU campus, the University may some day find itself subjected to nuclear attack. What is being done about Civil Defense.

ON A STATE level, the governor has assigned responsibility to officials for an emergency plan to supply ASU and other schools in the state with fire protection, transportation and supplementary food supplies — provided that the roads are open and the fallout level is low enough.

On the community level, Captain Frank Adams, deputy director of Civil Defense in Tempe, advises that there is only one available 100 per cent acceptable bomb shelter in Tempe. That is the Hayden Flour Mill. The Mountain States Telephone building is acceptable but will be used by employees in an emergency. The rest of the local population must use their own homes.

JOHN B. O'LEARY, Acting Director, department of security, represents ASU on the newly organized Civil Defense Advisory Council of Tempe. An electric air raid siren has been ordered and will soon be mounted on the Butte. The warning will be triggered by civil defense authorities in the event of an alert.

Dr. John W. Klock, associate professor, School of Engineering, also has been active in civil defense. He has an advisory status with the Council. He previously was engaged in studying the possible after effects of nuclear attack from a public health standpoint.

HERE ON the campus, radio and fallout testing equipment are already on hand. Four men of the Department of Security have taken Civil Defense training on fallout shelters and two men have been trained to deal with radioactive fallout.

There are seven approved fallout shelters on campus. They will hold about 8000 persons. They are not yet stocked. These shelter areas were surveyed by engineers as part of the National Plan for Civil Defense to best meet the need for protection from most types of disaster.

There are many other areas on campus that can be utilized to provide a certain amount of protection for the rest of the student body and school personnel.

Problem — Get A Job

The end of the spring semester usually brings up two problems — final exams and a summer job.

With less than a month of school to go, the odds of solving either one are rapidly diminishing. Summer vacation may provide the stimulus to hit the books and cram for finals, but its not a very good stimlus for job-hunting.

MOST OF US put off finding a summer job until the last minute and get caught in the "May rush." During the next few weeks thousands of Valley high school students will be competing for the same summer employment.

Approximately 500 of the high school students are enrolled in Distributive Education on-the-job training programs. These students will move right into summer job positions without any competition whatsoever.

But it does increase competition among the students who aren't enrolled in such programs. This is where the ASU Student part-time placement comes in. By registering with them and listing your job qualifications you may broaden your job chances.

UPON ENROLLING, students are not guaranteed job placement but every effort is made to help the student who is truly interested in finding a job. Full information and instructions concerning jobs in the valley, state and nation are made available if you fit the qualifications prospective employers set up.

Let student part-time placement help you meet the stiff summer job competition.

'Wait 'Til Next Year' Is Old Stuff

By MARY GORMAN

"Wait 'til next year."

Sound familiar? Well, these famous words still echo after the ASU-UofA baseball series this past weekend when the Sun Devils dropped two out of three games to the Wildcats.

Typical of other losses to the UofA, ASU lost the games because of errors — 11 of them for the three game series.

Earlier this season the Sun Devils suffered two losses out of three to the Wildcats, with the 'Cats capitalizing on the errors.

Baseball isn't the only sport where ASU should have won, as the Sun Devils traveled to Tucson during the football season with a 7-1-1 record and were trampled by the vicious 'Cats.

In basketball the Sun Devils fought hard to beat the 'Cats 58-53 when a trip to the NCAA tournament already had been guaranteed because of superior play.

What causes the Sun Devils to falter under the pressure of "old rivals" who have to be beaten or else?

The University of Arizona isn't ASU's main opponent in the majority of intercollegiate contests, but is considered so by fans, alumni and students.

Far too much pressure is put on athletes and coaches when playing the UofA.

The athletes, coaches and athletic staff are out to win every inter-collegiate contest entered, so why base a season's record on one game — ASU vs. UofA?

So, fans, it's time to rid ourselves of the attitude that "if we don't beat the U, then we didn't have a good season."

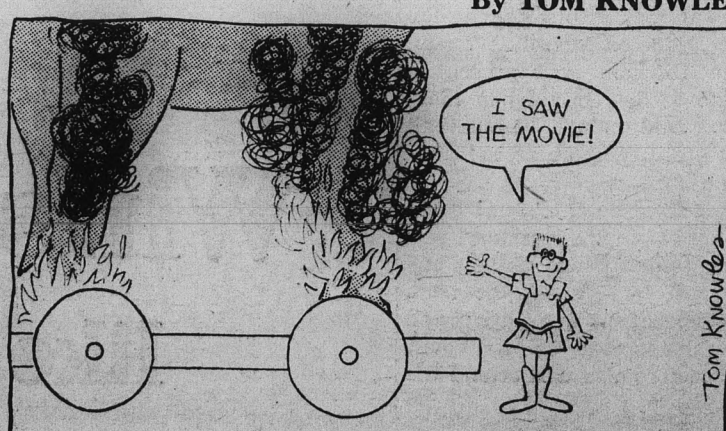

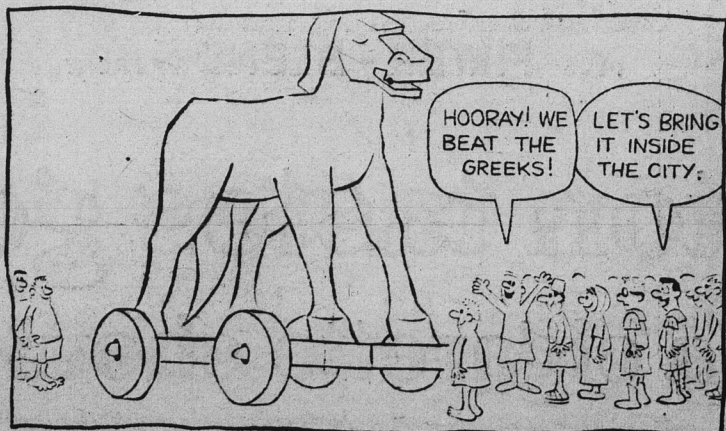

Rivalry is good and there is nothing better to make the game more exciting.

The Wildcats are big rivals, but not the only rivals we have.

So let's look at the excellent record set this year by our athletes, not base our entire season on one series of games with the UofA.

1962-63 ASU Sports Record: Football, 7-2-1; Basketball, 26-3; Baseball, 31-13.

$350 Scholarships Awarded

Renewable scholarships, worth $350 each, have been awarded to two ASU students majoring in business administration by the Insurance Women of Phoenix. Freshman Margaret McMennen and sophomore Nola Hill were given the grants. Funds for the scholarships are made available by profits collected from a business course offered by the IWP.

ASU Women, Wives Elect New Officers

Mrs. Theodore Wyckoff was installed Saturday as the new president of the ASU Faculty Wives club for the coming year.

Mrs. Calvert Kruger is the new vice president; Mrs. Charles W. Newlin, secretary, and Mrs. Billie J. Fullerton, treasurer.

Outgoing officers were Mrs. Edward E. Burgoyne, president; Mrs. Joel J. Dauten, vice president; Mrs. Maurice S. Lewis, secretary and Mrs. L. Mayland Parker, treasurer.

Mrs. Doris C. Powers, assistant professor of English, recently was elected president of the Faculty Women's Club.

Other officers for the coming year are Dr. Rachel Ball, professor of psychology, vice president; Mary L. Wright, associate professor of home economics, secretary and Dr. Judith Radke, assistant professor of French, treasurer.

Educators Confer On Scholarships

Educators representing the Arizona state college and universities conferred recently with members of the Arizona Bankers Association's Education Committee on a revised ABA scholarship program.

Under the new program the ABA will provide $900 business scholarships at both universities and a $500 scholarship at Flagstaff. Scholarships formerly were given in agriculture at the UofA, business at ASU and forestry at ASC.

Marvin Jackson, ASU economic instructor, has received a $750 grant-in-aid for Slavic and European studies this summer.

Jackson received the grant from the University of California at Berkeley, where he is writing his dissertation on the subject of economic research and development in the Soviet Union.

Four Major Bills Remain In Senate

By FRANK DUCCESCHI

The ASASU Senate has four major bills that must be put through before the last session, May 15, according to first vice president Henry Klopping.

"Legislation before the Senate now is probably the most important legislation this year," reports Klopping.

Before the Senate are the Finance Bill, a People to People Bill and a Judiciary Unification Bill. A measure that would require groups receiving student funds to be recognized by the Senate will be introduced.

The new bill, written by the Finance Committee, will make ASASU funds available only to organizations and activities the Senate considers valuable to students.

S.B. 180, a finance bill, will receive its final reading in today's Senate session. After debate the $269,969 appropriations bill is scheduled for a vote.

George Stewart, chairman of the People to People Committee, says the bill is expected to clear the Committee of the Whole today.

Foreign students employment service, cultural activities cop, big brother plan and a Mexican student relations committee are the major recipients of the People to People Bill.

An act to unify and explain the ASU student discipline system, S.B. 195, is slated for debate in the COW meeting today.

The Senate has three meetings in which to clear the docket.

Final session of the Senate will combine an adjournment ceremony with a training program. Committee heads will turn in reports, of the year's activities while new senators will watch Senate procedure and be introduced to fellow senators.

Senators are also in the process of selecting an "Outstanding Senator." Winner of the award will be announced at the May 15 meeting.

The Senate will meet today in the Senate Chambers at 3:45 p.m.

Chemist's Research To Be Lecture Topics

The president of the American Chemical Society will deliver three lectures in the ASU Physical Sciences building on Friday.

ACS president Prof. Henry Eyring, dean of the Graduate School, University of Utah, will speak on "The Transmission Coefficient in Reaction Kinetics" at 10:40 a.m. in PS 134.

PROFESSOR Eyring will speak on "Absolute Rate Theory and Irreversible Thermodynamics" at 12:30 p.m. in PS C-108, and on "Significant Structures Theory of Liquids" at 4 p.m. in PS 100.

Professor Eyring's work with the absolute reaction theory forms the basis of three books and approximately 300 scientific publications.

It has brought him three honorary Doctor of Science degrees, six medals and membership in numerous societies, including the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Dr. Glenn Overman

Dr. Glenn Overman, dean of the College of Business Administration at ASU, has been named president of the Central Arizona chapter of the American Marketing Association, to serve from June 1963 to May 1964.

Late Fines Will Go To Dean

Delinquent fines resulting from violations issued by the Security Department will be referred to the Dean of Students office for appropriate action, Security Department officials said recently.

Letters of notification have been mailed to students who owe money and the Dean's office will be notified if no attempt to make arrangements is made by the violator within seven days of receipt of the letter, it was added.

"Delinquents should either see us to contest the violation or pay the necessary amount at the cashier's office in the Ad building," it was said.

Grades may be withheld from students who have delinquent fines.

HOW TO SEE EUROPE FOR ONLY $300 A DAY: NO. 2

Last week we discussed England, the first stop on the tour of Europe that every American college student is going to make this summer. Today we will take up your next stop—France, or the Pearl of the Pacific, as it is generally called.

To get from England to France, one greases one's body and swims the English Channel. Similarly, to get from France to Spain, one greases one's body and slides down the Pyrenees. And, of course, to get from France to Switzerland, one greases one's body and wriggles through the Simplon Tunnel. Thus, as you can see, the most important single item to take to Europe is a valise full of grease.

No, I am wrong. The most important thing to take to Europe is a valise full of Marlboro Cigarettes—or at least as many as the customs regulations will allow. And if by chance you should run out of Marlboros in Europe, do not despair. That familiar red and white Marlboro package is as omnipresent in Europe as it is in all fifty of the United States. And it is the same superb cigarette you find at home—the same pure white filter, the same zestful, mellow blend of tobaccos preceding the filter. This gem of the tobacconist's art, this prodigy of cigarette engineering, was achieved by Marlboro's well-known research team—Fred Softpack and Walter Fliptop—and I, for one, am grateful.

But I digress. We were speaking of France—or the Serpent of the Nile, as it is popularly termed.

Let us first briefly sum up the history of France. The nation was discovered in 1066 by Madame Guillotine. There followed a series of costly wars with Schleswig-Holstein, the Cleveland Indians, and Jean Jacques Rousseau. Stability finally came to this troubled land with the coronation of Marshal Foch, who married Lorraine Alsace and had three children: Flopsy, Mopsy, and Charlemagne. This later became known as the Petit Trianon.

Marshal Foch—or the Boy Orator of the Platte, as he was affectionately called—was succeeded by Napoleon, who introduced shortness to France. Until Napoleon the French were the tallest nation in Europe. After Napoleon most Frenchmen were able to walk comfortably under card tables. This later became known as the Hunchback of Notre Dame.

Napoleon, after his defeat by Credit Mobilier, was exiled to Elba, where he made the famous statement, "Able was I ere I saw Elba." This sentence reads the same whether you spell it forward or backward. You can also spell Marlboro backward—Orobram. Do not, however, try to smoke Marlboro backward because that undoes all the pleasure of the finest cigarette made.

After Napoleon's death the French people fell into a great fit of melancholy, known as the Louisiana Purchase. For over a century everyone sat around moping and refusing his food. This torpor was not lifted until Eiffel built his famous tower, which made everybody giggle so hard that today France is the gayest country in Europe.

Each night the colorful natives gather at sidewalk cafes and shout "Oo-la-la!" as Maurice Chevalier promenades down the Champs Elysees swinging his malacca cane. Then, tired but happy, everyone goes to the Louvre for bowls of onion soup.

The principal industry of France is cashing travellers checks.

Well sir, I guess that's all you need to know about France. Next week we will visit the Land of the Midnight Sun—Spain.

© 1963 Max Shulman

Next week, every week, the best cigarette you can buy the whole world over is filter-tipped Marlboros—soft pack or Flip-Top box—you get a lot to like.

Army ROTC Is Invited To Meeting

All Army ROTC students interested in forming a Counter Insurgency course for the fall semester are invited to attend a meeting May 10 at 2:30 p.m. in Old Main 118.

Attendance at this meeting will determine whether the course will be offered next fall, according to Capt. A. J. Moser, scheduled to be advisor for the new class.

UofA Engraving Found On Bell

The Victory Bell, which now hangs in the patio of the MU, is engraved with the name of UofA Acacia Fraternity, the Rallies and Traditions Board discovered yesterday.

The fact was pointed out to the R&T board in its Tuesday meeting by Dr. Gary Anderson, board advisor.

He said he discovered it after a note was left in his office by a Hayden Hall student.

The bell was stolen last fall by students of UofA.

After the meeting, Jeff Louis, R&T chairman, went into consultation on the matter with the Student Affairs department and promised action soon.

2 Professors Publish Book On Arizona Constitution

Dr. Bruce B. Mason and Dr. Heinz H. Hink, associate professors of political science, have recently written a book entitled "Constitutional Government in Arizona" published by the ASU bureau of government research.

As stated in the preface the two fold purpose of the book is to provide information concerning Arizona's Constitution and to provide a basic understanding of government for the general reader.

The first two chapters of the book explain present environment and experiences of the past, both of which shape the governmental situation of today.

Other chapters explain the three branches of Arizona government, financing Arizona government and local government in Arizona.

The book is now available for $3 at the University Bookstore.

UCLA Doctor's Studies Show Rats' Shrewdness

Dr. Eugene Eisman, professor of psychology at UCLA, feels that, "It's very hard to outshrewd a rat." And he should know for he's been working with rats for over 10 years.

The west coast doctor turns his academic interest toward the "Learning Theory" and is currently working on "Heart Rate and Deprivation," the topic of his talk given yesterday afternoon to some 70 psychology students and professors at ASU.

Dr. Eisman, who has worked with pain in the psychological fields, discussed the Placebo effect as well as showing cardiograph charts of a rat's heart beat.

Placebo, Dr. Eisman explained, means "I please" in Latin. It takes place when a patient sees a doctor and then begins to feel well.

When Dr. Eisman began to experiment with the heart beat of rats, he picked up static on his equipment. In trying to improve the method of recording the beat he discovered that rats will learn to bite through the lead wire going to the equipment after a couple of days.

Deprivation of water to rats tended to increase the heart beat Dr. Eisman added, showing graph slides to illustrate his point.

Rats at one point were given a plentiful supply of food but the hunger drive drops when water is deprived, the doctor said.

"A 72-hour deprived rat is not as thirsty as a 48-hour deprived rat," Dr. Eisman added.

Rats enjoy sugar in their water. If a rat is given the choice of water containing 48 parts sugar and another with 12 parts sugar he will drink the water with the highest content of sugar, Dr. Eisman explained.

Building Club To Close Year

The ASU Construction Society will hold its last meeting of the semester 8:30 tonight in EC 137.

A report will be given on Glenn Canyon Dam at Paige by members Jack Cooper, Ron Zeigler, and Don Nelson. The report concerns structure features of the dam, which is nearing completion.

Slides taken during a five hour tour of the project will be shown. The dam was visited three weeks ago by over 30 members of the society.

The meeting is free and will be open to the public.

Three Musicals Scheduled Here

Three musical performances will be presented this week on campus.

Harold Hines, ASU band director, will conduct a Twilight Concert tonight at 7:00 on the lawn of the Quadrangle.

Ronald Halloway is assistant director of the 40-piece band and student directors are Gerald Brown and Larry Mabbitt.

The program will include a cornet solo performed by Hines and a trombone trio.

This is the second in a series of three concerts by this group. The final concert will be Thursday, May 16.

Wallace Hornibrook, minister of music for Cross Roads Methodist Church, Phoenix, will perform at a senior recital in the MU ballroom at 8:15 p.m., May 9, sponsored by the ASU music department.

The program will include "Sonata in D Major, Opus 28" by Beethoven, "Variations and Fugue on a Theme by Handel" by Brahms, "Suite, Opus 14" by Bartok and "Le Tombeau de Couperin" by Ravel.

Hornibrook, who is a graduate of the Cornish School of Allied Arts in Washington, was piano soloist with the Seattle Philharmonic Orchestra.

He has been musical director and conductor for the Arizona Opera Association, was director of the Arizona Symphony Choir for two years and is currently director of the Bach and Madrigal Society. This past season he served as musical director for the ASU production of Menotti's "The Consul."

***

A special Mother's day concert will be presented by the ASU Chorus under the direction of David Scouler, professor of music, on May 12 at 3 p.m. in the men's gym.

"Requiem Mass in C Minor," by the 19th century composer Luigi Cherubini, will be sung.

Student soloists will be featured in the Mass including In-troit and Kyrie, Gradual, Dies Irae and Lacrymosa, Offertorium, Sanctus, Pie Jesu and Agnus Dei.

Among the soloists will be Vicky Bond, Barbara Morris, Kathy Harris, Lynda Robertson, Pat Tarpey, Betty Burton, Karl Wochner, Michael Kenneally, Jack Cathey, Robert Vujkov, Ed Humphrey and Jerry Cobb.

Evangeline Mendoza will accompany on the piano and Margo Kostka will accompany on the organ.

Netters Host Dual Match

The ASU tennis team swings back into action this Friday, hosting Grand Canyon College in its last scheduled match before the Western Athletic Conference championships at ASU May 24-25.

Coach Ted Bredehoff's athletes were defeated last week by the UofA 6-0.

With a two-week break between their last scheduled match and the Conference championships, Bredehoff indicated he would try to slate some warm-up matches with various clubs in the Valley.

Representing the Sun Devils against Grand Canyon will be Craig Carlson, Ted Winston, Jan Powell and Carl Wieburg.

ASU's dual match record is now 9-12.

Off The Cuff

JOE HEATH
Sports Editor

Shortly before Oregon State opened its baseball series in Tempe against the Sun Devils on March 21, I mentioned in my column that I hoped that All-American football player Terry Baker, who also paced the Beavers over the Devils in the NCAA basketball play-offs didn't play baseball too.

Well, I hope that you are as amazed as I when you find out that the great all-around athlete entered Oregon State on a baseball scholarship!

This is a great athlete. I wonder what would happen if he would concentrate on just one of his great abilities?

ARIZONA will represent the WAC Southern Division in the playoff with the Northern Division winner.

It's a good bet that the Wildcats will take the conference crown and carry it to the NCAA regional play-offs.

I feel that Brigham Young will win the Northern title (they have a 10-7 season record, compared to Wyoming, 8-12, and Utah, 5-11) and they will be no competition for the mighty Wildcats.

At the last count, Arizona led the southern field in batting (.257) and in fielding (.945).

They also have the divisional leading hitter in first baseman Bill Brown, who is slamming the ball at a near .500 clip.

The Wildcats will also have the advantage of hosting the WAC play-offs in the championship series slated for May 24 and 25.

IN THE INTRAMURAL department, which seems to be dominated this year by the thousands of men known as Hooters Inc., the season will be wrapped up with the track and field meet this weekend.

Statistics show that the Intramural program, like the Intercollegiate program, is growing rapidly.

In softball this year 30 teams competed compared to the 16 that fought it out last year.

Over all, 349 teams have entered in the various events as compared to last year's 286. This is an increase of 63 teams.

Will it be bigger and better next year?

Golf Match Called Off

The ASU golf team will not compete in the 16th annual Pike's Peak Intercollegiate Golf Tournament this weekend as originally scheduled.

Coach Bill Mann said the team's record to date did not warrant the trip.

The team was slated to meet Arizona State College yesterday afternoon in Flagstaff.

Covelli Tops With Javelin

By DICK MULLINS
ASU Sports Bureau

Frank Covelli thinks he's a normal, average American male. That's what he thinks. However, he also avows to getting his kicks throwing a javelin, not the ordinary U.S. and A. male-type pastime.

It's well-known that Covelli, a senior on the ASU track team, is one of the best javelin throwers in the nation.

He's on scholarship and that's his job. But what he's saying is that if there were no track team and no scholarship, he'd still be out there throwing the javelin.

Frank doesn't lift weights and rules out isometric exercises altogether. He stays in shape by taking two javelins to any available pasture and throwing them from one end to another. He does this 1½ hours each day, rain, shine or come what may.

Despite Frank's not too common pastime, he's very stable in his plans for the future.

HE INTENDS to graduate from ASU (he's an electronics major), get a job in his native California and "amount to something." During this time the 6-2, 190-pounder plans to keep throwing the javelin, naturally.

Frank's best throw to date is 259-11½, the third best in the United States this year. He's fully aware he'll be a threat in the NCAA championships at Albuquerque and he'd like to compete on the U.S. team that will tour Germany, Poland and Russia this summer.

Strong ASU Tops Arizona

By ALAN MICHAELS

Arizona State's track and field team rang up its third Western Athletic Conference victory of the season with an 87-57 win over the UofA at Tucson Saturday.

"Our veterans came through as expected," said A-State Coach Baldy Castillo, "but we also got strong showings from our younger men. This was heartening especially with the WAC meet coming up May 24-25."

TOP PERFORMERS

Singled out for special praise by Castillo were:

Tom Hester — Hester was a close second (9.6) to Henry Carr in the 100, anchored the winning 440-yard relay team and was second in the 220 around a half turn (20.7).

Jim McBurney — finished second to Ullis Williams in the 880 with a 1:53.3 clocking and filled in for Carr on the victorious mile relay team.

Eric Owers — Placed third in the two mile run but clocked 9:37.0, second fastest in ASU history.

Joe Caldwell — Won the high jump at 6-4 and finished second in the triple jump, his first attempt at the event, with a leap of 45-.

Art Reade — took third in the mile with his fastest clocking to date (4:19.5).

In the 440, Mike Barrick defeated teammate Ron Freeman and Wildcat Dave Murray in 47.2.

Barrick, McBurney, Freeman and Williams combined for a 3:10.6 clocking in a winning mile relay effort.

John Rose set a new stadium and dual meet record when he cleared 15-3½ in the pole vault.

ANOTHER BIG ONE

Next on the agenda for the Sun Devils is this Saturday's West Coast Relays at Fresno, Calif.

Castillo will send eleven athletes to the meet which is expected to draw some of the top teams and performers in the West.

Teams from USC, UCLA, Stanford, California, Occidental, San Jose State, Oregon State, Washington State and Arizona have been entered.

Earlier this week, Castilla was selected to serve as honorary referee at the 24th annual running of the Compton Relays, June 7.

Said Meet Director Herschel Smith in making the announcement, "Castillo's outstanding record in developing world record relay teams and individuals certainly makes him deserving of the honor."

Smith also announced that invitations to participate in the pole vault at Compton will be extended to only those performers who have cleared 16 feet.

TROJANS PREVAIL

In other track news, the University of Southern California defeated UCLA, 99-46, at Los Angeles Saturday.

The victory provided the Trojans with their 31st consecutive win over their cross-town rivals.

Wildcats Near Crown, Take Two From Devils

By NORDY JENSEN

It's all over but the shouting in the Western Athletic Conference Southern Division baseball race.

The University of Arizona wrapped up the title last weekend, dumping second place ASU, two games out of three.

After winning the opener, 3-2, Friday night, the Sun Devils lost Saturday's twin bill 3-2 and 9-5, leaving the Wildcats with a 7-2 record to ASU's 4-5 and New Mexico's 1-5.

The series did show that ASU's future is fairly secure as three sophomores came through at the plate in fine style.

LEFTFIELDER Rich Oliver (.268) made several fine defensive grabs plus going 4-9 in the series. It was his attempted sacrifice bunt which went for a hit Friday that started the winning Devil rally.

Luis Lagunas (.316) continued his hot hitting going 5-11 and driving in three runs, two in Friday's win.

Catcher Ray Stadler filled in for injured Tony Alesci and got three hits in two games. Alesci suffered a broken index finger when hit by a foul tip during Saturday's opener.

SOPHOMORE lefty Jim Merrick started the final game and went six innings before leaving for a pinch hitter. He fanned eight Wildcats while walking only two. Arizona touched Merrick for four runs, only two of which were earned.

Friday's winning rally started when sophomore Alesci walked, Oliver and Jack Handley bunted for singles and with one out, pitcher Sam Cook bounced a base hit up the middle to score the winning tally.

John Ruedy and Oliver led ASU at bat with two hits each.

WHAT'S HAPPENED TO FALCON

EVERYTHING! AND YET...

Early this year we put a 164-hp V-8 in a new kind of Falcon called the Sprint, and entered the stiffest winter road test we could find . . . the 2,500-mile Monte Carlo Rallye. We didn't know what would happen . . . but happen it did.

First, no one dreamed all the Rallye cars would have to experience the worst winter in decades. Snow, below zero temperatures, and the most demanding terrain in Europe took their toll. Two thirds of the 296 cars that started, failed to reach Monaco.

A lot of experts told us that the Falcon V-8's, untried as they were, could not hope to finish the Rallye with the best of weather. But not only did two Falcon Sprints finish, they placed first and second in their class. But there were more surprises (for everyone) in store. Against all competition, regardless of class, the lead Sprint went on to take first in the final six performance legs.

We honestly didn't know the Falcon Sprint would do this well. But it showed us a Falcon with our new 164-hp V-8 is a car that can perform with the best of them. So a lot has happened to Falcon, and yet . . .

A six-cylinder Falcon has just finished the Mobil Economy Run and finished first in its class. It had to take a lot of punishment, too . . . 2,500 miles from Los Angeles to Detroit over mountains, deserts, and long stretches of superhighways. But the nickel-nursing ways of the all-time Economy Champ took all comers in its class.

So you see something has happened to the Falcon. It can be what you want it to be . . . a V-8 that travels in the same circle as Europe's performance kings . . . or a Six that can travel cross-country on a budget. There's something to put into your compact.
