Senators OK Revised Laws

By BRET BATCHELOR

A weary Senate, under pressure to get all important business done before semester break, adjourned Wednesday seconds after unanimously approving the resubmitted, revised ASASU constitution.

Heated debate on last minute amendments to the constitution dragged the tenth and last session of first semester out two and a half hours.

After two hours of Senate action, a few senators began to slip out one by one. Then Speaker George Stewart expressed fear that a lack of a quorum might make voting on the constitution impossible and perhaps delay it a needless four weeks or more.

RANDY SILVER, newly appointed sergeant-at-arms, acting on orders from Stewart, stationed himself at the door and the Senate became captive.

A cross fire broke out when an amendment was made to put the AMS and AWS senators back into the Senate.

The Constitutional Revision Committee cut AMS and AWS senators out of the new constitution because they felt that AMS and AWS had an overlap of power in the executive and legislative branches of ASASU government.

AFTER LONG debate, a Senate vote on the amendment gave AMS and AWS back their Senate seats.

Skyline Expands By Two's For Fall

By TROY IRVINE

Two more additions to ASU's expanding skyline will greet next fall's enrollment as construction begins on the Language and Literature and the Industrial Design and Technology buildings.

Excavation, which began Dec. 30 west of Old Main, has been completed for the full basement of the Language and Literature building to be constructed on the site at a cost of $1,080,000.

ONE WING of the T-shaped structure will rise six stories and the other wing two floors with future plans for four. Housing the English, language and mass communications departments, the building will be completed in about 290 days, according to the builder's contract.

Architect of the 79,157-square foot complex is Kemper Goodwin of Tempe.

The $481,543 Industrial Design and Technology building to be erected at McAllister and Tyler streets, will be started Monday by Manhattan Dickmann Construction Co. of Phoenix.

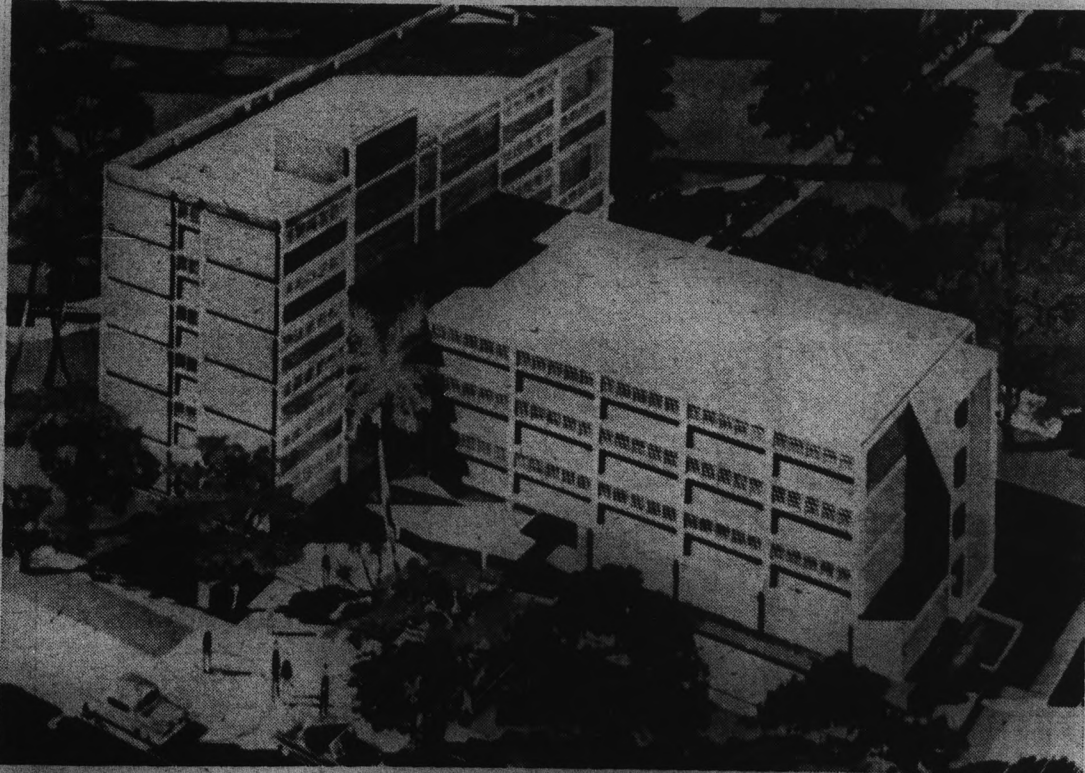

ARNOLD Construction Co. was the original low bidder on the structure but was forced to withdraw its bid because of an error in the addition of cost figures.

The 37,000 square foot building is designed by architects Horlbeck and Kickman of Mesa.

John R. Ellingson, physical plant director, reports all other building projects on campus are on schedule with the already-renowned Grady Gamme Memorial Auditorium 95 per cent complete. Workmen are awaiting the arrival of the orchestra stand which will be assembled on stage.

COED DORM Palo Verde West is 40 per cent finished, according to Ellingson. Concrete is being poured on the sixth floor this week.

Ninety-eight percent of the three-story wing to the Engineering Center is completed, nearing a Jan. 15 conclusion date.

ARTIST'S CONCEPTION — The $1,080,000 Language and Literature building is to be finished late next fall. Designed by architect Kemper Goodwin of Tempe, the building will stand over what is now a giant crater west of Old Main. One wing will rise six stories and the other wing two and eventually four as shown above.

Regents Raise Out-Of-State Tuition Again

Nonresident tuition for ASU, the University of Arizona and ASC at Flagstaff was upped $50 per year to fight growing operating costs.

The Board of Regents increased yearly out-of-state fees to $880 for both Universities and $160 for ASC, effective the fall semester of 1964. Resident fees will remain at $230 per year.

Arizona schools, with the increase, will have some of the highest nonresident fees in the nation. The Board also reported that the resident tuition is near the average for U.S. school of higher learning.

Equitably distribution of costs between the resident and nonresident students is responsible for the increase of out-of-state fees, according to John G. Babbitt, president of the Board of Regents. Last year the Board raised registration fees by $11.50 per semester.

Congolese Complete Christmas Courses

Classes in "American Government and Institutions" conducted over the Christmas holidays on campus for 20 Congolese students were termed successful yesterday by Dr. Raymond Uhl, chairman of the political science department.

The classes were conducted daily from Dec. 23 to Jan. 3 by political science faculty. The program was sponsored by a grant from the public administration training branch of the Agency for International Development.

A certificate of completion was awarded each Congolese student upon completion of classes last Friday by Vice President John Ryan, and a reception, given by the secretarial staff of the College of Liberal Arts, followed in the Social Sciences building.

DR. UHL, PAST director of the special courses, said that the U.S. Department of State was pleased with the program.

Uhl said official congratulations were extended ASU for "a very successful school" by Rousseau Lanou, director of AID's public administration branch. Lanou telephoned Wednesday from his office in Washington, D.C., Uhl said.

THE 20 STUDENTS left Arizona Saturday for California where they are currently enrolled in a study program at Sacramento State College.

The Congolese students are graduates of the National School of Law and Administration in Leopoldville, Congo. Upon their return to the Congo they will complete their academic training and work for Congolese government agencies.

While enrolled here the students were housed at the Sigma Nu house, 601 Alpha Drive.

They toured facilities of the Salt River Project, an Indian reservation and the plant of The Arizona Journal.

ON CHRISTMAS Day the Congolese were invited into Valley homes for Christmas dinner. They were also awarded honorary membership in the Soccer Club.

Two interpreters from the Department of State were on hand at all times, Uhl said, to translate for the students who speak only French.

The courses were taught by Uhl, Dr. Heinz R. Hink, professor of political science, and Dr. Leonard Goodall, director of the Bureau of Government Research.

Appeals Results

The traffic appeals board granted only one of four appeals for Sharon Smith at its regular weekly meeting Wednesday.

Appeals were denied to Phil May, Craig Ankeny, Richard Menkin, Myron Richman, Alan Rozefsky, Cherie Miller and Kathy Hocker (3).

Higher Education's Status And Growth Basis Of Budget Increase By Regents

Anticipating an enrollment next fall of 17,500 students, the state Board of Regents recently in Tucson approved an operating budget of $13,602,592 for ASU, a $1,470,455 increase over last year's budget.

Flagstaff businessman John G. Babbitt, elected president of the regents Dec. 28, presented the 85-page budget request for the state's two universities and college to the 26th Arizona Legislature's second session.

IN A LETTER accompanying

Spring Loan, Scholarship Slips Ready

All students who have been approved for loans and special scholarships for second semester must pick up disbursement slips Jan. 27, 28 and 29, at the loan and scholarship window, Adm. 107, according to Henry Spomer, business office manager.

All students eligible for graduation in January or who do not plan on returning to school next semester and who have National Defense Loans should contact Mrs. Joan Walsh, loan supervisor, Adm. 107, ext. 3480, before the end of the semester for an exit-interview.

Deadline Nears For Advisement

Advisement period for second semester class schedules is today, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Appointments may be made by signing the sheet at your advisor's office. All students who plan to register for next semester must consult their curriculum advisors and obtain an approved program of studies for next semester.

Students who do not see their advisor by Jan. 15 will be designated as late advisees and will have to pay a $10 late registration fee.

the budget requests, Babbitt said the "state's population growth and economic expansion have been setting national records for more than a decade. High education must keep pace with this growth."

He added, "Top quality higher education is a fundamental requirement of continuing economic and cultural growth. It would be wholly unrealistic if we did not recognize that this factor is not only an economic necessity to Arizona, but is also an accurate measure of the state's prestige."

Major factors in the requested budget are operational costs, faculty salaries and cost of advanced academic programs and research needs at the graduate level.

BABBITT SAID, "The cost of higher education, like everything else, is rising steadily. After considering the various factors that account for increasing costs, the Board of Regents feels that the modest operating budget increase requested of the Legislature for the 1964-65 fiscal year is remarkably low."

The regents said that of the combined operating budgets for the three institutions, 31.7 per cent would be provided by collections and revenue other than state funds.

For ASU, the legislative appropriation of state monies necessary to meet the budget totals $9,781,692, a $960,145 increase over last year.

The difference in the $13,602,592 requested budget and the state appropriation would be provided by increased collection of fees by virtue of larger enrollments and additional income from the raised nonresident tuition.

Nonresident tuition was raised $50 to $350 a semester, effective next fall.

Graduate Pay On Rise

A salary survey conducted by the College Placement Council revealed that salary offers to new college graduates are rising for both technical and non-technical bachelor degree holders according to Dr. Robert Menke, Menke.

The survey showed that seniors majoring in electrical engineering received an average of $621 a month, the top offer. This is an increase of $14 since the close of the last recruiting season.

The aircraft and aerospace industry led in dollar value of offers with $620. This industry was the most active employer.

The automotive group offered the biggest advance with a $28 jump to $598 a month.

Chemicals and drugs followed with a $25 hike to $605. Public utilities continued their upward trend with a $24 increase to $585.

The survey is based on data from placement offices in 107 colleges and universities from coast to coast. It covers offers made to male bachelor degree holders from the beginning of the fall recruiting season to Dec. 17, 1963.

is it me...or Jack Winter!

It's you, princess, when you have the Jack Winter look. But whoa . . . take a minute to learn about the subject of stretch. Because once you put yourself in Jack Winter stretch pants, you are going to get the eye test. Be darn sure you can pass. Questions. Should you wear stretch pants? What kind of figure does it take? Most all figures are flattered by stretch, whether angular, triangular, or a figure eight. Even if you have an hourglass figure where all the sand has sunk to the bottom, stretch pants can do quick subtracting. You won't need a grease job to slip in, but there's no sag, bag or bind either. Jack Winter cuts 'em just right . . . lean and ladylike . . . proportioned in your proper leg-length. So it's you and Jack Winter getting all those straight-on, slant-eyed, turn-about-face looks. You and Jack Winter causing that campus stir.

Hardly A Trend

The current political fervor involving presidential primaries and the subsequent selection of candidates by both parties has finally spread its tentacles onto the ivy-covered college campus and of all things — "war babies," WWII vintage.

Columnist John Chamberlain points out in a recent article that the approximately one million "war baby" college students eligible to register in a political party may hold the key to the outcome of the presidential election.

But these same students, some who are active in campus political groups, duck party affiliation, he continues. The trend is to organize behind a philosophy instead of a political party. The end result is a trend to unite behind the man who is a symbol of their philosophy.

Youth for Goldwater is such an organization. This example boasts 175 affiliate YFG chapters across the nation. They are absolutely certain, as Chamberlain points out, that Barry is their man. Bound to their choice of philosophy — not politics — the YFG'ers would rather stay home than vote for a "Liberal," either Democrat or Republican.

We believe the strenuous partisanship banner is being waved aloft by over-enthusiastic extremists, obviously a very small percentage of the million students eligible to vote. Chamberlain says there has been a big swing in recent years among the young toward this anti-liberal movement. He says there has been no opposition movement. Active Democratic Action groups are few and far between, Chamberlain states.

Strenuous partisanship behind a political party is understandable — but not behind one symbol. Conservative and liberal policies can be found on every college campus in varying degrees. Every student who takes time to think has come to realize that his philosophy, political or otherwise, is not clear-cut.

He has to evaluate and sift through the records and then form an opinion.

In view of this fact it is impossible to say that a representative student group for Barry Goldwater represents a trend of any magnitude among college students. There are too many educated students who wish to support and maintain their country on political affiliations and beliefs, not symbols or figureheads.

An anti-liberal trend as well as an anti-conservative trend is clearly possible. There is no agreed status quo. Affiliations and politics change as fast as newspaper headlines.

Youth for Goldwater is a movement that can be watched and respected, but as far as being a trendsetter it is much too early and almost impossible to say.

Run, Americans, Run

ACP—See the girl. She is a pretty girl. See her checkered madras skirt. And Cotton blouse. And Weejuns. And puffed out hair. She is a college girl.

SEE THEM AT A dance. Watch them twist and yell and wave paper cups in the air. It is hot and noisy. See them after the dance in the girl's parking lot. They are in his car with the loud muffler.

Now it is 12:30. See the girl run from the car. She must get inside her dorm on time. She is a big girl.

See them in class. The boy is slumped in the chair. He is asleep. The girl is slumped in her chair. She is asleep too. The professor is very dull.

SEE THEM STUDYING. It is 4:30 in the morning. They have a test today. See the little pills. They keep them awake. See the bottles under the boy's bed. They put him to sleep.

Now they are taking the test. See the little pieces of paper in their laps. They help them pass the test. It is hard.

They are college students. Their adult friends call them "Young men and women." And "Future Leaders of America."

God save America.

Nice vacation? I can't remember.

Letters To The Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

An excellent article appeared on the fifth page of the Dec. 18 issue of the State Press concerning the need for apartments for married students enrolled at Arizona State University. It was surprising to hear that ASU had no housing whatsoever for married students.

Although I am not married, I have been to many college campuses and have seen the apartments provided for married students, on, or near the campus. They are so attractive and convenient, that one is almost tempted to marry, merely for the housing benefits.

As stated in the article by Dawn Felice, 50 per cent of the students questioned stated a desire for apartments. Many of these same students are faced with the problems of paying high rent in apartments far from the campus.

It is obvious, then, that apartments are needed and wanted. As the enrollment at ASU steadily rises each year, more and more students will be faced with this problem and undecided as to what to do about it.

Since there is such an obvious need for these apartments, let's see that they are provided.

Rita Geyer

TO THE EDITOR:

Just before Christmas, a blanket of friendliness clothed the campus. People went out of their way to say hello. I felt that I knew everyone better.

Why should friendliness be reserved for the week before Christmas? If each student would attempt to say hello to one new person during the day, friendliness would gradually spread throughout the year.

Kristine Gustafson

TO THE EDITOR:

The cheerleaders have a new cheer they want to teach the student body at the beginning of the CSU-ASU basketball game. In order to teach it, we will need attention and support.

Paul Cottrell

TO THE EDITOR:

Just thought that you may have time to make some sort of editorial comment in regard to those two D.J.'s on KRIZ who claim to be running for the presidency and vice presidency. It seems they are making light of very respected offices to the high school and college age audience. I would enjoy reading your comments.

Rog Jones

TO THE EDITOR:

The philosophy that happiness is a journey and not a destination seems to be the crusading pledge of Ron Gantman. His distinct on-campus humor through cartoon and article is a highlight of the State Press. I hope there are future plans for more of the same by Mr. Gantman. How about a regular column?

Health Center

Serious accusations have been leveled against the ASU Health Center. This vital University organ has been accused of defeating its purpose.

Signed student affidavits have been presented to the Editor naming various discrepancies in Health Center treatment and service.

In order to avoid hasty judgment on such an explosive topic, lengthy research has been undertaken and the proper authorities interviewed to determine the authenticity of these allegations.

Next Friday's State Press will carry the complete analysis of the Health Center's alleged dysfunctionality.

I Cover College Avenue

By ROSS FISH

Glancing at the preface of '64 at ASU, we sight these problems — some old, some new.

Will this be the year that sororities will get houses? Or will traditional Victorian attitudes keep the Greek women penned together in the shadows of two plush seven-story hotels?

Will 23 remain the age that girls become women at ASU; wherein they are permitted to live off-campus doing such mature things as buying their own groceries, going for a cup of coffee after 10 p.m. and locking their doors from unwanted visitors.

Will one of Pete's super burgers continue to fill the gaps and stop the growls in stomachs of students who devour Saga savories three times a day?

What personalities will be teaching Sun Devil sports fans how to spell State?

Will the first second semester formal rush scheduled by IFC answer the demands of prospective fraternity men?

Will the architecture of the Language Arts building be an acceptable monument to the destruction of practically the only "campus" on campus?

Will Hunt Hall continue to be the unsung hero of the football banner competition?

Will required courses continue to be the only ones taught in most fields of study?

Will other campus honoraries follow Blue Key's commendable efforts in their new selection-by-application program?

How will the opening of the new auditorium affect campus? Will it draw name entertainment? Will we realize the value of the opportunities for cultural enlightenment, as well as social entertainment?

Will the number of student loans decrease because of alleged rude office behavior and unconcerned attitude toward inquiring students in financial need? Will this affect the relationship between local banks and ASU?

Will the Village Inn banjos produce the college town atmosphere so long overdue and lacking in Tempe?

Will East Hall stand another year?

Will Chuck Mason of the physical plant ever get the Alpha Drive restroom problems ironed out?

Will the Cardiac Kids get a transfusion?

Will tuition go up again?

So much for the preface — on to chapter I.

Regents Fill New Post

The state Board of Regents meeting in Tucson Dec. 28, approved the appointment of T. Tilman Crance, former comptroller, to the new position of assistant to President G. Homer Durham for budget and institutional studies.

Crance's former assistant,

Charles E. LaDue, is the new comptroller. They enter their new offices Jan. 1.

DR. DURHAM created the post of financial assistant to more efficiently cope with financial pressure of "cost-price squeeze."

"Preparation and distribution of budget forms, their analysis and review, formerly associated with the comptroller's office, are being reassigned to the office of the assistant to the president for budget and institutional studies," Dr. Durham said.

"All other functions of the comptroller's office remain undisturbed and will continue directly under the supervision of Mr. LaDue," he added.

A major part of Crance's new job will be to aid the University's top administrators in their managerial decisions, including collection, analysis and summarization of data.

"MR. CRANCE is particularly well suited for his new position," Dr. Durham stated. "His combination of financial, administrative and educational background provides a unique but essential foundation for the needed studies."

Having been on campus for 23 years, Crance is a Certified Public Accountant with BA and MA degrees in education.

THE REGENTS also received a report that the University has received $43,735 in gifts of paintings and etchings, laboratory equipment and contributions to the scholarship and loan funds.

1964: YEAR OF DECISION

Well sir, here we go into 1964, which shows every sign of being quite a distinguished year. First off, it is the only year since 1954 which ends with the Figure 4. Of course, when it comes to Figure 4's, 1964, though distinguished, can hardly compare with 1444 which, most people agree, had not just one, not just two, but three Figure 4's! This, I'll wager, is a record that will stand for at least a thousand years!

1444 was, incidentally, notable for many other things. It was, for example, the year in which the New York Giants played the Philadelphia Athletics in the World Series. As we all know, the New York Giants have since moved to San Francisco and the Philadelphia Athletics to Kansas City. There is a movement afoot at present to move Chicago to Phoenix—the city, not the baseball team. Phoenix, in turn, would of course move to Chicago. It is felt that the change would be broadening for residents of both cities. Many Chicago folks, for example, have never seen an iguana. Many Phoenix folks, on the other hand, have never seen a frostbite.

This would not help make you NATO-minded!

There are, of course, certain difficulties connected with a municipal shift of this size. For instance, to move Chicago you also have to move Lake Michigan. This, in itself, presents no great problem, what with modern scientific advances like electronics and the French cuff. But if you will look at your map, you will find Lake Michigan is attached to all the other Great Lakes, which in turn are attached to the St. Lawrence Seaway, which in turn is attached to the Atlantic Ocean. You start dragging Lake Michigan to Phoenix and, willy-nilly, you'll be dragging all that other stuff too. This would make our British allies terribly cross, and I can't say as I blame them. Put yourself in their place. What if, for example, you were a British costermonger who had been saving and scrimping all year for a summer holiday at Brighton Beach, and then when you got to Brighton Beach there wasn't any ocean? There you'd be with your inner tube and snorkel and nothing to do all day but dance the Lambeth Walk. This, you must agree, would not help make you NATO-minded!

I appeal most earnestly to the residents of Chicago and Phoenix to reconsider. I know it's no bowl of cherries going through life without ever seeing an iguana or a frostbite, but I ask you—Chicagoans, Phoenicians—is it too big a price to pay for preserving the unity of the free world?

I feel sure that if you search your hearts, you will make the right decision, for all of us—whether we live in frostbitten Chicago, iguana-infested Phoenix, or narrow-lapelled New Haven—are first and foremost Americans!

But I digress. We were speaking of 1964, our new year. And new it is! There is, for one thing, new pleasure in Marlboro Cigarettes. How, you ask, can there be new pleasure in Marlboros when that fine flavorful blend of tobaccos, that clean efficient Selectrate filter, have not been altered? The answer is simple: each time you light a Marlboro, it is like the first time. The flavor is such that age cannot wither nor custom stale. Marlboro never palls, never jades, never dwindles into dull routine. Each puff, each cigarette, each pack, each carton, makes you glad all over again that you are a Marlboro smoker!

Therefore, Marlboros in hand, let us march confidently into 1964. May good fortune attend our ventures! May serenity reign! May Chicago and Phoenix soon recover from their disappointment and join our bright cavalcade into a brave tomorrow!

© 1964 Max Shulman

We, the makers of Marlboros, available in soft pack or flip-top box in all fifty states of the Union, wish to join Old Max in extending good wishes for a happy and peaceful 1964.

NO!

DON'T BOTHER TO CARRY AN EXTRA SUPPLY.

New Carefree* tampons promise so much more protection—you can leave the extras at home!

The principle of this superior protection is simple, natural. Most old-style tampons flatten, thin out, elongate when moisture strikes. This shape simply cannot cover the area of flow properly. Thus embarrassing accidents occur.

But a Carefree tampon (firmly compressed so it needs no rigid applicator) expands into a natural, round shape that conforms to your own body's structure, responds to your own body's needs. It gives you more comfort than any tampon or napkin ever developed.

Actual use tests proved that the new Carefree tampon absorbs, without leakage, 73% more than the leading tampon—starts to absorb more quickly than any other.

Better protection—longer protection. That's why you can leave that extra supply at home.

*Trademark

†Because Carefree is far more absorbent, there is no need for a Carefree super size. If you are using tampons for the first time, you may wish to try Carefree Slim (the smaller size).

Student Religious Group To Host Spring Western Regional Confab

The Student Religious Council recently announced its plans for the first quarter of 1964.

High point of the Council's plans for the spring semester is the hosting of the Western Regional Student Religious Council Conference April 10 through 12.

The council also made arrangements to publish a holiday booklet which will tell of the major annual holidays of all religions. Another publication will tell the history of Danforth Chapel, the Student Religious Council and the Campus Religious Conference.

Calendars of the names, locations and times of services of most of the Valley houses of worship will soon be printed and placed in the campus dormitories by the council. Ronald Hockenberg, council publicity chairman, said that the calendars will stimulate more religious participation by University students.

Chi O's To Try For Final Win

Alpha Delta Pi and Chi Omega will battle wits Feb. 6 to determine the College Bowl champions for fall semester. The winner of the play-off will receive a plaque.

Phi Delta Theta will return Feb. 13 for regular College Bowl play. Winners of two straight, they will continue their efforts to win the trophy given to any team winning five consecutive games.

Bright Lights... And Dim

By TROY IRVINE

Even the imagination of Don Quixote would have been staggered at the variety and number of bistros in the Valley of the Sun. From Peoria to Apache Junction the neon lights signal Bohemia; pleasure in dining, dancing, or just diversion. BRIGHT LIGHTS AND DIM will attempt to serve as a guide to the pleasure seeker and I hope this critic's choices will be your choices.

Folk singer Dolan Ellis of the New Christy Minstrels last night opened his own folk spot in Scottsdale. The first-nighter of DOLAN'S was praised by the critics, who enjoyed the plush, unique interior decor and the young singer's vocal stylings.

Recording "Green, Green" before leaving the Minstrels, Ellis has cut an album in Los Angeles on Reprise label which is now available.

Notice to minors: DOLAN'S has a No. 6 license. That means hard liquor served and no admittance at the door.

Two gala openings of teen night clubs, or "coke bars," spark this evening's night light — one in the village and the other in Scottsdale.

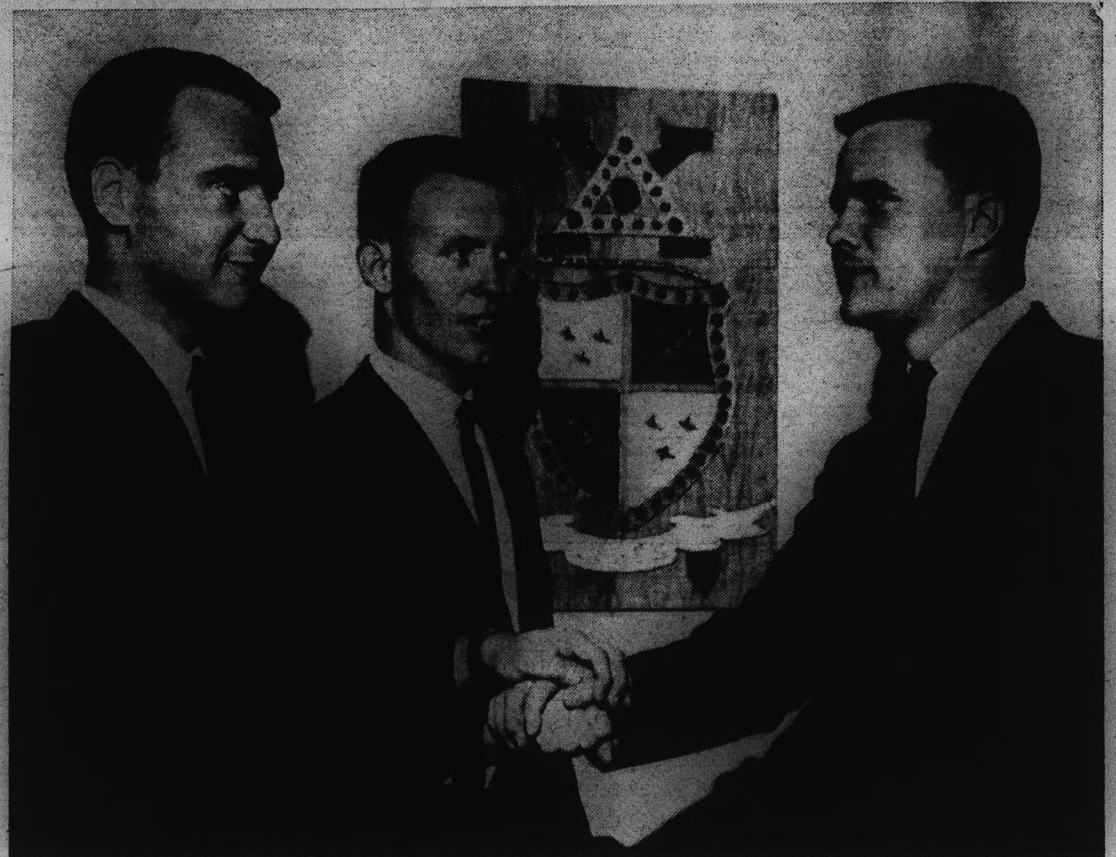

On the homefront, entertainer and promoter Bo-be Boston reopens the SUGAR SHACK which was short-lived this fall. It seems that Boston and Tempe officials finally are squared away over a building permit.

Dance music will be provided by well-known Carl La Rue and His Crew. This is the Negro rhythm and blues group that played to full houses at the RATHSKELLER last summer and rates as No. 1 in this columnist's opinion.

If the twangy guitars and screaming sax aren't enough, Boston promises attractive hostesses and a game room complete with pinball machines.

Good luck to fellow columnist and record producer Jack Curtis on his opening tonight in Scottsdale of STAGE 7, teen dance spot. Already going strong with his Phoenix Stage 7, the city's most popular club, Curtis is bringing in the Heartbeats minus leader Richie Hart who is in the Army. The club will be in the VFW Hall, which has been getting a facelifting all week.

People Needed

The MU Birthday Party steering committee is being organized under the chairmanship of Christine Kajakawa. Interested students may volunteer for committee work by leaving their name at the MU information desk before Jan. 17.

The party commemorates the completion of the MU and will be April 6 to 11.

Education Offers Language Class

A special workshop in teaching language to the deaf will be offered by the College of Education next semester.

Dr. Willard Abraham, chairman of the department of educational services, said the course is aimed at both regular classroom teachers and specialists working with the deaf.

The workshop meets the methods requirement for the Arizona Special Education Certificate.

The workshop will be conducted at West Phoenix High School. Registration will take place in room 332 of the school's West Annex, 2042 W. Thomas, at 6 p.m. Feb. 3. Enrollment is limited. Pre-registration may be made by writing Dr. Abraham.

Tryouts Set For Musical 'Fantastics'

Tryouts for the musical comedy, "The Fantastics," will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. Sunday and Monday in Arts 213.

Eight men and one woman are required for the cast and all but three of the male roles are singing parts. Dance training is preferred but not essential.

Those auditioning should be prepared to sing a part from "The Fantastics" or another musical comedy. Accompanists and scripts will be provided.

The music director is Kenneth Seipp and the drama director is Donald Doyle.

The first of nine performances is scheduled for Mar. 12.

This will be the first time "The Fantastics" has been presented in the Valley. It is a modernized "Romeo and Juliet" taken from the one-act French play, "The Romantics."

For further information, contact Donald Doyle, extension 3437, in the Lyceum.

Collected Works Of Photographer To Be Shown

Prof. Jack Stuler, instructor in photography, this week announced a month-long display of a collection of the work of nationally known photographer Brett Weston.

Housed in the lobby of the Arts building, the collection will be available for viewing until after the end of semester break on Jan. 31.

Hours are 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday, and from 8:30 a.m. to noon on Saturdays.

Included among the 50 black and white prints are samples of one of Weston's specialty, beach scenes, taken near his home in the Pt. Lobos-Carmel area of the Central California coast.

Several scenes taken near Glen Canyon in northern Arizona also are on display.

Weston had a "White Sands" portfolio published in 1948 and others published in 1956 and 1963.

MAYBE I'M CRAZY BUT . . .

Phrateres Book Exchange Planned To Help Students

Phrateres will conduct a book exchange in MU 7 Jan. 22 to Feb. 3.

The off-campus women's society will collect student's books Jan. 22, 23, and 24 from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Jan. 25 from 8:30 a.m. to 12.

Students will not receive any money until their books have been sold. They will receive a receipt for their books and will be able to set the price at which they want their books sold.

Books will be sold on Jan. 30 and 31 from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and on Feb. 3 from 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon. Students whose books have been sold will be notified and upon presentation of their receipt will receive their money.

Chemists Slate Two Seminars

Dr. Bertram Zaslow, professor of chemistry, will speak at the weekly chemistry seminar at 3:40 p.m. today in PSB 134.

He will speak on "The Crystalline Nature of Starch." Dr. Zaslow has devoted much of his research effort here to the crystalline and structural features of starch.

A special seminar was conducted at 3:40 p.m. Tuesday. Speaker for this joint meeting of the physics and chemistry seminars was Dr. Donald A. McQuarrie of the department of chemistry at Michigan State. He spoke on "Virial Coefficients and the Classical Theory of Fluids for the Square Well Potential."

Sun Devil Win Streak Ends At 52

END AT 52 — Art Becker and Joe Caldwell battle for a rebound as Seattle's Greg Vermillion (41) looks on. The Devils dropped the game, 100-96, to end the home win streak at 52.

Colorado State's Rams To Play Here Tomorrow

By AL MICHAELS

Its lengthy home court winning skein snapped over the holiday, Arizona State's once-prominent basketball squad entertains defense-minded Colorado State tomorrow evening in Sun Devil Gymnasium.

A-State has managed but five victories in 11 engagements during the 1963-64 campaign and will be hard pressed to retain its Western Athletic Conference championship when league competition gets underway next weekend.

COACH NED Wulk's gang saw its 52 game home win streak halted last Saturday in a 100-96 loss to Seattle five days after they squeaked by Stanford, 61-60, on Joe Caldwell's last second tip-in.

The Devils made it two losses in a row Monday night when Jim (Bad News) Barnes' 30-point barrage led Texas Western to a 77-72 decision in El Paso.

In facing Colorado State tomorrow, ASU will be contending with the nation's number one defensive outfit. The Rams (7-3) have allowed opponents just 53.4 points per contest during its first 10 games.

CSU WILL open with Lonnie Wright (6-2) and Terry Matthews (5-10) at the guards, Gary Anderson (6-3) and Dave Sigafos (6-9) at the forwards and Sonny Bustion (6-7) at center. Sophomore Wright is the squad's leading scorer with a 14 point average.

The Devils will counter with Gary Senitza (6-2) and Dennis Dairman (6-5) in the backcourt, and Joe Caldwell (6-5), Dennis Hamilton (6-7) and Art Becker (6-8) up front.

Caldwell is the squad's leader in practically every department. The Los Angeles senior has averaged 21.4 points and 11.7 rebounds through the first 11 contests.

BECKER IS the leader in field goal and free throw percentage, clicking on 47.8 per cent from the floor and 87.5 from the line. The Phoenix product has averaged 18 points and 10.8 rebounds per outing.

Dairman has returned to the backcourt where he performed so admirably last season after opening this campaign in an ill-fated move at forward.

The Phoenix junior responded with a 25-point effort against the Miners Monday and appears to have regained the form that helped ASU to its 26-3 mark last year.

Off The Cuff

By JOE HEATH

A-State's football season was wrapped up on Nov. 30 with a 35-6 thrashing of the Wildcats from Arizona, but the Sun Devil 11 hasn't stopped making history just because the season ended.

A sports release from Wichita named two ASU players to the Shocker's 1963 All-Opponent team — halfback Charlie Taylor and fullback Tony Lorick. End Herman Harrison and guard Joe Kush were named to the second team.

Lorick and Harrison were named to Texas Western College All-Opponent team with tackle John Seedborg and quarterback John Jacobs winning second team nominations.

LORICK, TAYLOR and center Chris Stetzar won All-Conference honors for the Western Athletic Conference.

Jacobs represented the Sun Devils in the recent Challenge Bowl game in Corpus Christi, Tex., while Taylor scored a TD in a losing cause at the Hula Bowl in Hawaii.

Both Taylor and Lorick were standouts for the West in the East-West Shrine game played at Kezar Stadium in San Francisco. The game ended in a 6-6 tie.

THE MOST recent bit of news concerning A-State football that I've seen came from the Albuquerque Journal.

The lead on the story written by Sports Editor Leroy Bearman went like this — "Arizona State University is allegedly being investigated in the Los Angeles area by the NCAA for illegal payments to football players.

"The first tip on this came from an anonymous letter that would normally find its way into the waste basket. But a check with reliable sources close to ASU confirmed the report."

Bearman went on to say that "Fourteen per cent of the 1963 Sun Devil football roster are from the Los Angeles area while 28 percent are from the state of California."

BEARMAN WROTE THAT "If the investigation is completed within the next few days and confirms the charges, the Sun Devils could find themselves put on probation at the NCAA meeting in New York early next month (Jan.)."

A little further down in the story it says that "The ironic thing about the Arizona State situation is that ASU football coach Frank Kush has been mentioned as a successor to Marv Levy at Cal. One of the reasons Kush was reported to be high in the running was his recruiting success in getting California athletes away from their state university."

With all the professional drafts on top of this it seems to have been a fairly well rounded season for a team that didn't go to a post season bowl game or even win a league championship.

Soccer Club Plays KIFN

The ASU soccer team will meet KIFN for a match at 2 p.m. this Sunday at Green Valley Park in Phoenix.

This will be the last game of a series played between the two teams.

A-State has come out on top in two previous occasions by scores of 7-1 and 8-0.

A revised league schedule shows that season play will go on until March 28.

During this time the campus team will meet four other teams besides KIFN — the German student pilots from Williams Air Force Base, an American team also from Williams, Motorola and the Independents.

ASU Wrestlers Net Three Wins

Christmas vacation is over and the Sun Devil Wrestlers came home from Los Angeles with three wins out of four matches last weekend.

The Devils downed Cal Poly of Pomona 28-10, swamped Los Angeles State 30-10 and barely nosed out Long Beach State 20-17, before dropping a 23-11 decision to Cal Poly of San Luis Obispo.

Standout performer was Buzz Hays who won his 157-pound division in each match by pinning his man. A-State was forced to forfeit 10 points before each match because they could not field men in the 177 and heavy weight classes.

This weekend, A-State returns home to open their home dual meet schedule when they take on both Phoenix College and Arizona Western on Friday. Saturday, they travel to Tucson to face the UofA.

An additional worry to Coach Ted Bredehoff is that Tony Russo, the regular 147 pounder is injured. Russo is suffering from a rib injury, but Bredehoff feels he might be able to wrestle. In case Russo is unable, he will be replaced by Everett Pojman, a freshman.

To resolve his problem in the 177-pound class, Bredehoff will call on Ed Foy, a regular at 167. At present, Bredehoff is hoping for a solution to his lack of personnel at the heavy weight division.

Wrestlers Are Good Film Stars

A 35-minute instructional film, "Advance Techniques of Wrestling," featuring members of the Sun Devil wrestling team, is now available for distribution across the nation.

The film was designed for use at both the high school and college levels and includes 68

ASU's Gym Team Will Open Season

The Sun Devil gymnastics team opens the 1964 season tomorrow with a double dual meet against San Jose State and the University of California at San Jose.

California and the University of Washington are expected to be West Coast powerhouses this year.

A-State defeated San Jose, 89½-38½ last year, but did

Tempe Player To Be Devil

Larry Langford, a standout tackle at Tempe Union High School, has signed a letter of intent to play football at A-State.

Langford, a 6-1, 211 pounder, co-captained the Buffaloes, playing tackle on offense and linebacker on defense. He won the outstanding defensive award, averaging 20 unassisted and assisted tackles per game.

According to his coach, Eddie Mitchell, his defensive statistics were the best at Tempe High in eight years.

Langford also participates in basketball and track at Tempe. He plans to major in architecture.

The signing of Langford brings to four the number of Arizona prep footballers who signed ASU letters of intent.

The other three are halfback Bud Wiedoff of Glendale, tackle Curly Culp of Yuma and end Fred Carr of Phoenix Union.

Soccer Club Grabs Win

The Arizona State soccer team managed to collect enough members of its squad together on Jan. 2 to host a soccer game with the Congolese students, who were visiting on campus.

The outcome was a 3-2 victory for A-State. Pete Carillo scored two goals and Jemil Gunyuz added a third.

A post-game banquet was conducted by the A-State Soccer Club, in honor of the visiting students.

not meet Cal in dual match competition.

Top all-around man Jerry Stansbury has been hampered throughout practice sessions by a back injury. Nonetheless, Coach Norris Steverson tentatively has entered him in five events.

Others making the trip include Benny Bishop, Les Christianson, Norm Cox, Carl Fostick, Skip Johnson, Jim Nelson, Norman Witham and Chris Evans. Evans was a fourth place finisher in still rings at the NCAA meet last year.

Al Michaels Is New Boss

Al Michaels, assistant sports editor for the State Press, has been named sports editor for the spring semester.

Michaels, hailing from Los Angeles, is presently sports director for KASN, campus radio.

He is a sophomore majoring in Radio-TV.
