

Yearbook Editor Karen Hess Fired

Chairman Breaks Deadlocked Vote

By SHIRLEY DeMARKE and GORDON ROBBINS
Staff Editors

Senior Karen Hess, editor-in-chief of the 1963-64 Sahuaro, ASU yearbook, was removed from office yesterday by official action of the Board of Publications.

A three-to-three tie vote was reached after a two-hour hearing during the board's regular meeting.

The chairman of the board, Dr. Marvin Alisky, broke the tie with a vote approving Miss Hess' removal.

Miss Hess had been suspended from office Feb. 5 by action of Dick Finley, executive manager of ASASU. According to Finley, the suspension was made following consultation with Broderick Johnson, yearbook adviser, and Milton Bean, local representative of the Taylor Publishing Company, printers of the yearbook.

THE BOARD meeting yesterday opened with a motion by Prof. Robert Zacher of the advertising department, designed to clarify Miss Hess' position before the board.

The motion reaffirming her appointment as Sahuaro editor for the 1963-64 school year was made since the legality of the original suspension was in doubt. The motion was passed seven to one. Following a motion to proceed, board member George Stewart, ASASU first vice president, opened discussion by asking Finley his reasons for suspending Miss Hess.

FINLEY presented a memorandum accompanied by copies of letters between him and Miss Hess and the adviser in which the problem of meeting deadlines was discussed and Finley requested submission of a proposal in writing from Miss Hess for making up all back pages and bringing yearbook production up to date.

Other letters presented stated that a proposal had been submitted to Finley by Karen Hess and that the proposal was unsatisfactory. "To date I have received no evidence that would indicate improvement in the overall performance so I have no alternative but to relieve you from further duties and responsibilities as editor of the 1963-64 yearbook."

A LETTER from Finley to Johnson asked for recommendations of individuals to fill the position of temporary editor until such time as a new editor could be appointed by the Board of Publications.

The final letter from Johnson to Finley recommended junior Ann Schneider be appointed to fill that spot.

The memorandum from Finley addressed to the members of the board outlined these circumstances which the memorandum said preceded Finley's decision to suspend Miss Hess:

1—After the January 15th deadline we were 18 pages behind our contract of 130 pages for this date.

2—I was told by both Mr.

KAREN HESS

Johnson and Karen that we could not meet the required 100 pages for the February 2nd deadline — that the maximum would be 50 pages. 3—I asked Karen to submit a proposal for putting the yearbook on schedule. After receiving this proposal and checking with Photography I found they were shooting some of these pictures 16 days after the deadline on which she had proposed they were to be sent.

4—Taking into consideration that after February 2nd we would be 68 pages short of our contract requirements with a deadline on February 22nd of 100 pages I asked Karen to review this proposal and resubmit something more realistic.

5—Not receiving this proposal within a reasonable time (over 1 week) and with the February 2nd deadline fast approaching I asked Karen to come into my office. At this time I stated verbally to her essentially the same things stated in the January 29th letter."

After the reading of the memorandum and letters, George Stewart asked Miss Hess why deadlines were not being met. She replied that deadlines were being met but a lesser number

GRAND OPENING — The $764,732 Engineering Center wing opened for business this week with the completion of classrooms on two of the three-story building. The center will house laboratories and classrooms for (SP Photo by Larry Ward) the expanding college of Applied Arts and Sciences. Landscaping of the center's patio on the south end of the building will be completed soon, according to physical plant officials. Third floor to open in spring.

Four New Buildings Nearing Completion

By BOB MELBO

Classrooms in the nearly-completed new wing of the Engineering Center are being utilized this semester, according to John R. Ellingson, physical plant director.

Ellingson said the engineering addition started early in 1963, is in the final stages of completion. Classrooms in the structure have been finished, he said, and the contractor is completing laboratory facilities.

Landscaping and addition of railings to a staircase at the east end of the building will be installed soon, he said.

THE THIRD floor of the new building, Ellingson said, will be left vacant without partitions and will not be used this semester. Installation of labs and classrooms there are pending the appropriation of funds.

The building, designed by Ralph Haver and Associates, Phoenix, cost $784,732.

THE SEVENTH floor of Palo Verde West dormitory was structurally finished this week, Ellingson said, and interior framing and plumbing has started.

The building will be ready for September occupancy and will house 410 coeds.

Construction of the Forest Hydrology Laboratory, to be occupied in May, is 75 per cent built, Ellingson said.

Financed by the federal government, the three-level building will provide research laboratories for studies in forestry, watershed and related problems.

Grady Gammage Memorial auditorium is almost completed, Ellingson said, and will be ready for formal dedication in late spring.

WORKMEN are installing a 55-ton orchestra shell and finishing interior and exterior wall surfaces. Seats and carpeting will be installed by April. The auditorium will have 3,000 seats.

Be My Lollipop

Valentine's Day lollipops will be sold today in front of the MU by Quad residents in an effort to raise money for a dorm scholarship.

The sale, using the slogan, "Buy a Lollipop for Your Sweetheart," is one of the ways in which the Quad plans to finance the full scholarship it is offering, according to Jacque Greb, chairman of the scholarship committee.

First Endowment Of Proposed Ten Established Here

Plans for the first endowed professorship are being made. President Durham hopes "to secure additional outside support to permit the establishment of 10 endowed professorships in the next decade."

The first chair will bear the name of Paul V. Galvin, founder and past president of Motorola, Inc. The funds will be used for an engineering professorship.

Motorola has annually awarded $30,000 to the ASU Foundation during the past four years. This fund is expected to reach $150,000 with the fifth installment in the near future.

Interest from the fund will supplement the "highest possible salary" approved by the Board of Regents for a full professorship, according to Dr. Durham.

With this supplement, Dr. Durham hopes to add a professor with an international reputation in the engineering-scientist-mathematics field to the faculty.

The AWS dance, "Happiness Is . . . Leap Year," is scheduled for February 29 in the MU ballroom from 9 to midnight.

SHE GAVE as her reason that deadlines as originally listed in the contract had been impractical in view of the fact that the contract had been made so late in the year (Nov. 29). She said that deadlines had been revised after conference with the publisher's representative and that the number of pages required at each deadline had been reduced and two more deadlines added.

Finley stated that he was not aware of this agreement when he made his decision to suspend Miss Hess. He also stated that had he known of the agreement his decision for suspension would have been different.

Following further questioning of Miss Hess, Finley and Johnson by board members, George Stewart asked the chair if he could question Johnson as to the status of relations between Johnson and the editor. This was supplemented by questions to the five former section editors of the Sahuaro staff present at the hearing.

IN ANSWER to questions Johnson said the relationship was "not good. No cooperation. No organization." He said that for the last week (since the suspension of Miss Hess) the situation has become smooth, the relationship amiable and the operation efficient.

Petitions Offered

Nominating petitions for ASASU offices are now available in the Associated Students secretary's office, MU 202, according to Alan Bunch, chairman of the Election Board.

Petitions must be returned to MU 202 by 4 p.m. Feb. 26, Bunch said. The number of signatures required for nomination varies from office to office. The constitution says an office-seeker must obtain the number of signatures equal to 10 per cent of the number of votes recorded for that office in the last general election.

The primary election is scheduled for March 4. The general is set for March 11.

Why Editor Is Out

We believe that because of personality conflicts, those nebulous but very real conflicts that often do exist, Miss Karen Hess was officially removed as editor of the Sahuaro yearbook.

The Board of Publications' vote was the culmination of action taken Feb. 5 when Dick Finley, ASASU adviser and Sahuaro "overseer," temporarily relieved Karen of her duties after consultation with Sahuaro staff adviser, Mr. Broderick Johnson.

THE BOARD OF Publications is composed of seven voting members; the Sahuaro and State Press advisers and a chairman are non-voting members.

Voting members are: Dr. John White, professor of political science; Dr. Collice Portnoff, professor of English; Mr. Robert Zacher, professor of advertising; Dr. George Paulsen, assistant professor of history; two student government representatives, George Stewart and Charles Stewart, the Sahuaro editor and the State Press editor.

THE FIRST QUESTION was whether or not Karen's temporary suspension should be ratified by the board. But the matter was not so simple. Also at question was whether Finley had the authority to suspend Karen.

Mr. Edward Demson, legal adviser to ASU, said that he told Finley when he first took action that he didn't have the authority but that Finley acted anyway in hopes of ultimate ratification by the board.

The first vote taken was to reaffirm Karen as editor for matters of expediting the hearings. It was affirmed.

THEN STATEMENTS were presented for and against her permanent dismissal. The principle charge was that Karen failed to meet deadlines and an ultimatum was given her Jan. 29 by Finley. To remain as editor the ultimatum required Karen to submit a statement of how she and her staff proposed to meet the remaining deadlines and complete the yearbook.

This proposal required the signature of Johnson and the publishing representative, Mr. Bean. Johnson did not approve it and Bean's approval did not arrive until after Finley made his decision.

SO IT WAS A combination of slow postal service and personality conflict. We feel that had Bean's letter arrived by the deadline, Finley's actions might have been different.

Perhaps the problem should have been given more careful study and more time.

Though there were seven voting members (Karen was not allowed to vote on her own dismissal, of course), Dr. White had to leave minutes before the vote, thus narrowing it to six.

The proposal was, should Karen be removed as editor of the Sahuaro? The vote was three yeas and three nays, leaving the deciding vote for chairman of the board, Dr. Alisky.

WHEN DR. WHITE earlier left the room, he and Dr. Alisky conferred. Then as the deciding vote Dr. Alisky questioned whether Dr. White could vote by proxy. Demson stated there could be no proxy vote and that Dr. Alisky would have to break the tie.

Dr. Alisky stated that since Dr. White did express his opinion on the vote, he felt he should consider it and proceeded to vote as Dr. White intended, removing Karen as editor.

Many visitors present at the open meeting questioned whether or not Dr. Alisky's vote was, in fact, a proxy vote since he verbally expressed that his vote was being determined in part by Dr. White's opinion.

DEMSON DECIDED THAT it was not a proxy vote in fact, since Dr. Alisky cast the ballot himself.

It is always unfortunate when such circumstances as these arise, bringing a nasty end to what should be resolved in private between those involved.

Yesterday's meeting also pointed up the lack of explicit definition of the role of the adviser and his authority in conjunction with Finley, who is responsible for all ASASU projects. This area of question should be carefully defined to avoid such difficulties in the future.

Love Notes -

They All Send 'Em

By RONNIE GANTMAN

On Valentine's Day, everyone is busy sending their little greetings to friends and would-be friends. Even the world's leaders take time out from their busy schedules to send valentines. Here are just a few of these romantic little goodies.

Khrushchev to Castro

The Yankee Imperialists call you a war monger,
 But of you Fidel, we couldn't be fonder.
 Continue to give the free world needles,
 And remain one of our hairy faced Beatles.

Parliament to Christine Keeler

We've all head about your infamous laurels
 In regard to your somewhat shaky morals;
 But we all know how wonderful you truly are,
 How about ruining the cabinet in the USSR?

Goldwater to Rocky

Be my valentine Rocky ol' pal
 And remember to say hi to your happy new gal;
 I'm not quite sure if it will hurt your race,
 But I think I'll stick mine out, just in case.

Bobby Baker to LBJ

I'd send you something besides this small humble verse
 If it would not arrive in a political hearse;
 Something like a recorder, a stereo or such,
 Or perhaps Barry Goldwater's slightly used crutch.

Rocky to Goldwater

Upon political issues we don't agree,
 But always be faithful to the GOP;
 So be my valentine and I'll send my salutations,
 And if elected, make you ambassador to the United Nations.

Khrushchev to the United States

I'll send you a card if you'll send me some wheat,
 Then I'll send you my love for just some meat;
 And send machines, we need them too,
 If we are ever going to bury you.

Nixon to GOP

If you, dear valentine, give me one more try
 I'll do anything to win, even cry.
 Just one request to keep from a mess,
 Keep me away from the darn U.S. press.

AMA to the American People

"Quit smoking valentine," the doctors all say,
 "You are shortening your life every single day."
 But who, oh who is afraid of cancer
 When we all know booze IS the only answer?

Letters To The State Press

TO THE EDITOR:

The newly revised ASASU constitution, which will be soon placed before the students for ratification, is the result of hours of hard work and much Senate controversy.

It is basically a good one because it replaces our present antiquated document, but it is specifically a poor one because it delegates complete executive authority to a possible clique.

The crux of the controversy is Part A, Section 1 of Article VII. This section provides that the ASASU president, first vice president, activities vice president, the new administrative vice president, AMS president and AWS president shall have at least junior standing (75 semester hours credit) at the time of candidacy. This literally gives the ASASU steering wheel to a senior clique.

Granted the responsibilities of the ASASU presidency should be delegated to a senior, but why all the other top elected administrative officers also?

Why should an otherwise qualified junior be disqualified from holding a given of-ice, because he is not a senior?

Apparently we must resign ourselves to having a whole set of new and inexperienced administrative officers each year.

Several of the senators feel that the constitution should place the class qualifications for the ASASU vice president and AMS and AWS presidents at "not less than" 45 hours.

The question is whether or not it is in the best interest of our student government to have a senior-dominated Executive Council. We do not believe it is.

TO THE EDITOR:

There can be no question that one, calling himself a student, is entitled to suitable study environment in his dorm. That he doesn't have it is a serious handicap and deprivation, but I doubt that calling the non-serious student "an animal" is the answer.

Neither does Dr. Hamm have the answer with his suggestion of selecting residents from those with the highest grades.

Selection of residents for a privileged dorm should be limited to those who can benefit most from it, regardless of grades. These residents should be restricted to those who, by nature, can tolerate a studious dorm even after their assignments are completed. I've no doubt whatever that a dorm could be filled with such students.

Given an opportunity, I feel sure that serious, dependable students desiring better study conditions would come forward and request admission to such a dorm. There are many living off campus now for the simple reason that they know they cannot produce in the midst of a circus and have given up on dorm discipline.

Let me urge the administrators who will make the decision on who is to live in the special dorm to forget grades as a basis of choice and give first consideration to those who can benefit most from improved study conditions.

When four (4) members of this committee consent, the proposal shall be reported to the Senate for majority agreement. When this is obtained, the text of the proposed amendment shall be published as soon as possible in the University paper. Within fifteen (15) days of its first publication, the Senate shall submit the proposed amendment to the members of the Associated Students in an election for ratification. The Senate shall declare it passed and the Constitution amended thereby if such proposal receives a majority of the votes cast in such election and the approval of the President of the University.

ARTICLE X
Ratification
This Constitution shall become effective immediately upon ratification by a majority vote at a special election of the Associated Students and upon receiving the approval of the President of the University.

Passes By 18-10 Decision; Amendment Attempt Fails

By BRET BATCHELOR

The Senate approved the revised Associated Students Constitution Wednesday after an attempt to amend it failed.

The vote was 18 to 10, with two abstaining. In the present constitution, AWS presidential candidates must be juniors with at least 75 semester hours credit.

Candidates for the AMS presidency need 45 hours credit.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL Revision Committee changed the requirements for AMS presidential candidates from 45 to 75 hours.

But, an amendment from the Senate floor to change the requirement for both AMS and AWS presidential candidates to 45 hours passed after heated debate.

The Senate approved the constitution and sent it to a student-faculty committee which promptly changed the AMS hours ruling back to 75 hours.

Under the new constitution the administrative vice president will replace the representatives from the four executive boards on the Executive Council.

This would mean that all members on the council, the principal administrative agency of ASASU, would be seniors.

TO MAKE it possible for a junior to get on the council, an amendment was again made Wednesday to change it from 75 to 45 hours for a candidate to run for AMS and AWS president.

The amendment was defeated.

With no further discussion, a vote was called and the constitution approved.

Students will vote on ratification of the constitution at a special election next Wednesday.

If it is ratified, it will then go to President Durham for final approval.

adequate statement of the situation. Hutchins said he felt the adviser had not been proceeding with direction in the best interests of the publication.

FINLEY SAID he felt discussions of personal points were irrelevant. Stewart replied he wanted to continue. He then asked former Sahuaro Activities Editor Janet Bergman if she felt the operation had been running successfully. She said yes. She stated she felt the problem was one of differences of concept concerning the editor's position and responsibilities between the editor and the adviser.

Following another question concerning deadlines from Prof. Zacher, Miss Hess stated that Bean had told her, that, as of last Thursday, the yearbook was on schedule as per the revised deadlines.

George Stewart asked E. J. Demson, University special services director and board legal adviser as to the status of relationship and responsibility which should exist between a Sahuaro editor and the adviser.

Demson replied that the adviser was in the position of consultant and it is the prerogative of the editor to accept or refuse his suggestions. However, he said the adviser had a responsibility to the financial manager (Finley) insofar as financial matters are concerned. GEORGE STEWART at this point moved that Karen Hess be removed as Sahuaro editor. The motion was seconded by Charles Stewart, student manager at large.

Miss Hess then recounted her activities between the time she received notification of her suspension and the meeting of the board. She said she contacted the board chairman, Dr. Alisky, and asked what she should do. She said he told her to return to work pending a board meeting.

She said she did so, but later that day was called aside by Johnson and told that Ann Schnieder had been appointed temporary editor and that she should leave the office. She again contacted Dr. Alisky and was advised to stay away from the office until the board meeting.

Miss Hess stated that a number of staff members left with her.

MISS HESS stated that on the same day the lock on the door of the Sahuaro office was changed. Finley said the locks were changed because members of the staff had said that if Miss Hess was removed the yearbook would be "scuttled."

After a few more moments of discussion George Stewart called for the question and a vote was taken by secret ballot.

Only six of the eight members of the board balloted: Miss Hess abstained and Dr. John White of the political science department left the meeting shortly before the vote to attend to urgent business.

A count of the ballots revealed the board deadlocked 3 to 3. Under board regulations, the board chairman has the responsibility to break the tie.

After Dr. Alisky cast the deciding vote, George Stewart moved that the question of appointment of a new editor be tabled until the next meeting. The motion passed. The board chairman set the next meeting for Monday at 2 p.m.

Faculty-Student Forum To Meet

The Faculty-Student Relations Forum will meet at 7 p.m., next Wednesday in the MU upper lounge. Discussion topic will be "Do students reap the Benefits offered by Universities?"

Panelists will be George Hamm, dean of men; John B. Duffy, director of Campus Security; and Daryl Winn, AS-ASU president.

Included in the discussion will be student apathy concerning student government facilities, involvement of students and the law and use of university scholastic aids.

There will be a question-and-answer period at the conclusion.

Works Of Art Being Shown

An exhibition of drawings and prints by Umberto Boccioni went on display yesterday in the MU upper lounge. The exhibition will end March 7.

The show illustrates the different stages which Boccioni went through by presenting different works which characterize the art styles of the 20th Century.

The works are being made available by The Museum of Modern Art, New York City.

Arrangements to bring the art show here were made by the Cultural Affairs Committee in cooperation with the Art Department Exhibition Committee.

NO!

DON'T BOTHER TO CARRY AN EXTRA SUPPLY.

New Carefree* tampons promise so much more protection—you can leave the extras at home!

The principle of this superior protection is simple, natural. Most old-style tampons flatten, thin out, elongate when moisture strikes. This shape simply cannot cover the area of flow properly. Thus embarrassing accidents occur.

But a Carefree tampon (firmly compressed so it needs no rigid applicator) expands into a natural, round shape that conforms to your own body's structure, responds to your own body's needs. It gives you more comfort than any tampon or napkin ever developed.

Actual use tests proved that the new Carefree tampon absorbs, without leakage, 73% more than the leading tampon—starts to absorb more quickly than any other.

Better protection—longer protection. That's why you can leave that extra supply at home.

*Trademark

†Because Carefree is far more absorbent, there is no need for a Carefree super size. If you are using tampons for the first time, you may wish to try Carefree Slim (the smaller size).

Experiment Proves New Greenish-White Light Is Best

In an effort to constantly improve the living and, more important the study conditions in men's dormitories, the Housing Office conducted a lighting experiment last semester at Hayden Hall.

The experiment consisted of two types of florescent lighting. A greenish-white light was used on one side of the room and the standard cool-white light was used on the other side.

GRADUATING seniors Mike Bennett and Lester Bethal's room was chosen for the experiment. Bennett said concerning the new lighting: "The new lighting makes it easier to study because it is easier on your eyes. With the great coverage of light, I can read while I am in bed because there is no shadow as before with the desk spot lighting arrangement."

Bethal agreed with his roommate and added: "With the florescent type of lighting, numbers and print on pages appear more sharply and there is less eye strain. Before my eyes would tire after looking at figures for any length of time."

The light experiment was a success and installation has begun on the second and third floors and will be completed in several weeks.

173 Rushees Up For Bids

By BILL QUAYLE

"Tis the season to be rushing," seems to best fit the atmosphere around campus this week as 173 men invade Alpha and Adelpi drives.

Throughout the week fraternities have been holding smokers and preference parties as part of their formal rush program.

Bids are to be picked up and signed today by potential rushees in the MU ballroom from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

While fraternities are busy going through formal rush, sororities begin their annual informal rush. According to Assistant Dean of Women Dorris, those women interested in going through informal rush should sign up in the Dean of Womens Office, located in the MU.

OUR NEIGHBORS to the South (south of the Gila that is) have invited ASU's Panhellenic executive council to their workshop, scheduled for Feb. 29.

After participating in the U's "show and tell" workshop, ASU's Panhellenic Council will return to Tempe where they will conduct their own workshop on March 2 to 3.

ASU will play host this semester to the Western Regional Interfraternity Council convention to be held at the Valley Ho April 23 to 25.

According to WRIFC President Bob Bonitati, the theme of this convention will be "Ideas Unlimited."

The purpose of the meeting is to introduce new and improved ideas about the fraternity system to Western chapters. Executives from many nationals will attend.

RUSH TOTALS show 154 men will be initiated into fraternities. Of these 154 men, Alpha Epsilon Pi will initiate 8, Alpha Gamma Rho 1, Alpha Rho Chi 7, Alpha Tau Omega 12, Delta Sigma Phi 7, Delta Chi 9, Kappa Sigma 7 and Lambda Chi Alpha 3.

Also, Delta Colony of Phi Gamma Delta 9, Phi Kappa Psi 6, Phi Sigma Kappa 5, Pi Kappa Alpha 9, Sigma Alpha Epsilon 17, Sigma Chi 19, Sigma Nu 10, Sigma Phi Epsilon, 19, Theta Chi 8 and Theta Delta Chi 8.

Men Petition To Stop Coeds From Smoking

"We, the undersigned, recognizing that the official campaign against smoking is now underway — and having been oft repelled from beautiful campus coeds by the oozing of odoriferous and health-damaging smoke from their mouths and nostrils — hereby form a new and controversial extension of this movement to be known as: Men Against Beautiful Women Smokers."

Mike Farien, Dean Helland . . . and over 140 other men signed this petition for the sake of beauty as well as health.

Helland says that for every three men that saw the petition, two signed. Of the more than 200 men approached, only four were completely negative.

"Among foreign students the petition was quite a novelty. Several foreign students in separate accounts expressed opinions which equated smoking with immorality as far as women are concerned. These students did not sign, by the way," stated Helland.

Comments from the signees ranged from: "Some girls manage to smoke inconspicuously and don't bother me much, but most of them are so obnoxious with it," to "Do you think it will do any good?" One male exclaimed, "I'll sign anything!"

One man said, "I'd sign, but my girl would kill me" while another asked, "Isn't this rather Victorian?"

Greeks To Sell Theater Tickets

Tickets are being sold for Friday's performance of "Naughty Mareta" at the Phoenix Star Theater by members of Panhellenic and IFC. The ticket booth, in front of the MU, will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The booth will operate throughout the theater season. Tickets are priced at $3, $4, $4.75 and $5.50.

The Hot Spot

By AL MICHAELS
Sports Editor

Few people, indeed, in the history of civilization have had the ability to gaze into the future and accurately forecast the events that have molded the destiny of man. Millions have tried but their attempts have usually proven futile in the long run.

Nevertheless, predicting is fun and, in rare cases, profitable. So let's take a look into the remaining 10½ months of 1964 and see what our somewhat deformed crystal ball foresees:

FEB. 25 — The National

Football League will announce its intention to play the 1964 championship game in Sun Devil stadium. The Board of Regents will nix the proposal, explaining it might interfere with the attendance at the Phoenix Union-South Mountain water polo match in late June.

March 10 — Bonanza Air Lines will inaugurate a 47-stop economy run to Mesa. Also a non-stop to 40th and McDowell. Stewardesses will circulate a hat labeled "Tips for the Pilot."

March 12 — The government of South Viet Nam will be overthrown.

April 7 — Ullis Williams will run the 440 in ASU's intramural track meet. He'll run the first

Intramurals

Intramural tennis draws to a close this week as Garth Smith goes against Gerry Still in the semi-final match today at 3:30 p.m.

Relying on a strong net game and good ground strokes, Still will encounter the solid all-around play of Smith, who last week downed Dick Hawkins and earned the shot at semi-finals.

The winner of this match will vie against Paul Collum whose strong back court game and solid ground attack has left him undefeated thus far in competition.

Collum's main weak point is that of a poor net game, a strong point of both Smith and Still. The finals are set for 3:30 p.m. Wednesday at the courts across from the Sun Devil gym.

Cougars, Utes In WAC Tilts

Fairchild Is BYU's Hope Against Sun Devils Tonight

By JOHN NADEL

The Sun Devils will finally have the percentages with them as they host BYU and Utah this weekend in their first conference home games of the campaign.

Thus far in the WAC, home teams have won eight of the ten contests played. A-State holds one of these two road victories, a 67-66 squeaker over Arizona last week.

The Devils will engage Brigham Young tonight. The Cougars will bring the top scorer in the WAC, 6-8 junior center John Fairchild. In three conference games, in which BYU is 1-2, Fairchild is hitting at a 26.3 clip.

OTHER COUGAR standouts include forward Bob Quinney, averaging 15 points per game in the league, Mike Gardner, with a 13 point average and Steve Kramer, scoring at an 11 point clip.

The Cougars are 9-9 this season and bring a high scoring team to A-State. They have averaged over 80 points per conference game.

Tomorrow night the Devils host the league-leading Redskins. Utah is 3-0 in league play, with an 18-3 seasonal mark.

As the three Ute league wins have come at home, this will definitely be their weekend of decision. The Redskins visit Arizona tonight.

LEADING UTAH is guard Doug Moon, who coach Jack Gardner calls, "The finest clutch performer I've ever had." Moon is scoring at an 18.3 rate in the league, and has averaged 18.2 points per game over the season.

Moon's running mate at guard is Skip Kroeger, who, with Moon, has given the Utes perhaps the outstanding back court combination in the league. Kroeger is scoring at a 12.3 clip in the WAC, with a 13.3 average overall.

A pleasant surprise for Utah has been sophomore forward George Fisher, who is scoring close to 16 points per game in the league, and 13.2 throughout the season.

Other Redskin starters include forward Spence Thurgood and center Dennis Couch.

IN LATEST WAC statistics, A-State's Caldwell is third in scored with a 23.7 merger in the conference. Art Becker is sixth in this department with 17.0 points per contest.

BACKCOURT STARTERS — Gary Senitza (left) and Rich Coppola will open at the guards tonight when Arizona State hosts

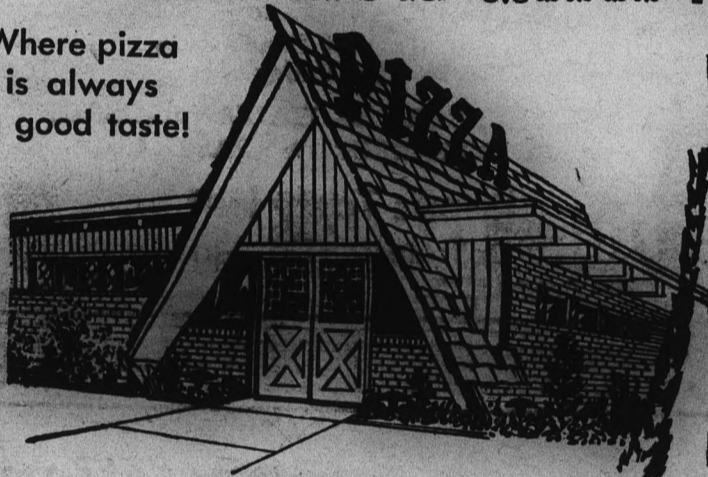

Brigham Young in a Western Athletic Conference tilt. ASU will also see action tomorrow night against Utah.

Wrestlers Test Utah

By MIKE HELFNER

Does one man make a wrestling team? Generally the answer is no, but with the Sun Devils, the answer might be yes. The man in question is Fred Wilcox, the newest of A-State's wrestlers.

Wilcox stands 6 feet 4 and weighs about 250 pounds. At his first appearance last Monday night he pinned his opponent in short order.

A-State is 6-4 for the season and if you look at the losses, a win in the heavyweight class could have given the Devils each match.

WILCOX WILL be given another chance to show his stuff when the Devils meet the University of Utah this afternoon in Sun Devil gym. The match has been rescheduled from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Monday, A-State will travel to take on the PC Bears in Phoenix.

Coach Ted Bredehoff feels the Devils can take both matches.

Bredehoff believes the toughest match Friday will be in the 147-pound class when Tony Russo (6-2) meets Dave Robinson (10-1-1).

A SWITCH in Devil plans has Buzz Hays and Ed Foy exchanging weight classes. Hays will wrestle at 167, while Foy will compete at 157.

A-State carries a powerful one-two-three punch in 10-0 Manual Aragon wrestling at 123 pounds, 10-0 Hays and Wilcox.

Against PC, the Devils might have a breather. Earlier in the year, A-State beat them 21-8.
