

Primary Elections Slated For Today

Shot In Back -

ASU Sophomore Wounded Seriously

A sophomore who was shot and wounded in the back Monday at a Tempe service station was reported in serious condition late yesterday afternoon. Tempe police charged two suspects in the case last night.

Tempe Community Hospital originally reported the condition of 24-year-old Garland Douglas Cotney of Winslow, as fair earlier yesterday, but changed the report to serious shortly after 4 p.m.

Suspects are Robert Earle Chapman, 29, and Edward Smith, 48, both of Rt. 1, Box 732, Tempe.

They appeared before Justice of the Peace Ralph Fowler late yesterday and were charged with assault with intent to commit robbery and assault with a deadly weapon. Both waived preliminary hearing. Bond was set at $5,000 for each.

Cotney is an electronic technology major in the School of Engineering.

Cotney was shot in the back about 6:30 p.m. Monday at a service station at Mill and Southern avenues during a robbery attempt. He is an attendant at the station.

According to police, Cotney

10 Students Participate In Workshop

Ten students are attending a legislative workshop today in the Arizona State Legislature, Phoenix.

The workshop, sponsored by the National Council for Education in Politics, will be attended by students from ASU, UofA and ASC. It will run through Friday. Attending the workshop are Leonard F. Amari, Marilyn Fullerton, Sandra Day, Harry Mitchell and Roberta Taylor, Hubert Ferrell, Noel Hamilton, Rose Ann Herman, George Runkle and Mrs. Robert Taylor. Mr. Leo Vichules, political science instructor, is the faculty adviser for the group.

Students will be divided into two groups. Students selected for one group will be assigned to a state legislator from whom they will learn the daily functions of a legislator.

Another group will attend committee meetings or other group legislative activities.

Dean Dorris Discusses AS Elections

Student government can be strong only if the student body takes a greater interest in participating, according to Dean Jo F. Dorris.

By way of illustration, Dean Dorris pointed out that few petitions for candidacy were circulated on campus for today's elections. There are only two candidates for the offices of president of AS, AMS and AWS.

While these candidates are well qualified, Mrs. Dorris feels there are equally qualified students who did not enter the election.

She hopes that students will make a careful study of the candidates and vote on the basis of ability, without letting bias or affiliation enter in.

was on duty at the station when a car carrying two men drove up. They demanded money.

Yesterday police said they had established that Cotney was shot when he turned away from the car after refusing to turn over money from the station cash box to the pair.

A vehicle found abandoned in a ditch at Alameda and Rural Roads later Monday was traced to Smith, police said yesterday. A shotgun and a .38 caliber pistol found near the auto, were both traced to Chapman, according to police.

Dick Finley Given Vote Of Confidence

The Board of Financial Control completed action on three major considerations during its meeting Monday.

On a motion by George Stewart, the board voted unanimously to "back the action of Dick Finley (Associated Students executive manager) to insure the financial solvency of the yearbook."

The enactment gave Finley authority to act within his discretion on Sahuaro financial matters.

The reason given for this action was that the Board of Publications was established by the AS Senate, yet it does not have direct financial liability for its activities as does the Board of Financial Control.

Board members felt they should have the authority to control the financial activities of the Sahuaro.

In other action, the Student Leadership Board was denied $780 for a 30-member delegation to the Student Leadership Workshop which will be held in Flagstaff.

Discussion of the request concerned the impracticability of the date of the workshop. It is scheduled for the weekend of March 14 to 15, before mid-term exams.

Associated Students now sends delegates to three workshops. The board felt that many who attend this workshop would also go to the spring Payson Workshop or the Summer Workshop.

The board felt that although there are many good workshops for interested students, it was necessary to draw the line somewhere.

The board also decided to provide a pep band for home basketball games by appropriating $290 for red vests and musical arrangements.

50 Candidates Vie For 29 AS Offices

By FRANK DUCGESCHI
Assignments Editor

All Associated Student government offices, with the exception of the AS activities vice presidency and AS secretarship, will be decided in today's primary election.

The number of candidates running for AS activities vice president and AS secretary will be cut to two in today's primary. The two finalists will run again in the general election, March 11.

Approximately 4,200 students are expected to vote, according to Alan Bunch, chairman of the Election Board. This revised estimate is slightly higher than an earlier one made by Bunch.

Campaigning has been slowed somewhat by adverse weather conditions, but should bounce back to normal today, Bunch said.

The rain yesterday soaked many of the posters and banners erected Monday. However, new ones were up by yesterday afternoon.

No violations of the election code in reference to campaigning have been brought to Bunche's attention. But, he warned, campaigning within 50 feet of polling places would not be permitted.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. in three areas of campus. Voting booths will be located at the south end of the Palo Verde bridge, in front of the Matthews Library and on the southwest corner of College Avenue and Orange Street.

Bunch pointed out that students must present ID cards in order to vote. All students can vote on four ballots; class, college, AMS or AWS, and AS.

IBM ballots will be used. This means voters must use IBM pencils to fill in the circles to make their ballot valid, Bunch said. IBM machinery will not count marks made by ordinary pencils or pens, he said.

The punch card system of balloting makes vote counting faster and is more accurate than counting by hand, according to Bunch.

Results of the election will be posted at approximately 9:30 p.m. today in the MU barring complications, Bunch said.

Queen To Be Chosen For MU Birthday Party

A queen will be chosen to reign over the Golden Age of Elizabeth, according to the MU Birthday Party Committee.

The candidates will be judged by a panel made up of faculty members and Valley residents. Poise, personality, costume, "regal appearance," general appearance and speaking quality will be considered in the selection. Each girl will speak for three minutes on any phase of the Elizabethan Era.

Petitions for queen candidates are now available in the activities center, MU 212. Any sorority, fraternity, dorm or other campus organization is eligible to nominate a coed.

The petitions must be turned in by March 18 instead of March 11, the original date set for returning petitions.

The queen will be presented at a masque on April 9. She will attend all birthday party activities and will serve as official hostess for the Golden Age of Elizabeth.

TRYOUTS TO BEGIN

Tryouts for the University Players production, "Beggar on Horseback," will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. tonight in the Lyceum.

Student Government Needs Your Vote

Noted Columnist -

American Affairs Writer To Speak

Stewart Alsop, syndicated American national affairs writer, will address students at 8:15 p.m. Friday in the MU Ballroom on "What's Beyond Today's Headlines."

Alsop, a contributing editor to the Saturday Evening Post and a syndicated columnist, will be presented as part of the ASU Concert and Lecture Series.

Students will be admitted free upon presentation of ID cards. Others can purchase tickets at the door for $1.50.

Although he lives in Washington D.C., Alsop travels extensively in the United States and abroad to gather information for his articles. He also has authored several books.

Prior to joining the Post in 1958, Alsop co-authored with his brother Joseph, the syndicated column "Matter of Fact" which appeared in more than 200 U.S. and foreign newspapers.

A great nephew of Theodore Roosevelt, Alsop is a graduate of Yale University. Before World War II he was an editor for Doubleday, Doran and Co., book publishers.

In World War II he joined the King's Royal Rifle Corps, a British regiment, and commanded a machine gun platoon in Italy. In 1944 he transferred to the American Army.

Traffic Control Deemed Costly, Not Necessary

The recent traffic control experiment conducted by Campus Security on the corner of College Avenue and Orange Street showed the gain achieved is not worth the expense involved, according to John B. O'Leary, assistant director of the department.

Traffic moved through the intersection a little faster, but pedestrians gained only a small margin of safety by manual supervision, O'Leary said.

"The additional payroll to assign patrolmen for traffic control is too costly for the gain accomplished," O'Leary stated. "A traffic control light can do the job at less cost, but would not be as effective because of the fluctuating traffic load. A mechanical signal does not allow for fluctuation."

As the intersection is the responsibility of Tempe, either the city or the University, with the city's permission, would have to finance the signal's installation, and as neither would gain, both are reasonably reluctant to spend the money, O'Leary stated.

Series Continue

Dr. Paul Van Arsdell will conduct a faculty research seminar, "Underlying Issues in Education for Business," at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Business Administration Building. This is the fifth of a series.

Dr. Van Arsdell is head of the department of finance at the University of Illinois. The public is invited to attend.

Special Library Planned

An ASU Forum Reading Room for political science and economic literature is being planned for the MU basement, according to the library chairman, Ray Everett.

Scheduled for completion in approximately one month, the library will be opened for students and faculty.

The library will be located in the MU storage room opposite the University Bookstore, textbook division. A new storage room has been built on the same floor.

The forum committee has worked on the idea since September. They are making final plans for furnishing the room and categorizing the current political science and economics books and periodicals already obtained.

Books on related subjects will be added.

Senator Introduces Scholarship Cut

By JAN BERGMAN

A bill to decrease the number of scholarships granted by Arizona's universities, college and junior colleges to out-of-state students was introduced into the state senate yesterday.

Designed to limit scholarships to graduates of Arizona high schools, the bill would affect all state-sponsored scholarships, not only athletic scholarships, according to Sen. Ray Thompson, D-Yuma, one of the bill's sponsors.

If the bill is passed, no less than 80 per cent of all state-sponsored scholarships would be granted to Arizona residents.

About 35 per cent of all Board of Regents scholarships go to out-of-state students, according to Dr. Joseph E. Spring, director of ASU's News Bureau.

However, this figure includes the scholarships granted to foreign students, under the Regents' program for foreign students, he said.

The scholarships granted are a remission of fees, he pointed out, and the top scholarship would be $830.

Army ROTC Schedules Inspection, Annual Formal

The 1964 Annual Formal and General Inspection of the Army ROTC detachment will take place March 10 to 11, when a team of three inspectors from the 15th Army Corps, visits the campus.

On March 10, inspectors will review the cadets on the drill field. They will tour the campus and visit ROTC classes on March 11.

Other activities include visits with William J. Burke, dean of the graduate college and Karl H. Dannenfeldt, dean of the college of liberal arts.

Plant To Install New Refrigeration

Installation of an additional 1,000 tons of refrigeration equipment to the Central Plant, located behind East Hall, will be started soon, according to John R. Ellingson.

The equipment, costing $241,833, will be utilized to cool new campus buildings now in various stages of construction.

These include the Grady Gammage Memorial Auditorium, Palo Verde West Dormitory, Literature and Language Building, Industrial Design and Technology Building, and an addition to the Engineering Center.

Additional equipment will boost refrigeration capacity of the Central Plant to 3,000 tons. Another 2,000 tons are spread about the campus in older buildings, in units from 15 to 150 tons each, Ellingson said.

ELLINGSON explained that ASU is gradually switching to central, rather than separate building refrigeration because of savings in cost and operation.

Central plant refrigeration equipment circulates water chilled to 40-45 degrees through closed circulation underground pipes to connected buildings.

In the buildings the water is pumped through radiators, very much like those found in automobiles. Air is blown through the radiators and circulated throughout the building.

The chilled water, warmed slightly to 55 degrees, is returned to the Central Plant, chilled again, and recirculated through the system, Ellingson said.

HEATING, using superheated steam, is done the same way.

ASU is asking for funds to add another 1,000 tons of refrigeration equipment in the current appropriations bill now before the legislature, Ellingson said. This equipment will be used to cool buildings which will be built by funds from the same appropriations bill.

J. H. Welch and Son Contracting Co., Phoenix, has been awarded the current contract, Ellingson said. Installation should be completed in 175 days.

NO!

DON'T BOTHER TO CARRY AN EXTRA SUPPLY.

New Carefree* tampons promise so much more protection—you can leave the extras at home!

The principle of this superior protection[†] is simple, natural. Most old-style tampons flatten, thin out, elongate when moisture strikes. This shape simply cannot cover the area of flow properly. Thus embarrassing accidents occur.

But a Carefree tampon (firmly compressed so it needs no rigid applicator) expands into a natural, round shape that conforms to your own body's structure, responds to your own body's needs. It gives you more comfort than any tampon or napkin ever developed.

Actual use tests proved that the new Carefree tampon absorbs, without leakage, 73% more than the leading tampon—starts to absorb more quickly than any other.

Better protection—longer protection. That's why you can leave that extra supply at home.

*Trademark

[†]Because Carefree is far more absorbent, there is no need for a Carefree super size. If you are using tampons for the first time, you may wish to try Carefree Slim (the smaller size).

Over Tuition Raise -

Students Picket School

(ACP) — Colorado Governor John Love visited the campus of the University of Colorado, Boulder, and ended up in a verbal battle with some 150 students picketing his stand on a tuition raise.

The Collegian, newspaper on the other Colorado university campus, Colorado State University, Fort Collins, says the group carried such signs as "Education Needs Money, Not Love." The group surrounded Love after he turned a shovel-full of earth for a new building.

Love defended his position by stating that spending an extra 20 cents a day wouldn't starve students to death. "There's no such thing as free education," he said, adding that somebody must pay for it and the question in Colorado now is who should pay how much.

Love has set tuition for students who are state residents at 25 per cent of the total cost of education. Colorado State officials have estimated this means a tuition increase of $84 next year. For out-of-state students, he placed tuition at 90 percent of the cost of education, or a $336 increase.

Love told the students that if any of them could not pay tuition next year at the proposed rate, and could prove it by presenting a detailed budget to the governor's office he will see that the student gets financial aid.

The following morning, a few students at Colorado State hung a dummy of the governor high in a tree in front of the Administration Building. The dummy was taken down inside of an hour.

Today is election day for 14,609 students — not just the 50 candidates for Associated Students offices.

Yes, members of the student body are the most integral part of the elections.

It is within their power to acquire the type of student government leaders they want for next year.

For the past three issues I have harped on student government—its goods, bads and indifference—with hopes that enough concern about this system of self-rule might be initiated.

Many asked if student government was that important to receive so much attention.

AS I see it:

Student government officers take on the responsibility of representing the entire student body.

Associated Students officers are endowed with the responsibility of aiding efficient functioning of student life at the University.

To do this they must act within the framework of an effective student-run government.

They must combine imagination, unity and dedication to promote and fulfill the ideals of student government and accept the moral obligation of satisfying the students' needs.

Student government also must work to achieve a climate of harmony between the students and faculty.

STUDENT government must act as a stimulus to encourage all to create a university directed to the goals of intellectual, spiritual and physical growth.

However, Associated Students officers rest on the assumption that they have the best interests as well as the support of the student body in mind.

These assumptions are practical but any failure to provide the interests of the students must fall on the shoulders of the students themselves.

And the first responsibility students have to Associated Students is active participation in voting for those candidates they feel will best represent them.

THE SECOND requirement comes after the election. Then is the time for students to work with the officers they elected; to inject differences of opinion; to air whatever disputes may arise between the students and the AS officers.

Then, too, the students can discover if the choices they made were the best ones.

But right now is the time to fulfill the first requirement.

To Vote Or Not To

Today we all go to the polls, or we should. But this is only the primary and the sharpies on the corners with their big smiles and leaflets may be around for another week. In fact, they're holding up better than the posters which didn't stand up under the elements. How will the new officers stand up, next year?

Local printers must look forward to this time of the year when they can scoop in extra money printing political handouts. So far this year there seems to be no hint of wrongfully spent campaign funds but the investigations seem to be a yearly pastime so we'll probably see some attempt to look into the money angle.

There are 29 offices open and only 50 candidates. That means there are several positions uncontested, leaving the candidates a straight road to office. They will win if they get one vote or 1,000 so why vote for them?

No reason at all and we encourage you not to. Let them run up only a dozen votes, they've got the office anyway.

There is only one person running for AS first vice president and one for AMS treasurer. Don't vote.

There are two candidates for several Senate positions but two senators will be elected from each category, so there is no contest there. Those senatorial openings are: junior class, senior class and Liberal Arts. Don't vote for them either.

Two senatorial positions, off campus women and Education, have only three candidates, which means two will automatically get in. Not much of a choice.

As for the other offices — be sure to vote. Especially the presidential position which is going to be a close one. Both candidates are Greek but one is appealing strongly to the Independent vote and the other appears to be relying on large fraternity support.

The same candidates that view for AMS president last year, Karl Wochner and Joe Sparks, are pacing off against each other again this year; 200 votes separated them.

Last year, AS President Daryl Winn took the office with only a 44-vote margin over Doug Zimmerman in the closest presidential runoff in eight years. We feel it will be just as close this year and your vote WILL count.

Letters To The Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

I would like to suggest that a 10-cent admission fee be made for the next movie showing at Cosner Auditorium and that the funds be used to purchase a pair of binoculars for the projectionist.

I enjoy the free (sometimes 25 cent) movies, but I would be willing to pay a little extra to see the movies properly focused. The movies I have seen at Cosner have consistently been poorly focused and last Thursday's showing was exceptionally bad.

Eyestrained Movie-goer . . .
 Sam Liden

TO THE EDITOR:

"Where are the GDIs who held a rally on Oct. 23?"

Mr. Heath asked this question in the Feb. 26 issue of State Press. The answer? They aren't.

Why? The reasons are almost as brief. The Independents were formulated by men and women who felt that persons not aligned with the Greek system were at disadvantages in the areas of scholarship, social function and politics. Independent organization seemed to be the answer to provide equal opportunities in these areas. It should be noted that "independent" in the collegiate context does not mean disorganization, but non-Greek.

The men who crossed over to Alpha Drive on the night in question knew these possibilities and were told twice that if they went, these goals would be lost. They knew the inevitable price that would be paid for a few moments of hate.

Now the price is being exacted. There are no social sanctions for scholarship, no independent functions, no political unity. In short, no Independents. There is only a disorganization of Independents.

The United States is independent, but learned the bitter lesson that Lincoln's "house divided against itself cannot stand." When the Independents learn this and comprehend the responsibilities as well as the advantages, then and only then can there be another Independent group on this campus. We only get what we ask for.

Rog Jones

TO THE EDITOR:

In regard to Mr. Sargent's article of Feb. 26, I agree with him that we as Americans do have the Constitutional right of free speech, but what is to be said of the amenable, young minds (and there are many of them) that are easily led astray by Communist propaganda.

Khrushchev has declared that he "will bury us." By allowing Communists to speak on our campus we would be playing right into their hands. We would be literally "burying ourselves."

Our propaganda does not seem to be working abroad. By taking this foolish step forward we would also be defeating our propaganda at home. There are many students who are in search of some kind of philosophy to ally themselves with.

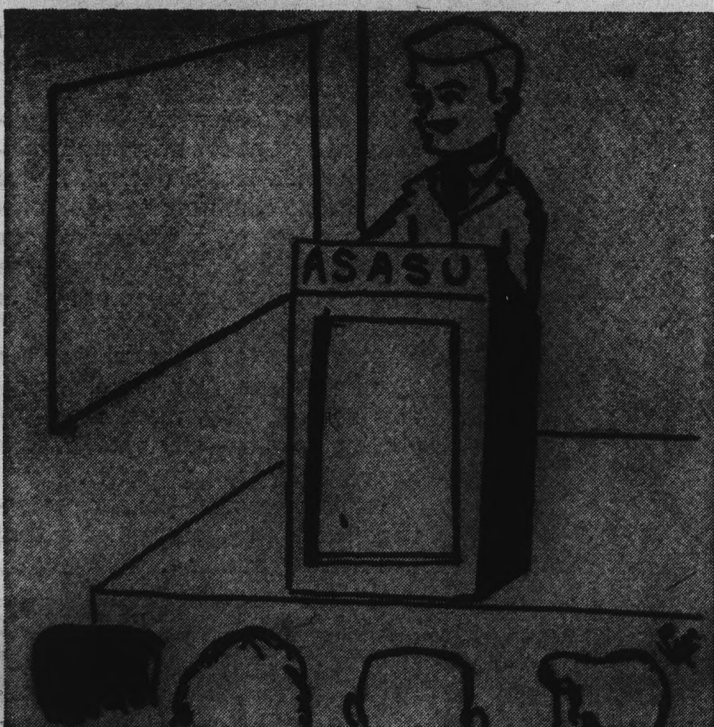

Have not thousands, if not millions, accepted Communism as the way of life?

Having traveled in South America, I am well aware of the terror that Communists spread among the people.

By allowing the Communists to lecture in our schools we are not adhering to that maxim, but merely allowing them to take a bigger step in aiding their cause. If the Communists should ever have control of us, Mr. Sargent will have little to say about "academic freedom."

Campus News To Be Aired Over KXIV

"Sun Devil Sounds," a series of programs produced by the Bureau of Broadcasting, will be aired from 7 to 9 p.m. each Sunday over radio station KXIV.

Each week a different campus personality will be featured. The program will include information about coming campus events and interviews with outstanding ASU students.

The program will also feature a special sports editorial by State Press Sports Editor, Al Michaels. This commentary on the Valley sports scene will be run twice on each program.

"Dance in America Today," an evening dance concert, will be presented at 8:30 p.m. March 5 in the MU Ballroom.

Committee To Take Survey Of Dorms

Improvement of men's dormitories will be the subject of a survey to be made next week by an administrative committee headed by Dr. W. P. Shofstall, dean of students.

The survey will be made in an effort to help make the dormitory "a place where students can live pleasantly and study effectively," Dean Shofstall said.

A questionnaire will be given each resident to fill out. Attitudes toward other students, activities, counseling, policies and rules and special facilities will be sampled. Each question will be answered either "does exist" or "should exist."

Dr. Shofstall stated the answers will be kept confidential and names need not be signed.

The committee conducting the survey includes Dr. George Hamm, dean of men; Mr. Edward Hickcox, director of housing, and all head residents of men's dormitories.

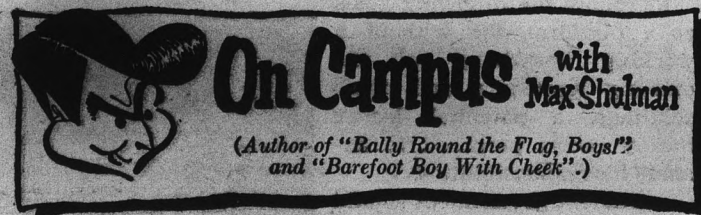

EC To Add Floor

A 1,200-square-foot addition to the third floor of the Engineering Center will be completed late this month, according to John R. Ellingson, director of physical plant.

The addition is being built atop the television studios in the south wing of the building. It will house drafting labs for the School of Architecture.

W.W.S. Construction Co., Phoenix, is building the addition at a cost of $36,000, Ellingson said.

THE SLOW RUSH

Illustrated below is the membership pin of a brand-new national fraternity called Signa Phi Nothing. To join Signa Phi Nothing and get this hideous membership pin absolutely free, simply take a pair of scissors, cut out the illustration, and paste it on your chest.

Let me hasten to state that I do not recommend your joining Signa Phi Nothing. The only thing I recommend in this column is Marlboro Cigarettes, as any honest man would who likes good tobacco and a good filter, whose heart is quickened by a choice of soft pack or Flip-Top Box, and who gets paid every week for writing this column.

I am frankly hard put to think of any reason why you should join Signa Phi Nothing. Some people, of course, are joiners by nature; if you are one such, I am bound to tell you there are any number of better organizations for you to join—the Cosa Nostra, for example, or the Society for the Placing of Water Troughs in Front of Equestrian Statues.

Cut it out and Paste it on your chest

But if you insist on joining Signa Phi Nothing, let me give you several warnings. First off, it is the only fraternity which admits girls. Second, there is no pledge period; each new member immediately goes active. Perhaps "inactive" is a more accurate word: there are no meetings, no drives, no campaigns, no sports, no games, no dues, no grip, and no house.

The only thing Signa Phi Nothing has in common with other fraternities is a fraternity hymn. In fact, two hymns were submitted to a recent meeting of the national board of directors (none of whom attended). The first hymn goes:

*Signa Phi Nothing,
Shining star,
How we wonder
If you are.*

The second hymn, rather more poetic in content, is to be sung to the tune of Also Sprach Zarathustra:

*A Guernsey's a cow,
A road is a lane,
When you're eating chow,
Remember the mein.*

Pending the next meeting of the national board of directors (which will never be held) members are authorized to sing either hymn. Or, for that matter, Frenesi.

Perhaps you are wondering why there should be such a fraternity as Signa Phi Nothing. I can give you an answer—an answer with which you cannot possibly disagree: Signa Phi Nothing fills a well-needed gap.

Are you suffering from mental health? Is logic distorting your thinking? Is ambition encroaching on your native sloth? Is your long-cherished misinformation retreating before a sea of facts? In short, has education caught up with you?

If so, congratulations. But spring is upon us and the sap is rising, and the mind looks back with poignant longing to the days when it was a puddle of unreason.

If—just for a moment—you want to recapture those careless vapourings, that warm, squishy confusion, then join Signa Phi Nothing and renew your acquaintance with fecklessness. We promise nothing, and, by George, we deliver it!

We, the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, promise smoking enjoyment, and we think you'll think we deliver it—in all fifty states of this Union. Marlboro Country is where you are.

Sparks Platform

I believe in student government predicated on action and service to the student. We must constantly seek fresh, creative ideas, for the greatest resource of student government is the people it serves. Effective leadership can only rest on diversified representation and action!

I propose the following goals as a platform, for without a working knowledge of the existing problems and their solutions, a potential leader hardly seems prepared to assume his responsibilities:

—Student government should provide direct service for the students. It should supplement our campus life.

—It should provide more big-name talent and various other activities of a cultural-social nature. The University of Arizona and Arizona State College have three times more big-name talent than does ASU. We can have these things!

—To supplement the academic environment, ASU could have student-conducted seminars on art, music, foreign policy, etc.

—The intramural college bowl champion from ASU should be representing Arizona State University nationally on the GE College Bowl. The University of Arizona was represented only last Sunday on this same program.

—The initiative must be taken to revitalize the programs which would provide such direct benefits as a branch of the U.S. Post Office on our campus, a substantial check-cashing system and the Arizona-Sonora Student Exchange.

If we are to assume that the AS Constitution is the governing document of the students, it seems only reasonably that it be open to amendment by the student body as a whole!

Wochner Platform

The major purpose of student government is to give voice to the needs of the student body.

It requires a responsible, sincere and mature approach in solving problems, in working with the administration and in representing the individual student.

Without this approach our voices would be lost, for our audience would lose its respect.

The problems faced by students will not be solved by the manipulations of a single administration. Rather than repudiate, I recognize the valuable contribution of past student government workers and the concern that students have had for their University.

Promises will not solve problems, but areas of concern claim our attention and must be dealt with.

—Expansion of the Memorial Union.

—A forum of campus presidents to provide unity from a diversity which one man can't represent.

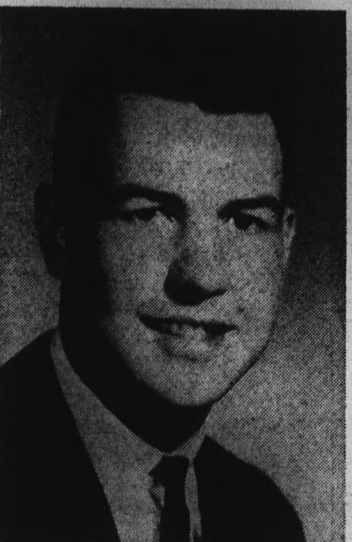

—An open student government workshop, open to every student to prepare him for an active role on campus.

—A student box office, centralizing the promotion of both cultural and social events.

—A closer concern for the problems of our growing group of international students.

—A student oriented business policy by the University for athletics, the Bookstore and all such services.

—A better balanced cultural and social program for students.

Students To Vote Approval During General Election

The revised Associated Students Constitution will go before the student body for approval a week from today during general elections.

The revised constitution was first approved on Feb. 12, but was called back for last-minute revisions. After these were made, it was passed by the Senate again on Feb. 17.

Major changes in the constitution include the establishment of an administrative vice president who will head a coordination council made up of representatives from the Election Board, MU Board, Organizations and Leadership Board and the Education Board.

The REVISED constitution lowers the number of hours required for AMS and AWS presidents from 75 hours to 45. This requirement is a minimum and can be raised by the groups' respective constitutions.

The hours requirement for activities and administrative vice presidents was also lowered from 75 to 45 hours.

The accumulated average for all AS officers was raised from a 2.0 to 2.2. According to the revised constitution, graduate students can now hold AS offices.

THE REVISED constitution considers AMS and AWS an integral part of the ASU government. Before they were considered as separate bodies. The constitution calls for the election of AMS and AWS senators. They were previously appointed by the group's president.

The new constitution also reorganized the judicial branch of the AS government and added an impeachment article.

The revised constitution does not list the duties of the executive manager, Dick Finley, since he is not under control of Associated Students.

When this is obtained, the text of the proposed amendment shall be published as soon as possible in the University paper. Within fifteen (15) days of its first publication, the Senate shall submit the proposed amendment to the members of the Associated Students in an election for ratification. The Senate shall declare it passed and the Constitution amended thereby if such proposal receives a majority of the votes cast in such election and the approval of the President of the University.

Section 2. All students in elective or appointive positions designated by the government of the Associated Students, the Associated Men Students, and the Associated Women Students, unless otherwise stipulated in this Constitution, shall maintain not less than a 2.00 cumulative grade index. The Hot Spot

The performance of Arizona State's basketball team this past weekend was enough to befuddle even the most highly regarded expert. Pre-weekend speculation figured a win over Brigham Young and a loss to Utah's Redskins was the most logical outcome while a sweep of the two game set was more than a remote possibility. But when the Devils fell victim to the lowly Cougars Friday and then rebounded to paste a sterling defeat on the Utes Saturday it left even intimate observers shaking their heads.

Saturday's victory shattered a 16-game home court success string for the highly-regarded Redskins and practically cemented no worse than a first place tie for ASU in the Western Athletic Conference scramble. If the Sun Devils knock off Arizona tonight and New Mexico's Lobos win their remaining two league clashes in Albuquerque, Arizona State will once again be on its way to the NCAA playoffs. Even though both squads would finish with identical 7-3 ledgers, New Mexico would waive its rights to participate in the post-season tournament since four of its performers would be ineligible.

IT'S ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE to use sound reasoning when speculating about the Devils' chances in the NCAA tourney. Arizona State is the nation's most unpredictable outfit and an "anything could happen" label is the only apropos slogan in this matter.

Congratulations to former ASU quarterback John Jacobs on his signing with the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League. The Braddock, Pa., senior made a wise move in inking with a club whose signal-calling contingent has left much to be desired in recent years. With Eddie LeBaron having retired from the game, "Jake" will battle it out with Don Meredith and Sonny Gibbs for a first-string slot. Both Meredith and Gibbs have been big disappointments in the pros after sparkling collegiate careers.

JACOBS HAD A tremendous junior year at ASU but was unable to find the range until the season's final contest as a senior. The 6-1, 195-pounder was a free agent and could have signed with any club in any of the three pro leagues. John was seriously considering the San Diego Chargers of the AFL in his initial post-season dealings but with ageless Tobin Rote and improving John Hadl manning the Charger helm, a move in that direction might've proven disastrous.

Relay Streak Shattered

By JON MORRIS
Coach Baldy Castillo's track team is ready for a home struggle this weekend with Occidental College and Arizona, after a so-so showing at the Long Beach (Calif.) Relays last Saturday.

ASU suffered its first outdoor mile relay defeat in two years by finishing third at 3:13.6, with Ullis Williams still sidelined by a leg injury. Castillo said that the team of Henry Carr, Tom Hester, Jim Childs and Jim McBurney did well considering the loss of Williams.

Camp Pendleton's Marines captured first in the event with a meet record time of 3:11.2. The Southern California Striders were second at 3:12.0.

No team points were scored in this annual meeting of 1,500 college and high school athletes.

A-State's 880 relay (Hester, Childs, Carr and McBurney) was third with a 1:26.5 clocking. The Devil's distance medley crew of Childs, Joe Smart, Bob Stiffler and Louis Scott took fourth at 10:16.6.

Former Devil javelin thrower, Frank Covelli, now of the Pasadena Athletic Association, set a meet record with a heave of 260-7. Current Sun Devil javelin man Glen Wunningham had a throw of 235, but didn't place.

Castillo emphasized the fact that this was not a bad showing by the Devils, considering that injuries kept Williams, Ben Hawkins and Darrell Jansen out of action, and forced freshmen to take their places.

Sun Devils Lose Battle, Win War

A-State Trounces Redskins Following BYU Disaster

By JOHN NADEL
Decision time is approaching as the Sun Devil basketballers play their final regular season game tonight, a conference affair against Arizona.

This contest, the final home game of the season regardless of possible post-season play, marks the last home appearance of A-State seniors Joe Caldwell, Art Becker, Gary Senitz and Burt Hayes.

The Devils, now standing 6-3 in the WAC, need a victory over the Wildcats to clinch at least a tie for conference championship. Second place New Mexico, 5-3 in league play, finishes action this weekend, hosting Brigham Young Friday and Utah Saturday.

With 21 of 25 WAC contests having been won by the home team, the Lobos must be called prohibitive favorites to sweep these two important contests.

STRANGELY ENOUGH, A-State and New Mexico are the only two conference teams to have won road games, the Devils having defeated Arizona, 67-66 and Utah Saturday, 103-78, while the Lobos have beaten BYU, 59-57 and Wyoming last Friday, 64-63.

Weekend Sun Devil action was quite baffling considering they played one of their worst games of the year Friday in losing to Brigham Young in Provo, 106-90, but then came back Saturday to play one of their best games of the season in trouncing Utah, 103-78.

The Brigham Young contest, which Coach Ned Wulk said "was not as close as the score indicated," saw the Devils fall behind after five minutes of play and never be in the game again.

BYU held a 53-38 halftime lead and widened it to as big as 25 points in the second half. A late Sun Devil splurge brought the final difference between the two teams to 16 points.

BIG CENTER John Fairchild led the Cougars with 34 points while hot-shooting guard Dick Nemelka collected 20.

Leading A-State was Joe Caldwell, who hit 27 points and hauled down 17 rebounds.

The Devils hit a cold 38 per cent from the floor while the hot-shooting Cougars hit slightly more than half of their floor shots.

But Saturday night was a different story. The Devils started well against Utah, running up a 12-2 lead.

But a few minutes later, the Utes, who hadn't lost at home all season, were only a point down at 17-16. But the Devils quickly pulled away to a 49-38 halftime lead and the closest Utah came was six points early in the second half, but A-State again pulled away and won very easily.

THE VICTORY was only the second for the Sun Devils on the road against nine losses. Utah's home winning streak during the season was snapped at 16.

The leading scorer for A-State was again Caldwell, who hit a personal season high of 34 points, while pulling down 12 rebounds. Becker followed with 23 points and 14 rebounds.

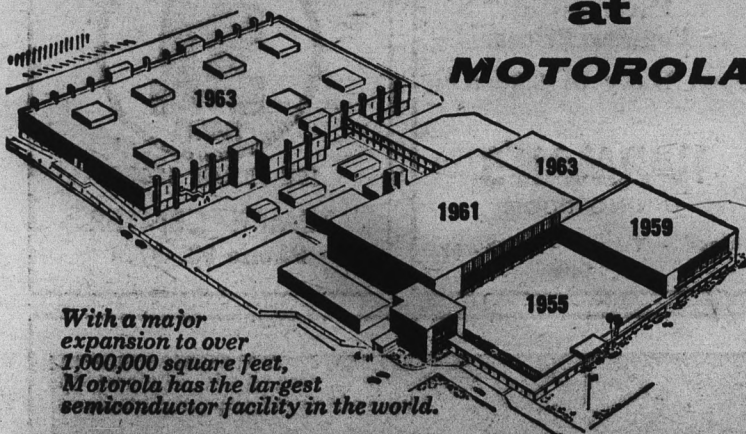

Utah's ace guard Doug Moon led the Redskins with a 21-point performance.

The latest UPI poll came out yesterday and showed the Devils taking a jump to 15th in the nation, tied with Big Eight champ Kansas State.

The game tonight has A-State putting on the line a 13-game winning streak against Arizona, the last Wildcat victory coming in the 1956-57 season.

Devil '9' Opens Season

Torok Faces Long Beach Tomorrow

The baseball team will officially open the season tomorrow when it plays host to Long Beach State. Game time is 3 p.m. at Sun Devil Field behind the PE Building.

John Torok will be swapping his football togs for his baseball uniform. Coach Bobby Winkles has picked him as the starting pitcher for the opener.

Last season, Torok pitched only two innings of one game. He is symbolic of the whole Devil team and has limited experience, as do most of A-State's baseball players this year, said Winkles.

Of the 23-man squad Winkles has 17 returning lettermen. Of these only three were regular performers last year. Also back is top relief pitcher Sam Cook.

Besides Torok, the starting lineup has Tony Alessi at catcher, freshman Jan Kleinman, 1b, Luis Lagunas, 2b, John Ruedy, ss, and Rookie Sal Bando at third.

Also starting are Dick Hei-

Gymnastics

Sterling performances by two ASU gymnasts sparked the Sun Devils to an 81-47 home victory over Long Beach State Saturday.

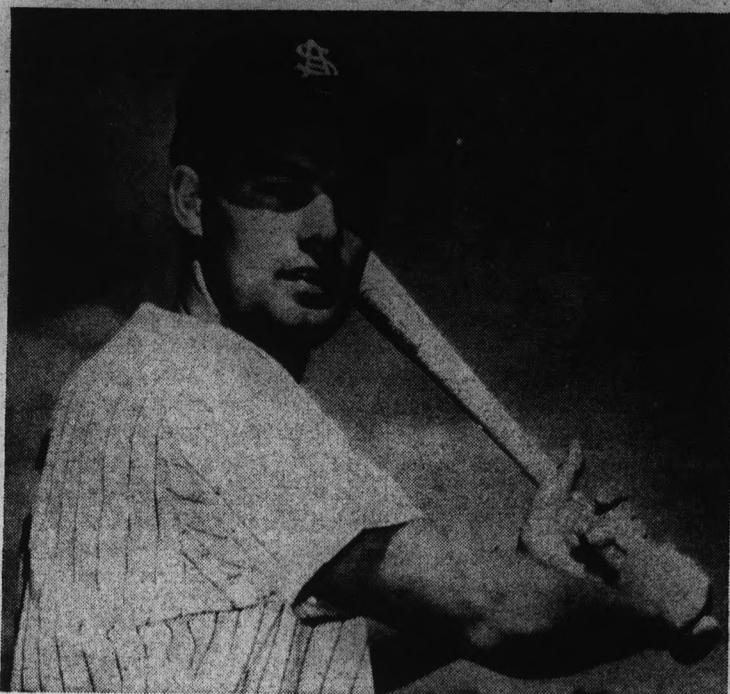

Senior Jerry Stansbury and sophomore Les Christianson grabbed off a total of four firsts, two seconds and two thirds in the competition.

Stansbury remained undefeated in long horse and won side horse and parallel bars while capturing thirds in floor exercise and horizontal bars.

Christianson copped horizontal bar and finished second on parallel bars and still rings.

Other ASU victories came from Jim Nelson in tumbling and Chris Evans who turned in a 9.7 point (10.0 is perfect) score on still rings.

den, lf, and Jim Gretta, Jack Handley or Merrill Hyde filling the other two outfield spots.

Coach Winkles says the sore spots in the lineup will be in pitching and defense. The team will have 10 pitchers, all with little experience.

Cook has the most innings pitched of the whole mound corps. Of this week's named starters, Torok, Jim Merrick, and rookie Skip Hancock, the total experience is 20 1/2 innings.

A-State will play Los Angeles State three times this weekend. Friday, they play a single game, and Saturday a doubleheader.

Friday's game will have Merrick pitching, and Hancock will hurl the second game of the doubleheader. No pitcher has yet been named to start Saturday's opener.

The first game will start at 1 p.m. with the second scheduled for 3 p.m. All A-State doubleheaders will be played in the new Phoenix Municipal Stadium just outside Tempe, on Van Buren Street.

Wilcox Sparks Wrestling Win

By MIKE HELFNER

The Ides of March proved to be a day to end the powers of rulers. Friday, the Sun Devil wrestlers took an 18-15 decision over the UofA and ended the Wildcat 1964 rule over ASU.

The Devils avenged an earlier 16-14 loss to the Wildcats. History was also made by the Devil win. It was the first collegiate match ever wrestled outdoors.

Each side forfeited one match. The Wildcats could not field a wrestler in the 137-pound class and ASU gave up the 177-pound division.

The first match at 123 pounds had the Wildcat's Bob Tanita defeating Manuel Aragon 3-1 putting UofA in front 3-0.

In the second match, at 130 pounds, ASU's Jon Walker, leading 2-0, was pinned by Brian Masunaga.

UofA FORFEITED the 137 class making the score 8-5 in favor of the Wildcats. The next match pitted Tony Russo against the Wildcat's Joe Abodeely. Russo opened a 4-3 lead and finally pinned him with 39 seconds remaining.

In the 157-pound contest, undefeated Buzz Hays took a 7-2 win over previously undefeated Alex Kerstitch to put ASU in front 13-8.

The 167-pound contest had Ed Foy of ASU battling Jack McCall to a 3-3 draw, giving each team two points. This put ASU in front 15-10.

THE MATCH was tied at 15 all when the Devils had to forfeit five points at 177. This put all the pressure on heavyweights Fred Wilcox of ASU and Chuck Atwater of UofA.

Wilcox, suffering from injuries sustained in spring football practice, proved to be the big man for A-State. Although he was unable to pin Atwater, Wilcox pounded out a 7-0 decision to give ASU the 18-15 win.

A CROWD estimated at from 600 to 2,000 people saw the outdoor match. Coach Ted Bredehoff said, "The enthusiasm shown by the students was certainly a big factor in our win and I hope that this enthusiasm will carry over to the tournaments we have this year and our regular schedule for next year."
