

FICTION WINNER — First place winner for his fiction work "Aunty," Rowe Portis looks through the newly printed Catalyst with Kathie Mangano, magazine staff member.

(SP. Photo by Ed Ryan) ASU's first student-edited literary magazine is now on sale for 50 cents. Poetry and fiction prizes were awarded by Sigma Tau Delta members and English majors and minors.

Catalyst On Sale; Entries Honored

The Catalyst, the campus' first completely student-edited magazine, will be on sale today for 50 cents a copy.

In addition to over 25 poetry, drawing and short story entries, the magazine will contain two unpublished manuscript letters by Robert Browning and Walt Whitman. These are considered collectors items, from the Heller Collection in Matthews Library.

The Sigma Tau Delta awards for poetry and fiction will be presented by Dr. G. B. Harrison, British Shakespearean scholar, at a meeting of Sigma Tau Delta and English majors and minors at 2:30 today in the English Building lounge.

The Sigma Tau Delta awards for fiction were: first, "Aunty" by Rowe Portis; second, "The Ennuch" by Tommy Walker, and honorable mention, "The Worth of Man" by David Spangler.

Sigma Tau Delta awards for poetry were: First, an untitled poem by Eric Haughton; second, "First Love, Last Love" by Fran DeBlois, and honorable mention, "Is It Far You Ride?" by John Brugaletta.

Cap And Gowns

Today is the deadline for cap and gown orders for all bachelor's, master's or doctorate degrees. A late fee of 50 cents will be charged to late candidates. Orders are being taken at the University Bookstore.

In the opinion of the judges, none of the essay contributions were worthy of an award.

Band Initiates Concert Series Monday Night

The Sun Devil Band, under the direction of Harold Hines, will perform the first of three twilight concerts between 7 & 8 Monday. The concert will be presented on the Quad lawn. The public will be admitted without charge.

The program will include: "Bandology, Concert March;" Prelude and Aztec dance from "La Fiesta Mexicana;" "Autumn Leaves;" "Tamerlane," directed by student conductor Hal Symms; "Suite of Old American Dances" and "The Fairest of the Fair," directed by assistant director Ronald Fuller.

Also "Fantasy and Fugue on Oh, Susanna," with student conductor Clyrene Dechert; "El Relicania;" "Paso Doble;" Selections from Mr. Lucky" with student conductor Charles Steele, and "Sahuaro."

Poll Problems Return Again

By FRANK DUCESCHI
Assignments Editor

Petitions for the office of AWS activities vice president will be due by noon Saturday, allowing candidates only two and one-half days to fill the nominating papers.

The petitions were available today in MU 202. Sue Rugh and Ann Malene have taken petitions.

(The election code states petitions must be in circulation for two weeks. Max Goodrich, Election Board chairman, did not comment on the legality of the action.)

THE SHORT cut is being taken to make another election, after Wednesday's primary and the May 6 general, unnecessary, Goodrich said.

Campaigning for the primary will start at 6 p.m. Sunday.

A fourth voting booth located in the Sahuaro complex will be set up for the primary election. Three other booths will be located on the south side of PV bridge, in front of the library and on the southwest corner of College Avenue and Orange Street.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Ballots will be printed on IBM cards but will be counted by hand. It will not be necessary to use IBM pencils.

Included in the primary will be the selection of the AS administrative vice president, the AWS activities vice president and the AMS and AWS senators.

NOMINEES for AS administrative vice president are Ann Gardner and Alan Bunch. The new vice president will head the administrative council. Other duties of the office will be written into future AS statutes.

Seeking the two AMS Senate seats will be Jeff Boucher, Louis Castro and Bob Short. Running unopposed for the two AWS Senate positions are Sue Knight and Charlotte Schilling.

AWS ballots will include a yes-or-no choice for the ratification of the revised AWS Constitution.

Second Pair This Year -

Fulbright Awards Given

Senior Byron R. Cleeland, English major, and Stephen L. Sargent, graduate in mechanical engineering, have been awarded educational grants for study abroad, according to Dr. Marvin Fisher, campus Fulbright program adviser.

Cleeland's award is one of approximately 200 East-West Center grants made available to American, Asian and Pacific area students for study at the University of Hawaii, Honolulu. His grant, covering transportation, tuition and living expenses, is for two years.

SARGENT WILL study at the Israel Institute of Technology at Haifa. His project will deal with mechanical engineering with a specialty solar energy connected with solar collectors and solar-powered generation.

He plans to apply this study to his master's degree. The grant is for one academic year.

Sargent won a Fulbright Grant from the Israeli government that covers tuition and living expenses.

CLEELAND, who has been in the honors program for three-and-one-half years, has a 3.69 cumulative index. He has attended ASU four years with an academic scholarship the past three.

At the University of Hawaii, Cleeland, who is from Hawaii, will work on his master's degree in Asian studies.

Because of the opportunity to live with Asian students in the dormitories and learn a different culture, Cleeland feels this will be a greater experience than merely going on to graduate school.

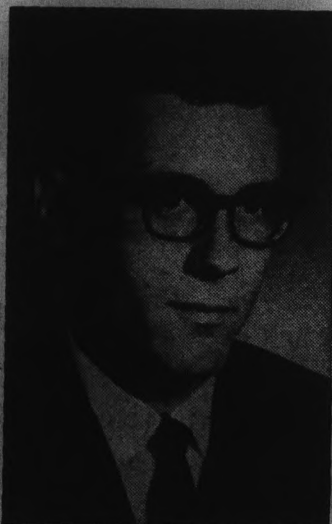

HE IS LISTED in "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges," is a member of Phi Kappa Phi, scholastic honorary, and secretary of Blue Key, men's scholastic honorary. Former president of the Student Religious Council, he is now the SRC senator and a member of the Congregational Fellowship.

Sargent graduated in January with a 3.75 index. He has attended ASU five years, four with a Phelps Dodge Scholarship.

As an undergraduate, he was a member of Blue Key, Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Eta Sigma and Tau Beta Pi, engineering honorary.

He was the applied arts senator for two years and on the Supreme Court for one year. He served as president of the Student Religious Liberals and Collegiate Council for the United Nations.

NEW EDITOR — Pan Van Buskirk, State Press editor for next fall, discusses the paper with present editor, Ed Gasser.

Publication Board Elects Fall Editor

Pam Van Buskirk, journalism major, was elected fall editor-in-chief of the State Press yesterday by the Board of Publications.

Campus editor for the past two semesters, Miss Van Buskirk is employed by The Phoenix Gazette's Women's Department. She recently won the 1963 Junior Mass Communications Award sponsored by the Arizona Press Women, Inc. Miss Van Buskirk is a member of Gamma Alpha Chi, national professional advertising fraternity for women, and Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalism honorary.

In stating the purposes of the fall's State Press, Miss Van Buskirk said: "It will mainly be a tool of instruction. Editors will concentrate on instructing beginning journalists."

$93,953 Received -

Gifts, Contracts Awarded To University Projects

The University has been awarded $93,953 in contracts and grants for educational projects, graduate fellowships and miscellaneous gifts since March 7, President Durham reported to the Board of Regents Saturday.

Included in the research contracts and grants is a $19,800 grant from the Office of Naval Research for a solid state chemistry investigation of hydrogen compounds, to be conducted by Dr. Michael O'Keefe, assistant professor of chemistry.

Also included is a $7,400 control systems research project from the National Science Foundation to be directed by Dr. Someshwar C. Gupta, associate professor of engineering.

DR. BERTRAM Zaslow, associate professor of chemistry, received an $800 crystallographic study of strained clefts, from the American Chemical society.

The National Science Foundation has awarded $26,820. This will go for three in-service institutes for 103 junior high and secondary school teachers for the next school year.

NSF funds will cover a $13,030 in-service in general science and mathematics for junior high school teachers, being directed by Dr. Ernest E. Snyder Jr., associate professor of science education; a $7,500 in-service institute in mathematics for secondary school teachers of mathematics, conducted by Dr. Lehi T. Smith, associate professor of mathematics, and a $6,290 in-service institute in theoretical physics for secondary school teachers of chemistry and physics, directed by Dr. Alan T. Wager, professor of physics.

THUS FAR this year the NSF has awarded ASU $426,000 in grants supporting institutions to improve high school and college instruction.

Also included in the totals are an NSF grant of $34,426 for seven graduate traineeships in engineering, under the direction of Dr. W. J. Burke, vice president and professor of chemistry; a $407 contract between Tempe School District No. 3; the ASU Bureau of Educational Research and Services, directed by Dr. R. Merwin Deever, professor of education, and miscellaneous gifts estimated at $4,300.

Graham Discusses Morality

Evangelist Billy Graham, who begins his first Arizona Crusade tonight in Sun Devil Stadium, told a press conference yesterday morning the concept of moral relativism commonly discussed on college campuses is "fornication and adultery is wrong."

Moral relativism implies adultery and promiscuous behavior which Dr. Graham said is wrong under the written law and unwritten moral values of our nation.

Saturday's talk will be directed toward young people. Dr. Graham said approximately 70 per cent of his audiences are people under 25. He believes "young people are on a spiritual search to fill the emptiness or vacuum within them."

On civil rights demonstrations he said the Negro has received more power and respect in the United States than anywhere else.

But he added, "extremists and subversive elements are hindering the Negro cause."

A 1500-voice choir, made up primarily of university students and under the direction of Cliff Barrows, will sing at all three meetings.

The meetings tonight and Saturday are at 7:30 p.m. The final meeting begins at 4 p.m. Sunday. All meetings are open to the public without cost.

A Student's View - Tribute To Dr. Gammage

By JERRY LIPMAN

Grady Gammage Memorial Auditorium is nearing completion.

Dr. Gammage, president of ASU 1933 to 1959, would have liked it.

He would have seen it as the important and needed addition to the University community which it is. He would have looked forward eagerly to the wide variety of cultural programs it will make available to the University and the Valley. He would have taken pride in its contributions to the University's academic heritage.

It is of the nature of man that he seeks a measure of immortality. Some men are content to perpetuate themselves through a son. Others by building a great financial empire or assimilating a vast web of power and influence.

Still others find it in a monument, a city, a great dam or a towering mountain named in their honor.

One and all, they seek to leave upon the earth a mark of enduring strength and quality which will remain undisturbed, to be admired by all men, though all around it is the very essence of change and flux.

And so it is Grady Gammage would have found the climax of all he strived for in the sight of this splendid building of proud and haughty beauty bearing his name.

Dr. Gammage would have found this only incidental.

Far greater tributes than a single building, notable though it may be, exist to his vision and devotion.

These are his students — the current students and the thousands of graduates of Arizona State University with whom, and for whom, he worked.

Each of them, wherever he is, wherever he goes, carries a part of Grady Gammage with him into the world, a living tribute to the man and his work which will bear fruit countless times over in the form of new ideas, new advances and new achievements.

These are the goals he set for himself, and attained. His greatest tribute is the honored place he occupies in the minds and hearts and memories of all who knew and loved him.

I Cover College Avenue

By ED HEATH
Managing Editor

At this time, there are two similar events occurring on campus—band concerts and sales of the Catalyst.

Each has the characteristic of appealing to the educated.

The concerts by the Sun Devil Band, under the direction of Harold Hines, are in no way comparable to the "popular" music that blasts off the walls of the Den.

THE CATALYST is not representative of the comics that fill the book racks and float through the dorms and fraternity houses. Nor is it similar to the magazines on the "condemned" list of the MU Board.

The "popular" music and the magazines are not to be down-trodden. Recognized and supported is the freedom of choice . . . if those are the choices.

Concurrent with these events is the upcoming Jazz Festival.

Here is an attempt to get some big-name talent on campus. Stan Kenton has been contracted to appear and perform at the sessions as well as numerous student jazz groups.

This also is an attempt to do what the Social Board has consistently failed to do all year.

THERE ARE rumbles along College Avenue.

Why should the Billy Graham group get the use of the football stadium when professional athletics cannot, it is asked.

Indeed, a good question. Especially since it echoes the many questions aroused when off-campus organizations get the usage of campus facilities over student-sponsored events.

A typical example also is the Grady Gammage Auditorium calendar thus far.

Incidentally, what is the name of our football stadium?

Everyone I've asked says it's "Sun Devil Stadium." Yet the bold advertising calls it "ASU Stadium."

Already the devil has been evicted from the grounds.

HAVE A couple of questions for all those interested in student government.

—Should student government work for the student body . . . or should the student body work for student government?

—Should there be an initiative and referendum clause in the ASASU Constitution?

The two are related, huh George?

'Ineffective Legislation?'

Last week the student Senate introduced senate bill 213 which would "repeal ineffective legislation." Wednesday the Senate introduced SB 214 — we think this may end up as ineffective legislation too.

Here's why. Revised SB 214 received a vote of 19 to 3 in the Senate and the AS president said he planned to sign the bill yesterday. It still requires the endorsement of Dr. Durham.

THIS PLACES President Durham in a difficult situation. The bill proposes to give the AS Executive Council, composed this year of 10 student officers, Dean Shofstall and Financial Manager Dick Finley, the authority to elect the Sahuaro editor. Presently that authority belongs to the Board of Publications.

The bill states that the editor would be elected no later than May 15. The Board plans to elect the editor within two weeks. Somewhat of a conflict of interest, it would appear. But of course, there cannot be two at one time.

Two things could happen. President Durham could sign the bill now and transfer the authority of choosing the editor to Associated Students. Or, he could pocket veto the bill and let the Board perform the function it has been delegated.

IT'S INTERESTING to note the revised version transferred from the AS president to the Executive Council the job of selecting the editor, subject to confirmation of the Senate.

The revision also deletes the clause the editor be recommended by the executive manager and the supervisor of the yearbook. Also omitted was the provision that the supervisor be appointed by the executive manager. No alternative provision for selecting the supervisor is included.

The other major point is that the AS president with "just cause" and the recommendation of the adviser (according to a Board decision this semester, the adviser is the executive manager and the supervisor is currently Mr. Johnson), can fire the editor.

It would seem this is a piece of test legislation to change present University policy.

Letters To The Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

Our paper deserves a more distinctive name. The present State Press could be used by any school in the nation having the word "state" in its name. Perhaps others, like myself, on first hearing the name, thought State Press was where the state government had all the legislative bills and other state business printed.

Not too long ago the University was given its present name. I believe our paper deserves a new name, one which would stand out and be readily recognized. I should like to suggest The Devil's Advocate.

Dick Rasche

TO THE EDITOR:

Last week by a 14-to-7 vote, the student Senate voted to cut the State Press budget under salaries. I have to disagree with the contention that this action represented a personal political attempt to censor the State Press.

I feel the action was taken because the students' duly elected representatives didn't feel that salaries were justified for 10 staff members. The 14-to-7 vote showed that this was not a personal political action on any one person's part.

The real disturbing issue, as far as I am concerned, is the way the State Press has been used to defend the position of its staff against the budget cut. I wonder just how much space in the paper, for example, a cut in the budget of the Student Religious Council would have received. I feel that State Press has too often been used not to express student opinion, but only the opinion of the members of its staff!

George O. Stewart
Speaker, Student Senate

Editor's Note: I'm sure you meant censure, not censor. You may attempt to censure State Press but never censor. The question, as stated in the editorial Wednesday, is not merely the budget, but government control, control which you yourself said was justified as long as State Press received allocations from Associated Students.

About Writing Letters

In writing letters to the editor, please keep the letters as short as possible.

Letters must be signed and legibly written or typed. Please include your phone number or address so we contact you if necessary. We have the right to edit or trim letters if necessary. Names are withheld on request.

We also welcome editorial type commentary. These comments are printed under the heading of "A Student's View" which appears on this page today.

Six Bills Passed By AS Senate

The Senate, with a crowded agenda and gallery, passed six bills Wednesday.

SB 198, the finance bill; SB 209, revising the Board of Financial Control, and SB 207 and SB 208, repealing SB 68 and splitting the Organizations and Student Leadership Board in two, were okayed by the Senate.

After the four other bills had been given final approval by the Senate, the rules were suspended and both SB 213 and SB 214 received final okay.

SB 213 repeals SB 96, which "established" the Board of Publications. The bill was ineffective because the board is under the control of the University president and not the Senate.

UNDER SB 214, the editor of the Sahuaro will be selected by the Executive Council subject to confirmation by the Senate.

A provision for the removal of the editor by the AS president with a three-fourth vote of the Senate is included in the bill.

The finance bill, along with SB 209, was referred back to the committee of the whole for further debate.

TWO CHANGES were made in the finance bill. One took $1,600 from the general contingency fund for State Press salaries.

Last session, the Senate voted to abolish the salaries of nine staff members by cutting the State Press budget by $2,440. With Wednesday's change, five on the staff will receive from $40 to $60 per month.

The other change gave Religious Activities an additional $540 for salaries and operation costs. Sen. Nick Hagen of the Student Religious Council said,

"It would have been impossible to have operated on the budget allotted to us."

SB 209, which repeals the old Board of Financial Control bill, adds the chairman of the Senate Finance Committee to board membership. Wednesday, the Senate changed the chairman of Senate Finance Committee from a voting to a non-voting member.

Having a member of the legislative branch vote on an executive board constitutes an overlap in government structure, according to Dick Finley, AS executive manager.

Traffic Safety To Be Topic

The Arizona Teen-age Traffic Safety Association will meet tomorrow in ED 101 to discuss safe driving practices.

Speakers include: Walter Lunsford of the Auto Industries Highway Safety Committee; Hy Hendrickson, State Director of Secondary Education; Milton Love, Ray Stevens and Carl Miller. Past president of the Association, Rick Ball, will present the keynote address.

Contest Open

Dr. Collice Portnoy, professor of English, is still accepting student manuscripts for the annual Swarthout Awards in EN 114 A. Essays are particularly wanted.

Street Dance Rescheduled

A street dance themed "Spring Fever" is scheduled for Thursday from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. in front of the MU.

The dance had been scheduled for last week, but due to the Orchestis Dance Concert, was rescheduled.

The affair, sponsored by the Social Activities Committee, will feature the Negliges, a dance band.

Refreshments will be sold in front of the MU.

Approval Granted For Kennedy Fund

Administration approval has been granted for the establishment of a John F. Kennedy Memorial Fund, according to Jerry Lipman, Kennedy Memorial Fund Committee chairman.

Nature of the fund has not yet been determined.

If the total sum is less than $10,000, the committee has recommended it be used as a loan fund. If more than this sum is available, it has recommended there be a scholarship and/or loan fund established.

Anyone wishing to donate money to the fund should send it to: The John F. Kennedy Memorial Fund, Account 609, Arizona State University, Tempe, Ariz.

Homesickness No Worry

By LINDA HELSER
Feature Editor

Homesickness isn't a problem for Fuad Musa, who in 1960 traveled about 8,000 miles to attend ASU and hasn't visited his home in Jordan since.

Instead, home has moved with him. Three of his cousins, also from Jordan, are attending the University.

They are Saliba Shahin, a junior pre-med major; his brother Simon Shahin, a senior civil engineering major, and their cousin, Elias Nimeh, a junior agronomy major.

A SENIOR IN electrical engineering with a 4.0 index Fuad holds membership in Tau Beta Pi, engineering honorary; Eta Kappa Nu, electrical engineering honorary, and Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholastic society. He is also president of the Foreign Students Club.

One of 12 children, Fuad helped support his family by teaching math and chemistry for six years to boys 17 to 20 while he was only 16.

While teaching, he served as part-time athletic instructor and introduced softball to students to accompany their already national games of volleyball, basketball and soccer.

Since Jordan's students don't have the opportunity to select courses, Musa started taking physics and chemistry classes in the sixth grade.

BESIDES English, Musa has mastered Armaic, Kurdish and Arabic.

When Musa came to Arizona, he found difficulty in understanding Texas accents and couldn't eat American spiced meats.

"I wasn't disappointed at all, however, with the United States," he said, "because I had a perfect ideal of it."

HE PUT his hobby of cooking to work and has fascinated many hostesses with his work, including Mrs. G. Homer Durham.

He now boasts he can cook any type of American food and is caterer for the MU Saga Food Service.

In the fall he says he will enroll at Stanford University in order to obtain a masters degree.

International Day Date Scheduled

International Day for all foreign students in the Valley and their guests will be from 2 to 11 p.m. tomorrow.

The day's events will begin at 2 p.m. with soccer, volleyball and football games behind the MU.

Dinner will be served at 5:30 p.m. at the Alumni House. International chef, Hermoz Hermozi of Iran, will prepare his specialty, shami kabab. Dinner will be followed by dancing and entertainment which will last until 11 p.m.

International Day is sponsored by the People-to-People Committee. Free tickets may be obtained at Danforth Chapel.

Coeds Are Cotton Maid Contestants

Nearly one-half of the 17 finalists competing for the title of Arizona Maid of Cotton are ASU coeds. The winner will be selected May 1 to 3 at the Camelback Inn.

The eight finalists are Sharon Adams, Rita Gear, Mary Anna Sasser, Carolyn Bauer, Kaye Garard, Susan Marionneaux, Marianne Moore and Pam Scheffey.

The finalists will go through a series of interviews. The winner will be announced at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Cotton Cotillion.

The Phoenix Cotton Wives are sponsoring the contest with the help of the state's cotton growers.

The Arizona Maid of Cotton will go to Memphis, Tenn., to represent Arizona in the national Maid of Cotton Contest.

Water Show

Naiads, synchronized swimming club, will present its annual water show at 8 p.m. May 8 and 9 at the ASU pool. This year's theme is "Western Waters." Admission is free.

Greek To Me Greeks Donate Special Exhibit

By BILL QUAYLE

The New York World's Fair will have a special exhibit of the Greek system's contributions to higher education in American and Canadian colleges and universities.

Since the space is being donated, the exhibit will run from July 19 to Aug. 9, and will be displayed in the Hall of Free Enterprise on the International Plaza.

Entitled "Young Partners in Free Enterprise," the exhibit will include displays on how fraternities and sororities develop campus loyalty, provide valuable citizenship training, encourage scholarship and promote high standards of conduct.

SIGNIFICANT FACTS about the Greek system will be brought out in the exhibit. They include such things as: more than 75% of all funds contributed to colleges and universities are donated by Greeks, and over 70 per cent of the Greeks complete their college courses as compared with only 50 per cent by the independents.

BY THE GREEKVINE:

Phi Kappa Psi fraternity claims to be able to beat any sorority on campus in softball. In games thus far, the Phi Psis beat Kappa Alpha Theta 22 to 20.9 (they got a 10 per cent handicap) and Kappa Delta, 11 to 4.6 (with a 15 per cent handicap).

Netters Test New Mexico

By BUDDY PYLANT

The sparkling 19-3 record of A-State's netters will go on the line today when they take on the New Mexico Lobos at 2:30 p.m. on the Sun Devil Courts.

Coach Ted Bredehoff said: "In the Southern Division of the Western Athletic Conference they're the team to beat. We must win to gain the number two seed in our division for the WAC championships."

A loss to New Mexico would give the Devils a number three seed and would match them against the number one team from the Northern Division in the championships next month at Salt Lake City, Utah.

By way of comparison, ASU is 19-3 for the season and enjoying a seven-game winning streak. The Lobos are 7-3.

Both teams have encountered the classy UofA team and both fell 9-0. New Mexico fell twice by the same score.

However, Coach Bredehoff believes A-State's set scores were more impressive and showed the Devils fared stronger against the Wildcats.

The Devils tuned up for the Wolf Pack by turning away visiting California Western last weekend with back-to-back wins of 7-2.

Devils Jump From Fourth To Second Place

By MIKE HELFNER

In the Collegiate Baseball newspaper poll released yesterday, the Sun Devils were ranked second among major college baseball teams.

In the last poll two weeks ago, A-State was ranked fourth. The Devils still trail Santa Clara College, Calif., the leader since the beginning of the season.

Two weeks ago the Devils had 268 points and four first-place ballots, 55 points and 10 ballots behind the Broncos. Yesterday A-State compiled 310 points and 10 ballots, to put them 19 points and five votes behind the leader.

THE DEVILS, preparing for a big three-game set against WAC foe New Mexico, have been trying very hard to gain the top spot. Santa Clara's record to date is 21-6, compared with A-State's 29-4. The CB Poll does not include Santa Clara's latest win, nor A-State's split with Sul Ross State College last weekend. CB lists the Bronco's at 20-6 and the Devils at 28-3.

Defending NCAA champion, Southern California, defeated the Bronco's twice but still dropped six places in the poll. They were fifth-ranked two weeks ago.

ASU DOES not play Santa Clara but the Devils could make the top rung if they win the WAC. The Devils still have nine conference games to play, three at home and six on the road.

The last WAC home games will be this weekend at Phoenix Municipal Stadium when A-State hosts the Lobos of New Mexico. A single game tonight at 7:30 and a doubleheader tomorrow, with starting times of 1 and 7:30 p.m., will finish the series. Admission is free with an ID card.

A-State still has to play a three-game series at Tucson next weekend and a three-game set against the Lobos in Albuquerque May 8 & 9.

A-STATE has had a full week off since playing Sul Ross. All week Coach Bobby Winkles has been working his boys hard in preparation for New Mexico. "Our whole team looks good and should not be judged by the poor showing they made Saturday. The week off until today may give us a rest, but I would much rather keep the team sharp by playing. This rest might hurt us," said Winkles.

The Lobos come in with an 8-16-1 record and must face the nation's top pitcher in Skip Hancock. According to CB, Hancock is the leading pitcher with a 1.21 earned run average. He is also listed as second in wins and strikeouts with a 7-0 mark and 80 whiffs. Against Sul Ross, Hancock gave up two runs, moving his ERA up to 1.33, but his win mark went up to 8-0. He also had 14 strikeouts.

Hancock will open the series tonight and will face Jim Kalk (4-4). Ron Lea will hurl tomorrow afternoon's game and either Jim Merrick, Sam Cook or Tom MacDougal will hurl the night game tomorrow. They will face either John Patten (2-1), John Harper (1-1) or Jay Higgins (1-5).

CB LISTS Luis Lagunas tied for second in the runs-batted-in category with 26, only two behind the leader, and Jan Kleinman tied for fourth with 24. However, Kleinman has taken over the team lead with six RBIs against Sul Ross, one ahead of Lagunas.

John Ruedy with 24 stolen bases, one off his ASU record, is leading the stolen base parade by nine bases. Ruedy was pressed into action last Saturday night by the track team and responded with a 9.9 clocking for third place in the 100-yard dash. This is an amazing feat since John played a baseball game that afternoon. He is not in training for track.

ON THIS weekend's pitching, Winkles commented: "I would rather use Lea (2-1) and Cook (6-1) as relief pitchers, but I have no choice. They have been very effective and I must use them. Jim Merrick (4-0) has been slightly off form in his last two appearances, but I am hoping he can come around. Tom MacDougal (4-1), Saturday's loser, was the victim of sloppy fielding and should rebound very well."

RUGGED RECEIVER — Catcher Tony Alesci will see plenty of action this weekend as the Sun Devils host New Mexico at Phoenix Municipal Stadium. The Cleveland, Ohio junior is batting .242.

ASU Invitational Tourney Under Way In Scottsdale

By TIM TYERS

Seven of the finest golf teams in the West will invade Scottsdale Country Club today to battle Arizona State in the first annual Sun Devil Invitational Tournament.

The Devils will face the UofA, PC, Los Angeles State College, University of New Mexico, New Mexico State, Western New Mexico and Texas Western in the 54-hole medal play tournament.

Awards will be presented to low medal team play, low medal athlete play and low ball team play. The teams will play 36 holes today and 18 holes tomorrow.

DEFENDING WAC golf champion New Mexico has only one defeat in dual match competition. The University of Houston is the only team that has beaten the Lobos.

The Lobos, paced by WAC champion Guy Wimberly and Tommy Hornbuckle have a fourth place finish in the All-American Intercollegiate Invitational. ASU finished sixth in the same tourney.

Los Angeles State, holder of a dual match victory over the Devils, also had a fourth place finish in the Fresno State Tournament won by Southern California.

THE DEVILS have a 15-5-1 record.

Freshman Rick Talt, and John McGlone were low qualifiers for the Devils during the two-day qualifying rounds with scores of 135, five under par.

ASU recorded a third-place finish behind runner-up New Mexico State and champion New Mexico in the Western New Mexico Golf Tournament last weekend at Silver City, N.M.

THE DEVILS finished with 743 strokes, six behind New Mexico State's 737 and 14 behind the Lobos' 729. The low round of 67 was fired by the Devils' Talt.

A-State's Dave Hanten finished fifth in the individual scores with a 45-hole total of 183, three over par. Talt finished ninth with a 186 and Jim Chew's 187 gave him 10th place.

Los Angeles State and WAC foe Brigham Young both handed the Devils dual match losses this past week.

Track Squad Splits For Weekend Meets

By JON MORRIS

Arizona State's hobbling track squad takes off to opposite ends of the nation this weekend with some of its few healthy thin-clads for the Drake and Mt. San Antonio relays.

A makeshift mile relay tandem consisting of Jim McBurney, Ullis Williams, Eric Owers and Henry Carr (3:10.1) will accompany javelin thrower Glenn Winningham (258-11) and Coach Baldy Castillo to Des Moines, Iowa, for the 56th Drake Relays, Friday and Saturday. Carr will also participate in a special open 220.

TRAINER Art Dickinson takes runners Larry Berryhill, Art Reade, Joe Smart and Louis Scott for the two mile and distance medley relays to Walnut, Calif., for the Mt. SAC Relays. Jon Cole (172-1) in the discus and Larry Hendershot (56-7½) in the shot put will join the field in their events.

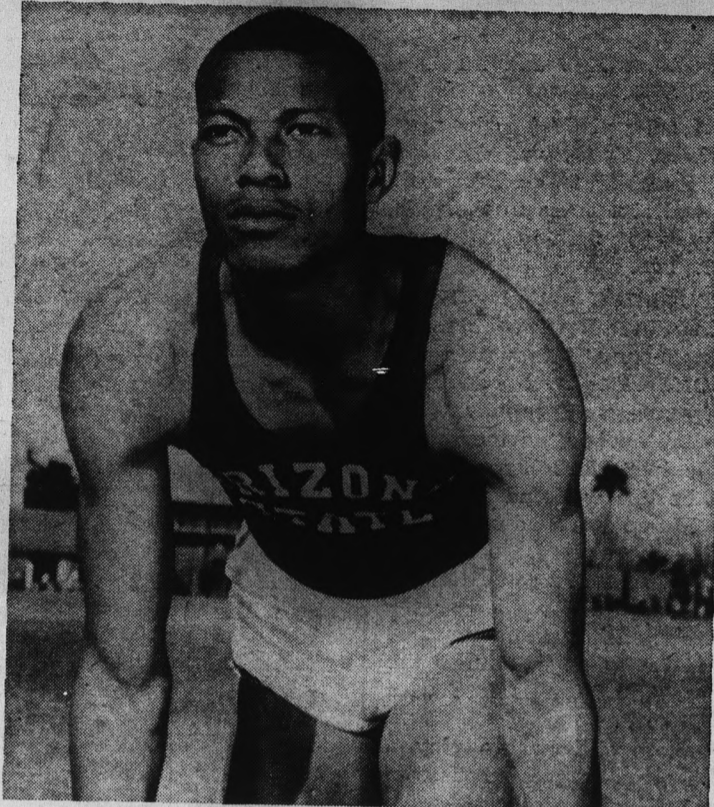

Owers will be substituting for Tom Hester who is sidelined with a pulled leg muscle. Castillo says that Owers has been "doing fairly well" in subbing for Hester.

Hurdler-sprinter Ben Hawkins and sprinter Jim Childs are also out with leg injuries. Childs "may be lost for the season," said Castillo, however, he thought Hawkins would be back.

Williams and Carr are "hurting" according to Castillo, and he offered no prediction on the outcome of the mile relay at Drake. Participants include University of Iowa, defending NCAA champs in the event.

ASU's dual meet record dropped to 4-5 after last week's losses to BYU and the Camp Pendleton Marines.

On the Coast, at the Mt. San Antonio Relays, Stanford, San Jose State and Oregon State could be ready to challenge the world record 9:35 flat in the distance medley relay. The record was set by the Santa Clara Youth Village in the 1960 Mt. SAC Relays. A-State's tandem also will aim at the mark.

OUT LAME — Arizona State sprinter Tom Hester will be out of action for about 2 weeks due to a pulled hamstring muscle. The speedy junior from San Bernardino, Calif., boasts best marks of 9.5 and 21.0 this season.

Devil Performers Boast WAC Bests

Latest statistics show the A-State track team owns seven top marks in WAC activity this spring.

Following the Devils in number of top performances are New Mexico with five, Brigham Young four, and Arizona with three.

A-State top performers include Henry Carr, who leads the 220 chase with a world's record 20.2, and shares the 100 lead with New Mexico's Bernie Rivers at 9.4, Glenn Winningham, in the javelin with a toss of 258-11, and Joe Caldwell, who has high jumped 6-8½.

Other Sun Devil top performers are Darrell Jansen in the high hurdles, with a 14.1 clocking, the mile relay team of Jim McBurney, Ullis Williams, Eric Owers and Carr, with a timing of 3:10.1, and Owers and Joe Smart, who pace the half-milers with times of 1:52.8 each.
