Groups Scheduled For Jazz Festival

Eight groups have definitely been scheduled for the Western Regional Intercollegiate Jazz Festival May 1 to 3, Chairman Garth Tallman announced yesterday.

More professional talent will be featured this weekend than at any other campus festival, according to Tallman.

Jazz flutist Paul Horn, presently featured at the Los Angeles Coconut Grove, will star at the Friday night show at 8:15.

Three ASU groups, the 15-piece ASU Stage Band, Charley Johnston Sextette and the Aires, a four-piece vocal group, will compete.

KAPPA KAPPA Psi, National Band Honorary Fraternity, sponsoring a four-piece combo plus a vocalist, will compete against the UCLA Jazz Sextette at 3 p.m. Saturday.

Booth Move Set If Weather Bad

"We'll move the voting booths inside if it rains tomorrow, but there will be an election, Max Goodrich, Election Board chairman, said yesterday.

In case of inclement weather, booths will be moved into the Social Sciences Building, the MU, Sahuaro Hall and either the Life Sciences or Physical Sciences Center.

that show will include drummer Shelly Mann, trumpeter Shorty Rogers, flutist Paul Horn and pianist Pete Jolly.

Mann and Horn will perform again during the evening session. College competitors will be the UCLA Jazz Ensemble, Los Angeles State College 18-man group and ASU's nine-piece Phi Mu Sinfonia.

KIM WILLIAMS, jazz vocalist presently performing at the Purple Onion in San Francisco, will star at all shows.

Stan Kenton, emcee and host for all events, will announce the winners of the festival competition at 2 p.m. Sunday.

Tickets are now on sale on the East Hall lawn. Rates are $1 student admission or $1.50 for reserved seats and $1.50 regular admission and $2 for reserved seats for the public. An all-program pass is offered to both students and the public for $4.

The Linde Box Office, all Bill's Records stores and Hill's Records in Tempe are also selling tickets. Tickets will be available at the door.

Seven Candidates Seek Victory In Election Today

Today's primary election will decide the Associated Students administrative vice presidency, the two AMS and AWS senator races and the ratification of the AWS Constitution. The AWS vice president will not be elected.

"After a reinterpretation of the statutes involving special elections, it was decided it was illegal to run the AWS election at this time," Max Goodrich, Election Board chairman said. GOODRICH'S statement came after a Saturday morning meeting with AS President Daryl Winn. The Election Board previously announced the Election Code would be side-stepped and AWS vice presidency candidates would have only two days to fill out petitions.

All offices will be filled in the primary and there will be no general election unless there are candidate protests.

Expected turn out is predicted to hit a possible high of 3,000. "We printed 3,000 ballots," said Goodrich.

The Election Board is following the same procedure used in the last election. ID card numbers will be checked against lists at the polls as the students vote.

BALLOTS will be numbered and accounted for.

"All the ballots are here," said Goodrich just prior to election. All ballots must be accounted for after election also. This way the board will know if a discrepancy occurs in the election.

Voting booths will be located on the south side of the PV bridge, in front of Matthews Library, on the southwest corner of College Avenue and Orange Street and in the Sahuaro Hall complex.

POLLS WILL be open from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Alan Bunch and Ann Gardner will vie for the AS administrative vice presidency.

Running for the two AMS Senate seats will be Jeff Boucher, Louis Castro and Bob Short.

Sue Knight and Charlotte Schilling are running unopposed for the two AWS Senate positions. Coeds will also vote on the revised AWS Constitution.

Reception Set For South American Play Cast Tonight

Students will have the opportunity to visit informally with Gen. Hugo M. Bethlehem and the other members of the "El Condor" cast at a reception at 7 tonight in the MU Lower Lounge.

The reception will be sponsored by the University administration, Cultural Affairs Committee and International Student Relations Committee. The Rev. and Mrs. Charles Crouch will serve as hosts.

"El Condor" is a play written and produced by South American students and is being presented by them at Coronado High School Auditorium at 8:30 p.m. Thursday.

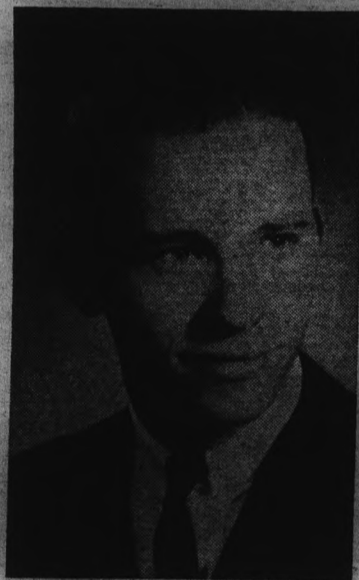

The play has been described as a realistic drama concerning the Latin American situation.

Gen. Bethlehem, who heads the cast, is Brazil's former ambassador to Bolivia and Pakistan.

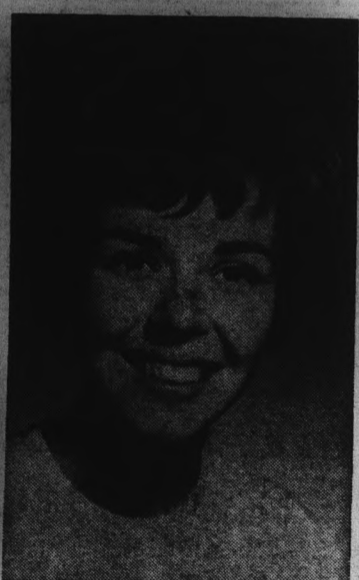

Also included in the cast are Euclides da Silva, elected leader of 60,000 inhabitants of Rio de Janeiro "shanty-towns," and two of the play's authors, Vicente Arakaki, San Marcos University, and Carlos Vasconcelos, University of Recife.

Gen. Bethlehem will also give a formal address to the AFROTC detachment tomorrow morning on "Brazil and Communism."

Vice Presidency Candidates

ALAN BUNCH

ANN GARDNER

I believe in a student government by and for the students and one that listens to the voices of the students. These voices can best be heard through the office of administrative vice president.

The administrative vice president will carry out administrative policy, coordinate the administrative boards and conduct surveys concerning major problems of the students for the purpose of making recommendations to the president of the University.

I feel strongly I can give the office of administrative vice president the leadership and experience it will need in its crucial first year.

Alan Bunch

The office created by the passage of the revised AS Constitution will present many problems to its first office-holder.

These problems must be faced with a realization that their solution will either weaken or solidify the establishment of the office in the strong foundation of ASASU.

I propose to face these responsibilities with three years of experience in executive and administrative positions and a respect for this challenge that is offered.

I will do all I can to insure the success of this new venture in student government.

Housing Changes Reported

Next fall, Palo Verde West will be a freshmen hall and the Quad will be open for all coeds, according to Edward M. Hickcox, director of housing.

He said the policy was determined by Dean Nichols.

Hickcox said the reason for the change is to give greater variety in rates and meal plans to junior and senior women.

Palo Verde West is now under construction and will be completed by September, 1964. The Quad is presently a freshmen hall.

Political Scientist -

White Appointed Department Head

Dr. John P. White, professor of political science, has been named chairman of the department of political science. The appointment was announced yesterday by Dr. Karl H. Dannenfeldt, dean of the College of Liberal Arts.

He succeeds Dr. Bruce B. Mason, professor of political science, who will resume his position as director of the Bureau of Government Research upon his return to campus this fall.

During the past year Dr. Mason has been on a leave of absence in Taiwan. Acting chairman for the past year has been Dr. Raymond Uhl. He will resume full time teaching duties next fall.

Dr. White is co-author of "Apportionment and Representative Institutions, the Michigan Experience," an analysis of the apportionment system in Michigan, published last year.

Dr. White served as a member of the University of Michigan political science faculty nine years before coming to campus last fall. He received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Cincinnati and master of arts and doctor of philosophy degrees from the University of Chicago.

He was a consultant to the Michigan Constitutional Convention in 1961-62 and has served as chairman of the history and political science sections of the Michigan Academy of Sciences, Arts and Letters.

Columbia Rates Press

State Press has been named recipient of a Medalist rating by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association for the 1963-64 school year. Also singled out was the sports section which received an All-Columbian rating. Announcement was made this week from the association's headquarters at Columbia University.

The Medalist rating is the highest award a paper can receive and places State Press in the top 10 per cent of those competing in the college newspaper category. It is given to certain publications selected from the first-place ratings for special consideration.

Excellent sports coverage and treatment of athletic events made the award to the sports section possible, according to the judges.

The paper scored 959 out of a possible 1,000 points.

Car Victim Hospitalized

A 19 year-old coed was hospitalized Saturday morning as the result of a car-pedestrian accident at Stadium Drive near Palo Verde East.

Tempe police said Katherine Bates, a freshman living in Palo Verde East, was struck by a car driven by Lt. Richard F. Lord of Williams Air Force Base about 1 a.m. Saturday.

The girl and three companions were crossing Stadium Drive and apparently walked or ran in front of the car driven by Lord police said.

Officials at St. Joseph Hospital, Phoenix, said she is listed in good condition as of Monday.

DON'T BOTHER TO CARRY AN EXTRA SUPPLY.

New Carefree* tampons promise so much more protection—you can leave the extras at home!

The principle of this superior protection is simple, natural. Most old-style tampons flatten, thin out, elongate when moisture strikes. This shape simply cannot cover the area of flow properly. Thus embarrassing accidents occur.

But a Carefree tampon (firmly compressed so it needs no rigid applicator) expands into a natural, round shape that conforms to your own body's structure, responds to your own body's needs. It gives you more comfort than any tampon or napkin ever developed.

Actual use tests proved that the new Carefree tampon absorbs, without leakage, 73% more than the leading tampon—starts to absorb more quickly than any other.

Better protection—longer protection. That's why you can leave that extra supply at home.

*Trademark

†Because Carefree is far more absorbent, there is no need for a Carefree super size. If you are using tampons for the first time, you may wish to try Carefree Slim (the smaller size).

Wilson Without Honor

No honor dorm next fall. The girls of Wilson Dormitory will have to leave anyway. It's still going to be converted to a men's dorm for at least one year.

The honor dorm has been a bastard child — conceived with good intentions but then turned away. The opinion of Dean George Hamm is that it will have to mature considerably before it will be accepted in the University family.

"THERE IS NO honor dorm — no intention of an honor dorm. I want to get that straight," said Dr. Hamm, dean of men.

During the last AS election, there seemed no doubt the girls of Wilson were being "evicted" because one of the candidates had succeeded in acquiring Wilson for a men's honor dorm. "Some people made some statements that were not well founded. There were certainly some distorted facts," said Hamm concerning the confusion.

DR. HAMM FEELS a lot of research is necessary before an honor dorm can be instituted. "I've never seen them work extremely well and I've seen some fold. We may do some studies in the dorms next fall. A doctoral study I read showed honor dorms did not contribute significantly to the university atmosphere."

So this summer the possibility will be considered, discussed and considered some more. The stumbling block seems to be the criteria to set up for honor students. Some of the best students are the worst disciplinary problems. Aspects of character and study habits would have to be considered. "If you don't choose," said Hamm, "on scholastics alone, it is not an honor dorm."

THEN CHANGE the word honor to something else but let's get some decent housing conditions. Everyone, including the dean and especially the residents who try to study, are disgusted with the chaos and lack of college atmosphere in the men's dorms. Hamm is especially disappointed with his dormitory personnel and the lack of contact they have with residents.

There seems to be some chance for gradual improvement in the dorms, but gradual is too slow to even keep up. It's going to take a strong program and it will have to be put into operation now to solve the mounting problem of the deteriorating dorms.

Playboy Still Around

Nine students recently wrote, renewing old complaints that censorship was taking place on campus through the removal of Playboy magazine from the University Bookstore magazine rack.

PLAYBOY HAS been removed from the rack but it has not been censored. Those who want it badly enough and have the nerve can buy it on request. The girl will retrieve an issue from its hiding place under the counter.

The Memorial Union Board, on request of its Student Religious Council representative and by no means imposing censorship, asked the bookstore to consider a more discreet manner of selling it. The bookstore complied.

PLAYBOY HAS been in numerous scrapes with the law, the last one in June in Chicago — the Jayne Mansfield "nudies" were a little too nude for decency, was the contention.

The decency crusaders operate under the premise children should not be exposed to "men's" magazines. As college students we should be able to decide for ourselves what to read. The MU Board was reasonable in its action; no one is being deprived of his rights. It's there for those who want it.

A Student's View —

Reflections On Graham

By KEN C. KATO

I, as a student, had the unique opportunity to witness the dynamism of one man. What motivates a man to bring 104,000 people together on a weekend for the sake of searching themselves, their lives, their gods? Truth and its quality of self-perpetuation brought about these circumstances. With a determined certainty, Dr. Graham unveiled the truth of our time by contrasting its simplicity against the complexity of our decadent age.

YES, WE LIVE in a turbulent age of evolving values. During our college years, we sit on the banks of the mainstream of life, a golden opportunity to dip into the current of our time to test its quality and direction. We can see the mistakes of our forefathers being agitated by the uncertainty of the future. Can we, in our position, alter our times?

Hundreds of people committed themselves to a new life because of the contagious inspiration of truth perpetuating itself through one man. These people represented a great sign of our time. A great need, a need for a real reason for living, loving and life. Are we satisfied with the superficiality of a life consecrated to our ego and its small world?

NOW IS THE TIME in our college years to seek out truth. Life is a continuous experiment which demands the constant testing of our integrity, morality and our expression against the standards of universal truth.

Whatever our belief, whatever our station in life, we are all under the same great law of living. Our ignorance, rejection or indifference to the law does not alter its effect, even as the sun shines on all equally. Albert Einstein summed up the quest of life for truth in two words, "holy curiosity." I wonder what he meant by this?

Letters To The Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

It appears to me the now infamous "walking bridge" was misplaced. What happened last Friday night when two people were struck down while crossing Stadium Drive can be avoided if:

The City of Tempe or the University will place more lighting along Stadium Drive as it wraps around Palo Verde and the parking lots and paint cross walks on the street with large signs noting their presence.

The blame cannot be entirely on the driver of the auto, as the two persons were jaywalking, nor to the students as the driver should be conscious of what is happening around him.

To me, this is just another example of the lack of foresight shown by someone in the University. Whose responsibility it is I know not, but the situation should be dealt with now, not in the fall, or during the summer.

TO THE EDITOR:

Re your editorial in the April 22nd issue of State Press concerning freedom of the press. Not only newspapers, but any publication that transmits ideas or facts to the public properly belongs under the category of the press and deserves the protection of our traditional constitutional guarantees. What happens to those guarantees when a publication begins to examine a taboo subject such as our traditional attitudes on sexual morality?

When Playboy was just another "girlie" magazine, it was bothered only sporadically by isolated groups of bigots and non-intellects. During the last year-and-a-half, Playboy has contained in each issue a carefully prepared and logically presented critique of our traditional attitudes on sex. The answer on the part of narrow-minded religious groups and moral vigilantes has not been a rebuttal in the form of a logical presentation to suppress the heretical views presented in the magazine by forcing it off the newsstands and putting its editor in jail on a charge of peddling filth.

Playboy has never been judged to be obscene in any court in the land. The arbitrary removal of Playboy from the MU Bookstore by the MU Board represents an unconstitutional attack on the free press. Yet there was not a word of editorial comment in your paper when this action was taken. Now you want our support in your struggle for financial independence from Associated Students. When you have stated your position in relation to the illegal censorship imposed by the MU Board, we will be willing to listen to your pleas for State Press.

I Cover College Avenue

By ED HEATH
 Managing Editor

Hope it wouldn't be too rash to suggest that student government seems to lack a little logic in its organization.

The first shortcoming is in the realm of its duties to the student body, and because the student government officers are elected to represent the students, they have an important duty to the students.

STUDENT money in the hands of student representatives, sounds logical.

The fact that student government is a central clearing house to regulate and direct what is done with these monies is logical too.

Indeed, it sounds very much like a government of and for the students.

But where is the other element — by the students?

It is a misuse of the term to suggest that because the officers are simultaneously attending classes they are wholly students. They are not. And they haven't the time to be among their constituents and learn what is important to them.

But the lobbying still exists many say.

This theoretically means that if the students want something, they can ask their senator and he will work for it in the Senate. Or they can go before the tribunal, consisting of the president, first vice president and activities vice president.

THIS, TOO, is absurd. Daryl Winn has committee reports and correspondence with the administration which keeps him plenty busy. And Perry Gooch has four activities committees to control.

Finally, George Stewart. He depicts the essence of the argument. As first vice president and speaker of the Senate, he is the largest obstacle in the way of obtaining a by-the-students characteristic about student government.

Never before has anyone in student government so violently and slyly fought against criticism of his activities.

I STAND on the premise that student government in theory is good and that ASU's is among the best, but in practice it falls far short.

Improvement is needed and I feel that the saving element must be an initiative and referendum — an opportunity for the student government to get their just due. And an opportunity to get it despite the personality obstacles and lack of communication.

University Hosts Delegates

At least 175 student officers from universities and colleges in 12 western states are expected to attend a 7 p.m. banquet today, opening the 39th annual Pacific Student Presidents' Association convention at the Valley Ho Hotel in Scottsdale.

Theme of the four-day convention, which ends Saturday, is "So I've Won — Now What?" according to Daryl Winn, AS president and treasurer-host for the PSPA convention.

At least 60 of more than 200 member schools are expected to send delegates. Each school sends an average of three delegates, Winn said, mostly student officers who were elected this semester to serve during the next school year.

Delegates attending from ASU are Karl Wochner, AS president-elect; Terry Cotter, activities vice president-elect; Emily Getsinger, secretary-elect, and Judy Hamer, first vice president-elect. Delegates will discuss common problems in student government and exchange ideas toward improving government in member schools.

Subjects to be examined include government structure, finances, student newspapers, administrative and campus relations and individual leadership.

Much of the discussion will be done in groups and committees.

Street Dance Set Thursday

"Spring fever" street dance will take place in front of the MU from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Two Endowed Professorships Are Established

Two endowed professorships are being established and plans for future endowed professorships are being made to enable the University to add distinguished scholars to the faculty, President Durham announced recently.

The first endowed appointment will be made with funds from the Paul V. Galvin Memorial Fund for the fields of engineering and physical sciences. A gift from the late Robert E. Maytag will be used in the field of life sciences.

An endowed professorship is supported from income from the principal of the gift. The money will be invested by the University Investment Committee to be appointed by the Board of Regents.

Gifts are of two types; supplementary support of existing professorships, and endowed chairs. The minimum capital requirement to establish an endowed chair is $400,000.

Theatre To Offer 4 Williams' Plays

The Cultural Affairs Committee will present "American Blues," a Readers Theatre presentation of four short plays by Tennessee Williams, at 8 p.m. Thursday in the upper lounge of the MU.

Directed by Robert L. Johnson, the presentation will include four of the five plays in "American Blues," "Mooney's Kid Don't Cry," "The Case of the Crushed Petunias," "Dark Room" and "The Long Stay or The Unsatisfactory Supper." Walter Orlinky, Claire Chene, Esther Louise Moore and Richard Baggott, all members of University Players, will be the cast of the presentation.

Johnson will narrate the presentation, explain the plays and link them together for the audience.

The cast will stand to read the plays and will use no sets, only props.

"'American Blues' brings together several examples of the works of the man who has given our theatre 'The Glass Menagerie' and 'A Streetcar Named Desire,'" Johnson said.

Making sure you can "Fill it up"...year after year

Our country's demand for petroleum energy will be up 55% in the next 15 years.

Many people think that petroleum is brought out of the ground simply by drilling wells and letting the oil flow out of its own accord.

The fact is, only about 20% of the petroleum in an average field will flow "of its own accord" before the gas pressures give out, and the oil flow stops. If we gave up then, gasoline would not be as plentiful, and the price would be higher.

But, Standard's petroleum engineers don't give up. By supplementing oil field gas pressures with floods of water, gases, detergents, or even controlled fire, they often more than double normal recovery.

These "assisted recovery" methods, developed through years of research, are making new oil fields more productive, and bringing new life to old oil fields. Besides being good business, they lengthen our country's petroleum supply.

This is one of many ways in which Standard, with its large oil reserves in the ground, discharges its responsibility to conserve a vital resource...to keep pace with our country's needs for industry, defense, agriculture... and to make sure you can "Fill it up," year after year.

Planning ahead to serve you better

Greeks May Add Sorority Colonies

By JANET BERGMAN

The Panhellenic Council voted unanimously yesterday to endorse colonization of two new sororities on campus for the 1964-65 school year.

Endorsed for colonization were Delta Delta Delta and Pi Beta Phi. A colonization committee recommendation, along with Panhellenic's endorsement, will now be submitted to President Durham and Dr. John Ryan, academic vice president, for approval.

Pending administration approval, the groups will be invited to colonize here second semester next year, with first rush scheduled in February.

THE SORORITIES were recommended by a committee consisting of Dr. Catherine Nichols, associate dean of students; Jo F. Dorris, assistant associate dean; Connie Schuster, Phoenix Panhellenic president; Barbara Anderson, Phoenix Panhellenic vice president; Sally Davis, Panhellenic president; Diane Battenfield, Panhellenic vice president, and Ellen Roca, past Panhellenic president.

Its recommendation was based on national and local alumni strength, reasons for desiring to colonize here, philanthropic projects, aid from advisory board and national strength.

Colonization of two groups rather than one was suggested to create a greater sense of competition and to encourage more girls to go through rush.

"I AM PLEASED to see the unanimous endorsement given by the council to two outstanding national sororities," said Dean Dorris after the meeting.

Delta Delta Delta sorority, founded in 1888, has 108 active chapters and 305 alumni chapters. Its national philanthropic project is a Crescent fund for scholarships.

Founded in 1867, Pi Beta Phi sorority has 108 active chapters and 314 alumni chapters. A settlement school at Gatlinburg, Tenn., and a scholarship fund are its national projects.

Devils Nab Lobo Series; 'Cats Next

By MIKE HELFNER

The Sun Devils moved into a commanding three-game lead in the WAC Southern Division with a three-game sweep over the University of New Mexico last weekend.

The Devils took decisions of 14-1, 20-1 and 3-1 to completely dominate the Lobos. A-State batters came up with 40 hits while the pitching held the Lobos to 22 hits.

Skip Hancock hurled the Friday night game and picked up his ninth win without a defeat. Ron Lea got credit for the win in Saturday afternoon's contest while Sam Cook, the Devils ace relief pitcher, started and went all the way in picking up the 3-1 win.

A-STATE NOW sports a nifty 32-4 record and a 6-0 mark in WAC competition. This weekend the team travels for the first time this year as the Devils meet the UofA in a vital WAC series. The Wildcats have a 3-3 mark in the WAC.

UofA officials have requested ASU students to sit behind the third base dugout. Reserve box seats at Hi Corbett Field for the three games are $2 apiece for each game and can be purchased by contacting the UofA Ticket Office in Tucson.

Starting times for the three games are as follows: Friday night, 7:30; Saturday afternoon, 2, and Saturday night, 7:30. For those not going, KAET, Ch. 8, will give a visual re-creation of the two Saturday games. This is a continuation of the successful experiment conducted earlier this month when the Wildcats were here.

THE DEVILS have another week off before the Wildcat series, but to keep his team sharp, Coach Bobby Winkles has had his charges playing the frosh team.

Winkles said: "Our whole team looked sharp in beating New Mexico. The pitching, the defense (1 error) and the hitting were excellent. Our pitching and defense faltered slightly last week but have rebounded quite strongly."

Dennis Levine Says:

"Our fruit and vegetable salads are delicious."

The Hot Spot

By AL MICHAELS
Sports Editor

Will those of you aware of the fact that Arizona State University boasts the most formidable tennis team in its history, please rise.

Well, now that everybody's remained seated, let me be the first kid on your block to clue you in.

Coach Ted Bredehoff has expertly combined a handful of returning squadmen with some impressive newcomers and molded ASU's first winning net unit since the war.

1812, I mean.

IF YOU'VE SEEN the Sun Devils in action this spring, chances are you're Bredehoff's cousin. I wouldn't say attendance has been dismal, but I've seen more people in the laundromat on New Year's Eve. I mean an ASU tennis match has had about as much appeal as a guy who hasn't brushed his teeth in a month. Channel 8's test pattern gets a bigger audience.

Coach Bredehoff's crew is comprised of a group of fellas who merit no athletic scholarship aid whatsoever. Unfortunately, these boys have received about as much recognition as Red China in the United Nations.

PARTICULARLY NOTEWORTHY is a fella by the name of Dave Farmer. Dave is the freshman from Odessa, Tex., whose hobby is maintaining an A average. When the Sun Devils host Arizona's talent-laden Wildcats this weekend, Dave will be meeting the UofA's sensational Bill Lenoir, a senior who performed at Wimbledon last summer.

Now for those of you unfamiliar with the sport, Wimbledon is to tennis what the Kentucky Derby is to horse racing. Or Sophia Loren to bachelors. I mean it's IT.

The Farmer-Lenoir match is just one of the outstanding features of what figures to be an excellent attraction. Our tennis team is extremely worthy of our support and a few faces in the crowd might just provide the necessary catalyst toward a victory over the Wildcats.

Injuries, Rulings Ruin Devil Hopes

By JON MORRIS

The 1964 Sun Devil tracksters have enough troubles without those that occurred last weekend.

First there were injuries — Tom Hester, Ulis Williams, Jim Childs and Ben Hawkins; then a question of eligibility.

At the 55th Drake Relays in Des Moines, Iowa, Henry Carr sped to a 21-second victory in the 220. This was Friday and everything looked lovely.

THE NEXT DAY javelin thrower Glenn Winningham was questioned on his eligibility. He withdrew when it was discovered he did not have the required school year's residence at ASU for NCAA competition.

Then, that old problem of injuries cropped up again.

A-State's mile relay tandem of Jim McBurney, Carr, Eric Owers and Williams were one of six to qualify for the Saturday finals. But the big day came and Ulis' leg was giving him trouble.

He was the second potential A-State winner who was forced to withdraw.

Meanwhile, UofA's Gayle Hopkins snapped meet records in the broad jump and triple jump. The Wildcat senior cleared 26 feet, two inches to crumble Jesse Owens' 29-year record. Owens' 26-1 3/4 was the meet's oldest record.

HOPKINS also went 51-8 in the triple jump to better Jack Smyth of Houston's 49-9 meet record set in 1958.

Carl Davis and Larry Hendershot were the only show for the Devils at the Mt. San Antonio Relays at Walnut, Calif., Saturday. Davis was third in the 120-high hurdles at 14.5 and Hendershot fifth in shot put at 56-7 3/4.

Two-time Olympic champ Al Oerter smashed his own world discus record with a throw of 206-6 to highlight the Mt. SAC Relays.
