

Durham To Receive Seating Resolution

By TONY AULT

Judy Hamer, speaker of the Senate and first vice president, will present to President Durham a Senate resolution condemning Intercollegiate Athletics' new basketball seating program.

The resolution, unanimously passed by the Senate Wednesday, states the new seating arrangement constitutes a breach of contract between Associated Students and ICA.

SB 198 Section III of AS statutes says:

"The $10 allotment per capita full-time student under the Intercollegiate Athletic budget is based upon a letter of Nov. 30, 1962, signed by Clyde Smith, director of athletics, stating that student seating in football and basketball will be under the same policy and in the same location as the 1962-63 academic year."

THE ICA initiated the new seating system last week that divides the students in three alphabetical groups. The new system allows the student to attend only four games during the season.

According to the Senate resolution, the new seating program prohibits interested students who support basketball from going to more than four games. If the student's name falls in a different alphabetical section than his friends he may be discouraged from attending the games, the resolution also states.

The resolution introduced by Sens. Ira Friedman, Sam Linder, Mike Bowlin and Fred Reish was passed unanimously after an hour of debate in the Senate Chambers.

Game Tickets

An additional opportunity will be available for students who failed to pick up basketball tickets on the assigned days.

Students who failed to pick up tickets in groups A-E, F-M and N-Z may obtain tickets allotted to each alphabetical group beginning at 7 a.m. next Wednesday. If any groups of tickets remain at 5 p.m. that day, they will be released to students on a first-come, first-served basis beginning at 7 a.m. Dec. 1.

FRIEDMAN, off-campus men's senator, said, "Since students are paying for campus activities they should not be told which athletic events they should attend."

Sen. Janice Ayers, who was absent from Wednesday's Senate session, said, "I would have voted for the resolution."

"I can see the ICA's point of view, but I feel they didn't consider the students' feelings. The new alphabetical seating arrangements will dampen the students' spirits if they can't sit with their friends," said Sen. Ayers.

ATHLETIC Director Clyde B. Smith, said the new seating arrangement was made merely "as a matter of fairness."

"There are simply not enough seats in the gymnasium to accommodate all the student body," said Smith.

Smith went on to say that the $10 activity fee constitutes approximately 13 per cent of the receipts. "Without the public we are dead, and even with that almost 50 per cent of the seats are reserved for the students and that these are prime seats."

THE RESOLUTION is now in the hands of a student-faculty committee.

The initiative, referendum and recall amendment was passed along with SB 228, an act to establish an activities coordination council, SB 229, an act to repeal SB 14 as ineffective legislation.

SM 1, a memorial to David B. Scouler, manager of Gammage Auditorium, was defeated.

Senate Bills 227, an act to establish a board of financial control, 23, an act to repeal SB 164 as ineffective legislation and 232, an act to establish funds for the organizations board were tabled indefinitely.

AFQT Tests

The Air Force Officers Qualifying Test (AFOQT) will be given tomorrow morning at 7:15 in LSC 191.

This six-hour test is a prerequisite for advanced corps consideration for sophomore cadets and veterans, but does not constitute application or incur obligation to those taking it.

Fireworks, Dancing Planned For Rally

Fireworks, a bonfire and street dance will highlight the pep rally for the ASU-UofA football game at 7 p.m. Tuesday behind the East Butte.

The Sun Devil Band, pom-pom girls and cheerleaders will be present to promote pep and spirit.

THE DEVILETTE, a female devil mascot who will be reintroduced at Saturday's football game after an absence of three years, will also appear at the rally.

A post-rally street dance is planned on the north end of Alpha Drive. The Chug-a-lugs with Jane Nelson, Miss New Mexico, as lead guitar, will play for the dance.

One-thousand copies of two satires of the UofA fight songs, "Fall Down Arizona" and "Far Below the Gila River," will be distributed by the Rally and Traditions Board at the game in Tucson.

A THOUSAND clicker noise makers will be distributed also.

The annual bicycle race from Tempe to Tucson has been canceled because of recent legislation making the state liable for all accidents occurring on state property.

A time factor of four to five days to run the race also was cited by Archer Shelton, president of Archons, an honorary for fraternity men.

The annual football game between the IFC's of both schools will be played at noon, Nov. 28 at Tucson. ASU IFC representatives will be playing to keep the traveling trophy won from the Wildcats last year.

Sidewalk Surfing Is Down

At least one coed found it hard to walk on one of our modern sidewalks during last rainfall in front of the Quad. The reason for all this muck is the construction of the new College Avenue Mall.

'West Side Story' Begins On Dec. 4

"West Side Story," the first all-student production to be staged in Gammage Auditorium, will be presented at 8:30 p.m. Dec. 4 and 5 and at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 6.

The production will be presented by the University Players, under the direction of Donald Doyle, and the Lyric Opera Theater, under the musical direction of Kenneth Seipp, associate professor of music. A 43-member cast will team with a 41-piece orchestra.

Starring in the show will be Phil Burke, as Tony; Norma Yeary, as Maria; Rich Stapp, as Riff, leader of the Jet gang; Bob Hillis, as Bernardo, leader of the Sharks, and JoAnn Yeo, as Anita.

OTHERS INCLUDE Barry Fried, Lanny Thomas, Dick Elmer and Michael Lucchesi.

The Jets will be portrayed by John Williamson, Greg Stump, Carol Schafer, Spence Chapman, John Morrison, Charles Davis, Noel Campbell, Paul Secrest and Bruce Hayden.

The Jets' girls are Rose Dezember, Sandy Silverman, Denise Doering, Tina Clark, Priscilla Lucero, Jeanette Jensen and Barbara Blaine.

THE SHARKS' members are Mike Druse, Bob Short, Dabney Ford, Tom Mesa, Fereydon Ave, Dave Boyd, Ron Gregory, David Hayward and Tom Martinez.

The Sharks' girl friends are Pat Tarpey, Faye Lingscheit, Lynn Dodge, Betty Burton, Pat McConnell, Sandy Dirickson, Pat Flores and Peggy Thurston.

Advanced ticket sales will be at the Lyceum and a limited number will be available at the auditorium on performance nights. Student prices range from $1 to $2.50.

Committee Halts Senior Day Plans For Third Time

Plans are under way for an ASU Day this spring to replace the annual Senior Day which was twice scheduled for tomorrow . . . and twice canceled.

According to Dr. John Ryan, Student Affairs Committee chairman, "The day will be organized around the different college programs and will offer a preview of what our University is really like."

Senior Day, the annual program for high school seniors, has been co-sponsored by the Arizona Interscholastic Association and the state's colleges and universities.

But this summer the AIA withdrew support, after the date had been set on the University calendar, stating that participating in such an affair is up to the individual student and so "does not come within the responsibility of the AIA."

Three weeks ago the administration re-scheduled Senior Day but canceled it this week because of lack of sufficient planning time.

The UofA has already held its Senior Day — without the AIA. ASC's will be this spring.

False Alarms Bug PV East Women

Most women in dormitories would appreciate an evening out of the dorm, but the women of PV East would like to stay in the dorm for one full night.

Residents of PV East have been victims of four false fire alarms since September.

One alarm was set off accidentally. Another came an hour before an alarm which had been scheduled by dorm officials. The third alarm occurred last month at 1:15 a.m. The last took place midnight Tuesday.

John Duffy, director of Campus Security, said: "We have infrequent false alarms, but not to the extent PV East is having them. It appears to be more than an accident."

"FALSE alarms are a thorn in the side of any security or police department. We have to take men from other assignments to cover the drills."

Duffy said the matter is under "intense investigation" and that Campus Security is "trying to find out who the culprit or culprits are."

Tempe Fire Chief William Hanna, also expressed concern. When unscheduled alarms are set off in a residence hall, fire trucks are sent to the scene.

Taking a truck out of service puts the city in a bad situation "since we are shorthanded anyway," Chief Hanna said.

"IT IS ALSO dangerous to the girls. It reverts to the story of 'cry wolf.' They will hear the alarm so often that if it is the real thing they still won't respond. They will figure it's another drill and get hurt."

He pointed out that every time a fire truck is dispatched it costs the city $250-$350 in terms of truck depreciation and salaries.

Mrs. Charlotte Lewis, head resident of PV East, said, "I can't understand what the object is or what type of warped personality would pull the alarms. The dorm plans systematic drills and we try to do it at a time when students won't be upset too much."

"The false drills are causing a dangerous attitude. Tuesday night I could see that the girls were just wandering around. But, who can blame them?" she added.

Cathryn Goddard, dorm president, said, "As president of the dorm my opinion is one of disgust. As a resident, it is unprintable."

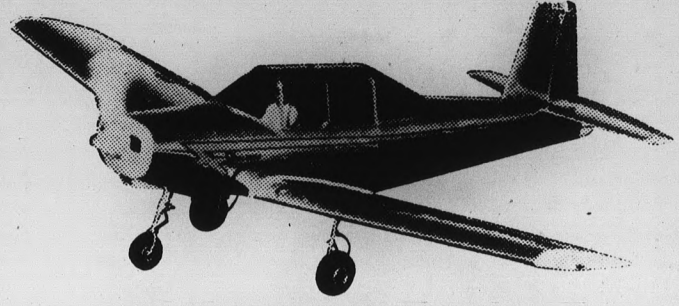

Honorary Selection This Week

A seven-member selection board this weekend will choose 36 students to be listed in the annual "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities."

AS President Karl Wochner, board chairman, said more than 200 students were nominated, but only 148 applications were returned to Dr. W. P. Shofstall, dean of students and board adviser.

Selectees for Who's Who are judged on extra-curricular activities, honors based on ability and scholarship.

Seating Stirs Comments

The much-discussed basketball seating systemization is not student oriented, according to a student-faculty poll.

In Wednesday's State Press, a ballot coupon was printed which served as a voice of opposition to the seating systemization. At the last count, 380 ballots were in.

Students contend they are getting a "raw deal" by not being allowed to see all games or the games of their choice.

Intercollegiate Athletics has its reasons for adopting this system, and realizes the limited seating capacity causes a problem.

IN THIS poll, a majority of students strongly opposed the measure. Faculty members realize the need for a solution of the seating shortage and accept the adoption of the system.

Senior Steve Gottschalk said, "I think the system is narrow or moreover not student oriented. A new field house is a complete solution, but for now impossible."

Junior Keith Miller agreed that a solution is needed but doesn't like the present measure.

FRESHMAN John Fahey said, "The situation is an unfortunate set-up, however one can only remedy it by an increase of the seating capacity."

Junior Sue Nystad said, "Students should be able to see whatever games they want to and the measure also hinders dating."

Fred Farnsworth, instructor in industrial technology, said the system was not a good idea.

"The full-time supporters should have access to all the games," he said.

DR. CHARLES B. Smith, associate professor of general business administration said, "The ICA had little choice; this measure seemed the only way out."

Dr. Eldridge A. Erickson, assistant professor of education, said the solution was inevitable, it had to be done. "It is a step in the right direction and I am willing to see only half of the games," he said.

Dr. David I. Rasmussen, assistant professor of zoology, said, "This is definitely a problem but perhaps this solution is workable."

New Resolution Is Just A Start

Editor's Note: The complete text of the resolution against the new basketball seating policy passed by the AS Student Senate Wednesday appears below.

Whereas, Intercollegiate Athletics has seen fit to inaugurate a policy whereby a student may attend only four games, according to alphabetical listing by last name.

And whereas, this does not allow a student a free choice in determining the games he wants to attend.

AND WHEREAS, THIS prohibits interested students who enthusiastically support basketball games from going to more than four games.

And whereas a student, if his name falls into a different alphabetical section than his friends, is prohibited from attending a basketball game with friends, be they male or female, fraternity brothers or sorority sisters.

And whereas, this will encourage increased activity in illegal ticket sales.

And whereas, Intercollegiate Athletics is supposedly serving the best interests of the students, and whereas, this policy constitutes a breach of contract between Associated Students and ICA.

THEREFORE, RESOLVED, that the ASASU Student Senate wishes to express its opposition to this program and denounce this action by ICA as arbitrary, unfair, inconsiderate of student opinion, and failing to serve the best interests of the student body as a whole. We further feel that school spirit will be impaired by this action.

We further request a return to the system used in 1963-64 in compliance with Senate Bill 198, Section III, effective immediately.

The AS Senate in general, and Sens. Friedman, Linder, Bowlin and Reish in particular, should be congratulated for fast work in unanimously passing the above resolution.

However, the Senate stopped just a bit short of the desired goal. They disagree with the new seating policy, but they offer no real solution. Going back to the previous, first-come, first-serve basis is fine, but it will not solve the situation for very long. As the University population grows, so will the seating problem.

WE NEED BIGGER facilities for basketball seating, or an entirely new gymnasium. To do this we need money. A part of the needed amount may be gained from the activities fee paid by the students. At present only $10 is being given to the Intercollegiate Athletic Association. It is in the power of the ASASU Board of Financial Control to increase this amount.

Senators say that by raising this amount, other groups such as the debate team, rodeo club, choral union, yearbook, Orchestra and other groups will suffer as these groups receive money from this fund which amounts to approximately a quarter of a million dollars.

Some of the various other groups demanding money can and do earn as much as half of the money needed to support themselves by ticket sales, projects, and other money-raising events.

AT MANY OTHER UNIVERSITIES, as much as $57 is taken out of student fees for activities and there is no reason why we can't take another $2 per student from each $115, and transfer it to the activities fund. But this is in the domain of the Board of Regents.

The senate may be operating under a misconception. The ICA doesn't expect the students to raise the entire amount, but any substantial increase will give the ICA something to work with. They will have a starting point, and right now, even that looks good.

After all, the 380 students who clipped out the coupon in Wednesday's issue all voted for discontinuing this system and for raising the fee, and 380 students can't be all wrong.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

The Student Supreme Court has finally rendered its verdict in the Carl Buchanan vs. Election Board case . . . in favor of Buchanan.

Buchanan, a Senate candidate from the College of Architecture, was disqualified because of illegal display of a campaign banner.

I have but one observation to extend. Namely, I feel the entire mixup would not have occurred but for the actions of Alan Bunch, Election Board member and former chairman of that board.

DURING his testimony for plaintiff Buchannan, Bunch said he told Buchanan's campaigners they could place their banner across the walkway into the Engineering Building, and if this was not allowed the Election Board would notify them.

Later, when testifying for the Election Board, he said he told Buchannan's campaigners they should contact the Election Board to find out if such banner display was allowed.

This is an irresponsible contradiction for a person who has held chairmanship and was a member of the Election Board and therefore should have known the interpretations of the election code.

And it is certainly astonishing how the court derived what I consider a fair decision out of what was such an unorganized hearing filled with so many irregular procedures on the part of the justices.

HOORAY for Senate Resolution No. 1.

That should make some kind of impression as to how the students feel about the Board of Athletic Control mandate concerning the basketball seating.

And if that doesn't work, there is still no reason to suspend efforts and blindly accept this dictatorial regulation.

UNDERSTAND former AS First Vice President George Stewart is now selling pots and pans.

Isn't it ironical, that someone who tried to get his fingers into so many stews at ASU now has to make a living by the utensils?

AND this might be interesting . . .

Perry Gooch former AS activities vice president, is the University's student representative for Bonanza Airlines.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:

The time has now come that we, the students of Arizona State University, must as a unified student body take action to remedy the problem of seating at ASU basketball games.

Our student government has not taken the time or the effort to properly and correctly inform us on the real issue in this controversy.

The so-called issue is that we, the students, are not receiving a "fair deal"; that we are being denied the right to attend all home basketball games; that things are so confused that the possibility of being able to take a date and sit in the same place is practically nonexistent; that the athletic department is completely at fault. All these things we have been led to believe.

The facts still remain that there is just not enough room in the gym for all students at one time if we are going to continue a basketball program at ASU; that the policy which has been adopted for seating at the present time is the fairest for students and faculty that could be attained; that the student government could have prevented all this confusion if consideration had been given to the problem a long time ago; that the only way we can obtain more seating is to construct a new gym; that to obtain a new gym we must tax ourselves $15 more a year each; that this is not an issue which affects us now but will affect all those who attend this University in the future.

We now have the chance to do something. Let us start the wheels of our democratic student government in motion. Tell your class senator that you want action, not next year, or next month, but now. If that doesn't work, we will just have to get pencils and paper, and go signature-hunting. Speak and the choice is yours, be silent and the choice is theirs.

ROBERT RISPOLI

To the Editor:

As two of the introducers of the Student Senate Resolution condemning Intercollegiate Athletic's ticket distribution for basketball games, we feel that certain information should be presented to the student body.

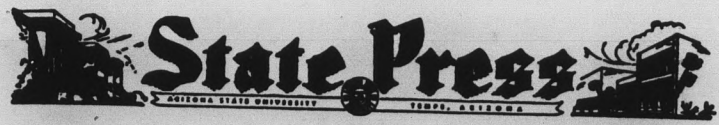

First, we recognize, as does everybody, that the seating shortage can only be solved by a new fieldhouse. However, the problem we now face is the new seating policy instituted by ICA. We attack the new ticket distribution and seating programs on two major points.

The first point of our attack is that ICA has deliberately broken its contract with the students of Arizona State University. The contract stated that seats shall be provided for 2,300 students on the same basis as in 1962-63, which was a first-come, first-serve basis. While still required to pay well over $100,000, students now, unlike past years, are forced to sit in one, pre-designated seat, at only four predetermined games. This regimentation of students nearly eliminates dating at the games.

The second point is that by the arbitrary assignments of the games each student is to attend, ICA has created a situation where students with tickets may not be able to attend because of conflicting night classes or other activities. At the same time students interested in seeing the basketball game have no tickets.

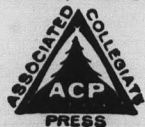

Is it fair to the students or to the basketball team for ICA to create the probability of vacant student seats? Or does ICA anticipate added revenue from sale of the vacant student seats which will, without a doubt, occur?

American Matador Will Lecture Here

John Fulton, acclaimed by Spanish critics as "a matador of North American birth but of Spanish style," will give a lecture on "The Art of Bullfighting," at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the MU Ballroom.

Fulton is one of only three Americans ever to be recognized as a matador in Spain.

After spending a year at the Philadelphia Museum College of Art on a scholarship, Fulton's painting took him to Mexico where he was awarded another scholarship to the Institute Allende at San Miquel de Allende. At age 21, he fought and killed his first bull in Mexico.

He fought regularly as a novillero, or apprentice bullfighter, in Mexico and later in Spain, where he lived from 1957 to 1964.

Applications Due For Blue Key

Students may obtain applications for Blue Key, national service honorary, at the MU desk or MU 225. Applications must be returned by 4 p.m. Friday to room 225.

Membership is open to junior and senior men with a cumulative grade index of 2.5.

In 1961, his Madrid debut proved unsuccessful. But in 1963, at the Real Maestranza ring in Seville he killed a bull from a line noted for their strength, bravery and danger.

Fulton will show color slides of Spanish arenas and will appear at a reception following the lecture in the MU Upper Lounge. The lecture, sponsored by the Cultural Affairs Board, is open to the public.

Naval Research Grant Awarded Dr. Bachrach

Dr. Arthur J. Bachrach, professor of psychology, has received a renewal grant of $17,571 awarded by the Office of Naval Research.

Now conducting an experiment in verbal behavior, he will continue his work until Sept. 30, 1965.

Among the questions being examined by Dr. Bachrach and his assistants are how and why leaders develop, how people talk to each other in groups, and how individuals arrive at decisions in a group.

14 Per Cent Get Notice Of Deficiency

About 14 per cent of all students registered for the fall semester received deficiency slips following the fifth week exams, said Dr. Gordon B. Castle, ASU vice president, Tuesday.

Dr. John W. Ryan, academic vice president, said that the purpose of the fifth-week exam is two-fold: first, as a means for the student to find out in what courses he is deficient, and secondly, to give the student a chance to decide if he should drop a course.

He may realize, Dr. Ryan illustrated, that the course he is taking is not exactly what he expected.

Dr. Castle said that there is no permanent record of the fifth-week exam grades.

Appraisal Formulas Sought

The College of Business Administration will begin immediately a joint study with the state division of appraisal and assessments standards to determine formulas for appraising downtown Phoenix business properties.

According to Dr. Glenn D. Overman, dean of the College of Business Administration, and S. A. Spear, director of the cooperating state division, the study will require six to eight months to complete.

Present and future economic conditions will be determined to establish proper formulas for appraising downtown properties.

The joint study will be conducted in compliance with a legislative act requiring the reappraisal of all properties in the state.

Used Water Made Just Like New!

We're merciless with water. And water doesn't mind. Even after we work it to the limit, it's still wonderfully wet. So we work it all over again. Processing copper takes lots of water, but we really use very little. That's because we use the same water over and over. We invested quite a few dollars in an enormous tank that takes the solids out of used water and sends it right back to work, good as water. Arizona needs it for a good new. Ugliest Face Being Sought By Honorary

Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalism honorary, plans its annual Ugly Man Contest for Dec. 7-11.

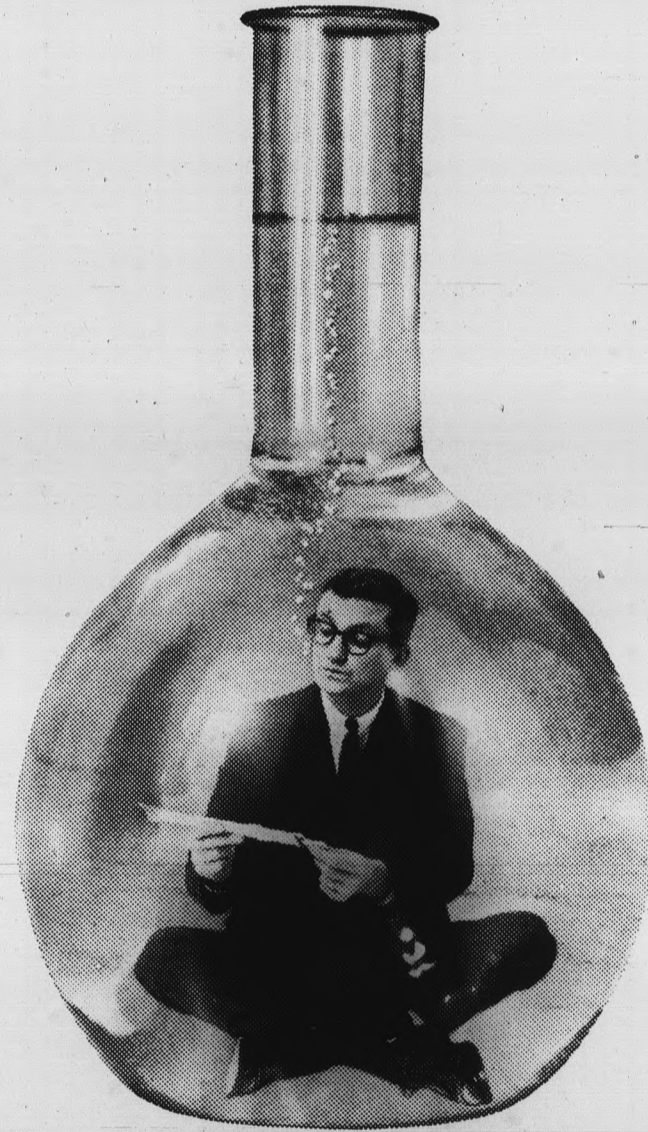

All University-recognized campus organizations may enter a contestant. Entry fee is $1. Contestants may use any make-up device to create a monstrous appearance. Deadline for entry is 3 p.m., Dec. 4. Appointments for pictures may be made before that date by contacting any Pi Delta Epsilon member at the State Press office, MU 3.

Pictures to be used for balloting will be taken by State Press staff photographers and will be posted at the voting stand on the MU Patio along with numbered collection jars.

The Ugly Man Contest is sponsored to raise funds for charity and fraternity projects.

Each penny dropped in a candidate's jar will count as one vote. Proceeds will go, in part, to the "Clothes, Food and Toy" program of the Lady Fare department, The Arizona Republic.

Last year's winner was Theta Chi fraternity. Winning group will receive a trophy and the ugliest man or woman will be awarded a clothing certificate.

Would you make a good catalyst?

With us, creative technical employees are natural catalysts. They cause reactions. Good ones.

For example, they helped us double our sales to $2.4 billion in the past 12 years. In the past 28 years alone, their research efforts helped us develop new products that created 40,000 new career positions. At this writing they're ironing the wrinkles out of 200 completely new products, with more on the way.

Technical men and women are happy at Du Pont, too. They get a chance to move around — to actually change jobs without changing companies and without losing their accrued benefits. Their future bursts with promise, because they know we fill important positions from within.

Would you make a good catalyst at Du Pont? Learn all the facts by letting us send you more information. Write us a letter now (or clip and mail our coupon).

Inspiration Heals Fractures Of Larynx, Career, Future

By STEVE RINGLER

Who are the people we call successes? Are they the ones who suppress all shortcomings to achieve?

They are. They are the persevering people who let nothing stand in their way. Such a person is Richard Stapp, co-star in University Players' upcoming "West Side Story."

Stapp couldn't utter one syllable last winter because of a fractured larynx. His once melodious voice was silenced as a result of an attack by three hoods jumping him in downtown Phoenix.

HIS DOCTOR told him he would be able to talk again but scar tissue from the mending fracture would cause a "gravelly" tone to his voice.

Visitors told him not to become discouraged. A Phoenix theater director told him that well-known actress-singer Kay Starr survived throat surgery to attain stardom. The director also said Bing Crosby once had a fractured larynx and could not speak for a year.

The optimistic words of friends served as an inspiration and he coupled them with his own perseverance to turn a possible physical liability into a personal asset.

Stapp's success story contains a bit of irony. Once a victim of a gang, he is now the leader of one. He is Riff, the gang leader of the Jets in "West Side Story."

The character analysis of Riff describes him as a wacky type of rough character with a strong voice. Stapp's talents and voice make him well suited for the part. In fact, Stage Manager Jim Seeman stated that "the character of his voice does add to the character of the part. He does a fine job."

Stapp describes his voice as being "hoarse," but his musical director, Dr. Kenneth Seipp, associate professor of music, says, "It's been no problem. It's an injury that has been turned into an advantage." Dr. Seipp further stated that "any physical infirmity can be an attribute if it sets you off from the average."

The personable young actor has succeeded in making the most of a possibly permanent handicap.

HE EXPRESSES no bitterness towards those who injured him. He regards the incident with the hoods as a common social problem and makes reference to an excerpt from West Side Story's dialogue: A member of the Sharks tells a member of the Jets, "You guys make this world lousy," whereupon the Jet replies, "That's the way we found it."

From his own past experience, Stapp offers the advice of Riff in his statement, "If you want to live, play it cool."

Former Student Now In Canadian Ballet

Christopher Darling, a 1960-1961 freshman, recently signed a contract as professional dancer with the National Ballet of Canada.

Darling took his first lesson in 1961 when he enrolled in Assoc. Prof. Margaret Gisolo's modern dance class. In the spring dance concert he played the part of Jason in "Medea." He hitchhiked to New York in the fall where he took a job with an advertising concern. At night he studied ballet with Mia Slovenska and the New York City Ballet. There he met Rebecca Brian, who he married last summer.

Both won scholarships to the National Ballet School in Toronto. Few scholarships are awarded to anyone outside Canada.

Professor Acclaims Greece As Cultural Insight To U.S.

"To know Greece is to know the springs of our own culture," according to J. E. Zimmerman, professor of English. He has just returned from a three-week symposium of Greek art and culture in Athens.

"We are greatly indebted to them for their art, architecture, science, poetry, drama, philosophy and education," he said. "And there seems to be no end to renewed interest in Greece."

Prof. Zimmerman had been granted a leave of absence to attend the first International Symposium of Professors. Sixty professors discussed Greek art, literature and culture.

"THERE WERE many great speeches given on the different aspects of Greece from some of the most well-known people."

He said the study of ancient Greece contributes to the cultural needs of our society today.

"We didn't just stay in Athens. We all took bus tours to Thebes, Delphi, ancient Corinth, Isthemia, Megara, Eleusis and Sounion. One place was just as beautiful and enriching as the other.

"Except for the blind forces of nature, nothing moves in this world which is not of Greek origin. Greece is not a landscape alone, it is a state of mind which is continually renewing itself," he said.

BECAUSE OF his contributions to the symposium, Prof. Zimmerman has been invited to speak on "The Age of Pericles: The Golden Century," at the second symposium.

His Dictionary of Classical Mythology is used by universities throughout the nation. Plans are being made to translate it into Greek.

"I feel the invitation and the translation will be considered good international relations for ASU," he said.

He also has lectured to students at Cambridge and Oxford about English authors and their works.

Retreat Slated This Weekend

AWS representatives, hall council members, residence hall heads and their assistants, and interested coeds will journey to Wranglers Roost Guest Ranch this afternoon for an overnight retreat.

Approximately 50 coeds are expected to attend. Workshop theme, "Look to This Day," is based on the anonymous poem of the same name.

Group discussions, study of AWS laws, skits, campfires and singing make up the schedule.

Dr. Catherine Nichols, associate dean of students, was to address the group, but, due to an illness in the family, is unable to attend. Mrs. Jinnett Kirk, dean of women at Phoenix College, will speak in her place.

AWS president, Sarah Burns, also will address the group on "Who and What is AWS?"

Silver Wing Sets Service Projects

Silver Wing, ASU's AFROTC honorary, is participating in three service projects this month.

During Thanksgiving weekend, Nov. 27-29, 20 members will begin distributing collection boxes for the benefit of Samuel Gompers Memorial Rehabilitation Clinic to business establishments in Maricopa County.

The Interfraternity Pledge Council and Junior Panhellenic are cooperating with the AFROTC group in the project.

As a second project, Silver Wing members are taking 20 boys from Arizona Boy's Ranch to the football game tomorrow. The group will transport the boys and furnish refreshments as part of the evening.

Silver Wing will patrol the Butte from 6 p.m. to 6 a.m. beginning tonight and continuing through the UofA-ASU game day.

Greek To Me Greeks Aid Youth, Sponsor Activities

By JANICE AYERS

Greek women, through Panhellenic, last week helped give Phoenix children the opportunity to paint and sculpture at the Preschool Education Week Center in Thomas Mall.

Sorority women volunteered from one to three hours of their time to support this five-day creative art experiment sponsored by the Arizona Association for Nursery-Kindergarten Education.

Last weekend Gamma Phi Beta and Alpha Phi sponsored their annual barn dance. Delta Gamma pledges hosted a "suppressed desire" party for their actives. Don't worry, both were dry.

Auxiliary Items: Pickettes, auxiliary of Pi Kappa Alpha, tapped new members Thursday night and breakfasted with them and the fraternity this morning.

Little Sisters of Minerva washed cars last Saturday in Tempe as a money-raising project.

Borrowing Guests Return 'Lost' Homecoming Trophy

Alpha Delta Pi's trophy was returned yesterday. The Homecoming sweepstakes trophy was mysteriously "lost" Monday.

Now that it has been returned, the loss wasn't so mysterious after all. According to sorority president Jayme Love, the five-foot, silver-and-wood trophy was taken after a banquet

Monday night that honored those fraternity men who helped the girls with Homecoming decorations.

"However," said Miss Love, "the three guys who 'borrowed' the trophy were alumni, not active members of their fraternity. Now that it's over, I think it was rather funny."

Campus Interviews Thursday and Friday, December 3 and 4

Young men of ability can get to the top fast at Boeing. Today, Boeing's business backlog is just under two billion dollars, of which some 60 per cent is in commercial jetliner and helicopter product areas. The remainder is in military programs and government space flight contracts. This gives the company one of the most stable and diversified business bases in the aerospace industry.

No matter where your career interests lie—in the commercial jet airliners of the future or in space-flight technology—you can find an opening of genuine opportunity at Boeing. The company's world leadership in the jet transport field is an indication of the calibre of people you'd work with at Boeing.

Boeing is now pioneering evolutionary advances in the research, design, development and manufacture of civilian and military aircraft of the future, as well as space programs of such historic importance as America's first moon landing. Gas turbine engines, transport helicopters, marine vehicles and basic research are other areas of Boeing activity.

Whether your career interests lie in basic or applied research, design, manufacturing or administration, there's a spot where your talents are needed at Boeing. Engineers and scientists at Boeing work in small groups, so initiative and ability get maximum exposure. Boeing encourages participation in the company-paid Graduate Study Program at leading colleges and universities near company installations.

We're looking forward to meeting engineering and science seniors and graduate students during our visit to your campus. Make an appointment now at your placement office.

Smith Takes WAC Lead In Catches

A-State end Jerry Smith has taken over the number one spot in pass receiving in the latest statistics released by the Western Athletic Conference following games last weekend.

Smith, with five catches in the win over San Jose State, now has a season total of 34 receptions for 545 yards.

SMITH, 6-2, 190-pound senior, caught nine passes for the Devils last season as a member of the second unit. The year before that he caught 82 passes good for 1,040 yards for Eastern Arizona Junior College.

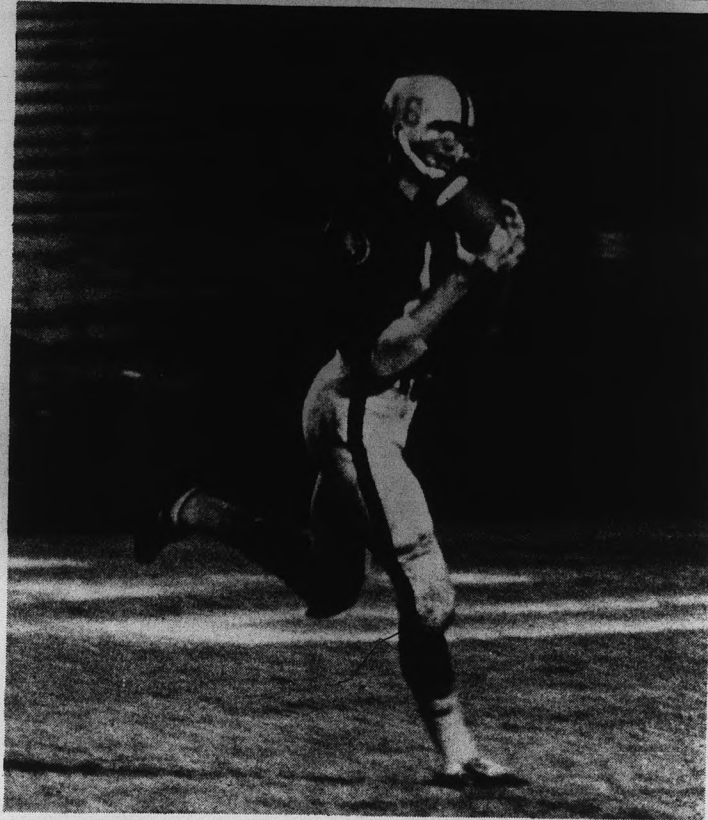

The big end goes both ways for the Devils.

Jeff Hartman, Wyoming tailback, and Roy Jefferson, Utah end, were selected as the Western Athletic Conference back and lineman of the week.

Although the Air Force Academy's defensive guns were sighted on Hartman Saturday, he made the longest run of the game to spearhead the Pokes' late touchdown drive for a tie score.

JEFFERSON, an All-America candidate, was designated by Pacific Coast sports writers as outstanding lineman of the game in Utah's stunning 14-0 triumph over California.

In addition to his consistent routine effectiveness, Jefferson caught two crucial passes and once nailed a runner for a nine-yard loss when the Bruins were near a touchdown.

NOW NUMBER ONE — Jerry Smith picks off another John Torok pass to make his catches for the evening total five against San Jose State. Smith is now the WAC's leading pass receiver.

Devils Host Vandals In Last Home Game

The Sun Devil footballers close out the home-game schedule tomorrow night when they take on the University of Idaho Vandals.

Nicknamed the "M" boys following recent performances, Idaho will probably represent the toughest foe that ASU has played at home this season.

Leading the way for the Vandals will be three hard-running backs — Ray McDonald, Tom Morris and Mike Monahan.

Labeled the strongest of the three is 19-year-old sophomore McDonald.

"HE'S THE finest sophomore running back I've ever seen," said Tom Prothro, head coach at Oregon State, after McDonald rolled over the Beavers for 118 yards in 21 carries. Oregon State edged Idaho, 10-7.

At 6-4, 232 pounds, McDonald has been hailed in many football circles as a possible Jimmy Brown.

Although he has missed three and a half games this season due to a severed Achilles' tendon, McDonald has managed 541 yards on 120 carries.

As has been true of most of the teams the Devils have faced this year, the Vandals enter the ball game with a losing record, 4-5.

THE WINS have come over San Jose State, 3-0, Washington State, 28-13, the University of Pacific, 40-0, and, at Boise last Saturday, 27-22 over Utah State.

On the other side of the ledger, losses have been to Iowa, 34-24, Utah (the only team to beat the Devils this year) 22-0, Oregon, 14-8, Oregon State, 10-7, and Arizona, 14-7.

The Arizona game was played in Tucson and was the Wildcat's Homecoming game.

Not only will Vandal head coach Dee Andros be looking for the .500 mark, but also for the first Idaho win over ASU.

ASU HAS won all three previous engagements with Idaho—in 1950 the score was 48-21, in 1956 it was 41-0 and a year later it was 19-7.

For the Devils, Coach Frank Kush will be looking for another win to cushion his position as the second winningest coach among major colleges as far as percentages are concerned.

Kush's record of 53-14-1 puts him in the number two spot behind Bob Devaney of Nebraska.

The former Michigan State

All-America has been the boss at ASU for the past seven years, taking over at the age of 28.

MORE RECORDS fell in last week's win over San Jose. Quarterback John Torok broke five more school passing records and tied two as his aerials paved the way to the 28-16 win.

One of the most impressive record breaking acts was the dumping of the old mark of 1,589 yards in total offense set in 1950 by one of ASU's all-time greats, "Whizzer" White.

With two games to go, Torok has managed 1,653 yards.

The Devils should be near perfect as far as physical condition is concerned. The only serious injury is a dislocated shoulder belonging to halfback Gene Foster.

Off The Cuff

By JOE HEATH

Attention basketball fans with last names beginning A to E! Would the person holding the ticket in section N, row 6, seat 12, please notify me as soon as possible.

You see, there's this friend of mine, whose last name begins with C. He has a hard time getting a date anyhow. Well, he picked up his tickets Monday for the first four basketball games and now he's starting to go to work on a date for the season opener Dec. 2 against St. Joseph.

HE FOUND A GIRL the other day, with her last name beginning with E, and made the only approach possible.

He asked her if she had stood in line to pick up a ticket with her replying that she had done so. But then my pal made his mistake.

Instead of asking her where her seat was, he went ahead and asked her if she would like to attend the Dec. 2 game with him as her escort. Well, it just so happened the girl didn't have a date yet for Dec. 2, so she accepted.

NOW THEN, HERE'S THE problem: His seat is in Section N, Row 6, seat 14 which is on the main floor in the gym. His date's seat is located in section R, row 4, seat 8, which is in the balcony. (You know, that's the seat right behind that big post.)

In order to sit with his date he has to find the person who has the seat in section N, row 6, seat 12 and plead with the guy to exchange tickets with his date.

Now listen, person with last name beginning A to E and holding that ticket, my pal's lucky to have a date in such short notice and he would deeply appreciate your cooperation.

OH, BY THE WAY. If the person holding the ticket to seat 10, row 14, section P for the game Dec. 5 (Pepperdine) is a female, just notify my friend so he can ask her to that particular game and save him the trouble again.

BYU Takes Crown In Cross-Country

Arizona State fell to a last-place finish Saturday as Brigham Young University won the WAC cross country championship in Albuquerque.

Devil runner Louis Scott placed 14th with a time of 17:09 minutes. New Mexico's John Baker snagged the individual championship with a slim four-yard victory over BYU's Bob Delaney. Baker was timed in 16:16.9, Delaney 16:19.

Other Devil scorers (only five count) were Bob Stiffler, 24th at 17:47; Eric Owers, 32nd, 18:43; Larry Berryhill, 34th, 18:59, and Frank Hatfield, 38th.

BYU's COUGARS easily dethroned New Mexico as WAC champs by placing its five scorers in positions two, three, five, seven and nine. UNM fell to fourth place.

Other Devil runners were Bob Herz, who finished 40th, and Ron Sanders, 42nd.

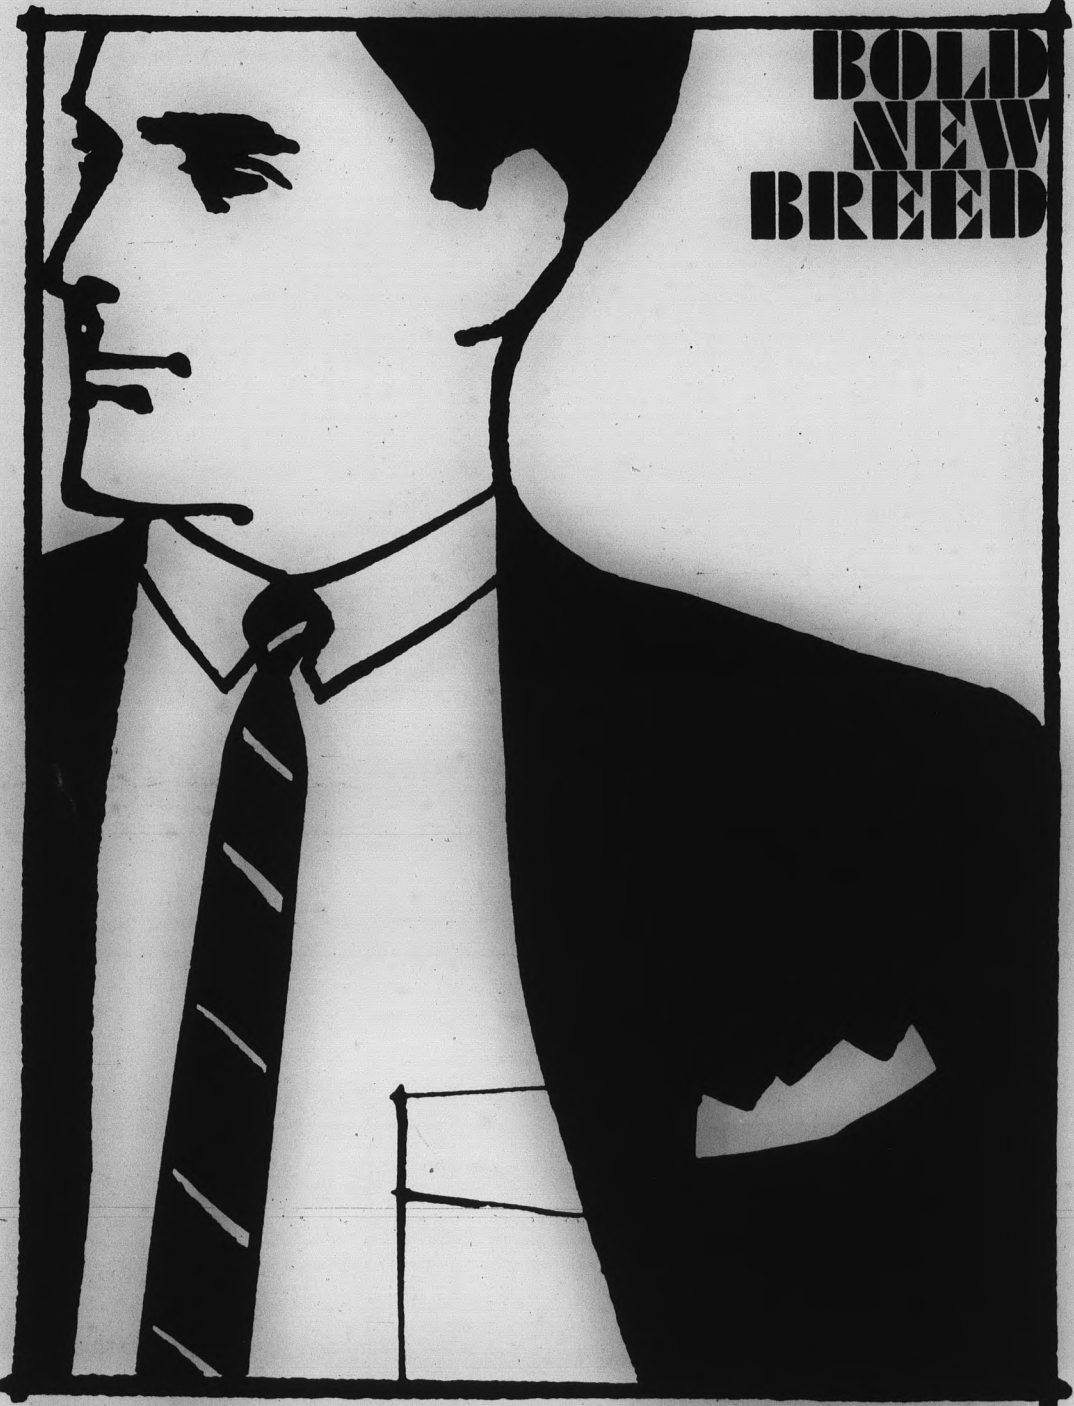

WAC Season Nears Finish

Only one Western Athletic Conference game is scheduled for this weekend as most of the WAC teams will be finishing out their seasons.

In WAC action, Wyoming travels to Provo to tangle with BYU.

The lone remaining WAC game will be next weekend when A-State travels to Tucson to take on Arizona.

Other games tomorrow find Idaho at ASU, Iowa State at Arizona, New Mexico at Hawaii and Utah at Utah State.

Devil Cagers Lose Players

By DICK MULLINS

Sports Information Director
Ten little, nine little, eight little Sun Devils . . .

At the rate things are going, Coach Ned Wulk is going to have to scramble to find five whole-bodied players to open the basketball season.

Since the opening of practice Oct. 15, the following have gone to the sidelines: Jim Proctor (sprained ankle), Paul Meany (broken wrist), Randy Lindner (hip pointer), John Myers (infected foot) and Dave Reid (sprained knee).

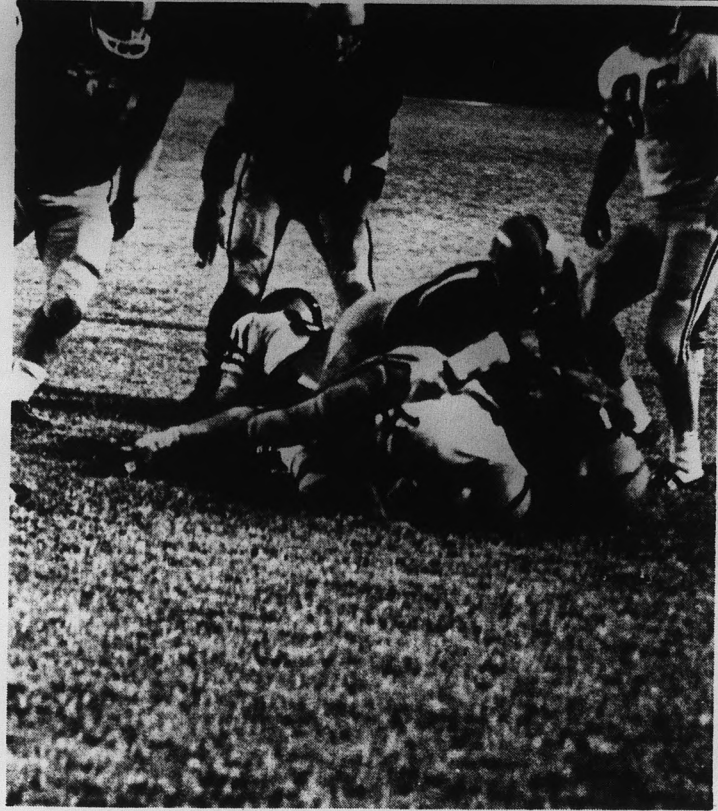

OF THE FIVE, Lindner and Myers have returned to full-time duty, Reid and Proctor are going at half speed, while Meany is probably lost for the season.

The rash of injuries has played havoc with Wulk's workouts. He was generally pleased with progress despite the injuries, but bemoaned the lack of defense, particularly in rebounding. As a result, recent practices have been devoted to improving the defense with such devices as full-court and zone presses.

The first unit is beginning to take shape. Apparently headed for the starting five are team captain Dennis Dairman, 6-5, and Dennis Hamilton, 6-7, at inside spots and Rich Coppola, 6-2, at an outside position.

The other outside position will probably go to Gerald Jones, 6-5, or Freddie Lewis, 6-0. Inside, the scramble is among Proctor, 6-10, Myers, 6-5, Lindner, 6-4, and Alan Schmelz, 6-4.

FOUR athletes will likely see reserve action at the outside spots. They are Jimmy Walker, 6-0, Don Holmes, 6-1, Jim Whitehead, 6-4, and Howard Lee, 5-11.

GANG TACKLE — This is the type of tackle that Coach Frank Kush likes. A San Jose runner is downed by two ASU men while Sam Fanelli and George Corneal come up fast to assist.
