Dress Code For Cafeteria Is Proposed

A policy regarding dress in the MU cafeteria has been submitted to the MU Board by a subcommittee, according to Mrs. Cecelia Scoular, MU director.

The dress code would require men to wear shirts with collars, slacks, shoes and socks to breakfast and lunch Monday through Friday.

Bermuda shorts would be allowed at the dinner meal and all day Saturday.

SHIRTS WITH collars, slacks, shoes and socks would be the proper attire for all meals Sunday, according to Ronald Hockenber, chairman of the MU cafeteria dress sub-committee.

Women would be asked to wear skirts and blouses or dresses every day. Bermuda shorts or slacks will not be allowed.

Hockenber said students attempting to enter the cafeteria without proper attire would be asked to leave or face disciplinary action.

The board will meet at 3:30 Thursday in MU 213. Mrs. Scoular said any interested party may attend.

Power Failure Cause Found

A flip of the wrong switch in Mesa caused a statewide power failure which left University students in the dark for 25 minutes Tuesday.

The flipped switch opened circuit breakers and upset the normal power flow. Power had to be drawn from other stations, overloading them with the result that all circuits were broken. Eventually, all circuit breakers were tripped and there was a statewide power loss.

To restore power every station had to be checked. This check caused the extended period of power loss.

Court's Decision Postponed Again

The fate of sophomore John H. Van Houten's senatorial seat protest awaits the next meeting of the Supreme Court Monday at 3:30 p.m.

Van Houten, one of 52 write-in candidates for the second senatorial seat of the College of Business Administration, is protesting the Election Board's decision of awarding the post to another write-in candidate, John Mumford.

Van Houten contends that the board should have placed the top four candidates, including the write-in candidates for the senatorial seat, on the general election ballot.

Dedera to Speak At Senior Fete

All members of the senior class have been invited by the Alumni Association to be its guests at the Annual All-senior Breakfast at 8 a.m., May 8, in the MU ballroom.

Alumnus Don Deder, class of '51, award-winning columnist for The Arizona Republic, will speak. President Durham will speak to the members of the class at the kick-off event of commencement festivities.

The members of the class of '65 will organize, electing officers to lead them as alumni. "The free breakfast is the start of the senior's transition from student to alumnus, as he prepares to join 28,000 other graduates as a member of the Alumni Association," Don Dotts, acting Alumni secretary, said.

Seniors, graduating June 1, or who will complete work by next January, may make reservations by calling 966-3566 or by going to the Alumni House.

'Excellence' Is Theme Of Women's Day, May 13

"Excellence — An Ever-changing Goal" is the theme of Women's Day, May 13.

Mrs. Helen Semrow will give the keynote address at the 10:30 a.m. assembly in the MU ballroom. President Durham will give the welcome speech.

The Honors Banquet at 6 p.m. in the MU ballroom is the climax of the day. Dr. Catherine Nichols, associate dean of students, will welcome the coeds.

COEDS WHO have achieved throughout the year in the fields of scholarships, leadership and service will be honored.

Awards this year include the AWS Outstanding Senior Woman, Panhellenic Woman of the Year and AWS scholarships.

The annual banquet also features installation of the new AWS Council, introduction of residence hall officers and newly-elected sorority presidents.

A trophy will be given for the best centerpiece displayed on the banquet tables by organizations.

FIVE HUNDRED and fifty tickets are available at $1.60 apiece through organizations and dormitories.

The Faculty Women's Club is giving a luncheon in conjunction with Women's Day.

A FREE-FLOW DESIGN —

Plans for Mall Near Completion

By DUSTY COLE

College Avenue Mall will be a free-flow design following the lines of traffic between buildings, according to John R. Ellingson, director of the Physical Plant.

Ellingson said that preliminary plans for the mall between Orange and 8th are due to be completed and presented to the administration for approval in about three weeks, and will embody a trend away from the rigid straight lines of regular sidewalks.

"Construction on the completed plans will be started in the latter three or four months of construction on the new library," Ellingson stated, "so that both projects will be completed about the same time." He said that the landscape for the library is being designed as a unit with the mall. Date of completion for the library is projected for June of 1966.

Ellingson said that the free-flow design will be very functional, due to the fact that the buildings along the mall are staggered so that no entrance is facing another. The mall will curve from entrance to entrance, following traffic flow. He noted that the walkways will permit access by emergency and university vehicles.

"Our ultimate goal is to make this a pedestrian campus," remarked Ellingson. "We plan to eventually extend the mall south on College avenue as far as the Agriculture Building and west on Orange to Forest avenue."

ASU's Choir To Present Tour Concert

The 50-voice University Concert Choir, recently returned from a California tour, will present its annual free spring concert tonight at 8:15 in Gammage Auditorium.

The choir's tour included Bakersfield, Millbrae, the University of California Medical Center, Redwood City, the Crown Zellerbach Plaza in San Francisco, the San Rafael Military Academy, Glendale High School and Disneyland.

The choir, under direction of David Scoular, professor of music, will present music from the tour, including folk and contemporary songs, as well as Renaissance and Classical music.

The program includes "Ascendit Deus," "Adoramus Te, Christe," "Cantata: Jesu, Joy and Treasure," "Glory Be to God on High," "Ave Maria," "O Be Joyful, All Ye Lands," "Canticle of Praise."

Sahuaro Hall Men Start Radio Station

The residents of Sahuaro A, until just a few weeks before Easter vacation, were not among the "in" group of dorm dwellers, like Palo Verde, which has a radio station broadcasting especially to them.

Then several Sahuaro residents hit upon the idea of broadcasting their own music.

The new station, available only to men in Sahuaro A, broadcasts under the call letters KOED, operating at 90 kilocycles between 9 and 10 p.m., Monday through Thursday.

PROGRAMMING includes popular tunes, old favorites, requests and a few announcements including the time and temperature read from an outside thermometer.

KOED's head disc jockey,

Skip Masline, a freshman business major, who calls himself Clyde Cuff while on the air, plays the records which dorm residents provide.

The station has been favorably received by the residents who show their interest by occasionally calling in more requests than can be played in the allotted time.

THE STATION has broadcast an extra half hour several times just to play all requests.

Technical aspects of running the station are supplied by Chief Engineer Clifton Furedy, who installed the turntables and controls. The station began with a simple installation for its first week of broadcasting, but it now boasts a full line of equipment.

Furedy, who schedules the broadcasts, said that the programs will probably continue until the end of the school year.

State Press Bill Awaits Passage

A Senate bill appropriating $7,000 to the State Press "to establish a four-time weekly newspaper," passed its second reading in Senate action Wednesday.

The bill is designed to provide extra funds which, combined with regular activity fees, appropriations and anticipated advertising income, would enable the paper to publish four times weekly beginning next fall.

APPROPRIATION powers over the State Press and six other activities were handed over to the Student Affairs Committee of the University recently when the Senate passed SB 247, but that bill still needs the signatures of AS President Karl Wochner and President Durham in order to become law.

A bill which would provide ID cards for spouses of married students was also given a second reading. Both bills were put off until next week's meeting, along with SB 243, "to establish requirements for participation in ASASU."

SB 243 was put off because of a misunderstanding in its interpretation.

The Senate passed a memorial commending John W. Ryan academic vice president, for his service to the University.

SM 2 COMMENDS "Dr. John W. Ryan, academic vice president, for his superior service and his understanding as an administrator, adviser and friend."

He is leaving this June to become the chancellor of the University of Massachusetts.

The budget for next year, SB 245, was tabled pending further amendments.

A proposed amendment to lower the required grade index for participation in AS from 2.2 to 2.00 was defeated.

Sahuaro Hall to Sponsor Street Dance, Two Bands

The men of Sahuaro Hall will sponsor a free street dance tonight from 8 to 12 p.m. on Adelphi Drive in front of Sahuaro Hall.

Two bands will perform. The Bondsmen will play from 8 to 10 p.m., then the Exceptions will play until midnight.

Kappa Delta Pi To Initiate 125 Tuesday in MU

One hundred and twenty-five juniors, seniors and graduate students and four faculty members will be initiated Tuesday into the Beta Phi chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary society in education.

Following the 6:15 p.m. initiation, a banquet will be held in the MU ballroom at 7 p.m.

The banquet address, "The Teacher's Active Role in the Solution of Modern Social Problems: Present and Future," will be delivered by Dr. G. D. McGrath, dean of the College of Education.

Faculty members who will be initiated are Mrs. Nellie B. Byers, associate professor of education; Miss Dorothy F. Robinson, librarian, Payne Laboratory School; Dr. Bertha M. Bresina, chairman of the home economics department, and Dr. Duane Manning, professor of education.

University Honoraries in the Spotlight

Emphasis during the week of May 10 will be on men's and women's honorary organizations.

A kick-off breakfast for the week, featuring an address by President Durham is scheduled Monday at 6:45 a.m. in the Pagoda Room at the MU. Honorary members are asked to wear their uniforms throughout the day on campus.

The Inter-Honorary Steering Committee, headed by Bruce Maxwell, has announced that members of all honoraries listed below are invited to participate.

FRESHMEN honoraries are Alpha Lambda Delta for women and Phi Eta Sigma for men. Both are national organizations and are based primarily on scholarship. To be eligible, students must have a 3.5 or higher grade average during first semester of freshman year.

Sophomore honoraries are Spurs for women and Sophos for men. These two groups, both national, are concerned with service to the University and to the community. Members participate in numerous campus and community events, act as ushers and engage in philanthropic activities.

Natani is the local honorary for junior women and is primarily devoted to fostering leadership, scholarship, fellowship and interest in cultural activities. Members also act as ushers and cooperate in campus events with other honoraries.

BLUE KEY, national honorary fraternity for junior and senior men, is founded on the principle of service, leadership and scholastic attainment. Their main project here is to raise money for scholarships through the sale of football programs and the annual Blue Key carnival. Blue Key men also usher at various events.

Mortar Board, national senior women's honorary, is based on scholarship, leadership and service. Pleiades, ASU chapter of the national group, was installed March 1963. Members are tapped the evening before Women's Day on campus.

a sure sign of spring

WE WEREN'T SURE it was finally spring until we heard the MU Board will make its perennial pontification regarding the dress policy in the MU cafeteria.

This year looks to be no different than past codes and will probably be accepted in the same manner: Back to the informal dress — or whatever you want to call it — in a few days.

Besides general student reaction against it, the code shows the usual mode of campus organization. The bill is so much the brain-child of Ron Hockenbergh that he can't remember who was on the dress subcommittee which supposedly drafted the bill. Hockenbergh tells us it is now official policy and will be enforced starting Monday. "This is interesting," says Mrs. Cecelia Scoular, MU director and adviser to the board, "I don't feel it has any status." She informed us it was not yet official policy.

"I've gone through hell on this," comments Hockenbergh. We believe him. One of the many chores he took upon himself was to have the AWS Executive Council okay the measure, to see that it conformed to what was in that ever-popular coed Bible, "Coed Cues 1964-65." In case any coeds haven't looked at it lately here it is: "Shorts are not to be worn in the Memorial Union. Appropriate dress for the Memorial Union shall consist of skirts and blouses or dresses except in the bookstore or the Devil's Den where Levi's, pedal pushers, capris or bermudas may be worn when entering these places from outside entrances." As an anticlimax to all this, Melinda Cockrill, MU Board chairman, thinks Hockenbergh's action was unnecessary regarding AWS.

Oh well, it will all be forgotten a few days after its passage anyway.

playing the mating game

Are coeds husband hunting? It depends on who is being asked. Out of 100 college males chosen at random in the Devil's Den, between classes, in the pool room, 70 answered yes to the question:

"Would you say that the majority of single girls on this campus are in college to find a husband?"

Many added qualifications to their answers such as:

"Of course, they're here to have a good time, too, but to find a husband mainly."

"Maybe not right away, but ultimately I think they want to get married."

"If they're not, they're crazy!"

"I haven't dated the majority of girls on this campus, but from my experience, yes, definitely."

"Good Lord, yes! You take a girl out three times and she's already got wedding bells on the brain!"

Most of those who answered negatively admitted they thought a lot of girls were here to get a husband, but not the majority.

NOW FOR THE COEDS' answer. Due to the stigma placed on women who are in college for their "Mrs. degree," the question was phrased somewhat differently:

"If you were going to be totally honest about it, would you say that getting a husband is at least one of your reasons for staying in college?"

Of 140 girls asked, 53 answered yes and 87 no. Out of the 53 positive answers only three admitted it was the main reason for their being in college. The rest qualified their answer with remarks such as:

"Well, it's not my main reason, but the idea of getting a husband is not exactly repulsive to me."

a name for the new library

by frank ducceschi

A distressing fact has come to our attention. The library is going to be christened with the rather drab name of the University Library.

To win students away from the other "Library," it would probably be profitable to have a name with some drawing appeal.

The recent trend has been to rename parks, buildings, etc. after John F. Kennedy. However, this could be mixed up with the Kennedy Memorial Library in Boston. It could be brought closer to home being named the Barry Goldwater Library. Or maybe there could be a compromise and the left-wing would be dedicated to Kennedy and the right-wing to Goldwater.

FORGETTING POLITICAL leaning for a moment, an appropriate name for the new library would be good. If you have any strong feelings on the subject or a suggestion for a name, why don't you let us know. We'd be glad to print some of the ideas, then forward them to the right person.

While on the subject of the new library, the first big student contribution to the new library was presented to President Durham yesterday. The contribution amounted to $2,466.

THE MONEY came from the Greek letter fraternities and sororities by way of the Kingston Trio and the Greek Week sing. All the money collected from the sale of tickets to these events was given to the library fund to purchase books for the new library.

The presentation of the check was made by Greek Week Co-chairman Charlotte Land assisted by Co-chairman Jon Elam.

This shows that there is more substance to the Greek system than bending elbows at the VI or hairdos for spring formals.

You know what this campus needs? Some good, ole fashioned spring riots! Just picture 10 thousand screaming, placard-carrying students overthrowing Gammage Auditorium. Gee, it gives you shivers just to think about it. It would just about be the greatest way going to make the entire nation realize that Arizona State University isn't embedded in the weeds of student apathy . . . and besides being epitomizing expression of extreme independence and free thinking, just think of all the weird girls you'd be able to meet.

fire watching ignites criticism

If I were to guess the most popular spectator sport at Contempo West, fire watching would certainly be on top. Running a hot second would be police baiting, followed by egg throwing and mass confusion.

All go hand in hand when some residents, among them University students, pour out of apartments, can in hand, to harrass the Tempe Fire Department.

The most recent incident occurred on April 27 when police and firemen were hampered in their efforts to quell a blaze in a dwelling adjacent to Contempo West. The house was unoccupied. At this time they were met by an egg-throwing, jeering crowd who bid them goodbye amid shouts of "see you next week, same time, same place." This is the second such incident at the same place. On March 29 a trailer was destroyed by fire. Police reported the efforts of firemen were obstructed by heavy concentrations of people and cars in the vicinity of the fire.

JEERING AT POLICE, commonly called "cop baiting," is as old as adolescence. By the time a student reaches college age, he should have passed through this phase of life.

Fires, as everyone knows, are a morbid spectator sport. Everyone also knows that when crowds mill around a fire, especially deliberately, the damage will be greater as a result of the added confusion.

In the case of the fires mentioned this didn't bother the people who flocked to the scene, either on foot or in car.

Furthermore, people who deliberately hamper the efforts of firemen by egg-throwing, name-calling and starting small additional fires show an open contempt and defiance of law and order, without regard to life or property.

PEOPLE SUCH AS these, in some cases were influenced by alcohol, or have had their simple minds perverted for a fraction of time by the thrill of being the big man who bothers cops.

Granted, not all of these persons are University students, but those who are students cannot be tolerated within the University since the school lends its name to them and, by association, its reputation suffers.

These persons have passed the stage of childhood when we threw water balloons at patrol cars but they still dwell within the twilight world of the punk.

Architectural Major to Study in France On Cement Firm's Scholarship Prize

Larry Windes, senior architectural major, has received a summer-session scholarship to the Fontainebleau School of Fine Arts located near Paris, France.

The scholarship includes an all-expense paid round trip plus extensive travel to points of architectural interest in Holland, England, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland and France. He will leave for Europe in June.

Windes won first place in the Portland Cement Association's 1965 Western Regional Architectural Scholarship competition with his solution of a class problem "A New Church for St. Daniel's Parish." St. Daniel's is a Catholic church in Scottsdale.

Cement Association, in cooperation with the cement industry to promote excellence in architectural design.

The award is one of a series of prizes given by commercial firms to outstanding architectural students at ASU. A total of more than $6,000 will be awarded at the Eighth Annual Student Chapter awards dinner scheduled for May 20.

Senior Indicted In Bank Holdup

Frank Joseph Sarullo, 24-year-old senior accused of an April 9 Tempe bank holdup, was indicted by a federal grand jury Tuesday afternoon and is being held in the federal detention center at Florence.

Sarullo, according to the indictment, took at gunpoint more than $3,000 from The Arizona Bank on Rural Road near Broadway.

Later, the indictment reads, he held as hostage Mrs. Robert Shanahan of 751 E. Granada, Tempe.

Sarullo was shot in the head by a Tempe policeman as he allegedly used Mrs. Shanahan as a shield.

Mrs. Shanahan was visiting the wife of Dr. Ernest Parker, professor of poultry science, when the incident occurred.

All entries were selected from designs submitted by students in the course of class work. The solution had to meet residential needs and be principally in concrete.

The eight regional scholarships, worth about $1,500 each, are sponsored by the Portland

Applications are due May 7 and may be turned in to a member of Sophos or the MU Information Desk.

Scientist Using Calves for Tests

Dr. Elvin D. Taysom, associate professor of animal science, says that recent gainability experiments with young Angus calves at the University's experiment farm has produced one excellent specimen. Dr. Taysom said the calf responded well and will be used for future breeding.

Dr. Taysom said the calves were fed a diet of 60 per cent concentrate of milo, barley and cottonseed meal. The rest of the diet consisted of alfalfa and about three per cent molasses.

Other Angus calves turned out well, and one is still on the gainability experiment. Dr. Taysom says he is doing very well.

VOYAGE TO THE BOTTOM OF THE BARREL

As everyone knows, thirteen-twelfths of the earth's surface is water. Thus we can see how important it is to know and understand our oceans. Toward this end American colleges last year embarked on a program to increase enrollment in oceanography. I am pleased to report that results were nothing short of spectacular: In one single semester the number of students majoring in oceanography rose by 100%—from one student to two!

But more oceanographers are still needed, and so today this column, normally a vehicle for slapdash jocularity, will instead devote itself to a brief course in oceanography. In view of the solemnity of the subject matter, my sponsors, the Personna Stainless Steel Razor Blade Co., makers of Personna Stainless Steel Razor Blades which give you more luxury shaves than Beep-Beep or any other brand you can name—if, by chance, you don't agree, the makers of Personna Stainless Steel Razor Blades will buy you a pack of whatever brand you think is better—my sponsors, I say, the Personna Stainless Steel Razor Blade Co. will today, because of the solemnity of this column, forego their usual commercial message.

We begin our study of oceans with that ever-popular favorite, the Pacific. Largest of all oceans, the Pacific was discovered by Balboa, a Spanish explorer of great vision. To give you an idea of Balboa's vision, he first saw the Pacific while standing on a peak in Darien, which is in Connecticut.

The Pacific is not only the largest ocean, but the deepest. The

... the Pacific was discovered by Balboa, a Spanish explorer of great vision.

Mindanao Trench, off the Philippine Islands, measures more than 5,000 fathoms in depth. (It should be pointed out here that ocean depths are measured in fathoms—lengths of six feet—after Sir Walter Fathom, a British nobleman of Elizabethan times who, upon his eighteenth birthday, was given a string six feet long. Many young men would have sunk in a funk if all they got for their birthday was a string six feet long, but not Sir Walter! String in hand, he scampered around the entire coast of England measuring seawater until he was arrested for loitering. Incidentally, a passion for measuring seems to have run in the family: Fathom's grandnephew, Sir John Furlong, spent all his waking hours measuring racetracks until Charles II had him beheaded in honor of the opening of the London School of Economics.)

But I digress. Let us, as the poet Masefield says, go down to the sea again. (The sea, incidentally, has ever been a favorite subject for poets and composers. Who does not know and love the many robust sea chanties that have enriched our folk music—songs like "Sailing Through Kansas" and "I'll Swab Your Deck If You'll Swab Mine" and "The Artificial Respiration Polka.")

My own favorite sea chanty goes like this: (I'm sure you all know it. Why don't you sing along as you read?)

O, carry me to the deep blue sea,
Where I can live with honor,
And every place I'll shave my face
With Stainless Steel Personna.

Sing hi, sing ho, sing mal-de-mer,
Sing hey and nonny-nonny,
Sing Jimmy crack corn and I don't care,
Sing Stainless Steel Personny.

I'll harpoon whales and jib my sails,
And read old Joseph Conrad,
And take my shaves upon the waves,
With Stainless Steel Personrad.

Sing la, sing lo, sing o-lee-a-lay,
Sing night and noon and morning,
Sing salt and spray and curds and whey,
Sing Stainless Steel Personring.

KAET Face-Lifting 'Reorganizes' Studio

By DORRIT COX

KAET, educational television station, is having its face lifted.

Currently the staff isn't boasting an organized studio, but the change ultimately "will make the studio arrangement more practical and more easily workable," said Donald L. Burgess, assistant director of the Bureau of Broadcasting.

Several changes are included in the reorganization. The desired result will be more compact storage and greater working space.

Control room changes include an observation booth providing a more convenient location for student observation. Their monitors (the television sets in the studio) will be imbedded in the walls to allow more working space.

In the studio, additional storage space for scenes will be built and a small mezzanine added to store props.

KAET will be off the air from May 28 to July 5 to install a new transmitter. The transmitter is part of a grant from the Facilities Act of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

When the station resumes broadcasting, it will have a new program schedule. Programs will be aired "across the board." For example, it is possible that at 8 a.m. Monday through Friday public service programs will be broadcast while at 9 a.m. musical programs may be aired.

"This makes it easier for our listeners to remember our schedule," explained Don Burgess.

AVERAGE STUDENT READS 7 TIMES FASTER THAN HIS STARTING SPEED

With Equal or Better Comprehension

HOW DID IT START?

Twelve years ago Mrs. Wood made a startling discovery that led to the founding of Reading Dynamics. While working toward her masters degree, she handed a term paper to a professor and watched him read the 80 pages at 6,000 words per minute—with outstanding recall and comprehension.

Determined to find the secret behind such rapid reading, she spent the next two years tracking down 50 people who could read from 1,500 to 6,000 words per minute. She studied their techniques; taught herself to read at these faster rates. Now, after years of testing at major colleges (Univ. of Utah, Univ. of Delaware, etc.) you can benefit from this great discovery.

IS IT SIMPLY A PROMOTION STUNT?

Claims for achievements by Reading Dynamics students are oftentimes so unbelievable that they invoke ridicule by other reading systems. But look at this evidence:

Results have been reported in Time, Newsweek, Business Week, Esquire, NEA Journal and other professional publications. Graduates have appeared on television with Jack Paar, Garry Moore, and Art Linkletter.

Describing Reading Dynamics' impact on some of our nation's legislators Time said, "Washington has seen nothing like it since the days when Teddy Roosevelt read three books a day and ran the country at the same time."

SENATOR PROXMIRE, WISCONSIN:
"I must say that this is one of the most useful education experiences I have ever had. It certainly compares favorably with the experiences I've had at Yale and Harvard."

SENATOR TALMADGE, GEORGIA:
"It is my opinion that if these techniques were instituted in the public and private schools of our country, it would be the greatest single step which we could take in educational progress. I think the public schools of Georgia should consider putting in the technique. It would be worth a $100 million per year appropriation."

MICHAEL LEVY, President of Standard Security Life Insurance Co.:

"My normal relaxed reading is now at a rate approximating 4,000 words per minute. Even with the most difficult and technical reading material, I find that my speed exceeds 2,500 words per minute."

A Reading Dynamics class at St. Louis University had an average beginning speed of 357 words per minute, an ending speed of 1,810 words per minute. Average comprehension rose from 73% to 83%.

HOW IS READING DYNAMICS DIFFERENT FROM OTHER READING COURSES?

1. No machines are used. You learn, instead, to use your hand as a pacer—a tool you always have with you.
2. Conventional rapid reading courses aspire to 450-600 words per minute. Most Reading Dynamics graduates can read between 1,500 and 3,000 words per minute and many go even higher.

*GUARANTEE*

We will guarantee to increase the reading efficiency of each student by AT LEAST 3 times with equal or better comprehension. We will refund the entire tuition of any student who does not obtain at least the tripling of his reading efficiency as measured by the beginning and ending tests. This refund is conditioned upon the student's having attended all of the required classes or having made up missed sessions with the teacher. He also must have practiced the required number of hours, following the assignments as outlined by the teacher. The average student may expect a 7 times increase in reading speed, and an improvement in comprehension and recall. We will teach the student to handle study material and technical reading faster and more efficiently. The teacher will make himself available for counseling and extra help whenever possible and will encourage the students to avail themselves of this help. Any student who must withdraw from the course for any reason may re-enter, any subsequent courses at any future time, at no additional cost.

If you take home a full briefcase . . . if you are a student behind in your reading . . . (Financing arrangements available) . . . if you have a stack of unread books . . . if you're striving for greater business success . . . if you want to enjoy reading more . . . THEN THIS COURSE IS DESIGNED FOR YOU!

AS FIRST VICE PRESIDENT ELECT —

Linder Eyes Business, Politics

(Second in a series of five.)
By MARTHA THAYER
News Editor

With one eye on his business interests and the other on a possible future in politics, Sam Linder, off-campus men's senator, will assume the duties of AS first vice president next year.

Linder, a junior, is regional sales manager for West Bend Corp., a direct sales company, and sits on the board of directors of Cinema International, a corporation he helped form in January.

He admits, however, that political science is where his heart lies and he plans to go as far in state and national politics as he can.

BUT HE DOES not underestimate the duties of the vice president's office which include serving as president of the Senate.

"The first vice president is the workhorse of student government. It is up to him to see that the legislative work is accomplished," he said.

"Research and study are the crux of successful legislation," Linder observed. A pre-law accounting major, he has served as senator for two years and admittedly had his political appetite whetted last year when he was a page in the Arizona House of Representatives.

LINDER advocates orientation for new senators who, he says, often don't know what is expected of them.

In an attempt to get some creative legislation through the Senate next year, Linder plans to assign each committee a project to research and study thoroughly before it is presented on the Senate floor.

After graduation next spring, Linder will attend the UofA law school where he will study tax law.

"I PLAN to go into business for myself after this," he said, explaining that his law studies would serve mainly as a background for his business interests which, hopefully, he will "cultivate along the way."

Linder, 23, was married in January and he and his wife, Cindy, Organization Board chairman, a sophomore education major, live in Tempe.

Linder, a native of Mesa, is active in the Latter-day Saints church.

"I CAME TO ASU in 1959 and found out mainly where I wasn't going," he laughed. "Then I went on a mission for the church to Montana and Wyoming and I realized then that anything in life can be accomplished if you set a goal —and work toward it."

(Administrative vice president—Max Goodrich will be featured Wednesday)

Spring Rains Cut Water Use For Farm Crop

Barley crops at the Agricultural Experiment Farm are using only half as much irrigation water as in previous years, according to Joe Byrd, of the Farm Maintenance Office.

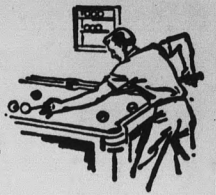

The barley required only two irrigations this spring instead of four.

Byrd said that the run-off in the Salt River will not affect irrigation on the farm. He said, "We already had plenty of water from the rains this year."

Byrd said that the excess of free water was a help to most crops. However, the rain along with the cold weather caused cotton to be planted later this year. Cotton planting started three weeks ago.

You don't need an engineering degree to figure out why this cordless shaver costs a bit more.

All you need are whiskers.

Just run the cordless REMINGTON® LEKTRONIC II Shaver through your beard. Then feel for whiskers.

This alone will tell you why our shaver costs a bit more. Still, if you want more facts, read on.

The LEKTRONIC II has the biggest shaver head in the business. With 756 working slots, things get done in a hurry.

On top of the shaver head are 4 tiny rollers. They make sure only whiskers disappear. Not skin.

348 cutting edges take care of that fast disappearing act. Honed from surgical high-carbon steel, these cutters start sharp, stay sharp.

Add to this the sideburn trimmer: a straightedge tucked under the head case that gives you a neat, finishing touch.

Then there's the cordless feature. Works on rechargeable energy cells.

(Also works with a cord, if you forget to recharge.) So you can shave where and when the itch hits you. Frees you from sockets and wet sinks.

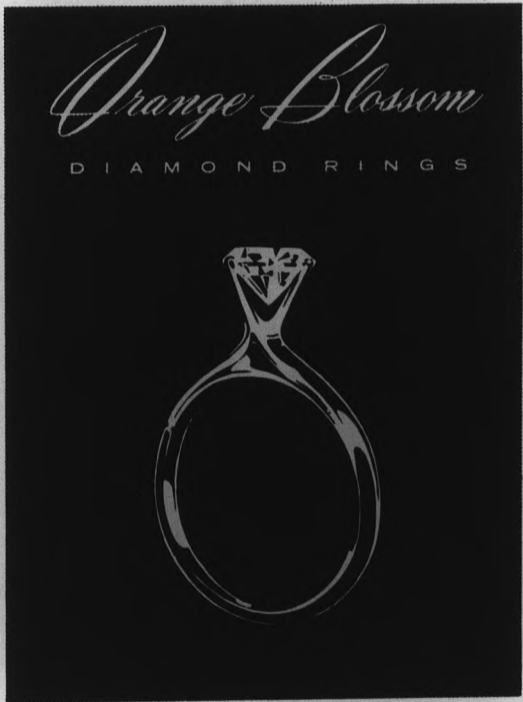

So, you can easily see why it costs a bit more. Even if you can't add or handle a slide rule.

Naiads Plan Aquacade, Diving Show

Naiads, the student swimming club, will present an aquacade, "Aqua Ways and Days" at 8 p.m. today and tomorrow in the pool.

The group has been rehearsing for the production for several months. Clown diving will be included in the program. A diving exhibition by nationally-ranked divers on the ASU team, will include: Patsy Willard, Nancy Poulson, Bernie Wrightson, Bette Barr and Julie Loper.

The program will include aquatic interpretations titled, "Easter," "Semester Break," "Mother's and Father's Day," "Valentine's Day," "Christmas," "May Day," "Sadie Hawkins Day," "April Fool's Day," "Memorial Day," "April 15" (to the theme from the movie "Goldfinger"), "Thanksgiving," "Fourth of July" and "New Year's Day."

Swimmers in the production are: Donna Blasius, Marilyn and Margaret Bramley, Jan Young, Sandy Stock, Linda Puchi, Becky Smith, Sheryl Coffin, and Tammy Schmidt.

Also swimming are Wanda Ricketts, Sue Danid, Irene Metz, Jean Cushnio, Mary Lehto, Jo Manley, Diana Jarnes, Donna Kinker, Judy Smith, and Kathy Gillett.

French Consul to Keynote Dinner; History Major to Receive $100

"The World Crisis Today" is the title of an address to be presented at the third annual banquet of the history department and Phi Alpha Theta, national history honorary society.

Guest speaker at the 6:30 dinner tonight will be Paul Coze, consul of France for Arizona.

Also at the banquet, Bert Fireman, executive vice president of the Arizona Historical Foundation, will present the foundation's $100 history award and plaque to the outstanding senior history major, selected by the history department.

Recipient this year will be Barry Rapalas, who is a participart in the Honors Program. Rapalas is a member of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's scholastic honorary; Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholastic society; and Alpha Mu Gamma, foreign language honorary, as well as the history society. He has been named to Who's Who in American Colleges and is in the advanced Air Force ROTC program.

THE MUSIC MINE

Seventy-six trombones and a lot of other music-makers come out of a ton of copper. The authoritative tuba, for example, and the flirtatious flute. Copper and copper alloys are indispensable ingredients of musical instruments. And that goes for the pots and pans that toddlers drum on out in the kitchen. For marching in the stadium, waltzing in the ballroom, you can't make music without copper. All over the world, wherever the output from Kennecott's Ray Mines Division may end up, they're playing our song. For Arizona's economy, it's wonderfully sweet music.

SAYS PROSPECTIVE WRITERS NEED PATIENCE —

Former Graduate Successful Youth Author

By ANDY SILVERMAN

A 1957 liberal arts graduate and author of 26 books attributes his success to a "never-say-die" attitude.

Dan Halacy, who received an English degree at ASU, says, "If a would-be author is characterized by motivation and also has an inborn ability to write, with a lot of perseverance he may succeed."

Halacy concedes that lack of patience halts most prospective writers.

"IT IS HARD work," he says. "The fun part is the finished product, after the months of research are over."

With 26 published books for youth to his credit and six more completed, Halacy writes both non-fiction and fiction. His works range from such non-fiction books as "Computer," to fiction novels such as "Surfer," "Whale Spotter" and "High Challenge."

Extensive reading is what spurred Halacy on to writing.

"I JUST decided I could write a better story than the one I had read," he confesses. That was the beginning — back in 1946.

"I sent the first story I wrote to Colliers and they sent it right back," the author says. But 137 stories later, Colliers gave in. Today Halacy is aiming for a best seller.

"This surprises most people, but after 19 years, writing has become a matter of habit with me — almost like breathing," he says.

HALACY, now a resident of Glendale, rotates between fact and fiction, writing two science books for every fiction book.

"This is a matter of business," he says. "Non-fiction books sell better than fiction."

Halacy's inspiration is that he writes about subjects that interest him. For instance, "Computer" was written because the author became interested in a small computing device in an airplane.

WHEN IT comes to research, thoroughness is his policy. Besides reading about his subject, he makes personal visits and corresponds with authorities to gather needed information.

Why does he write for youth? "Because I like to," he says. "But," Halacy adds jokingly, "maybe it's because I've never completely grown up myself."

NATIONAL DROPS PHIDELPHIANS —

Phi Delt Auxiliary Is Disbanded

By DOUG DUDGEON

The local Arizona Beta chapter of Phi Delta Theta fraternity this week officially disbanded Phidelpheans, national women's auxiliary, as a result of action taken this summer at the national convention.

The general counsel met in Pasadena, Calif., last summer and decided to drop the 15 Phidelphean auxiliaries that serve Phi Delta Theta in rush and as hostesses in various fraternity activities. The action affects 24 members of the local auxiliary.

According to Jerry Klein, chapter adviser to Phidelpheans, the reason for the discontinuation of the auxiliaries was the alumni felt that the girls were spending too much time with the fraternity and not enough time with their own sororities.

Klein said, "I can only speak for this campus, but the girls were definitely not spending too much time with our fraternity."

Actually the decree was effective this fall but the Phi

Delts decided to keep the auxiliary active until it became apparent that their charter would be revoked unless they immediately disbanded the auxiliary.

"We don't like it at all, but we must go along with the general counsel," said Klein. "Possibly this matter is not closed yet. The chapters could bring the issue up again at the next national convention in 1966."

High School Students Participate In Arizona Youthpower Confab

About 250 top junior and senior students, selected by their high schools throughout the state, will participate tomorrow in an Arizona Youthpower — U.S.A. Conference.

Sponsored by the College of Business Administration and the Arizona Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, the conference is designed to:

Acquaint the state's outstanding high school students with the need for leaders in the professions, business and industry, and government, and to give them an opportunity to hear and talk with leaders in business, industry and government.

The conference, to be held at the Business Administration building from 8:15 a.m. to 3 p.m., is supported by a $500 grant from the Sears, Roebuck Foundation.

Hugh C. Nelson, executive director, Junior Achievement of Metropolitan Phoenix, Inc., will moderate a panel discussion of "Modern Leadership."

Phoenix Company Establishes Business Administration Stipends

Two annual $250 business administration scholarships have been established by the Sperry Phoenix Company, according to Dr. Glenn D. Overman, dean of the College of Business Administration.

The annual grants to be known as the Sperry Phoenix Business Administration Scholarships, will be awarded to male or female Business Administration students.

The recipients must be full-time students from any class, with a minimum cumulative grade index of 3.00.

They must also "show evidence of sound character and good citizenship, promise of success in their field, and financial need."

Sun Imp Nine Ends Season Against EAJC

While the Sun Devil varsity baseball team is making the big noise this year, Coach Romero Lujan's Sun Imps have also been explosive in a less noticeable fashion.

The Sun Imps finish their season with a doubleheader against Eastern Arizona Junior College at 3 p.m. today on Sun Devil field. The Sun Imps sport a 13-5 record going into the season final.

Coach Lujan said, "We figure a 20-game schedule is adequate for a freshman team." He added the freshmen also play a lot of games with the varsity before and during the season.

JUDGING THE caliber of his players, Lujan said, "We have about a half-dozen boys who may help the varsity next year."

He pointed out that pitchers Jeff Pentland, Chatsworth, Calif.; Dale Spier, Joliet, Ill.; and Don Walsh, Scottsdale, were outstanding this year. Pentland also can play the outfield.

Leading hitters were Reggie Jackson, a speedy centerfielder who is an outstanding halfback on the football team from Wyncote, Pa., and outfielder Bob Maggi of Springfield, Mo.

OTHERS WITH a chance to make the varsity are infielders Kent Perry, Roswell, N. M., and Jack Lind, Mesa.

Lujan, who is only 23 years old summed up his first season as a coach this way: "We had a lot of fun and also played some good baseball."

Track, Tennis, Soccer Squads Face Tough Weekend Tests

The much-improved track squad, bolstered by the return of sprinter Tom Hester, heads for Tucson for its annual dual meet with the UofA tomorrow night.

This is the last meet for the Devils before the WAC championships May 21-22 in Albuquerque, N. Mex.

Joining Hester in the favorite role are Mike Lange (high jump), Larry Hendershot (shot put), Ullis Williams (440), Louis Scott (mile), Eric Owers (880), Jon Cole (discus), and Glenn Winningham (javelin).

THE UNDEFEATED tennis team (16-0) faces California Western here today and tomorrow on the new courts.

Heavy rains in California last month canceled their previous scheduled match.

Entries are Dave Farmer (9-4), Ted Winston (10-1), Briggs Bosworth (10-1), Ronnie Powell (8-0), Lee Sullivan (10-2), and Ray Young (6-3).

FRESH FROM a victory over Hollandia of Holland last Sunday, the soccer squad meets Williams Air Force Base this Sunday in the Phoenix Soccer League Championship. Game time is 7:30 p.m. at Coronado park.

Bill Allen scored two goals and Tony Figarara one to pace the Devils over Hollandia.

Sun Devil Pitchers Ready for Lobos

By DOUG DUDGEON

The Sun Devils made their longest trip of the year yesterday when they traveled by bus to Albuquerque, N.M. for their important WAC conference series with the University of New Mexico.

Coach Bobby Winkles conceded it would be a long boring trip across the desert, but added it would be even a longer, more boring trip home if the Devils lost the series.

The Sun Devils arrived last night in time for a workout before playing tonight. A double-header is scheduled against the Lobos tomorrow.

WINKLES IS concerned about this series.

"New Mexico has three fine pitchers and everyone knows we need a sweep in Albuquerque to stay close to Arizona."

New Mexico would have a good record except they are in the same conference as ASU and UofA. The Lobos are 0-6 against the two clubs, but have a winning record against other competition.

The pitching corps goes into the final 10 games of the season with only six men.

WINKLES PLANS to start Jim Merrick, Ron Lea, and John Pavlik in that order against the Lobos. Merrick and Lea, who lost the two games against the UofA last weekend, both stand 7-2 for the season while Pavlik (5-0), an unpolished B-B thrower, has worked his way into the starting rotation with an impressive record of 42 strikeouts in 47 innings.

Pavlik injured a muscle in his right elbow last weekend but now claims it doesn't bother him.

"With only six pitchers, we cannot afford a sore arm at this stage of the season," Winkles said. He mentioned that seldom-used sophomore Randy Lindner has quit the squad.

THE SUN DEVILS stand 35-5 for the season after a 6-1 win over Grand Canyon Tuesday. Al Schmelz was the winning pitcher. Schmelz, Jack Smitheran and Jim Gretta hit home runs to pace the victory.

Winkles said he will continue to start Jim Gretta in the outfield and Jack Smitheran at shortstop for the time being. They replace sophomores Duffy Dyer and Jim Armstrong.

GRADUATION AWARD

Graduation day... a big day for academic and extracurricular awards. That hard-earned college degree... and for the man who has taken full advantage of his college years, a special award from the President of the United States—a commission as an officer in the United States Army... the gold bars of a Second Lieutenant. That's an award you can earn by taking Army ROTC.

Those gold bars mark you as a man apart from other men—a man able to work with others—to inspire them. They mark you a leader.

An Army officer's commission is proof to the world that your country places its trust and confidence in your judgment and ability—proof that you have what it takes to make a decision and then act on it.

These are qualities built by Army ROTC training... qualities that will pay off for the rest of your life, no matter what your career—military or civilian.

If you're good enough to be an Army officer, don't settle for less. Stay in ROTC.

Young, Inexperienced Players Dominate 1965 Football Roster

By DICK MULLINS
Sports Information Director
Frank Kush didn't need to change his calendar at the first of the year because the problems confronting his 1965 football team are the same he encountered a year ago.

Kush's athletes last season were young and inexperienced, and, somehow, he's in the same boat this go-round. But this doesn't faze the 36-year-old mentor who, in seven years, has never won fewer than seven games (overall record 54-15-1).

Returning from the 8-2 team of a year ago are three offensive unit starters, All-America candidate Ben Hawkins, guard Bobby Johnson and tackle Ray Shirey, and one defensive unit starter, halfback Darrell Hoover. Guard George Corneal, fullback Jesse Fleming and guard John Folmer saw spot duty as starters.

KEY INDIVIDUAL to be replaced is quarterback John Torok, whose 2,226 yards total offense netted him second place among major college backs in the nation a year ago. His understudy, John Goodman, returns but Goodman threw only 23 passes in 1964.

Leading team rusher Gene Foster is gone, along with end Jerry Smith, whose 42 pass receptions tied him in that department with Hawkins. Two other notables missing are halfbacks Larry Todd and Henry Carr. Both had a year of eligibility remaining, but elected to sign professional football contracts.

AS A RESULT, Kush finds himself short-handed in a spot that year after year has been his long suit — running backs. Sophomore halfback Hal Lewis, the third-leading rusher last season, was dropped from the squad midway through spring practice for disciplinary reasons.

Kush feels his squad's main problem is lack of experienced seniors. "This fall we'll be working with a lot of youngsters and they must go through the learning process. We have some good talent in the sophomore ranks and in the long run we should be all right."

A BREAKDOWN of the 61-man spring practice squad showed 16 lettermen, 10 squadmen, 24 athletes up from the freshman team, eight junior college transfers, two four-year school transfers and three athletes with no experience past high school. By class the squad showed 10 seniors, 22 juniors and 29 sophomores.

When it came to singling out one player for mention, Kush was emphatic — "Ben Hawkins."

"Ben had a great season for us last year (caught 42 passes for 719 yards and five touchdowns) and should be even better this fall," the coach said. "One thing for sure, we're going to give him more opportunities to handle the ball."

HAWKINS led the team last season in scoring, punt returns and interceptions and tied with Smith for the lead in pass receptions. However, he carried the ball from scrimmage only 25 times, because he was flanked most of the time.

Top prospect among the newcomers appears to be end John Pitts, 6-5, 208-pound junior college transfer from Santa Ana (Calif.) Junior College. In spring training he looked sharp as an offensive receiver and a defensive halfback.

He was one of three athletes to run the 40-yard dash in full uniform in five seconds flat. The other two were Hawkins and halfback Travis Williams, transfer from Contra Costa (Calif.) Junior College.

AT FIRE NEAR APARTMENTS —

Crowd Throws Eggs, Blocks Fire Trucks

Police cars and fire trucks became targets for egg-throwers and a large crowd of on-lookers, many of them students, blocking fire trucks at a fire near Contempo West late Tuesday night, Tempe police reported.

Patrolman Jerry Cales said it was nearly impossible to tell who in the crowd was pelting the vehicles with eggs and other objects.

Contempo West is an apartment complex east of campus that has mostly student residents.

Cales said the fire, which started about 11 p.m. in a vacant building near the apartments, was deliberately set.

"This is the second time," Cales said, that the building has been set afire. The other time was about a month ago.

The officer reported people and cars blocked alleys so that fire trucks could not pass through.

About five police cars were splattered while firemen also were harrassed by the crowd, a majority of which appeared to be students, Cales said.

Nobel Prize Chemist Here For Seminar

A Nobel Prize-winning chemist will be on campus next Friday to conduct a chemistry seminar and lecture.

Dr. Willard F. Libby, professor of chemistry at the University of California, Los Angeles, will conduct the seminar at 3:40 p.m. in LSC 191.

At 8:30 p.m. in Gammage Auditorium, Dr. Libby, a member of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, will appear on the Annual Distinguished Lecture Series, sponsored by the Department of Chemistry and the Central Arizona Section of the American Chemical Society.

In an address open to the public, the Nobel Laureate will discuss "Atomic Chemistry," covering the problems and uses of atomic energy.
