'Oz' Rouses Ticket Sales

A packed house awaits the opening night performance of "The Wizard of Oz" at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Gammage Auditorium.

Ticket sales "are going great," reported Georgette George in the Lyceum box office. "Only the three back rows are open" in the orchestra section, she said.

Final Issue

The Summer State Press will not publish the week of final examinations, making this eighth issue the last for the summer.

The State Press will resume publication four times a week soon after the fall session opens, and will be under the editorship of Tony Auit, a senior, of Phoenix.

Advance sales of tickets for the Aug. 25th performance are also strong, but some tickets still remain for the 2:30 p.m. matinee performance this weekend.

The musical version of the Frank Baum classic features a cast of more than 50, a 30-piece orchestra, plus colorful costumes and scenery.

The production is the story of Dorothy, the little Kansas girl, and her friends the Lion, the Scarecrow, and the Tin Woodman, as they journey through the land of Oz in search of the Wizard.

New GI Benefits Popular in State

At the end of July more than 200,000 peace time and Vietnam veterans had signed up to take advantage of the educational program of the new GI Bill.

Of these, Arizona was credited with more than 3,600, reported Wayne A. Sanders, manager of the Veteran's Administration Regional Office.

Understandably, the VA advises the back-to-school veterans and other trainees to be prepared to pay their own way for the first two months, as the law authorizes the Veterans Administration to make payments to the veterans after they have certified to the VA that they have attended school for a full month.

Payment normally is made on the 20th of the month after the month of attendance.

All veterans planning to attend institutions of higher learning or other training facilities this fall are urged to file their applications now if they have not already done so.

Late filing could result in delayed payments. Applications should be sent to the Veterans Administration Regional Office, 230 N. First Ave., Phoenix, Arizona.

The musical is the joint effort of the Arizona State University Players and Lyric Opera Theatre. It is directed by Donald Doyle and musically directed by Kenneth Seipp.

Tickets, priced at $1 for students and children and $1.50 for adults, are on sale in advance at the Lyceum box office, telephone 966-3437.

Some tickets will also be available at Gammage Auditorium before each performance. Special rates for groups of 25 or more children may also be arranged.

The third presentation will be on Thursday, Aug. 25, at 8 p.m. in conjunction with the 22nd annual meeting of the National Children's Theatre Conference. Tickets are also available to the public at this time.

The basic payment is $100 a month. This increases if the veteran is married and has dependents. The basic payment decreases if he does not attend school full time, Sanders said.

'Some Inconvenience'

Library Swaps Home

The long-anticipated move into the new Charles T. Hayden library building began yesterday, bringing with it possible inconvenience to the summer student.

Some 600,000 recorded items are being moved and made ready for use in the new $4 million library by Sept. 12, said

Dr. Alan D. Covey, librarian. The lengthy transfer is being made using hand trucks.

Summer school students may experience some inconvenience due to the fact that materials charged out to them are due to be returned by Aug. 12.

However, students may make special arrangements for loan extensions through the final week of the summer session. These arrangements must be made at the loan desk as soon as possible.

From Aug. 21 until the move is completed on or about Sept. 12, the library will be closed to the general public.

During the time it is closed, only faculty and graduate students who need to use library facilities and materials will be permitted to do so.

A letter of identification from his major professor must be presented by the graduate student.

Materials moved into the new building will be made available to users by a paging service in Mathews library.

Offer Seniors Early Placement Sign-Up

The University Placement Service this week announced that on-campus summer students scheduled for graduation during the coming year may register early for job interviews.

Early registration concerns students in the Colleges of Business Administration, Engineering, Fine Arts, Liberal Arts and the Graduate College.

Scheduled during the last week of summer school and the week following, it enables students to avoid the rush which normally occurs during fall and spring registration.

Job recruiting on campus begins in early October with the bulk of registration in September.

To be eligible for job interviews, students must complete registration with the Placement Service.

Also, they must be graduating during academic year 1966-

67. Students of all degree levels are urged to take advantage of the services offered by the Placement Service, located in Admin 101.

Upward Bound Ends With Program Tonite

A chance for parents, friends and the public to evaluate the achievements of the 180 Upward Bound students at the University this summer, are being offered during final-week programs on campus.

Dr. Richard T. Wootton, Upward Bound director and financial aids director, said a musical evening tonight will be open to the public.

The students, who will enter junior year this fall in Valley high schools, have participated in the 8-week session under a grant to the University from the Office of Economic Opportunity.

STUDENTS were selected by their high schools for the program. All from families that cannot afford to send them to college, they are young people who have demonstrated abilities indicating they probably are college material, he said.

Closing exercises tonight, will be at 8 p.m. in the Memorial Union ballroom. Certificates will be awarded to students who have successfully completed the program. In addition, honor students will receive special certificates of achievement, awarded for successful completion of extra work, undertaken voluntarily.

Faculty Meet Called Today

A special meeting of the regular University faculty is scheduled for 3:30 p.m. this afternoon in the Life Science Auditorium.

President G. Homer Durham called the meeting to explain the necessary reductions in the 1966-67 operating budget as required by the 1966 legislative appropriation.

All faculty members are requested to attend.

SUMMER

Arizona State University, Tempe, Arizona

The Summer State Press is published at Arizona State University, Tempe, Arizona, four times during each summer session. Publication dates are every Thursday, except final week.

Editor
BILL CUSHING

The Summer State Press is published under the auspices of the Summer Section and Extension Division, headed by Dean Roy C. Rice.

ABOUT 20 percent of the participants have earned achievement certificates, said Dr. Wootton. To qualify, they completed the regular subjects, which included current issues, mathematics, reading, human relations, and vocational counseling; as well as the extra work.

This latter involved passing both oral and written examinations on a text book which they studied. Extra credit texts covered a wide range of subjects. Among the texts from which they chose were "Applied Logic: Scientific Thinking," "The Free Enterprise System," "The Bill of Rights," "Vocabulary" and "The American Form of Government."

The students who have been selected to speak and the titles of their talks include:

PRESIDENT G. Homer Durham will give an address at the closing ceremony on "The Importance of Continuing Education," and four Upward Bound students will also speak. Mrs. Banks will direct the musical portion of the program.

Lawrence Fisher, of Phoenix Union, "Where Do We Go From Here?" Frank Evans, of South Mountain, "We Can Do More;" Emma Acosta, of McClintock, "What We Accomplished;" and Patty Hernandez, of Carl Hayden, "Our Appreciation to ASU."

300 to Attend

Youth Theater Conference Here

Delegates from all over the world will convene at the University this month for the 22nd annual National Children's Theatre Conference (CTC).

Local arrangements chairman Don Doyle, of the speech and drama department, said the program is designed for teachers, recreation leaders, church school personnel and all those interested in any phase of children's theatre.

"We feel this is a unique opportunity for Arizonans to meet and study with internationally-known specialists in the field of drama for children," said Doyle, "and thus we are limiting attendance to CTC members."

ABOUT 300 delegates are expected at the event, which is being hosted by Region 2 of CTC and the University department of speech and drama, Doyle added, so we urge all those interested to make reservations as early as possible.

Three pre-conference workshops, headed by outstanding experts in creative dramatics, children's theatre and puppetry, will be held Aug. 23 and 24.

Leaders include Anne Thurman, supervisor of creative dramatics program for Evanston

Donald P. Doyle

(Ill.) public schools; Mary Jane Evans, author and member of the drama department at San Fernando Valley State College, Northridge, Calif.; and Marjorie Batchelder McPharlin, of Santa Fe, an internationally-known puppeteer.

KEYNOTER at the regular conference session, Aug. 25 to 27, will be Robert Radnitz, of Productions Limited, Hollywood, Calif., famed for such productions as "Dog of Flanders," "Island of the Blue Dolphin" and "And Now, Miguel."
