20,675 ASU Registration Falls 75 Short of Prediction

By VALERIE JONES

Registration figures of 20,675 — 75 below minimum estimates for the ASU budget — were announced yesterday by Alfred Thomas Jr., registrar and director of admissions.

T. Tillman Crance, assistant to President G. Homer Durham, for budget and institutional studies, said the budget estimate was based on a range of 21,500 to 20,750. He emphasized the slight decrease should not prompt a budget revision.

THE REGISTRATION estimate which appears on page 254 of the State of Arizona Budget was 23,550.

However, authorities stated the budget of $11,862,867 would not be cut unless new legislation was passed. This is highly doubtful.

If the demand for students changes, the budget still doesn't change. The big costs, such as maintenance and salaries, stay the same, said Crance.

THOMAS FELT that the increase in fees was the cause for the drop from registration estimates.

"At one time I thought it might hurt the enrollment more than it did," agreed Crance.

The enrollment of 20,675 is 1,477 more than the 1965-66 fall semester.

"Fifteen hundred is a normal increase," said Thomas. It is anticipated the freshman and graduate classes will each be in excess of 5,000 and the remaining 10,675 students will di-

By JOHN POLICH

Laura Bernstein would have been 21 next month. She was to be married Christmas Day.

Wednesday night she was stabbed to death within 50 yards of one of the most heavily traveled highways in the country.

Tempe Police Chief E. Worth Farley said Miss Bernstein, who began classes here last week after three years at Bradley University, Peoria, Ill., was on her way to visit a friend at the Casa Loma Hotel, Fourth Street and Mill Avenue, when she was slain.

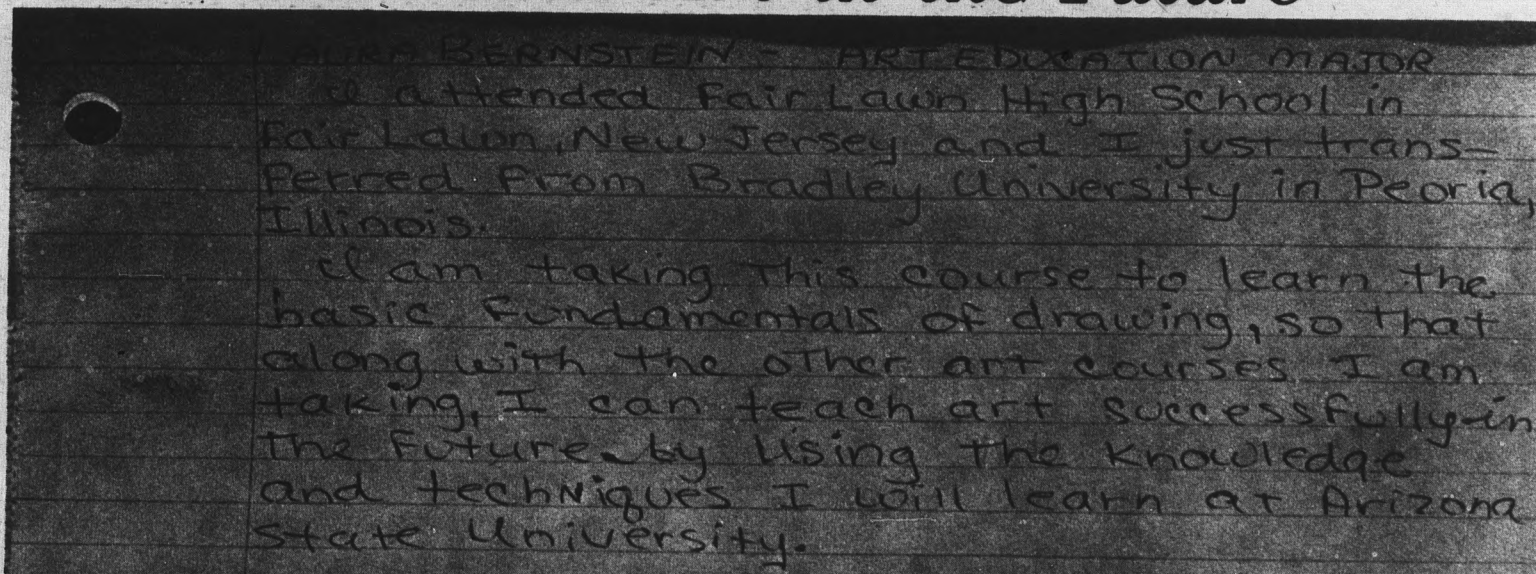

SHE WAS the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Bernstein, of Fair Lawn, N.J. They flew into Sky Harbor yesterday morning and were met by Dr. Joseph C. Schabacker, academic vice president, and by Dr. Catherine G. Nichols, associate dean of students.

Her body, discovered on the south side of the hotel by two male students at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, bore five stab wounds, Farley said.

The petite, long-haired brunette's body was fully clothed when found. She had not been sexually molested and contents of her purse were intact, according to Chief Farley. Police indicated they knew of no motive for the slaying.

LAURA completed registration Sept. 8 as a junior majoring in art education, University officials reported. They said she had applied for on-campus housing but, due to space limitations, it could not be supplied.

Police said Laura had talked with her roommate, freshman Jahn Livingston, at their apartment at 1206 E. Lemon shortly before her body was found.

Miss Livingston corroborated prior reports that Laura had left their apartment to visit Ellen Ruth Leschen, another art major, in room 301 of the hotel.

SHE NEVZR arrived.

Police said Laura was apparently bending over the bicycle she had borrowed from her roommate, attempting to lock it to a rack under a veranda of the hotel, when the murderer struck.

Her slender body fell on its left side beside the bike. Little blood showed on the sidewalk and her violent death seemed betrayed only by the slight twist to her body and the force with which she gripped her purse in her left hand.

AN AUTOPSY report released yesterday afternoon revealed she died immediately of two stab wounds in the back which severed a main artery. Other wounds were found in her left shoulder and head.

Police said late yesterday that, after a day-long search of the area surrounding the hotel, they had found no clues. No fingerprints were discovered and the murder weapon was still missing, officers said.

The victim had few friends here. Police identified her fiance as Howard Keith Trilling, a graduate student at the American Institute of Foreign Trade in Phoenix. He lives at 2136 W. Missouri.

THE EDITOR of the Bradley Scout, student newspaper at Bradley University, told State Press by telephone the two had met there three years ago, and that Miss Bernstein had transferred to ASU at a reduction in class standing to be near Trilling. He is a 1966 Bradley graduate.

Laura had attended three years of classes and at least one summer session at Bradley and would have been a senior there, the Scout editor said. Friends from Bradley said she was well-liked and seemed a sincere student, according to the Scout.

Scout editor Barbara Proctor said news of the murder, widely reported in the eastern press, had shocked the Illinois campus.

MEANWHILE, Tempe police and University officials agreed Miss Bernstein had few associates here. The girl she was going to visit when she was killed had met Laura in a ceramics class last week and her roommate had known her only since the beginning of the semester.

Laura had attended two meetings of Students for a Democratic Society near campus, befriended a few members of the group and seemed to sympathize with some of their views, members said.

THIS WAS apparently one of her few local contacts in her nine days on campus, and police were still trying to discover other associations that could have led to the slaying.

The office of Judge Ralph Fowler, Tempe justice of the peace and ex-officio coroner, said an inquest has been set for this morning at 9:30 and will probably be continued next week.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Carr Mortuary.

SOME RADIO stations seemed impressed yesterday in their newscasts of the crime by the fact Laura had long hair. Or wore what police called "beatnik" clothing. Or was a member of SDS. Or opposed the war in Viet Nam.

But most people will remember Laura as the petite brunette who pedaled a borrowed bicycle across a quiet college town to her death.

Laura Bernstein would have been 21 next month.

Banner Contest Begins Today

The Rallies and Traditions Board is sponsoring the home game banner contest and every campus organization is eligible to participate.

Applications and a list of the contest rules may be picked up at the Memorial Union information desk. These applications, which may be picked up today, must be turned in by noon Wednesday to be eligible for the October 1 home game. At all other home games, the banner applications must be turned in to the MU no later than 5 p.m. each Wednesday before the game.

The contest will be held at every home football game. The first, second and third place banners will be displayed at the entrance to the stadium and the winning organizations will have their names announced at the games.

A schedule will be given out at a later date to signify at which basketball games the contest will apply.

Silence —

The semester is just beginning and many organizations on campus are in the midst of reorganizing. Events in the past year have taught them something. New strategies are being worked out to further their goals, whatever they might be.

One thing is certain; this semester seems very, very quiet. It's like a lull before the storm. Whether it's the hot, humid weather, or the simple fact that students have shut themselves in their rooms to study, remains to be seen.

Where is the small group of left-leaning, liberal protest students this semester, who made eyebrows raise from the most sedate people last year? Word from some fairly reliable sources say this group didn't seem to accomplish what they intended last year, and they have since placed three people in the leadership spot, instead of the one.

Where are the new freshman AS Senate candidates, who normally are making themselves known in the coed dorms this time of year? The Election Board says only four freshmen have taken out petitions for the two vacant seats.

The sounds from Fraternity Row seem muffled, even at night. Rush activities and pledging should create some overtones, but little has been heard.

The first meeting of the Senate Wednesday brought only a short round of applause for President Durham's introduction speech, and the meeting was adjourned immediately thereafter when no new business was introduced. Charley Wise, AS administrative vice president, said there were only six senators who had been involved in the Senate before this year. Even they didn't rise to speak.

The apartment area east of campus, normally bustling with activity from the beginning of the year to the end, has shown little action to date.

The first part of last week's football game with Texas Western didn't seem to rumble with anticipation, as it usually does. This again may be blamed on the humidity, which made the stadium a giant steam broiler.

Student activities are already underway, but even the noise of loud bands seems to die down, very quickly.

What is causing the silence? The heat — the heat? Or it might be that a few thousand students who have been around for three years just have a case of senioritis, and a completely new breed of undergraduates has moved A quiet group at that.

Letters to the Editor

Parking

I have been dismayed in recent weeks by the carping of my colleagues about the increase in the cost of a parking permit.

Surely they must realize that every source of revenue must be exploited if our higher educational needs are to be met. Indeed, talk of increasing tobacco and alcohol taxes, or of examining the revenue potential of the mining and cattle interests should be postponed until the possibilities of the resource are fully explored.

Why should the faculty not pay some reasonable and proper rent for their office space? Would not a fee for the use of bookshelves (for those who have them) and telephone (for those who have one) and typewriter (for those who have one) and secretarial help (for those who have it) be feasible?

And why should the faculty be permitted to hear the addresses of the President and the several deans at the "planning conferences" without charge? They pay to watch Coach Kush throw his clip board.

Besides, if there comes a time when the faculty grows restive under the burden of subsidizing higher education in Arizona, they can be soled with much needed "fringe benefits," — free office space, free book-secretarial help — and, in due course, free parking space.

Cheerleaders

Editor:

Something has got to be done about cheerleaders at football games. Give them a rule book. Assign them as members of the coaching staff. Do something.

When the Sun Devils are defending their own 10-yard line, it is hardly the time to ask the band for a "charge!" And when our line has just been trampled and our quarterback caught behind the line of scrimmage, a cry of "Give 'em hell Devils!" is, at its least, (. . . .). Furthermore, it might be that someone wanted to know what was happening on the playing field, or wanted to hear what the announcer was saying regarding penalties and the like.

Of particular dislike to me were the idiotic roll calls, the the constant interruptions for (. . . .) yells, and the loud voice of our friendly cheerleader trying to teach me a yell when I wanted to find out who had won the toss.

With a last hurrah for the football squad, I am, sincerely yours, in the name of football fans everywhere who paid $143 to watch football games,

Roger A. Ball

By NORVILLE NEXUS

TV, even with the introduction of all the season's new shows, has very few programs that are worth watching. Undoubtedly, however, one of the few good shows that consistently pulls in the viewers is Ted Mack's Original Amateur Hour.

TED MACK, seemingly with little effort, manages to bring some top flight talent to the show's millions of viewers each week. And between each act, once in a while in the middle if the talent isn't too swift, he pushes the heck out of Geritol.

Perhaps Ted is missing a sure bet by not running auditions on this campus. The school's population is brimming with previously undiscovered talent.

Why, Coach Kush would have no difficulty at all getting on the show after an audition displaying his expertise at flinging his clipboard in the air. Even now he holds the unofficial Western Athletic Conference altitude record for clipboard throwing.

ANOTHER GOOD bet for the Amateur Hour is the student cheering section at the football games. They have a pantomime act that would shame Marcel Marceau.

It would be a real surprise if the Student Government officials didn't make the show. They have a wonderful act (they've only rehearsed it once) where all the "senators" and officials gather in one room and follow parliamentary procedures for an hour or so. For the finale, the administrative vice president says, "Since we have no business, do I hear a motion to adjourn?"

Although it really isn't down Ted's alley, it could be that some of the architects who designed campus buildings and other trivia would be a shoo-in for the show.

PERHAPS ONE of the architects could give a talk on the correct way to destroy a beautiful tree-lined walkway and substitute a concrete runway complete with sunken baths — all to the background music of "Where Have All the Flowers Gone?"

Another institution on campus that near to my heart, would no doubt make a good showing, is first and second year ROTC students singing their lively rendition of their theme song, "M-I-C-K-E-Y M-O-U-S-E, Mickey Mouse, Mickey Mouse."

Perhaps the greatest contribution that the campus could make to the Amateur Hour is that of a humorist. There is someone in the Administration building, his name will be withheld for the present, that can step right into the late Lenny Bruce's shoes.

ALTHOUGH THE person doesn't use any foul language like Bruce did, he still has that peculiar sense of humor. He pulled a real knee-slapper during the first week of classes. It seems that there are 60 parking spaces available for students in McClintock "B". Well, this guy allowed 100 parking permits to be issued for the lot.

Wouldn't he be a kill on the Amateur Hour?

Facts only

The last few days ASU has been the focus of state and national attention. However, this attention hasn't been good.

Wednesday, state narcotics officers seized $10,000 worth of marijuana, LSD and other drugs in a residence near campus. An ASU student working on his masters in education and another person were arrested in connection with the crime.

This in itself is not that important on a national level, but Wednesday night an ASU coed was found murdered at the corner of 4th and Mill in Tempe.

The tragedy was reported in the Arizona Republic and released to Associated Press (AP). AP sent the story over the wire and it was run in newspapers as far away as New York City.

Just a month ago college student Charles Whitman climbed to the top of a tower at the University of Texas and shot 14 persons. A university in Denver was the scene of another brutal murder, this time in a chapel tower.

These events coupled with the death of an ASU coed have caused a great deal of controversy so far as college campuses are concerned.

Whatever the outcome of the investigation the facts are important, not contention.

Amazing

Amazingly enough, nearly 40 students have made suggestions to the Senate for ways to spend the $31,146 unappropriated balance, through the State Press forms found in the Tuesday and Thursday issues.

Now the students who haven't made the effort can boast that 40 out of 20,000 students have enough interest in their money to make suggestions on spending it. It's also good to know that 40 people read the editorial page.

You can be proud you are interested in what student does with your money.

Due to the encouraging response to the Tuesday and Thursday forms the State Press has reconsidered and decided to run the form one more day.

To the Senate:

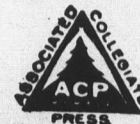

I, _____, a member of the _____ (Name) _____ enrolled in the College of _____ (Class) _____ (College) _____ and a member of _____ (Represented Organization) think the Senate should use part of the $31,146 unappropriated balance to _____

As a student (alumni) concerned about furthering the educational goals and social life of Arizona State University, I believe the above suggestion would benefit the University and serve as a lasting gift from students both past and present.

Give this form to the ASASU Secretary upstairs in room 202 of the Memorial Union or place it in the box provided by the State Press downstairs in MU3. Your suggestion will be forwarded to your elected representative for possible legislation.

Debate Squad Stages 'Trial' On Foreign Aid Saturday

A mock trial of U. S. foreign aid entitled "On Trial" will be presented by the ASU debate team on KAET, Channel 8 this Saturday at 5:30 p.m.

The trial will be conducted in a courtroom type situation with the pros and cons presented before a jury, the audience.

Following the introduction by John Pacilio Jr., assistant debate coach, two sides will be presented by the defense attorney played by debate team member Larry Stephan on one side and by the prosecution attorney played by member Bill Walkers.

The actual debate statement is: It is resolved that the U. S. should substantially reduce its foreign policy commitments.

The high point according to Larry Stephan of the defense is the cross examination of witnesses. The witnesses for the prosecution are Glen Brooks playing the part of Andrew Tully, author of "Where does your money go" and David Stamat playing the part of Representative Otto Passman.

The witnesses for the defense are Connie Lundburg as Barbara Ward a writer for the newspaper "British Economist" and Mark Wienberg in the role of David Bell an administrator of the agency of International Development.

The debate is the first of a number of debates, dramatic presentations and selections performed by the readers theater to be preformed on KAET over the year. The programs are directed for television by Bob Moats.

Goodall Hosts TV Discussion

Dr. Leonard E. Goodall, assistant professor of political science, will host a weekly panel discussion program, "Lets Talk Issues" Thursday on KAET-TV.

The program will feature prominent Arizonians discussing major issues. Thursday's topic will be "Dissent in a Free Society."

Panel members will be Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, former president of the National Council of Churches; William H. Rehnquist and Herbert L. Ely, Phoenix attorneys and Albert T. Koen of the Citizens Information Center.

Daily Wildcat Resumes Publication, 'Umpires' Named to Settle Dispute

The Daily Wildcat, UofA's student newspaper, resumed publication yesterday after a one-day strike of the editors and reporters.

The publishing dispute was settled yesterday by the appointment of two "umpires": Francis Roy, dean of the liberal arts college, and Marvin Johnson, UofA vice president of community relations.

The dispute which led to the resignation of the reporters and editors stemmed from a new contract for publication of the Wildcat.

Sherman Miller, head of the journalism department at the UofA said the print shop which received the contract had not been meeting their deadlines, causing student journalists to spend long hours putting the paper together.

In statements released Wednesday, Dean Roy and Miller said that what was needed to solve "the present difficulties" was "a more clear definition of the responsibilities of the respective areas and a future provision of an umpire in cases of irreconcilable difficulties and points of view."

Play Tryouts Conducted Monday Through Wednesday at Gammage

Tryouts for the musical, "The Roar of the Greasepaint" by Anthony Newley and Leslie Bricusse, will be conducted Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in Gammage Auditorium 108.

Anyone auditioning for any of the seven principle parts should both sing and dance, and should dress accordingly at the tryouts. Other persons are needed for the chorus.

Copies of the score are available in the Speech and Drama Department office in LL605.

This December will be the first time this play has been produced in Arizona. "It's not at all the Broadway concept of a musical," said Dr. James Yeater, associate professor of speech and drama.

The initial meeting of the University Players will be held Sunday at 2:00 p.m. in the Lyceum Theater.

There will be a reception to explain the theater program outlined for this season.

"Anyone is invited who is interested in any phase of theater production," said the associate professor of speech and drama, Dr. James Yeater.

Improve Reading In Fall Program

A college reading program designed to assist ASU students is offered this fall by the College of Education.

Dr. John L. Edwards, assistant professor of education and director of the program, said, "The classes are geared to improve a student's reading efficiency, reading vocabulary, and, to some extent, his study skills."

Registration in each class session is limited to 25 students; sessions will continue for 10 consecutive weeks, he said. The course, open only to ASU students, carries no college credit.

Devil Dolls Start In Friday's SP

The State Press will feature a University coed in every Friday issue of the paper starting with the Sept. 30 edition. She'll be called the Devil Doll.

Ten Undergraduates Get $500 Learning Lab Grant

Ten leading undergraduates have been awarded $500 grants to participate in an educational research program initiated this fall by the ASU Classroom Learning laboratory.

The ten students, selected from a group of 150 applicants, include Paula Woehlke, Jeannie Dupont, Janet Furman, Marvin, Manross, Donna Murray, Carolyn Owen, Karen Reid, Steven Yarbrough, Joyce Woodard, and James Luerssen.

The regular baccalaureate degree programs of the students will be supplemented by a carefully designed sequence of formal and informal training experiences in educational research.

Supported by an Office of Education grant of more than $85,000, the program will provide ten $500 student awards per year for five years, and stipends for summer research activity in which participants will work as assistants on one of the Laboratory projects.

Beginning this fall, ten honor undergraduates will be selected as recipients of the grant-awards each year on a competitive basis.

Eligible students must have a minimum of 60 semester hours of credit and least a 3.25 (B plus) cumulative grade-point average.

Educational Psychology Professor Robert L. Baker said, "The educational research program is intended to supplement, rather than supplant, the existing baccalaureate degree programs." Dr. Baker is project director for the Southwest Regional Laboratory for Educational Research and Development.

Professor Baker added, "The program will concentrate on making optimal use of elective courses, carefully structured informal training experiences, and supervised experience with research projects in the Classroom Learning Laboratory and the SWIRL."

Participants completing the one-year program will be thoroughly trained in the discipline of their choice, and will have received instruction in basic methodology and technology as prerequisites for graduate training.

African Venture Topic of Speech By Dr. Durham

President Durham's summer trip to Africa will be the subject of his talk in the MU upper lounge, Tuesday 7:30 p.m.

Accompanying Durham's talk, "The Emerging Nations of Africa," will be slides taken during his tour.

Jazz Festival Trios Plan Gammage Gig

The first of the Grady Gammage Jazz Series will be tomorrow night, featuring stars of California's Monterey Jazz Festival.

The founder and manager of the Monterey Festival, Jimmy Lyons, will moderate the Gammage performance and introduce the stars: the John Handy Trio, Bola Sete Trio, and the Jean Hoffman Trio.

GUITARIST BOLA SETE, born in Brazil, joined the Dizzy Gillespie Band and appeared at the Monterey Festival in 1962. The Dizzy Gillespie Band is a favorite at the yearly festival where enthusiastic fans carried signs supporting "Dizzy for President."

In 1965 Sete was named as the "best new guitarist" by Downbeat magazine. Bola Sete's trio have a repertoire ranging from Bach to bossa nova.

Jazz pianist Jean Hoffman has played throughout the nation in jazzrooms such as New York's Village Vanguard. She frequently appears at other colleges and universities.

The John Handy Trio in which Handy plays alto saxophone, also includes a violinist, guitarist, bass player and drummer. This trio is a new group which has just gained recognition this year.

TICKETS for the jazz concert are available at the Gammage box office.

The consecutive programs scheduled in the Jazz Series are the Paris Rive Gauche, Dionne Warwick and Odetta with the Shelly Manne Quintet.

THE FULL TIME enrollment is not yet known, said Thomas. He feels that in terms of percentages it will be larger than in previous years.

"The main reason for this is that Selective Service has raised its full time student requirements," he said.

Former requirements were 12 semester hours. It is now 15 hours or 30 semester hours total per year.

Fashions of Future Way-out Wild

New Trends, Campus Style Part of Show

By SHARI HUME

Gold and silver, lame, plastic, vinyl coated cottons, ribbed cotton knits, mod styles and mini skirts were all part of the "Phi Beta Cool" fashion show held last Wednesday night in Gammage Auditorium.

THE SHOW, shown only in 6 major U. S. cities, included designers such as John Steiner and Jonathan Burn of London, Jenny Bell of New York, Simonetta of Paris, Melba Hobson of New York.

Also Alberto Fabiani of Rome, Jacques Heim of Paris, Eve Stillman of New York, Partrick de Barentzen of Rome, Maurice Attwood of London, Nora of Rome.

Prices of the garments, shown by New York models, ranged from a $3.98 mod shirt to real rabbit fur coats from France, dyed black, blond or natural fawn and priced at $119.

IN FASHION items include mod, mini skirts, mini jackets, lame evening wear, knee length poor boys, nautical mod fashions for men, fake and real fur, and lots of plum colored everything.

Audience reaction was the most dramatic for the "moon babies" outfits made of lame in gold or silver, and a see-through outfit held together by rhinestone covered bands around the legs and ribs.

Pledge Event Next Friday

Panhellenic's annual "Pledge Presents" ceremony has been scheduled for Friday, Sept. 30 at 7:30 p.m. in the MU ballroom.

The selected theme is "Come September," with the idea that the girls are looking forward to rush, pledging and being a part of the sorority.

Archons, fraternity honorary, will escort pledges to the platform, and from there the coeds will walk down the aisle, as in the past.

Master of ceremonies will be Ted Marsella, president of Interfraternity Council. A dance is scheduled after the program on the MU terrace featuring the Almerian Soultete band.

"MOON BABIES" — A glimpse into the future styles was the unusual aspect of the "Phi Beta Cool" fashion show held last Wednesday in Grady Gammage. The show featured world-famous designers, New York models and styles ranging from casual to classroom to spaceship.

Now— Hertz Rent-a-car goes to college to put you in the driver's seat!

Students, rejoice! From today, you can rent any of the great Hertz cars without having to set foot off campus. This new Hertz "On Campus" service means a new era of fun for you! You need never be tied to one spot again. Start planning holiday weekends, swinging Saturdays, relaxed Sundays.

To reserve a frisky new Ford Galaxie or other fine car, all you need do is head for your campus Hertz representative.

Ask him about Hertz rates—they're always low, especially on weekends and holidays. Further: insurance and gas are included —(even if you buy gas on the road).

And think about this: if two, four or six students rent one car, the cost can be split that many ways! Final pleasant thought: now that Hertz is right on campus, you need never settle for second best! Go Hertz every time!

Oct. 3 Practice Set For Baseball Varsity

By JOHN WALLACE

The word from Winkles: Be in SHAPE!

Varsity baseball practice begins Oct. 3 at 3 p.m.

"We expect all the boys to be working out 3 to 4 times a week before this first practice session," says head baseball coach Bobby Winkles.

Testimony to what he believes about getting in shape, Winkles claims, "We don't run calisthenics at this school." Nor will the coach have any distance running to get into shape.

"Distance running to get into shape is out," says Winkles. "At least that's what the track coach tells me, and I have pretty good faith in him."

Running WILL be a part of the practice, but it will be limited to sprints and shorter distances.

Winkles reports that on the first day of practice, the team will take batting and fielding practice.

"The second day out, we'll start playing games," says the coach. "The intersquad games are what count. Anyone can be a 2 o'clock hitter, but the 3 o'clock business is what makes a team."

Anyone with any misgivings about these coaching procedures need only refer to Winkles sparkling record here at ASU.

Wink's record over seven seasons with the Devils: 295-101, a winner's percentage in any league.

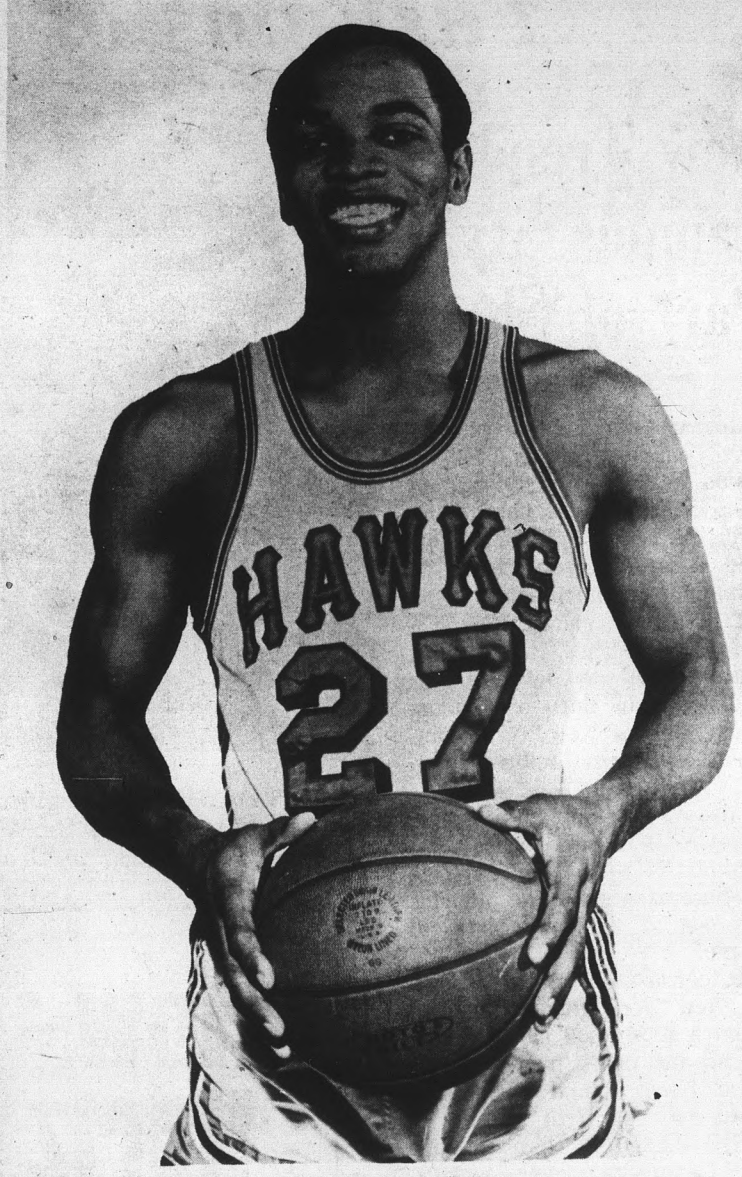

WRA Teams Forming Up For Tourney

Teams are now forming for the Women's Recreation Association Volleyball Tournament to be held the first two weeks of October.

Competition will be in two divisions, sorority and open, with entries due Sept. 27 for the open division and Oct. 4 for the sorority teams. Entries should be returned to the WRA office in the Women's PE Building.

Matches for the open division will be played Oct. 4, 5 and 6 and the sororities will compete Oct. 11, 12 and 13. Official DGWS rules will govern play.

Delta Gamma placed first in the sorority division last year and the Globetrotters were the winners of the open division.

JOE CALDWELL

Devil Cage Great, Jumpin' Joe, Returns

"Jumpin' Joe" Caldwell, who's had his nickname changed to "Pogo" by professional basketball fans, returns to the Valley of the Sun Oct. 10 when the St. Louis Hawks play the Philadelphia 76ers in Veterans Memorial Coliseum.

Caldwell, perhaps the most outstanding cager to come out of ASU, is the holder of three individual school scoring marks.

He holds the record for most points in a three-season career, 1,518 (1961-64); most points in one season, 589 (1963-64); and best scoring average for one season, 21.8 (1963-64).

The game, sponsored by the Valley Big Brothers, will also put on view for Valley basketball fans Wilt "The Stilt" Chamberlain, all-time scoring leader in the National Basketball Association.

Valley Big Brothers, according to its president John Katsenes, is an organization of men throughout Maricopa County who work with fatherless boys. "We try to give these boys the male companionship that is missing from their lives so that they will have that anchor to lean on in the formative years from 7 to 17. Proceeds from the game will go to further this work.

Tickets for the game are priced at $4, $3 and $2 and are available at Coliseum box offices or at any Arizona Bank office in the Phoenix area.

Badminton Meet This Afternoon

Doubles competition in men's badminton intramurals will start this afternoon in the men's gym at 3:30.

The final singles match was played yesterday in the men's gym. Last year's champion, Dick Wiley from Phi Sigma Kappa, was heavily favored.

There is an intramural manager's meeting today in MPE 103A at 3:45 p.m. Tennis entries for singles are due at the meeting.

NEW LOOK — The new look in the veteran defensive line is 241-pound tackle Nello Tomarelli. Tomarelli is a sophomore from Old Forge, Pa.

DEVILS IN LARAMIE —

Defense: Problem No. 2

By BRIAN TRACY

From one quarterback problem to another, or how to be a defensive back and keep from getting ulcers.

Last week the Sun Devil defensive secondary had what was supposed to be their stiffest test of the season in containing the great ends and flankers of Texas Western from catching bombs from slingin' Billy Stevens.

But was it their stiffest test? Tomorrow afternoon in Laramie, Wyoming, the Devils' defensive secondary will test a double threat quarterback. He is the WAC's Back of the Week, Rick Egloff, and he's quite a scrambler.

This presents problems to the secondary as Egloff likes to roll out on an option run or pass pattern, and as soon as the defensive backs smell a run and drawn in, the shifty quarterback will likely heave the ball to one of his ends far downfield.

Thus, the pressure is really on the defensive ends, Steve Timarac and Jesse Fleming, to get to Egloff on his roll out patterns and make him throw early or smother him.

Coach Kush has had the Devil offensive machine in the shop for an overhaul all week, and when it takes the field tomorrow afternoon it should be running considerably better. Pass protection for John Goodman also was a stressed point during the week as the almost all-sophomore offensive line struggles through their "learning period."

Injury-wise, the Devils are in good shape. Highly touted sophomore end, Fair Hooker, is expected to be at full speed this week, after being hobbled in the TWC game with a lame ankle.

The Cowboys, on the other hand, lost the services of their top linebacker, Larry Holwell, last week in a 13-0 triumph over Air Force. Holwell is out for the season with a knee injury.

A Frontier Air Lines charter will carry the team to Laramie with the gridders arriving in Wyoming this afternoon about 1:30. They will return to Phoenix Sunday, arriving at 12:30 p.m.

Other top games around the West, and how they're picked:

- Kansas over UofA.
- West Texas State over Pacific
- Oregon over Utah
- UCLA over Syracuse
- San Jose State over BYU
- New Mexico over Kansas State

Divers to Meet Today at 3 p.m.

The varsity and freshman swimming and diving team will have a "very important" short meeting at 3 p.m. Friday by the pool for all interested persons, said swimming coaches Walter Schleuter and Dick Smith.

Coach Smith especially stressed that all girl divers be present.

Sports Short

Sun Devil quarterback John Goodman has a shot at a WAC career record for least percentage of passes intercepted.

The aerial-minded senior has had only 7 of 198 passes intercepted in his two years of competition, 3.53 per cent.

The record belongs to Tom Wilkinson of Wyoming. In three years there, he allowed 4.92 per cent pilferage.

Profs Share Swedish Homes While Touring School System

By JOAN FISHER

Two business administration professors are "at home" in Sweden this month.

Dr. Glenn D. Overman, dean of the College of Business Administration and Dr. Ralph C. Hook Jr., director of the Bureau of Business Research each have lived two weeks with a Swedish family as part of a four-week introduction to the business and technical education system of that country.

The program is being sponsored by the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business in co-operation with the "Meet Modern Sweden" Committee of Stockholm, and The Experiment in International Living.

After their homestay, Dr. Overman and Dr. Hook will join 23 other deans and professors of business colleges to tour Lapland. They will visit the Swedish Water and Power Board, then continue north to Kiruna, site of the largest iron ore mines in Sweden, and the school of engineering.

The professors will spend their last week in Stockholm meeting with officials of the Ministry of Education and university faculty. A guided tour of Stockholm, and opera, concert and museum visits will complete their stay.

Dr. Overman is participating in the experiment during his sabbatical leave, which began July 1 and will end Dec. 31.

"What a wonderful trip — perfectly beautiful country and the people are wonderfully pro-U. S.," Dr. Overman wrote of his experience. "Each day we see another business and spend the evening in wonderful dinners and receptions."

The program is subsidized largely by the "Meet Modern Sweden" Committee of Stockholm (comprising representatives of Swedish industry), and is being administered by the Experiment in International Living.

The experiment, a world-wide operation annually involving the exchange of more than 4,000 men and women between the United States and 58 countries, originated the homestay in international exchange.

Two- and Four-Year Scholarships Given to Twelve Officer Candidates

"ASU is a leader in ROTC scholarships," said Colonel Coy L. Curtis, professor of military science, as twelve students were sworn into the U. S. Army Reserve last Tuesday.

The students receiving four-year scholarships may attend any of 200 colleges and universities that offer the four-year ROTC program.

Four year scholarship recipients are John Kloosterman, Ranceford Okada, Michael R. Rice, Martin Pospicil, Michael J. Vovakes, Richard Everhart, Doyle Doss, and James Shay, all freshman at ASU.

TWO-YEAR scholarships went to Richard E. Bachman, Neil L. Sullivan, Gary C. Jones, and Leonard T. Whitfield.

The grants include tuition, laboratory fees, textbooks and $50 a month while in effect. More than 6,000 applicants throughout the nation competed for the 1,000 scholarships offered.

KAET Airs 'Open End'

Four "Open End" programs with David Susskind as host, will be presented by Arizona State University's KAET - TV, at 7:30 p.m. beginning Saturday, September 24.

The "Open End" discussion series was begun in 1955 and was the first of its kind on television. Many programs, of the open-end type, following Susskind's lead, may be seen on TV today.

Through the years, David Susskind has been moderator for discussions which have dealt with just about every subject of major social significance.

Notables from the worlds of politics, art, theater, education, science and many others, have appeared on the program. Among them such famous personages as Nikita Khrushchev, Bertrand Russell, Hubert Humphrey, Krishna Menon and Harry Truman.

Susskind, a featured speaker in the ASU Lecture Series, appeared on campus last February and at that time offered four of his programs to the ASU bureau of broadcasting.

The Channel 8 presentations will mark the first time Susskind's "Open End" has been broadcast in the Valley area.

The September 24th program will be "A Conversation with Jerry Lewis," "The Nun's Story," parts one and two, and on October 15, the program topic is "L.S.D."

This is your chance, Student #7026941. Drink Sprite and be somebody.

MR. BIG

Take heart. Take a dime. Then take a bottle of Sprite from the nearest pop machine.

Suddenly it's in your hand. Cold. Biting. Tart and tingling. You cackle fiendishly and rub your hands together. (You should; they're probably chilled to the bone by now.)

You tear off to a corner, alone, but within earshot of your fellows.

And then? And then? And then you unleash it. SPRITE! It fizzes! It roars! It bubbles with good cheer!

Heads turn. Whisperings. "Who's that strangely fascinating student with the arch smile. And what's in that curious green bottle that's making such a racket?"

And you've arrived! The distinctive taste and ebullient character of Sprite has set you apart. You're somebody, uh...uh, whoever-you-are.

SPRITE. SO TART AND TINGLING, WE JUST COULDN'T KEEP IT QUIET.

A Tiny Problem: 100 Stickers for Only 60 Spaces

The only problem resulting from the University business office taking over parking sticker distribution was that 100 stickers were issued for the McClintock B lot — which has only 60 parking spaces.

Henry Spomer, business office manager, said the distribution, formerly handled by Campus Security, was changed so that University Revenue would be centered in one office.

The overload in the McClintock lot was relieved by assigning cars to the off-campus parking lots, said Spomer. According to Spomer, the issuing of parking permits for the lot had not been restricted in the past.

MU Inaugurates Monday 'Coffees'

A Blue Monday Coffee Room from 9 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. in the Pagoda Room has been inaugurated for "faculty and students to enjoy coffee informally," said Mrs. Cecelia Scouler, director of the MU.

Donuts and coffee are served for 10 cents each and refills are five.

The program, which began last week, is designed to create a different atmosphere and ease crowd pressure on the Devils Den. It's a "hideout on Monday mornings," said Mrs. Scouler.

This program is only one of the many in progress to make the students feel more at home in the MU, Mrs. Scouler said, adding "There is always something here for YOU."

AT FIRST SENATE MEETING —

Dr. Durham Cites Need for Library Books; Notes the Lack of 'Significant Endowments'

President Durham cited the library book collection as the first conceivable need for attention at the senate meeting Wednesday.

"It is my judgment," Durham said, "that future unappropriated balances be credited into a general University endowment account at the end of each fiscal year ending June 30."

The current balance is $32,736.90.

"ASU has no significant endowment, in contrast with such state universities as those of California and Texas, whose endowments and unrestricted funds for the growth of the institution run into hundreds of millions," Durham added.

Dr. Durham appointed Prof.

Heinz Hink, Prof. George Peek and Dean Willard Pedrick to serve as legislative consultants. Prof. Ronald D. Smith will serve as faculty adviser to the senate.

Five faculty members were named to the Campus Affairs Board. They are Prof. William Podlich, chairman, Prof. Victor Miller, Asst. Dean Frieda Dorris, Prof. C. Gilbert Wrenn and

Prof. Robert Knox.

He also appointed Charles Wise, ASASU administrative vice president, and Gary Patten, supreme court justice, to the Admissions and Academic Committee.

Patten swore the senators into office in a brief ceremony. John Herrick, first vice president, presided over the senate.

STATE OF THE UNIVERSITY — AS President Bob McConnell addresses convocation of students and faculty at Gammage Auditorium yesterday morning. President Durham, left, and Dr. Podlich, chairman of the faculty assembly, also addressed the convocation.

Faculty to Advise Student Law Body

President Durham has appointed a team of legislative consultants to the student government, Bob McConnell, AS president, said yesterday morning in Gammage Auditorium.

McConnell, in his State of the University message said, "This trained faculty advisement will be the greatest boost to our student legislative process since the founding of our student senate."

McCONNELL also recommended that President Durham appoint a study committee of five faculty members and two students.

The committee would take an objective look at student government and would report to President Durham and the Executive Council, McConnell said.

"The proposal of this committee does not mean that I feel we are in any way a poor student government. But by continuous attempts to find our faults, we will improve, and improvement is what we want," he explained.

PRESIDENT DURHAM pledged his support to the proposed committee, in his talk following the State of the University message.

Dr. William Podlich, chairman of the Faculty Assembly, also spoke. The three men represent three different aspects of the university community; students, administration and faculty. McConnell called for unity among these.

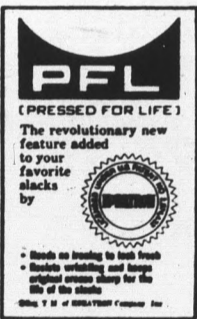

"In order for our programs to be successful and to contribute to our goal to help provide a total university education, we must include our faculty and staff," McConnell said.
